8 Buzz Builers: McGathy Promotions
McGathy Promotions has been helping to lay the foundations for artists' careers for years by connecting those artists to their fans and setting them up for mass exposure. This week, CMJ talks to McGathy's college radio department, co-managed by Marie "Just Call Me Mrs. Corgan" VanAssendelft and Brad Rothschild, as well as Rich Ortega, who leads the metal department's "McGathy Edge." And while promoting to college radio is never an easy job, this trio is committed to putting quality music in the hands of music directors across America. Brad explains, "I love the opportunity to expose people to new and exciting music that they might not find out about otherwise."

INDUSTRY NEWS

Rhapsody, the digital music service powered by Listen.com, has secured a CD-burning licensing pact with BMG. When combined with the preexisting agreements that the company has already secured with Universal, WMG, Sony, EMI and several independent labels, Rhapsody subscribers will now have access to burn over 90,000 tracks (although burning all of them would cost almost $90,000, as each one costs 99 cents a pop) — all without the fear of RIAA goons slapping them with a copyright infringement lawsuit. • Javakitty Media has recently introduced Bandlink, an interactive music CD service that helps connect artists and listeners. Whenever a Bandlinkencoded audio CD is played in a CD ROM drive, an Internetpowered CD experience is launched, which can include artist bios, news, tour dates, photos, videos, lyrics and more. Those interested in learning more can go to www.bandlink.com or contact James Gore at: jgore@javakitty.com. • Syracuse University's WERW recently released its own album, WERW Presents: Real College Radio, a collection of 14 tracks by artists including The Flashing Astonishers, Casper, Hooray! For Everything, Poingly and Kevin Groob. A portion of the proceeds from the CD will be donated to the Simeon Popov

Memorial Fund.

LABEL NEWS

Music Industry veterans Michael Caplan and Larry Miller have formed Or Music, an upstart New York-based independent record label. Prior to founding Or, Caplan served as Senior VP of A&R at Sonv Music/Epic Records and Miller had been Entrepreneur in Residence at Chazen Capital Partners. The new label will celebrate its launch with the release of albums by the awardwinning female singer/songwriter Essence, infamous funk outfit Tower Of Power and Texas-trio Los Lonely Boys. All releases will be distributed by RED Distribution. "As an industry, we've done so little lately to nurture and promote artists who have the capacity to develop a long career — we've made sure all these new acts have one hit single — and forgotten totally about what happens after that single's gone," said Caplan. "Or Music is about changing that." For more info on Or Music, contact Matt Hanks at: mhanks@shorefire.com • The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has launched an investigation into Vivendi Universal for alleged financial improprieties under former Chairman Jean-Marie Messier. The SEC inquiry comes atop a similar investigation in France charging that the company falsified financial reports and misled investors into buying or holding Vivendi's stock in order to strengthen its shares. Vivendi's board ousted Messier in early July, shortly before the company announced its liquidity crisis. • Ellena Osis has been hired as the new College Radio Representative for MCA. She

MUSIC NEWS

Following the killing of Run-DMC DJ Jam Master Jay on Oct. 30, the remaining members of the pioneering hip-hop act have officially called an end to the group. "As a tribute to the positive legacy of Jam Master Jay, we started together and we want the Run-DMC legacy to always reflect the three of us together," stated Joseph Simmons, a.k.a. MC Run, the day following the funeral for Jay (whose given name was Jason Mizell). Simmons was joined by bandmate Darryl McDaniels, a.k.a. DMC, as well as his brother, Island Def Iam cofounder Russell Simmons, Jay's widow, Terri Corley-Mizell, and fellow artists Sean "P. Diddy" Combs, Public Enemy's Chuck D, Doug E. Fresh and Beastie Boy Adam "Adrock" Horovitz, among others, in creating the Mizell Children's Fund, which was established to raise money to support Mizell's family and to help track down those responsible for his death. With the Thanksgiving holiday approaching, Moby has joined animal-rights group PETA in its campaign against the unnecessary slaughter and cruel treatment of the millions of turkeys raised on factory farms each year. In opposition to a seasonal recipe telephone hotline set up by turkey company Butterball for the holiday, the techno star has recorded a message of his own, urging callers to flood the Butterball line (1-800-BUT-TERBALL) with complaints. Moby's message, which can be heard by calling 1-888-VEG-FOOD, features the artist imploring, "Please join me in calling the Butterball people to let them know that there is no proper way to kill and cook these beautiful birds."

Moby

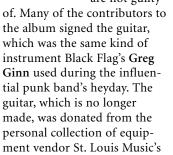

Meanwhile, in his online journal at www.moby.com, Moby reacts to the insistence of ConAgra (Butterball's parent company) that it is committed to the "humane treatment" of its livestock by writing, "Wouldn't the 'humane' treatment of an animal involve playing with it and enabling it to have a long, happy, healthy natural life? Is there some throughthe-looking-glass definition of 'humane' that I'm not aware of?" Moby, who has been a vegan since he was 21, goes on to state, "Remember, if you wouldn't personally be able to kill something, you probably shouldn't be eating it." For more on the campaign, visit http://www. peta.org/feat/ moby-turk/. The 2003 artist inductees into the Rock And Roll Hall Of Fame have been announced, with only five acts making the final cut this time around. Elvis Costello And The Attractions, The Clash, AC/DC, the Police, and the Righteous Brothers have been chosen to join the ranks of the hallowed Hall, from a ballot that also included Black Sabbath, the Sex Pistols and ABBA, amongst others. The possibility of induction to the Hall comes 25 years after an artist's first release, with Costello, The Clash, and the Police all receiving the additional honor of being inducted in their first year of eligibility. Of the bands on the ballot that were not chosen this time around, Black Sabbath tops the list for nominations, having appeared on the ballot six times at this point. (Don't fret Ozzy, there's always next year.) The official ceremony will take place in NYC in March 2003, with inductees in the non-performer and sidemen categories still to be announced. • A guitar auctioned off to benefit the West Memphis 3 Defense Fund has sold for $4,050 on eBay, closing at more than double the price of its original $2,000 bid. Roses failed to perform at the opening show of its long awaited North American tour — its first in nearly a decade — scheduled to begin on Nov. 7 in Vancouver, Canada. While the rest of his band, as well as show-openers Mixmaster Mike and CKY were on the site for the gig, Rose was nowhere to be found. Poor weather in the Los Angeles area, a missed flight and an airplane malfunction were all offered up as possible explanations for the noshow, but details were scarce. Whatever the reason, the fans, who were not allowed to enter the venue, also took a cue from the old days and began to riot. Police were called in and forced to confront the crowd, while the performers and show staff remained locked inside the venue, unable to depart. The tour's next scheduled date, and new planned kick-off, was Friday, Nov. 8.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Howdy CMJ,

Peter Cooper here. I'm the music critic from The Tennessean and Ryan Adams called me a "lying bastard" in your "Insecurity Blanket" article [Issue 788 – Nov. 11, 2002]. I guess I won't argue that rather subjective point, but I must take exception to Ryan's statements that I hate his guts and that I reviewed his Heartbreaker album by saying it was "the worst Poco record they ever made." Actually, I've been a Ryan Adams/Whiskeytown fan since the days when both Ryan and I were living in the Carolinas. I've never met him and thus am quite unable to hate his guts, and I have never compared him to Poco in print or in conversation. All I did was write a short summary of his bizarre Ryman Auditorium show.

As for Heartbreaker, I didn't even review it. You can look it up (and you should have, before you printed his statements). I don't have any idea what Ryan's talking about, and I suspect he doesn't either.

RAVEONETTES

Whip It On (Orchard-RED Ink) With only a few weeks remaining in 2002, the Raveonettes come to us as a representation of not one, but two trends that have become increasingly visible in the new rock world order. One: They are, as any self-respecting garage-influenced band is these days, from Scandinavia. Two: On record, the group is a duo, with one male member and one female — namely, vocalist/guitarist Sune Rose Wagner and vocalist/bassist Sharin Foo. But despite those two points, don't expect this Danish band to sound much like either its Swedish brethren or its co-ed contemporaries. Sharing lead vocal duties, the pair sings all eight songs on this debut disc in harmony, with Foo's breathy feminine monotone offsetting Wagner's dark intonations, leaving them both entwined in a bed of distortion, fuzz and shadow. Oozing doom, gloom and ominous intent, tracks like "Attack Of The Ghost Riders" and "Bowels Of The Beast" don't so much make vague musical threats as outright attack you, offering the kind of exhilaratingly noirish trip into the seedier side of life we all secretly dream of. Come get your fix.

PEARL JAM

Riot Act (Epic)
"Rock is back!" — just ask Rolling Stone. Fads aside though, it's nice to know that Pearl Jam has always been there, already having helped to start a similar rock revolution with the release of its debut LP, 1991's Ten (resulting in the glorious extinction of that era's hair bands). Now, 11 years and a whopping 79 albums later (OK, so 74 of those are live albums), Mr. Vedder and friends offer up the long-awaited Riot Act, an album that, with said title, one might think would revolt against the band's signature wistful grunge sound and move into new territories. But while Riot Act is far from a re-hashed version of 2000's Binaural, it certainly includes all of the things Pearl Jam's fans have come to expect: 1970s-style arena rock riffs; gritty, angst-ridden vocals and a finesse for delivering hooks and scream-a-long choruses. The first single, "I Am Mine," a self-affirming romp that blossoms into a multi-layered masterpiece, and "You Are," a menacingly dark sonic purgatory of distortion and bass, burn with a fresh vitality and intensity that only comes from the industry's best. — Louis Miller

JOSEPH ARTHUR

Redemption's Son

(Real World-Enjoy-Universal)
Much like the artwork he creates for each of his albums, songwriter and multi-instrumentalist Joseph Arthur fashions music that is personal, intricate and mysterious. But Arthur never forgets that the listener wants something more than just moody introspection, so he's ensured that Redemption's Son is as catchy as it is moving. "Nation Of Slaves" rocks out a bit more than what we've heard from Arthur before — the song's guitar lines are both scathing and atmospheric, evidence that Arthur is just scratching the surface of where his talent might lead. The graceful "September Baby" feels like the centerpiece of the record, with its simple chorus built on the breathy repetition of the word "yeah" coming across like the most profound part of the album. While some artists use lush production and layering to cover up weak foundations, Arthur (with help from ace producer Tchad Blake) creates a rewarding, dreamlike universe of sound, allowing the listener to get lost deep within its sprawling canvas. The album stretches to 75 minutes — but hey, sometimes more is more.

FC KAHUNA

Machine Says Yes (Nettwerk)

A handful of tracks from Machine Says Yes have previously appeared on compilations such as Erick Morillo's Subliminal Sessions Volume Three, Ministry Of Sound's Tech Pop, Nettwerk's Chillout

Dave Seaman and James Lavelle from the wonderful Global Underground series. The adoration for the songs on this album stems from FC Kahuna's genre shifting versatility — Machine gives listeners the choice of numerous colors and shades from the clubbing spectrum. "Glitterball," for instance, has been tossed around the progressive breakbeat scene for months, while the title track, "Nothing Is Wrong" and "Growler" ably feed the hungry electroclash fiends. However, despite all the aforementioned goodies, it's the downtempo crowd that will feel most rewarded by this disc, especially the marvelous "Hayling," a cozy track with silky smooth vocals seemingly inspired by a journey on the Moon Safari. Machine Says Yes brings out the best in electronica, with the potential to raise FC Kahuna to disco god status, a designation shared by artists like Underworld and the Chemical Brothers.

BLOOD GROUP

Volunteers

(Le Grand Magistery)
There seems to be a black cloud following the Blood Group. Two members of the band's extended family (referred to by those in the know as "The Family Blood") passed away during the recording of its new album, Volunteers. That loss is reflected in the music, which is a combination of morose indie-rock and glass-half-empty trip-hop. By enlisting the help of Def Jux producer extraordinaire NASA (El-P, Cannibal Ox) and longtime Blood Group producer/arranger DM Seidel, the band expanded the sound of its Everything Forgotten Gathers At The Ceiling EP, replacing many of the electronic instruments with live drums, piano and strings for Volunteers. The result is unsettling music made even more disconcerting by how organic and warm it sounds. "Tongues With Tongues" is a Boyd Rice-influenced instrumental with a thick drum track and a funky loop. Elsewhere, the beauty of singer Jessica B's vocal delivery on "The Long And Short Of It" is simply impossible to deny. For all the hipsters who secretly happen to be closet goth fans: Prepare to rejoice.

ONEIDA

Each One Teach One

(Jagjaguwar)

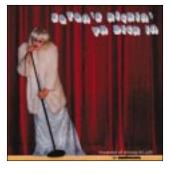

The standard acid trip lasts roughly eight hours. Spanning two discs, Oneida's Each One Teach One lasts roughly one hour. Despite the time difference, the album does a remarkably similar job of seriously altering one's brain chemistry.

Disc one of Oneida's latest hallucinatory aural journey features two mind-numbing tracks — the first, titled "Sheets Of Easter," is an onslaught of repetitive aggression; the second, "Antibiotics," is a tremendous dose of dizzying guitar solos. However, the release doesn't reach its peak until the midst of the seven songs that are spread out on disc two. The opening title track screams with a maniacal guitar assault, leaving the rest of the disc open for whacked-out, supernatural compositions with titles like "Sneak Into The Woods," "People Of The North" and "Black Chamber." With the aid of a piano, sound effects and drippy distortion, Oneida construct a behemoth of heavy psych rock — another record to make the parents shrug while their kids turn on, tune in and swim out into the vastness of the musical subconscious.

RACEBANNON

Satan's Kickin' Yr Dick In (Secretly Canadian)
Resurrecting the rock opera (and eschewing overblown pomposity for a cool 36-minute burst of sound), the incomprehensible metalcore absurdists in Racebannon blast through a yarn here made for anyone who finds contemporary indie concept albums (see Colonel Jeffrey Pumpernickel, Of Montreal) not nearly brain-melting enough. With an unapproachable sound (picture Converge's screechy hardcore slammed though the demented wallop of Captain Beefheart And The Magic Band), Satan's Kickin' Yr Dick In tells a trans-gendered celebrity rise-and-fall tale that's a cross between The Devil And Daniel Webster, Hedwig And the Angry Inch and a particularly juicy E! True Hollywood Story bent on cocaine and the Icarus legend. The sensory overload is difficult, yet compelling — guitars play notes that have no right sidling up to one another, then (in the "quiet" parts) strings jangle off pickups, squeak, squawk and generally make ungodly noise. Lead vocalist Michael Anderson rattles off play dialogue in a perpetual state of sweat-soaked exasperation — like the Who's Tommy condensed into jabbering streams of coke-addled paranoia. No pinballs, just balls. — Christopher R. Weingarten

YO LA TENGO

Nuclear War EP (Matador)
The explosive energy and longrunning popularity of Yo La Tengo is difficult to ignore.
Since releasing its folk rock debut, 1986's Ride The Tiger, this Hoboken, NJ band's musical ability and flair has consistently developed, bringing along an increasingly large diehard fan base for the ride. From 1987's New Wave Hot Dogs to the masterful I Can Hear The Heart Beating As One, released a decade later, as well as 2000's And Then Nothing Turned Itself Inside-Out (the No.1 CMJ Top 200 album of that year), Yo La Tengo has never ceased to surprise with a constantly changing array of genre-bending offerings. 2002 finds YLT shaking its moneymaker with a new EP that features four versions of the fêted Sun Ra song, "Nuclear War." An excursion into free jazz and syncopated improvisation, Yo La is finally releasing a recorded version of this profanity-laden staple of its vigorous live set, complete with avant-garde musicians and a chorus of (soon to be sucking on soap) kids. A snack to wet your whistle, "Nuclear War" paves the way for YLT's next full-length release, due in 2003.

BUZZ BUILDERS

MCGATHY PROMOTIONS

The College Department At McGathy Promotions Is Unquestionably One Of The Most Effective In The Business. Meet The Players That Construct The Buzz Behind Your Favorite Artists. Story by Kevin Boyce • Photos by Brian Appio

f you work in the music industry — whether you're a music director at a college radio station, the head of an indie label, group program director for Clear Channel, band manager, magazine editor, A&R wiz, coffee-fetching intern, booking agent, publicity hound, or even the big cheese sitting behind the giant mahogany desk in the CEO's office at a major label — you no doubt know the name Bill McGathy. And, even if you don't know Bill personally, chances are you're intimately familiar with McGathy Promotions, the hugely successful independent promotion company he founded over 20 years ago.

While most industry folks are aware of McGathy Promotions and the many things that it does (aside from record promotion, McGathy also handles band management, New Media/Web Development, A&R and boasts its own label, In De Goot Entertainment, among numerous other services), you may not be 100 percent familiar with some of the key players within the company's college radio department; That's where CMJ steps in.

In an effort to get to know them better and understand their role in the industry, CMJ spoke with McGathy's college radio department (referred to as the "Alternative Division"), which is co-managed by Marie VanAssendelft and Brad Rothschild.

VanAssendelft began her career as the Music Director at KSSU in Sacramento, California. Prior to landing at McGathy, she held posts at Mammoth Records, Proper Distribution/Never Records and Razor & Tie. Enthusiastic and passionate about the music she promotes, VanAssendelft works with around 250 radio stations. And, if you're the least bit familiar with her, then you already know that she loves the Smashing Pumpkins more than anything else on Planet Earth. Recently, VanAssendelft was promoted and now co-heads the Alternative Division with Rothschild.

During his sophomore year at Tulane University in New Orleans, Brad Rothschild was doing overnights at WTUL. After just one week on the air, he became the college rep for Elektra Records in The Big Easy (there are few things worse than being a record label rep in New Orleans, folks). Then, after stints as a promotions intern for Elektra in New York City and as a sales department intern at Universal Records, McGathy hired Rothschild on the same day that he took his final exam at Tulane.

In addition to VanAssendelft and Rothschild, CMJ also spoke with McGathy's resident badass, Rich Ortega, who heads the company's highly respected metal department (collectively known as "McGathy Edge"). Rounded out by Kyle Sutliff and Andy Perez, McGathy Edge is an effective force in promoting heavy music to both college and commercial radio.

Ortega grew up in Northern California and attended the University of Santa Cruz. After playing guitar in several bands during the mid-1990s, Ortega moved to Los Angeles in 1997. Then, after a spending a few months living in what he calls

"$24-a-night hooker motels," Rich got his foot in the door at HITS magazine, landing a two-day-a-week job inputting radio station playlists. In time, he worked his way up the masthead. Eventually, he took over the industry magazine's metal page and ultimately became the coordinator for the rock and alternative Radio departments. In 2001, Ortega moved to New York to head McGathy's metal department.

Rich, how can a company like McGathy Promotions help a college radio station?

McGathy Edge can help college stations by helping them become directly involved with the music they are spinning on their shows. We can use our contacts to get bands to play shows, do studio interviews, phoners and tour support, among other things. We can help a station become more interactive with their listeners by not only bringing the music to the station, but by bringing the bands themselves. The more a station has to work with, the better the listener response.

Marie, how vital is college radio in the process of breaking new artists?

Its vitality can't be measured because it varies from artist-toartist. The problem with college radio is that it really only targets those who are serious about their music, and it's that audience that will make a concerted effort to look for new music. College radio simplifies that process greatly by helping to create a buzz on artists. The louder the buzz, the more attention major labels start paying to them. It's the "minor leagues" to stardom. Perform well and your chance of getting that call up to the big leagues is a lot greater. Without college radio, creating a national or worldwide buzz is extremely hard, if not impossible, to create.

Brad, what are some of the things that you are learning about the industry by working for an independent promotion company?

It's always been interesting to me to see how various labels organize their decision making process. Even though in the end, I am bringing records to college radio, the ways in which that happens can vary tremendously. We deal with label promoters, project managers, artist management, booking agencies, A&R and, many times, directly with the artists. It's been extremely educational seeing how people coming from different areas of the industry approach what we do at college radio and the different ways that they define the success of a project we are involved with.

Rich, what do you feel are the good qualities of college radio? What can be improved?

One of the best qualities of college radio is that smaller bands have a chance to be heard. It's still the best way to turn people on to music that they most likely wouldn't hear anywhere else. The passion to play good music, whether it's from a major label or the smallest of independents, is still alive and kicking. If something could be improved, I think the format would benefit from broadcasting more diverse shows. There are way too many sub-genres of metal now days. Some of the best metal radio shows incorporate several types of metal into one show. Shit, if it were me, I'd be playing everything from Hank III to Soilent Green.

How about you, Brad? What makes a great college radio station?

A lot of what makes a great promoter is similar to what makes a great station — attention to the details, consistent decision-making, organization and openness to new artists. But without a doubt, you've got to have a serious commitment to the music.

Marie, if you were back in college and hosting a show on the campus station, what would the format be and what would the show be like?

I'd probably have the same show I had in college. I played lots of new music, specializing in mellow, lo-fi and experimental rock. However, I would have an evening show rather than a morning show like I used to have. I put everyone to sleep.

Brad, pick three college stations that you feel completely define the format.

I'm going to go out on a limb here, because the stations that define college radio for me are definitely not the biggest stations, or the most well known, and they are definitely not playing every album I send out to them each week. The stations I would cite are WFSH, Rochester, NY, WUSR, Scranton, PA, WUIC, Chicago, IL and WEIU, Charleston, IL. While that may seem like four stations, I have a theory that Kane at WEIU and Brian Kielar from WUIC actually share one brain. So, you'll have to give me that one on a technicality. These stations are doing the things that I mentioned earlier when you asked what makes a college radio station great. If a record does well at these stations, or if it totally flops, it's not a coincidence, there is a reason for it. They are so on top of things that they can give me all of the information I need to get my job done. The music directors at these stations are enthusiastic, intelligent, well organized and people of great character. That is what we'll need in order to keep college radio going strong.

Marie, is there anything that college radio can learn from commercial radio?

It can learn what not to do. Sometimes commercial radio can get so bogged down in corporate politics and SoundScan numbers; the music gets lost in the process. Above all, college radio should stay focused on the music and continue to give artists that don't have a shot at being heard on a commercial station a chance to be heard.

Rich, what's the craziest thing you've ever done to get an add on the board?

Shit my last name is Ortega! I have personal connections with the Mexican drug cartel. That always comes in handy. I recall some lap dances too, or something like that. On a more honest note, we just believe 100 percent in the bands that we promote and let the music speak for itself.

Marie, what was the most satisfying project you've ever worked?

Well, considering I have been an obsessed Smashing Pumpkins fan since the seventh grade, it would be when we promoted the Smashing Pumpkins' Greatest Hits. It hit No. 1 on the CMJ Top 200. Not only that, but Tyson Haller from Virgin Records worked his magic and managed to have [former Pumpkins frontman] Billy Corgan call me. I talked to him for around 40 minutes and he invited me to see his new band, Zwan, in Chicago. In April, I flew out and saw Zwan, who are completely amazing! It was a dream come true... well, if Billy Corgan proposed, it would've been even better.

Brad, what do you like the most about your job?

I love the opportunity to expose people to new and exciting music that they might not find out about otherwise. And, of course, the free band T-shirts that are the basis for my entire wardrobe. NMR

NEW YORK CITY THE COMPETITION WAS FIERCE... AND NOW WE'RE DOWN TO THREE!

n November 1, "The American Music Awards® Presents The Coca-Cola New Music Award" Competition staged its Semi-Finalist playoff event at New York City's Bowery Ballroom. Amid the frenzy of the CMJ Music Marathon, a panel of judges including CMJ's own Bobby Haber watched the performances of 10 Semi-Finalists as they showed why they were chosen as the best unsigned acts in America. As the dust settled at the Bowery Ballroom, only three bands were selected to continue on to the final round in Los Angeles on January 10 and compete for the ultimate grand prize, to perform LIVE on the 30th Annual American Music Awards, January 13, 2003, 8 p.m. ET/PT on ABC-TV.

HONEYCOMB: NEW YORK, NY

Honeycomb is Rob Youngberg and Tony Zajkowski, formerly of critically acclaimed rock band Lotion. In 2001, they formed Honeycomb and started recording on a Macintosh studio in Tony's apartment. With an innovative multi-media mix projected behind them as they played the catchy pop gem "I Wonder" at the Semi-Finalist event, it's no wonder Honeycomb rose to the top that evening.

MOE LOUGHRAN: NASHVILLE, TN

Moe Loughran has performed at the top festivals including Woodstock '99 on the Emerging Artist Stage, Rockrgurl 2000, SXSW 2001 and Atlantis. Moe and her powerful band's performance of "Anymore" proved to be one of the most intense musical moments of the evening.

TERELL: JAMESBURG, NJ

Terell Carr's R&B musical talents are fine-tuned as a result of years of practice. In addition to songwriting, Terell has involved himself in arranging vocal pieces for several up and coming teen-aged male artists, as well as choreographing dance groups in his hometown. His sweet soul performance of "Show You Love" was shown the love by both the judges and the crowd.

Chart information is based on combined airplay reports from CMJ's panel of college, commercial and non-commercial radio stations. Statistics are compiled from point totals tabulated from positions (1:30) of artists on airplay reports, then multiplied by station code factor (based upon market size, market impact and market reach). 200 Moves o, Beck's playin' for keeps, huh!? Sea Change has officially topped the heap for six weeks in a row, however Jurassic 5 is still knockin' on Beck's door $(2-2^)$, as is Hot Hot Heat (3-2) 3^) and Jets To Brazil $(4-4^)$. And let's not forget the monkey wrench the Donnas have thrown into the mix with that 9-5 leap. • Inside the Top 10, Death Cab For Cutie continues to show momentum (7-6*), while ARTISTdirect's Badly Drawn Boy surges 15-7* after just three weeks on the Top 200 chart. • Major movers this week include: Björk's Greatest Hits (vaulting 189-18*), Tori Amos's Scarlet's Walk (skyrocketing 167-20*) and the Yeah Yeah Yeahs' Machine EP (flying 139-29*). Others on the move: Johnny Cash (24-12*), Add N To (X) (31-19*), Flaming Lips (64-22* — Yoshimi Wins...), Dredg (46-23*), Camper Van Beethoven (44-27* - Tusk), Foo Fighters (55-36*) and Dot Allison (70-42*). • It was no surprise to see Sigur Rós' highly anticipated () debut so high (16*). Perhaps the Icelandic band's title deficient effort will prove to be the real challenger to Beck's throne? Other noteworthy debuts of the week included: the Pretenders (yes, Chrissie and company are back, entering the chart at 39*), Liars (D-57*) and Rocket From The Crypt (stepping in at 58^*).

WUTK Vitals

Market: Knoxville, Tennessee

Frequency: 90.3 FM

School: University of Tennessee Program Director: Russ Torbett Music Director: Anne Njoroge News Director: Nicole Hight Sports Directors: Chris Baker and

Ryan Ibbotson

Station Address: P103 Andy Holt Tower,

Knoxville, TN 37996 Telephone: 865.974.2229 Studio Line: 865.974.2535

Fax: 865.974.2814

Web: http://sunsite.utk.edu/wutk/index.php

Torch PD Russ Torbett and APD/APM Brian Shoesmith doing their Rock 'n' Roll show, "Full Moon Fever" (Tuesday nights from 9-12).

Station philosophy:

The Torch exists during the day as a learning lab for broadcasting students. From 6 a.m. – 6 p.m., broadcasting students come in and run rotation shifts, do production work, sales, music reviews, news and whatever else needs to be done. From 6 p.m. – 6 a.m., the Torch works as a "regular college station," with specialty shows lasting two-to-four hours each.

Slogans/position statements:

"Feel the Heat," "The Torch,"
"Are You Ready?," "It's The Torch, Burn Something!," "The Torch — Light One Up" and
"New Rock 90."

How station is differentiated from others in the market:

The Torch is totally studentrun and financed through underwriting. No extra funds are received from the U of T. We focus on local bands and new music by independent artists.

Outside campus activities:

Live remotes, contest tickets,

CDs and Torch gear giveaways.

How station is promoted:

Through live remotes, posters, flyers and Torch promoted concerts, plus our association with AC Entertainment.

Image station projects on the air:

Students having fun and rockin' out, while delivering the best coverage of sports, news, entertainment, etc.

News/sports programming:

A news program, "In The Know," has just been rejuvenated after a hiatus and focuses on campus news, as well as area, state and national news of all sorts. "The Torch Sports Show" is definitely one of a kind. Having worked with ESPN during the University of Tennessee-Florida football game in September, Torch sports covers every aspect of sports, on both the collegiate and professional levels.

Music or audience research:

WUTK has done student surveys in previous years regarding music rotation and selection. There's also a request log kept in the studio.

Recent promotion:

Hosted a Widespread Panic scavenger hunt with a local music store, the Disc Exchange.

Ties to local music scene:

We work hand-in-hand with local AC Entertainment, Blue Cats in the Old City, The Historical Tennessee Theatre, the Knoxville Civic Coliseum and other local venues.

Station Benchmarks:

"The Torch Sports Show" has been on-air every week since 2000 with Jay Kersting and Chris Baker. "The Funeral Directory" with Brock "Bad Times" has focused on Metal and Loud Rock since the 1999-2000 school year and "The Rude Awakenings Show" with Frank Gray has focused on Punk and Ska since 2000.

(Compiled by Russ Torbett)

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT

born in 1993, when two forward thinking hip-hop groups, Unity Committee and Rebels Of Rhythm, converged at popular open-mic spot the Good Life Café in Los Angeles. A 12-inch single, "Unified Rebelution," brought MCs Chali 2na, Zaakir (a.k.a. Soup), Akil and Marc 7even and DJs Cut Chemist and Nu-Mark together on wax for the first time; it wasn't long before they decided to merge the two acts and stick together for good. An EP followed, winning over scores of underground hiphop fans with the irresistibly hook-laden single "Concrete Schoolyard," so that by the time the L.A. crew dropped its debut album, Quality Control, in 2000, it was already a household name as long as we're talking about households that contain records by De La Soul, A Tribe Called Quest, Black Star, Blackalicious and other progressive hip-hop artists, that is. CMJ caught up with J5 on tour in Toronto, shortly before the group was set to head to NYC for the 2002 CMJ Music Marathon, to speak with Soup about Jurassic's new album, Power In Numbers (which went to No. 1 on this week's CMJ hip-hop chart), working with Nelly Furtado and the increasingly well-known crew's not-so-secret connection to college radio.

Your recent single, "What's Golden," is reminiscent of your older material, but a lot of the tracks on the new disc are very different. Why did you choose to release that song first? If you listen to Quality Control, at the end of the album, there's a little beat that kind of fades out after "Swingset," which is the last song. And if you turn on Power In Numbers, that same beat comes back in to start off the album. We wanted to bridge that gap; we wanted to gradually bring people along to the growth process that I feel that we've gone through. "What's Golden" gives the people that know us something that they can still identify with; it's definitely one of those types of songs. But then, after that, it's like, "Yo, we've gotta bridge out and do some other stuff."

So, do you view this album as a logical progression, or an intentional divergence from your previous releases?

I think it's just another side of J5. Actually, the Power In Numbers side was J5 before Quality Control or the EP. We come from two different groups, and if you listen to the names of the two groups, you can kind of see that was our forte: you had Unity Committee — now, when you hear "Unity Committee," you're not thinking about slapping ho's, or having a big gold chain. And I was in a group called Rebels Of Rhythm, and that sounds like something that maybe some political stuff will come out of, or some "Fight The Power" type stuff. So, Power In Numbers is really what we were about before anything ever happened. But, with Quality and the EP, we wanted to come out and grab people's attention, as opposed to having them feel like we were coming out preaching to them.

Was there a conscious decision to do things differently this time around?

Definitely. We wanted this record to have more bass in the music; stronger beats, so when you throw it in your system, you can really feel it knocking. We also wanted the content of the songs to be a lot deeper than Quality Control. You know, we didn't want to be labeled as a party group. We don't want people to have this perception of us that while shit is real in the world, we're around here trying to play. I'm not like that. I'm affected by shit just like anybody else. I have feelings and emotions that ride like everybody else, and I want to be able to have a balance where I can say, "Yeah, I feel like partying today," but then, when something serious comes along, I can be able to handle that also. People are always saying, "You guys are so positive." I would like it if they would just come out and say, "You guys are so human."

You surprised a lot of folks by getting Nelly Furtado to sing on a track ("Thin Line") on the album. How did that come about?

We just heard through the grapevine that she liked us, and eventually wanted to do something with us if the opportunity arose, and it did. The content of the song is what I really liked about "Thin Line." We just wanted Nelly to sing the chorus, originally. That's all we wanted her to do — jazz it up a little bit, that's all. But she wrote a verse. She kind of gangstered her way on that track, and she just sounded really good. We wanted to get the woman's perspective also, and it just worked. That's one of my favorite songs now; I can't even lie.

"We didn't want to be labeled as a party group. We don't want people to have this perception of us that while shit is real in the world, we're around here trying to play."

Well, J5 is obviously a more high profile act now than ever before. Are you still conscious of the impact of college radio on music at this level?

Are you kidding? I used to work for Interscope. I did college promotion for four or five years. I remember the Gavin convention, the Hits magazine convention, CMJ. I remember we used to be like, "We're going to New York" — to get to meet all these cats that you used to talk to, to promote your records, and hang out with them and chill. Aw, man. That was my thing, to get No. 1 most added on the list. I did that for four years. When we put out "Unified Rebelution," I was working at Interscope. When we pressed those up, I took a certain amount of copies and sent them to the DJs who I had a really, really strong relationship with, to play. I knew they would play it and not just sit it in their crates. Doing that led to our 12-inch deal with Blunt/TVT at the time. So, I know the importance of college, man. Actually, they fired me from Interscope for that. It's funny now that I'm back over there. But it's in a whole different arena now. I don't have to be in a cubicle, answering to people, so that's dope. But you guys have got love from J5. College cats got love.

LOUD ROCK

ail Satan! Deicide has signed to Earache Records. Bassist-vocalist Glen Benton will undoubtedly continue to raise his Satanic scepter and worship the black goat of the woods. Congrats to artist and label. Earache U.S. boss Al Dawson had this to say about the Deicide signing: "I am very proud to be working with Deicide, 'the most evil band in the world.' These guys have stood the test of time and they continue to lead the way. They are the real deal. Earache's roster has never been stronger than it is today." The band will head out to Europe and return to Tampa to record its label debut • The new Haunted album is set to drop in February. We're going to the bathroom to clean up now. Former Machine Head guitarist Ahrue Luster — who left the band earlier this year — has formed a new, as yet unnamed outfit with members of the old band Juggernaut. Previously, Luster had been jamming with Coal Chamber bassist Nadja Peulen, but those plans are on hold. Speaking of the Chamber, drummer Mike Cox has exited the band. Things remain volatile in that camp. • Stereomud is calling its sophomore effort Every Given Moment and some song titles are "Show Me," "Anythingbutjesus" and "Control Freak." The Mud features ex-members of Life Of Agony and Stuck Mojo and its debut album, Perfect Self, sold over 100,000 copies before leveling off. Let's see how this one goes. • Dimmu Borgir is undoubtedly the blackest of the black, alongside Cradle Of Filth. The Borgirs are hitting a Gothenburg studio in March. • Diminutive Dio will release a DVD in April 2003 through Eagle Vision, a division of Eagle Rock Entertainment. It will consist of footage from the band's upcoming performance at the Roseland Ballroom in New York City on Friday, December 13, 2002. The rock hounds will be out in full effect on that night. • Dying Fetus, the death metal band with the most mosh for the ounce, has entered the studio. The band lost some members after releasing its Relapse debut, Destroy The Opposition, but has managed to cobble its shit together and work on new material. The band is working on Stop At Nothing at Hit And Run Studios in Rockville, Maryland, where the recent sniper attacks took place. Wonder if that will provide any inspiration for the album. • Skycamefalling has broken up. The Long Island band announced its demise during its CMJ showcase at CBGB. Frontman Chris Tzompanakis will continue on with his One Day Savior record label. • Neurosis will release a DVD, entitled A Sun That Never Sets, that will focus on the band's visual edge through eclectic visual arts pieces and thematic music videos. • Pennsylvania thugrock band Krutch is officially back together. If you like 25 Ta Life and Hatebreed, then this is your thing, no doubt. • Hydrahead has signed two new bands, Pelican and Austerity Program. • Brian Lovro — once a member of highly touted, Midwestern metalcore band Threadbare (which also produced Snapcase bassist Dustin) has a new band called The Blinding Light. The band just released Glass Bullet on Converge vocalist Jake Bannon's Deathwish label. It's so punishing, it feels like a baby boot to the nuts! Lovro sounds eerily like Slayer's Tom Araya.

CMJ MARATHON 2002 WRAP UP!

CMJ 2002 came and went too fast. Rebounding from last year's truncated Marathon (CMJ 2001 was supposed to be held on September 13, but the events of 9/11 changed the course of the world, much less the event!), CMJ 2002 was the most fun we had in years, and not just because we work there! On Tuesday, October 29, we hit the Syndicate's pre-CMJ party, where My Chemical Romance and Silvertide rocked a drinking crowd, which feasted on spiked Hawaiian ices. Yummy. Thanks to the Synners for an always-entertaining event. On Wednesday, October 30, Skateboard Marketing hosted a party a Don Hill's, with the metal fury of Beyond The Embrace and the dirty rock of Brand New Sin. Thanks for the free drinks, Munsey. Across town, Vendetta Red, Boy Sets Fire and Thursday filled the WWE World with earnest posthardcore. Vendetta Red gets down with the sickness. Remember where you read this: next year, AFI and Thursday are going to be stupid huge and will be the first bands to truly break out of this genre. After midnight, the prog of Porcupine Tree twisted the minds of those at Irving Plaza. Great graphics made us feel like we were at a Pink

Floyd fest. If you weren't there, you missed a lot. Soundtrack Of Our Lives went on well after 2 a.m. at the Bowery Ballroom, but it

Lundberg to get the crowd to sit on its col-was worth waiting for frontman Ebott lective arse. On Thursday, October 31 (Halloween, a true metal holiday) there was plenty of Loud Rock panels and the Concrete Marketing showcase. Kudos to Suzanna Paradise for organizing a killer show, which featured the mosh frenzy of Diecast, the rawk of Silvertide (those guys again, making an encore) and nü rockers

Big Guys Who Rock: Brand New Sin

Nonpoint. See, a band is never too big to play CMJ! Lots of people came in and out, but the place was jumping. A little south, Codeseven, Vaux, Skeleton Key and Isis played Tribeca. Keep an eye out on that Vaux band. They're going to make a splash in 2003. Friday was a full metal jacket, with the Korova Milk Bar party, the Slipknot DVD screening, the Relapse "Carnage" showcase and the Tee Pee showcase, where Unida played a sit down, fall down, sloppy-ass set, but we loved every minute of it. Slipknot's forthcoming Disasterpieces DVD was shot from 30 different camera angles and is purely murderous. Many of the masked men were in attendance, save Corey Taylor and James Root, who are off touring with Stone Sour. At Saturday's CBGB matinee and Ferret showcase, Lamb Of God played the new song "Swedish Ass Fuck." It was bloody...just bloody. Thanks to: D.C., Marc, Ben, Eric, Steve (The Syndicate), Suzanna (Concrete), Rich, Kyle, Andy (McGathy), Munsey and Richie (Skateboard), Tara (Bullpen), George and Andrew (Century Media), Jessica (Universal), Mike (Victory), Anthony (Atlantic), Forgash (Lava), Keith (Elektra), Mean Dean (Relapse), Jen (Metal Blade), Kurt (WVGS), Dan (WXCI), Adam (Music Choice), Dana (VH1), Derek (WRFM), Rob (WONY), Joseph (WMTS), Che and Paul (KRXQ), Tink (WVUD), Spezz, Gary, Jessup, Jen (WSOU), Frank (WTFX), Matt

(WERS), Rick (WRRG), Dave (WIUP), Drew (WMHD), Gabe and Vickie (WNYU), Pooneh (WUSR), Tony (WFCS), Jason (WHMH), Reggie (WRST), Jamie (WKNC), George (KCSS), Nick (ex-KYSM), Mike (WCCM), Harry (WUCR), Kate (WCKS), Reverend Aaron (WUNH), Dave (WDBM), Joe (WBCR), The Midget (WSHL), Dolly (WMSC), Matt (WRLC), Crystal (WVCW), Andrew (KCOU), Sal (WQMC) and anyone else we hung out with but didn't throw props to here! See ya next year!

LOUD ROCK INDUSTRY NEWS

Congrats to Trustkill Records. The label has signed an exclusive distribution deal with RED Distribution. Started by hardcore kid Josh Grabelle in 1994, Trustkill has released incredible, genredefining albums by such acts as Poison The Well, Eighteen Visions, Hopesfall, Walls Of Jericho, Most Precious Blood and Nora. The first Trustkill Records/RED release will be The Dream, by Open Hand. We've been working with Josh — our favorite lawyer — for what feels like a zillion years and we're thrilled at this milestone for Trustkill, easily one of the hottest labels in metalcore. For more info about Trustkill, visit: www.trustkill.com. © KTXT/Lubbock, TX is no longer reporting to Crucial Spins. The station, however, continues to report to Loud Rock College.

FIVE QUESTIONS WITH...

LACUNA COIL'S CRISTINA SCABBIA

Yes, we know. She's hot. Lacuna Coil frontwoman Cristina Scabbia draws lots of stares for her beautiful face, which recently has been featured quite frequently in consumer metal mags. But it's her beautiful voice, currently luring metalheads to her lair on the Italian band's latest album, Comalies, that is Scabbia's most appealing feature. CMJ exchanged a handful of emails with the captivating singer, in which we discussed Italia, chick rock and the devil.

What is the music scene like in Italy? Do you live there?

I live in Milano, in the north. There is a big scene, but it always stays in the underground, because the scene itself doesn't have the support of the big media like radio and TV. There are a lot of bands that are very well known outside of Italy, like Rhapsody, Labyrinth, Linea 77, and of course, Lacuna Coil.

Is there any prevailing theme or concept behind the new album, Comalies?

We can't really call it a concept album, even if every song talks about personal experiences we had or, in any case, real life. I can't believe there's a concept bigger than real life. Basically, we are influenced by our feelings.

What do you think about the "state" of women fronting bands in music today?

Luckily, it is becoming normal and is not something "weird." I don't think that a band can be considered "better" just because it has a girl in the lineup, especially if the girl is just an image and is unable to play or sing. Behind the image, there has to be something more. There are a lot of talented females that can add a strong, emotional part to music in general, including metal, and people are starting to notice it.

What three records are you listening to right now?

I don't have a favorite album, but in this period I'm listening to Untouchables by KoRn, Reroute To Remain by In Flames and Best of Garbage by Garbage. These are just three of the hundreds of CDs I'm listening to these days.

Finally — the devil. Is he real or not?

I don't know! I never met him. But definitely, evil is always around us, everyday, trying to fight against the good.

Paradise Lost was once one of the slowest, deadliest bands to roam Planet Earth. Rather than make the same album over and over again, and bore the hell out of all of us in the process, the influential British quintet just continues to thrive and grow gracefully with age. Symbol Of Life is gothic, keyboard driven, progressive (but not that dirty word "prog") rock, minus the doom 'n' gloom atmosphere often associated with PL's catalogue. If you can suspend disbelief for a moment, you might even consider Symbol Of Life to be similar and slightly on par with Rammstein's last album, Mutter, given the ominous use of samples. Singer Nick Holmes sounds a wee bit like Metallica's James Hetfield this time out, but we like when he goes for the long, high notes. The ambitious and accessible Symbol Of Life is as melodic as it is melancholic, glued together by the fine musicianship of its players. Hence, tech mag readers and metalheads who are musicians themselves will ravenously adore Paradise Lost and tunes like "Erased" and "Two Worlds."

FALL WITH ME

Rise Phoenix Rise (Spat!) If there's one thing that Loud Rock is not lacking in, it's death-rattling metalcore. Fall With Me's Rise Phoenix Rise is another fine addition to the genre's gene pool, but it definitely doesn't contribute to the genre's overflowing, sound-alike surplus. This band has been toiling in the underground hardcore scene since 1998, and while this might be the first time you make the band's acquaintance, it certainly won't be your last. Additionally, while Rise Phoenix Rise has its share of mosh-friendly breakdowns and screams so virile they could deafen Satan himself, the gritty production lends a raw texture to the songs, preventing Rise Phoenix Rise from becoming just another record to beat the piss out of someone to on a dance floor. We like the shrieky guitar tones on "Marching On Dead Ground" and stomp of "Maleficent."

VAUX

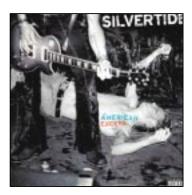

On Life; Living (Volcom) Vaux used to be known as Eiffel and the band released its debut, Audiblenarcotic, a few years back. But plastic surgery on the name hasn't adversely affected the band's sound. Audiblenarcotic adhered closely to a Grademeets-Hot-Water-Music-style of screamo. However, On Life;

Living is an all-too-brief glimpse into the heart of the new and improved Vaux. This four-song EP deftly explores some post-hardcore dynamics. It's shimmering and tinny, but never pansy-assed; it's aggressive, yet anything but meatheaded. On Life; Living was obviously reared on the jarring, Washington, D.C. Dischord Records sound and Vaux seemingly wants to carry on in that sonic tradition. Vaux is for jaded, maturing hardcore rockers (essentially anyone "over" the mosh thang, but curses the day emo reared its sensitive, bifocal-wearing head) who are salivating for something refreshing and wish that more bands would look to Quicksand for inspiration. "Everyday" and "We Speed" are remedies for your disillusionment over a growing, unstoppable genre.

SILVERTIDE

American Excess EP (J)
Storming out of Philadelphia like a demented, deranged bat outta hell, Silvertide's trashy and glammy American Excess EP sounds like Shake Your Money Maker-era Black Crowes, served with a piping hot side of Led Zeppelin.
Singer Walt Lafty, with his greasy blonde locks, heroin chic and anorexic Jesus Christ poses, doesn't hide his obsession with Mr. Kate Hudson, a.k.a. Chris Robinson. This beanpole can sing his skinny white ass off. Guitarists Nick Perri and Mark Melchiorre, Jr. work both the classic rock and boogie down blues riff angles, making power chord turns at 100 miles an hour. Rock, rock till you drop to "Mary Jane," "Beware" and "To See Where I Hide." A full length is due next year.

HART OF THE MATTER

his week's "Speak Out" from V2's VP of sales, Jim Kelly, speaks volumes more than the small box-space that holds it below could ever allow. Whether you agree or disagree with the specific solutions he suggests, there's a fervent commitment to artist development and the family of labels, distributors, promoters, managers and actual family members who surround new artists that's undeniable—and it's not uncommon amongst those ranks. As you all know, our heart has always beat with a passion for artist development. This particular issue (NMR 790) is our 50th to be published since we launched CMJ Retail in November 2001. This issue also marks the 200th "Point of Impact" and 324th "Under The Radar" we've shined the lights on. During this time, we've seen so many albums, EPs, value adds, marketing plans, promotional efforts, media campaigns, in-stores, artists and concerts come and go. There is a heavy load of releases dropped on retailers, radio stations and the public daily. (Did someone just say 38,000 annually?) How to cut through the... not as good ones? How to find the gems we'll want to tell our friends, significant others, our children about? Just looking around the office, there are thousands upon thousands of ('02) releases sitting on desks and shelves waiting to be heard, reviewed, lauded. It's daunting sometimes. But we're all in the artist discovery business, helping (in sometimes-small-sometimesbigger ways) to spread the word about artists who need financial support, not just to survive but grow and possibly thrive.

The problem isn't that so many unsigned bands, indie labels or majors are all releasing too many CDs (though some do argue that point). It's a good thing. The fact that so many feel inspired to pick up instruments and create—however brilliant or hackneyed the result—is vital to the industry's survival. Today they're gathering in garages, bed and living rooms, storage-sheds and rehearsal spaces, playing in diners, cafes and dives. A new Clash, an even younger Jeff Buckley.

CD burning, file-sharing, loss leader market-share strategies are all eroding sustained artist development. Radio promotion costs and the stations who support the current system don't help either. This isn't to say that great and even important or relevant bands aren't being signed now—they are (though economic pressure is thinning those numbers). Look at the run of incredible releases this year as proof. The problem is that there is no longer the patience, commitment or (share holders argue) money to develop an artist much beyond their first record. More to the point, there's a scarcity of "smart" money being spent on new artists to sustain business in the years to come and inspire legions after them who will take up space in the storage units they've left behind.

If you haven't ordered, seen, or listened to the new Jeff Buckley box set, The Grace EPs, please get a hold of them while quantities last. They're an amazing reminder of an artist who made a real contribution to the 20th century and one's too-short career that Columbia/Sony had the vision and has the will to sustain.

can you say stochansky?

"This CD has spent a lot of time in my player over the last few months and I believe that our customers will latch on to this incredible songwriter as soon as they hear the record.

Five Star Motel is the kind of record that we love to champion."

SPEAK OUT

JIM KELLY

VP of Sales, V2 Records

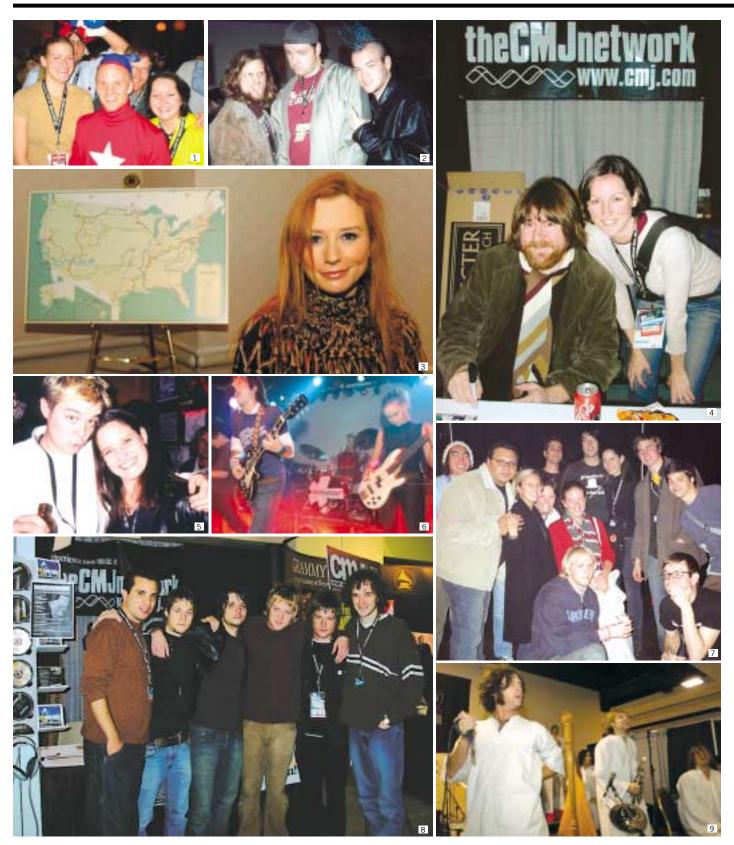

It strikes me as something poignantly tragic that as the Internet opens up the world as a transformational breakthrough in communication, it is also facilitating the demise of the key foundation for the support and development of any artist expressing themselves through original music. It is axiomatic that no new artist producing and performing original music can support his or herself or, God forbid, anyone else (wives, husbands, children) without being able to sell their music. There are very, very few hands that can pay the bills solely through performance revenue. Until now, most new artists have depended on the investment of others (i.e. labels) to help them establish an audience and have a shot at earning a reasonable and, yes, sometimes outrageous, living. In the past 30 years there has been a veritable explosion of musical expression. Countless numbers of artists have been able to devote themselves to their creative vision and our lives have been enriched as a result. Now the world we've known is being turned upside down and large numbers of artists and the people who support them are finding themselves out of work. To all those who defend peer-topeer file sharing without compensation to artists as some inalienable consumer right; to all those technology predators advertising how easy it is to burn rather than buy CDs, consider this: People with families are suffering because of your greed. As a community of musicians and people who devote their lives to their music, we need to unite in a much more aggressive effort to defend our industry by: 1) encrypting our music to at least reduce the gratuitous illegal CD burning going on; 2) pursuing legislation to defend intellectual copyright and bring aggressive governmental assistance in dealing with the challenge of peer-topeer file sharing; 3) Advertising the message that stealing music hurts real people and their children, as well as informing the public of legitimate digital delivery options. If we don't, then we will be learning a lot more about the "the sounds of silence."

POINTS OF IMPACT

COUNTER CULTURE: DCCD Section by Jamie Farkas • jfarkas@cmj.com

2423 18th Street NW Washington, DC 20009 p. 202.588.1810 f. 202.588.1755

rian Davis and Bernie Hackett first met while working together at a Baltimore record store where Brian was the GM and Bernie was his stock clerk. The two became fast friends who soon found themselves living in the same group house. They both grew increasingly unhappy with their store, so Brian decided it was time to follow his entrepreneurial dream to open his own record store... and Bernie was more than happy to help!

Brian and Bernie moved to Washington, DC in the summer of 1997 and by November DCCD was open for business. Initially Bernie thought he was just going to work for Brian, but after helping Brian secure investors the two became partners instead.

DCCD is more than just a record store, it is an integral part of the Washington, DC music community. "We are totally involved in and support the music scene [in DC]," Bernie says. "One of the main reasons we have in-stores is to give bands who can't get shows otherwise a place to play." In addition, DCCD works very closely with clubs in DC like the Black Cat and the 9:30 Club, as well as with local labels like Dischord, Lovitt and Eighteenth Street Lounge. A vital part of the local scene in Washington, DCCD is an account that helps break bands in the nation's capitol, whether they're local or not!

CMJ Q&A with Bernie Hackett, owner DCCD

What local press affects sales most?

The Washington DC City Paper [DC's weekly free entertainment and politics

What radio station affects sales most?

[The area's biggest commercial station]

Do you have in-stores?

We do have in-stores and we have a PA. Some of the most successful in-stores we have had include the Dismemberment Plan, Ted Leo, Cibo Matto and the Most Secret Method.

What is your most effective program?

Listening stations are by far the most effective program we offer.

What other programs do you offer? Are any of them discretionary?

We have two endcaps, the New Release Endcap and the Buy Before You Die Endcap. The Buy Before You Die Endcap can be paid for, but we also use it on a discretionary basis.

What types of non-traditional promotions have worked best?

Every January we have Winter Warmup with in-stores every night for an entire week. It's a combination anniversary celebration for the store, as well as a way to show our appreciation to our customers. We also work really closely with the local clubs. For example, the 9:30 Club keeps an enter-to-win box in our store for tickets to upcoming shows.

What display materials work best for you? Pretty standard POP materials work well for us - posters, flats, etc.

What records are your current and alltime favorite records?

The self-titled Public Image Ltd. is one of my all-time favorites, and right now I'm really into No Knife's Riot For Romance!

Sounds Of Kaleidoscope rock DCCD.

What's the first record you bought and where?

Bruce Springsteen's Born In The U.S.A. at an Aims store in Baltimore.

What's the best concert you've attended?

One of the best shows I have seen was Mogwai at the 9:30 Club in 2000.

NEWSWORTHY

RIAA Busts Up Dirt Malls

After years of lowering the boom on college kids over illegal downloading, the RIAA finally turns the eye of justice to the "real" problem facing the music industry: the rural poor. In early October, the RIAA sued the owners of two flea markets (one in the glossy entertainment capitol of Pearland, Texas, and the other in renown music mecca Marysville, California) for selling pirated compact discs. The suit alleges that swap meet owners allow countless vendors to peddle bootleg discs. Our reseach shows the two flea markets are single-handedly bringing down the music industry with illegal music - not to mention old Happy Meal toys, paperweights that read "Pobody's Nerfect" and paintings of anthropomorphic dogs playing cards. The National Association Of Recording Merchandisers applauds the decision, which is kind of like not apologizing for your drunken brother at a party.

The Real Gorillaz Compose Album

Hey, hey we're the monkey! Koko, the famous "talking" gorilla who is said to have a vocabulary of over 1,000 sign language terms, has finally put the finishing touches on her debut album Fine Animal Gorilla.

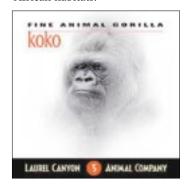

The album - named after Koko's term for herself – contains lyrics "written" by the 31-year-old lowland gorilla and songs that range from funky low-key rap ("Fine Animal Gorilla"), Celticinflected love ballads ("Koko Love") and rollicking island riddims ("I'm Goin' To Maui").

The CD is available at Groove-jazz saxophonist Karl Denson poses for pictures and signs autographs at Denver's Twist And Shout. Denson and his Tiny Universe performed at the Colorado store on October 26 to close to 200 fans. The young girl pictured above crawled into the store as a slimy caterpillar, but was soon miraculously transformed into a butterfly after hearing some of Denson's funky licks. Oh wait, we think that's just a girl in costume. Never mind.

www.koko.org and and sales of the disc benefit the Gorilla Foundation – which promotes the protection, preservation and propagation of gorillas. Lowland gorillas like Koko are constantly endangered by logging and poaching in their native central African habitats.

Koko isn't expected to tour in support of the record. (O: Where does a 200-pound gorilla play? A: Wherever she wants.) However, it is rumored that Koko will be hired as "ghostwriter" to help "smarten up" some lyrics on the next Tommy Lee record. When asked about the record, Koko (apparently already letting the excesses of fame go to her head) angrily peeled a banana and made the sign for "You call this a fucking banana? It says Chiquita on my rider! Where's my damn manager?"

Tower's Pulse Beats No More

The 113-store Tower Records chain has suspended the publication of its free monthly magazine Pulse!, which had found a home in its retail stores since 1983. The magazine (circulation of 280,000), will publish its final edition next month but may be revived someday, Tower reports. Like many other music chains, Tower is taking steps to survive in the wake of an economic nightmare. The chain has reported a $27.9 million quarterly loss and, as of last Thursday, has cut its corporate and distribution work force by 15 percent.

In September 2002, Tower named corporate turnaround specialist Betsy Burton as its interim chief executive, the first time someone outside the Solomon family has been put in charge of the company in its 42 years. The closing of Pulse! and the layoffs that go along with it reflect the second cutback at Tower in less than two years. The first major layoff occurred in the spring of 2001 when Tower closed the majority of its bookstores and 170 employees lost their jobs. (JF)
