Wall Street, Consolidation Spark Bleak View Of Radio Landscape

by Phyllis Stark with Dana Hall, Marc Schiffman, and Jeff Silberman

Just as broadcasters were coming to grips, however grudgingly, with radio's new, post-consolidation paradigm, there was another jolt to deal with. Fall's Wall Street turmoil—and the accompanying dotcom shakeout—means that broadcasters are kicking off 2001 with a not very optimistic outlook, judging from the number of surveyed PDs who believe that radio is in worse shape than it was a year ago.

Last issue, 70% of the respondents in Airplay Monitor's annual year-end programmers survey (Monitor, Dec. 22, 2000) told us that consolidation was adversely affecting radio, up from 66% a year earlier. And 67% believed that the stock market would adversely affect radio this year, up from 61%. And those two issues are at the heart of many PDs' beliefs that the radio landscape has gotten worse, in at least some ways since last year.

Specifically, 41.5% of our PDs believe, with no qualification, that radio is in worse shape than it was a year ago. That's compared with only 26% who think it's better off and 21.5% who think it's about the same. Eleven percent think that radio has gotten worse in some aspects but better in others. But even among those measured responses, there is tangible concern.

Consider the modern rock PD who told us, "The products are better, but the stock market is killing us. If you cash-flowed 20% three years ago, you were fine. Now, expectations are higher, and we need 35%-40% to keep the stock prices rising. The Internet and satellite radio won't kill radio—the stock market will. Why do you think that companies are going to voice-tracking and cutting budgets? To keep the stock prices up."

"I would say that it is about the same, but I am concerned that it may become worse because of the downturn in the stock market," says Dave

Christopher, PD of top 40 KSLY San Luis Obispo, Calif. "I hope that the major companies stay focused on the long term and don't react with too many budget cuts [and] don't increase spot loads."

Tracy Cloherty, PD of R&B WQHT (Hot 97) New York, feels radio is "worse off now, because of consolidation, decreased revenue from dotcom businesses, and the stock market."

"From the business standpoint, earnings and cash flow have improved for most companies," says country KBEQ (Q104) Kansas City PD Mike Kennedy. "On the other hand, the stock prices were so inflated a year ago, it looks like a disaster right now. I know I wish I would have jumped out of the market a year ago.

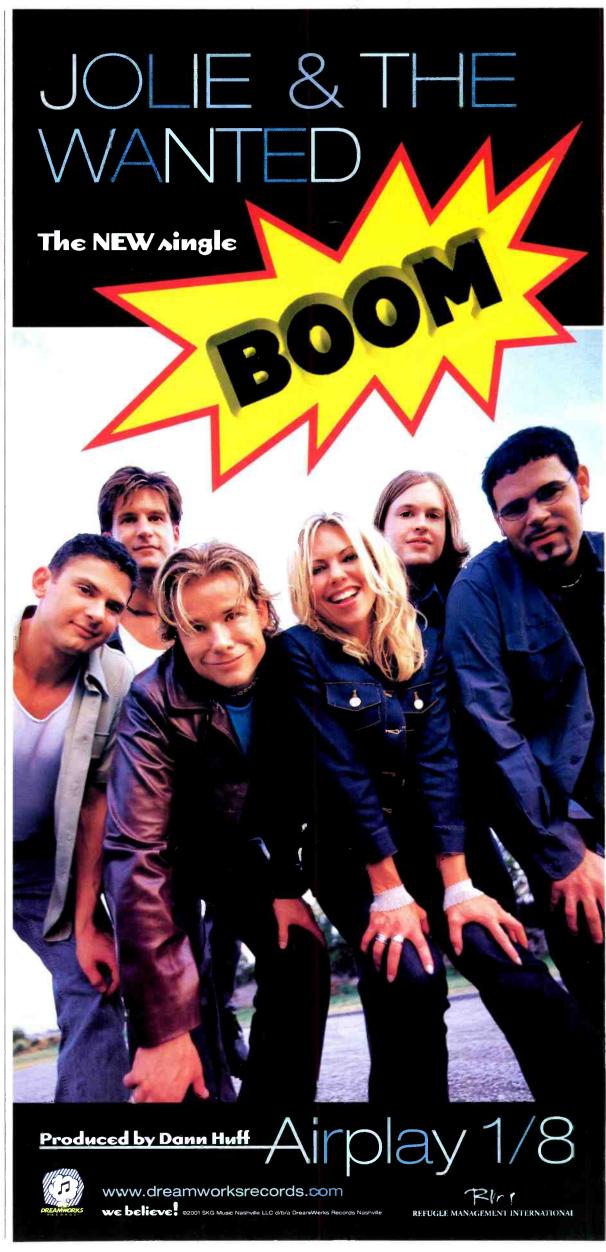

"More disconcerting to me is the fact that we were unable to spend adequate promotion and marketing dollars during the year to sustain any kind of spike or growth during the year," Kennedy continues. "It's a noisy marketplace, and when [it's] real quiet, it makes me a little nervous.

