Radio Ad Sales Rise 12% In January '94

Huge gains posted in Southwest, Southeast

Radio's 1993 revenue surge continued through the first month of 1994: Revenues were up 12% nationwide in January, according to the RAB.

"The same factors that made 1993 such a great year for radio continue to prevail in 1994 - a recovering economy, greater awareness of radio's strength as an advertising medium, and a desire for the kind of bottom linedriven results radio offers," said RAB President Gary Fries. "We're expecting another year of solid growth around the 8% mark, and January's revenue growth is a reassuring signal that our predictions are on the money.

Local revenues were up 12% nationwide for the month, with double-digit gains in every region. The Southwest shot up 19%, followed by the Southeast (14%), Midwest (13%), and the East and West (10% each).

- Local up 12%, national rose 10%

National spot sales gained 10% nationwide, powered by a 27% gain in the Southeast. Singledigit gains were seen in the Midwest (9%), East (8%), West (3%), and Southwest (1%).

RAB bases its calculations on data from over 100 radio markets provided by the accounting firms of Miller, Kaplan, Arase & Co. and Hungerford, Aldrin, Nichols & Carter.

Liberty To Buy Beck-Ross Champlin to join Liberty as Exec. VP

Liberty Broadcasting announced Friday (3/4) that it will acquire Beck-Ross Communications. Beck-Ross President Jim Champlin will join Liberty as an Exec. VP.

Financial details weren't announced, but R&R has learned the deal will be mostly cash, with Beck-Ross's principals receiving a small amount of Liberty stock. Our sources estimate the deal's value at $36 million. Liberty President/CEO Jim Thompson told R&R that Champlin won't be given a specific job description at Liberty, but will concentrate on "nontraditional marketing and enhancements of our stations' sales efforts.

"We have to find new ways to generate revenues for radio," noted Champlin. He also said he'll be working on "exciting opportunities" for duopolies in Hartford and Providence.

Laurence Named To Program WXTR

Three-year WKLR/Indianapolis PD Roy Laurence has accepted a similar assignment at WXTR/Washington, effective March 21. He succeeds Bob Duckman, who has already exited the Liberty Gold station.

Laurence told R&R, "Liberty is growing rapidly and has made a commitment to WXTR's success. I'm dying to get back to a market that I'm comfortable with -- and to the East Coast in general."

Laurence enters a three-way D.C. Gold battle between WXTR, WBIG, and WARW. "Competition makes for better radio," he said. "There's room in Washington for a traditional Gold format as well as other format variations. There's potential for several stations to do well."

Laurence's previous programming credits include stops at Philadelphia outlets WIOQ, WCAU-FM, and WIFI.

Hawaiian FM Bankruptcy Battle Centers On Receiver Issue

LHI/Lahaina, HI licensee Dale Parsons is trying to get the FCC to toss out a court-appointed receiver who's been running the station since late December.

Parsons told the FCC he's an "innocent third party" caught up in a "desperate attempt by a trustee in bankruptcy to garner whatever assets he can." Parsons, who purchased the station from Pacific Isle Broadcasting in April 1991, told the FCC he had no idea then that Kenneth Hayashi Corp., the licensee before Pacific Isle, had filed bankruptcy. Both Pacific Isle and KHC were controlled by Kenneth Hayashi.

However, receiver Howard Green claims Parsons was well aware of the bankruptcy proceeding and went ahead with the closing anyway. In his motion to seize KLHI, which was granted by the bankruptcy court, Green claimed the sale is voidable as "a fraudulent conveyance."

Although he acknowledges the FCC raised questions about his seizure of the station without first getting Commission approval, Green subsequently filed the required transfer application. "The Commission is obliged to accommodate the ruling of the United States Bankruptcy Court," he argued in a filing with the FCC.

Green remains in control of the station for now.

NAB Seeks EEO Clarification

he NAB has asked the FCC to explain how it intends to apply its recently toughened EEO standards. Specifically, it wants to know whether stations will be fined for less-than-perfect EEO record-keeping even if they've hired large numbers of minorities and women.

Noting that it supports the EEO program's goals, the industry group guestioned whether proper procedures were followed in developing the guidelines. Among the issues under contention: why the public wasn't allowed to comment on the new rules and whether it's fair to retroactively apply the new standards to stations whose licenses were renewed before the policy was unveiled.

BIA Lists Revenue Monsters

IA's Investing In Radio 1994 concludes that WIVK/Knoxville has the most disproportionately large revenue share of any medium market (markets 15-75) station.

The Country FM claimed 37.6% of revenues in the Knoxville market, ranked No. 73 by Arbitron. Equally amazing, said BIA, is the 48.4% revenue share claimed by top combo WHAS & WAMZ/Louisville. The Full Service/Country duo grabbed 24.3% and 24.1%, respectively, of market 52's revenues.

Other revenue monsters listed include WNNK/Harrisburg, PA (market 74, 28.6%); WRFM/West Palm Beach (49, 27.2%); WTQR/Greensboro (43, 25.4%); KIIM/Tucson (65, 24.0%); and WZZK/Birmingham (54, 23.5%).

Preview all the new features in this week's Country Music section

R&R's new music system has been designed to meet today's radio needs. The most timely, detailed and easy-to-use airplay information. All formats in one publication!

PLAYS - The total number of plays for a song will be listed on the charts. In the New & Active section you'll also see a station's total plays on a song for the previous week in parentheses

New

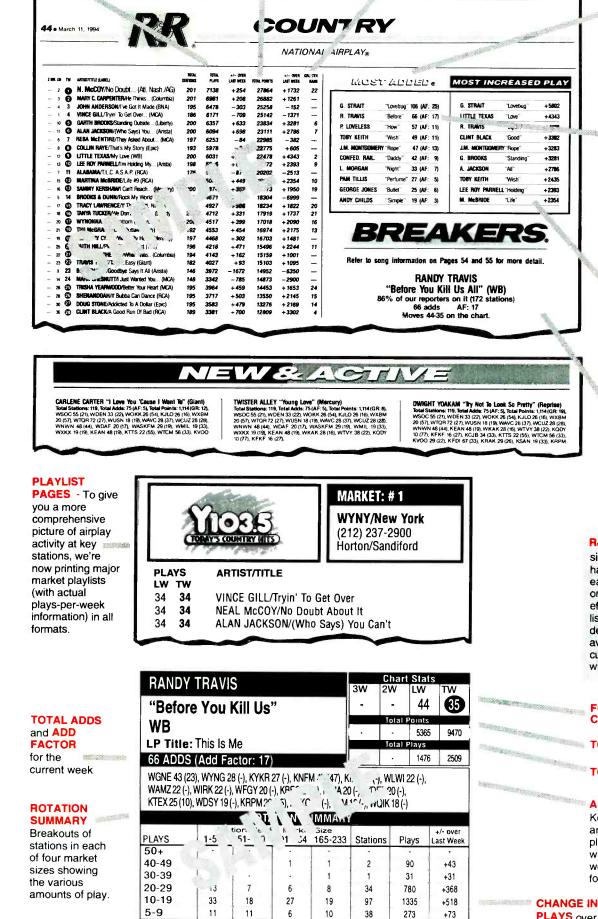

POINTS - Not only will we be showing total plays, we're also adding even more meaningful information to the charts by publishing total points, so you can see how close or far apart songs really are. Song points are determined by the station's weight multiplied by the number of plays on each song.

