Proposed CBS-QVC Marriage Ignites Radio Speculation

Sell-off of valuable radio division unlikely unless bidding war develops

CBS Inc.'s announcement of a proposed merger with QVC Inc., leaving QVC Chairman Barry Diller as head of the combined company, immediately ignited radio industry speculation about a possible sell-off of the CBS Radio Division. But analysts contacted by R&R were generally skeptical about any radio sale — at least as the deal with QVC stands now.

"There would be no financial reason to sell [CBS Radio]," said Alex. Brown & Sons analyst Drew Marcus. "It would just be a function of whether Barry Diller sees radio as a strategic core business."

Marcus said the announced deal, which would pay CBS shareholders $2.7 billion as QVC acquired 46% of CBS in a stock-swap merger, is "fairly underleveraged." In such a scenario, he indicated, there would be no reason for Diller to sell off assets.

Paramount: The Sequel?

What could change that, however, is a bidding war for CBS resulting from the QVC deal. "Clearly, this is in play,"

Wert Becomes President Of Evergreen Windy City Ops.

"Rock 103.5' bows under Fowler, Richards vergreen Media has promoted Larry Wert, VP/GM of its three Chicago stations (WWBZ-WMVP & WLUP), to President/Evergreen Media Chicago. Wert will oversee WMVP & WLUP as well as Evergreen's syndication branch, O.T.R. Inc.

President/COO Jim deCastro proclaimed, "Larry is tremendous. He's handled every challenge the radio business ever invented. As we build Evergreen, his talents become even more valuable."

Wert said, "I'm proud to be part of the growth of Evergreen, and I'm grateful for the ongoing support from Jim deCastro and CEO Scott Ginsburg. The development of the Loop and WMVP, plus our syndication plans, has me fully charged."

Blaze Extinguished

In addition, Evergreen has made a number of changes at WWBZ. "The Blaze," as it had been known, has discarded its lower-demo Rock approach in favor of mainstream Rock. The station, now calling itself "Rock 103.5" (pending new calls), has hired VP/GM Mike Fowler and PD Dave Richards from similar posts at KZOK/ Seattle.

"I'm thrilled to have the opportunity to be back in the thick of Chicago radio working with the Evergreen team," Fowler commented. "After doing Classic Rock for the last six years, it's going to be great to play music from guys that aren't dead."

Regarding Richards, Fowler said, "Dave's a phenomenal programmer who has worked at some of the finest Rock stations in the country. I'm glad to be able to team up with him here."

Before joining KZOK in 1992, Richards programmed WWRX/Providence for five years. Prior to that, he was Promotions Director at WBAB/Long Island.

WIOQ VP/GM Gil Rozzo, who has taken over those duties at WUSL from Bart Walsh, told R&R the stations' operations will be combined once the sale closes. "We no longer have two stations that compete with each other, so I needed someone with strong ties to Power 99 and Ol02 who could make each station strong on its own, yet form an unbeatable combo in the market. Dave has done a great job with Power 99, and I'm happy to have him oversee both operations." Allan remarked, "I've been given the programming opportunity of a lifetime. I've always had great respect for everyone at EZ, and I look forward to helping Power 99 and Q102 control the market's 18-34 listeners while delivering some hefty 25-54 demos in the process."

Mason Now PD At WWNK/Cincinnati

After 18 months as morning man at CHR WKRO/Cincinnati, Dave Mason has joined duopoly partner WWNK as PD. Mason replaces C.C. Matthews, who has left the Citicasters AC.

Mason told R&R, "I've been with the company [formerly Great American] for a long time. I know the people and players and can take away some of the mystery. That will help the transition a great deal. We have to determine and quickly shore up WWNK's weaknesses. [CHR] WKRQ is very current-intensive and is almost an AC. AC WRRM is very good, smooth, soft, and consistent. I see a hole in the market for us between these two stations.'

Mason previously programmed WBUF/Buffalo, WKRC/ Cincinnati, WLAC-FM/Nashville, and WTAE & WHTX (now WVTY)/Pittsburgh.

Former KEBC/Oklahoma City PD Eric Logan has been named PD at Alliance Broadcasting's most recent acquisition, KXRX/Seattle, which switched from Rock to "Young Country" last Friday (7/1). Until new calls are approved, the station will be known as "Young Country 96.5."

VP/GM Gary Taylor told R&R, "Young Country' offers the most potential for growth, and Eric is truly one of the bright young programming minds in Country radio today. He's not a typical 'in-the-box'thinking PD who does what some research company tells him to do. He's really into the human side of broadcasting.

Logan commented, "The most exciting thing is being part of one of the greatest broadcasting companies in America. We've hired a tremendous airstaff, and we're just going to try and compete in a very good and very competitive

Sandusky Appoints Executive Team For New Phoenix Duopoly

Sandusky has realigned its management in Phoenix, where the owner of Rock KDKB Friday (7/1) closed on its acquisition of Talk/Rock combo KUKO & KUPD and initiated a simulcast of KUPD on KUKQ.

KDKB VP/GM Chuck Artigue has assumed those duties for all three outlets, while KDKB PD Tim Maranville has been upped to Director/Operations & Programming for all three properties.

The duopoly has also revamped its sales staff, bringing in crosstown KSLX GSM Dana Beaudin for similar responsibilities at KUKQ & KUPD. KOOL-FM's Bruce Olsen has also crossed the street to assume NSM duties at the three Sandusky outlets. While KUPD's airstaff remains in place, KUKQ's entire airstaff was released.

WHLI & WKJY/Long Island (Nassau-Suffolk) and LIB Publishing VP/GM Jane Bartsch has been promoted to President/GM.

Pearl Jam Asks Congress To Break Ticketmaster 'Monopoly'

Charging that Ticketmaster has a monopoly on concert ticket sales nationwide, Pearl Jam's Stone Gossard and Jeff Ament appealed to Congress last Thursday (6/30) to join their crusade to reduce service charges on ticket sales.

"All of the members of Pearl Jam remember what it is like to not have a lot of money," said Gossard, who wore a long-sleeved orange shirt, velvet shorts, and rope shoes to the hearing. His grunge-rock attire was quite a contrast to the pinstriped suits and wingtip shoes usually seen on Capitol Hill.

Ticketmaster charges rock concert ticket-buyers $3.50-$15, plus an additional $2 per ticket if ordered by phone, according to Gossard and Ament. Ticketmaster said its average fee, including all types of events, is $3.15.

"This is really about choices," Gossard said. "The lack of competition is not conducive to free enterprise." The band has attempted to bypass Ticketmaster, including distributing tickets through radio stations for a concert in New York (R&R 4/22). "I think it was a success, but it was a lot of work," Gossard said. *

'Impossible' Prices

Pearl Jam canceled a summer tour because the group wanted to hold ticket prices to $20 or less. Band members say that proved impossible because of the "exorbitant service fees" tacked on by Ticketmaster, which has exclusive contracts with most of the nation's major concert venues.

The Justice Department is investigating an antitrust complaint filed by Pearl Jam in May, which accused Ticketmaster of monopolizing the distribution of concert tickets and hiking its service fees. The company was permitted to buy its main competitor, Ticketron, during the Bush administration.

Ticketmaster CEO Fred Rosen denied the band's charges at the House Government Affairs subcommittee hearing, but only after Gossard, Ament, and most of the media had exited. "It is frankly a matter of some concern to us that a rock band can — by virtue of its celebrity status — cause this kind of hearing to take place," Rosen said.

Others Join Fight

Pearl Jam is not alone in its attack on Ticketmaster's service fees. Managers and representatives for Aerosmith, the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, and R.E.M. also testified.

Meanwhile, Ticketmaster has handed over its audited financial statements to the subcommittee and to the Justice Department. In the fiscal year ending January 31, Ticketmaster had revenues of about $190 million, before-tax income of $6 million, paid income taxes of $4.6 million, and net income of $1.4 million.

"While we are not privy to Pearl Jam's finances, we suspect the band earned more than Ticketmaster last year," Rosen noted in his written testimony.

Now that Pearl Jam has focused attention on the service charge issue, more congressional hearings could be scheduled this year. "I don't know a lot about grunge, but I know a lot about the importance of fairness and equity, and I think you've raised some very important questions," said Rep. Lynn Woolsey (D-CA).

Hardwick Widow Sues KING/Seattle

heila Hardwick has sued KING (AM) Seattle, charging that age discrimination against her late husband, Robert Hardwick, led to his suicide.

"When KING fired Robert, they made him feel old and unemployable," said Hardwick. "He felt deeply betrayed, depressed, and disillusioned by the termination."

Robert Hardwick was 61 when he shot himself in June 1992, two months after he was fired. His widow's suit seeks unspecified damages for wrongful termination and wrongful death.

MI announced Friday (7/1) that it had initiated proceedings to establish a rate court to set interim "reasonable" fees when BMI is unable to come to terms on music licenses.

Radio Music License Committee Chairman Dick Harris hailed the BMI announcement as a victory for radio stations, noting that RMLC had sought a BMI rate court for a decade. Harris said Tuesday (7/5) that he hadn't yet seen BMI's proposal and might seek some modifications, but added, "There is no doubt that we will support the idea of creation of a rate court."

Performance Rights Meeting Canceled

ast week's scheduled showdown beween broadcasters and record compa-Inies never materialized.

The House Intellectual Property Subcommittee, chaired by Rep. William Hughes (D-NJ), abruptly canceled (for the second time) a Thursday (6/30) meeting to create new performance rights legislation for digital music transmission. NAB has been pressing Hughes to exempt DAB, but his latest draft reportedly has no guarantee that broadcasters won't have to pay performance royalties to artists and record companies.

