DIRECTORY PREMIERE:

Billboard Debuts Multi-Purpose Guide For Talent World

The multibillion-dollar international recording talent business requires fast and sure decisions. This means there is a need for accurate information at the fingertips of decision makers whose daily activities span the globe. Thus this first issue of Billboard's annual International Talent Directory is designed to serve the needs of this industry in every major country where recordings and talent are sold.

This directory is multi-purpose for everyone in the talent industry. Promoters can immediately get a personal manager or agent contact for an artist. Artists looking for management or an agent have complete listings. A record company promo man out in the field may want to contact an agent or personal manager of a visiting artist, and likewise radio station personnel, retailers and journalists can turn to any artist and discover the record company, manager and agent to contact. In the city listings, personal managers, artists or tour support personnel have at their fingertips any information they need regarding venues, sound and lighting, musical instruments, staging and costumes, limousines, charters, rehearsal studios, tickets and unions. These are based on recommendations from concert promoters and facilities. These recommendations were checked to insure that duplicates were eliminated and that information was as up-to-date as possible.

Accuracy, completeness, comprehensiveness and relevance were our goals in putting together what we believe will be your companion wherever you travel in the world of talent.

The International Talent Directory is the latest in a series from the same directory staff long associated with Billboard's highly reliable international annuals such as Buyer's Guide, Recording Equipment And Studio Directory, Tape/Audio/Video Sourcebook and others.

AMERICAN ENTERTAINMENT CONTENTS:

THE SHOW BUSINESS PIONEERS
Our earliest entertainment was more than a bunch of George Washington's wooden teeth jokes. PART ONE sets up the whole story, from before the Revolution to after the Civil War.

THE MAD, MERRY MIX OF LIVE SHOW BUSINESS
The flamboyant days of early vaudeville, circus, troupe theatre and minstrel shows. Travel with them all in PART TWO from 1894-1904.

OF TRUSTS AND STARS
Entertainment becomes the enterprise of silent movie stars and studio moguls. PART THREE is a newsreel that takes us to 1918, the feature film and the phonograph.

