10 QUESTIONS WITH EDDIE FRITTS

NAB Plots Satellite DAB Battle

Members of the NAB board of directors will gather Saturday through Wednesday (1/14-18) in Boca Raton, FL for the organization's annual winter meeting. R&R recently talked with NAB President/CEO Eddie Fritts about what broadcasters might expect from the meeting and what may happen at the FCC and on Capitol Hill in 1995.

Fritts

like to know what the broadcast position would be on all ownership rules. And they may be prepared to move faster than the FCC.

We also expect some of the discussion will involve proposals to advance minority ownership in concert with radio ownership rules. Also EEO. Another issue on Capitol Hill that will be of particular interest to the radio industry is spectrum fees.

Q What's on the Radio Board's meeting agenda?

A The principal issue will be a report on the spectrum for DAB satellites that the Commission expects to allocate this Thursday (1/12). (See article, Page 4.)

And we anticipate radio ownership rules will be discussed at length. Even though there's not a pending item at the FCC per se on this, we're receiving signals from Capitol Hill that they'd

Q At the recent Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas, Chairman Reed Hundt asked whether the public interest would be served if broadcasters paid spectrum fees or had to compete in a spectrum auction. What do you think?

A There seems to be a certain euphoria at the FCC — that they are solving the problems of the day by auctioning spectrum ... not withstanding the fact that it's against the law to auction broadcast spectrum, as evidenced by recent legislation. And there's something else I don't

BP Gets Moore For Chicago Trio

Broadcasting Partners Inc. has brought in radio newcomer Donald Moore as VP/GM of its Chicago properties, Urban AC WVAZ-FM and Urban simulcast WEJM (formerly WJPC)-AM & FM. Moore takes over the stations' operations from Barry Mayo, who will now focus solely on his duties as President of Broadcasting Partners.

Mayo, citing Moore's nine years at McNeil Consumer Products Co., explained, "The radio business is in the midst of major changes which will require more marketing expertise than ever. Donald brings that expertise plus a fresh perspective on radio. He will be a huge asset for us."

"My days at McNeil were rewarding ones," said Moore, "but since my days at the college radio station, I've always had the radio business in the back of my mind. I'm excited about the opportunity to take my marketing and product skills and put them to work for these three great stations."

McClendon PD At UAC WALR/Atlanta

WMXD/Detroit PD Kris McClendon has resigned to accept a similar position at Urban AC WALR/Atlanta, effective Monday (1/16).

"Kris is one of the top Urban AC programmers in the country," said Lew Dickey, President of station owner Stratford Research. "He's done a tremendous job at Mix over the last four years. He's really been instrumental in making Mix one of the premier Urban AC stations in the United States, and we feel he's going to be a tremendous asset to our growth. He told me he's not going to replicate Mix here, just its success. That's what we're looking for."

McClendon has programmed WMXD since its inception four years ago. Prior to that, he was PD at WDZZ/Flint.

Hecht Appointed VP/Pop Promotion At Relativity

Joe Hecht has been upped to VP/Pop Promotion at Relativity Records. He had been the label's Sr. Director/National Promotion.

Hecht

Relativity VP/Promotion Kevin Carroll noted, "Joe is a talented executive with broad radio exposure and knowledge, which are essential to the success of our diverse artist roster. He's a part of our winning team responsible for Relativity's phenomenal growth in hip-hop music, and he is playing an equally important role in the development of our rock/pop artists."

Hecht joined Relativity three years ago following a stint as National Director/Dance Music and Promotion Manager for RCA Records.

R&R Observes King Holiday

In observance of the Martin Luther King Day federal holiday, R&R's Los Angeles, Nashville, New York, and Washington, DC offices will be closed Monday, January 16.

New Horizons For Wilson, R&R

R&R founder Bob Wilson has announced he is stepping away from his day-to-day responsibilities at the company after serving as Publisher for most of its 22 years.

"It was with mixed emotions that I made my decision," he said, "but the '90s have opened up some very exciting opportunities outside the R&R sphere."

Wilson will remain on board as a consultant, focusing on the building and marketing of R&R ONLINE and MARIX Gateways — the service that will link business information providers with radio and record industry on-line users.

Wilson noted, "I leave R&R in good hands at the right time ... and in terrific new offices. The company is positioned for a great '95 and an even better '96. The management team, which will continue to be led by Chief Operating Officer Erica Farber, is the strongest and most qualified that it's ever been — ready to meet the challenges ahead in the second half of the decade. They, and the rest of the staff, represent what R&R is really all about — honesty, integrity, and the highest standards of quality and customer service every day."

Pareigis Heads To KYCY/SF As PD

KYCY/San Francisco has recruited KHTK-AM, KNCI-FM, & KRAK-FM/Sacramento OM Larry Pareigis as its new PD. Pareigis succeeds Lee Douglas at Alliance's Young Country outlet.

dedicated to being a contributing partner to the community. He's a leader, and I'm thrilled he chose to join us."

Pareigis commented, "I'm honored to have been chosen for this adventure, and I can't wait to help Tom and the crew extend the grasp they've begun to establish in the Bay Area."

"You only have to meet Larry to know that he's one of the star programmers in radio today," said KYCY VP/GM Tom Matheson. "He shares the Alliance vision of building Young Country stations based firmly on personalities and

Before joining EZ Communications' Sacramento stations in 1992, Pareigis programmed KRST-AM & FM/Albuquerque and was MD at WSM-AM & FM/Nashville.

New PDs At Two San Diego Stations

■ Bullet named KCBQ programming gun

KJQY-FM/San Diego OM/PD Jessie Bullet has left the AC outlet to join crosstown Gold combo KCBQ-AM & FM as PD. He succeeds Rich Brother Robbin, who exited the Compass Radio Group stations several months ago.

According to Compass President Bob Hughes, "Jessie Bullet is one of the most experienced programmers in San Diego. He's a master strategist with a demonstrated ability to make ratings go up. That's the job we've given him, and we're confident he'll get it done."

Before joining KJQY nearly three years ago, Bullet was National PD for Commonwealth Broadcasting. He once programmed WLUP/Chicago and was GM at KIIQ/Colorado Springs.

■ Conway to succeed Bullet at KJQY-FM

The OM/PD vacancy at KJQY-FM/San Diego didn't last long: Within days, SFX Broadcasting tapped KLUP-AM & KSMG-FM/San Antonio PD Bill Conway to succeed Jessie Bullet (see left).

According to VP/GM Charlie Seraphin, "Bill's major-market AC background is exactly what we need to spearhead the programming efforts of KJQY and our future duopoly partner, [SoftAC] KYXY-FM."

Conway's prior programming experience includes stints with WBCS/Milwaukee, KRPM Seattle, WTMJ/Milwaukee, KRMG/Tulsa, and Charlotte ACs WEZC-FM and WMXC-FM. He also worked as a consultant for BP Consulting Group.

Commission Expected To Give Green Light To Satellite Radio

■ NAB, Apollo Radio call move a threat to local stations

The FCC was expected to propose a spectrum allocation for satellite radio at its Thursday (1/12) meeting — setting the stage for the launch of new, nationwide DAB services that would compete for audiences with every existing radio station.

It's a move that won't sit well with radio broadcasters. "We're against the creation of a new form of service that clearly would seem to threaten the localism and foundation of the American radio system," said Apollo Radio Ltd. President/CEO Bill Stakelin. He's one of the many broadcasters who have been fighting establishment of the new competitor.

The NAB, in a report recently filed with the FCC, said satellite radio would "chase away national advertising dollars and dilute local audiences, threatening the profitability of local radio stations nationwide." The NAB filed its report in response to a filing by satellite radio developer CD Radio Inc. last September. CD Radio labeled NAB's filing as "a last-gasp attempt" to delay allocation of spectrum to satellite radio.

'Spells Choice To Consumer'

CD Radio Chairman/CEO David Margolese said radio broadcasters' complaints are the same ones they had when television, FM, cable, and satellite television came along. "This spells choice to the consumer. You can't stop new technology ... these things are always frustrating."

CD Radio was the first company to apply to the FCC for a satellite radio license. Now three others also have applications on file: Primosphere, American Mobile Radio Corp., and Digital Satellite Broadcasting Corp. The spectrum likely to be allocated is in the S-band around 2100 MHz.

Margolese said if the FCC allocates spectrum to satellite radio, his company would be up and running within three years. The company would be "one national service with no local programming and 30 channels of music," he noted, adding that subscribers would pay $10 per month or less if demand is high. Some of the other applicants, however, have proposed advertiser-supported services.

You can't stop new technology ... these things are always frustrating.

The NAB thinks the Commission is jumping the gun by considering individual applications for satellite radio. It says the FCC should first adopt an overall policy for digital radio service.

“We're against the creation of a new form of service that clearly would seem to threaten the localism and foundation of the American radio system.”

—Bill Stakelin

JULY 4 DEADLINE

GOP Leaders Vow Quick Vote On Communications Bill

The new Republican leaders on Capitol Hill have set July 4 as the deadline for passing a new Telecommunications Act. It would replace the 1934 Communications Act, the law that has guided regulation of the broadcasting industry for over 60 years.

"We need to underscore competition, not regulation; deregulation, not regulation," Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole (R-KS) told a hearing (1/9) of the Senate Commerce Committee.

Committee Chairman Sen. Larry Pressler (R-SD) has established July 4 as the target date for completing action on the new bill. And House Energy and Commerce Committee Chairman Rep. Thomas Bliley (R-VA), in a rare appearance on the Senate side of Capitol Hill, said he agreed with that timetable.

Raise Foreign Ownership Limit?

House Telecommunications Subcommittee Chairman Rep. Jack Fields (R-TX) is in an even bigger hurry. He said his panel could begin hearings before this month is out and have the bill to the floor of the House for a vote before Easter.

All of the talk at the hearing was about deregulation of telephone and

“We need to underscore competition, not regulation; deregulation, not regulation.”

cable TV service, with no mention of broadcasting. But there could be some proposals thrown into the mix which would affect radio.

For example, Telecommunications Subcommittee Vice Chairman Rep. Mike Oxley (R-OH) wants to raise the current 20% limit on foreign ownership for companies that own U.S. radio and TV stations. Oxley spokeswoman Peggy Peterson told R&R the congressman thinks the current foreign ownership restriction is "rooted in Cold War mentality."

EARNINGS

Emmis Posts Profit In Third Quarter

Emmis Broadcasting Corp. (Nasdaq: EMMS) reported net income of $2.9 million (27 cents per share) for its fiscal third quarter ended November 30, 1994, compared to a $3.4-million loss a year ago. Emmis said it did not supply per-share data for the previous year because it was "not meaningful due to substantial changes in capital structure."

Third-quarter revenues were $17.6 million, up from $13.3 million. Broadcast cash flow was $7.8 million, up from $5.8 million.

Emmis owns eight radio stations in the U.S., two magazines, and has interests in Britain's Talk Radio UK and Duncan's American Radio publications.

The offering has been completed.
 This announcement appears as a matter of record only.

We Build Franchises

With great broadcasters like...

Carl Hirsch

"To build a group of market franchises for the '90s and beyond, I need the next generation of strategic thinking. I use Stratford because their professionals and their branding discipline are simply the best."

Carl Hirsch
CEO, OmniAmerica Communications

Carl Hirsch relies on Stratford Research to help build his stations into branded franchises. That's because only Stratford provides the Fortune 500 research and brand marketing techniques that were previously reserved for the world's top consumer marketers. That's also why the NAB asked us to write The Franchise, the industry's definitive book on building radio brands.

Stratford's branding discipline represents a true source of competitive advantage for radio stations. That's why Carl Hirsch wants it in his arsenal. He looks to Stratford for strategic research, music testing, focus groups and brand marketing.

KQQK Violates Main Studio Rule

The FCC has fined KQQK-FM/Galveston (Houston) $7500 for "repeated and continuous" violations of the Commission's Main Studio Rule, requiring stations to be adequately staffed on a fulltime basis.

"We were building a new tower at the time," said KQQK GM Edith Baker. "We would have been in the right position if it had been finished — they should have given us a little more time."

The FCC twice requested information on the duties of Vandy Anderson, who was listed as Asst. Station Manager of KQQK while simultaneously serving as President of Harbor Broadcasting — licensee of KGBC-AM/Galveston, from which KQQK rented studio space and a location for its public file. Neither response satisfied the Commission.

The FCC stated that since "no indication is given whether Mr. Anderson was authorized to make typical managerial decisions, we cannot find any confirmation that there was a significant management presence at the studio."

KQQK Inc., which is responsible for paying the fine, recently sold KQQK to Tom Castro's El Dorado Communications.

Ceridian Buys MediaMAPS

Arbitron owner Ceridian Corporation (NYSE: CEN) has purchased MediaMAPS International, a company that developed an integrated database marketing system for radio station marketing and promotion.

The Pacific Palisades, CA-based firm, which already counts Capital Cities/ABC and Emmis among its clients, will operate as a separate company under the Arbitron umbrella. "MediaMAPS provides a new and powerful source of information that stations can use to refine their audience promotions and target their own marketing efforts," said Arbitron President Stephen Morris.