A subcommittee staffer said no reason was given for the cancellation just before Congress began its July Fourth recess.

Osborn Closes Deals

sbom Communications announced a series of moves to expand the company and improve its finances.

 Osborn closed its purchase of WWNC & WKSF/ Asheville, NC; WOLZ/Ft. Myers, FL; and WFKS/Daytona Beach from Heritage Broadcasting. The last part of the $22.5 million deal, WAAX & WQEN/Gadsden, AL, is pending at the FCC.

- Citicorp Mezzanine Investment Fund provided Osbom with $50 million in financing to close the purchases and as part of a general refinancing.
- Osborn called its Senior Subordinated Notes, which carried an interest rate of nearly 14%, to replace them with lower cost borrowing.
- The company said it would institute a one-for-two reverse stock split as soon as possible to make its stock price more attractive to investors.

Our advisers felt strongly that a higher stock price would open the door for a broader number of institutions to participate in the company," said President Frank Osborn. The company's stock (Nasdaq: OSBN) closed Tuesday (7/5) at $3.75, up 13 cents for the day.

QUICK QUIZ

Is Your Perfectionism Killing Productivity?

o you have a tendency to slave over a project until it's exactly right, while letting other work go in the process? Writing in the Provo, UT-based Executive Excellence newsletter, Lisa Kanarek offers this five-point checklist to help you balance your quest for perfectionism with the need for productivity:

Do you work on duties at which you excel and ignore more important tasks at which you're not as proficient? Your productivity will get a boost if you handle the top priorities well.

Are you always the best person for a job? If you don't delegate work to others - who can do just as good a job as you - you're impeding your

Are you doing tasks well, but then wasting time trying to make them perfect? If a job isn't done in a timely manner, it doesn't matter how perfect it is.

Do you constantly leap from one project to another, without completing any of them? It's best to focus on one project at a time. If you can't finish a job, get it to a place where you can stop and easily come back to it later.

Do you require everyone to match your intensity level? It's better for you give employees tasks that enable them to use their strengths. You'll gain their respect for allowing them to work in their own individual style.

otal national spot radio expenditures for the month of May topped $137 million — a 12.1% increase over 1993 figures. While the figures reflect total billings as reported by America's leading national rep organizations, they are not typical of any specific market. Furthermore, spot billing in individual markets, market groups, or geographic areas may differ substantially.

Three Biggest Wastes Of Time

he three biggest wastes of a manager's time, according to Old Tappan, NJ-based management consultant Ted Pollock, are:

Procrastinating. The only way to deal with it is to dive right into whatever it is that you've been avoiding

Being unprepared. You'll never get anything done - and it'll take you twice as long to do so - if you don't establish goals, priorities, and deadlines before you start.

Fire-fighting. Instead of reacting to every urgent task, figure out what really needs to be done. You should be more concerned with doing the right thing than with doing things

ZINESCENE

KFI, KLBJ Air Talents In Print!

LBJ/Austin AM host Bob Fonseca has developed what Entertainment Weekly calls a "dweebish obsession" with Heather Locklear, who's been in town filming a miniseries. He and co-host Dale Dudley have offered $500 to the favorite charity of any listener who can arrange an in-studio meeting. "If anybody should get a radio shot at her Heatherness it should be us," says Fonseca. "We've spent the year driving Austin's male 'Melrose [Place]' fans out of the closet."

On a less frivolous note, KFI/LA. relationships talker Dr. Laura Schlessinger says in her People profile, "I'm hard on myself about everything, and I do want people to like me. But with a caller I have only three minutes, and I do have to make a point. I do not see it as my mission to make anybody leel better. I want them to get better."

Rush Of Recognition

The National Enquirer is offering $250 to the winner of a Rush Limbaugh lookalike contest. Someone ought to tell Jonathan Winters, who was stunned recently when a woman started berating him in public for marrying "that young girl." Perplexed, he asked who she thought he was. "You're Rush Limbaugh!" (Globe)

Was: Zen Kite Flyer

"He's totally laid-back and unstressed. He's a zen master in a world of lunatics." That's Bonnie Raitt talkin' about her producer, Don Was, who's profiled in People. He explains, "Producing is a Ben Franklin thing. The artist is this person out there on a kite looking to get hit by lightning, and the producer is the one on the ground holding the string, making sure they don't end up on the moon."

Ex-Was (Not Was) cohort David Weiss adds, "Ninety percent of the job is bedside manner, and Don has the smoothest bedside manner since Dr. Jeffery Mac-Donald. The guy could come in, kill your family, and you'd give him a piece of cake on the way out."

Spinning The Corpses

Two young Washington State Tshirt vendors (dba "Grunge Enterprises") are selling shirts emblazoned with a copy of Kurt Cobain's suicide note (Entertainment Weekly).

From the Harper's Index ... "Price of a copy of Kurt Cobain's death certificate from Post Mortem Arts in Seattle: $25."

People reports the Elvis Presley memorabilia auction raised $2,365,837 — $650 of which went for a tree limb that "mysteriously" fell during an argument at EP's funeral, according to Entertainment Weekly.

Keeping The Faith

Mattea

Kathy Mattea, a prime mover in this fall's "Red Hot + Country" benefit LP, is incensed by country music types who ignore AIDS and its victims. "If you want to be Christian about it, that's the foundation of what Jesus was talking about. These are the people you don't turn your back on — and He didn't. He hung out with prostitutes and all kinds of people no one else wanted to deal with. He was compassion" (TV Guide).

Naomi Judd plans to become a faith healer (Globe).

Viva La Diva!

Professional post-feminist Camille Paglia strokes the icon that Is Barbra Streisand in the New Republic. Among the many highlights: "The fancy, feminine 'B' logo ... looked suspiciously like the opulent, half-exposed Streisand breasts on the [concert] program cover." And ... by the Clinton inaugural show, "She had literally grown into her nose; that bravely preserved ethnic badge now seemed like the prow of a ship cutting into the future."

Issues Of Gravity

Sting makes the "A-list" in Longevity's annual celebrity "best bodies" tally. Diana Ross is in the "Defying Gravity, Then And Now" category.

"It's funny how your adrenatin takes over. I just didn't want to be embarrassed in front of the world" — Jon Secada, who fell into a hole onstage at the World Cup kickoff and started singing — even though only his head was sticking out (People).

Crimes & Passion

The Star has deduced that a teenage Clint Black spent a week In jail after he and some others were busted for running a methamphetamine factory. The DA didn't pursue the case for want of "affirmative links."

Johnny Depp and Chrissie Hynde were "inseparable" for three days in L.A. while Kate Moss was out of town. The two were described as "kissing like a newly married couple" at an all-night coffee shop near his Viper Room (Star).

Working Woodstock

How excited is Johnny Cash about playing Woodstock II this year? "It's just a job, man," he told People.

Each week R&R sneaks a peek through the nation's consumer magazines in search of everything from the sublime to the ridiculous in music news. R&R has not verified any of these reports.

LIFESTYLES

Healthy Habits Take A Dive

he 1994 Prevention magazine index — which measures 21 preventive behaviors — dropped for the second time in its 11-year history from 67.3 to 66.8. (Top score possible is 100). Incidentally, the only other decline came between 1987 and 1988, when the index dipped from 65.2 to 64.8.

Some Significant Gains

However, Americans have made improvements in 14 behaviors between 1984 and 1994. For example, the share of people who regularly wear seat belts has soared from 19% in 1984 to 73% today, the percentage of Americans with home smoke detectors has climbed from 67% to 92%, and the share of people who say they avoid drinking before driving has grown from 68% to 62%).

Furthermore, 44% of adults say they never drink, up from 34% in 1984. While the percentage of those who admlt to drinking heavily — more than three drinks on the days they drink — remains stable at 13%, the share of those who drink moderately fell from 53% to 43%.

Less dramatic gains came in such areas as avoiding smoking (up from 70% to 75%), getting regular strenuous exercise (from 34% to 40%), and taking steps to control stress (from 59% to 62%).

Eating & Speeding

Eating healthy remains a problem. The share of Americans who limit fat in their diets has fallen slightly, as has the percentage of those who avoid high-cholesterol foods. What's more, the share of those who avoid sugar and sweets has dropped steadily for the past 10 years.

As a result, the percentage of adults aged 25 and older who maintain the weight recommended for their sex, height, and body build has declined from 23% to only 19%. Not surprisingly, 68% of adults are overweight, up from 58% in 1984.

Nevertheless, the greatest area of backsliding has come on the road. The share of drivers who say they always obey speed limits has plummeted from 56% in 1984 to 45% today.

Leisure Edges Learning Among U.S. Interests

mericans are focusing more on leisure pursuits and less on those of an educational nature, according to a survey comparing subject interests in 1985 and today by the NYC-based Roper Organization.

Leading the list of decliners are financial topics. Learning about money investing has dropped nine points to 38% from 1985. Economics (down five points to 26%) and the business world (down three to 24%) round out the list.

Facing seven-point falls are computers (27%) and music (23%). Interest in health breakthroughs dropped four points to 38%. On the other hand, Americans still want to learn more about politics (27%, up one point) and cars (18%, up three points).

Sex & Age Differences

Men are more interested than women in pursuing investing (42% vs. 35%, respectively), sports (25% vs. 8%), and cars (27% vs. 10%). Topics women prefer include medical developments (44% vs. 32%), fashion (23% vs. 4%), and best-sellers (19% vs. 11%).

