When Co-Owned Isn't Cozy, And Other Tales Of Telecom's First Year

by Kevin Carter, Janine Coveney, Dana Hall, Marc Schiffman, and Phyllis Stark

A year after the February anniversary of the signing of the Telecommunications Act, some former competitors are doing a better job of living together than others. This means that the station wars that often ensnared record reps, while not over, have eased. Some broadcasters face the predicted dearth of job openings, but those still employed have found more career opportunities, as long as they don't mind not listening to music or having to remember what town they're in.

Those were among the answers Monitor received when we asked broadcasters and music industryites how Telecom had affected them personally.

A year ago, label reps we polled feared that more Telecom-driven format monopolies would mean fewer decision makers at radio who wielded bigger bludgeons. But most looked forward to getting out of the crossfire between competitors.

Now, many respondents report surprise at the level of competition that remains between newly co-owned stations. As one programmer told

Reprise VP of rock/triple-A promotion Michael Linehan, some stations have gone from being "competitors" to "compatitors."

"One thing I have seen in a couple of markets, which blows my mind, is these situations with one owner and multiple PDs in multiple niches of the formats, and wars [are still] going on between them," says RCA VP of rock promotion Dave Loncao. "This is nonsense."

Mercury Nashville VP of national promotion and artist development Norbert Nix says, "The heat has been turned down a bit" on concerts and co-promotes. "It's not a cutthroat thing anymore, [but] in certain cases it remains extremely competitive," even between new sister stations.

One dramatic illustration of a station war that continues to flare up is the rhythmic top 40 battle between KMEL and KYLD (Wild 107) San Francisco. Although the stations are now co-owned, The San Francisco Examiner reported last week that three KYLD promotion staffers had been fired for defacing KMEL billboards with graffiti.

Brent Osborne, GM of the stations' other sister, AC KIOL, told the paper

What You Can Do To Help BDS Work For You

As Broadcast Data Systems grew in '96, more monitored stations were added to the system, and more record labels signed on as clients. But being involved with the monitoring process extends far beyond being added as a monitored station. It takes participation on all fronts for us to provide you with the most accurate and timely information on a daily basis.

For radio, the most important thing is to make us aware of any significant changes that might affect our ability to monitor stations. Changing frequencies? Changing call letters? Changing formats? Duopolizing your competition and moving your call letters and format to their frequency? Doing a special weekend or something that will significantly change the types of songs we detect? Off the air for an extended period because of technical difficulties? They're all changes that require a phone call to me at 212-789-1261. While calling BDS might not be your first priority when you're changing format, giving us early warning means that BDS will be able to keep monitoring you correctly through your changes—and your phone call will stay confidential.

We also need your help with music. If you're playing local records, tapes submitted by listeners, custom edits that you've done yourself, "unplugged" versions of songs recorded live in your studio, or any other current titles that aren't likely to have been submitted to us by record labels, we need a dub—especially if you see that those songs aren't showing up on our monitor of your station. If you're working with local bands or labels, encourage them to overnight their music to Lana Goodman, BDS, 8100 N.W. 101 Terrace, Kansas City, Mo. 64153.

On the label side, remember that it is very important to service BDS with all materials. Every version of a song is needed in order to guarantee a detection; that means sending us advance cassettes, DAT, vinyl, videos, and any other media on which music can be recorded. It also means checking your forthcoming priority titles to make sure they've been added to the BDS system before the week you go for airplay.

Some BDS clients and monitored stations still aren't fully aware of how the system works (which is one of the reasons we added this column last year). Others assume that when the occasional mistake happens, we've just decided to live with a certain margin of error. We don't. We're constantly performing quality control and making sure our library is as complete as it can be. But with more than 1,000 stations to monitor, we need as much of your input as possible.

If you have any questions, call me at 212-789-1261 or fax 212-789-1270. Or write to BDS, 11 W. 42nd St., 12th Floor, New York, N.Y. 10036. You can E-mail me at heston@earthlink.net.