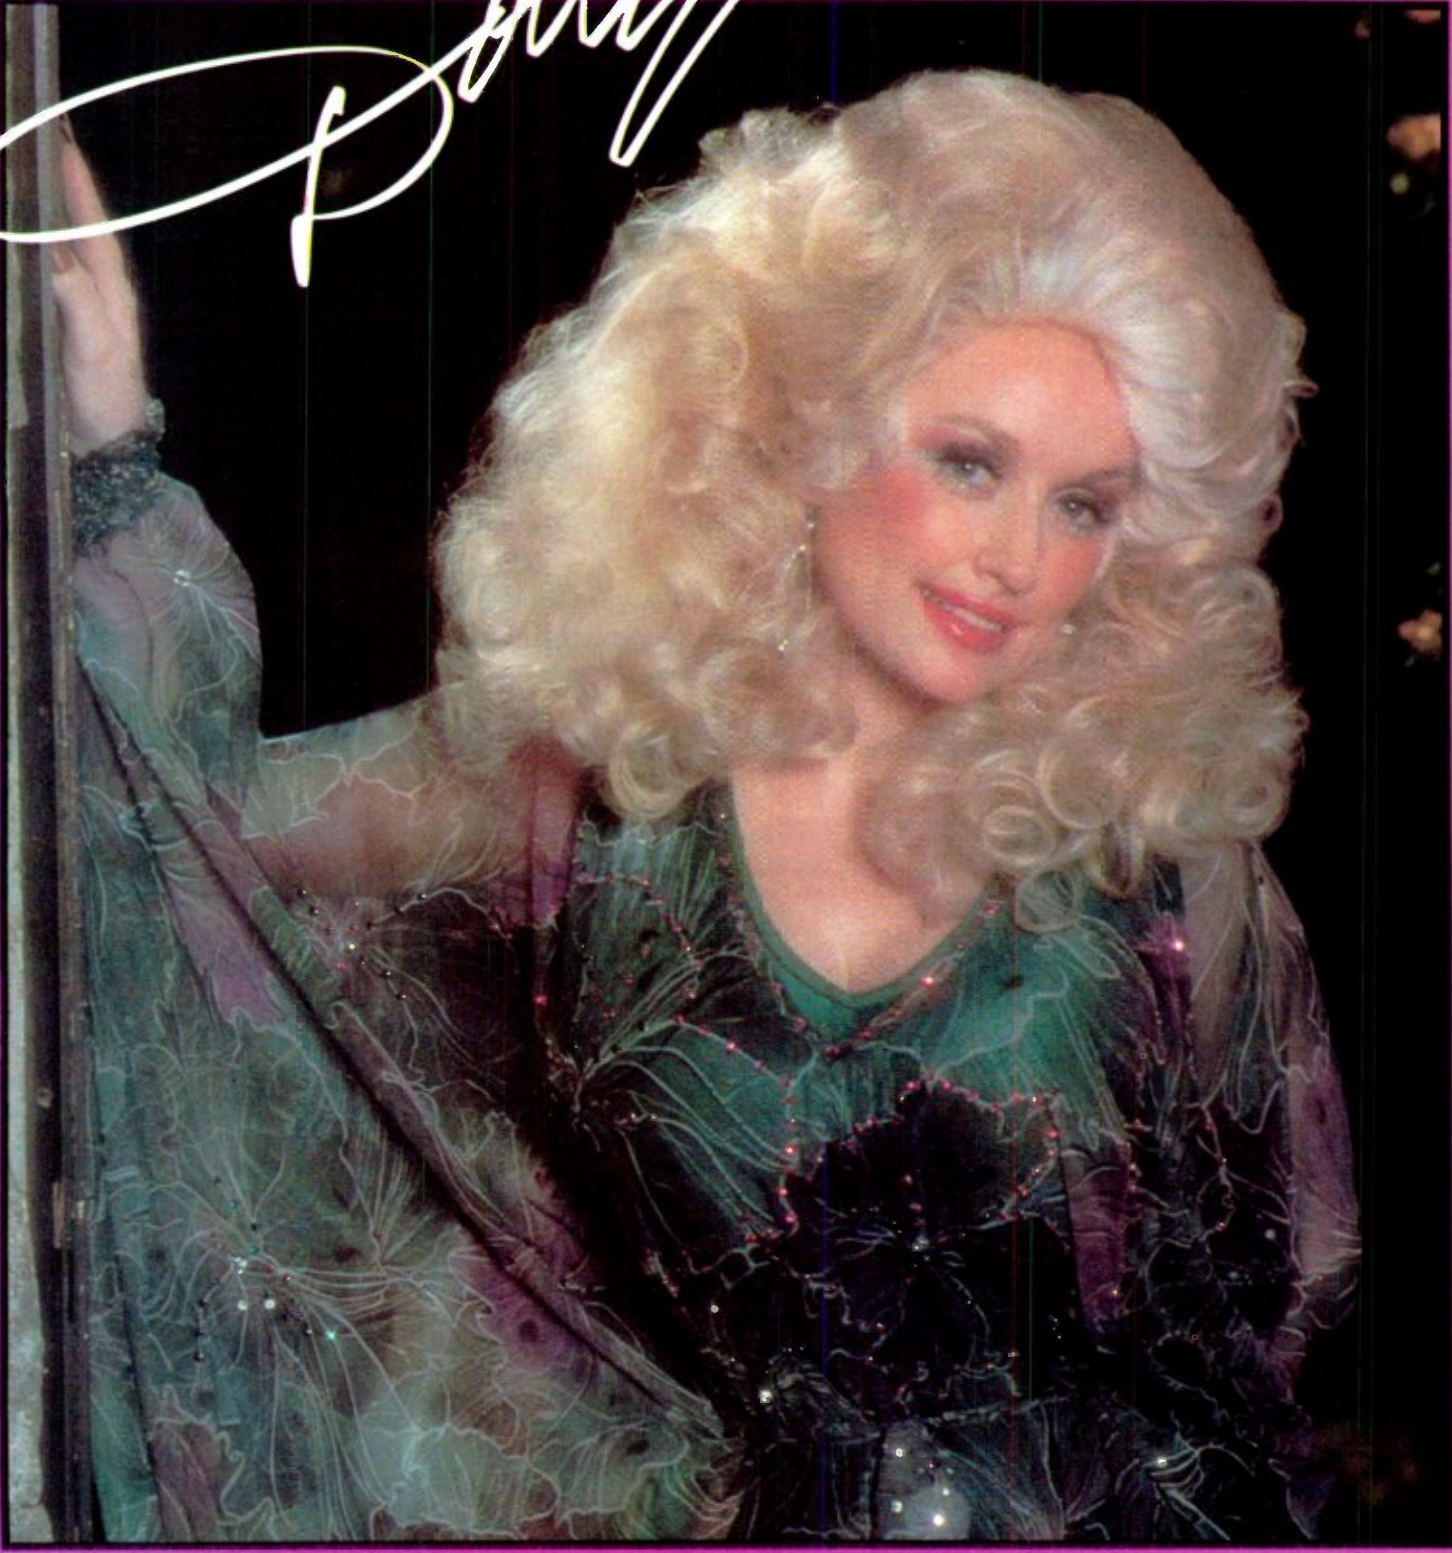

THE SOUND OF A NEW SHOW BUSINESS
The talkies speak, the Big Bands play, the radio's everywhere. PART FOUR in peace and war, 1919-1945.

TECHNOLOGY, CONGLOMERATES AND SUPERSTARS
The Television Age changes the picture for film and radio alike. Records boom. Conglomerates turn show business into a multi-billion dollar industry. PART FIVE puts it all in contemporary focus, through 1977.

THERE WAS ALWAYS MUSIC
From cathode and linking piano to the age of rock and disco, music has always been a part of show business. PART SIX charts every development of note, all the music that's mattered.

Who's got Shure? You bet!

We've all come to expect innovative perfection from The Who. Ever since their first record blasted its way into Britain's Top Ten in 1965, The Who have been pioneering rock style—from Pop Art clothes to the rock opera "Tommy". They've even made a new art out of playing Shure microphones.

Why Shure mics? They're the rugged ones with the natural sound. And that's important for a group that draws its legendary stage aura from a unique combination of lyric sensitivity and hard-driving instrumentation.

You, too, should expect perfection. Ask your Shure dealer for a demonstration today.

Model 565D Unisphere I and Model 548 Unidyne IV are just two of the Shure microphones used by The Who. Both have a uniform cardioid pickup pattern, dual impedance, and minimize feedback and "boom."

The 565D features a 50 to 15,000 Hz frequency response. The 548 is designed for extra durability, and features a wide-range 40 to 15,000 Hz frequency response.

'The uncategorizable, perennially surprising,' Teresa Brewer

"She's absolutely enchanting—singing, dancing, yodeling... she sings rock tunes, standards, country... Whatever she sings, it has that inimitable Brewer ring to it and that crystal clarity..."