Age also plays a part in learning preferences — baby boomers (aged 30-44) lead others with their interest in investing (46%). Not surprisingly, 18-29s are the most interested in music (31%) and movies (21%).

Incidently, while subject interests vary widely from region to region, Westerners show more interest in every topic than people from any other region.

Kids Get Less Choice In CDs

nly 24% of parents with children aged 8 to 17 say their kids are allowed to choose their own CDs and tapes, down eight points since 1988, according to the latest survey from the NYC-based Roper Organization.

Parents of teenage children are even less likely to let their kids choose their own music these days. Only 37% of today's teens are allowed to pick their own CDs and tapes, down 16 points from '88. Sadly, the number of parents who report their teenagers never buy CDs or tapes has climbed to 14%, up seven points from 1988.

More Americans Want Green Cars

hile most Americans who bought new cars and trucks last year wanted them in white, green was the second most-popular color in every vehicle category except sport/compact cars, where green was the runaway favorite.

According to DuPont Automotive's 42nd annual survey of vehicle color preference, nearly 20% of all vehicles purchased in North America last year were white, down from 24% in 1992.

Meanwhile, green's popularity doubled to 15% of all vehicles sold. Medium red ranked third (10.5%), followed by bright red (8.8%), and black (7.2%).

It's really surprising how much better our rotations are on MusicSCAN.

As soon as we switched, we started seeing better movement throughout the dayparts. And MusicSCAN never bunches up artists together the way we were used to.

Plus, when you call MusicSCAN, they treat you with respect, and you'll get the same answers from all their support people. We've developed a great relationship.

HOW TO SPEAK HIP

hen referring to four-wheeled motor vehicles, most people prefer saying "car" rather than "automobile." As a result, English and other languages have adopted the term "car" to describe many different modes of transportation. Why not use drive time to tune up your listeners' knowledge of the following types of "cars"?

Funny car. Driven by drag racers, this customized Volkswagen Beetle has a turbocharged engine and other features designed to generate power. Custom bodywork includes spoilers and rear wings, the latter used to keep the back of the vehicle on the ground during and after runs. Drag racing aficionados may wish to note that "funny cars" — and have been — created from any number of different vehicles' bodies.

My-kah: In Japan, this word is defined as a privately owned motor vehicle. Borrowing the English phrase "my car" — the same way "ice cream" was transformed into aisu-kurimu — the term was used by the Washington Post this way: "To assure that the my-kahs will be legally parked . . . the government requires proof of permanent garage or parking space before it will issue license plates."

Skycar. This lightweight, car-sized commuter aircraft seats two or four passengers. With a cruising speed of 326mph, it's capable of vertical takeoff from a standing start and vertical landing in a parking lot or on a street or rooftop. As the Toronto Star explained, "The skycar... is designed... for those tight parking spaces."

Suitcase car. Although this three-wheeled motor vehicle has a top speed of only 18mph, it can be folded into a 66-pound, suitcase-like, portable package. Invented so that overseas travelers could store it in an aircraft's baggage compartment and use it immediately after deplaning, "The suitcase car — a mere 32in. by 24in. by 10in. when folded — opens to a length of 46in., width of 41in., and height of 16in." (London Daily Telegraph).

Many of the above-mentioned words and phrases can be found in the American Heritage Dictionary Of The English Language, Third Edition (Houghton Mifflin Co./$40), of which column-compiler Anne Soukhanov served as Executive Editor. For more into, call the publisher at (617) 725-5000.

CBS

Marcus noted. He estimated there is a 50-50 chance someone else will make a bid for CBS, which could drive the price up to a point where the eventual winner will have to sell some assets to pay down debt. Potential bidders on Marcus's short list are Turner Broadcasting, Time Warner, former Metromedia group owner John Kluge, and investor Marvin Davis.

First Boston analyst Harry DeMott said he expects to see at least one other bidder - and doesn't think CBS Chairman Larry Tisch would hesitate to accept a higher bid. DeMott identified the Walt Disney Company as the player he thinks is most likely to top Diller's bid. He suggested there may be a bidding war much like the battle for Paramount Communications, in which Viacom Inc. topped QVC after each had pushed the price tag higher.

"It will end up getting expensive, and whoever gets [CBS] will have to sell some assets to fund the deal. At that point, I think you will be seeing the radio division sold," DeMott said.

DeMott also acknowledged Wall Street rumors that the CBS O&Os both radio and TV — could be paired with Group W's stations and spun off as a separate public company after selling off enough stations to comply with FCC ownership limits.

For the record, a CBS Radio spokeswoman gave R&R a "no comment" when asked about the possibility of any sale.

No Need To Sell

Barry Diller's background may be all movies and TV, but that hasn't convinced Paul Kagan Associates analyst Bishop Cheen that Diller will want to shed radio assets.

"I would not expect Diller to sell off radio. He likes things that work, and the radio division works," Cheen noted. He also suggested that radio would be a good fit for any cross-merchandising that comes out of the CBS-QVC marriage.

Cheen is not convinced that other bidders will try to claim CBS. "How many other bidders are there out there who really understand network economics?" he asked.

Disney, of course, has the financial muscle to make a play. But would it? "Disney is not one to get into a bidding war," stated Cheen.

Cheen estimated the radio division is being valued at $522 million in the $7.4 billion (stated value) CBS-QVC merger. If the radio properties were put up for auction, however, he said they'd probably bring $670-$800 million, perhaps more.

- Is B96/Chicago Dance Music Coord. Jeff Andrews this close to snagging the 92Q/Baltimore MD slot?
- Which network is talking seriously with consultant Mike Joseph about launching a new format?

so. The Republican incumbent is resigning in mid-campaign to take over Chicago political powerhouse Ed Vrdolyak's afternoon slot at WLS (AM)/Chicago. Kustra will tearn up with Vrdolyak's former partner, Ty Wansley, as early as August 1.

KKBT/L.A. afternooner Greg Beasley died over the weekend from what some news organizations are calling a drug-related incident. His girlfriend is in the hospital in critical condition. Station officials would not comment on the cause of death, but VP/Programming Keith Naftaly noted, "Greg was a team player and an excellent jock. This sudden, tragic loss leaves the entire Beat family devastated, and we will dedicate our forthcoming Summer Jam concert to his memory."

Heftel's Hefty PSO

ST's fly on the Wall Street scene says Heftel Broadcasting will go ahead with its approximately $70 million public stock offering in the next few weeks, despite poor market conditions for new stock issues. ST hears the Heftel offering, which will fund several acquisitions and stock-swap mergers, may be priced as low as 6.5 times cash flow.

KJAZ/Alameda, CA owner Ron Cowan and the "Friends of KJAZ" campaign failed in a bid to raise $4.7 million to pay off debts and keep the Bay Area Jazz outlet from being sold to Amador Bustos's Z-Spanish Network. A deal with his creditors had given Cowan until June 30 to come up with the cash and nix the sale.

"We're obviously disappointed," Cowan told ST. "It's our intention, however, to keep the core of our programming intact. We only sold the frequency; we still have the call letters and the library. We expect to sell our programming to other stations, on both a local and national level. There are lots of other delivery systems to explore."

KUPL/Portland PD Bill Bradley exits the station he converted to Country 10 years ago to join former KUPL VP/GM Ed Hardy, now Pres/CEO of the new Deschutes River Broadcasting company (see Page 6). Bradley's post is yet to be announced.

After more a dozen years with KIIS/ L.A., APD Gwen Roberts — also a veteran of L.A. stations KTNQ, KHJ, KFWB, and KPOL — resigns to take care of family priorities.

KFBQ (Q98)/Cheyenne, WY owner Harry Buck apparently convinced the IRS to return his station's transmitter for the moment. (The Feds seized it in lieu of unpaid back taxes [ST 7/1].) The station returned to the air last Thursday (6/30), and KFBQ PD Allan Fee told ST, "We have three months to reorganize and present our plan to repay our creditors."

Meanwhile, Fee is set to fly to Rock 103.5/Chicago as exec producer for new morning bovine Mancow and sidekick Irma Blanco. KFBQ's new PD will be night rustler Woody Harrelson.

As part of WBBM-FM (B96)/Chicago's settlement with WMAQ-TV news anchor Joan Esposito over ex-B96 morning man Joe Bohannon's on-air remarks, the station ran full-page apology ads in Saturday's (7/2) Chicagoland papers.

However, according to the Sun-Times, Esposito is "furious that the apologies were

Surviving A Bad Book

With the first Spring '94 advances hitting the streets next week (7/12), I chatted with two GMs and two PDs, asking them to share how they pick up the pieces after a bad book — without hitting the panic button.

Dusty Hayes

When PD Dusty Hayes joined WABB/Mobile in summer 1991, the station was already on a downward spiral that ended with a low of 4.3 in the Fall '92 Arbitron survey.

"Devise a plan you can take to the owner and management to regain ratings respectability that's based on sound programming principles," ad-

The guickest way out the door is to whine to management about not having the tools to win.'

- Dusty Haves

vises Hayes. "Then work toward achieving that goal. In my case the plan was sound and we did well as a result. But whether the strategy is complete or not, make sure you have some sort of launching point."

Recalling staff reaction to the 4.3 rating, Hayes notes, "We had some hurt egos and some people were down on the station. Lay your plan out to them; if they remain sourpusses, then they become part of your changes for success. That doesn't mean you can't have staffers who disagree with parts of your plan or who want to make constructive suggestions. But your staff must support the plan.