The Borrowers: Up From the Coffeehouse

Mark Addison recalls when his faith in pop music was restored. In 1988, the London-born singer-songwriter/guitarist, living in Cleveland (the city where he was raised), heard Tracy Chapman's first record on the radio. "She was so different from everything out there. She was playing folk music, and she was a huge hit. I feel like she's the one who really opened the doors for a lot of the acts that are out there today for making that acoustic songwriter thing mainstream again."

Folk is but one of the musical elements that feeds the Borrowers' acoustic-based pop. Addison, son of an opera teacher, was inspired by the revolution Chapman sang about and eventually left Cleveland, in 1991, to "reinvent" himself after playing in various rock bands. He went headlong into L.A.'s music scene, playing and producing in a hodgepodge of styles, including acid jazz, hip-hop, country, roots rock, and blues. He also began playing his own songs on acoustic guitar at various coffeehouses, where he met upright-bass player Joe Zimmerman in 1993.

Zimmerman was a fan of the L.A. punk scene during his adolescence in the city. Sneaking into the Whisky as an underage kid, he saw the likes of punk pioneers X, the Weirdos, and Circle Jerks (he even saw the last Germs show). Seeing a rockabilly band when he was 18, however, sold Zimmerman on playing an upright, because "it looked so cool" and allowed him a competitive advantage. "I had a lot of bass-player friends, and lot of them were better bass players, and I felt really intimidated. I got an upright bass, and I could play it, and I liked it, and none of them could."

The band's other L.A. native, Josh Segal, was a friend of Zimmerman's well known for his multi-instrumental skills. Growing up playing the violin and then adding saxophone led to a lifelong affinity for jazz. He also plays dulcimer, clarinet, guitar, and mandolin on the album. The three began playing with a drummer for a short time, and when he left, Addison thought it would be good time to add a female perspective to the band.

Enter Nina Singh. Born in Vancouver to a family of traditional Indian musicians—her tabla-player brother played with Terry Jacks of "Seasons In The Sun" fame—Singh bucked the family trend early on. "I tried to play tabla when I was a lot younger, but I was really impatient," she says. "When I sat behind the drums, I said, 'Oh yeah, this is the shit.'" She came to L.A. by using a grand-prize trip from a karaoke contest to pack up and move there. With Singh solidifying a fourth harmony, the Borrowers were ready to roll.

Leaving L.A. was key in developing a sound, according to Addison, who counts Van Morrison, Tom Waits, and Paul Westerberg among his songwriting inspirations. "You sort of grow up under the microscope of the A&R community [in L.A.]. It's a little strange, a little bit tilted as far as what you're supposed to be thinking when you're actually growing as a band." The band members agreed that they would be able to hone their craft only if they could give it full devotion, which prompted each to give up apartments, cars, and jobs. With no income or home to fall back on, the band was forced to make a living out on the road, which the band members did by booking and promoting their own tours in the Southwest.

"We manufactured our own CDs on our own label, so that we could go on the road, get some experience playing and sounding really good, and make some money to pay for gas and food," says Zimmerman. The band gelled and made a name for itself by playing upwards of five or six gigs a week, culminating with signing to Guardian Records after playing at the SXSW confab in 1995.

These days, sleeping on other people's floors is slowly becoming a thing of the past for the Borrowers. Segal says, "It seems like a few years ago, when we were first getting going, we were [considered] a little more of renegades against what the heavier alternative scene was at the time."

Though the Borrowers are now being compared with Counting Crows, the Wallflowers, and Dave Matthews Band, they trade more in traditional avenues of pop, which is the consistent thread throughout their self-titled debut album. Addison's songwriting alternately conjures up images of Neil Finn, Difford & Tillbrook, Tom Petty, and even Bob Dylan, from song to song. Though one may be quick to pigeonhole them as another acoustic-based, triple-A act, ultimately the Borrowers are an acoustic pop band that hopes to use harmonies, instrumental experimentation, and storytelling to challenge the notion of what hits are made of, just like Tracy Chapman.