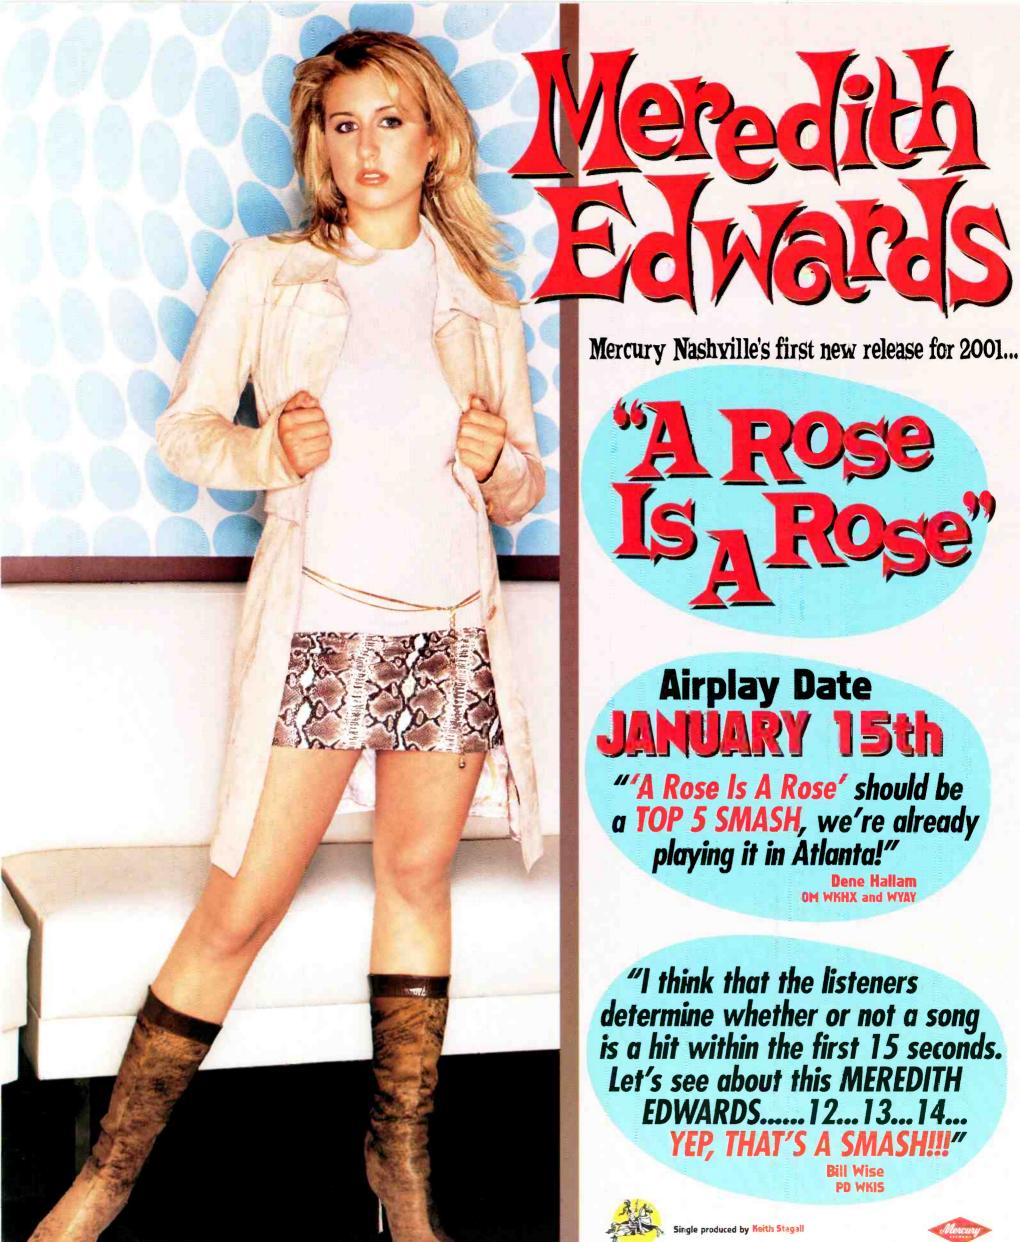

"I'm also disappointed in the fact that so many programming people have been cut loose in favor of consolidating jobs," he adds. "A lot of the fun in radio was always competition. Even when it gets a little rough, it's still the fun part of the business that keeps everybody sharp and constantly working harder to come up with great, aggressive ideas. It seems as if there is some complacency setting in with a lot of radio people I know."

CONSOLIDATION CONCERNS

While Kennedy's concerns were the same as those mentioned by numerous broadcasters, not everybody mentioned them in the same breath with the Wall Street turmoil. For some PDs, a negative take on the state of radio is a function of market forces that were already in play

"Call me old-fashioned," says an active rock PD, "but I just can't see how a handful of companies owning so Continued on page 8

Tighter Country Airplay Chart Debuts

The New Year is upon us, and we're pleased to introduce our new 60-position Country Airplay chart, the culmination of more than a year of research, based upon input from industry leaders and reams of test charts (Country Confidential, Dec. 15, 2000).