"My plan was to move the music back toward pop from its rhythmic direction - some bad baggage I'd inherited. I told [owner/GM] Bernie [Dittman] we needed to stay the course as a CHR that played music the market wanted to hear instead of music based on a national trend. Or else we needed to blow up the station and completely change the

"The quickest way out the door is to whine to management about 'not having the tools to win.' It may be true. But the idea is to incorporate a request for those tools into your plan so your recommendations can be acted upon. Making excuses for not having all of the marketing and programming weapons to win when you haven't asked for them doesn't work.'

Part of Hayes's turnaround was to deliver on what station management wanted from him - which included dressing better and displaying a positive attitude every day. figured if I didn't succeed then it wasn't because of a lack of effort on my part, despite Arbitron. As far as that goes, Arbitron is like the Bible - either you believe the first page or you won't believe any of it. The fact is, it's what agencies use to buy advertising time and you've got to learn to play the game."

Ken Benson

KKRZ/Portland PD Ken Benson recalls that his station was No. 1 during Winter '93 but dropped nearly two shares the following survey. "We dipped 8.3-6.6 in three months and were bummed because we'd made no changes to warrant the drop. In a continuously measured market like this, the Arbitrends and the extrapolations allow a sneak preview about whether we're going to get kissed or stiffed. A bad book's biggest impact is on our national business. However, we've got an understanding within Citicasters: Some of our outlets may go up and some go down every book, but they remind us to stay focused.

"In a four-book market, we figure one book will be great, two will be average, and one will be lousy. The worst thing you can do is overreact. If you get a third downward month then you may have some problems and that requires some analysis. Let management know you're on top of the situation and be ready to offer

Proactive Damage Control

When that soft book turns into a hard reality, what can managers do to calm a jittery staff?

Advice For Program Directors

- Be ready to articulate your new plan to win
- Ask management for all the tools you need
- Lay out your finalized strategy to the air and sales staffs, and encourage suggestions
- Project a positive, winning attitude
- Stay focused on your station not the competition.

Wisdom For General Managers

When questioned by owners about "what went wrong," GMs can stay centered by:

- Evaluating and identifying what went wrong and what went right
- Remaining calm and backing the programming department
- Holding fast on spot rates
- Rallying the troops and resisting the urge to blame staffers
- Fighting for what they believe in and asking corporate for the tools needed to win.

Let management know you're on top of the situation and be ready to offer some broad solutions that will contain specifics later.

some broad solutions that will contain specifics later.

"If you're losing cume to a direct competitor, you've got to take a waitand-see attitude. If it's a continued TSL problem then you may have to look at the product itself as market tastes may have changed. After our down book we did a perceptual study and found part of the dip was real. But most of it wasn't. The idea is not to be afraid to ask for help to get back on track.

"The quickest fix in preventing one bad book from taking the station into a tailspin is to sit everyone down and lay out your observations about the station and the rest of the market. Then involve them in the big picture. And let them know you're not going to overreact or second-guess yourself."

Analyzing What Went Wrong . . . And Right . . . With The Ratings Book

resident/GM Marc Kaye, of Gannett flagship KIIS-AM & FM/Los Angeles, says the first step in analyzing a ratings book is not only to evaluate what went wrong, but what went right. "Ask your-ing, promotions, and airstaff on your station and on your prime competitors' stations. Be willing to sit with your PD and admit whether you executed the plan well but that it stunk from the beginning or Arbitron didn't pick up on the changes.

"Patience is extremely important, especially in a fragmented major market where it may take Arbitron's methodology three to six months to reflect positive programming changes. And if you wait for Arbitron to tell you there are problems, it puts you even further behind — possibly into the next book. So you need to know what's going on in the market.

"It's a mistake to react to one down book. But the worst mistake is making panicky, knee-jerk decisions because of sales pressure. Many GMs will also feel the urgency to do something. So have you did. And make sure you ask for what you need going into every book. Then you don't have to wonder, and your superiors won't second-guess you.

"[And don't forget] to rally the troops. Be open and honest. Talk about what can be improved, but don't fail to focus on what they did right. You can't let any jock feel he's dragged the station

Joining The Computer Age

Why — and how — to update your music scheduling and other software systems

Take a stroll through your local computer store and scan the aisles of software. You'll see an incredible array of tools you can use at your station, literally at your fingertips. So what are some of the benefits of joining the computer age, along with some of the costs?

Assuming that there is at least a 286 AT computer in your office, why would station ownership (a) upgrade it, and (b) put it in the programmer's office? The 286 is still all right for simple word processing. (Instead of scrapping it, perhaps it can be used in the sales office for copywriting.) But it's incompatible with many of today's software programs. While some music scheduling systems still run on 286s, future revisions will require the updated components.

Program Potentials

In addition to music scheduling, here are a few other software programs that can be used in radio today:

- Desktop publishing (print your own station newsletters)
- Computerized organizers for addresses, appointments (with alarm features), calendar, to-do lists, yearly planner, anniversaries, etc.
- Internal fax/modem to send or receive fax messages right at your desk
- Budget-managing programs to help you keep track of different expenses throughout the year
- Programs for scheduling air talent
- Project programs to help in promotional event-planning
- Employee Manual Makers

 Safety Plan Builders to help comply with OSHA

 Auxiliary tools such as Spell Check, Thesaurus, Grammar Check, Dictionary, etc.

 Print Shop programs to make professional looking signs, posters, banners, etc.

An additional benefit provided by new equipment is speed enhancement. Music scheduling programs will run faster, giving you more time to devote to other aspects of the job. Another important fact: You don't need technical knowledge of computers in order to fully utilize software programs.

Upgrade = Stay Ahead

"There are a lot of great reasons to upgrade your computer equipment from the hard drive to the modem," suggests computer aficionado WNOR/Norfolk APD Jay Philpott. "Many stations have computers that are five or six years old and their hard drives are considerably smaller. At that time an 80MB hard drive was considered very large, but today you can wipe that out with three or four word processing programs.

"Another key reason to upgrade is that by the end of the year Micro-Soft will release the next version of Windows. And it's a huge leap beyond what people have in their computers right now. So much is happening now that the time has come for management and ownership to review a complete package of computer technology for the whole station. RCS markets a comprehensive setup of programs that work together.

"Selector has a new version coming out that lets you audition your segues as you schedule them. You can also access the production room. For example, if the production director finishes a promo and wants the PD to hear it, it can be accessed through the computer at the PD's desk. These are the kinds of things that are coming. Owners shouldn't think they need a new computer just for the PD — they should be looking at all the ways to tie all the departments together."

Additional Resources

Prodigy, CompuServe, and America Online are the most popular information networks that provide direct access to a multitude of services including E-Mail, news, weather, sports, entertainment information, stock quotes, newspaper databases, and special interest/lifestyle forums. Special interest forums have recently become very popular with radio people across all formatic leans.

Of those online services, Philpott says, "There are a lot of different forums that pertain to our industry in each of those services. They provide additional resources that can be used for show prep, gathering information for the sales department, etc. In the broadest sense, these online services allow you to access culture.

"For example, on the day Kurt Cobain died, people were talking about it on all the services. It was an immediate place to see reactions. You can also access newspaper databases on any topic by providing search parameters such as the topic and a range of dates. A list that fits your criteria will come up with a description of each article and you can select whichever ones you want to read.

"The live chat areas in the radio forums are fascinating. All types of industry people from air talent to engineers to record companies have

BLACK RADIO IN COLUMBUS

WCKX Scores Big With Suburban Signal

You may not ordinarily think of Columbus, OH as a large black population center. But with a 12+ population of nearly 1.2 million and a black population of 11.7%, the African-American presence in the market is actually quite sizable.

The market is served by two Urban outlets - WCKX and WVKO - and thanks to a phenomenal winter Arbitron, those stations' combined share has risen from 6.0 to 9.6. WCKX had a particularly good book, jumping 2.8-5.7 and ascending from 14th to sixth in the 12+

Winning Formula

To what does

PD Frank Kelly

attribute his station's startling success? "We've got a better variety of music, we have more visibility in the community, and we're sincerely dedi-

Frank Kelly cated to providing Columbus with the best-sounding station it's ever had."

One of the problems [WAHC & WWHT] faced as a white operation trying to program black music was that they weren't able to really get into the community like we have.

- Frank Kelly

WCKX's road to glory began when Sunrise Broadcasting acquired the station in November 1991 and, two months later, made sweep ing changes - starting with the hiring of Kelly and VP/GM Vince Fruge. "At that point," Kelly recalls, "I was allowed to create a new sound for the station that was different for the Columbus market. Harry Lyles was our consultant, and we collectively tried to position the station in a positive direction. Our target demo is 18-49, with an exphasis on 18-34year-olds."

We had to educate the local agency people and let them know that we were here too, as opposed to thinking WVKO was the only Urban station in the market.

- Vince Frugé

Fruge explains, "When Sunrise took over, owner Joerg Kelebe basically set forth an agenda based on the ratings and where he wanted to see the station go in the form of revenue. It's been a bit of a struggle. 'At that time, there were a lot of variables involved. For example, our stick is 20 miles west of Columbus in London [its city of license], and we didn't have the greatest signal over the city." That situation was rectified in August 1992, Fruge says, when the station boosted its power to 6000 watts with a directional pattern aimed right at Columbus. "We still have a Class A signal, but it's much better than it once was."

