Digital On Display For Radio At NAB '95

■ DAB demo, new companies, new technologies, highlight spring confab

BY JACK MESSMER AND RON RODRIGUES
R&R Staff Writers

LAS VEGAS — It's been a long time since so much good news about radio emerged at a spring NAB. The radio folk who braved the 80,000-strong crowd were reminded that the analog era is quickly waning, and the digital age is bringing incredible new possibilities.

Among the developments: After five years of evolution, USA Digital Radio offered sensational demonstrations of in-band, on-channel DAB (see accompanying story); ABC Radio Networks is turning to the Internet as an alternative medium; two new companies are building audio distribution networks for radio; the NAB itself offered several sessions advising stations how to get on the Internet; and exhibitors are offering cheaper, more reliable digital audio gear.

The switch from analog to digital means more to radio than just better fidelity. The medium is now a digital pipeline, able to carry many elements, such as words, pictures, and sound.

DAB Takes Another Step Forward

DALLAS — In-band, on-channel DAB took a quantum leap forward this week with USA Digital Radio's selection of National Semiconductor as the manufacturer of a silicon chip that will allow digital AM and FM reception. National Semiconductor's task: compressing three racks worth of equipment into a chip about the size of a thumbnail, hopefully in time for DAB receivers to hit store shelves by the end of 1997.

The announcement coincided with dramatic DAB demonstrations at the NAB Convention, where USA Digital successfully showed that FM multipath distortion could be virtually eliminated and AM's fidelity immensely improved.

Although both radio bands will benefit from improved fidelity using USA Digital's technology, its engineers are reluctant to specify what AM's frequency response will become because its compression schemes do not conform to a particular frequency range. But as CBS VP/Engineering Tony Masiello pointed out, "It will be very close to the way FM sounds today." He added that FM fidelity will be upgraded to 20kHz and, more important, multipath distortion will virtually disappear.

The bus demonstration took riders through parts

Arbitron To Increase College, Military Diary Recruitment

□ Also appoints Michaels to work with radio PDs

Arbitron's pursuit of 18-24 male diarykeepers is heating up again. The company now hopes to turn more young men into diarykeepers by expanding its efforts among college and military base residents in 51 markets.

Finding young men who live on campus or at a base has always been troublesome because many of them have phones hooked up to a private prefix. Arbitron had routinely deleted these prefixes because they usually didn't meet its criteria of having 10 listed residential numbers among a block of 100 random-digit dial numbers.

Under its new campaign, Arbitron has lowered that threshold from 10 listed residences to two in zip codes with colleges or military bases. Arbitron selected the markets because each had 2% or more residents in college or group quarters and its 18-24 responses were low.

Spring Completion

The procedure was implemented in Bryan-College Station, TX in Spring '94; in Norfolk for the Summer '94 book; and in Ann Arbor, MI; Kalamazoo, MI; Lafayette, IN; Lansing, MI; Lubbock, TX; and Raleigh-Durham in Fall '94. The remaining markets (see chart, Page 13) will be instituted beginning with the Spring '95 survey.

Arbitron VP/Communications Thom Mocarsky said the company "increased its 18-34 proportionality to make it worth our while," but he did not have specific figures. He also pointed out that the company will continue to exclude quarters with nine or more unrelated people, which ef-

Duopolies Still Attracting Capital To Radio Industry

By Jack Messmer
R&R WASHINGTON BUREAU CHIEF

LAS VEGAS — There was no doubt among panelists at the NAB Convention's BCFM-organized financial workshop that duopolies are continuing to boost radio's economic growth — and station prices.

CEA Sr. VP Bill Lisecky told the session that radio is still "the darling of the financial community," as it has been since duopolies began in 1992.

He noted that 20-25 major banks are now pursuing radio lending, up from only a handful during the recession earlier this decade. Largely because of duopoly activity, Lisecky said, stations are now selling for 11 to 12 times cash flow in major markets and nine to 10 times in medium and smaller markets.

Watch Job Cuts

But while investment capital, lending, and even the public markets are currently open to radio, Lisecky warned that competition for money is heating up — thanks to new companies jumping into businesses that fall under the general heading of entertainment. And many of those new ventures don't face regulatory constraints like the ones that limit the size of radio groups.

"In order to have a long-term effect, current duopoly rules will have to be loosened or eliminated to maintain radio's access to the financial markets," Lisecky advised.

Despite duopoly's cost savings,

River City Broadcasting CFO Larry Marcus cautioned against deep personnel cuts when stations are combined. "Understaffing will undermine the creativity at your stations," he noted.

"Don't send the cutting signal by doing too much in the first year," agreed Key Market Communications CEO Kerby Confer, whose group is in the midst of merging with River City. He advised duopoly buyers to move quickly to boost staff morale and assure all retained employees that no more job cuts are coming. "Spend a little more up front to save a lot more later," Confer added.

EARNINGS

Gannett Gains, CBS Drops In First Quarter

Gannett Co. (NYSE: GCI) reported first-quarter earnings of $86.2 million or 62 cents a share, a 15% gain over profits of $78.7 million or 54 cents a share posted during 1994's first quarter.

Revenues were $913.8 million, up 4% from $876.6 million a year ago. Gannett's broadcasting division reported an operating earnings gain of 24% to $26.4 million. Radio revenues rose 13%, reflecting improved market shares and healthy demand.

Gannett publishes 82 daily newspapers, including USA Today, and operates 11 radio stations and 10 TV stations.

CBS Inc. (NYSE: CBS) announced that first-quarter net income was $21.9 million or 32 cents a share, falling 68% from the previous year's $69.3 million or 85 cents a share.

CBS blamed the drop on a reduced level of special-event sports programming. (Last year, the network aired the Olympic Winter Games). The broadcasting company also cited disruption in daytime viewing patterns, due to coverage of the O.J. Simpson trial.

CBS Radio did register higher sales and profits, due to improved advertising demand and audience gains within the FM Stations group. The company singled out KCBS-FM/Los Angeles and KKRW-FM/Houston in particular.

When It Comes To Building Radio Brands...

We Wrote The Book.

The NAB knows the importance of branding in today's multi-media world. To help broadcasters survive in this fiercely competitive environment, they decided to publish a definitive handbook on building radio brands -- a book that would be an invaluable resource to every manager today, as well as in the future. The NAB turned to Stratford Research, the recognized authority on branding, to write the book that represents the next generation in strategic thinking for radio.

THE FRANCHISE is a must-read for all managers who are interested in rising above the pack and competing on the next level -- as a branded market franchise. You can order your copy from the NAB at 800-368-5644.

To learn more about building a branded franchise in your market, call Lew Dickey or John Dickey today at 404-688-1166.

American Radio Systems Files $70 Million IPO

American Radio Systems has filed with the SEC to sell up to $70.8 million in stock to the public.

The Boston-based company has applied to trade on Nasdaq with the symbol "AMRD." It will sell $2.4 million shares (plus a 280,000 share over-allotment, if needed) at a maximum price of $23 each. In addition, 370,000 shares are being sold by current shareholders — principally trusts controlled by ARS Chairman/Exec. Committee Thomas Stoner.

After the IPO, Stoner will still control nearly 20% of the voting power, second only to Chairman Steve Dodge at 31%.

ARS expects to net approximately $50.9 million from the stock sale, or $56.9 million if the full over-allotment is exercised. All of the cash will be used to reduce current debt, and it appears the selling stockholders will receive over $8 million.

Including pro forma calculations for recent acquisitions, ARS said net revenues were $83.7 million for 1994, up from $72 million in 1993. Broadcast cash flow rose from $16.8 million last year to $23.4 million. The company's pro forma loss for 1994 was set at $2.8 million.

ARS owns 20 stations in seven markets and is buying WKGR-FM/West Palm Beach.

Katz Sells $88 Million IPO

Katz Media Group picked up $88 million Tuesday (4/11) on Wall Street in an initial public offering.

Katz sold 5.5 million shares at $16 each, which was the low end of the $16-$18 range in its offering prospectus. The new stock will trade on the AMEX as "KTZ."

Katz, the nation's largest broadcast rep firm, had filed to go public last year, but instead accepted an offer from a Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette partnership to buy a controlling interest in the company. DLJ took Katz back to Wall Street this year as demand for IPO stocks improved.

Coleman Research

Presents

Music Clustering of America

Radio
Only
Management
Conference
on April 28-30

Coleman Research announces the first scientific study of music tastes in America. A groundbreaking analysis of listener preferences from the acknowledged leader in industry-wide research studies.

A seminal scientific study on American music tastes, exclusively from Coleman Research, one of the nation's top two radio research companies...The Music Clustering of America.

The Music Clustering of America answers the question that has stumped station managers and programmers for years: "What's happening with my format?"

Keep in tune with shifting tastes

The Music Clustering of America provides a global overview of the state of the music in your format, helping you keep in tune with shifting music tastes.

For the first time, you'll know the exact percentage of Americans truly compelled by your format.

The Music Clustering of America will also help you spot dips in format popularity before they show up in your ARB.

Sophisticated Cluster Analysis

The Music Clustering of America tracks listener preferences from the 1950s to the latest hits in CHR and Alternative Music. Music from every major format will be examined.

The study uses sophisticated Cluster Analysis techniques to measure the size of the audience for each style of music. The data is then subjected to Correlation Analysis to help determine which types of songs, artists and styles go together to make a format.

Groundbreaking Analysis from a Research Leader

The Music Clustering of America is exactly the kind of exhaustive analysis you've come to expect from Coleman Research. The company that brought you such groundbreaking works as the MTV Research in 1983, The Truth about the ARB Diary Keeper study in 1987, and the 70s Format study last year.

Park Sale Gets Green Light

Park Acquisitions Inc. has received approval from the FCC to complete its $711.4 million purchase of Park Communications Inc.

Park Acquisitions, headed by investors Donald Tomlin and Gary Knapp, won the bidding contest last October for the media empire of the late Roy Park, whose estate owns 80.1% of the stock of publicly traded Park Communications (Nasdaq: PARC).

The FCC granted the buyer 12-month waivers to spin off WDEF-AM & FM/Chattanooga, WNCT-AM & FM/Greenville, and WTVR-AM & FM/Richmond, which are in markets where Park Communications also owns TV stations.

Quello Dissents On $12,000 Fine In Main Studio Rule Violation Case

FCC Commissioner Jim Quello issued a strongly worded dissent as his fellow Commissioners fined Jones Eastern Radio's WRSF-FM/Columbia, NC $12,000 for violating the main studio rule.

"I fail to see how a stiff fine is justified where the very rule that the licensee is charged with violating was twice clarified at various stages of this case," Quello said.

"Quello hit the mark," said Jones Eastern President C.J. Jones, who had appealed the fine previously set at $20,000 in 1992. He hasn't decided whether to pay or appeal the $12,000 fine.

HRN Launches All-Health Talk

Health Radio Network launches operations May 1 from Phoenix, featuring three hours of live, health-oriented programming weeknights. Hosted by nationally recognized health experts, HRN's programs will relate to specific chronic health issues and gender-specific issues for women.

HRN, headed by President Bowen Larsen, will offer 12 programs, including "Health & Wellness After 50" and "Ask The Doctor." Weekend programming will be added this summer, with an emphasis on the health issues of women, children, and animals. Currently, 38 stations nationwide carry HRN's daily talk show lineup on the TalkAmerica Radio Network.

"Just like great sports teams and top-notch radio stations, if you put the right people in place, success will follow," remarked Kepler. "It's a privilege to work with a company that combines KEPLER/See Page 11

EXECUTIVE ACTION

Anderson Joins Metro As Marketing Director

After four years as VP/Worldwide Sales & Marketing for syndicator Radio Express, former KIIS-AM & FM/Los Angeles President/GM Lynn Anderson has joined Metro Networks as Regional Director/Marketing. Based in Los Angeles, she will cover Metro's Southern California region.

"Lynn's seasoned Southern California experience, coupled with an exceptional and unique global communications perspective, makes her perfect for this position," said Metro Exec. VP/Marketing & Operations Chuck Bortnick. "She has a clear understanding of the needs of the radio and television stations in the Los Angeles and San Diego areas, as well as an extensive marketing background, which will be critical in helping our Southern California operation grow."