GROWTH RANK - A chart move is far from the complete picture of a song's progress. Our new Growth Rank position adds another dimension. The GR ranks all upward-moving songs in order of most growth in airplay and audience (total points) over the previous week. You'll be able to see at a glance, for example, that a song moving 20-15 on a format chart can be No. 1 in "Growth" that week.

MOST ADDED - Our

traditional Most Added boxes will now show both the quantity (number of stations adding a song) and quality (Add Factor) of adds.

ADD FACTOR (scale 1-50) Traditionally songs have been judged by the quantity of adds they accumulate each week. Now we'll show you the total number of adds and the Add Factor, which measures the quality of the adds. The AF represents the combined weight of all stations adding a song, reduced to a 1-50 scale, 50 = 100%. For example, a high AF with a low number of stations would quickly indicate major market airplay

MOST INCREASED PLAY

This feature replaces the "Hottest" boxes with more useful information: the songs which had the largest increases in total plays over the previous week.

BREAKERS - As always,

Breaker status is designed to show a consensus of acceptance on a song. Songs become Breakers the first week in which 60% or more of a format's reporters (50% in AC) are playing it.

R&R WEIGHTING FORMULA - The

simplistic three-level parallel system has been replaced. Now each station eams its own weight in points, based on the size of its audience and how effectively it reaches its target listenership. The elements used in determining the station points are average quarter-hour persons, weekly cume, and the station's turnover, which measures its effectiveness.

MANAGEMENT

Seven Ways To Keep Your Best Employees

espect and rewards are the best ways to retain your best employees, advises Robert Half, author of "Finding, Hiring and Keeping the Best Employees' (John Wiley & Sons).

Half maintains the cost of keeping a good worker is minimal, especially when compared with the cost of hiring and training new employees. Here are seven steps to reinforce your employees' commitment to your company:

Hire managers who respect lower-level employees. You can gauge potential managers' attitudes by talking with the secretary or receptionist (who usually deals with these applicants first). If an applicant treated these subordinates unpleasantly on the day of the job interview, it's a safe bet he or she won't change when hired.

Recognize your top performers. Compliment in public: criticize in private. Be wary of complimenting workers in memos - unless you want the statements to become part of their personnel files. (If you later decide to fire this person, a stack of written commendations could make it difficult.)

Reward good ideas. If you implement a suggestion box-type system. you must be willing to adopt - and publicly acknowledge - each idea that saves time or money, or no one will bother to contribute

Encourage teamwork. Teams build family-like pride among members and make it easier for your best performers to tell a slacking co-worker to shape up. Good workers seldom want to leave a supportive corporate family.

Turn performance reviews into motivational tools. Always begin with compliments for the employee's work, then get a commitment for improvement in the areas that need it. Be sure to ask the employee's opinion on how supervisors and the company itself could improve. This makes employees feel that they're part of moving the company forward.

Provide competitive salary and benefits. Some employees might take a job for the challenge, but the majority prefer a good salary to make ends meet. Start by paying your people as much or more than your direct competitors. Then reward your top performers with bonuses - and get rid of the ones who underperform.

Explain dismissals in a compassionate manner. When a company must lay off a substantial number of employees, those who remain are bound to feel demoralized. If you provide a thorough and honest explanation of the layoffs, you'll prevent the staffers you want to keep from jumping ship as well.

When terminating an individual employee, a manager should simply say the company regretted firing the worker, but his or her good qualities will ensure the person lands a good job elsewhere.

Negatives & Absolutes: Communication Killers

othing kills communication quicker than stating your case in negatives or absolutes. Instead, author Michael Thomsett suggests rephrasing your criticisms in positive and nonabsolute terms, as evidenced by the following examples:

Negative: "Why can't you" Positive: "What if we

n his Playboy interview, Howard Stern says, "To go up against morning shows all over the country and have a No. 1 rating is 10 times more difficult than writing a best-selling book."

He adds, "Radio is different from any other form of show business ... I'm the director, the producer, the whole deal ... It's immediate. Whatever I think of, I can broadcast. There's a lot of creativity that comes from having to knock out five hours a day."

Smokin' Rush

After just a year of smoking stogies, Rush Limbaugh makes the cover of Cigar Aficionado, where he talks about his sybaritic pleasures: cigars, of course, as well as wines and restaurants. Curiously, he delights in Cuban smokes.

He says, "Cigars relax me. I only recently began smoking them while doing the radio show, and just having one in my hand seems to lower whatever inhibitions I have just a bit and bring out the expressiveness of my personality."

Also, the tabloids say Rush is about to marry a Florida woman he met when she wrote to him. He calls her his "Jacksonville jaguar." Her ex-husband talked to the Star, Rush's mom talked to the Star and National Enquirer.

Garth Shall Be Free

Garth Brooks talks in Interview about homosexuality. Of his controversial, arguably pro-gay song "We Shall All Be Free," he says, "We gained some fans ... and we lost some fans that followed us very closely ... The longer I'm around, the more I'm going to reveal to people what I am.

qy Gayles reminisces in Rolling Stone about his career. "My creative power has always been in publicizing great geniuses. I looked for winners. I didn't make hits. All I did was help make a hit?

Meanwhile, Elvis Costello tells Entertainment Weekly, "Obviously, if you want hit records, you should write a lot of idealized love songs. But plenty of people are doing that, and even more doing it badly. There are also plenty of songs about being misunderstood at 17 - but not that many about feeling adrift when you're older."

Original Artists

"It's like the challengers to the throne. I'm not afraid to say that there definitely is a Soundgarden Lite that has been presented and has had success," says the band's Kim Thayil. He predicts the next big trend will be "a neo beatnik thina . short hair, thick-rim glasses" (Interview).

With "Beavis & Butt-Head" on the cover of the Rolling Stone, the 'zine profiles some of their faves the Beastie Boys, Joan Jett, and Danzig. Glenn Danzig says, "This band finally stayed together long enough for everyone to catch up with what we're doing."

Button-Pushers

Tanya Donnelly of Belly tells Rolling Stone that Salt-N-Pepa & En Vogue's "Whatta Man" is "probably the sexiest thing I've heard in a long time. It encourages men to figure out where the button is."

Radio contest pig Tom Sedivy of Garden Grove, CA is featured in the Globe. His suggestions: Get a speed dialer, tune in distant stations, and use more than one phone (he has three). But what he really wants to win is a wife.

Listening Credit: It's In Your Control

Pinpoint targeting by advertisers has led many radio stations into costly, calculated marketing approaches that search zip codes, blocks, and homes for radio listeners. Yet there's no guarantee you'll find what you're looking for - radio listeners who are also Arbitron diarykeepers.

But there's still one sure way to ensure your station gets the listening credit it deserves. It won't cost a penny . . . and it's probably sitting on your desk right now. Arbitron's Station Information Packet (SIP) was mailed to every station in the United States February 10. Though the March 2 deadline for returning the packet has passed, you can still submit your package or an update letter at any time.