Releases And Notes

It looks like the canceled Porno For Pyros tour with Fun Lovin' Criminals has produced some interesting scenarios. First, Live, set to appear on "Saturday Night Live" Feb. 15, will have FLC open its tour, beginning at Philadelphia's Tower Theater on the eve of "Secret Samahdi's" Feb. 18 release. The tour ends March 20 with two dates at Atlanta's Roxy Theater. Live will announce a full-blown North American tour this summer. On the PFP side, the rumored Jane's Addiction reunion will materialize only in the form of three-quarters of the band reuniting to record a track for Howard Stern's movie, "Private Parts," called "Hard Charger." Farrell and Perkins of PFP teamed with Red Hot Chili Peppers' Dave Navarro (ex-Jane's guitarist) and Flea on the track and have just completed a video for it. The soundtrack is split between new tracks and classic '70s rock tracks, interspersed with comedy bits. Some of the original tracks include Stern collaborations with Rob Zombie and with the Dust Brothers, Type O Negative with Ozzy Osbourne on "Pictures Of Matchstick Men," and a Marilyn Manson track; classic tracks reportedly include Ted Nugent's "Cat Scratch Fever," Deep Purple's "Smoke On the Water," AC/DC's "You Shook Me All Night Long," and Cheap Trick's "I Want You To Want Me."

that Evergreen Media president/COO Jim de Castro has warned the stations to "cool it." The story adds that when "de Castro returned here last week and called a meeting partly to discuss the ongoing rivalry, programmers from the two stations were still taking shots at each other at the meeting, albeit good-naturedly."

"It's a little like the U.S. and Russia," KYLD GM Bob Visotcky told the paper. "They kept each other in check, and now they're learning to be friendly rivals. But the billboard incidents were uncalled for, and won't be tolerated."

At one new duop, things are better. In October '95, KBXX Houston PD Robert Scorpio told Monitor there had been tension with R&B rival KMJQ (Majic 102) when the stations merged and KMJQ modified its format. KMJQ staffers "resented the fact that they had to be the ones to adjust to an adult urban format," he said. Today, KMJQ PD Carl Conner says, "It took time to know the people and get used to the people, and they're actually great people." Conner says that with both stations representing "two extremely healthy profit centers . . . it worked out real well."

Some record reps see the net effect as positive. Says Reprise's Linehan, "From a political standpoint, it . . . solves a lot of the problems we've all been wrestling with in recent years, because you're no longer in a position of stifling one company if you do something with another station. [But] it's my perception that within companies, there's still a lot of competitiveness between stations."

In country, where the presence of several outlets in most markets made for particularly ugly battles, Warner Bros. senior VP of promotion Bill Mayne feels that "some turf battles have gone away in certain markets."

MCA Records senior VP of promotion Skip Bishop says, "When one group now owns several sticks in one market, we find it easier to bring in an [act], because the conflicts are minimized. They understand it's beneficial to the whole group, and since one owner controls the action, the right hand always knows what the left hand is doing."

What about the fears that consolidation would give some chains too much power? Or that fewer format wars would lessen the likelihood of a station being forced on a song? Well, 550 Music VP of urban promotion Tom Brocamontes does see "less urgency to play new music due to less competition." And while the dreaded "group add" isn't a mass reality, there are still concerns. Linehan foresees more consolidation over the next year, prompting a greater need for caution, so "that you don't offend whole groups."

MCA senior director of national promotion David Haley says networking between PDs is a double-edged sword: both good and bad news travels further. But, MCA's Bishop adds, "when dealing with station groups, we can now get more accurate consolidation of information both to and from more stations with one meeting. I've also seen more PDs gain more responsibility, but many are able to empower more people at the local level, which is good for everyone."

IT WAS THE BEST OF TIMES . . .

So who feels empowered now? WDCG (G105) Raleigh, N.C., Brian Burns became OM of that station and new rival WRDU when G105 was sold to SFX in 1996. He says, "The Telecommunications Bill has certainly created opportunity for me personally . . . I'm now able to manage several operations simultaneously, doing what I love, and making a competitive salary, without having to step away from programming to the GM office. In the past, the only way to accomplish this was by becoming a consultant and living on airplanes."

