Grand Jury Throws Book At Bloch; Extradition Likely

Indictment says talk host bilked listeners out of $21 million in shady radio, cable deals

By Jack Messmer R&R Washington Bureau Chief

yndicated talk host Sonny Bloch appeared likely to be moving from a jail cell in the Dominican Republic to one in New Jersey this week after being indicted by a federal grand jury on 35 counts of defrauding listeners who invested more than $21 million in radio stations and wireless cable ventures promoted on his radio show.

"I categorically deny all of their charges," Bloch said Thursday (5/25), shortly after the indictment was announced in New Jersey.

Authorities End 'Exile'

R&R reached Bloch in his Dominican Republic "exile," where he had been broadcasting from since mid-March, and where he had vowed to remain, believing that authorities would not comply with any U.S. extradition request.

"They're going to have to do battle with me on this playing field down here, which is a lot more level than in the U.S.," Bloch said Thursday. But a day later, he was arrested and held in a Dominican Republic jail. Authorities there were expected to approve a U.S. extradition request and send Bloch back sometime this week.

The felony indictment unveiled in New Jersey charges that Bloch "used his broadcasts as a vehicle to promote fraudulent investments to enrich himself and his co-defendants." Four men accused of running a boiler-room operation that sold the investments were each arrested last Thursday and released on $250,000 bail.

National Radio Ownership Ceiling Lifted By House

Committee also erases cross-ownership rules, but some local owner restrictions may still apply

By MARY ANN BARTON R&R WASHINGTON BUREAU

After several disappointing false alarms, provisions eliminating radio ownership caps and relaxing cross-ownership rules have been written into the Communications Act of 1995 (H.R. 1555). # Billboard Coverup Strikes Memphis

n an effort to promote its new "Solid Rock" format, WMFS/Memphis posted billboards 'round town with such slogans as "Music that will make you XXXX in your pants" (or the one pictured here). Seems like rather timid stuff by today's standards ... but irate citizens — led by a Christian-radio talk host — complained about the language at a city council meeting and convinced the board's owner to take up the issue. The result of all the hoopla: WMFS agreed to "censor" the billboards until a new campaign can be created.

Think Tank Study: Abolish FCC

Chairman Fields expected to hold oversight hearings

By Mary Ann Barton R&R WASHINGTON BUREAU

The Progress & Freedom Foundation, a Washington, DC think tank closely allied with House Speaker Newt Gingrich (R-GA), issued a plan Tuesday (5/30) that calls for abolishing the FCC within three years. It would be replaced by a radically downsized Office of Communications Policy.

The government ... is legal framework

designed when AM

radio was cutting-edge technology.

- Jeffrey Eisenach

is still operating within a legal framework designed when AM ra-dio was cutting-edge technology," said Foundation President Jeffrey Eisenach. Among the group's recommendations:

• Immediate repeal of all licensing authority. Instead, the plan suggests the government should create property rights in spectrum enforced by trespass laws.

• Privatize the government monopoly on spectrum, although existing licensees would retain their spectrum.

The report, titled "The Telecom Revolution --- An American Oppor-

"The government in Washington | tunity," was developed by a consortium of think tanks whose members' ideological bent runs the gamut on the political spectrum. However, the report states that its content reflects only the represtill operating within a sentatives' views and not those of their think tanks. The Progress & Freedom Foundation also apparently received help in writing its report from current agency staffers. An acknowledgement states the organization "extends its thanks to those currently serving with the FCC who asked not to be identified and gave insight, comments, and/or suggestions."

The Commission issued a press release minutes after the foundation issued its report. "They're wrong on the FCC's job definition: The Congress and the public want and need us to write fair rules for competition, collect still more money from spectrum auctions, and protect consumers from monopolies," FCC Chairman Reed Hundt said

Hearings On Way

The think tanks have the ears of several key GOP legislators, including Rep. Jack Fields (R-TX), Chairman of the House Commerce Telecommunications Subcommittee. Fields is expected to hold oversight hearings on the FCC sometime this month.

FCC Office of Legislative Affairs Director Judy Harris said the Commerce Committee's chief economist has met recently with FCC staff to discuss agency operations and budgets. Harris said Congress should wait to see what happens with FCC duties under proposed telecommunications legislation before holding oversight hearings.

Providential Duopoly Closing

Radio Equity Partners President George Sosson (I) closed his $10 million acquisiton of WWRX-FM/Providence Thursday (5/25) for a duopoly with WWBB-FM. Sosson makes it official with seller Westerly Broadcasting Company Chairman Nat Urso (r), as broker Dick Foreman of Richard A. Foreman Associates looks on.

Debt Upgrade For Heritage

oody's Investors Service has upgraded its debt rating for Heritage Media Corp. (AMEX: HTG), which specializes in radio, TV, and in-store advertising.

In upgrading its ratings for two issues of Heritage Media's publicly traded stock, Moody's noted the company's ongoing financial gains. "Heritage Media's results for the first quarter of fiscal 1995 continue the upward trend, and the company's operating cash flow for 1995 should exceed 1994 levels."

However, Moody's cautioned that Heritage Media still has considerable leverage in its financial structure

Hundt Defends FCC, Proposes Reform

CC Chairman Reed Hundt is preparing for battle. Conservative think tanks are pressing Congress to eliminate the Commission as the agency's budget and operations come under close scrutiny on Capitol Hill.

"I welcome the energy to implement radical reform," Hundt recently told R&R. "These so-called think tanks have a 'slash and burn' mentality and are indifferent to public interest. I would like to challenge them. I think it's going to be a huge and hardfought debate.

Last week, Hundt unveiled strategies for moving the agency from an "old regime" to a "new paradigm." One idea: Broadcasters should establish a "time bank" for political broadcasting, with candidates receiving vouchers to cash in for airtime. Also last week, the FCC sent several new proposals to

Automatic license cancellation for any station silent for

- one year • Simplification of the license renewal process (which is addressed in both House and Senate telecom bills)
- Elimination of the duplicate process of filing separately for a construction permit and license when there's little risk of creating interference

EIA Sparks Bay Area RBDS Push

KHI and KECG are the first San Francisco Bay Area FMs to accept RBDS encoders from EIA, which hopes to place them in all Top 25 markets. The next market on the schedule is Chicago.

The program was launched in April in Philadelphia, where four stations accepted encoders in exchange for $5000 in airtime to promote RBDS. Six Philadelphia stations already had their own encoders.

Steve Hill of Roher Public Relations, which is handling the program for EIA, said he has been receiving inquiries from across the nation. "If a broadcaster comes to us, we are going ahead and giving him the encoder," Hill noted.

The past 14 years have been a dream come true for a kid from Lynn who grew up an avid Celtics fan," said Ordway. "In the same diligent and honest way that I always approached the Boston Celtics game broadcasts, I now look forward to continuing our relationship."

Ordway has been with WEEI since 1987, moving with the station last year as it changed owners and frequencies from 590 kHz to 850 kHz. He also served as Sports Director at WRKO-AWBoston and WITS-AM & WMEX-AM/Boston.

VP/GM Craig Wilbraham said he restructured the programming department based on Naftaly's ability to continue with the station."We probably interviewed 15 very prominent outside programmers, but in the end, Keith and I decided we had all the talent we needed right here in the station. We might have gone in a different direction if Keith wasn't able to stay with us, but I'm thrilled to continue to have his weekly input regarding our strategic direction."

Regarding Santosuosso, Wilbraham noted, "Michelle worked with Keith both here and in San Francisco, and she is as equipped as anyone to help keep us pointed in the right direction. It's an interesting situation, because both KMEL and The Beat are similar in a lot of ways - our morning show with John London is simulcast up there, and we both have Summer Jam concerts Michelle's input will be vital."

And he said of Austin, "Harold also worked with Keith in both cities. He's young, bright, and energetic, and we're happy to give him this shot ... he'll be doing all the things a PD will typically do. In his early days, he'll receive plenty of direction and support from all of us, but we have no doubt about his ability to execute Keith's vision."

Austin observed, "I'm thrilled about the future here. My first priority is to make sure the transition is smooth. Then I have to make sure the music doesn't miss a beat - if you'll pardon the expression! I have major shoes to fill, and I'd like to thank Keith, Craig, and the entire Evergreen family for this opportunity."

Naftaly became an Evergreen VP when the company purchased KMEL three years ago. A year later, he was transferred to L.A. to oversee KKBT's programming. Prior to joining KMEL, Santosuosso was a promo exec for RCA Records, and she was MD of KKLQ-AM & FM/San Diego. Austin began his radio career as a KMEL intern in 1988. He eventually became a programming assistant there before transferring to KKBT as MD. He was named Asst. PD last year.

The synergy between the two stations will be a great combo," VP Bob Sinclair told R&R. "This is a position to have the alternative music franchise in the new music capitol of the United States. Everybody in Austin knows that [crosstown Alternative] KNNC has severe signal limitations. To me it was a no-brainer — there's close to 100,000 college students in the metro."

Regarding Trexler, he said, "Sara's worked for me for five years. She knows the music backward and forward and lives the lifestyle."

Before WROX, Trexler was an air personality at Talk WNIS-AM/ Norfolk. She also programmed Alternative WOFM/Moyock, NC.

