WE DIDN'T NEED TO . . .

We didn't need to spend $7,000,000 on a video for MTV and VH-1. We didn't need to spend over the top with our co-op dollars. We didn't need to buy the press off for their four-star raves or to have Joan perform on the likes of Letterman, The Tonight Show, Crossroads and Good Morning America. We didn't need to bribe Melissa Etheridge and The H.O.R.D.E. tours to take Joan out with them. We just had to release the album.

OSBORNE

RE

Since its release, Relish has already sold 200,000 units. So, now that we've seen that we have something here, we're going to release our first single, "ONE OF US." We don't think we'll need to do too much.

Heatseekers 15 - 13! Over 6,000 units sold this week!

Joan Osborne. One Of Us. Just Listen.

• ROCK ROUNDUP •

by Mark Marone

I'LL STICK AROUND: It amazes me that Dave Grohl, as the powerful and exciting drummer for Nirvana, was only showing us a fraction of his musical ability sitting behind the kit. Don Henley and Phil Collins were other great drummers who segued successfully into solo careers, but neither played all the instruments on their albums. Other well-respected drummers, such as Queen's Roger Taylor and Husker Du's Grant Hart, wrote, sang, and played some other instruments on recordings with subsequent bands/projects, but I can't think of an album entirely written and performed by an established rock drummer (Lenny Kravitz performs his records mostly by himself, but he did not begin his recording career as a drummer). That Grohl was renowned for his drumming and now fronts his new band, Foo Fighters, on guitar/lead vocals on the road is a noteworthy feat, given that drummers, unlike multi-instrumentalists who also play drums (i.e., Todd Rundgren, Paul McCartney, and Roy Wood), rarely record full albums themselves.

During Foo Fighters' recent live performance at the Academy in New York, the band captured the urgency of the album without the indifferent disposition of, say, an "In Utero" Nirvana show. Instead, the gig had the warm feeling one might get as a teenager watching approvingly as a friend's band jams in the garage. On guitar and vocals, Grohl unleashes the same whirlwind energy he managed while pounding the drumskins for Nirvana. Foo Fighters played a no-frills set of songs from the self-titled debut album during which Grohl amply handled the vocals against the full-throttle roar of the band.

One of the encores featured Craig Wedren from Shudder To Think (which opened the show) joining Foo Fighters to sing a cover of Journey's "Lovin', Touchin', Squeezin'." Their stripped down but surprisingly faithful rendition of the album rock staple from 1979, including a Steve Perry-like falsetto sung to perfection by Wedren, succeeded in bringing a few smiles to the faces of those who were nostalgic for the days of feathered-back hair and disco-record demolitions.

Dave Grohl presented a refreshing, self-effacing approach at the show and seemed genuinely pleased to play for an excited crowd that seemed to know the album pretty well. The incredible thing is that the Foo Fighters have the feel of a seasoned rock band; a tribute to the innate music ability of one drummer.

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record which has been on either chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records which attain 800 detections (album) or 800 detections (modern) for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.