Arbitron also announced that it had completed its recently announced deal to acquire a 50% stake in Scarborough Research.

Minority Businessman Challenges Park Sale

Atlas News & Information Services President David Lampel has asked the FCC to block the pending $711 million sale of Park Communications, claiming that qualified minority companies were blocked from bidding.

Lampel, who is a major shareholder of Inner City Broadcasting, charged that Park's financial advisors, Goldman Sachs & Co., didn't take his bidding effort seriously because he is an African-American. Lampel said he submitted a bid in excess of $700 million and would have gone higher if he had received the same access to Park's financial information as white bidders.

In reply, Park told the FCC, "The company and its agents were more than accommodating to Mr. Lampel." Park said Lampel was even given an additional week to submit a bid after other final bids were due October 17, 1994, but didn't follow through. Park then announced that it had accepted the $711 million bid by private investors Gary Knapp and Donald Tomlin.

Park announced Monday (1/9) that it has called $45 million in convertible subordinated debentures for redemption on February 15. Holders have an option of converting each $1000 face value of debentures to common stock currently worth nearly $1500 by February 15 — otherwise they'll be paid about $1014 in cash.

CBS To Rep Own Unwired Net

CBS Radio Representatives plans to launch its own unwired sales effort beginning February 5, ending its five-year relationship with the Interep Radio Store.

"Our mission is to control the national sales destiny of our exclusive list of radio stations," CBS Radio Reps VP/GM Raif D'Amico said of the new venture, CBS Radio Unwired. "Our analysis of the future of unwired led us to conclude that we need to be an independent player."

The new venture will be managed by CBS Radio Reps Director/Unwired Marketing John Bitting.

UPDATE

RCA Taps Three Execs For New Posts

RCA Records has filled three upper-level positions in three different departments: Hugh Surratt was promoted to VP/Artist Development, Kim Hughes was upped to National Director/Pop & Crossover Promotion, and Elise Kolesky joined the label as VP/Field Marketing.

Surratt Kolesky Hughes

Surratt, who was previously Sr. Director/Artist Development, "brought solid experience and enthusiasm that infected the entire company" when he arrived two years ago, said RCA President Joe Galante.

Kolesky comes to RCA from the Director/Sales job at Sony Music Entertainment and, according to VP/Sales David Fitch, "brings with her remarkable enthusiasm and a strong work ethic."

Hughes has been RCA's San Francisco-based Promotion Manager for seven years. Prior to that, she was MD at KBLX-FM/San Francisco. "Considering her background and expertise," noted Sr. VP/Promotion Butch Waugh, "this is a perfect position for her."

Petroskey Tapped As BMG VP/Corp. Comm.

Dennis Petroskey, most recently VP/Corporate Communications at Fox Inc., has been appointed to a similar post at BMG Entertainment, whose divisions include the Arista, RCA, and Ariola labels. His appointment becomes effective March 1.

Petroskey

"Dennis brings with him a diverse background and impressive credentials," commented BMG Chairman/CEO Michael Dornemann. "We will be looking to him to help shape and guide BMG Entertainment's public relations program as we continue to grow in the years ahead."

Added Petroskey, "The opportunity to broaden my experience in other areas of the entertainment business, while working with a superb management team, is tremendously exciting and too good to pass up." He initially joined Fox in 1989 as Manager/Corporate Communications, advancing to VP in August 1990.

Ciapura Segues From Noble To SFX

Noble Broadcast Group Exec. VP/Operations Dennis Ciapura has jumped to SFX Broadcasting as Sr. VP.

Ciapura

"We're extremely pleased to have Dennis on our team," said SFX Chairman/CEO Robert Sillerman. "His broad background and experience will be a real asset to our organization. In supervising our duopoly expansion and exploration of new business opportunities, we hope to isolate additional projects to work on with Dennis."

"The time is right for me to explore some innovative concepts of my own," said Ciapura. "Bob Sillerman and Steve Hicks are doing some exciting things in the industry, and I'm certain our association will be mutually rewarding."

Ciapura, who has more than two decades of industry experience, joined Noble in 1986 after a stint as President/CEO of Starnet Corporation. He's also worked for Greater Media and Sudbrink Broadcasting.

StandardNews Reorganizes Operations, Cuts Staff

StandardNews has slimmed down its operations - merging its secular and religious newscast services and eliminating 13 positions - in a move the company says is designed to make the Washington-based news service more competitive.

"Many news organizations restructure their systems," said Gene Kapp, VP/Public Affairs of parent company Christian Broadcasting Network. "It was designed to make StandardNews a more viable news organization in a very competitive market." According to Kapp, all of the employees who were

If You're Not Careful When Buying Decals, You Could Get Stuck.

1 Look For Experience.

If you're like most radio stations, there's a lot riding on your sticker or decal promotion. Before you do anything, ask questions. How long has the company you're considering been in business? Is printing decals their primary business? What kind of presses do they have? Do they manufacture the stickers, or job them out to a third party? What's the largest job they've ever printed? Ask for samples... did they actually print them?

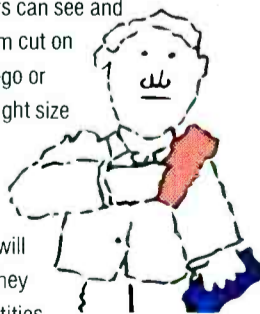

Communication Graphics has been a radio industry leader for more than 20 years. We produce more than a million decals per day, more than most companies produce in a lifetime. No other company today produces more decals for the broadcasting industry than Communication Graphics. Experience makes a big difference.

2 Check The Quality.

If you only compare price, you could be making a costly mistake. Look for quality. Check the weight and thickness, the color intensity, the type of cut, and the overall consistency.

Communication Graphics uses the finest screen printing presses available. With better, thicker inks on higher quality vinyl, you get a more durable, color fast image. Many decals from other printers fade after only a week or so. Some crack, curl or peel. It's a difference listeners and sponsors can see and feel. Every decal at CG is custom cut on a computerized system. Your logo or sponsor's image is always the right size for good readability, with less wasted space. And with some printers, consistency and quality is haphazard. How will your decals be delivered? Are they shrink-wrapped in specific quantities for ease of counting, or will they be tossed in a box?

3 Ask About Support.

No printer understands the radio business better than CG. And we've invested millions in state-of-the-art equipment to assist you.

Our resources can help you every step of the way. From your first phone call, on through the design stages, and even to final production, you'll find it's easy to work with us. Our creative staff has the radio know-how to make your image unique and exciting, whether it's a simple logo or a complex piece of art with metallic inks. Our in-house computer-aided design capabilities help make your job go easier and faster, even if you already have a design. Plus, we use optical registration and computerized cutting to ensure accuracy.

Don't get stuck with anything less than the best.

'ZINE SCENE

Buffett's Birdbrains = Boffo Bucks!

He's "one of the smartest men in the music business," according to Forbes. Last year Jimmy Buffett (a distant relative of uberbillionaire Warren Buffett) sold more than $50 million worth of music 'n' merchandise to loyal Parrotheads. He notes, "When we first started doing it, I said, 'Man, that's gaudy stuff, I wouldn't wear it,' but there's a lot of people that do. Maybe there's a certain amount of cheesiness to the whole thing, but it's Economics 101 — like it or not, these things sell." Nevertheless, he's turned down offers from Disney, MCA, and others to open Margaritaville areas in their theme parks.

Multimedia Madness

Print turns to radio for the scoop on new music! Entertainment Weekly asked PDs at Alternative KROQ/L.A., AC WMXV/NY, and Country KYNG/Dallas to talk about their top three singles and predict the next big hits.

On People's new "Cyberchat" page, Aerosmith "Director of New Media" Rob Falk reflects on the band's recent Cybertour '94: "There were reports of virtual joints being passed around and cybersex in the 'rest rooms.'"

Oprah plans to release a gospel LP by next Christmas (Star).

The Big Brothers

"I used to make love to girls while listening to Marvin Gaye or Barry White," says Gerald Levert, who co-wrote White's current hit, "Practice What You Preach." "But never to any O'Jays tracks — 'cause I always felt like my father [O'Jays lead singer Eddie Levert] could see what I was doing" (Vibe).

Rooms at the abbey of Santo Domingo de Silos (home of those chantin' monks) are booked through the summer — it's become a hot tourist destination. Angel Records is sponsoring a contest to allow winners to visit the place and attend services with the monks. A female winner, however, would have to stay at a nearby hotel and would get only a guided tour (Entertainment Weekly).

Aiming High

"He used to wear a crucifix and a star of David, and an ank around his neck. People would laugh and say, 'Aren't you a little confused?' And he'd say, 'No. I just don't want to miss heaven on a technicality.'" That's Linda Thompson on former beau Elvis Presley, who's 60th anniversary makes him the subject of an entire issue of Life magazine. "We were writing songs for arenas back when we were playing garages," admits Live singer Edward Kowalczyk in Spin.

Crash! Boom! Bang!

"Everybody was taking shots at me for the McDonald's deal,"

laughs EMI Records Group Chairman/CEO Charles Koppelman in Entertainment Weekly. "Now every label is scrambling to do one of their own." (He's talking about the cross-marketing setup that made LPs by Garth Brooks, Tina Turner, and Roxette available at fast-food prices at the Golden Arches.)

Cute Couples

Paula Abdul and Emilio Estevez were seen frolicking together on the slopes in Telluride, CO (Star, Globe, National Enquirer).

Michael Jackson just paid $150,000 at a London auction for a teddy bear once owned by Queen Victoria (National Enquirer). And... he's become good pals with wife Lisa Marie's ex-husband, Danny Keough, who hangs out at Neverland now (Globe).

Love To Love You

"I'm in the Star every fucking week," brags cover star Courtney Love in Spin, where she talks in depth about her life and asks, "Even if I were talentless, after seeing Echo & The Bunnymen eight million times and Nirvana 10 million times, how could I not write an okay new wave record?" She also talks about her friends:

R.E.M.'s Michael Stipe: "I'm halfway in love with him ... in this sort of nonsexual, romantic, and worshipful way."

NIN's Trent Reznor: "My relationship with Trent was a minor or major disaster ... I saw a lot of cool things in Trent, but I was also projecting a lot of Kurt onto him."

WB's Danny Goldberg: "If I ever get married again, Danny's absolutely the prototype."

Smashing Pumpkins' Billy Corgan: "Billy kept me alive" (by speaking with her almost daily from May to September).

Pumpkin Verses Writer

Corgan, incidentally, faxed a nasty little poem to NewCity, a Chicago alternative paper whose music critic had accused Corgan of writing "audaciously awful rhymes." He wrote, "I am happy to be such a good rhymers/Better than being a social climber/Because I know I'm just a bit brighter/Than some fucking writer." (Spin)

After Midnight – Who's Doing What?

While the majority (66%) of Americans are asleep after midnight — and the NYC-based Roper Organization reports that figure has climbed five points since 1983 — the people who are up past the midnight hour are mostly likely watching TV (24%) or reading a book, magazine, or newspaper (11%).

Listening To Music

Note that 8% of Americans spend their wee hours listening to a CD.

tape, or the radio (8%), indulging in a snack (7%), or talking on the phone (5%). Only 3% were out on the town, while just 2% were entertaining guests at home.

18-29s More Active

Although a little more than half (52% vs. 51% in '83) of 18-29-year-olds were up past midnight and 34% of those were watching TV, 16% (double the average) were listening to music.

While slightly more likely to be reading (13%), 18-29s are far more likely than the average adult to be snacking (13%), talking on the phone (9%), out socializing (7%), or entertaining at home (5%).

Bedtime For Boomers

Baby boomers (ages 30-44) are more likely to be tucking in early — 63% are in bed by 12, a seven-point increase from '83. Meanwhile, boomers' late-night TV viewing has slipped four points to 27%, snacking has dipped three points to 7%, and going out has declined two points to 3%. Interestingly, the number of boomers catching up on chores at that late hour has jumped three points to 9%.

Turning In Earlier

While men are more likely to be hitting the sack before midnight these days (64%, up eight points since '83), more women turn in earlier in general (67%, up one). Far more white-collar workers are going to bed earlier (64%, up 11 points) than blue-collar workers (62%, up seven).

Other groups pledging new allegiance to the early to bed, early to rise credo: people age 45-59 (75%, up seven points), Westerners (69%, up seven points), and even Northeasterners (61%, up three).

Cereal For Dinner?

At least 13% of Americans say they ate ready-to-eat breakfast cereal for a snack or a meal other than breakfast within the past 24 hours, according to a recent survey by the NYC-based Roper Organization.

Executives/professionals (17%) and parents (15%) are slightly more likely to consume cereal at a meal other than breakfast than the average American. However, those in the 18-29 and 30-44 age groups (16% each) are also more likely to be eating cereal at non-traditional times than those 45-59 (12%) and 60-plus (8%).

3000 Reasons To 'Celebrate Today'

Need a reason to take the day off? Your drivetime personalities can offer listeners at least one for every day of the year by consulting John Kremer's "Celebrate Today" (Open Horizons/$9.95).

Containing "boss-proof, tamper-resistant, undeniable reasons to take the day off," the 220-page softcover book chronologically lists more than 3000 of 1995's special days, weeks, and months and offers background information for each.