Claiming Its Core

Until last fall, WCKX also had to contend with competition from WAHC & WWHT, a Rhythmic CHR FM simulcast. But WAHC has since migrated to Pop CHR, and WWHT has become "Arrow 105.7." Kelly boasts, "We actually forced those stations to change. One of the problems they faced as a white operation trying to program black music was that they weren't able to really get into the community like we have. That's one thing we've really stepped up over the past year. We've really started giving our audience quality prizes and cash giveaways. And to increase our community involvement, we hired Toni Martin, who used to be WVKO's Promotions Manager, as our Community Service/Promotions Direc-

"Our owner has always emphasized that he wants this station to be more than just a jukebox. He always wanted us to be committed to the people of this community, and we've been able to accomplish that.

"We're doing a lot of things now that we didn't do two years ago. We've started a 'Stop The Violence' campaign that will continue for as long as it takes to curb the violence. We've also gotten involved with 'Youth On The Move' in conjunction with McDonald's and our local black newspaper, the Call & Post. That program recognizes the positive contributions of our area's African-American youth. Our station also has a talk show, 'Express Yourself,' that we've taken to the streets, and we've been getting a very positive response. We're also involved with the city's Midnight Basketball program, which gives 17-25-yearolds the opportunity to come in off the streets to local gyms and play basketball in an organized, controlled environment. And we're involved in fundraising for the Black United Fund of Central Ohio."

Local Know-How

Before joining WCKX, Kelly spent seven years as MD/morning man at heritage Urban WVKO. "My Heritage WVKO Holds Its Own

Ithough WVKO/Columbus had its thunder stolen by crosstown competitor WCKX in the Winter '94 Arbitron ratings, the market's heritage Urban outlet made some noise of its own, scoring an impressive 3.0-3.9 12+ increase.

WVKO OM K.C. Jones expresses optimism about his station's results and Black radio In Columbus. "Our city has gotten larger. Traditionally we've been the Urban market leader, and we expect to resume that role in the next book or two. We're very happy about our increase, but we're also happy for WCKX because it shows the power of Urban radio in this market. This entire market's listening tastes have changed over the years, and obviously black music is being accepted with positive popularity."

Steady Focus

Jones says his station's philosophy remains essentially unchanged. "We continue to be a leader in the community. Promotions that involve the people in the community is really our thing. We're committed to that approach, and it works for us. We're always out in the streets doing positive things, and that always endears you to your audience.

"We haven't blown off our 12+ and 18-34-year-old listeners, but we have tried to appeal a bit more to our older demographics. We more directly target the 35-49 yearold market with a female base these days. Through focus groups and auditorium testing, we've found that by playing the more mature music, we've been able to please a larger audience."

Mainstream Music

The music, Jones believes, is attracting a lot of new ears to the format. "Our core audience of African-Americans is pretty much staying the same, but in some of the research I've seen, we're starting to bring in listeners from other formats who like what they're hearing on the Urban stations in the market. People are looking at what's going on with music in America and finding they enjoy what we have to offer. R&B is the root of where all the other music in this country has evolved from. I think that has something to do with the popularity of our music right now. Black music has become the mainstream contemporary music in this country."

experience at WVKO and the things I learned there have helped me do a better job at this station. For seven vears I was programming music for the people of this market, and now I have that experience to draw from. My knowledge of the community and the music people here like is a real plus for us."

Kelly says the station's sound is primarily current-oriented, complemented by about two recurrents and three gold selections per hour, built around a 12-unit apot load. He also maintains a strict policy regarding rap: "If it's positive, we'll play it if it's negative, we won't. Columbus is a very conservative area, and we have to be sensitive to that."

Uncommon Communication

Kelly believes his relationship with Fruge, which includes daily meetings, helps make him a better programmer. "Because Vince and I have worked together, we have total respect for one another. He's always kept me abreast of sales revenues and their importance. It's important that we both know what the station's goals are in terms of audience and sales revenues."

Now that WCKX's ratings fortunes have taken a turn for the better, Fruge's goal is to turn the ratings into a fortune. "We definitely should be able to improve our revenue share with these numbers. We don't subscribe to Arbitron, but if our numbers are as good as other people say, we should do much better on a national basis. We've done a very good job of selling what we had on a local agency and local direct level. We had to educate the local agency people and let them know that we were here too, as opposed to thinking WVKO was the only Urban station in the

Immediate Impact

Since the winter Arbitron results were released, Fruge says, "We've been getting more calls, inquiries, and sales. It really feels good to see what's happened since those ratings came out. People from other stations and some agency people called to congratulate us on our good numbers and, mind you, we only knew what people were telling us. We've worked really hard the past couple of years and I'm happy for our entire staff.

"I'd also like to make it very clear that we have enormous respect for WVKO — I've always felt there was room for two Urban stations in this market. WVKO's niche is with the older demographics, and ours is with the younger demographics. And it seems to be working out that way. We have been able to tap into some of that older demographic . . . Urbans have been able to appeal to that 25-54 demo when some other contemporary music stations can't."

MARCHING FOR PEACE — WCKX/Columbus kicked off its "Stop The Violence" campaign with a march down Main St. on the city's east side. The march was in response to a shooting incident in a local club that sent 10 people — six of whom were under 18 — to the hospital.

We Like American Music

Has the format declared its independence from British bands?

After reading about "the decline of English rock" in the June issue of Musician, I decided to see how three of the format's most respected music minds feel about today's music from across the pond.

Weak Material

"Some of the

bands - not to Matt Pinfield mention any names

- are on their second, third, and fourth albums, and the material is weak. The only thing that's really knocked me out recently is Oasis [import]. They capture the old British excitement from a few years ago but don't sound as retro.

"The British press tries to champion bands because they need something to write about. Recently they started [touting the] 'New Wave Of New Wave.' But nobody has really broken through with a fantastic record. I don't know if the artists are aware of what's happening in America — [the music's] more raucous, guitar-heavy, and a little more energetic. We'll see what happens when the next Stone Roses album comes out."

Pinfield admits to hearing the anti-British sentiment from a lot of stations in the format but says, "If I hear a good record, I'm going to play it. It doesn't matter if it's from Britain, the United States, or Guam. Since the music hasn't really been that strong, the pendulum has swung to American music. In the last six to nine months, it's become especially evident - about 98% of our playlist is American.

"There was a period where the format embraced a lot of British and other foreign material, and it was hard for American and indie bands to get exposed on some of the bigger Alternative stations. It's almost like a bit of a backlash.

-Matt Pinfield

"Stations are going on audience reaction and retail stories more than ever. The records that are reacting are American. The fans seem to be more passionate - you can tell by show attendance. The problem with a lot of British bands is that they come here with hype and expect it to happen with two weeks of touring. It doesn't happen that way anymore. Bands build a story and break through by touring 160 dates a year. That's been a problem with some bands I believe could make it here it's either poor management or planning.

Musical Cycles

KROQ/Los Angeles MD Darcy Fulmer believes the format is at one extreme within a cycle. "Right now the inspiring music is from the U.S. People are connecting with bands, not ple in America today aren't getting excited about and buying British music. The music isn't as revolutionary - it hasn't kept up with what's happening today. Remember the first time you heard [Jesus Jones'] 'Right Here, Right Now"? You'd never heard anything like that.

"We had success with Radiohead, but it was a one-song thing. Duran Duran had a bit of a comeback, but it was a great album and they had a history. It's been really hard. Our experience from the last couple of years [tells us British music is] probably not going to work. We're waiting for that to change . . . just like everyone else.

"We're still open to British music. We're always looking for the most exciting music. The new Blur song sounds retro, but it's cool. We were one of the first to start playing it. It's doing well for us request-wise, but we're anxiously waiting to see how it sells. Continual sales show people are staying interested. I don't know if it's going to be something that lasts like Pearl Jam and Smashing Pumpkins - they just don't burn out."

Not so long ago, Fulmer recalls, the format was at the opposite end of the cycle. "A few years ago, Manchester took over Alternative with fun party music. Some of those bands got huge. But right now the audience isn't asking for this music. They want to hear stuff that affects them and has cryptic lyrics.

Woodstock Music Scene

he 25th Anniversary reunion festival and revamped documentaries aren't all that's coming out of Woodstock, NY this year. WDST/Woodstock morning man Nic Harcourt teamed with Magnetic North Audio's Tod Levine to create Slice/Woodstock Records, which recently released a compilation - "Alternative Woodstock" - showcasing the talent of Harcourt's favorite local bands.

Harcourt's convinced that upstate New York's Hudson Valley is about to explode as the next major breeding ground for innovative Alternative music. "This project was under way before we knew of any anniversary festival," he notes.

"Alternative Woodstock" features tracks by Abba Rage, the Bandits, Cellophane, Conehead Buddha, Countless Others, the Fierce Nipples, Go Van Go, Guys With Eyes, Happy Rhodes, Maxlove, Oblivion Grin, Peacebong, Perfect Thyroid, Puc, and Witches Meadow. Harcourt, who handpicked the bands for the disc, is vocal in his opinion that "at least three or four . . . will be signed by vear's end."

If anyone is qualified to make such a bold statement about the local alternative scene, it's Harcourt. Since 1992, he has been the host of "WDST Live On Tinker Street," a segment dedicated entirely to live, in-studio performances from local bands. After two years and more than 80 shows, Harcourt wanted to share his discoveries with the rest of the world. Levine, an engineer with compact disc manufacturing experience, had a similar interest in Woodstock's talent and approached Harcourt with the idea for "Alternative Woodstock" last summer. Together, they compiled the CD using existing recordings submitted by each band.