The information we receive from stations that return the SIP will be used in compiling the Spring 1994 ratings. What we're asking for is very simple: your station's name and identifiers (calls, frequency, etc.), where your station is licensed, and what your station programs and when Once that data is submitted to Arbitron, it's entered into our computers. Then, when we review what listeners have recorded in their diaries, we know with more certainty which station that listener was listening to . . . and the entry is credited properly.

Of course, there's a catch: You know who you are, but neither Arbitron nor your listeners will know unless you tell them. Only you can make it easy for listeners to identify your station so that when they fill out their Arbitron diaries, your station gets the mention. And if your listeners don't know what station they're listening to, chances are diarykeepers won't write it down.

But remember: Arbitron is not a legal arbiter of which stations own which names. The information stations supply Arbitron is used solely to credit diary entries to the correct station and for reporting in the front pages of the Radio Market Report.

If you're using a station name, sell it to the listener. Be clear, make it memorable, and say it often.

99 The Name Game

Stations can do many things to ensure they'll get the listening credit they deserve. It all begins with your station identifiers — the unique call letters and frequency given your station by the FCC. By themselves, they hardly project an image, just as vour social security number doesn't tell your employer or friends what kind of person you are. That's why stations use unique station names. If you're using a station name, sell it to the listener. Be clear, make it memorable, and say it often.

Station names are short, easy to remember, and often combine elements of call letters and frequency (e.g., "Zl00," "Kiss-FM," or "Mix 104.3"). Listeners are more apt to remember these station names, especially if your station repeats the name often during the hour. I once heard a consultant tell a morning personality that you couldn't report the weather or the traffic enough. The same goes for your station name to your market.

Part of making your station memorable is to be unique. You'll notice a lot of the examples I mention can be found across the country. There are hundreds of "Mixes," "Kisses.

Arbitron can offer you some ad-ditional "intelligence" when you're getting ready to choose your station name. From time to time, Arbitron calculates how diarykeepers record their listening. Even though there have been many changes in radio Dates To Note electing and promoting your station name is probably the most effective way to make sure you get the Arbitron listening credit you deserve.

Here are a few guidelines and tips that will help you choose and define your station name. These guidelines can't possibly take into account every situation in every market, so you must provide the competitive intelligence that will ensure your listeners write your station's name in our diaries.

Keep your station name short no more than 25 characters.

- Station names should contain no abbreviations, slashes. multiple spellings, or redundant elements. The station name should be written as it is spoken. For example, "Lite 102" does not have to submit different spellings of "Lite." Your station will be credited for alternative spellings.
- Submit your station name exactly the way you intend to broadcast it.
 - For example, if your station name is "The New Mix 104," submit that - not "Mix 104" or "New Mix." Broadcast the name clearly and audibly so your listeners hear it the way you intend for them to hear it.
- El Broadcast your station name repeatedly -Arbitron rules require that a station name be used four times per hour in order to get credit for that name.
 - If you air programs in which the station name is used infrequently, you'll still be eligible for credit if the submitted name is used in more than 50% of the occasions on which you broadcast an identifier.

Arbitron will delete your submitted station name if two 60-minute airchecks recorded in the same week during the Monday-Friday 6ammidnight period demonstrate station name practices not in accordance with these guidelines. Be sure to inform Arbitron immediately of any call letter, station name, frequency and/or other facility changes that occur during the course of a survey. Station information is not retroactively credited; it becomes effective only upon our receipt. Send an update letter to Arbitron, Attn: Radio Policies and Procedures, 312 Marshall Ave., Laurel, MD 20707.

over the years, the results of this study surprisingly continue to come out about the same: Arbitron diarykeepers write down a station's call letters more than they write down anything else (see chart).

How do listeners identify your station? You can collect that intelligence on your own. Clients can schedule a diary review with Arbitron and read the actual diaries from your market. Then you can see exactly how listeners identify your station. Do they record your station name the way you've been broadcasting it? Or is there another station whose name sounds like yours? If the diarykeepers are confused and the entries unclear, you may be missing out on listening that should be yours.

It's easy to schedule a diary review. Look for a postcard from Pat Duggan in the mail about a week before the end of each survey. Fill it out and return it before the deadline. For the spring survey, the deadline is June 24, and clients who return cards will be assigned and notified of diary review appointments by the first week in July. So don't wait - every station that goes to a diary review takes back valuable insights, many of which have resulted in higher ratings.

Arbitron diarykeepers write down a station's call letters more than they write down anything else.

When the book comes out, many stations feel like they have no control. But by selecting your station's name, telling Arbitron about it, and following up on the information available to you in the Station Name Preview and in a Diary Review, you really have a lot more control than you might think.

D.C. firm, Chong remains largely unknown in the broadcast regulation community.

"I know lawyers who have worked with her, and they're really high on her," said NAB General Counsel Jeff Baumann. "But I've heard nothing about her work for any broadcast clients."

"All we really know about her is that she's extremely bright," said Media Access Project attorney Gigi Sohn. "There no way to know how she'd be on broadcast issues."

Chong, a Republican, will fill the vacant non-Democrat seat on the Commission (the law requires that no more than three seats on the fivemember panel be occupied by members of the President's party). Of the current Commissioners, Andrew Barrett is a Republican, while Chairman Reed Hundt and James Ouello are Democrats. The White House is expected to fill the remaining vacancy shortly. The leading candidate for the job is lawyer and former American Security Bank broadcast lender Susan Ness, a Democrat who reportedly raised a significant amount of money for the Clinton campaign.

Confirmation A Breeze

Chong, whose nomination was pre-approved by Senate Minority Leader Robert Dole (R-KS), is expected to breeze through the confirmation process. Because she has not yet been formally nominated, the Senate Commerce Committee hasn't scheduled a hearing on her appointment.

A Stockton, CA native, Chong is a 1981 graduate of the University of California, Berkley and a 1984 graduate of the Hastings College of Law. She is married to attorney Kirk Del Prete.

If confirmed, Chong, a thirdgeneration Chinese-American, would become the FCC's first Asian-American member.

New 'Vibe' for 'BLS; Crocker Exits

Earlier in the week, veteran 'BLS personality Frankie Crocker exited in the wake of a breakdown in contract negotiations. KSAN: New Sound & Staff

KSAN/SF made major changes to its sound — and airstaff — within the last week. Morning personality Buddy Baron is out. He'll be replaced March 21 by Kelli D'Angelo, coming from WPNT/Chicago, and Bill Taylor, formerly half of the morning team at KIKK/Houston.

Meanwhile, evening talent Karen Dee segues to the same shift at KSAN sister KABL-FM. In to slam KSAN nights is Tim Anthony, formerly KNCI/Sacramento's afternoon delight.

KSAN OM Lee Logan says the station has shifted from a mainstream to a "highenergy, highly produced" presentation. The move comes amid rumors that Alliance the originator of "Young Country" — is set to flip one of its recently acquired FM properties to Country.