Entries include Hat Day (January 20), Lumpy Rug Day (May 3), National Accordion Awareness Month (June), Ask A Stupid Question (like "Can I take the day off?") Day (September 30), and National Pet Peeve Week (October 8-14).

For further information, call the Fairfield, IA-based publisher at (515) 472-6130. And if you really need a good excuse to play hooky from work, your best bet might be March 22: National Goof-Off Day.

HOW TO SPEAK HIP

Their Own Private Idaho

An estimated 10,000-plus people reside in tepees, log cabins, and other handmade structures in the hills of north-central Idaho, western Montana, and eastern Washington. According to a recent New York Times Magazine article, these survivalists hate government and fear social collapse and enslavement by what they call "Anti-Christ Banksters."

As a result, they've redefined such mainstream terms as "traditional values" and "fiscal responsibility" by constructing a language of their own:

Covenant community: This tightly knit group of homesteaders live off the land and support and defend one another — they're determined to escape governmental tyranny, social collapse, and the coming Armageddon.

End times: This term denotes the period of social collapse when the government must survey every citizen by implanting bar codes in their foreheads or on their right hands.

Spikes: An acronym for "Specially Prepared Individuals for Key Events," these people know how to deal with "end times" — they can construct and run solar-power systems, raise and butcher livestock, dry and otherwise preserve food, weave their own cloth, tan hides, and pick locks.

T.V.P.: An abbreviation for "Textured Vegetable Protein," this stored, dried food is a step beyond C-rations or the MREs (Meals Ready to Eat) consumed during Desert Storm. According to the New York Times Magazine, "They have a $20,000 solar-energy system and are storing food — stuff that looks like dried cat food and takes a long time to get used to ... Taco-flavored T.V.P. ... Magic Barbecue T.V.P."

Some of the above-mentioned words and phrases also can be found in the American Heritage Dictionary Of The English Language, Third Edition (Houghton Mifflin Co./$40), for which column-compiler Anne Soukhanov served as Executive Editor. For more info, call the publisher at (617) 725-5000.

Car Phones Poised For Take Off

Nearly one in 10 Americans (9%) say they'd like to purchase a car phone within the next two years, according to a recent survey by the NYC-based Roper Organization. This is greater than the percentages of Americans who are as interested in buying laptop computers (6%) or home fax machines (4%).

In 1994, only 7% of Americans owned car phones, and only 3% owned pocket cellular phones. Although these figures are both up 2% within the last two years, the high levels of awareness — 90% for car phones and 66% for pocket phones — indicate there's tremendous room for growth.

Back in 1992, the people most likely to buy car phones were executives/professionals with high incomes and education. Those are still the characteristics of the cellular phone owner. A whopping 22% of Americans with annual household incomes of $50,000-plus have car phones, three times the national average.

However, one of the largest groups of people who are interested in purchasing a car phone (12%) are those whose annual household incomes fall into the $30,000-$50,000 bracket. While ownership of car phones skews to the college-educated (15%), interest is highest among those who have completed "some college" education (14%).

Everybody, Everybody

In general, car phone owners tend to be older, executives/professionals, and Republicans. Nevertheless, those who are interested in owning one are younger, as likely to be blue-collar as white-collar or executives, and just as likely to be Democrats as Republicans.

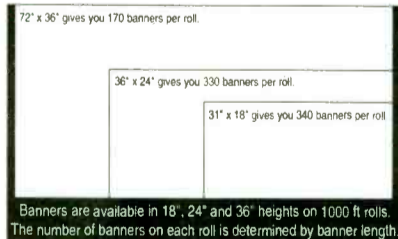

Interest in purchasing a cellular phone is also high among parents with children under the age of 18 — 12% of these households would like to own one.

Expose yourself with a minimum of risk.

Today's level of fierce competition demands that you prominently display your name every chance you get (location broadcasts, concerts, station sponsored autograph sessions, etc.). With theft, vandalism and loss, it becomes a costly proposition to continuously replace expensive signs and banners costing hundreds of dollars.

Roll-A-Sign™ offers a better way. You get up to four vibrant colors printed on durable, high quality 4 or 6 mil plastic film to display your logo and message brilliantly for an economical price. Now you can afford to display a bright new sign at every public event. They even make great cost-effective promotional give-aways. Just roll off what you need and cut.

Banners are available in 18', 24' and 36' heights on 1000 ft rolls. The number of banners on each roll is determined by banner length.

- ✂ Durable banners for a throw-away price.
- ✂ UV stabilized plastic won't fade indoors or outdoors.
- ✂ Simply FAX your logo and color separation information for a free price quote.

think anyone has fully appreciated yet: Once they sell the spectrum, users have no obligations and can charge the end-users or the consumers any amount they want to.

Q: Going back to DAB, should radio broadcasters brace themselves for new competitors since the FCC is preparing to allocate spectrum?

A: It's a done deal as far as allocation of the S-band is concerned. The next issue will be the rulemaking by which they determine whether or not they go forward and, if so, in what form; what restrictions may or may not be placed; and whether the S-band has deficiencies in terms of its signal to antennas. There are some proposals to use gap-fillers and other things of that nature. We'll have an opportunity to report fully to the Commission the reasons why we think satellite DAB is a bad idea.

Q: In your opinion, why is satellite DAB a bad idea?

A: If the Commission has an ownership limit on the number of stations an individual broadcaster can own, then turns around and assigns 60 channels to an entity, the equation just doesn't balance. There's something wrong with wanting to allocate 60 channels to one operator, while not allowing other operators across the country the full freedom and flexibility to grow as big as they have the capacity to grow.

It's clearly inconsistent. Our concern is that they're rushing toward another [Docket] 80-90 proposal under the guise of "this is new technology." And by the way, I haven't heard the FCC chairman say he was going to sell this spectrum. You might want to ask him that question since he's in a mode to sell the store.

Q: Does it make your work more challenging with a Democrat running the FCC and Republicans holding the reins of the key committees?

A: Two years ago, we had a Republican administration at the FCC and a Democrat-controlled Congress.

Number one, our issues are not partisan. We work with both sides of the aisle very well and will continue to work with the FCC in what we hope will be a very productive manner. If we find the people on Capitol Hill want to offer certain advantages or remove certain restrictions — a better way to say it — then we will obviously encourage them to do that.

Q: What do you think about Rep. Mike Oxley's (R-OH) idea to introduce a bill that could allow 100% foreign ownership of a broadcast station?

A: It's an interesting item ... not one that's been seriously broached by our board. But the people who want to expand into larger companies don't seem to have a problem with it, by and large. And people who are in smaller companies really think it's irrelevant to them. They don't care that much.

Q: You don't think anyone would oppose it?

A: I'm not saying someone wouldn't oppose it. If you think about it, there will be certain policymakers either at the FCC or Capitol Hill, beyond Congressman Oxley, who will say, "Wait a minute, are we allowing the airwaves to be controlled by foreign entities?" And that's a fundamental question Congress will have to look at.

Q: What else do you see happening on Capitol Hill in '95?

A: The administration and the RIAA are pushing forward very strongly on performance rights legislation. It will be interesting to see what happens with Rep. Sonny Bono (R-CA) as Vice Chairman of the relevant subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee.

We expect there will continue to be sensitivity — if not legislation — with respect to the issue of beer and wine advertising restrictions. And then you have the content issues, like indecency and general concern with the liberal bias of the news media, which seem to emanate from Congress from time to time.

Q: The newspaper is filled with stories about the information superhighway. Should broadcasters feel anxious about the emerging technologies?

A: They should feel excited. There are many wonderful opportunities for broadcasters to participate. We have to develop in-band, on-channel DAB for terrestrial broadcasters. And we have to be nimble enough to take advantage of changing forces in the marketplace.

Q: Do you foresee the NAB pushing for any other legislation in the coming year?

A: Stay tuned. I don't want to announce it until I get a little further down the road.

Heatherly

Heatherly joined the label at its inception in 1989 as Director/Promotion and was named Director/Marketing in 1991. Prior to that, he spent 18 months as R&R/Nashville's Director/Sales. He worked for RCA in New York and Nashville from 1972-1985 in a variety of sales, promotion, and marketing capacities.

Promo Posts Filled

WACO/Waco, TX MD/afternoon driver Greg Sax has filled the Atlanta-based SE Director post vacated when Larry King was upped to Dir./National Promo (R&R 12/16). Premiere Radio Network National Marketing Manager Jenny Shields has joined the label as West Coast Director. Regarding Beamer's promotion, Loughman said, "Sally's been an important part of Atlanta radio, and we're excited about the growth opportunity this provides her and WFOX."

Beamer added, "I look forward to building on our success in Atlanta, both as a broadcaster and a community leader."

WBCS-FM's Million-Dollar Commitment To Country

As evidence of its firm commitment to the Country format, Greater Media-owned WBCS-FM – currently in a dogfight with crosstown format competitor, Fairbanks-owned WCLB-FM – has guaranteed $1 million to the first listener who calls the station in the unlikely event that 'BCS-FM flips formats. Quite a commitment, considering that just two short years ago Boston didn't even have one Country outlet.

Ricky Schultz exits the WB VP & GM/Jazz & Progressive Music post. ST hears that WB's NY-based Dir./A&R & Staff Producer Matt Pierson will rise to a position of prominence within the Jazz Dept. and the focus will shift to the Bunny's Big Apple office.

Look for Jive Sr. VP/GM Barry Weiss to become President of the label within the next fortnight.

Longtime WBCN/Boston PD Oedipus has been named VP/Programming for the Rock outlet.

Talkin' 'Bout Degeneration

KIRO-FM/Seattle stops simulcasting its AM sister's Talk programming and evolves into a new Talk outlet, calling itself "The Buzz." The new lineup includes two local programs. "The Pat Cashman Show" features – according to KIRO – Cashman spending the morning being "pretty funny." The second, hosted by Rick Enloe, promises to be "an irreverent, high-

Rumors

- Is Z100/NY morning legend John Lander about to extend his deal?
- Are two different Midwest outlets about to flip to CHR under the guidance of a Midwest-based consultant?
- Will WBCN/Boston morning show producer Tim Fox join WHJY/Providence morning star Carolyn Fox for wakeup service? And are these two being wooed to do a nationally syndicated show?
- Why was former Chaos VP Promo Ron Geslin hangin' out in L.A. with Interscope's Marc Benesch and in NYC with Jive's Jack Satter?
- Now that KRQQ PD Mark Todd has opted to stay in Tucson, who'll fill the open G105/Raleigh PD slot?

Syndicated shows – including Dr. Laura Schlessinger's, Tom Leykis's, and Jim Bohannon's – round out KIRO-FM's lineup.

And taking its cue from the 104th Congress ... KSFO-AM/SF is going all-conservative, claiming it'll be "unabashedly unafraid to be politically incorrect and speak the truth."

The new KSFO-AM lineup includes Tom Kamb, a former Bay Area police officer; Ken "The Black Avenger" Hamblin, and syndicated yakmeisters Michael Reagan and Pat Buchanan. Reagan, incidentally, was named an honorary Member of Congress by the incoming freshman members of the U.S. House of Representatives last week.

And ... just what does Ollie North want to embark upon a radio career? ST hears a four-year contract – at $300,000 per year – and a significant portion of the revenues.

WPGC-AM/Washington will flip its all-Business format to a hip-hop/rap/go-go presentation, go-going under the moniker "Flava 1580," on Friday (1/13). Gene Harley will remain Station Mgr. and WPGC-FM APD M.D. Throb will program the "Flava."

Mere days after being dropped by Paxson's WAIJ/Jacksonville, syndicated morning duo Ron & Ron return to the Jacksonville airwaves on Jacor's N/T WJGR (The Jaguar).

"The New Sound of Philadelphia" is how Hot AC WYXR/Philly describes its recently adopted Rhythmic approach. Former morning dude Chuck Kelley returns to "Star 104.5" for wakeups.

New PD Chuck Geiger has shifted KISF/KC's musical emphasis to an Alternative-leaning CHR, using the slogan "Kansas City's New Rock 107.3 KISS-FM" and playing the Stone Temple Pilots, R.E.M., Counting Crows, Gin Blossoms, Pearl Jam, Melissa Etheridge, and Green Day.

NAC KXDC/Monterey signed back on the air with a new dial position (93.5), formerly the home of CHR KMXZ. ## Stars On A Wire For Cohen Tribute Leonard Cohen will see his second tribute record emerge in early March. The first, Atlantic's 1991 "I'm Your Man" set, was comprised primarily of alternative acts. Not this one.

"Tribute To Leonard Cohen" is an all-star affair, with contributions from Tori Amos ("Famous Blue Raincoat"), Bono Vox, Peter Gabriel ("Suzanne"), Depeche Mode's Martin Gore, Don Henley ("Everybody Knows"), Billy Joel, Elton John ("I'm Your Man"), Willie Nelson ("Bird On A Wire"), Aaron Neville, Sting with the Chieftains, Suzanne Vega, and Trisha Yearwood, who does "Coming Back To You," the same tune Gore does. Steve Lindsay produced the set.