Ownership

Dropped, however, was a provision approved by the Telecommunications Subcommittee that would have allowed foreigners to own U.S. radio and TV stations. In an effort to appease concerns about foreigners controlling broadcast content, Rep. Mike Oxley (R-OH) revised his proposal to eliminate all foreign ownership restrictions on communications properties. The proposal now applies to all FCC licensees except broadcasters, leaving intact the current 25% foreign ownership limits for radio and TV. He also added a clause requiring other countries to open their telecommunications businesses to U.S. investors before allowing their citizens to own U.S. telecom companies

NAB 'Delighted'

"This was an historic milestone for the radio industry," said NAB President/CEO Eddie Fritts. "We're delighted that the committee included radio ownership deregulation in its final telecommunications reform package."The broadcast trade group has walked a tightrope this year, lobbying for radio dereg while remaining silent on TV dereg. (The NAB Radio Board voted earlier this year to support elimination of ownership limits, while the TV Board split on the issue.)

In addition to repealing the current national 20 AM/20 FM limits, the proposed legislation would also relax cross-ownership rules and streamline the license renewal process. Under the House bill, license terms for radio continue at seven years; pending Senate legislation would lengthen terms to 10 years.

Still Some Limits

Even with no numerical limits on station ownership, the FCC could still step in to prevent undue concentration. Rep. Stearns — bowing to colleagues' concerns that one person or company could end up controlling every media outlet in a market added a provision giving the FCC authority to prohibit combinations of ownership "if they would result in all the media of mass communication being owned, operated, or controlled by two or fewer persons or entities in a local market." In other words, three media owners in a single market would be OK, but the FCC could reject any deal that would concentrate ownership in fewer hands.

The legislation, which doesn't define what a local market is, says the Commission could scrutinize a market "in a proceeding to grant, renew, or authorize the assignment of any station license." If the transaction involved the purchase of a newspaper, the investigation would apparently come at the next radio or TV license renewal, or the Justice Department could launch an antitrust probe.

Stearns said, "With over 11,000 radio stations nationwide, concerns about losing a diversity of voices are misplaced.

Roll Call

The vote on the radio deregulation amendment came toward the end of a two-day session that began

Wednesday (5/24). All but three Republicans on the committee voted for the amendment, with the exception of Reps. Richard Burr (R-NC), Michael Crapo (R-ID), and Edward Whitfield (R-KY). Of the 10 Democrats who voted against the amendment, Rep. Ed Markey (D-MA) former Chairman of the Telecommunications Subcommittee, was the most vocal in his protests.

This provision will make Citizen Kane look like an underachiever.' Markey said. He charged that the measure "strikes at the heart ... of localism and diversity." A spokesman said Markey would offer his own amendment when the bill goes to the House floor.

National Telecommunications & Information Administration Administrator Larry Irving, who advises the Clinton administration on telecom issues, also opposes lifting the local ownership caps. "An advertiser or a political candidate seeking to reach an audience would face a bottleneck — the local media mogul - with a stranglehold over a community," Irving said in a statement issued Thursday (5/25).

Action by the full House could come as early as July. The floor schedule will be set by Speaker Newt Gingrich (R-GA) when the House returns from its Memorial Day recess Tuesday (6/6). Members are hoping to vote on the telecom bill before their month-long August recess (8/5-9/5). The Senate telecom bill (S. 652) is expected to reach the Senate floor as early as Monday (6/5). It was silent on radio ownership when passed by the Commerce Committee, but radio deregulation is expected to be addressed in an amendment sponsored by Senate Majority Whip Trent Lott (R-MS).

Katz

Media employees are now shareholders as well.

And Olds contends clients also will benefit because turnover should be lower among employeestockholders. "Once again, you're going to see people who want to stay with this company for a longer period of time.'

Others Following Suit?

Although Katz Media was the first - and to date only --- radio or TV rep company to sell stock to the public. Olds said other rep firms are hoping to follow the path Katz has blazed to Wall Street. "A lot of our radio and TV competitors are hoping we do very well."

Now that Katz Media has completed its ownership restructuring, Olds also is eyeing growth opportunities, including acquisitions and the expansion of current business avenues. And despite the decreasing number of major group owners due to duopoly, Olds believes some of those owners will want separate national reps for stations in duopoly combinations: "I could see in the future the possibility of starting another [radio rep] company." However, he ruled out any possibility of creating a dedicated rep firm for a single group owner, as Interep has recently done for two groups.

Since Katz once owned what is now NewCity Communications, R&R asked whether the company might acquire another group. "While it's not a top item, it's something we would look at if the right opportunity came along," Olds replied.

For the immediate future, though, Katz Radio Group is focusing on group sales - unwired, sports, syndication, and other types of specialty sales — as a major growth opportunity. Olds noted that group sales amounted to less than $9 million in 1984, but had grown over the decade to nearly $150 million last year. And he foresees that continuing: 'You're going to see that grow at a rate probably double the growth in the regular spot area.'

Another Dimension

Toward that end, Olds recently created KRG Dimensions to coordinate all group sales efforts. The new company is headed by President Bonnie Press. "We have clearly made a decision to grow in the marketing, network, sports, and specialty arenas. That clearly is what KRG Dimensions is all about," Olds said.

KRG Dimensions won't have any client stations of its own, but will place group business among the client lists of all KRG companies: Banner Radio, Christal Radio, Eastman Radio, Katz Hispanic Radio, and Katz Radio.

As part of her new duties, Press will supervise KRG's new business development, an area that's received much more attention from major гер groups -- and the radio industry - since the advertising recession hit at the beginning of this decade. There was a major wakeup call for the radio industry in general," noted Olds. As a result, Katz, Interep, the RAB, and major group owners have united (as they never have before) to promote the medium to national advertisers and agencies that have historically used little or no radio.

The most public evidence of this cooperation was the creation of the annual Radio Mercury Awards, which honor the year's best radio advertising. The grand prize is $100,000; the total cash prize amount for all categories is $200,000. The 1994 awards will be presented this month (6/14) in New York.

Stu Olds began his rep career in 1977 as an AE for Katz Radio in Chicago. He's served as President of the Katz Radio Group since August 1994.

Bloch

If Bloch were convicted on all of the 35 counts in the indictment, they could carry maximum penalties totaling 365 years in prison and fines of nearly $1.8 billion.

The Allegations

According to the indictment, the boiler-room operators initially used Bloch as a spokesman to promote investments in virtually worthless wireless cable ventures. It also alleges that Bloch failed to disclose that he was being paid to promote the investments, didn't tell listeners that some of the promoters had criminal records, and misled listeners into believing he had "made diligent efforts that [the] ventures were operational as promised."

Prosecutors claim Bloch later became a full participant in the scheme, using the same approach to sell investments in limited liability companies which were created to buy radio stations. Although the companies did purchase WBDN-AM/Brandon (Tampa) and WGGG-AM/Gainesville, FL, and a deal is pending to buy WCNX-AM/Middletown (Hartford), CT, the indictment claims that Bloch and his co-defendants diverted most of the $4.6 million raised to their own use.

In coordination with the New Jersey indictment, the SEC filed a complaint in New York federal court accusing Bloch and the other men of illegally selling unregistered securities in the limited liability companies created to buy the radio stations. The SEC alleged that Bloch and his wife, Hilda, "misappropriated and diverted" over $1 million in investor money to themselves and two companies

Clear Channel

Continued from Page 3 the U.S. Spanish network CRC. Word of the sale sent Heftel's stock soaring to $14 the day of the deal, giving Clear Channel's $20.5 million purchase a value, on paper, of over $30 million. By Tuesday (5/30), Heftel's stock price had cooled to $12.50, still well above the price of Clear Channel's investment.

Radio Centro said it netted $19 million from the sale, with the remainder going to expenses and settlement of a dispute with Heftel. Having settled their differences, Radio Centro will continue to serve as Heftel's national rep in Mexico.

Clear Channel's Mays called Heftel "a dynamic growing broadcasting company," noting that the investment helps Clear Channel's diversification by exposing it to the U.S Hispanic market.

"We consider this a tremendous vote of confidence in Heftel's management, strategy, and vision," said Heftel President Carl Parmer.

they control: Cabrera Broadcast Corporation and Independent Broadcasters Network. The SEC is seeking appointment of a receiver for the radio stations and a freeze on the couple's assets.

Before his arrest, Bloch told R&R he no longer had any assets in the U.S., but acknowledged he did have assets overseas. Bloch has denied any ownership interest in IBN, which carries his program and those of several other talk hosts. IBN is run by President Steve Wiegner and Bloch's son, Paul.

An assistant to Sonny Bloch said Tuesday (5/30) that tapes of earlier Bloch programs ran on the network over the holiday weekend. It was uncertain what programming would continue in the time slot.

WWRC-AM/Washington PD Walks!

ews/Talk WWRC-AM/Washington PD Gary Burns abruptly quit last Friday (5/26) after a disagreement with GM Bob Longwell over whether or not to air the "Ollie North Show" live! on Monday, Memorial Day. (North had been given the day off by syndicator Salem Radio Network Prez Greg Anderson.) Burns claimed it was important to air the show live! on Monday, but Longwell disagreed.

Longwell said the station will be launching a national talent search, seeking a "top-flight talk programmer." Meanwhile, Longwell characterized Burns as a "very talented, creative guy and also a very emotional guy." Burns couldn't be reached for comment.

First, newly LMAed WTDR/Charlotte PD Ron Ellis exited destination unknown.