Although the disc has nothing to do with the Woodstock '94 Music and Arts Festival, which will be held in Saugerties August 13-14, Harcourt doesn't intend to pass up a golden opportunity to draw attention to the artists involved in his project: The "Alternative Woodstock" bands will be performing at Woodstock's Joyous Lake the week before the Scream and Charlatans tried to go more rock-oriented.

"It's Catch-22 - if stations don't play the record, a manager isn't going to spend the money touring an English band around the country. I've never even seen most of the English bands out today."

No Room For Wimps

"Because of the success of harder American rock bands, anything else sound wimpy," notes KITS (Live 105)/San Francisco MD Steve Masters. "The more American rock stations play, the harder it is to make records from England sound right. It's not really a backlash. It's an oversaturation of similar sounding records.

"It's definitely a concern. With the popularity of bands like Stone Temple Pilots, Pearl Jam, and Soundgarden, it's hard to play something like Lush after two or three of these harder-sounding songs."

Masters says songs by British acts also tend to not test as well. "A lot of PDs and MDs might give them a chance based on gut, but then they might not research well. [VP/Programming] Richard Sands was hesitant to play the new Blur record. He thought it was yesterday's sound and not really what's happening now. We gave it a shot, but it hasn't tested well so far. People on the streets like it because it has a unique sound it's crazy and retarded.

"Everything comes and goes in cycles. People who have supported English music and imports should continue, because it's going to come back eventually. A lot of music coming from England has always been for people who want to seek it out and find it. I don't think the quality of music from England has changed. There are great records coming out. Suede is a phenomenal band. They have one of the best songwriters to come around in 10 years. It's very interesting music."

Masters, who tries to champion British records on his nightly airshift, admits to becoming disturbed by recent trends. "It's a little bit frustrating for me, because American bands aren't my favorite kind of music. Some of these bands aren't really that Alternative at all."

Targeting The Disenchanted

Then and now: 'NAC can be entirely dominant,' says format pioneer John Sebastian

This second column in the ongoing series, "Format Pioneers: Breaking The Mold," features 25-year radio veteran John Sebastian.

His programming track record includes CHR (KDWB/Minneapolis, KHJ/Los Angeles), Rock (KUPD/Phoenix, KDKB/Phoenix, and WCOZ/Boston) - and NAC (KTWV/Los An- John Sebastian geles). Presently

PD of CityCasters' Classic Rock KSLX/Phoenix, the ever-controversial Sebastian sounds off on his NAC experiences and the state of the format in the following interview.

R&R: Why did you decide NAC had enough potential to become a viable format?

JS: In Fall 1982 I perceived a huge gap in radio between the available formats and what a significant portion of the adult audience wanted to hear. In my spare time I began researching a new sound, format, and perspective on programming.

Keep in mind that this was before Classic Rock, NAC, or AAA [Progressive] formats had come into existence. I realized that much of the 25-54 adult audience was severely disenchanted with the state of radio. After much soul-searching I decided to give all my rock clients five months' notice and devote myself fulltime to a new form of radio.

I believe I was the first to use New Age music in the regular program-

Eventually, I was able to procure seven radio clients. Each of these "bold" radio people operated stations in very small markets; Anchorage, Casper, Ft. Pierce, etc.

Another challenge was the fact that a number of these client stations came in a most ironic way.

In every case, they [the stations] became the #1 qualitative station in their respective markets, [effectively delivering] the highest percentage of well-educated and high-income

My little band of "eclectic" stations had an amazing influence on 1.7 12+ and the station placed 13th in 25-54 adults, new GM Allan Chlowitz came in and hired me to program KTWV in summer 1988.

Finally, I had a legitimate chance to prove the potential of my idea. We had a great station with one of the best signals in Los Angeles, the dollars to compete in the marketing arena, an incredible staff, and a GM who would allow me to program the station exactly as I wanted.

NAC can provide the most beautiful, relaxing . . . inspiring music in an environment which eliminates the BS found in other formats. Most stations fall far short of this description.

The Wave experienced an unprecedented and as yet unsurpassed meteoric rise in the ratings. In the next few rating periods, the station went from 13th to a virtual tie for first in 25-54 adults. In one Arbitron, we actually beat KLOS in their bread-and-butter demo (25-54 men) and were #1 in all of Los Angeles. No major market NAC has ever matched these numbers.

[It's interesting to speculate] what could have been accomplished back in the early '80s if a major market station had put my format on the air before Classic Rock appeared. The question operators ask is: Why did we do so well with KTWV back then? Why has [this success] not been duplicated there or elsewhere

This is really the crux of what I want to say here. The hole in the U.S. marketplace is so enormous now that even if NAC programmers don't target the disenchanted adult audience accurately, they still can be consistently Top 5 in 25-54. But if they tap into the full potential of this music, NAC can be entirely domi-

R&R: Describe the current state of NAC radio.

JS: What I hear on most NAC stations today is mediocre music. There's very little feeling, passion, or spirituality. And it's [no longer] a cutting-edge format. [Using the Wave example again], we were able to be #1 in 25-54 men by being the most progressive, emotionally moving radio station on the dial. At the same time our texture was soft enough to attract an excellent share of women, too.

Music and radio have changed dramatically since 1982 when I began exposing much of this music. Certainly radio is a completely different animal than when I began in this business in 1968. However, the basics never change. I've had the success I've experienced because of my ability to hear music that will touch people, often on the first listen. Furthermore, I allow the needs, likes, and dislikes of the listener to teach me how to program. And that's really where the NAC format comes from.

Many radio listeners across the country are sick and tired of the way most radio stations are run. They can't stand the overcommercialization, the added-value promotions, the repetition of the music, and the stupid DJ banter. In our society, it's getting more and more difficult to survive day-to-day; listeners are looking for a quiet place to escape in a healthy way.

It's imperative that the [NAC] programmer be allowed to break a lot of heretofore sacred rules.

NAC radio, programmed to its maximum effectiveness, can be this respite for the masses. It can provide the most beautiful, relaxing, sensuous, inspiring music in a radio environment which eliminates all the BS found in most other formats. Most of the NAC stations I hear fall far short of this description.

This very basic prescription can result in tremendous bottom-line financial success for a radio station. But an NAC station must be run like any other successful radio operation. It has to have a competitive signal. The station must be marketed and advertised aggressively. And it's imperative that the programmer be allowed to break a lot of heretofore sacred rules.

These strategies will enable that station to become the favorite of a large number of just the right kind of listeners. The potential of a wellrun NAC is to be #1-#3 25-54 and #1 qualitatively.

KSSK-FM/Honolulu PD Michel Shishido asserts the lack of new artists on AC playlists is nothing new. But a strong song will open the gate for success.

Michael Shishido

"Adults are comfortable with familiarity. With AC that means Billy Joel, Whitney Houston, and Elton John. New artists wanting to make it big in this format will need good material and good production KSSK-FM seldom airs formatexclusive acts like Beth Nielsen Chapman. "We've never played anything by her, and we believe that you're never hurt by what you don't play. "If a station similar to ours started playing a record by an ACexclusive artist, a bell would ring in my head. Really getting to know the format in general, as well as each specific station, is what's lacking at the promotion level. A good promotion person knows what works for us and stations like ours."

Bell Ringer

Shishido is always conscious of a song's chart position. "We begin

I understand why ACs on the mainland with heavy Country influence would play Little Texas. Before we play it however, it would have to be a monster hit because there's no Country station here.'

Crossover Considerations

Previous exposure on another format may help land a new artist on

"We expect Phil Collins, Michael Bolton, and other superstars to give us hit material. But we won't play a marginal song [by a superstar] over a hit by a new artist."

The format today, according to Popovich, isn't more superstaroriented than in the past. "It's always been artist-intensive. Five years ago, we played Chicago and Steve Winwood. But they've taken a backseat to the Celine Dions and Toni Braxtons.'

Refreshing Alternative

Record companies approach radio stations cautiously when talking about new artists, he points out. "They think we have a bias against new artists and that isn't true. What we play is a result of what's available and market conditions."

The type of song released is also important. "Adults are looking for refreshing uptempo songs. They want an alternative to rock, dance, and UC. Jon Secada and Meat Loaf are wonderful examples of

Doing a cover or having a song featured on a soundtrack may also help boost a new artist. "People come to AC because the music's comfortable and familiar," Popovich

"Our listeners want instant gratification and don't look to us for an education in new music. They want to hear songs they like. There are times when All-4-One, Ace Of Base, Toni Braxton, and Joshua Kadison appear and produce hits people want to hear. Once this audience likes an artist, they like him for a long time."

Tracking New Acts

ust how difficult is it for a new act to crack the AC chart? Consider the following information. In 1992, 29 new artists debuted on R&R's Back Page AC chart, compared to 23 last year.

This year's more than half over and only eight new artists have hit the chart. Included in the year-by-year breakout is an artist's debut AC chart hit, chart position, and number of subsequent AC chart ap-

SNACKS BACK BLACK

Keebler Makes $6 Million Country Commitment

Clint Black and the Keebler Company's Wheatables snack crackers recently joined forces in a $6 million sponsorship which will involve tour support, a national TV commercial, and promotional contests in supermarkets around the country.

Wheatables will be the exclusive sponsor of 35 major market dates during Black's 1995 tour, and also will back several Dallas and New Orleans shows this fall. Black's photo is now featured on millions of the cracker boxes. Through some "Elfin magic," he will share the TV screen with Ernie the Keebler Elf in a TV commercial which will begin airing nationwide this September. The spot is the first in Keebler history to incorporate live action with animation; Black helped create its plot, which includes a chase scene.