When WKLB Boston's country rival flipped to oldies in a new megopoly, MD Ginny Rogers' PD was transferred to the new format, giving her the chance to show her talents as acting PD. As a reward, Rogers was upped to APD/MD. Similarly, MD Ali Castellini's WNRQ Pittsburgh was bought and changed by rival WXDX. She stayed with the new owners and eventually became PD of WXDX. In "a highly competitive situation," says Castellini, "you can come to the attention of your competition. [If you do], they tend to talk to you after your company's bought out."

. . . IT WAS THE WORST OF TIMES

On the flip side, there's country WMIL Milwaukee, which has been through four owners since the Telecom Act passed. "My life has been in limbo for the past six months," says OM/PD Kerry Wolfe. Part of the downside of being traded so often, Wolfe says, is "we never know from one day to the next what our benefits are going to be." There is also the issue of owners not wanting to spend money on a station they are planning to spin off. "Budgets were thrown out the window," he says, with even a badly needed heating system being put on hold.

Under those circumstances, Wolfe says, there is a need "to be as positive as we possibly can." WEJM Chicago PD Jay Alan, whose station is being spun off by Evergreen, has a similar take. So does WKRQ (Q102) Cincinnati PD Jimmy Steal. With Jacor having purchased Q102 from CitiCasters, then spinning it off to American Radio Systems at the behest of the Justice Department, Steal ascribes to the philosophy that "we couldn't control things at that level, so it was stupid to worry about it." Despite this, Q102 had its most financially successful year in '96.

Then there's the time crunch. Radio One Broadcasting VP of programming Steve Hegwood says, "For all of us in radio, our personal life is really not happening—we're always working." Hegwood oversees stations in Washington, D.C., Baltimore, and Atlanta and has a new one coming soon in Philadelphia, "so I will begin to travel more come spring." As a result, he says, "I don't feel grounded in any one city. By the time I get settled in D.C., it's time to go to Atlanta; by the time I get settled in Atlanta, it's time to go to D.C."

Michael Donovan, president of Entercom's three Seattle rock FMs, says, "The amount of work [is] at least twice as much. And particularly at this juncture, because we are busy taking advantage of the opportunities, whether it's putting our relationships with vendors under one contract [or] issues where we're able to economize. I now must look at everything in a more global view." He's also gone from 30 to 130 employees. "And I believe it's still my responsibility to have a relationship with every one of those people, so I'm a busy guy."

The time crunch has not gone unnoticed by record reps. Mercury's Nix says, "Timing is everything in trying to break . . . a record; if somebody hasn't listened to it because they have a million other things to do, it delays the process. [Many] guys tell me their office is not the atmosphere where they can listen to the music [anymore]."

Of course, some folks wish they still had an office. PD Erik Johnson recently left modern AC KKNB Lincoln, Neb., as part of a consolidation into a four-FM complex. The combination of those properties has "meant front-office people have lost their jobs . . . overnights are now automated. One individual watches all four stations at night. So, three full-time on-air positions are gone. A lot of P/Is share duties between the four stations." Johnson estimates that six P/Is are gone and there are fewer starter positions overall.

Former album rock KCAL Riverside, Calif., morning man Gonzo Greg has spent the past six months job-hunting, as well as "watching satellite TV and designing Web sites." Seeing Telecom's effects from the sideline, he cites the "compression of available jobs for talent, and the hyperintense pressure to return big numbers immediately" as the impetus for his new drinking game: "The next time you get together with a bunch of people in the industry, try it out," he says. "The first player names a station. The next player has to name the past four owners of the station. Then, everybody starts drinking, because your station is about to be sold to Ilefel, and none of you speaks Spanish."

ROCK GODZ

Blatter Seeks Trimulcast Advantage In Y107's Struggle Vs. World-Famous KROQ

For Odyssey Communications' VP of programming Steve Blatter, who splits his time evenly between WRGX White Plains, N.Y., and KLYY Los Angeles, life can be a little confusing. Both stations are fairly new in their markets, both are known as Y107 (WRGX is currently acquiring calls that actually contain the letter "Y"), and both try to cover their markets by trimulcasting on three different signals, all at 107.1 FM. But if Blatter ever gets confused about which station he is in, all he has to do is listen to the music. KLYY, which signed on nine months ago, is modern rock. WRGX flipped Dec. 5, 1996, from modern rock as X107 to country.

Blatter says the decision to change the format at WRGX did not stem from any problems with the previous format but rather from the belief that since the departure of WYNX a year ago, "there was an obvious format hole in New using our slogan, 'Southern California's modern rock,' after we had been on the air with it three months." KROQ has since stopped using that slogan.

Musically, Y107 tries to differentiate itself from KROQ by "veering away from heavier-sounding alternative artists like Marilyn Manson and Rage Against The Machine and emphasizing the acoustic-based stuff like the Wallflowers and the Dave Matthews Band," says Blatter. Another one of Y107's on-air positions is "modern rock without the heavy metal."

Here's a recent 5 p.m. hour on KLYY: Bush, "Comedown"; Dave Matthews Band, "Crash Into Me"; No Doubt, "Spiderwebs"; Talk Talk, "It's My Life"; Smashing Pumpkins, "Thirty Three"; Radiohead, "Creep"; Missing Persons, "Walking In L.A."; Verve Pipe, "The Freshmen"; Nirvana, "All Apologies"; Local H, "Bound For The Floor"; Violent Femmes, "Add It Up"; Counting Crows, "A Long December"; and Pearl Jam, "Yellow Ledbetter."

A Y107 outdoor marketing campaign makes reference to KROQ's longstanding "world-famous" slogan. The Y107 billboard in West Covina, Calif., for example, says "We're not even famous in West Covina—Y107." Blatter says the boards are designed to "play off of KROQ's alleged world-famousness."

Blatter is quick to point out that in the recently released fall '96 Arbitron book, KROQ has a 2.9 share 12-plus, its lowest share since the summer of '91. KLYY had a 1.2 share in the same book, although Blatter says Y107's cume is now more than 700,000 people a week in the total survey area. In addition, Blatter says, "this station has shown that it sells a lot of records, and the more records we've sold, the more respect the station has gotten from the labels."

Besides the battle with KROQ, Blatter's continuing challenge in Los Angeles is filling a few remaining key air shifts, particularly mornings. That search was recently slowed by the departure of PD Phil Manning, who has not yet been replaced.

The idea of trimulcasting on signals in different parts of the metro was first conceived for Odyssey's New York property, according to Blatter, but because of station availability and other complications, it was actually first implemented in Los Angeles. Blatter says there is a tactical advantage to "trimulcasting on the same dial position from a marketing standpoint. There have been other [simulcast] combinations tried, but they weren't on same frequency, and it was confusing to the listeners. Ease of use is [our] advantage."

Blatter says that further signal enhancements are in the works for Y107 and that Odyssey has "a team of engineers working . . . to continue to make technical enhancements on the trimulcast," with enhanced coverage in the San Fernando Valley expected in the next few months.

Blatter's first paying commercial-radio job was at WVBR Ithaca, N.Y., where he served as promotion director and MD. After a quick stint as a swing jock/weekender at classic hits WCZK Poughkeepsie, N.Y., Blatter moved to WYNX as programming assistant and was quickly elevated to MD in 1988. After 3½ years at WYNX, he moved to syndicator MJL Broadcasting as director of programming, where he spent the next two years. From there, he segued to Odyssey as PD of then-AC WRGX, which he flipped to rock. Blatter was upped to VP of programming a year ago, and his duties also include N/T WRKL Rockland County, N.Y.

Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. Rankings broken down by mainstream, modern and triple-A formats (on right side of this page) correspond to charts printed in this week's Monitor and therefore rankings do not exist for recurrants and records below No. 40 (No. 20 for triple-A). Audience computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. © 1997, Billboard/BPI Communications.

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record which has been on either chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records which attain 800 detections (mainstream) or 1,100 (modern) for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.