Westwood One taps WRKO/Boston talker Tom Leykis to host an afternoon drive show, starting sometime this spring. Leykis — a former KFI/L.A. personality — will return to the City Of The Angels for the new gig. A WW1 spokesperson says adding Leykis is part of the web's planned expansion of its Talk offerings.

Changes at WZJM/Cleveland continue, with one half of the all-female morning show — Rosemary Vinci — exiting. Afternooner Johnny D. is now cohosting mornings with Lee Ann Sommers, while retaining his afternoon shift (and relinquishing MD duties to Music Coord. Tim Virgin).

CONTEMPORARY HIT RADIO

Conquering Demographic Polarization

Programmers share methods of satisfying both 18-34 adults and teens

Three programmers explain how they satisfy adults, keep teens interested, and avoid alienation of either group. Key variables are market/station history, a competitive environment, and the desired sound.

Avoiding Station Schizophrenia

Since Mid-Continent's main stream KDWB/ Minneapolis is the market's only CHR, teens are most likely to turn to the station. But PD Mark Bolke knows they won't listen for long periods unless Mark Bolke

KDWB's playing what's hot. "I can't say that we're looking for records with teen-only appeal, but by staying aware of the active records in our research and MTV, and providing a current-intensive profile with proper dayparting, we're able to serve both teens and 18-34s effectively."

As part of Bolke's strategy, daytime powers rotate anywhere from 3:15-3:45 to keep a balance between familiarity (cume) and burnout (time spent listening). The current percentage is around 60%. At night his research shows that the available audience will tolerate a turnover of power titles every 2:30, with current balance as high as 85%-90%.

"Having a schizophrenic-sounding station is the part of this job I've worried about most for the past 18 years," admits Bolke. "One of the more difficult balancing acts is to rotate a record that starts with a teen base, develops adult appeal after weeks of play, and then becomes a burnout [60% negative callouts] to the teens. That means finding a slower - yet acceptable - night rotation and a stronger daytime rotation. With the pressure for adult numbers, we'll always sound some-ow can you appeal to teens and capture 18-34 adults? Keep the following in mind:

- · Find "dual appeal" music/programming elements and promotions.
- Avoid assuming teens don't listen during the day and adults don't tune in at night.
- Balance rotations between cume and TSL Stay aware of when records
- reach a burnout with each audience seament.
- · Daypart with an ear toward a consistent sound.

By staying aware of the active records in our research and MTV, and providing a current-intensive profile with proper dayparting, we're able to serve both teens and 18-34s effectively. - Mark Bolke what schizophrenic, but the trick is to have enough big hits that transcend all dayparts for a thread of commonality.

Polarized Music Tastes

From Bolke's perspective the polarization between teen and adult tastes is probably at an alltime high. 'Rap music is the biggest adult negative, yet it's part of the music of today's youth. But the alternative music that's crossing to CHR has adult and teen appeal. The only problem is that many 12-24s who like rap don't like the alternative crossovers, so we're experiencing teen fragmentation as well."

A further complication is "assuming adults are only interested in mellow music in daytime hours, or that everyone listening at night wants to party," Bolke cautions. "That's wrong. Don't [allow] the super-active or super-passive listeners to dictate the mood of the station. Common sense says dayparting music and promotions work, but don't assume every daytime listener is an adult or every night listener is under 25."

He outlined three winning daytime promotions:

- All-request lunch hour totally listener-driven where station can play "oh wow" gold.
- Free lunches for at-work listeners faxing in.
- Tickets to adult-appeal movies and live theater performances.

"In this market," Bolke concludes, "they expect KDWB to do two things well: play hit music, and be informative and entertaining without the hype-talk and screaming of the '80s. Music is and always will be our most important element to winning 12-34 listeners."

Morning Show Base Cook Inlet Churban KUBE/ Seattle has blown up a lot of myths in recent years about the appeal of rhythmic records in that market - not to mention whether an established morning show can Bob Case adapt to a new-music profile. PD Bob Case says his morning show is his station's adult cornerstone. "It goes beyond the obvious dayparting to the available audience. To me, it's having a wellentrenched morning show like Charlie & Ty — who've been here for 13 years - that provides the adult credibility to our young, adultbased music.

"The other side of the equation is finding music and promotions with what I call 'dual appeal.' Let's face it, rap doesn't appeal to adults, but Billy Joel does. However the teens can't relate. Prince, Babyface, and even the Adams/Stewart/Sting record have that dual [appeal]. Even more exciting is when I can find adult-reaction records like Deep Forest or Enigma and have them become acceptable to teens."

Case makes concessions for daytime listening by turning over his powers every 2:20, but steps it up to 1:45 at night. "The most notable music difference in our daytime music is the 'Old School Lunch Hour.' Beyond that we're pretty consistentsounding with regard to tempo and intensity, without some of the teenleaning [rap] records in the day.

The other way to capture adult respect is through community ties. Our 'KUBE Summer Jams' and 'Birthday Party' concerts have [generated] cash donations to the N.W. AIDS Foundation, and donations from our annual Haunted House have benefited Children's Hospital For Babies. [These] all have a bearing on adults.

'Conversely, our 'Knowledge Is Power Jam' was targeted for teens. And our upcoming 13th Birthday Party will be targeted two ways. On April 1 the show is for all ages, starring Domino, K7, Lisette Melendez, All-4-One, Funky Poets, and Big Mountain. On April 2 it's adults-only, with an 'Old School Jam' and a casino night.

Top 40 is a great format — you just have to decide you really want to do it, and then provide elements that won't blow off either teens or adults.

Traditional Rules Don't Apply

Emmis Churban WQHT (Hot 97)/ New York PD Steve Smith says the traditional rules of dayparting and concerns over polarization of music don't apply to his station. Currently in a rebuild-

Steve Smith ing mode, Smith has seen a 3.6-3.8 increase in the Fall '93 Arbitron, and a 4.0 showing in the Nov/Dec/Jan Arbitrend. "I set out to position Hot 97 as the 'hiphop station for New York, so I'm more interested in a consistent sound this is what we play, the menu doesn't change. We're targeted 18-24 and are beginning to see that hiphop's appeal isn't just 12-24, but 18-34 as well. Since this music's been around for about five years, we've got older teens now hitting 25 who are still very much into this sound. Also, hip-hop in this market has multiethnic appeal to blacks, Hispanics, and the white 25-34 audience."

Smith also avoids dayparting promotions as well. "Since we're out to own a position in the market, I target it 24 hours a day with the best hiphop and rhythmic music I can find. The consistency of the music dictates that the personalities, presentation, and promotions all be in step with the music. If I tried to target 25-34s during daytime, and 18-24s from atternoon drive onward, I would upset both audiences and serve neither.

"What really separates us from [crosstown WHTZ] Z100, or even [WRKS] Kiss is not only the music but the mindset of our listeners. They are more active consumers of music, they go to clubs and concerts, and are more aware of the cuttingedge lifestyle trends in [verbal] communication and clothing. These people are in touch with the streets. Both ZI00 and Kiss have some cutting-edge listeners, but the majority of their audience also wants to hear mainstream [pop] and AC music mixed in, and that's not what we're about.