ABC Elevates Davis To Urban Gold PD

Ron Davis has been promoted to PD of ABC Radio Networks' 24-hour Urban Gold syndicated format. Davis joined ABC when the net reintroduced the format in 1993.

"Having successfully programmed WJMO-AM/Cleveland, an Urban Oldies station, Ron was the natural choice for the position," said ABC Manager/Urban Programming Steve Harris. "I look forward to Urban Gold's creative growth under Ron's leadership."

Before heading for ABC, Davis worked at WJMO for seven years — the first three as Production Director, the last four as PD.

Sherwood Becomes Sr. VP At Sony New Tech

Record industry veteran Bob Sherwood has been appointed Sr. VP/New Business Development at Sony New Technologies Inc. The former Columbia Records and PolyGram exec had most recently been VP/Sound Technology for Sony Software.

In his new assignment, Sherwood will be working with such projects as Sony Online and the Sony DataBank. Division President Mitchell Cannold remarked, "Bob has tremendous relationships throughout the entertainment industry and across the Sony family. His prior experience is a unique asset, as is the highly respected and dedicated team he brings with him."

Before joining Sony Software, Sherwood was Sr. VP/International Marketing for Sony Music Entertainment and Sr. VP/Marketing at Columbia. At PolyGram, he was President/COO of Phonogram/Mercury, then Exec. VP/GM of PolyGram Records U.S.

Davison Set As Shadow/SF President/GM

Bay Area broadcasting veteran John Davison has been appointed President/GM at Shadow Broadcast Services/San Francisco. Davison was most recently VP/GM of the 13-station American Media group.

Shadow COO Warren Maurer commented, "John Davison is one of San Francisco's most well-known and respected communicators. It's great news that he will be joining us in one of our most important markets. I'm confident he and the dedicated professionals there are going to do great things."

Davison's resume includes a decade in various posts with Group W and the operation of his own AdExpress sales technology company.

Cole Now VP/Sales At Group W/Dallas

Group W Radio Sales Account Exec Christie Cole has been promoted to VP/Radio Sales of the Interep Radio Store company's Dallas office.

"Christie continually demonstrates an outstanding ability to successfully market radio on behalf of all Group W radio clients," said Dallas office Director/Sales Drew Dicken. "She has an excellent reputation with clients and among the media buyers and planners in the Dallas-Ft. Worth advertising community. This promotion recognizes her valuable contributions to the company."

Cole joined the Interep Radio Store in 1990. She was formerly a media buyer for Tucker, Wayne, Luckie & Co. in Atlanta.

Papa Joe.

Isn't he
the legendary outfielder on the infamous 1919 Black Sox?

Sorry, that was "Shoeless Joe." This legendary Joe appears on the One-On-One Sports Radio Network — now in a brand new time slot on weekdays from 4 pm to 8 pm (EST).

"Papa" Joe not only doesn't play baseball, he also doesn't play any favorites. During the recent hockey and baseball strikes, he showed little mercy to owners and players alike. It's this nonsense, common sense approach to sports that probably most endears him to his legion of fans across the country.

"Papa" Joe Chevalier, truly a legend in his own time. For a demo tape or more information on the fastest-growing, 24 hour sports talk network in the country, call Chuck Duncan at (708) 509-1661.

Gondek Heads For KC's 'City' As PD

Doug Gondek has been named PD at Heritage Media's recent NAC convert, KKCJ/Kansas City.

"[Consultant] Broadcast Architecture encouraged me to look for an innovator, possibly one from Rock or Classic Rock because of the different spin he would lend to what happens between records," explained KKCJ GM Bill Newman.

"We wanted someone who would create a compelling NAC station, and Doug impressed me in a previous experience. He was an innovator when we were the first Classic Rock station to put the NFL on the air. He brings exactly the dimension we need to do NAC in Kansas City."

Gondek's programming experience includes stints at KDKB/Phoenix, WTEM/Washington, and Heritage's KCFX/Kansas City.

take on new challenges," FCC Chairman Reed Hundt said, heralding the upcoming conversion of radio and TV broadcasts to digital and noting the record revenue levels both media enjoyed in 1994.

Internet Invasion

ABC isn't the only radio company taking advantage of the non-radio digital frontier:

Progressive Networks demonstrated its real-time audio on-demand service, "RealAudio," which offers ABC Radio and NPR programming via the Internet. Much of the material is archive audio, but Capital Cities/ABC Multimedia Group VP Kathryn Dillon said regular news updates will be added within a couple of months.

Infinity Broadcasting and VirteX have joined forces to form Musicam Express, which will outfit 3500 U.S. stations over the next year — at no cost to the stations — with hard disk storage and ISDN connections in order to improve the stations' connectivity to radio networks, advertising agencies, and record companies.

Meanwhile, Vancouver, BC-based competitor Digital Courier intends to offer similar setups to as many as 2000 American stations, also at no charge. It says its stations are capable of receiving and sending programming — to one station or to thousands.

Roche Programmer At WWYZ/Hartford

WWYZ/Hartford Production Director/middayer Greg Roche has been promoted to PD at the Country outlet. Roche, an eight-year station veteran, will retain his airshift. He succeeds Dale Carter, who left to claim KFKF/Kansas City's PD job two weeks ago.

WWYZ President B. Preston Gilmore commented, "It's gratifying to be able to promote from within the Country 92.5 family. Greg has earned the respect of his associates through his hard work and dedication to the station's growth."

Moore Lands As PD At WWKA/Orlando

KYNN/Omaha programmer Michael Moore has been named PD at Country WWKA-FM/Orlando. He takes over those duties from WWKA & WCFB-FM OM/NewCity Group PD Steve Holbrook.

Holbrook told R&R, "Michael passed the famous NewCity interview process with flying colors. Everybody in the building loves him — even the morning guy. When that happens, you know you've found the perfect person."

Moore commented, "I'm more excited about this job than I was about my first gig in radio. These are terrific people, it's a great company, and this is the best place in the world to live."

Prior to joining KYNN 18 months ago, he was PD at Country-Classical Rock duopoly KRCH-FM & KMFX-FM/Rochester, MN. He previously handled mornings for both WRQX/Washington and WQUE/New Orleans.

For The Record

On Page 19 of the R&R Digital Guide (included with the 4/7 issue), Radio Systems Inc.'s "DDS" was incorrectly identified in a photo caption as Enco Systems' "DAD486X." Both products are distributed by Harris Allied.

In an advertisement on Page 17, a printing error inadvertently obscured Harris Allied's national toll-free phone number. The correct number is (800) 622-0022.

Deregulation Discussion

On the regulatory front, Sen. John Breaux (D-LA) drew applause when he pledged support for efforts to include radio ownership deregulation in the Telecommunications Act that heads to the Senate floor next month. But he was also critical of the NAB's split position (supporting radio deregulation, but taking no position on TV ownership) and urged NAB's TV members to achieve a unified position before leaving Las Vegas.

Breaux noted that members of Congress are hearing from some broadcasters who oppose eliminating radio ownership limits. "Some of the smaller owners don't like the concept, even though it makes their stations more valuable, in my opinion," he said.

But Rep. Billy Tauzin (D-LA) suggested that further easing of ownership limits could enable small-market owners to buy other stations that would otherwise go dark.

FCC Commissioner Susan Ness said that if Congress doesn't raise or eliminate radio ownership limits, the Commission ought to take a look, especially now that it's considering rules that would allow TV groups to cover 35% of the nation's population, regardless of how many stations that takes. She said the FCC should consider a similar rule for radio.

Satellite DAB Soundoff

Though the apparent success of in-band DAB demonstrations drew cheers from broadcasters, a satellite DAB proponent drew heat from NAB members. Primosphere co-owner Cliff Burnstein insisted that his application for a license to distribute two dozen channels of CD-quality satellite DAB nationwide poses no threat to local radio. Rather, he said, Primosphere and three other satellite applicants will target "underserved people who don't have access to a lot of signals" as well as people who don't currently listen to radio.

Sconnix Broadcasting Managing Partner Randy Odeneal would have none of those arguments. He said satellite radio providers, with their multiple channels and nationwide coverage, will only need to snare small audience shares to drive many small stations off the air: "They don't have to win ... they just have to erode us."

FCC Chairman Hundt insisted that his mind is not made up on satellite radio, but also noted that "tremendous progress is being made technologically" in development of in-band, on-channel DAB. He said he's "eager" to see if the FCC receives a rule-making request in the next few months.

But FCC General Counsel William Kennard said broadcasters will carry a heavy burden in convincing the Commission that satellite DAB poses enough of an economic threat to completely deny granting satellite DAB licenses. And he said the arguments presented to the FCC thus far "have not been terribly illuminating."

Pay For Play

The FCC's ranking member, Commissioner Jim Quello, spoke out strongly in a Sunday (4/9) speech against any efforts to charge broadcasters for their current frequency allocations. But following the FCC's multibillion-dollar success in selling PCS spectrum through bidding, Quello noted, "There's an auction fever" in Washington.

He also spoke out against congressional efforts to mandate free airtime to political candidates — calling the idea "a First Amendment time-bomb."

In panels on EEO and the upcoming radio license renewal cycle, FCC Mass Media Bureau Chief Roy Stewart said the Commission would try to identify frivolous petitions to deny license renewals and dismiss groundless petitions quickly. He was dismayed by the relatively small turnout for the EEO session. "One of the most significant places you can mess up your license renewal is EEO," he said. "This room should be full."

No Rest Stop For The Weary!

Howard Stern's fans have turned the Trenton, NJ rest stop named after him into a high-traffic location. A spokesman for the firm that keeps it clean, R&R Professional Office Cleaning (no relation), laments that the toilet seats have to be sanitized five times a day. And of course, the commemorative plaque has been stolen. Does Stern plan to visit? Agent Don Buchwald says, "He's greatly honored, but he has his own facility" (Entertainment Weekly).

Sidekick Robin Quivers, making the PR rounds to tout her new book, "Quivers," tells the New Yorker she used to get teased as a child: "I had this voice, and people used to make fun of it. They said I sounded white. When I began working with Howard, he taught me that I had to develop a character. So I did. And she's just like me, warm and loving." She adds, "If you're fly, no one can intimidate you. That's the whole message of my book."

Us reports that Stern wants Sarah Jessica Parker to play his wife in the film of "Private Parts."

Let's Get Physicist

Arista chief Clive Davis reminisces about giving Sony U.S. topper Michael Schulhof his start at CBS Records. He'd met the younger man's parents at a Jamaica resort, "And I was very impressed with them. I had never hired any other offspring of a family friend." Schulhof — who's profiled at length in Vanity Fair's article on Sony's U.S. adventure — recalls that when he wanted to leave Arista, he went to Davis and said, "This has been a wonderful experience, but I don't think a record company needs a physicist."

19,000 Alternative Hipsters

In a giant New York profile, Jon Bon Jovi says, "I never looked at rock & roll as rebellion, a chance to say, 'You suck.' Elvis never said, 'Oh yeah? Fuck you.' He said — 'JB' pauses, thinking. "He said, 'Hi, how are you?'"

In the same story, Mercury Prez Ed Eckstine comments on Bon Jovi's success at Z100/NY's Christmas show: "On paper, you had to figure Jon would get booed off the stage as too '80s. But we all have our guilty pleasures, and those 19,000 alternative hipsters in the audience were probably 12 or 13 when they first heard their older brothers listening to Bon Jovi, and that was their first lick of sin, musically. So they came clean in the darkness."

Once again, Entertainment Weekly has rounded up hot picks from selected radio MDs, this time consulting Rock WAXQ/NYC, college KZSU/Stanford, CA, and Pop CHR KIKU/Honolulu.

Each week R&R sneaks a peek through the nation's consumer magazines in search of everything from the sublime to the ridiculous in music news. R&R has not verified any of these reports.

Howie Kazowie!

"Howie [Klein] has the exact combination of attributes that make for a great record company president," says WB Records CEO Danny Goldberg, discussing the new president of Reprise Records in Out. "He is committed to the magic of the music and the spiritual integrity of the artist. On the other hand, he maintains an almost ruthless pragmatism that almost usurps his emotional ties."

Klein, who merits a full page in the magazine, notes, "I've never thought about becoming the president of anything."

Source Spots

"We knew it would piss people off," says Duran Duran singer Simon LeBon of the band's new covers album, "Thank You." "The musical purists who go, 'How could you possibly touch a Dylan song?' Anticipation of that sort of disgust made it quite humorous" (Entertainment Weekly).

