GO-GO'S & NO-GO'S

NO-GO BOB

Believe it or not, the Go-Go's 1978 hit, "We Got the Beat," is considered by many to be one of the greatest songs of the decade. The Go-Go's were an all-girl rock band that formed in Los Angeles in 1978. Their music was characterized by catchy hooks and upbeat rhythms, and they quickly became one of the most popular bands of the punk rock movement. The Go-Go's were also known for their distinctive fashion sense, with their members often wearing bright and colorful clothing. Their hit single "We Got the Beat" was written by the band's lead singer, Belinda Carlisle, and quickly became a hit in 1979. The song was later covered by Sinéad O'Connor and became a hit for her as well. The Go-Go's went on to release several successful albums, including "Beauty and the Beat" and "Beep Beep," and were inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 2014.

Danny Robinson (Wild Cherrys)

The Bee Gees over the past have had nothing but praise and admiration showered upon them by the pop critics of the world.

"The best English group to hit the scene since the Beatles."

"Yet again, the brilliant English group, the Bee Gees have come up with a potential No. 1 hit!"

Judging from the impression given by many English and American magazines the Bee Gees have never lived up to expectations in Australia, let alone here.

So once again the question arises: Are the Bee Gees an Australian group and do they live in Australia anything for their fantastic success?

ISLE OF MAN

The three Gibb boys were born in Douglas, Isle of Man. One of them (Barry) lived in Manchester until 1958 (11 years old) then emigrated and settled in Australia the same year.

Colin Peterson was in an Australian pop group called "Swift," the all Australian band, and featured as a vocalist on the hit single "Love Me Tender" by the Beatles.

The group played for the first time in Australia, causing their names to leap to the top of the charts, and then left for England to top the world.

Each member experienced success and career in Australia and it seems fair enough to say that the history of the Bee Gees' success relies on their Australian beginnings, and their Australian public.
HOW TO HAVE A SUPER DUPER FABBY PARTY

WHO TO INVITE

Try to have a mix of people you know and people you don't know. It's always fun to mix things up.

WHERE TO HAVE IT

Choose a location that's big enough to host a party. You can have it at home or at a local event like a bowling alley or a bar.

FOOD

Barbecues are always a good choice. You can make a big spread and everyone can help themselves. If you don't want to barbecue, you can always order in and have it delivered.

CHICKEN WALNUTS

INGREDIENTS: ½ lb. cold chicken, 2 oz. walnuts, 4 eating apples, juice of two lemons, lettuce and mayonnaise

METHOD: Core and dice apples and sprinkle with lemon. Dice chicken and mix with apples, lemon juice, walnuts and mayonnaise to taste. Add a salad bowl with choice leaves and put the mixture on. This may be garnished with asparagus tips. These amounts serve five people.

PREPARATIONS

Barbecues need a good helping of charcoal. You can buy it at the supermarket. Don't forget to bring some newspaper to help keep the flames going.

DRINKS

Non-alcoholic

Fruit juices, iced tea, or lemonade are always a good choice. You can mix in some sparkling water for a bit of fizz.

GIMMICKS

Provide some novelty items like party fans, masks, or hats. You can buy these at the local party store. They can help keep everyone in the mood.

RONNIE ANSWERS 33 PERSONAL QUESTIONS

What is your idea of happiness?

Happiness to me is sitting outside happy and doing things I like to do and enjoying life.

What would be the height of misery be for you?

I'm afraid the answer to this question is not just a single number. The height of misery is determined by a variety of factors, including personal circumstances, mental state, and external conditions. For me, it might be something like a deep sense of isolation, a feeling of being trapped in a situation you cannot escape, or a chronic illness that limits your freedom of movement or activity. Each person's experience of misery is unique, and what may be a high point for one person could be a low point for another. However, it's important to remember that everyone goes through periods of sadness and hardship, and it's crucial to seek help and support when needed.

What do you dislike most about yourself?