Keebler designed the high-profile country campaign with specific goals in mind: to maintain the brand's top-of-mind awareness and increase purchasing frequency among its younger, female target market, which is right in line with a portion of country's growing newer and younger audience.

Sr. Brand Manager Jim Whittle sees the partnership as a marriage made in heaven. "The popularity of country, Clint Black, and Wheatables is a very powerful combination," he said. "We see this integrated approach to event sponsorship as a more effective method of cutting through the advertising clutter, allowing Wheatables a way to speak directly to and shake hands with consumers."

Through the partnership, consumers will have the opportunity to enter sweepstakes contests in each tour city, where they can win trips to September's CMA Awards, tickets

Keebler will also produce and sponsor a series of concert dates featuring Little Texas, Tim McGraw, Suzy Bogguss, Toby Keith, Blackhawk, and the Gibson Miller Band as well. VH-1 Honors Garth Brooks stood beside Stevie Wonder, Al Green, Bonnie Raitt, and other musical peers to accept a plaque for his charity works during the recent "VH-1 Honors" awards. Since honorees could pick their presenters, Brooks chose longtime influence James Taylor.

The two duetted on "Fire And Rain," and Taylor quipped, "Besides being a fine human being, he's also good at naming children." (Brooks's eldest daughter is named after Taylor.) When asked if anyone was conspicuously absent from the philanthropic honors, the outspoken Brooks told USA Today, "You can beat me up for this, but who's raised more money for children than Michael Jackson?"

'Deer' Friends

Suzy Bogguss and Billy Ray Cyrus recently found they had something more in common than their upation and ZIP code when a lost fawn wandered into Bogguss's backyard one night recently. Bogguss and her husband placed it under a tree in the yard to sleep, but the fawn later wandered out into the street, where Cyrus and his guitar player nearly hit it. After they knocked on Bogguss's door to ask about it, Cyrus, his wife and daughter, and Bogguss and her husband spent the next few minutes trying to corner it in the yard. Cyrus finally managed to pick up the fawn and take it to his barn until the animal crisis center could come and get it.

Taking His Licks

Steve Wariner recently joined Chet Atkins on a TNN special which will feature music from Atkins's new album, "Read My Licks." Wariner and Atkins perform the title cut from the LP together on the show, and Wariner debuts his new composition, "Be Careful What You Dream," with accompaniment from Atkins. Suzy Bogguss, guitarist Eric Johnson, and jazz great Earl Klugh also appear on the show, which is set to air in September.

Shedding Some Light

Kathy Mattea performs on the TV special "In A New Light: The Third Annual Celebration Of Light, Life, And Hope In The Fight Against AIDS," which airs this Saturday (7/9). Clint Black, Bill Cosby, Whoopi Goldberg, Rosie

O'Donnell, Liza Minnelli, Gloria Estefan, and dozens of other stars appear in the show, which is hosted by Barbara Walters. Mattea also speaks out on AIDS in the September edition of First magazine and in this week's issue of TV Guide.

Tillis 'Walks' On Next Single

Pam Tillis's next single, "When You Walk In The Room," is a cover of the 1964 Searchers hit. Mary Chapin Carpenter sings backup on the Tillis version, which should cross programmers' desks next week.

- Speaking of Mary Chapin, she's been in a Washington, DC studio working on her next Columbia/Nashville album. Lee Roy Parnell stopped in to lend some guitar licks to several cuts for the project, including a tune called "Shut Up And Kiss Me." The LP is due out this fall.
- Trisha Yearwood's new single, "XXX's And OOO's" the theme song for the recent CBS-TV movie of the same name — was written by Matraca Berg and Alice Randall, the latter of whom also penned the movie's script.

- Jon Randall's debut single, "This Heart," written by Tim Mensy and Tony Haselden, was also recorded by Sweethearts Of The Rodeo. Incidentally, Mensy also wrote and recorded a single for Giant/Nashville titled "This Ol' Heart."
- Restless Heart's latest song, "Baby Needs New Shoes," was written by Billy Crain, Thom McHugh, and former Palomino Road member Ronnie Gullbeau.

'After MidNite,' IRN Offer Overnight Alternatives

Programmers concerned about filling six hours of programming on a low budget now have two overnight alternatives. They don't merely fill the void but offer positive programming to enhance stations' images and — more importantly — their revenues.

"After MidNite" is the newest overnight sensation. Hosted by Blair Garner and syndicated by After MidNite Entertainment, the live show emanates from Los Angeles but also broadcasts live from special country events, such as this year's Country Radio Seminar. On the air less than nine months, "After MidNite" already boasts more than 100 affiliates, including KNIX/Phoenix, WDSY/Pittsburgh, WMIL/Milwaukee, KZSN/Wichita, and KEBC/Oklahoma City.

The program is personality- and feature-heavy. Its staff includes a number of radio veterans and standup comics whose writing and production supports Garner, a former air personality with WPLJ/New York and KIIS/Los Angeles. One-on-one interviews with country artists are a staple; the list of stars who've dropped by the studio to chat with Garner reads like a "Who's Who" of country music.

'After MidNite' gives us an overnight sound better than anything we've ever had before.
—Scott Johnson

Showbiz On No Budget WKSJ-AM & FM/Mobile has

carried the show since its early beginnings. PD Scott Johnson says, "After MidNite' meets a need we've had for over two years. We'd been looking for something to put on overnights and even approached some satellite networks about taking only that portion of their programming. But we weren't able to work that out. We never had much of a budget for the overnight show, and 'After MidNite' gives us an overnight sound better than anything we've ever had before."

'After MidNite' filled a need for KKAT/Salt Lake City as well. As KKAT & KALL-AM & FM-KODJ VP/Programming John Marks explains, "Overnights present a gaping hole; they're every PD's problem. You want to do something special, but who has the budget?

"We want our overnights to have music tonnage, showbiz value, and be a great lead-in for our morning show. With the budget traditionally available for an overnight person, you can't expect to bring a lot of showbiz values to that slot. 'After MidNite' is closer in presentation to our morning show than almost anything we could produce locally. It's high-profile personality, fun, and entertaining. They have access to entertainment people and do phoners and interviews. No one else in the market can provide the same type of entertainment unless they want to hire a morning person for overnights. Plus, it fits our format to a T. And a lot of what Blair does overnight we can recycle in our morning show."

Morning Prep Service

Like Marks, Johnson cites the impact of "After MidNite" on his morning show and the rest of the station's programming as a value-added benefit of being an affiliate. "Every day we get raw interviews that we cut up and use elsewhere on the station; there are comedy bits, fake commercials, and artist info we put in our artist database, and a faxed show-prep package.

"I tape all six hours every night and pull ideas/bits for contests, stagers, and phone topics. It's not easy to come up with fresh material, so we use 'After MidNite' as a catalyst and recycle a lot of stuff into our morning show. 'After MidNite' gives us a big-market show to emulate. It provides the spark we've been looking for; it really perks up our mornings."

Flexibility Aids Localization

Marks admits at first he was skeptical of relinquishing control of onequarter of his station's programming to a satellite program. "What turned me around is there's lots of flexibility to localize the show; it leaves us a lot of room to make it ours. There are plenty of avails over and above what's formatted to get your call letters in. And Blair customizes whatever you need. Our board op has a keen sense of taking all those elements and making it sound like KKAT's overnight show."

Marks is also a fan of show host Garner. "Blair fits the profile of to-day's Country station. His style sounds like KKAT radio, so it's not like we shut off KKAT at midnight and a new station comes on. And the music fits our mix. Anything less in either of those two areas and we wouldn't take the show. But it's an easy fit just as it's delivered."

Keep On Truckin'

The Interstate Radio Network is another overnight alternative — one that's been on the air for seven years. It's billed as "Trucker Radio At Its Best." Offering eight hours per morning, seven days a week from Chicago, the show features Fred Sanders, Bob Tracy, and Gene Davis as its core hosts.

IRN boasts its own meteorologist, who covers interstate highway weather from the WGN radio weather center. It also features two minutes of international and national news per hour from the Shadow Network. Regular features include trucker news, legislative updates, sports at :45, the "Nashville Hotline," and the "NASCAR Update." Stations have the freedom to tape any of the features and use them throughout their programming day.

In its early days, IRN concentrated on signing big-signal AMs as affiliates. Its list includes 50,000-watt giants WSM/Nashville; KRAK/Sacramento; KTWO/Casper, WY; KFRE/Fresno; and WPTR/Albany. The lineup also features FM outlets WOVK/Wheeling, WV; WXKX/Parkersburg, WV; WIMT/Lima, OH; and WKIK/Richmond.

On The Road

Each year the IRN conducts a truck giveaway; this year's prize is a $150,000 Kenworth with studio sleeper. As part of the promotion, the network literally hits the road on a regular basis, visiting affiliates and hosting remote broadcasts while showcasing the rig. The IRN sets up shop at a truck stop and broadcasts on the affiliated station in the late afternoon or early evening. IRN personalities also make visits to events hosted by affiliated stations.

Filling A Need

WXKX OM Tom McGuire cites music and personality as reasons he put IRN on his highly rated FM station.

"We have a huge third-shift population in this area, and I wanted to give them a morning drive-type show. But I know from the requests we got when we did the show live that they want some songs that are older than we normally play during the day. And, while IRN has become more current-oriented in the last year, it still plays a lot of pre-287 music. So it fills a real station need as well.