Stevie Wonder tells Us, "I can usually tell the astrological sign by the voice. But there are exceptions. When I first met Michael Bolton, I thought he was African-American." "Tensions are running high between songbird Whitney Houston and actress Angela Bassett on the set of their new movie, 'Waiting To Exhale,'" according to the Globe.

Jackson Family Honors

Jermaine Jackson stole away his brother Randy's longtime live-in love, Alexandra, and secretly married her. Della Reese officiated (National Enquirer).

The Star says Michael Jackson is trying to buy up all of LaToya's Playboy videos.

Substance Excusers

In Spin's tale of Steve Earle's rocky road, MCA/Nashville President Tony Brown says, "Any country artist who's the least bit young and contemporary, if they have any edge, they're courted by the rock press or rock radio... And then they start believing that's what they are."

Juliana Hatfield has a lot of faith in her new record, "Only Everything." "Something just clicked in my brain when we got into the studio," she says in Entertainment Weekly. "Some door opened and it was like, 'Oh, that's how you do it.' Maybe it's because I gave up coffee and dairy, but suddenly I felt confident and relaxed."

COMING ATTRACTIONS:

This week's openers include "The Pebble And The Penguin," an animated feature showcasing the voices of Martin Short, James Belushi, and Tim Curry. The cast also perform eight original songs composed by Barry Manilow, which are available on the film's Kid Rhino soundtrack.

Also opening this week is "Stuart Saves His Family," starring Al Franken as the "Saturday Night Live" character Stuart Smalley. The film's forthcoming Milan soundtrack spotlights vintage tunes by former Stiff Records artist Rachel Sweet ("Silver Bells") as well as Ethel Merman ("Everything's Coming Up Roses").

friend and partner as my successor," stated Geffen. "Eddie is not only one of the most talented men in the record business, but without a doubt one of the most respected."

"I'm just going to continue doing what we've been doing," Rosenblatt told R&R. "This is a very easy transition period. David is involved [day-to-day] more than anyone would know, but I've also been here as the COO all that time. It's not a lot of changes or angst."

Asked how long the transition has been in the works, Rosenblatt said, "Since 1980, I guess." He noted there is "no timetable at all" for naming a new president. As for other changes, he said, "We've been constantly going through and reinventing ourselves these last two or three years. There are some other plans that have been in the offing on a lower and middle level, but nothing major. The last five years we've averaged 31-32 releases a year, and I want to continue in the same way."

At 60, Rosenblatt is a 39-year vet of the music business. He joined Warner Bros. Records in 1971 as Director/Sales and rose to VP, Director/National Sales & Promotion a year later, a post in which he helped create WEA Corp. In '78 he added Sr. VP stripes, and two years later he exited to help launch Geffen Records.

the sale or exchange of radio and television broadcast facilities and cable television systems to minority-owned businesses," Clinton said in a statement.

Clinton also expressed concern over a "highly objectionable" provision that will "permit certain pending applications to receive section 1071 benefits, while denying them to other pending applicants," referring to a provision authored by Sen. Carol Mosely-Braun (D-IL). Clinton said if he had line-item veto authority, he would have used it to "weed out" the measure.

There are 14 pending radio transactions at the FCC — eight of which were filed before January 17 — that may qualify for the tax certificate. At presstime, Commission staffers were uncertain which pending applicants would qualify.

Schofield

after nine years with EZ's WEZB/New Orleans, most recently as GSM.

Schofield told R&R, "I'm excited about the position. I've been doing most of the job criteria since July ... I just look at it and say, 'It's official.' I'm really looking forward to continuing to develop what Power 99 has had for many years in the area of community development; we're doing a lot of wonderful things in that arena."

Regarding Lewis's new post, Schofield said, "Great strides have been made in building the station's revenue base under Monica Lewis's outstanding leadership. Monica has a proven track record of success and is truly deserving of this promotion." Lewis has worked at WUSL for 10 years, the last two and a half as LSM.

point. So I would say there would be no effect on MCA Records or any of the other music businesses."

This deal allows Seagram CEO Edgar Bronfman Jr., a sometime songwriter, to realize a long-held desire to become a player in the film business. He produced "The Border" (starring Jack Nicholson) in 1981 and more recently had moved Seagram into a 15% stake in Time-Warner. That holding will likely be divested.

A label spokesperson theorized the new owners are "working their way through the ranks" and will meet with MCA Music Entertainment Group Chairman Al Teller and MCA Records President Richard Palmese soon. It was widely reported that MCA Chairman Lew Wasserman and President Sidney Sheinberg were left out of the sale talks entirely and only met with Bronfman and his father, Seagram Chairman Edgar Bronfman Sr., on Monday (4/10).

More Money?

MCA execs are said to be hoping Seagram will bring more cash to the table, ending the tight fiscal control Matsushita exercised. Tensions between Universal City and Osaka increased last year when the electronics company prohibited MCA from bidding on Virgin Records when it went into play.

The MCA Music Entertainment Group posted $2 billion in sales last year. In addition to MCA Records and its affiliated labels (including MCA/Nashville, Uptown, and Radioactive), the group includes Geffen, GRP, and a concert arm. Company sources value the group somewhere between $2.3 billion-$3 billion.

Matsushita, which acquired the film-music-TV-publishing conglomerate five years ago for $6.13 billion in cash and assumption of $1 billion in debt, accepted $5.7 billion for 80%. It retains 20% and a presence on the board. The price is essentially the same as it was in 1990. But the yen has risen dramatically against the dollar since then, making this sale a loss for the Japanese firm. The deal is set to close in June, at which point MCA is expected to be debt-free.

Weber

KLSX-FM/Los Angeles as VP/GM. Weber starts April 24; Rosenfeld will consult through the transition.

Group W Radio President Dan Mason commented, "Owen is a dynamic and seasoned radio person with significant experience in all aspects of radio management and virtually all formats. Each time he's managed a station — or a group — its ratings and financial performance have improved dramatically."

Weber's 30-year broadcasting career includes management or sales management posts at WTOP/Washington, Metromedia, First Media Corporation, and WCAO & WXYV/Baltimore. He was also Exec. VP for Summit. In 1993 he acquired 11 stations in four markets to form HMW and had been President/CEO ever since.

of the city that suffer from rather acute FM multipath. A-B switches at each rider's position allowed listeners to compare the analog and digital output of the University of Nevada's KUNV/Las Vegas's 91.5 MHz channel.

Because KUNV processed its signal gently, the difference in fidelity between analog and digital, while easily noticeable, wasn't dramatic. It's also doubtful that contemporary music stations make use of digital's wide dynamic range, so digital FM's biggest advantage will lie in its elimination of multipath distortion. Even in spots where analog distortion was severe and constant, digital reception was flawless.

There were a couple of momentary high-frequency dropouts during the 20-minute ride, but the advantage of static-free listening easily overrode that concern. USA Digital's engineers had to lower the FM station's signal-to-noise ratio by 59dB before the digital signal completely dropped out.

AM Band, FM Sound

The AM demonstration was equally impressive. In this instance, the signal was transmitted over the test frequency of 1660 kHz, using a solid-state transmitter on loan from Harris Allied and programming that originated from the convention hall.

Again, the bus travelled through areas known to cause signal problems, including an underpass at a shopping center parking lot. Although engineers warned of possible DAB dropouts at that location, no such problem occurred.

The improvement in fidelity was breathtaking. Though the analog signal was reasonable for conventional AM, the digital version possessed punch and sparkle — and sounded better than analog FM.

The only apparent downside for digital AM: The digital signal drops out at 1.2 mV/m, which is close to the secondary curve on a station's coverage map. Operators of Class IV or other low-power operations will not experience coverage gains with DAB.

Geslin spent three years handling similar duties at Chaos (now WORK). He joined RCA in '73 and served as a local regional promo rep for eight years. In '83 he became a Minneapolis local for EMI, where he rose to New York-based VP/Pop Singles over a nine-year stretch.

Fundis said, "I'm thrilled and flattered to be a part of this new venture with Herb Alpert and Jerry Moss. Their success with A&M Records is legendary. And their instinct for success begins with their love of music and appreciation for what makes a great record."

"I'm very excited about our future in Nashville and intend to make Almo Sounds a significant part of Nashville's impact on America and the world."

The company has a pressing/distribution agreement with Geffen; initial product is expected by early 1996.

Fundis spent two years as RCA/Nashville VP/A&R before leaving last February. He will continue to produce Trisha Yearwood; he told R&R his continued association with acts he produces for other labels will depend on his workload at Almo Sounds.

(Okay, so we're exaggerating a little.)

Hootie and the Blowfish "Cracked Rear View" has another explosive week at retail, surpassing the 2.5 million mark, and securing their #3 position on Billboard's Top 200. The new single, "Let her Cry", also has an incredible week at radio, with over 190 Top 40 stations already on this track. They include KRBE, Q106, WKSE, WIOQ, WZPL, B97, STAR94, and new this week at Z100, KDWB, KPLZ, WNCI, WPXY, WBZR, WFLZ, Q102. Add in the two appearances on David Letterman, the write-ups in Time, Newsweek, People, Rolling Stone and the amazing exposure at MTV and VH-1 and we're sure you will agree, this is the year of the Blowfish!

Alternating D.C. Radio Currents

You can put the kibosh on that curb chatter about WPGC/Washington PD Jay Stevens headin' to KKBT/L.A. to replace Keith Naftaly — who's said to be splitting for an Arista A&R gig. While Stevens would like to return to the West Coast someday, he told ST, "No one has contacted me about the KKBT job, so I'm not going anywhere. I love Washington. I love Infinity. I love 'PGC. I'm happy as a pig in poop."

Speakin' of 'PGC ... is WPGC-AM & FM Prez/GM Benjamin Hill about to be hand-picked by Infinity Prez/CEO Mel Karmazin to oversee eight Infinity properties in Detroit, Chicago, Atlanta, and Houston — while continuing to operate the 'PGC combo?

Meanwhile, is WMYK & KISS/Norfolk APD Damon Williams about to become the new PD for Hip-Hop, Go-Go, and Reggae-formatted WPGC-AM (Flava 1580)?

And — although neither WCPT-AM/Washington VP/GM Charlie Ochs nor PD Steve Chaconas will say for sure — it's a pretty good bet that 'CPT, which currently programs CNN Headline News, will flip to all-Business News, possibly by next Monday (4/17).

After all, Chaconas recently joined WCPT, having programmed all-Business News WPGC-AM for the past six years. (When WPGC-AM flipped to the Flava format earlier this year, WCPT picked up at least four programs from 'PGC-AM's old weekend lineup.)

Finally ... Infinity Lite AC WLIF/Baltimore picks up Washington Redskins rights for the 1995, 1996, and 1997 football seasons.

WROU/Dayton welcomes new PD Stan Thompkins, coming from afternoons at WKYS/Washington. Thompkins takes over from Marv Hankston, who exited several weeks back.

Rumors

- Will other KBCO/Denver staffers follow consultant Dennis Constantine's exit from the station?
- Is Mercury VP/Pop Promo Andy Szullinski going to accept the Active Industry Research VP/GM gig in order to be closer to Camden Yards and mom?
- Will Capitol Nat'l Promo Dir. Frank Murray be working for Burbank outta NYC?
- Will Mercury L.A. local promo dude Don Coddington segue to Elektra, possibly as soon as next week? And what else does Elektra Sr. VP Greg Thompson have up his sleeve?
- Is MCA Nat'l Dir./Alternative Rock Promo Gary Spivak on his way to taking an L.A.-based Sr. Dir./Nat'l Promo position for Atlantic's new TAG Recordings?
- Will WPLJ/NY swinger Kenny Walker cop the WHY/Miami afternoon drive slot, as Doug Dunbar jumps into the world of TV?
- Is ex-WWKX/Providence PD Scotty Snipes headed to PD at WAOA/Melbourne?
- Is Mike Stiles — former co-host of WDCG/Raleigh-Durham's Bob & Mike morning show — seriously talking to another prominent Southern CHR that recently lost its morning show producer?

Norman's Conquest

Warner/Reprise Nashville President Jim Ed Norman has renewed his contract for another five years.