King Belly

Belly are set to follow up their debut ("Star") with "King," which was produced by Glyn Johns (Rolling Stones, Who, Led Zeppelin). The 11-track set is due February 14 from 4AD/Sire/Reprise. Touring bassist Gail Greenwood has signed on permanently, replacing Fred Avon on bass. Choice cuts: "Super-Connected," "Silverfish," and "Now They'll Sleep," which ships to radio later this month.

Eric Clapton O.B.E.

Eric Clapton joined ranks with the Beatles when he was awarded the Order of the British Empire by Queen Elizabeth II recently. The largely symbolic honor recognizes Clapton's eminence in his field.

Dave Stewart Solo Disc

Dave Stewart, the former Eurythmic who's produced Bob Dylan, Mick Jagger, Tom Petty, and others — makes his Elektra/East-West solo debut with "Greetings From The Gutter." Guests include Jagger, Lou Reed, Deee-Lite's Lady Miss Kier, David Sanborn, and P-Funk vets Bootsy Collins and Bern- ie Worrell. The latter duo plays on the sparse, funk-inflected "Jealousy," which ships to Rock formats in mid-February. The full CD hits stores February 28.

Siouxsie's Enraptured

New wave vets Siouxsie & The Banshees had already produced most of "The Rapture" themselves when they called on former Velvet Underground member John Cale to produce a few more tracks. With the sessions over and the band packing up their gear, he heard a chance chord sequence and spurred the band to write one last tune. That song, "O Baby," ships to radio this week. The full Geffen set arrives in stores February 14.

Simple Minds Return

The Simple Minds return with their first studio LP in four years. "Good News From The Next World," their 13th album, was co-produced by Keith Forsey, who helmed their biggest hit, "Don't You (Forget About Me)." Tom Lord-Alge mixed the set. The band is down to the duo of singer Jim Kerr and axeman

Charlie Burchill, and the songs — all new, guitar-driven originals — reflect that. "She's A River" ships this week. The full set is due February 7 from Virgin.

NARAS Hall Of Famers

The Beatles' "Abbey Road" album and Elvis Presley's version of "Heartbreak Hotel" are among the recordings which will be inducted into the NARAS's Hall Of Fame at this year's Grammy Awards ceremony. Recordings by Dizzy Gillespie, Hoagy Carmichael, Spike Jones, and Sophie Tucker, as well as an album featuring jazz giants Charlie Parker, Bud Powell, Max Roach, and Charlie Mingus will be similarly honored.

The Hanky The Panky

"Hanky Panky" is The The's album of Hank Williams Sr. covers, a project band leader Matt Johnson has been working on for years. Former Smiths guitarist Johnny Marr has left the group, succeeded by Eric Schermerhorn (who toured with Tin Machine and later played on Ric Ocasek's last solo LP). "I Saw The Light" goes for adds this week. The 550 Music LP will be out February 14.

Chieftains' Chief Guests

As for the aforementioned Chieftains, a panoply of stars join the Irish standard-bearers on "Long Black Veil," a collection due from RCA January 24. The Rolling Stones perform on "The Rocky Road To Dublin," and Mick Jagger sings on "The Long Black Veil." Sting sings a bilingual "Our Hero"/"Mo Ghile Mear," and Van Morrison warbles his own "Have I Told You Lately That I Love You." Other guests include Tom Jones, Marianne Faithfull, Sinead O'Connor with Ry Cooder, and Mark Knopfler with Paul Brady.

Inner Circle At The Winner's Circle

■ 104th Congress affords talkers unprecedented access to Capitol

WASHINGTON — Talk radio descended upon the nation's capital last week to cover the opening of the 104th Congress, (R&R, 1/6), thanks to an open invite from Speaker Newt Gingrich. It makes you wonder: Has Talk reached its zenith?

"I can guarantee you, it has not reached its zenith — that will occur in the '96 presidential election," said University of Virginia Professor Larry Sabato, who studies politics and the media. "The whole process of the Talk radio phenomenon is rooted in a need for conservative ☞ Talk radio is a political tool for Gingrich. He wants to take advantage of it the same way Clinton used alternative media in '92.

— Stephen Hess

individuals to feel they have a voice, and they never will with the established media."

Sabato said in order to be successful, conservative talk needs a "voodoo doll" or "devil figure," and as long as President Clinton is in the White House providing a target, conservative talk will succeed.

Talk radio "is probably at its peak right now," according to Brookings Institution Senior Fellow Stephen Hess, who writes about the presidency and the press. "It's not some democratic theory ... it pays the freight," he said, adding that as more and more hosts glom on, the format may wither.

Wither The Democrats

Of course, Democrats and liberals see Talk radio as a medium that has fallen into enemy hands. As much as White House radio man Richard Strauss has tried, he can't seem to wrest the format away from the Republicans. When asked whether he's gaining on them, he reels off statistics that portray the Clinton White House as more radio-friendly than other administrations have been.

Talk America liberal commentator Ellen Ratner has said she's spoken with White House staffers about trying to goose up their participation in Talk radio.

Gingrich says Talk is part of his plan to "reach out" to the American people, and he plans to continue the relationship by inviting hosts back to Washington for monthly meetings with him and other Republican leaders.

"It's a political tool for him," said Hess. "He wants to take advantage of that, the same way Clinton used alternative media [like MTV] in 1992. If it serves a politician's interest, he'll make space for them. We're not talking about journalists, we're talking about entertainers."

WCCO/Minneapolis talk host Wes Minter disagrees. "There's a sincere, honest appreciation [by GOP politicians] of what we do," he said. "They see it as a way to keep the dialogue going with the American people."

Media On Media

On Wednesday (1/4), the opening day of the 104th Congress, the Washington press corps dutifully examined Talk radio's role in the GOP landslide. As WAVA-FM/Washington's Armstrong Williams, Talk America's Judy Jarvis and Pacifica Radio's Larry Bensky chatted into their microphones in a crowded conference room, TV crews, photographers and reporters from the press corps documented their every move.

"The New York Times was here ... and Connie Chung," said one star-struck engineer. So who was interviewing whom?

☞ Talk has not reached its zenith - that will occur in the '96 presidential election.
— Larry Sabato

"What a glorious day," Williams shouted into his mike. "They're not getting rid of the parking spaces," complained Jarvis, a self-described independent. Bensky noted, "The rich are getting richer, the poor are getting poorer ... nothing in the 'Contract With America' addresses the quality of life."

Talk host Wes Minter with Speaker Newt Gingrich; Armstrong Williams

"If they don't talk louder than each other, everything is fine," commented Talk America VP/Operations Tom Star, who roamed the room handing out press releases to reporters.

Centers Of The Universe

"This is the center of the political universe right now," said G. Gordon Liddy show producer Cameron Gray, when asked why he was there pulling people like new Rep. Sonny Bono (R-CA) over for interviews.

It might have sounded to listening audiences as if the hosts were perched around the House floor in the middle of the action, but most of them were stuck in conference rooms in the bowels of the Capitol or in friendly House and Senate offices scattered across the street.

WCCO's Minter got lucky — he broadcast from Gingrich's offices and had the Speaker himself as a guest. "I knew him when I worked at WSB in Atlanta," Minter explained.

As for regular access to Capitol press galleries, Minter said talk hosts deserve just as much right to be there as reporters. "Why not let everybody have a chance to participate?" he queried. Instead, talk hosts wore GOP-issued badges around their necks that gave them access to roam the Capitol.

WCIT-AM/Lima, OH correspondent Russ Michaels, who was in Washington to cover the opening days of the 104th Congress, was in fact accredited by the congressional radio and TV galleries. "I hope our listeners can distinguish the difference between hosts and reporters — we work hard at keeping bias out of our reports," he said. "[Rush] Limbaugh says over and over he's not a journalist."

Rush In No Rush

The GOP and Talk radio officially began patting each other on the back last month on a rainy post-election night in Baltimore. That night, at the tail end of a three-day seminar for GOP freshmen, Limbaugh was feted at a dinner hosted by the Heritage Foundation/Empower America.

At a cocktail reception beforehand, Limbaugh was accorded rock star status, with giggly Republicans lining up to shake his hand and ☞ I hope our listeners can distinguish the difference between hosts and reporters — we work hard at keeping bias out of our news reports.

— Russ Michaels

have pictures taken with him. Many GOP freshmen personally thanked him for helping them win their campaigns.

For whatever reason, a vacationing Limbaugh chose not to broadcast from Washington last week; syndicated columnist Tony Snow subbed for him.

Was it a case of too many hosts in the capital?

— Mary Ann Barton

Research For The Revolution

Crunching numbers to uncover the format's strengths and promise

The good, the bad, and the ugly — that's what this page is about. It doesn't take a genius to figure out that CHR has been through some tough times, but today you get to decide whether the time is ripe for a revolution. Are you ready to lead it?

New Music Is Back

Dan Vallie, President of Vallie Consulting and Vallie/Gallup, sees a number of signposts pointing to that new CHR revolution.

Dan Vallie

"Contemporary music is coming back," he says. Respondents to the most recent Vallie/Gallup Omnibus Study (September '94) rated "today's music" and songs from "the most recent two years in the '90s"

most preferred "components of eras a station should play."

The 747 responding listeners were asked to rate music by era according to how much of it they want to hear on the radio. Scores are one to nine, with "one" indicating a preference for no songs from the era in question and "nine" indicating the desire for a station to play nothing but songs from a given era.

Persons 18-54 rated "songs from the most recent two years" a 6.15 and "today's music" a 6.06. For more complete figures, see the "Demo Derby" and "Regional Reckoning" boxes on this page.

When asked, "Do you currently listen to a CHR radio station?" 41% of the entire 18+ sample responded positively, with adults 18-34 and females volunteering the highest percentages.

Considering that fewer than 400 CHR stations are currently operating, that's a significantly high proportion of the available listening public. Clearly, there's room for more CHR stations.

Percent Tuning In CHR Today

(U.S. sample: 747)

18-34	50%
35-54	39
Male	34
Female	48
18-54	45

Vallie/Gallup also asked people why they listen to CHR. The top three reasons are:

- They like the music (25%)
- Station plays current music (21%)
- Station has variety (16%).

The music, as always, is the key. Note that "variety" is in the Top 3, showing how important it is to avoid sameness and stick to one extreme or another.

Ups & Downs

Despite all this talk of the format cycle coming back around and the resurgence of CHR, you'd never know it by looking at the numbers. Robert Unmacht and his staff at "The M Street Radio Directory" have the unenviable task of tracking everything station-related under the sun, from call letter changes to city of license and everything in between.

Recently, he and I discussed the state of CHR. Despite increasing revenue share and favorable research, the numbers and trends don't look promising (see "Counting Down The Format" box at right).

Nevertheless, bright programmers and owners who "get it" will soon return to CHR as they find their markets oversaturated with Country or AC stations.

In 264 Arbitron-rated markets, 4.6% of the radio stations are programming CHR and delivering 6.4% of the total ratings. Compare that to AC, which is programmed by 8.1% of all radio stations but only delivers 6.6% of the total ratings. Two-thirds (66%) of CHRs are in Arbitron-rated markets.

As for format shifts within CHR, trends are up for an Alternative lean, steady for a Rock lean, and declining for rhythmic and mainstream CHR. On the positive side, CHR is subdividing into very strong niches.

Many broadcasters are frightened of CHR, and rightfully so. We screwed up, and we sent listeners scurrying away from our format. In future columns, we'll look at how to get listeners back and how to keep them.

A New Beginning

Here are some significant notes and thoughts based on information Vallie/Gallup has found in individual markets over the last year.

• Vallie/Gallup research has verified the rejuvenation of the strong appeal of '90s product — currents and recurrences.

• CHR can pull numbers from Hot AC, Churban, Alternative, and Rock stations.

• Mass-appeal CHR has historically been a "family format" scoring more diaries per household than any other format. CHR can achieve this again today. (Arbitron is currently concentrating on improving its response rate in multiple-person households.)

• A new CHR in a market that lacks another CHR will serve a disenfranchised contemporary audience that isn't being well-served by other formats. Right now those other formats are getting numbers by default.

• CHR can be the 18-34 market leader and a serious player among women 25-54.

• CHR listeners who now give some time to other stations would devote longer TSL to a station that served up what they really want to hear without making them sit through AC artists listeners are tired of.

• As the cycle repeats itself, a new CHR is positioned to take advantage of CHR's new wave of success.

• A CHR can have format exclusivity in many markets.

• Miller, Kaplan, Arase & Co. reported a 17% increase in CHR revenues as far back as fourth quarter 1993. The firm saw even larger increases in 1994, further indicating the early signs of a turnaround for this format.

Hot AC's opportunity was the result of bad CHR programming. Now the climate is right for good CHRs to replace Hot ACs.

The future is here. Let's not miss it through lack of vision. To obtain a copy of this research study, contact Dan Vallie or Jim Richards at Vallie/Gallup; (703) 802-0700.

WALT LOVE

Stations Set Stage For Holiday Spirit

It was the season to be jolly, so a number of Urban stations went all out to help the homeless and less fortunate.

