• introduction

For the first time in the history of either trade or consumer publishing, a directory of some 4,000 recording artists from the six continents, along with the names, addresses and telephone numbers of their personal managers and booking offices is being made available to the trade and to the general public.

The International Artist Directory, appearing in this edition of Who's Who in the World of Music, also lists leading U. S. and foreign music critics, record labels all over the world and international impresarios.

The 1964 edition of Who's Who in the World of Music is strongly talent oriented. In so far as possible, it lists every recording artist in the world, without regard to country, classification or chart rating. The only requirement is that the artist be engaged in the commercial recording of music.

One of the prime aims of this edition is to enable the talent buyer, or record company executive, or promotion man—or the fan for that matter—to reach any artist in the world.

Beside each artist's name is listed his label and the name of his personal manager or booking agent. To get in touch with the artist, the reader checks the contact's address and telephone number which is indexed in a separate section.

Other new features in this year's Who's Who in the World of Music include the top singles of the last 15 years and a comprehensive listing of foreign artists and product for the year.

Of course, this year's Who's Who also carries the standard features of the past—top artists and product for the year, a complete list of million-selling singles and half-million-selling albums, top singles and albums for the year and major award winners.

But the spotlight is mainly on talent rather than product. And the beam cast by this spotlight is wide enough to cover artists from all lands and of all styles.

INDEPENDENCE

To go it alone.
To know the split-second,
single decision on what the next move is - is yours.
To face a chain of problems, sure of your techniques and master of your instinct. To make each step a personal and private victory.

INTERDEPENDENCE

And to be part of a grand and subtle strategy whose aim lies high. A foothold gained by one man an opening perceived - and fresh levels are attained for all. To serve, in the exact solution of a local task, the interest of a wide design.

...FOR PEAK ACHIEVEMENT

To operate in fact, exactly like the Philips' Phonographic Industries Group of Record Companies.

For in every land where Philips is established, the national Philips record firm works as a self-reliant, independent unit. Often equipped with its own recording centre, it builds success on a close response to national needs, superb techniques - and a pioneering sense of opportunity.

And it belongs, too, in an international team: which gives it access to a free and busy interchange of know-how and resources. Thus it can distribute to its region records made throughout the world; draw on a global flow of comprehensive data; and see its own experiences transformed and re-applied elsewhere.

Where Do We Go From Here?

BY PAUL ACKERMAN

The American musical scene is richer and more varied than at any period in past history. It is at once more truly American and more international than ever before. Thus, the American music industry now has a profound "grass roots" orientation, while at the same time it ranges far afield to acquire hit material from European countries.

Let us first consider the development of the "grass roots" phase of American popular music.

There are four—and possibly more—chief strands to this fabric. One is the great influence, particularly during the past year, of folk and folk-derived material on a broad pop level. A second is the massive influence of country music, also on a broad pop plane; and a third and fourth, respectively, are the continuing popularity of Negro-derived music and jazz.

These four trends, which were once relegated to the so-called specialty fields, are now the catalysts which have produced a popular music which closely mirrors the culture of many sections of the nation.

It may be noted that the four key trends outlined above are all, in a sense, folk or folk-oriented. There is the folk field proper, which has burgeoned tremendously in the past year through the popularity of such artists as Joan Baez; Peter, Paul and Mary; Flatt and Scruggs, the Chad Mitchell Trio, etc.

The country field often spills over into folk areas, a prime example being the blugrass performances of such artists as Flatt & Scruggs and Bill Monroe, Reno & Smiley, The Stanley Brothers, recent disks by Anita Carter and other members of the famous Carter family, including Mother Maybelle, and the folk-flavored songs and performances of such personalities as Jimmy Driftwood, etc.

Too, the country field continues to reflect a centuries-old folk tradition—in that the artist is very often a writer. This is a rarity in the urban pop field, and its prevalence in the country field is one of the chief ways wherein it varies from the pop industry.

During the past year, country music achieved its peak influence as a contributor to the mainstream of pop music. This is true both with regard to artists and songwriters. The influence of the country field is also reflected in the fact that myriad labels and artists now flock to Nashville, Tennessee, to record there and capture "the Nashville sound."