Along with shortening the chart from 75 to 60 positions, our rule for the removal of descending titles also changes. Under the old rule, such titles were removed after 20 weeks below No. 25. Effective this issue, descending titles will be removed from the chart after 20 weeks when they

In order to facilitate the new recurrent methodology, the "weeks on chart" column has been adjusted to reflect the song's total weeks spent on the 60-position test chart that we've been compiling over the past few months. The "last week" column also reflects numbers from the test chart, as the different recurrent rule resulted in some titles being removed from the chart earlier than they would have under our prior criteria.

Concurrent to the methodology changes, you'll also notice that some of the data in these pages have been rearranged to provide additional information and a more reader-friendly layout. Our 20-position recurrent list moves to the Country Airplay chart page from its former home on the Country Highlights page. In its place, our expanded Greatest Gainers feature debuts with an additional five titles.

Meanwhile, Billboard's Top Country Albums and Hot Country Singles & Tracks charts move to the Country Highlights page, where the alburn list expands to 20 positions. The 40-position Country Audience chart replaces it on the At-a-

As we apply new rules to the Country Airplay chart, Tim McGraw's "My Next Thirty Years" (Curb) retains control at No. 1 for a fifth straight week, despite a dip of 449 detections. In the top 10, Jamie O'Neal's "There Is No Arizona" (Mercury) is the only title to gain spins.

As post-holiday playlists adjust to more normal behavior, many titles that show decreases this week could reclaim bullets next issue.

ON THE SKIDS: This issue's chart show an overall decrease in the number of detections due to severe weather in the nation's midsection and parts of the Northeast, which prompted many stations in those regions to concentrate on weather-related news and activations of emergency broadcast systems. Please see Song Activity Reports (pages 16-17) and Country Regional Airplay (page 19) for a closer look.

Hue & Cry Over 'Fly'

Powell, Mo.-based music publisher Albert E. Brumley & Sons filed a civil suit Dec. 18 against Sony Music Entertainment alleging copyright infringement of the gospel song "I'll Fly Away," claiming one line of the song was included without permission in the Dixie Chicks song "Sin Wagon." The suit, filed in U.S. District Court for the Western District of Missouri in Joplin, seeks damages for unauthorized use of "I'll Fly Away," which was composed by Brumley in 1929 and first published in 1932. Brumley representatives claim they contacted Sony within a week of the release of the Dixie Chicks album "Fly" to resolve the matter but filed the lawsuit "after Sony refused to enter into a licensing agreement for the use of 'I'll Fly Away.' " The suit seeks a minimum of $500,000 in damages.

The music publisher recently settled a similar opyright infringement suit over unauthorized use of "I'll Fly Away" on the Puff Daddy and Faith

Evans hit "I'll Be Missing You."

One of the most recorded gospel songs, "I'll Fly Away" has been cut by Elvis Presley, Johnny Cash, Aretha Franklin, and George Jones, among many others. The song has been licensed more than 1,000 times just in the past 10 years and is included in the new Coen Brothers film "O Brother, Where

AN OVERVIEW OF RADIO PROMOTIONS • BY JEFF SILBERMAN

Cleaning The Holiday Promo-Prize Closet

While cleaning up the avalanche of torn-up gift wrapping and half-empty champagne bottles, we found a few noteworthy holiday promotions that you can save for the next holiday Country WYNY (Y107) New York held its annual Holiday Stocking to-do. Throughout the season, Y107 gave away holiday stockings all day and night. Each winner got a limitededition holiday stocking and two prizes (valued at a minimum of $50 each). Plus, each winner qualified for a trip for four to Hawaii, which was drawn the morning after Christmas.

File for turkey day: Modern AC WKOE (the Shore) Atlantic City, N.J., did well with the Great Turkey Search 2000, where listeners were given clues where to find 25 different "Shore Bird" paper turkeys hidden throughout the area. Once listeners found the turkeys, they received a free Thanksgiving dinner for the family. Brad Weiss gave the bird to every-

But we found their 12 Boobs of Christmas. where they gave away six breast enhancement procedures—and a trip for two to the Orange Bowl for one lucky enhanced winner—just a tad more uplifting, so help us, Mike Oliviero. Top 40 WNKS (Kiss 95.1) Charlotte, N.C., just completed Lockdown Showdown, where it locked up 10 strangers in a brand-new house and blacked out the windows. One by one they were voted out, and the last one received $5,000 from Diana Ades.

PROMO TOPIC OF THE WEEK: SURVIVING ANOTHER "SURVIVOR"

If "Star Wars: Episode I—The Phantom Menace" was the promotional Valhalla of 1999, then the "Survivor" TV reality series was undoubtedly the promo phenomenon of 2000. And as you no doubt already know, "Survivor 2" is ready to roll soon after the final play of the annual promo bonanza known as the Super Bowl. Which raises the question, Will "Survivor 2" be as big a promotional gold mine as the original series, or will it suffer from a "been there, done that" reaction?

About 30% of the panel believes it will be as big as the original, making it a must-do promo topic. However, twice as many are taking a cautious "wait-and-see" attitude before jumping on that bandwagon again, with the remainder (10%) thinking it will be a dud of "Blair Witch 2" proportions.

"Part of the success of the first 'Survivor' series was the producer's ability to keep everything a secret," says Dianna Obermeyer of R&B KPWR (Power 106) Los Angeles. "I think Survivor 2' will be much more difficult to keep secret from the public. Plus, there will also be more 'reality-based' programming competition this year.