Record labels and their respective artists also were on hand to give station promos a stellar touch via in-studio visits, concerts, and donations. WJLB/Detroit once again distributed coats to needy children through its annual "Coats For Kids" campaign (see "Keeping Kids Covered — Literally" story, upper right).

KKBT/Los Angeles's second annual "Holiday Cooldown" boasted performances by Blackstreet, Changing Faces, Silk, Shanice, Immature, and Brian McKnight. Barry White and Karyn White hosted the show, which included surprise appearances by K.C. Hailey and Mary J. Blige. Reaping benefits from the event was My Friend's Place, an organization that provides shelter and counseling for homeless young adults.

WJLB Covers Kids — Literally

More than 15,000 needy kids stayed warm, thanks to WJLB/Detroit's "Coats For Kids" campaign. Now in its 13th year, the successful event has distributed 150,000+ coats since its 1981 start.

Kroger markets and the Salvation Army co-sponsored the campaign, which also raised in excess of $150,000. The station absorbed administration costs so 100% of the funds could go toward the purchase of new coats.

Coats For Kids

KEEPING KIDS WARM — Working overtime to collect coats and cash were (l-r) WJLB/Detroit ND Mildred Gaddis, morning show host Mason, morning show producer TuneUp, Turntable Sista Janet G, Mayor Dennis Archer, and Turntable Sista Frankie Darcell.

UC DATABANK

Building Black Middle-Class Income Success

In middle-class Queens County, NY — with an estimated racially diverse population of two million — black households' median income has surpassed that of whites. The median income was $34,300 in 1990 — compared to $34,000 for whites — and incomes were much higher among resident married couples with families.

The median income for white married couples was $47,500; among comparable blacks, it was $49,300. And among black married couples, both partners were more likely to have jobs and work longer hours than whites, who were more likely to have retirement and investment income.

An influx of black immigrant families and gains by working wives during the 1980s are key factors behind rising black incomes.

Black Entrepreneurs Target Olympics

Atlanta, host city for the 1996 Summer Olympic Games, is the first city where an Olympics planning committee has adopted an equal economic opportunity plan.

The plan is modeled after U.S. government guidelines to expand opportunities for minorities to bid on federal contracts. Planners want to ensure that minority and female-owned businesses have equal access to the estimated $1.6 billion in expenditures. Most contracts to date are with black-owned firms.

Minority entrepreneurs are eligible to be listed in a database for construction companies or a database for non-construction companies. Currently, about 2000 minority-owned companies (and 6500 white-owned firms) are on the list.

More Of What's In Store For '95

■ Curtis, Shanes discuss oldies, concerts, consolidation

What exactly does the future hold for this format, which has dominated all others in recent years? The prognostications of the last two weeks spurred these thoughts from KZLA/Los Angeles PD R.J. Curtis:

"Everybody's got strong feelings about music, presentation, and the format splitting. But we need to be careful to reflect listeners' tastes, not dictate them. If you have the resources to conduct research, pay attention to your audience and act accordingly. Some things people see in research may not feel right to them or may seem to fly in the face of conventional wisdom. The pendulum will always be moving in one direction or the other; the key is to ride it rather than get knocked over by it.

"The movement toward 'older' music is on, and it will continue. I'm not sure that means we're ready for a Classic Country format that can stand on its own. It's on the air in some markets but hasn't proven it can deliver more than a niche audience so far."

R.J. Curtis

'Older' Music Defined

"The definition of older music has to be clarified, too, Curtis adds. "We're really talking about music from what some people call the 'invisible '80s' — early titles from artists like Alabama, George Strait, Reba McEntire, Dwight Yoakam, Randy Travis, and the Judds, plus certain songs that defined that era. We should include this music in auditorium tests, then 'meter' the songs that work onto the station. This will create the variety listeners say they're missing right now. But let's be careful about putting bad songs on the air. Variety for variety's sake is not the answer.

"The call for older music may also mean we'll see positioning battles in competitive situations, where the point of difference becomes musical style or era rather than presentation, attitude, or overall pizzazz.

"That doesn't mean the mortar between the bricks becomes less important. For stations trying to be musically different than their competition it's almost more important, because they can use what they've learned in the area of production value and staging to creatively and dramatically show the difference between the two stations. From an on-air marketing and presentation standpoint, we've created expectations for the listeners who jumped on board when all the new music hit. They expect sizzle, personality, and fun, and they expect it all day."

The 'Presents' Problem

"With respect to concerts and events in markets with more than one Country outlet," Curtis continues, "the movement was on last year — and will continue in 1995 — for most shows to be neutral, with no official 'presenting' or 'welcoming' station. Whether or not we agree, it's probably going to be reality. So we need to be creative and aggressive on the air and take over the show in listeners' minds. We have the ability to make 10 tickets seem like a thousand.

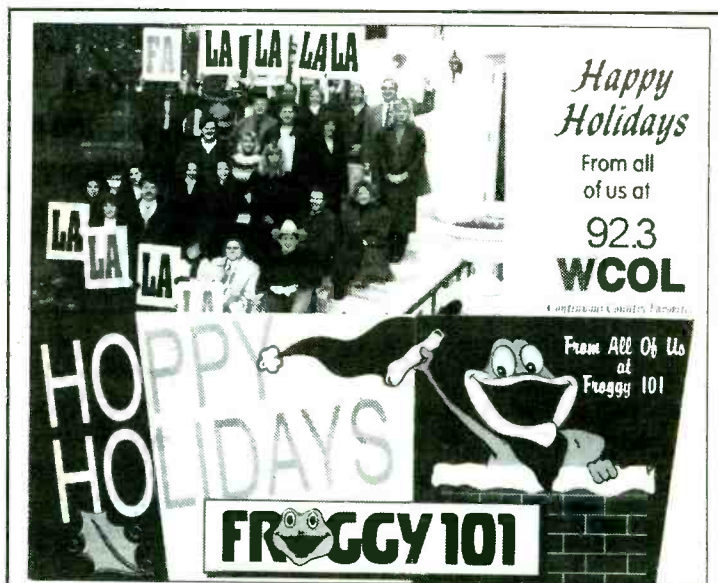

"In football, when a pass is thrown it's anybody's ball; the one who wants it the most wins. The same goes for radio. Our philosophy is: Make the show neutral, and we'll work hard to make it our show. Does the public really care who introduces the act? Have you ever heard listeners streaming out of a venue saying, 'Boy, that emcee was great tonight!?' That part of it is more important to us than to the average fan. In most cases, we have the opportunity to create an impression on more listeners over the airwaves than at a show. Why play to a small room when a larger audience is available?"

What concerns me are stations that drop songs or artists from the playlist to exact revenge on the labels. That's not the answer! It hurts the artists and denies listeners hit songs. Use the energy and emotion to do good radio instead of destroying the environment."

Consolidation, Erosion Seen

Shane Media Services' Pam and Ed Shane also offered their predictions: "We see 1995 as a year of consolidation for Country. The format is now at a plateau; the next step is slow but steady erosion of shares. Stations that joined the format late and failed to develop will be looking for the next 'hot' format. The longtime leaders and the recent upstarts with substantial core audiences will make the cut.

R&R GETS CARDED -- Many, many thanks for all of the great holiday cards we received from radio stations everywhere. It's fun to see the personal twist stations add to their cards, making them all the more special. The top greeting hopped in from WGGY/Wilkes Barre-Scranton: Frog tracks surround a hearty "Ho, Ho, Ho" on front, opening to what you see above. The bottom card showcases the staff of WCOL/Columbus, OH.

"The good news is that Country will not drop back to the shares of the pre-boom years. The recent growth was real. The size of the Country pie will remain larger than it was in the mid-'80s."

Pam &amp; Ed Shane

Three Country Crises

"Some of it is cyclical," they note. "What rises also must fall. Today, however, Country faces more than the format's life cycle. In fact, three crises are challenging Country:

- A song crisis: The great artists have the great songwriters tied up, yet Nashville is churning out new artists who need new songs. Not all of them have the hit quality needed. Where to turn first? To old songs. Covers have filled some of the gap.
- A star crisis: As good as the newcomers are, they are newcomers and have a difficult time when compared to the production flash of the big

Country's Hot Holiday Happenings

For Country radio, as for most of us, December is a time for celebration. Here's a peek at some special holiday events held by stations around the country recently:

- KQFC/Boise was one of 15 local radio stations participating in the city's annual Festival Of Trees "Radio Row." Each outlet was given a tree to decorate with a theme of its choice.

- WGAR/Cleveland offered listeners some innovative contests and prizes on the busiest shopping day of the year — the day after Thanksgiving. Eight people won premium parking places at a major mall and, upon arrival, found their spots marked with huge banners bearing their names and guards protecting their spaces. Morning teamers Jim Mantel & Erin Weber directed a scavenger hunt for shoppers and conducted a contest that placed one person on a skateboard while his partner propelled him with a leaf blower.

- WDSY/Pittsburgh hosted a "Holiday Jam" from a local hotel ballroom. The live broadcast, held 6-9am on December 22, featured performances by local country artists and Reprise/Nashville's Russ Taff from 7-9am. The public was invited to the broadcast and treated to a free continental breakfast, and each partygoer was eligible to win a trip for two to Florida. However, only those who won tickets from the station had entry to the concert.

Toys, Kids & Concerts

- WKHX & WYAY/Atlanta staged a concert featuring Liberty's John Berry in an acoustic performance at an area mall's center court. The show was free, but attendees were encouraged to donate new toys for the Marines' Toys For Tots program. WKHX morning personality Moby, co-Chairman of the Toys For Tots campaign, co-hosted the concert with WYAY morning personality Rhubarb Jones.

- KPLX/Dallas established "K-PLEX Kids Kamps" at five Metroplex Target stores which served as drop-off points for cash and toys. The K-PLEX Country

Cruiser — actually a Dallas Area Rapid Transit bus painted with the KPLX logo and large album covers featuring George Strait, Reba McEntire, Vince Gill, and Alan Jackson — also hit the streets, stopping at various shopping areas to pick up toys and cash on its way to the Target stores. KPLX also broadcast continually from the Target sites, rotating the main broadcasts among stores.

- WGRL/Indianapolis afternoon Teddy Bearit and Traffic Director Winnie Wilson hosted a "Texas Toy Step" charity dance at a local club on a recent Friday night. The proceeds benefited the Red Cross and went to buy toys for needy children. WGRL's "Bearforce" also wrote their own lyrics to "The 12 Days Of Christmas"; listeners had to sing all the lyrics to win prizes ranging from Christmas trees to shopping sprees.

Harvest For The Needy

- KDRK/Spokane teamed with Southwest Airlines and a bank to grant Christmas wishes of needy families. Listeners wrote letters to the station which were read on the air. KDRK set up a Christmas wish account of $6000, donated by sponsors, to make wishes come true. But OM Tim Roberts says more than 90% of the wishes were fulfilled by other listeners, with the station, the bank, and the airline covering the other 10%.

- WYYD/Lynchburg, VA teamed with the local cable company in raising 49.8 tons of canned and non-perishable food items for the Salvation Army.

- WICO/Salisbury, MD's "Feed-A-Friend" marathon ran for 50 hours over the holidays as the station took pledges of food items to benefit the Salvation Army. Promotions Director Marti Ryan says more than 500 businesses and individuals made over 13,000 donations.

- When KKAT/Salt Lake City morning team Gary Zane & Scotty Christopher heard the Utah Food Bank's van had been stolen, they offered to put the station's Kat Van into service. In addition to delivering food to various pantries, the pair also collected some money during live remotes from a local car wash.

Songwriter Plugs Away Despite Kidney Search

■ Phillips desperately seeking potential organ donors

Songwriter Kerry Kurt Phillips rang in 1995 with the same wish he had last year: to receive a new kidney. Owing to complications from diabetes, he's been on the transplant list for 20 months (the average waiting period is 18 months).

Phillips, 33, has written several hits, including "I Don't Need Your Rocking Chair" by George Jones, "Down On The Farm" by Tim McGraw, and "Prop Me Up Beside The Jukebox," "In My Own Backyard," and "Pick-up Man" (with Howard Perdue) by Joe Diffie. He has lived in Nashville since 1983; he signed with API Publishing and ASCAP three years later.

Phillips is suffering more infections as the days pass. His father was recently tested for possible donation of his kidney, but it wasn't a match. Although he says his songwriting is waning, he continues to crank out the hits even through dialysis, which takes four hours a day. And he continues to hope for the best.

"I've really slowed down since fighting this kidney thing," he said in a recent interview. "It was not uncommon for me to write every day, sometimes up to 80 hours a week. [But] I've had such good success I can't complain at all. I keep writing all I can."

James House

New Artist Fact File

James House

Label: Epic/Nashville

Single/Album: "Little By Little"/"Days Gone By"

Influences: Beatles' "Rubber Soul," Buck Owens's "Live At Carnegie Hall," Johnny Cash's "Live At San Quentin," Roy Orbison's "Pretty Woman," Simon & Garfunkel, Linda Ronstadt, Eagles

Early Days

While growing up in Sacramento, James House was raised on music. "It seemed like that's all I ever wanted to do: That was my focus from when I was a kid on. I got my first guitar when I was six or seven, and I was one of those kids who practiced every day. Even through high school, I'd always make myself practice three hours.