—Mark Tan, The Hollywood Reporter

"Teresa Brewer is irrepressibly herself, constantly evolving, constantly enjoying the surprise of herself, and communicating that joy to her audiences... Teresa is uncategorizable, perennially surprising... she is, in sum, a marvelous entertainer..."

—Nat Hentoff

"Teresa Brewer scored a smash opening at the Empire Room (Chicago)... captivated the crowd... Ringsiders were on their feet yelling for more..."

—Jac, Variety

"...Teresa Brewer turns the Empire Room into a magical musical melange with her magnificent voice..."

—Irv Kupcinet, Chicago Sun-Times

"The Fairmont's Venetian Room (San Francisco)... a generally restrained setting, has rarely vibrated so thoroughly as it did for Teresa Brewer... when she sang her voice shook the cobwebs from every nook and cranny of the large room... Ms. Brewer went through an amazingly wide-ranging repertoire... into which she threw some snappy yodeling, and contemporary stuff like a strong and exciting version of 'New Orleans', which was the surprise of the evening."

—Jack McDonough, Billboard

"Miss Brewer... quickly eliminated any preconception of nostalgia her audience might have had... Miss Brewer... is magnificent... I have no idea what Teresa Brewer is being paid but I know it is not the kind of money commanded by lesser talents, who drone through their Vegas-Tahoe-Reno shows year in and year out... for me... I'd take Teresa's swinging, jazzy no-nonsense music ahead of almost all the phonies that the gambling circuit show rooms have to offer... Teresa sings like a teenager, never descends into the rubbishy-pop stuff that others of her generation use to activate applause..."

—Phil Elwood, San Francisco Examiner

"...Teresa sparkles and glows... she is an utterly delightful performer with her expressive eyes and golden smile... tiny Teresa can sing up a storm... That's star power..."