URBAN CONTEMPORARY

Reaching Black Listeners

Survey shows format's strength relative to black population

ow is Urban radio serving its core constituency — the black listener? On a market-bymarket basis, R&R's Urban Market Power Ratio (UMPR) takes a look at how much of the black population is listening to Black radio.

Overall, Black radio is reaching 55.9% of the listeners in markets where it maintains a presence. To some extent, there's strength in numbers: The Urban Market Power Ratio in markets served by only one Black station averages 40.9, but that figure jumps to 61.9 when a second signal is added. Further UMPR increases can be seen in markets with three or four Urban stations (64.5 and 67.7, respectively). Curiously, the UMPR average dips slightly — to 66.7 — in markets with five signals.

The UMPR is determined by adding up the 12+ Arbitron AQH shares of all Urban stations in a market, then dividing that total by the percentage of blacks in the 12+ metro audience. Therefore, a UMPR of 50.0 would indicate that half of all black listening in the market went to Urban stations. (Keep in mind, of course, that 12+ numbers reflect all listeners, so the UMPR does not reflect only black listening.)

Only markets measured in the Fall 1993 Arbitron report with rated Urban stations have been included in this survey.

YBPC Does It For The Kids

oung Black Programmers Coalition has launched its 1994 public service announcement campaign. This year, the message YBPC is asking Urban stations to broadcast is an impassioned plea: "Do it for the children now."

YBPC National President Irene Johnson Ware says, "Through this campaign, we're attempting to form a network of YBPC members [stations, artists, executives, etc.] and others who will lend their time to this important effort. We ask that you make the phrase — 'Do it for the children now' — part of your everyday conversations. By using the phrase, you're providing the impetus to spur adrenaline for creative solutions to our most pressing problems."

A prime beneficiary of YBPC's crusade will be the Black Community Crusade for Children. One function of the PSA campaign is to "promote media awareness for children and foster support for the BCCC," Ware explains. "Black children and families are facing the worst crisis since slavery, and the black community must take the lead in doing something about it. The influence of Black radio and black music can mobilize a great deal of support and action from the African-American community."

Bailey Broadcasting Services has already pledged its support to YBPC's efforts on behalf of African-American children. The YBPC PSAs are airing on all Bailey programs and specials.

DOIN' TIME IN DAYTON Hankston Incarcerated For A Good Cause

ROU/Dayton PD/afternoon personality Marvin Hankston was interrupted during a recent airshift by a business visit from local law enforcement officials.

Station staffers watched in awe as the police arrested the jock known as "Marvelous Marv Miller" (aka — an alias!), handcuffed him, escorted him out of the building, and whisked him off to jail in a squad car.

After an hour, listeners had donated more than $1000 to pay his bail, and Hankston was released. He was then found guilty on charges of being a good sport the on-air "arrest" was part of a charity fundraiser planned by WROU management. Hankston's "bail" money went toward the local March of Dimes' efforts to prevent birth defects.

As part of the "Jail And Bail" promotion, Hankston had agreed to stay in jail for an hour or until $750 had been raised whichever came later. With Hankston's on-air replacement, Doug Davis, keeping 'ROU listeners abreast of his legal status and asking loyal fans to come to his aid, a grateful Hankston exceeded expectations ... and provided yet another example of Urban radio rallying the community behind a great cause.

HITTIN' THE BIG TIME — Arbitron recently upgraded Lafayette. LA to market No. 133, and KFXZ (Foxy 106) couldn't be happier with the increased attention that comes with being in a bigger market. Community Service Stations

Detailing several ways to serve the public in a rock 'n' roll environment

Community service continues to be a driving force for many rock stations. This week, two programmers who take the issue of serving the public very seriously detail their station philosophies and what works for them.

KLBJ/Austin was nominated for a Crystal award this year from the NAB. PD Jeff Carrol says, "We used about half a million dollars' worth of inventory for different public service/communi-

Throughout the past year we were involved in about 30 different events." Some highlights:

• Rock 'N' Roll Auction

• Give Kids The World — "We built a duplex in Florida near Disney World for terminally ill children from Texas so they could spend some quality time with their families out of the hospital."

• Children Giving To Children -"A toy drive at Christmas with a big parade.'

• Local Licks Live CD - "Every week a local band plays live at a club and we broadcast it on the air. We pick a song from each band and at the end of the year put them on a CD. All of the money goes to the United Way. We've had some great artists on those, like Stevie Ray Vaughan, Eric Johnson, and Ian Moore.'

• Clean Sweep — "Once a year, roughly 30 different parts of town are designated as disaster sites. We go to each of those areas and broadcast live as our listeners join us to help clean up the area. Last year we had 2000 volunteers and collected two and a half tons of recyclables.

"Other things present themselves and we'll get right on them, too, such as flood relief. We try to help out [during] the different disasters that occur throughout the year, or when something happens locally, like when blood reserves are low. We try to help wherever we can in a timely way."

Give And Take

them from getting burned out. He says, "We give away T-shirts, discount coupons, movie passes, concert tickets, or whatever we can. But people are incredible - I raised more than $30,000 for the duplex in Florida by camping out for a week until I reached my goal. And to see the people who come down and donate, well, they're people who don't have the money. They're in holey T-shirts and jeans writing checks for a couple hundred dollars. "While I don't have any direct proof that our community service has helped our ratings, it's definitely an image thing. We hear from people who say they love us because we really do a lot for the community. In this day where there are so many satellite stations and syndicated programs, I think it's important to be very local.

"Obviously, it also gets our name out in front of a lot of people who may not be rock 'n' roll listeners, but they're still aware that we're good citizens in this community. We also try to get outside press, so we coop with the TV station or the newspaper as much as possible. It gives the charity more exposure as well as the station.'

hour public service show on Saturday morning that deals with newsworthy topics of the moment that might affect our listeners.

"Our News Director, Steve Ramirez, gets the congressmen, senators, and local politicians on these shows and they discuss the events. Sometimes Steve interviews people out on the street and uses it on the show.

"We get very involved in all of the local events: The Asparagus Festival. Wine and Cheese Festival, and Chocolate Festival are examples. While most other stations at these events promote themselves, we normally have a booth that raises money for the charity involved with the festival. We have a putting green, basketball hoop shoot, or something like that to raise money. Usually when these events are over, the people organizing it are surprised we raised money for them because the other stations haven't."

While an Asparagus Festival may not seem to be a typical draw for a rock audience, Brown says, "We tell listeners to go to the festival because we're there raising money for the charity. We try to make it sound cool from the angle that we need the listeners there to help us. It works. And we give out prizes for people who help the cause. Without the help of the record labels, providing the promotional stuff to give away, I don't think we'd be able to raise the kind of money for charity that we do.'

News Coverage Key

Modesto doesn't have a News/ Talk station, although KCBS/San Francisco reaches the area. So it makes sense that, for KDJK, serving the public means providing a lot of news. Brown says, "There's no other rock station in this market that covers news the way we do. Most others are just rip-and-readers. Our news director gets out in the community and gathers stories of local interest.