Rhythm and blues, once the pop music of the American Negro, continues to exercise a large influence in the over-all pop market, and the incidence of blues-based rock and roll disks shows no diminution whatever.

Jazz, too, particularly instrumentals, makes the best-seller list not too infrequently, and this field lately has shown a tendency—both in concerts and on disks—to merge with the folk field. A good example of this phenomenon is "Washington Square" by the Village Stompers on Epic. As we go to press the disk is Number 3 on the Hot 100.

Overseas Influence

While the folk orientation of American music is profound, as the foregoing indicates, there is nevertheless apparent in the musical scene here a generous acceptance of overseas material. Observers have noted this trend as increasing during the past two years—and during this time any number of overseas disks have enjoyed hot chart action here. A most recent example, of course, has been "Dominique" by the Singing Nun on the Philips label. The artist is a Belgian and has enjoyed great success in her native land and other Benelux countries.

Another instance is "Maria Elena" on RCA Victor by Los Indios Tabajaras, a Peruvian duo. The disk scored as a hit single here and around the world.

Earlier this year, "Sukiyaki" by Kyu Sakamoto on Capitol was a smash, as was Rolf Harris' "Tie Me Kangaroo Down Sport" on Epic. Earlier instances of American acceptance of overseas material—instances which reach back to 1962—include Bent Fabric's "Alley Cat" on Atco, Acker Bilk's "Stranger on the Shore" on Atco, Emilio Pericoli's "Al Di La" on Warners, the Tornados' "Telstar" on London and Frank Ifield's "I Remember You" on Veejay. Other instances are tunes like "Chariot," retitled "I Will Follow Him," a smash for Little Peggy March on RCA Victor, etc.

Other Facets

There are several other interesting facets of the American musical scene during the past year. The teen taste for musical fads continued—two examples being the plethora of "surfing" records and the current trend to "hot rod" records.

It has also been observed that "good" songs—both new ones and standards—are getting strong play on records. Some examples are "Deep Purple," which is in Number 8 spot on the Hot 100 as we go to press, and such smashes of the past year as Tony Bennett's Columbia etching of San Francisco and Nat King Cole's "Lazy, Crazy Days of Summer."

Summing up the entire American musical scene, one must conclude that it is, beyond doubt, more diversified and richer than ever, more indigenous and native than ever, as paradoxical as this may seem. More songs which are indigenous to the nation are making it. Simultaneously, a great quantity of overseas material is making it. In brief, it would seem that the old, narrow concept of Tin Pan Alley as the New York center of American music has gone by the board.

At this very moment someone, somewhere, is buying a gramophone record made by the world embracing E.M.I. organisation.

ECONOMIC ANALYSIS AND OUTLOOK

By THOMAS E. NOONAN

Director of Research
The Billboard Publishing Co.

Record sales for 1963 stand a good chance of topping last year's totals if the Christmas selling season shapes up. Going into November, this year's record sales trail the 1962 totals by a shade. Industry estimates are that a strong November and December could put 1963 sales as much as 6 per cent ahead of last year.

If this happens, it will be the ninth consecutive year that record sales have increased (see chart). Final 1963 sales figures will not be available until February.

Prospects for 1964 are bright, with early indications pointing to a 10-15 per cent jump over this year's grosses.

Christmas sales for 1963 should be healthy. Everything points to a good season as well as a good sales period for Christmas product itself. This product has actually suffered a two-year dry spell, with 1962 registering surprisingly little Christmas sales due to the two hot items, "First Family" and "My Son, the Folk Singer." This year there is another "hot" item in "The Singing Nun," but indications at press time showed that it was not seriously affecting Christmas product sales nor was it expected to. Many Christmas LP's were taking off early and it appeared that consumers would again buy Christmas music on singles and LP's in healthy quantities.

The 1962 season was an oddity. The industry came up with the greatest selling LP of all times in Cadence's "First Family." However, this smash hit LP cost the industry sales. True it did sell over 4,000,000 copies in the short period of six to eight weeks, but in so doing, it took the play away from most other LP's, and, in particular, Christmas LP's.

