The board of directors of the Associated Bill Poster's Association in Chicago held a meeting on Thursday afternoon to discuss various matters relating to the business of bill poster advertising. The meeting was called to order by the president, L. E. Simpson. After some preliminary business, the president called for a report from the committee on the proposed changes in the By-Laws of the association. The committee reported that they had been working on this matter for several months and that they had made some progress. The members of the association were asked to consider the proposed changes and to vote on them at the next meeting.

The secretary then presented a report on the current activities of the association. He reported that the association was continuing to grow, with more and more businesses becoming members. He also reported that the association was working on a new program to help members promote their businesses through bill poster advertising.

The president then called for a motion to adjourn the meeting. The motion was carried, and the meeting adjourned.

President James A. Curran. The West Vice President, M. Dargie, had withdrawn from the American Convention in the East. Accordingly, the Secretary announced that any member who wished to pay his dues could do so by mailing them to the office at any time during the year. It is needless to say that during the Convention many paid their dues for the ensuing year.

The Secretary reported the past year's financial relations of the Convention, which were excellent. He explained that the receipts for the year had been above expectation. The Secretary further reported the results of the new campaign for contributions, which was successful.

The report was adopted as read. A letter was read, from the Secretary announcing the death of Geo. Miller, the well-known bill editor of Columbus, O.

The report of the Soliciting Secretary was read and approved. The Secretary reported the result of the campaign of soliciting the A. of D. in the West, including the soliciting in the West, and the results of the soliciting in the East.

The next item on the agenda was the report of the Convention's financial status. The financial report was presented and discussed. The report was adopted as read.

SECOND DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Convocation was called to order at 10:15 A.M. The roll was called by the Secretary, and all members present were counted. The roll was then closed, and the Secretary reported that all members present were duly counted. The Secretary then called on the Convention to order.

Mr. Miller, Chairman of the Auditing Committee, reported that the books of the officers were all correct, and that all money received had been deposited. The report was adopted as read.

Mr. Dargie, Chairman of the Finance Committee, reported that the financial relations of the Convention were satisfactory. The report was adopted as read.

Mr. Smith, Chairman of the Convention's Committee on the West, reported that the Convention was well received in the West. The report was adopted as read.

At the afternoon session of the second day's meeting, the following officers were brought before the Convention for their actions.

The Convention then adjourned to meet on the 15th day of May, 1920, at the American Convention in the East.
The outcome of the bill posters’ convention at Chicago, as detailed in another section of this paper, was not the ground. Both factions in the organization are claiming a victory, and both are exciting.

The West secured the vice-presidency, the secretaryship and the treasurership, while this is the hitherto the heart of the organization. It is instructive to compare it with the president, who is in the hands of the board of directors. The latter, it would seem, have the best of it; albeit they seemed to swallow several bitter pills.

The members insisted on Hicken’s election, and he went in with scarcely a dissenting vote.

Hager was re-instated in the same hearty and handsome manner.

And Campbell—we’ll get the short end of it all around.

While the members at large were unanimously triumphant, and did carry many of their points, it must be remembered that after all they lost the most important point, viz.: “The right to elect their own board of directors.” This was most unfortunate. Aside from the resultant futility, the riddance of a board of directors appointed by the president holds the organization up to the business world as a laughing stock. Suppose that the stockholders in a bank or corporation were denied the privileges of electing the directors, just what would they have, what say in the management thereof?

Obviously they would have none, and there is one and but will say that they would hold foolish, indeed, to tolerate such an absurdity of an affair.

As long as the Board of Directors was a simple executive committee, it was right for the president to appoint it. It was nothing but an advisory council, which the president could summon to his aid when in doubt as to wisdom of some expedient or policy. He of course has the right to choose his advisors, just as the President of the United States appoints the members of his cabinet.

But things have changed. The association is now an incorporated institution, and the Board of Directors are clothed with greater powers. They can even expel members. It will be seen, therefore, that the directors, if not mere figures, should have a voice in the selection of directors. However, the meeting is over, and as both sides claim the victory, everybody is pleased.

