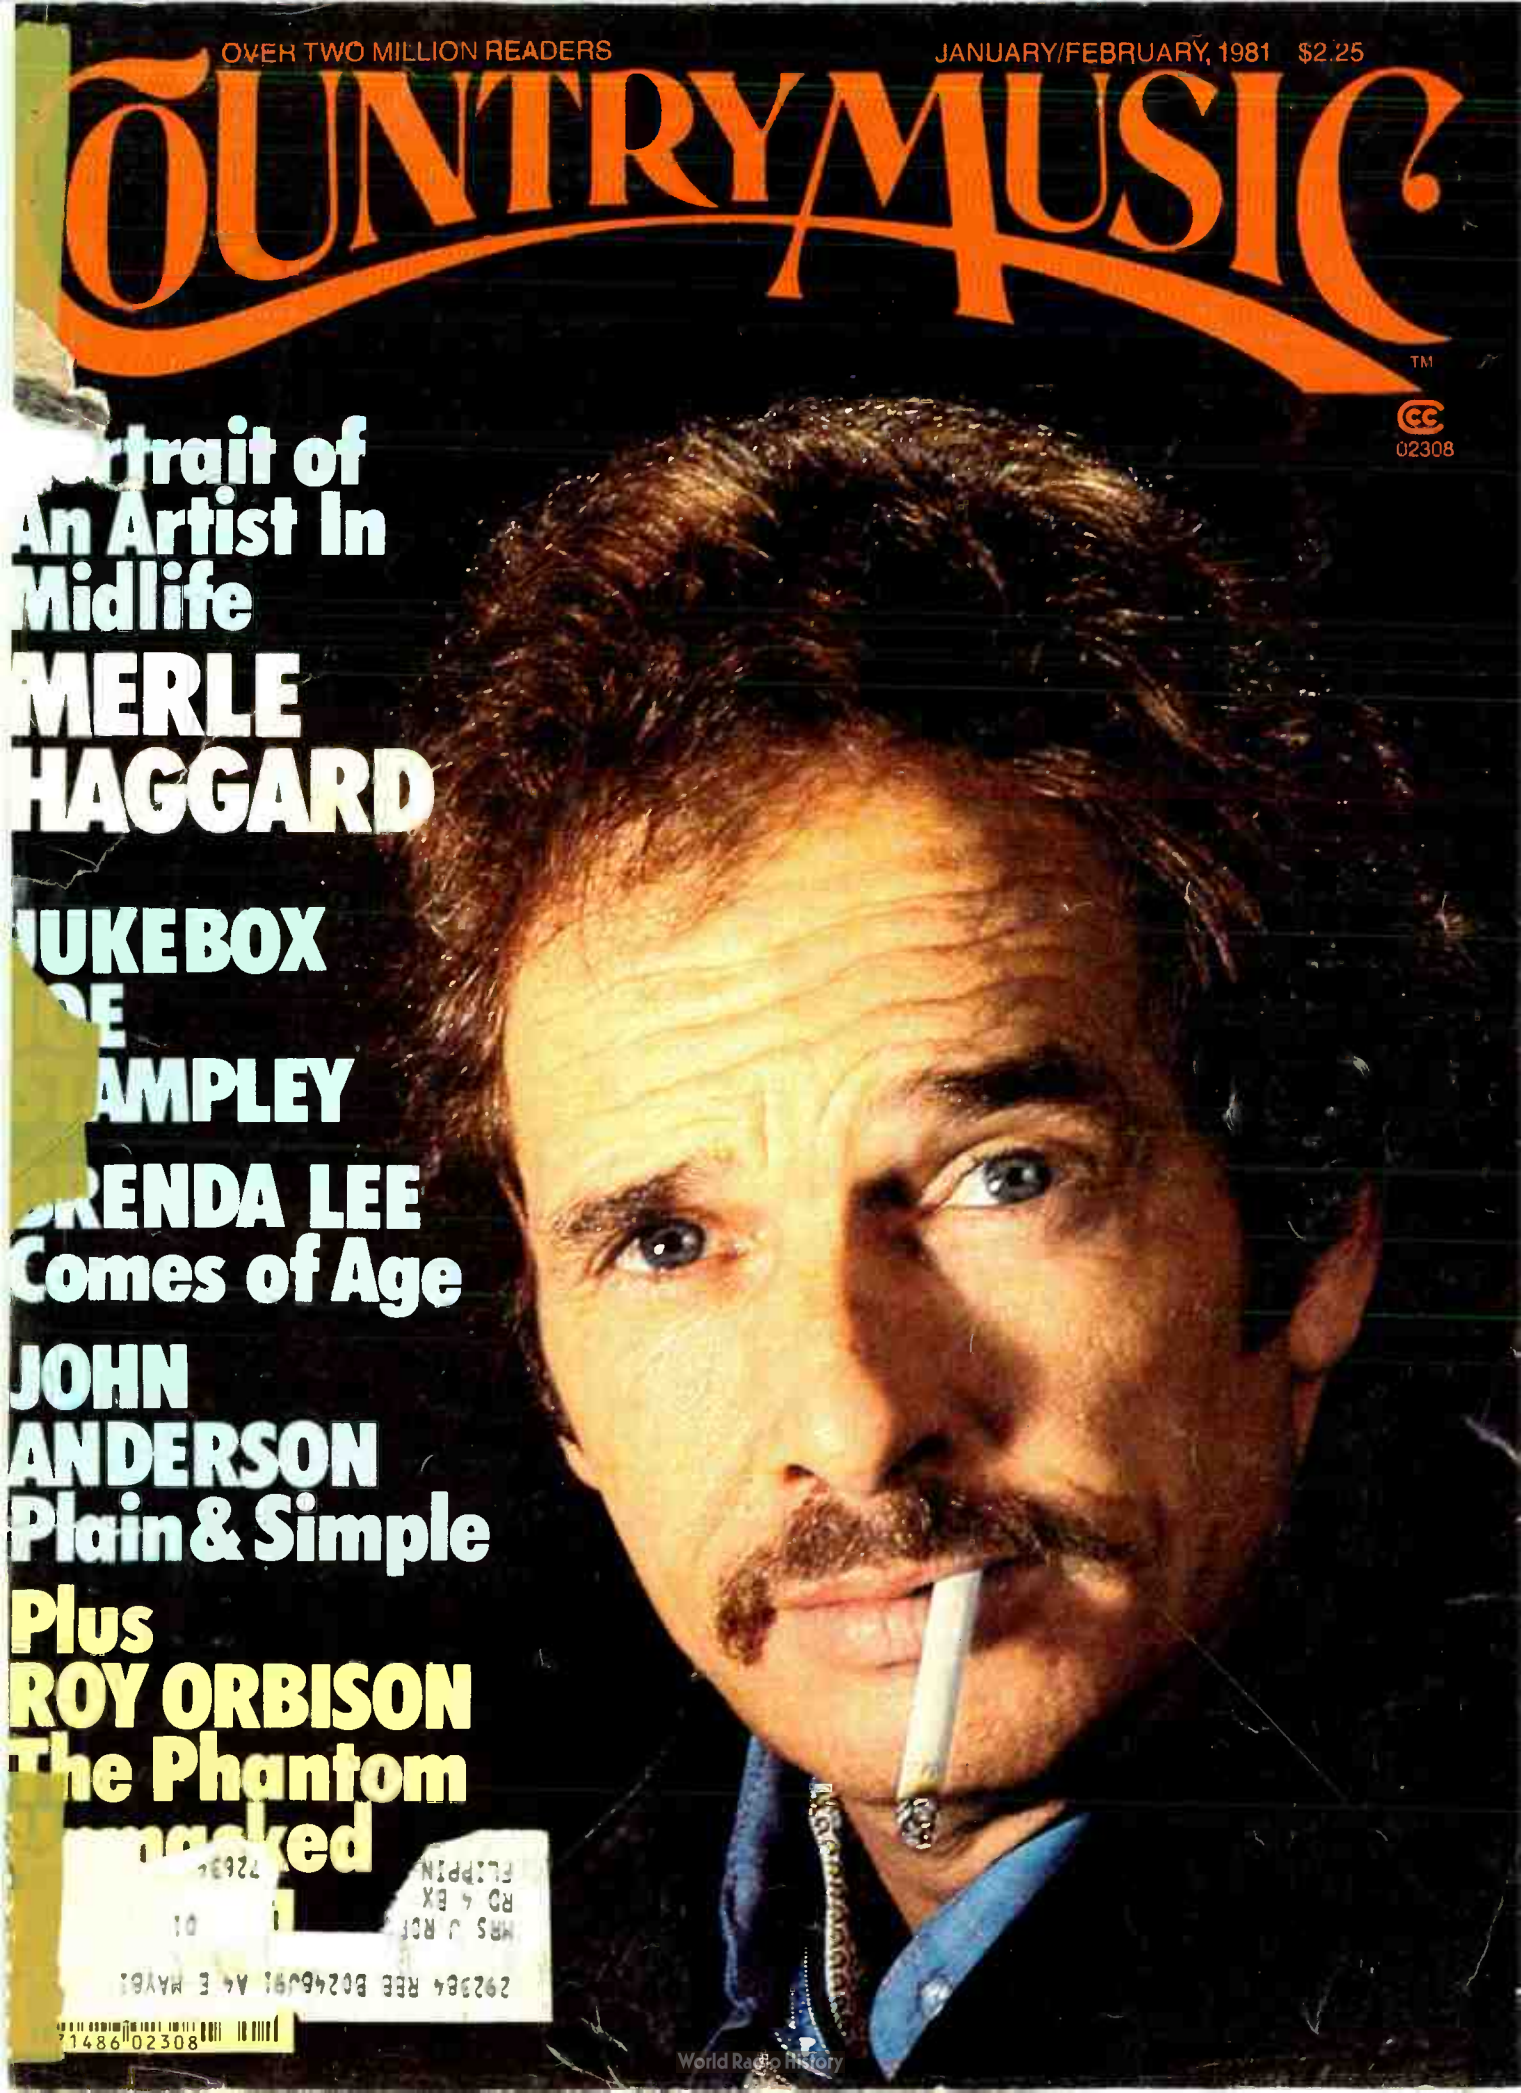
OVER TWO MILLION READERS

JANUARY/FEBRUARY, 1981 $2.25

COUNTRY MUSIC

TM

02308



ortrait of An Artist In Midlife MERLE HAGGARD

UKEBOX

AMPLEY

RENDA LEE Comes of Age

JOHN ANDERSON Plain & Simple

Plus ROY ORBISON The Phantom

'81 FORDS. TOUGH IN THE ROUGH.

If your thirst for adventure drives you to seek off-road thrills other people just dream about, Ford's got your 4-wheelers—tough '81 Broncos and 4x4 pickups. These roomy, rugged trucks add a whole new dimension to 4-wheeling fun!

And they offer great new gas mileage...EPA estimated MPG unbeaten by any 6-cylinder 4x4.

Plus a 4-speed manual overdrive option. New optional automatic locking hubs...and the only 4WD independent front suspension in a standard-size 4x4. Discover a new world of 4-wheeling excitement—from Ford!

Built Ford Tough

THE TOUGH BREED

GREAT NEW 4x4 MPG

18 EPA EST. MPG* 24 EST. HWY.*

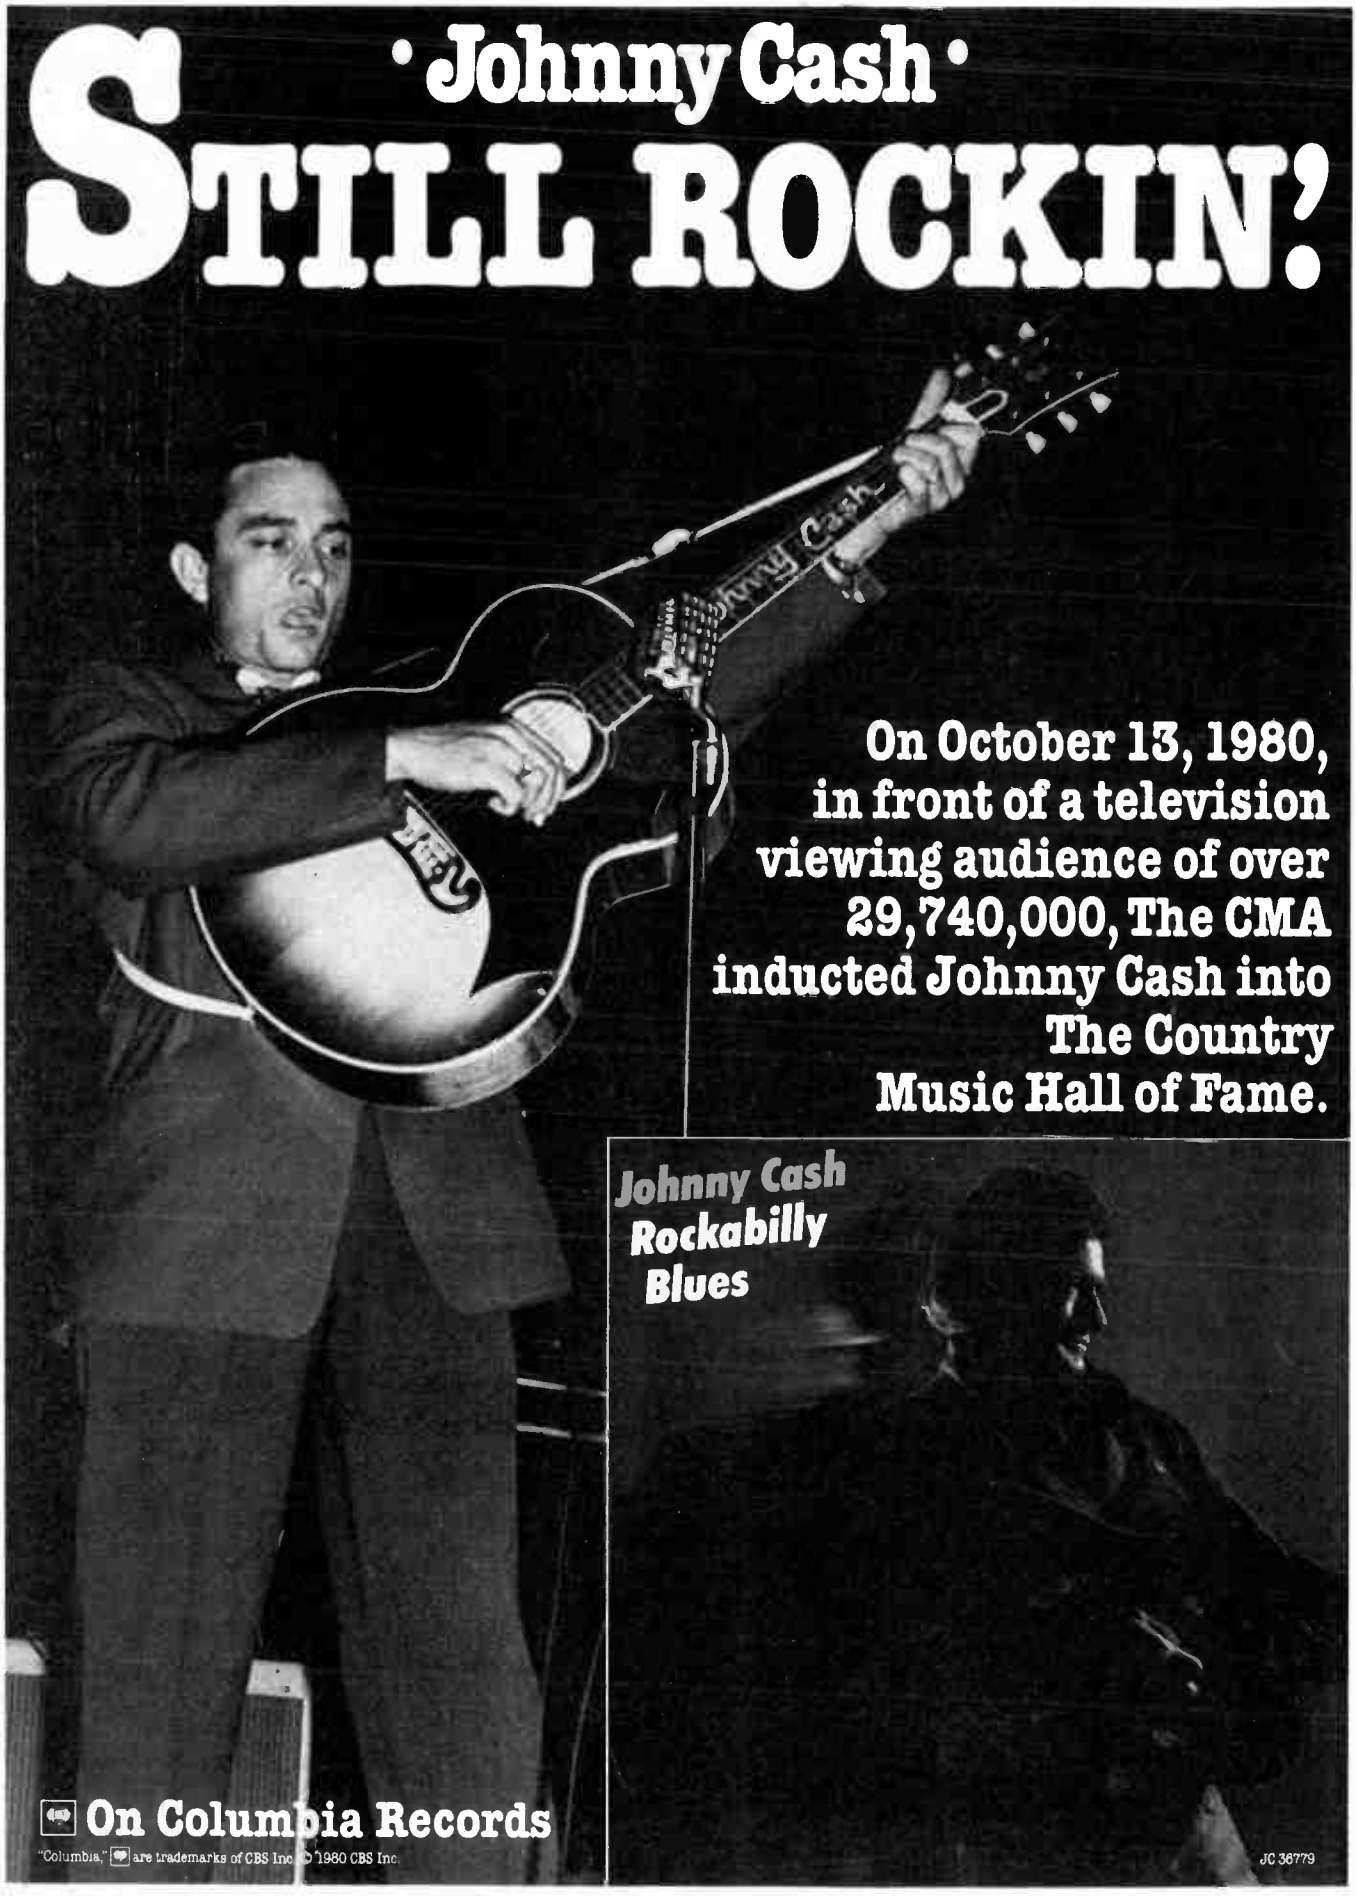
*Standard 4.9L (300 CID) Six with 4-speed overdrive transmission option. Use for comparison. Your mileage may differ depending on speed, distance and weather. Actual highway mileage will probably be less than estimated. California estimates lower.

Tough Twin-Traction Beam Suspension. The only independent front suspension in a standard-size 4x4.

FO

FORD DIVISION



Volume Nine: Number Five, January/February 1981

COUNTRY MUSIC™

 Published monthly except January and July, by Country Music Magazine, Inc., 475 Park Avenue South, 16th Floor, New York, New York 10016. Controlled Circulation paid at Lincoln, Nebraska. COUNTRY MUSIC (USPS 441-890). Subscription price one year $9.95 (Additional postage Canada, Latin America, Spain $2.00 per year. All other foreign $4.00 per year.) Postmaster: send Form 3579 to COUNTRY MUSIC, Box 2560, Boulder, Colorado 80302.

Published by:
Country Music Magazine, Inc.
475 Park Avenue South, 16th Floor
New York, New York 10016
(212) 685-8200

President: Wesley T. Wood
Executive Vice President: Russell D. Barnard

Board of Editorial Advisors:
Johnny Cash, Tom T. Hall, Emmylou Harris, Barbara Mandrell, Merle Travis

Editor: Russell D. Barnard
Managing Editor. Rochelle Friedman
Art Director: Richard Erlanger
Assistant Editor: Suzan Crane
Nashville Editor: Bob Campbell
Designers: Gail Einert, Jessica Falstein
Contributing Editors: Bob Allen, Michael Bane, Gail Buchalter, Patrick Carr, Laura Eipper, Douglas B. Green, Peter Guralnick, Leonard Kamsler, Rich Kienzle, Mary Ellen Moore, John Morthland, Nick Tosches

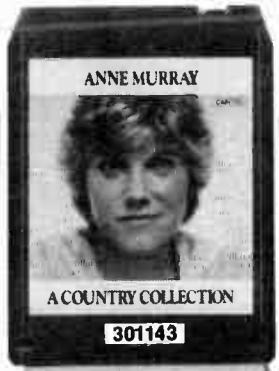
Publisher: Wesley T. Wood
Associate Publisher and Advertising Director: Leonard Mendelson
Associate Publisher (Nashville): James A. Chapman
Direct Response Marketing: Anthony Bunting
Circulation Manager: Henson Lacon
Advertising and Promotion Administrative Manager: Deborah E. White
Special Projects Director: Stephanie Volpe

Finance and Accounting:
Vice President Finance: Sal Nastro
Accounting Manager: George Mankes

Advertising Sales Offices:
New York:
475 Park Avenue South
New York, New York 10016
(212) 685-8200
Ohio/Michigan:
Peter Kelly Associates
725 S. Adams Rd.
Birmingham, Michigan 48011
(313) 642-1228
Mid-West:
Sullivan/Greco
1030 North State St. Suite 5-E
Chicago, Illinois 60610
(312) 943-7072
California:
Leonard Mendelson
P.O. Box 5023
Woodlands Hills, California 91365
(213) 340-1270

THE MOST MUSIC A LITTLE

301515 COLUMBIA BILLY JOEL GLASS HOUSES
305607 EPIC TAMMY WYNETTE Only Lonely Sometimes
300962 MERCURY THE BEST OF THE STATLER BROTHERS RIDES AGAIN, VOL. II
305169 ARISTA AL STEWART AND SHOT IN THE DARK 24 CARROTS
218917 MGM ORIGINAL CAST A NEW 50'S ROCK 'N ROLL MUSICAL GREASE
295253 ARISTA DIONNE WARWICK DIONNE
240903 POLYDOR JIM STAFFORD
303966 WARNER BROTHERS SEALS & CROFTS THE LONGEST ROAD
231084 EPIC CHARLIE RICH Behind Closed Doors
296327 ELEKTRA CARS CANDY-O
260737 CAPITOL HELEN REDDY'S GREATEST HITS
294355 MERCURY STATLER BROS. THE ORIGINALS
302281 MCA THE VERY BEST OF LORETTA LYNN & CONWAY TWITTY
302059 MOTOWN Grover Washington, Jr SKYLARKIN'
297218 COLUMBIA JOHNNY CASH SILVER
288431 EPIC Johnny Paycheck Armed And Crazy
287730 EPIC TAMMY WYNETTE Greatest Hits VOL IV
298455 WARNER BROTHERS THE BELLAMY BROTHERS THE TWO AND ONLY
299222 EPIC GEORGE JONES My Very Special Guests
299248 CASABLANCA Captain & Tennille MAKE YOUR MOVE
300046 COLUMBIA WILLIE NELSON SINGS KRISTOFFERSON
300947 COLUMBIA ORIGINAL SOUND TRACK The Electric Horseman



305326 ARISTA MELISSA MANCHESTER FOR THE WORKING GIRL
301465 STAR FREDDY FENDER Together We Drifted Apart
304709 CAPITOL MINNIE RIPERTON LOVE LIVES FOREVER
303529 ELEKTRA Original Music Soundtrack from Clint Eastwood's BRONCO BILLY 301473 WARNER BROTHERS CHRISTOPHER CROSS
304071 WARNER BROS. LARRY GRAHAM One In A Million You
249953 TANYA TUCKER'S GREATEST HITS
303420 ELECTRA JERRY LEE LEWIS When Two Worlds Collide
291203 WARNER BROTHERS The Doobie Brothers Minute By Minute
260638 COLUMBIA CHICAGO IX CHICAGO'S GREATEST HITS
299669 COLUMBIA MAC DAVIS' GREATEST HITS
232561 ANDY WILLIAMS Greatest Hits, Vol. 2
303560 EPIC GEORGE JONES AND JOHNNY PAYCHECK DOUBLE TROUBLE
298612 A&M HERB ALPERT RISE
277830 OVATION THE KENDALLS HEAVEN'S JUST A SIN AWAY
303123 ATCO PETE TOWNSHEND EMPTY GLASS
299024 CAPITOL GENE WATSON Should I Come Home
278648 A&M Captain & Tennille's Greatest Hits
288472 ARISTA AL STEWART Time Passages
301390 EPIC Johnny Rodriguez Through My Eyes
301952 COLUMBIA LACY J. DALTON
300699 MERCURY GEORGE BURNS I Wish I Was Eighteen Again
303594 COLUMBIA LARRY GATLIN THE PILGRIM

305284 WARNER BROTHERS The Doobie Brothers One Step Closer
303586 COLUMBIA WITH LOVE, MARTY ROBBINS
303800 MOTOWN DIANA ROSS DIANA
284554 A&M RITA COOLIDGE LOVE ME AGAIN
300095 MCA Electric Light Orch. Elo's Greatest Hits
303917 COLUMBIA JOHNNY DUNCAN IN MY DREAMS
284844 MONUMENT LARRY GATLIN OH! BROTHER
110262 MERCURY THE PLATTERS Encore of Golden Hits
285981 FULL MOON EPIC DAN FOGELBERG & TIM WEISBERG • TWIN SONS OF DIFFERENT MOTHERS
302919 ARISTA AIR SUPPLY LOST IN LOVE
291856 ELEKTRA THE BEST OF CARLY SIMON
303719 WARNER BROTHERS SESAME DISCO VARIOUS ARTISTS
296012 SESAME STREET DEVO Freedom Of Choice
294834 WARNER BROTHERS ZZ TOP The Best Of ZZ Top
297549 COLUMBIA LARRY GATLIN & THE GATLIN BROTHERS STRAIGHT AHEAD
286740 ASYLUM LINDA RONSTADT'S GREATEST HITS

305979 CASABLANCA MAC DAVIS Texas In My Rear View Mirror
304600 LAMB & LION DEBBY BOONE WITH MY SONG
301549 COLUMBIA BOZ SCAGGS MIDDLE MAN
301572 WARNER BROTHERS Marshall Tucker Band TENTH
291021 A&M SUPERTRAMP Breakfast In America
277491 COLUMBIA BILLY JOEL THE STRANGER
04246 COLUMBIA TAPPER ZEE BOB JAMES "H"
296509 ELEKTRA CARLY SIMON SPY
266403 EPIC CHARLIE RICH GREATEST HITS
261248 MCA LORETTA LYNN GREATEST HITS
286666 ELEKTRA CARLY SIMON Boys In The Trees
294397 CAPRICORN ALLMAN BROTHERS Enlightened Rogues
297044 ELEKTRA EDDIE RABBITT LOVELINE
283887 COLUMBIA WILLIE NELSON STARDUST
288555 EPIC JOHNNY PAYCHECK GREATEST HITS VOL
304712 ELEKTRA QUEEN THE GAME
305250 COLUMBIA Lacy J. Dalton HARD TIMES

SELECTIONS WITH TWO NUMBERS ARE 2-RECORD SETS OR DOUBLE-LENGTH TAPES. AND COUNT AS TWO SELECTIONS — WRITE EACH NUMBER IN A SEPARATE BOX

252361 392365 CAPITOL BEACH BOYS ENDLESS SUMMER
279943 399949 CAPRICORN ALLMAN BROS. BAND EAT A PEACH
304865 394866 Columbia Devadip Carlos Santana The Swing Of Delight
290189 390187 COLUMBIA WILLIE NELSON and FAMILY—LIVE
288670 398677 ARISTA BARRY MANILOW GREATEST HITS
295170 395178 COLUMBIA WILLIE NELSON & LEON RUSSELL ONE FOR THE ROAD
298752 398750 WARNER BROTHERS FLEETWOOD MAC TUSK
232603 392605 BUDDAH DICK CLARK 20 YEARS OF ROCK 'N ROLL
305524 395525 A&M SUPERTRAMP PARIS
292870 292871 REPRISE Gene Autry's 50th Anniversary

302307 MCA LORETTA LYNN OUT OF MY HEAD AND BACK IN MY BED
305581 COLUMBIA RAY CONNIFF Perfect "10" Classics
291211 WARNER BROTHERS Nicolette Larson NICOLETTE
301531 COLUMBIA FREDDY WELLER Go For The Night
301523 COLUMBIA JOURNEY DEPARTURE
286948 ASYLUM THE EAGLES Hotel California
273912 COLUMBIA Kris Kristofferson SONGS OF KRISTOFFERSON
295105 ATLANTIC The Muppet Movie ORIGINAL SOUNDTRACK
304220 A&M HERB ALPERT BEYOND
256560 A&M CAT STEVENS GREATEST HITS
279133 EPIC MEAT LOAF BAT OUT OF HELL
252932 CAPITOL MERLE HAGGARD AND THE STRANGERS THE VERY BEST
252445 CAPITOL THE LETTERMEN All Time Greatest Hits
277103 MONUMENT LARRY GATLIN Love Is Just A Game
276428 COLUMBIA JAMES TAYLOR JT
257667 THE BEST OF THE STATLER BRDS.
275818 ARISTA Melissa Manchester SINGIN'...
284257 A&M PABLO CRUISE WORLDS AWAY
284141 COLUMBIA JANE OLIVOR STAY THE NIGHT
291815 WARNER BROTHERS PROFILE BEST OF EMMYLOU HARRIS
303750 MOTOWN COMMODORES HEROES
303941 EPIC BEST COUNTRY DUETS

Columbia House
1400 North Fruitridge Avenue
Terre Haute, Indiana 47811

ANY 10 FOR 1 CENT

plus shipping and handling

if you join now and agree to buy 8 more selections (at regular Club prices) in the coming 3 years

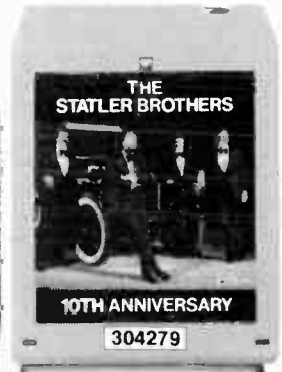
MONEY CAN BUY.

306027 LOUISE MANDRELL & R.C. BANNON LOVE WON'T LET US GO
304394 GEORGE BENSON Give Me The Night
298596 EAGLES THE LONG RUN
305151 VAN MORRISON COMMON ONE
207324 Original Broadway Cast GODSPELL
285866 BOSTON Don't Look Back
304063 ROBBIE DUPREE
279265 CHUCK MANGIONE FEELS SO GOOD
298869 MAUREEN McGOVERN
300590 ABBA GREATEST HITS, VOL 2
305177 LYNN ANDERSON EVEN COWGIRLS GET THE BLUES

304360 WILLIE NELSON AND RAY PRICE SAN ANTONIO ROSE
305037 THE CARS PANORAMA
291206 EMMYLOU HARRIS LUXURY LINER
286914 FLEETWOOD MAC RUMOURS
279281 Paul Simon- Greatest Hits, Etc.
279316 GEORGE JONES TAMMY WYNETTE Greatest Hits
301176 THE KENDALLS Heart Of the Matter
301150 GAIL DAVIES THE GAME
304261 DIONNE WARWICK No Night So Long
305573 JOHNNY PAYCHECK NEW YORK TOWN

302042 LINDA RONSTADT MAD LOVE
305987 Captain & Tennille Keeping Our Love Warm
301408 BELLAMY BROTHERS YOU CAN GET CRAZY
296475 MERLE HAGGARD & THE STRANGERS I'M ALWAYS ON THE MOUNTAIN WHEN I FALL
304204 JACKSON BROWNE HOLD OUT
282558 CRYSTAL GAYLE I'VE CRIED THE BLUE RIGHT OUT OF MY EYES
274738 LORETTA LYNN Coal Miner's Daughter
THE KENDALLS Old Fashioned Love
304378 Allman Brothers Band Reach For The Sky
275743 BARBRA STREISAND Streisand Superman
THE STATLER BROS. Entertainers On And Off The Record
305045 AC/DC BACK IN BLACK
298620 BARRY MANILOW ONE VOICE
304923 GENE WATSON NO ONE WILL EVER KNOW
294744 Charlie Daniels Band Million Mile Reflection
304642 JOE STAMPLEY AFTER HOURS
288332 BILLY JOEL 52ND STREET
303626 HELEN REDDY • TAKE WHAT YOU FIND
297655 CRYSTAL GAYLE Miss the Mississippi
299263 ANNE MURRAY I'll Always Love You
301366 CHUCK MANGIONE FUN AND GAMES
302844 BOBBY BARE DOWN & DIRTY
302802 MEL TILLIS AND THE STATESIDERS M-M-MEL LIVE

305243 Johnny Rodriguez GYPSY
304659 THE BEST OF MAYNARD FERGUSON
300681 NEIL DIAMOND SEPTEMBER MORN
304386 PAT BENATAR Crimes Of Passion
288597 JIM CROCE'S GREATEST CHARACTER SONGS BAD, BAD LEROY BROWN
295014 JAMES TAYLOR FLAG
279042 JOHNNY PAYCHECK TAKE THIS JOB AND SHOVE IT
303743 Original Motion Picture Soundtrack The Blues Brothers
219477 SIMON & GARFUNKEL'S GREATEST HITS
302471 Engelbert Humperdinck Love's Only Love
274498 CHARLIE DANIELS BAND TE JOHN GREASE & WOLFMAN
298240 MOLLY HATCHET Flirtin' With Disaster
297986 COMMODORES MIDNIGHT MAGIC
297705 MOE BANDY & JOE STAMPLEY JUST GOOD OL' BOYS
290155 THE MARSHALL TUCKER BAND GREATEST HITS
287003 EAGLES 1971-1975 Their Greatest Hits
286732 LINDA RONSTADT Hasten Down The Wind
288951 LARRY GATLIN'S GREATEST HITS
300111 JOHNNY PAYCHECK EVERYBODY'S GOT A FAMILY—MEET MINE
302398 VAN HALEN Women And Children First
302356 MAC DAVIS It's Hard To Be Humble
285924 C.W. McCALL GREATEST HITS
291195 LINDA RONSTADT Living In The U.S.A.
293688 EMMYLOU HARRIS Blue Kentucky Girl
304907 VARIOUS ARTISTS BROADWAY MAGIC VOL. I



306035 TAMMY WYNETTE & GEORGE JONES TOGETHER AGAIN
303818 CARLY SIMON COME UPSTAIRS
305912 BOBBY BARE DRUNK & CRAZY
302950 ANNE MURRAY Somebody's Waiting
305292 YES DRAMA
301416 JANIE FRICKE FROM THE HEART
305235 JOHNNY DUNCAN AND JANIE FRICKE NICE 'N' EASY
284034 Tom T. Hall Greatest Hits Vol. III
291278 The Doobie Brothers Best Of The Doobies
303552 JOHNNY MATHIS Different Kinda Dittie
298737 NICOLETTE LARSON IN THE NICK OF TIME
295261 BILL GAITHER TRIO THE VERY BEST OF THE VERY BEST
279067 THE BEST OF JOAN BAEZ
301317 CON HUNLEY I Don't Want To Lose You
301184 JANE OLIVOR The Best Side of Goodbye
285122 ANNE MURRAY LET'S KEEP IT THAT WAY
302794 DAN HILL If Dreams Had Wings
302786 CONWAY TWITTY CROSS WINDS
293654 THE KENDALLS Just Like Real People
297663 MARTY ROBBINS All Around Cowboy
Rickie Lee Jones
290270 Don't Cry Out Loud Melissa Manchester
304188 CHICAGO XIV
300525 THE BEST OF EDDIE RABBITT
304618 PAT BOONE Just The Way I Am
305276 JOHNNY CASH Rockabilly Blues

To join the Club and get your 10 tapes or records just mail the application, together with your check or money order for $1.86 as payment (that's 1¢ for your first 10 selections, plus $1.85 to cover shipping and handling). In exchange, you simply agree to buy 8 more tapes or records (at regular Club prices) during the coming three years—and you may cancel your membership at any time after doing so.

How the Club operates: every four weeks (13 times a year) you'll receive the Club's music magazine, which describes the Selection of the Month for each musical interest—plus hundreds of alternates from every field of music. In addition, up to six times a year you may receive offers of Special Selections, usually at a discount off regular Club prices, for a total of up to 19 buying opportunities.

If you wish to receive the Selection of the Month or the Special Selection, you need do nothing—it will be shipped automatically. If you prefer an alternate selection, or none at all, fill in the response card always provided and mail it by the date specified.

You will always have at least 10 days to make your decision. If you ever receive any Selection without having had at least 10 days in which to decide, you may return it at our expense.

The tapes and records you order during your membership will be mailed and billed at regular Club prices, which currently are $7.98 or $8.98—plus shipping and handling. (Multiple-unit sets and Double Selections may be somewhat higher.) And if you decide to continue as a member after completing your enrollment agreement, you'll be eligible for our generous, money-saving bonus plan.

10-Day Free Trial: we'll send details of the Club's operation with your introductory shipment. If you are not satisfied for any reason whatsoever, just return everything within 10 days for a full refund and you will have no further obligation. So you risk absolutely nothing by acting now!

If the application is missing, please write to Columbia Record & Tape Club, Dept. TPY-2A, Terre Haute, Ind. 47811

TAKE YOUR PICK

12" stereo records · 8-track cartridges · tape cassettes

644 S81

PICKERS

By Rich Kienzle

The Harmonica Like Everything Else Was Invented In China

Listen to Willie or Waylon, Paycheck or Cash. Listen to Bob Dylan's groundbreaking 1969 country-rock album, Nashville Skyline, or to Johnny Cash's recording of Orange Blossom Special. In among all the other music, weaving in, out and around the vocals, stepping out for an occasional solo and enhancing the overall sound is a harmonica. It's a part of Willie's, Waylon's and Paycheck's bands and Cash, after putting it down for awhile is starting to feature it in his new, expanded group. And Charlie McCoy, the man who helped revive it in the early Seventies, is currently leading the Hee Haw house band. What's going on here? Is it a fad? What's the harmonica doing on country records in the first place?

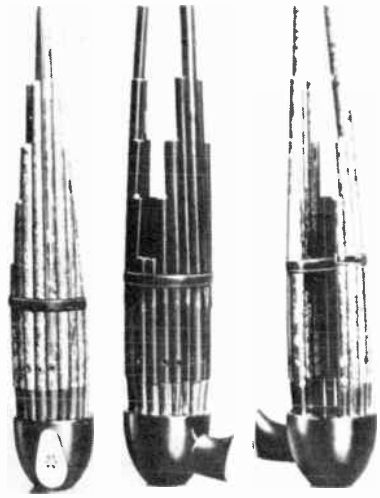
Truth is, it was around long before there was such a thing as a country recording, or any recording. The harmonica, mouthharp, or "harp" for short, was one of the earliest wind instruments to be used by rural musicians. It introduced the first Grand Ole Opry radio broadcast in 1927. Its very sound can add a rural flavor to a song, making it a thoroughly logical addition to nearly any type of mainstream country song, for it can run the gamut of emotions in a way few other instruments can. Only the fiddle can rival it for mimicing the sound of the human voice. The harmonica wails, it conjures up the image and sound of an oncoming locomotive, wind or howling coyotes. It teases, almost laughs, yet can create a deep, blue and mournful sound as well.

The harmonica was actually around long before there was any such thing as country music. Its earliest ancestor was developed around 3000 B.C. in China, where Emperor Nyn-Kwa invented a reed instrument known as the "sheng." One of them was transported to Europe in the 1700s and the principle of tones through reeds became known there for the first time. There was another instrument known as a "harmonica," perfected by none other than Benjamin Franklin himself, but it was a weird contraption that involved revolving glass discs suspended in water and touched with the fingers to produce varying tones (try carrying that around in your pocket!)

Finally in 1821, a 16-year-old German clockmaker with the unwieldy name of Christian Friedrich Ludwig Buschmann, put 15 pitch pipes together to create what was known as the "mund-aeoline" (German for mouth-harp). Another German clockmaker built them for awhile, then in 1857, 24-year-old Matthias Hohner began mass-producing harmonicas in Trossingen, Germany, on the same spot where the Hohner factory stands today. Around the 1860s, while the Civil War threatened in America, Hohner sent a few samples off to cousins who had emigrated there. They soon wanted more, and by the time the war was raging, harmonicas were popular with troops on both sides of the conflict, for their portability, low-cost and durability. And after the war's end, as America reunited, the harmonica remained popular in all parts of the country. As the nineteenth century was fading, rural white and black farmers were forming small bands of their own for enjoyment, and harmonicas were a part of these groups. For blacks, the harmonica was a bow to modern technology. For many years, they had used homemade "quills," three pieces of cane of differing lengths, bound together and held to the mouth. The advantages were obvious: the harmonica was not only louder, but came ready made. By the early 1900s, it was not only a part of the fairly new blues form, blacks were also using it to mimic trains and other sounds, including dogs and the wind.

One of Hohner's more popular instruments, and easily their best selling model to this date, was the Marine Band Harmonica, which was introduced in 1896 and sold for around 50 cents. It has been one of those rare instruments that time and technology could not improve, for the design is the same now as it was then.

It was also quite popular in white stringbands, along with the banjo, fiddle guitar and mandolin, often referred to as the "French Harp." It was also prevalent in the largely-black jug bands, which featured instrumentation much like the white string bands, but played a more ragtime-influenced music. And by the 1930s there was another group of harmonica players working, players like Larry Adler who played pop songs and John Sebastian, Sr. (father of the well-known folk-rock songwriter and performer of the Sixties) who played classical music. These two men, would later be among the first harmonica players admitted to the American Federation of Musicians in 1948. Adler also recorded one of the earliest jazz performances for the harmonica when he and French jazz guitarist Django Reinhardt recorded in France in 1937.



The first harmonica, the "sheng" was invented by Chinese emperor Nyn-Kwa.

It's somewhat ironic that the first major country harmonica player was a black man named DeFord Bailey. Racial attitudes in the South were highly conservative in those days, but Bailey nonetheless began appearing on the WSM Barn Dance even before that December, 1927 night when George D. Hay dubbed it "Grand Ole Opry" and introduced Bailey, playing Pan American Blues, a frenzied, rushing train number. As Peter Guralnick's excellent chapter on Bailey in his book Lost Highway notes, in 1928 Bailey played on 48 out of 52 Opry broadcasts, twice as many as any other performer. He toured with Roy Acuff and Bill Monroe in the late Thirties. Yet the Opry grew conservative as its stature increased, and Bailey's star began to fade, and in 1941 he was abruptly dismissed. He still lives in Nashville, his awesome musical abilities unimpaired, but spurns all recording offers. Another irony is the fact that in 1928, Bailey was among the first musicians to record in Nashville.

Lonnie Glosson never became the legend DeFord Bailey did, but his influence was immense. Glosson emerged in the Thirties in the Arkansas-Missouri area as a vocalist, harmonica player and guitarist, specializing in harmonica, and gained a following over KMOX radio in St. Louis. One Glosson specialty was making the harmonica "talk," something blacks had been doing for some time. Glosson's recording of I Want My Mama, done in the Fifties, illustrates just how adept he was at this. Over the years, he recorded for a number of labels, including Decca and Mercury.

One of Glosson's listeners became his protegé, and the man who took the harmonica's popularity among country performers to new heights: Wayne Raney. Shamefully overlooked in the last decade, Raney was born in Arkansas in 1921 and, unable to do heavy farm work because of a crippled foot, listened to Glosson over KMOX. By 1938 the pair met and teamed up in Little Rock, doing harmonica duets. Raney later worked solo in Texas. By the late Thirties, a few other acts were using the harmonica, most notably the Rice Brothers Gang (who featured a large, chromatic model), who used it as accompaniment to vocals, much as it's used today. Also working in the South was Jimmy Riddle, who played for a time with the Swift Jewel Cowboys in Memphis and later, after World War II, spent years playing harmonica behind Roy Acuff.

It was Raney, however, who did the most to popularize harmonica. Unlike most country harmonica players, Raney could sing fairly well, and in 1941 his talent brought him to WCKY radio in Cincinnati, where his radio show on that powerful and influential station, particularly just after World War II, sent harmonica sales

DeFord Bailey

One of the first Harmonicas from 1830. Reedplates were made of lead.

Wayne Raney

skyrocketing. Raney peddled them on his show, referring to them as "talking harps," and would play something, then go into a sales pitch for them, selling them mail-order. From 1945 to 1950, Raney was reportedly selling an average of a million harmonicas a year. Even more important was his teaming with the Delmore Brothers, who were working at WLW in Cincinnati and recording for King Records. They began using Raney to accompany them, and his playing on Delmore classics like Freight Train Boogie gave him even more exposure. In 1947 he began making his own records, often with the Delmores backing him. Finally in 1949, the Delmores and Raney did a session together that yielded Blues Stay Away From Me as a huge hit for the Delmores and Why Don't You Haul Off And Love Me as an equally large success for Raney, with his old friend Glosson playing behind him. Through the Fifties, however, and particularly after the death of Rabon Delmore in 1952, Raney's popularity faded. Harmonicas were more available than ever, though their popularity declined somewhat after rock music came on the scene. Though Raney recorded into the Sixties, he's since faded into obscurity.

The early Fifties brought other players in 120 year-old Harmonica. Reedplates were made of lead; wood handcarved and reeds were hammered from brass.

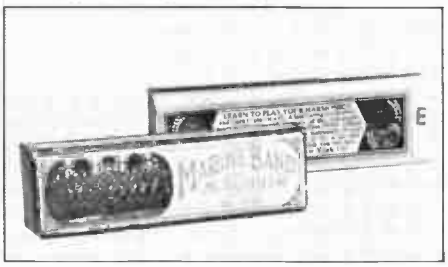
Raney's wake. One was Harmonica Frank Floyd, the first white musician to record for Sam Phillips' then blues-oriented Sun label in 1951. Floyd, an old medicine show musician, could play two harmonicas (one through his nose!) and pioneered the "eefing" that Jimmy Riddle and Jackie Phelps so often use on Hee Haw today. There was also Onie Wheeler, whose Raney-influenced music landed him a contract with Columbia in the early Fifties, and produced some excellent, semi-rockabilly material, such as his hit Onie's Bop. Wheeler later recorded for Sun and joined Acuff's Smoky Mountain Boys (Riddle moved over to piano) where he remains today. Other popular songs of the early Fifties that featured harmonica were Red Foley's Old Kentucky Fox Chase, which featured the harp mimicing the hounds (Lonnie Glosson probably doing the honors) along with Terry Fell's original recording of the classic Truck Drivin' Man.

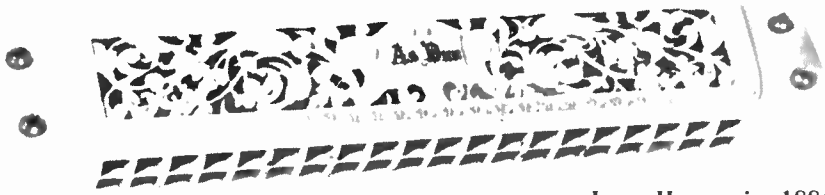
The harmonica's role among country



The harmonica has been around since 3000 BC. Such veteran country music performers as Charlie McCoy (top left), Mickey Raphael (top right), Delbert McClinton (middle left), Wesley Campbell (Glen's father; middle right), and Johnny Cash have played it for many years. Also shown is The Marine Band Harmonica.

singers faded after 1956, when rock music swept over the country. But it had actually become more important in folk music and blues over the years. After Bob Dylan became popular in the early Sixties, using a harmonica on a metal harness around his neck (as street singers had been doing for many years), it enjoyed increased popularity among folk singers.

Also, the harmonica's role had changed considerably in the Forties among black blues singers. As amplified guitars became a part of the blues following World War II, a new technique for amplifying the harmonica came into vogue. It was cupped in the hands, along with an inexpensive microphone and plugged into a guitar amplifier. With a bit of tremolo or reverb, the effect could be overwhelming. The chief exponents of this new style were Chicago's Little Walter Jacobs, James Cotton in Memphis, and Sonny Boy Williamson in Arkansas. Little Walter first came to fame with Muddy Waters' Chicago Blues Band and through his Fifties instrumental Juke. Cotton began working in Memphis in the early Fifties and played on many of the early Sun blues recordings and Williamson's recordings The "King Biscuit Time" radio show over KFFA in West Helena, Arkansas made him legendary. His occasional tours to Europe, where he was treated as royalty, enhanced his image.



Ivory Harmonica 1885.

Young white musicians were listening to these and other blues harmonica players, particularly those working in the South, and beginning to copy their playing. Among these was a Texas singer named Delbert McClinton. In 1962 McClinton recorded some harmonica backing with another singer, Bruce Channel, for a song called Hey, Baby. The song became one of the biggest hits of the year and did well in England. When the pair toured there later that year, they were billed with a rising group known as the Beatles. Delbert taught John Lennon the rudiments, and on the first Beatles recording, Love Me Do, issued in '62, Lennon's warbling harmonica kicked off the song. Through the Sixties the blues influence picked up because of the Rolling Stones, John Mayall, Paul Butterfield and other young white blues performers, so much so that Hohner even introduced a "Blues Harp," specially designed for such playing.

And though country harmonica had waned in popularity, the seeds for a comeback were already sprouting. Since the Sixties, Monument Records had Charlie McCoy under contract. A multi-instrumentalist who was born in Oak Hill, West Virginia (the same town in which Hank Williams was pronounced dead), McCoy's specialty was the harmonica, and he could play literally any style, from Little Walter's Juke on, an advantage (really a requirement) when working in the Nashville studios. He also contributed the harmonica to Dylan's 1966 recording of Obviously Five Believers, and by the late Sixties became known for this outstanding work with the Area Code 615 group, Nashville's first progressive country band. One of his own albums got critical acclaim from Rolling Stone, and in the early Seventies his instrumental versions of Today I Started Loving You Again, I'm So Lonesome I Could Cry and I Really Don't Want To Know became impressive hits. He won both Grammys and CMA awards during that time, and deserves much of the credit for bringing the harmonica back into vogue. Things began to change even further when it began showing up on albums by Waylon and Willie in the mid-Seventies, as the then-new outlaw concept began to change the face of the country music industry, not so much through revolution as through reexposing the roots that many had sometimes forgotten. And the harmonica became one symbol of that neo-classical sound. Waylon has had several harp players over the past few years, starting with Don Brooks through Roger Crabtree and, currently Gordon Payne. Willie has had the superb blues-tinged harp of Mickey Raphael with him over five years now. All of these players tend toward the amplified styles, just as the blues and blues-rock players did, which produced some haunting effects.

For sure there has been a certain ebb and flow in the harmonica's popularity among country music fans and performers. But it's happened before; the banjo faded, only to return to greater popularity, and the same thing happened with twin fiddles. And now, the harmonica is back, bringing its rural and, despite its Asian and European roots, undeniably American sound to a music that is the same. Emotion is paramount in the best country music and always will be, and few instruments are better suited to express—and compliment—the entire range of human emotions. ■

By Neal Weinstock

AUDIO

Three Good Stereo Systems on a $500 Budget

Five hundred dollars is considered, by most people who claim to know, to be about the minimum the music lover can spend to get a good stereo system. But at that paltry, insignificant price (ah, if only I had that much in the bank!), it does take a good bit of shopping to find a hi-fi you and your ears will be happy with.

Five hundred dollars is also the most that most people ever pay for a stereo, although that's now inflating upward. But five hundred can still buy a good system, if not too many smoke-screens are thrown your way by salesmen who don't know their own product or who want to sell an inferior product. Buying a stereo doesn't have to be as confusing as it seems; particularly because Country Music has decided to do a little of the legwork for you, because we needed to do it ourselves.

A music magazine has to have a hi-fi or two around the office, don't we? Well, all of Country Music's were vintage models, and while a case can be made for the music of ten years ago being better than today's, today's electronic components are a whole lot better—and cheaper, too, considering how much more everything else has gone up.

Being mostly involved with recording-quality equipment over the last few years, I was surprised with the quality we put together for the money. "For the money"—that's always a consideration with any sound system. There's always a better one because there's always somebody with more money. The first decision in buying any audio equipment is how much can be spent, and the rest follows.

Having made that price decision, we decided that a basic, no-nonsense hi-fi would maximize sound quality. No tape deck, few fancy controls. And on the logic that esoteric, small companies can't challenge a big one in a popular price range—it'd be a pretty sour bottle of wine that cost only as much as a Coke—we avoided them, too. Though, truth to tell, they tended to avoid us. So we came down to a three component system: turntable, receiver, and speakers. Conventional wisdom says that however much one spends on a three part system, half should be spent on speakers, two-thirds of what remains on a receiver, and the remainder on a turntable. This pretty much establishes a proper order of the component's importance, but as we will see, often-times the better product costs less.

Country Music's conference room looked like a hi-fi store.

Still, as a general guideline, we could do worse. So we looked for speakers at around two hundred and fifty dollars a pair, and we found the EPI 100s, Advent 5002s, JVC TX 303s. These may not be the best speakers around, for the money, or they may be. We picked these because each one, in its own way, seemed pretty representative. The EPI 100s are small speakers, each less than two cubic feet. I thought that would appeal to a few people around the office, and it did—because the rooms were getting so crowded up with stereo equipment that anything easily moved out of the way was a blessing. The Advent 5002s are a brand new model from one of the most popular speaker companies around—and it seemed like it'd be interesting to see how they'd improve on an already sucessful formula. JVC, as one might guess from its name (Japan Victor Company), is Japanese, and the Japanese have not exactly been famed in this country for the quality of their loudspeakers—while they have indeed been justly famed for the superior quality of everything else they make. Nearly all hi-fi components sold in the U.S. except speakers and some cartridges are made in Japan. But Japanese speakers have always tended to sound tinny or wooden. A great deal of the reason for this has been that speaker cones are generally made of paper, and foreign speakers suffer from the sea air as they're shipped over. Well, these JVC speakers' cones are made of plastic, as with many Japanese speakers lately, so we hoped for the better.

As a matter of fact, the JVC TX 303s were the favorite of many in the office. They are the largest of the three, and that usually means better bass—they did indeed sound as clean and honest as many a higher priced loudspeaker. (And we had many a higher priced loudspeaker in the office for our next installment, the thousand dollar system.) The EPIs were valued also pretty highly, and if space is a problem, it's hard to imagine a better speaker at anywhere near their price.

And so, on to receivers. The three we tested were the Sansui R-30, the Pioneer SX-3500, and the Hitachi SR-5010. All are Japanese, and the product of very large manufacturers at that. The prices, tuning, and general performance of each is very similar. In fact, there's every reason why this should be so, for two hundred to two hundred and fifty dollars list price per receiver (which means they realistically sell for under two hundred, most places), each is just trying to cover the basics of this extremely complicated component as well as possible. A receiver must capture a radio signal, switch and mix from the radio to other components (turntable, tape deck . . .) and then amplify the signal so that it can power the speakers. All of these receivers did a creditable job when we tested them out, which is very good news. Time was, many receivers didn't meet their manufacturer's claims for them, so we might be glad the manufacturers are a little older, and the receivers are a little newer. Beyond that, there are subtle differences between these three, which may sway anybody toward one or another.

Although the Sansui R-30 has a very flashy digital display, this is not a "digital" receiver, nor should one expect a fully digital receiver for what this costs. But the benefits of digital tuning are debatable—do you really need to be able to punch station buttons at home, as in a car? Be that as it may, the look of this unit is very sleek, while its controls are somewhat clumsily placed. Useful features like high and low frequency filters are missing, as they also are on the Pioneer. How gladly I'd give up a "loudness" switch, which can boost bass when you cut the volume, supposedly making the music sound natural but doing a lot less than the bass control—how gladly I'd give up that useless switch for high and low filters, which do so much to make old records and bad radio reception listenable!

The Pioneer SX-3500 had only one FM tuning meter, making it a little more complicated to tune than need be. But it does the job well enough, once you get the hang of it. Finally, the Hitachi SR-5010 has a low filter, but no high one, has perhaps the sleekest styling, the most power by a hair (at 27 watts per channel, a couple of folks in the office insisted they could hear the difference.) And it also sports by far the most convenient rear speaker and antenna connections, including a much more versatile AM antenna than any of the others.

Finally, turntables. The choices were the Technics SL-B2, the Philips AF-677, and the Garard GT12 MkII (a mouthful in any language, the Garrard is English but made in Brazil, the Philips is made in Holland, and the Technics is Japanese.) All are belt driven models, not "direct drive," because I remain unconvinced that, at the low price levels, direct drive is an advance, rather than a hindrance. The Garrard is a changer, which means you can stack records. Considering that effort and expense had to be directed toward this end, one would expect the Garrard to perform a little less well in other categories than the other units, and it does look a lot cheaper. Audible performance, convenience and "feel" were about the same as the Philips, but we can't speak for durability.

The most important function of a record player is to turn that table with as little extraneous vibration as possible. To this end the housing should be as thick and solid as possible, and the tone arm should be as light as possible. The Philips AF-677 receives highest marks for the most elegant tone arm design, but its base is so light that records visibly vibrated on the platter. The base of the Technics SL-B2 outweighed both of the others combined, protecting the record as well as many a higher priced turntable, while its arm and counterweight system was as flexible and gentle as the Philips at its best. The Technics SL-B also deserves high marks for the ease with which cartridges can be installed,as does the Philips for a unique stylus force gauge that should help keep records in top condition

If there were no SL-B2 we'd choose the AF-677 as the best, but then the Technics is very much around, and the best turntable we could ever imagine for the money. If you must have a changer, and can't possibly spend any more, we support the Garrard will do.

Country Music's managing editor, Rochelle Friedman, was in the midst of being feted for her fifth anniversary with the magazine while our final tests were going on, and in a burst of generosity (that ought to get me in good with the boss) she was given the system of her choice. Rochelle took those very space efficient EPI 100 speakers, the Hitachi SR-5010 receiver, and the Technics SL-B2, and no one could blame her.

Tony Bunting, Country Music's marketing director, who is also marking his fifth anniversary with the magazine was quick to grab the popular JVCs, the Pioneer receiver and the Garrard changer.

Next time, more surprises as we feel our way around a dream thousand dollar stereo. ■

Associate editor Suzan Crane (left) chose the Sansui receiver, the Advent speakers and the Philips turntable; Rochelle went with the Hitachi receiver, the EPI speakers and the Technics turntable.

Letters

Do We Dare Print This?

It was with interest and surprise that I read in November '80 Country Music Magazine, your article on "Presidents, Pickers and Politics" and your "almost" endorsement of Carter for re-election.

One statement that really took me back was the following: . . . "Jimmy Carter is the first to actually make country music an integral part of his domestic programs, his foreign policy, and his political strategy and, in doing so, he may have done more to promote country music than any man alive."

God, how naive I have been all these years to think that country music's roots, grew from the traditions of Americanism, independence, freedom, liberty and individual accomplishments in the traditions of our founders. Little did I know that country music actually encompasses appeasement and capitulation with the enemies of our republican form of government and a domestic policy which condones Socialism, abortion, gun control and a complete disregard for our Bill of Rights! All of this time I felt a message that wasn't there. Johnny Horton sang about Johnny Freedom, Johnny Reb, The Battle of New Orleans, Jim Bridger and many others. Men from the south became some of our nations greatest heros. But I apparently missed the entire meaning of being a grass roots, down home American. I love our Constitution, our Liberty and the Freedom that our forefathers left us. Apparently the real roots of America must be buried in some other form.

BUFFALO DUNG!!! The only thing missing is the original message first conveyened in AMERICAS' TRADITIONAL MUSIC, gospel music, the songs of the American Cowboy, Civil War Music, Revolutionary period music, the western migrations, and on and on.

As far as I can see the new wave of country is nothing but a Liberal Socialist in boots and jeans who calls himself country but ain't.

I am a first time subscriber to your magazine and I will be a last time subscriber. My idea of country is a hell of a lot different than yours. My idea of country embraces the concepts which made our country great. Apparently your idea of country is the same as President Carter . . .

People of the same ilk (Socialists), who happen to enjoy, or so you say, a little pickin', I even doubt that. I think that you are part of the left and the movement to destroy our traditions.

One of my heroes, and one of my favorite stories is about Sergeant Alvin York, a conscientious objector from the backwoods who epitomized what an American should be. His reason for fighting was to save lives.

I think he would be offended and furious if he had had a Carter for a Commander-in-Chief, as should any patriotic American.

RICHARD POPOVICH
HUDSON FALLS, NEW YORK

P.S. I DARE YOU TO PRINT THIS LETTER!

No, you didn't miss the meaning of "grass roots." You missed the meaning of our article. We said that Carter promoted country music, not that country music promoted socialism. We also don't think that country music performed at The White House will weaken the Bill of Rights. So we hope President Reagan supports country music as much as Carter did. —Ed.

Doesn't Want Entertainers in Politics

Tom T. Hall in his editorial "Taking On Politics and Religion" said "Some people will tell you that entertainers have no business in politics." He should have listened to those people. I was under the impression that Country Music Magazine was a magazine about country music and its performers, not a vehicle for voicing one's political support for presidential candidates. Perhaps if Mr. Hall's reasoning was a little more plausible, I would have overlooked the article. However, he states that he is "simply impressed with the fact that we have a president who likes and understands country music. To understand the music is to understand the people, because the music is about the people. I would rather have a president who understands me than one who doesn't." I understand the music, should I be running for president? Am I to ascertain from this then, that in accordance to Mr. Hall's reasoning, that if Ronald Reagan enjoys classical music he would be a better political leader for Bach and Beethoven because he understands them, than for today's American people? Mr. Hall has exhibited his fine insight into human nature in his successful songwriting ability, but in the area of politics that insight and his reasoning leave much to be desired.

It was not my intent when I subscribed to Country Music Magazine to learn about the political beliefs of the magazine's editorial staff. My sentiments have not changed since then. This article has evoked deep reservations in my decision to renew my subscription. I am well aware of the fact that one cannot simply disregard what is happening in the world today but isn't there a magazine left that we can pick up without having to read about it. My appeal is to keep 'country music' in Country Music Magazine and not our country's politics. As for Mr. Hall, he said if best, "I love . . .

Little baby ducks . . .
Old pickup trucks . . .
An slow movin' trains . . . ."
JOSEPH M. McCARTHY

You say that Tom T. should have listened when people said, "Entertainers have no business in politics." Do you mean Ronald Reagan shouldn't be president? And since you like the "fine insight" in Tom T.'s songs, maybe it would have been better if he had written a song. "Old Dogs and Presidents and Watermelon Wine."—Ed.

Floyd Cramer and Eddy Arnold Coming Soon

I was highly incensed to see you devoting space to endorsing Jimmy Carter's re-election bid. I have been hoping I would eventually see articles on some of my old favorites like Floyd Cramer, Eddy Arnold, and Boots Randolph, but instead I'm inflicted with more Carter propaganda, as if we don't get enough (too much) of him on the daily news.

I suppose the big-money stars you named as endorsing Carter are not bothered much by the highest inflation, interest, and unemployment rates in modern history—Mr. Carter's folkiness is more important to them. I was sorry to see that some of the stars I have admired apparently do not have brains to match their talents.

Please cancel the remaining two years of my subscription and refund my money, so I can subscribe to a local newspaper where political editorials are supposed to appear.

I'm sorry you could not take enough time from rockabilly and politics to publish a country music magazine.
FRANK J. CORNETT
GREENSBORO, ALABAMA

Sorry you cancelled your subscription—you're going to miss our upcoming features on Eddy Arnold and Floyd Cramer.—Ed.

The Gift of Music

It was just over a year ago that I made up my mind to write a letter to a man whose songs I really loved. Letter writing has become very important to me the past few years. You see, I'm incarcerated at the North Carolina Correctional Center for Women here in Raleigh.

Well, I wrote that letter to Ronnie McDowell expressing how much I had admired him and his music ever since the very first time I had heard The King Is Gone in 1977. I told him that because of the circumstances I would probably never be able to attend one of his concerts, but I would really love to see him perform in person.

No one could have been more surprised than I was when I received a letter in return from Ronnie himself. He even told me to keep my fingers crossed and maybe one day I would be able to see his show live. I never imagined he would take the time to answer my letter, and I was really thrilled. I wrote several more letters and joined his fan club. Months later, when our prison began an inmate newspaper, I began sending him a copy each month. After sending Ronnie a birthday card, along with three other lifers, we received a beautiful full-color autographed poster. Because of the prison policy here, I wasn't allowed to have the poster in my room, but I was able to donate it to a staff member and hang it in her office so I could see it every day.

Then one night, our third-shift relief matron, Ms. Fran Perry, really gave me a surprise. Ronnie had arranged with the prison staff for a free concert here for the women. By the time the news spread, the entire camp was psyched up and anticipated the big day.

That day was today, and it's a day that I'll remember for the rest of my life. Today has become a dream come true for me in a place where dreams and miracles are a thing of the past. Ronnie gave a fantastic performance, putting his heart into every song he did for us. He combined a little country, rock and soul to present over an hour of entertainment that had the women clapping, shouting, screaming and dancing in the aisles. Then came the moment that I'll never forget. Ronnie called me on stage from my seat in the front row. He told everyone that I was the reason he was here, and then he sang Love Lifted Me to me and kissed me. I was so excited that I was trembling, and I'll never be able to describe exactly how I felt right then. But I do know that for a precious while today Ronnie McDowell made me feel like "real people" for the first time in a long, long while.

After a tremendous show, Ronnie continued to show what a great man he is. Instead of immediately talking to the waiting media reporters, Ronnie sat down and signed over 400 photographs, taking even more time for direct contact with the women and giving each of them a special remembrance of the show.

Once everyone was out of the auditorium, Ronnie and the guys spent time talking with the ten of us inmates who had been chosen as hostesses for the performance. The staff here at N.C.C.C.W. had even permitted us to wear personal dress clothes for the occasion, instead of the usual prison uniform. There was lots of hugging and kissing, much to the delight of the inmates, who seldom have the chance to be around so many handsome young men.

Before the group was ready to leave, the women were already asking for a return engagement. The members of Ronnie's group and Ronnie himself really made us feel even better when they told us we had been the best audience they had ever played for.

To me, more important than all the happiness that this day has brought, is the man behind all of it: Ronnie McDowell. I found out that Ronnie has something that is seldom known these days: a heart of pure gold. He is a warm, sincere, soft-spoken and down to earth young man, who showed his great capacity for love today.
SUSAN MCMATH BROADAWAY
NORTH CAROLINA CORRECTIONAL CENTER FOR WOMEN
RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

Keeping Track

I have subscribed to Country Music since 1976, and for four years I have been putting up with just about everything except country music—and I mean real country.

After looking back at all of my back issues, I noticed that not one member of the Country Music Hall of Fame has ever graced your cover. We have seen just about everybody else though, and some more than once! In 49 back issues we have seen: Waylon Jennings twice; George Jones twice; Loretta Lynn twice; Elvis, Jerry Reed, Crystal Gayle and Emmylou Harris twice. We have seen Dolly Parton, Kenny Rogers, Johnny Cash, Ronnie Milsap and Tammy Wynette three times each, and to top it all off we have seen Willie Nelson a total of four times.

Where are Roy Acuff, Bill Monroe, Ernest Tubb and Grandpa Jones? We have only read tidbit stories on them. I have seen only one article on the Crook Brothers and I have never seen any mention of Sam and Kirk McKee. Remember, these people made country music what it is today. Why have they fallen by the wayside?
EDDIE PAGE
TALAHASSEE, FLORIDA

Since you have only been a subscriber since 1976, you must have missed our May, 1975 cover story on Bill Monroe. We are happy to note that Johnny Cash has been inducted into The Hall of Fame, and do not intend for him to fall by the wayside.—Ed.

CM ≠ D

Please tell Michael Bane he has nothing to worry about ("Country Music Will Really Drive You To Drink"). Any good scientist can tell you that correlation does not equal causation.
LESLEY ADAMS, Ph.D.
OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLAHOMA

Yamaha Musical Products, Box 7271, Grand Rapids, MI 49510

YAMAHA

STRINGS.

Touch the strings
eight generations of American craftsmanship have made untouchable in excellence of tone and durability.

Yamaha's new phosphor bronze acoustic guitar strings.

THE MUSIC IS DIFFERENT. THE HARMONICA IS THE SAME.

HOHNER THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE.

Hohner makes 160 different types of harmonicas. Jazz, rock, folk, blues, country, whatever your music, Hohner has it.

M. Hohner, Inc., Hicksville, N.Y. Hohner Canada Inc., Don Mills, Ontario

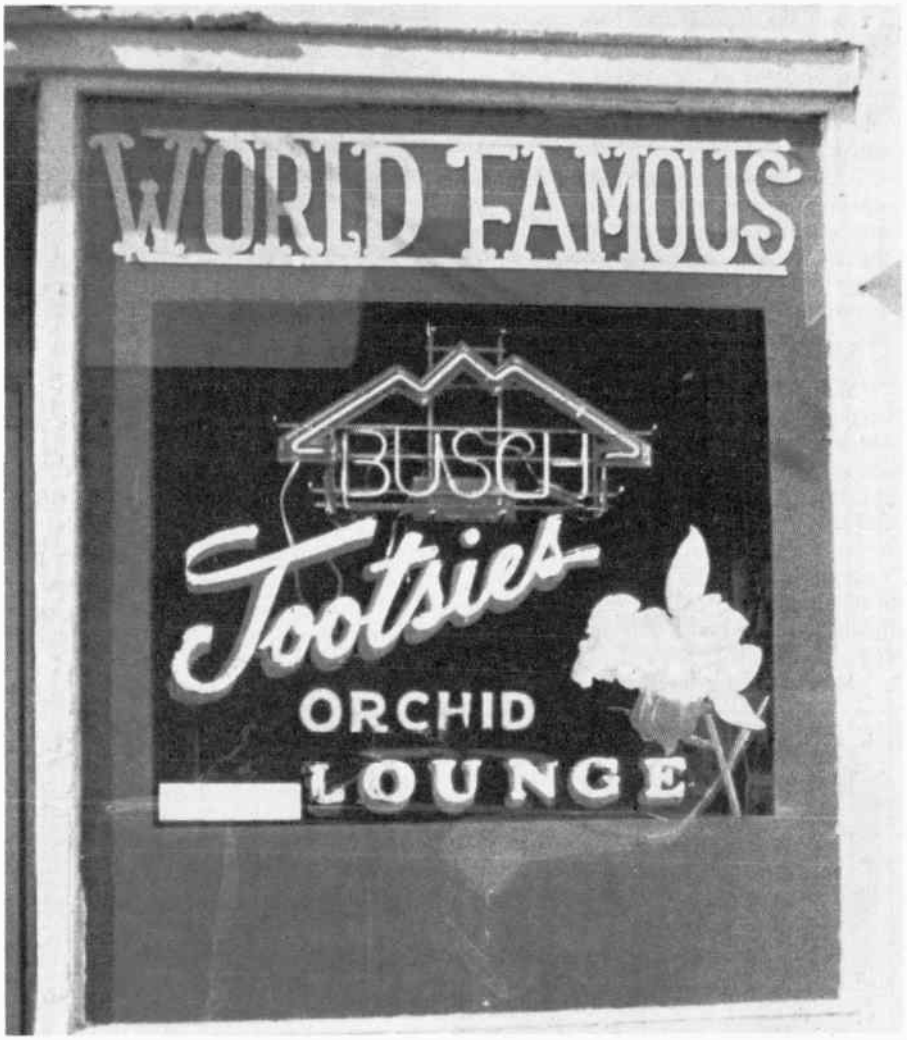
Number 7 January/February 1981
Editor and Reporter:
Bob Campbell
Nashville, Tennessee

COUNTRY Gazette

Late Country Edition
All the news that fits the space we have.
Weather: Variable, Seasonal

Tootsie's Shines In Tarnish Of Lower Broadway

The neon lights of lower Broadway in Nashville, Tennessee shine each night on a bizarre assortment of hookers, bums, drunks and occasional tourists who prowl up and down the dirty sidewalks looking for some unknown comfort in the cheap bars, cafés and porno shops that line the street. Before the Grand Ole Opry left the Ryman Auditorium in March, 1974 for the modern, safe confines of Opryland, lower Broadway offered a bit of magic for stars and tourists alike. The most famous country bar in America, Tootsie's Orchid Lounge, was a rustic, two-story watering hole where fans on a Friday or Saturday night could rub elbows with their favorite Grand Ole Opry star. Tootsie's Lounge still stands on lower Broadway and although the bar operates without Tootsie, who died of cancer on February 18, 1978, a few regular customers and tourists still visit and drink a few beers in the bar that is literally covered from one end to the other with signatures, album covers and photographic reminders of a colorful era in the history of country music.



Hattie Louise Tatum, better known as Tootsie, opened the Orchid Lounge on March 29, 1960. Located directly across the alley from the Ryman Auditorium, Opry stars would slip in the back door and sip on a beer before heading back to the Ryman for their part of the show. Her son, Howard Dodson, owns the place now, but it is managed by Oscar "Moose" Gray, a longtime friend of the family. A congenial man in his forties, "Moose" said the club was on the brink of being shut down early this year.

"Howard has had I don't know how many people try to manage this place since Tootsie died and they never did get it going —hell, they stole him blind," said "Moose," who retired from the army five years ago after 20 years of service. "He called me in Louisiana about three months ago and wanted me to take it. He said either I could come home and take it or he was gonna close it. Tootsie worked too hard keeping this club open so I couldn't see it closed, so I decided to come home."

Tootsie's Lounge appears basically the same as it always has. Much of the luster has gone, but a band plays hard country music every Friday and Saturday night and the upstairs bar is open on weekend nights just like the old days. A customer can buy a "Tootsie's Orchid Lounge" t-shirt now for $7.00 and a few copies of the last record Tootsie recorded, Life Is But Three Days, are available behind the bar for $2.25. Another of Tootsie's records, Tootsie's Wall of Fame, is on the jukebox along with the tribute, Lovin' Legend Tootsie, by Jimmie Rice.

Tootsie's Lounge only sells bottled beer, no hard liquor or draft beer, and each bottle goes for a buck. Miller and Budweiser are the most popular beer "Moose" sells, but he is not handling Miller right now because "they won't fix my beer sign." "Moose" said about the only time one of the Opry stars come back for a visit is when they are downtown on business, but he remembers the days when Faron Young, Mel Tillis, the late Bob Luman, Dave Dudley and The Wilburn Brothers were regular customers.

"Moose" also holds fond memories of Tootsie and tells the story of how she would use a hatpin to move reluctant customers out of her bar at closing time.

"I've got a whistle now, but it is not the same whistle she had," "Moose" said. "The one she had sounded like a siren. She'd blow that whistle and take this hatpin—now this is not the original Charley Pride hatpin, but it's similiar to it —but she'd take that pin and start around behind the bar and you'd better be headin' for the door 'cause she'd give you some of that pin in your rear. She's stuck many of 'em with it. The reason Charley Pride bought her one is that she had a little short one and got Charley with it one night. He just went out and bought her a long one. She'd get anybody with that pin, she didn't care who it was.

"But she would also help anybody," "Moose" added. "In fact, when we had a kitchen, many of 'em would sit here and she would feed them to keep 'em from starving to death. She's helped many a young songwriter."

In addition to being a hangout for Opry stars on the weekend, many of the country artists would socialize in Tootsie's during the week, and songwriters would pitch songs right in the booths across from the downstairs bar. "Moose" remembers a young, struggling Willie Nelson coming in to offer his songs.

"Willie used to come in here when he first tried to get his songs going," "Moose" said. "He'd park out front there and come in and leave his wife and kids out in the car in the hot sun. He would just sit and talk to the stars. You know that song, Hello Walls? Willie wrote that for Faron Young. He give it to him right over there in that booth. He told Faron, 'I believe we finally got one that'll go.' Faron took it and recorded it."

"Moose" also said one songwriter ("Moose" has since forgotten the writer or the song) came in one day and said he was broke and needed to sell a song. He sold the song for $50 and it ended up selling a million records.

Tootsie considered herself a close friend of many country stars, and she would get upset if any of them failed to come by and say hello for an extended period of time. In fact, "Moose" said she would take their song off the jukebox if too much time had elapsed without a visit.

"Just before she died, Roger Miller hadn't been by to see her in a long time. She was real funny about that," "Moose" said. "She got mad and took Roger's record off the jukebox. About a week later he showed up. She went out and got another record and put it back on."

Tootsie's Orchid Lounge may only echo a faded past and the bar may be slipping into old age, but "Moose" cares about the lounge and he will take the time to tell a few priceless stories if asked. For those memories, Tootsie's is well worth a trip into the neon jungle of lower Broadway.

JIMMY DEAN HEADS BENEFIT — While appearing at the Nugget Club in Sparks, Nev., Jimmy Dean learned that 12-year-old Rick McKinley, a leukemia patient, owed $25,000 in medical expenses. Dean called on a few good friends like Roy Clark, Larry Gatlin, and Zella Lehr, and they performed a benefit which covered the youth's debt. Shown backstage at The Nugget are (l-r): Gatlin, Dean, McKinley, Clark and Joe Moscheo of Broadcast Music Inc., who also organized the benefit.

★CONCERT PROMOTERS★TOUR OPERATORS★ ★THEME PARK OPERATORS★

Increase Your Sales And Profits With Country Music Gifts And Souvenirs!

Complete Selection Of:

- Country Music Designs
- Jewelry
- Autograph Books
- T-Shirts
- Bo-Lo Ties
- Novelties
- Mugs, Ashtrays, Souvenir Plates
- Brass Belt Buckles
- Novelty License Plates
- Custom Designs

Scott Sales has serviced the Southeast for 20 years with the largest selection of country music gift and souvenir items. We sell worldwide to wholesale accounts. For a complete list of country music gift and souvenir items, write to:

SCOTT SALES CO., INC. P.O. BOX 100905, NASHVILLE, TN 37210 615-256-8293

WHOLESALE ONLY — NO RETAIL SALES — MINIMUM ORDER $500.00

DO AS HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF OTHERS DO...

In Nashville or At Home—Shop At Conway's Country Store and Twitty Bird Record Shop

IN NASHVILLE
Visit Our Store For The World's Largest Selection Of:

- Country Music Records and Tapes
- Country Music Souvenirs
- Gifts and Accessories

Over 6,000 square feet of shopping fun located across from The Country Music Hall of Fame at 1530 Demonbreun Street.

NEW EDITION!
LATEST SELECTIONS!

AT HOME
Shop From Our New 1980 Catalog
FALL/WINTER

- Over 3000 Country Music Selections
- Over 100 Favorite Souvenir Items
- Pictures and Biography of Conway Twitty

52 pages of country music shopping fun!

YES, SEND ME YOUR FREE 1980 CATALOG

Name_____

Address_____

City_____

State_____ Zip_____

MAIL TO: Twitty Bird Record Shop
P.O. Box 24362, Nashville, TN. 37202

NSAI Elects Four Hall of Fame Members

The Nashville Songwriter's Association Int. (NSAI) held its 11th annual Hall of Fame Awards Show last fall and elected Ray Stevens, Ben Peters, Mickey Newbury and Hudie Ledbetter (known as Leadbelly) into the Hall of Fame. Held on a quiet Sunday night, the Manny Awards (for manuscript) opened the annual Grand Ole Opry Birthday Celebration and DJ Week which highlights the country music industry each year in Nashville.

More than 500 songwriters, publishers, artists and industry members attended the banquet and show at the Hyatt-Regency Hotel. Songwriter Hal David, president of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, gave the keynote address. Introduced by emcee Ralph Emery, David stressed the continued growth of country music.

"The most exciting growth in our business today is taking place right here in Nashville," said David, who teamed as a lyricist with Burt Bacharach to write most of Dionne Warwick's hits. "The excitement of Music Row reminds me of the excitement of the Brill Building which was New York's Music Row in the '60s."

This year's inductees join the ranks of such distinguished writers as Hank Williams, Lefty Frizzell, Kris Kristofferson, Jimmie Rodgers, A.P. Carter, Willie Nelson and Johnny Cash. The Hall of Fame now includes 85 writers.

Stevens, a multi-talented artist who sings as well as produces, moved to Nashville from Georgia in 1962 and soon hit with Ahab The Arab. He has also written Mr. Businessman, Everything is Beautiful and The Streak.

Known as a "writer's writer," Newbury's songs have been recorded by Willie Nelson, Elvis Presley, Jerry Lee Lewis, Olivia Newton-John and many others. Newbury moved to Nashville from Houston, Texas, in the middle '60s and along with Kristofferson, Billie Joe Shaver and Eddie Rabbitt, Newbury was considered one of the "new breed" of Nashville writers that expanded the scope of country songs. She Even Woke Me Up To Say Goodbye, Sweet Memories, San Francisco, Mabel Joy and American Trilogy are but a few of his songs.

A veteran of the Nashville music industry, Peters has had songs recorded by John Conlee, Charley Pride, Kenny Rogers and countless others. He has won both Country Music Association awards and a Grammy Award for his songs. Kiss An Angel Good Morning, That Was Before My Time and Daytime Friends and Nightime Lovers are among his best-known tunes.

The genius of Leadbelly was not recognized during his lifetime. He spent a few years in prison and he died in 1949. He is known as one of the finest folk and blues singers of all time and recorded more than 100 songs in his career. Leadbelly wrote the classic Good Night Irene.

NEW HALL OF FAME INDUCTEES — From left to right are Queen Robinson (accepting for Hudie Ledbetter), Ben Peters, Ray Stevens and Mickey Newbury.

HOMETOWN HONORS DUANE ALLEN — Duane Allen of The Oak Ridge Boys was honored last summer with a "Duane Allen Day" by his hometown of Paris, Tex. The ceremonies lasted all day and ended with a benefit performance by The Oak Ridge Boys. In the photo (l-r) are: Buddy Taylor, Allen's former high school basketball coach; Allen's wife, Norah Lee; and Duane Allen.

YOU GET A GOOD DEAL FROM UNCLE JIM O'NEAL

THIS MAY BE YOUR LAST CHANCE TO BUY THESE GREAT ALBUMS AT THIS LOW PRICE

Record Albums $4.98 value — Special $2.98 each 8 Track Tapes $4.98 each

Send Check or Money Order - No C.O.D's Add $1.50 to Total for Handling & Postage - Limited Time Offer

Good only in U.S.A. - FREE CATALOG with order - Uncle Jim O'Neal, Box AHCM , Arcadia, Calif. 91006

ROY ACUFF - SM-1870 ALBUM $2.98
Wabash Cannon Ball; The Great Speckled Bird; I'm Building A Home (In The Sky); Pins And Needles In My Heart; The Great Judgment Morning; Fire Ball Mail; Night Train To Memphis; The Wreck On The Highway; The Precious Jewel; The Great Titanic; Lonely Mound Of Clay; Come Back Little Pal.
8 TRACK TAPE - 8TM-1870 $4.98

GENE AUTRY - CS-1035 ALBUM $2.98
Mexicali Rose; Boots And Saddle; Have I Told You Lately That I Love You; You Are My Sunshine; South Of The Border; Sioux City Sue; Mule Train; Someday You'll Want Me To Want You; Goodnight Irene; Home On The Range; I Love You Because; That Silver Haired Daddy Of Mine; Red River Valley; Buttons And Bows; Back In The Saddle Again.
8 TRACK TAPE - 18C-01035 $4.98

PATSY CLINE - MCA-12 ALBUM $2.98
Walking After Midnight; Sweet Dreams; Crazy; I Fall To Pieces; So Wrong; Strange; Back In Baby's Arms; She:s Got You; Faded Love; Why Can't He Be You; You're Stronger Than Me; Leavin' On Your Mind.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-12 $4.98

PATSY CLINE - MCA-87 ALBUM $2.98
I Fall To Pieces; Foolin' 'Round; The Wayward Wind; South Of The Border; I Love You So Much It Hurts; Seven Lonely Days; Crazy; San Antonio Rose; True Love; Walking After Midnight; A Poor Man's Roses; Have You Ever Been Lonely.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-87 $4.98

PATSY CLINE - MCA-90 ALBUM $2.98
She's Got You; Heartaches; That's My Desire; Your Cheatin' Heart; Anytime; You Made Me Love You; Strange; You Belong To Me; You Were Only Fooling; Half As Much; I Can't Help It; Lonely Street.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-90 $4.98

PATSY CLINE - MCA-224 ALBUM $2.98
Faded Love; I'll Sail My Ship Alone; When You Need A Laugh; Crazy Arms; Always; When I Get Thru With You; Blue Moon Of Kentucky; Someday You.ll Want Me To Want You; Who Can I Count On; You Took Him Off My Hands; Your Kinda Love; Does Your Heart Beat For Me.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-224 $4.98

RAYMOND FAIRCHILD - RRRF-254 ALBUM $2.98 WORLD'S GREATEST COUNTRY BANJO PICKER - 30 GREAT INSTRUMENTALS 5 STRING BANJO-FIDDLE—MANDOLIN-DOBRO GUITAR
Whoa Mule; Carolina Breakdown; Turkey In The Straw; Little Darling Pal; McKinley's White House Blues; Blue Grass Bugle; Lonesome Road Blues; False Hearted Love; Nine Pound Hammer; Old Joe Clark; McCormack's Picnic; Red Wing; Cripple Creek; Girl I Left Behind Me; Under The Double Eagle; Raymond's Talking Banjo; Cotton Eyed Joe; Cumberland Gap; Raymond's Banjo Boogie; Crooked Creek; Boil Them Cabbage Down; Pretty Polly; Learning On Jesus; Sugar Foot Rag; Train Forty-Five; Earl:s Breakdown; Cindy; John Hardy; Banjo Fling; Orange Blossom Special.
8 TRACK TAPE - TRR-254 $4.98

RED FOLEY - MCA-86 ALBUM $2.98
I'll Fly Away; The Last Mile Of The Way; No Tears In Heaven; Were You There; This World Is Not My Home; My Sould Walked Through The Darkness; I Just Can't Keep From Cryin'; Lord I:m Coming Home; Only One Step More; Stand By Me; Farther Along; Life's Railway To Heaven.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-86 $4.98

RED FOLEY & KITTY WELLS MCA-83 ALBUM $2.98
One By One; Just Call Me Lonesome; As Long As I Live; A Wedding Ring Ago; Make Believe; Candy Kisses; You And Me; Memory Of A Love; I'm A Stranger In My Home; I'm Throwing Rice; No One Buy You; I'm Counting On You.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-83 $4.98

RED FOLEY - MCA-147 ALBUM $2.98
Beyond Th4e Sunset; Should You Go First; Peace In The Valley; Steal Away; Just A Closer Walk With Thee; Out Lady Of Fatima; The Place Where I Worship; Someone To Care; The Rosary; Will The Circle Be Unbroken; Old Pappy's New Banjo; I Hear A Choir; When God Dips His Love In My Heart.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-147 $4.98

LEFTY FRIZZELL - CA-9288 ALBUM $2.98
Saginaw, Michigan; Mom And Dad's Waltz; Release Me; Asways Late (With Your Kisses); I Love You A Thousand Ways; She's Gone Gone Gone; If You:ve Got The Money I've Got The Time; The Long Black Veil; I Want To Be With You Always; Shine, Shave, Shower (It's Satruday); A Little Unfair.
NO TAPE AVAILABLE

GUY LOMBARDO - MEDLEYS MCA-103 ALBUM $2.98
Blues In The Night; The Birth Of the Blues; I Gotta Right To Sing The Blues; Memories; Let The Rest Of The World Go By; My Buddy; Secret Love; Love Nest; Love Is The Sweetest Thing;Something To Remember You By; The Very Thought Of You; You:re My Everything; Kiss Me Again; A Kiss In The Dark; I:ll See You Again; By The Light Of The Silvery Moon; Shine On Harvest Moon; Moonlight Bay; As Time Goes By; Bidin' My Time; Breezin' Along With The Breeze; I Want To Be Happy; I'm Looking Over A Four Leaf Clover; Happy Days Are Here Again; April Showers; September In The Rain; I Only Have Eyes For You; If I Could Be Wiht You; It Had To Be You; In A Shanty In Old Shanty Town; Three Little Words; Baby Face; Somebody Loves Me; Don't Take Your Love From Me; What Is This Thing Called Love.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-103 $4.98

LORETTA LYNN - MCA-5 ALBUM $2.98
Everybody Wants To Go To Heaven; Where No One Stands Alone; When They Ring Those Golden Bells; Peace In The Valley; If I Could Hear My Mother Pray Again; The Third Man; How Great Thou Art; Old Camp Meetin' Time; When I Hear My Children Pray; In The Sweet Bye And Bye; Where I Learned To Pray; I'd Rather Have Jesus.
8 TRACK TAPE — MCAT-5 $4.98

LORETTA LYNN - MCA-6 ALBUM $2.98
You Ain't Woman Enough; Put It Off Until Tomorrow; These Boots Are Made For Walkin'; God Gave Me A Heart To Forgive; Keep Your Change; Someone Before Me; The Darkest Day; Tippy Toeing; Talking To The Wall; A Man I Hardly Know; Is It Wrong; It's Another World.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-6 $4.98

LORETTA LYNN - MCA-7 ALBUM $2.98
Who Says God Is Dead; I Believe; Standing Room Only; The Old Rugged Cross; Harp With Golden Strings; If You Miss Heaven; I'm A'Gettin' Ready To Go; In The Garden; Ten Thousand Angels; He's Got The Whole World In His Hands; Mama, Why.
8 TRACK TAPE — MCAT-7 $4.98

LORETTA LYNN AND CONWAY TWITTY MCA-8 ALBUM $2.98
It's Only Make Believe; We've Closed Our Eyes To Shame; I'm So Used To Loving You; Will You Visit Me On Sunday; After The Fire Is Gone; Don't Tell Me You're Sorry; Pickin' Wild Mountain Berries; Take Me; The One I Can't Live Without; Handin' On; Working Girl.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-8 $4.98

LORETTA LYNN AND CONWAY TWITTY MCA-9 ALBUM $2.98
Lead Me On; Shade Tree Music; When I Turn Off My Lights; Never Ending Song Of Love; Playing House Away From Home; You:re The Reason; How Far Can We Go; You Blow My Mind; Easy Loving; Back Street Affair; I Wonder If You Told Her About Me; Get Some Lovin' Done.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-9 $4.98

LORETTA LYNN - MCA-113 ALBUM $2.98
Don't Come Home A Drinkin'; I Really Don't Want To Know; Tomorrow Never Comes; There Goes My Everything; The Shoe Goes On The Other Foot Tonight; Saint To A Sinner; The Devil Gets His Dues; I Can't Keep Away From You; I'm Living In Two Worlds; Get What Cha' Got And Go; Making Plans; I Got Caught.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-113 $4.98

LORETTA LYNN - MCA-444 ALBUM $2.98
They Don't Make 'Em Like My Daddy; Behind Closed Doors; If You Love Me; I've Never Been This Far Before; We've Already Tasted Love; Out Of Consideration; Trouble In Paradise; I Love; Don't Leave Me Where You Found Me; Ain't Love A Good Thing; Nothin'.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-444 $4.98

LORETTA LYNN - MCA-471 ALBUM $2.98
The Pill; Will You Be There; It's Time To Pay The Fiddler; Paper Roses; You Love Everybody Buy You; Mad Mrs. Jesse Brown; Back To The Country; The Hands Of Yesterday; I Can Help; Another You; Linda On My Mind; Jimmy.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-471 $4.98

LORETTA LYNN AND CONWAY TWITTY MCA-335 ALBUM $2.98
Louisiana Woman, Mississippi Man; For Heaven Sake; Release Me; You Lay So Easy On My Mind; Our Conscience You And Me; As Good As A Lonely Girl Can Be; Bye Bye Love; Living Together Alone; What Are We Gonna Do About Us; If You Touch Me; Before Your Time.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-335 $4.98

MILLS BROTHERS - MCA-188 ALBUM $2.98
Paper Doll; I'll Be Around; You Tell Me Your Dream, I'll Tell You Mine; Till Then; You Always Hurt The One You Love; Don't Be A Baby, Baby; Across The Alley From The Alamo; Be Ny Live's Companion; The Glow Worm; Queen Of The Senior Prom; Smack Dab In The Middle; Opus One.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-188 $4.98

PATTI PAGE - CS-9326 ALBUM $2.98
Tennessee Waltz; Cross Over The Bridge; Old Cape Cod; Doggie In The Window; Mister Mississippi; I Went To Your Wedding; Mockin' Bird Hill; Allegheny Moon; With My Eyes Wide Open I'm Dreaming; Changing Partners; Detour.
8 TRACK TAPE - 18C-09326 $4.98

RAY PRICE - CS-8866 ALBUM $2.98
Crazy Arms; You Done Me Wrong; City Lights; Invitation To The Blues; I've Got A New Heartache; Who'll Be The First; Heartaches By The Number; The Same Old Me; Release Me; One More Time; My Shoes Keep Walking Back To You; I'll Be There.
8 TRACK TAPE - 18C-00094 $4.98

CARL SMITH - CS-8737 ALBUM $2.98
Hey Joe; There She Goes; Old Lonesome Times; Are You Teasing Me; I Feel Like Cryin'; Doorstep To Heaven; Let Old Mother Nature Have Her Way; The Little Girl In My Home Town; If You Saw Her Through My Eyes; You're Free To Go; Gettin' Even; I Overlooked An Orchid.
8 TRACK TAPE - 18C-00110 $4.98

ERNEST TUBB - MCA-16 ALBUM $2.98
Walking The Floor Over You; Rainbow At Midnight; Let's Say Goodbye Like We Slad Hello; Another Story; Thanks A Lot; Half A Mind; I'll Get Along Somehow; Waltz Across Texas; It's Been So Long Darling; Mr. Juke Box; I Wonder Why You Said Goodbye.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-16 $4:98

ERNEST TUBB - MCA-84 ALBUM $2.98
I'll Get Along Somehow; Slipping Around; Filipino Baby; When The World Has Turned You Down; Have You Ever Been Lonely; There's A Little Bit Of Everything In Texas; Walking The Floor Over You; Driftwood On The River; There's Nothing More To Say; Rainbow At Midnight; I'll Always Be Glad To Take You Back; Let's Say Goodbye Like We Said Hello.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-84 $4.98

ERNEST TUBB - MCA-341 ALBUM $2.98
I've Got All The Heartaches I Can Handle; The Texas Troubadour; Missing In Action; Don't She Look Good; A Daisy A Day; Texas Dance Hall Girl; Miles In Memories; The Lord Knows I'm Drinking; Pass Me By; What My Woman Can't Do; The Last Letter.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-341 $4.98

KITTY WELLS - MCA-121 ALBUM $2.98
It Wasn't God Who Made Honky Tonk Angels; This White Circle; Mommy For A Day; Release Me; I Gave My Wedding Dress Away; Amigo's Guitar; Heartbreak U.S.A.; I'll Repossess My Heart; Password; Searching; Making Believe.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-121 $4.98

KITTY WELLS - MCA-149 ALBUM $2.98
Dust On The Bible; I Dreamed I Searched Heaven For You; Lonesome Valley; My Ones Are Waiting For Me; I Heard My Savior Call; The Great Speckled Bird; He Will Set Your Fields On Fire; We Buried Her Beneath The Willows; One Way Ticket To The Sky; I Need The Prayers; Matthew Twenty-Four; Lord, I'm Coming Home.
8 TRACK TAPE - MCAT-149 $4.98

Opry Stars Featured In New Record Sales

Country music is enjoying an astounding growth of popularity now, but ironically, most of the regular performing members of The Grand Ole Opry are ignored by the major record companies. The Opry stars play to packed houses every weekend of the year, but the big companies feel they cannot sell records. However, Nashville's Pete Drake disagrees with this view, and he is quietly and efficiently producing many of these artists on his First Generation Label in a special Stars of the Grand Ole Opry record series. Drake, legendary steel player who now operates his own recording studio and publishing office, has signed an agreement with Columbia House for the mail order distribution rights to his First Generation Records label.

Two years ago, Drake produced Ernest Tubb's The Legend and the Legacy on First Generation and the album has sold over 200,000 copies and is a collector's item. Many current stars, including Willie Nelson, Waylon Jennings, George Jones and Merle Haggard, contributed vocals on the album. In the new recording series, Drake is producing entirely new albums on Billy Walker, Justin Tubb, Jan Howard, Stonewall Jackson, Ray Pillow, The Vic Willis Trio, Del Wood, Hank Locklin, Charlie Walker and Tubb. In a separate arrangement with Cleveland International Records, Drake is producing Slim Whitman, who is currently riding a new wave of popularity. Drake said he strongly believes in the Opry stars and is working on an overseas marketing campaign also.

"All of these artists are proven hit record sellers," Drake said. "We at First Generation feel very lucky to have them on our label. With the resurgence of country music on radio and through the film and video media, these artists all have the ability to strike again with their records.

"The arrangement with Columbia House and its Columbia record club is just the beginning of a marketing campaign for this album series," Drake added. "We are also negotiating with other parties for domestic retail distribution as well as full foreign distribution."

Along with the Stars of the Grand Ole Opry series, Drake is equally excited about his new association with Whitman. Whitman's album, Songs I Love To Sing, has been particularly successful in Europe and the single, When, has sold over 200,000 singles.

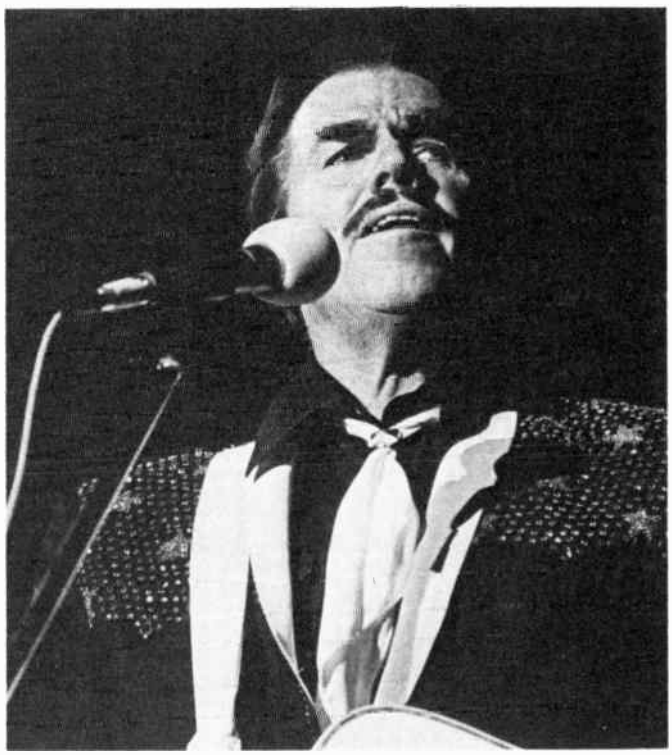
"Not everybody is aware these days of just how big a legend Slim is," said Drake, who once produced a country album for former Beatle Ringo Starr. "Here in America we have a tendency to forget those people who were superstars a generation ago. But over in England, just the reverse seems to be true. Slim is as big as ever over there."

Six months ago no record company in America wanted Slim. Then that television commercial came out and suddenly everyone remembered Rose Marie, Indian Love Call and Red River Valley. And television exposed Slim to young fans. They are buying his records in droves.

"Suddenly all the major record companies were interested in Slim," Drake added. "We decided to go with Cleveland International which is distributed by CBS. The label is headed by Steve Popovich, who is an old friend of mine and one of the greatest promotion men this business has ever seen. It's always gratifying to have a hit record, but it really is a treat to be associated with a hit by an artist like Slim. He's never compromised his music to be commercial or follow a trend. He's always just been Slim Whitman. That's what makes him so great."

Pete Drake



Slim Whitman

Anderson Joins Daytime 'Soap'

Daytime television and Bill Anderson are already old friends, and now Anderson is joining the family. After several guest appearances on One Life To Live, the daytime soap opera, Anderson has joined the cast as a regular member.

Anderson made guest appearances on the show last year in cameo roles. In one memorable episode, Anderson performed on a fictitious Grand Ole Opry show with country music hopefuls Becky Lee Abbott and Johnny Drummond. The opry stage was entirely reconstructed in a New York studio. Last fall, Mary Gordon Murray and Wayne Massey, who play the parts of Becky Lee and Johnny on the show, made a real-life appearance on The Grand Ole Opry in Nashville with Anderson. Ms. Murray and Massey sang duets on Don't Fall In Love With A Dreamer and Stand By Me. During the show, Jacqueline Smith, head of daytime TV programming for ABC, asked Anderson to be a member of the TV cast.

Anderson's contract includes several appearances each year with four, one-year options. He is not yet sure just how large a part he will play on One Life To Live.

"I suspect that we are going to play it by ear," Anderson said. "In the other episodes, I've acted as sort of advisor to Becky. Becky's character on the show is going to become more key and I expect most of what I'll be doing will be with her. I've asked very few questions of ABC because I'm afraid they'll tell me they're only teasing."

In addition to his new role on One Life To Live, Anderson hosts the nationally syndicated Backstage At The Opry television show. Naturally, he has cut back on his concert schedule, but Anderson feels the television exposure provides a healthy balance to his career.

"We've seen a very positive response to my One Life To Live appearances reflected already in fan mail and in personal appearances," Anderson said. "One lady at a show in Cleveland recently came up and said, 'so that's what you do. I've seen you on soap operas and game shows and talk shows, but I didn't know if you juggled or danced or what. Now I know and I like it'."

New Nashville Songwriter Workshop

On each and every Wednesday night in Nashville, Tennessee, with no applause or fanfare, a dedicated group of men and women from every walk of life meet for two hours in a classroom at Belmont College just off of Music Row and work toward a common dream—developing and honing professional songwriting skills. Under the direction and sponsorship of the Nashville Songwriter's Association International (NSAI), on the average of 40 everyday people critique each others' songs and discuss the general business of songwriting. Some have talent, some will never write good songs, but a binding thread among the group is a love for the pure joy of writing songs.

The songwriter's workshop began in December, 1978 under the leadership of Bob McCracken, who suggested the idea to Maggie Cavender, executive director of NSAI. As it turned out, Cavender had always wanted to implement a workshop of this nature.

"This had been a dream of mine for a long time," Cavender said. "I approached our board of directors with the idea and they approved it. We had our first meeting in a downstairs room here in this building with maybe 15 people there. We just tossed around ideas. Since that time, it has grown to the extent we had to move out to Belmont. Within just one year, the growth and maturity of those people who were there every week, plus the others who came, pleased me so much. The material improved so much from what they first started bringing.

"We have had professional songwriters like Rory Bourke, Don Wayne and Nat Stuckey join our group and they didn't say a word," Cavender added. "They later said they learned a great deal themselves. The main thrust or improvement in this past year is that the critique has become so exceptional. We are open and honest in our critique. We don't jump up and down and say what a great song this is or what a bad one that is. We aren't there to applaud a song, but to examine it."

The workshop is structured so each person can bring a song and have it played for critique from the group. Each person can bring one song on a cassette and ten songs are played before the group each night for discussion. Naturally, if one person has his or her song critiqued one week, that person should wait a reasonable period of time before bringing in another song. After a song is played, the writer is asked to critique his own song—Why do you think it is finished? Where do you think the trouble spots are? According to Cavender and McCracken, who leads the workshop along with Woody Bomar, this self-critique allows a certain insight on what a writer knows and how much a writer stands to gain from the workshop.

After the self-critique, the group discusses the song and evaluates the structure, melody and lyric content. If no one has any suggestion for improvement, the group throws around ideas about where in Nashville the song can be pitched. McCracken said the workshop really helps aspiring writers and he named one regular member who has shown tremendous improvement in a relatively short time.

"Sometimes these writers feel neglected or like they are the bottom of the barrel writers, but they are not," McCracken said. "They just need direction and we help them in that area. When Bill Umphleet started coming to the workshop, I really didn't see any promise in him or his first song. He was way off base. But he surprised me so much. In a short time, say seven months, he became a writer and started knocking me out with some of his ideas. He became so down-to-earth and conversational in his lyrics. Everything tied together and he even started presenting the songs better on tape."

Another aspect of the workshop is that the critique educates writers to correct a common mistake, writing about subjects too narrow for general appeal.

"For new writers coming to Nashville, the most common flaw I have found is that they write about things only their family or people where they are from could associate with," McCracken said. "Once they come to Nashville and our workshop, they learn how to write something the whole country can relate to."

Basically, the workshop members belong to NSAI, but sometimes non-members come to sessions. Also, out-of-town members who are visiting Nashville are encouraged to sit in on a workshop and organize similar workshops in their area. Another offshoot of the songwriter's workshop is a program in which out-of-town members can send a song on cassette to Nashville and it will be evaluated by a panel of two or three NSAI writers. The critique is recorded on the back side of the cassette and returned to the writer.

Songwriting is a business and the ultimate goal of most writers is to earn a good living from their work, but the simple beauty of the atmosphere of the workshop is the creative attitude of most of the members. "You don't hear as much about money and records as 'I want to write a good song," Cavender said.

HI THERE, M M MEL — Nancy Sinatra, who had the big 60's hit, These Boots Are Made For Walking, recorded in Nashville for the first time last fall. She teamed with Mel Tillis on a duet of the Englebert Humperdinck hit, After The Loving.

Only Candlelite Music could announce...
Incredible new "break-through" offering created...

The Exclusive CENTURY EDITION invented to contain The Most Colossal Record Collection of ELVIS PRESLEY Recordings of All Times!

More than six-dozen* million-sellers never before brought together in single glorious Golden Treasury! Super-value, too ... priced lower than 25 years ago!

AUTHENTIC, ORIGINAL RECORDINGS NEVER BEFORE AVAILABLE IN A SINGLE COLOSSAL COLLECTION!

Look at this list: Johnny B. Goode, It's Over, Proud Mary, Never Been To Spain, Lonely Blue Boy (Danny), You've Lost That Lovin' Feeling, Fools Rush In, Walk A Mile In My Shoes, Blue Moon, Shake, Rattle and Roll, Rip It Up, I Got A Woman, Take My Hand Precious Lord, Mama Liked The Roses, Frankie and Johnnie, See See Rider, Release Me, I'm Movin' On, Snowbird, Let's Have A Party, I Got A Woman, Tiger Man, Ain't That Lovin' You Baby, Mystery Train, —and much, much more! 74 hits in all!

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE! To find and assemble those hard-to-find ELVIS masterpieces in a colossal collection that rivals the greatest releases of modern history!

Such rare recordings as the first four solid gold hits The King ever recorded! Those smash-hit singles that have never, ever appeared on an LP! PLUS 70 more million-sellers that you just can't find in record stores anywhere ... at any price. Songs that collectors charge anywhere from $50.00 and up for a single.

SIX-DOZEN ELVIS HITS IN A NEW KIND OF TREASURY

Each hit certified as gold by CMI ... comes to you in the all-new CENTURY EDITION, a deluxe presentation created just for this incredible collection! A breakthrough in beauty and life-long protection for what must become the HEIRLOOM collection of all time!

A once in a life-time opportunity to complete a collection by The King!

TAKE A FREE ELVIS ALBUM FOR LISTENING FREE FOR TWO ENTIRE WEEKS!

YOU HAVE TO HEAR THIS INCREDIBLE GOLDEN TREASURY ... see for yourself the historic beauty and richness of The Century Edition. Fill-in and mail the coupon TODAY ... take your FREE album to keep even if you return the giant treasury to owe nothing! LIMITED TIME OFFER at this amazing low price!

THE INCREDIBLE NEW CENTURY EDITION!

• EACH ALBUM IN ITS OWN DELUXE JACKET WITH COMPLETE INDEX! • EASY-LIFT RIBBON! • HISTORY OF EACH RECORDING—MINI-ENCYCLOPEDIA! • SLIP CASE DESIGN TO LOCK-OUT DUST AND DIRT! • SOFT PROTECTIVE SLEEVES! • LEATHER-LIKE MATERIAL STAMPED IN 24 KT. GOLD! • KIVAR OUTER WRAP LIKE A FINE BOOK-JACKET! • EMBOSSED ELVIS PORTRAIT!

The most deluxe Presentation Case ever invented ... exclusively for this incredible ELVIS collection!

See why HANK WILLIAMS, THE BEE GEES, NEIL DIAMOND, SIMON & GARFUNKEL, TONY BENNETT, AND THE BEATLES are listed here!

FREE ELVIS ALBUM!

(worth up to $8.98) in your choice of RECORD! 8-TRACK! CASSETTE!

A One-Of-A-Kind exclusive collector's edition is waiting for you! ELVIS payed tribute the singers he admired by recording his own version of their great hits! You get the only Album ever to assemble the greatest of those recordings.

TRUE LOVE • YESTERDAY • BLUEBERRY HILL • SWEET CAROLINE • WORDS • BRIDGE OVER TROUBLED WATERS • LET IT BE ME • YOUR CHEATIN' HEART • HARBOR LIGHTS

FREE ELVIS ALBUM INVITATION!

Candlelite Music, Inc.
7 Norden Lane / Huntington Station, N.Y. 11746

YES! Rush my FREE Elvis Album together with the Giant collection of The Legendary Recordings of Elvis Presley for FREE 14-day audition ... in the Century Edition checked. I may return the big Century Treasury and owe nothing. But the FREE Album is mine to keep no matter what I decide!

If I decide to keep The Legendary Recordings of Elvis Presley in the Century Edition, bill me for only $7.49* a month for the Century Record Treasury, or $8.74* a month for the Century Tape Treasury, for four months plus $2.69 postage and handling charges! NO DOWN PAYMENT. NO FINANCE CHARGES.

IMPORTANT: Check here to make sure you get FREE Album and Century Treasury for audition in edition you prefer.

☐ 6-RECORD TREASURY ☐ 3-8 TRACK TAPE TREASURY ☐ 3-CASSETTE TAPE TREASURY

SAVE EVEN MORE!

☐ Save $2.69 shipping and handling charge if you enclose check or money order for entire amount now. Century Edition Record Treasury: $29.99, Either Tape Treasury $34.99. Same FREE Album and 14-day audition. Prompt refund guaranteed if you are not delighted.

☐ Save $2.50 MORE FOR EXTRA SETS! Great gift buy for those you love! YES, send me _____ additional Century Edition Treasuries for only $27.49 each for the record treasury and $32.49 for the tape treasury. (You also save $2.69 postage and handling charges and receive same privileges.)

☐ CHARGE IT and still save $2.69 shipping and handling charge! Fill-in MASTERCHARGE or VISA details below. Same FREE Album and 14-day audition privilege. ☐ MASTERCHARGE ☐ VISA

Account # _____ Expiration Date: _____

MASTERCHARGE ONLY: Interbank # _____

Name _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

▶ Please sign here: _____
If under 18, have parent or guardian sign (check one)

DO1-121

DO YOU HAVE A TELEPHONE? ☐ YES ☐ NO

*Sales Tax must be added for New York residents. All orders are subject to credit acceptance or request for prepayment by our National Sales Office.

Juke Box Joe Stampley

By John Morthland

It is tucked away near the end of the second side of his recent After Hours album, and it wasn't scheduled to become a single until popular demand interceded. But for Joe Stampley, There's Another Woman, the confused confession of a family man whose marriage has gone stale for reasons he doesn't understand, is perhaps his most important song ever; he describes it as being "kinda my life story in a song."

Stampley wrote it in 1979. "It took me about ten minutes, and those usually turn out to be the best ones," he explains, "because that's exactly the way I felt when I wrote it." About three months later, in November of 1979, Stampley moved out on his wife of 18 years and their three children.

We are talking over a lunch of pork chops, turnip greens, pinto beans and cornbread at Hap Townes, one of the best of Nashville's numerous country diners, where the meat and choice-of-vegetables runs little more than the cost of a Big Mac and fries. Though he hasn't been by for some time, it is Stampley's favorite spot. An unreconstructed country boy dressed in cowboy shirt, blue jeans and eelskin boots (the same clothes he wears onstage), Stampley is speaking in a soft southern accent, reluctant to say too much, even though he brought the subject up, because his divorce is not final and there are also the kids' feelings to consider. He will allow as how he knew the "other woman" six years before he left his family to join her, and other than that, he will talk mostly in generalizations.

"At a certain point, there just seemed to be something that was lost, that had been there before and than wasn't. Maybe people just get to a stage in their life where they lose contact with each other. I don't know. I have to be honest with you, I really don't," he sighs. "There's one line in that song: 'I've tried living my life for everyone else/But now I'm starting to live for me.' That's the key line in that song, and I think more people should do that, because life's too short.

"I had been living a kind of a lie with myself, and with my children and ex-wife. So I had to put it all out on the table. As a matter of fact, I've probably seen my children as much or more since I've left as when I was home, because I've made it a special point to go on some trips with my kids. And . . . it's a rough life, rougher than people think. It's a lot of miles and a lot of travelling," he continues, suddenly changing direction almost in midstream. "Country music, I'm a firm believer, tells it just like it is. For me, a song has to tell a story or paint a picture, that's what I look for. That's where the first verse tells you what the situation is, and then the next verses progress along, and you keep seeing what is happening."

There are several ironies at work here. The first is that whatever he's had to come to terms with in the last year or so, several of his associates claim Joe is happier and more optimistic now than he's ever been in the past; Joe, who describes himself as being a former worry wart, is inclined to agree. The second is that while many register surprise when they learn Stampley wrote his own hit single, there's really nothing new about that; he's written or co-written such past hits as Whiskey Talkin', If You Touch Me (You've Got to Love Me), How Lucky Can One Man Be, Dear Woman, Bring It On Home to Your Woman, and Nighttime and My Baby, and he has picked up four BMI awards (signifying 175,000 airplays each) for his efforts. The third is that Stampley's fortunes seem to rise as his records become increasingly harder country, and this is a time when the rest of Nashville is leaping headlong into Hollywoodized MOR music. Finally, there is the question of how this particular song became a hit at all, since it breaks one of Nashville's most hallowed songwriting rules.

"CBS told me to do such and such songs off the album while I was touring, and I was supposed to let them know which were getting the best reaction," he laughs after lunch as he steers his pickup truck onto the Interstate that leads toward his leased home near Brentwood. "So I called in and said, 'Hey, you would not believe the reaction on There's Another Woman. They said, 'Oh, no, that can't be the one. Women ain't gonna like that song, I'm telling you.' Because women just aren't supposed to go for a song like that. But I said, 'Well, why are they asking for it? Why do they come back and request it again and again?' Well, I can tell you what some of them said to me. There's been 40 or 50 who told me that was their life story. Now if that many told you that, think how many there probably really is all together. That's life, it's real life, and I'll say it again: what's so great about country music is there's so many songs that you can put yourself into."

If Stampley sounds triumphant, he has every right to be. At the age of 37, he notes, "Things are getting better all the time. You can reach a certain plateau and then just kinda stalemate, but lately I'm real pleased with how much things are going my way. This is the first time either me

SOMEBODY'S ARCHED RIVAL.

CF Martin's E-28 lead and bass offer the serious musician a new balance in electric guitar construction. The hand carved top with smooth rounded arches creates a soft appearance in each instrument. Nearly 150 years experience of carefully crafting quality fretted instruments are fully evident in Martin's E-28 series.

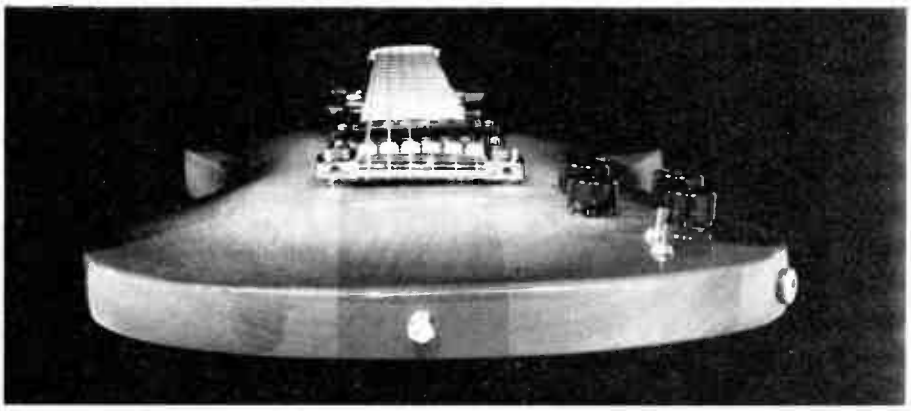
On each lead and bass a solid piece of mahogany runs the length of the instrument. "Through the body" neck construction and special pickup combinations on both guitars, provide the player with improved performance and added sustain.

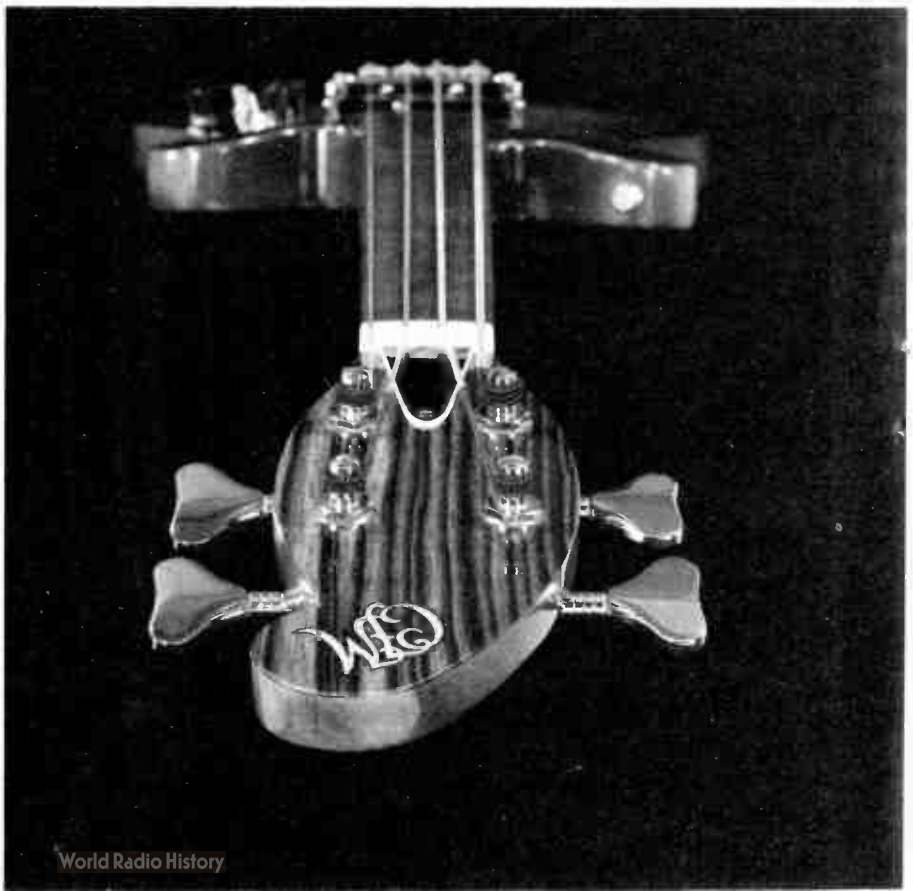
Designed with "on board" active electronics, the E-28's present the player with easy tonal variations. Bypass, phase and pickup switches plus volume and tone controls are conveniently located for quick accessibility.

To compare and play the new E-28's from Martin, see your local authorized Martin dealer. You'll find that they're an "arched rival" among contemporary electric guitars.

Now available. Ask your local authorized Martin dealer or write: The CF Martin Organisation
510 Sycamore St. Nazareth, PA 18064 800-345-3104

MARTIN ELECTRIC GUITARS AND MARTIN ELECTRIC STRINGS -A PERFECT COMBINATION.





Brenda Mae Tarpley of Lithonia, Georgia Comes of Age

By Michael Bane

Brenda Lee's house sits smack in the middle of the wrong neighborhood, right alongside houses of people who are probably fans of hers. Instead of stately columns and the green hills of Nashville's choicest environs, Brenda Lee's house looks out over a big garden, which has grown to take up most of the backyard. ("You should taste her pickled peppers," crows husband Ronnie Shacklett. "They're really great.") Instead of a baronial mansion done in Early Funeral Parlor, Brenda Lee's house is cluttered with overstuffed furniture, mementos of 30 long years on the road, artifacts that have somehow wormed their way into the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Shacklett — including one stuffed boar's head that may or may not have crawled onto the den wall on its own power, since nobody can remember exactly how it got there. It is a house, all in all, that says volumes about the way Brenda Mae Tarpley from Lithonia, Georgia, has coped with being one of the best known and longest lasting female vocalists in the history of popular music.

"It's all in the matter of the way you digest success," says Brenda Lee. She is still "tiny," all four-foot, eleven inches of her, still red-headed, still younger-looking than her 35 years. "It's the way you taste success... If you know you're good, that's all that matters. You don't have to have a hit record every day."

Cliches aside, every once in a while a person comes along whose life really is weirder than fiction. Consider the story of a little girl who went on the road when she was five, working to support a poverty-stricken family. She begins recording when she is 11, and she quickly becomes a star. Three years later she is a major superstar, on par with, say, Elvis Presley. Millions of people buy her records, entranced by this huge, bluesy voice coming form this tiny girl. One critic, in fact, describes her voice as "part whisky, part negroid and all woman." She is 15. To top off her fifteenth year, she records a Christmas song, Rocking Around The Christmas Tree, which promptly becomes one of the largest selling Christmas songs of all time and joins White Christmas and Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer as a seasonal classic. Ironically, as she gets older, she becomes even more successful, transcending trend after trend with her incredible voice. She survives the cataclysmic birth of rock and roll, the payola scandals, the rise and fall of doo-wop, the coming of the Beatles, soul music, psychedelia and the San Francisco Sound, the birth of disco, the fall of acid rock, the rise of country. She is still on the charts when Janis Joplin, perhaps the only other white female vocalist with the range and power to deliver the blues, rides the needle down in flames. She begins, after 15 long years, to be absent from the charts more and more, and advisors advise a quick change in style. Sing disco, they say, sing soft rhythm and blues with lots of orchestration. With your voice, they tell her, it'd be a snap to break onto the dance floor. But she refuses. I am what I am, she says, and I sing what I sing. So fail, they reply, and for a while she does.

Brenda Lee all grown up.

The country comeback of Brenda Lee in recent years may not have been the most earthshattering story in popular music, but it is certainly one of the most satisfying. At a time when most country singers are not only willing to change their styles but, if necessary, sell their grandmother into white slavery for a pop hit, Brenda Lee has returned to the top by holding her ground. Becoming a country act wasn't a plot on the part of her management; rather, the musical world turned underneath her. When she opened her mouth to sing, what came out was still vintage Brenda Lee.

"Really, the first song I ever learned to sing was Hank Williams' Mansion On The Hill, says Brenda Lee. In fact, her first recorded song in 1956 was Jambalaya. "I don't think that I've ever been rock and roll in the true sense of the word. If I put out those songs from the 1960s — Fool #1, All Alone Am I, As Usual, Thanks A Lot, I Want To Be Wanted — today, they would be country. I guess I've come full circle. I never made the decision to change anything."

To be sure, when young Brenda Lee — "Little Miss Dynamite," she was called — started, it was in a much younger and, in a sense, much more innocent music business. Her biggest successes came in popular music's "in-between" period, the time between the mellowing of Elvis (and the subsequent waning of the rockabilly fires) and the coming of the Beatles. During that time, the industry was still trying to make heads or tails of what was happening — "Got a little girl here who sings lost love songs like a Negro jazz singer. Great! Let's put her on the radio. . ." — and were less tied into the traditional categories, such as country, rock, pop, rhythm and blues.

"You'd do a show and there'd be 82 acts on the bill, each of us making $1200 or so — and let me tell you that was big money back then," Brenda Lee says. "There was always a lot of cameraderie; I guess it was a time in the music business when people were glad to see other people succeed. I was always the little one, the baby sister. And it was tough! Here I wanted somebody to flirt with me, and instead they were all telling me their troubles! But people like Fabian and Duane Eddy and Bobby Rydell became close friends."

Her successes were nothing short of phenomenal. Her voice itself had all the sweep of, say, Connie Francis, the then-reigning queen of female vocalists, but it retained the hard-edged hint of the blues. The blues said that here was a woman who had done it all and seen it all and had already been there; the fact that the blues lied mattered not at all. It was the world-weary quality of the blues that set (and still sets) Brenda Lee apart from the rash of other female vocalists. Not surprisingly, her background is similar to the stories of the other great southern singers, who were all inexplicably and inexorably drawn toward black gospel music.

"We didn't have a radio or a record player, but there was a black family down the street with eight or ten kids, and we used to go to church with them. We'd sit there in that church and listen to that music." Ironically, the black gospel absorbed by young Brenda Lee didn't help her a bit in her own church, the strict Southern Baptist. "I never could sing in our own choir," she says. "I phrased differently — I guess I always sang a little oddly. And that was always a great heartbreak to me, because I wanted them to know I was going to heaven. You couldn't move in the choir, either — sometimes I'd get to singing and slap my leg, and that was forbidden!"

The pain of not singing in the choir, however, was nothing compared to the shock of hitting the most secular road of all, that of entertaining. "Every Saturday night we'd go to Atlanta and play the sports arena, which was a huge hall. We'd play there Saturday night, then the next Sunday I'd hear in church how all those people were going to hell. It was hard on me, I'll tell you."

Her story from there on has the trappings of your basic show-biz legend. She was discovered by Red Foley, who arranged for her to appear on The Ozark Jubilee television show. From then on, the only way was up, some 90 million records' worth of up. Right up until the early 1970s, when she ran right into a wall. The business had changed, and the market for female interpreters of pop music, subcategory blues, was somewhere on the low end of "slim" and "none." "I was neither fish nor fowl, and the company didn't know what to do with me. The recording industry had changed — I'd like to think that record companies had a little more heart back when I was recording my hits — and you had to be either rock or country or rhythm and blues. They just didn't know what to do with me.

"I just couldn't change my style," Brenda Lee says, and this she fervently believes. "That's what I am. That's my life." And so, for a while, Brenda Lee simply didn't record. She took a two-year break for the birth of her second daughter, Jolie, and watched the music business from the wings. When she began recording again, it was as a country singer.

"When I was recording back in the 1960s, what a country singer meant was rhinestone shirts and stuff like that," says Brenda Lee, "and maybe it got a little too slick. But here I am, back to proving myself all over again, just like a new artist. It's understandable — frustrating, but understandable."

And here is where Brenda Lee is different. There is probably not an artist in Nashville who has not said, at one time or the other, that "you're only as good as your last record." Most artists profess to believe in that particular truism, and a few probably do. But Brenda Lee understands it and is not bitter. Because, I think, Brenda Lee has made her peace with her talent, her gift. She is, if one is allowed a snap judgment, centered, stable, and it is a stability that comes from not requiring a constant validation of who she is and what she does. When she says that while she would like — no, love — one more huge hit record, another I'm Sorry, another As Usual, she is more than happy with records that are in the Married for 18 years, Brenda now has time to enjoy life with her husband Ronnie Shacklett and daughters Julie and Jolie. Some of her hobbies include art, reading, cooking, and of course, music.

Top Ten or even the Top 20, one believes her. One can sense her drive that seems to be totally under control, and that is nothing short of a minor miracle.

Consider her marriage to Ronnie Shacklett, eighteen years and still percolating. "Ronnie and I are partners, first and foremost, in everything we do. I wouldn't have anything if it wasn't for him.

Like some other husbands of famous performers, Ronnie Shacklett has been quite successful on his own, in his case with a construction business. The difference is that he has kept in touch with and, in a sense, helped managed Brenda Lee Shacklett's career from the very beginnings of the marriage. His canny business sense has helped Brenda Lee weather the slow periods in her career, and even now she is quite frank enough to state that the Shackletts could get along fine without the money she brings in from performing. Ninety million records, even with the "casual" bookkeeping of the 1950s and most of the 1960s, amounts to more than granola money.

"I wouldn't want Ronnie to be just here waiting for me. He's his own man, and he's talented. When we married, he was already making $75 a week," she says. They met at a Jackie Wilson concert in Nashville, and Ronnie Shacklett didn't know Brenda Lee from a hill of beans. Oh sure, he knew she was a singer, but he didn't follow popular music, didn't buy records, and didn't listen much to the radio. It was love at first sight.

"After we were married, I don't guess we had much time to think about things. We had our hands full. We lived in this little apartment, and I thought we were doing just grand," Brenda Lee laughs, and it is a husky laugh. "You know, the older you get, the more you realize how hard it really was: the odds you were up against. Maybe it seems like more of a challenge as you get older."

More than her, she says, Ronnie Shacklett kept the home in order, providing a stable base for daughters Julie and Jolie. Julie, in fact, traveled on the road with her mother until she started to school, and Brenda Lee recently turned down an incredibly lucrative offer from Vegas because it would force her to be away from the little restored house for too long. "It used to be that every time I came back from the road, I had to get reacquainted with my kids again, and I honestly think it was harder on me than on them. They don't feel threatened — Dad was always here, and that had a very calming effect. Ronnie, more than me, has raised these girls, and that's hard for me to say."

Brenda Lee is the first to say that her country career is "not setting the woods on fire," although it has been a good one so far. Tell Me What It's Like, a vintage Brenda Lee performance if there ever was one, was nominated for a Grammy in 1979 and her most recent song, The Cowgirl And The Dandy ("I mean, really, wasn't that song just like Johnny One-Time," she says) easily cracked the upper levels of the charts.

"Am I scared? I'd say no. The only thing I really fear is myself. I love what I do so much, that I don't ever want to stop doing it. And I'm afraid that someday I will have to get out of it, because to stay would mean prostituting myself, and I won't do that," says Brenda Lee. "I'm afraid that day will come."

It's awfully hard, she adds, to have been in the business for so long, and then to be told that "they" can't use you because you don't have a hit record. Of course, lately she hasn't had that problem — in fact, her record company recently launched a new promotion, which featured a new, made-over Brenda Lee. Instead of a little girl (which she almost can't help but look like; she is disgustingly cute), they made her into a sultry woman with a "come hither" look (at least, that's what all the publicity material says, honest). And she does, to be totally honest, look like a hot number in those photos. The real Brenda Lee just laughs. "Now when I go to the beauty parlor, I call ahead for an estimate," she says. "They gave me this dress to wear, and it was slit up to there. Well, I told them, you're not going to get the right effect with my six-inch legs. With all that gam hanging out there, I'd feel like I was wearing my mother's clothes."

In the meanwhile, Brenda Lee presses on, doing what many people call one of the finest and most dynamic stage shows in popular music, collecting books (Taylor Caldwell and Truman Capote are special favorites), and working on the little house ("Listen, I've lived in all the right neighborhoods, and I didn't like it. I don't need a big house to remind me of who I am.").

"Sometimes you feel like a puppet," says Brenda Lee, Little Miss Dynamite, still, at 35. "Oh lord, will they pull my strings? Will they pull my strings at all?" ■

Haggard at the Crossroads

AN INTERIM REPORT

A Portrait of the Artist in Mid-life

By Peter Guralnick

Porthole Bar, Ridgecrest, California, 1960. Haggard, at right played lead guitar in Lewis Talley's band.

Merle Haggard seems to occupy a permanent niche in the eye of the storm. The last time I saw him, in the fall of 1978, he was just about to get married to Leona Williams but had somehow neglected to arrange the details of his divorce from Bonnie Owens some three days before the wedding. This time, in the spring of 1980, he is in the midst of the well-publicized and protracted misunderstanding with Leona which started virtually on the day of the marriage. "I wouldn't give the marriage till Wednesday," says one insider dryly. "And this is Monday." With which Merle seems inclined to agree. He is also at a point in his career when everything seems up for grabs: management, musical direction, lifestyle (he has given up drinking recently, he says, but not "carousing"), movie and television options, art.

Perhaps this is Merle's own brand of mid-life crisis. Perhaps it is simply that he enjoys having people fight over him. Certainly he does nothing to interfere when long-time intimates vie for his attention, when veteran band members smolder with resentment over the favored treatment accorded to newer recruits, when rumors swirl that he will soon be leaving his record company, MCA, because Jimmy Bowen, the head of Elektra's Nashville office, is producing his new album. If anything, Merle seems to promote all this conflict, to enjoy the sound of battle raging all about. And unquestionably there exists a deep ambivalence within Merle himself, a clear sense of what he doesn't want to do but an uncertainty about what he does, which reflects itself even in an appearance that can alter radically (from scruffily bearded to dapperly mustached to conventionally clean-shaven, from glittering star to seedy barfly) almost from day to day. Perhaps as Merle says, "The more that's going on, the more life I'm able to be involved with and learn about, the more it seems to replenish my well of ideas." Perhaps, as friends suggest, he enjoys orchestrating all this drama simply because he is bored. About a year ago, he says, he nearly gave up performing and then changed his mind, not out of any love for what he knew but, typically, out of fear of what he didn't. "I found myself wanting to get out of the business simply because I wanted to see if I could do anything else. But I got just far enough away from the business to realize I couldn't do anything else. So I decided to stay with it."

He announces this in concert at the Jimmie Rodgers Memorial Festival in Meridian, Mississippi; he says it in his songs; he reflects upon it in his most private moments. But you'll notice that what he's talking about is not "music" but "business," not song writing but self-promotion, not playing the guitar, his first and perhaps still his most consuming ambition, but selling himself as a product. For Merle Haggard is perhaps the last true outlaw, the one hold-out against wrapping up and merchandising feelings, the last rebel against high-gloss packaging. The music industry today, it almost goes without saying, speaks less of music than it does of industry, but for Merle Haggard clearly the only truth lies in art. Even after 20 years in "the business" he still lives, breathes, sleeps—he is consumed by music.

You can hear it in his records. It comes out in his songs. You even see it in the sound check rehearsal for his Saturday night performance at the Jimmie Rodgers Memorial Festival. Arriving shortly after one, the ten-piece band (complete like Willie's band with two drummers and two lead guitars) sets up on the stage of the Temple Theater whose flashing marquee proclaims the arrival of the stars in downtown Meridian. The theater, built in 1928 (though it never saw the presence of native son Jimmie Rodgers—he played the old Opera House) boasts such features as a painted railroad backdrop; ornate friezes, hardback seats, the pervasive smell of popcorn, and something that looks like a marble birdbath set off in a lighted alcove. Meridian, a pleasant town of 50,000 with a park dedicated to the memory of its most famous citizen and a museum built as a replica of the Mobile and Ohio railroad depot in Stonewall, Mississippi, is obviously geared up for the annual week-long event, and Merle is geared up to play it, since Jimmie Rodgers- -along with Bob Wills, Bing Crosby, and Lefty Frizzell—is one of his few genuine publicly acknowledged heroes. Nonetheless it seems a little incongruous for the star himself to show up early for a sound-check, normally the most perfunctory of ceremonies in which a balance is struck for the various mikes and instruments and voice levels are checked.

The few Shriners and Festival organizers who happen to be about (the Hamasa Shrine Temple owns the theater, and throughout the performance security is provided by a fez-topped Hamasa Patrol) are understandably thrilled, and several shake hands and introduce their wives, but for Merle this is obviously more than a star turn. For the next three hours he puts his band through their paces, working out arrangements, calling for slight modifications, picking up clinkers, but mostly just savoring the opportunity to hear the band, to use this collection of remarkable soloists and ensemble players as an instrument to express his own voice. Duke Ellington was once asked what kept him on the road with his band, why he would go continue to through all the turmoil, emotional and financial, that is involved in maintaining an organization of this sort. He replied that it was more a matter of self-indulgence than anything else—he simply wanted to hear his music played right—and one gets the feeling with Merle Haggard that it is little different. As the band warms up on Bob Wills numbers and Merle Haggard hits, as they ramble easily through a limitless catalogue of standards and original compositions, you realize that for Merle Haggard this is his reason for being. Merle sways motionlessly in place, knees bent, face for once relaxed and even smiling, directing the action with is fiddle bow, while the band takes off on an extended jam, white-bearded guitarist Grady Martin contributes an exquisite solo, and original Stranger Roy Nichols responds with an equally compact even more sizzling break. Long-time associate and sometime busdriver Lewis Talley does a couple of Ernest Tubb numbers after much encouragement from Merle, and Merle himself tosses off vocals as casual as they are deeply felt. It's as close as you're going to get to the spirit of Jimmie Rodgers or Bob Wills in the stream-lined '80s.

Even after 20 years in "the business" he still lives, breathes, sleeps—he is consumed by music.

Towards the end of the afternoon, just as Merle is nearly done working out an arrangement of Miss the Mississippi And You with Roy Nichols and Norm Hamlet, the only members of the band who played on Merle's classic Jimmie Rodgers tribute album, a blind man named Van Williams, a Meridian native who lost his sight in the Second World War, is led in by his wife. The man is wearing a Jimmie Rodgers railroad cap and, it is explained to Merle, knows all of Jimmie Rodgers' songs. He is a fixture at the Festival and appeared briefly the night before. Merle is obviously intrigued, announces to the band that he wants everyone to meet Van Williams, and then coaxes Van to do a number. For the next 45 minutes Jimmie Rodgers' arching blue yodels float out over the Temple Theater, while Merle expresses encouragement, astonishment, delight, and finally determines that he will feature Van on his show that evening. It is an odd night to see this most undemonstrative of men waxing so enthusiastic, all kindliness and courtliness and acting the part of the dutiful son. The afternoon ends with Merle coaxing Van to do Miss the Mississippi and finally Never No Mo for Lewis, throwing in a guitar fill now and then, adjusting Van's mike, knocked out again and again by the older man's near perfect mimicry, oblivious to the band's obvious boredom.

Merle and son Noel

The audience at the Saturday night show gets to see almost none of this side of Merle. Merle seems almost to close off, as he so often does in live performance, become stiff and stand-offish and almost formal in presenting the kind of show that he thinks is expected of him. When I first saw him in the mid-'60s, he used to feature imitations in his act, almost as if he couldn't believe that people had come to see him, and now he seems to run through his own hits equally mistrustfully, disturbed perhaps by the feuding in the band, possibly thrown off by the mismatched rhythms of the two drummers, irritated when a woman in the audience calls out, "Smile, Merle," and he replies, "Why? I only smile when something's funny." There are no really personal songs, there is nothing from his recent autobiographical masterpiece, Serving 190 Proof, and in fact one sees little of the simple enthusiasm that was evident all through the afternoon until he introduces Van Williams towards the conclusion of the first show. The audience responds with suitable politeness (it is an audience made up of the faithful after all, with one contingent of Australians who have planned their U.S. tour around the Jimmie Rodgers Festival and Fan Fair) but is less thrilled to have their star do little more than orchestrate the cheering for a local musician. Merle for his part couldn't care less. He lets Van close out the show with Miss the Mississipi And You, the song that he'd rehearsed with the band that afternoon, and spends the entire time between shows not with his wife, who is out in front of the theater signing autographs, nor with any of the celebrities who clamor for his attention, but picking Jimmie Rodgers songs and exchanging self-deprecating small talk with Van Williams on his bus. When he finally has to go in for the second show, he brings Van back with him and insists once again that Van end the evening with Miss the Mississippi. Some in the audience might suspect that they are being shortchanged, the band, dressed in black western suits and white cowboy hats, just looks uncomfortable, but really Merle is convinced that he is giving people a priceless opportunity to hear the real thing. You know that if some Hollywood producer were to come along right now and offer him the chance to score and star in the next Clint Eastwood movie, he'd pass it up just for the chance to pick some more with Van Williams.

Merle Haggard is perhaps the last true outlaw, the one hold-out against wrapping up and merchandising feelings, the last rebel against high-gloss packaging.

I live the kind of life that most men only dream of
I make my living writing songs
And singing them
But I'm 41 years old, and
I ain't got no place to go
When its over
So I'll hide my age and make the stage and try to kick the footlights out again.

"People don't realize," says Merle Haggard almost resentfully, "that entertainers go through the same hardships of life as everyone else. When a plumber has someone close to the family pass away, they don't go to work—but an entertainer . . . At five minutes to nine they call me one night and said Lefty Frizzell had passed away. I went on. That's hard to do. You can't project how an entertainer will feel for an engagement that was planned months ago and predict his mood. Entertainers have the same feelings as anyone else, but they have to be phony about them. You have to go out and smile when you don't feel like smiling; somebody points a camera at you, and you put on that old Instamatic grin. Which is part of the profession, I guess. But sometimes part of the profession makes you feel like a prostitute. That's what that song is about. I've had letters that say, 'I hope that isn't —I would be very disappointed to find that as many people as love your singing that you really feel that way. I hope it's just a passing mood, I'm sure that it is.' Well, life is a passing mood. You know, when I see an artist like Lefty who had everything, every ingredient it took to become a monster, a legend, a Presley, with the exception of management—that was the only thing he lacked, but people he came by made him hate the business before he ever really got into it, they killed his desire and ambition. I guess maybe Footlights started that night when I got the call."

"People don't realize that entertainers go through the same hardships of life as everyone else."

Back in Nashville a few days later he is working on the final mix of one of the new tunes from his new album with producer Jimmy Bowen, himself an exile from L.A. and rock 'n' roll. Bowen is calm and professional and Merle, who scarcely reads because he hasn't got the patience, is genuinely intrigued by the technology, a more than willing student and an apt one, too. Work begins around seven o'clock in the evening and when it is over at 2 a.m. only the one number will have been wrapped up, but Merle never loses interest, his attention never flags, and he even manages to write a new song during a break. When he goes into the soundbooth to overdub his vocal, there is none of the coldness that you might associate with a canned sound, and although the song itself seems slick and pedestrian Merle invests it with a feeling and a passion that show up in each minute variation, in each new vocal twist. It is a true marriage of craft and passion, art and instinct, and here, just as the soundcheck, there is no question that Merle Haggard is fully engaged, able to forget for a moment the embarrassment of his duet with Clint Eastwood in Bronco Billy, or even the compromise that this meticulously produced album itself represents in its attempt to transform Merle Haggard from country music legend to genuine pop star. Obviously Merle is going to have to face a lot of tough decisions in the next few months: will he really dedicate himself to cross-over success; will he look for more media exposure, streamline his organization, get rid of the hangers-on, tone down an autobiography that promises to tell the unvarnished truth so that it will be more acceptable to public and publisher? Merle strains against the mold, clings desperately to the irrational response, however outrageous. He makes brave statements that indicate he will never tailor his beliefs to fit the proper image, never rein himself in to do what he is supposed to do. He lashes out wildly at an enemy he cannot quite identify, an invisible enemy who has transformed the American dream from the great move west to the move to the suburbs, transformed the hero from rugged individualist to Saturday afternoon hero.

"It seems like if you do well on TV you lose a lot of your mystique, a lot of your drawing power."

"It seems like if you do well on TV," he says, doing his best to put his finger on just what it is that's disturbing him, "you lose a lot of your mystique, a lot of your drawing power. I've argued and argued this point with people who are a lot smarter than I am, that for you to do well enough to get the type of shows that you want you must be on there so much that the people in New York know who you are. And when you get to where the people in New York know who you are, you've usually done too much of it. Really, I don't see any way of doing a happy medium but there's no way to prove my point. So we go ahead, we attack television like we're planning to do now, and when the bottom falls out of the whole thing, well they're going to say it's this or it's that, but I think it's very simple: people get sick of seeing you every time they turn on the TV.

"Well, you take some performers," he says, then singles out one prominent country entertainer in particular. "I feel sorry for him. He's been so overexposed at this point, people turn on their television and they see him—they're sick of him. He can't get a hit record. The disc jockeys themselves are tired of seeing him.So this man's only alternative is to work the fairs and such things where there's a built-in crowd to begin with. Oh, he makes big money, but he knows, I'm sure, as well as anybody else what he is and who he is—he's a piece of . . . he's a product of the industry. He's not really a creative artist at all."

And that's really what it all comes down to for Merle Haggard. That's probably the worst fate that he can imagine, to become "a product of the industry," to give up the freedom of the creative artist, perhaps the last frontier. His emotional reaction to fear of selling out takes many forms and perhaps, as much as anything else, is the explanation for his instinctive politics. Whenever he feels cornered, whenever he has begun to feel boxed in, Merle Haggard has lashed out, and probably he would be the last to deny that his behavior has been destructive, reckless, ill-considered at times. It has never caused him to abandon his music, though. The one constant in his life has been music.

"I've enjoyed the career, I think, a lot more than I would have if I'd tried to capitalize on every damned thing that happened to me."

I've been running from life
I keep running from life
I'm still running from life
But I can't get away.

"A lot of these people around me," says Merle Haggard a little sorrowfully of the retinue that has surrounded him off and on for 20 years now, "are sometimes not nearly as responsible as they need to be. They let me down in a lot of ways that other people would not allow. But their heart was always in the right place. They were always there to pick me up when other people wouldn't give a shit. They're not trying—I don't think—to get in my pocketbook. Because of some of their irresponsibility—and the irresponsibility I shoulder as much as anybody. It's not just their fault, it's my fault. It's their fault for allowing me to be that way and my fault for allowing them to be that way that we have not reached the height in our career that might have been available. But I really don't care. I've enjoyed this career, I think, a lot more than I would have if I'd tried to capitalize on every damned thing that happened to me. There were times when I could have jumped on a television special. I could have had my own network show if I'd pursued it. There were many directions I could have gone in, many things I could have done, but I chose to attack it on a low-key basis and to enjoy it and screw around and write songs and make records and run up and down the highway in buses and stay with the people I wanted to be with rather than take that other route—I'm sure you know what route that is. And there's lots of other reasons why I didn't go that way. There was so many people wanting me to go one way or another that I couldn't be sure of what direction to go in. I had no way of knowing who was ready to screw me and who was wanting to do me right. So I just stayed where I was, and I just stayed with the people I was with."

As he speaks you get a momentary vision—a vision of Merle and Lewis and Bonnie, of Fuzzy Owen, who first recorded Merle for his cousin Lewis Tally's label, and Tex Whitson, Merle's new manager who has more or less replaced Fuzzy. It was Lewis, who brought Merle, fresh out of prison, to Tex's Desert Inn in Ridgecrest, California. Lewis was, according to Tex, "the biggest thing in Southern California; California's answer to Hank Williams. I believe he could go back today, he was that popular. Merle was trying to be a lead guitarist. That was all he cared about, and Lewis just kept raving about, 'This kid . . . this kid.' It turned out to be Merle." Fuzzy coached Merle endlessly—on diction, on mannerisms, on what makes up a hit song. Merle met Bonnie at the Blackboard, where she was waitressing and sang on Tuesday nights, and Merle played the relief shift. At the Porthole which succeeded the Desert Inn, "we checked for knives and guns at the door," says Tex. "If they didn't have 'em, we issued 'em." It all seems so much simpler, so much more innocent in a way, bathed in the light of nostalgia, though Tex, a self-admitted felon, claims that it is far easier now. "If I'd known then how easy the music business was, I could have saved myself seven years in the pokey!" It is the longest-running hit on Broadway in which the actors shuffle about, exchange roles, take a temporary leave of absence . . . but one doubts they will ever quit the show.

"I never dreamt about success. Really, all I ever intended to do was to make a living."

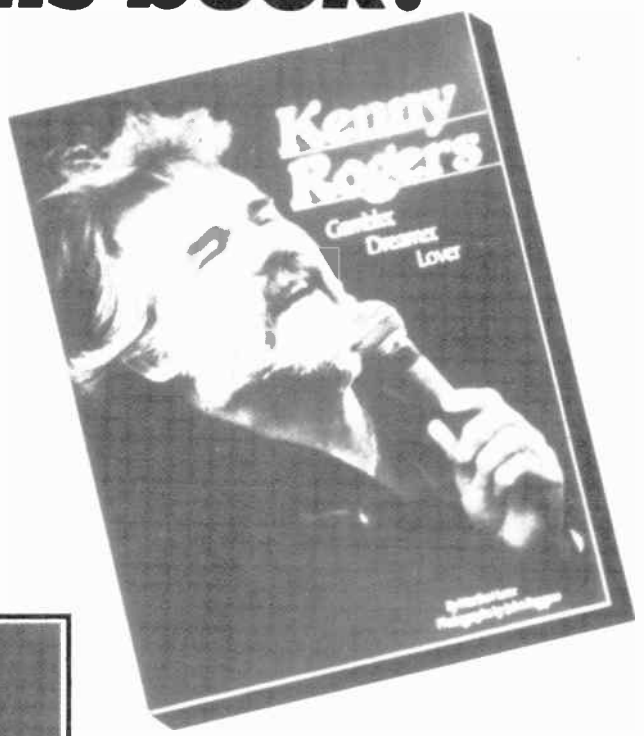
"As a kid I never even thought about growing up," says Merle "I just enjoyed being a kid. I got away with as much as I could get away with. I guess I didn't think about growing up because I thought I was grown. I never dreamt about success. Really, all I ever intended to do was to make a living. I've had far more success than I ever could have imagined—I guess I didn't set my sights high enough! Sometimes," says Merle Haggard with only a hint of wistfulness in his voice, "I wish maybe I hadn't had as much success as I have. You know, it kind of ruins your incentive." But then with that hard-won Okie sense of self-knocking good humor he recovers: "I guess you've just got to keep making up goals." ■

If you love Kenny Rogers, you'll want this book!

Gambler

Dreamer

Lover



160 pages
125 photographs
16 color pages
only $8.95

The Kenny Rogers book you'll cherish forever. The dramatic story of his failures and triumphs, good times and bad. How the 1975 has-been sang his way to the top of the charts and over $20 million by 1980, drew TV's highest ratings with "The Gambler"—and found personal happiness with his wife, Marianne.

Written by Martha Hume, national music critic and former managing editor of Country Music Magazine. Exclusive new photographs by John Reggero.

Please send me Kenny Rogers!

Delilah Communications
148 East 53 Street, N.Y. N.Y. 10022
Send me _____ copy(ies) for $8.95 each plus $1.50 postage & handling.
I enclose $_____. (Check or money order only)
NYS residents add sales tax.

Name _____

Street _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Allow Four Weeks For Delivery

Roy Orbison
The Phantom Unmasked

The Voice, the Big O, the Man of Mystery, turns out to be a friendly talkative fellow.

By Patrick Carr

The band, snugly dressed in the inevitable black and white, performs a sly Eagles-disco warp of the theme from Star Trek. It's weird, very weird. Their white sashes sway softly around their black satins; the music, stirring and schmaltzy, soars through the club. The audience seems confused. This is a Roy Orbison show! What's the Star Trek stuff?

There's no time for that now, though, because here comes Roy. Nobody in the audience has seen him in the flesh before—he's a memory from television, a legend, some sort of wraith—and when he actually appears, looking like a vanilla popsicle in a black wrapper, everyone goes nuts. It's Roy Orbison! It's the singing phantom of yesteryear, Mr. Plastic-Face, the man from another planet! We concentrate on the head—in our memories, it's the only part which moves, save for that reflex twitching of the hands down there against the dead black bodily parts—and yes, the head is doing its stuff. It's vibrating six inches away from the mike, the black mop atop the white slash of forehead and the black cut of the shades, the whole assembly sinking down to a tight-tensed little mouth before it recedes sharply into a pale, black-satin-closed vee of chest. Yep, it's just like then: The mouth seems to be the only connection to the soul. What an image. He's singing Only The Lonely, and when you close your eyes you know for sure that with the mouth's pinpoint on the heart, and the presence's utter sense of the alien, the package is very Trekky, very outside, and on the ball with Outer Nowhere. It's scary and it's great.

* * *

The Roy Orbison story is well known, but it bears repeating. He began as a Sun Records rockabilly singer, moved on to an alliance with producer Fred Foster in the early Sixties, scored countless eerie hits like Crying and Blue Bayou and Pretty Woman and It's Over, got lost in the late Sixties shuffle when he left Foster for MGM, and then joined many of the other original rockabillies in "international" stardom, U.S. frustration, and the search for some way—a producer, a situation—in which to make more great records.

In Orbison's case, his disappearance from the American scene was vibrant. There were deaths around him—his wife, two of his kids—and most of his fans leapt to conclusions which seemed obvious: The ghost-man's deathly karma was both real and catching, the tragic vibe was all around him, the image lived and was running a show too raw to be played out in public. Thus it was that his disappearance went relatively unquestioned; it was obviously a slow nightmare which should be abandoned as other music and images, mostly more kinetic and certainly less depressing, pressed for attention.

When Roy appears today, then, Mr. Spock at the Lone Star Cafe, most of the crowd does not know about all the other records and the English accolades and/or anything else at all about him since then. As he sings those lovely, bone-chilling songs of his with perfect control and power and nuance, they feel instead that things are just as they were.

Downstairs at the Lone Star between sets, the man becomes available for an interview. The set-up has been hard, fraught with paranoia among the intermediaries and loaded with the possibility that Mr. Orbison may be too weary or sick or mournful to talk, but determined efforts have been made and the situation has fallen into place.

Nervousness attends the meeting. Mr. Orbison does indeed look most chilling, and the shades are positively sinister. Will he talk?

He talks. Asked how his career is going these days, he delivers his answer in spades. He's hotter than ever in England and Europe and Australia, he says; he's been filling big halls on a U.S. tour and in Canada; he has his first-ever country hit single, That Loving You Feeling Again with Emmylou Harris; he's in demand, he's making money, things are cracking. He makes these points quietly and thoroughly, identifying the facts with patience and grace about how he's not, by any means, a has-been. He's wearing a loose-fitting white shirt now, he's feeling the blast from the Lone Star's rickety old floor fan, he's got his Camels and his matches and his ashtray. He seems sly and collected and humorous; he has about him an elfin air quite foreign to the frigid melancholy of his image. Also, he's smiling as he talks. Up close like this, you can see the humorous twist around the corners of his mouth and even the trace of a sparkle behind the shades.

There's something about that smile, something familiar but somehow wrong, out of place . . . It takes a while to identify it, but then it sinks in: This cautious but genuine expression of humor is the same phenomenon which appears onstage and on the TV tube, in the image, as a very odd grimace indeed, Spock's nervous tick.

The observation opens up a new perspective on Mr. Orbison. Is he not in fact a being of weirdness and tragedy? Does the image have a life of its own, existing perhaps only in the songs and the performances?

There's nothing like a direct approach on such matters, so the question is asked. Mr. Orbison says that no, he and the image do not really resemble each other; they don't now and they didn't then. He says that he is not a tragic personality, and makes the additional point that most of his songs aren't tragic, either.

There we have it, then. While reflecting on the uncanny power of the image's separate life, it is now possible to relax, abandon all uneasiness about how to interview a singing phantom, and discover interesting and under-exposed facts about Roy Orbison by means of a sane and friendly chat.

* * *

The question of the image must come first. The story of the shades is well-known —he left his regular spectacles on his plane one night, wore his special wraparound glare-reducing set onstage instead and thereby launched a phenomenon he would have been extremely foolish to discourage —but what about the rest of it? The black clothes, for instance?

"There's a very simple explanation," he says. "When I was a young boy, we always used to play cowboys and Indians and good guys and bad guys, and I always had to play the bad guy or the other guys would go home. Well, bad guys wear black shirts and I always wanted a black shirt, but we couldn't afford one. I was in my teens before I could get one, and even then it had some white on it. Then when I got more money I went for the all-black clothing thing. I remember the first time I ever got to buy black shirts in lots. It was in Scotland . . ." Roy commences to relate the story of his first mass purchase of black shirts in detail and at length. It's so pleasant to hear him ramble on like any old Joe, that the reason why he always had to be a bad guy in those boys' games never surfaces. Obviously, though, his attraction to the bad guy stance—the loner, the misfit

"When you become a superstar, which I became, I don't think you should give up what you love to do. The same thing goes for when something traumatic happens to you—you shouldn't give it up then, either. It's a lifestyle which has stood me in good stead. Not a lot has changed."

—was a significant ingredient in his choice of image. His maintenance of the pose for some twenty years has been, just as obviously, very smart.

This is all a little distressing—it raises the possibility that there may be no more great Roy Orbison records—but there's really nothing else to be said about the subject, and so we proceed to other matters. Time is pressing, and there is still the question of Mr. Orbison's personal life. We know that he is married (he married again, in 1969, after the tragic death of his first wife in a motorcycle accident) and that he lives in the Nashville region, but apart from that there's nothing. Orbison does not seem to socialize. What does he do with his time when he's not being the Image?

Well, says the man, he builds model airplanes. He began as a kid when his imagination was captured by his uncles' stories about World War II and he's never stopped since. He's serious about it, too. He builds Museum Scale models which fly —the absolute top of the line in the modeler's world, requiring months of intricate labor and painstaking research; his first model was a Battle of Britain Spitfire (either the Mk. IA or the Mk.II, he doesn't recall exactly), and right now he's half-way through a Messerschmidt Bf. 109 "Gustav," as flown (he points out) by the great German ace Erich Hartmann (365 kills). The writer possesses a certain body of knowledge in these regions, and so Mr. Orbison is put to a strenuous test: Does the abbreviation "M.B.5" mean anything to The Big O?

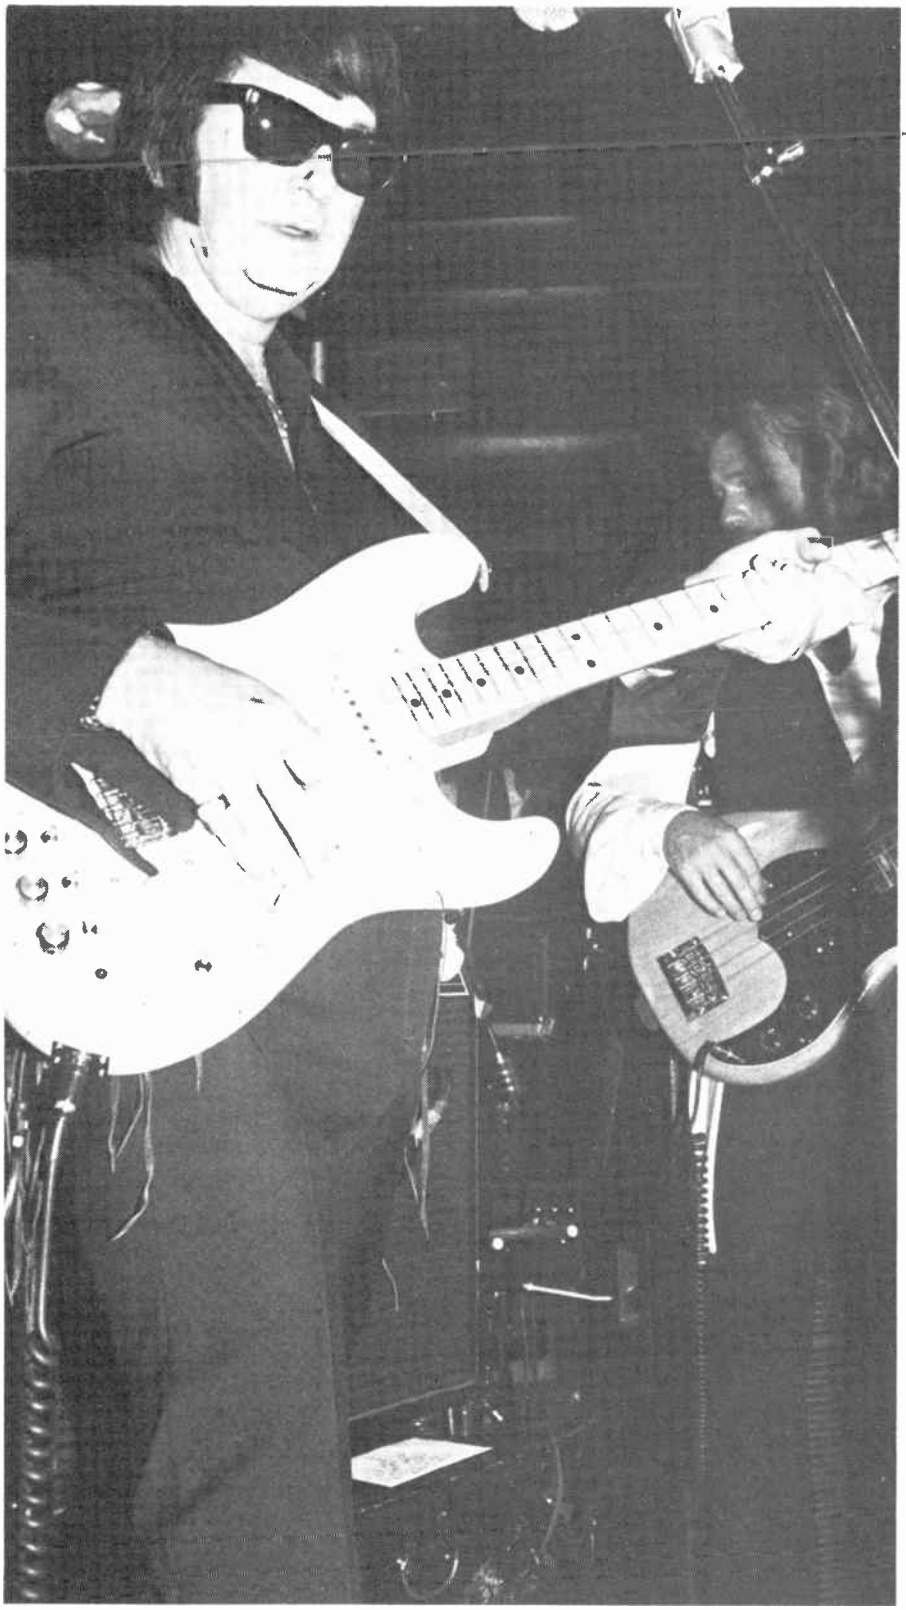
Indeed it does, and The Face lights up in pure pleasure as the mystery of the Martin-Baker 5, an absolutely superior British piston-engined World War II fighter plane which somehow never found its way into production, is discussed and analyzed. The mystery is not penetrated to its conclusion—nobody seems to know why the M.B.5 never went into production—but the discussion does lead somewhere.

"I've never thought of myself as having a philosophy," says The Big O, "but if I have one, all that—the details, the reasons why—is part and parcel of it. I'm a great student of history. What happened was that from the time I first found about that war, which I didn't understand, I wanted to find out why people did that. Then in order to find out what happened, I had to go back to the First World War and the period in between, because actually, it was all one war in two parts. Then, in order to find out what caused that, I had to go back to the 1870s, then back to Charlemagne, and back all the way to Roman times when they tried to cross what is now Germany and didn't make it . . . Y'know, people think of history like they think of model airplanes, as kind of a drab thing, but you find out about the old peoples' lifestyles—how they dressed, how they lived, everything—so it's fascinating. I've been trying to understand everything from the Roman times to now, and I'm still doing it.

"I mean, when you become a superstar, which I became, I don't think you should give up what you love to do. The same thing goes for when something traumatic happens to you—you shouldn't give it up then, either. If you like to do a little reading before you go to bed every night, you should do it whether you're a star or not, whether you've got a hit record or not, whether you've just had a loss in the family or everything is fantastic. It's a lifestyle which has stood me in good stead. Not a lot has changed."

All this makes perfect sense. The Big O—The Voice, The Phantom, The Man From Nowhere, He Who Is A Mystery—is not carried off to some secret crypt or pod or personalized life-support system following his unearthly public appearances; rather, the man goes away and continues his studies, the life of the mind.

As the time for another show at the Lone Star draws near, Roy's manager intrudes to end the interview. The process of disconnection is slow, though—Roy is talking about a model airplane he saw recently which had true-to-scale fingermarks on the wings from where ground-crew members pushed it to get it out of its dispersal bay!—but it is inevitable: The Image must be prepared for public consumption.



Next up in this image business is his stance while onstage, that total-weirdness lack of motion which came across to its best effect on lip-synched TV appearances. As with the other elements of the image, this ingredient turns out to be a half-accident subsequently exploited to the full. Specifically, Roy Orbison songs do not feature instrumental breaks—Roy doesn't like them, thinks they interfere with the power of the song—and so the singer has to stay on the mike for the duration of the song. Also, since he does not sing loudly—he never bellows—he has to stay close to the mike in order to squeeze every last ounce of volume and nuance from his pipes. He admits that this technique has been somewhat helpful in the creation of his myth. Lastly but certainly not leastly, he confesses to being nervous onstage. This last fact might have something to do with his utterance of approximately one dozen spoken words per show.

So much, then, for the mystery of the image. There remains the mystery of his recording career. The abrupt nose-dive which occurred in this area in the late Sixties has been well documented in this and other magazines—basically, Roy never found the right combination of material, production and promotion after his split with Fred Foster, and was moreover quite shattered by the loss of his wife and sons, to the extent that he was unable to give enough to his music—but the current situation is obscure, to say the least. There was an Elektra album some two years ago, and now there is his country single, but otherwise there is the sound of utter silence. Is anything happening?

"Well, I'll probably start working on a recording deal when I get the chance," Roy says. "I just haven't had the chance lately, I've been so busy with dates. But when I stop for a month or so, which will be pretty soon, we'll work out some kind of recording deal, and maybe even record. It doesn't leave a lot of time for writing, though." This situation, even though Roy says that several labels are interested in him, sounds somewhat vague. As to what happened to his Elektra deal, Roy's answer is short and none too sweet. "Nothing," he says. Prompted, he explains that two events—his recording of the album and the drastic recession in the music business in general—coincided with unhappy results. "I don't know whether the recession had anything to do with my album release," he says, "but it certainly had a lot to do with my not staying on the label. I think they tried to push the record—a little bit—but everybody in the business was taking a real beating at the time, and things were kind of crazy."