This hottest of all LP's of all time was, in many instances, pulled out of the regular record department, set up on special display in front of the store and sold to consumers in quick fashion without once exposing them to other product. The industry thus lost the impulse buy, which, for records, is vital.

The industry also lost many sales because of lack of exposure, promotion or merchandising. Everybody was so interested in selling a few more copies of "First Family" than their nearest competitors that they bypassed the normal merchandising techniques that in the past proved to be sales stimulators. In effect, a good part of the record retail industry lost sight of over-all sales to favor the cash register rings being produced by this one LP. However, they were to find out at the end of the Christmas selling season that the month did not live up to the previous year and over-all sales and profits were not up to expectations.

Total sales of the industry for 1962 were up 11 per cent as compared to 1961, but Christmas 1962 was actually behind 1961 even when the sales of "First Family"

U. S. RECORD INDUSTRY VOLUME 1953-1963

Year	Sales in Million of Dollars	Yearly Per Cent Change
1953	$205	+ 1.5%
1954	195	- 4.9%
1955	227	+ 16.4%
1956	331	+ 45.8%
1957	400	+ 20.8%
1958	438	+ 9.5%
1959	514	+ 17.4%
1960	521	+ 1.4%
1961	587	+ 12.7%
1962	651	+ 10.9%
1963 (est.)	620-690	- 4.8% — 6.0%
1966 (est.)	800	+ 22.9% (over 1962)

and "Folk Singer" were included. Therefore it was a poor Christmas since, in a growth year, it should have registered a healthy increase.

This year saw the industry register a solid January and fair-to-good February and March for a first quarter total that exceeded the previous year. The second quarter was slightly ahead of the second quarter of 1962, but the industry hit its annual slump in the third quarter. The slump lasted for a little longer period than normally and this seriously affected all in the industry.

Hit singles which normally were in the 600,000-and-up sales category were registering total sales of only 200,000 to 400,000, with only a couple of exceptions.

There were some big hit LP's all through 1963 but the LP's that could be called the secondary hits were not registering as many sales as had been their history. Catalog LP sales fell off and hit LP's by singles artists coming off a hit single would register their fast 60,000 to 80,000 sales and then fall by the wayside. The average life of these single hit artist LP's on the Top LP's chart was less than nine weeks.

With increased discounting at all levels of the distribution set-up, plus increased costs of operation, including salaries, benefits, advertising and other expenses of a retail branch, topped off with sales just under 1962, it becomes a tougher profit picture in 1963.

Rack jobbers installed more leased departments and many of these departments encompass greater variety and depth of product. More chain and discount locations either took on records or opened new branches in new locations. Other fringe locations placed records in their outlets as a stimulus for traffic.

Recently one of the largest manufacturers of in-home appliances had a record rack placed in 2,000 of its company-owned outlets. Record club sales have not declined in 1963 although they did not necessarily register great gains.

The Federal Trade Commission ruling on the Columbia Record Club case will, it is felt, be eagerly awaited by all of the record clubs in 1964 to clearly ascertain which direction or directions they may proceed within the limits of the law or FTC ruling. It is conceivable that if the exclusivity clause is eliminated, all clubs will enter into bidding for other label's product and the club field will then become even more competitive than it is at present.

All economic barometers point to a healthy fourth quarter 1963 and also indicated a healthy 1964. About 85 to 90 per cent of these barometers now indicate good with the others registering fair to good. Only one is down and this is not considered significant. Personal income for the first nine months of 1963 ran 4.5 per cent ahead of 1962 and the potential for Christmas 1963 gets help from $1.6 billion in Christmas Club checks being cashed, which is an all-time high. Other factors swing the economic arrow to the plus side for 1964. Some of these are the substantial pay raise already approved for U. S. servicemen, the expected income tax reduction, increased salaries in 1964 coupled with the trade union demands for a shorter work week which creates more leisure time, more retirements on better pension plans, a slight increase in the number of teen-agers and the number of college students, both being highly significant to greater audience for records and in general the overall expected rise in the economy and standard of living.

January is traditionally the second best sales month of the record selling year and January 1964 will not be an exception to this rule. January sales are usually the result of the sales of new or better phonographs in December. Studies show that any purchaser of a new or better phonograph will then buy approximately $75 worth of records in the next three months and 50 per cent or approximately $37.50 of it will be purchased in the first month after installing his new phonograph.

The release schedule of record companies is usually geared to the first or second week after Christmas for their latest product since Christmas product or other records aimed at the holiday buyer are usually released prior to November of each year. January will therefore see new product, the already established best selling popular product and many basic library LP's selling well, particularly to those buyers who have just converted to stereo for the first time.

The future of the record industry is bright, and the anticipated gross retail volume of $800 million in 1966 still stands regardless of the outcome of 1963. The $1 million plateau is expected in 1970. Interesting to note too that by 1975 the total U. S. population will be 230 million and the all-time high for teen-age population will be attained in this same year.

The record industry will continue to depend heavily on every Christmas of every year, but it is not expected that a near future Christmas selling season will be so vital to the entire year's total as is the case this year.

A world of entertainment is revealed through our exciting wealth of records. It is populated by some of the top performing talent of our time, internationally renowned artists enlisted from all the far corners of the earth. It encompasses almost every form of musical expression, including popular, classical, jazz, country and western, religious, original Broadway cast scores and motion picture sound track recordings. It is a treasury we are continually attempting to enlarge with every passing year, widening our world of entertainment to open up the world of human experience to all who wish to enter.

Top Publishers—1963

DURING 1963, some 379 publishers were represented on Billboard's Hot 100 Single Chart in the first 48 weeks. Listed below are the 50 leading publishers for the period. A reverse order point system was used in tabulation, with all split copyrights receiving split credit. Publishers were listed without regard to ownership of the firms by other publishing houses. As points were awarded on the basis of chart position, the number of entries hitting the chart by an individual publisher does not necessarily determine his rating in the Top Publisher list.

Top Singles Artists for 1963

DESPITE the fact that success in the singles field is generally followed up with action in albums, a check of the top 10 singles artists for 1963 discloses that only one act was also among the top 10 LP artists. Ray Charles, who hit No. 4 position in the singles ranks, was also No. 5 in the album classification. Leading singles act, The Beach Boys, showed up No. 14 on the album charts, while runner-up, Dion DiMucci, was No. 45 among album artists.

Top International Artists

U. S. artists still set the pace in the pop music world. Of the top 78 recording artists in foreign markets during 1963, some 53 were Americans. The following compilation was taken from pop charts in 34 European, Asian, African and South American countries. U. S. charts were eliminated in the tabulations. But despite the predominance of U. S. artists in the list, a Briton, Cliff Richard, Epic artist, edged out Elvis Presley for the top position.

MILLION SELLERS—Singles

Following is a list of all singles which have sold one million or more copies in the United States as of the end of September 1963, according to the record manufacturers. Listings are arranged in alphabetical sequence, according to artists, and show label and year each became a million seller. Flip sides are listed in instances where they are felt to have contributed strongly to the sale.

None of these listings can be verified by Billboard, but in the absence of any absolute auditing procedure, it is felt that this is the most accurate list that can be compiled.

Some manufacturers, which are members of the Record Industry Association of America, do have audited verification of their sales. Some other manufacturers which are not RIAA members have availed themselves of RIAA auditing verification. All records so authenticated by RIAA as audited million sellers are designated by an asterisk (*). This is not intended as any reflection on disks not so marked, but merely indicates those records which are certified million sellers by actual audit.

Discography—1948-1963

Top singles of the last 15 years are listed in the chart below. All disks occupied the No. 1 spot in the Billboard Hot 100 charts. To figure how many weeks a record held No. 1 position, note the date beside the record and the date beside the next record. The interval tells how many weeks the disk stayed on top. The tenure of records holding the No. 1 position has been shortened considerably since 1948. That year, for example, only 10 records shared the top spot. In 1962 some 20 records made No. 1 during the course of the year.