—Tony Beacon, San Juan Diary

"...All systems are go for the Music, Music, Music lady... looked marvelous and sang so well... This is the diminutive, but super dynamic songstar's best outing yet in Las Vegas... A triumph..."

—Joe Delaney, Las Vegas Sun

"Bouncy, belter Brewer... with that strange squeak in her voice and that uncommon power in her lungs... can tear the place apart with Mississippi rock, cool if off with miraculously fresh treatments of... My Funny Valentine... like good wines... Teresa is a rare vintage..."

—George Anthony, The Toronto Sun

Doing a little album with Teresa was a real pleasure. Solid swing are the words for Teresa. She proved she really can actually, actually swing. She and I had a ball.

—Count Basie

"Although diminutive, she's capable of filling a room to capacity with her bubbly personality, her electric energy, and a sound that is unique. Most of all, it's that sound... a singing style like no other ever to appear on stage anywhere. It's a combination of a little-girl wail and an anguished, heart-broken teen-ager... And when she sings 'When the Saints Go Marching In' the reaction was wild. She's fit as a fiddle and in great shape—in more ways than one!

—James A. Perry, New Orleans The States-Item

"She absolutely bedazzled the opening night crowd, earning her standing ovation in spades... She growled and belted her way into everyone's heart..."

—Kyle H. Lawson, Scottsdale Daily Progress

... for Miss Brewer has grown remarkably since her days on the hit parade... and broadened her stage act to include a wide sampling of Americana, from country music and pop to swing and be-bop. She has developed enough vocal technique to bring off this ring of eclecticism. The shrill, cutting edge is still there, and sometimes, especially on country material, it is appealing... Miss Brewer's vocal bag of tricks includes a husky lower register and variety of timbres, from brassy to breathy... as a pop technician... Brewer is beyond reproach... Basically she is a bubbly, good-time entertainer. She can swing and execute difficult interval jumps.

—Bob Palmer, New York Times

"Teresa Brewer has a God given talent. She's completely true to herself at all times. She swings and that's what jazz is all about."

—Duke Ellington

"All the superlatives describing a great entertainer apply to Teresa Brewer. She bounced onto the grandstand stage and literally rocked an audience of about 8,000... It's the voice, of course, and more so the incredible vitality and charisma of the performer, who is apparently only just beginning phase three of an active and successful singing career.

—Judy Malone, The London Free Press

2908 OREGON COURT

BUILDING 1-5

TORRANCE, CALIFORNIA 90503

We'll Put $51 Million Into Your Show

One million people live within a 10-mile radius of our beach-front city, 10 million within 30 miles. And millions of others explore the decks of the

Terrace Theater

So we did. Two magnificent theaters, a sports arena, a mammoth exhibition facility and meeting rooms of every size and shape. The finest seating, staging, lighting and acoustics you've ever seen. Or heard. Dressing rooms fit for royalty. Professional in-house advertising and promotion. Acres of adjacent parking fed directly by a major freeway.

Consider some specifics:

Terrace Theater (Lobby)

1) The Terrace Theater. A lavish main theater with continental seating for 3,141. Faultless sightlines, free-flowing entrance and exit, and a Kliegl Q-file 2000 memory system with 160 channels capable of unlimited program capacity.

2) The Center Theater. A companion theater that cradles 862 seats around a five-sided thrust stage for the ultimate in intimacy. Both theaters are acoustical masterpieces, with one of a kind Veneklasen ceilings created by laser-beam engineering. 3) The 14,000-seat Arena with an acoustical curtain available for houses of 6,500 or 10,000 seats. Rock concerts, ice hockey, rodeo, you name it. 4) An ultra-modern 100,000 square-foot exhibition hall to provide unequaled trade show and convention facilities.

How would it feel to have $51 million backing your show? Ask Harry Chapin, Marilyn Horn, Van Cliburn, Carol Channing, Neil Simon, Kansas or the Los Angeles Philharmonic. Or ask their sell-out audiences. Or, better yet, come experience it for yourself.

salt and pepper shakers?

