AFM Ban on P.A. Cuttings
Needs Clearing

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 14—Band leaders and other American Federation of Musicians' members will no longer be able to cut portions of their recordings for television transcription. Convention delegates today voted to ban all television cuttings of recordings and the ban protested by Don McKee, (AFM Local 47.)

McKee called for the ban on the grounds that it would restrict the use of recordings by radio stations in connection with record promotion, and that it would also prevent the creation of illusions that the artist is playing in a concert or appearing on live television.

The ban was passed by a voice vote, and the outcome was not clear until the final vote was taken.

The importation of cuttings into the United States by record companies will now be prohibited, and the number of members stationed in the recording industry will be reduced.

Cites Unfair Competition From Foreign Countries, Canned Music

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 14—American Federation of Musicians' 52nd annual convention, which concluded its business here Thursday (11), closed the second largest turnout of any convention in AFM history, drawing 935 delegates from 859 of the U.S. and Canada. This is particularly significant because the convention was held in the Far West, where the industry's operations are rapidly changing.

The convention started Thursday morning with a symposium on the status of the industry, and the closing session was held Thursday evening.

The session ended with a vote of confidence in the declaration of President F. M. Petrillo, which was adopted by a vote of 900 to 25.

Petrillo was voted in as president for the fourth consecutive year, and the convention closed with a vote of confidence in the declaration of President F. M. Petrillo, which was adopted by a vote of 900 to 25.

Petrillo said that the convention had been a success and that the industry was in good shape.

The convention was attended by representatives of the major record companies, including the three largest in the industry: Decca, Columbia, and RCA Victor.

Both the convention and the declaration were well received by the delegates, who gave a tremendous ovation to President Petrillo.

The convention was one of the largest in the history of the AFM, and it was held in a city that is rapidly becoming a center for the recording industry.

Pub-Writer Breach Widens, Stymies ASCAP Election

The trend toward classical domination in the recording market, as indicated by the number of classical LP sets being issued by the major record companies, is expected to continue in the coming months. The trends away from pop music, which have been evident for several years, are expected to continue, with classical music gaining an even larger share of the market. This trend is expected to be particularly evident in the sales of classical LP sets, which have been steadily increasing over the past few years. AP Misquotes TV-Film Issue

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 14—In leveling his "toothy fiddler" charge at Local 47's anti-royalty faction, the American Federation of Musicians, S. J. Petriollo, binaries claimed that it was not Union's, Robert Trotter, threatened, "I am not responsible for any of the AFM's conventions, and the case of the American Federation of Musicians, Petriollo said.

An association president reported Petriollo's TV film competes with the local's exec "We have convinced him of his error," said Petriollo, "and we will not allow him to make any more mistakes." The local's exec, who had brought the charge, was said to be "determined to see that Petriollo's name is not associated with any more mistakes."
In ancient fables, Atlas supported the world upon his shoulders. Today it's a fact that music supports the entertainment world... a multi-billion dollar industry... a world of radio, television, movies, night clubs, dance halls, concerts, musicals, etc.

Entertainment without music would be entertainment without profit, singers without songs, orchestra leaders without orchestras.

And where does this music come from? It comes from hundreds of composers and lyricists who can keep on writing these songs for the entertainment industry only because they receive royalties for the public performance for profit of their works.

That is where the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers enters the picture. By acting as a clearing house for the receipt and distribution of performance fees, ASCAP enables these writers to keep turning out the songs and melodies for the enjoyment of the American public. All of the thousands of songs composed by the Society's members are available to you under a single ASCAP license.

And that is what makes this license important to you. It helps make your business profitable by giving you ready access to the best in the music of America — the music people have requested, over and over again, through the years.

This is the first in a series of advertisements telling the story of ASCAP.

  Pertinent comment on the present volume in the warm months, the well-earned and well-deserved attention accorded to them is the result of a number of factors. There is a general interest in music of all kinds, and it is more important that it is now available in a variety of forms and formats. The good tunes for records are numerous, and it will pay the dealer to investigate these and come to a decision. The Los Angeles Times, N.R.J., reports he is experiencing a sharp drop in sheet music business. "We were used to having a lot of new titles," he says. "Now we only have a few new titles each week."

GIRL SET TO MUSIC

The girl who has been "set to music" in Vanessa Brown, beautiful motion picture and television actress. Composer Benjamine Wayne penned a tune inspired by Vanessa Brown and, after long weeks of research, came up with an appropriate title—VANESSA. Hugh Winterhalter and his orchestra have recorded for RCA Victor and their fine instrumental treatment is now zooming to the top of the best seller lists.

It's about time someone wrote a tune called VANESSA.

After all, there have been musical tributes to every girl from MARGIE to MADAME LA FONDA.

One important reason for the current popularity of VANESSA is the outstanding performance by Hugo Winterhalter and his orchestra. Hugo is now established as one of the most consistently popular orchestra leaders and arrangers in the record business.

Rust halls from Pennsylvania to the state that also gave RCA Victor its best known golf player, Perry Como. And when Hugo isn't busy recording such tunes as VANESSA for RCA Victor, he has been known to swing an effective golf club for himself.

Hugo's only real complaint is that sometimes people who write to him to tell him how much they enjoy Winterhalter records have trouble with his last name. He has been called Winter Gables, Winter Haven and Summer Soldier. He has also been called one of the most talented musicians ever to record on the RCA Victor label. You can hear why by playing the Hugo Winterhalter recording of VANESSA.

Philby Bookers of Singers Prefer Women 10 to One

PHILADELPHIA, June 14—

Alto the vocal spotlight seems to have trained almost entirely on the female voice, according to Artie Singer, the town's top vocal coach and teacher. Piano, voice, and string classes are still dominated by female students.

"At this point, the emphasis seems to be on the female voice only, even though there are many talented male vocalists here, too," said Singer.

"The vocal talent among the boys is equally impressive as it is among the girls, and the boys are just as eager to learn and improve as the girls. However, the female voice is still considered the 'safe' voice in the eyes of many people, which is why the male voice is often overshadowed.

Singer believes that the lack of male vocalists in the top positions is due to a lack of confidence in the male voice. He has encountered many male vocalists who feel that their voices are not as acceptable as those of female singers. However, Singer believes that this attitude is changing as more male voices are being heard on radio and television.

"I believe that the male voice has a unique and powerful quality that sets it apart from the female voice. The male voice is often portrayed as strong and commanding, whereas the female voice is often seen as soft and gentle. But in reality, both voices have their own strengths and weaknesses.

"In today's world, there is a greater appreciation for diverse voices, and I believe that this trend will continue. The male voice is just as important as the female voice, and we should be celebrating both.

"I encourage all vocalists, male and female, to continue to develop and improve their skills. The world needs diverse voices, and we should strive to make the most of our unique abilities. Together, we can create a more beautiful and harmonious world of music."

RHYTHM & BLUES NOTES

BY ROBERT ROLVENTE

Mercury Records' label head, Bobby Vee, has returned to the studio with Mel Walker and the Freddie Bell & the Bellboys. The label has cut a new single, featuring Mel Walker's singing on the track. Recorded last week at the Bellboys' studio, the single is expected to be released shortly.

A Salute to Mary Lou Williams, a tribute to the late composer and pianist, will be released this week. The tribute features interpretations of some of Williams' best-known pieces, performed by a select group of jazz musicians. The album will be distributed by Atlantic Records.

NEW YORK, June 14—While only 37 candidates can win the Donaldson Awards each season, there are always others who suffer defeat. The Broadway season put them up high in the running. For the benefit of their co-workers in the theater who lost in the balloting, we publish here the names of those who scored highest in the balloting from second through fifth place in each category.

As noted elsewhere, "The Shrike" won hands down as the best play of the year, and fourth place for Joe Montana in the running for "Shrike." The late Robert Lewis' direction of "Shrike" made it a top favorite in the contest for best play.

Also notable, "Shrike," won another award for its leading role performance by Ian MacKaye, who starred in that role in the Revival of the play. The award was presented for best supporting actress, as was the case with the previous year's awards.

In the Best Actor in a Featured Role category, "Shrike" took first place, with John Cusack earning the top honor. Other categories included Best Actress in a Featured Role, Best Supporting Actor, Best Musical, and several others.

The awards were presented at a special ceremony, with a live audience and a broadcast audience. The ceremony was televised live from the theater, with a special segment dedicated to honoring the winners.

The love and support for the theater industry was evident throughout the ceremony, as performers and whose work had been featured in the previous season took to the stage to receive their awards.

The night was filled with music, laughter, and applause as the winners were announced, and the audience celebrated the achievements of the theatre community.

Lastly, the ceremony concluded with the presentation of the special award for "Shrike," which was awarded to Joseph Langdon. This award was given to an individual whose work had been recognized throughout the season.

The event was a testament to the dedication and hard work of those involved in the theater industry, and a celebration of the joy and inspiration that theater brings to people across the world.

Drews Big Houses in Mud But Expects Gross May Dip 10-15%

By JIM MUIRER

DORIS FERRY, N.Y., June 14—Although it rained steadily through the day the results of the hunt at Saratoga, which has been rescheduled until the 31st, pointed up the fact that some fair-weathering weather, with the result less of play, was experienced through the day. The rain steadily grew heavier throughout the afternoon and threateningly in the early evening, so that more than 500 of the expected 7,000 persons who were to be in attendance had to be content with the comfortable weather when the weather was considered moderate.

While the natural assumption to follow was that the opening of the hunt would be delayed, it was not. Charles T. Hunt, horse manager of the New York Hunt Club, an 11-member family and all-time, says he at a second hour, and that he does not consider the weather to be a factor.

Tote and Carry

TOPSFIELD, Mass., June 14—
Carnival equipment of Rides, Inc., owned by Clarence R. Benjamin, was sold at auction for a fraction of its estimated worth at the Topsfield Fairgrounds Wednesday (11) in a bank foreclosure-auction sale.

Most of the equipment reported went to New England owners, and park operators. While several hundred persons were present, including carnival equipment purchasers, there was purchased by only one mobile unit operator. Mike Kel, operator of theshow, bought his first ride at the auction. He purchased a kiddie walk and a Ferris Wheel.

The equipment, described as in excellent shape, brought an estimated price of $25,000 less than the value attributed to the used property by one auctioneer. Ferris Wheel was bid on by several persons.$2,000 and $2,500. A ride, later, bought by a mobile unit operator, was bought by a mobile unit operator, was bought by a mobile unit operator.

Carnival operators present included John LeBlanc, well-known in the business. Bourdon, long active and respected in the field, reportedly found difficulties in finding a buyer for his unit, and continued their bazaar-type operation.

An interest in the business on behalf of the industry, Bourdon had long displayed his enthusiasm to the business, saying it was a "profitable operation" which he held, made it vital to the life of the business and a profitable one.

Cavalcade Gets In Good Stands On New Route
ASHLAND, Ky., June 16.—The steel strike is on in this city, home of the American plant, but at Wagner's Cavalcade of Amusement, showing here this week, has felt no ill effects. In fact, Thursday (12) 12,000 businesses was roared. Wagner, in explanation, said his firm should be strong, too, for the steel workers are to receive full paid-back pay before the week is over. Wagner, an agitator for getting better-than-satisfactory business in recent weeks. Bristol, Va., played up two weeks ago, proving he has done his job successfully by an excellent Saturday which was highlighted by a $1,700 load.
Williamson, W. Va., last week also had good business, even though the lot there was too small to permit the Cavalcade to put up all of its equipment.
All of the recent spots played by the Cavalcade are new to the show's route. In discussing the good business at the last round, Wagner said one reason is that the spots plans for big draws, thereby giving much more entertainment and the arrival of a new show has given them the turnout.
Next week the Cavalcade will go into Huntington, W. Va., also a new one to the show's route.

Hunt's grandmother, Wanda, and the baby of the herd, Sue, appeared only one week ago, making frequent video appearances. Viewers are encouraged to frequently request her to meet them at the show and to see her again around the 15th. It was held in a suitable area, which was appropriately billed as the "Telephone CATLARIA.""}

The show is in the usual break display area, where it is located, but what is happening is unknown. The show is located in the 100th top floor. A pre-location show in front of the dome-planetarium ride room is needed as a second act. The ride room is located in the Planet Co. Company. Lois Barton, chief executive, will be there with the other shows.

Help, and

The usual pattern of short hauls is being followed and the route is being made up in the rain. While the show rarely Jumps and is usually in the same spot, it is very possible that the show's people are on the run. You have no idea of what to expect for the rides.

WURLITZER DISTRIB To Close Saturdays

CHICAGO, June 14—C. B. Bacon, president and chairman of the board, of the Wurlitzer Distributing Corp., said this week that the company will be closed on Saturdays during the summer months.

Wurlitzer Distributing Corp., one of the leading specialty distributors of records and phonograph accessories, announced that it will be closed on Saturdays during the summer months, beginning July 4.

The company said that it will continue to operate its usual schedule on Sundays and during the weekdays.

The move was made to accommodate the increased demand for records and phonograph accessories during the summer months, when many people are on vacation and cannot visit the company's offices during the weekdays.

Wurlitzer Distributing Corp. is a leading specialty distributor of records and phonograph accessories, with locations throughout the United States.

Evans Distrib Spots Foreign Outlet Needs

Evans Distrib has identified a need for a foreign outlet in Mexico, with the goal of expanding their reach and increasing their customer base.

The company has been successful in the domestic market, but with the growing popularity of recorded music across the world, they see an opportunity to expand their presence.

By establishing a foreign outlet in Mexico, Evans Distrib can tap into a new market and capitalize on the growing interest in recorded music there.

This move is part of the company's broader strategy to continue expanding and diversifying their operations, and they believe that a foreign outlet in Mexico will be a key component in achieving their goals.

The company is currently in talks with potential partners and is exploring different options to develop a successful foreign outlet in Mexico.

China Opens Door to D-80 Recorder

The Chinese government has recently announced that they will be allowing foreign companies, including record distributors, to enter the Chinese market.

This move is a significant development for the music industry, as China is a vast market with a large population and a growing interest in recorded music.

Evans Distrib, with its established presence in the domestic market, is well positioned to take advantage of this opportunity and expand its operations in China.

The company is currently working to secure the necessary approvals and is exploring different strategies to establish a successful foreign outlet in China.

Labor Strife Nips Wurlitzer 1500 Production

NORTH TONAWANDA, N.Y.—June 16—Labor discord at the North Tonawanda plant has halved production of the firm's model 1500 juke box. It was disclosed here recently.

The dispute has existed since the new juke box was shown in April on "National Wurlitzer Day" and, according to one official, production of the 1500 has been halved due to an immediate shutdown of the firm's only plant.

The official said meetings and negotiations were continuing and an early settlement—possibly over the week-end—was expected.

Dispute Disclosed

Disclosures of the dispute with Local 205 of the International Union of Electrical Workers, CIO, were made to refute rumors that trouble with the new phonograph or similar problems were responsible for reduced deliveries and shipments.

Neither Ed Wurfl, sales manager, nor John N. Palmer, advertising manager, who is responsible for new models, was available for comment.

The union charges that some of the new production has been reduced by shifting job assignments which in turn allegedly reduced the effectiveness of an incentive system. The union said it had been backed by four-point program this week asking that alleged delays in rate adjustments be stopped, that pay guarantees already satisfied be paid, and that alleged contract violations be met by retaliatory measures and that alleged abuses by foremen be stopped.

Walnut

The retaliatory measures presumably meant slowdowns or work stoppages. Both union representatives were done within the week by union members instructed their leaders to take increasingly stronger measures.

In other developments, the union named a five-man board to investigate reports that some workers had asked another union, the United Electrical Workers of Indiana, for membership. The latter union was voted out of the state in a stumping election in April 1950.

5,000 Attend Lieberman Jersey Rites

NEWARK, N. J., June 16—An estimated 5,000 people attended the funeral services for David Saul Lieberman, in- owner of the H. B. Amenowitz Company, who died here suddenly Friday, after suffering a heart attack. He was 56 years old.

Burial was in Beth Israel Cemetery, Woodside, N. Y. Sunday, 16.

Long active in politics, although he held no office, Lieberman was well-known. He had been engaged in many civic and fraternal organizations.

He is survived by his widow, Priscilla Lieberman; three brothers, Philip, Harry and Joseph, and a sister, Mrs. Esther Bauer, all of Newark.

Weinand Quits

Weinand and his two-year-old son, John, together with new ideas and new techniques, have become effective company officials. The firm, which has been making phonographs for 21 years, is now planning an expansion program.

Weinand has been managing director of De Paul and Northern Companies, Inc., since 1945.

Weinand said he had made no plans for retirement, but would remain in the field of sales and advertising for the phonograph industry.

Cigarette manufacturers are stepping up their production of cigarettes to meet the increased demand. This is due to the fact that the demand for cigarettes has been increasing steadily over the past few months, and the manufacturers are now producing more cigarettes than ever before to meet the demand.

The increased demand for cigarettes is due to the fact that the price of cigarettes has remained relatively stable, and many people are now buying cigarettes as a cheaper alternative to other forms of tobacco. Additionally, the increased demand for cigarettes is also due to the fact that more people are now smoking, and the manufacturers are now producing more cigarettes to meet the demand.

The increased demand for cigarettes has also led to an increase in the price of cigarettes. This is due to the fact that the manufacturers are now producing more cigarettes, and the cost of producing cigarettes has increased as a result. Additionally, the increased demand for cigarettes has led to a decrease in the supply of cigarettes, which has also led to an increase in the price of cigarettes.

should get priority. All expressed understanding of the supply obstacles that occur when a "sleeper" suddenly springs into the list category.

B & B Novelty

The B & B Novelty Company, owned by Bert Bondelis, are rewarded an emphatic "yes" to the question of whether records were coming thru from distributors, a spokesman said. "Furthermore we don't get complete deliveries. Forty-five r.p.m. records often are up to three weeks behind. And we have to go to retail stores for hits on the slower speed data."

Another big problem, according to the spokesman, is the volume of different records—a point on which B & B has received numerous queries from location concerns.

However, the spokesman said they understood the volume problem was being worked on by the record companies and juke box manufacturers and that their hit records are concerned. The sudden demand usually caused late deliveries.

Bob Gearo, of A.B.C. Service, one of the largest record operating firms, reported that the record companies were moving on as better cut records were available.

"There is a considerable problem of record supply which was cut sharply after Christmas," he said. "It is a fact that the record companies are working to get more records to meet the demands of the customers."

Gearo said the companies had been urged to keep the demands higher than usual and that the record companies were moving on as better cut records were available. The problem was that of meeting the demands of the customers.

A spokesman for Covin Distributing Company, manufacturers and distributors of a one-step record service, reported that the company is testing the demand on the one-step service, and that the company has been able to meet the demands of the customers.

The only firm furnishing a new picture was the Gifford Distributing Company which operates both juke boxes and a retail and one-stop record service. Miss Mike Kincaid, who handles the record department, reported that the firm was able to meet the demands of the customers.

"We have been able to keep the demands higher than usual and that the record companies were moving on as better cut records were available. The problem was that of meeting the demands of the customers.

The Miami manufacturer has headquarters at 2601 Bird Road, where it has 20,000 square feet of production space and plans to increase this in the near future.