Talent Goes International

Recording talent knows no international boundaries. Right now, the greatest exodus of U. S. recording artists to other countries in the history of the music industry is being countered by a migration of foreign disk stars to the States. In both cases the purpose is the same—to increase their share of the world market.

TV appearances and multi-lingual recording sessions figure prominently in the lend-lease arrangement, since it is generally conceded that the recent growth of TV in foreign countries—and the subsequent video exposure of local artists singing in their native tongue—has played a major role in giving home-grown disk stars an increasing sales edge over U. S. artists in foreign countries.

Consequently U. S. artists are sandwiching in as many TV show guest spots as possible during their foreign tours. Thus the exodus is a boon to foreign TV shows in search of big-name American guest stars.

Language teachers and lyricists in countries visited also benefit, with more and more U. S. artists recording in foreign languages abroad and non-English speaking performers cutting sides in English here.

A few disk stars, notably Connie Francis and Paul Anka, have recorded in several languages for some time, of course, but during the past few months the practice has become increasingly widespread. Although foreign language sides are still recorded here, most record companies prefer to wax them abroad in order to capture the local sound. When it isn't possible to schedule dates abroad, the country sometimes comes to the artists.

Both Connie Francis and Bobby Darin recently arranged for German a.&r. men to fly over here and record special German language sessions. Miss Francis, who records in nine languages, cut her German session in Las Vegas. Darin's first foreign language side, a German version of his hit "You're the Reason I'm Living," was released in Germany last month.

Atlantic Records imported a.&r. man Ezio Leoni to Hollywood from Italy a few weeks ago to record an Italian version by April Stevens and Nino Tempo of the best selling "Deep Purple" platter. Leoni was accompanied by Walter Gentler, the Atlantic-Atco distributor in Italy.

There is a difference of opinion on the best way for an artist to master foreign lyrics when he doesn't know the language. Connie Francis, who automatically records practically everything she does in six languages (English, French, Italian, Spanish, Japanese, German) swears by Berlitz, while Darin plays it by ear. He has a foreign singer record tunes in his native language, then studies the demos until he can duplicate the sound.

Ettore Stratta, Columbia Records' International artist and repertoire manager, maintains that foreign lyrics must be pronounced "musically right." Therefore he prefers to have Columbia artists work with foreign music men rather than professional language teachers.

Columbia is currently making a drive to record its artists in foreign languages. To date they have cut foreign sides (mainly in Italian and Spanish, but some in German and French) with Dion, the Christy Minstrels, Barbra Streisand, Eydie Gorme, Steve Lawrence and Andy Williams. With the exception of Miss Streisand, all of the artists are either abroad now or will leave shortly for European tours.

Decca's Brenda Lee, who toured England and Germany earlier this year, records in French, German and Italian. She too prefers to make foreign language records in their country of origin.

Warner Bros. has already cut a Japanese version of "Memories Memories" with Joannie Sommers, and is making plans to record several WB artists in Japanese when they visit Japan next year.

Gustl Breuer of RCA Victor Records' International Department, reports that Victor artists mainly record in Italian and German, although Paul Anka, of course, has a big following with French language records. Neil Sedaka, first U. S. singer to sell 2,000,000 records (recorded in Italian) in Italy, cut his first German language sides in Hamburg a few weeks ago. Little Peggy March cut her first German and Italian sides for Victor this fall during her first overseas tour.

The importance of foreign language disks to U. S. record stars today was underscored recently when Eddy Arnold re-signed with RCA Victor. One of Arnold's key requirements for signing was that the label guarantee to record him in foreign languages, particularly in German since his disks are strong in that country. Arnold will slice his first foreign sides shortly.

Among the U. S. artists recording abroad for the first time in a foreign language this fall were Chubby Checker, the Everly Brothers, Peter, Paul and Mary, Brian Hyland, George Chakiris and Paul and Paula.

The overseas recording bit doesn't necessarily have to be done in a foreign language. Several U. S. artists (including Pat Boone, Bobby Rydell, Chubby Checker, and Roy Orbison) have recorded in English in London recently. In fact Cameo-Parkway has set it up so that henceforth all its artists will record at Pye's London studio when they visit England.

Meanwhile, several foreign artists have arrived or are due to arrive here to plug their current disks. RCA Victor is importing two teen-age stars—Sylvie Vartan of France and Italy's Rita Pavone. Miss Vartan recently recorded her first sides in English here, including a Paul Anka tune "I'm Watching Every Little Move You Make." Miss Pavone, who arrives in January, will record her first English sides here also during her stay, and will guest on a flock of U. S. TV shows. Her manager Teddy Reno was in New York over Thanksgiving week to confer with Victor execs on the dates.

Nashville attracts many foreign artists. England's Helen Shapiro cut an album, "Helen in Nashville," there earlier this year, and France's Johnny Hallyday cut 16 sides in a Nashville recording studio in October. New Zealand's Peter Posa plans to record in Nashville when he visits the U. S. early next year.

Australia's Rolf Harris, Brazil's Los Indios Tabajaras, Germany's Bert Kaempfert, and a trio of best selling artists from England—Cliff Richard, Frank Ifield and Kenny Ball—were all in New York this fall to cash in on their U. S. disk hits. Richard appeared on Ed Sullivan's CBS-TV show during his stay here and also helped promote the U. S. release of his movie "Summer Holiday." Ball made several TV appearances, including a stint on NBC-TV's "Tonight" show.

November was a busy month in the U. S. for foreign disk visitors. England's Mantovani, Billy J. Kramer, and Danny Williams were all here. Mantovani was making his eighth tour of the country. Kramer was pushing his new Liberty release. Williams cut his first sides for United Artists and participated in special promotion for the disk throughout the East. International star Caterina Valente was also in the U. S. to tape a November 7 TV special with Bing Crosby.

Earlier this year, Capitol imported Japan's Shiguero Katsumi and Kyu Sakamoto. Latter, of course, had the smash international hit "Sukiyaki." Another Japanese singer, I. George, made his U. S. debut at Carnegie Hall in October. The concert was recorded by Decca and filmed by George for later showing on his Japanese TV show, "The Road to Carnegie Hall." George sings in English, Spanish and Japanese, specializing in Japanese folk songs with an Afro-Cuban beat.

Other recent visitors to the U. S. include Italy's rock and roll star Peppino Di Capri, Australia's Lucky Starr, and Germany's Hermann Prey and Gus Backus. Backus recorded in English for MGM during his stay here.

Scheduled to visit the U. S. shortly are Britain's new hit group the Caravelles (whose Smash single "You Don't Have to Be a Baby to Cry" is a best seller here), Mexico's Pedro Vargas (booked into Carnegie Hall early in 1964), and Germany's Werner Mueller (due here in May to help promote his first release on Warner Bros.).

England and the Continent were visited by a flock of U. S. names this fall, including Paul Anka, the Everly Brothers, Bo Diddley, Little Richard, Paul and Paula, Bobby Rydell, the Barry Sisters, Chubby Checker, Brian Hyland, Sarah Vaughan, Count Basie, Roy Orbison, Larry Finnegan, Little Peggy March, Neil Sedaka, Johnny Thunder, Freddy Cannon and Joe Williams.

In January, England will be visited by the Tommy Dorsey-Sam Donahue ork (with Frank Sinatra Jr., Helen Forrest and the Pied Pipers), the Tymes and Billy Fury. Mercury's Johnny Mathis is set for dates in England and Berlin.

Among U. S. disk stars touring Australia this fall were Sue Raney, Shelley Berman, June Christy, Pete Seeger, Sammy Davis Jr., Eartha Kitt and Leslie Uggams. Al Martino is booked Down Under for Christmas.

Billy Ward and his Dominoes completed a far East tour this summer, and Duke Ellington returned this month from a similar trek around the mid-East.

U. S. disk talent was particularly active in Japan this year, with Eartha Kitt, the Clara Ward Singers, Max Roach Quartet, the Wanderers, Sam Taylor and Pete Seeger visiting the Far East this fall. The Four Lads and Jimmie Rodgers are slated to visit Japan this month. Early 1964 bookings for Japan include Benny Goodman, the Four Freshmen, Pat Boone, Frankie Laine, the Everly Brothers and Connie Stevens.