Second, WSIX/Nashville PD Doug Baker split, and is rumored to be headed for a new radio-oriented post in the Liberty label's marketing department.

TALK RADIO BOOKSHELF

Laufer Book Lashes Out At Talk Radio

Here's what former WWRC/Washington PD Peter Laufer hates about Talk radio: Rush Limbaugh, KSFO/San Francisco, Greater Media, uninformed hosts, Larry King, the term "host," G. Gordon Liddy, Howard Stern ...

Oh, hell. Let's just cut to the chase. Laufer pretty much hates everything about commercial Talk radio. And he publicly vents his spleen in his new book about the format, "Inside Talk Radio: America's Voice Or Just Hot Air?" (Birch Lane Press).

Over-The-Top Portrayal

"Inside" offers a scathing portrait of Talk radio as a format dominated by self-important know-nothings, blowhards, and head cases who chase the almighty buck by proffering a steady stream of misinformation to audiences who foolishly hang on their favorite hosts' every word.

While there is certainly more than a little truth to that characterization, the format doesn't deserve the nasty, bitter tone of this book. Laufer's disdain for Talk radio is summed up in his supposedly rhetorical question to one of the hosts who attended a 1993 White House event: "Aren't talk show hosts much more clowns and entertainers transmitting misinformation than a serious element of the national and social debate?"

Laufer has already answered that question for himself and sets out to build his case by focusing on the worst the format has to offer: marginal talker Les Kinsolving making a fool of himself at the White House; Tom Leykis's arrest on domestic violence charges; the bizarre, would-be talkers who pass through a PD's office; Limbaugh's most egregious misstatements and stretches, et cetera, et cetera.

A Peabody Award-winning radio reporter, Laufer is clearly vexed by the question of whether talk hosts are journalists or entertainers. Unable to accept that they are a unique hybrid, he flails about castigating talkers from every level of the industry for even pretending to deliver legiti-mate news and information. Larry King is savaged for his softball questioning of political heavyweights, while the hosts who broadcast from the White House lawn in 1993 at President Clinton's invitation are derided as rubes who couldn't tell when they were being spun.

But the book's biggest whipping boy is Rush Limbaugh. According to Laufer, the Big Man is the embodiment of all Talk radio evil, a menace to society whose alleged knowing use of falsehoods to bolster his conservative opinions merits (honest!) a reference to Nazi propaganda philosophy, complete with excerpts from Hitler's "Mein Kampf"!

Cut & Paste

Laufer offers little positive information to balance his criticisms. For example, while he champions a calm, rational style of Talk radio designed to enlighten the masses and help solve social problems, Laufer gives scant attention to those who already do that type of show. KABC/Los Angeles middayer Michael Jackson is not even mentioned.

Most of "Inside Talk Radio" was written during Laufer's ill-fated tenure at WWRC, which ended with him filing a wrongful termination as well as its hodgepodge, anecdotal structure. "Inside" reads like a book that was written in the author's spare time. It relies heavily on the writing and research of others and focuses disproportionately on people Laufer knows personally, including his airstaff at WWRC. It is also padded with lengthy transcripts of calls and detailed recounting of such insignificant (but widely reported) events as Sally Jessy Raphael's shameful treatment of Rush Limbaugh at the Radio Hall of Fame.

The book also wanders off on multipage side trips that are of marginal value, including a visit with an aging hippy talk host in Nevada and hat's on Americans' minds? Each month R&R conducts an exclusive survey on the nation's leading Talk radio stations to determine the 10 issues that have generated the greatest amount of listener phone response over the past four weeks. a 10-page description of a sex talk show that aired on KSAN/San Francisco in 1971.

Writing on the run invites errors and Laufer's book contains its share, ranging from minor (it's Radio & Records, not Radio and Records) to more significant (KABC was the first all-Talk station, not crosstown KLAC). But his worst mistake was failing to understand or accept Talk radio for what it is: a commercial enterprise that makes money not by lecturing its audience or fomenting political change but by offering a delicate blend of entertainment and information.

It's too bad Peter Laufer didn't put a little more time and thought into this work. There is a real need for an in-depth, balanced — and, yes, entertaining — book about the News/Talk format. With a little more substance and a little less vituperation, "Inside Talk Radio" could have been a valuable addition to the toosmall body of work on this fascinating medium.

"Inside" reads like a book that was written in the author's spare time. It relies heavily on the writing and research of others and focuses disproportionately on people Laufer knows personally.

10 Steps To Generating Press

xchanging ideas is the name of the game with PROMAX. Here are some tips from member Paul Miraldi.

• Set a written goal of the press coverage you hope to achieve. (Six news stories in six months.)

 Update your press list regularly. People in this industry come and go so quickly. This is a great intern project. Have separate lists: local, national, and trade. Find out deadlines.

 Don't pitch the press on every single event that happens at your station. Quality over quantity. If an assignment editor sees a press release each week, the real important stories won't jump out of your releases. Unsure if a story's newsworthy? Call a reporter or assignment editor

 Give the press new reasons to cover the same old story. Who wants to see Punxsutawney Phil come out of his hole on Grounghog's Day? But, isn't it cool to see a six-foot groundhog on a stairmaster at the health club working off the winter fat?

 Proof! Proof! Proof! No one wants a press release with spelling, grammatical, and factual errors. Keep the release to one page.

• Follow up with the assignment editor to make sure he or she received the press release. Don't badger them about covering the story.

 Send a thank you note or place a phone call to the appropriate person when you receive press.

 Hire a clipping service to keep track of your success stories. Audio and video clipping services exist as well. Often, the video clipping service will call and inform you of a press mention.

 Do something cool with your clips. Create a video montage/presentation of the station. Salespeople will love to take this on calls and show the station's many success stories.

 Do a monthly/quarterly recap for your boss of your press coverage. Great job security!

Take Maximum Advantage Of Promotions With PROMAX

It's not too late; can your radio station afford not to go?

Want to learn how to design, use, and build the very best promotion and marketing ideas to better position your station in the marketplace? Jim Chabin, who has been President/CEO of PROMAX for the past three years, tells why stations that stay action-oriented and open to new ideas will be the survivors in their respective marketplaces.

Chabin's vast experience in marketing, promotions, and management include stints as VP/National Promo for E! Entertainment, coowner/GM of two radio stations, Western Marketing Manager for CBS-TV stations, and a spot sales exec at CBS Radio.

Jim Chabin

R&R: PROMAX is celebrating its 40th conference. For those who aren't aware of the organization, can you explain what it does?

JC: PROMAX formerly known as the Broadcast Promotion and Marketing Executives (BPME) — is the international association of promotion and marketing professionals in the electronic media, who are dedicated to advancing the role and increasing the effectiveness of promotion and marketing within their industry, related industries, and the academic community.

As radio broadcasters we have to seriously look at how we're going to manage this business and figure a way to get those promotions off our radio stations while still collecting the advertising money.

PROMAX reflects the evolution of the electronic media with its various ups and downs and ins and outs [up tol today. The association representation includes almost 1900 member corporations in 45 countries, and everybody from Singapore Broadcasting and the BBC, to radio stations, networks, and syndicators.

R&R: As a former radio station owner and GM, what is your take on radio and promotions in 1995?

JC: Some of the major issues we must deal with are value-added marketing, and a primary concern is developing the new technologies for communicating with our core audiences and developing new audiences. Radio has some real interesting dynamics that we didn't have five years ago. Number one is we have a healthy business. More advertisers want to use radio than I can recall. Just look at contemporary radio right now. Five or six years ago there were two or three brand-name beers that were gearing up for summer, now there are probably 50. Take a look at the number of motion picture titles there are today. The beer companies and the major studios are using radio in a way that is unprecedented. Conversely, every single one of those advertisers want a promotion right now to go with their advertising schedule. As radio broadcasters we have to seriously look at how we're going to manage this business and figure a way to get those promotions off our radio stations while still collecting the advertising money. R&R: Do you have recommendations for relief from on-air, valueadded promotions most radio stations have to run?

JC: I believe developing web sites for stations has great potential if we can drive a certain element of highly desirable consumers, who are computer savvy, to plug into our radio stations' online. That's a whole new medium for radio to utilize as value-added. I look at that and get excited because it's another business for radio to get into for a reasonably small investment. Database marketing is another area for off-air or limited air value-added marketing. You can also care and feed those P1 listeners by sending them birthday cards. Stations should try to service and promote themselves off the air as well as on the air.

R&R: What's your response to the people who still don't believe in the future of technology and its applications to radio promotions?

JC: I recently spoke at a California Broadcasters Convention and someone in the back remarked that "all this new technology is pie in the sky and it won't affect my radio station." Guess what? In five years that station will probably be out of business. In 1995 and beyond you cannot depend on commuters listening to your station. Shutting out new technology is a display of extreme naivety. The world is changing and marketing and promoting in this world is becoming far more > sophisticated. Those who attack the marketplace are going to do very well and those who don't are going to be attacked by the marketplace and perhaps fail. Our vision for PRO-MAX is this is a masters promotion and marketing program. This conference is a forum; it is a web site from which you can go in and look at all the different stuff and learn about it all. Then you have to come back and figure out what the application is.

R&R: What is your sense today for the future of radio promotions?

JC: I think something that is of great importance and simultaneously a great opportunity is the co-mingling of the radio stations in each market and the cable systems in those markets that have VH1, MTV, CNN, etc. There isn't a radio format or cable network on your local cable system that doesn't have unsold avails.

Your local cable system really doesn't know what to do with all that unsold inventory, while your sales manager may be a master at inventory management. Why not use those unsold avails in an ongoing copromotion campaign? Why not copromote between your radio station, local cable systems, and local television stations? Ultimately, what's going on in this marketplace is the walls are coming down, the lines are disappearing, and the media is all blurring together.

R&R: Radio people tend to prefer radio conventions. What are the advantages of attending a convention like PROMAX with such media diversity?

JC: As the '90s give way to a new millennium, promotion, marketing, and design-driven companies are faced with demands from growth. Media organizations, large and small, have committed themselves to increasing productivity, profitability, audiences, and revenue. This year's conference has been constructed to provide you with insights into our industry's future and actionable solutions to the challenges that the future presents.

This conferwhat's going on in the entire media ample, this year we have five sessions about the Internet: how to design it, how to build it, how to sell to all of us because it's relevant to the marketplace. If you are going to be a smart marketer in this marketplace, here is an example of something you ought to have in your arsenal. I feel PROMAX is the best place to learn where to design, how to use, or where to build the very best promotion and marketing ideas.

R&R: Can you recap what you have scheduled for radio and some of the featured speakers?

JC: We have 13 scheduled radio format sessions in addition to half a dozen radio roundtables. Emmy Award-winning actor and former KPWR/Los Angeles morning man Jay Thomas is hosting "Radio: State of the Art," and we are conducting our firstever radio reception so radio attenders will have their own sessions and their own private reception.

Featured speakers include Academy of Television Arts and Sciences President Richard Frank; former Walt Disney Television and Telecommunications Chairman Peter Sealey, who now heads global marketing for Coca-Cola; Todd Rundgren, songwriter, video pioneer, recording artist, software developer, and interactive artist; Maya Angelou, poet, producer, actor, writer, and 1994 Grammy Award winner; and New World Entertaiment Chairman Brandon Tartikoff.

Next week, Jim Chabin discusses the future, and we'll feature other PROMAX members' recommendations on steps to success.

By Tony Novia

DRY" (Motown) is the besttesting song overall on CALL-OUT AMERICA, claiming the crown for a second week. "WATER" is huge among women 12-17, nabbing a 4.41 favorability score.

As expected, "I'LL BE THERE FOR You" by the Rembrandts (EastWest/EEG) debuts with a strong 3.87 total favorability score. The theme from NBC's hit sitcom "FRIENDS" performs best among women 25-34, where it ranks third with a 3.88.

A strong base at the Rhythmic and Urban formats sets the stage for newcomer Montell Jordan's powerful Pop debut, "This Is How We Do It" (PMP/RAL/Island). "This" enters Callout America with a 3.89 favorability score among 12-17 women, 3.73 among women 18-24, and 3.71 among women 25-34. Interestingly, scores strongest in the Midwest with a 3.96.

"LET HER CRY" by Hootie & The Blowfish (Atlantic) is the big winner among women 25-34 this week, copping a 3.93 favorability score. Other strong performers in the 25-34 cell include "Run-Around" by Blues Traveler (A&M) (3.79; third place in the demo), "Have You Ever Really Loved A Woman?" by BryanAdams (A&M) (3.76; fifth place), and "Strange Currencies" by R.E.M. (WB) (3.72; tied for sixth).

Now that CALLOUT AMERICA is in its 17th week, the numbers show that 40% of our weekly sample are P1 listeners of a CHR/Pop reporter. Also worth noting: Teens tend to be early adopters of pop music. Songs rarely start out with high favorability in the upper demos. The biggest callout smashes begin with the younger group and spread to the upper demos—"WHEN I COME AROUND" by Green Day (Reprise) is a textbook case.

You Saved A Fraction Of A Cent Per Sticker. Wow.

So Who Got Stuck?

The last thing you need is a sticker that fades, cracks and peels.

Don't compromise quality. At CG, our stickers and decals are competitively priced. They're thicker, with better quality inks. So they last longer and look better. Don't get stuck with a poor sticker.

Vocal Coaches

Tanya Tucker and Mark Collie are great singers ... but can they coach a softball team?

The question will be answered Sunday (6/4) when teams from WSIX/Nashville and and crosstown WSM face off for the City of Hope Celebrity Softball Challenge. The fifth annual charity game and concert begins at 1pm as the unofficial prelude to Fan Fair week.

Tucker's WSM team includes such well-known athletes as Vince Gill, Clay Walker, Neal McCoy, Joe Diffie, Larry Stewart, Rhett Akins, Daron Norwood, Doug Stone, Kathy Mattea, John & Audrey Wiggins, Boy Howdy, Shelby Lynne, Trisha Yearwood, Michelle Wright, Wade Hayes, Ricky Lynn Gregg, and Shenandoah.

On the diamond for Collie's WSIX team will be Clint Black, Tracy Lawrence, Doug Supernaw, Diamond Rio, Rick Trevino, Little Texas, Billy Dean, Kix Brooks, Lee Roy Parnell, Jesse Hunter, Davis Daniel, Linda Davis, Brother Phelps, Jon Randall, Shania Twain, Bryan Austin, Russ Taff, and Billy Ray Cyrus.

And while they may not work up a sweat on the field, Martina McBride, Jeff Foxworthy, Lorianne Crook, and Charlie Chase are set for guest appearances. Baseball legend Tug McGraw (now known in country music circles as Tim McGraw's father) will provide the play-by-play, while Gary Beaty will offer color commentary for the TNN special, slated for telecast in August.

The concert raises money for the City of Hope National Medical WISH YOU WERE HERE— MCA Music Publishing held a party in Nashville for award-winning Country songwriter Gary Burr, who got his first 1995 #1 hit with Reba McEntire's "Til You Love Me". On hand were (I-r): MCA Music VP Stephen Day, songwriter Bob Dipiero, McEntire in cardboard form, Burr, ASCAP's Connie Bradley, and MCA Records Chairman Bruce Hinton.

Center and the Beckman Research Institute.

Summer Lights Country

John Michael Montgomery, Chet Atkins, and Suzy Bogguss have been added to the list of artists performing Sunday (6/4) at Summer Lights In Nashville, an outdoor festival taking place downtown. Montgomery and RCA artist Jon Randall close out the four-day festival with an 8:45pm concert.

Earlier in the evening, Atkins and Bogguss will join Little Texas, John Berry, and Steve Wariner for live performances of the songs they recorded for the Liberty album, "Come Together: America Salutes The Beatles." The Nashville Symphony and contemporary Christian artists Gary Chapman and Phil Keaggy are included in the lineup for the 6:45pm concert.

Artists Aid Oklahoma

Brooks & Dunn, David Ball, and the Tractors have donated all profits from their May 21 concert in Norman, OK to assist the victims of the Oklahoma City bombing. The money goes to Oklahoma Gov. Frank Keating's Victim and Family Relief Fund, established to coordinate information regarding emergency relief agencies and assistance funds available to the victims and their families.

In addition to the contributions from Oklahoma native Ronnie Dunn and the Tulsa-based Tractors, tour sponsor Miller Lite is also making a donation to the fund.

The Brooks & Dunn concert, part of the duo's Steel Canyon Tour, was scheduled prior to the April 19 tragedy.

You Might Be A TV Star If ...

Jeff Foxworthy, whose WB album "You Might Be a Redneck If" has sold 1.5 million copies, will star in a situation comedy for ABC-TV. "The Jeff Foxworthy Show" casts the comedian as a construction worker with a wife and two daughters. The Saturday night series premieres this fall.

Bits 'N' Pieces

• Butler, AL Mayor J.W. Cowan Jr. presented a key to the city to Epic artist/Butler native Ty Herndon as part of the town's "Ty Herndon Day" (5/25) celebration.

• Doug Supernaw and Country vet Johnny Paycheck have signed recording contracts with Giant Records, and Rob Crosby has signed with River North.

• In a more unexpected development, Engelbert Humperdinck has signed a record deal with Nashvillebased CORE Entertainment Corp. The singer had an international pop hit in 1967 with the country standard "Release Me" and hit the country charts in 1977 with "After The Lovin'." Humperdinck's CORE debut album, "Love Unchained," will be released June 20. It's his first studio album in more than five years.

☐ The Interep Radio Store looks at the Country audience, individual statistics

The Interep Radio Store's Research Division has issued a study of Country radio listeners that provides a look at who they are, where they are, and what they like to do.

The study cites Simmons research showing that almost 30 million adults (18+) listen to Country every day, far outpacing News/Talk/Business Talk outlets' daily adult cume of almost 18 million. The other formats are (in order, with the daily 18+ cume in parentheses): AC (17,489,000); CHR (12,802,000); Rock (12,241,000); Gold (9,615,000); Urban (7,368,000); and Classic Rock (6,703,000).

Who Are They?

The report also used the 1994 Simmons Study of Media and Markets to draw a demographic profile of today's Country listener. Country listeners are most likely to fall into the following categories:

- 71% are 18-49
- 64% are 25-5494% are white

- 44% have a household income of $44,000 or more
  - 74% own their own home
- 84% own a single-family dwelling.

As a format, Country ranks No. 1 in a number of important consumer categories:

• 14.4% of those who have attended college or more listen to Country — over 11 million adults (18+).
News/Talk/Business Talk is second at 11.5%.

• 17.3% of fulltime workers (30+ hours) listen to Country — over 17 million adults (18+). AC is second at 10.1%.

• 13.9% of those holding professional and managerial positions listen to Country radio — 4.5 million adults (18+). News/Talk/Business Talk is second at 11.9%.

• 14.2% of those with incomes over $60,000 listen to Country — over 6 million adults (18+). News/ Talk/Business Talk is second at 13.4%.

• 17% of homeowners listen to Country — over 22 million adults. News/Talk/Business Talk is second at 10.8%.

Where Are They?

The Interep report also maps out where Country listeners live. According to the study:

• 46% reside primarily in the South, 28% in the Midwest, 16% in the West, and 10% in the Northeast census regions

• 41% reside in Metro suburban areas, 35% in non-metropolitan areas, and 24% in MSA Central City areas

• 25% are in A counties, 32% in B counties, 17% in C counties, and 26% in D counties. (The A, B, C, and D designations represent various population levels, with A being the highest and D the lowest.)

Reaching The Country Fan

As you might expect, Country listeners are strong radio users. In fact, 31% of them are in radio's heaviest user group, Quintile 1, which the report says represents 9.5 million adults.

One of the study's more interesting findings is Country radio's strength in delivering advertising messages vs. all other media. The report notes, "Radio is clearly the best way to reach this huge number of people. Country music fans just aren't exposed to any other media quite as heavily as radio."

The report says that, of all Country listeners:

- only 24% are also outdoor's (billboards) heaviest users
- only 20% are also Yellow Pages heaviest users
- only 18% are television's heaviest users
- only 16% are also magazines' heaviest users
- only 13% are also newspapers' heaviest users
- only 11% are also cable TV's heaviest users.

Country Self-Portrait

Respondents to the nationwide Simmons study were asked to identify what types of consumers they are. Here's how Country radio listeners identified themselves:

- 24% say they are cautious; 26% say they are experimenters
- 16% say they are planners; 21% say they are impulsive
- 16% say they are ecologists/environmentalists; 26% say they are economy-minded
- 20% say they are product label-readers; 23% say they are ad believers.

'As Hot As Ever'

Reviewing the study's overall findings, Interep Exec. VP/Director of Research Marla Pirner noted, "This report shows Country is as hot as ever. More stations climbed on the Country bandwagon in 1994 because they recognize that the tremendous popularity of Country is not a short-term trend, but instead reflects a cultural mainstay into the foreseeable future."

Agency Debunks KMPS Single-Stopset Theory

erry Carlisle, VP of Seattle-based KSL Media West offers this reaction to R&R's May 12 Country column detailing KMPS/Seattle's recent move to a single, 10-unit stopset per hour.

Au contraire. Lest stations in other markets rush to follow KMPS's example, let's set the record straight. The picture you describe in "KMPS Programs One Stopset Per Hour" is far different than the view from here. Seattle is our home market, and KSL Media is a major player with millions in Seattle radio billings in 1995. Trust us, the market is abuzz.

We pulled our commercials off KMPS. The only thing that slowed us down was a sold-out marketplace. We waited for inventory to open elsewhere before we switched our dollars. KLS Media West does not condone the practice of "ghetto programming" — red-lining all commercials into one long stopset per hour. The suggestion that the third through the 10th commercials in a pod are as effective as the first and that audience is not decreased is quite simply, ludicrous. One offensive or irritating commercial is enough to break the listening chain. The tune-out of successive commercials is well-documented in television. Why would radio be so very different? Does KMPS agree with me, or was it just blind luck that on May 16th, in both the 3pm and 4pm hours, KMPS aired two of their new 10-unit stopsets with a KMPS promo nicely positioned first in each pod?

Your article presents most interesting quotes. "We have to play the Arbitron game," from KMPS's [GPM] Becky Brenner. Really? That's a surprising statement from a station who has not subscribed to Arbitron in recent years. What game is being played?

[VP/GM] Fred Schumacher is quoted as saying, "What is good for a listener is good for the advertiser." We won't argue with that.

Our concern is that other stations may follow KMPS's lead in a move that could be disastrous for the industry. Were 10 unit stopsets a standard practice, [we] would shift dollars into other media.

- Kerry Carlisle

Radio stations must walk a fine line. They have to generate an audience, then turn around and rent that audience to advertisers a minute at a time. What scares us is this attitude that radio programming is some sort of a game played with listeners and advertisers.

We don't buy spots, we buy access to the buying power of an audience. We can argue whether ratings actually represent the true listening audience of a station until the cows come home. As an advertiser, we want to broadcast our message to the largest audience possible. But we want that message to be delivered in such a way that it will be noticed — and after 25 years in this business, you'll never convince me that being buried sixth, seventh, eighth, or worse in a 10-spot set is going to deliver my message fairly.

"TV leads the way in what people will tolerate. It's nothing for them to run a 14-15 unit spot break." Humph. As a consumer, I've yet to see a break anywhere near that long. As a TV traffic manger, I was never allowed to schedule anything longer than a four-unit break. Did [consultant] Tim Murphy miss the press when NBC-TV went seamless in Soutember 1942 Think they had a reason. Tim?

seamless in September '94? Think they had a reason, Tim?
Our concern is that other stations may follow KMPS's lead in a move that could be disastrous for the industry. Were 10-unit stopsets a standard practice, KSL Media West — in a heartbeat — would shift dollars into other media. We are not alone. The R&R story had an exclusive KMPS slant. Your readers would've been better served with a wider, more representational view.

Thanks for the letter, Kerry. We strive to present all sides of issues, which is why letters are always welcome! Ed.

WKTI Roars To Strong Demo Finish

Hot ACs placed first among 25-54s this winter in five of Arbitron's 94 continuous measurement markets. Of that elite group — WBMX/Boston, WMTX-FM/Tampa, WKTI/Milwaukee, WRAL/Raleigh, and WYYY/Syracuse — WKTI posted the heftiest (+1.9) winter-winter demo increase.

Notes WKTI PD Danny Clayton, "We do much better in female demos. But when males are factored in, we really wind up shooting for top three. Being number one is a pleasant surprise."

Danny Clayton

WKTI's +2.9

book-book 25-54 gain may have held more significance for Clayton than year-to-year comparisons. "Our fall-winter increase made us look like brain surgeons. The fall book was an unfortunate one for us because we were down 1.6 from the summer, and we're now back to where we normally are. I feel vindicated that the fall book [wasn't realistic]."

Aggressive Hitters

Crediting part of the station's success to its aggressive stance with new music, Clayton explains, "We take a lot of chances, and our batting average has been pretty good. [WKTI] was probably six weeks early on Martin Page, and we were also very [quick to add] Dionne Farris, Des'ree, and Sheryl Crow. We don't work with consultants who tend to cume-driven station. Our listeners know we're the station that plays new music by Michael Jackson, Rod Stewart, and Blues Traveler."

A Hot AC cheerleader, Clayton remarks, "I embrace this format; it's a great place to be right now. It's being programmed by many former [CHR] guys who bring a certain excitement. Our stations are 'Top 40 for adults.' There's enough latitude era-wise for us to play music our audience listened to in high school and college.

"We consume just about the right amount of music. Hot ACs usually only need one or two new songs a week. When we need something — boom! Rod Stewart, the Rembrandts, and Amy Grant are right there. It seems there's a perfect balance between what we need and [good available product]."

According to Clayton, record companies are starting to better understand a HotAC's role. "The impression I get is that they know they can start records here. Columbia has noticed how we developed [Buckshot LeFonque's] 'Some Cow Fonque' and [Sophie B. Hawkins's] 'As I Lay Me Down.' Mercury definitely found out we were one of the pioneers for Martin Page."

Butting Heads

WKTI boasts one of Hot AC's strongest 35-64 shares and a very respectable third-place market rank. Attributing that showing to the morning show, Clayton says, "It has very broad appeal. A big chunk [of the 35-64 share] is 35-44, which gives us the strength."

New York, Denver — and now Milwaukee — have two Hot ACs. In addition to WKTI, crosstown WMYX has evolved from AC to Hot AC. "[Having a direct competitor] makes our game sharper.

But I'm still puzzled as to why they're chasing us," says Clayton. "Historically, the closer they've come to us, the tougher it's been for them. They're counterprogramming very logically. They let us play something for 10 or 11 weeks before adding it. Everything on that station is very familiar.

"The difference is they don't have huge morning or afternoon shows. They're positioning the stations as similar, but they don't have all the talk. That doesn't bother me because part of WKTI's package is entertainment. And some of that entertainment comes through what our [announcers] say."

Winners' Circle

While many ACs and Hot ACs struggled to stay even with last winter's numbers, 34 managed to log 25-54 shares that were one share or better than a year ago.

Third Time's The Charm For Clark

☐ Bright AC KVKI posts fourth successive 25-54 gain, triples 18-34 share

By tripling its 18-34 share (Arbitron Winter '94-Winter'95 comparisons), KVKI/Shreveport, LA currently commands the format's loftiest winter demo stat.

Among 14 rated signals a year ago, KVKI found itself tied for seventh in the 18-34 race. However, coinciding with pacesetter KMJJ's sevenplus share erosion and KDKS's 10+share improvement, KVKI vaulted to third behind the two UCs. It outpaced Country KRMD-FM, which suffered nearly a nine-share 18-34 decline over the past year.

Duopoly partner KITT's AC-to-Country conversion in February 1994 left "Lite Rock — Less Talk" KVKI without a direct format challenger. The Bright AC also has the luxury of operating without CHR competition, following KTUX's evolution to Rock.

While its 25-54 winter-winter increases weren't quite as dramatic as its 18-34 gains, KVKI did log an eight-share boost that was good enough to cop first place. It marked the fourth successive sweep during which the station — which does little on-air contesting — posted a 25-54 increase.

"My feeling was that if we remained consistent, we'd be a top player in the demo," says PD

Howard Clark, who also handles a daily 3-6pm airshift. "Our promotions are sales-oriented and done only in morning drive. We're very music-intensive and don't do gigantic money giveaways."

Playing The Hits

Now on his third tour of duty with KVKI, Clark returned as programmer three years ago. "The station was a sick puppy then, but I felt it could be turned around. The first thing I did was play nothing but hits. [Prior to my arrival], KVKI was playing every new song known to mankind. I think they wanted the audience to catch us playing a hit. In addition to tightening the play list, Clark softened the station's sound. "KITT was leaning hot, and I thought the void was for a Soft AC. When we bought KITT, I felt [KVKI] could take the liberty of becoming brighter.

"Two years ago, we wouldn't have played Melissa Etheridge or Hootie & The Blowfish. But the market seems to accept it. We're fence-straddlers ... somewhere between [Mainstream AC] and Hot AC. KVKI's much brighter than we've ever been, and it's been successful."

KVKI doesn't utilize research or consultant input. "I'm very selective about what we play," notes Clark. "Since we don't have any research, I rely on my gut instincts regarding everything we do."

KRMD-FM's massive 13-share 35-64 advantage (Winter '94) over KVKI has been sliced to less than four shares. Regardless, Clark acknowledges things could change. "[The emergence of a] SoftAC would scare me to death. The market's wide open for it. And that's where KVKI would be most vulnerable. It would wreak havoc on me; we'd have to quickly adjust what we're doing.

"CHR could also hurt. But I don't know how big of an audience it [could attract]. KTUX must not have been making money because they dropped out of the format."

WEDR: The Winning Streak Continues

☐ Miami's mainstream '99 Jamz' prevails in every sellable demo ... again

When talking about winning radio stations in any format, one must include Mainstream Urban WEDR (99 Jamz)/Miami. Once again, the station has come out on top in in every sellable demographic in the Winter '95 Arbitron.

In persons 12+, the station rose 6.1-6.4 to capture the market crown. In the all-important 18-34 demo, 'EDR again ranked No. 1 by skyrocketing from a rocketing from a mid-eight share to more than 11. Crosstown CHR WPOW placed second 18-34 with more than an eight share, while UAC WHQT's mid-seven share was good for third.

WEDR scored another win among 25-54s with a mid-six share. WHQT ran a close second, jumping from less than a five share to more than six.

The Right Stuff

Five-year WEDR PD James Thomas explains his station's winning streak. "I think we've been able to reach a lot more people. Even though our slogan doesn't say we give a lot more variety, we do. And people who listen to us know that. We play everything from rap to gospel — the latter we call 'inspiration-

"We're still

"We're still very strong in the community. We do remote broadcasts every Saturday, which we sell to clients they're sold out for the year, I'm proud to say. And we have great participation because we make it more than just a live remote. We have people checking in from the location to the radio station. We make it an event, with everything from live artist appearances to spinning our 'Jamz Wheel' for concert tickets and prizes. We're also featured every Friday night at one of the community's main black nightclubs, where we have a 'Jamz Party' saluting at least two birthday winners a week."

Extended Coverage

Another reason for WEDR's success, according to Thomas, is the station's coverage of three different the Metro. Arbitron's total estimated population 12+ is 2,843,000. The black estimated population 12+ is 480,300 — 16.9% of the total. And the Hispanic 12+ population is 1,068,600 (37.6%). This puts in perspective what WEDR must do to be rated No. 1 in this major South Florida metropolitan area — it must have a multicultural audience to be able to rank No. 1 in any category, let alone in several demos.

Thomas shares his thoughts on the station's amazing feat. "First, when anyone says 'black' in Miami, you're talking about five different major cultures. Everything from Bahamian, Jamaican, Haitian, African-American—or whatever we are in '95—to black Cuban. Then you can look at the 'other' category, which consists of people from South America, Latin America, and Africa. Each of these groups has a viable culture of its own within our city.

"I think we've mastered knowing how to serve them and actually serving them. We can't do it by playing all of their country's music within an hour. But we have found a way that works well for us, and it's made them feel we care and are interested in helping their communities and bettering their lives — regardless of culture."

All Over The Map

Thomas explains how WEDR is all things to all people in all South Florida demos. "There's a two-part explanation. There's daypart programming, of course. But, also, you can serve the same meal with different ambiance in a different place and still have people enjoy it. I don't think [people] are as much different as we are alike. But, we just like to have things presented differently.

"Rather than use the old term 'personality radio,' I think we're truly 'individuality radio.' Anyone can take on a personality, but is that personality your individual personality? We've been able to take WEDR's personality and present it to the young, old, black, white, and Hispanic. And because all of these people see it's real, we don't get all people from one group — we get some people from all groups."

Thomas once said of WEDR, "We continue to realize that God blesses those that serve, and we think that this is a wonderful blessing. We conthat man didn't make. And that's where WEDR fits in. The people of this community know we're genuine. We're not just in it for the business, although business is a part of it"

AIRSTAFF JAMZ — WEDR's finest (I-r): air personalities Huey Anderson

(10pm-2am), Terry Alexander (2-6pm), and Lady Dee (10am-2pm), PD/morning man James "T," and 6-10pm talent Chico.

According to VP/GM Jerry Rushin, "The key is our commitment and the elimination of gray areas. We're committed to a black format and the community. There's no gray area with our concept, thus no confusion — and the buyers and audience appreciate that."

Another management perspective, according to GSM Kevin Hemmings, is that advertisers value the station's steady positioning as a ratings leader. "Consistency—that's what we sell and that's what we deliver," says Hemmings. "When you're able to do this for so many years in as many demos as we have, that's a selling strength. It eases the burden on the buying community because we can rely on our consistency. We know what we're doing here — we're doing our best, and it shows."

Regarding WEDR's AM sister,

Consistency – that's what we sell and that's what we deliver. We know what we're doing here – we're doing our best, and it shows.

tinue to serve South Florida with all His might and give an encouraging word accompanied and confirmed by a helping hand!"

He expounds on that sentiment:

'That comment truly [explains] our success. My greatest success in life has been my own spiritual growth, and that's only so I can know who I am, what is mine, and what I should do with what I've been given. And that goes for anybody, no matter what you do for a living. Try to become a better person so you can be of better service - it's just a law

WRBD, Thomas notes, "It's had the greatest increase of any radio station in the market. In fact, it's had great increases since we purchased it. We've gone 50,000 watts, and we're directing our signal more to the east, west, and north. And with WRBD sitting in Ft. Lauderdale—able to reach North Dade County and all of Broward County—it also goes into Palm Beach, Martin, Monroe and the Bahamas roe, and the Bahamas. "What we're doing there is so unique because the format is Gospel/Rap. From 2am to 3pm, we play inspirational music; from 3pm to 2am, we target anyone who listens to radio from birth to 25. The station is music-intensive. But now that we've shown some increase in listenership, we'll indeed begin to do some contests and promotions. We've already done some contesting, but not as much as we'll do in the future because — as you can imagine — a young audience always wants to win something.'

The people of this community know we're genuine. We're not just in it for the business, although business is a part of it.

al music' — so it's a combination of doing the right things at the right times."

WEDR has been an institution in Miami for 30 years. Its longtime policy of stopping the music whenever a community issue must be addressed in a public, on-air forum continues to this day. "Not only do we still do it," says Thomas, "but we do it more so now than ever. Because of the needs of the people we serve, we must be even better at serving them.

"Every other Wednesday, 9-10am, we open our phone lines so listeners may call and speak about whatever's on their minds. People can deal with important issues, either local or national. They get a chance to feel that what they have to say is important and that someone is taking the time to listen. Plus, others get to hear what someone else has to say — they [may agree or disagree], but they know the subject is out there for discussion. Then, they look forward to areas. "One of the unique things we're able to do is present events that will cater to all three areas we serve: Miami, Ft. Lauderdale, and West Palm Beach — although our Metro is Miami-Ft. Lauderdale-Holly wood. We're able to package events that will draw people from all three counties in this area, and I think that, too, helps us a lot."

It's important to note that the Miami-Ft. Lauderdale-Hollywood market houses a total of 38 stations; 35 are above the line, while three are outside

SEEING BETTER REPRESENTATION

The Format's Struggle To Gain Diaries

Saga Communications Exec. VP/Group PD Steve Goldstein is also Vice Chairman of the Arbitron Advisory Council. He recently attended a council meeting where he and other radio representatives presented important evidence concerning the poor showing of 18-24 and 25-34 male response rates.