"The first song I learned to sing was 'Red River Valley,' and after that was 'Tumblin' Tumbleweed' — real cowboy songs. I could always sing to some degree. I was always singing and banging on my desk. I'd get thrown out of class for it. When I got out of high school, I auditioned for a bunch of clubs around the Sacramento area. Between there, Lake Tahoe, and Reno I built up a little circuit. I'd do four or five sets a night."

Nashville Connection

House moved to Los Angeles in 1987 and signed a publishing deal with MCA. "Everybody was telling me everything I was writing was too country. They wanted me to write pop songs. I tried, but it just didn't come natural for me. I recorded some songs and out of that batch came 'Hard Times For An Honest Man.'"

Realizing House couldn't fight his country instincts, MCA sent him to Nashville in 1988. He released two albums on MCA/Nashville, but soon left the label. Between deals, House found what he had been missing for the past few years — time to hone his writing skills. "Before that, I'd written, had an album, written, had an album. This time I wrote with a lot of people and I wrote every day. You just get into a groove."

After signing with Epic/Nashville in early '93, House took his time writing and working with different producers. He finally hooked up with Don Cook to record his label debut, "Days Gone By."

Songs

House co-wrote all of the songs on his album; his current single, "Little By Little," was penned with Rick Bowles. "I have different people I love to bounce ideas off of. It's fun to co-write; I get bored sitting by myself.

"An old friend played me a tape of something I'd written a long time ago. It was terrible. But that's what you have to do — you have to write a lot of bad songs. When I got to Nashville I got real focused." That focus paid off. Two of his songs, Dwight Yoakam's "Ain't That Lonely Yet" and Diamond Rio's "In A Week Or Two," were nominated for Grammys last year.

On The Road

Several country artists have announced tour plans for the first quarter. Among them:

• Clint Black begins his '95 tour at the Florida State Fair in Tampa on February 7. Other February dates include Gainesville, Daytona Beach, Pembroke Pines/Miami, Houston, and San Antonio.

• Johnny Cash kicked off a brief acoustic tour last week (1/7) in Los Angeles. He's slated to play Nashville; Miami; Sparks, NV; and Thousand Oaks, CA this month.

• Diamond Rio and George Ducas will be on the road together this year, performing shows in nearly 40 major markets. They'll kick off the tour January 21 in Panama City, FL and travel throughout the Southeast and Midwest next month.

• Sawyer Brown's Faster & Louder tour, sponsored by 1-800-COLLECT, began this week (1/11) in Columbia, MO. Their itinerary lists 14 stops in January alone, mostly in the Northwest.

Horsin' Around

Tanya Tucker gave Joe Diffie's son Tyler a special Christmas present this year — a horse at her farm just outside Nashville. Tucker had read an article about the five-year-old, who was born with Down's syndrome, and presented him with the horse — dubbed Pickup Man — during a Christmas party at her house. "I thought it was the sweetest thing," said Diffie. "Tanya has a heart as big as Texas."

stars. The newcomers are solid performers; they just don't have the energy of Garth Brooks, the charm of Clint Black or Reba McEntire, or the boy-next-door sex appeal of George Strait or Alan Jackson.

Editor's Comments

The prognosticators featured in the last three weeks have raised a number of serious issues — for both radio and records — which will determine Country's direction. Many of this year's columns will focus on what can be done to ensure that the format's present plateau is a launching platform for its future success.

Reflecting On WMXV's Heartwarming Promotion

■ Campaign donations approach $250,000

A host of community-minded ACs caught the holiday spirit, staging a plethora of "warm and fuzzy" events. Isolating one as the best or most significant would be unfair. It would, however, be difficult not to acknowledge the smashing job Bonneville's WMXV/New York did with "Coats For Kids."

VP/Programming Bob Dunphy, who recently celebrated his 10th anniversary as WMXV's PD, first heard about the project when he programmed WLTF/Cleveland.

Fund Drive Efficiency

WMXV launched its appeal for coats the first week in November with December 22 as the last donation day. "This was our eighth New York program and it was, by far, our biggest," boasts Dunphy. "It's almost out of control and is now an IRS-certified charitable, tax-exempt organization."

In addition to the nearly 25,000 coats collected, cash contributions for this year's campaign approached $250,000. Approximateroll it out to all their locations next year. Among the dropoff points were NatWest, [corporate sponsor] Marriott, malls, schools, and neighborhood cleaners. Marriott has been an amazing [partner]."

A fashion show and second annual on-air auction of celebrity-donated merchandise made 'MXV's 1994 Coats For Kids drive a major promotional event. The auction has record company roots. "It was actually inspired by [Arista VP/National AC Promotion] Mark Rizzo," recalls Dunphy. "He called last year and said he could donate an autographed Kenny G saxophone. At the last minute, we started scrambling around for other things we could auction. In 10 hours we raised about $30,000. This year, [within the same time frame], we did about $40,000."

Auction Highlights

Three days prior to the 12/15 auction, Dunphy was in a meeting plotting auction strategy. An unscheduled visitor, however, interrupted the session. "Carly Simon has been a listener of ours for years and has been known to call the station on weekends," notes Dunphy.

"She came by with a bunch of coats. On the spur-of-the-moment, we got creative, had her sign them, and asked if she would have lunch with a listener as an auction prize. She agreed. It was totally on her own — her record company [Arista] didn't even know she was here."

After a listener pledged $3000, Simon honored her lunch date. "Another listener said he would match the $3000 if she would have a separate lunch. We haven't figured that part out yet."

The station devoted one hour of air time for each auction item. "If there was a bidding war, we'd put it on the air," Dunphy explains. "To the winner went the spoils. People were great and there were no questions asked. We instantly collected all but $1000 of the $40,000."

This year's most coveted item — an autographed Fender jazz bass guitar from Sting — fetched $6000; a Los Angeles Grammy Award trip raked in $5400. Hockey enthusiast Dunphy donated a cherished pair of ice skates, which brought in $40.

A construction company owner's $5000 bid won a Bon Jovi concert package. "He gave the backstage pass tickets to his secretary and an accompanying plaque and autographed Bon Jovi sweatshirt to his son," says Dunphy. "You have to auction off things people can't get elsewhere. Artist-autographed CDs were offered for $100 on a first-come/first-serve basis. We raised about $4000 that way."

Bright Future

While he doesn't do the promotion to boost ratings, Dunphy says, "It definitely gives us a good image. But when this promotion is going on, it's

'70s Oldies Personality Proponent

In recent columns, HotAC/Adult CHR management honchos have stressed the importance of personality to the format. WBUS/Kankakee, IL midday talent Don Beno had this to say about personality — and how it relates to a different format.

It's really a thrill to listen to and track success stories involving '70s Oldies. [Over four years ago], I was involved with the sign-on of WCFL in suburban Chicago. The radio industry perceived us as a novelty. PDs, station managers, and consultants commented that '70s-based music stations — for the long term — wouldn't fly. Listeners, however, thought otherwise.

Unlike suitcase formats like Young Country, CHR, and Alternative of the recent past, '70s Oldies has no established norm. It's Classic Rock-oriented [at KCBS-FM/Los Angeles]; pop-based [at WYSY/Chicago]; and a little softer [on WMGK/Philadelphia].

The biggest disappointment is the lack of personalities. Most '70s Oldies stations are no more than jukeboxes; [personalities] seem to be an afterthought.

The majority of 25-49s [attracted by '70s Oldies] grew up listening to this music when it was new on Mainstream "Top

Most '70s Oldies stations are no more than jukeboxes; [personalities] seem to be an afterthought.

40" AM stations. [People] are familiar with the excitement, energy, production, contesting, and reverb that surround the songs. These elements help to enhance the music and present an overall package that defined the station's image.

If '70s Oldies stations [are to succeed], they must invoke that same passion with the audience. [If not, they will lose] to multidisc CD players. Something to think about the next time your '70s Oldies station plays [Don McLean's] "American Pie" for the 1000th time.

a wonder we can run the rest of the station."

He is optimistic about 1995's effort. "This [project] has taken on a life of its own. If NatWest comes across with all 300 branches, we'll be sure to have a bigger operating budget. The organization will require more space than our present setup at the station.

Dunphy foresees the "Coats For Kids" charity taking on an expanded scope. "We may do adult coats for the homeless and something for women's shelters.

"We have more up our sleeves. Part of it is a matter of budget. If we have a bigger budget, we'll do some events that will bring in even more money."

Station Production Pointers

Production — an integral station element — rarely gets the attention it deserves.

KRBB/Wichita Production Director Robert Diaz asserts that "most announcers don't have a clue" to understanding the production department process. He shares these production room secrets:

• Performance — "Performance is acting and it lies in your hands. Tap into your emotions for enthusiasm, high energy level, or solemn conversational delivery. Start by using vocal variety to get in touch with the acting part. Your focus and belief systems play a huge role in the message you're about to convey."

This area, Diaz claims, is often overlooked. "It doesn't matter if the copywriter spent 10 minutes or all week on the spot. If you don't understand the copy, ask the copywriter to read it to you. Stay focused on your copy and understand what the copywriter wants you to convey. Most of all, play the part.

"If you're busy playing the big star and being pulled in many different directions, [remember] it only takes a few seconds to take a big, deep breath. Transforming stress into adrenaline for your next acting part in a simple commercial will make you shine."

• Volume — when faced with too much copy, Diaz suggests dropping your voice. "You can still get the same excitement and emphasis by turning up the microphone and turning down your voice. You can get a 65-second spot under 59 seconds and keep your blood pressure down, too."

ly 90% of the money was allocated for the purchase of coats for New York/New Jersey area children. The remainder of the money was funneled into the charity's operating budget. Local schools also benefited from the promotion. Schools donating the most coats received Microsoft CD-ROMs.

A major chunk of the money came from the program's lead sponsor, NatWest Bank. "They gave us a six-figure donation to the charity," Dunphy notes. "[Currently] we're in only 40 of the bank's 300+ branches. There's talk that NatWest wants to

WMMR — 'Everything From A To Z'

■ In Philly, 'heritage' doesn't have to mean strictly one style of music

At the end of last year, WMMR/Philadelphia caused quite a stir when several of its adds consisted of artists normally associated with the Progressive format. PD Joe Bonnadonna explains why what he's doing really is what Rock stations used to do all along.

Bonnadonna stresses that the station is not evolving to a different format. "Everybody's overreacting to all of these progressive titles on the air. It's funny, because I've always thought the mission of a station was to have a current balance. Yes, we play everything from the Beatles to Led Zeppelin to Genesis to the latest Stone Temple Pilots — that's the classic AOR definition.

"But the industry gets into labeling stations and music and thinking that we can only deal with Tom Petty or the Black Crowes or whatever specifically fits into traditional classification. But my perspective is that new music — regardless of its genre — has always been a part of the station. If I get caught up in label philosophies and their 'AOR priorities' — and don't look at what's coming up on the Alternative or Progressive charts — I may miss potentially good records for my audience.

"We're shooting ourselves in the foot with a definition of Rock that's too narrow from what the format's all about. While we've increased currents a bit, it hasn't been dramatic. But the titles that are on range from Melissa Etheridge to Tom Petty to the new Pete Dinklage and Dave Matthews Band. The last two were clearly considered Progressive and not previously promoted at Rock. Finding music from many areas brightens the station's sound and keeps its appeal for the adults who like music."

'Current Is Critical'

The station's slogan, "Everything From A To Z," defines WMMR's format the best. Bonnadonna says, "I'm trying to defy definitions of what is just pure Rock, Progressive, Alternative. There are quality titles that work for us from many different categories. Being current is critical — we're not a Classic Rock station, which is too narrow. Nor are we a '70s station, which is repetitive, boring, and old. While we play some of those titles, it's in the context that the station has always presented good, quality music whether it's new or old."

Bonnadonna believes the narrow categorization of formats makes for missed opportunities to serve the listener. "Listeners don't know 'Progressive,' 'Alternative,' or any of that — they know what they like and what they think sounds good on their station. And my goal is to give them what they like, period.

"Texture and style are two factors that help determine what music to add. But after being here for so long, I have a very clear understanding of what the listener really likes from us — and it's not the hard grunge titles. They react against that. But on the other hand, the pure progressive artists like the Indigo Girls may be going too far. However, a lot of new music that's labeled progressive is really just developing rock music that's still unfamiliar. I try to look under all stones to see what works."

Immediate Reaction

Bonnadonna's tenure at WMMR dates back to 1976. He was appointed MD in 1980, APD in 1982, and has been PD since 1989. That history with the outlet combined with an airshift helps him know the mind of the audience. "Being on the air is the fun part. I like the immediate reaction. When I played the Subdudes, I got 10 phone calls right afterward asking about it. And that's something which isn't traditional AOR. We're not doing anything different from our originally stated mission. But sometimes when titles from different areas come on, people react and think we're changing format.

"What would happen if there was a week when we added a lot of alternative bands? Labels would cry out, 'They're going Alternative!' It's that whole record company mentality of 'Let's look at a single-week snapshot to determine what they are.' Well that's not it. Over a course of time, there's a pattern to what is played on the station and there's a wide balance between all types of genres.