As of last Friday (4/3), Premiere Radio Network is no longer syndicating WSIX/Nashville funnyman Gerry House's morning show. Exec. VP/Programming Tim Kelly told ST: "Gerry is a fabulous talent, but it may have been a concept that was ahead of its time. Country stations were just not willing to give up their local morning shows." House will continue to work with Premiere on a number of other comedy projects.

Law Whacks Radio Hacker

A computer hacker — who rigged contests at L.A. radio stations KIIS-FM, KPWR-FM, and KRTH-FM — was sentenced to 51 months in jail on Monday (4/10). Kevin Lee Poulsen, 29, also must pay $36,295 to KIIS, $20,000 to KPWR, and $1000 to KRTH as restitution.

Turner Broadcasting System is teaming up with Rhino Records to launch a new record label. Turner Classic Movies Music will focus on movie soundtracks Turner acquired with the 3300-title MGM/WB film library.

The Daily Herald reports that two complaints have been filed with the EEOC, apparently by former WNUA/Chicago staffers who felt they were passed over for promotions. Sources say there may be as many as six complaints pending.

Approximately 25% of WNUA's 30 current employees are African-American, but the number of African-American on-air personalities has dropped from six to three over the past six months. Of those who left the station, only one was replaced by an African-American.

While neither WNUA GM Ralph Sherman nor PD Lee Hansen could be reached for comment, Pyramid CEO Rich Balsbaugh told ST, "Our minority and EEO record speaks for itself. We're way above FCC requirements, and in almost every case, we're at or above market averages. These charges are bullshit!"

WXTB/Tampa announces the following programming elevations for a trio of staffers at new Classic Rock sister station WTBT: President/GM Dan DiLoreto will oversee operations of both outlets, PD Greg Mull

Rumbles

- WDAS-FM/Philly elevates Daisy Davis from MD to APD.
- KYLD/SF wakeup artist Frank Lozano re-ups for another year.
- KLYV/Dubuque, IA welcomes former WRCX/Chicago morning show producer Allan Fee as its new PD, and afternoon driver Jeff Andrews takes on APD/MD duties.
- WZNF/Champaign, IL welcomes new PD Sturgis, coming from crosstown WPGU. Former PD Jim Donnelly exits.
- WKFR/Kalamazoo, MI appoints Dave Michaels PD. He replaces Glen Dillon, who segues to mornings and stays on as MD.
- WHTO/Williamsport, PA morning driver Woody McKenzie is the station's new PD. He replaces Shawn Carey, who resigned.
- KTOF/Cedar Rapids, IA becomes AC KDAT. KTOF's calls and Religious format move to Quass Broadcasting's co-owned KHAK-AM, which previously simulcasted with Country KHAK-FM. KDAT names former WMT-FM/Cedar Rapids programmer Dennis Green PD/morning personality.
- WIBB/Macon welcomes new PD Kevin Fox, coming over from the WPEG/Charlotte MD gig.
- After five months as "The Blaze," KDEO-FM/Honolulu ditches Rock and returns to its all-request "Radio Free Hawaii" format under PD Norm Winter. PD Brock Whaley, MD Chris Chang, and the entire staff are out.
- WDND/Wilmington, IL flips from Hot AC to Progressive as WYKT (Kat 105.5).
- WGCI/Chicago ups part-timer Derrick Brown to interim MD as MD Vic Clemons exits to pursue other opportunities.
- Rock WKOJ/Middletown, NY changes calls to WRRV. Meanwhile, PD John Morgan resigns; WPDH/Poughkeepsie OM Bill Palmeri will handle 'KOJ's PD duties until further notice. Back at 'PDH, Scott Carlin becomes PD.
- WLLD/Columbus, OH morning dude Stormin' Norman exits to be PD at WBTU/Fl. Wayne, IN — a position open since Mitch Mahan took the WRKZ/Harrisburg, PA PD gig six months back. Back at WLLD, Deb Fox and Matt McCoy — who were part of the wakeup team with Norman — will become the morning co-hosts.
- KRYS/Corpus Christi PD/morning man Scott Ward exits for mornings at KFRG/Riverside-San Bernardino, where he'll be reunited with his former KRYS morning partner, Bo Wintrow. Back at KRYS, MD Danny McWilliams becomes interim PD.
- WPGY (The Piggy)/Williamsport, PA goes Country, naming former crosstown WILQ morning man Todd Steward PD/mornings. The Piggy was previously N/T WRAC-FM and had been dark for the last three months.

RADIO & RECORDS

- Sony and Time-Warner appoint Corinne Baldassano as SW Networks VP/Programming.

Finally, it's resolved! Last week, SW Networks ended months of rumor, gossip, and speculation by announcing it has signed former New York Governor Mario Cuomo to host a weekly talk program.

According to SW Director/Talk Programming David Rimmer, the show will air Saturdays, 10am-1pm, beginning some“time in June. Now that they know Cuomo definitely has a gig, Talk PDs can't stop speculating on whether he'll be any good. Is he the next Ed Koch, the former New York City Mayor whose daily WABC/New York program dominates its hour?
 Or will he be another radio disappointment a la Ross Perot?

Rimmer, for one, thinks Cuomo's a natural. "Mario Cuomo has a phenomenal ability to communicate ideas. He's a man of intellect, able to match any critic in a debate. Anyone who doubts that should talk to [reporters who covered Cuomo as governor]."

No Name Calling

Cuomo's show, Rimmer says, will

He's a guy who has all the tools to succeed. He doesn't hesitate to speak his mind, he's smart, and he's funny. But I hope he doesn't do a lot of somber, talking-head stuff.

- Tim Farley

be structured like other talk shows, with Cuomo holding forth as well as talking to guests and callers. But, he adds, the show will steer clear of the gratuitous confrontation that marks some talk programs. "There won't be any name-calling," he says. "We're going to break away from a lot of the scripts people use in dealing with callers and guests." Those guests, Rimmer adds, will include not only key politicians and newsmakers, but also "the people affected by the issues." Cuomo himself has often said he would, for example, interview welfare mothers as part of a discussion on welfare reform. Cuomo, Rimmer promises, will also reach beyond politics to address a broad range of topics that interest him, including sports, books, and entertainment.

Rimmer offers a warning to both friends and foes of Cuomo who think the former pol is going to be the liberal answer to Rush Limbaugh. "To call him the antidote to Rush Limbaugh diminishes what he does. A lot of his opinions are going to surprise people. You can't describe him in two words. He's an engaging, compelling human being."

Multiyear Contract

Consultant Bill McMahon, who may soon be advising client stations on whether to take Cuomo's show, wonders whether the former governor will one day jilt affiliates to return to politics.

Not likely, says Rimmer. First, SW has a "multiyear contract" with its new star. Second, he notes, Cuomo has already turned down rare opportunities to run for president or accept a Supreme Court nomination.

McMahon also notes the name recognition that helps make Cuomo appealing to stations could prove to be a double-edged sword. If people flock to his show at the outset to hear the great Mario Cuomo and are disappointed by his early efforts, the program could fail quickly. "The fact is, nothing will kill a bad product faster than good advertising," says McMahon.

That would be a cause for concern, Rimmer acknowledges, if Cuomo wasn't talented and substantive. What's more, he adds, Cuomo has experience hosting talk programs — including a show he did as Lt. Governor on WMCA/New York in the early '80s — and thus will avoid many of the clunky rookie errors made by such political-figures-turned-talkers as G. Gordon Liddy and Jim Hightower.

'Just Be Mario'

Some in the format wonder whether the intense, cerebral Cuomo might come off as pedantic or preachy. Others fret that Cuomo might feel compelled to serve as an official mouthpiece for the Democratic party.

"I think he's a guy who has all the tools to succeed," says WRVA/Richmond PD Tim Farley. "He doesn't hesitate to speak his mind, he's smart, and he's funny. But I hope he doesn't do a lot of somber, talking-head stuff. I think he should just go out there and be Mario and not worry about being the voice of the Democrats."

Mario Cuomo has a phenomenal ability to communicate ideas. He's a man of intellect, able to match any critic in a debate.

- David Rimmer

” "It's not going to be a preachy or pedantic program," he insists. "It's going to be a conversational show — and very entertaining."

CONTEMPORARY HIT RADIO

Finetuning For The Spring Book

☐ Have you stepped away from daily grind and 'really' listened to your station lately?

"Good radio stations win occasionally and great radio stations win correctly. More stations hold themselves back by not executing simple principles that work time and time again. Why? The day-to-day grind takes you away from paying attention to the most important thing: the sound of the radio station."

So says Bill Richards Consulting President (and veteran CHR PD)

Bill Richards, whose brain I recently picked for thoughts on preparing for the ever-so-important spring book.

Nurturing Your Station

"Between meetings, phone calls, personnel problems, more meetings, sales questions, more phone calls, listening to music, scheduling music, making jock schedules, still more phone calls, writing memos, etc., when do you have time to attentively listen to your station?" continues Richards. "With everything that goes on Every PD should take a day to listen to the market. You'll be amazed at how rewarding this effort will be.

in your day, are you giving your station the nurturing it needs?

"Every PD should take a day once a month to listen to the market through this important ratings period. Do it away from the station, devoid of interruptions. The PD should be completely unavailable for the day. Monitor from 6am-10pm, with few breaks. Concentrate your efforts on monitoring not only your station, but your competition as well. You'll be amazed at how rewarding this effort will be."

What does Richards feel is the most important ingredient of a successful station? "What happens inside the walls. It's really about what lies within, not only within yourself. More stations fail from inward implosions than anything else. If your staff is not cohesive and heading toward the same goals, absolute success can't be accomplished. Here are some ideas to keep in mind to make sure things are running smoothly, which is paramount to creating a winning environment."

Staff Participation

Richards suggests you "assemble a brief questionnaire and ask your staff to complete it. For example, ask questions like:

- "What are our greatest strengths and weaknesses?"
- "What would you do if you were programming the station?"
- "How would you go about attacking the competition?"
- "Is anything holding you back from doing your job?"
- "Are you getting all the tools you need? If not, what do you need?"

"Smart programmers surround themselves with a smart staff and use them to their fullest potential. Everyone on your staff has an opinion and should be asked to express it. Sometimes the greatest ideas come from the places you least expect. It's also very important to offer anonymity. Let them type it up and hand it in. The goal is to make them feel like they don't have to hold anything back. Remember, you're looking for honest feedback.

"Most people will feel great about giving you feedback. It cleanses the soul and makes them feel like they're being listened to. It's rewarding to hear responses like, 'No one has ever really asked my opinion about things.' Most people feel stiffed when it comes to involvement. Remember, winning stations get everyone involved. When was the last time you asked your receptionist for an opinion on something involving the station?"

Listen for clues to what people are really thinking when they're talking. Even a flippant comment by an on-air jock could be an early indication of a problem.

Provide Feedback

Richards also recommends providing ongoing feedback. "People want to know where they stand. Regularly scheduled meetings provide the stability for productive feedback. People enjoy and feel comfortable knowing you're a consistent listener and that you care. This bonding process helps them and you too. They'll do a better job knowing you're concerned, and the attitude will transcend to the entire staff. It will also assist you in identifying problem areas (or employees) well before they become cancerous to your staff.

"Someone famous once said, 'You can't learn by talking.' Listen for clues to what people are really thinking when they're talking. Much like parents raising children, you'll be well-served by listening for what's being said. Even a flippant

Ratings Sweep Batting Order

Consultant Bill Richards suggests reviewing the following checklist before plunging headlong into the spring sweep.

- Ensure your music is as familiar as possible.
- Make sure your morning clock doesn't have any new music slots, unless it's a really hot song by a core artist.
- Update your music categories.
- Freshen your sweepers.
- Log requests. They're an important part of being on top of what's happening.
- Reread prior research projects. Have you accomplished the goals? Refocus on items you may have missed.
- Have the jocks switch shifts for a day and give you a written report on what they heard. This way the jocks will see what's going on when they're usually on the air.
- Put in new clocks. Don't let jocks get too comfortable with a clock. It's a constant balance of letting them feel comfortable and forcing them to pay attention to things.
- Help the staff understand what it's like to be a listener. If talent gets complacent about a promotion and loses focus or excitement, think of ways to pump them up. For example, when my station was giving away money for a long time, the jocks got bored with it. I took them to a bank and arranged for the amount of money we'd given away to that point to be stacked in dollar bills in a vault. I made my point, and the jocks responded with renewed vigor.
- Provide the airstaff with access to the trades. Some managers fear staffers will see employment ads. Good jocks are striving to move forward. Support and encourage growth, don't stifle it.

comment by an on-air jock could be an early indication of a problem."

People enjoy and feel comfortable knowing you're a consistent listener, and that you care. They'll do a better job knowing you're concerned, and the attitude will transcend to the entire staff.

nice to say, put it in a memo. If you have to be negative, tell the person behind closed doors. (Of course this is different from creating a paper chain for a problem employee, should it be warranted). Establish an environment that encourages input, provides a willing ear, and helps everyone contribute to making the station a winner."

Do's And Don'ts

Do's

- Identify new music.
- Play only familiar titles out of stopsets.
- Make sure songs out of stopsets are uptempo.
- Make sure your stopsets end before your competitor's.
- Play promos into stopsets.
- Make sure air talent knows what's expected of them.
- Listen for proper execution of the format.
- Monitor the morning show.

Don'ts

- Allow talk right out of stopsets.
- Split up commercials with sweepers or jingles.

More stations fail from inward implosion than anything else. If your staff is not cohesive and heading toward the same goals, absolute success cannot be accomplished.

Callout America. HotScores

BY TONY NOVIA

Now with over 3000 different interviews conducted for CALLOUT AMERICA over the first eight weeks, we thought it would be a good time to give you some benchmarks to assist you in using CALLOUT AMERICA data:

- Favorability 3.60% (on the 1-5 scale)
- Burn 22.0%
- Familiarity 70.0%

What does this mean? For example, the typical song in CALLOUT AMERICA has a about 70% familiarity rating, a mean favorability score of about 3.60, and 22% burn. A song that scores close to these figures should be considered "average." It doesn't mean that it is bad, just typical. If a song cannot achieve comparable scores, it should be considered below average."

Make it 10 weeks in a row at #1 for "WHEN I COME AROUND" by Green Day (Reprise). It still averages a 4.23 with women 12-17, 3.99 with women 18-24, and 3.70 with women 25-34.

"THANK YOU" by Boyz II Men (Motown) continues to move upward with a 3.78. It scores a 4.01 with women 12-17, 3.59 with women 18-24, and 3.40 with women 25-34.

"ODE TO MY FAMILY" by the Cranberries (Island) debuts with a 3.48 (on the 1-5 scale), averaging a 4.23 with women 12-17, 3.99 women with 18-24, and a 3.70 with women 25-34.

"LIGHTNING CRASHES" by Live (Radioactive) scores a strong second week favorability score of 3.80 with familiarity still only at 54%. On a 1-5 scale, it scores a 3.98 among women 12-17, 3.91 with women 18-24, and 3.29 with women 25-34.

Breakers: Songs registering 2500 plays or more for the first time. Bullets awarded to songs gaining plays over the previous week. If two songs are tied in number of plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE.

Breakers: Songs registering 850 plays or more for the first time. Bullets awarded to songs gaining plays over the previous week. If two songs are tied in number of plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE.

JAMMIN' ON THE PHONE — XHTZ (Jammin' 90)/San Diego PD Lisa Vazquez proudly displays the city's first radio pre-paid phone card. The Jammin' 90 Phone Card, which sells for $10, features the San Diego skyline and is also good for discounts at area nightclubs, restaurants, and insurance companies.

I WANT A JOB LIKE THAT — MTV played host to several radio luminaries during its Spring Break week in Lake Havasu, AZ. "Working" hard are (standing, l-r) MTV's Lisa Braun, WZJM/Cleveland MD Big Dave Eubanks, KUBE/Seattle overnighter Greg Valentine, KBXX/Houston Promo. Dir. Bobby Z, KUBE weekender Bobby O., KBXX night talent Kid Fresh, MTV's Wendy Weatherford, and WXKS/Boston night talent Ed McMann; (kneeling l-r) KYLD/San Francisco AMer Frank Lozano, and ex-KUTQ/Salt Lake City AMer Crazy Dave.

WALT LOVE

The Art Of Choosing New Music

□ Target audiences, street buzz play roles in stations' selection processes

New music to Mainstream UC stations is like water to someone stranded in the Sahara. I asked three MDs to discuss how they view new music when trying to decide what's best for their airwaves.

VIC CLEMONS, MD
WGCI-FM/CHICAGO

"I listen to the music while keeping in mind the focus of the station — our 18-34 target. I also must keep in mind not to get too far over the edge in terms of the content and the language used within the song. I'm listening for the overall sound of the record: Does it fit the sound of the station? Does it feel right?"

"Then we want to know if it draws out what it's meant to: If it's an emotional love song, does it make you reflect on those kinds of emotions? Or a party song — does it make you want to get up and party? Does it have a good hook? Does it sound like it's a song people will gravitate to and go out and buy? Those are the kinds of songs I look for — something unique to take into a music meeting with my PD."

"When Arrested Development's 'People Everyday' was released, that spoken, I'm-talking-to-you rap sound wasn't very prominent. We felt that sound was unique to present to our audience. Plus, the music was a little bit different. Right now we're playing Des'Ree's 'You Gotta Be,' which is a bit different from what you'd typically hear on a Mainstream Urban station. We also played Kirk Franklin's gospel 'Why We Sing.' We try to bring attention to these songs, not just make it look like we've stumbled. [We don't want] listeners to say, 'What's this all about? Why are you playing this record?' We introduce and back-sell these records so the audience knows what it is when we play something unique.

"Anyone who wants to drop in on the music meeting is totally welcome to give an opinion. We listen to the product, and — if anything is questionable — we go over it again and again to determine if it's really something we need or if we should wait and get some data that might lower the risk. Market response — requests and retail — plays a major role for us, even from the early stages. Callout becomes helpful when the record has been on for a few weeks — when people have become familiar with the record and are actually able to give an evaluation. We use callout each week; we have a company that does the research for us.

"Chicago is a very responsive market. If we put something on the radio on Thursday or Friday, and I go into a record store on Saturday, people will be in there buying that record. There will be a buzz about it if it's going to be a real record."

STEVE MURRY, PD/MD
WEUP/HUNTSVILLE, AL

"It's really hard to sit down and listen to every new piece of music that comes in, so I really depend on my personalities. They're out in the streets and the clubs — [they know] what's happening and what club jocks are playing. I'm then able to get a feel for what's happening in the streets. I also talk with my production director, who helps me with local store reports by contacting record stores on a weekly basis. We try to find the hottest thing that's being sold in our format. Then we combine that information with the national music charts. Plus, we look at the music information provided by Media Based Research, which provides us with a weekly callout based on a sampling of 35 stations.

“I’m very careful that the music I choose will be mass-appeal for our audience. I would never want to put a record on this station that I couldn’t play for my mom or daughter.”
- Steve Murry

Steve Murry

"With the trades, I look at the music information that shows me what's been added by stations in my area, what they're playing, and how many times they're playing different pieces of music. I also want to know what's popular in other areas because it might be right for our market. Then I start looking at our in-house phones; our personalities are required to do request sheets of the calls that come in during their airshifts. All of this information can seem overwhelming at “I’m listening for the overall sound of the record: Does it fit the sound of the station? Does it feel right?”

- Vic Clemons

times, but it helps narrow things down by process of elimination. I look at the songs that have the best numbers and the most action in this market as well as those close to us.

"The Research Group [recently began] testing music for us. Often, I'll take a chance on a piece of music if I think it will work for our target audience. I'll put it into a light rotation and see what kind of action we get. And if I see it happening with requests and local retail, we stay with it. Because of music video channels like the Box, BET, VH1, and the like, the music seems to get to TV before it gets to us here at radio. I've really had to look at this as a source — people are watching the videos and find music they like, so we need to be playing this music if it fits our 18-34 target audience.

"I'm very careful that the music I choose will be mass-appeal for our audience. I would never want to put a record on this station that I couldn't play for my mom or daughter. Something I know will soon set the trend for music in our format is the cleaner kind of hip-hop, mid-to-up tempo music with a positive message.

"I stay away from anything that will offend anybody. We want to be responsible and don't want to send out the wrong message. While a lot of young people listen to this station, a lot of older people still listen to this station because they've listened to it all of their lives. This community won't accept any distasteful presentation from any radio station."

TONI ST. JAMES, MD
KJMS/MEMPHIS

"When I look at the 20 or 30 CDs that have come in for the week, a number of things take place. First, I see if I've heard any street buzz on any of this music. Memphis is a very active club market and street market; I always keep an eye and ear on what's happening in the streets so I don't miss anything. Second, knowing the dynamic pace of the Memphis market, there are things that work here that wouldn't work anywhere else.

"For instance, I received the new Shirley Brown CD in the mail — she's a Memphis resident who may be a bit passe' in a number of markets. Upon listening to the CD, there was no doubt this was a Memphis record. In order to prove my point, I tested it in middays. And, true to form, I got immediate calls. To choose the correct music for a winning radio station, you must know your market, what kind of music has sold in the market, and by whom.

Toni St. James

This market was extremely slow on Mary J. Blige's 'I'm Goin' Down' — partly because we already had started on another version from another label, but also because remakes must prove they deserve the airtime in this market.

"We do weekly retail callouts. Not only do we ask what's currently selling, but we ask what they — from a retailer's point of view — think they'll get a vibe on. We've also been doing regular club nights to see what people are responding to on the dance floor, and we do regular calls as far as our listeners calling in on our request lines. If they like it enough to buy it, they love it enough to hear it on our shows.

“To choose the correct music for a winning radio station, you must know your market, what kind of music has sold in the market, and by whom.”
- Toni St. James

"The main thing is to learn as much about your individual market as you can. It's not just about asking questions, it's about asking the right questions when it comes to music for that particular market. If you talk to people who interact with your city's different facets of the music business — retailers, club owners, listeners, and street jocks — you'll learn everything you need to know to succeed."

Breakers: Songs registering 800 plays or more for the first time. Bullets awarded to songs gaining in plays over the previous week. If two songs are tied in number of plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE.

Expos, Festivals, And Brawls

The spring book is upon us. So everybody's looking for creative ways to dress up their sound, have some fun, and raise some money for charity, as well.

Here's how some of your Country cohorts are entertaining their listeners.

Exploring New Territory

WCLB/Boston started a new show, "The Edge Of Country," two weeks ago. Hosted by afternoon driver Jeff McKee and airing Sunday nights from 10pm-midnight, it explores the connection between today's new country and writers/performers not traditionally considered "country." Folk, blues, ethnic music, and rock are a few of the musical vistas explored.

Here's a sample of the songs that were played during the first two shows:

- Mary Chapin Carpenter & Shawn Colvin/One Cool Remove
- Little Feat/Dixie Chicken/Tripe Face Boogie/Rocket In My Pocket
- Linda Ronstadt/Someone To Lay Down Beside Me
- Mark Knopfler/The Bug

• Eric Clapton/Tulsa Time

Other artists featured on the program have included Heather Myles, Indigo Girls, Allman Brothers Band, and Chris Rea.

In This Corner ...

WPOC/Baltimore participated in the recent "Scouting For Food" to help local Boy Scouts collect 250,000 pounds of food for Maryland's hungry. Staffers were on hand at one of several area dropoff locations to assist with the collection.

WPOC also jumped into the ring with World Championship Wrestling to promote "Superbrawl V," giving away tickets to the pay-per-view event held at the Baltimore Arena. The station also hosted a huge pre-fight party, which was attended by Hacksaw Jim Duggan, Dustin Rhodes, and Macho Man Randy Savage, who personally challenged PD Bob Moody to a cage match for the WCW title. Word is Savage later backed down when he saw Baltimore Bob in tights.

I Do, They Did, He Did

WOOZ/Carbondale, IL sponsored a fun promotion tied in with Vince Gill's album, "When Love Finds You." Listeners registered at various locations to win the grand prize of a wedding (or a renewal of vows) or packages that included Gill concert tickets and an invitation to the grand prize winner's wedding.

WOOZ provided a western wedding dress, tux, wedding bands, wedding/reception hall, cake, refreshments, decorations, flowers, a federal judge to perform the ceremony, honeymoon accommodations, 10 tickets to the Gill show for the wedding party and family, plus front row concert tickets and backstage passes for the lucky couple.

Being the cool guy he is, Gill spotted the winners — who were married just three hours before the show — and sang "Look At Us" to them as they danced in front of thousands in the arena.

Honoring The Silent Majority

KYCW/Seattle has instituted an "Unsung Heroes" program, which is designed to recognize people who make a positive difference in the world. It was developed following the deaths of four Seattle firefighters, who lost their lives battling a warehouse fire.

KYCW listeners are asked to send letters or faxes explaining how their "Unsung Hero" has made a difference in their lives. Middayer Penny Coyne reads every "Unsung Hero"

LOOK AT THEM — Vince Gill shares a moment with a couple who won a wedding, concert tickets, and backstage passes to his show, thanks to WOOZ/Carbondale, IL. The bride is holding her wedding guest book, which she had Gill autograph.

letter twice per day, announcing the hero's name and that of the person who nominated him or her. A certificate of appreciation is issued to each person so honored.

Stop The Violence

KRYS/Corpus Christi has joined area merchants in the fight against violence and drugs by issuing a free brochure called "Stop The Violence." It's a fact-filled guide for parents and children to help them understand the pressures kids face every day.

Bring Your Cans

WYGY/Cincinnati and a local cinema chain recently presented the "Cans Film Festival." Listeners received a ticket to one of 10 first-run movies by donating two cans of food, which benefited needy families through Shared Harvest.

Hittin' The Road

KSON/San Diego recently debuted its "All New KSON Flatbed Show" for 1995, with more than 200 performances planned for Southern and Northern California. The show plays for private parties and public performances, which are promoted by KSON.

So Ya Wanna Be In Country

WFMS & WGRL/Indianapolis conducted its Country Music Expo

two weeks ago, presenting seminars on songwriting, breaking into the biz, and what to do if you want to be a DJ. A local band competition was also staged, with Nashville music execs acting as judges. Among the stars participating were the Mavericks, Rhett Akins, Wesley Dennis, Shania Twain, and the staffs of the Country duopolies in their first-ever dual-station event.

CD For Kids

KUAD/Ft. Collins, CO recently compiled a Country CD, "K99 Country Cares For Kids." The CD sold for $5.99 at Subway and First National Bank locations and featured songs by local country bands and artists. The station also hosted a "Premiere Party Night" for the CD at a local nightclub, where the CD-featured artists performed. Proceeds benefited the Boys and Girls Clubs in the area.

Whaddya Give For ...

WXXQ/Rockford, IL auctioned off front row seats and backstage passes for a recent Alan Jackson concert; proceeds were earmarked for St. Jude's. The bidding started at $100 and climbed to $750 by the end of the week. The Friday morning show featured a bidding war between the final two bidders, with the winner handing over a nifty $4000 for the tickets.

ACM Debuts '101 Greatest Hits'

The Academy Of Country Music and K-Tel International have joined forces for a 30-minute infomercial called, "The Academy Of Country Music's 101 Greatest Country Hits."

Hosted by Eddie Rabbitt, the 10-CD (or 10-cassette) package contains 101 classic country tunes, all of which were Top 10 hits. The songs, which span the '50s through the '80s, are by such artists as Eddy Arnold, Glen Campbell, Johnny Cash, George Jones, Loretta Lynn, Willie Nelson, Tammy Wynette, and the late Patsy Cline and Roger Miller. The set will be available for $89.95 by calling (800) 664-9955.

Speaking of Rabbitt, he's scheduled to perform at the Glen Campbell Goodtime Theatre in Branson, MO for several weeks in '95, beginning with a two-week run on April 25. Rabbitt also teamed with Crystal Gayle to record the theme song to the Disney-distributed "Gordy," a movie (featuring Doug Stone) about a talking pig. The Rabbitt-Gayle duet, "I Made A Promise To You," will be released as a single by Curb, which will also distribute the film's soundtrack.

Briefly Noted

According to the Nashville Tennessean, Alan Jackson's association with Fruit Of The Loom won't see him answering the "briefs or boxers" question — he's set to sell ladies' underwear. Jackson's sponsorship deal, signed last December, involves a tour sponsorship and in-store promotions. The company has committed $60 million to the campaign.

The newspaper says a stand-up of Jackson in jeans and an FOL T-shirt will be featured in the undergarment departments of "mass merchandise" stores like Wal-Mart, K-mart, and Target. Jackson will also appear on coupons offering $1 off ladies undergarments; these coupons will be published in Sunday newspaper advertising supplement.

ACM's 10 CDs, 101 hits

There's also a sweepstakes offering a grand prize trip for two to Nashville for the Country Music Association awards.

NSAI At Home & On The Road

The Nashville Songwriters Association International will host Tin Pan South '95, a gathering of pop, rock, and country songwriters, April 17-22.

Among those kicking off the event at the Ryman Auditorium on April 17 are Michael McDonald, Paul Williams, Steve Winwood, Randy Bachman, Tom T. Hall, the Moody Blues' Justin Hayward, Alan and Marilyn Bergman, and Tony Award-winner Cy Coleman. Those performing at 328 Performance Hall on April 18 include Kim Carnes, John Hiatt, Steve Winwood, T. Graham Brown, Lari White, and Alex Harvey. And the Ace of Clubs is the place to be on April 19 and 20 for Jimmy Webb, Debbie Gibson, Beth Neilsen Chapman, Steve Dorff, Peter McCann, Randy Goodrum, and Mike Reid.

Over 300 songwriters will play at various Nashville clubs, including Richard Leigh, Pat Alger, John Ims, Hugh Prestwood, Charlie Black, Rory Bourke, PLATINUM HILL — Faith Hill was recently honored in Nashville for her debut platinum album, "Take Me As I Am." On hand were (l-r): Warner/Reprise Nashville President Jim Ed Norman, MCA artist Reba McEntire (an idol of Hill's), Hill, Hill's producer Scott Hendricks, and Warner/Reprise Sr. VP Martha Sharp.

Kent Blazy, Marc Beeson, Tony Arata, Trey Bruce, Gary Burr, Guy Clark, Paul Davis, Billy Dean, Bob DiPiero, Radney Foster, Hal Ketchum, Wesley Dennis, and Dean Dillon.

The NSAI also presented a Music City-style guitar pull at MIDEM in Cannes, France. The Nashville Songwriters Night was designed to promote professional songwriters and the need for worldwide protection of intellectual property. Among those performing were Alex Harvey, Richard Leigh, Hugh Prestwood, and Ralph Murphy.

Another Honor For Willie

Willie Nelson received the Country Gospel Album of the Year award from the International Country Gospel Music Association during award ceremonies in Dallas. He was honored for his "Peace In The Valley." Nelson, who was on hand for the festivities, performed a few songs from the album.

The organization's awards for Entertainer of the Year and Chris- tian Country Personality went to Don Richmond. Billy Walker was named Country Gospel Personality and Veteran Male Vocalist, while Judy De Ramus was tapped as Christian Country Female Vocalist of the Year.

Searching For Talent

The third annual Jim Beam Country Music Talent Search is under way, with unsigned professionals and amateurs invited to compete. Interested artists must submit an audio or video performance tape by August 10 to: Jim Beam Country Music Talent Search Contest, PO Box 5016, Ronks, PA 17573. Five finalists will compete at Nashville's Wild Horse Saloon in November to determine the winner.

Silver Dollar City in Branson, MO has joined with American Kids and Spotlight Talent to present the "Branson Talent Showdown." The contest, to be held June 11-13, is open to all ages. Contestants must pre-register; forms can be obtained by calling (800) 240-7016.

'70s Oldies Eating A Slice Of Pie

As new formats crop up, programmers must guard against losing listeners

Today's top growth formats are '70s Oldies, Alternative, and NAC — and AC serves as the prime '70s Oldies farm system. Here's how two programmers are reacting to that new format's arrival.

"It's much like another restaurant opening in town or adding a different menu item," remarks KKCW/Portland PD Bill Minckler. Portland's three-way AC race was reduced to two last October when Hot AC KXL-FM ("Star") joined the '70s bandwagon. "People might not want to hear '70s music all the time. But if a station does a good marketing job, people will know where to go when they want it."

Bill Minckler

'Another Option'

Several different all-'70s programming offshoots have surfaced. Regarding KXL, Minckler comments, "It's more like the Cox version and includes classic rock, familiar '70s hits, disco, and everything in between. The '70s Oldies format has become another option for our listeners. [It's] much more of a niche than traditional Oldies stations and, unfortunately, a viable AC spinoff."

Noticing that the '70s Oldies craze has affected some traditional Oldies outlets, he adds, "They're focusing more on late-'50s to mid-'60s, leaving the late-'60s to Classic Rockers. Traditional Oldies stations have to be more careful with '70s music because listeners now can go to one place to get it. Market size also plays a part in what should be done."

KKCW began a self-evaluation program following KXL's format adjustment. "You look at your latest research to make sure your core likes what you're doing. There wasn't much we could do to introduce '70s music we weren't playing because this isn't the expectation of our listeners."

Listener Expectations

Maintaining KKCW's 25-54 female core is among Minckler's primary concerns. "Part of my audience wants a harder Bob Seger sound, and another wants a more pop Donna Summer sound. Most of these people will still [come] us, but we'll lose audience. We're always being pushed, so when people come in our door, we need to have everything as close to perfect as possible."

The exodus of ACs to '70s Oldies has happened without a simultaneous entry of stations into AC. "Provided they're executing the format reasonably well, one or two ACs per market will probably be the limit. One will be hot, the other soft. If a station [is clearly vulnerable], someone else might come in and try to take that position."

"AC has traditionally mixed eras, but those eras are now splitting off the format. If an AC isn't soft enough or [is] too broad, another station can come in, be more specific, and win.

Other than in small markets, traditional ACs can't be very broad musically. More and more of the successful ones are really buttoning things down. For example, some stations [previously] playing 1000 titles may now be playing 700. Some of those other 300 titles are being heard on other frequencies."

63

The '70s Oldies format has become another option for our listeners. [It's] much more of a niche than traditional Oldies stations and, unfortunately, a viable AC spinoff.

Waiting In The Wings

Modified market programming options have helped give KKCW a softer flavor. "We're still fairly hip to our core and probably play just one Barry Manilow song. Portland's maturing, and tenths of [ratings] points mean more now, so I look at everything I can get. We won't specifically adjust music rotations to attract available 55+ women.

"I don't know what it will be, but another new format [will appear] in a few months. It's more important than ever to know what our listeners want and expect from us. If I don't do that, I'm not doing my job."

RATINGS RECAP

Large-Market Format Converts

We've tracked 14 ACs in Top 50 markets that have recently flipped to some '70s-based format variation. Here's how they — and the market's remaining ACs — performed this book. In each case, ex-ACs are listed first; noted Arbitron fluctuations are fall-fall.

WRCH	-0.3 #9	Flat #2	-0.4 #2

WZMX ("Mix") adopted its new format on 10/8/94.

Only WOCT/Baltimore and KMJI/Denver failed to show 18-34 increases. WPPT/Cincinnati's 4.3 rise 18-34 was the highest. WZMX/Hartford's No. 2 rank was the demo's strongest.

With the exception of WYST/Detroit and KMJI, all former ACs improved 25-54; WSSS/Charlotte's 2.2 increase 25-54 was the most significant; WSSS and KXOA-FM/Sacramento posted the best 25-54 demo rank (No. 4).

Six stations (42.8%) bettered 35-64 numbers from a year ago; WSSS displayed both the best 35-64 improvement and highest market rank. These former-ACs-turned-'70s Oldies typically rank No. 8 18-34, No. 9 25-54, and No. 10 35-64.

Satisfying Your Customers

"A '70s Oldies station becomes a second choice for many AC listeners," comments WBEB/Philadelphia PD Jim Ryan. He previously programmed Hot AC KXYQ/Portland and witnessed KXL-FM's Hot AC-'70s Oldies transformation. He now faces a similar situation in Philadelphia since longtime AC WMGK has defected to the '70s format.