'The Bottom 10'

Everyone knows that some markets are traditionally difficult for Arbitron to measure, usually because of high military and/or university populations. Following are the "Bottom 10," the markets where Arbitron has the most difficult job of getting diaries returned from men 18-34, along with their Index (which will be explained below):

Among the most problematic markets for men 18-24 are Colorado Springs, CO; Springfield, MA; and Orlando. Other male 25-34 problems normally occur in Shreveport, LA; Houston-Galveston; Kansas City; Wichita; and Richmond.

The Perfect Index

Goldstein says that "a perfect Index number is 100. We start seeing problems at an index between 80-90. As you can see, the markets above are dramatically below what is acceptable. These Index figures are averaged over a 12-book period allowing for the occasional wobbles in any market. These particular market problems have little to do with Arbitron's intelligence or how hard it works — it's just the market characteristics."

To its credit, Arbitron is looking for ways to improve the sample frame. They have "enriched" the sample frame in 51 markets with significant college or military group quarters starting with the Spring '95 survey. Goldstein says the reason Arbitron had to include this segment of the population lies in the following statistics: "On a national average, 15% of all men 18-24 live in group quarters; only 35% of men 18-24 reside in households or live at home.

other steps that can help, too. Arbitron has changed many of the editing procedures to include more usable diaries. They used to throw out diaries on minor technicalities, but are now including more of them. They're also making three follow-up phone calls to men 18-24 to remind them to fill out and return their diaries — and they've added a follow-up postcard.

"They're working on improving the graphics to make the packaging more hip, interesting, and attractive. The diary is now sent in a neon-colored box to any household with a male 18-24 years old, rather than the standard envelope. The inside packaging has been updated, too."

Goldstein says, "While we already know that the return on men 18-24 is poor, it doesn't look so great for men 25-34, either. We believe that low response rates

National Average Of Indexes

astman Radio's Director/Research Charlie Sislen
— also a member of the Arbitron Advisory Council
— put together a chart of the national average of Indexes by demographic for the last six books.

Fa '94	77	88	96	109	90	103	108	116

In total, about 20% of young men are not in the telephone sample frame that Arbitron contacts.

"Making calls into group quarters is not the magic elixir that will entirely solve the problem, but it's a step in the right direction. There are shouldn't be just an 18-24 issue and we'd better focus on 25-34 before it degrades any further. The male 35-44 and 45-54 indexes look fine, but then the female 18-24 index is quite erratic. Women 25-34, 35-44, and 45-54 weren't a problem. In fact, they over-performed in each case.

"While Arbitron did increase its sample frame considerably by putting out more diaries in the market-place — which is good and we're very happy about it — it didn't improve the returns from each of the individual demographics. The Index shows you that the increased sample didn't solve the problems with men 18-24 and men 25-34. Fortunately, Arbitron is moving away from thinking that it's only an 18-24 problem and is viewing it as an 18-34 issue."

rates," continues Goldstein. "As you recall, in the fall book they sent the wrong premium to virtually every household in America in phase one. In phase two of that book they returned everything to normal. Then, Arbitron increased the male 18-24 premium in phase three. Here are the men 18-24 Index results of that book: Phase One — 72, Phase Two 78, Phase Three - 84. Which is why they've now instituted a $3 premium for that demo across the board. Again, I don't know if that's the magic elixir either, but it certainly looks like it doesn't hurt.

"All of this information points to something very important at each radio station: When we look at the book or a trend, we have to look beyond our rank, beyond 'are we smart or stupid this month?' We need to understand the facts and data that comprised our number. Did any cells bounce around a great deal? How were the return rates in the individual cells? A station really needs to understand what's behind the numbers before breaking out the champagne or putting its PD's head in the microwave.

"When ratings go down, it all too often happens that people at the station get in a flurry and start talking about making changes. But 60 days later, the numbers are fine without any programming changes. We all have to remember that this sampling method is still very imprecise and you must know what's in there in order to know when to make changes, if indeed they are necessary."

t's easy to determine the Index in your own market. Go to page 3A of the Arbitron. In the Metro and Total Survey Areas, the % Unweighted In-Tab Sample and the % Weighted In-Tab Sample are provided for each demo. Divide the Unweighted into the Weighted to determine the Index. For example:

	% Unwgt. In-Tab Sample	% Wgt. In-Tab Sample	Index
Men 18-24	4.1	8.8	47
Men 25-34	9.6	11.7	82
Men 35-44	9.0	9.7	93

Fun Diary Facts

- The average diary lists three stations.
- 78% of the listening is attributed to just one of the three stations.
- The remaining two stations share just 22% of credited listening.
- Each diary only has 15 listening occasions entered for the week.
- 36% of the audience accounts for 72% of the listening to the average radio station.

Q&A With Jeff Pollack

Veteran consultant probes format's keys to success

Over the past year, Pollack Media Group has made major inroads consulting what's become the industry's darling format: Alternative. I recently asked Chairman/CEO Jeff Pollack for his perspective on the format.

R&R: Congratulations on your recent involvement with several major-market stations. Are you discovering anything different with large-market stations such as KDGE/Dallas, WNNX/Atlanta, WHFS/Washington, and KTBZ/Houston?

JP: Those stations are so different from one another. One thing you can say is that all of these stations have been designed to be as competitive as possible in their individual markets. It's critical for each station to capture the nuances and flavor of what their opportunities are. Dallas sounds very different from Washington; these stations have all evolved differently. It's one of the most exciting things about working with the format.

Some of the most successful people in this format have worked in many different genres of music. There are so many things you can take from your various experiences. Put that with the music, and you can end up with a sensational-sounding radio station.

R&R: A lot of criticism has been directed at you from people who say you homogenized AOR and made it boring and predictable. How is your involvement with Alternative different?

JP: Unlike other consultants, we have never wanted our clients to sound the same. Some of our competitors offered the same product, with the same name for all their Alternative clients; we've never been like that. Whenever you have a lot of radio stations to work with, one always gets the rap for trying to make everything homogenized.

Many people playing the same records has always happened in any successful format. The truth is there's only a certain amount of strong new records, so you sometimes end up getting criticism for being too safe. Yet Alternative must have a sense of urgency to it. You really must program every single day to be successful. Music changes all the time.

Jeft Pollack R&R: You stirred up a lot of controversy prior to your seminar a couple months ago by saying the music is becoming a bunch of one-hit wonders. Why did you feel this way?

JP: I felt that way because there was about a nine-month period where very little superstar music was coming out; a lot of novelty and sound-alike groups were coming fast and furious.

The blossoming of this format has been driven by some of the best music in several decades. My concern then was that so many groups began to sound the same. Some bands, in fact, almost sound like corporate alternative bands. We were beginning to worry the uniqueness would be diluted — because when everyone sounds the same, you risk not having enough major new acts to sustain the format.

R&R: With the amount of artist-the key to Alternative stations maintaining their individuality?

KTEG/Albuquerque (R&R 4/21).

JP: Two stations can play 95% of the same music and sound totally different in any format. Although music-sharing could be as much as 85% with the current-based AOR in the market, people shouldn't forget it's the music mix, production, presentation, promotions — there are so many other things that go into an exciting radio station.

Yes, it makes it more difficult when someone is playing most of the same music because you can no longer be musically unique in your market-place. But you can still play the right new records first because AOR often waits on a record. You can be identified with the best new bands first if you continue to do free shows, have terrific production and hot, exciting presentation, and basically [ensure] your station jumps out of the dial.

R&R: How do you gauge what's happening in alternative music?

JP: I love the music, and I'm very much up-to-speed with all the new acts. The most important thing is to give yourself enough time every week to actually listen to the music. You can't just rely on tips from people. I was listening to Bush before they were signed to Interscope, and

I was terrifically excited about them. It's really important to go out and hear music, watch videos, [keep track of] what's happening in Europe, and pay attention to a lot of the smaller labels and some of the unsigned bands. I know that sounds like a lot of work—it is a lot of work.

If I didn't love the music, I wouldn't do it. I don't hear every new record. Pat
Welsh, Tommy Hadges, or Dave
Brewer might run into my office and say, "Hey, this is a terrific record. Have you heard this?" Obviously, you spend more time with things you've heard about or that managers [have discussed]. We do a conference call every month, which is terrific because we have MTV [VP/ Music] Lewis Largent on the call—he always contributes a lot.

R&R: What new musical trends do you see forthcoming?

JP: So many music scenes have developed outside of the large cities, and more and more young bands are being signed from concerts or local station CDs. There's tremendous interest in discovering new spawning grounds for music, and I find that encouraging. It's a very good time to have a new band because there's a tremendous interest in the companies to sign that next hot local group as soon as possible.

R&R: What's the biggest challenge you face consulting Alternative stations?

JP: A tremendous commitment to listening to as much new music as possible, and that the approach not sound sterile. It's ironic that we can be accused of being "homogenized" when one of the most important things we stress is a station must sound exciting, local, and unpredictable. Yet the station must be familiar enough to gain a large audience, while not sacrificing that core integrity and uniqueness of the overall sound. That's so critical. It's essential to commit to sounding fresh continually. Not just the music, your features, promotions, jock presentation, production, or morning show - all of these things are vital to success.

R&R: What was the gist of your seminar "Alternative: Radio's Hottest Format" at the Radio Only Management Conference?