"We're keeping our audience informed more than most other stations our size. We feel that even though we program to a rock audience, they still want to hear what the people they voted for have to say about local issues. Our goal is to ensure that we keep our listeners more informed than any other station in the area, period. There's only one other station in the market with a newsperson, and it's not even a fulltime position.

"A good example of our news commitment is the recent earthquake in Los Angeles. Even though we're in Modesto, a lot of people here have relatives and friends in L.A. We gave updates every 15 minutes. Any major events that happen in San Francisco or Los Angeles will be covered extensively, as well as major national news events.

"We get tons of calls on the request line in which listeners thank us for giving out all the information we do. We get a lot of really good feedback every time something like this happens, so we know we're on the right track."

Love, American Style

ere's a photo foray of some station events from Valentine's Day, when love was in the air, on the beach, in the hot tub, and shared with hundreds.

SHOVE YOUR LOVE - WJRR/Orlando invited couples to "Shove Your Love" for Valentine's Day. The station's Steve Robertson is shown here (bottom) broadcasting live from the sky during a free fall from 12,500 feet.

BRIDAL BASH - WCSX/Detroit held its second Valentine's Day Bridal Bash, in which 120 couples simultaneously tied the knot. The station provided all of the wedding trimmings as well as a grand prize of rings and a honeymoon in the Bahamas. The mass wedding was broadcast live on Jim Johnson & George Baier's morning show SOMETHING WILD — The near-zero temperature wasn't enough to keep two wild WOUR/Utica listeners from "taking the plunge" in a Valen-tine's Day wedding ceremony in a homemade hot tub at city hall. Morning men Peter Hirsch & Mark Nelson broadcast the event and topped it off by jumping into the tub fully tuxed.

WORLD'S LARGEST BLIND DATE - WMMR/Philadelphia's Matt Cord played cupid for 100 area singles on the World's Largest Blind Date. Fifty men and 50 women were chosen at random from a party of 800 singles to win a one-day blind date in the Bahamas. No attempt was made to match up partners, but by the time the group returned home that night, at least six new couples had formed.

Banging The Hits For Success

Two PDs discuss why they tightened up their playlists

It may have been unthinkable in this format a few years ago, but playing a limited number of currents at high rotations enabled two Western region stations to reach recordsetting Fall '93 ratings.

KEDG/Las Vegas

Since Jay Taylor joined KEDG (The Edge)/Las Vegas as PD one year ago, the station's ratings have increased every book (see "Ratings & Cume"). "Everything has gone up 10-fold," says Tay-Jay Taylor lor. "Even the females came up.

We're 55-45 male to female - that's hard to get in this format. "The station was without a PD for four months, and things became a little distracted. It really needed to get competitive. Our game plan was to take the station a bit tighter.

"At the time, only a handful of stations subscribed to the philosophy of tightening up the playlist and rotating songs a little quicker. It makes sense, because we're going to bring more people into the store. One thing that's helped in Las Vegas is that there are a lot of L.A. transplants who are familiar with this format.

"I believe you have to go outside the PI core audience and really grab the P2s - the cume. You need to get them to sample your station. You have to be extremely familiar and protect your core at the same time - these rules apply to any format. It's a difficult task.

Less Is More

Taylor eliminated eight current songs and began rotating the survivors more quickly. "We tightened our powers from six to four-and-ahalf hours, and the B's from nine to six-and-a-half. We average about 30-32 currents, but we're playing more [current] songs each hour. We used to be 60% gold, 40% current and recurrent. Now we're 55%-60% current and recurrent during the day and about 70% at night.

"The burn factor plays a role, but there's also a familiarity factor. If you just play a track and get off it and go on to the next track, I don't think you're properly taking advantage of a situation with a song. We play simultaneous tracks at the same time, but we'll concentrate on one individual track.

NEW ROCK

"We use research to determine when to slow it down and when to get off it. Yes, this is the format where you break new artists, but that's not my job. I need to get ratings and play the best music available."

KTCL/Ft. Collins-Denver

adding a lot of records, the number of impressions per record for the listener was down," says John Hayes, who's been PD at KTCL/Ft. Collins-Denver for the past 14 years. "Records John Hayes we thought the listeners would be familiar with, they weren't. Rotating the currents higher builds more familiarity, so they'll eventually be strong recurrents and, hopefully, gold.

"We kept the same mix of currents to old, but in late July and early August we cut back the amount of currents, enabling them to rotate higher. I felt we could maintain our philosophy of playing a wide variety of music while picking the best songs and rotating them higher. It's made a big difference - you really capture a few more 18-34s and get a better cume with the younger listeners by rotating the records hotter."

Rumors Spur Shift

Hayes admits his decision to tighten up stemmed in large part from last summer's rumors that a station would flip to Alternative in Denver.

"I heard the rumors and figured if somebody flipped they'd have higher rotations and be more focused with more energy. I just wanted to prove that it would be ludicrous for anybody to come into this market [Ft. Collins] or Denver and try to go up against us.

"The station is 60 miles away from Denver, and we've always considered it gravy that we could get a 1.7-2.0 12+ in Denver, but we felt we could do better. We sat down and made a goal to see higher ratings. We needed to decide: Are we just trying to be a station a few people love, or do we want to be the station a lot of people really like? We opted for the latter.

The station's been here 20 years, and I realized we can't have both. We haven't given up our philosophy anything to say, don't say it.' I was like a word processor, totally editing words jocks would say. I told them don't use those words, just say, 'Pearl Jam, KTCL.' It's a much more upbeat approach, and for the first time we're talking over the posts. It sounds more exciting and alive.'

Hayes recalls that when he tightened up the music three years ago the station achieved a record 2.0 12+. "At the time, we went from free-form to a computerized format. I really cut back, and the ratings went up. In the meantime, we were flooded with calls saying we sucked - there were petitions, and clients complained. We opened it up and didn't hit a 2.0 again until I tightened it up again. I figured if clients complained this time, we'd prove to them that we're building a listenership. It was a long lesson learned.

KTCL is definitely building a listenership, as the table at top right indicates. "We were really surprised about the 25+ crowd - we've found a big increase for 25-49 men and women," Hayes notes. "Our cume increased by about 35%, and we had one of our highest TSLs ever. What's significant to us about getting these particular numbers is that there are 44 stations in Denver - and we're not one of them."

ADULT CONTEMPORARY

Format's Rites Of Spring

WLEV will boost promotions, won't tighten playlist for forthcoming book

Arbitron's spring sweep begins in less than three weeks. Although many AC PDs tend to be musically conservative throughout the year, some tighten their playlists even more for the spring book.

66

One who doesn't, however, is WLEV/Allentown PD/MD Rogers. Tony "We don't deviate or think in terms of seasons or ratings surveys," he explains. "Good ACs don't tive just because they're entering a spring book. [Conversely], we don't loosen up in the summer and winter.

"Our criteria for adding music depends on market familiarity. We just added Melissa Etheridge out of the box, which isn't conservative for an AC. The market's familiar with the song.