"I also feel the people who work on the other side of the clock need and want more than back-to-back music. With the tedium and boredom that can take place at those hours, they need a huge dose of the human touch, and they get that from IRN. There's a toll-free phone number that's promoted heavily, and they spend a lot of time on the phone with listeners. The personalities are very accessible and create the same type of bond I'm asking my day and evening people to make."

Asked whether the show's trucker orientation presents any concern, since the bulk of his post-midnight audience is non-truckers, McGuire said, "Even though the service elements have to do with trucking, the airstaffs aren't trucker types themselves. The personalities transcend it from being just a trucker show and make it more universal."

Interstate Radio Network host, and VPIProgramming Fred Sanders.

Vital Stats

"After MidNite" airs Monday-Saturday, midnight-6am ET. It offers six hours per morning, with hours one through three re-fed so that it may begin at midnight in any time zone. IRN airs live seven days a week, midnight-8am ET. Stations must air a minimum of five hours but can air all eight if they choose.

Both shows are offered on a barter basis. "After MidNite" has 12 minutes of spots per hour; it gets five and affiliates receive seven. Affiliates also are required to air 15 minutes ROS Monday-Sunday, 6ammidnight. IRN has 14 minutes of ad time available each hour, split seven-seven.

While IRN has become more current-oriented in the last year, it still plays a lot of pre-'87 music. So it fills a real station need as well.

In today's economic and competitive climate, it's important for all programming — local or syndicated — to produce revenue. AME CEO Rod West emphasizes, "We created 'After MidNite' to be more than just six hours of wall-to-wall music. It's programming stations can make money with."

IRN VP/Programming Fred Sanders says the trucking show offers stations something to sell that's out of the mainstream sales arena: It makes money on truckers and transportation-related people.

Sanders doesn't see "After Mid-Nite" and IRN as competitors. "The only things we have in common are making money for our affiliates and country music. Our target audiences are different. Stations now have two choices for quality programming that augments their sound."

For more information, contact "After MidNite" at (213) 851-7770 or the Interstate Radio Network at (312) 222-4784.

■ Talkers respond to Clinton's criticism of the format

If President Bill Clinton's recent criticism of Talk radio was designed to generate sympathy for his plight as a victim of a hostile media, he appears to have failed miserably with Talk programmers. In fact, those contacted for this story fell just short of calling the Chief Executive a whiner for complaining that talk hosts are unfair and foster cynicism among their listeners.

Clinton's charge that Talk radio doesn't convey accurate information about such issues as his health care reform plan drew some of the heaviest fire from format insiders.

WLS-AM & FM/Chicago OM Drew Hayes pointed out that Talk programming includes not just the hosts' opinions but those of callers — many of whom simply disagree with the Administration.

This is just like the Dan Quayle Murphy Brown' comment. [In both cases] we're talking about fictional characters. [Talk hosts] don't shape public opinion, we reflect it. If we shaped it, George Bush would still be President.

Clinton faces is only going to get worse in the future. "I don't think you're going to see many two-way races in major elections," says Burns. "There's always going to be a third Ross Perot-type character in there.

"Look at what's going on in Virginia, where you have several major candidates for the Senate. As a result, you're going to see more situations where 60% of the voters didn't vote for the winning candidate. Those people are going to use new media like Talk radio to voice their complaints."

WFLA/Tampa OM Gabe Hobbs said Clinton, like many others, overestimates the power of Talk radio. The President, he said, should remember that talk hosts project personas and strike poses in order to entertain their audience. "We are primarily entertainers," says Hobbs. "If he's going to criticize us, he ought to criticize movies and television [dramas] that he doesn't like. In fact, this is just like the Dan Quayle 'Murphy Brown' comment. [In both cases] we're talking about fictional characters. [Talk hosts] don't shape public opinion, we reflect it. If we shaped it, George Bush would still be President because the overwhelming majority of talk hosts are conversative."

co-host Bill Trumbull.

But WGST/Atlanta PD Nancy Zintak isn't entirely sure about that. While she also believes Clinton overreacted, she thinks Talk radio may have significant opinion-molding power.

She wonders: "If advertisers buy time on our stations because they see we have the ability to influence consumers, how can we say that our programming doesn't have influence, too?"

Talk Power?

WWDB/Philadelphia PD David Rimmer said that if Clinton believes Talk has so much power, he should encourage his Administration to further embrace the format. "We've had some good visits from senior Clinton people who were interviewed by our hosts," says Rimmer. "I'd like to see more of that and I'd like to see them stay longer and take questions from our audience."

In the end, the programmers agreed, Clinton's anti-Talk tirade, which aired live on KMOX/St. Louis and received massive publicity, did little more than hurt his image by adding to his reputation for hotheadedness.

"I think we got a glimpse of that behind-the-scenes temper we've heard so much about," said Zintak.

RANDY THOMAS

For a free demo call (818) 501-7201

Why would you hire a pretty face from Hollywood for your Radio Station Promos, Liners, and IDs? "Because She's Got Great Pipes!"

RANDY KABRICH, CONSULTANT

"Morning Zoos, 'Me Generation,' Junk Bonds, Testosterone Voices--they all had their place in the '80s, but the '80s are over. Randy Thomas exemplifies the fresh sound of '90s announcers who communicate with listeners instead of growling at them."

JIM HARPER, PD & MORNING HOST, WNIC 100.3/DETROIT

"I've always looked at voiceover talent as another fulltime jock on WNIC. They've got to be as warm and believable--and must establish the same kind of relationship with core listeners--as anyone on the morning show. Randy Thomas instantly passes the audition and becomes an important part of the station's talent equity."

The producers of the 65th Annual Academy Awards think so. Randy's the first female announcer ever to do the show.

"Hooked On Phonics" thinks so. "Call I-800-ABC-DEFG."
Wonder how many of those she sold?

Growth Rank: Ranks all songs by airplay and audience growth. Points: Each station's total plays of a song times the station's individual weight. Total Points = All stations/points on song added together. Play Rank: Ranks all charted songs by number of plays.

Dan Hill's duet remake of "Sometimes When We Touch" with Rique Franks is the perfect follow-up to his top ten smash "In Your Eyes."

This is the record that radio, consultants, and researchers alike overwhelmingly chose as the next single to go all the way.

Mike McVay of McVay Media says: "We're receiving great initial response from our programmers when they hear about the release of this single. The new version has all the passion and emotion of the original except that this is fresh."

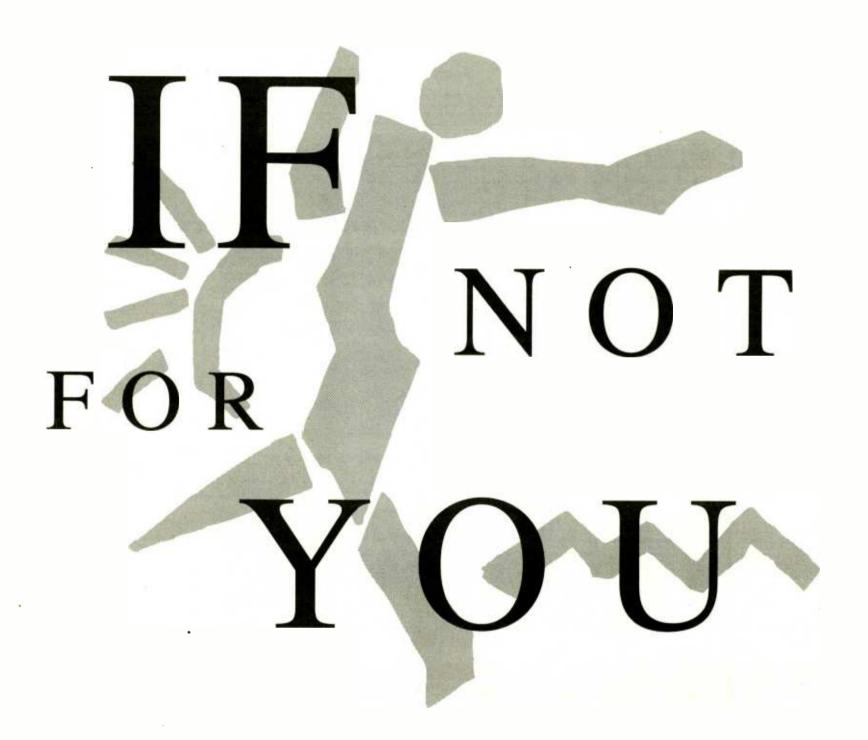

Eric Norberg of the research letter says: "Even though it's a remake it tests very strongly as a new release."

Dan's original version of "Sometimes When We Touch" was released in 1977 and has become one of our most enduring and treasured songs.

Every summer needs one great ballad... Here it is.

Expose yourself with a minimum of risk.

Today's level of fierce competition demands that you prominently display your name every chance you get (location broadcasts, concerts, station sponsored autograph sessions, etc.). With theft, vandalism and loss, it becomes a costly proposition to continuously replace expensive signs and banners costing hundreds of dollars.

Roll-A-Sign™ offers a better way. You get up to four vibrant colors printed on durable, high quality 4 or 6 mil plastic film to display your logo and message brilliantly for an economical price. Now you can afford to display a bright new sign at every public event. They even make great costeffective promotional give-aways. Just roll off what you need and cut.

72" x 36" gives you 170 benners per roll 36" x 24" gives you 330 benners per roll. 31" x 18" gives you 340 benners per rol

- Margaret Durable banners for a throw-away price.
- >< UV stabilized plastic won't fade indoors or outdoors.
- Simply FAX your logo and color separation information for a free price quote.