"After a '70s station signs on, classic Rod Stewart, Billy Joel, and Eagles '70s test scores increase. Since some '70s songs have outdated production, one good way to freshen these songs is to play live versions. There's a greater demand for '70s hits, so I play them. I don't want listeners leaving my station to hear those songs elsewhere."

by their new competitor. Says Ryan, "They may feel they'll burn out these songs. You can't escape some sampling. People listen to WBEB at work, but WMGK does well against us on weekends. People might perceive '70s stations as being more 'fun' and want to sample them. My counterprogramming goal is to make us sound more

Inevitable Sampling

Some other AC programmers, however, are quite reluctant to air the same '70s music being played fun so listeners don't have to go someplace else to find it." Part of Ryan's plan includes the addition of non-'70s-oriented weekend promotions.

CYNDEE MAXWELL

Rock 'N' Roll Mascot Menagerie

Choosing a character that meets your long-term needs is vital for success

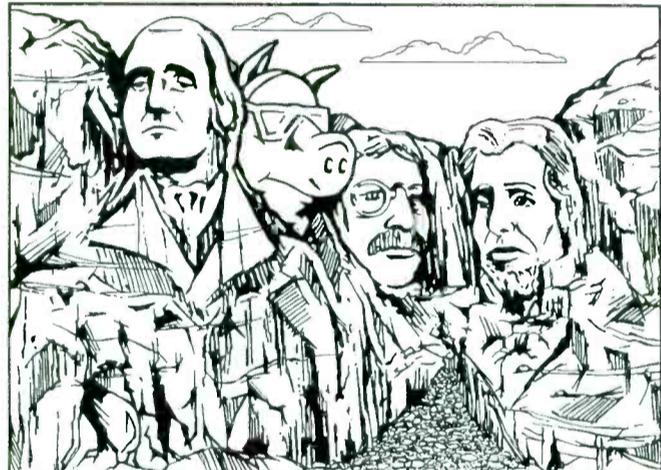

Station mascots can reinforce your station's image in the minds of listeners — at station events, on T-shirts, bumper stickers, etc. But you must make sure the image your mascot presents is in sync with your station's attitude.

Without a doubt, KSHE/St. Louis is one of the leaders in mascot marketing, and Marketing/Promotion Director Abigail Pollay provides some insight into the jungle of mascots.

Pollay says stations that are considering a mascot must first determine their needs. She explains, "You need to think about the overall image of the station, how you're going to use the mascot, and how committed you are in the long term to market the mascot."

One thing Pollay stresses is staying off bandwagons. "When the Power Pig first came out in Tampa, I suddenly got calls from stations that wanted a pig mascot and wanted some suggestions," she recalls. "When I asked why they wanted a pig, the answer invariably was that one station got some exposure with it. They didn't even know how it could relate to their er, the 18-34 audience. "One additional caution I'd offer is that stations not put a voice to the mascot. If that voice ever leaves the station, it could be very hard to duplicate. That's why we've never put a voice to Sweetmeat. The walking mascot never talks — he just waves his arms and plays the guitar."

MOUNT RUSHMEAT

KSHE95

KSHE/St. Louis's memorial to the legend of Sweetmeat is timeless and relatable.

You need to think about the overall image of the station, how you're going to use the mascot, and how committed you are in the long term to market the mascot.

— Abigail Pollay

station. If you want to choose a mascot, you must be clear on why you're making that decision.

"As for the long-term commitment, think about a mascot you can live with for the life of the station. The most successful mascots, like our Sweetmeat or the [WMMR/Cleveland] Buzzard, have been around for years.

"If you plan on a long-term commitment with a mascot, draw it in a way where it can be slightly altered — for characters or an updated image, if necessary. We also have a walking mascot and a 22-foot inflatable. I'd recommend these additional aspects — especially the inflatable."

Swine Of The Times

Sweetmeat has gone through many topical permutations over the years ... and according to Pollay, some definitely work better than others. "While we don't have any perceptual research on Sweetmeat itself, I primarily measure the success of it based on merchandise sales. We

WRCX's 'Brutal' Campaign

New jock in town makes splash with listeners within a month

New WRCX/Chicago afternoon personality Lou Brutus sure knows how to get up-close and personal with his listeners. Before the former WMMR/Philadelphia late-nighter hit the Windy City airwaves, Brutus delivered his version of a press release announcing his arrival — part of which is shown at right.

Then Brutus made the most of his status as the new kid in town, turning his relocation into a "Who Will Sleep With Lou?" campaign. The copy read:

Rock 103.5's new afternoon drive personality, Lou Brutus, recently arrived from WMMR/Philadelphia. He's been staying in tiny, dingy, rat-infested hotels that have no remote control for the TV and barely have running water (ok, slight exaggerations). Until Brutus moves into his new abode, he is accepting faxes and calls from listeners inviting him to stay with them. Brutus provides the food, beverages, movies, and even the pajamas. The winner (if you can call it winning) provides Brutus with a place to call home for the weekend. Candidates thus far have offered indoor pools, empty warehouses, and lurid delicacies unmentionable here. Who will sleep with Lou?

The amazing thing about both Lou and Mancow is that you can give them each one pair of the worst tickets for an average concert, and they can make it sound like the reunion of Led Zeppelin.

— Dave Richards

he just wanted a home to stay at for the weekend where there was a real bed versus a hotel bed, a remote-controlled TV, etc. The response was phenomenal. Some listeners offered to cook filet mignon for him, offered their indoor swimming pools, etc. But it was an on-air promotion rather than an on-site promotion, so all the fun leading up to the 'slumber party' was the main attraction. The winner said that she and her two female roommates would give Lou a bubble bath, so that was the clincher for him.

"We reminded Lou to use common sense in picking a winner. For example, we didn't want some kids whose parents were going away for the weekend to throw a big party. My male assistant and one of our female interns went along with Lou because the winner was female. There was no way I was going to send Lou there alone because she could have said anything about what went on during the weekend."

Initially, PD Dave Richards thought the idea was OK, but wasn't overly impressed with it. However, Brutus changed Richards's mind with his execution. Richards says,

"It turned out to be fun, and we got a lot of mileage out of it on air. Lou would put listeners on the air explaining why he should spend the weekend with them.

"The amazing thing about both Lou and [WRCX morning man] Mancow is that you can give them each one pair of the worst tickets for an average concert, and they can make it sound like the reunion of Led Zeppelin. They both have the ability to make everything sound amazing and fun. Admittedly, they're both tremendous self-promoters — the P.T. Barnums of radio. They do bigger-than-life radic."

Breakers: Songs registering 1200 plays or more for the first time. Bullets awarded to songs gaining plays over the previous week. If two songs are tied in number of plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE.

KBKS: Driven By Listeners

□ Mile High AM outlet blends alternative with rock, rap, heavy local emphasis

Attempting to distinguish itself from fierce competition in Denver, KBKS-AM/Boulder, CO became "Modern Rock Plus" eight months ago. The station's unique programming is another alternative to the many outlets embracing alternative music in Market No. 23.

Using the on-air moniker "The Difference," KBKS targets listeners 12-27. "We didn't feel anybody was targeting these people," concedes co-owner/PD Pat Boland. "We didn't do this to be different; it's a market niche that was underserved. We wanted to capture this particular demo with music that people want to hear."

KBKS held focus groups prior to launching the format. "We went to high schools and convinced the powers that be to let us take over a language arts class for a day," Boland explains. "We played new music on a boom box — a lot of which came from MTV — and gave each kid a questionnaire."

"We created a station that was based on feedback from our listening audience. We've received more than 7000 requests since we signed on. Requests play a major role in our music selection. If you listen to a modern rock station, you won't hear any rap or death metal, and you'll hear very little local new music unless it's on a major label. We'll play it all."

One-Stop Shopping

To handle the onslaught of listener requests, KBKS has built a library of approximately 4000 CDs. Although the station leans predominantly Alternative, MD Kelly Oliver points out, "Our three main drawing cards are alternative, rock, and rap. We also play ska, punk, metal, and hip-hop. We only play one song on hour that's more than two years old.

"We have 45 songs on our playlist — 18 heavies and 27 mediums.

I want these songs to get enough air-play to keep the listeners who want to hear the top hits happy, without burning them out. Other stations spin songs 50 times a week and leave them on their playlist for three or four months. We never play a song more than 28 times a week, and rarely leave a song on our playlist for more than 10 weeks. I keep an eye on the charts and see what listeners are requesting. A song by Pearl Jam will show up on multiple charts, so it will get more attention since it's covering a lot of what we are.

"We're not strictly playing rock hits that you hear at [crosstown] KBPI or alternative hits at KTCL — we're playing hits from alternative, rock, and rap genres. We get on songs before other stations and play other tracks you won't hear anywhere else."

The big "difference" between KBKS and the competition is the 99 local bands in the station's library. The station airs one local artist per hour. To qualify, the act must be based in Colorado (or appearing in the state) and have no national recording contract.

'Listeners Choice Awards'

In keeping with its commitment to the local scene, KBKS held "Listeners Choice Awards" on-air last month. The event featured 56 bands selected through a lottery system from hundreds of entries. During a full afternoon broadcast, the station garnered an estimated 4000 votes via phone and fax as well as from a couple of locations.

"During the broadcast, we held a party for all the bands that submitted music," explains Boland. "We invited the media, record labels, and concert promoters. At 4:30pm, we announced the final four bands. The slate was wiped clean and people voted again. The winner received 10 free hours of studio time and a produced CD from a record studio in town."

Since KBKS has no Arbitron numbers, Boland sought ammunition for his sales staff via the RAB. "Since we get a lot of requests, I wanted to see if there was research — based on the number of requests we receive — on what our total listening audience would be," Boland says. "RAB [VP/Marketing & Research] Ken Costa said call-in requests represent between 1.5%-3% of a station's total listening audience."

"After doing the math on our requests and allowing for duplication, I prepared a memo for our sales staff estimating our total listening audience at a minimum 120,000 and a maximum 450,000. We added this to our sales packet about a month ago. We market the station this way: You can't hear what we play on any one station — not only in Denver, but anywhere else in the country."

NEW MUSIC SCENE

Better Than Ezra

- Artist: Better Than Ezra
- Track: "Good"
- LP: "Deluxe"
- Label: Swell/Elektra/EEG

• Essentials: Better Than Ezra debuted in 1988, when founders Kevin Griffin (guitar/vocals), Cary Bonnacaze (drums), Tom Drummond (bass), and original rhythm-guitarist Joel Rundell were classmates at the University of Louisiana. The quartet made immediate impact on the local club circuit, opening for national acts such as Dinosaur Jr and the Pixies, among others.

Wary of being labeled a bar band, BTE released their self-produced debut, "Surprise," on cassette to critical acclaim in 1990. After the untimely death of Rundell in the fall, Griffin spent time in Aspen, CO and Santa Fe, NM before the band reunited as a trio and later became roommates in New Orleans.

A combination of two demos, "Deluxe" was recorded in a variety of unusual settings, including 15 hours at a converted house in East L.A.'s meat-packing district owned by producer Dan Rothchild's friend. Influences range from Big Star, Led Zeppelin, and Elton John to the Gun Club, the Smiths, and R.E.M.

• Artist POV: "We've always said that eventually we would get a fourth member, but we've become comfortable as a three-piece." says Griffin. "I started writing songs that a three-piece could play live. I moved from strictly a rhythm-guitarist into playing leads."

"In a three-piece, there's a lot of pressure on the guitarist to fill in the gaps. There's a lot of freedom, and it really offers a different perspective when you hear our band live — as opposed to the album, which has a lot more layers, etc. The tempo is faster and the songs are a lot more phonetic."

• Label POV: Elektra Sr. Director/Nat'l Alternative Promotion Joel Klaiman says, "A year and half ago, the band put out 'Deluxe,' toured the country twice, and sold 25,000 units. After signing the band in January they're currently Top 5 on the Alternative chart, selling out shows nightly, tripling their sales base, and poised to strike all formats."

New Music Scene highlights breaking artists charting for the first time.

Breakers: Songs registering 800 plays or more for the first time. Bullets awarded to songs gaining plays over the previous week. If two songs are tied in number of plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE.

Focusing On Differences To Preserve Station Identity

Four PDs discuss how maintaining individuality – not competitive ploys – keeps their outlets ahead of the game

By Shawn Alexander

While the Progressive format shares certain artists with other formats, many Progressive stations have found a music mix that distinguishes their sound in the market. Focusing on what's different about their stations — rather than devising ways to compete with others — has been a successful strategy for four PDs, who give the lowdown on the details.

"The pie is only so big, and everybody wants their piece of it," says KINK/Portland, OR PD Carl Widing. "And everyone has gone about it in different ways. During the last couple of years, Portland's been going through what markets like Seattle and San Francisco have been dealing with for years: a highly competitive market and less fluctuation book-to-book among the players who are added on an ongoing basis."

history. Look at where there are openings, come up with a vision, and stick to it," Widing suggests. "Stations will come and go. But if you map out a good strategy and a good sound for what you're looking for — rather than reacting to every other frequency in the market — you'll win.

"One of the things Progressive has going for it is the newness. When you have a heritage rocker, it tends to be more classic and stuck formatically, playing older songs. We may compete for the same demographics, but we're dealing with a different psychographic — those who want some freshness to their music. And an Alternative station tends to skew younger. So Progressive's the niche. Not that there isn't going to be some spillover, but find a niche that you can expand.

"Here's a lesson I learned a long time ago: You can look at the competition and try to compete with them. Or, as in our case, you can be the best [station] you can. If you look at our sharing, I don't view us as having one competitor. We have a bunch. We have a heritage of being a certain way, and I think our core audience is familiar with that. We have the luxury of not having to educate."

We have a niche. We have a goal as to what small segment of the Indianapolis market we want and what people are in that piece of the pie.
— Rich Anton

Stay True To Core

There is no station competition as far as WTTTS/Indianapolis is concerned. That's because PD Rich Anton doesn't think there is another station like his in the market. "Lots of stations and formats tend to react to things going on around them. We don't. We continue to keep our course very focused. We have a niche. We have a goal as to what small segment of the Indianapolis market we want and what people are in that piece of the pie.

Rich Anton

"We have introduced the marketplace to the Counting Crows, Sheryl Crow, and other artists who have crossed over, and we will continue to do that. We're playing bands right now who are going to be the next Counting Crows in six months. When they do finally cross over, you've got to be careful to not abandon the songs that gained attention for the band. Sometimes Progressive stations make that mistake, saying, 'Oh, my God. It's crossed over. We can't play it anymore.' You can still play it. The beautiful thing about Progressive is you can also play six other songs.

"One of my favorite ways to keep this station fresh is to be predictably unpredictable. We do that with our library and currents — it's a wide variety of music in addition to the hits. We listen to our audience. The listeners are telling us what they want the station to be, and that's where we focus our attention. Market dominance will never happen. That's not what we're about."

Distinct Differences

KMTT (Mountain)/Seattle PD Chris Mays considers Seattle to be the perfect listeners' market in terms of choices. "Stations here have done an excellent job of differentiating their product. At [cross-town Alternative KNDD], they play some of the softer Indigo Girls or Sheryl Crow stuff that crosses over with us. But there's a very clear difference in terms of the sound, which is why we stick to modern rock that is extremely well-known or very melodic.

WIDESPREAD PANIC GRIPS INDIANA — Touring the midwest in support of "Ain't Life Grand," Widespread Panic dropped in on WTTTS/Indianapolis's afternoon drive show for a live acoustic performance and an interview. Yukking it up after the show are (l-r) WTTTS afternooner Jimi Hurley, Widespread's John Bell and Michael Houser, and WTTTS MD John McGue.

"We have an on-air series called 'Quality Rock Defined.' We say that phrase, then follow it with three clips that are pretty different. There's one mainstream, one Mountain-exclusive, and one that leans either modern rock or classic rock. In our off-air marketing we tend to use artists who might be associated with other stations — together with those who are distinctive to our station — to position us both on and off the air.

"Our station has done a pretty good job in terms of differentiation between the records. We've taken a strong pre-environmental stance, and we do a lot of on-air positioning as far as marketing ourselves as being concerned about the environment. We definitely take a strong liberal environmental approach."

An ongoing battle KMTT is fighting — as are stations across the country — is the concert "presents" fracas. "It seems Alternative stations as a whole are very strong, and labels are being put in a position of having to choose whether they're going to support the station that supported their artist early on."

Keep Blinders On

"We really have been keeping the blinders on, focusing on listeners 28-38 years old," maintains WMAX/Rochester, NY PD Rick MacKenzie. "The only thing we'll share, or in a sense take from Alternative, is something that perhaps started there but has proven itself among the 25+. The songs we share are almost always core for us and fringe for other stations. The key is what the next song is. You keep your identity via the other songs you play in between the songs you're sharing.

Rick MacKenzie

"We are going to get some artists

earlier; the Dave Matthews Band is a great example. I'm actually surprised Alternative stations are playing it. And I'm still going to be breaking the Counting Crows and Hootie & The Blowfish. Once they [these groups] prove themselves, the AOR and Alternative stations are going to steal them.

"We don't do promotions that don't make sense for our audience. Right now, with [Alternative convert] WRQI coming on, I don't feel the need to do anything differently. I'm very comfortable where I am: with the music I'm sharing with

'RQI, the bands I'm introducing vs. who they're introducing, and with the core artists they aren't going to play. WRQI is going to hurt [AOR] WCMF more than us, since that station is younger and harder. And 'CMF is going to share a lot of [WRQI's] bands. WRQI is going to steal from the younger end — our audience begins at 25+.

"Moreover, there are little things AOR and Alternative stations will never do, such as our 'Green Team,' an environmental team of 700 listeners and staff who conduct community-oriented clean-ups and other socially conscious activities. Those are the kind of things that are really aimed at thinking adults. And those are the things we'll continue to do to separate us."

Stations will come and go. But if you map out a good strategy and a good sound for what you're looking for — rather than reacting to every other frequency in the market — you'll win.
— Carl Widing

'Stick To Vision'

"The best thing for a Progressive station to do is look at its market's

This Music's Really Good For You!

Evidence suggests NAC can be powerful tool for relaxation, healing

Would you feel even better about your profession if you knew that listeners experience profound benefits from the music you play? There is a growing body of evidence that suggests NAC music can be a powerful tool for both relaxation and healing.

The Ear/Body Connection

Since the dawn of time, humankind has recognized the power of sound and music to transform mood and emotion. Music has been used for centuries to enhance prayer and meditation. Shamans in many cultures have routinely used drums and rattles as part of their healing practices for millennia. Whether music is made for sacred, spiritual purposes or used ritualistically to celebrate life's milestones, joys, or losses, its power to create change — and even alter consciousness — is undeniable.

In relatively recent years, Western doctors and researchers have begun to acknowledge the role of music in maintaining and restoring physiological health. There is now abundant documentation that suggests music can alter one's blood pressure, heart rate, respiration rate, muscle tension, and even immune response. Anyone who has ever sat gridlocked in freeway traffic, and had their tenuous grasp on sanity maintained by listening to Enya, David Lanz, or Miles Davis, knows this is true, if only anecdotally.

Programming consultant Steve Hibbard says NAC is the format most likely to increase listeners' sense of well-being because its instrumental base creates greater ambiance than vocal-intensive formats. And he's got a huge file of comments from listeners to back up his claim. Quoting from a listener's letter, Hibbard offers this example: "We teach in a 16-baby infant room in a day-care center. Your music plays all day, calming the teachers and babies."

Because healing takes place not only on the physical level, but the emotional, mental, and spiritual as well, it is not unusual for distinct images and emotions to arise [when listening].

— Boris Mourashkin

Music As Therapy

The use of musical or rhythmic interventions to improve physical or emotional well-being is ancient. Today, the science that incorporates — and clinically expands — these ancient principles is called music therapy. The discipline is embraced by such disparate personalities as "Awakenings" author Dr. Oliver Sacks,

Neil Young and his wife, Pegi (who founded Bridge School, which enables autistic children to achieve their educational and social potential), Grateful Dead drummer Mickey Hart, and artist Craig Chaquico. Music therapy is considered a legitimate area of research, academic study, and clinical practice.

One of many areas where music therapy is particularly effective is in the fight against Alzheimer's and other organic brain disorders. No one is certain why music often brings a measure of lucidity to Alzheimer's patients. But in a Washington Post article by Rick Weiss, Dr. Sacks hypothesizes that as brain areas dealing with cognition and language degenerate, the parts that respond to music are left intact, providing an alternate pathway into the mind. The key may be music's well-known power to stimulate memories. Memory, according to Sacks, is central to a sense of self.

A friend's elderly father, a man with severe Alzheimer's who had not spoken, interacted, or responded in a meaningful way for several years, tapped his foot, smiled, and hummed along when his daughter played Duke Ellington's "Take The

'A' Train." Since then, Big Band music has played an important part in his daily life, perhaps by fixing him in time.

The Healing Process

How, exactly, are music's salutary benefits conveyed to the listener? Beliefs about the process vary, but four artists who are pioneers in the emerging science of sound have some interesting theories. They have just released a four-CD set for Ellipsis Arts called "Healing Music." One, Dr. Jeffrey Thompson, observes that sound and vibration form our first profound, primordial experience while we're still in the womb.

"We float in body temperature amniotic fluid, weightless," he notes. "We have fluid in our nose and mouth which eliminates the sense of smell and taste. We have our eyes closed and are in the dark [with] no sense of sight. We have fluid in our ears pressed right up against the eardrum. But sound travels through water five times more effectively

Sincere apologies to iQ Productions Pres. Tony Quin for incorrectly attributing production of SW Networks Smooth FM TV spot to Superspots (R&R 4/7). The campaign was created, in fact, by iQ as a key component of Smooth FM's launch. And everyone knows Smooth FM PD Michael Fischer spells his last name with a "c." Sorry for the oversight, Mike.

CHAQUICO PLAYS TO FACILITATE HEALING — In 1967, Craig Chaquico broke both arms, a leg, plus his wrist and thumb. Luckily for music lovers, supportive doctors encouraged him to play guitar as part of his rehabilitation.

PASSING ALONG THE LESSON — Today, Chaquico supports the mission of the National Association For Music Therapy. Committed to using his music as a force for good, he is seen here playing for young patients of the music therapy program at L.A. Orthopaedic Hospital.

than through air; therefore, our sense of hearing is actually amplified. The symphony of sound patterns we experience at this time will be deeply imbedded in our subconscious mind for the rest of our lives."

Thompson labelmate Boris Mourashkin's music has been widely tested, and consequently applied, in a variety of clinical settings in the former Soviet Union. "The conscious mind cannot understand

"I recall when I was at KTWV (The Wave)/L.A. with [PD] Chris Brodie, we received a fax from a couple who said they put The Wave on in the delivery room and it helped keep them calm during the birth of their daughter."

I know from personal experience that music can definitely help with many kinds of physical and mental problems.

— Craig Chaquico

unusual for distinct images and emotions to arise [when listening]. The nervous system is conditioned and healing processes released. Relaxation and well-being are achieved in part from catharsis inspired by the music."

'Emotionometer'

Broadcast Architecture CEO Frank Cody is well aware of music's power over emotions and well-being. In fact, he applies his understanding of these principles to better serve his client stations. "We've patterned our research on [mid-20th Century psychologist] Abraham Maslow's 'Hierarchy of Needs,'" Cody says. "To move the ratings in any competitive situation, a station must provide a perceived and genuine benefit. It's the only way to move up the ladder of importance in the life of a listener.

"We've conducted hundreds of one-on-one interviews [with NAC listeners] in cities all across America and the key benefits we've identified are consistently the same: 'smooth,' 'soothing,' 'relaxing,' 'uplifting,' 'helps me unwind,' 'gets me through the day,' 'refreshes me,' 'revitalizing,' 'makes me feel good.'

"Broadcast Architecture's Mix-Master testing system was specifically developed to tap the emotional and intuitive right brain, as well as the left brain response. When listeners select a station for music, they are seeking a definable emotional catharsis. This is why we nicknamed our dial an 'Emotionometer.'

"In the same way that listening to Mozart can raise your scores on a math exam or IQ test, NAC triggers relaxation, which releases endorphins and activates the immune system.

"In 1987, during [the] early tension-filled launch of The Wave, Chris Brodie and I used to jokingly say, 'Let's remember, our goal is to make people feel good. After all, we're not curing cancer or contributing to world peace. Come to think of it, maybe we are.'"

Breakers: Song has achieved airplay at 65% of our reporters for the first time. Bullets awarded to songs gaining plays over the previous week. If two songs are tied in number of plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays.