The much-traveled Connie Francis, whose most recent trip was to South Africa, is scheduled to tour Japan early in 1964. Although she has been Japan's favorite female vocalist for some time, this will be her first trek to that country where even her "Italian Hits" album is a top seller.

The globe-trotter disk artists set this fall and winter also include Roy Hamilton, who toured Brazil; Carmen Cavallaro in Mexico last month, and Jim Reeves, scheduled to visit South Africa for the premiere of his film "Kimberly Jim." Reeves recently waxed a side in the Afrikaans language, and the disk is a big hit over there.

Country and western artists should garner considerable international exposure in January, when RCA Victor has tentatively set a one-month tour of Europe for a group of its c.&w. stars. The line-up includes Chet Atkins, Floyd Cramer, Skeeter Davis, Hank Locklin, Hank Snow, Don Gibson, Charlie Rich and John D. Loudermilk. There is a possibility that some of these artists will record in foreign languages during the tour.

The Proudest Name in Entertainment

December 28, 1963 • Who's Who in the World of Music • Billboard

BILLBOARD—The world's leading music-record newsweekly—serving the publishing, manufacturing, performing, retailing and music machine operating segments of the recording industry. In addition to the weekly business paper, Billboard provides its readers with four major reference annuals each year: Who's Who in the World of Music, Music-Record Directory & Buyer's Guide, The World of Country Music and Who's Who in the Coin Machine World.

AMERICA'S BEST KNOWN ART INSTRUCTION BOOKS—Specially created for fine and commercial artists, teachers, students, and serious amateurs, these richly illustrated how-to-do-it books explain the fundamentals of all the major art techniques: painting, drawing, printmaking, crafts, advertising and editorial art. More than a million volumes in print.

HIGH FIDELITY—The magazine for music listeners. Presenting detailed information about the latest and best in recorded music, complete reports on monophonic and stereo reproduction equipment, and in-depth studies of the great composers and their works.

AMERICAN ARTIST—With the world's largest art magazine circulation, American Artist editorially bridges the creative art interests between fine and commercial art. Since 1927, American Artist has looked over the shoulder of more than 1,700 fine, commercial and graphic artists to explore their working methods, the techniques they employ and the media they use.

Meet the Family of

Like any big family, each member of our brood is totally individual in matters of personality and appeal... but the traditional soundness and ethics of the parent organization have given all our publications a strong family resemblance in the areas of integrity and quality of service.

RSI

RECORD SOURCE INTERNATIONAL—A service division of Billboard providing radio stations throughout the world the means of obtaining the top new singles and album releases on all labels from a single source. Over 2,100 radio stations have utilized the unique services of RSI by either individual orders or through the varied subscription services which provide automatic mail shipments.

VEND aims in each of its 24 issues to answer the questions: What's happening in vending? and What does it mean? Its editorial works to be thorough but selective, complete but brief, to provide a working tool for all people in all phases of merchandise vending.

MODERN PHOTOGRAPHY—For professional and amateur alike, each issue of Modern Photography offers brilliant color and black and white photographs made by the world's greatest photographers, with full explanations of the technical execution, and precise and carefully researched reports on all cameras, lenses, equipment and photographic materials— assembled, analyzed and clearly described by MODERN'S own staff of technicians.

CARNEGIE HALL PROGRAM—Published by High Fidelity since September 1963, the Carnegie Hall Program is distributed free to over 750,000 patrons of Carnegie Hall each year. The new, de luxe booklet, with its striking four-color cover, contains material on a variety of cultural subjects of interest to Carnegie Hall audiences—feature articles, picture spreads, book and record reviews, artist biographies—in addition to the pertinent program material relating to each concert or performance.

Billboard Publications

In its 70 years of service to both industry and consumer, The Billboard Publishing Company has offered its member publications and divisions a rich heritage of sound business practice and strict adherence to the highest standards of publication and service.