In marked contrast with the Chicago meeting was that of the International Association of Distributors, at Cincinnati, O. The Hotel Emery, in the Queen City, was the scene of a regular love-feast. There was no dissension, no factions, no disputes. Everything was so lovely as a 30 minutes meeting. All the officers were re-elected save one, who has sold out. All the bills were approved. All reports of officers and committees were accepted.

In fact, harmony spread itself over the meeting an inch thick. The largest attendance in the history of the organization has attended the annual meeting, while the enthusiasm of the delegates was proof sufficient of the benefit it confer an advantage on its members. The International Association of Distributors, within five years, will be one of the most powerful trade organizations in the world.

The wonderful vague enjoyed by the street fair this year is exciting comment on every hand. There can be no doubt that it is alarming the supporters of the old-time agricultural fair. All over the country they are springing up the doors. Sometimes it is under the auspices of the Board of Trade, or maybe a business man’s club, or the municipality itself. The fairs have taken an active interest in the new exhibition, and three shows have been held at various points under the supervision of various lodges. As far as we have been able to ascertain all street fairs as far as this season have been great successes, when the weather was favorable. They have brought farmers and ex-

The Cincinnati Post Dispatch, under the heading of "All the bills were approved," has accepted the report of the Board of Directors and has concurred in the reports of the various lodges.

Some Freakish Ideas.

Strange Propositions that Come to the National Export Exposition Management. Pat. Shannon.

Note 07, 1921. Now that the National Export Exposition, to be held at Chicago's$ Fair Grounds, is in full swing, the management is busy in preparations to bring out some of the most freakish ideas that can be conceived.

An Indian man wrote that he had a flying machine composed of one horse, which could carry one person in the air, and another in the rear.

The manager of the exposition plans to build a large dome, 1,000 feet in diameter, and fill it with water. He also plans to have a large aquarium containing all known species of sea life.

The management is also planning to build a rocket that will reach the moon.

The Chicago Daily News plans to publish a daily newspaper in a blimp, which will fly over the city and deliver the paper directly to the reader's doorstep.

The management is also considering the possibility of building a permanent fair ground that will be self-sufficient, with its own power plant, water supply, and sewage system.

Some of these ideas may seem impossible, but who knows what the future holds? The National Export Exposition is bound to be one of the most exciting and innovative events of the year.

J. H. DAY & CO.

1446 E. Harrison Ave., Cincinnati, O.
The man who gets the cheapest advertising usually gets the least effective. I am looking for such accounts as are willing to pay for service that will bring them best results; I make posters and I post them everywhere, and throughout the entire proceeding my endeavor is to secure the most results for the advertisers. In spite of this, my prices are not high, and I frequently secure competitive business on account of price—and then I keep the business by producing results.

To the advertiser who wants to try the billboards in a small way, 1,000 8-sheets will cover eight or ten cities, such as Providence, Washington, Little Rock, Los Angeles, etc., etc., and the cost, for a listed, protected, renewed and guaranteed showing for thirty days, including the cost of producing a good poster, will approximate $4,600. And if the order comes to me the work will be satisfactory to you.

Five thousand 24-sheet posters will advertise the thirty principal cities of the Union for thirty days, listed, renewed, protected and guaranteed, at an approximate cost of $16,000.

I am today placing work for the same people that I did work for when I went into business; I have seen them grow and they have continued to increase their advertising accordingly. I am looking for such new accounts as want to get results, and I can offer such the best there is to be had.

I am making Oil Cloth and Muslin Signs in quantities of not less than 500 of a kind; Print-painted, or paint-printed they are, and as durable as hand-painted, but cheaper; all made from special designs and not from type. Send for samples and prices, stating the size you contemplate using. Sizes range from 4x20 inches at 1c. in 5,000 lots; 12x36 inches at 7c. in 500 lots, to 36x60 at 25c. in 500 lots—all in gorgeous colors.