I don't like the way I sleep. Every time I wake up, my eyes are red and puffy, and I feel sluggish and unrefreshed. I wish I could have a proper night's sleep without feeling groggy. It's frustrating because I feel like I'm missing out on opportunities to be productive during the day.

Are your closest friends in show business?

Not really, although I do have close friends in the business, my closest friends are a few people whom I trust and respect. They are more like family than professional acquaintances. I feel that trust is based on shared experiences and mutual respect, and those are things that cannot be replicated by mere chance encounters.

What sort of future do you envisage for yourself?

I don't have a specific plan for my future. I'm open to opportunities and experiences that come my way. I believe in taking each day as it comes and making the most of it. I'm not one to look too far ahead and plan for the distant future. I prefer to focus on the present and enjoy the moments as they come.

What is the main feature of your personality?

I think I'm a bit of a perfectionist. I strive to achieve excellence in everything I do, whether it's in my work or personal life. I'm always looking for ways to improve and do things better. I believe that hard work and dedication can lead to success and fulfillment.

What is the best piece of advice anyone ever gave you?

I think the best advice I ever received was from my father. He told me to always be true to myself and never compromise my values or principles. He said that life is too short to waste time on things that don't matter. That advice has stayed with me throughout my life and has guided me through some tough decisions.

What is your biggest fear?

I don't think I have a specific fear. I think I'm more likely to worry about the things that could go wrong rather than the things that could happen right. I suppose I'm a bit of a worrier, but I try to stay positive and focus on the good things in life.

Who would you like to have been?

I think I'd like to have been a painter or a writer. I've always been fascinated by the creative process and the ability to express oneself through art or words. I think it would be wonderful to have the opportunity to create something beautiful and enduring.

What do you want to be remembered for?

I hope to be remembered for my hard work and commitment to my craft. I want people to remember me as a dedicated and talented performer who gave it their all. I don't want to be remembered for anything else.

What musical background is there in your family?

I don't know if there's a musical background in my family. I was born in the middle of the 20th century, and music was not a big part of my upbringing. My parents were more interested in classical music, but they were not musicians themselves.

Describe your family.

My mother was a housewife, and my father worked in the city. I had two siblings, an older brother and a younger sister.

Where do you go to school?

I attended a public school in Sydney, Australia.

Do you fancy a wife and children?

I have never been married or had children.

What is the best country in the world to live in?

I think Australia is one of the best countries in the world to live in. It has a beautiful landscape, a relaxed lifestyle, and a strong sense of community. I appreciate the fact that the government is committed to protecting the environment and preserving our natural heritage.

Making an immediate impact on the scene

The Procession

by Lily Brett

You must prepare yourself appropriately, before you are ready for THE PROCESSION! Clear your mind of all the old thoughts and interruptions - and listen intently to ANTHEM! A new sound, unique, entered in the whole of the pop world. Intimate, involved, inarguably derived.

ANTHEM was written without any musical instruments! The backing track in all its forms, all the orchestras are provided by bass, rhythm, and lead guitarists.

ANTHEM is the most significant development in the world of music, and it is the beginning of a new era in the world of rock and roll.

MICK RODGERS

It is appropriate that this profession's and its artistes' musical ability should be with the Procession.

SONG-WRITERS

The Procession is a song written to reach those who are lost, to bring them back to the light. The Procession is a song written to reach those who are lost, to bring them back to the light.

ANTHEM is a song written to reach those who are lost, to bring them back to the light. The Procession is a song written to reach those who are lost, to bring them back to the light.

NORMIE'S GROUP

The Procession is formed by three of Normie Brown's old backing group, and the drummer from The Attraction.

When the Procession originally formed, their aim was to teach all the information and ideas they had gathered during their time in England. They had a strong belief in the power of music to communicate, and they wanted to use their expertise to help others find their way back to the light.

Keenly aware of the power of music to help others, the Procession formed on the strength of this belief. They performed their first concert on a church organ, and they have been playing ever since.

The Procession is a unique and powerful force in the world of music, and they are making an immediate impact on the scene. They are bringing hope and healing to those who are lost, and they are helping to bring about a new era in the world of music.