With no direct format challenger, Rogers admits he's conservative when handling "AC-exclusive" songs. "I need to really believe in an AC-only song. We're playing Oleta Adams ('The Day I Stop Loving You'], but not Linda Ronstadt ['Oh No, Not My Baby']. Our philosophy is don't play it, the audience isn't going to miss it. But a head-tohead competitor might force us to play certain records.'

Monthlong Hunt

Rogers admits spring is a key promotion period. WLEV's spring stunt a scavenger hunt — offers a hefty $20,000 grand prize and several attractive runner-up awards.

"We're musically consistent yearround, but pour a lot of promotion money into the spring book. Our scavenger hunt is designed to last one month - probably May - and generate community fun.

"Each day, we'll announce an item for listeners to collect. We'll start during our Love Songs show. We also might have people get their pictures taken at certain advertiser locations."

WLEV wants its scavenger hunt to get people talking - especially when they get to the harder items. 'You have to put tough things in there to separate the men from the boys. We might ask for a baseball program from a local team that no longer exists. When it gets down to crunchtime, people will take ads out with a station bumper sticker or a dollar bill with [our dial position] in the serial number. We won't take weekends off - if listeners leave town; someone must listen for them.'

The contest will be prepromoted in April. "If we did it this month, it wouldn't help our spring book. Our AOH is fine, but we need something to build cume."

Recycling Listeners

The hunt won't be difficult until its final 10 days and could be used to recycle listeners and invite sponsor tie-ins. "We don't want to discourage people early on. To draw attention to some of our features, we might ask for the first five songs in the paper and offer $100 for a certain item.

Rogers was involved in a similar event several years ago at CHR WNNK/Harrisburg. "An AOR gave out our clues. But it backfired on them — the only thing they did was give us free publicity.'

'Silent Killer'

In the fall, WLEV conducted a telemarketing campaign; the station had no major winter promotion. Clearly not a telemarketing fan, Rogers recalls, "We put $40,000 into it, and I'm not sold on it. I know it's the silent killer, but it didn't make much of a difference. Since the promotion ended, our TSL actually has increased.

FM/Toledo PD/MD Ron Finn. "From an advertising standpoint, the spring book has the most emphasis. If you turn in a poor spring performance - or if it's your one down book - you could be poisoned for the rest of the year."

Ron Finn

WWWM-FM's format clock remains intact during the spring book. But as Finn explains. "We may shift some things a little to keep things fresh. There's nothing drastic - just some short-term moves. We play ing the spring. But we take a closer look at how we deliver [other elements] in our total package.

Announcer Awareness

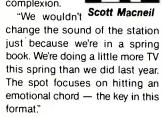

An announcers' meeting is convened to stress the importance of the spring sweep. "We all must be on the same page and aware of our goals. People look for ways to beat winter doldrums We must have a good picture of who our listeners are and what they're doing, then think of specific ways to stand apart.

"Nuts and bolts are what ACs should look at to keep fresh. It's not what's said, it's how it's said. I remind announcers to put things into actionable bits: Rather than saving there's a 50% chance of rain, say, 'Rain should arrive by afternoon, so grab that umbrella?

KSFI Focuses On Family, Fall

oft AC KSFI/Salt Lake City PD Scott Macneil says he's more apt to incorporate tempo into his playlist in the spring than in December

"There's more acceptance of it now than in the dead of winter," he contends, "If we add Rod Stewart's 'Having A Party, we might change KSFI's texture without changing our complexion.

Community Relations

KSFI's spring promotion posture will be community-related without much hype. "We're planning activities with the new Triple A baseball team. We'll also have a free concert in the park. It won't be a listener party, and people won't have to be the 100th caller to win - the whole family's invited. Much of the booth-sales proceeds will go to charity."

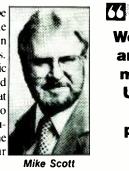

Macneil seeks family-oriented promotions. "This isn't a jump-upand-down, beat-your-chest format or station. Our announcers give listeners verbal handshakes. This is a very conservative community - we have to be memorable in ways other than telling the latest [off-color] jokes."

Unlike many of his colleagues, Macneil believes fall is his market's most important book "Spring generally is strong for us, but fall is when we make our meat and potatoes."

KQXT/San Antonio's Safe Sweep Setup

KQXT/San Antonio OM Mike Scott readily admits his playlists are especially conservative during spring books.

'We want to be safe and make sure we maintain our TSL," he says. "Unfamiliar music tends to breed problems in that area. We like to expose new music, but not at the expense of our TSL.

"AC - especially Soft AC - is very conservative. During important spring ratings periods, [the entire] industry becomes more conservative with music. We analyze our adds and our entire library in the spring. Recurrents tend to wear better than new material."

Standard Time

Scott doesn't adjust his format clock to boost recurrents. "By and large, we stay on the same clock structure 365 days a year. We might hang on to some records longer and be slower in adding new records in the spring and fall. The clock, however, isn't changed to downplay currents or [increase] recurrents.

Scott will conduct a music test before the spring book starts. "It's for the 'skirts' - songs on the outskirts of our main list. Our core list is very solid, so we test newer songs on the perimeter, recent adds, noncore AC songs, and some recurrents."

Constant Promotions

KQXT's promotion flow - including a May Phil Collins concert - maintains a steady pace throughout the year. "We never stop promoting, but we tend to give out big money and put up billboards for the spring and fall books. In my three years in San Antonio, I haven't seen anyone try to 'buy' the audience or book.

"I don't think we'll do TV, but we'll have boards up this spring. We also beef up our [song-of-the-daytype] 'Easy Money' contest during spring books. The excitement for that contest is as great today as it was when it started three years ago, We've given out about $500,000 total.

Fairness Doctrine On Ice? Cool!

But issue won't go away, supporters and opponents agree

When I polled Talk radio programmers in December about the major challenges facing the format in 1994, nearly everyone mentioned the same issue: reimposition of the Fairness Doctrine.

But two months into the new year, it appears that's one concern broadcasters can move to the back burner for now. According to both supporters and opponents of the doctrine efforts in both the House and Senate to write the currently defunct policy into law have come to a halt in the face of industry opposition and competing legislative demands.

Long-Term Hold

"Fairness legislation is on longterm hold," said communications attorney Gigi Sohn of the Media Access Project (MAP), a group that supports reimposition of the doctrine

Sohn gives the nation's radio talk show hosts -- including EFM Media's Rush Limbaugh - partial credit for stopping the reimposition of the legislation, which was once viewed by Rush Limbaugn NAB lobbyists as a mortal lock for quick passage in this Congress.

"I think Fairness Doctrine legislation would have been possible late last year if it hadn't been for the talk show hosts," said Sohn with grudging admiration. "They succeeded in [intimidating] several major lawmakers.

Among the lawmakers who got cold feet after being inundated with

- David Bartlett

calls and letters spawned by the talkers' on-air harangues against the Fairness Doctrine, says Sohn, was Sen. Ernest Hollings (D-SC), a staunch supporter of efforts to reimpose the policy. "He doesn't want the dittoheads calling him up to complain that the bill would force Rush Limbaugh off the air." said Sohn. Hollings's office did not return R&R's calls.

RTNDA Exec. Director David Bartlett also credits the talkers but adds that religious broadcasters also played a major role in blocking the reimposition juggernaut through their influence with key lawmakers, including Hollings. Religious operators fear that a return of the Fairness Doctrine would force them to give equal air time to proponents of views that are diametrically opposed to the beliefs espoused by the their stations.

Ernest Hollings David Bartlett

Info Highway Roadkill?

Sohn and Bartlett also agreed that Congress' new-found fascination with creation of the electronic "information superhighway" championed by the Clinton Administration has helped push Fairness off the legislative hot sheet. "The communications subcommittees in both Houses have other things on their minds," said Sohn. "They want the information super-highway." What's more, she added, the entire Congress is about to turn its attention to the President's controversial and complex proposals to remake the nation's health care system.

As a result, "I don't see [Fairness legislation] coming up again before the fall."

That, says Bartlett, is good news for broadcasters. "If it doesn't come up before fall, it's dead meat. There's so much else on the agenda." However, Bartlett warns, broadcasters must remain doubly vigilant as supporters of the Fairness Doctrine could try to attach reimposition language to some unrelated piece of legislation. The danger of such an action is particularly high near the end of the session, when lawmakers are usually facing a mountain of important legislation that must be resolved before adjournment.

"The forces that support the Fairness Doctrine are still in place on Capitol Hill and they'll do about anything to see it become law, including sneaking it in onto something entirely different," said Bartlett. He pointed out the Fairness Doctrine fight is just one of many content regulation battles that broadcasters continue to face as they struggle to fend off government's for lawmakers to intrude on news and programming decisions. "The politicians' attempts to control the news media will go on so long as there are politicians.

No Big Deal?

How a revived Fairness Doctrine would actually affect the Talk format is still open to debate. Under the policy, broadcasters would once again be legally obligated to offer a "reasonable opportunity for the presentation of contrasting viewpoints" on "controversial issues of public importance." Individuals or groups that believe a station has shirked that obligation would be able to file a complaint with the FCC, which could launch an investigation of the allegations.

Opponents of the Fairness Doctrine contend that many Talk stations fearing the high legal costs associated with fending off Fairness complaints -- would rein in their hosts or perhaps abandon opinion altogether. Limbaugh has further complained that the doctrine would obligate him to give equal time during his show to speakers who disagree with him on the issues.

Not surprisingly, supporters of the doctrine dismiss those fears. According to MAP Exec. Director Andrew Schwartzman and others, the policy simply requires broadcasters to be open-minded and thoughtful in how they present issues over the course of all of their programming. If station management can demonstrate that it has made reasonable decisions about representing differing views, the FCC isn't going to second-guess them.

CRS '94

Super Silver Celebration

he 25th annual 1994 Country Radio Seminar, held March 2-5 at Nashville's Opryland Hotel, will be remembered fondly — if perhaps somewhat foggily by most attendees. Here's a look at some of the events that came to pass during this year's CRS.

This year's agenda was characterized by wide-ranging programming and sales panels. Music was also high on the agenda; among those performing were John Berry, Mary Chapin Carpenter, Rodney Crowell, Billy Ray Cyrus, Kathy Mattea, Tim McGraw, Lee Roy Parnell, Ricky Van Shelton, Marty Stuart, Randy Travis, Rick Trevino, Lari White, and the stars of Thursday night's Super Faces Show, Brooks & Dunn. Clint Black, Michelle Wright, and Duane Propes of Little Texas were among the artists participating in the seminar's educational sessions.

A convention highlight was the two hour-plus presentation by Joint Communications CEO John Parikhal. In an address to the CRS 10 years ago, he said Country would soon be radio's hottest format. His latest CRS prognostication: "Within five years there will be a Country oldies station in most markets." Garth Brooks received the Country Radio Broadcasters' Artist Humanitarian Award; recipients of the Radio Humanitarian Awards were WQCB/Bangor, ME; WSIX/ Nashville; and KMPS-AM & FM/ Seattle.

Inducted into the DJ Hall of Fame were KWKH/Shreveport's Larry Scott and the late Wayne Raney of WCKY/Cincinnati.

Board members elected were Arista Director/Promotion Denise Nichols and WYYD/Lynchburg, VA MD Robynn Jaymes, who is also the 1994 Agenda Chair. Reelected officers for 1994-95 were Unistar President Ed Salamon (President), Decca Sr. VP/GM Shelia Shipley Biddy (VP), McVay Media Sr. VP/Programming Charlie Cook (Secretary), and Aristo-Media/Marco Promotions President Jeff Walker (Treasurer).

GIANT'S HIT MAN — CRS attendees flocked to the Giant Records suite at the Opryland Hotel to meet the man who has more hits than every country artist combined — baseball great Pete Rose (r). Joining him are (I-r) WBWN/Bloomington, IL PD Tom Holiday, artist Deborah Allen, label President James Stroud, and Giant's Nick Hunter.

CARPENTER'S TRIPLE PLAY — Mary Chapin Carpenter, who performed at the CRS General Session last Friday (3/4), became the first artist to receive a Grammy in the Best Country Vocal Performance, Female category for three consecutive years. Presenting her with a plaque commemorating the achievement are Columbia/Nashville VP Mike Kraski (I) and Exec. VP/GM Allen Butler.

POWERFUL INFORMATION!

Preview all the new features in this week's Country Music section

R&R's new music system has been designed to meet today's radio needs. The most timely, detailed and easy-to-use airplay information. All formats in one publication!

PLAYS - The total number of plays for a song will be listed on the charts. In the New & Active section you'll also see a station's total plays on a song for the previous week in parentheses.

POINTS - Not only will we be showing total plays, we're also adding even more meaningful information to the charts by publishing total points, so you can see how close or far apart songs really are. Song points are determined by the station's weight multiplied by the number of plays on each song.

GROWTH RANK - A chart move is far from the complete picture of a song's progress. Our new Growth Rank position adds another dimension. The GR ranks all upward-moving songs in order of most growth in airplay and audience (total points) over the previous week. You'll be able to see at a glance, for example, that a song moving 20-15 on a format chart can be No. 1 in "Growth" that week.

a song) and quality (Add Factor) of adds. ADD FACTOR (scale 1-50) Traditionally songs have been judged by the quantity of adds they accumulate each week. Now we'll show you the total number of adds and the Add will now show both the quantity (number of stations adding

MOST ADDED - Our traditional Most Added boxes

Factor, which measures the guality of the adds. The AF represents the combined weight of all stations adding a song, reduced to a 1-50 scale, 50 = 100%. For example, a high AF with a low number of stations would quickly indicate major market airplay.

MOST INCREASED PLAY This feature replaces the "Hottest" boxes with more useful information: the songs which had the largest increases in total plays over the previous week.

BREAKERS - As always, Breaker status is designed to show a consensus of acceptance on a song. Songs become Breakers the first week in which 60% or more of a format's reporters (50% in AC) are playing it.

R&R WEIGHTING FORMULA - The simplistic three-level parallel system has been replaced. Now each station earns its own weight in points, based on the size of its audience and how effectively it reaches its target listenership. The elements used in determining the station points are average quarter-hour persons, weekly cume, and the station's turnover. which measures its effectiveness