"And I don't want to define the percentage of each type of music because that's too limiting. It's what people are reacting to and what works for the moment. You never know what's going to work — I don't. And I certainly don't claim to have universal good taste or own the crystal ball in knowing what's going to be wonderful. But I will react to what the audience reacts to and to what I hear."

Is There Room For R.E.M. In The House Of Zeppelin?

Dan Hayden, President of consulting firm Pathfinder, offers a cautious perspective on playing too much alternative music on mainstream Rock stations.

"Mainstream AOR stations should go slow when it comes to playing alternative. We've tracked the acceptance of alternative bands among Rock listeners over a period of several years, and resistance to most of these bands remains high. Never mind the strong sales figures — AOR's heavy users aren't doing the buying. As WDHA/Morris-town, NJ PD Lenny Bloch commented during a recent research presentation, 'It's the mods and rockers all over again.' Although the Who were eventually embraced by rockers, most mod bands weren't; the same holds true today. There's a big difference between fans of ZZ Top and U2 when it comes to attitudes and music taste.

"The outlook for alternative music in the format isn't totally bleak, however. In fact, certain groups are gaining broad acceptance, but not as many as some people think. You need to know who's 'in' and who's 'out' with the folks responsible for the lion's share of your station's quarter-hour audience.

Hard alternative is the type of music that shows the most promise for mainstream AOR. Programmers need to look past the image and listen to the sound.

"Based on Pathfinder's research, when it comes to alternative, hard alternative is the type of music that shows the most promise for mainstream AOR. Programmers need to look past the image and listen to the sound. Listen for hard guitar, but avoid punk-style vocals and tortured lyrics. Songs with a pop alternative sound (Big Head Todd & The Monsters, Spin Doctors, Counting Crows) should be evaluated on a song-to-song basis. In fact, as CHR continues its rush to alternative — and with more alternative stations signing on — we feel it's becoming less likely that pop alternative will ever find a permanent home on Rock stations."

Images To Uphold

Hayden's list of artists whose image isn't a problem in Rock includes Lenny Kravitz, Pearl Jam, Nirvana, Red Hot Chili Peppers, Living Colour, Cracker, Collective Soul, Candlebox, Live, Stone Temple Pilots, and Soundgarden — if the song is good, play it without concern over the artist's image.

However, he believes you should exercise more caution with the pop side of alternative. When it comes to Big Head Todd, Spin Doctors, Counting Crows, and Matthew Sweet, they shouldn't be considered "automatics." He cautions that while you can play some of their songs, those adds should be based on the quality of each individual song because the act's image isn't necessarily a positive contribution to the station.

Holiday Station Concerts In Review

■ Number of shows doubles from one year ago, attract capacity crowds

Would you believe 22 Alternative stations hosted Christmas shows last month? Here's the lowdown:

KEGE/Minneapolis's first annual "Twisted Christmas" featured plugged-in sets from Love Spit Love, Hole, Grant Lee Buffalo, Big Audio, and Dada, plus non-musical cameos from Bad Religion and local act the Suburbs. The event drew 11,000 listeners and raised an estimated $10,000, which was split evenly between Hearing Aide of Minnesota and the Minnesota Literacy Council.

Twisted Holidays

The lineup for WKQX/Chicago's "Twisted Christmas" included Killing Joke, Bad Religion, Hole, Veruca Salt, Weezer, and Dinosaur Jr. A capacity 9000 listeners helped raise funds for Lakefront SRO and the Chicago Child Care Society.

KOME/San Jose's "Almost Acoustic Christmas" concert included only one acoustic act, Linda Perry (4 Non Blondes), and electric sets from Bad Religion, Live, Luscious Jackson, Black Crowes, Weezer, Hole, Sheryl Crow, and Fretblanket. Proceeds from the show, which drew an audience of 5500, will be donated to the San Francisco AIDS Foundation and the Aris Project.

KROQ/Los Angeles's fifth annual "Almost Acoustic Christmas" covered two nights. Each show attracted approximately 6300 fans, whose ticket purchases helped to raise an unannounced sum of money for the Los Angeles Coalition to End Homelessness. On night one, listeners were treated to Bad Religion, Hole, Jesus & Mary Chain, Live, Luscious Jackson, Mazzy Star, Meat Puppets, Liz Phair, Stone Temple Pilots, Sunny Day Real Estate, and Veruca Salt. The second night featured the Black Crowes, Candlebox, Cranberries, Sheryl Crow, Dinosaur Jr., Love Spit Love, Live, Seal, Simple Minds, and Weezer. Both shows were broadcast live and commercial-free.

WDRE/Long Island's "75th Annual Acoustic Christmas" took place over two nights, too. The Go-Go's, Jesus & Mary Chain, G. Love & Special Sauce, Big Audio, Evan Dando (Lemonheads), Frente!, Love Spit Love, Radiohead, and Black 47 performed on the first night. The second night: the Go-Go's, Simple Minds, Goo Goo Dolls, Frente!, Big Audio, Jeffrey Gaines, G. Love & Special Sauce, Love Spit Love, Luscious Jackson, and Black 47. Each show brought in roughly 2000 listeners. Once calculated, proceeds will be donated to Lifebeat — the music industry's charity in the fight against AIDS, and the Streetwork Project, an organization to help homeless youth.

Better To Give

Approximately 3000 KNDD/Seattle listeners raised about $3000 for Ronald McDonald Children's Charities by attending the third annual "Deck The Hall Ball." The event featured Jesus & Mary Chain, Radiohead, Sheryl Crow, the Cramps, Butt Trumpet, and Fretblanket.

The fourth annual "Green Christmas," presented by KITS/San Francisco, attracted 3500 listeners and raised $15,000 for the Wilderness Society. The concert, which was broadcast live in its entirety, featured Bad Religion, Love Spit Love, Live, Lightning Seeds, Sheryl Crow, Go-Go's, Luscious Jackson, Jesus & Mary Chain, Hole, Simple Minds, and legendary Tom Jones (the new Alternative monger).

WHFS/Washington treated 7000 listeners to the "HFS-Mas Holiday Nutcracker" showcasing Freedy Johnston, Pete Droge, Evan Dando, Veruca Salt, Simple Minds, Big Audio, Live, and the Go-Go's (with former Bangle Vicki Peterson). Proceeds will benefit the AIDS program at the Whitman Walker Clinic.

WBRU/Providence's third "Acoustic Christmas Jam" drew over 1500 for sets from Love Spit Love, Black 47, Big Audio, Evan Dando, Frente!, and Dada. Proceeds will benefit A Wish Come True, and the Rhode Island Community Food Bank.

Food & Toy Benefits

A total of 8000 listeners turned out for KDGE/Dallas's "2nd Annual Edge Christmas Concert." Linda Perry, Simple Minds, Sarah

McLachlan, They Might Be Giants, the Go-Go's, and Dada performed at the event, which raised over 1000 pounds of food and an unannounced sum of money for the North Texas Food Bank.

WHTG/Asbury Park's "FM 106.3 Christmas Charity Love Bash" raised an estimated $8000 for the Surfriider Foundation, as well as 2000 pounds of food for area food banks. More than 1300 turned out to see Evan Dando, Frente!, the Murmurs, Love Spit Love, the Soup Dragons, the Whirling Dervishes, Pete Droge, and Jeffrey Gaines.

At KEDG/Las Vegas's "Acoustic Christmas" 1200 listeners enjoyed sets by the Cramps, Sponge, Dada, Linda Perry, They Might Be Giants, and Dramarama. Proceeds will be donated to Toys For Tots.

The Women's Athletic Department at the University Of Nevada Reno (UNR), and local food banks were the main beneficiaries of KRZQ/Reno's "Dysfunctional Christmas," which raised an estimated $2000, as well as over 1000 pounds of non-perishable food. About 1100 listeners jammed into the university gym for appearances by Love Spit Love, Jesus & Mary Chain, the Cramps, Reno's Steppin' Academy of Dance, and a mariachi band.

WDST/Woodstock's "New Rock X-Mas Party" raised hundreds of pounds of food, hundreds of toys, and $2000 to be divided between the National Children's Rights Alliance, ARCS Mom's Make-A-Wish Foundation, Family Domestic Violence Shelters, and the Mid-Hudson Valley Food Bank. The Murmurs, Frente!, G. Love & Special Sauce, and local act Go Van Go played in front of 550 listeners.

Unplugged And Plugged

Approximately 3500 listeners turned out for KPOI/Honolulu's

THEY MIGHT BE ... ELVES — Spreading Christmas cheer at KDGE/Dallas's Christmas concert were (l-r) Mr. Claus and his helpers: They Might Be Giants' John Flansburgh, Elektra's Brian Landau, KDGE PD Joel Folger and, of course, a Santa's elf.

NEW MUSIC SCENE

- Artist: Portishead
- Track: "Sour Times"
- LP: "Dummy"
- Label: Go!Discs/London

• Essentials: Founding member Geoff Barrow spent his formative years playing drums for local bands and working as a club DJ. Fed up with playing other people's music, Barrow formed Portishead, named for his hometown outside of Bristol, England. He met lead singer/songwriter Beth Gibbons in late '91 at the unemployment office. Adrian Utley (guitar) was recruited a year later. Engineer Dave McDonald, who was working at Bristol's State of the Art Studios, provided Barrow with free studio time, which he used to improve his recording skills.

Barrow's musical influences range from hip-hop to lounge jazz to '60s spy-movie soundtracks. Rather than shoot conventional videos to promote "Dummy," the band chose to produce "To Kill A Dead Man," a 10-minute black and white surrealist film with a soundtrack featuring selections from the album.

New Music Scene highlights breaking artists charting for the first time.

• Artist POV: Barrow notes, "I don't experiment a lot — I don't like weird music just for the sake of it being weird. It holds a melody, but it's still musical. I'm not a great modern technology fan and try not to let it dictate what sounds I use. I've always wanted to get to the point where I don't have to sample others' music. I just find alternative ways of writing and creating music to vocals, rather than just piano or synthesizers. I'm trying to [put] emotion back into music and get away from classic digital music."

• Label POV: London Nat'l Dir./Alternative Music Bill Carroll says, "'Sour Times' is one of those unique songs that doesn't fall into the novelty category."

"Big Mele Kalikimaka" (Hawaiian for Merry Christmas), which featured performances from Kevin Hunter (Wire Train), Satchel Fossil, the Meat Puppets, and Michael Penn. Admission was one unwrapped toy; nearly 4000 toys were collected for Toys for Tots. Budweiser sponsored the show, and donated a portion of beer sales to the Life Foundation, a support group for people with AIDS.

Tickets to the first annual "WFNX Boston Phoenix Miracle On Lansdowne Street Benefit" were made available on the night of the show at two neighboring venues. About 3500 listeners flocked back and forth to see Radiohead, Rancid, Aimee Mann, Big Audio, Tracy Bonham, Cliffs Of Dooneen, Simple Minds, Grant Lee Buffalo, Dambuilders, and Janet LaValley (formerly of Tribe). The benefit raised an unannounced sum of money for Kids At Risk.

Contrary to its name, XTRA-FM/San Diego's 2nd annual "91X Acoustic Xmas" show actually featured seven plugged-in sets. Dinosaur Jr., Black Crowes, Simple Minds, Hole, Go-Go's, Live, and Tom Jones performed for a capacity of 3000. Once calculated, proceeds will be divided between Ronald McDonald Children's Charities and Save The World Rainforest Alliance.

About 550 listeners attended the "WEQX/Albany Holiday Concert." Grant Lee Buffalo, Mark Curry, G. Love & Special Sauce, and local favorites Lughead performed electric sets for the event, which raised $2000 for the AIDS Council of Northeastern New York, as well as 1000 pounds of food for local food banks.

Still More Concerts!

KWOD/Sacramento's second annual Christmas Concert raised an estimated $2000 for the Make-A-Wish Foundation, and approximately 2000 toys were collected for Toys for Tots. A crowd of 2500 turned out for Jesus & Mary Chain, the Cramps, Dada, Linda Perry, Weezer, Love Spit Love, and Playground (local).

WOXY/Cincinnati's "97 Xmas Gift" showcased the talents of Todd Snider, Black 47, Ass Ponys, and G. Love & Special Sauce. The concert lured 850 listeners, whose ticket price paid for the real gift of the evening: a total of $2600 was divided between Mary Magdalene House (for battered women) and the United Way of Oxford.

At WDRE Modern Rock Network affiliate WIBF/Philadelphia, 1700 listeners attended the second annual "Acoustic Holiday Benefit Concert," raising $4000 for Cape Child Abuse Prevention Effort. The show's all-acoustic lineup included Pete Droge, Jeffrey Gaines, Jesus & Mary Chain, Radiohead, and G. Love & Special Sauce.

XHRM/San Diego's "Acoustic Christmas Series" took place over three nights — in three different venues. The first show drew a crowd of 700 to see Love Spit Love, and local acts Color Circle and Natasha's Ghost. Night two had 2000 people for the Beat Farmers, Danielle Brisebois, Cause & Effect, Natasha's Ghost, and Sarah McLachlan. The third night attracted 600 for six local acts. XHRM raised funds for San Diego Youth and Community Services.