More often than not, the house special needs a little spice. If your live performance has had to rely on the available sound system, you know what we mean. As experts in the field of sound, we will design a custom system especially for you and your needs. And that's not all we'll do. Our sophisticated remote facilities and our specialized engineering staff will capture that perfect sound on tape for your next live recording. So next time, whether it's sound reinforcement or live recording that you need, why not rely on the name that is a household word in the recording and television industry. We can give you both because our combination works. Although one might be good without the other, salt and pepper together add that extra flavor.

BILLBOARD MAGAZINE

In just 11 years, The Spectrum has become the most heavily-booked entertainment center of its type in the country . . . the rock capital of the world . . . and the standard by which sports arenas are judged.

We've been host to an entire spectrum of exciting events . . . the Moscow Circus to Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus . . . Flyers hockey to the Ice Capades . . . 76ers basketball to the Harlem Globetrotters . . . Olga Korbut to the Scots Guards . . . from the music of the Grateful Dead to the songs of John Denver.

Billboard Magazine has named The Spectrum “The Best Concert Facility” in the arena category two years in a row. That recognition didn't just happen . . . it comes from staging events in a very special way. And it comes from a total commitment to making The Spectrum the best arena in the country.

To find out how you can be a part of this “Commitment to Excellence,” contact: Mich Sauers, Director of Productions.

BILLBOARD MEANS MUSIC AND MUSIC MEANS BUSINESS.

Billboard is the voice of today's music industry. And today's music industry annually exceeds $6 billion—that makes it larger than either the TV or movie industries. As the #1 international music newsweekly, Billboard means business.

For over 84 years Billboard has been the one publication that every professional related to the music business—reads. It is the only ABC audited trade publication covering the industry. Music related facts and forecasts are covered first and thoroughly in Billboard keeping it the most influential, authoritative and respected publication in its field.

And Billboard is still growing. Advertisers for Billboard and its Annual Supplements increased over 25% the last six months of 1977. Ad pages for the same period showed an impressive 348.4 page increase. The growth figures are understandable when you consider Billboard can, and has, sold: Greyhound buses for $35,000; palatial homes for more than $1 million; high priced condominiums; luxury cars like chauffeured limousines and Rolls Royces; resort convention sites for industry usage; business and consumer services, merchandise lines, new products... Billboard can help sell whatever you're selling.

Because of its #1 position, Billboard offers a #1 audience for any advertiser. A glance at the average Billboard reader will bring music to your ears.

His median income is $42,000; his median age is a young 34; 66% own their own homes; 31% own luxury cars, that's 400% more than non-Billboard readers; he makes seven air trips a year for three times the national average; and he entertains more in one month than most people do in a year.* Plus, he's a loyal reader: 78.5% of Billboard's circulation is via paid subscriptions with a 71.4% renewal record.

The individual who reads Billboard not only buys, he influences the purchase of many others.

That adds up to a lot of influence in light of the fact that there are over 150,000 domestic and international Billboard readers.*

A #1 magazine means a #1 audience. And Billboard is the most direct route to the affluent professionals that are today's music industry. Billboard means music. Billboard means business.

RESTAURANTS

Here at last are the results of Billboard's First Annual Culinary Quest—a poll of talent industry figures throughout the world in search of favored industry dining spots. Before you dig in, a few words of explanation are in order.

Within each category, all restaurants are ranked alphabetically, not in order of preference. Also, you may notice four star award winners listed right alongside casual hangouts, or prime rib together with the finger-lickin' variety. Good food was the primary prerequisite, and the phone numbers, recommending you check first to see if levis or ties are de rigeur, what the hours are, and if you should bring along all of your travellers checks or just an evening's expense account allotment.

We would greatly appreciate your help in refining the list for next year. See the coupon on following pages for your opportunity to participate in the Second Annual Culinary Quest and let us benefit from your vast experience out there in the field.

ITD Culinary Quest

Was your favorite restaurant such a closely guarded secret that our culinary scouts missed it? Admittedly, the poll in this first edition of the International Talent Directory ignores many great dining spots favored by people in the talent business. We intend to expand the number of cities next year.

Please help us by suggesting some of your favorite eateries on this coupon and sending it to:

ITD Culinary Quest

Was your favorite restaurant such a closely guarded secret that our culinary scouts missed it? Admittedly, the poll in this first edition of the International Talent Directory ignores many great dining spots favored by people in the talent business. We intend to expand the number of cities next year.

Please help us by suggesting some of your favorite eateries on this coupon and sending it to:
