IT'S A LONG ONE!
The new Beatles record

The Beatles' first single to be issued on their own Apple label combines two of the longest tracks they have ever recorded. The "A" side "Hey Jude" runs for 7 min, 56 sec, and the flip side "Revolution" is 4 min, 20 sec long—giving a total playing time of almost 11 minutes.

"Hey Jude" features mainly Paul McCartney in the main vocal role and also features a 40-piece orchestra, the largest the group has used since "A Day In The Life". On the flip, "Revolution", the lead vocal is sung mainly by John Lennon.

The Beatles press officer, Tony Barrow, told English press, "There is no such thing as a lead singer on a Beatles single, but Paul and John take the dominant vocal parts on the tracks."

The record was released in England today, and as yet, no definite release date is available for Australia.
Dylan May Never Perform Again

Bob Dylan is unlikely ever to appear in concert again. This is the verdict of Paul Williams, chief music critic of the world-famous The Sunday Times, who says that the folk singer is virtually finished. However, Dylan is expected to start work on a new album soon.

The Beatles "Apple Tailoring" shop in London opened its doors a short but spectacular career. Is it hard to believe it, being owned by the Beatles?

The shop, located in the trendy Soho area of London, had a bright white exterior with a sign that read "Apple Tailoring" in gold letters. There was nothing particularly unique about the building — it was just another of the many fashionable businesses in the area.

The Beatles' company, Apple, also launched music publishing as well as film and record production. On the opening day of "Apple Tailoring," George Harrison, his wife Pattie, and John Lennon turned up to unveil a fashion parade of some of the suits on sale.

George Harrison said, "I'm not quite sure how I became involved in all this, but I think it's a great idea. As far as I can remember, we just bought a few clothes from the shop, and now it's running it — and the next thing I know we own it!"

Now, only a few weeks after the shop opened, it closed. The stock was given away to passersby.

The shop was not losing money, the Beatles insisted that they wanted to concentrate on making films and records, and becoming creative people.

Paul McCartney said, "In the past, there were crooks who had to go on their hands and knees for work. Now it's that where if you're good you're recognized."

Write about up and coming groups? We've often asked this question, so this week, we've got facts about four groups, from four different States, who are all on their way up in the pop scene!

COOKIES

Brisbane

Since December last year, Marcia Jones and the Cookies have been wowing audiences all over Australia. Everyone knows about Marcia Jones, but few people know about the group the Cookies!

Marcia, Wendy and Beverley Cooke have been together as a group for about a year and a half, appearing on the Cookie's "Countdown" on "The Ticket," as well as several other radio and television programs on the Gold Coast.

The Cookies, who were formed last year, have taken over a natural dancefloor, where they have been welcomed with open arms.

The group's sound is a mixture of soft rock and folk, with Marcia's strong voice being the highlight.

Marcia and Wendy Cooke have both been in the group for a year, while Beverley has been a member for six months.

Marcia and Wendy Cooke were discovered by a music manager, who heard them perform at a local festival.

Marcia Cooke, 17, and Wendy Cooke, 16, were both selected to represent Australia at the World Music Awards in London this year.

BEATEN TRACKS

Perth

The Beetles Tracks arrived in Melbourne for the final of The Battle Of The Sounds. They worked the scene in Melbourne for two weeks after the competition and then returned to Perth to prepare for their tour of the group there, but later had to come back to the Eastern States shortly, for another tour at the same.

The group covers a wide range of material, including hits by The Beatles, Monkees and Beach Boys, as well as original material by the group. They have been described as "the new Monkees." The group's lead singer, Warren Morris, is also a member of the Australian band, The Monkees.

The group's sound is a mixture of pop and rock, with Warren Morris's strong voice being the highlight.

The group's name, Beetles Tracks, is a play on the popular Australian band, The Monkees.

BLACK ORCHIDS

Tasmania

The Black Orchids won the Tasmanian section of this year's The Battle Of The Sounds. The group has a large following in Tasmania and is popular in other States as well.

The group's sound is a mixture of pop, rock and folk, with the lead singer, Lillian Black, being the highlight.

The group has had several offers to perform in other States, but they have refused, saying they want to stay in Tasmania.

THE VIBRANTS-
AT IT AGAIN

With a new record — the Vibrants are out to get to the top again.

The Vibrants were a top group on the scene eight months ago. Now after a change of line-up, a different image, both in sound and on stage, they are attempting again, to get into the top bracket of the pop scene.

With their record "Terrible Way to Treat Your Mother," they hit the top for a while, but then faded away.

Their answer — "Why should we? We've been too busy forming the group together, rather than concentrating on original material. We have been performing, so our next record will be an original.

There is no room for original-thin jazz and rock groups. We are looking for something we can't just buy or steal. We want it to be something we can create.

The Vibrants have been together for over two years. We have been performing constantly, and we have been together for a long time. We are not just a group, we are a family.