JP: It was designed for GMs to talk about the format's success during the past 12 months — the kinds of people who listen to the format and their buying power — in [order to educate] the sales department. Looking at the major markets and reviewing the successes in medium markets and even small markets, I think the eye-opener for a lot of people unfamiliar with the format was how successful these stations are — from a cume standpoint and how well the format delivers 25-34. Quite a few GMs were sitting back going, "Wow, this isn't just a fad. This is a serious format that will be with us for a long time, that has a great qualitative, and has opportunities to be a lot more than just an under-25 format."

RATINGS ANALYSIS

Money Demo Prospers In Latest Book

By Shawn Alexander

Ithough the format's median 12+ remained flat at 2.6 in the Winter '95 Arbitron survey, the 24-54 money demo and the 35-44 cell both showed growth from the fall book.

In persons 25-54, 62% of the stations either improved or remained flat in their demographic rank. There are 14 stations (48%) that rank in the Top 10 25-54 (see "25-54 Crown").

The results are even better 35-44: 19 stations (66%) improved or remained flat. There are 20 stations among the Top 10 (69%), while more than 40% rank Top Five in the demo (see "35-44 Leaders").

BACK PORCH CONCERTS — As part of its "Back Porch Concerts" series, KKOS/San Diego gave away 25 pairs of tickets to a private concert by Richie Havens, who performed live on the KKOS back porch. Food, beverages, and a coffee bar were provided by the station. Hanging out are (I-r) KKOS PD Ron Lane, Havens, KKOS Promo Director Jeff Gelder, and the station's Kurt Williams and Rick Rome.

BAND OF GYPSYS — Anthony Avenue recording artists Michael Kline & The Gypsys took an afternoon off from the casinos to play a live, on-air acoustic set at KXPT (The Point)/Las Vegas. Taking a breather in the studio are (I-r) PD Richard Reed, Gypsy Denny Weston Jr., Kline, and afternooner Chris Foxx.

THE BEST OF ... — Several of Sony Music's finest singer/songwriters gathered to participate in the "Best of the Columbia Records Radio Hour," recorded live at Willie Nelson's Pedernales Studios in Austin. Pictured are (I-r) Peter Himmelman, Darden Smith, Shawn Colvin, James McMurtry, Columbia VP/Artist Development Paul Rappaport, Willie Nelson, and KGSR/Austin PD Jody Denberg.

NACs Rapidly Rising In Ratings, Revenue

☐ Format's billings and power ratio are booming, study says

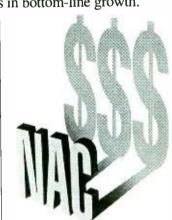

Every week, I get calls from owners/operators, GMs, PDs, and consultants who want to know more about NAC. Some are drawn to the format's quality image, some to the music, and some to its intense adult appeal. But they all are responding to reports of the format's increasing profitability. This week, we take a look at why NAC is tops in bottom-line growth.

To learn more about the format's encouraging financial trends, I spoke with George Nadel Rivin, C.P.A., partner in charge of broadcast services at Miller, Kaplan & Arase. Nadel Rivin prepared a report that compares total cash revenues from a group of contributing stations to the compiled total cash revenue available in those markets, as well as a power ratio trend report.

What is a power ratio? Simply put, it's a way to quantify the ability of a sales staff to turn ratings into billing, as well as a reflection of a format's intrinsic sales appeal. Power ratio compares revenue share to audience share, and NAC's performance is excellent. A comparison of 1993 and 1994 figures show NAC's growth to be virtually unrivaled by any other format.

We've Got The Power

In a theoretical world where all things are equal, sales staffs in every format would sell their stations in direct relation to their audience share. For example, a five share would generate 5% of available market billing. Power ratios are built on that principle. For example, NAC stations billed 11% above that level in 1993, giving the format a power ratio of 1.11. But last year, its power ratio shot up to 1.25, meaning that NAC stations outsold their ratings shares by a quarter.

OH, ATLANTA — WJZF/Atlanta was another stop on Tom Scott's whirlwind promotion tour. Here he's seen with PD Mark Edwards (I) and PM drive personality/Promotions Dir. Bill Black.

YOUNG LION ROARS — NYC Records artist Marc Antoine performed recently at West Hollywood's hot night spot, Luna Park, where this group of Luna-tics was caught on film (I-r) Antoine's manager Garry George, Antoine, Carol Archer, and KTWV (The Wave)/L.A. midday personality Talaya Trigueros.

NAC's power ratio gain of .14 was, by far, the class of the format field. Runner-up Rock was up .07 to 1.29. Classic Rock moved 1.39 to 1.43, a gain of only .04. Soft AC advanced .03, from 1.19 to 1.22. AC inched up .02 to 1.48. CHR posted a modest 1.08-1.09 gain. Country (1.30) and Urban (.89) both held steady. Alternative and Gold registered small losses of .01 and .02, respectively, leaving them at 1.00 and 1.33.

More Success Stories

Not only is the entire format grabbing a larger share of market revenues, but more of its individual stations are finding greater success. In 1993, just 63% of NAC stations had power ratios of 1.00 or better. But in '94, about five of every six NACs—83%—had revenue shares that outperformed their ratings. Only a handful of formats did better: Classic Rock (97%), AC (92%), and Soft AC and Full-Service (both 84%).

Percentages and ratios are all well and good, but here's the big question: How do they translate into dollars? In the 12 NAC markets measured by the study*, total ad revenues for the first quarter of 1994 were $378 million, with NAC claiming a 3.7% share (approximately $13.9 million). One year later, while overall first-quarter radio revenues had risen 14.5% to $433.1 million, NAC's take soared 32.4% to about $18.4 million — a

TALKIN' 'BOUT:

David Sanborn "Pearls" Elektra

By Boney James

ve always thought David Sanborn was a fucking genius! And I'll tell you something else: All contemporary sax players in the genre today owe him a debt because he's blazed so many trails. He's revered as an idol by many sax players. It's probably because of Sanborn that I don't play much alto sax — that's his!

I really liked listening to this whole record. I think "Pearls" is really something new; a different sound for David Sanborn. To me, some of his recent records were drier and kind of in-your-face, but this one is very lush. It's a great thing to take his distinctive alto sound — which is very aggressive, intense, and no-holds-barred — and wrap it up in this lush, beautiful coating. It makes for a great texture.

I love his choice of material on "Pearls." I was surprised he chose a couple of the tunes, like "Nobody Does It Better," because that's a song I never really liked when it was a hit. Let's face it — it's from a James Bond movie. [But his version] has a bluesy, grindy quality I just love. It's almost my favorite tune on the record. The vocal by Oleta Adams is fabulous, too. "Willow Weep For Me" is one of my favorite songs, and I love how he reads it. Sanborn's got that perfect combination of jazzy and contemporary qualities in his playing, especially on this record.

He's doing a lot of quoting and playing what some might consider jazz figures, ones he might not get to play under other circumstances. Yet "Pearls" is totally unique — and totally Sanborn. He has described himself in the past as more of a blues/soul saxophone player, yet he's giving us this jazzy reading.

Boney James's last release, "Backbone," was #1 on the NAC chart for five weeks. He is currently in the studio recording his next Warner Bros. album, "Seduction," which is scheduled for September release.

4.2% slice of radio's money pie. When you look at these numbers, it's no wonder my phone's been ringing off the hook ...

* In computing overall market and format revenues, the following NAC markets and stations were surveyed: New York (WQCD), Los Angeles (KTWV), San Francisco (KBLX and KKSF), Philadelphia (WJJZ), Dallas (KOAI), Miami (WLVE), Seattle(KEZX), San Diego(KIFM), Cleveland (WNWV), Orlando (WLOQ), Raleigh (WNND), and Anchorage (KNIK).

Doctor's Orders; Morning Challenge

During the recent Oklahoma City tragedy, KTNT PD Steve English decided to maintain the station's Smooth Jazz format, breaking periodically for news updates.

Galvanized by the extent of suffering and loss they and their neighbors were enduring, KTNT staffers joined community disaster relief efforts, raising funds at a local environmental fair. In the aftermath of these harrowing days, English received great support for the wisdom of his programming decision. In the following letter, he explains how, once again, NAC can be a powerful prescription for healing:

Carol, your "This Music's Really Good For You" article (R&R 4/ 14) is very true. After the disaster, we had calls at KTNT from doctors and therapists telling us how much they appreciated that KTNT kept, for the most part, our regular programming instead of stopping down completely and delivering continuous news coverage of the terrorist act. KTNT gave updates to our listeners and continued to play smooth jazz. The doctors and therapists were very grateful KTNT started the healing process for the community and directed their patients to listen to KTNT for relaxation/therapy after going through this horrible act of senseless violence.

Thank you very much for your concern.

NAC Crossroads

KUCD/Honolulu GM Lee Coleman responds to comments made here recently (R&R 5/12) by SW

Networks' Smooth FM PD Michael Fischer, who stated that NAC is at a turning point. Coleman concurs completely, saying, "Developing a strong local identity and uniqueness for your product is imperative to success in your market." He adds:

The challenge of finding success in morning drive is one of the cross-roads the NAC format must face in its growth from infancy to adolescence. Mornings tend to be the lowest-rated daypart of the three prime money-making dayparts (6am-7pm) for most NAC stations.

Any significant breakthrough in moming drive could easily put the majority of NAC stations in a top three or four (Adults 25-54) position in their market. The PDs who unlock the secret in morning drive will realize the true ratings and financial potential of the format.
