VCI Invades Prerecorded Video Software Home Mart

By JIM McCULLAUGH

LOS ANGELES—Warner Communications, Inc., will be setting up a separate division called WCI Home Video to market prerecorded video software in the consumer home market.

The division, with headquarters in New York, will have access to Warner Communications' record, motion picture, television and other divisions for its programming.

In addition, the home video division will develop original programming material, according to Harvey Schein, executive vice president of Warner Communications.

Port Fink, previously senior vice president of Sony, is joining WCI as the president of the new division. Schein also has an executive background with Sony and was instrumental in the development and marketing of the Sony Max videocassette home system in the U.S.

"We intend to make a strong presence in this market," states Schein. "We will be drawing WCI's extensive film, television, cable tv, book publishing and record resources for programming."

Schein stresses that the new division is primarily aimed at software manufacturer and distributor—not hardware. By software, this indicates WCI will manufacture and distribute videocassette programming and is eyeing the videodisk.

Rock History Made With 1st Digital LP

By ED HARRISON

"For the first time we were hearing back exactly what we played. Instead of noise, we heard each sound perfectly"—Ry Cooder.

LOS ANGELES—Guitarist Ry Cooder makes pop music history this week with the release of his Warner Bros. "Bop Till You Drop" LP, the first major label rock album recorded on 3M's digital mastering machine.

The difference between digital recording and conventional analog machines, believes Cooder, is like night and day, with Cooder convinced that "any musician interested in sound has to react to digital."

Explains Cooder about the digital process: "With digital there is no distortion. Sounds aren't stepping on each other and there's no possibility of harmonic distortion."

"It's fantastic for musicians. If you've gotten the right sound you know immediately. With

CBS, PRC & UNITED/PRECISION Plant Costs Igniting Manufacturers Boost

By JOHN SIPPEN

LOS ANGELES—Soaring operational costs have CBS custom manufacturing facilities, PRC, a major independent manufacturer with cross-country plants, and United/Precision, Nashville, effecting price increases before July 15.

In the absence of Cal Roberts, CBS manufacturing marketing topper, a CBS spokesman confirms that both 12-inch disco single and 12-inch LP prices increase 3 cents, 8-track and cassette, 4 cents and 45 singles, 1 cent.

Hugh Landy of PRC confirms that the firm elevates LP prices 4 cents, both tape configurations 3 cents and singles 1 cent.

PRC is explaining to its clients the urgency of the raise by pointing out, Landy says, 23% increases in its cost of both PVC and polystyrene, which went up 7 and 10 cents, respectively.

Other percentage of price boosts, enumerated by PRC, include: stabilizers, 15%; labels,

Paraplegic Racks Up Success In Retailing

LOS ANGELES—If Budget Tapes & Records store owner Bob Liston attains his projected fourth year goal of $350,000 gross volume for his 900 square foot location, it will be another important feather in his cap.

Recently the 24-year-old was selected as "Small Business Person Of The Year" by the state of Montana. Along with 49 other state representatives, the six-foot, one-inch paraplegic met President Jimmy Carter in the Rose Garden of the White House.

Most important to Liston, however, is the success pattern he is creating for other handicapped persons like himself in record/tape/accessories retailing in his Helena, Mont., store.

Liston sincerely hopes his experience will benefit others. He found his path strewn with boulders when after a 1971 car accident, he was left totally crippled from the rib cage down.

CBS Execs Explore China As Potential Disk Market

By ADAM WHITE

NEW YORK—The dream of doing business with the world's most populous nation has tantalized many in the American record industry for years. And now, with normalization of political relations between the People's Republic of China and the U.S., it's moved from nighttime fantasy to the daytime drawing board.

How to open up the market? How many consumers to reach? What percentage own phonographs, tape players? Will only classical music penetrate significantly? What prospects for pop?

The questions are easy to ask, the answers more difficult to obtain. But the realities of trading with China will require more patience, together

AFM Delegates Ding 2 Proposals By President

PHOENIX—The 1,200 delegates of the American Federation of Musicians who assembled at the Civic Plaza Monday through Thursday (25-28) for the body's 82nd annual convention voted down two of president Victor W. Fuentelba's key proposals, but nonetheless reelected him for another one-year term.

Fuentelba opened the convention on a grim note, advising delegates that the union's deficit this year would be in excess of $400,000, about double the deficit at the time of last year's convention. He added that corrective action was vital to prevent bankruptcy of the 300,000-member union.

The convention's most hotly-contested proposal was Fuentelba's plan whereby those members working under contracts negotiated exclusively by the international union would pay 1% work dues. It was defeated by a roll call vote of 217,906 to 91,976, but may be revived at next year's meeting after a feasibility study.

The dues would have been levied on all AFM members who work in the recording, film and broadcast industries. Its purpose was to maintain a network of national contract offices with computerized facilities. It was strenuously opposed by L.A. AFM Local 47, the union's second largest, which already maintains such an office.

The delegates also turned down an executive board proposal favored by Fuentelba which would have given booking agencies the option of taking musicians to court in commission disputes instead of going through standard arbitration proceedings.

A resolution that affiliation with the AFL-CIO be severed was withdrawn. Its proponents stipulated that the resolution be reintroduced in 1980 if no reduction in AFL-CIO per capita dues (currently $400,000 for the union) can be obtained.

In other moves the delegates:

- Approved an increase in annual per-capita dues from $10 to $12 and a switch to a biennial convention system in odd-numbered years beginning in 1981. The latter move will save an estimated $250,000 annually.
- Approved a resolution permitting admission of vocalists as members in addition to instrumentalists, to give the organization a new source of revenue.

- Instituted a new membership recruitment program aimed at the 14-to-21-year-old crowd.

- Created an international office in Toronto to be headed full-time by Canadian vice president J. Alan Wood. To fund the new office, in Canada only each member shall pay international work dues of 1% of scale compensation.

- Defeated a proposal to exempt locals from payment of per capita tax for members 65 and older.

- Approved a resolution to disperse with the locations committee and create a public relations committee.

- Reelected all incumbents to the nine-member International Executive. (Continued on page 72)

Columbia Film Publications Has Almo Deal

By ED HARRISON

LOS ANGELES—Columbia Pictures Publications has assumed the sales, distribution and warehousing of current and future product of Almo Publications, the print division of Almo Music Corp. and Irving Music Corp. effective Sunday (1).

As a result, A&M is reported to receive a sizable amount of upfront cash from Columbia, although in return the label will relinquish Almo's existing receivables.

In addition to immediate cash on hand, it also eliminates the salaries of Almo's four salesmen and is seen as another move in A&M's attempt to curb costs and improve its cash flow.

A skeletal Almo staff will remain on the A&M lot for changeover purposes and the coordination of future product. Frank Unruh, director of Almo Publications remains.

Almo's gross sales for the fiscal year ending June 30 are reported to be about $3 million. This was accomplished despite a stable first quarter, no new artist acquisitions and the resignation of Joe Carlton, the former director of the company, who departed four months ago.

Among Almo's best selling artists, exclusive of folios and sheet music are Donna Summer, Peaches and Herb, Kiss, Blondie, Supertramp and Styx with the bulk sales resulting from outside licensing agreements. (Continued on page 9)

CBS Cuts 53; Portrait Label Absorbed

By ROMAN KOZAK

NEW YORK—The ax has finally fallen at CBS but the cuts have not been as deep nor as drastic as had been feared.

Bruce Lundvall, president of the CBS Records Division, says that 53 employees in the New York, Los Angeles and Nashville offices are being let go, while, in a parallel "economy move," the a&r and marketing functions of the West Coast-based Portrait label are being merged into the larger Epic Records.

"This has been a bad year in the record business, in a difficult economy, and it was a helluva thing to have to let anybody go," says Lundvall. "It took two days of everybody's time, and I participated in the final decision. I did not just give an order to fire so many people."

"We are now seeking to place as many of those as we can within the corporation, giving them first shot at jobs as they open up, and transferring who we can to CBS International. Don't forget, too, there are 2,700 persons working for CBS Records, not including the factories, so the cuts have been as minimal as we could make them," continues Lundvall.

Lundvall says there are no cuts at the branches and none of the senior executives are being fired. He says Don Ellis, vice president of a&r on the West Coast, who is leaving to join Motown, is going of his own volition. He was not on the list of 53.

Most of the actual 53 job terminations are reported to be middle (Continued on page 6)

RIAA Delay In Certifying Sales To Aid Accuracy

LOS ANGELES—To assure Recording Industry Assn. of America certified gold and platinum awards more realistically reflect early net sales, the board of directors of the manufacturers association Tuesday (26) adopted a new post-release qualification delay of 120 days.

Proliferating instances of subsequent returns netting sales below minimum levels required for certification concerned industryites (Billboard, June 30, 1978).

"The awards will now merit even more credibility and prestige than before," RIAA president Stan Gortikov points out.

Under the new procedure, on recordings released after July 1, 1979, sales audits may be requested and certifications issued only after an album or single has been released for at least four months. A recording which was released on June 30, 1979, or earlier, may apply for audit and certification at any time.

Criteria for gold and platinum awards remain unchanged. Singles continue to require audited sales of at least one million units to qualify for gold and two million for platinum. Albums necessitate sales of 500,000 units to qualify gold and one million for platinum.

CBS Persistent With Licensing Challenge

By DOUG HALL

NEW YORK—In a move to head off an ASCAP-BMI argument that CBS has lost its right to attack the blanket music license concept on broad terms, the television network has filed a brief with the U.S. Court of Appeals here maintaining that it has preserved that right.

The 38-page brief contends in part that "fully 90% of our prior briefs and most of the oral argument dealt directly with rule-of-reason questions" and "terms legally synonymous with 'unreasonable restraint of trade' were used to describe the very claim that defendants say was never mentioned."

CBS filed this brief in answer to motions for summary affirmance filed by ASCAP and BMI, which both contend that CBS in its previous presentation to the appeals court did not reserve the right to argue (Continued on page 18)

Music Plus Web Kicks Around Retail Sales Promotion

By JOHN SIPPPEL

LOS ANGELES—To further consolidate its position with the 18-34 age group marketplace in Southern California, the 18-store Music Plus chain here has tied its star to the L.A. Aztecs professional soccer team.

Approximately a year ago, controller Bob Benton was commissioned by the chain's four principals to work out a cross-marketing promotion with the local North American Soccer League entry.

That building relationship reached fruition Saturday (30) when Leif Garrett was the guest star at the Aztec soccer game at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena. In addition, Music Plus arranged with Maxell for 5,000 T-shirts to be given away the same night.

The association with a professional sports team season-long is believed to be a first in record/tape/accessories retailing history.

Dave Marker, Terry Pringle, Dave Berkowitz and Lou Fogelman a year ago were plotting a course which included a possible relationship with an endeavor in which the 18-to-34 year-olds were involved. Soccer was the choice.

Benton contacted Larry Friend, president, and Ted Podleski, general manager, of the local soccer team. A continuing campaign ensued.

The 18 stores carry tickets and a seating chart. Unlike professional ticket sellers, there is no service charge for buying a ticket at a Music Plus store. In the past, the stores have prepared displays on the soccer team. Currently, they are merchandising the Garrett appearance.

At their own expense, Music Plus runs free buses from the Hermosa Beach, San Gabriel and Sherman Oaks stores to each game for those who buy ducats at the stores. References to the games are carried on radio spots and in the stores' print ads.

How does the soccer alliance help the stores?

All out-of-town Aztec games are carried locally on KTTV. Consistently through the shows, Music Plus is touted as a ticket center. There is a large Music Plus logo on the Rose Bowl wall, often seen as the camera covers the field action.

Announcer Chick Hearn makes frequent references to the chain. On one occasion he interviewed Benton at half-time of an out-of-town game. All print, radio and tv advertising of Aztecs games carries the tag for the stores as ticket centers.

Heads Roll As Disco Sound Dominates N.Y.

WNBC And WXLO Can Top Execs

By DOUG HALL

NEW YORK—As disco continues to dominate New York radio, heads are beginning to roll at the rock stations suffering from the switch in audience allegiance.

The first to get the ax was WNBC-AM general manager Charlie Warner. His management didn't even wait for the April/May Arbitron book. Little good it does Warner now, but WNBC's share moved up slightly from a 2.6 to a 2.7.

RKO did wait for the book and fired WXLO-FM (99-X) program director Bobby Rich despite a share gain from 2.2 to 2.5.

Rich commented: "It simply represents another situation of where two parties agreed to disagree. 99-X is now free to pursue whatever program adjustments it wants." Rich believes the station will change its call letters back to WOR-FM, the call it was known by when it introduced rock to the FM dial nearly 20 years ago.

Rich, who came to the New York market in February 1979 from KFMB-FM San Diego, comments, "It was a dumb time to come in with the disco thing happening." Shortly after Rich arrived, WXLO had a 3.4 share, but it went steadily down until this most recent Arbitron.

Rich says he has some specific goals, but no specific plans.

Meanwhile at WABC-AM, which fell to fourth place in the latest Arbitron with a 5.9 share, ABC Radio vice president of programming Rick Sklar has taken over his old duties as program director of the station.

Program director Glenn Morgan is still there and still has the p.d. title, but Sklar explains, "Any music you hear, the choice of talent, what they say, the presentation of news, the commercial load—I'm handling it all."

Sklar says Morgan has been restricted to "follow-through, detail work. If I need 50 carts moved—it's easier than bringing someone new in."

Recalling that he "originally designed the format" for WABC, Sklar says, "They screwed up. They played too much disco. It appeared to any outsider that the station had become a disco station."

Sklar is sure that "WABC will come back and surprise a lot of people despite the growth of FM. We'll have a good summer book. It will be up a couple of share points."

WMJX Sale Nixed

WASHINGTON—The Federal Communications Commission has denied Charter Communications permission to sell WMJX-FM in Miami to WAV Broadcasting, a minority-controlled Florida firm, for $1 million under the Commission's "distress sale" policy. Established last year, the "distress sale" policy allows broadcasters in danger of losing their licenses the opportunity to sell at a loss to minority buyers rather than risk license renewal hearings.

EASTERN FUEL CRUNCH

Retailers Fuming Over Sales Slump

By ROMAN KOZAK

NEW YORK—Though fresh oil supplies are promised for the East as the new month rolls in, gas shortages still are plaguing the area and cutting into the music industry.

"The gas crisis isn't hurting our deliveries, but it's not helping sales any. People are sitting in cars waiting for gas instead of going to record stores," says Bruce Lundvall, president of the CBS Records Division.

"June is starting to catch us," adds Al Giegle, chief of Montgomery Ward's record and tape operation, which merchandises records in 300 stores around the country. "At 99.9 cents per gallon, kids are just not getting the gas they are used to getting. We're hurting in the Baltimore-Washington area, usually one of our better markets."

Ironically, the gas crisis may be actually helping sales in the major cities that are served by public transportation.

"Our city stores are beating last year's figures. There is no question about it. Malls with one-stop shopping will attract more customers, while free-standing stores will be adversely affected. But parents may well be telling their vacationing children to 'pick this up for me' when they decide to go into the city," says Dave Rothfeld, head of the record department of Korvettes.

Concert ticket sales, too, are affected by the gas shortage, with the suburbs hurting more than the cities.

"Ticket sales in the city are great. People are staying in the city and they are going to the shows," says Anne Zimmerman, a spokesperson for the Newport Jazz Festival, currently running in New York.

However, she admits that a two-day jazz piano concert in Waterloo Village in New Jersey was a disappointment, with most of the blame laid to the gas shortage.

"It is still early to tell, but there is a great deal of concern already about the fuel situation this summer," says Jane Geraghty, an agent with Premier Talent, which has Yes, Peter Frampton, Journey, Van Halen and Poco on the road.

"The hot tickets are still going to sell, but it will be the marginal acts that will have problems. The major acts will also be able to arrange with promoters to have fuel available for their trucks, but the smaller acts will again suffer," she says.

15 Defendants Added To Cheap Trick Suit

By ALAN PENCHANSKY

CHICAGO—Names of 15 defendants have been added to the Federal District Court lawsuit brought last month by attorneys for the group Cheap Trick.

The suit takes aim at vending of unlicensed souvenirs at concerts such as T-shirts and posters charging copyright and trademark infringement.

The suit now identifies defendants Tee-Shirt World, Pedro Ale Cibarcicus, Brian Emalfarb, Josh Karmel, Ed Godlewski, Rudy Stein, Bobby Kurson, Bennett Byk, Marshall Ross, Duane A. Coda, Dave Olshan, Fred R. Thierry, Gene Vock, Grand Illusion and Larry Rize.

Attorneys, naming "John Doe" defendants in the original filing, leveled a shotgun blast against pirates here. Names gathered at recent Cheap Trick concerts were entered last week in the amended filing.

Attorney Elliott Kaleheim says identification of pirates poses great difficulty in combatting rip-offs, and that a "John Doe" filing has not before been used in the battle.

Kaleheim says eight of the defendants have consented to a preliminary injunction.

GIFT PROMO GETS REVIEW

LOS ANGELES—An industry-wide program to promote records and tapes as year-round gift is taking shape nationally.

After review by the National Assn. of Recording Merchandisers board of directors and the manufacturers advisory committee recently, executive vice president Joe Cohen has been conferring with executives of member organizations regarding active participation in the concept for two weeks.

Cohen, when contacted, was elated over prospects for the program. Presently, he is canvassing firms with creative service departments, seeking presentations upon which such a universal program could be based.

Retailer 1st Indicted In N.Y. Under Piracy Law

By DICK NUSSER

NEW YORK—A Harlem retailer became the first man to be indicted under this state's tough new antipiracy statute, which makes it a felony to manufacture unauthorized recordings.

A Manhattan grand jury handed down a 22-count indictment Wednesday (27) against Paul Winley of 20 W. 125 St. charging him with the manufacture and sale of LPs containing performances by Mahalia Jackson and the Rev. James Cleveland. Complainants are CBS Records, Nashboro Records and Savoy Records, owners of the masters.

Winley, 43, was arrested April 2 by an undercover agent from the district attorney's office here who testified that Winley offered to sell him 2,000 copies of each LP for $6,000.

Winley had previously been linked to a civil action involving a record that included performances by guitarist George Benson that was being sold under the title "The Erotic Moods Of George Benson."

The current action involves LPs being sold under the names "World's Greatest Gospel Singer" and "Gospel Queens." Winley was selling the disks under his own imprint, Paul Winley Records, according to the indictment.

The state legislature approved a revision of the old antipiracy law last year which became effective in September. It upgrades the manufacture of unauthorized recording from a misdemeanor to a felony punishable by from one to three years in prison and fines up to $5,000 on each count.

The sale of pirated material is still listed as a misdemeanor, but the entire statute has been shifted from the code of general business law to the penal code, making prosecution easier.

Copyright Hassles Key NMPA Meet

By IRV LICHMAN

NEW YORK—The continuing struggle against copyright infringers, impending Copyright Tribunal hearings on the mechanical royalty rate, establishing a time limit on returns and a new "Day With Music Publishing" education program highlighted the 63rd annual meeting of the National Music Publishers Assn. here last week.

The one-day event also produced the third in a spring series of Copyright Workshops, already conducted in Nashville and Los Angeles.

More than 200 music publishers and their representatives attended the meeting, which involved participation by NMPA's arm, the Harry Fox Agency.

NMPA, according to president Leonard Feist, now totals 194 members, representing some 1,500 music publishing entities.

The Fox Agency is now preparing to deal with pirating of videocassettes in the same aggressive manner it has dealt with audio infringement, stated Al Berman, president of the Fox Agency.

Berman, in his 30th year with the agency, noted that videotape pirating clearly shows "that there's a buck to be made in doing it the wrong way."

"The agency's position," he maintained, "will be the same as with disk bootleggers, including taking legal action against stores who deal in pirated videocassettes."

With regard to the licensing of radio syndicators, Berman said the major syndicators were still "resisting" Fox appeals. He also noted resistance by some music publishers who were concerned that pressure on syndicators could affect exposure of their music.

While he said the agency would "lay-off" if advised to do so by a music publisher, he added, "It's not the first time we've had resistance in the holy name of promotion." So far, the agency has come to terms with one syndicator, RKO.

Al Shulman, special counsel to the agency, covered infringements in the graphic area, claiming that such practices as illegal "fake books" had been "considerably curtailed." Yet, he added, a number of investigations involving the FBI, are underway in Los Angeles and Las Vegas.

With regard to unauthorized duplicating by school systems, Shulman stated that courts have established the precedence of the Copyright Act over the 11th Amendment, which does not allow one to sue a state in Federal Court. In Mills versus Arizona, the court held that the 11th Amendment does not permit states to nullify rights reserved and protected by Congress acting pursuant to the copyright and patent clause.

Shulman also noted that music publishers had been successful in establishing royalty payment priority from firms entering Chapter 11. Two firms, CTI Records and Springboard International, are now paying such royalties, he said.

The question of returns was discussed by Peter Felcher, general counsel to the association. The Copyright Office's interim regulation regards recordings as having been "permanently distributed" within one year of their release.

However, NMPA is seeking a six month limit, with total allowable "reserve" factor of 10% for albums and tapes and 25% for singles. The position of the Recording Industry Assn. of America is a three year limit on albums and tapes and a two year limit on singles.

"We seem to accept the present regulation more readily than record companies," Felcher claimed.

Berman said the new mechanical royalty rate of 2 3/4 cents established by the new Copyright Act, which took effect Jan. 1, 1978, had showed a "fairly smooth transition, although some recalcitrants require the course of convincing them that the proper and legal rate should apply."

AGAC Shapes Up Its L.A. Speakers

MATTHEWS & HORMEL OPERATION

L.A. Village Recorder $$ Zoom

35% Gain Posted, But Management Fears Slowdown

LOS ANGELES—Sales at the Village Recorder, West Los Angeles superstudio, are up 35% due to its Studio D operation, its state-of-the-art room.

Ed Matthews, the facility's vice president, in making that pronouncement notes that although the company is pleased with this gain over the past 15%-20% increase of the past several years, "We're budgeting a modest gain this year. Say about 25% because I sense a more cautious attitude among record companies and artists when they book studio time."

Both Matthews and Geordie Hormel, owner and president of the studio, agree there are certainties in the studio business this year and next.

"You can expect an increase in studio rates," Matthews says, "tighter control of creative sessions by record companies and a shakeup of studios unable to compete with rooms already technologically outfitted."

Matthews feels that studios, to survive during inflationary times, will have to make better utilization of their facilities and in-house personnel.

Notes Matthews anent the escalating costs of buying state-of-the-art equipment: "Four years ago we purchased a console for about $60,000. Today, it costs more than $200,000 for a fully-equipped, latest craze, technically improved board. You can't get away from that. We want the latest equipment and the artists demand it."

So the small studio faces a dilemma, the executive points out. "How do they finance state-of-the-art equipment? How do they give musicians what they want? How do they keep abreast of the newest innovations?"

Inflationary pressures, Matthews believes, this year and next, will "likely catch up and shake out the studio business. You can expect many marginal rooms to go out of business and others to curtail their expansion plans. Only a handful of the superstudios will prosper."

The Village's own superstudio, the $1.5 million Studio D, has been used for more than six months by Fleetwood Mac in preparing its forthcoming double LP for Warner Bros., using new digital editing equipment along the way.

Because of escalating costs, the Village has to scamper for non-music business in the off hours when musicians eschew creativity. Notes Matthews: "Inflation and higher costs for equipment demand that we actively chase this kind of business."

Most Major Labels Mum On Own Wholesale Hikes

By DICK NUSSER

NEW YORK—Most of the major label manufacturers issued terse "no comments" last week (29) in response to whether they would follow WEA's decision to raise wholesale album prices and its retail list price on singles.

Independently distributed labels were more outspoken, however, with many executives of smaller labels reacting to the WEA hikes with an air of resignation, and at least one indie label marketing man believes the WEA hike may actually give him an edge in the market place.

Manufacturers with their own branch operations remained mum for a variety of reasons, not the least of which is a fear that any comment pro or con could be misconstrued as "price signaling," a practice frowned on by antitrust and fair trade authorities.

"You just can't answer a question about raising your prices," says a spokesman for one major label who asked not to be quoted by name. "That's the attitude here."

Capitol, RCA, Polygram and CBS all choose to remain mum. Officials at MCA were not available for comment.

AFTRA Parley

NASHVILLE—The 42nd annual convention of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists is scheduled to be held in Nashville Thursday (12) through Sunday (15).

Headquartered at the Opryland Hotel, the convention is expected to draw approximately 300 delegates and staff representing each of the union's more than 40 locals and chapters throughout the country.

A&M Turns To Regional Meets

LOS ANGELES—A&M has cancelled its annual national convention, originally slated for July 11-15 in Los Angeles.

The event was replaced with a series of regional meetings. Attending those meetings held during the past 1 1/2 weeks were label president Gil Friesen, Bob Reitman, vice president of advertising and merchandising, David Kirshenbaum, vice president of promotion, who echoes other opinions as he declares that the day may come when they'll be forced to raise prices if more labels join the WEA bandwagon.

Assistance in preparing this story provided by Cary Darling, Paul Grein, Jim McCullough, Irv Lichtman and Roman Kozak.

"We're just going to sit back and see how the industry goes," he adds.

"We're checking the pricing situation carefully," says Sal Licata, vice president of sales at Chrysalis, in response to questions about a possible $8.98 retail tag on forthcoming product from Blondie and Jethro Tull. The label presently adheres to $7.98 retail price.

Like others, he worries about rising production costs making wholesale price hikes inevitable.

"We've just been notified by Columbia Record Productions that effective July 1 LP prices will be 3 cents higher, cassettes 4 cents higher, cartridges 4 cents higher and singles 1 1/2 cents higher," he notes.

"My initial reaction is God bless 'em," says Paul Culberg, vice president of marketing for Cream Records. "The economy is the problem right now. This hike will put a further dent in sales. Catalog will die. It gives me the edge right now."

While Culberg says Cream has no plans to raise its prices, he adds that if CBS and the other majors follow WEA's lead he thinks Cream would be forced to go along if only to avoid a "cumbersome" two-tiered price structure at the wholesale level.

president a&r; Harold Childs, vice president of national promotion; Ernie Campagna, vice president sales; and Al Moinet, vice president promotion.

Meetings were held in La Costa, Calif., Friday (22); Dallas, Saturday (23); Charleston, S.C., Sunday (24); New York, Tuesday (26); Minneapolis, Wednesday (27); and Los Angeles, Friday (29).

Crystal Cuts 1st Disco Direct Disk

By JEAN WILLIAMS

LOS ANGELES—Crystal Clear Records is moving into direct-to-disk disco with a $9.95 product.

The label is cutting a 12-inch disco disk by the 4 Tops, with the Crusaders handling the rhythm section, Charles Veal taking care of the strings, Gil Askey arranging and Tom DePiero producing.

"My concept for this project is to put direct-to-disk on one side and maybe three conventional cuts on the back," says Mark Schneiderman, national sales manager for the direct disk specialty line.

He notes that cuts could be pulled from the conventionally recorded side to be released as 7-inch singles, however, the direct-to-disk side will only be available in the limited quantity afforded to direct-to-disk recordings, a maximum of 200,000 copies, the executive says.

Paraplegic Rolls Up Retail Success

 wasn't fulfillment," he says. "I finally tried to open a retail record store. The only place where my handicap wasn't a big impediment was Danjay Music in Denver. In all my letters to banks and government agencies for assistance in getting started, I candidly informed them of my handicap. I could feel apprehension about my being crippled. They even came out and cautioned me about realizing I was handicapped in some instances. I really got to know about bureaucratic red tape," Liston remembers.

"Phil and Evan Lasky treated me just like another possible Budget Tape & Records franchisee. I thought I wrote a good proposal. I included a complete study of Helena and its potential for a record store. There was only one other store in town at the time.

"Most banks I went to provided one interview and that was it. Dan Johnson of the First National Bank of Helena was not only sympathetic. With his aid, I got not only the bank loan, but help from the Small Business Administration in Washington," Liston says.

"In looking back, I'd have to say my strong will to open the store was my strongest factor," Liston states. "State rehabilitation director Jim McDonald helped by getting me some state aid, too. It all came together at once.

"Then the Laskys arranged for me to work several weeks at the closest Budget location in Billings. I went through every possible basic procedure there."

Liston credits much of his early progress to his partner, Tim Rector, who since has left. The two worked in a garage for weeks constructing record bins and tape fixtures for the store. Liston sawed, stained and hammered for weeks.

With the aid of a number of good friends and their pickups, the fixtures were moved into the original 700 square foot Last Chance Mall June 25, 1976, the day the store opened.

The location was disastrous. Helena record buyers didn't walk to the mall. They drove to the store. Six months later, the landlord graciously agreed to a lease buyout. The Budget store moved to a free-standing location nearby a stereo store.

Again, good friends and pickups helped move the approximately 5,000 albums, accessories and paraphernalia over a Sunday late in 1977. The following Tuesday the Budget store was operating efficiently, Liston feels.

Liston had learned that aisles to accommodate his wheelchair must be 36 inches wide. The space between the counter and the wall must be more than 40 inches so he can turn the chair around in this strategic area.

By sitting on the side of his wheelchair, Liston can reach the highest of the wall racks. He cannot unpack or pack record and tape cartons, so he believes an able-bodied person should be a regular store employee.

By the time Tim Rector left about April 1978, Liston figured he needed a third person. John Kaney was hired immediately and Martha Nickel joined the Budget store in September. The store operated about nine hours six days per week and four hours on Sunday afternoons. Liston spends about eight hours six days per week in the store.

Bob Liston: Building a successful retail operation.

He finds records and tapes a great profession for the handicapped. "It's great for me. I can learn much by just listening to the product and reading backliners of albums. Good retailing means you communicate that to your customer in a pleasant, friendly manner," Liston reports. "I enjoy being with people. This type of work takes the physically handicapped right into the midst of things. We have people who come in, get acquainted and come back repeatedly before they buy their first product. I like this small business.

"I've been disappointed with the growing big business pressure I've been getting," Liston states. "Things like companies raising their prices without sounding us out. I don't like it."

Liston is eyeing a second Budget location. It doesn't have to be in Helena. He does enjoy the Helena market. He's found people like Dennis Rooney, Mike Edinger and Bill Fine of KCAP-AM/FM, who write and produce his radio spots. The store is a weekly advertiser via a 30-second spot on "Saturday Night Live." Liston is considering trying a concert promotion. He and Kaney and Nickel may remodel the store before 1980.

"I feel like I've been in the business all my life. To be successful, anyone has to have a strong will and real ingenuity. I wish more companies would send me merchandising material.

"The little I get comes from Danjay Music and Warner Bros. also has us on its list. We like creating displays. I've never seen a label representative, but maybe someday they'll visit us," Liston concludes wistfully. JOHN SIPPEL

3 Plants Hike Record, Tape Price

 7%; corrugated paper, 7.5%; sleeves, 18%; nickel, 54%; oil, 12%; utilities, 50% and labor, 10%. Landy observes the increases do not fully cover his overall overhead boosts.

CBS and PRC increases are effective Monday (2).

Joe Talbot of United, which makes singles in Nashville, says the 45 price increases 1/2 cent, while Precision, the 12-inch plant there, goes up 1 cent July 15. Talbot is the only one who laid out a new pricing base, explaining that general full-service commercial single pressings would be 16 cents while LPs and 12-inch disco disks would be $.455 after the increase.

Electrosound, another major independent with facilities across the U.S., will probably raise its 12-inch price only in the third-quarter of the calendar year. Dick Birkett, president, forecasts. He points to continual cost escalations, especially in vinyl.

Sam Broadhead of Allied here says the firm, recently acquired by Warner Communications Inc., was "studying the situation."

Capitol, MCA and RCA would not comment when contacted.