Novelty, novelty, novelty!" declares WYNY's Jason Steinberg. "This 'Survivor' thing had its time in the sun, but, judging by the lack of excitement with the people-locked-in-the-house thing ["Big Brother"], people are pretty burnt on the concept. At this point, I think a radio copycat promotion [based on "Survivor"] would be more irritating than anything else."

Yet there are believers: "The interest in 'Survivor' was still growing when the finale came, says Michael Godfrey of CKIK (Power 107) Calgary, Alberta. "The positioning of the show right after the Super Bowl will introduce the concept to even more people, so it should go even bigger.

That dichotomy is why the majority prefer to sit on the fence and see how it plays out. "If it's what people are talking about, we'll do something," says Jim Sheehan of album rock KSJO San Francisco. "You can't plan topicality. That is what's magic about this job."

If KSJO decides to do another "Survivor" promotion, the most important keys to making it successful are 1) choosing the most colorful contestants you can; 2) making it more outrageous than last year ("Which would be hard to do at our station," Sheehan notes); 3) doing it before everyone else in the market does (another difficult accomplishment if you've adopted a wait-and-see posture); and 4) choosing a different locale and "challenges."

QUICK HITS: HI-LO SECOND-GUESS-ING AND KORN BOBBING

Country WCTK (Cat Country) Providence. R.L., put a twist on the traditional Hi-Lo money game (where listeners guess the jackpot throughout the day and the jocks tell them whether it's too high or too low until someone guesses correctly) with Election Hi-Lo. Congress Severely Limits Low-Power FM

A plan to put hundreds of new, low-power radio stations on the air has been dealt a serious setback by the 106th Congress in its waning hours. While broadcasters say the decision will protect listeners from increased interference, advocates say backroom politics allowed a special interest to hold sway.

Although the White House had lobbied to

Although the White House had lobbied to keep the Radio Broadcasting Preservation Act from being tucked inside a budget bill, it was allowed as part of a compromise reached Dec. 15. The act does not prohibit low-power FM (LPFM) stations, but it preserves current interference standards between broadcast signals. That would prohibit about 80% of the 100-watt stations originally planned.

A typical low-power station will serve an area with a radius of 3.5 miles, with a maximum power level of 100 watts. To date, the FCC has received 1,200 applications for LPFM stations in 20 states. Just hours before the rider was passed, the FCC announced it would take applications for LPFM stations in Colorado, Delaware, Hawaii, Idaho, Missouri, New York, Ohio, South Carolina, South Dakota, Wisconsin, and American Samoa, from Jan. 16-22.

The act requires the FCC to move forward with licensing test stations in as many as nine markets to determine whether LPFM will cause the interference that is so feared by its opponents. The results of that testing are to be presented to Congress, which would then decide whether to allow further rollout of the service.

The test markets for LPFM have not been chosen, but it is expected that Louisiana will be one state in which LPFM prototypes are allowed. The state is home to Republican Rep. Billy Tauzin, who chairs the House Telecommunications Subcommittee, which oversees the FCC. Tauzin is also in line for a promotion to the chairmanship of the powerful Commerce Committee.

The National Assn. of Broadcasters (NAB) has lobbied hard on Capitol Hill to block LPFM. NAB president/CEO Eddie Fritts says, "The compromise allows LPFM to go forward while minimizing interference for millions of radio listeners." With the NAB's win in Congress, the association's "plan B" won't be needed, and it has filed a motion in the District of Columbia's U.S. Court of Appeals to in effect withdraw most of its legal challenge against the FCC, since the law supersedes any FCC action. However, the NAB does ask the court to make changes to its LPFM plan to meet the new guidelines.

The big loser in the LPFM debate was FCC Chairman William Kennard, who, as a Democrat, will lose his chairmanship when his term expires in June 2001 or sooner if he opts to step down in deference to the incoming administration of President-elect George W. Bush.

Kennard spent a lot of time and political capital lobbying for LPFM, and many view the bill's passage as more of a referendum on him than on LPFM. "A lot of the opposition on the Hill was less about the issue and more about Chairman Kennard," says Low Power Coalition director Michael Bracy. Kennard declined to comment.

"This was a product of personal relationships and deals made behind closed doors," says Cheryl Leanza of the Media Access Project. "It remains to be seen what will happen, and there are going to be some great LPFM stations that will show this is a fabulous idea that was killed by some big power-mongers that were afraid to let the little guy even whisper in the public commons."

Bracy agrees. "Key leaders in powerful positions were able to advance the interest of an organization like the NAB. It's simply inside-Washington politics," he says. Both he and Leanza point to the decades-old friendship between Fritts and Senate Majority Leader Trent Lott.

LPFM activists have two options: to help the FCC prove micro-radio can work during its field testing stage or build a coalition on Capitol Hill to repeal the act. Bracy believes the congressional option is a real possibility. "A vast majority of representatives in Congress haven't taken a full look at this issue, and when they do, they'll understand that the technology will work, and these stations will create a real, tangible benefit."

The 107th Congress will be a different creature, says Bracy, noting that a number of LPFM opponents either lost their seats or retired, including Sen. Rod Grams, R-Minn., who sponsored the bill in the Senate. "There's going to be a clean start in 2001, and we'll start from scratch," vows Bracy.

Grams, meanwhile, may be in line for an FCC seat, depending on how the Bush administration takes shape. Although there is no current Republican seat open on the commission, there is talk that commissioner Michael Powell may be named secretary of commerce. If that happens, Grams could be staying put in D.C. FCC Commissioner Susan Ness has been giv-

FCC Commissioner Susan Ness has been given a recess appointment by President Clinton, allowing the Democrat to serve up to 12 more months or until a Bush appointment is confirmed. Ness, whose five-year term expired in June, 1999, was renominated by the president earlier this year. Although the Senate held a hearing in March, it has sat on her nomination ever since.

CAPITAL

Clear Channel is buying 31 stations from Marathon Media for $31 million.

Viacom, owner of such cable networks as MTV and VH1, plans to sell up to $5 billion in debt securities, according to a SEC filing. Proceeds will go to general corporate purposes, including paying down its debt as well as giving Viacom additional working capital to close on a number of previously announced deals.

Emmis Communications chairman/CEO Jeff Smulyan has announced that he will use his $750,000 annual bonus from 1999 to create a foundation that will match charitable donations from Emmis employees.

NEW MEDIA

A bankruptcy court gave BroadcastAmerica .com until Jan. 3 to decide whether it is filing for Chapter 7 or Chapter 11 bankruptcy, while the company attempts to secure new capital to stay afloat. The Portland, Maine-based Webcaster is meeting with several venture capital firms, as well as a credit card marketing firm. Chief Judge James Haines of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court has given RealNetworks and Worldcom permission to pull the plug on BroadcastAmerica's streaming of 700 radio and 70 TV stations.

Among BroadcastAmerica's creditors are Sprint, MCI, and SuferNetwork.com. The latter, which specializes in Webcasting and audio and video ad insertion, gave BroadcastAmerica $1 million in November, with plans to buy or merge. Those plans were scrapped, however, after SurferNetwork concluded that BroadcastAmerica has more debt than it first revealed. Its debts are believed to total more than $4 million. Court papers indicate that German company Media Sales Management has offered it $7.5 million for its 6-month-old European radio portal, BroadcastEurope.com. Calls to BroadcastAmerica were not returned.

SALES

Citadel buys country KIIM/KCUB, classic rock KHYT, jazz KOAZ, and adult standards KTUC Tucson, Ariz., from Sloan Broadcasting for $63 million.

Hubbard Broadcasting closes on country WIXK Minneapolis from Smith Broadcasting.

Waitt Radio buys 14 stations in Kansas from Goodstar Broadcasting, including country stations KXXX Colby; KFNF Oberlin; KSLS Liberal; and KWLS Pratt. Waitt is owned by Norman Waitt, co-founder of Gateway Computers.

MONITOR PROFILE

The Secret Of Classic Country KKNG's Success? Surprise! Less Budget

KKNC-FM (King Country) Oklahoma City PD Kevin Christopher is breaking the stereotypes of what it takes to have a career in radio. Employed by Tyler Broadcasting, one of the few small, family operations left, Christopher says that he "can go in and have a conversation with my owner today if I need to. He's on site."

While Christopher hasn't had to worry about the corporate red tape, he also hasn't had to be concerned about uprooting his family—he's been at the same station for his entire 14-year radio career, and he still lives in his hometown. Christopher also has never experienced the ultimate of industry vagaries: being fired. But, he says, "I'm not so sure my time is not coming one of these days. They say you're not in radio until you're blown out at least once."

Christopher is also breaking some rules by scoring with classic country, at a time when other similar outlets—even those with respectable ratings—are being signed off. In early 1998, he helped sign on King Country, the market's third country station, despite the fact that many markets aren't adequately supporting two country outlets, never mind one devoted solely to the classic genre.

Kevin Christopher Program Director KKNG-FM Oklahoma City

'We've never played a Shania Twain record on our station'

Owner: Tyler Broadcasting Ratings: 4.3-5.0-2.9-4.0

"The country roots in this market run really deep," he says. "I don't think this is a format that's going to be popular all across the nation. [But] we heard from so many people who [still] wanted to hear Tammy Wynette." It's a position that contemporary competitor and perennial market leader KXXY also acknowledges. "They are playing one classic [cut] an hour. [It's] their way of combating what we are doing."

combating what we are doing."

Christopher says his station is better able to compete against Clear Channel country stations KXXY and KTST (the Twister) because "we don't have as big a budget." While that, of course, means having fewer promotional and marketing dollars, Christopher says it also means fewer roadblocks. "[We] don't have the overhead that other stations do, and that helps. Our debt load is not as heavy." While he admits the $20,000 KKNG had budgeted to give away this year cannot stand up to the $5,000-a-day and PT Cruiser giveaways that his competition can afford, Christopher says, "I've just got to keep my head down. The difference between the stations is clear. [To hear classic country] you have to come here, whether we're giving away boatloads of cash or not."

Because of its format niche, KKNG also has extra promotional challenges when it comes to artist visits and concerts. "If Alan [Jackson] comes to town, that's going to be a KXXY show, no doubt. I have no leg to stand on. We've had occasions where we had our foot in the door with these artists and had our foot stomped on."

But Christopher believes the station's position is secure in the long term. "We're a 35-plus radio station, and if you read some of the research today, they say that's where the advertising dollars are going as baby boomers [age.]" KKNG rebounded nicely in the summer Arbitrons, 2.9-4.0 12-plus after dipping from a 5 share last winter, but Christopher says the station doesn't have to achieve boxcar numbers. "I hope there's a little more out there for us. Obviously, we're not going to be a No. 1 station. We don't have to be in order to win. We can generate the revenue on the numbers we're getting, making a healthy living for everyone."

Many classic country outlets have not been able to make a success of it, but Christopher says, "We've got a very experienced staff. That's one reason I think we've been successful. We don't have 18-year-old [jocks]. It's the same guys playing the music who played it when it was current. Lynn Waggoner's name value has helped us an awful lot"

MD/morning host Waggoner had been with the market's former country powerhouse KEBC during the '70s and '80s, before departing to join Arista Nashville. Christopher says Waggoner's Nashville label connections are helpful, but the station doesn't "play anything newer than 1998. We've done that in the past, but we took a stand about six months ago and shut it off. We're not going to deal with currents and recurrents." That decision will not preclude them from giving spins "if George Jones comes out with another album like 'Cold Hard Truth.'" But, he says, "we've never played a Shania Twain record on our station."

Here's a sample 11 a.m. hour: George Strait, "Blame It On Mexico"; Oak Ridge Boys, "Trying To Love Two Women"; Clint Black, "State Of Mind"; Merle Haggard, "Mama Tried"; George Jones, "I'm Not Ready Yet"; Vince Gill, "Don't Let Our Love Start Slippin' Away"; Johnny Lee, "Cherokee Fiddle"; Larry Gatlin & the Gatlin Brothers, "I Just Wish You Were Someone I Love"; Tracy Byrd, "Don't Take Her She's All I Got"; Ed Bruce, "My First Taste Of Texas"; Johnny Cash, "Folsom Prison Blues"; Dwight Yoakam, "Little Sister"; Garth Brooks, "Two Of A Kind, Workin' On A Full House"; Waylon Jennings, "Are You Sure Hank Done It This Way"; Mark Chesnutt, "Goochbyes Come Hard For Me"; and Tom T. Hall, "Ballad Of Forty Dollars."

Christopher says music decisions are based primarily by "just going by your gut. There's not much research out there on product previous to 1980." Seventy percent of the playlist predates 1989 and 30% is from the '90-'98 era. Christopher, who is fairly new to country music, relies heavily on the judgement of Waggoner.

Christopher spent the first part of his radio career with AC KTLS Ada, Okla., which moved to Oklahoma City when Tyler Broadcasting purchased the property in 1995 and flipped it to classic country. Christopher remained the PD but found he had a lot of homework to do. "Classic country has been a challenge, because I had no previous experience with the country format. I had to learn, read about its history, and talk with the guys on the staff. I've learned a lot by listening to it, but my learning curve is not done yet. I'm fortunate my staff is mature enough to take directions from a young whippersnapper like me. It's a learning process for [all] of us."

One of the biggest challenges for King Country right now is trying to make the public aware of the station. While they've had a billboard presence from day one, the station "stepped up marketing with cable TV advertising" in the fall. "We still run into people who are unaware of us. There was a perceived need to market the radio station better. There are people out there, listening to other stations, who would be classic King Country listeners [if they knew] anything about this radio station."

The television campaign coupled Waggoner with clips of George Jones, Conway Twitty, and Patsy Cline and asked the simple question, "When was the last time you heard these songs on the radio?"

While Christopher is gaining familiarity with the format, and he hopes to stay in the Oklahoma City market, he says he's always looking for new challenges. Already sharing responsibilities over sister gospel station KKNG-AM, Christopher says, "I hope to grow within the company."

many stations—not to mention research companies, syndicators, concert promoters, etc.—can be a good thing."

Tim Closson, PD of Infinity's country WUBE (B105) Cincinnati, says, "Wall Street wants to keep seeing the profits, and we are at the ceiling for adding spots and finding new revenue. Marketing dollars have already been cut or deleted at many stations. That means the next thing to go, sadly enough, is the people. Welcome to the business world, radio."

Dean James, PD of ABC's country KSCS Dallas, says, "The Clear Channels of the world will hurt the industry before it cycles back to having to operate by providing good programming. For most companies, it's only about the bottom line."

"Unless you're Lowry Mays, Mel Karmazin, or Randy Michaels, you'd have to answer a thundering no to this one," says Chuck Knight, PD of AC WSNY Columbus, Ohio. "In the shortsighted rush to please the fund managers, listeners and clients have become very, very secondary, employees very, very tertiary. This is a formula for failure. Unfortunately, it comes at a time that will allow emerging Internet and satellite program distribution methods to take a bigger bite out of traditional radio than it would if we were paying attention to our fundamentals. It's not too late. In 2001, let us do the right thing."

Even Clear Channel country WSIX Nashville PD Mike Moore, who sees radio as "about the same" as a year ago, believes that "with some companies, Wall Street has become more important than employees, listeners, and advertisers."

Nate Quick, APD/MD at R&B WPEG (Power 98) Charlotte, N.C., says, overall, radio is in "worse shape because of consolidation, voice-tracking, and syndication."

Similarly, album rock KLPX Tucson, Ariz., OM Larry Miles says, "The talent pool is drying up, radio is getting [more] boring, focus is being lost to one person having to program multiple stations, and [there is] the voice-tracking issue. The need to perform to the bottom line in the public companies that are now controlling so many signals is killing the true roots of rock radio."

SURVIVAL TAKES TALENT

For many, the talent issue was at the crux of their concerns about the business. Cumulus/Toledo, Ohio, OM Tim Roberts says radio is worse. "Some of the giant radio companies—not mine—are eliminating a lot of entry-level jobs, and the talent pool continues to shrink. There's less choices for employment, thus some companies are paying lower wages. [There are] less choices for syndicators, and oftentimes your competition owns one of the outside media outlets in the market, making it difficult to market."

Then there are those programmers who feel that consolidation has sapped their business's competitive spirit. Bill Black, PD of country WKSJ Mobile, Ala., says radio is worse off because "fewer owners has meant less competition within any given market, large or small, and if you don't have to worry about a competitor, you don't produce the best radio for your market. You may not super-serve the market as well as you have in the past. It can make for lazy PDs and sloppy radio. Does ownership care? Depends on the stock price."

But Justin Case, PD of country WUSN Chicago, believes that "conducting business with the bottom line in mind is not a negative thing. It is a good practice to look hard at your operation and find efficiencies. Things get crazy when companies start eliminating people just to bring in the bottom line."

For The Record

Comments made by Cumulus Broadcasting's Ken Johnson were mistakenly attributed to Ken Benson of Citadel Broadcasting in the story "Are The Hot New Formats Short Term?" (Airplay Monitor, Dec. 15).

COMPETITION ISN'T DEAD

And not every PD believes that competition has decreased as a result of consolidation. While top 40 WKZL Greensboro, N.C., PD Jeff McHugh worries about maxed spot loads and stations that are "relying on cost cutting instead of attempting to compete through compelling programming," he also cites the number of markets that have gotten new top 40s recently.

And modern rock WGRD Grand Rapids, Mich., PD Dan Clark believes that radio is in better shape now "due to increased competition. Everybody has had to focus on every detail."

Kerry Wolfe, PD of country WMIL Milwaukee, also says radio is better off. "The consolidation has brought together some very bright people. We now have the opportunity to share ideas and get input from other PDs that we used to compete directly with. You're seeing the best of the best still active in the business."

REASONS TO BE CHEERFUL

What other factors did our optimists cite? Heritage rock WCMF Rochester, N.Y., OM John McCrae is glad that "we are being forced to behave in a responsible, businesslike manner."

Johnny Randolph, OM/PD of country WDRM Huntsville, Ala., says radio is "better because we are finally getting rates we deserve."

Lisa Allen, PD of country WFRE Frederick, Md., says, "It's better because we're focusing on marketing and promotions that really do get word out about our stations."

Tom Goodwin, PD of country KXKT Omaha, Neb., says radio is better off for a greater emphasis on "the individual, localized, personality-oriented appeal of radio."

Tommy Carrera, PD of country KBQI Albuquerque, N.M., says, "Radio is in an exciting stage of evolution. Consolidation, while sometimes portrayed in a negative light, really has helped the business to grow. While I think some folks move toward the 'just a number' mentality, your personal outlook really decides your fate."

Orlando, PD of Infinity's rhythmic top 40 WLLD Tampa, Fla., thinks radio is better off due to "more options [and] more to do, but only for those who are actively participating in the business. Those that are just getting by are finding themselves replaceable."

IT'S HERE, IT'S AUSTERE, DEAL WITH IT

Similarly, Doug Montgomery, an OM at Clear Channel/Grand Rapids, Mich., says radio is in "overall better shape because the weak links, i.e. the 'five [hours] and fly' people, have been weeded out of the system, and those who are left are here because they love this business."

And, as has usually been the case whenever we've taken programmers' temperatures, there are several PDs who agree with an active rock respondent that "radio is better for the people who are ambitious, quick thinkers, and team players. The no-talent, arrogant, closed minds who may have been getting by until now will not make it. That's a good thing."

Former WUSL Philadelphia OM Helen Little adds, "Radio is just different today. I don't look at it as better or worse. It's important to recognize and understand what it was, but we should let go of that and move forward."

But not everybody has achieved zen on this issue. "If the continued pressure to increase shareholder value can't be solely made by increased sales, Wall Street 'needs' will destroy this business," says Jerry Noble, PD of top 40 WBTI Port Huron, Mich. "The real pioneers will either rise up and take over again or will move to the Internet and remind investors that the best people, not the cheapest people, always win."

Then there's former WHSL Greensboro, N.C., PD Chris Huff, who lost his job in a restructuring Jan. 2. He, too, realizes that radio "has changed, and it's not going back. If I am allowed to continue being creative in trying to create radio, and I can continue making a living at it, then so be it. If not, then I'll survive. I'm afraid the exodus of talented programmers from radio will only continue."