Run by top publishing professionals and fed by worldwide networks of experienced journalists and writers, the quality of editorial content delivered to readers and the exacting efficiency of our service divisions has made The Billboard Publishing Company a leader in every field it serves . . . assuring prestige, value and peak results for each participating advertiser.

Member of Audit Bureau of Circulations . . . which performs a full annual audit of circulation figures and monitors methods of circulation promotion sales throughout the year.

Member of Associated Business Publications . . . dedicated to promoting and maintaining the very highest standards of ethical business practices among trade and business publications. ONLY ABC-AUDITED PUBLICATIONS ARE ACCEPTED FOR MEMBERSHIP.

Member of Magazine Publishers Association . . . promoting the continual growth of editorial excellence and quality of publication of both consumer and business publications. ONLY ABC-AUDITED PUBLICATIONS ARE ACCEPTED FOR MEMBERSHIP.

AMUSEMENT BUSINESS brings to its readers each week all of the news in the vast and expanding fun industry. It supplements this coverage with documented research published in two annuals, Arena, Auditorium and Stadium Guide, and Cavalcade and Directory of Fairs. All three publications serve their respective areas exclusively and authoritatively. The editorial content offers a unique combination of current industry news and events and instructional reporting designed to help the reader whose business is selling fun for profit.

Our version of it looks like this:

... and to us it means much more than an academic starting point.

To Billboard, membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations means the very highest form of integrity and ethical standards of business practice.

It means Billboard does not expect anyone to accept unverified claims of circulation—penetration—or occupation of its subscribers in the music-record field... but is more than pleased to submit to the rigid annual audit of ABC to offer the entire industry the accurate and impartial proof of readership.

In fact, we're downright giddy about the whole thing... since each minutely detailed ABC report continues year after year to reiterate Billboard's circulation leadership—nearly twice that of the next publication in the field (which, by the way, is unaudited).

For Billboard readers, that leadership in quantity of paid subscribers is substantial proof of Billboard's superiority in quality of editorial content... because people just don't lay out money for a business paper that does not fill their needs. An ABC statement is a barometer of editorial excellence. Let the quality of content slip, down goes readership, and...

well, to be honest, ABC is not known for its soft voice... the miserable truth will quickly become a matter of printed public knowledge. That added check, combined with Billboard's own 70-year history of unimpeachable reporting, is what provides you this week and every week with the very best business paper in the industry.

And for advertisers... an ABC statement puts solid value behind every advertising dollar by letting the advertiser know in advance precisely how many people his message will reach, who they are, and where they are. ABC further protects the advertiser's investment with its rigid rulings as to just how those subscribers can be obtained. Padding circulation with wild offers and fancy premiums is strictly tabu... no mink coats, no acre on the moon and no 4-year subscription for 34c. The amount paid by a subscriber must be sufficient to indicate that his interest lies in the publication itself... not in the "deal" or premium.

In short, Billboard is thoroughly delighted with every aspect of ABC control... it makes us "legit"... and in our wild and woolly world of show business, that's the word that separates the men from the boys!

Billboard The only ABC audited publication for the music-record industry.

70 Years of Professional Publishing Know-How, unmatched editorial integrity and out-in-the-open, verified circulation statistics and policies keep Billboard the leader . . . this year and every year.

Publication	Paid Circulation Per Issue	Audit Status
Billboard Audited Circulation (1963) Average for 12 Months	19,904	Audit Bureau of Circulations (ABC)
Cash Box "Stated" Circulation (1963) Average for 12 Months	10,271	Not Audited
Music Vendor "Stated" Circulation (1963) Average for 12 Months	4,301	Not Audited
Music Reporter "Stated" Circulation (1963) Average for 12 Months	5,421	Not Audited

As a member of ABC since 1914 and complying with its rigid requirements of annual audits, Billboard has guaranteed each advertiser complete, accurate and detailed information as to how many people his ad is reaching . . . where they are . . . and who they are.

This is the kind of information that gives your advertising dollar meaning and direction . . . and the kind of information Billboard feels privileged to extend.

Billboard

The only ABC audited publication for the music-record industry.