Within the past 14 days, Lenahan and Keyser Century have advanced PVC bulk prices 2 1/2 cents while Tenneco has gone up 2 cents.

Keyser in Saugus here, for example, has instituted 2 cent raises in November 1978 and March, April and June of this year, bringing its bulk price in at about 50 cents.

Holographic Disk Debuts

 musicians. The effect is seen when light, preferably non-fluorescent, is shone on the grooves.

Both the single and album are non-commercial with all copies going to record industry personnel.

This defracted three-dimensional holographic pattern, as opposed to a more complex three-dimensional one which is created by image holography, is stamped into the plastic lacquer before the sound is laid onto the record. From there the record is manufactured as any other recording.

"I've been thinking about this for many years," says Keate, a chemist by profession, "but it took the necessary funding to do the research and development and to go in and actually produce a record."

Approximately $20,000 was spent on the single though both Keate and Night claim the process, now that the initial patented technology has been pioneered, would not cost the record companies "much extra."

"There will be some additional cost because of the licensing fees but there is no extra cost in terms of production," states Keate.

The Lasergram single and album are merely tools by which Keate and Night hope to get a major label interested in their idea. "We're willing to work with them to develop other processes and patterns which would then be available," states Night.

If this process is marketed on retail product, Night denies that it would have the novelty value of the picture disks. "The picture disk obviously degrades the quality of the sound while this process does not and the other reason is the inexpensiveness of the whole thing," says Keate.

In addition to records, holograms can be pressed into point-of-purchase displays, books, magazines and any other item derived from a plastic base. However, to get maximum effect, the product containing the hologram should be viewed in a non-fluorescent lighted situation. Therefore, displays would have to have a separate lighting setup.

"There's even been some expression of interest to do a direct-to-disk recording with this process," says Night.

 directed by Ron McCarrell, vice president of marketing, for Epic, Portrait, Associated Labels.

Portrait will maintain its artist roster which includes Heart, Joan Baez, Burton Cummings, Ringo Starr, Paul Williams, the McCrarys and Frannie Golde.

"With its small roster it was not economical for us to maintain a stand-alone label that duplicated the activities of the rest of the West Coast office," Lundvall says. But by consolidating the two, we can further strengthen our West Coast operation. This is something we have been looking at for a long time," says the executive.

'La Mancha' Composers Win Dispute

NEW YORK—A Justice of the Supreme Court of New York has denied a petition to vacate an arbitration award in an action involving the score for "Man Of La Mancha."

A three-member panel of the American Arbitration Assn. had rescinded the assignment of copyright of the score from Sam Fox Publishing Co. to the writers and their music publishing companies on Dec. 11, 1978 (Billboard, Dec. 23, 1978).

The decision was an outgrowth of an action started three years ago in which the claimants had charged Sam Fox with failure to account for royalties and exploit the score.

The award, modified last March, totaled more than $500,000 to writers Mitch Leigh, Joe Darion and their publishing companies, Andrew Scott Music and Helena Music.

Justice Frank J. Blangiardo denied on June 13 a petition by Sam Fox Publishing Co. to vacate the arbitrators' award, as amended in March.

Justice Blangiardo denied all counterclaims by Sam Fox and ordered that the award as modified is in full settlement of all claims and counterclaims submitted to the arbitrators.

The original contract between the authors of the score and Sam Fox was dated Oct. 1, 1965, and amended June 30, 1966.

We Polish Old Silver—Eastman McCartney Publishing Firm Acquires Strong Catalogs

By IRV LICHMAN

NEW YORK—"With the exception of new material by Paul McCartney, our plan is not to sign new writers, but to polish the old silver."

That's the music publishing philosophy of Lee Eastman, the lawyer who along with his son, John, oversees MPL Communications, the five-year-old organization of Paul and Linda McCartney (she's Eastman's daughter).

In addition to McCartney's publishing interests, MPL has acquired E.H. Morris Music, with a vast repertoire of standards; the Buddy Holly catalog, and such evergreen-filled catalogs as Cherio Music and Warock, among others.

The latest MPL deal is a 20% interest in the Mills Music Trust from Utilities & Industries, a one-time owner of the Mills Music firm, now under the corporate banner of Esquire Corp.

Earlier this year, Frank Music became part of MPL, although Eastman denies that the deal was based on the acquisition by CBS of U.S. rights to Paul McCartney & Wings. Frank had previously been part of CBS' April/Blackwood Music.

With so many copyrights under MPL's aegis, the firm manages to operate with a minimum of personnel, with no other U.S. office other than its New York base.

Two executives, Bob Jones and Peter Sylvestri, are charged with obtaining covers on MPL copyrights.

Despite what other large publishing units would consider a rather limited executive exploitation base, MPL has made a solid impact in pop and country charting in addition to its regular flow of McCartney hits.

The new Willie Nelson & Leon Russell album on CBS includes the hit, "One For the Road," the title of the LP, along with three other MPL tunes, while two oldies, "(Ghost) Riders In The Sky," "Make Love To Me" and "Oh, Baby Mine," are country hits by Johnny Cash, the Cates, and Bobby Rice, respectively. There's also charted MPL material by such acts as Van Halen, Village People, Blondie, Santana and Barry Manilow.

Eastman says that wide coverings of MPL material comes about by an awareness of upcoming recording dates, solicitation by mail and phone of artists and producers. He admits that MPL will also offer recording moneys assistance and/or exploitation aid.

"We send out a lot of paper each month and we'll direct their attention to specific songs that we feel are good for today's markets," Eastman says.

"For a large corporation," Eastman insists, "music publishing net is peanuts, but it's great for individuals as it represents high quality earnings and good return on the dollar."

His negotiating policy is to make a deal as quickly and as uncomplicated as possible.

He claims that MPL acquired the E.H. Morris catalog in 1½ hours, calling the company's lawyers into his office one morning two years ago. "We made the deal with a 1½-page contract, while another company seeking the catalog spent six months on the deal, all contained in a six-inch-thick contract."

Eastman says the Buddy Holly deal which cost $100,000 has proved an income bonanza. "Holly's widow was making $2,000 a year when we acquired the catalog four years ago, and it's now up to $200,000." The catalog contains 75 songs with Holly as an author.

Eastman says McCartney's great respect for Holly led directly to the purchase of the Holly catalog. "Two of Paul's favorite writers are Holly and Chuck Berry. Each year, Paul hosts a Buddy Holly week in London in September in honor of Holly's birthdate. This year he hopes to bring Willie Nelson and Waylon Jennings over for the celebration."

As for company titles, "We don't believe in titles, it's for stiff shirts," Eastman declares.

And as MPL rolls along, the acquisition plan continues. "We had one big deal going, but it got too complicated. But there's lots of money for other deals."

Re-Elect 18 As NMPA's Directors

NEW YORK—Eighteen incumbents have been re-elected directors of the National Music Publishers Assn.

Voting for directors, a two-year term, took place during the association's New York "Copyright Workshop '79 And Annual Report To The Industry" Tuesday (26) at the Plaza Hotel.

Results of an election for officers will be announced this week. They include president, three vice presidents, a treasurer and secretary.

The 18 re-elected as directors are: Joe Auslander, Al Brackman, Leon Brettler, Sal Chiantia, Mary Reeves Davis, Ernie Farmer, Robert Gordy, Sid Herman, Bill Lowery, Stanley Mills, Ralph Peer II, Irwin Robinson, Wesley Rose, Larry Shayne, Lester Sill, Ed Silvers, Mike Stewart and Sam Trust.

Ralph Peer, Wesley Rose and Mike Stewart are current vice presidents, Sid Herman is treasurer and Leon Brettler is secretary. Leonard Feist is president.

CBS Records In Deal With Stiff

NEW YORK—CBS Records has signed Stiff Records to a logo/production deal where product from the English new wave label will be released in the U.S. on the Stiff-Epic and Stiff-Columbia labels.

First single release from Stiff-Epic will be the international disco-rock hit, "Hit Me With Your Rhythm Stick," by Ian Dury and the Blockheads. The single is included free in Dury's LP, "Do It Yourself." Also released on Stiff-Epic is the "Stateless" LP by Lene Lovich.

The inaugural release on Stiff Columbia will be an LP by Rachel Sweet, a 16-year-old singer from Akron, titled "Fool Around."

Firm Speakers For AGAC ASKAPRO

NEW YORK—The American Guild of Authors & Composers' ASKAPRO Thursday rap session has its July lineup.

Under the guidance of Sheila Davis, director of special projects, the July schedule calls for: (5): Mark Bauman, professional manager of Intersong; (12): Al Altman, professional manager of Rocket Music with Stu Greenberg of United Artists Music; (19): Mark Sameth, professional manager and Don Levy, general manager of Sugar n' Soul Music; (26): Elaine Sorel, a career guidance consultant who will discuss, "Focusing Your Talents For Success."

ASKAPRO seminars are held noontime at AGAC's headquarters here at 40 W. 57th St., Room 410. They're open to all songwriters who make reservations in advance by calling (212) 757-8833.

Reissue Sylvester

LOS ANGELES — Sylvester's disco hits "Dance (Disco Heat)" and "You Make Me Feel (Mighty Real)" are being re-released by Fantasy on a two-sided, 33 r.p.m. 12-inch single listing for $3.98. The songs are from the artist's gold LP, "Step II," but are presented on the disk in their discorial edit and mix versions.

Rights To Carbert Music

NEW YORK—Carbert Music, owned by Freddy Bienstock, has assumed subpublishing rights for Bienstock's Carlin Music, based in the U.K.

The new agreement, effective Saturday (30), marks a cancellation of a subpublishing agreement with Hudson Bay Music, a U.S. firm with Bienstock partnered with Mike Stoller and Jerry Leiber for the past 10 years.

Carbert, as is Hudson Bay, is located at 1619 Broadway (the Brill Building). Its first 1979 project involves the acquisition of the Off-Broadway score for "Strider," a Russian play said to be the first play from this country "legally" released for production in the U.S.

Part of the Hudson Bay partnership includes three other publishing firms, Fort Knox Music, Times Square Music and Herald Square Music. Latter two firms stem from the trio's acquisition of New York Times Music several seasons ago.

ASCAP Sues For Performance Payments

NEW YORK—ASCAP has filed suit in Federal Court for the Northern District of New York against Delta D & I Corp., and Joseph M. Futia, principal of the company, charging that the defendants infringed the copyrights of 10 compositions by not paying fees on those songs when they were performed by Lawrence Welk at the Colonie Theatre May 11.

A previous suit in the same court was filed Jan. 8, 1979, charging copyright infringements during two other performances in 1978.

In a separate development, ASCAP's suit against DVM Inc. and Dahlco Music and Vending Co. in Minneapolis has been settled with the company agreeing to secure the necessary compulsory license for its jukeboxes and pay ASCAP royalties.

Pleas Theatre Songs Be Aired

NEW YORK—More than two dozen radio stations in the New York area are being urged to declare not only that "I Love You New York," but music from the Broadway stage as well.

In a letter to program directors from Sylvia Herscher, vice president of Macmillan Performing Arts, Inc., the music publishing wing of Macmillan Co., proposes a "use of theatre music on your station which I believe will prove beneficial not only to the station but to your listening public as well and to the overall purpose of radio."

Referring to the current "I Love New York" campaign, the letter cites that one of the most effective selling tools is "admitted to be the Broadway theatre . . . and musical theatre one of the gems of this resource."

The letter requests that each station devote one or two hours a day to the works of the musical theatre to correct a lack of such exposure over the years.

Digital: An Aural Deception?

By STEPHEN TEMMER

As one who was present both at the birth of tape recording and the death of the "Golden Age of Radio" (both in 1948), I feel both moved and, I believe, qualified to comment on long-term developments in the field of audio.

To this observer, the advent of tape recording provided the world of music with a facility of unparalleled flexibility. Overnight, recorded music was unshackled from the constraints of concert hall realism, from its role as a passive eavesdropper at a performance, and was transformed into an active participant in the complex interaction of the artist, the microphone and the producer/engineer for the benefit of the home listener, whose "active role" is as yet to be defined.

As always happens, this new found "advancement" was not gained without paying the price. As soon as the euphoria of ultimate quality on tape had subsided, we became painfully aware of the shortcomings of tape—the noise level, modulation noise, motion flutter, scrape flutter, print-through and all the other many handicaps which tape presented.

After much work to eliminate these problems (with little success), we retreated to noise reduction "band aid" measures to help suppress these symptoms, admitting that we could not cure the illness. Nevertheless, the ability to make many takes, to remix, to edit, etc. still outweighed the quality penalties we had to endure.

The use of noise reduction, at first considered totally inaudible, soon proved to be audible after all, producing undesirable coloration.

There was also an additional side effect resulting from noise reduction: periodic preventive maintenance of studio tape machines was relaxed, or even eliminated, on the assumption that the newly won expanded dynamic range would make it possible to cut some costs here.

And then it hit: the direct-to-disk protest, a veritable counter revolution. So great had the suffering become among music lovers, that they were willing to forego the proven advantages of musical maneuverability and to return to what Glenn Gould, the great Canadian pianist/recordist refers to as the old philosophy, in which the recording once again takes up its passive role.

We are once again at a crossroads of revolution. This digital one tries to convince us that the human ear, analogously to our eyes, may be fooled into perceiving a rapid sequence of a large number of still sounds as a continuous audio experience. Perhaps this time they are right—for the very first time!

'We are once again at a crossroads of revolution'

But this observer of the scene, after listening most carefully to every digital demonstration, and after successfully suppressing the natural tendency to revel in the newly expanded dynamic range, which is certainly impressive, has come to the sad conclusion that a heavy price is about to be paid once again for that expanded range.

It only proves that "if something sounds too good to be true, it usually is!"

I leave it to others to guess how long it will take this time for our ears to catch on to the deception game that's afoot. They have always done it before, and I do not think they will fail to do it this time. Perhaps in another three decades, or perhaps sooner, we will once again slip back to direct-to-disk's old philosophy to get away from sounds that offend our most sensitive and most educatable sensory organs—our ears.

It appears to me that it's high time we tried a path other than magnetic recording. It has thus far produced only blind alleys in the quest for quality.

Stephen Temmer is president of Gotham Audio Corp., with offices in New York and Hollywood.

The Elusive Disco Buyer

By JAMES ZEBORA

The Commentary by Ray Caviano on disco (June 2) and the industry's failure to fully exploit its potential was interesting but, I believe, somewhat off the mark.

Aside from the companies, distributors, and dealers, the disco fan must be given a portion of the blame for the current state of the market. For this, there are two reasons.

First, the typical disco customer has substantially less knowledge about his music than does the fan of almost any other category of recordings. Often he doesn't know the correct name of a given song. Even less frequently does he know the name of the artist. A perfect example is "Le Freak." Most customers asked for "Freak Out," and very few knew that it was by Chic (often pronounced "Chick").

'Caviano should spend some time in retailing'

Secondly, disco bands do not generate fan loyalty. A hit record will not inspire sales of other records in an artist's catalog, nor will it ensure that future product will get even a second glance. A steady string of chart successes is the only guarantee of continued sales. The "cult" following enjoyed by many rock artists is yet not a factor in the disco market.

Caviano bemoans the fact that posters, mobiles, and other merchandising aids are not available to the retailer in support of disco product. I can see a good reason for this. They would not do much to help sales. If the customer is not even aware of the name of an artist, point of purchase displays and in-store appearances would be a waste of space and time.

Another problem is the proliferation of disco product. It is not uncommon for a retail outlet to receive weekly 10, 20, or even more new disco albums, plus innumerable 7 and 12-inch singles from various artists, both known and unknown, an impossible number of records to audition properly. In addition, it would be undesirable, in a shop attempting to attract a diversified clientele, to grant them all in-store play and see which caught the customers' ears.

I wish Ray Caviano and others in his position would spend some time working in the retail end of the industry, so that they might see and appreciate these problems more directly (consider this an invitation to drop by anytime, Mr. Caviano).

The solution is simple: Give us strong product, and we will sell records!

With several "Saturday Night Fever" and "YMCA" albums

a year to pay the bills, I could lock the store at night and attend a Ramones concert with an untroubled mind... and forget what a "fossilized monument to the '60s and early '70s" I have become.

James Zebora is assistant manager of Music World Inc., a retail outlet in Meriden, Conn.

Barring Disk Coding

By BEN KAROL

We have been hearing a great deal of talk over the past two years about bar coding. Many leaders in the record industry believe it could be a valuable tool. I do not agree.

Most industries sell the same standard items on a regular, repeating pattern, and when differences appear in that pattern, projections can be made and used as a future guide. But, if we apply this concept to records and tapes, it will give us no clue whatsoever as to the future selling possibilities of our product.

The reasons are obvious if we track best-selling chart items. Records come and go, and in no way do they have a regular pattern of either growth or predictability.

The only way a dealer has of knowing how to maintain inventory is to live with it on a daily basis, and to have frequent conferences with the people in his organization who do.

In order to make use of bar coding, a large initial investment in a highly complex system is required. After that large investment there are maintenance costs that go on forever. All these additional expenses must be reflected in higher business costs that are passed on to the consumer.

I realize that costs of the system are supposed to be defrayed by greater efficiency. However, my educated guess is that the system will not work, and that the costs will increase selling prices which, in the long run, will result in less business.

If bar coding is to work at all, which I doubt, it might be of some help to large rack operators that restrict their sales and inventory to a limited number of items. But operations that might benefit from bar coding represent a minority of dealers and sales. They should not be a determining factor in any decision as to whether we adopt bar coding.

Georgia WFDR-FM Clicks With Variety

By JEAN WILLIAMS

LOS ANGELES—WFDR-FM, a 100,000-watt station in Manchester, Ga., is competing with the larger markets by playing a wide variety of music.

So says Frank Barrow, the station's program/music director.

According to Barrow, "We cover 50% of Georgia and 30% of Alabama and with such power we're in a position to compete with the major nearby markets such as Atlanta and Macon for listeners. In addition, we play r&b, jazz, gospel, disco and blues."

Although WFDR is located in a town "with less than 10,000 people, we have regular listeners as far away as 70 miles."

Barrow, who joined WFDR-FM about a month ago following four years with Atlanta's WAOK-AM incorporates jazz into WFDR's regular format but he's planning in the near future to feature a jazz program.

Other changes will be in the gospel area, which is aired only on Sundays 6 a.m.-noon.

"Gospel is so strong in the South

we're considering adding a daily gospel show," says Barrow.

And in another area, WFDR has undergone a complete air personality change. All announcers have been at the outlet less than two months.

Jimmy Lee handles the 6-10 a.m. shift; followed by the station's only female announcer Von Love, who has the 10 a.m.-3 p.m. slot; Stan Morton has the 3-7 p.m. program; Marty Marte takes over 7 p.m.-midnight, and Eddie Haisleah is on from 12 a.m.-6 a.m.

Barrow notes that he is in the market for other strong female personalities.

He points out that in terms of programming, more LP product is being aired, "and we're not just playing favorite cuts indicated by the record companies. We pick our own cuts with the help of some research. Thirty percent of our playlist is now LPs."

Retail record stores, trade publications and other standard research methods including listener requests are used by WFDR.

"Our announcers are out in the community talking to people and some of them (announcers) also spin records at discos. This tells us which records are most popular in that area and we're getting it first hand," says Barrow.

DOOBIES ON FM 180 Stations To Carry July 4 Concert Broadcast Via Calif.

LOS ANGELES—More than 180 FM radio stations are scheduled to link up Wednesday (4) and broadcast a Doobie Brothers concert from the Universal Amphitheatre. Reportedly, this is the largest radio network established for one musical event.

The show is being coordinated by the DIR syndication firm, sponsored by the Pabst Brewing Co. while Warner Bros. is providing the promotion.

"This is the first hookup with a Warner artist that we've had another organization handle," says Ted Cohen, who is coordinating the Warner efforts. "Usually when Warner does a broadcast, we do it ourselves but this was something that DIR put together with Pabst. They came to us and asked what we thought of the idea."

Cohen says DIR was given the go-ahead on the project because, as producers of the syndicated "King Biscuit Flower Hour" of concerts, Warners felt DIR could handle something with the scope of 180 stations.

Stations in some major markets airing the concert include WCOZ-FM, Boston; WMMR-FM, Philadelphia; WMMS-FM, Cleveland; WNEW-FM, New York; WXRT-Chicago; KMET, Los Angeles; WKLS, Atlanta; and KSAN-FM, San Francisco.

For promotion, Warner Bros. put posters announcing the event in record stores, stereo equipment stores as well as clothing stores.

"They have a broad demographic appeal," says Cohen of why the Doobie Brothers were chosen by DIR and Pabst. Also, a New Year's Eve Los Angeles Doobies concert was test broadcast by DIR, with good results.

Infinity Records, the relatively new arm of MCA, is also jumping into the live broadcast field with its group, New England.

This hookup, of a concert to be broadcast Monday (2) from the Park West club in Chicago, is not as ambitious as the DIR/Warner project. Only 13 stations, all in the Midwest and Northeast, are part of the broadcast. Some of these stations are WLUP-FM, Chicago; WABX-FM, Detroit; and WNEW-FM, New York. The broadcast begins at 9:30 p.m.

The reason given for the regional emphasis in this broadcast, Infinity's first of this type, is cost.

Neither Warners nor Infinity have any definite plans for any future broadcasts.

Anaheim's KEZY-AM Sticking To Hard Rock Despite Numbers

By CARY DARLING

LOS ANGELES—Although the Arbitron rating shows no upsurge in listenership, Anaheim's KEZY-AM is holding fast with its six-month-old hard rock AOR format.

Program director Dave Forman admits he is somewhat disappointed with the numbers, which indicate the Los Angeles audience remaining steady while the audience has gotten slightly smaller in the station's own Orange County.

"Realistically, we anticipated it. We're not making any changes as a result of that," states Forman. "It was just too soon because we changed in January and the survey started in April."

Forman also notes that the Mediarend rating numbers are more encouraging.

The former Top 40 outlet shifted from its previous format because of stiff competition in the Los Angeles/Orange County area.

"You add up all the people listening to Top 40 and when you've got the signals that KHJ-AM, KFI-AM and KTNQ-AM have, we've got a loser. There are too many stations doing Top 40 for us to compete with."

The station has 5,000-watt strength during the day and 1,000-watt capability at night.

KEZY is the first exclusively album-oriented station in the Los Angeles area in several years and Forman sees this as a plus.

"There are a lot of people who want to listen to a progressive format but they don't have an FM radio. So, by default, we pick up listeners."

The change actually began last September when Forman first came to the station. The emphasis was still Top 40 though, what Forman terms, "pop LP tracks" were added to the playlist.

"In January, after talking to management and a great deal of research, we saw it clearly that an album orientation was the only way to go for us to survive."

Intentionally, the station plays music from the harder end of the rock spectrum though it does not ignore other styles. "We play soft music but it has got a lot lower emphasis and it can be bumped out of an hour in certain circumstances."

"As it stands right now, we're really not playing disco. But we're not anti-disco on the air and for us to be successful we have to have a broad scope."

While the news department keeps its focus on the Orange County area, the rest of the station is aiming for a broader audience that extends into Northern San Diego County and into the San Bernardino/Riverside area as well as Los Angeles.

"When we were Top 40, because of the competition from Los Angeles, we had no choice but to focus in on Orange County," says Forman.

"Now, people who wouldn't normally listen to us, because of the competition from KHJ, are now tuning us in. We find a lot of people who drive for a living are now listening to us in places where we never had listeners before." Now, the station's slogan is "KEZY, Southern California."

There has not been any great upheaval in station air personnel as Forman notes the air talent had backgrounds in both AOR and Top 40, thus enabling it to do both.

The new format also enables the station to hook up with its FM AOR sister station, also called KEZY, for simulcasting. Recent shows by Styx and Mick Taylor were broadcast this way.

Due to budgetary problems, advertising has not been heavy, therefore the station is relying on word-of-mouth in these early months. However, a television spot has been filmed though no air time has been confirmed yet.

Talent Service Beams 'Samples'

LEWISTON, Me.—Radio stations looking for on-air talent can audition sample airchecks by phoning a new service called Aircheck Guide.

When a station with openings calls, the service will play a 30-second sample aircheck of several announcers. The management of the calling station then indicates interest in a specific voice and the service then will play a three-minute aircheck. The service will then make efforts to get the station and the voice together.

PBS Music 'Summerfest' Prepping Radio Simulcasts

By JEAN CALLAHAN

WASHINGTON—Using the new DATE system, the Public Broadcasting Service will stereo simulcast in conjunction with public radio stations across the country to present live music ranging from the ragtime piano of Eubie Blake to the soulful sounds of Nick Ashford and Valerie Simpson as part of PBS' "Summerfest" concert series.

"Summerfest '79," originating from music festivals across the states, debuts with "Great Jazz Pianos," a performance from Wolf Trap Farm Park in Vienna, Va., which will be broadcast live by WETA-TV, Washington. Four masters of the jazz piano, Eubie Blake, Teddy Wilson, Marian McPartland and George Shearing, will entertain public tv viewers Saturday (7). The program will also be simulcast in stereo live on WETA-FM Washington and on many other radio stations throughout the country.

"Summerfest" continues with Ashford and Simpson in concert from the Mississippi River Festival July 21. Last summer's popular Tex Bencke program will encore on July 14 and will be simulcast.

In August, PBS presents rock with Chuck Berry from Chicago's Navy Pier, live on the 18th; technical details are still being worked out to simulcast this program. Last year's Ray Charles at Montreux concert will be rebroadcast Aug. 4.

September starts with the Charlie Daniels Band live from the Saratoga (N.Y.) Performing Arts Center, Sept. 1. Some other concerts scheduled for that month are still being cleared for live broadcast.

Encore performances, to be simulcast this summer by PBS, include Segovia at the White House, scheduled for broadcast Sunday (1); Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic in London, scheduled for Wednesday (4); "Tosca," July 25; Arthur Rubinstein at 90, Aug. 15; and "Figaro," to be broadcast in two parts on Aug. 29 and 30. All of these programs were originally broadcast using the DATE system last year and will be heard in stereo again this summer on various public radio stations participating in the series.

CBS Persistent In Its Court Challenge To Blanket Licensing

that the blanket licenses violate the rule-of-reason guideline.
CBS is forced to now base its case on the rule of reason because the U.S. Supreme Court found on April 7 that the blanket license is not a per se violation of antitrust laws.
If successful, the effect of the ASCAP and BMI motions for summary affirmance would be for the appeals court to now find that the original decision of the U.S. District Court three years ago dismissing the CBS suit should now stand.

If the appeals court made such a ruling, CBS would doubtless appeal the decision back to the Supreme Court.
In its motion BMI argues, "CBS did not brief or argue in this court the legality of defendants' conduct under the rule of reason. Therefore, that issue is not open for further consideration pursuant to the Supreme Court's remand. And since no other ground for reversal was raised on appeal which has not been finally determined either by this (appeals) court or by the Supreme Court, no further proceedings are required in this court and the judgment of the district court dismissing CBS' complaint should be summarily affirmed."

ASCAP argued that "summary affirmance is appropriate because there are no unresolved issues properly before this court; CBS has failed to raise either in its briefs or oral arguments in this court any issue as to the legality of defendants' blanket licensing practices under the rule of reason."

CBS countered: "What the defendants are saying on this motion is that while their present system may well be unlawful, perpetrating all of the anticompetitive effects that the Sherman Act was enacted to prevent, this court should, nonetheless, leave that system intact, and lay waste to 10 years of litigation, including an eight-week rule-of-reason trial, because of several possible verbalizations of that claim were not uttered, although others were, and all grounds of the claim indisputably asserted."

RADIO PROGRAM REVIEW

Kris And Rita Special To Air July 6 To 8 Weekend

"Kris And Rita. ... Together." Produced by Brooke Taylor of TDT Productions for the NBC Radio Network. Air date: Weekend of July 6 to 8, at stations' option.

NEW YORK—This two-hour fourth of a series of eight NBC Radio Network music specials, and the second from TDT, sets out to present a musical biography of the husband-wife team of Kris Kristofferson and Rita Coolidge, but the program comes out heavily centered on Kristofferson.

This is so because much of the material included has been written and performed by Kristofferson such as "Me And Bobby McGee," "For The Good Times," "Help Me Make It Through The Night" and "I Fought The Law."

Strung together by host Dan Daniel, the songs are introduced by Kristofferson and Coolidge with comments on how they came to compose them or first sang them. The show is about 70% music.

show is that the comments from Kristofferson and Coolidge were obviously made on a small portable tape recorder and don't match in tone quality the commentary of Daniel.

TDT, which is headed by Tom Tanno, taped three hours of comments from the pair for the slightly more than 30 minutes heard in the show.

This second TDT show for NBC follows a Willie Nelson special which was cleared on 170 stations. Tanno, a former publicist for ABC, was last a talent coordinator for that network's "Good Morning America."

His two partners work on a part-time basis. The Kris and Rita producer Taylor works in sales at Pro Meeker, a radio rep firm. Bill Dunlap is the third partner, who also works for the public relations firm of Hill & Knowlton.

Tanno hopes that TDT's next project will be a radio special on Chuck Berry. DOUG HALL

U. OF PENNSYLVANIA LUCKS OUT

FCC Gives Second Chance

WASHINGTON — WXPB-FM, the University of Pennsylvania's educational radio station, may not go off the air even though the Federal Communications Commission revoked the station's license on March 30. The Commission has granted WXPB a 120-day extension to continue operating until Oct. 10 and on Thursday (21) a full Commission meeting is expected to grant WXPB a waiver and accept the station's application for a new license.

WXPB's license was revoked in March when the FCC refused renewal citing the University for its continuing failure to supervise and control the station's operation from 1972 to 1975. The student-run station had aired broadcasts deemed obscene and profane by listeners and an FCC administrative law judge.

In this most unusual move, the FCC is expected to offer WXPB the opportunity to apply again for license to broadcast on the same frequency. Other applications for the frequency will also be accepted. In its March license denial, the FCC suggested that the University request a waiver, an unprecedented invitation. Under the Commission's original order, WXPB was scheduled to go off the air June 10 but now Philadelphia listeners will continue to hear from WXPB at least until Oct. 10.

Chicago WJPC On Air 24 Hrs.

CHICAGO—Black formatted WJPC-AM is about to go to full-time 24-hour operation. The sunrise-to-sunset outlet has won approval from the Federal Communications Commission for the move.

The switch is expected to take place within the next few weeks, according to general manager Charles Mootry. What is unusual about the expansion is that the FCC is going to allow the station to broadcast with more power at night than during the day.

The station will continue to broadcast with 1 kw daytime, but will be permitted to use 5 kw at

NEW YORK—Larry Daniels, program director for KNIX-AM-FM Phoenix, has retired from the air after 22 years of service, 19 of them playing country music, to concentrate on p.d. duties.

KNIX general manager Mike Owens presented Daniels with a "gold" mike trophy for his on-air years of service. Daniels' final show included phone calls from Buck Owens, Sonny James, Jim Ed Brown, Helen Cornelius and Acuff-Rose vice president Mel Foree.

Daniels, who will continue to program both the AM and the FM, said, "I'll probably miss being on the air, but I need the time to coordinate all of the activities KNIX is involved with."

He has been succeeded on his air shift by Mike Horey, former p.d. for sister station KUZZ-AM Bakerville.

Corrino Baldassano has been named p.d. of WSAI-FM Cincinnati succeeding Tom Owens, who has moved to KZEW-FM Dallas. Baldassano comes from KAUM-FM Houston, where she was also p.d. ... Michael Sheehy has been promoted to p.d. at KNX-FM Los Angeles from music director. Prior to joining the CBS outlet he was a jock at KGB-FM San Diego. He replaces Steve Marshall.