Country's Touring Revenue Up 54.5%

Gross revenue for country music touring in 2000 was up 54.5% from 1999, and attendance was up 31%, according to Airplay Monitor sister publication Amusement Business. Tim McGraw and Faith Hill's headlining Soul 2 Soul tour was the top country outing, grossing $49.6 million and drawing 969,600 attendees at 65 shows. Dixie Chicks led in attendance, drawing 1 million fans and grossing $46.1 million from 81 shows. The George Strait Country Music Festival grossed some $21 million from only 10 dates. The average per-show country gross rose 5%, and average attendance dipped 11%, mirroring the concert industry at large.

Sara Evans will open five dates on the Alan Jackson tour this month and in early February.

Look for former Arista Nashville artist Clint Daniels to sign a development deal with Sony Music.

Rodney Crowell returned to his hometown of Houston to capture the images of his youth in a documentary film, "The Houston Kid," which will be released with his upcoming Sugar Hill album of the same name. Crowell worked on the film with a student crew from Nashville's Watkins College of Art and Design. The album is due Feb. 13.

Billy Gilman has been added as a performer on the 28th annual American Music Awards, airing on ABC-TV Jan. 8. He will perform "One Voice." Lonestar, Jo Dee Messina, and LeAnn Rimes have been added to the lineup as presenters.

Garth Brooks and co-writer Jenny Yates landed a Golden Globe Award nomination for best original song for "When You Come Back To Me Again," from the film "Frequency." The awards show will be telecast Jan. 21.

Joe Diffie will host his annual Country Steps in for First Steps charity concert and silent auction Feb. 11 at Nashville's Ryman Auditorium. The event is a fund-raiser for First Steps, a Nashville school for children with special needs. Acts set to join Diffie for this year's concert are Mark Wills, Keith Urban, the Martins, Chalee Tennison, and Mike Snider.

George Strait and his wife, Norma, will serve as honorary chairpersons of the annual Barnstable Brown Celebrity Gala on May 4, the eve of the Kentucky Derby, in Louisville, Ky. The event is a fundraiser for diabetes research.

Pat Boone's Gold Label capitalized on Texan George W. Bush's presidential win by rushing copies of Patti Page's "One Less Rose In Texas" to radio stations. The song was written by Jon Vezner and Pat Alger.

Songwriter and producer Shep Crawford, best known for his work with R&B artists Sisqó, Deborah Cox, Whitney Houston, Boyz II Men, and Montell Jordan, is currently working in Nashville with Wynonna on her forthcoming album. Crawford is the first producer to sign on to the project and will produce several tracks. Wynonna and Crawford will also be writing material for the album together. In addition, Crawford has produced "Mary's Song," a duet with Wynonna and R&B singer Kelly Price that appeared on Price's Def Soul/Island Def Jam Christmas album.

Kitty Wells, 81, and Johnny Wright, 86, gave their farewell performance Dec. 31 at the Nashville Nightlife Theater. The pair, who have been performing together since their marriage in 1937, announced plans to retire earlier last year. The farewell show aired live on WSM-AM Nashville.

Former Mercury artist Shane Minor wrote songs with Carole King and Jewel for his next album while the three artists were entertaining troops on the holiday USO tour. No word on what label will release Minor's next project.

Kenny Rogers' face appeared on the front of 1 million boxes of Honey Nut Cheerios that were on store shelves through the last quarter of 2000. Cheerios donated $50,000 from the sale of these boxes to America's Second Harvest, a hunger relief organization.

Despite Radio Turmoil, Many PDs Feel Secure

Although just 26% of programmers polled in Airplay Monitor's year-end state of radio survey think radio is in better shape than it was a year ago (see story, page 1), a surprising number of country PDs believe that they are prepared to cope with radio's changing tides.

Nearly half of the country PDs polled in our survey say they feel secure in their savings or backup plan should they lose their jobs or choose to leave radio. Specifically, 48% of country respondents said they feel secure in their plans, while 52% said they did not.

Among those in the secure camp is Clear Channel/Grand Rapids, Mich., OM Doug Montgomery. "Are you kidding me? Most programmers that are successful in today's radio environment are far superior marketers than those doing marketing for most of our clients," he says. "You only need to look at the gross mismanagement of most marketing campaigns done for the dotcoms." But, Montgomery adds,

"if I needed a backup plan, it would certainly be in politics. It is the only other equal to the street fighting we've learned in this business."

Also feeling secure, but in a more qualified way, is KBEQ (Q104) Kansas City PD Mike Kennedy. "A year ago I could have left and not worried about finances," he says. "After the horrible year in the market, that is not the case. I do, however, feel fairly secure in what we've put together and what I could do next."

KBQI Albuquerque, N.M., PD Tommy Carrera is also feeling secure, but for a different reason. "It was two years ago when I decided that I could walk away from the business and get out," he says. "I decided I could work anywhere. I don't mean that arrogantly—I mean I could work part time at Kmart as long as I have the love of my wife and children. I just happen to be living out my childhood dream to be in radio. If that dream ever ends, at least I can say I did it."

Songs ranked by audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Songs showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song with a gain in audience over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining in audience or each losing in audience, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs become recurrents and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Country Airplay chart.

Songs are ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Est Ist Impression awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 are removed from the chart after 20 weeks.