Rising Tide At The Wave

Resurrecting the format pioneer after a morning misfire

As the widely recognized birthplace of the format, KTWV (The Wave)/Los Angeles has been under close industry scrutiny since signing on in February 1987.

But never was that examination more intense than in the months after the Wave gambled on a morning drive talk experiment ... and lost. KTWV PD Chris Brodie discusses how she guided the station from the brink of disaster to a ratings rebound.

Chris Brodie

The big question: Why did the Wave try talk in the morning? Brodie explains, "Generally speaking, NAC morning shows don't perform as well as other dayparts, which is probably a function of strong at-work listening. When I was on the NAC panel at the 1993 NAB convention, a key issue was the need to come up with a really big idea to target morning listeners' hot buttons.

"By summer 1993, it was my estimation — and that of GM Chris Claus and Group W management — that if we were going to deviate from a music-intensive morning show, talk presented the best alternative.

"The decision to have two women as morning hosts really grew from [ longtime evening talent ] Keri Tombazian's interest in stretching in a talk direction. We discussed the possibility of her doing a weekend morning talk show, and the concept evolved from there. But I felt the show needed to represent a partnership, so we conducted a talent search."

Initial Reaction

The station teamed Tombazian with actress/comedian/voiceover talent Sheryl Bernstein, and on September 30, 1993, the experiment began. "I must give station and corporate management an extraordinary amount of credit for supporting such a bold, courageous departure," Brodie says. "We were prepared for some negative audience reaction, but it was even worse than we anticipated. The very nature of talk shows is that they are polarizing. "Our core listeners were very vocal about how much they missed music; they actually told us they couldn't function without it. Their emotional attachment to our music is very strong. If you buy a pair of shoes at Nordstrom's and you really love those shoes, you won't call the store to tell them. But if you're not happy with the shoes, Nordstrom's is going to hear from you. Radio listeners are the same with their feedback."

Question Of Timing

At about the same time the new morning show was introduced, the station produced a half-hour infomercial featuring performances by Peter White, Boney James, Dave Koz, and Kilauea at the Wave Stage during the "L.A. a la Carte" festival. "There was no hard sell," Brodie notes, "just an invitation to drop in for a listen and the opportunity to hear from us about Wave music, events, and artists via our newsletter."

Nonetheless, the timing of the infomercial — with its implicit promise to viewers that they'd find music on the station — may have undermined the morning show's debut. But Brodie disagrees, saying the spot was wildly successful in accomplishing its primary goal: exposing the station to a new audience. "The coincidence of airing the concert footage with the launch of the morning show could be considered unfortunate by some, but I don't think it was. The infomercial was not only groundbreaking — I believe it represented the first of its kind for any station in any format — but it also served as an excellent marketing vehicle. The response it generated was huge and, overall, it was a great benefit to the station. We increased our database, after all duplicated names were eliminated, by 40,000 names.

"I was less interested in reach and frequency than the impact an infomercial would have compared to a 30-second spot. A 30-second spot is not a product sample, and it's surrounded by clutter. And its cost, in terms of buying the TV time, was about a third of 30-second TV spot campaigns."

Making A U-Turn

Despite the positive reaction toward the station generated by the infomercial, it became clear the morning show wasn't working out. "Keri and Sheryl developed a constituency of fans who liked what they did. But the decision to pull the plug was made in June 1994 because we simply lost too many listeners — not just in mornings, but in all other dayparts as well. Since then, our task has been one of rebuilding our franchise."

The station embarked on an extensive print, outdoor, and direct mail campaign to let people know the morning show has returned to a music-based format. "We've put great energy into getting the word out. Additionally, we've done two MixMaster research projects; I must credit the precision of that methodology in allowing us to present an even more spectacular music mix to listeners as they returned to us.

"It's very difficult and time-consuming to turn a station around. It doesn't turn on a dime. After all, radio is a free utility, completely unimportant and disposable to the average person. As a result, the frequency with which we had to get the message out presented an enormous

Riding The Wave During A Downturn

GSM claims confidence is key to station's continued success

What are the challenges associated with pitching a station when you're in a ratings slump? KTWV/Los Angeles GSM Tim Pohlman learned firsthand, and he says one important element was keeping agency confidence in the station high through the difficult times.

Some of that confidence, Pohlman explains, came from the station's strong heritage. "Eight years ago, the buying community in L.A. embraced the format right out of the blocks. The Wave was new and unique, kind of L.A., kind of hip. In its first two or three years, the station established itself quickly. The buying community had a lot of confidence in the product. They really liked us and our uniqueness, even if they didn't listen to us. The upscale qualitative audience the station delivered contributed enormously to our initial success.

"At the time of my arrival in June 1993 —before the changes in the morning took place —we were already experiencing some ratings erosion. It was clear that we had to look at ways to grow and freshen the station from a number of standpoints."

Strong Support

Fortunately for the Wave's sales staff, media buyers seemed less concerned about the ratings than station management was. According to Pohlman, "Buyers were used to buying the Wave. When shares began to erode in the station's sixth year, their reaction wasn't as dramatic as you might imagine. The buying community still liked us and wanted to support us.

"When the idea of the morning talk show was first introduced, everybody internally was hip to the fact that we were doing something positive and not letting the station erode to the point of no return. The company was committed to doing something innovative, something unique

The biggest challenge, especially in sales, is to maintain confidence in the product. In the face of indications that the product was failing ... it was a gradual process of rebuilding confidence in our sales staff and in the buyers.

that fell into place with what the format was about. Mornings had always lagged behind the rest of the station, so we all thought the idea sounded great, and we carried our enthusiasm out to the buying community. From top to bottom, we all bought into the idea. To our disappointment, it didn't work, and we

■ Reinventing a heritage station's sound through broader musical appeal

After The Wave took a ratings hit in mid-1993, APD/MD Ralph Stewart began a re-evaluation process that resulted in a complete overhaul of the station's music philosophy.

The Courage To Reassess

"When I arrived here over four years ago, the music was extremely consistent, but it was still driven by principles that had been established in 1987," Stewart recalls. "In light of declining ratings, we realized we had to take a long, hard look at all that was sacred — which musical elements were assets and which were liabilities. We had to assess which parts of our heritage were essential and which needed to be shaken loose."

Ralph Stewart

"Radio is like a living organism; it exists on balance. You can't let it flatline or you're dead. You've got to inhale new things and exhale the waste. Reinventing the music is a song-to-song, year-by-year process."

"We learned we were overachieving in our quest to sound like no other station. We were overmiched, and we missed some good music as a result. For instance, we added Sade's 'No Ordinary Love' and k.d. lang's 'Constant Craving' out of the box, but backed away from them when they became hits months later. In hindsight, we realize that both songs fit our sound perfectly, and we should have stayed with them. We're thinking in terms of broader appeal now so we won't niche ourselves to death. And we're still striving for consistency. Although we sound different during middays than we do at night, it's still the same station."

Uncovering Hits

Stewart and PD Chris Brodie were initially skeptical about including cover versions of songs on the Wave's playlist, but eventually became convinced of their value.

Stewart says, "We believed they would undermine our hip image, which was the last thing we wanted. It had to be proven to us that a great melody is a great melody, and if our listeners can hum along, that's not such a bad thing. Covers help create familiarity, and that's a very important element for an instrumental-driven format. Covers are like a fencepost. Listeners can lean on them in the midst of other music that may not be as familiar."

"We've also opened the door to a lot of AC crossover product in the past year — the kind we had avoided in the past. But in protecting our uniqueness, we were losing out on some good songs with real value for the station. Now we're playing artists like Vanessa Williams, Celine Dion, and Luther Vandross.

"To remain appealing to our core, we're still spicing. We've got a 'sweet spot.' Because we have a better idea now of where our overall feel lies, when we add a flamenco element like Strunz and Farah, that spice is consistent with the main dish. To continue the analogy, we won't add tarragon on a whim — only when it enhances our taste."

"We're very careful to make sure we're satisfying our adventurous core by constantly throwing in a variety of interesting influences. But as soon as we play them, we quickly return to the basics of our sound. Going back to the living organism comparison, we go out on a ledge and then come back to music that is proven by our research."

The Real Deal

Looking toward the Wave's music direction for the near future, Stewart concludes, "If we're doing our jobs correctly, we'll follow what the music is doing and where it's going. We won't be trying to lead it in one direction or another."

"What I've noticed happening over the past year — and I hope it will continue — is a move toward real instrumentation. We're hearing a lot less synthesizer. Jeff Lorber did an interesting project where, although he used synthesizers, they were geared toward the retro sound of Hammonds and Wurlitzers.

"We're also hearing back from listeners that — although they may not articulate the thought the way a radio person would — they call the sound of synthesizers 'fake.' As the format becomes more successful, I think record labels will commit to larger recording budgets, and artists will jump at the chance to get away from samples and synths. Real instrumentation will make the format that much better."

What Is Wave Music?

Here's a small sampling of the Wave's eclectic music mix from a recent midday hour:

"We lost a couple of key salespeople, but that gave us the opportunity to bring in some new blood. New staffers brought a fresh perspective and an enthusiastic attitude that translated as 'Hey, it's the Wave, it's special, and I've always wanted to sell it.' Our sales staff has been through a tough time, and they still are committed to succeeding with our product."

"We realize we have an ongoing challenge, but we are encouraged by the Wave's turnaround and the success of the format nationally. The sales staff has enormous confidence in PD Chris Brodie. She's been at the station from the start, and that means a lot to the sales staff. We think she is the format."

Tech Talk At 94.7

"Engineer Bob" Leembruggen (aka Robert Lear) discusses how The Wave's engineering staff has made the most of the station's 58,000 watts.

"We believe The Wave has produced the cleanest, best-sounding radio station on the L.A. dial. The number of stages our sound passes through before reaching the listener is kept at an absolute minimum. We use Sony Pro CD machines to play all our music. The air studio console is a Pacific Recorders BMX. Our studio processor is an Aphex Compellor. A Pacific Recorders distribution amplifier delivers the music to a Moseley DSP6000 digital encoder for the microwave hop to our transmitter on Mt. Wilson. The compression and limiting are very slow by design, allowing the music to truly be 'felt' more and listened to longer."

marketing task. Plus, changing listeners' habits when they left you because of a negative experience is a challenge of almost mythic proportion.

"But we had a very successful summer book, which placed us sixth 25-54, and that is a considerable accomplishment in a market like L.A. We are also very pleased with our gains in our 35-44 target." In the just-released fall book, the Wave registered a modest 25-54 gain, but picked up an impressive 88,000 persons in 12+ cume.

Defining The Sound

Another part of the Wave's campaign to win back disenfranchised listeners and win over new converts was a 200,000-piece direct-mail cassette sampler. "I don't think there's any more effective mode of explaining a radio station than a cassette sample. The phrase 'This is Wave music' doesn't explain Wave music to someone who has never heard us. A great deal of the response we got from the return postcard expressed surprise and pleasure. People said, 'I didn't realize that's what the Wave sounded like.' The card also got them into our database, made them eligible to receive the Wave's "MusicLetter" program guide and entered them in a drawing for free

CDs, concert tickets, or $500.

"We analyzed our database and then searched for potential listeners of like profile. It's unrealistic in a market of nine million to ignore Arbitron hot zip codes, but we tried to think beyond that."

No Guts, No Glory

Throughout the rebuilding process, Brodie says, "Group W has been incredibly supportive. They supported the morning show, and when it didn't succeed, they continued their commitment to the format by supporting our efforts to regain our listener base. Group W President Dan Mason comes from a programming background and, along with Chris Claus, views experimentation and even failed ideas as evolution. On our own report card, we give ourselves an A for effort. We're currently looking at other ways of capturing and building our morning numbers."

“I don't believe that mainstreaming a radio station — making it accessible to more people while keeping the emotion, texture, and image intact — implies any contradiction at all.”

Riding The Wave During A Downturn

underestimated what the result would be for the rest of the station."

Relighting The Fire

When the widespread impact of the failed morning experiment became clear in the ratings, Pohlman says the station's fiercest enemy may have been low morale. "The biggest challenge, especially in sales, is to maintain confidence in the product. In the face of indications that the product was failing and rumors of an impending format change, management had to deal with waning confidence. It was a gradual process of rebuilding confidence in our sales staff and in the buyers.

"When ratings are in decline, the goal is to take the focus off ratings as much as you can. We emphasized our marketing, events, TV and direct results, which we took to our direct clients. With this format, you've got to be very selective at who you prospect. This station can get really get good results for clients, but they have to be the right clients. We focused on new business.

With the crisis having passed, Brodie discusses her long-term goals for the Wave. "Like any PD worth his or her salt, ratings are my job. What we're looking at as we enter the second half of this decade — and our eighth year — is a move to mainstream mass appeal, not 'class appeal.' I don't believe that mainstreaming a radio station — making it accessible to more people while keeping the emotion, texture, and image intact — implies any contradiction at all. The Wave is a brand name. If we smart-program and smart-market, I'm confident it can become as meaningful a product in its world as Kleenex is in its."