Wayne Elliot is appointed music director of WJJK-AM (14-K) Eau Claire, Wis. He succeeds Joey Benkert, who has joined the on-air staff of WSIX-FM Nashville. Elliott moves up from midday air personality, duties he will continue. Elliott also found a solution to being away from his listeners while he was on vacation. He made an on-air offer to in, a post card while he was vacationing. He mailed 107 listeners a greeting from California, where he vacationed.

Steve Chappell is named music director for WOOD-AM Chattanooga. This country station's lineup now includes Dale Meador from 6 to 9 a.m., Smilin' Steve from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Ray Hobbs from 1 to 3 p.m., Tommy Jett from 3 to 8 p.m. and Steve "Nice Guy" Millard from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Robert Russo has been named assistant p.d. at WIP-AM Philadelphia. Russo comes to WIP from Lifesong Records where he was director of national promotion. Prior to that he was with WHN-AM New York as assistant p.d. and music director. Russo succeeds Jim Lloyd, who will remain with the station as a swing shift air personality.

Gary Guthrie has joined WMC-FM (FM 100) Memphis as program director. He comes to the station from WAKY-AM Louisville, where he was p.d. Guthrie was chosen Billboard DJ of the year in 1971. It was Guthrie who first combined on tape Barbra Streisand and Neil Diamond singing "You Don't Bring Me Flowers." He has since filed suit against CBS over the Columbia releases of this song.

WENY-AM Elmira, N.Y., music director Drew Wilder has taken over the afternoon drive slot on the station. John Anthony Slick, night man on the station has added a feature playing new albums in their entirety. ... Mesa Kincaid has taken over the afternoon post on WCCO-FM Minneapolis from 4 to 8 p.m. She moves up from part time work at the sta-

Terry Nelson is in the noon to 3 p.m. slot on KFRC-AM San Francisco. (Continued on page 20)

Angel Goosing 'Sonic Series' With 10 More

CHICAGO—Citing "strong consumer acceptance" for its initial "45 Sonic Series" release, Angel Records is readying 10 additional audiophile pressings to be moved to market.

Select catalog recordings of intrinsic sonic merit are being remastered at 45 r.p.m., with special care taken to retain full dynamic and frequency range of the master tapes.

Recordings selected for the second release expected to ship in late July, include Mussorgsky's "Pictures At An Exhibition" with Riccardo Muti conducting the Philadelphia Orchestra; Poulenc's Concerto for Organ, Tympani and Strings, with organist Simon Preston and the London Symphony conducted by Andre Previn; and Waldteufel's "Waltzes" performed by the Monte Carlo Opera Orchestra under Willi Boshovsky.

Also in the $8.98 list series: Two Mozart Horn Concerti performed by Barry Tuckwell with the Academy of St. Martin-in-the-Fields; Liszt "Hungarian Rhapsodies" and "Hungarian Battle March," with London Philharmonic and Philharmonia Hungarica conducted by Boskovsky; and Handel "Royal Fireworks Music," Charles Mackerras conducting the London Symphony.

Also: "USA," Felix Slatkin conducts Concert Arts Symphonic Band; Smetana "Moldau" & Sibelius "Finlandia" with Berlin Philharmonic under Karajan; Ravel "Rhapsodie Espagnol" and "Albaredo De Gracioso," Martinou leading the Orchestre de Paris; and "Renaissance Suite," with David Munrow's Early Music Consort of London.

SYMPHONY GRANTS

'79 Federal Funding Hits $10.8 Million

By JEAN CALLAHAN

WASHINGTON—The National Endowment for the Arts is awarding a record $10.8 million in grants to symphony orchestras throughout the country this year, an increase of $1.6 million over last year's orchestra grants total and nearly triple the totals of recent years. Endowment chairman Livingston Biddle says the grants, ranging from $8,000 to $345,000, will support symphony orchestras during the 1979-80 season. Of the total funding, $2.3 million comes from private matching sources.

Biddle would like to increase requirements for matching funds, noting that, "Orchestras have an excellent record for attracting funds from private resources." In this context, Biddle mentioned AT&T's $9 million "Bell System American Orchestra On Tour" program as exemplary of the corporate support of the arts he would like to see increased.

"An orchestra's artistic quality" is the key element considered in awarding grants, says Ezra Laderman, director of the Endowment's music program.

But, he adds, the Endowment is also interested in innovation. Two grants have been awarded this year for model projects in Boston and Brooklyn. The Boston Symphony will receive $20,000 to begin development of a performance-based computer music system. The Brooklyn Philharmonia gets $13,000 for its "Music Of The Americas" project which includes performance of works by contemporary black, Spanish and Indian American composers.

Much support this year goes to symphony orchestra performances in parks, schools and other community concerts. The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, for instance, receives $275,000 to support educational concerts in inner-city schools in collaboration with the Joffrey Ballet.

The Boston Symphony Orchestra will use part of its $305,000 grant to run a series of free summer concerts and the Chamber Symphony Society of Los Angeles will use its $20,000 grant to subsidize free or low admission concerts for senior citizens and handicapped persons.

This year's largest grant goes to the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra; the $345,000 award will support Cincinnati's Area Artist Series and its "mini-festival" program.

The Cleveland Orchestra, a close second with a $320,000 grant, will sponsor concerts in neighboring communities and in junior and senior high schools and universities with this help. Other major grants include $315,000 for the New York Philharmonic, $315,000 to the Philadelphia Orchestra, $305,000 each to the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra and $275,000 to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Penn's Valley Forge Fair Proposes To Go Classical

PHILADELPHIA—The Valley Forge Music Fair, which started off 1965 with the presentation of Broadway hit musicals in the round and in the mid-'70s turned to pop and contemporary attractions sprinkled with country/western and comics, will enter the classical fold for the first time next season.

For a starter, Lee Guber and Shelly Gross, operators of the 3,000-seat hardtop playhouse in suburban Devon, Pa., will add a six-concert classical series to next season's programming. It will mark the first presentation of classical concerts in the round in this area.

Locally-based Provident National Bank is joining Guber and Gross in the sponsorship, with the bank providing financial and promotional aid through monthly mailings and displays in its 54 branches.

Montreux: There's More Than Jazz

By PIERRE HAESLER & WOLFGANG SPAHR

GENEVA—To most people Montreux means jazz, Europe's premier festival.

But for classical music lovers around the world, the association is different, since the Swiss city also boasts a classical event—the Festival de Musique Montreux-Vevy—which many rank with Bayreuth, Bath or Bratislava in importance and each year attracts celebrated international artists to the shores of Lake Geneva.

Held annually in September, the

The six concerts will be offered on a subscription basis for $50, with individual duets going for $11.50 and $10.50.

Series' Oct. 7 opener is the Moscow Pops Orchestra with stars of the Bolshoi Theatre and Kiev Ballet, followed on Oct. 21 by organist Virgil Fox. Also: Claudio Arrau, Oct. 28; Carlos Montoya, Nov. 4; Lazar Berman, March 2, and Yehudi and Hepzibah Menuhin, March 27.

event began 34 years ago as an attempt in the immediate post-war years to boost tourism and revitalize the musical life of the city. The first concert in 1946 presented a program by pianist Robert Casadesu opening the long-running series of "Septembre Musical de Montreux."

Even in its earliest days the festival featured world-class performers. Ansermet and the Suisse Romande played in the first year; a trio comprising Arthur Schnabel, Joseph Szi-

Promoters Eye Ariz. Summer Concert Scene

By AL SENIA

PHOENIX—In stark contrast to other entertainment forms which sag in popularity during Arizona's notoriously harsh summer months, the concert scene here appears robust. A variety of concert promoters from inside and outside the state are scurrying to book popular acts into venues throughout Phoenix and Tucson.

Promoters attribute the upswing to a growing acceptance of Arizona as a lucrative concert market in June, July and August—months when area colleges end their regular sessions, the tourist industry dwindles and temperatures routinely soar to more than 110 degrees.

In the past, the summer was a quiet time here. But a developing summer tourist trade and steady population growth that has been averaging close to 5% a year have combined to alter the past patterns and change the seasonal aspect of the concert business.

"During the summer a lot of concerts are going on around the country but Arizona has had the tradition of being too hot—everybody leaves the state," says Bill Niblick of Evening Star Productions of Tempe.

"But it seems that is starting to change. Schools don't really have that much bearing on a concert audience. It used to be that we didn't want to do a concert during a certain time of year because schools would be out. This seems to be a trend that isn't true anymore.

"Phoenix and Tucson are growing rapidly and there is a stronger musical audience here. There's a greater influx of out-of-state people who are used to it (summer concerts). Competition also is picking up."

"Business is just as good here in the summer as it is in the winter," adds local promoter Doug Clark. "I don't see any drop off at all in my business. If it's a good act, people are going to come out and see it."

Evening Star has thus far booked John McLaughlin into the Scottsdale Center and Charlie Daniels into the Civic Plaza and the Tucson Community Center. Blondie, Eddie Money, Graham Nash and Devo are examples of other acts Evening Star plans to book into local venues in the coming months, Niblick states.

Meanwhile, the most exciting summer music event is likely to be the opening of Doug Clark's new outdoor amphitheatre in Phoenix. Called Compton Terrace, the facility will hold more than 25,000 and is slated for a mid-July opening.

Specific acts have not been set, but Clark expects to book 10 to 15 performers into the amphitheatre through August. He is currently bidding on performers like James Taylor, Cheap Trick and Kris Kristofferson.

Clark is also putting together a summer concert series for his 2,800-seat-Celebrity Theatre in Phoenix. The Average White Band, Hoyt Axton, Al Stewart and Judy Collins are firm summer dates. Clark expects to have at least a dozen other acts booked into the Celebrity by August.

Between the Celebrity and the new amphitheatre, Clark expects to be booking triple the number of concert acts he booked last summer.

Any past reluctance to play Arizona during the summer "appears to have dissipated," Clark states. "I don't see any resistance to it at all. And I think the park (amphitheatre) will make a big difference because most of the acts touring in the summer are playing outdoors almost everywhere."

One of Clark's direct competitors for large-drawing acts will be the 14,000-seat Arizona Coliseum. In an effort to relieve operating deficits, the Coliseum has been luring rock performers over the past three summers.

Promoters have a much larger choice of open dates during the summer, and rates are more attractive—the Coliseum has lowered its rental rate for the summer months to stimulate business. The Coliseum's fee is a flat 12.5% of the first $50,000 and 10% on monies above that. Last summer, Parliament, Bob Seger, the Marshall Tucker Band and a "Star Wars" concert were offered. This summer, manager Rick Bjorklund expects to do seven or eight different shows.

So far, Journey and the Climax Blues Band are the only signed acts. Beaver Productions is presenting the concert.

Out-of-state promoters like Larry Vallon, Buster Bonoff and International Tour Consultants are also actively booking concerts this summer in facilities like the Phoenix Civic Plaza. The Plaza has three available concert halls: Symphony Hall (2,600 capacity); Assembly Hall (3,500) and Exhibit Hall (6,000).

Vallon has booked Nazareth and Mahogany Rush into a Saturday Exhibit Hall date; Bonoff brought Dottie West and Johnny Rodriguez into the Symphony Hall June 8; and International has an Aug. 29 Teddy Pendergrass date scheduled in the Exhibit Hall.

The spurt of promotional activities resulted in 13 different performers playing the varied assortment of

Spoletto: a 17-Day Music Extravaganza

By FRANK MADISON

CHARLESTON, S.C.—"Spoletto, U.S.A.," in only three seasons, has become an American tradition.

The recently ended 17-day extravaganza of fine arts not only drew record crowds, but was also hailed by artists, critics and spectators alike as a most comprehensive fine arts festival.

Between the festival's opener, a presentation of Cimarosa's 18th century opera, "The Desperate Husband," May 25, and its finale, an all-Gershwin concert under the stars, June 10, visitors were treated to almost every category of the visual and performing arts.

While the Gaillard Municipal Auditorium served as the stage for "The Desperate Husband" a Rachmaninoff concert, and the Westminster Choir of Princeton, N.J., other locations were also used.

Charleston's historic churches, cathedrals and synagogues were the setting for a variety of orchestral and choral presentations, including a 13th century liturgical music drama, "The Play Of The Three Maries" by the Kent State Chorale.

Jazz concerts were held at Seabrook Island, the Cistern of the College of Charleston, and the Gaillard Municipal Auditorium. Some of the big names of the field, such as Woody Herman and the Thundering Herd, Buddy Rich and his orchestra, the New Orleans Heritage Hall Jazz Band were mixed with some of the outstanding college groups, like the North Texas State One O'Clock Lab Band, and the Univ. of South Carolina's Left Bank Jazz Ensemble.

Traditional music, brass ensembles, youth choirs and jazz groups also performed at the many city squares and parks.

In addition to "The Desperate Husband," a second opera was performed, Gian Carlo Menotti's "The Medium."

The Pulitzer Prize winner, Menotti, aside from his opera, has a special meaning to the Spoletto festivals, both the one held in Charleston and its counterpart held in Spoletto, Italy. He is the originator and driving force behind them.

The original idea of a "festival of two worlds" was finally achieved in 1977 when the first Spoletto, U.S.A. materialized and became a reality.

Menotti chose Charleston as the site of the American version of the festival for much the same reasons he chose Spoletto. Charleston, like Spoletto, has a well preserved, historical architecture and a history in the arts.

Since their inception, Spoletto and Spoletto, U.S.A., have enjoyed a wide measure of success. In 1978, more 100,000 persons reportedly journeyed to the South Carolina coast to view the many facets of the festival.

The European version began Wednesday (27) and runs through July 15.

Old Chicago Park Bolsters Bookings With StarFest

CHICAGO—The Old Chicago indoor amusement park has intensified its musical bookings by presenting a 12-day musical extravaganza, StarFest. StarFest, which began June 23, featured Chuck Berry, Black Oak Arkansas, Iron Butterfly, Blues Image and Willie Aames.

"This gives people an added incentive to come to Old Chicago," says Michael Ahern, vice president of marketing and entertainment. "People feel they can enjoy our rides anytime but they will be here for the music especially."

For the first two days of Star Fest with headliner Chuck Berry, the park claims it doubled its attendance figures compared with last year for the third weekend in June.

On a broader scale, it appears that presenting live music in amusement parks is catching on and can help sagging attendance. In an effort to push itself back up from severe financial setbacks, Old Chicago began booking acts last October.

"Music accounts for 30% to 40% of our gate and it is becoming a trend at other parks," claims Gloria Ciaccio, a park spokesperson.

According to Ciaccio, to meet the increasing demand, Old Chicago added 500 more seats to increase capacity to 2,000.

"We book acts in rock, country, pop, and nostalgia; since last October we have either filled or done no less than 75% of our capacity," says Ciaccio. Some of the better draws include Dr. Hook, Chubby Checker and Johnny Paycheck.

Buffalo Shea Firming Up Talent

BUFFALO—The opera double bill of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci" conducted by Semyon Bychkov Oct. 12-13 highlights the 1979-80 season at Shea's Buffalo Theatre.

Bychkov is the Russian addition to the conducting staff next season with the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra.

The Friends of the Buffalo Theatre and the Opera Theatre of Syracuse will join forces in a Saturday (28) Sunday (29) "Rigoletto" production at Shea's and for the October double bill.

The season also will include musicals "Showboat" and "Ain't Misbehavin'" and an evening entitled "James Earl Jones." Special events include performances by pianist-comic Victor Borge, Jury's Irish Cabaret and Les Brown and his band.

Robert D'Angelo, Shea's new executive director, says the still-incomplete schedule also will include a country series.

Youth theatre productions are "Babes In Toyland," "Daniel Boone" and the Marcinek Puppet Theatre from Poland. Robert Cole is the Shea's artistic director.

ATLANTIC CITY CAESARS

Paul Anka Debuts Boardwalk Regency

ATLANTIC CITY—With Paul Anka the first act to perform at the newly opened Boardwalk Regency Hotel, Pinky Kravitz, entertainment director for the facility, has lined up a steady stream of top names until the Christmas season.

The Boardwalk Regency, a Caesars World operation, is the second gambling casino to open here. Resorts International was the first, opening more than a year ago.

The Board Regency is the sister hotel to Las Vegas' Caesars Palace and will feature many of the same acts.

Anka moved into the 550-seat Boardwalk Regency Cabaret Thursday through Saturday (28-7). The showroom boasts highly sophisticated sound and lighting equipment, reportedly costing in excess of $350,000.

Supplied and installed by a major New York City firm, the State Of The Art, multi-channel sound system has 60 microphone inputs and features equipment from JBL, Altec-Lansing, Yamaha, Shure Brothers, Urei and Revox.

The Cabaret also has a fully computerized lighting control system that features more than 200 lighting instruments. The system was installed by Kliegl Brothers Inc., New York, at reportedly more than $135,000.

With a 480,000-watt lighting capability, the Cabaret theatre also will be equipped for television presentations.

The Cabaret's talent lineup through the remainder of 1979 includes John Davidson following Anka (July 8-15), Tony Orlando (July 16-25), Seals & Crofts (July 26-Aug. 1), Sammy Davis Jr. (Aug. 2-8), Paul Anka returns (Aug. 9-15), Helen Reddy and Pat Henry (Aug. 16-22), Dionne Warwick and Norm Crosby (Aug. 23-29), and for the Labor Day weekend, Mac Davis (Aug. 30-Sept. 5).

Bobby Vinton plus Milton Berle usher in the fall season (Sept. 6-12), followed by Rich Little and Marlene Ricci (Sept. 13-19), Sammy Davis returns (Sept. 20-26), Charo and Jack Jones (Sept. 27-Oct. 3), Glen Campbell and Debby Boone (Oct. 4-10), Andy Williams (Oct. 11-17), Wayne Newton (Oct. 18-24), Kenny Rogers (Oct. 25-31), John Davidson (Nov. 1-7), Bob Newhart and Leslie Uggams (Nov. 8-14), Ann-Margret (Nov. 15-21), Lena Horne and Vic Damone (Nov. 22-28), Rich Little and Bernadette Peters (Nov. 29-Dec. 5), Bobby Vinton (Dec. 6-12) and Tony Orlando (Dec. 13-19).

The Boardwalk Regency Cabaret presents two shows nightly, seven nights a week. Tickets are priced at $22.50 and $20 for Sundays through Thursdays, and $25 on Friday and Saturday nights.

Kansas City Outdoor Rock Festival Attracts 42,000

By PAUL HOHL

KANSAS CITY—More than 42,000 persons turned out for Summer Rock '79 June 17 at the Arrowhead Stadium here. The show was the first of three outdoor concerts slated for Kansas City this summer.

Guitarist Ted Nugent headlined the nine-hour event, which also featured Heart, Sammy Hagar, the Kansas City-based band Missouri and the Cars, making its debut performance in Kansas City at the festival.

The show reportedly grossed in excess of $520,000 for its promoters, Chris Fritz Co., Contemporary Productions of St. Louis, and Arrowhead Productions, a special events division of the Kansas City Chiefs Football Club. Ticket prices were $12 general admission and $14 reserved, with a $15 top the day of the show.

The afternoon started ominously when intermittent showers sprinkled fans who had arrived early in the morning for the scheduled noontime opening set by Missouri.

A cool breeze blowing across the stadium most of the afternoon kept temperatures—and perhaps tempers—well below the boiling point most of the day. Fewer than 70 persons were treated at the stadium first aid station for sun and alcohol-related problems.

However, as the late afternoon sun broke through, several fights broke out between fans, and overtaxed security guards began pushing a few of the more zealous concertgoers from the plywood barricades which separated the stage from the audience.

Missouri opened the show on schedule with a more polished and refined set than at previous appearances here. The crowd cheered tunes like "Movin' On" and "California Girl," both from its new Polydor album, "Welcome Two Missouri."

Bassist Alan Cohen has emerged as the flashiest performer of the group, bounding and dancing across the stage on "Walk Like A Man" and "Hold Me."

The group's 30-minute set proved to be highly formulated and commercial, but pleasing to the hometown audience which responded with a seven-minute ovation.

Sammy Hagar continued the energetic pace of the show with an equally well received set. The former Montrose lead guitarist blistered the audience with "Turn Up the Music" and "Red," which proved to be the high point of his set. Hagar also debuted a new tune from a forthcoming album, "Street Machine," but his rendition of "Trans Am," a tune written for his new car, proved somewhat tedious and lackluster.

After solving problems which developed in the stage monitor system, the Cars turned a letter perfect 45-minute set which seemed to fall over the heads of the Kansas City audience. Though they responded politely enough and listened attentively throughout the set, they gave no signs of understanding the music.

Dressed in skin-tight leather, the group debuted three new tunes from its just released "Candy-O" album, as well as "My Best Friend's Girl," "Good Times Roll" and "Don't Cha Stop." It was called back for two encores.

Ann and Nancy Wilson of Heart took the stage following a lengthy set change to cheers and massive rounds of applause. Their delicate harmonies laced such Heart classics as "Straight On," "Heartless" and "Magic Man," while infusing many of their more obscure numbers with characteristic skill.

The group's special lighting effects which are part of the current tour on "Devil Delight" were not used at the Arrowhead performance, since the entire show was played in daylight.

Heart's 90-minute set ended with crowd-pleasing renditions of "Love Alive," featuring a breathtaking flute solo by Ann; "Crazy On You" and the driving tempo of "Barracuda." Based on crowd response and performance, Heart was the winner of the day.

Knight Overcomes Setback, Looks To Revitalize Pips

By PAUL GREIN

LOS ANGELES—"I don't know why I ain't in the looney bin," says a candid Gladys Knight after making it through a year that would test anyone's mettle. "The whole foundation to my family, my career, everything just started shaking at once."

Gladys Knight: trying to dispel some of the rumors that have been around.

In addition to her well-publicized lawsuits against Buddah and Arista Records, Knight has been in court with a divorce and fighting for custody of her two-year-old son Shanga. And for a year beginning in March 1978, Gladys Knight & the Pips wasn't able to record or perform.

"It's been rough," Knight says. "I think this is the worst period we've ever had during our entire career."

"There was never any doubt that we wanted to be together, but it was how to work it out. Now spiritually and emotionally we've worked it out; we just have to tie the loose ends together."

For Knight, one of the hardest parts of the past year or two has been dealing with public confusion about the status of the group. "People are confused and we know it," she says. "We've always had a stable image. Even if we weren't making hits, they'd know that Gladys Knight & the Pips was solid."

"Now we're trying to dispel some of the rumors that have been around, that Gladys Knight & the Pips are no longer together; that I'm going my way and they're going theirs, which is absolutely not true."

"We want to let people know we're not dead. I've seen it happen too often: where things go wrong and you're off the scene for a few minutes—you die."

"I never had any intention of doing anything to destroy Gladys Knight & the Pips," the singer explains. "I've worked too long and too hard with this thing to say 'chuck it all.' But I guess that's what it looked like with all the things that were happening."

Knight speaks soberly as she recounts the personal pains of the past year. "There had to be a lot of heavy decisions made," she says. "For all these years we've always had a majority vote system within the group. One of the hardest things for me has been to go against the majority vote for the first time."

"Naturally the Pips would say, 'forget all that other stuff; we've got to record.' But since this is my profession, I've got to try to get the most for what I do."

Talent Talk

New York's country station, WHN-AM featured soul singer Millie Jackson in a live broadcast from the Lone Star Cafe. Jackson, who frequently does r&b covers of country tunes, was the first soul performer presented in the station's continuing series of broadcasts from the Texas-flavored nightclub.

Lorimar Productions, which recently signed a label deal with CBS Records, has cast Elvis Costello and Meat Loaf in future feature films. ... 12-year-old Cotillion disco artist Stacy Lattisaw recently visited Amy Carter in the White House where she two played pinball. ... Led Zeppelin has reportedly soldout 264,000 tickets for the Knebworth Festival in Britain in mid-August. It will be the first time Led has played for its countrymen since May 1975.

"You can always tell a happy motorcyclist by the bugs on his teeth," says E/A artist Martin Mull who is learning to ride a chopper for a future film, "The Serial." Mull has released a single "Pig In A Blanket/Fruit" specifically for jukeboxes, though it will be available at retail.

England Dan & John Ford Coley have got football fever. The duo will take part in the installation of Johnny Unitas and Dick Butkus in the Football Hall of Fame, will have dinner with the Dallas and Oakland teams after their first exhibition game; and Coley will challenge Cleveland Browns captain Doug Deacon in racquetball, Atlantic says.

Supersession pianist Nicky Hopkins has joined a new band, Night on E/A Records. ... Melba Moore and Lou Rawls have teamed together for a series of concert dates in July. ... When her backing tapes got lost before a recent concert at Constitution Hall in Washington, disco singer Wardell Piper took a deep breath and did her 30-minute show a cappella, for which she reportedly was awarded a five-minute standing ovation.

Reggae On 2 Campuses

LOS ANGELES—Due to the success of its reggae seminar this spring, California State College, San Bernardino, Extension, will again offer its "Reggae: A Way Of Life" one-day seminars in Santa Cruz, Saturday (7) and in Los Angeles, July 14.

The Santa Cruz date is co-sponsored with KUSP-FM Santa Cruz in cooperation with California State Univ., San Jose. The Los Angeles seminar is co-sponsored with KBLA-AM in cooperation with California State Univ., Los Angeles and the Pan American Studies department.

The seminars will focus on the historical and political perspective of reggae music, Linton Johnson, a Jamaican poet who has set his poetry to reggae music; the significance of Augustus Pablo; new reggae artists including Hugh Mundell, Black Uhurum, Janet Kay and others; reggae shops in America; women and reggae music and the spiritual basis of the Rastafarian culture.

Included will be videotapes of the prize-winning documentary "Blacks Britannica," the new feature film, "Rockers," plus rare concert footage of reggae groups including Bob Marley and the Wailers, Peter Tosh and others.

Conducting the seminars is Lister Hewan-Lowe, of Mango Records, the reggae music division of Island Records. In addition to working for Island, he hosts a reggae show on WUSB-FM at the State Univ. of New York, Stonybrook.

Industry Course Due At UCLA Extension

LOS ANGELES—UCLA Extension will offer "Legal And Practical Aspects Of The Recording And Publishing Industries" on four Saturdays starting July 7.

The course is geared towards songwriters, producers, performing and recording artists, agents and managers who seek an understanding of the practices of record company executives and attorneys with whom they work.

The course will provide detailed analysis of legal agreements and professional practices basic to songwriting, recording and publishing fields of the music business.

Guest speakers will discuss record company structure and personnel. Other topics will include obtaining a contract as an artist, producer, production company or label.

The course meets through July 28.

GLADYS KNIGHT & THE PIPS

Bagdad Showroom, Aladdin Hotel
Las Vegas

This veteran act covered a lot of ground in its 70-minute set June 15, ranging from the ultra-smooth MOR opener "(This Is) A Lovely Way To Spend An Evening" to a discotized update of Curtis Mayfield's chunky r&b number, "On And On."

But it is on tunes with strong lyrics that Gladys Knight & the Pips really shine, whether they are in the soul idiom (like Peabo Bryson's "Feel The Fire") or easy listening pop (Barry Manilow's "All The Time").

Knight is blessed with one of the most expressive and richly emotional voices in contemporary music, with an ability to glide from moments of passion and intensity to moments when she is intimate, confidential, even conversational in her singing style.

This warm, natural approach extends to her stage presence: Gladys is like the hostess kicking off her shoes so her guests will feel more at home. "We want you to relax," she said. "Please clap your hands and sing along. Don't worry if you sing off-key: the Pips do it all the time."

This good-natured repartee continued when one of the Pips admonished Gladys to "Just stand there and look pretty; we'll do all the work—as usual."

Both Gladys and the Pips have solo spots in the show. In fact the lustiest applause of the night was for Gladys' solo medley of Jim Weatherly's "The Need To Be" and "Believe In Yourself," Lena Horne's showstopper from "The Wiz."

The Pips also offered pretty falsetto versions of two recent No. 1 hits: the Doobie Brothers' "What A Fool Believes" and the Bee Gees' "Love You Inside Out."

The set was flawed slightly by the rather self-congratulatory minute-long collage of old album covers and still photos which preceded the group onstage.

A more serious defect was the gimmicky way the oldies medley was showcased. A game show scoreboard descended from above the stage and the audience was invited to play four rounds of "Name That Hit."

The group then offered bits of "I've Got To Use My Imagination," "Best Thing That Ever Happened To Me," "Every Beat Of My Heart" and "Daddy Could Swear, I Declare," while taking care not to sing the title phrases. The audience could score points for the "visitor's team" if it correctly shouted out the name of each tune.

What'cha know, we got 'em all. But we were also distracted from the seamless beauty of the singing onstage, which, in the case of this group, is a lamentable loss indeed. PAUL GREIN

JULIO IGLESIAS

Madison Square Garden, New York

This was the first time this Spanish superstar has played the Garden without a strong supporting card and the house was only about 70% full for the June 16 date. Those who showed up were treated to a flawless 100 minutes of Iglesias' unique low key brand of showmanship.

Iglesias strolled through his 21-song set backed by a 50-piece orchestra and three attractive female backup vocalists. His songs are fairly standard MOR fare about things like love, life and eternity.

Though the show was being taped for broadcast in Latin America, Iglesias omitted many of his biggest international hits and did only short versions of others as part of medleys.

The presence of television cameras had a strong effect on Iglesias as he spent much of the evening playing to the cameras and not the audience. But the ladies in the house did not seem to care as they swooned, whistled, made suggestive gestures, blew kisses and threw roses at their idol.

While many might find Iglesias' laidback non-energetic show boring, he keeps the bulk of his paying customers satisfied. ROBERT FORD JR.

THE ROCHESES LEON REDBONE

Exit/In, Nashville

Despite inadequate ventilation that had both performers and spectators dripping wet, the energy and curiosity levels ran high for this double billing of two decidedly unusual acts.

The Roches—Terre, Suzy and Maggie—is a highly visual trio of sisters from New York who have developed a uniquely offbeat musical act. The group was created by a mixture of laughs gant Goodwill, but when it launched into its colorful and personal grab bag of self-penned material, amusement quickly turned into enthusiastic approval.

With only simple acoustic guitar accompaniment by Maggie and Terre, the trio's pure, straightforward harmonies and cerebral stage posturings come off as a cross somewhere between artsy-craftsy folk and amateur night in the college dorm.

The Roches depend on harmonies, often dissonant, and a charming irreverence to life's banalities to give its music a refreshingly unusual impact.

The threesome's 10-song, 45-minute set covered sampling from its debut Warner Bros. LP, including the autobiographical introduction to themselves titled "We." The Roches' version of "The Naughty Lady Of Shady Lane" brought outrageous new dimensions to the art of harmonizing.

Leon Redbone, an enigmatic artist whose particular forte is reversing the musical clock several decades, followed with his understated near-dozen tune, 75-minute set that combined dixieland, rag, blues, New Orleans jazz and early Jellyroll Morton touches.

A dapper caricature who sings like an old Gramophone recording, Redbone is also an excellent stylized guitarist who excels in reviving obscure material from other eras. Songs like "Crazy About My Baby," "Alabama Jubilee," "Someday Sweetheart" and the trademark "Diddy Wah Diddy" sound as if they were written just for him.

Redbone's main stage assist comes from the tuba talents of Jonathan Dorn and he has recently added a clarinetist to augment his own guitar and mouth trumpet solos. KIP KIRBY

NEW ENGLAND MARK TANNER BAND

Santa Monica, Calif.

New England's Los Angeles area debut was a low priced $3 concert which was apparently successful considering the venue was packed with screaming adulating fans.

Its June 15 show, which lasted about an hour and featured 10 songs from its Infinity debut LP, was an exercise in hard-biting melodic rock that was exceptional enough for fans to crowd the stage yelling for more well after the show ended. In fact, fans reacted to New England as if it was an established supergroup instead of relative newcomers with a midcharting single, "Don't Ever Wanna Lose You."

John Fannon, New England's guiding force and lead vocalist, has enough English vocal inflections to pass for a Britisher. As a result, much of the band's vocal sound is rooted in English rock, but with the melodic backing to also draw comparison to Boston.

Fannon's guitar, as were all the instruments, was miked overly loud. Yet his guitar interacted well with Gary Shea's bass, Jimmy Waldo's keyboards and synthesizer and Hirsh Gardner's drums.

As far as stage presence, Gardner came across as the most animated, manipulating his drumsticks with speed and exuberance. He also commands a surprisingly strong voice, evident in his harmonies and too-brief lead on one song.

Fannon and company kept the energy level high, blasting their way through rockers like "Shoot," "Don't Ever Wanna Lose Ya," "Hello, Hello, Hello," "Alone Tonight" and "East Show." The band also performed the midtempo ballad "Shall I Run Away," and saved "P.U.N.K. (Puny Undernourished Kid)" for its encore.

With more seasoning, New England has a chance to become as big as Boston, Foreigner, Toto and others that play similar music. What the band needs is something to clearly distinguish it from the rest of the pack.

The Mark Tanner Band, an eight-piece band, opened the show with about eight songs from its debut Elektra/Asylum album. The band's 40-minute set was tight and showcased various elements in addition to its rock roots.

Spinners To Try a New LP Concept

By JEAN WILLIAMS

LOS ANGELES—Thom Bell, who has produced the Spinners for the past seven years, will not produce the group's next Atlantic LP.

According to Buddy Allen, the group's personal manager, this will be the first time that anyone other than Bell has produced the group in many years.

Producers of the upcoming LP "Dancin' And Lovin'," Will Hatcher, Michael Zager and the group itself, will take the Spinners in an entirely different direction.

This also marks the first time in the group's long career that it has produced itself. The Spinners are co-producing five tunes on the LP with Hatcher, while Zager is handling three cuts.

"Thom is presently doing a film, 'The Fish That Saved Pittsburgh,' and he's producing a lot of acts that are appearing in the film, including Teddy Pendergrass and some others," says Allen. The Spinners perform two songs in the film.

"This project is so demanding he really does not have the time to devote to other projects," Allen adds.

The direction the Spinners will take will be back to their r&b roots. "We must keep up with the times and while we're going back to where we originally started, we're going to do it with some heavy contemporary tracks backing us.

"People will recognize that it's the Spinners, but they will also hear a total change in direction. You don't have to change your talents to change the subject matter," Allen maintains.

He admits the Spinners have been cold, "but they have never stopped working." He explains that the group is playing many of the rooms it played when it was hot, "but we're staying away from large concerts until the group is hot again," says Allen.

He notes the group is able to work without records because it was built as a well-rounded entertaining unit.

"This is something I preach to young groups coming along," says Allen. "There will come a time in every act's career when it does not have hit records to depend on and they should be groomed to survive during these times. The Spinners have done this."

The group's most recent LP, "From Here To Eternally," is Bell's last Spinners production—at least for a while. Allen notes that Bell will probably produce the group later.

Is Quincy Jones unhappy with A&M Records? Reportedly he is about to take his newly formed, still unnamed label to another major record company (Warner Bros.) completely with some well known acts. And what about his production company?

A&M's Leroy Bell and Casey James wrote the three songs on Elton John's 12-inch EP, which includes the hit "Mama Can't Buy You Love." The three tunes were among six that Elton recorded in 1977 with Thom Bell, Leroy's uncle producing.

The dub, which released its debut LP last year on A&M, has written for acts such as the Spinners and the

PUTS SUITS, DIVORCE BEHIND

Knight Overcomes '78 Setback

All of this confusion began when Gladys Knight & the Pips decided to record under three banners: the main group, Gladys alone and the Pips alone. According to Knight there were many reasons behind this move.

"The guys have never gotten the opportunity to develop themselves as I have, which has always bothered us all. We hoped to get an identity recordwise for the Pips, plus there are things I'd like to do.

"Whatever level the Pips go to, I go to, and vice versa," Knight reasons. "If my movie ('Pipe Dreams') had been a success, it would have helped us all. If the Pips get a hit record, they as a unit can demand more money from a promoter, and we all benefit."

Another reason for the three-way split: "You need all kinds of packages to put artists in," Knight says. "Just Gladys Knight in a different package might be something saleable to the general public."

The Pips have had two Casablanca albums produced by Arthur Wright and Bunny Sigler. They will begin recording their third in late July with Alec Costandinos producing.

The recently issued Knight solo album on Columbia coproduced by Jack Gold was a blessing for the 35-year-old singer. "After I signed with Columbia it wanted to get product as soon as possible," she says. "For the company to come through with support and money kept me from just going down the drain."

How did Knight come to be teamed up with Gold? "Most of the people I wanted to go in the studio with were tied up at the time," she says, citing Maurice White and Gamble & Huff as two examples.

"And then somebody suggested Jack. Well, we just fell in love with each other. His personality was just exactly what I needed: it was the first time I'd been in the studio alone and the atmosphere was so peaceful. We just jelled."

Knight's current project is a solo Christmas LP for Columbia with Gold producing. It will be half standard spiritual fare and half contemporary tunes, such as disco versions of "Jingle Bells" and "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town."

The LP will also feature Knight's

GROOVE TIME—Michael Jackson demonstrates body language while performing "Shake Your Body Down (Down To The Ground)" as other Jackson family members, left, La Toya, Jackie and Janet show off their versions. The scene is the Beverly Hills City National Bank, which was turned into a disco for a special reception for the Jacksons.

Knight notes that when the album was completed it was, in her opinion, too ballad-heavy, so she asked Gold for more uptempo material. He then brought in "You Bring Out The Best In Me," the disco-tinged first single, while she contacted such past associates as Johnny Bristol for more "pulse" material. Still she acknowledges that the treatments on some of the songs weren't as "spunky" as they might have been.

How does Knight see the album as different from a Gladys Knight & the Pips set? "I don't think there was as much difference as I thought there was going to be. For some reason I thought there would be a different sound, but we ended up with a lot of material that more than likely the group would have if it had been a group project."

Would Knight agree with the oft-heard assessment that her music has turned toward MOR over the past four or five years? "I would," she says. "It's just that most of the songs that have a lyric aren't too uptempo. That's why it was hard for me to get into disco. When disco first hap-

NATIONAL NETWORK PROJECTED

N.Y. Black Attorneys Form An Assn.

LOS ANGELES—An outgrowth of the Black Music Assn.'s recent conference is the formation of an association comprised of black attorneys specializing in entertainment law.

The association plans to setup a national network of entertainment lawyers to provide legal services to members. Other goals include establishing a referral system for legal representation and a resource bank for providing information to students, groups and non-profit and civic organizations involved in the entertainment industry.

The group also will strive to see that the rights of blacks in the entertainment industry are protected.

Organizers of the new association are Louise West of Jones, Michael & Cherot, New York, and Kendall Minter of Burns, Jackson, Miller, Summit and Jacoby, also of New York.

Attending the first meeting were attorneys David Franklin of David M. Franklin & Associates, Larkin Arnold, senior vice president, Arista Records; and Don Mizell, director, jazz fusion division, Elektra/Asylum Records.

Casablanca Pacts

LOS ANGELES—Casablanca has signed a production agreement with the Sunshine Group, Ltd., a multi-media entertainment firm founded in 1974 by producer Walter Kahn. First release under the pact is a single, Cindy and Roy's "Can You Feel It," due Monday (18), to be followed a week later by an LP, "Feel It."

Billy Thedford, a contemporary gospel singer, is looking to follow in the footsteps of Andrae Crouch by signing with a secular label that will market his product to the mass audiences.

Thedford, who is managed by Bill Cherry, was a member of Crouch's Disciples.

Girard's 'Easy' Undergoing Push

NASHVILLE—Good News Records has kicked off one of the most extensive campaigns ever launched in its eight-year history surrounding the release of Chuck Girard's fourth solo album, "Take It Easy."

Selected as the July album of the month, "Take It Easy" has generated a major marketing and merchandising effort which is being promoted nationwide by Good News Records and Word, Inc.

A full-scale display contest among retailers, running through Sept. 15, has been prepared, including four-color mobiles, Chuck Girard T-shirts, posters and banners, blank album jackets, in-store LPs and radio spots. A total of six winners throughout the country will be selected on the basis of creativity and originality in putting together the most effective Girard display.

Also included in the campaign is a special one-hour program on Girard which is being made available to all radio stations. John Styll hosts the show which traces Girard's life and his music from his singing/song-writing career in the '60s to present.

In support of the campaign, Girard's concert schedule will include many parts of the country. A personal appearance at the annual Christian Booksellers Assn. convention is being planned in addition to various festivals, such as Creation '79, Jesus Northwest, Jesus Fair '79, and others. A Girard tour will highlight the summer schedule during the latter part of August.

Pinch Producing 'Artists Alive'

NASHVILLE — Tim Pinch Recording has assumed monthly production of the syndicated concert series, "Artists Alive," which was previously produced by Ben Jay Recording in Orlando, Fla.

Plans call for Pinch to work in affiliation with Bee Jay featuring on-location recording of live concerts by contemporary gospel artists.

The monthly series, aired on some 18 stations nationally, will continue to be produced under the authority of Eric Schabacker, president of Bee Jay and former producer, with SME Radio Productions maintaining distribution. Jack Bailey, head of GME, continues to act as syndication representative.

More Listings In Second Directory

NASHVILLE—The second addition of the Christian Booking & Program Directory is now available containing more listings and three new categories.

Added to the list of categories are coffeehouses and clubs, promoters and music festivals and conventions. Current categories include concert performers, including speakers; recording artists, booking agencies, recording companies, film distributors, producers & arrangers, recording studios, publishers, advertising and public relations, publications, graphic artists, organizations, theatre and syndicated radio shows.

Available for $7.95, plus 55 cents postage, the directory may be obtained by writing to: Christian Booking and Program Directory, 130 W. 44th St., Dept. D-128, New York, N.Y. 10036.

PRESIDENTIAL HONOR—President Carter lends a warm touch of thanks to Andrae Crouch following his first performance at the White House. Crouch was among the artists including Billy Eckstine, Chuck Berry, Evelyn "Champagne" King and Sarah Jordan Powell who presented the broad spectrum of black music during a buffet dinner hosted by the President and Rosalyn Carter in honor of the Black Music Assn.

JULY 14-16 SESSIONS SET

150 Broadcasters Huddle In St. Louis For Seminar

By SALLY HINKLE

NASHVILLE—More than 150 top gospel broadcasters from across the country are expected to attend the Gospel Music Assn.'s National Gospel Radio Seminar in St. Louis July 14-16.

The Holiday Inn—Clayton Plaza will serve as seminar headquarters for the three day event, which will direct its emphasis to spot sales and music programming.

Key representatives in gospel radio will join with Federal Communications Commission leaders, record company personnel, agency people, artists, musicians and publishers to lend insights to the current gospel industry. In addition, the event will be staged during the Christian Booksellers Convention, also being held in St. Louis, July 15-19, where more than 8,000 gospel retailers, distributors and manufacturers will participate in one of the largest trade exhibits in the world.

Among seminar panelists and speakers are Grady Nutt, professional humorist/entertainer, speaker and writer; Billy Ray Hearn, president of Sparrow Records; Dave Wortman, "On The Air," president of Promotion; Scott Campbell, program director, KBHL-FM; Terry Sheppard, director of national radio promotion, Maranatha! Music; Rick Painter, operations directors, KQLH-FM; Don Butler, executive director of the Gospel Music Assn., and John Styll, editor of Contemporary Christian Music.

Other include David Benware, president, David Benware Associates; Dan Hickling, national radio coordinator, Word, Inc.; John Bass, executive director, Christian Booksellers Assn.; Steve Horton, radio promotion, Paragon/New Pax Records; Jim Black, director of gospel and pop music, SESAC, Inc.; Darrell Harris, president, Star Song Records; Jack Bailey, president, C. M. E. Productions/Bailey Media; Larry Black, host of the "Larry Black Show" and director of promotion and public relations, Paragon/New Pax Records; Jerry Bryant, producer/host, "Jesus Solid Rock," a syndicated radio program; Matt Steinhauer, record promotion manager, the Benson Co., and Gentry McCreary, director of national radio promotion, Light Records.

Advance registration is $60. After Monday (9), registration is $70. For information regarding the seminar, contact Jim Black, 615/244-1992, or the Gospel Music Assn.'s office, 615/242-0303.

Song Festival Launching Competition

NASHVILLE—The Music City Song Festival has announced gospel competition open to both amateur and professional songwriters and lyricists and amateur solo and group vocalists in song, lyrics and vocal performance categories.

In respective amateur and professional song and lyric and amateur vocal performance categories, entrants will compete in the traditional inspirational, contemporary, black and country gospel fields with prizes of equal value to be awarded in each the amateur and professional divisions on or before Jan. 31, 1980.

The Music City Song Festival's gospel competition is a presentation of Music City Gospel, Ltd., and is endorsed by Norman Weiser, president of SESAC, Inc.; Hal Spencer, president of Manna Music and Records; Dr. Jesse Peterson, president of Tempo Records and Peter Kladder, president of the Zondervan Corp., which includes Singspiration Music.

Among the judges for this year's competition, which closes Nov. 30, are James Blackwood, Gospel Music Hall of Fame member and recording artist; Shirley Caesar, composer and recording artist; Reba Rambo Gardner, composer and recording artist; Paul Johnson, president of Paul Johnson Productions and composers; Mosie Lister, Gospel Hall of Fame member and composer, and Otis Skillings, composer, arranger and conductor.

Because of the nature of the competition, professional songwriters and lyricists may not enter material that has been published or released on record prior to Nov. 30, 1979.

For more information and entry applications, write to: Music City Song Festival, Gospel Competition, P. O. Box 120050, Nashville, Tenn. 37212.

Rating Firm Goes Under

NEW YORK—Audits & Surveys has closed its syndicated radio research division known as TRAC 7.

The audience measurement service was once scheduled to go into 50 markets using telephone recall surveys where interviewers were directed in their questioning by on-line computer terminals.

But the service never really got off the ground. It gave away its rating reports it had hoped to sell earlier this year when it encountered computer problems.

It had expected to sell an October/December report to 50 ad agencies and 40 radio stations before these problems developed. That report covered New York, Washington, San Francisco and Dallas-Fort Worth.

Vice president Avery Gibson said

Win-Mil Adds 6 Organ Albums

CHICAGO—Win-Mil Records has added six new titles to its contemporary organ series, used in musical instrument sales and promotion.

Kimball, Lowrey, Wurlitzer, Hammond, and Thomas work with the label in producing the LP disks.

Newest releases showcase organists Chris Anderson, Glenn Deringer, Jim McGill, John Norton, Frank Renaut, Seth Rye and Ralph Wolf. Several new organ models are featured.

The label, a division of Hal Leonard publishing in Milwaukee, claims the records are selling successfully at retail.

Exhibit By Defrin

NEW YORK—Atlantic Records art director Bob Defrin has organized and mounted an exhibit here of the label's artwork at the Art Directors Club.

Called "Stereo Optionals," the show, running from May 16 to June 8, is a retrospective presentation of the work of Atlantic's designers, both past and present.

Monterey Festival Names Execs

LOS ANGELES—Lawrence R. Bemis and Dr. Joseph M. Turner have been named president and vice president respectively of the Monterey Jazz Festival.

Bemis, who has been a festival director since 1962, succeeds Dr.

that a high price, almost as expensive as Arbitron, prevented wide acceptance of the service.

The technology adopted by Audits & Surveys had been developed by an industry committee formed under the direction of the Radio Advertising Bureau to offer an alternative to Arbitron's diary-keeping method of measuring audience.

Prison Airing Firmed In Calif.

LOS ANGELES—KCRW-FM in suburban Santa Monica will celebrate July 4 in a big way, with an all-day jazz special to be climaxed by a live 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. broadcast of Jerry Rusch's band from the Terminal Island prison.

Produced by Ron Pelletier, the prison broadcast will be the first of its kind for jazz in this area. A one-hour Louis Armstrong special commemorating what would be his 79th birthday is scheduled from noon to 1 p.m., produced by Isabel Holt and hosted by Billy Carrigan and Jon Clayton. Five hours of other music also are programmed.

KCRW-FM is an NPR outlet at 89.9 on the dial.

Chicago Rick's Woos Students

CHICAGO—Rick's Cafe Americain is promoting jazz performances to college students with a special discount policy.

Students and faculty can attend jazz performances at the lake shore club without cover charge three nights per week. The room also will discount collegiates' drinks by 20%.

Recent bookings have included Jay McShann, Buddy Tate, Joe Morello and Claude Williams performing as a group, and an ensemble led by Jimmy Forrest and Al Grey.

Upcoming bookings include Roy Eldridge, kicking off the club's third anniversary celebration in July; Bill Evans, Joe Williams and Billy Taylor. The venue is located in Chicago's Lake Shore Holiday Inn.

Henry T. Hutchins Jr. while Turner, who has been a director since 1962, succeeds Bemis.

The Monterey Jazz Festival has announced the dates of its annual event, Sept. 14-16, but no acts have been confirmed.

TAPPAN ZEE Personal Relationships With Acts Give Label Big Edge Over Majors

By ROMAN KOZAK

NEW YORK—"The reason that I got started as a record executive is because so many musicians seem to think there is a great wall between them and the executives and I felt that I had the background where I could serve both by being in the middle," says musician/composer/producer Bob James, who in the last two years has also been the president of his own Tappan Zee label.

Tappan Zee, which has recently opened new offices at 100 West 57th St. in New York, (212) 765-0580, is distributed by Columbia Records, where James once headed the jazz a&r department before convincing the company to give him the autonomy of his own label.

Since then Tappan Zee has released two Bob James LPs, with the second one, "Touchdown," now nearing gold. Other artists on the label who have had LPs include Richard Tee, Wilbert Longmire, Mongo Santamaria and Mark Colby. Currently James is working on a duet LP with U/A artist Earl Klugh, and has just finished producing an LP by pianist Joanne Brackeen.

"Our idea now is to solidify our own image, while our main challenge is to work with new artists. In a sense we are in competition with the Columbia jazz department, but for many new artists it makes more sense to be produced by me or by Jay Chattaway. Also with a small roster I can work on developing the artists. And we can't really afford the established artists," admits James.

James says he finds his acts through his contacts with other jazz and fusion musicians. Most of his dealings with the artists are on the artistic level, with Peter Paul, the general manager, handling the business.

James says this arrangement gives him a certain amount of freedom, though he concedes that he is ultimately responsible to the "distributing godfather," as he calls Columbia, to make sure that the records he puts out turn out profitable.

However, he says, the economics of producing a jazz record, or even a fusion jazz/rock record are such that it is still possible to make records even if they do not go gold or beyond.

"For us, 500,000 units is a spectacular number. Because in this music, only a handful, George Benson or Chuck Mangione, go beyond that. And at the same time there is no reason to overindulge ourselves in the studio. We can make good albums for $50,000 or $60,000. Jazz is a spontaneous music, and we try to maintain that spontaneity on the record, which is then permanent," says James.

Motown Puts Emphasis On Its Jazz Line

LOS ANGELES—Motown Records' new jazz division is embarking on a major campaign to promote its first LP release by Dr. Strut, firming up merchandising tools and searching out new talent.

Mike Lushka, executive vice president for Motown, terms the new division a combination of pop, r&b and AOR-oriented sounds as well as jazz.

"We want to include the entire scope of jazz, from contemporary sounds of pop, r&b and AOR to the fusion elements of jazz," says Lushka. "In that sense we don't want to classify it."

Veteran recording figure Lee Young Sr. who heads the new division, produced R. Strut's LP. He stresses the theme concept for product and the featuring of established writers.

Steely Dan's Donald Fagan and Walter Becker penned "Canadian Star" on Strut's LP featuring the five-member band.

"What we're trying to stress is the uniqueness in production in working with people who've been with other groups, trying to make it all mesh as well as carrying a theme through," says Young.

Involved in jazz since 1974, Motown distributed CTI (Creed-Taylor Inc.) product, a pioneer in the jazz-pop label area, says Lushka for such artists as Grover Washington and George Benson.

With that previous experience and success in the jazz area, Motown, which stopped distributing CTI a year ago, decided to get into jazz with its own division.

Merchandising aids such as posters, special displays, T-shirts and radio spots aimed at r&b, jazz and AOR are set for retail use, says Lushka. Fifteen major markets have been singled out for Dr. Strut promotions with mock-up nurses and doctors visiting radio stations.

"We're preparing special radio and retail marketing programs as well as some mass merchandising," says Lushka. "Promotional mailings are going out to all formatted stations."

Three other groups are being groomed by Young, who underlines that Motown is not seeking to recycle "old, tired acts." "We intend to be selective in searching out new talent," he says.

Fuel Shortage Worrisome, But Tours OK Despite It

By KIP KIRBY

NASHVILLE—The fuel shortage coupled with a nationwide independent truckers strike has caused some difficulties for country performers on the road. But so far tours have not seriously been crippled.

The general order of the day at booking and management agencies in Nashville appears to be "business as usual," with virtually no cancellations and few reschedulings of dates.

However, acts are relying on several precautionary measures to cope with current diesel and gasoline scarcities. Many are requesting their booking agents to phone ahead and arrange for the local promoter at the concert site to reserve sufficient fuel supplies for their tour vehicles.

Travel time between dates is being increased, with acts leaving up to a full day early and returning a day later than usual. In regions of the country where fuel has been particularly hard to obtain such as the Northeast and West, acts are trying to avoid traveling more than the distance of one tank of gas (a standard Silver Eagle bus used by most country acts holds between 180-200 gallons of diesel and can travel approximately 1,000 miles per tank).

With incidents of scattered violence reported in parts of the Southeast and Northeast as a result of the strike called by independent truckers, some acts have also begun curtailing their nighttime driving in order to avoid being mistaken for tractor-trailer rigs in the dark.

One well-known artist mentioned that when it was unavoidable to drive during the night hours, she insisted that the curtains be left open and lights on in the windows to clearly distinguish the vehicle as a bus.

The soaring prices of diesel and gasoline fuel doesn't appear to be a deterrent to acts who spend time on the road. Most say they are willing to pay whatever is necessary to obtain fuel.

"Our artists don't care if they have to pay $2 a gallon for the stuff just as long as they can get it," observes Jim Prater, an agent at the Buddy Lee Agency which books such acts as Del Reeves, Jack Greene & Jeannie Seeley and the Drifting Cowboys.

Also, agencies and artists appear more willing to absorb reduced profit margins during the current crisis rather than risk cancelling dates altogether.

Notes Robert Stewart, vice president of artist development at Sound Seventy Corp. in Nashville which manages Wet Willie, the Charlie Daniels Band, Dobie Gray and the Henry Paul Band: "Our expenses are running a lot higher right now, but we are ready to deal with this if it means our acts can still make their dates. However, we are becoming more discriminating about where we book these days."

"You've got to be a businessman now as well as a performer," advises Billy Deaton, president of Billy Deaton Talent. "We're instructing our acts to start looking for fuel well in advance of leaving for each date, and we're doing a lot of telephoning ahead to be sure promoters are ready to line up diesel fuel for them. This situation has got everyone on their toes working harder."

In the last two weeks, he notes, his agency has had Faron Young on the road from Nashville through Houston and Lubbock, Tex., Hank Snow on the highways from Tennessee to Toronto, Ontario, and Bobby Lewis in the Midwest, "with no one missing a single date or having any trouble making a show."

Says Terry Cline, assistant to Jim Halsey at the Tulsa agency, "We are monitoring things very closely at this point. Obviously we're concerned when our artists are scheduled into an area that has had ugly violence or reports fuel scarcity. Running out of gas in a bus is a whole lot different from running out of gas in a car. You have to pull special fuel filters, fill a complicated system of gas lines... it can take several hours to get a bus back on the road if you ever do hit empty."

However, Cline adds that the Halsey Co. has had artists such as Tammy Wynette, Johnny Rodriguez, Mel Tillis, Freddy Fender and the Oak Ridge Boys on the road in the last week traveling by bus with no problems reported.

Among the acts who have been adversely affected by the combination of fuel shortages and incidents of publicized violence stemming from the truckers strike were Waylon Jennings, Hank Williams Jr., Jeannie Pruett and Vern Gosdin.

Jennings' office reported rescheduling two dates for the singer in Buffalo and Binghamton, N.Y., from mid-June into early August, with one cancellation in Saratoga Springs that was unable to be rebooked.

"It cost us a tremendous amount of money to change these dates," says a Jennings spokesman, "but Waylon travels with an entourage that includes two tractor-trailer rigs, a diesel bobcat and three Silver Eagle buses. He didn't feel that going into an area of the country where shooting and violence had already occurred would be safe for his people."

Hank Williams Jr. also missed these dates, since he was scheduled to appear with Jennings.

Singer Jeannie Pruett cancelled shows in Killeen and Seven Points, Tex., because of violence and the threat of fuel shortages, according to her agent, Lavender.

And Vern Gosdin, who customarily travels by bus, took a standard trailer and van instead for his dates in Texas recently when diesel fuel was reputed to be unusually scarce.

"We've been using local area sound companies on dates to minimize the equipment acts have to travel with," notes Prater. "Wherever possible, we're also attempting to fly our artists in for dates and book in places where airline service is available as a standby measure."

Prater adds that contracts issued from the Buddy Lee Agency now contain a rider that makes the booking subject to fuel availability, a practice which he expects to continue indefinitely until the current fuel scare is resolved.

And country entertainer T.G. Sheppard reports that as an extra precautionary device, he is planning to outfit his touring bus with a double system of gas tanks "just in case."

ASCAP Execs Form Southern Panel

NASHVILLE—ASCAP executives recently convened in Nashville for two days to oversee the formation of a Southern Writer's Advisory panel and participate in the annual Southern Membership meeting, held at the Richland Country Club.

Among the visiting executives were Stanley Adams, president; Paul Marks, managing director; Paul Adler, membership director; Gerald Marks, board member, and Gloria Messinger, assistant general counsel.

The Southern Writer's Advisory panel, consisting of ASCAP writers Frank Stanton, Arthur Kent, Archie Jordan, Rory Bourke, Bill Rice, Jerry Foster, Dottie Rambo, Bob Morrison, Eddy Raven, John Schweers and Buzz Cason, gathered with visiting executives and the regional staffers, Ed Shea, Southern regional executive director; Merlin Littlefield, assistant director; Connie Bradley, assistant director; Rusty Jones, Southern director of public relations, and Judy Gregory, director of writer and publisher administration, during a luncheon meeting held at ASCAP's headquarters.

With its first formal meeting, the Advisory panel elected to function on a yearly rotation basis, allowing an exercise in society democracy amongst its fellow songwriters.

Highlighting the membership meeting were reports given by Adams, Paul Marks, Adler, Gerald Marks, Messinger and Shea. A reception followed.

BUYER SALUTE—Hap Peebles of the Harry Peebles Agency, Kansas City, Kan., accepts a token of appreciation from Tandy Rice, center, president of Top Billing, Inc., Nashville, and cajun artist Jimmy C. Product Gaining Sales In Europe

By GERRY WOOD

MONTE CARLO—The international impact of country music surfaces frequently overseas—from the illuminating sessions of Billboard's IMIC conclave to the record stores and concert halls of the European countries.

A random check of country product in stores shows it's available in all the markets observed: Brussels, Amsterdam, Paris, Nice, Monte Carlo, Florence and Venice. Occasionally it's supported by window or in-store posters though the highest touted American product presently appears to be disco and RCA's "Hair" soundtrack LP.

Though country music normally doesn't receive the prime promotional and merchandising thrust accorded other forms of U.S. music, it has come a long way from a decade ago when it was virtually non-existent on European shelves.

Promoted country product leans toward the acts with a rockabilly past (Jerry Lee Lewis, Carl Perkins, Johnny Cash) or crossover present (Kenny Rogers, Crystal Gayle, Roy Clark). But even hardcore country acts such as Slim Whitman and Loretta Lynn are now racked overseas.

Previous Billboard articles have related the plans and projects of major labels in spreading country to the European market: specific promotional ventures, efforts at securing hard-earned radio play on the limited outlets, and tie-ins with tours.

An increasing amount of country acts are jetting to Europe for concerts. Because of travel and lodging costs, these tours are usually break-even at best. At worst, they're a financial disaster.

But, whether disaster or borderline black ink, they're usually worth it. The European audience becomes easily devoted to American acts who take the time, trouble and care to bring their music to new lands, for new people and new ears.

Slim Whitman's success in England is just one example. A Whitman LP is likely to break onto the British all-inclusive chart at No. 1. Mervyn Conn's Wembley Festival now heading for its 11th year and spreading to new countries beyond England, has effectively showcased much major talent with residual effects of greater European sales.

Tour posters of country, and even gospel, acts color many European cities from a Chuck Girard poster in Amsterdam to Kris Kristofferson in Paris. The assault has seen the first ranks hit the shores with sporadic bursts of promotional artillery.

The major assault has yet to hit. But the battle plan has been drawn by the top executives of leading labels who have learned that the unparalleled success of country music in the U.S. can indeed be considered an export commodity.

That theme was reflected at Billboard's revealing IMIC sessions held in Monte Carlo, June 12-14. Bruce Lundvall, CBS Records Division president, showed a film, narrated by Kristofferson, of the tour of CBS acts to Cuba. Lundvall noted the Cubans had requested that Kristofferson be one of the performers since he was known through the movie "A Star Is Born" which had played in Havana.

The spotlight was aimed briefly at Nashville in the Presidents' Panel on music publishing. Mike Stewart, chairman of the session and president of Interworld Music, remarked, "What's happening now in New York, Los Angeles and Nashville through the National Music Publishers Assn. has brought back into focus the role of the publisher in America and everything he's trying to stand for in the record industry."

Stewart referred to the successful seminars held for young publishers in those cities. He noted that the questions were "naive and backward" at the forum a year ago, but had improved dramatically in recent months.

"I was really impressed at the forum held recently in Nashville. The subject was international publishing, and these kids were asking questions that were deep, sensitive, intelligent and sophisticated."

In another panel, Peter Kirsten, president of Global Music Group, looking at the future of music in West Germany, commented, "There will be country rock in the future of Germany."

Meanwhile, Saturday (7) is the date for the first all-country package to be held at the Montreux Jazz Festival in Switzerland.

Roy Clark, the Oak Ridge Boys, Barbara Mandrell and Buck Trent will be featured on the country debut show. It will be presented by MCA Records in association with the Jim Halsey Co. of Tulsa.

You have in your hands and before your eyes what could prove to be the most important and comprehensive industry listing of the country music business.

And you have it at your disposal during the most important time in country music history. The past year has seen the phenomenal growth of country music soar to new heights. This grass-roots music form has become one of the hottest items on the retail level (as confirmed by a NARM survey) and has posted an impressive 25% gain on the nation's airwaves (according both to the Country Music Assn. and Arbitron).

Country's success story isn't confined to the U.S., because record sales, promotions and radio/tv exposure have mushroomed on an international basis.

To keep the cream of the country at your fingertips, Billboard is proud to present its third edition of the Country Music Sourcebook.

Within these pages you'll find the Who's Who and the What's What of Country Music. From A to Z—address to zip codes—you'll find what you need to know and who you need to know to join the golden/platinum surge of country music.

What's the address of ASCAP, BMI or SESAC? Try the Sourcebook's Organizations listing. Want to know Roy Clark's record label, booking agent and personal manager? Go directly to Artists. Do not pass go or go beyond the boundaries of this mini-encyclopedia.

What is that booking agent's address and phone number? Flip to Booking Agents. And personal managers? Yes, let your fingers do the walking to the Personal Managers list.

Likewise, you'll find concert promoters broken down into state-by-state listings. There's also a valuable listing of independent record promoters.

If you're ready to wheel and deal, thumb your way to the Record Companies category. These listings will show, not only the Nashville office information and key employees, but also the other main offices.

Nashville is known as a songwriters' and publishers' town. Billboard's Country Music Sourcebook recognizes this fact with an up to date listing of the top music publishers.

It's hard to keep a handle on the explosion in country music radio stations, but you'd be well advised to start at the segment on Radio Stations, delineated by state and city. It's followed by syndicated country music programs and their producers.

Exclusive Billboard programming aids are included and one of the most popular—and frequently used—portions of past Sourcebooks has been the Birthdays listing, providing you with a daily breakdown of country music stars' birthdates.

This year, we've added international listings, making Billboard's 1979-80 Country Music Sourcebook the most complete directory of its kind ever published.

It's yours to enjoy, explore and use. Do it.

Shure microphones
do something great for all these great voices.

Look beyond a Shure microphone and you're likely to spot a star. And that is especially true in Nashville. Country superstars insist on Shure microphones because of the consistent reliability and clear, natural sound that make these microphones the "Sound of the Professionals." Make them part of YOUR next performance. Ask your Shure dealer about Shure microphones and tell him Bill, "Crash," Crystal, Mickey, Tom T., Sonny, George, Loretta, Barbara, Ronnie, Eddie, Charlie, Conway, LeRoy, and Tammy sent you.

Send for the free Shure Booklet, "Shure Microphones," AL314J.

A 5-hour celebration of 1979 in a total entertainment package!

The Year In Country Music • The Year In News • The Year In Sports • Movie Sound Clips • Personality Interviews and a dynamic recap of The Country Music Of The 70's.

Wrap up the year in country music with BILLBOARD'S YEARBOOK 1979, based on Billboard Magazine's Country Charts. Five completely self-contained hours of programming suitable for a single exciting 5-hour special, or strip it for continuous impact throughout the big holiday weekend.

Last year BILLBOARD'S YEARBOOK dazzled on more than 400 stations. The big country music version featured candid interviews and the music of such country superstars as Waylon Jennings, Linda Ronstadt, Dolly Parton, Willie Nelson, Loretta Lynn, Emmylou Harris, and Crystal Gayle. This year the stars, their views, and their sounds are even more explosive! Five hours on stereo discs. Price: Relative market fee plus barter. Rated markets, $125; non-rated markets, $100.

Billboard's Yearbook 1979 will be available in late December. Mail coupon to:

Let's save energy now.

"This used to be a flourishing, gold-rich town. The people who lived here never thought it would end up like this."

But the gold ran out.

"Today we run the risk of losing something more precious than gold. Our country's energy. We waste a shameful amount of it.

"We can't afford to waste more time or more energy. We've got to start saving our resources today.

"Join me in an important new alliance of concerned Americans... the Alliance to Save Energy. Together we can make a significant contribution to the future of our country.

"For our children... and their children... Let's not blow it, America."

If you want the condenser microphone sound on stage, Electro-Voice gives you that option.

The PL76 and PL77 condenser cardioid microphones are fast becoming the number one choices of vocalists who want to make the "studio-condenser" sound a part of their act. Both mikes give you condenser performance in a package that competes with dynamic microphone durability. Their gutsy, bass-boosting proximity effect adds presence to any voice. The PL76 is powered by a 4.5 volt battery. The PL77 is similar except that it is also phantom powerable. The "77's" output is 4 dB down from the "76's" to allow for more flexibility at the mixing board, and it has a recessed on/off switch that many sound men prefer.

For those desiring the more traditional dynamic sound, the PL91 and PL95 fit the bill perfectly. The PL91, with its mild bass-boost and clear highs is a joy to work with. The PL95, the "pro's choice" in a dynamic cardioid, offers the best gain-before-feedback of any dynamic mike in the business – a test we invite you to make.

Electro-Voice also offers four superb instrument microphones. The PL5 dynamic omni is the mike to use when high sound pressure levels are encountered, as you would find when miking bass drums or amplified guitars, basses or synthesizers.

The PL6, with its patented Variable-D' construction gives you cardioid (directional) performance without up-close bass boost – perfect for miking brass, reeds, percussion or piano. The PL11, even though it's a directional mike, maintains its response curve off axis. "Leaked" sound from off-axis instruments are faithfully reproduced – not colored in any way.

E-V's PL9 dynamic omni has one of the flattest frequency response curves in the business – from 40 to 18,000 Hz. And its small size lets you mike instruments you couldn't get near with other mikes offering this performance.

All E-V Pro-Line microphones come with super-tough Memraflex grille screens that resist denting. Designed to keep your mikes looking like new for a long time. All have a non-reflecting gray finish that won't compete for attention under bright stage lights.

When the time comes to update your current mike setup, we invite you to A-B Electro-Voice Pro-Line mikes against any others, for any application. If you try them, you'll want them in your act.

Hits Rolling From CBS Song Firms

NASHVILLE—After only two years of operation locally, April/Blackwood Music has scored a notable string of successes that has kept the company active on the country charts.

Such Billboard Hot Country Singles chart entries as "Just Long Enough To Say Goodbye" by Mickey Gilley, "Don't Feel Like The Lone Ranger" by Leon Everette, "Lines" by Jerry Fuller and "I'm Getting Into Your Love" by Ruby Falls have given April/Blackwood a strong flurry of activity in recent weeks.

Additionally, Charlie Monk, director of Southern operations for the CBS-owned publishing venture, notes that April/Blackwood tunes are included in a total of 13 current country albums by such artists as Anne Murray, Ronnie Milsap, the Oak Ridge Boys, Kenny Rogers and Dottie West, Billie Jo Spears, Mickey Gilley, Cristy Lane, Ray Price and Dottie West.

April/Blackwood's Nashville office works with seven staff writers whose catalogs include both country and other material. These writers are Roger Murrah, Chris Waters, Keith Stegall, Jerry Foster, Bill Rice, Jerry Fuller, producer Larry Butler and artist Dottie West.

Special effort is being exerted, says Monk, to secure cover recordings of material by internationally known artists such as Billy Joel, Laura Nyro and Peter McCann, who are also April/Blackwood songwriters.

Judy Harris, professional manager for the Nashville office, notes that forthcoming for the publishing firm are recorded cuts by Roy Clark, Conway Twitty, Loretta Lynn, Dave and Sugar, Rex Allen Jr., Narvel Felts, Sammi Smith, Kenny Rogers, Billy Larkin and a duet by Jacky Ward and Reba McEntire.

Other April/Blackwood songs that have enjoyed chart action this year are "The Songs We Made Love To" by Mickey Gilley, "Feet" by Ray Price, "Lonely Hearts Club" and "Love Ain't Gonna Wait For Us" by Billie Jo Spears, "Toe To Toe" by Freddy Hart, "I'd Like To See Jesus On The Midnight Special" by Tammy Wynette, and "Baby I'm Yours" by Debby Boone.

McDowell Looks To July 14 Fest

NASHVILLE—Epic artist Ronnie McDowell will stage his first Ronnie McDowell Music Festival on July 14 in his hometown of Portland, Tenn.

The event will bring in members of his national fan club for a day of festivities and entertainment, including guest appearances by Conway Twitty, Roy Drusky, the Jordanares and McDowell.

The rest also marks the opening of McDowell's new office building and recording studio, with special ceremonies scheduled to kick off the affair starting at noon. At that time, all visiting celebrities will have their handprints cast in cement outside the building in a "Walk of Stars" that adorns the front driveway.

Entertainment begins at 2 p.m., with McDowell's concert slated for 8 p.m. that evening.

McDowell is coordinating the festival with city officials in Portland, located 30 miles outside Nashville, and expects it to become an annual affair.

Gayle Grabs Golden Reel Second Time

By KIP KIRBY

NASHVILLE — Ampex Corp. presented Crystal Gayle with her second Golden Reel award May 24 at Jack's Tracks Studio. The award was made for Gayle's recent RIAA-certified gold LP, "When I Dream."

The artist received a special Golden Reel plaque, along with a $1,000 charity check from Ampex, which she presented to Buddies of Nashville, a local non-profit organization.

Also receiving award plaques for their efforts on "When I Dream" were Gayle's producer, Allen Reynolds; chief engineer Garth Fundis, assistant engineer John Donegan and the recording studio, Jack's Tracks.

Presenting the awards and check were Cher Cunningham, Ampex Golden Reel program coordinator, and Thomas Clark, Ampex mastering tape representative.

Ampex has presented more than 100 awards since the program began two years ago. Some $100,000 has been given to charitable causes designated by the award-winning performers, and more than 500 Golden Reel plaques have been given to artists, producers, studios and engineers.

The purpose of the Golden Reel award, notes Peter Cain, market development manager for Ampex's magnetic tape division, is to recognize the talents that contribute to a hit record and to acknowledge the contributions of magnetic tape in the recording process.

Gayle's previous Golden Reel award came for her earlier album, "We Must Believe in Magic," which also won awards for Reynolds, Fundis, Donegan and Jack's Tracks.

Gilley's Growing

NASHVILLE—Gilley's Club in Pasadena, Tex., listed in the Guinness Book of World Records as the world's largest nitery with a seating capacity of more than 3,000 and a total capacity of 5,500, is breaking ground for a new section.

Plans call for an additional 1,200 square feet to be constructed on the site of an old storeroom that was destroyed by fire earlier this year.

'MILLION MILE TOUR' Daniels Band Pulling Big

By SALLY HINKLE

NASHVILLE—The Charlie Daniels Band's "Million Mile Tour" is accelerating as it gears up to top last year's coast to coast U.S. tour which reportedly grossed more than $3 million.

More than 10,000 tickets were reportedly sold in one day for the group's May 4 performance, with special guests the Henry Paul Band, at the Nassau Coliseum on Long Island. Reserved seats were ticketed at $8 and $9, and the 16,732-seat sell-out, presented by Ruffino-Vaughn Productions, grossed $142,544, an all-time record for the band.

Promoter Larry Vaughn comments that if the band's current Epic album, "Million Mile Reflections," had been out a month earlier, "we could have done two shows at the Coliseum."

The "Million Mile Tour" premiered at the Kiel Opry House in St. Louis April 23, the first of five consecutive soldout dates, which reportedly grossed a total $232,806.50.

St. Louis is the traditional starting point for the band's tours, and this year tickets soldout two hours after going on sale. The concert was promoted by Contemporary Productions, which reportedly grossed $28,394 in the 3,557-seat building.

Grosses, attendance, promoter and venue for the three other sold-out dates included a reported $58,430 gross, 8,857 attendance for Fantasma Productions at the Lee County Arena in Ft. Meyers, Fla.; a reported $51,540 gross, 7,000 attendance for Jack Boyle for Cellar Door at the Jai-Alai Fronton in Miami, and a reported $17,376 gross, 2,600 attendance for Franklin & Marshall College in Lancaster, Pa.

The 10 dates on the first leg of the tour, which ended with a sellout at Boston's Orpheum Theatre, May 6, reportedly grossed $452,767 and netted a total attendance of 58,701.

Molly Hatchet was special guest for the three Florida dates with the Henry Paul Band in that slot for St. Louis and Lancaster, Pa., and for approximately 50% of the remaining tour dates.

In 1978, the band generally headlined in a three-act package, but this year's shows are limited to two acts in most cases.

For the current tour, the six-member group has added three backup singers and five horns, "The El Ay Reflection Section," all recruited from Los Angeles.

The band's crew has been increased this year to help facilitate hanging sound and lights and generally larger and more sophisticated production requirements. Set design utilizes a 16 foot by 12 foot by 13 foot riser for the two drummers, and 4 foot by 8 foot by 2 foot risers for the horn section and singers respectively.

Paintings of Elvis Presley, Janis Joplin and Ronnie Van Zant are consecutively illuminated on a 40-foot by 20-foot backdrop when the group plays "Reflections," a tribute to these three artists and the title song from its new album.

The 39-member entourage travels in a 30-foot motor home and two MCI coaches with three tractor trailers carry equipment.

The band, on the second leg of the tour during the month of May, played some 15 dates in Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Alabama, Louisiana and Oklahoma. It now heads for the West Coast with a Canadian tour in mid-summer to precede six weeks of fair and amusement park dates before a planned European and Australian tour.

Nevada All-Out For Country Acts

NASHVILLE—Country acts are in demand on the Nevada entertainment circuit, with the Jim Halsey Co. reporting packed houses for a number of its entertainers there.

Freddy Fender and country comic George "Goober" Lindsey completed a two-week engagement June 12 at the Silverbird Hotel in Las Vegas, while Ray Price and Tammy Wynette headlined a week at the Frontier Hotel beginning June 7.

Mel Tillis takes center stage at John Ascuaga's Nugget in Sparks, Nev., for a two-week appearance kicking off June 14.

And Roy Clark is scheduled to return to the Frontier Hotel Aug. 18-29 for a return engagement.

Walter Kane, entertainment director of Summa Corp. and Jim Halsey, president of the Halsey agency, have completed negotiations for an unprecedented multiple-week deal featuring Mel Tillis at the Frontier Hotel in Las Vegas beginning Nov. 22.

CBS Going Into the Ball Park

NASHVILLE — CBS Records teams up with the Nashville Sounds, the Cincinnati Reds' minor league team, Tuesday (3), as the Sounds play host to the Jacksonville Suns, the Kansas City Royals' minor league team, for a double header.

CBS' participation includes album giveaways between innings and seven-inch samplers of Charly McClain, Lynn Anderson, Johnny Rodriguez and Willie Nelson/Leon Russell to fans as they enter the gates of the stadium.

Heavy New Product Soon Coming From DRG Label

NEW YORK—DRG Records, specializing mainly in nostalgia product, is readying the release of new product in the months ahead.

Despite the soft market, label president Hugh Fordin claims that May was the best month in the company's three-year history.

Product due over the next two months includes several new sessions, including a Peggy Lee album, "Close Enough For Love," recorded at the Filmways/Heider studios in Hollywood.

Also, from England, the company will market a Charles Aznavour set, "We Were Happy Then," recorded several months ago by MAM Records in England. The release of this package will tie-in with a cross-country tour here by Aznavour, starting with Carnegie Hall July 19-21. The French star will also make an in-person appearance at Sam Goody's Sixth Ave. outlet.

With Robert Kingston of RK Records in England, Fordin has made a deal for the release of the soundtrack of "Edward & Mrs. Simpson," the British television series with a score by Ron Grainer. The set is due around Christmas, in conjunction with the airing here of the Mobile-sponsored series.

Due in the summer are a 2-LP package, "Blossom's On Broadway," a compilation of two albums previously marketed by Verve, "Soubrette" and "Blossom Dearie Sings Comden & Green."

Sound Waves

By IRWIN DIEHL

NEW YORK—About 35 miles out of the New York metro area, a small but efficient 4-track studio was completed about eight months ago, intended to aid and support the serious composer of electronic/computer music. The studio, Sonavera, is a culmination of five years planning by founders Afef Kholdani, vice president and Alireza Mashheyeki, music director.

It's Mashheyeki's opinion that a continual discovery of new compositional material is key to the process of composing. Sonavera's idyllic "country house" setting in Hawthorne, N.Y., certainly is an ingredient important to cultivating that discovery.

Another important aspect of realizing the proper atmosphere for composing is choice of the "right" computer-synthesizer system. Mashheyeki's selection was the New England Digital Corp's model A computer with that company's digital synthesizer complement, the Synclavier.

The New England Digital synthesizer is polyphonic, has 16 oscillators and a means for controlling a great many overtones of synthesized instruments. Modulation density, amplitude of harmonics, volume envelope and a number of additional elements are easily manipulated.

The instrument accommodates both pitched (any scale) or non-pitched operation. All parameters (total of 30) are readily computer controlled via a Lear-Siegler terminal or more traditionally with an electronic keyboard/control panel. Computer instructions pertaining to compositions may be printed-out for documentation on a standard teletype terminal.

Studio production facilities include a TEAC 3440S 4-track recorder with variable speed, Sound Workshop 1280B (12-input, 8-out mixer), Urban Parasound 111B reverb unit and a model 622 parametric equalizer, a DC servo Scully 280B 2-track, Revox 8877 2-track and a combination Sonab-McIntosh four-channel monitor system.

Technical director Dary John Mizelle is responsible for maintaining performance and orderly operation of the studio facilities. The multi-channel recording facilities combined with the computer's minifloppy disc memory system, which can store commands for an entire composition, offer a production capability adequate for even the most complex projects.

Though designed to Mashheyeki's specifications and requirements the Sonavera studio is available to any serious composer. A non-profit organization, the studio is available in a variety of ways.

Sonavera sponsors competitions for the purpose of selecting promising new electronic music artists who might participate in the Sonavera "program." Winners receive cash prizes and invitations to perform at Sonavera-sponsored concerts. Outstanding artists are invited to share use of the sophisticated computer music studio in pursuit of their own compositional work.

Another facet of the Sonavera function is to provide instruction in the form of both private and classroom formats. Artists not familiar with computer music method may take advantage of beginning, intermediate and advanced courses in computer music and electronic music techniques.

GLENDALE'S MONTEREY

Ex-Musician Has New L.A. Area 24-Tracker

LOS ANGELES—A major new 24-track recording facility called Monterey Studios has opened in suburban Glendale.

Principal is Jack Daugherty who produced the Carpenters' initial singles and LPs for A&M.

The red-bricked facility measures 50 feet by 150 feet and was formerly a warehouse.

Inside, the studio itself measures 1,500 square feet with flexibility for separation. Approximately 40 musicians can be accommodated in the room.

The control, which is terraced and measures 600 square feet, contains a Sphere Eclipse C, 40 input console, Ampex 24 and 2-track tape machines, a custom George Augspurger monitoring system utilizing JBL components and such outboard equipment as Eventide flanger and harmonizer and Lexicon Prime Time digital delay.

The site also contains a 2,500 square foot area which will be utilized as a rehearsal or showcase area and, according to Daugherty, will later be turned into a mixdown room.

Among staff to date at the studio are ex-Kendun engineer Geoff Gillette who joins as staff engineer, ex-Cherokee maintenance engineer Martin Hall and engineer Jim Hopson.

Eugene Reynolds was consultant, David Holmes was project manager and George Augspurger handled acoustics as well as the monitoring system.

Daugherty, not active in production in recent years, indicates he will be getting more heavily involved in production again. He has three artists signed to him.

Daugherty also maintains a record label called Monterey Records and both the label and the studio are divisions of Jack Daugherty Productions.

A former Woody Herman and Gerald Wilson trumpeter as well as keyboardist, Daugherty has several LPs on Monterey, which are distributed independently, including "Carmel By The Sea."

He indicates that he will be inking a distribution deal with a major label for Monterey in the near future.

JIM McCULLAUGH

Gas Crisis Hits Wisconsin Boogie Scene

By MARTIN HINTZ

MILWAUKEE—A state of emergency declared June 21 in Wisconsin by Gov. Lee Dreyfus is the tip of a fuel crunch iceberg affecting discotheques around the state. The areas hardest hit are in the six counties surrounding Green Bay, a major northern city on Lake Michigan and site of some of the state's prime fuel tank farms.

The independent truckers' strike sweeping the country has virtually closed all gas stations in the district, with the resulting crunch for commuters and presenting a problem for recreational travelers.

As a result, attendance at discos in this car-oriented part of the country is off, and those people who are venturing to get out and boogie are turning to car-pooling in an effort to beat the fuel crunch.

"If this thing continues, it'll be a real pain in the butt," says Bill Dor-naus, manager of the Carlton West, one of the biggest Green Bay area discos. The club is located off Highway 41, the main expressway leading to Northern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. "There aren't many cars whizzing by today," says Dornaus.

He says there is a lot of concern expressed by his patrons who come from as far away as 30 to 40 miles. The Carlton West also has a Mexican restaurant and a Las Vegas style revue.

"I'm only getting 350 people when I can seat 1,000," says Dornaus. "The disco is doing better, we can handle about 300 and we're still getting that, even though we are on the edge of town," he adds. Dornaus says more people seem to be car-pooling and arriving in groups. His club has parking space for 550 cars, with only a portion taken up by customers.

"Sure, we're going to keep going, despite what happens. There is gas in this town, it just isn't being delivered. You can't make any money being shut down," he asserts.

Chuck McCarrell, owner of the Jungle Fever in downtown Green Bay, says the gas situation came up "awfully sudden" and that he hasn't had time to assess the impact on his business.

"We'll be able to tell the difference this weekend," he says. Being in the central part of town, with a strong clientele of regulars, helps, says McCarrell. "But recently I've noticed that folks haven't been moving around as much from club to club. That might have something to do with the fuel thing," he says.

His club has room for 500 and is open from 7 p.m. to 2 a.m. nightly except Monday. "We might car-pool our staff if things get tougher," McCarrell says.

Looking ahead toward the possibilities of a gas-tight summer, Mike

Dziuba, a DJ at Green Bay's Manhole, says, "People of our age, mid-20s or so, will use our heads and make do with the gas we can get. Most of the younger ages will try to get out of town this summer as fast as they can, to go places while they still might be able to get some fuel."

Some other parts of Wisconsin are more fortunate than Green Bay. Milwaukee police have been patrol-

1,000 Due At Forum

NEW YORK—Billboard's Disco Forum VI anticipates 1,000 participants from the U.S. and a dozen foreign countries at the New York Hilton, July 12-15.

Registrants from Greece, Iceland, France, West Germany, Britain, Finland, Japan, Italy, Venezuela, Puerto Rico, Canada and Trinidad will join with their colleagues from the 50 states for four days of meetings, panel discussions and entertainment tailored to the demands of disco owners, managers, DJs, recording company executives and disco broadcasters.

Nightly entertainment will feature top disco acts as well as open house parties and private affairs hosted by participating companies.

Acts slated to perform include Anita Ward, Peter Brown, Sister Sledge, Bonnie Pointer, Peaches & Herb, Ullanda, GQ, Atlantic Starr, Gloria Gaynor, Instant Funk and a special appearance by Al-Margret.

Approximately 130 exhibitors are expected to be on hand with booths displaying a wide range of disco supplies, from light and sound equipment to the latest in franchise systems and disco fashion accessories.

Among the exhibitors are Altec Lansing, Casablanca Records, BGW Systems, Blackstone Productions, CBS Records Group, Cerwin-Vega, dbx Inc., ekkor, Disconet, Electro-Harmonix Inc., GLI/Integrated Sound Systems Inc., Lasertronics, Richard Long Assoc., Lite-lab Corp., Miller Brewing Co., Polydor Inc., RCA Records, Portman Shore Electronics, the Science Fiction Corp., Stanton Magnetics Inc., Swivelier Co. Inc., Times Square Theatrical and Studio Supply, TK Records, Varaxon Electronics Inc., Techniques (Panasonic), JBL/Lansing Sound Inc. and Laser Presentations.

CBS Play: 8 Acts On One Bill

NEW YORK—CBS came up with an approach to the difficulty of presenting live disco acts which do not have sufficient material to fill an entire concert at a Roseland program here.

Called "One Hot Summer Night," the show featured eight acts from Columbia, Epic and other CBS labels performing 17 songs over a four-hour period.

Arma Andon, Columbia's vice president for artist development and one of the originators of the program, says consideration is being given to repeating the presentation in Los Angeles and possibly other cities as well.

The sellout program which also allowed 4½ hours of disco dancing, was sponsored along with promoters Flashback Productions and WBSL-FM. Frankie Crocker, the radio station's program director, served as emcee.

The first 1,000 persons attending the concert, paid a general admission of $12.50 (in advance) or $15.00 at the door and were given promotional copies of 12-inch records of CBS disco product.

MAJOR LABELS PARTICIPATE

Swedish Disco Seeks Directions

By RADCLIFFE JOE

NEW YORK—Major U.S.-based record labels including CBS, Polygram, Atlantic, RCA and Elektra are scheduled to participate in Disco Forum '79, a three-day convention sponsored by VSD, Sweden's official disco deejays' union.

The label representatives, including personnel from Casablanca, TK, RSO, Pye, EMI, K-tel and Metro-nome Records, will participate in a tight schedule of panels aimed at pulling the Scandinavian discotheque industry out of the doldrums, and placing it among such recognized leaders in the field as the U.S., England and France.

The forum will be held Aug. 5-7 at the Malmen Hotel, Stockholm. It will feature panel discussions for deejays, producers, artists, sales and promotion people, record labels, radio and other important aspects of the disco industry in Scandinavia.

According to Alex St. John, a member of the board of directors of VSD, the meeting is important to the survival of the disco industry in Scandinavia. He points to the fact that Scandinavia generally, and Sweden in particular, trails the U.S.,

England and many other parts of Europe in disco, and if something is not done now to turn the tide, it may even be passed by countries like China and the U.S.S.R.

St. John states that one of the most encouraging aspects of the project is the interest it has sparked among all aspects of the music industry in Sweden.

"If the interest we've managed to generate so far translates into action at the convention, then there is hope for the Scandinavian disco industry," states St. John.

Indict Studio 54 Execs On Taxes

By ROBERT ROTH

NEW YORK—Studio 54 co-owners Steve Rubell and Ian Schrager have been charged with skimming more than $2.5 million from the proceeds of their discotheque in a federal indictment handed down Thursday (28). The charges stem from a raid by Internal Revenue Service agents at the club Dec. 14, 1978 (Billboard, Dec. 23, 1978), and a subsequent investigation.

The 12-count indictment also names Richard DeCoursey, said to be a "manager, bookkeeper and corporate officer," of the discotheque.

Jack Dushey, the 54 partner rarely in the news, was named an undicted co-conspirator with the three others in evading the corporate income taxes due for 1978 and 1979 fiscal years. Dushey pleaded guilty to that charge before U.S. District Judge Whitman Knapp June 14, 1979 and could be sentenced to as much as five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

It is believed that Dushey has cooperated with the government and was therefore entitled to make the plea.

"Studio 54 was almost entirely a cash business," according to the indictment, with cash received from "admission, bar, cigarettes and coat check."

This money averaged $12,000 a day but sometimes went as high as $70,000 according to the court papers. Records of the true receipts, it is further charged "were kept secret, some of them being hidden behind ceiling panels in the basement of Studio 54."

After the defendants allegedly determined how much money they would skim from the proceeds, "they would subtract it from the actual gross cash receipt figures" and then record the resulting figures, the indictment continues, "in a separate set of books and records." The records were claimed to have been used to "conceal from the corporation's accountant the true and correct income."

The three defendants, besides being charged with conspiracy to evade taxes are also charged with actually evading the taxes and filing of a false return.

The government claims that the return signed by Dushey for the Broadway Catering Corp. which the three partners own, claimed a taxable income for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1978 of $47,807.27 with tax due of $8,366.97 which actually should have been income of $791,182.67 and taxes of $366,267.68.

Furthermore, says the indictment, "approximately $1,350,000" was omitted from the calculation of gross receipts on the return."

Other charges include personal tax evasion and obstruction of justice. Schrager, who is an attorney, is named in a separate information on the charge of possessing 26.47 grams of cocaine.

Rubell and Schrager each face up to 36 years imprisonment and fines of up to $60,000 on the tax charges.

Hot French Disco Curls America's Joes.

Patrick Hernandez is so hot he couldn't be contained. Europe was not enough. He brought his hit single "Born to Be Alive" ¹²⁻²³⁻¹⁹⁸⁷ all the way to America and straight to the top of the charts. ¹⁻³⁻¹⁹⁸⁸ Now the album is hurtling through the Berlitz barrier to fame and fortune. This is obviously music "Born to Be Alive." By Patrick (such! hot!) Hernandez.

Disco U.K. Seeks Disco Violence Halt

By PETER JONES

LONDON—Following shock figures of some 20 deaths as a result of disco brawls and violence over the past 18 months, a new code of conduct has been drawn up by local authorities to cover the still-growing discotheque scene.

Basically it is a four-pronged campaign. High on the list is to ensure more careful selection of "bouncers" for as a Greater London Council spokesman said: "There is no doubt that at some discos the strongarm tactics of some security staffers can cause a great deal of the trouble."

Another key plan is to draw up a "rogues' gallery" of disco thugs and troublemakers, so they can be more easily outlawed. Dancers are also to be searched for weapons on entry to the discos. And in a firm warning to club owners, Bryan Cassidy, vice chairman of the council's public services and safety committee, says: "Anyone not prepared to cooperate with our plan can expect us to take a tough line when we come to licensing premises as discos."

The meeting here which drew up the battle campaign involved the police, the council and representatives of top entertainment groups. It was emphasized that London has had seven disco deaths in the first four months of this year and while violence is nationwide the capital has had a disproportionate share of tragedies.

A recurring problem is that the Greater London Council has no real idea how many discos are operating, because many are unlicensed. Those that have licenses for music and dancing include ballroom clubs and country music halls.

One disco chief, Clive Bednash, of the Room At The Top, Ilford, has invested in a special $400 "body scanner" to help search his customers for hidden weapons. It is similar to that used in security checks at airports.

Though the new code is specifically aimed at controlling violence in the London area, it will inevitably be accepted at national level.

DEALERS INQUIRIES INVITED

LP Slanted To Skaters

NEW YORK—A group of New York musicians have recorded and are now dickering with several labels for distribution of an album of roller disco music.

Dr. York, a member of the Passion vocal group, and Leon Pendarvis, a respected session musician, have cut nine original tunes with titles like "Roller Rock" and "Shake And Skate." The album is called "Don't Stop" and features Passion's Angels, a two-woman, three-man singing group.

In conjunction with the album, Passion's manager Ozzie Brown has been distributing a roller disco newspaper that is sent to record companies, roller rinks around New York and skating clubs. Used as a marketing tool, the 12-page paper has been published three times and contains information on roller rinks and skate maintenance.

It also contains a top 10 chart of roller disco tunes. Brown asserts, "The kind of tunes that match roller skating rhythms are often different from what are effective on the regular disco floor."

Brown and company also are involved in promoting Skateway Products, a line of disco skating accessories, including booth covers, skating shorts, T-shirts and tote bags.

As a youngster, York skated regularly at the legendary home of disco skating, Brooklyn's Empire Roff-drome. He got his manager involved with it after observing its growing popularity among inner-city youths.

FUEL CRUNCH HITS CLUBS

Lights Dimmed On D.C. Nightlife

By JEAN CALLAHAN

WASHINGTON—Some club owners are still denying it, but after three full weeks of lining up for increasingly expensive and hard-to-get gas, local disco dancers are giving up the nightlife and staying home more often.

"The gas shortage has affected business," admits the manager of the popular Washington disco, the Plum. He estimates his business is off by about 20%.

However, Bob Allison, manager of Elan, another popular area discotheque, claims the gas crunch has had "no effect" on his business. Nonetheless, patrons to the club report much less crowded dance floors. They testify that this is also true of other Washington clubs.

"I thought Sundays would suffer because most gas stations are closed then, but surprisingly Sundays have not been so bad," states one club owner.

He adds: "It's weekdays that are really hurting." He also speculates that weekend business, buoyed, perhaps, by Washington residents who would normally head for the beach but are frightened away from the long drive by the gas shortage, is almost normal.

Weekday business at the clubs is affected, in part, by the city's subway system which closes down at night just as the clubs are opening their doors. In addition, cab drivers who staged a one-day strike last week to protest the fuel shortage, charge prohibitive fares to carry disco dancers from the suburbs to the city. As a result, suburbanites, who constitute a significant percentage of the disco crowd, must either use their cars or stay home. Many are electing to stay home.

"Customers are coming out less frequently, particularly during the week," reports Betty Hadaway who runs the Library, a disco near the District of Columbia city line in Bethesda, Md.

She adds that business is off by at least 30%, and that even club employees have encountered problems getting to and from work because of the gas shortage.

"We are all having trouble finding gas stations open, and many of us are depending on friends to drive us to and from work," Hadaway states. "To beat the problem couples are doubling up and car-pooling in their efforts to get to and from the discos," Hadaway adds.

Further compounding the problem is the tourist trade, usually a steady market for discotheques, and now suffering from a slump because of the gas crisis. In desperation some clubs are turning to offering special promotions to offset slow nights, while others are just throwing their hands up in frustration and closing early.

But even as gas-starved disco patrons elect to stay out in the suburbs, club owners are planning on bringing disco to them. Tony Newton, who recently opened Littlefeet, a teen disco in Northern Virginia, cites the crunch as one of the major reasons for locating his club in the suburbs.

ing the port and truck terminal areas where independent drivers have attempted a slowdown. The heavy show of force has so far kept the fuel tankers moving in the city. There are therefore fewer problems at the gas pumps.

"Besides, Milwaukee's discos are more concentrated," says George "Sonny" Maddente, manager of Teddy's Disco. "We haven't been as concerned yet as the guys are in Green Bay. Most of the discos here are primarily on the east side and downtown or clustered together out in the west end. Local people go to their local club," Maddente says. Yet Maddente did admit that Milwaukee has a floating disco crowd that could be affected in an energy crunch.

"They want to be where things are jumping and they'll always try out a new place," he says. "But really, the only one who is talking about gas these days is myself. I live across town from Teddy's," Maddente laughs.

Other Milwaukee clubs that cater to a special clientele, such as gays, will keep their regular crowd, says one disco owner. "I expect the gas problem will have an impact, but we're right on a main bus line. The guys'll get here," he adds with confidence.

Some of the nightspots in Wisconsin's hinterlands are not in bad shape. "We're about the only place midway between Madison and Milwaukee," says Jim Jones, manager of Fort Atkinson's Sunken Sub. "On weekends, folks come from all over, with the weekdays being primarily a local crowd," Jones says. The Sub has seating for 350 patrons and is usually crowded.

The same situation is noted at the Lake Geneva Playboy Club, in the Bunny Hutch Disco managed by Greg Slatley. "We're booked through the summer. The gas thing hasn't affected us yet, even with the Chicago people who drive up here."

Madison's bus system and the concentration of discos in the university area will alleviate any squeeze in the gas station lines, says Mark Mariucci, owner of Disco Active Wisconsin, a record pool. The pool serves 20 jocks around the state.

Disco Mix

By BARRY LEDERER

NEW YORK—Paul Jabara is hitting twofold with the release of his 12-inch 33½ r.p.m. on Casablanca titled "Disco Wedding" as well as his co-writing of the "Main Event/Fight" by Barbara Streisand on Columbia.

"Disco Wedding" is the first part of his 12-inch which is followed by "Honeymoon (In Puerto Rico)." The total running time of "Disco Wedding" is 11:17 minutes. It was produced by the artist who also portrays the bride and groom on the jacket cover. The disk starts to move when "Honeymoon" begins.

Here the melody and beat are consistent, infectious and Latin-flavored. Accentuated with punchy brass and several intense bongo and drum breaks, "Honeymoon" is the more potent part of the record which is reported to be part of an upcoming album.

Jabara is also responsible for writing the "Main Event/Fight" along with Bruce Roberts and Bob Esty. Producer Esty, who made a commercial success with Cher seems to have found the right combination with this 12-inch 33½ r.p.m. from Columbia. Taken from the original motion picture soundtrack of the same name, Streisand once again breaks into the full vocal force that has made her a favorite. A slow introduction leads into a tempo that is moving and forceful with arrangements by Esty that are effective.

No break is needed as Streisand carries this record through its 11:42 minute length. No doubt this disk will see pop crossover due to the artist's popularity and the record's commercial viability.

D. C. LaRue is probably the deejays' favorite underground artist due to his ability to make an album concept work. From LaRue's early beginning with an album cut titled "Cathedrals" to his present Casablanca release "Forces Of The Night," the artist has found the right elements for an entertaining LP. Once again producer-arranger Bob Esty is in control. The title cut "Forces Of The Night" uses a Casablanca synthesizer punctuated with a nifty bass guitar backbeat, and LaRue's haunting voice adding a special flavor.

"Have A Good Time" is segued from the previous track and features Rita Moreno adding her own inimitable Spanish flair. "It Makes Me Believe In Love Again" and "Forces Of The Night Reprise" finish off the side with rich arrangements in both instrumentation and background vocals.

A definite uptempo beat is felt throughout this side which is the more successful of the two. LaRue's talent as a performer and concept artist shines through this album making him an artist to watch in the future.

The Ontario Disco Pool headed by Jackie Valasek and Mike Weingarten have been a major force in the Toronto area in maintaining their 75-member pool as a unifying force. Their assets also include keeping the local labels in the Toronto area abreast of what's happening with their deejays as well as the clubs.

Membership is presently closed but they hope to expand once more product is available from the labels that service them. The pool proudly boasts being recipients of numerous gold records from various labels due to its support in helping to break certain tunes.

Two of the major disco stores in Toronto are Rena's and Disco Sound. The Rena store has its namesake working most of the time with help from its owner David Nancoff. Rena reports good response from the Flower LP "Heat" from MCA.

Highlighting the album is the cut "How." She also mentions taking note of the Tony Valor production of the Carol Williams album titled "Reflections" on Quality Records. Two of the cuts are causing reaction in the area and it is hoped that this reaction will push through a pending deal with an American label. Disco Sound is headed by Peter Frost and reports two good cuts from the Exile LP. Interesting records climbing their list include "Let's Love Dance Tonight" by Gary's Gang, "Love Magic" by John Davis, "Super Sweet" (remix) by Wardell Piper and "Hardware" by Greg Diamond.

Salsoul's new LP by Montreal features Uchenna Ikejiani, produced by Joe La Greca; the mixing is by Bobby Guttadaro and David Rodriguez Jr. Side one consists solely of "If You Believe In Me" at 13:35 minutes. The tempo seems a bit too fast for club action and will have to be remixed or slowed down by the individual deejay.

The second half of this cut slides away from its rock flavor and has more of a disco pulse and tempo. If the beginning of this cut were similar to the end perhaps some deejay play could result. "Higher And Higher" also does not seem to work due to its lack of disco feel and momentum. However, the saving grace of this entire production is "Under The Lights Of Montreal" at 6:51 minutes and worth the album alone.

Finally, the right elements have come together for a dynamic disco work that has a pulsating rhythm track that is mostly instrumental with a Latin/jungle feel. The energy is certainly hot, driving and riveting with drums, bells and other percussion making this Salsoul product a certain favorite. Possible "Under The Lights Of Montreal" should prove its worth in that a 12-inch might come off this LP.

From Prelude Records watch out for the new Saturday Night Band album, "Keep Those Lovers Dancing," produced by Moses Dillard and Jessie Boyce who also perform as musicians on the album. Artist Lorraine Johnson is featured on numerous cuts as both background and lead vocalist. The album contains seven uptempo cuts with "Keep Those Lovers Dancing" highlighting the LP.

Gord McMillan, deejay at the Quest in Toronto reports "New York" by the Nuggets, "I Was Made For Loving You" by Kiss and "Want Ads" by Ullanda moving up his list of top 20 tunes. Headlining this list is Anita Ward "Ring My Bell," Donna Sommer, "Bad Girls" and "Love Magic" by the John Davis Orchestra.

British Decca On Top Of Digital Technology

Bayliff, Griffiths Guide 10-Year Project

By ALAN PENCHANSKY

One of the front-runners in the development of digital recording technology is British Decca, the first major label outside Japan with proprietary digital equipment. This interview looks in detail at the Decca system and the label's commitment to digital technology. Several digitally recorded albums already have been brought to market by the company, setting another precedent among major labels in the West. System designers Bill Bayliff and Tony Griffiths recent Billboard Trendsetter Winners, recount the project's history beginning in 1976 with a battery of recording comparison tests. Also discussed is digital editing, its advantages and Decca's strong emphasis on a simplified editing method.

In parallel with that, we've been looking at digital techniques for audio seriously for four years, but less seriously perhaps for about 10 years. I'm going back about 10 years; we're both ex-BBC people, and the BBC had done a lot of work on digital audio, digital video back in the '60s.

And so we were well aware of the potential advances of digital techniques for audio.

I think you could say that the technology wasn't really available to take advantage of the potential which we knew was there for digital it only had a bandwidth of 15 kHz. We would have liked 20 kHz. But nevertheless the machine worked well and gave us a very good idea of the performance capabilities of digital recording.

BILLBOARD: What was the date of these tests?

BAYLIFF: That was recorded actually in November 1976. We had to pay the orchestra for a session just for this purpose and we made records from all these examples because we felt that since we were aiming for a final product in the form of a record pressing that we should do our assessment that way. In any case the direct was a useful sort of benchmark, assuming that the direct would be about the best that could be achieved. And so we produced pressings from all these and we had an enormous number of subjective assessment sessions where we had hundreds of different observations comparing in each case an "a" and a "b" always comparing two together. And this quite clearly showed us that records produced from digital master were indistinguishable from direct cut. Statistically there was no difference between the direct and digital but there was significant difference between digital and analog.

BILLBOARD: And these were with what you considered the state-of-the-art analog machines at the time?

GRIFFITHS: Oh Yes.

BAYLIFF: We were using 15 i.p.s., the best studio recorders we had. Having done these assessments and having proved that there was advantage—we all thought there was advantage but of course in the commercial world one has to try to support this with real evidence—we then decided that we should persuade our management to allow us to spend some money to actually do some experiments or even to purchase some equipment.

GRIFFITHS: At this point you couldn't go out and buy a machine.

BAYLIFF: The sequence is that we did the tests, we decided that we'd like to do this and our board agreed. I went to discuss this with our chairman and it was agreed that we should move in this direction.

And then we started looking to see whether we should purchase or develop our own. At that time we were discussing with Tom Stockham and other people who were offering at least to demonstrate machines. But it was perfectly clear when we thought about it that none of these machines provided an absolutely crucial facility which we must have, and that is editing, we must have, and that is flexible editing—strictly comparable with analog editing, and something which analog editors could assimilate fairly quickly. And none of the systems that we saw had this facility. The Soundstream system has very recording we hadn't completed work on the editing unit so we didn't go there with necessarily the idea of making a record.

BILLBOARD: Are there any other digital recordings in the can?

BAYLIFF: Yes, we did an experimental recording on Sylvia Sass operatic recital, the record has just been released in analog—we didn't release the digital.

BILLBOARD: What are the specifications on the Decca Machine, can you give us some of the technical data?

GRIFFITHS: It's rather like any-

Trend Setters: Decca digital engineers Bayliff, left, and Griffiths—"We were well aware . . . the disadvantages of analog master tape had to be overcome."

BILLBOARD: What exactly were your roles in the development of Decca's digital system? When did work on the project begin?

BAYLIFF: I am the general manager of the recording studios and we have a small research capability which comes under my general jurisdiction, and Tony Griffiths is in charge of the actual r&d studios. Our record r&d grew out of our videodisk r&d. As you probably know, we in partnership with Teldec and Telefunken, spent a lot of time and money in the early '70s on videodisk development and we've built up a pretty good little laboratory dealing with video matters. In the process we learned a lot of tricks about digital techniques because many of the problems on the video had to be solved by either extremely complicated and costly analog techniques—coding. But four years ago we started seriously looking because we were well aware that the time had come when the disadvantages of analog master tapes had to be overcome in some way.

We did tests in our studios, we had orchestral sessions and other sessions which we recorded digitally and direct and analog, and with Dolby and without Dolby, and using FM.

BILLBOARD: You had a prototype digital machine for these tests?

BAYLIFF: No, we borrowed a machine at that time. The BBC was kind enough to lend us a machine, which wasn't quite as good as we would have liked, and isn't quite up to the standard of our current machine. It was built as an experimental machine for broadcast purposes. It only had 13-bit coding and good editing capability but it does involve the tapes going to Salt Lake City and we didn't consider that to be flexible enough particularly since there are occasions where we do editing on location.

It's also the case that editing isn't one single process that takes place in a little kind of box in the whole process. It's a continuous process of refinement.

BILLBOARD: When was the first actual recording done with the Decca system?

BAYLIFF: June 1978 was the first actual recording we did on session in London experimentally. It was Ashkenazy and the London Symphony doing a couple of Mozart piano concertos. The digital experiments have not been released, although they're perfectly okay and there's no reason why they shouldn't be.

GRIFFITHS: When we did that body else's, of course, apart from we're using 48 kHz sampling frequency which is a preferred frequency rate in Europe, although there aren't very many European recorders of course. Sixteen-bit coding, otherwise the usual no wow and flutter, and 90 dB signal to noise ratio.

BILLBOARD: You're sampling rate is 48 kHz, so you have a maximum 24 kHz bandwidth?

GRIFFITHS: Theoretically it would be 24 kHz so we have a 20 kHz bandwidth. I think it's worth mentioning—one thing Bill didn't say—that when we first got approval to do development we spent about a little less than a year building up a prototype tape recorder which wasn't intended to go out on sessions anywhere and record. Dealing with tape drop-outs for instance, you've got to know all about the drop-out characteristics before you can design the right kind of signal processing in the electronics. Nowhere is this data written down anywhere so you've got to do a lot of experimental work to find out how to build the thing. And there's still a great deal of discussion between all the big manufacturers you see at each AES convention on each person's preferential way of dealing with the drop-out point. We then came over to New York for the AES in November 1977 and realized that the state-of-the-art, as far as buying anything was concerned, was that there wasn't anything available there and then, and it would quite clearly be some time before anything which would suit our requirement was going to be available on the market.

So, we came back and Bill went and saw the chairman again about building our own prototype, our own sort of "Mark 1" machines for actual recording sessions. Now we

Audiophile Recordings

SCHUBERT: SYMPHONY NO. 9, "THE GREAT"—Berlin Radio Symphony Orchestra conducted by Heinz Rogner, Denon OH73501ND, distributed by Discwasher, $18 list.

Classical buffs will enthuse about the amount of inner voice detail preserved in this natural open-sounding production with excellent front to rear imaging and digital transparency evident, particularly in the loud passages. The sound never gets hashy or distorts in the fortes as earlier recordings of the piece so often have. Not the least of the record's virtues is the quality of interpretation, with Rogner scoring exceptionally high marks on matters of pacing, emphasis, instrumental balance and overall momentum. This is the first digital recording of one of the most treasured of symphonies and overall a thrilling recording. Denon requires four immaculately clean sides to contain the work—twice the space of almost every other version—but a special $9 per disk list price aims at compensating.

RED GARDENIA—Tsuoyoshi Yamamoto Trio, Philips (Japan) RJD3, distributed by Audio-Source, $15.98 list.

A textbook example of jazz trio recording, using direct mastering for harmonic purity and overall transparency in added measure. Piano, acoustic bass and drums are reproduced with a beautiful spread of frequencies from cymbals and full, rounded register of the keyboard and the full, upper low notes of the string bass. There's exemplary evenness of scale throughout each instrument's range and excellent use of stereo adding depth and presence to the listening. Tunes of Stevie Wonder, Gershwin, Ellington and others in attractive, albeit conventional settings.

GOLDEN THEMES—Las Salterias, M&K Real-Time Records RT111, distributed by Miller & Kreisel Sound Corp., $15 list.

The rich, full sonic textures on this album belie the fact it is only the 125-string Mexican salterio of Enrique Ordóñez backed by his son Arturo on guitar. One of the best direct disk efforts from the M&K Studios, the production is clean and technically excellent, particularly in the effective mike placement that captures all the nuances of the unusual string duet. Most effective are the pictorial music images created in "If I Were A Rich Man" from a "Fiddler On The Roof" medley, the "Zorba" theme and "Arrivederci Roma" from an Italian medley. "The Third Man Theme" offers an interesting contrast with the original zither rendition, and "Delicado" closes the album in a superb blend of string artistry. Overall, a good example of how less, in the way of instruments, can offer more, in the way of listening enjoyment.

1685: A SOUND ODYSSEY—Fernando Valenti, harpsichord, Crystal Clear CCS7007, distributed by CC Marketing, $15 list.

Cut at a level that is more appropriate to the "1812 Overture" than to solo baroque harpsichord pieces, the listener is well advised to ignore the standard Crystal Clear jacket injunction "to play back these recordings at high volume." In addition, a close microphone pickup captures air pressures generated by the instrument's mechanics that are not heard live unless one inserts his head under the lid. All larger than life, including an orbital album art concept and somewhat silly liner notes that tell us, for instance, that "Handel even borrowed themes from other composers, and by the time he died, was a very rich man." As for the music, the experienced Valenti turns in good performances of pieces by Scarlatti, Bach and Handel (all born in the title year), as well as by Rameau, Soler and Purcell. Odyssey or not, the sometimes harsh sound is cleanly reproduced and the processing is immaculate.

Audiophile Recordings for review should be sent to Alan PENCHANSKY, Chicago, and Stephen TRITMAN/Is Horowitz, New York. Earlier reviews appear in the issues of Jan. 6; Feb. 3, 17; March 3, 17, 31; April 14, 28; May 12, 26; June 9, 23.

got that approval before Christmas '77, and in January we started designing the machine. At the end of March we had the first machine working and in May we had two machines working. So you see we went to Kingsway in June to record the Ashkenazy with just two machines; that's all we had just two tape recorders working to our final specifications.

We then had to sit down and do the editing, which we developed through the summer of last year. We needed a lot of experience having built the editing. We looked at what the editors do now, with the razor blade, and really made the equivalent as technically correct as we could—of a perfect razor blade type of editing or its electronic equivalent of it.

Having got that working we then needed to try it out a few times so we went into the Sylvia Sass as well and we had editors along to tell us what they thought of the system, if they said we'd like this or that we could modify the thing. By November we had solved the editing problem and the editors could very easily pick up the operational procedures and carry out satisfactory editing. So then we went to Vienna in December and recorded the Mendelssohn ("Italian" Symphony) that's just been released, and of course we then left the equipment there and carried on after Christmas with the New

Year concert. (The Vienna Philharmonic's annual concert.)

BILLBOARD: You actually recorded the Mendelssohn before the New Year's concert?

BAYLIFF: Yes, that was recorded on December 8. It's important just to go back a little bit on what Tony said. It's very important that we did involve the editing department right from the beginning. They collaborated and we collaborated with them to provide the facilities that they wanted. I think this is terribly important because you cannot in a record company expect to throw a lot of complicated new equipment at an operator and expect him to accept it willingly and easily.

GRIFFITHS: In the lab we could have sat down and invented some tape recorder which would have been operationally impossible to use. This is a big danger for manufacturers to fall into this trap of inventing what they see as the ideal system which involves maybe an editor to become a good typist or he can analyze music by looking at wave forms on an oscilloscope and so on. We make sure it's what the people can use.

BILLBOARD: Is there a separate editing department at Decca?

BAYLIFF: It's a section that comes under my control.

GRIFFITHS: Our producers are capable of editing and do edit from time to time, but we also have editors who are musicians.

BILLBOARD: How does your editing system work? How does it compare with the other digital editing systems?

GRIFFITHS: Our editors, conventionally with 1/4-inch tape, find the editing point by listening to the output of the tape recorder while moving the spools. We do the same thing with our recorders, they find the place for the editing by means of manual manipulation of the tape.

For instance, on the left hand machine you will have played, let us suppose, take one, and copied it onto the right hand machine. Then you find you want to go from take one to take five, halfway through take one or something. So you find on the right hand machine the edit point, you put take five on the other machine, and you find the corresponding point by listening to the audio as you move the spools back and to. You can then, using the little control box in the middle, run the machines back together about 10 seconds and then run them forwards about 20 seconds going through the edit point and you will hear the electronic edit. Now it won't have actually put the second machine into record, it will have simulated the edit so that you can satisfy yourself that the timing is right, for instance, the level of the audio, the volume doesn't go up or down at the edit, there aren't any clicks or you know—you've edited exactly on the note where you've wished to.

Having satisfied yourself with the rehearsal—it runs for 20 seconds and then it automatically runs back 20 seconds to wait again and if you want to modify it you can move the spool a little bit one way or another and try again—if you're satisfied with it, you can run it forwards again, pressing a red button marked "perform edit" and at the edit point it will do a sort of cross-fade, rather similar to the way the razor blade causes a cross fade by having a diagonal cut, and it will record the take five, which we suppose goes on the machine on the left.

BILLBOARD: The editor actually hears the music in the same way as analog as he moves the tape?

GRIFFITHS: Yes, on these tape machines we do have an analog track which they can listen to for this purpose. As well as recording it digitally over the main tracks of the tape, we do have the conventional analog track of video tape.

BILLBOARD: In other words a small band?

BAYLIFF: Yes, it's a low grade audio track, about the equivalent of a cassette.

BILLBOARD: That's a key element?

GRIFFITHS: Right. That's a television recorder. Our digital sound is made in the form of a kind of pseudo tv picture and we record it in the tv band on the tape recorder. On that machine we also have two analog tracks. We in fact use one of the analog tracks for this purpose and we make a mono signal from our electronics and we record a mono version of the audio on that just for editing purposes.

BILLBOARD: Is it more time consuming than conventional editing?

GRIFFITHS: It's not very much. No, I would say for that kind of job we're very similar. As Bill says we did 140 edits in two days.

BAYLIFF: That's quite a standard rate for analog editing anyway.

DISK CUTTERS IMPRESSED

Capitol Magnetism Claims Corrected Lacquer Formula

LOS ANGELES—Capitol Magnetism Products has developed a new, corrected formulation for lacquer disks, according to Ed C. Khoury, president of Capitol Magnetic Products.

In addition, indicates Khoury, the firm has developed an exclusive process which results in a superior flat, aluminum blank.

Khoury disclosed these Capitol Magnetic Products developments at a recent lacquer disk update the company hosted June 25 at the Sheraton Universal Hotel here.

Present were some 100 disk cutters, recording engineers, matrix platers and Capitol Magnetism personnel.

Because of the limited supply and quality inconsistency that plague the lacquer disk industry, according to Khoury, Capitol took the unprecedented step of closing down its plant last year for two months for "laboratory" purposes.

This resulted in an improved standard Q1 disk that the firm manufactures, Khoury pointed out. And, he added, "These improvements have been accomplished even though we are still using the lacquer supplied by Randolph, with our modifications, and Alcoa aluminum.

"But," he continued, "we still realized that a complete solution to lacquer disk problems is not possible as long as we must depend on limited outside suppliers for raw materials. For some years, therefore, we have been working diligently in developing our own lacquer formulation."

The firm had introduced Q1 Gold last year, still a further refinement of the Q1 standard lacquer blank, but, according to Khoury, "The results turned out to be less than spectacular. After a few months of good production, the Q1 Gold developed problems, and the promising new product turned out to be a failure.

"The initial problems," he continued, "with Q1 Gold did not cause us to abandon the idea of producing our own lacquer. For the past several months we have been making substantial quantities of lacquer masters with our own, now corrected formulation. While we are more than ready than ever to place this new product on the market, we are not rushing its introduction at this time."

More r&d and testing of the new product will continue, indicates Khoury.

"We realize," he says, "that even our own lacquer and aluminum resurfacing, as vital as they are, are not quite enough to assure consistently excellent quality batch after batch. What is lacking is the identification and control of some, still not fully understood, problems.

"We are working, therefore, on developing this kind of knowledge. Three Capitol Magnetism laboratories have new lacquer projects assigned to them; we are also being assisted by EMI's central research laboratories in London.

"We are investigating such areas as the interface between the lacquer and the stylus; how lacquers change with time, both in virgin and cut states; what are the ideal conditions for plating; what causes some unusual cutting problems; how to control groove echo; and others."

SMIFF 'N' THE TEARS—Fickle Heart, Atlantic SD19242. Produced by Luigi Salvoni.

Without the slightest feeling of hesitation, this reviewer will go out on a limb and declare "Fickle Heart" the finest and most intelligent album by a newcomer act this year.

The six-man ensemble, coming out of nowhere, has produced an album that combines slice of life lyrics with a musical form that incorporates a distinct folk consciousness with rock, country twangs and synthesized shadings. The result is so irresistible that certain songs send chills through one's body.

If it is necessary to compare, Sniff 'N' The Tears (an outrageous name for such a competent group) is closest to Dire Straits in execution. Although the group lacks a trademarked stamp like Dire Straits' Mark Knopfler guitar riffs, the sound is in the same haunting vein where story-like lyrics are complemented with smart arrangements and just the right orchestration.

The catalysts behind Sniff 'N' The Tears are Paul Roberts, lyricist, acoustic guitarist and vocalist and Luigi Salvoni, drummer and producer. Roberts, also an accomplished artist, painted the graphically eerie cover picture.

The opening track, "Driver's Seat," is a folksy tune with an infectious melody line. Roberts' vocals breeze along to the midtempo guitar, keyboard and drum accompaniment.

"New Lines On Love" is a haunting love song backed by some exceptional harmonies. It is reminiscent of an Al Stewart song in structure, only delivered in a more driving rock vein.

"Carve Your Name On My Door" rushes out at you, courtesy of Roberts' unexpected husky delivery. The song has a hard rock edge, dosed with subtle country influences and a clever arrangement that plays off guitars and a steady drum beat.

Shades of Bob Dylan are evident on "This Side Of The Blue Horizon," as Roberts' vocals take on a different intonation. Keith Miller's synthesizer plays an important part in the arrangement.

"Sing" is a short but effective track about striving to elevate one's monetary situation and the acquisition of material goods.

The most satirical track is "Rock & Roll Music," a driving rocker that parodies the often seamy rock concert scene with lyrics like "Well meet me tonight in the platinum halls where rock'n'roll music is shaking the walls/Where magic is hung in the heat and the smoke and bodies collide, parade and promote."

Paul Roberts, Luigi Salvoni

On "Fight For Love" Roberts is "walking down this cold and empty boulevard" and hears a song that recalls memories of a former lover. Roberts then wonders "why should anybody have to pay the price for leaving, breaking up that never had to be." The bold guitar lines drive home the point.

"The Thrill of It All" is an evocative piece of music complete with metaphors and a catchy chorus.

"Slide Away" features Roberts' rough-edged vocals pitted against a synthesized orchestral backdrop. "Last Dance" is a less than two-minute acoustic filler track in which Roberts' vocals are delivered in a Dylanesque spoken word fashion with sparse instrumentation.

The album concludes with "Looking For You," an uptempo gem featuring superb harmonies. The song is an anthem not so much for the poor, but for the ordinary people with Roberts declaring "we all know that the time for the wealthy is through."

Sniff 'N' The Tears is music for the '80s. Hopefully this will be just the beginning of a new age of music that will hold up long after the last dance is ended. ED HARRISON

Harsh Penalties Due For Malaysia Pirates

By PETER ONG & CHRISTIE LEO

KUALA LUMPUR—In a move hailed by industry sectors here, the Malaysian parliament has made it a criminal offense to pirate recordings by domestic artists, imposing severe penalties on violators.

Although the government action does not yet embrace international product, its inclusion is now considered likely as a next step.

Passage of an amendment to the 1969 Copyright Act last Saturday (23) provides for jail sentences of up to five years for anyone convicted of distributing, selling or exporting illicit local recordings. Fines of as much as $10,000 may also be imposed.

Furthermore, possession of equipment used to duplicate pirated recordings now will permit sentences of up to 20 years in jail and/or $20,000 in fines.

The law takes effect in six months.

Frankie Cheah, general manager of WEA in Malaysia, is typical of industry leaders lauding the government action.

"We are elated that after all these years the government has recognized the talent of local artists. This will help the industry to invest in more local recording," he says.

Polygram sales manager Johnny Lee adds, "We will look into the possibility of doing more local recording."

This city was the scene last February of Billboard's first Asia/Pacific music industry conference, during which the extent of piracy throughout the region was discussed and resolutions urging containment of the practice forwarded to governments.

WEA Purchases Brazilian Plant

NEW YORK — WEA International has bought the Ina-Nacional Discos Ltd. pressing plant in Brazil for an undisclosed sum.

The 16-press plant is located in the Sao Paulo suburb of Diadema. It has been pressing records for WEA Discos Ltda., WEA International's Brazilian operation, since early 1978. The announcement of the purchase was made jointly by WEA International president Nesuhi Ertegun and Andre Midani, managing director of WEA Discos Ltda.

Ertegun cites WEA's "steady growth of Brazilian repertoire and sales volume" for creating "the happy necessity" for the acquisition.

Ina-Nacional will retain its name and the same management team that has been running things there for some time. David Jones is president; Hugo Bellardi de Aquino is chief plant engineer, and Atilio Fabri Filho is plant supervisor.

Flamingo Flies With 2 Singles

LONDON—Just two months after Flamingo Records was set up here by Freddy Bienstock, Carlin Music president, and Mike Collier, U.K. Carlin director, the label has charted with two disco singles.

They are: "Boogie Man," by local band Match, first U.K. "pure" disco band to make the chart, and "Get Dancin'," by the Bombers, a single picked up from Canada at this year's MIDEM in Cannes. The Match single is now being rush-released in Germany, France and Scandinavia.

EMI Cut In 'Prompt Pay' Discount Ruffles U.K. Retailers' Feathers

By PETER JONES

LONDON—U.K. record dealers, their confidence shaken by a Value Added Tax upturn on disks and tapes from 8% to 15%, added to price increases by record companies, are now incensed by a sudden EMI decision to cut its "prompt settlement" discount.

The actual cut is from 2½% to 2% and has prompted an uproar of criticism from already hard-pressed retailers.

Harry Tipple, secretary of the Gramophone Record Retailers' Committee, says defiantly: "I have to make it quite clear that any company attempting to put its own economy in order by reducing dealer margins or settlement discounts is in for a bloody nose."

"I want to tell the boardroom figures that they should put their own houses in order and start saving money now. They should stop vying with each other to pay massive advances to artists just to prevent someone else getting them."

"They must stop issuing so much rubbish which has no hope of selling. And, for their own sakes, they should stop knocking the retailer."

Tipple claims that artist royalties are in any case being paid on "a fictitious retail price" at which few dealers can actually sell records.

Nick Payne, EMI financial controller, says he understands the angry attitude of dealers. "But we made the cut only after careful consideration of the costs and the benefits. We think the discount at 2% still represents a very fair price for prompt settlement of amounts due to us. In the final analysis dealers will be the judge."

But dealers are worried that the EMI move could lead to similar decisions by other companies. And a retail industry view is that EMI could face a "boomerang" effect with some accounts holding off payment until after the prompt settlement date, preferring to owe the company rather than their banks.

Another source of industry fury is that EMI acted with no previous warning, despite a general agreement that major changes are matters of consultation between record company and retail trade. Other dealers feel EMI will be proved wrong, in that bills will not be paid on time and therefore the record company will lose out in cash flow.

Other majors contacted admit the prompt settlement discount is under general review, and Richard Robinson, deputy managing director of WEA U.K. adds: "A 2½% discount for payment within a month is a fair chunk. It's better value than investing with a bank."

U.K. Publishers Challenge Ertegun On Piracy Funds

LONDON—Allegations by Nesuhi Ertegun, WEA International's president, at IMIC this year, that some factions of the industry were not contributing sufficient funds to the worldwide antipiracy fight have been given a swift "not guilty" retort by U.K. music publishers.

Ertegun said that some publishers, artists, managers and studio owners were not paying up and leave the major financing to the big record companies (Billboard, June 23, 1979).

Now Ron White, of EMI Music, and president of the Music Publishers' Assn. here, says: "Copyright owners in the U.K., through the Mechanical Rights Society, contributed more than $130,000 to the British Phonographic Industry piracy fund this year and there is more to come in 1980."

"Also, major publishers have contributed individually to the IFPI fund as a result of appeals by Gerry Oord, that organization's antipiracy chief.

"Nesuhi Ertegun is justified in raising the alarm in face of the disaster that is about to overtake the music industry because of worldwide piracy. But his comments are genuinely misdirected as far as the U.K. is concerned."

"By all means, let's support him wholeheartedly in his efforts to raise the largest amount possible to win the war against the thieves who steal our birthright. But credit should be given to British copyright owners who have already recognized the dangers and have taken positive action."

A VIEW OVER THE WALL CBS Execs Probe China Disk Mart In Fact-Finding Junket

with the kind of long-term thinking which, critics say, is hardly one of the record industry's strong points.

Nor will stereotyped thinking aid the cause of future trade, as Prof. Chou Wen-chang, chairman of the Center for U.S. People's Republic of China Arts Exchange headquartered at New York's Columbia Univ., intimated at Billboard's International Music Industry Conference in Monte Carlo last month.

He referred to Polygram's use of fortune cookies in an advertising campaign for a classical album which features Chinese soloists (Billboard, June 16, 1979) and suggested it said much about present U.S. levels of understanding and sensitivity about the People's Republic.

How, then, to proceed? At first-hand, if the experience of Dick Asher is any criterion. The president of CBS Records International spent some 10 days in China recently, and returned to his New York headquarters armed with much information of the type which the company will need to make progress in China.

Asher, perhaps understandably, is reluctant to divulge the finer details of that data. His trip was company business, and the party—which called itself "the gang of 10," a joke apparently appreciated by the Chinese—included people from CBS

News (via whom the original invitation from Peking came) and from CBS Toys. The CRI chief was accompanied by Art Bruno, vice president manufacturing and engineering, CBS Records International.

But Asher is willing to discuss his impressions of the People's Republic, and, in general terms, of the country's record industry. He and Bruno had a number of meetings with officials of the China Record Co., the state facility that's a division of the national broadcasting operation.

Considerable curiosity existed among the Chinese about the way in which CBS Records works, though Asher notes that this seems tempered by a desire not to appear short of knowledge—and he adds that there is much their hosts do already know.

Contributes Bruno: "I found that talking with their manufacturing and engineering people at the Shanghai plant, once we broke the ice, they warmed up quite a bit, and became easy to talk to—most anxious to learn what we were doing as well as answer any questions that we had."

The CRI executives were provided with interpreters, and though they were sometimes less than perfect, particularly over technical terms, Asher points out that to bring one's own linguistic help would probably be considered bad taste.

"But there was one young fellow," he says, "who served as an interpreter and who was on the ball on a number of occasions. Sometimes he would ask his own questions half-way through, because he knew what we were trying to get to. It was kind of fun, and I think I would have hired him were I starting up a record company in China!"

One of the recurring questions, Asher explains with some amusement, concerned recording costs. "They kept asking how long it took to make an album. At first, I thought they were referring to the manufacturing cycle, but, no, they were asking how long artists were in the studio."

"I didn't mean to inquire if they had acts who took too long and ran up recording costs, but in trying to answer this, we explained that the time period varied from artist to artist. It depended on the nature of the material, the method of recording (in classical, the use of many musicians at once; in pop, the tendency to layer tracks) and other factors."

"As we got into that and perhaps offered a semi-wry remark that you're not always able to control the artist in the studio, we noticed smiles all around as the words were translated. So I got the impression that these things are perhaps not so different in China. Artists are artists, wherever."

From his talks, Asher confirms that the Chinese are interested in expanding and developing their record business (although he would not disclose figures, other sources suggest that production presently runs at around 10 million units per year).

But he cautions that China Record Co. officials would naturally feel that way, and that the more crucial point is where such expansion stands on the priority list set by higher government authorities.

The appropriate pressing equipment, for example, has to be manufactured under the control of a different government agency by factories which may currently be producing other items deemed far more important to the economy. "I don't think they were being evasive when we asked about the timing of future growth," comments the CRI chief. "I think they could not honestly fully answer the question."

And he stresses that the Chinese gave him and Bruno the impression that they would prefer to manufacture the new equipment internally—"though I don't want to imply that they wouldn't buy anything from abroad."

(Indeed, the China Record Co. has been buying. In the opening months of this year, for example, it purchased two complete high-speed tape duplication systems from an American company, ElectroSound. And equipment for another new facility, producing cassette recorders and radios, came from Japan via a Hong Kong business group, with geti and Pierre Fournier graced the second event.

Regulars in the first decade included Paul Kletzki, Zino Francescatti and Nathan Milstein. Others on the talent roster were the Vienna Symphony Orchestra conducted by Wilhelm Furtwangler (1951), the National Orchestra of Paris (1954), and Paul Hindemith and Clara Haskil (1957).

In 1961, a concert of the Choir of the Cathedral Sainte-Edwige in the Temple de Saint-Martin established what was to be a lasting link with Vevey. Seven years later Rene Klopfenstein, himself a conductor, succeeded Manuel Roth as festival manager and began his new career by bringing over the New York Philharmonic with Leonard Bernstein.

Subsequent highlights were a performance by the String Quartet of Geneva 10,000 feet up on the Diablerets glacier (1970), classical pop from Pink Floyd and the London Symphonic Orchestra (1971) and an appearance by guitarist Andres Segovia (1974).

Today's festival takes place in a variety of locations: the Pavilion and Congress Hall in Montreux itself, the castles of Chillon and Aigle, the theater of Vevey, the churches of Saint-Martin and Saint-Maurice, and the Roman ruins near Martigny.

This year's festival will present around 30 concerts between Aug. 28 and Oct. 6. Audiences are mostly conservative classical enthusiasts and the event is by no means avant-garde, but Klopfenstein likes to promote up-and-coming musicians among the big names.

Around 30,000 visitors are expected for a program which this year features the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the Prague Chamber Orchestra, the Quartetto Italiano, and others. Budgeted at $400,000, the event is still run by a private organization, sponsored by a variety of authorities, banks and businesses.

The biennial Clara Haskil Piano Competition is expected to attract more than the 86 entrants of 1978, with $5,000 for the winner.

As in the last 12 years, the Montreux International Record Awards will also be decided at the festival, with an international panel selecting three top classical recordings and nominating one artist for a special honors prize for vital contributions to music.

This year the award will go to the Quartetto Italiano, who join the illustrious company of past award-winners like Solti, Rubinstein, Bohm, Horowitz, Menuhin and Bernstein.

ATTENDANCE TO TOP 50,000

Montreux Jazz Covers All Bases

By MIKE HENNESSEY

MONTREUX—Between Friday (6) when it opens and the early morning of Monday, July 23 when it closes, the 13th Montreux International Jazz Festival, masterminded as ever by Claude Nobs, is expected to draw more than 50,000 people.

The marathon festival—it is easily the world's biggest in terms of time-span—will feature a more diverse musical menu than ever before with top names from the fields of reggae, country music, Brazilian music, blues and jazz in all its hybrid varieties.

Participation of American high school and university bands in the Festival, first inaugurated in 1969, will be as strong as ever with 12 ensembles taking part.

No other jazz festivals in the world has such close ties with the international record industry. Well over 100 jazz albums recorded at Montreux have been released around the world, including the million-selling "Swiss Movement," recorded by Eddie Harris for Atlantic in 1969 and the Grammy Award-winning Verve album, "Bill Evans At Montreux," recorded in 1968.

This year, one complete evening will be sponsored by Carl Jefferson's Concord label.

Other major attractions in the program include the world premiere of the new Rick Wakeman group and, for the first time together in Montreux, Ella Fitzgerald with the Count Basie Orchestra.

Says Claude Nobs: "The audience for the Festival has not only grown bigger over the years, it has also become younger, which is a very encouraging development for the future of jazz. The blending of jazz with rock and the evolution of the electronic fusion movement has prompted many young people to take an interest in more orthodox jazz."

Although the Casino accommodates 2,500, many of the weekend concerts are over-subscribed so reduced price preview concerts of the evening shows are being staged at 4 p.m. on the reggae, country, Brazil, jazz-rock and jazz fusion evenings.

There will also be informal afternoon jam sessions, record stalls, instrument clinics and jazz film shows. In the intermission periods, highlights from previous Montreux festivals will be shown on television monitors installed in the auditorium.

Nobs, who took the Montreux Jazz Festival concept to Sao Paulo last fall and pulled off a major artistic success, has been approached to produce Montreux festivals in Detroit and Tokyo in August next year.

Musical categories and key acts in this year's festival include: Top Reggae: Dennis Brown, Steel Pulse, Peter Tosh; Best of Country: Roy Clark, Barbara Mandrell; Super Blues: Fats Domino, B.B. King, Taj Mahal, Albert Collins; Japan Today: The Keio Light Music Society and the Inner Galaxy Orchestra, with Bob Brookmeyer, John Faddis, Richard Davis, Joe Beck; Gala Night: Ella Fitzgerald and the Count Basie Orchestra.

Piano Summit: Chick Corea, Herbie Hancock, Hank Jones & John Lewis; Concord Jazz in Montreux: The L.A. 4, with Bud Shank, Laurindo Almeida, Ray Brown and Jeff Hamilton, and The Concord Superstars, with, among others, Herb Ellis, Scott Hamilton, Dave McKenna; All That Jazz: the Mingus Dynasty; Piano Recital: Oscar Peterson, Jazz from Canada; America North To South: Weather Report, Willie Bobo Band; Rockin' the Blues: Albert Collins, Rory Gallagher, Champion Jack Dupree.

Artists are also slated for such categories as Rockin' Jazz, U.S.A. & Europe, Brazil, Top Jazz Fusion, and The Best of Jazz-Rock & Funk.

Charts Aid TV Sales

HELSINKI—A television campaign here is using the Billboard charts as an added sales stimulant.

The product is a Finnlevy LP, "Disco Night," and it is set against the charts while the music is playing and while sales slogans are delivered.

Titles in the charts have been marked off with large eye-catching circles.

U.K. Income Tax Cuts Seen Lure For Superstar 'Exiles'

By PETER JONES

LONDON—There are "strong hopes" that tax cuts, introduced here by the new Conservative government, which slashed the top rate from 83% to 60%, will persuade some of the biggest-earning rock and pop superstars to return to the U.K. from overseas "exile."

Rod Stewart, Engelbert Humperdinck, Tom Jones, guitarist Ronnie Wood and the Bee Gees are among those who chose the U.S. way of life in an effort to cut the tax burden, while Queen moved to Switzerland.

While the big names have yet to declare their intention, a spokesman for Rod Stewart says: "He has always felt intensely bitter about the way the British tax system has whacked the top earners. Now, with

U.S. Talent Will Appear At Japan Jam

TOKYO—The summer resort of Enoshima Island, just off this nation's Pacific coast, will play host to "Japan Jam" this August 4-5.

The two-day event is being organized in the open-air concert tradition of "California Jam" and "Canada Jam," of which Japanese rock fans have long been envious.

Enoshima is linked to Japan's main island (Honshu) by a causeway, and it's about an hour's train journey from downtown Tokyo. The site holds around 43,000.

Main act is reported to be the Beach Boys, with Heart lined up as another attraction. The identities of two other major foreign acts set to appear will be disclosed soon.

Representing Japan will be the Southern All Stars, who made their debut last year and have enjoyed a string of hits since (group is presently represented on the national charts by "Itoshi-No-Elly.")

Venue is being handled by Van Planning, and the event is sponsored by Television Kanagawa. Exact site is close to the ex-Olympic yacht harbor on the island. Entrance fee will be $15, and the promoters are optimistic that tickets will sell-out when they become available to fans this month.

Finn Towns Ink Licensing Pact

HELSINKI—More than half Finland's 400 municipalities and parishes have signed a deal with copyright bureau TEOSTO, Saveltajain Tekijanoikeustoimisto, to pay royalties in lump sums.

The deal covers most communally organized musical entertainment, such as music libraries and discos, plus copying of music for public and home use. Municipal orchestras and major concerts are not included in the agreement.

Compensation is worked out on population statistics, the charge per resident being roughly one U.S. cent, or five Finnish pennies. According to Pekka Kallio, managing director, TEOSTO, all municipalities and areas are eventually likely to sign the deal, excluding small insular parishes.

the top rate at 60%, there is only 10% between the levels in the U.K. and U.S.

"That could make him think long about returning to Britain, for he still feels very homesick in California."

Stewart, now married to a Californian, has made many trans-Atlantic flights just to watch the Scottish international football team, on one occasion watching on television in an airport lounge in Shannon, Ireland, because tax laws kept him out of Britain.

Robin Gibb, who owns a home in Surrey, says that Barry and Maurice Gibb are now planning to buy large houses here.

The Gibbs have lived in Miami for two and a half years. According to Robin, they now plan to split their time between the U.S. and the U.K. One first step is a European tour set for October.

In the House of Commons, Sir Geoffrey Howe, Chancellor of the Exchequer, stressed: "The entertainment industry is one of many, and it is potentially one of our best, that is being gravely damaged by the emigration of its stars to other parts of the world. There has long been a tremendous outflow of talent. The aim of our budget is to give a real incentive to everybody, pop stars included."

The recording studio industry of the U.K. would certainly welcome the return of some of the pop stars currently lost to it. And quite a few of the one-time leading technical experts of the U.K. recording business have also been "forced" abroad because of punitive taxation.

However, the resolution of big-earning artists such as Elton John to stay in Britain, despite losing so much of their income to the tax man, has earned them admiration and loyalty. Additionally, it is pointed out by supporters of the "stay-at-homes" that some of the exiles may have lost so much local popularity through defecting that there may not be sufficient U.K. work available to them now to make a return worthwhile.

Even if the superstars are not prepared to return to live in Britain, the improved tax situation could make it more worth their while to return for tours. Both Tom Jones and the Bee Gees have recently stated that they would not only lose money on tours because of the tax situation but would also lose out on their investment income.

CBS Intl Seeks Answers In China

whom the Chinese signed a joint venture agreement.)

Yet there are already much hardware and expertise in the country, explains Asher, noting that the technology of the record industry itself is not especially advanced, compared with other spheres. "They have a good deal of it there; it's just a question of making it as up-to-date and efficient as possible—a matter of applying the resources."

And, he observes, "efficiency is another matter entirely. We tend to think of automated processes as being super-efficient. Actually, manual systems can accomplish the same things if you want to use a lot of people. And they have a lot of people. In fact, it's obvious at times that perhaps there isn't a sufficient amount of productive work to employ everyone full time."

The two CBS executives agree that the facilities which the China Record Co. use are sophisticated enough for their present needs. Asher would not be drawn out on the commonly held, but mistaken, foreign view that China's record production is confined to 78s, beyond observing that "there's no concern over the shellac supply."

(Output is predominantly 33 r.p.m. product, say other sources, and the price to consumers is put at around U.S. $1.50 per record—though that represents a huge percentage, up to 50%, of their take home income per week.)

Nor would he discuss the other information culled during the trip, except to confirm that "we have an idea of how many phonographs there are, how many radios, how many records they produce and in what configurations, what they don't produce, and something about their immediate plans."

Asher does accept that many Americans think that the U.S. "opened up" China, whereas, in fact, it's been open to others for some time. "Ours is a rather self-centered view."

There's a fairly brisk and thriving relationship with Hong Kong, he continues, which brings in the British influence. "And there's evidence of the French, the Russians and certainly the Japanese."

Asher goes on: "There's no doubt that people in the U.S. industry, perhaps myself included, tend to overestimate our importance generally in the scheme of things—as if there's an expectation that China is waiting for us and our music with bated breath. It didn't come as a shock to me that it wasn't quite that way."

"There's a certain amount of self-hype we do among ourselves. There are some cultural alternatives for the Chinese, and they obviously want to consider those rather than rush to embrace ours. And there are many smart people in other parts of the

BLACKPOOL HAS SUMMER OF COUNTRY

LONDON—George Hamilton IV is to play a three-month summer season of country music in the Winter Garden Theater, Blackpool, beginning June 25. The engagement is not only a first for Hamilton, but the first time a complete country music package has been presented for a season at a major British resort.

Staged by promoter Conn in association with Lord Delfont, the show is described by Hamilton himself as a "best of" program, old favorites mixed with new material. Also appearing will be Nashville artist Loney Smallwood and British acts Pete Sayers, the Mintings, Raymond Froggatt and Captain Flint.

CLASSICS BUCK TREND

German Sales Flat In 1st Quarter; Tapes Off

By WOLFGANG SPAHR

HAMBURG—Record sales in the German Federal Republic are showing virtually no unit growth, according to figures released by the Federation of Phonographic Industry here.

Covering the first quarter of 1979, the statistics parallel results from other European countries, notably Britain, in showing singles sales buoyant and album sales static.

Total unit sales of records and tapes were 45.5 million, 3% up on the same period last year. But while singles sales rose 13%, albums barely equalled last year's 33 million sales for the first quarter.

In fact, the album category includes both LPs and cassettes. Analysis LPs actually up by 1%, cassettes down by 7%. After years of strong growth, this unprecedented downturn in the tape market—now nearly 30% of total sales in the Federal Republic—must be the most worrying feature of the results.

The trend to full-price product continued. Budget sales were down 2%, full-price sales up 2%.

Classical music provided one of the few bright spots, with a 16% growth boosting its share of the long-play record and tape market from 9.7% last year to 11.2% so far in 1979.

Though the German record industry is far from satisfied with these results, no overly pessimistic conclusions should be drawn from the set of figures. Large dealer stocks caused by over ambitious pre-Christmas ordering slowed retail deliveries in the New Year, and the industry will be looking to next quarter's results to confirm or allay its fears.

Toshiba Hops To Latin Beat

TOKYO—Japanese arrangements and Latin American singers may at first appear a strange mix but Toshiba-EMI Ltd. is hoping to turn them into a winning sales combination.

The company has tied up with Ozawa Music Office and Global Records to set up a new label, OPA, which will offer Japanese-style music sung by Latin American artists in Japanese. Toshiba-EMI has already tasted success with Graciela Susana, an Argentine songstress, and it aims to adopt additional talent starting with Gorla Real.

Company president Noboru Takamiya explains, "Music is not confined by national boundaries and we believe it's our mission to give fans here a taste of Latin American rhythms. We're firmly committed to making stars out of artists from these parts of the world."

Finnish Production

HELSINKI—Production of recordings in Finland was up some 12% in 1978, compared with the previous year, with the biggest percentage increase being in the singles field.

Of 1,186 titles at domestic level, 466 were LPs, 392 cassettes and 328 singles or extended plays.

Spotlight

Pop

ROBERT PALMER—Secrets, Island ILPS9544. Produced by Robert Palmer. With each album Palmer has come closer to hitting the rock/pop mainstream but never has he been more on the bull's-eye than with this album. Palmer's distinctive style encompassing blends of r&b, pop, rock all meld into a cohesive and accessible musical form. In addition to his own material, Palmer interprets Todd Rundgren's "Can We Still Be Friends," Moon Martin's "Bad Case Of Loving You (Doctor, Doctor)," and other covers. Palmer's singing is razor sharp and expressive and the playing by Palmer's band rocks solidly. The production, like the album's contents, is clean and intelligent. Solid band backup.

Best cuts: "Bad Case Of Loving You," "Jealous," "Can We Still Be Friends," "Under Suspicion," "Love Stop."

Dealers: Palmer's last album produced a hit with "Every Kinda People."

A TASTE OF HONEY—Another Taste, Capitol S0011951. Produced by Larry Mizell, Fonce Mizell, A Taste Of Honey. This foursome which walked away with a Grammy for best new artist on the strength of last year's "Boogie Oogie Oogie," returns with another infectious package. The two female members, Janice Marie Johnson and Hazel Payne shine on words and music and interpret them sensuously. And they sizzle on guitar. The tunes go from crisp disco excursions to solid r&b and there's also an occasional soulful ballad. Perry Kibble sparkles on keyboards while Donald Johnson's drums are solid.

Best cuts: "Do It Good," "The Rainbow's End," "I Love You," "Take The Boogie Or Leave It," "Dance," "Your Love."

Dealers: The group is coming off an award-winning hot streak.

THE MUSIC FOR UNICEF CONCERT—A GIFT OF SONG, Polydor PD16214. Produced by Rick Stevens. A pop music event television may take a long time to duplicate, star disk performers did their bit for the children of the world aided by UNICEF at a United Nations concert last January. The soundtrack album covers performances by Abba, Bee Gees, Rita Coolidge, John Denver, Earth, Wind & Fire, Andy Gibb, Kris Kristofferson, Olivia Newton-John, Rod Stewart and Donna Summer. Gilda Radner's Swedish dialect intro of Abba is hilarious. This is a document of a charity affair that makes fascinating musical sense.

Best cuts: They are all recent hits by proven performers.

Dealers: There is multi-name value all in one package.

WALTER EGAN—Hi Fi, Columbia JC35796. Produced by Walter Egan. On Egan's last album, "Not Shy," Fleetwood Mac's Lindsey Buckingham had a big hand in the production. Egan goes it alone productionwise here without suffering very much. The playing is tight, the sound is crisp and the album is in the commercial groove that produced last year's top 10 single "Magnet And Steel." Egan's band is now dubbed the Professional Band which back's Egan's guitar with some nifty instrumentation and harmonies. Additional background vocals are supplied by Lindsey Buckingham ("Like You Do," and others).

Best cuts: "I Can't Wait," "Hi Fi Love," "Hurt Again," "Like You Do."

Soul

DENIECE WILLIAMS—When Love Comes Calling, Arc (Columbia) JC35568. Produced by David Foster, Ray Parker Jr. Williams is back with another set of beautiful interpretive ballads, hard driving rhythm numbers and funky, midtempo numbers. The album is more earthy and soulful than the super-polished pop duets with Johnny Mathis that introduced Williams to the larger pop market. Her tremendous versatility is shown in the sandwiching of "My Prayer," a brief a cappella interlude, between "Are You Thinking," a saucy r&b number and "I've Got The Next Dance," some slickly arranged disco. The rhythm, horn and string arrangements provide the right backdrop for the tunes, augmenting the tight band.

Best cuts: "I Found Love," "Are You Thinking," "Touch Me Again," "When Love Comes Calling."

Dealers: Williams is a steady gold seller.

CANDI STATON—Chance, Warner Bros. BSK3333. Produced by Candi Staton, Jimmy Simpson. The highlight of Candi's latest LP is "I Live," a great Ashford & Simpson ballad, though there are several Staton originals that also shine. Such tunes as "Chance" and "Me And My Music" have a neat discoized rhythm, while "When You Wake Up Tomorrow" has an instantly accessible pop crossover sound. The instrumentation is tight and well-executed throughout, and particularly enlivens "Rock," a catchy dance number.

Best cuts: "I Live," "When You Wake Up Tomorrow," "I Ain't Got Nowhere To Go," "Rock."

CURTIS MAYFIELD—Heartbeat, Curtom/(RSO) RS13053. Produced by Norman Harris, Ronald Tyson, Bunny Sigler, Curtis Mayfield. Mayfield's first for Curtom/RSO is a varied effort featuring disco as well as ballads of classic purity (the best of which is "Between You Baby And Me"). The singer's pleasing high-pitched vocals lend themselves easily to the disco beat and he takes the plunge repeatedly with "Tell Me, Tell Me (How Ya Like To Be Loved)," "Over The Hump" and "You Better Stop" among the standout cuts. The instrumental punch and Mayfield's distinctive vocals combined with the promotional might of RSO could serve to push Mayfield back into the upper reaches of the charts.

Best cuts: "Tell Me, Tell Me," "What Is My Woman For," "Victory," "Over The Hump."

Dealers: This could be Mayfield's comeback LP.

Jazz

FREDDIE HUBBARD—The Love Connection, Columbia JC36015. Produced by Claus Ogerman, Freddie Hubbard. Taped in New York and Los Angeles, Hubbard's five-tune LP boasts a dazzling lineup of star instrumentalists, and Al Jarreau does the singing on "Little Sunflower." Doubling flugelhorn and trumpet, Hubbard appears more musical, more artistic, than on his recent LPs. It comes off the turntable as pleasing fare, albeit the tracks run long. Charts by Ogerman are commendable.

Best cuts: "Lazy Afternoon," "This Dream."

Dealers: Hubbard's track record is astonishingly high. This new LP is destined for brisk sales and heavy promotion.

First Time Around

LOUISE GOFFIN—Kid Blue, Asylum 6E203. Produced by Danny Kortchmar. This second generation pop singer has a style all her own—leaning more to rock'n'roll than her mother Carole King's craftsmanlike pop. But they both have a spare, basic approach that touches the listener. In addition to several songs she wrote by herself, Louise cowrote a song each with producer Kortchmar and Billy Hippie. She also covers a pair of oldies: Lennon & McCartney's "All I've Got To Do" and the Shangri-Las' "Remember (Walkin' In The Sand)." Rather like a Linda Ronstadt album, the music here moves effortlessly from bawdy, tough rockers to ballad laments like Kortchmar's "Hurt By Love." The punchy, tight band backup supplies just the right amount of funk for the vital, vibrant material. And yes, Louise's mom does background vocals on "Singing Out Alone," along with Don Henley and J.D. Souther.

Best cuts: "Kid Blue," "Hurt By Love," "Jimmy And The Touch Kids," plus those cited.

Dealers: Goffin is riding on no one's coattails; she is an original talent.

RACHEL SWEET—Fool Around, Stiff/Columbia JC36101. Produced by Liam Sternberg, Dave MacKay, Barrie Guard. This album features the delightful vocals of Sweet, a 17-year-old English singer who has all the right inflections, grace and style to become a major performer. Sweet interprets material by Isaac Hayes, Del Shannon, producer Sternberg, Elvis Costello's "Stranger In The House" and others. There is a subtle country twang to her full-bodied vocals that are as expressive as anyone's. In addition to her backing rhythm section, there are horn interludes and backing vocals by Lene Lovich, whose own debut LP was also released this week.

Best cuts: "B-A-B-Y," "I Go To Pieces," "Sad Song," "Stranger In The House."

Dealers: Play in-store.

MAX GRONENTHAL—Whistling In The Dark, Chrysalis CHR1231. Produced by Michael James Jackson. This keyboardist and vocalist, who at one time played with Tommy Bolin, demonstrates a catchy and engaging songwriting style. The material is primarily rock flavored with boogie woogie piano. At times, Gronenthal slows the tempo down with a ballad-like tune demonstrating a deep, soulful voice. Joining musicians include Billy Meeker on drums, Trey Thompson on bass, Will McFarlane on guitar, and James Newton Howard on

NEIL YOUNG & CRAZY HORSE—Rust Never Sleeps, Warner Bros. HS2295. Produced by Neil Young, David Briggs, Tim Mulligan. This is the soundtrack to Young's new film which documents his last tour. The nine songs here are all new, studio recorded with overdubs. Young is joined by Crazy Horse and as a result rings similar to some of his earlier recordings with the band. Side one is on the mellow side with Young on acoustic guitar and harmonica. Side two is much harder and rocking as Young lets rip on electric guitar. Much of that side comes off as muddled with the acoustic stuff brighter and folkier and more in tune with his successful "Comes A Time" LP. In addition to Crazy Horse, Nicolette Larson joins in on "Sail Away."

Best cuts: "My, My, Hey Hey (Out Of The Blue)," "Sail Away," "Powderfinger," "Thrasher," "Sedan Delivery."

synthesizer. Kenny Loggins, Pat Simmons and Michael McDonald contribute vocals.

Best cuts: "Sailfish," "Still I Wonder," "Lookin' For A Girl," "I Know You're In There," "Faded Satin Lady."

Dealers: Play in store.

LENE LOVICH—Stateless, Stiff/Epic JE36102 (CBS). No producer listed. This is the first release under the new distribution deal between CBS and Stiff Records, the original and often unpredictable English new wave label. Sounding a little like an Eastern European Patti Smith, Lovich appears to be very much an artist whose time has come. With echoes in her music that recall everything from the Cars and Talking Heads to Volga boat songs and rock'n'roll girl groups, Lovich has fashioned a unique identity that is totally on the mark in spirit and execution. The playing on this LP also shows dramatically just how far musicianship has progressed in the new wave in the last three years.

Best cuts: "Lucky Number," "Home," "Telepathy," "I Think We're Alone Now," "Tonight."

Dealers: Last year's new wave potential is this year's sales.

BLAST, Columbia JC36012. Produced by Dave Still. Take a fusion jazz sax player named Jaroslav Jakubovic, and team him up with Ula Hedwig, formerly of the Harlettes, and what sort of album do you expect the two to produce? Funky rock'n'roll did someone say? Absolutely right, and with a little help from Rick Derringer and Johnny Winter, they do a fine job. The arrangements, relying as they do on the interplay of the sax with the female voice, are sometimes a bit unusual, but never unpleasant. Also interesting is the range of material this group tackles.

Best cuts: "Over Under Sideways Down," "You Better Slow Down," "Rockin' You," "New York Blues."

Dealers: A hit single will break this band.

OXENDALE & SHEPARD—Put Your Money Where Your Mouth Is, Nipper JZ36063 (CBS). Produced by Peter Oxendale. Gerry Shephard and Peter Oxendale are both veterans of the Glitter Band, that pop rock outfit that found fame and fortune in Britain and elsewhere backing Gary Glitter, as well as producing a couple of hits on its own. On this LP the duo is much more melodic and quieter than the sometimes strident Glitter Band. The emphasis here is on pop hooks and understated playing. But gross and noisy as the Glitter Band was, at least it was fun. This LP, unfortunately isn't. The spirit isn't there.

Best cuts: "Don't Look Back," "Landslide," "Long And Lonely Road."

Dealers: The cover catches the eye.

Billboard's Recommended LPs

MARIA MULDAUR—Open Your Eyes, Warner Bros. BSK3305. Produced by Patrick Henderson, David Nichtern. Muldaur's saucy, sexy sound is showcased to its best effect on two familiar oldies here: Billie Holiday's bluesy "Lover Man (Oh Where Can You Be)" and Betty Wright's classic r&b number "Clean Up Woman." The rest of the material ranges from soft ballads like "Open Your Eyes" to funky, full-throated number like "(No More) Dancin' In The Street." Muldaur's vocal versatility is accentuated by the instrumental backup, which features great rhythm and horn arrangements and such top players as Stevie Wonder and Jr. Walker. Best cuts: Those cited.

COOPER BROTHERS—Pitfalls Of The Ballroom, Capricorn CPN0226. Produced by Gary Cape. This is a seven-man band that plays smooth Southern rock with the country touch that seems to be in fashion today. Vocals and instrumentals are polished and the material is a cut above the average. The eight cuts here indicate that the band has lot more to offer than boogie and blues. Best cuts: "Show Some Emotion," "Make The Last One A Fast One," "I'll Know Her When I See Her."

KATE TAYLOR—It's In There . . . And It's Got To Come Out, Columbia JC36034. Produced by Barry Beckett. The folkie Taylor goes to Muscle Shoals and gets an assist from the Muscle Shoals Rhythm Section as well as first-rate session players there. Taylor does some old Motown tunes like "Same Old Song" and comes up with a winning package. The material here is diverse, spanning folk, country rock, r&b flavored material and pop, and Taylor's easy style handles it all well. Credit Beckett with a nifty musical bed. Best cuts: "I Got The Will," "Ain't No Way To Forget You," "Ain't Too Proud To Beg," "Can't Hurry Love," "Champagne And Wine."

GREG KIHN BAND—With The Naked Eye, Berserkley BZ10063. (Elektra/Asylum). Produced by Matthew King Kaufman, Glen Kolotkin, Kenny Laguna. The first Berserkley release under the WEA umbrella is the fourth album by Kihn, on which he mixes originals with outside material like Bruce Springsteen's "Rendezvous" and labelmate Jonathon Richman's "Roadrunner." The four-man band is fronted by Kihn's lead vocals and rhythm guitar and specializes in a raw, basic rock'n'roll sound which is not overproduced or swamped in effects. Best cuts: "Rendezvous," "In The Naked Eye," "Beside Myself," "Roadrunner."

FRANNIE GOLDE, Portrait JR36048. Produced by Karl Richardson, Abby Galuten. The Richardson/Galuten sound is all over this effort with lots of smartly arranged songs with catchy melodies and instrumentation. Golde, herself, has a sweet enough vocal style and she's backed on numerous cuts by background singers. The material ranges from light pop fare to disco infected tunes. There are some familiar Florida musicians like George Perry on bass, Joey Murcia on guitar and Joe Lala on percussion and the Miami Boneroo Horns. Best cuts: "Lovin' You (Is A Way Of Life)," "Everybody's Heart Gets Broken," "Rock Me Up A Mountain."

PIECES, United Artists UALA966H. Produced by Barry Ferman, Pieces. Pieces is a four-man group that plays catchy pop with disco shadings. Geoffrey Leib's keyboards and synthesizers are upfront with drums, guitars and bass producing ample orchestration. Lyrics, all original, are strong and the playing keeps the material at a steady pace. Best cuts: "Dance So Good," "Who You Been Doin'," "Magazine Lover."

THIRD WORLD—The Story's Been Told, Island ILPS9569 (Warner Bros.). Produced by Third World. This reggae group's last set, "Journey To Addis," did quite well and even received some disco play. This new set should further the group's popularity with its sensuous combination of reggae, soul, disco and jazz. The title cut, with its Earth, Wind & Fire harmonies, and "Talk To Me" with its subtle disco rhythm possess crossover appeal while the smoking "Having A Party" and "Irie Ites" should satisfy the hardcore reggae enthusiasts. Best cuts: Those mentioned above.

THE J. GEILS BAND—Best Of, Atlantic SD19234. No producer listed. Here's a collection of straight ahead rockers that have a familiar ring, since they're hits that have been heard over the past decade from the Geils band, a sextet that boasts flamboyant lead guitar, the raspy vocals of Peter Wolfe and Magic Dick's harmonica playing. A nice collection of nine favorites taken from the group's sizable repertoire. Best cuts: "Detroit Breakdown," "Looking For A Love," "Whammer Jammer."

SCORPIONS—Lovedrive, Mercury SRM3795. Produced by Dieter Dierks. Though quite popular abroad, this German heavy metal band has yet to make inroads in the U.S. Its power chording heavy rock is in the Van Halen/UFO mold, and UFO's Michael Schenker contributes his talents to three tracks. Playing and production is crisp throughout although the lyrics, especially on "Another Piece Of Meat," are annoyingly juvenile. Best cuts: "Is There Anybody There?," "Coast To Coast," "Holiday."

ANTHONY PHILLIPS—Sides, Passport PB9834 (JEM). Produced by Rupert Hine. This solo LP by Phillips is a lyrical and melodic excursion into soft English art rock that is both warm and slyly humorous. At the same time the production on this is state-of-the-art, giving any stereo system a good workout. Someone named "the Vicar" provides very engaging vocals on some of the tracks here, which have the spirit of early Pink Floyd. Best cuts: "Um & Aargh," "Lucy Will," "Bleak House," "Holy Deadlock."

SESAME DISCO!—Sesame Street CTW79008. Executive Producer: Joe Raposo. The delightful folks who gave you "Sesame Street Fever," a gold album, return with an utterly joyous disco package. The disco beat is sure, Joe Raposo's tunes are engaging, including his new standard, "Sing." Kermit the Frog is the "special guest star." Even grown-ups will be enchanted. Best cuts: All.

ANITA KERR—Performs Wonders, Century CRD1160. Produced by Alex Grob. Eight of Stevie Wonder's most ingratiating songs are offered on this digital LP by Kerr, who charted them all for a vocal chorus and orchestra with unusual skill and good taste. Anita sings the solos, too, and elegantly. It's all topped by remarkable sonics and attractive graphics. Best cuts: "Too Shy To Say," "Don't You Worry 'Bout A Thing," "If It's Magic."

Pop

ORLEANS—Don't Throw Our Love Away (3:59); producer: Orleans, writers: Larry Hoppen, Marilyn Mason, Bob Leinbach; publishers: Lucid BMI/Orleansongs ASCAP, Infinity 50017. This followup to the top 20 "Love Takes Time" is a solid midtempo song with a strong, infectious hook. Guitar break midway through adds a nice, hard edge.

CAROLE KING—Move Lightly (4:26); producers: Carole King, Mark Hallman, writer: Carole King; publishers: Colgems EMI/Music ASCAP, Capitol P4718. King's first from the "Touch The Sky" album is a funky midtempo rocker featuring Jerry Jeff Walker's rhythm section. The cut is an effective departure from the smooth pop veneer of recent King releases.

BOB WELCH—3 Hearts (3:20); producer: Carter, writer: Bob Welch; publishers: Glenwood/Cigar ASCAP, Capitol P4745. The title track from Welch's latest LP is a solid rocker dominated by some hot guitar riffs. This remixed version also places Welch's vocals more upfront.

recommended

DAVID BOWIE—D. J. (3:20); producers: David Bowie, Tony Visconti, writers: Bowie, Ena, Alomar, publishers: Bewlay Bros./Fleur/E. G. BMI/100 MPH ASCAP, RCA 11661.

NIGEL OLSSON—Part Of The Chosen Few (3:12); producers: Paul Davis, Nigel Olsson, writers: N. Olsson, P. Davis; publisher: Drumsong/Web IV/Dick James BMI, Bang ZS8 4803 (CBS).

MAYNARD FERGUSON—Rocky II Disco (4:09); producer: Maynard Ferguson, writers: B. Conti, A. Robbins, C. Connors, publishers: Unart BMI/United Artists ASCAP, Columbia 311037.

DAN HARTMAN—Boogie All Summer (3:43); producer: Dan Hartman, writer: D. Hartman, publisher: Silver Steed BMI, Blue Sky ZS82776 (CBS).

LOBO—Where Were You When I Was Falling In Love (3:18); producer: Bob Montgomery, writers: Sam Lorber, Jeff Silber, Steve Jobe; publishers: Bobby Goldsboro/House of Gold ASCAP/BMI, MCA 41065.

JOURNEY—Lovin', Touchin', Squeezin' (3:44); producer: Roy Thomas Baker, writer: S. Perry, publisher: Weed High Night-mare BMI, Columbia 311036.

MICHAEL STANLEY BAND—Last Night (3:32); producer: Harry Maslin, writers: K. Raleigh, M. Stanley; publishers: Michael Stanley/Bema ASCAP, Arista AS0436.

IAN & THE BLOCKHEADS—Hit Me With Your Rhythm Stick (3:40); producer: Chaz Jankel, writers: Dury, Jankel; publisher: Blackhill, Stiff Epic 850726 (CBS).

THE BELLAMY BROTHERS—The Two And Only, Warner/Curb BSK3347. Produced by Michael Lloyd. An appealing collection of smooth and easy country/rock tunes that never falters in its gentle pacing. The Bellamys have already established themselves in both pop and country markets. The duo's melodic harmonies play off steel and acoustic guitar, with tasteful keyboards, bass and drums underscoring the well-chosen material. Best cuts: "May You Never," "Miss Misunderstood," "Lovin' On," "If I Said You Have A Beautiful Body Would You Hold It Against Me."

BOBBY BRADDOCK—Between The Lines, Elektra 6E187. Produced by Don Gant. Braddock's a new face on the recording scene, although he has scored successfully with a number of his songwriting efforts for other artists. He has a voice that easily conveys emotions and lends itself well to country compositions. Production is strong, drawing from full horn and string sections, in addition to synthesizer, keyboards, grand piano, drums, guitar and background vocals. Best cuts: "Between The Lines," "I Did The Right Thing," "Where The Heart Is."

THE ISLEY BROTHERS—Winner Takes All (4:18); producers: Ernie Isley, Marvin Isley, Chris Jasper, Rudolph Isley, O'Kelly Isley, Ronald Isley, writers: W. Isley, M. Isley, C. Jasper, R. Isley, O. Isley, R. Isley; publisher: Bovina ASCAP, T-Neck ZS8 2284 (CBS). The trademarked Isley Brothers sound is again apparent on this hand-clapping, funky followup to "I Wanna Be With You," a No. 1 soul hit. A percussive break lends a nice touch.

recommended

BRICK—Dancin' Man (3:36); producer: Bill Schnee, writers: R. Ransom, J. Brown; publishers: WB/Good High ASCAP, Bang ZS84804 (CBS).

THE UNDISPUTED TRUTH—I Can't Get Enough Of Your Love (3:26); producer: Norman Whitfield, writer: I. Martin; publishers: May Twelfth/Warner-Tamberlane BMI, Whitfield WH18873 (Warner Bros.).

HERBIE HANCOCK—Tell Everybody (3:59); producers: David Rubinson, Herbie Hancock, writers: H. Hancock, D. Rubinson, J. Cohen, B. Good; publishers: Hancock/Polo Grounds BMI, Columbia 311021.

MANHATTANS—The Way We Were/Memories (5:13); producer: Scorpion, writers: M. Hamlisch, A. & M. Bergman, J. Bowen, D. Baldwin, K. Wakefield; publishers: Colgems EMI/Music ASCAP/Jobete ASCAP/Stone Diamond/BMI, Columbia 311024.

SHOTGUN—Midnight Breakdown (3:34); producers: Stuart Alan Love, David Chackler, Shotgun, writers: W. Talbert, T. Steels, I.-L. Austin, G. Ingram, E. Lattimore, W. Gentry, R. Resch; publishers: Duchess/Home/Fire/Funk Rock BMI, MCA 41058.

PLATINUM HOOK—Give Me Time To Say (3:55); producer: Greg Wright, writers: R. Douglas, S. Foster; publishers: Jobete/Commodores ASCAP, Motown M1464F.

THE MEMPHIS HORNS—The Bottom Line (3:49); producer: Clarence K. McDonald, writers: P. Moten, R. Eaton, T. Sparks; publisher: Sun Harbor ASCAP, RCA 11565.

RJ'S LATEST ARRIVAL—Does She Do It Like She Dances (4:45); producer: Leonard Jones, writers: Steve Duboff, Gerry Robinson; publishers: Music Way/Addrisi BMI, Anola 7758.

Country

CRYSTAL GAYLE—Your Kisses Will (2:05); producer: Allen Reynolds, writer: V. Stephenson, publisher: House of Gold, BMI, United Artists X1306Y. Acoustic guitar, electric keyboards and piano provide pretty accompaniment to the husky fabric of Gayle's voice in this rhythmic ballad about the steady influence of love. Background strings add highlights to the lightly-orchestrated arrangement.

RANDY BARLOW, Republic RPL6024 A/B. Produced by Fred Kelly. Material selection, which relies mainly upon penning by Fred Kelly and/or Kelly and Barlow, provide Barlow with a mixed base of ballad, uptempo and midtempo tunes aptly suited to his rich vocals and interpretations. Crisp production utilizes a variety of highlighting instrumentation for moods. Best cuts: "Sweet Melinda," "Once Again," "Lively Lady," "Poor Baby," "Heaven Here We Come."

VARIOUS ARTISTS—Honky Tonkin', RCA AHL13422. Produced by Chips Moman, Roy Dea, Felton Jarvis, Bobby Bare, Neil Wilburn. RCA has assembled an array of honky tonk styles by Waylon Jennings, Gary Stewart, Willie Nelson, Bobby Bare and Guy Clark for this collection, which provides some previously unreleased material by Bare and Clark. Nelson numbers dominate the 10-cut package with three entries, while Stewart, Bare and Clark provide two entries each. Best cuts: All.

THE ORIGINAL CARTER FAMILY—Legendary Performers, Volume One, RCA CPM12763. A collector's package, volume one contains mono reproductions dated back to the Carter Family's initial recording sessions in 1927 in Bristol, Tenn., and 1928-29 in Camden, N.J., recording center for the Victor Co. at the time. Composed of husband and wife members A. P. Carter, songwriter/fiddler, and Sara Carter, autoharp, and cousin Maybelle Carter, adept at autoharp and banjo, the package displays their innovative vocal and instrumental styles. Best cuts: All selections.

BUCK WHITE & THE DOWN HOME FOLKS—Poor Folks' Pleasure, Sugar Hill SH3705. Produced by Neil Wilburn, Glen Goza. A fine package of country/folk songs by White and his daughters, who recently completed a national concert tour with Emmylou Harris. Crystalline harmonies, excellent instrumenta-

CONWAY TWITTY—I May Never Get To Heaven (2:47); producers: Conway Twitty & David Barnes, writers: Bill Anderson-Buddy Killen, publisher: Tree, BMI, MCA 41059. Using his resonant voice to express the emotions of this well-paced song, Twitty gives his usual fine performance. Production builds in intensity as drums, solid bass, guitars and keyboards kick in with backup vocals.

CHARLEY PRIDE—You're My Jamaica (2:56); producers: Jerry Bradley-Charley Pride, writer: Kent Robbins, publisher: Pi-Gem, BMI, RCA JH11655. A Caribbean touch—in lyric content, melody and instrumentation—pervades the new Pride release. It's a welcome change of pace that Pride effectively renders while backed by vibrant background music aided by the Caribbean sound.

JERRY LEE LEWIS—Who Will The Next Fool Be (3:20); producer: Bones Howe, writer: Charlie Rich; publisher: Knox, BMI, Elektra B46067A. Lewis takes a Charlie Rich song and performs it in his usual energetic style. The background vocals give a hint of the late '50/early '60s rock style, and Lewis' piano adds still another original element as the strings build in the background.

DONNA FARGO—Daddy (3:15); producer: Stan Silver, writer: Donna Fargo; publisher: Prima-Donna, BMI, Warner Bros. WBS8867. Fargo is noted for her storyline releases, and this is no exception. Instrumental support further enhances lyrics with predominant banjo coupled with percussion and bass.

MOE BANDY & JOE STAMPLEY—Just Good Ol' Boys (2:33); producer: Ray Baker, writer: A. Fleetwood; publishers: Brandwood/Mullet, BMI, Columbia 311027. The duo's first teaming is a rousing and danceable number about a couple of good ol' boys who find themselves in a heap of trouble now and then, but they have a good time. Production utilizes fiddle, steel, guitar, bass and harmonica.

MARVEL FELTS—Tower Of Strength (2:30); producer: Johnny Morris, writers: Bob Hilliard-Burt Bacharach; publisher: Famous, ASCAP, MCA 41055. The 1961 Gene McDaniels hit gets an updated treatment from Felts. Strings and electric guitar play a prominent role in supporting his voice in this fast moving version.

recommended

MICKI FUHRMAN—Blue River Of Tears (3:04); producer: Jim Foglesong, writer: Randy Goodrum; publishers: Sailmaker/Chappell, ASCAP, MCA MCA41057.

TERRI HOLLOWELL—It's Too Soon To Say Goodbye (2:20); producer: Bill Walker, writer: Joe Ashley, publisher: Wiljex, ASCAP, Con Brio CBK156.

BOBBY WRIGHT—I'm Turning You Loose (3:00); producer: Don Gant, writers: S. Throckmorton/C. Putman, publisher: Tree, BMI, United Artists UAX1300Y.

JERRY NAYLOR—She wears It Well (2:43); producer: Ray Ruff, writer: Oskar Solomon, publisher: Yatahey, BMI, Warner/Curb WBS8881.

SANDRA KAYE—You Broke My Heart So Gently (It Almost Didn't Break) (2:09); producer: Gene Kennedy, writers: Gerry Stone/John Allingham; publisher: Chip 'N' Dale, ASCAP, Door Knob OK9097.

PENNY HAMILTON—You Lit The Fire, Now Fan The Flame (2:55); producer: Gene Kennedy, writer: Dave Gibson; publisher: Door Knob, BMI, Door Knob DK9096.

tion and lively production results in a superior "sleeper" album which benefits from a varied selection of material by such writers as Karla Bonoff, Guy Clark and Hank Williams. Best cuts: "Home," "Jealous Heart," "The Cowboy Lives Forever," "Poor Folks Pleasure."

disco

GIBSON BROTHERS—Cuba, Island ILPS9579. Produced by Daniel Vangarde. The Gibson Brothers, Alex, Patrick and Chris hail from Martinique, French West Indies. The title cut is already a major disco hit throughout Europe and the rest of the album also bursts with spirited and energetic danceable melodies. Keyboards, drums, bass, percussion, synthesizer, guitars, strings and horns give the material full-bodied rich instrumentation. Best cuts: "Cuba," "Oooh, What A Life," "Better Do It Salsa."

jazz

CHICK COREA—Delphi One, Polydor PD16208. Produced by Chick Corea. An unusual LP by one of the world's most popular pianists. Chick runs through 16 tracks at the Mark Allen concert grand, unaccompanied. Taped at the Delphian Foundation in Oregon last October. It's a daring LP, vastly different from Corea's previous vinyl productions. Best cuts: "Rhapsody For Mr. Tatum," "Delphi One," "Stride Time III."

RONNIE FOSTER—Delight, Columbia JC36019. Produced by Jerry Peters. Keyboard player Foster turns in a lush set of pop/jazz and funk/jazz pieces which highlight his instrumental skills. Foster also sings on four of the eight tracks lending a Stevie Wonder feel. Although not adventurous in any sense KAREN TAYLOR—Suddenly Single (3:14); producer: William Taylor, writer: Hornsby; publishers: Impulsivo/RCS, ASCAP, Albatross ALB2637.

MARLENA SHAW—Love Dancin' (3:31); producers: Meco Monardo, Tony Bongiovi, Harold Wheeler, Marlena Shaw, writers: G. Allan, G. Knight; publishers: Don Kirshner/Blackwood BMI/Kirshner/April ASCAP, Columbia 311034.

FREDDIE JAMES—Get Up And Boogie (3:36); producer: Tony Green, writer: Tony Green; publishers: Cicada/Rebera/Get Ready BMI, Warner Bros. WBS8858.

CANDIDO—Jingo (3:10); producer: Joe Cain, writer: Michael Olatunji; publisher: Blackwood BMI, Salsoul 2094 (RCA).

BONNIE BOYER—Got To Give In To Love (3:21); producer: Nate Chacker, writers: K. Fleming, B. Dees, R. Galbraith, D. W. Morgan; publishers: Mad Lad/Pi-Gem BMI, Columbia 311028.

DORIS JONES—Possessed (7:52); producer: Ian Levine, writer: I. Levine, publisher: Hudson Bay BMI, AVI PRO12280D.

Adult Contemporary

recommended

PAUL ANKA—As Long As We Keep Believing (3:40); producers: Michael DeLugg, Paul Anka, writers: Paul Anka, Barry Mann, Cynthia Weil; publishers: Paulanne/ATV/Mann and Weil BMI, RCA 11662.

MARY WELCH—When It Was Good (3:32); producer: Turley Richards, writers: Gloria Sklerov, Harry Lloyd; publishers: Fox Fanfare/I'll Know It When I Hear It BMI, 20th Century-Fox 2412.

First Time Around

BLACKJACK—Love Me Tonight (2:50); producer: Tom Dowd, writers: M. Bolotin, R. Kulick, B. Kulich; publishers: Emboe/Robert Bruce/Ion ASCAP, Polydor PD14572. The initial release from this new band is a strong rocker with influences ranging from Springsteen to Foreigner. The gritty vocals, pulsating hook and searing guitar adds up to an attention-getting debut.

Picks—a top 30 chart tune in the opinion of the review panel voted for the selections released this week; recommended—a tune predicted to land on the Hot 100 between 31 and 100. Review editor—Ed Harrison.

Billboard's Recommended LPs

CARMEN DRAGON—The Bee Gees' Music, Orinda ORC500. Produced unlisted. This is much more than sugar coated versions of eight hits by the Gibb boys. Dragon conducts extremely musical, classy arrangements with the Glendale (Calif.) Symphony Orchestra and in digital process. Result is a superbly recorded concert, one that will have undeniable appeal to youngsters and more mature record buyers alike. Best cuts: "Night Fever," "How Deep Is Your Love," "Songbird."

country

THE BELLAMY BROTHERS—The Two And Only, Warner/Curb BSK3347. Produced by Michael Lloyd. An appealing collection of smooth and easy country/rock tunes that never falters in its gentle pacing. of the term, all the songs are quite listenable and suitable for a variety of formats. George Benson and Phyllis Hyman lend their vocal support on "Let Me In Your Life" while Stevie Wonder provides percussion. Best cuts: "Let Me In Your Life," "Argentina," "Feet."

SAM RIVERS—Waves, Tomato TOM8002. Produced by Rivbea Music Co. He's been knocking on the door a long time; Rivers has put it all together on this album. There are five tracks, all composed by Rivers, who wears many hats comfortably as he plays flute, piano, tenor and soprano saxophone with a trio comprised of Dave Holland, Joe Daley and Thurman Barker. Best cuts: "Torch," "Surge," "Flux."

JAMES MOODY-AL COHN—Too Heavy For Words, Pausa PR7029. Produced by Don Schlitten. Two fabled tenor men tangle on six tunes recorded eight years ago in Europe. But this is in no way a carving contest. Rather, it's a well-produced session in which Moody and Cohn work easily with Sam Jones and Roy Brooks, with Barry Harris at the keyboard, to turn out an entertaining concert in which twin gooseneck horns dominate. Best cuts: "East Of The Sun," "Good Bait," "Mr. George."

ART FARMER—To Duke With Love, Inner City IC6014. Produced by Yasohachi Itoh, Kiyoshi Itoh, Yukio Morisaki. Farmer's flugelhorn dominates six melodies from the book of Ellingtonia and capable backup is provided by Cedar Walton, Billy Higgins and Sam Jones. While there have been perhaps too many Dukish "tributes" this past year, Farmer's ranks among the most musical. Tracks were taped four years ago but sonics are excellent. Best cuts: "Lush Life," "In A Sentimental Mood."

Blondie's got America begging for more.
 More of those good time hits.
 And more of that unparalleled music that's sent Blondie's album soaring past Platinum.
 You've got it America.
 A new single,
 "One Way Or Another," that's grabbed hold of the charts and won't let go.
 And now you've got Blondie on a major nationwide tour.
 Watch out.
 Because, one way or another,

JULY 7, 1979, BILLBOARD

★ STAR PERFORMERS: Stars are awarded on the Top LP's & Tape chart based on the following upward movement. 1-10 Strong increase in sales / 11-20 Upward movement of 4 positions / 21-30 Upward movement of 6 positions / 31-40 Upward movement of 8 positions / 41-100 Upward movement of 10 positions. Previous week's starred positions are maintained without a star if the product is in a holding period. This will, in some cases, block out products which would normally move up with a star. In such cases, products will be awarded a star without the required upward movement noted above. ● Recording Industry Assn. Of America seal for sales of 500,000 units. (Seal indicated by bullet) ▲ Recording Industry Assn. Of America seal for sales of 1,000,000 units. (Seal indicated by triangle) Recording Industry Assn. Of America seal audit available and optional to all manufacturers.

1st Rock Digital LP

analog you're not sure."

Cooder notes that the digital machinery made his five-piece band "sound very big" as he's not one who relies on strings and horns. Instead, Cooder concentrates on a guitar and drum sound with a new band consisting of Jim Keltner on drums, Tim Drummond on bass, David Lindley on guitar and Milt Holland on drums and percussion.

"Everything we did seemed enhanced and with greater impact. Keltner heard every effect. And the guitar textures were really there," says Cooder.

"With analog, the sound is flat and one-dimensional. The highs are so intense that they sometimes gave me headaches. I was really suffering towards the end."

The idea to record digitally came from engineer Lee Herschberg. The machine was recently installed at Warner Bros.' Amigo studio, one of four locations to lease the machine (A&M Studios and Record Plant in Los Angeles also have the equipment).

"The 3M technicians were practically living there," says Cooder. "No one knew what would happen. But the difference was incredible over the big studio speakers and once we heard it, there was no question."

"During the tracking there were no fowlups. But once we got into overdubbing periods we lost our train of thought. But it was worth the wait because the sound was so good."

"It's very dramatic, especially on drums, because of the peaks, lows and the highs. For guitars, you get the real finger chord skin sounds. On vocals you can really get the edge."

Yet even with the digital recording machinery, playback equipment remains the same. Cooder believes that whether the consumer notices it or not, he will hear more depending on the needle and how powerful the amplifier is. It is suggested to listen on headphones to put the listener closer to the sound.

The recording process was an adventure in itself, says Cooder. There were times when the machine would "eat up an entire drum part."

"There were times when Keltner couldn't play a note without the machine refusing it. Sometimes the hood would be up on the machine and all the guys would peer into it not knowing what they're looking at."

Cooder says he conducted his own survey with a test pressing by playing it on neighbors' equipment. Cooder was amazed by the poor quality of so many speakers and just as amazed by the sound on a good system.

WHO'S FEST—Bob Siner, president of MCA Records, chats with Peter Townshend of the Who during a reception for the band at the World Trade Center in New York in conjunction with the release of the Who's "Kids Are Alright" film.

"Bop Till You Drop" is Cooder's most accessible album. He credits having the same musicians playing on every tune for giving the album continuity and cohesiveness.

"Some of the r&b, guitar and drum things came up better than ever," states Cooder. "There's a lot of sound to fatten it up."

The album also features the vocals of Chaka Khan even though Cooder says he doesn't sing with female singers that much anymore.

Yet despite the enormous expense of leasing the equipment and the need for a computer setup for editing, Cooder believes in digital strongly enough to state: "I'll never go back to 24-track analog again."

WCI In Video Software

"Ideally," adds Schein, "we would like the hardware to be compatible."

Initial product will be on the market in the near future, according to the Warner executive.

"We want our distribution to be as flexible as possible," adds Schein.

WCI already has an extensive distribution setup from its various divisions and has presence in racks and retail record chains via its record vision.

Last year WCI acquired Atari, a Northern California-headquartered maker and marketer of video games and video game cartridges. That business gives WCI presence with electronics distributors and retail outlets of electronics.

Pricing on the programming "will be competitive" adds Schein, who indicates no firm pricing structure has been solidified yet.

MCA DiscoVision has hiked its basic videodisk list prices for feature and classic films (Billboard, June 30, 1979).

MCA DiscoVision features are now listed at $24.95 with feature films ranging from $9.95 to $19.95 in Seattle/Tacoma and Atlanta, the only two markets today with video-disk hardware and software available.

At the moment, feature films from a number of videocassette distributors range in the $30 to $40 area.

tive Board. Besides president Fuentelba, David Winstein was retained as vice president. Secretary-treasurer J. Martin Emerson and Canadian vice president J. Alan Wood were reelected by acclamation.

Also reelected to the remaining five seats on the board were Max L. Arons (New York), Mark Tully Massagli (Las Vegas), Eugene V. Frey (Cincinnati), Max Herman (Los Angeles) and Robert Jones (Portland, Ore.).

The next convention will be in Portland, Me., next June.

Everest Relocates

LOS ANGELES—Everest Record Group, the Bernat-Bokanin operation, has moved to 2020 Ave. of the Stars, Century City, Calif. 90067. The phone number is (213) 557-0309.

Capitol is the first major label to follow WEA's recent rise in prices. Capitol's new suggested list for singles is now $1.49, up from $1.29. And the company is selling high volume dealers $7.98 suggested list LPs for $4.13. And the beat goes on.

The 1979 Pickwick convention plans have been further leaned. Present plans are for complete elimination of a national convention. The late July three days at the Diplomat Hotel, Hollywood, Fla., have been cancelled. Retail will hold some training sessions at as yet undesignated site or sites. Rackjobbing and independent label distribution plan nothing. The industry behemoth's first venture at sponsoring a nationally heralded auto racing event, "Music 500," drew an estimated 50,000 to the Pocono (Pa.) International Raceway Sunday (24). A.J. Foyt won the 500-mile race. Attending were director of marketing services Bob Newmark, Sam Stollen and Bob Menashe of Sam Goody and Scott Young, vice president and general manager of the retail division. It has not been decided if the firm will sponsor the 1980 event in conjunction with the U.S. Auto Club.

Chuck E. Weiss, the song subject for Rickie Lee Jones' "Chuck E's In Love," has received so much attention that the fringe figure of the L.A. rock scene cut a session Friday (29). Weiss, who lives next door to Tom Waits, who has made several references to him in his song, appears to be involved managementwise with Art Fein, the erstwhile flack last with Casablanca Records.

The Grapevine has the RIAA board meeting in L.A. last week furrowing brows over the diminishing bottom line figures industrywide. Board will enlarge to 30, with more firms carrying two heavies, like Bob Siner now joined by Ron Alexenburg and Bruce Lundvall having the prerogative of bringing along either Don Dempsey or Jack Craigo. . . . Arista Southern regional sales director Dick Fitzsimmons knows how to live. He and his spouse are in Monte Carlo vacationing. They had a personal audience with Princess Grace and Prince Rainier.

John Cohen, Disc Records, Cleveland, wasn't leveling his guns at WEA for poor order fill (Billboard, June 30, 1979). He was directing his remarks at others. WEA's fill is good, he says. The WEA pricing evolution box in the same issue has an error in the % of increase on the price of $8.98 list product by WEA. It is 2.4 and not 1.6. Corrected new wholesale on $1.49 singles are: 9%, $6825; 7%, $6975; 5%, $7125; 3%, $7275 and 1%, $7425. . . . Amos Heilicher, consultant to Pickwick International, Minneapolis, has been named a board member of Empire Crown, a Twin City-based automotive specialty retailer. . . . RCA pruning its staff. No big names going.

Watch for Motown to announce the addition of Don Ellis as executive vice president, creative. Ellis, 16-year veteran with CBS and until he made the move vice president of a&r for Columbia on the Coast, will probably take over the reins at Motown late in July. . . . He is responsible for all sales and promotion activities in the St. Louis branch marketing area. Most recently, Peek held the position of sales manager for the Dallas branch.

Mort Weiner is the director of sales and merchandising for 20th Century-Fox Records. He is responsible for coordinating all sales, marketing, distribution and merchandising activity for the label, now distributed by RCA. Weiner comes directly from RCA where he held the post of director of product merchandising and previously, director of associated labels. . . . Mike Bernardo is the director of national promotion for jazz-progressive music at CBS Records. She was formerly the regional promotion marketing manager for the Northeast region. She is based in New York. . . . Renee Klein is the Midwest regional secondaries promotion person for Ariola Records. Klein will work with the firm's promotion staff from the home office in Beverly Hills. Prior to this appointment, Klein had been at Capitol in Chicago doing production coordination. . . . Dana Robb now regional singles coordinator for the CBS Seattle branch. She succeeds Bud Bush, assistant operations manager at the Santa Maria operation. . . . Jeannette Silversike is the branch coordinator for the CBS Seattle branch. . . . Tom Roos joins Elektra/Asylum as a sales representative after being in charge of inventory control for Record Bar stores in Durham, N.C.

Radio Group On Lawsuit Binge

WASHINGTON—Toyota and Volkswagen have until Friday (13) to respond to suits filed against them by the Custom Automotive Sound Assn. following the radio distributors' and manufacturers' success in the GM-Delco suit settled recently. The automotive trade group suits seek an injunction against the automobile manufacturers' practice of installing radios as standard equipment in new cars.

Recently, Honda announced that it would no longer make radios standard, beginning with its 1980 models. Pleased with Honda's voluntary settlement, Custom Automotive attorney Sidney Dickstein says he will be "contacting all of the other manufacturers to remind them of Honda's agreement, the General Motors settlement and our suits against Toyota and Volkswagen."

Association members all plan to testify at Senate judiciary committee hearings on the car manufacturers' practice sometime this month.

We begin with our own people.

In our case, the more than 2000 men, women and no children who are W or E or A and their distribution armies, WEA and WEA International, and who together are this moving and undeniable force. We secure radio acceptance for our artists. A 170-strong force of success-compulsive individuals attacks for radio airplay.

And we do the rest.

The posters, the ads, the in-stores and outdoors, the rhythm of selling that ends in millions of rings on the cash registers. Ultimately, no one mystique, but a collection of talent, a personnel roster unmatched.