He wasn't satisfied with the album anyway, he explains; the sessions were only half concluded when everybody had to pack up and stop spending money, so a lot of the material which made it onto the album was not of the highest quality.

The problem now, he says, is to find a producer he can work with. He worked well with Fred Foster because Foster let him have a great deal of input and control over the recording process. The songs were cut more or less "live," and they were cut the way he wanted them. Since then, he has not found such a situation, and has developed a distinct aversion to the process wherein the singer shows up and sings, and the producer does everything else.

He has also developed an aversion to modern studio technique—he doesn't like a lot of over-dubbing, for instance—and so, with modern technique so thoroughly entrenched these days and so many producers with very strong opinions, he is finding that a good man is hard to find. "I want a producer I can work with, not be produced by," he says. "If I can't get my input in there, then I can't call a record my failure or my success." He's still looking for the right man (again, he refers to "five or six" possibilities), but so far he hasn't found him. If he doesn't find him, he says, he won't bother to record. ■

Now Country Music Magazine invites you to receive a—

FREE

Country Music Wall Calendar

When you start or extend a subscription for 1 year.

Here's your chance to get our new 1981 Allstar Calendar as a FREE gift when you subscribe to Country Music for one year (or extend your subscription for one year). It measures a big 8¼" x 22" open, includes the birthdays of all the headliners, gives you ample room to jot down your own personal messages, and features 12 glorious full color photos of your favorite stars. The only thing better than this handsome new calendar are the 10 great issues of Country Music that you will be receiving over the next 12 months. Bringing you all the stars, the gossip, the music and the news, it is America's number one fan magazine. And you'll receive one full year of it for the basic subscription price of $9.95 — a $6.55 SAVINGS OFF the regular cover price.

Or get our brand new belt buckle FREE when you start or extend a subscription for two years.

Already order our calendar? Alright, order Country Music for two years and get our new "I Love Country Music" Belt Buckle as a FREE gift. American crafted of heavy duty metal, you'll wear it in style everywhere you go. And remember, you also receive 2 full years of your favorite magazine for $17.90 — $15.10 OFF the cover price. (Basic subscription price for two years - $19.90).

TO: Country Music Magazine
PO Box 2560, Boulder, Colorado 80321

4AA1

☐ YES, send me my FREE Calendar and a full year of Country Music for the basic subscription price of $9.95 — $6.55 OFF the cover price. (DF)

☐ INSTEAD, send me my FREE buckle and two years of Country Music for $17.90 — $15.10 OFF the cover price. (Basic subscription price for two years - $19.90.) DC

☐ SEND my free gift now, I am enclosing my payment in the amount of:.....

Name.....

Street.....

City.....

State.....Zip.....

AN EXCLUSIVE OFFER FOR COUNTRY MUSIC SUBSCRIBERS...

Get A Yamaha Folk Guitar For Only $49.98 A Month

For The First Time Ever, The American Guitar Shop Offers Easy Monthly Payments Plus An Exclusive DISCOUNT On Country Music's Bestselling YAMAHA Folk Guitar

Over $58 OFF CHARGE IT! 14 Day Free Trial

NO OTHER STORE CAN MATCH OUR CREDIT AND PAYMENT TERMS

We defy you to find any music store that will match our credit and payment terms. We will send you this superior musical package for a 14-day free trial in your home. Only if you decide to keep it will we then charge your credit card, or bill you direct, in four convenient monthly installments. No other music store offers you all this. (OF COURSE, ALL CHARGE ORDERS ARE SUBJECT TO CREDIT APPROVAL.)

NO OTHER STORE CAN MATCH OUR UNIQUE BONUS OFFER

Just as no store can match our terms, no store can match our money-saving offer. No where else can you expect to get one of America's leading guitars, the Yamaha FG335 Jumbo Folk Guitar, a regular $220.00 value, for only $199. No where else can you expect to also receive — a guitar case, set of Cameo strings, adjustable guitar strap, guitar picks, and songbook — over $58.00 in accessories, as a special free bonus. You even get to keep the free songbook if you decide to return the rest of the package.

YOUR YAMAHA GUITAR WILL BRING YOU YEARS OF PLAYING ENJOYMENT

The Yamaha FG335 Jumbo Guitar is one of the most trusted and popular models played by country music enthusiasts. Some of the special features of this acoustic guitar include: spruce top, mahogany back and sides, Indian rosewood fingerboard and bridge, celluliod inlay on sound hole, back and sides inlaid binding, acrylic position markers, chrome covered machine heads, celluloid pickguard, white pin bridges, and neck made of the finest nato wood. It's overall size is 40 1/2", 16 1/4" wide. This model is ideal for both the starter and the experienced player.

Also get a FREE COUNTRY MUSIC SONGBOOK just for trying this great guitar and accessories for 14 days!

Along with your guitar and accessories, we will also send you a FREE Country Music Songbook. Even if you decide to return the guitar and accessories, keep the Songbook with our best wishes. It's yours because we want you to tryout this unique musical package.

Call Toll Free 1-800-331-1750

If you're using a credit card, call our toll free number. Your card will be billed in 4 convenient monthly installments. Refer to the key code in the righthand corner of this ad when calling. ALL OTHER ORDERS USE THE COUPON BELOW!

The American Guitar Shop Prod. No. GU
P.O. Box 999, Northvale, N.J. 07647

YES, rush my FREE songbook along with my Yamaha guitar and accessories for a FREE 14-day tryout... in the style checked below. I am including a small $10.00 goodwill deposit to cover shipping and insurance. I may return this musical package for a full prompt delivery if not completely delighted, but the FREE songbook is mine to keep no matter what I decide!

If I decide to keep this unique musical package, bill only $49.98 a month for four months. NO FINANCE CHARGES. IMPORTANT: Enclosed is my $10 Goodwill Deposit.

CHECK YOUR MODEL CHOICE: ☐ Right-handed; ☐ Left-handed

SAVE EVEN MORE!

☐ Save $10.00 shipping and insurance if you enclose check or money order for the entire amount now. Send $199. Same FREE songbook and 14-day trial. Prompt refund guaranteed if you are not delighted.

☐ CHARGE THE ENTIRE ORDER AND STILL SAVE $10.00 in shipping and insurance charges. Fill-in Master Charge or Visa details below. Same FREE songbook and 14-day audition privilege.

☐ Master Charge; ☐ Visa

Account #: _____

Expiration Date: _____ Master Charge Interbank No. _____

Name _____

Street _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Please sign here: _____
If under 18, have parent or guardian sign.

Sales Tax must be added for NYS residents. ALL ORDERS ARE SUBJECT TO CREDIT ACCEPTANCE OR REQUEST FOR PREPAYMENT BY OUR NATIONAL SALES OFFICE.

PEOPLE

By Bob Campbell

Joe Bonsall of The Oak Ridge Boys is not one to let a little thing like the CMA Awards Show spoil his love for baseball. Following the nationally televised awards show in which The Oaks were nominated for, but did not win Group of the Year, Bonsall preferred to talk about his favorite baseball team. "That's the breaks. You win some and you lose some," Bonsall said. "What's important is the Phillies won the pennant. (Philadelphia had beaten the Houston Astros the night before to win the National League playoffs.) I was there and it was incredible."

George Jones, winner of the CMA's Male Vocalist of the Year, has recorded an estimated 147 albums in his long career. Emmylou Harris has said of Jones, "When you hear George sing, you are hearing a man who takes a song and makes it a work of art."

Early last fall, Sue Powell of Dave and Sugar, left the group to strike out on her own. Sue contends basic music differences forced her to leave the group. "When I joined Dave and Sugar four years ago, it was a group. Recently, I felt my role being slowly reduced from an equal partner to a backup singer. My final decision to leave came after our last recording session as Dave and Sugar, when it became obvious that the identities of Sugar would never be promoted beyond the level of backup singers. There was simply a basic difference in philosophy on what the group should have been. I definitely plan to continue recording as a solo artist and will stick to the country market."

Helen Cornelius

Since last fall's sudden and emotional breakup of the duo between Helen Cornelius and Jim Ed Brown, Ms. Cornelius has plunged ahead with new goals and musical direction. At a recent press conference in the offices of United Talent in Nashville, her new booking agency, Helen said the breakup happened because of deep personal differences and she talked of future plans. She has hired a new band to work with her and she is changing producers, among other things. Basically, Helen is rearranging her entire show. "I am dreaming big dreams now. I came to Nashville with a lot of ideas and they got waylaid for awhile, but they are on top again. The duo was a good thing, but this may be the greatest thing that has happened to me. I intend to take my new show to the fullest. The duo was a little old fashioned. It has reached a time in country music where you have to entertain folks. I want to move more on stage and show people I feel a song. I have a lot of my own songs that I have believed in for a long time that I want to do. I really want a high-energy, classy, lady-like show." Also, when I first started, I worked with piano. My greatest love is keyboards and a big part of my new show will be nothing but me on piano."

Ms. Cornelius also said her new band, called The All-American Band, is from South Carolina and includes six people who are versatile on virtually every instrument. She stresssed that all forms of music would be represented in her new act. "Country will be there, but I will utilize all kinds of music," Helen said, dressed in a tasteful grey pant suit with a herringbone coat. "We will do some cajun music, bluegrass and contemporary music. I can hardly wait to get on the road."

Singer/writer/producer Ray Stevens was inducted into the Georgia Music Hall of Fame during the second annual Georgia Music Week in Atlanta last September. He was presented with the prestigious "Gregory" Award for his role in Georgia's musical heritage.

Jacky Ward's hit single, That's The Way A Cowboy Rocks and Rolls, was written by veteran swamp rocker Tony Joe White. Tony Joe wrote and sang the million selling Polk Salad Annie a few years back. He also wrote the beautiful Rainy Night in Georgia, which was a big hit for Brook Benton. Tony Joe still picks and sings, and he played the Exit/In club in Nashville during DJ week.

Speaking of the Exit/In, the renovated showcase club was booming during DJ Week. Asleep At The Wheel, Mickey Gilley and Johnny Lee, The Bellamy Brothers, John Anderson, Bobby Bare, Lacy J. Dalton, Rodney Crowell and Rosanne Cash all appeared at the club in the same six-day period.

Ed Bruce and his Tennessee Cowboy Band appeared on The Grand Ole Opry last fall for the first time since the Opry moved from the Ryman Auditorium in downtown Nashville. He sang Mamas Don't Let Your Babies Grow Up To Be Cowboys and The Last Cowboy Song.

Carlene Carter

Carlene Carter, daughter of June Carter Cash and Carl Smith, stopped off in Nashville for a brief visit recently. She currently lives in London, England with her husband, rocker Nick Lowe. While in Nashville, she presided at a press luncheon given by Warner Brothers Records to publicize her new album, Musical Shapes. Dressed in black leather pants with a loose blouse and long, tousled blonde hair, Carlene said she was happy to be back in America, but she enjoyed London. She also likes recording in England. "I can cut the kind of country I like in England better because the musicians don't really know what they are doing with country music. They just pick with feeling and it comes out right."

In the course of a rambling conversation with local journalists over a buffet lunch, Carlene revealed she has been making an honest effort to get to know her father better. "I am getting to know my father again and have realized he is a good man," Carlene said. "I never even heard his records when I was growing up. He never played them. One day I asked him to play me some 'cause I had never heard them. I stay with him a lot when I am home now. He's just a cowboy. All he likes to do is fool with his horses. I'll come stay with him and he'll say, 'I'm going out to the barn.' Then when he gets back, he just lays down and takes a nap. He is really a great guy." Carlene is in the midst of a nationwide tour of radio stations promoting her album.

Legendary songwriter Bob Nolan, one of the Original Sons Of The Pioneers, passed away a few months ago, and Marty Robbins passed along this eulogy. "Nolan was a true songwriting genius. He had the ability to say simple and powerfully what he felt. I'd like to see a tribute to his music and to him as a man. He was a gentleman and a friend of mine."

Pop singer Vic Damone has been recording in Nashville under the production of none other than "Cowboy" Jack Clement, who has produced such folks as Waylon Jennings, Jerry Lee Lewis and Louis Armstrong in his long career. "I don't know how you would describe what we are doing," Clement said. "I think of it as the definitive Vic Damone album, that's all. I wouldn't want to label it country or anything else for that matter. He's my favorite crooner and has been for years. I've wanted to put a dobro with his voice for a long, long time. In fact, I may play the dobro myself on this album."

Mickey Gilley revealed to Laura Eipper in The Nashville Tennessean that he originally thought the idea of a broncing bull in his Gilley's Club was a silly idea. "When Sherwood (Cryer, Gilley's manager and business partner) first told me he wanted to put the bull in Gilley's, I thought it was a big mistake. I just didn't think it belonged in a club where people came to listen to music and dance. Who,I thought, who would ever ride one of those things? Well, the next thing I know there's a guy named Aaron Latham coming down from New York to do an article for Esquire Magazine—and you know what happened then."

We caught Lee Clayton running around music row recently with his legendary dog, Elvis Firewolf. Lee's dog is part wolf and part German Shephard, and Lee picked him up in the desert in California where he lived a few years ago. Lee has moved back into Nashville from his farm outside town and he has been trying to find a new home for Elvis Firewolf. One of the problems Lee has to overcome is that Elvis cannot be around other male dogs. Because of his strong territorial instincts, Lee says the dog just automatically kills any male dogs he sees. "He's cool around female dogs, though," Lee adds. For those in the dark, Clayton wrote the original outlaw song, Ladies Love Outlaws, which Waylon Jennings recorded back in the early '70s. He also wrote if You Can Touch Her At All, a hit for Willie Nelson. Lee has recorded three brilliant albums of his own material —Lee Clayton, Border Affair and Naked Child. He has recently been working on a new album for Capitol Records. ■

I Love Country Music T-Shirt

If country music is your brand of listening, show it off with this handsome custom T-Shirt. It is made of long-lasting cotton/polyester with the country music message boldly stamped across the front. It comes in adult sizes only: small/medium/large/extra large. So don't wait, order yours while our limited supply lasts. (Be sure to specify the correct adult size.)

Item No. G8R
ONLY $6.95

Presenting a brand
WINTER
BONAN
10 day money bac guarantee if not 100% delighted.

License Plates

Item No. G10Y ONLY $2.95

Item No. G3D ONLY $2.95

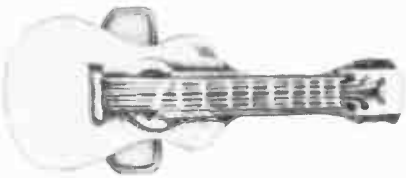
Brass Guitar Buckle



It's brand new and made of solid brass. This unique guitar buckle measures 4½" x 1¾" and takes any belt up to 1 5/8" wide. It is the ideal accessory for anyone who loves music.

Item No. G10N ONLY $5.95

Silver Guitar Charm

This little gem is also a fine investment with the cost of silver soaring from one week to the next. It is sterling silver cut handsomely to form a guitar that will brighten up any type chain you put it on. Order now and save $3.00.

Item No. G10U
Was $7.95
NOW $4.95

Limited Edition: Elvis Concert Photo Album

Printed for "The King"s last concert tour, this rare book will not be reprinted when the supply runs out. It includes sixty-two color photographs, comes in an elegant gold box, and also includes an official Certificate of Authenticity signed by Elvis' father. A limited number remain. Order now.

Item No. B8I
ONLY $12.95

I Love Country Music Brass Belt Buckle

Here is the popular "I Love Country Music" slogan on a brand new brass belt buckle. We think you'll like it as much as our other three great buckles.

Item No. G11U NOW $5.95

Country Music Belt

Brawny, bold and branded describes this handsome antique-finished belt. The Country Music message is burned into heavy duty, genuine top grade U.S. leather. It features a detachable heavy metal buckle so you can switch buckles as often as you wish. It makes a perfect gift. Available in even sizes 28 to 46; 1 3/4" wide.

Item No. G9B NOW $12.95

Fob

If you like the belt, you'll love this handsome matching key/watch fob. It's made of heavy leather, 7" x 1 5/8" with a 1¾" diameter metal ring.

Item No. G9C ONLY $2.50

Playing Cards of the Stars

Each one of these unique cards carries a color photo of a different country star—Loretta Lynn, Conway Twitty, Johnny Cash, Barbara Mandrell, Roy Acuff, 54 in all. They are a must for card collectors

Item No. G9F ONLY $2.95

ew

GIFT

ZA

NOW for a limited time... FREE NASHVILLE ADDRESS BOOK WHEN YOU ORDER ANY TWO ITEMS!

Dolly Parton Personality Doll

Plus Dolly's Famous "Coat Of Many Colors" Costume With Dolly's Guitar, Platform Shoes And FREE Record By Dolly's Lovin' Mama

She's completely posable and a full 12" tall with Dolly's world famous hourglass figure. Dressed in her one-piece red jumpsuit, she's even got Dolly's beauty mark. Now, this bestseller comes with another great outfit, platform shoes, and a record by Dolly's mama.

Item No. G1A
ONLY $11.98

I Love Country Music Buckle

This brand new "I Love Country Music" buckle is so good it speaks for itself. Made of heavy, long wearing metal, it measures 2" x 3 3/8" and takes any belt up to 1¾" wide. Looks great with jeans or anthing.

Item No. G10S ONLY $6.95

Elvis Playing Cards

You'll love this latest full color deck of Elvis playing cards. Each card has a different full color picture of "The King". Order now and save $2.00 off the previous advertised price.

Item No. G1J Was $5.95 NOW $3.95

Elvis Presley Snuggly Teddy Bear

At last we are able to offer you the perfect Elvis symbol. A soft, cuddly Teddy Bear wearing a genuine removable T-Shirt with a full color picture of Elvis on the front that says "Let Me Be Your Teddy Bear". Elvis loved to collect Teddy Bears and to give them as gifts. Now you can do the same. This armful of softness stands 13" tall and is thoroughly irresistible.

Item No. G6N NOW $19.95

I Love Country Music Cap

Here is the ideal cap for every country music fan. It's fully adjustable to any adult size and carries the always popular "I Love Country Music" patch.

Item No. G10P NOW $5.95

Country Music Buckle

This sturdy COUNTRY MUSIC belt buckle is still our long-standing bestseller. This 2" x 3 3/8" six ounce buckle takes any belt up to 1¾" wide. It is the perfect gift for any country music fan.

Item No. G9D NOW $6.95

New Buddy Holly Collector's Album and Puzzle

Item No. R11V
ONLY $7.98

Here is a lasting tribute to three of the greatest name in rock 'n' roll — Buddy Holly, The Big Bopper, Richie Valens. On this unique album you will find the only recorded interviews with Buddy Holly, musical tribute to each, and newscasts of their tragic end. There's even a 16 piece Buddy Holly puzzle included. It's a rare collector's edition for every fan.

MAIL NO RISK COUPON TODAY!

To: Country Music, Box 4071, Huntington Station, N.Y. 11746

Qty.	Item Name/Size	Item No.	Price

☐ I've ordered 2 items, send my free address book. G5K

0181-01

Item Total
Add post. & hand. from chart
NYS residents add sales tax
Enclosed is my check/m.o. for

Name.....
Street.....
City.....
State.....
Zip.....

Postage & Handling Chart

Up To $7.00	—Add $1.80
$7.01 To $10.00	—Add $2.30
$10.01 To $20.00	—Add $2.80
Over $20.00	—Add $3.30

NYS residents add sales tax. No foreign orders accepted on this offer at this time.

JOHN ANDERSON

By Bob Allen

"I just like to keep to the basics," says John Anderson (no relation to the recently defeated presidential candidate). "I don't like to put no frills around anything. I feel there's enough people doin' that with music these days anyhow. I really just like to get as plain and simple as I can get when it comes to writin' and singin'."

About ten years ago, back in central Florida, John Anderson used to sing and play electric guitar in a hard rock band called The Living End. Today, in fact, when he stands on a stage behind a microphone with his long blonde locks down past his collar, with his tight blue jeans and his self-assured way of clutching his guitar, he still looks vaguely like the rocker he once was.

But it's when Anderson opens his mouth to sing that the real surprise comes. When he launches into one of his original country numbers like Girl At The End Of The Bar, Low Dog Blues or She Just Started Likin' Cheatin' Songs, it's almost uncanny, the force that he unleashes; with the suppressed pain and sorrow that he can convey with that powerful, yet skillfully controlled voice of his, you might think George Jones was hiding behind a curtain.

"I just do a song and make it as believable as I can. If it's a good song and if I can believe in the song myself, then I can get it across."

"I just do a song and make it as believable as I can," Anderson shrugs and explains softly, sipping on a cup of coffee as he sits in the Nashville offices of Warner Brothers Records late one sunny morning. He speaks in a heavy Florida drawl and occasionally pulls thoughtfully on the brim of his straw cowboy hat. "If it's a good song and if I can believe in the song myself, then I can get it across."

But it's more than just believing, really. Much more. The truth is, there are just frighteningly few people around these days who really have either the golden vocal cords and the deep sense of conviction that it takes to sing a good hardcore country song the way it was meant to be sung.

Perhaps that's why when a new artist like Anderson does come down the pike, the response is so overwhelming. His first single for Warner Brothers, Girl At The End Of The Bar, for instance, reached the Top 20. She Just Started Likin' Cheatin' Songs, one of his more recent singles, went comfortably into the country Top Ten and also earned him a nomination from the Academy of Country Music as Best New Male Vocalist. Though another single, Your Lyin' Blue Eyes, only reached the Top 20, it sold more than 200,000 copies—more than some number one country singles do.

Photo Credits

Cover - Denis Carney
P. 2 Merle Haggard-Melodie McGuire/P. 8-courtesy Hohner Inc./P. 9 DeFord Bailey-Country Music Foundation/P. 9-courtesy Hohner Inc./P. 10 Wayne Raney-Country Music Foundation/P. 10 Charley McCoy-courtesy Monument Records/P. 10 Delbert McClinton-courtesy Don Light Talent Inc./P. 10 Johnny Cash-courtesy Hohner Inc./P. 10 Mickey Raphael-Michael Abramson/P. 10 Wesley Campbell-courtesy Hohner Inc./P. 11 Ivory Harmonica-courtesy Hohner Inc./P. 19 Tootsie's Orchid Lounge-Bob Campbell/P. 20 Roy Clark, Larry Gatlin-courtesy BMI Archives/P. 22 Duane Allen-courtesy MCA/P. 22 Songwriters-courtesy NSAI/P. 24 Pete Drake-courtesy Pete Drake/P. 24 Slim Whitman-courtesy Cleveland International Records/P. 25 Bill Anderson-courtesy MCA Records/P. 26 Mel Tillis-courtesy MCA Records/P. 30 Joe Stampley-courtesy CBS Records/P. 32 Joe Stampley-courtesy DIR/P. 33 Joe Stampley-courtesy CBS/P. 37-39 Brenda Lee-Don Putnam/P. 40 Merle & Band-courtesy Tex Whitson/P.41, 43-45 Merle Haggard-courtesy MCA/P. 42 Merle Haggard-Denis Carney/P. 46 Merle Haggard-Melodie McGuire/P. 48 Roy Orbison-Fred Brockman;Lynn Goldsmith Inc./P. 49 Roy Orbison-UPI/P. 50 Roy Orbison-Fred Brockman;Lynn Goldsmith Inc./P. 51 Roy Orbison-Globe Photos/P. 56 Helen Cornelius-courtesy United Talent Inc./P. 56 Carlene Carter-courtesy Warner Brothers Records/P. 60 John Anderson-courtesy Warner Brothers Records

John Anderson, his debut album for Warner Brothers, is a showcase of his virtuosity, both as a writer and a singer in the hard country vein. The album features a whole roster of veteran country session pickers like Pete Drake, Pig Robbins, Buddy Harmon, Buddy Spicher, Reggie Young and Kenny Malone, all of whom found themselves back in their natural element during the sessions with Anderson.

"Those guys are some of the best in the world," Anderson says softly, expressing his pride at having these men on his sessions. "They work every day in the studios, day in and day out, but sometimes they don't get a chance to play what they play best: the sound that made them so great in the first place. But with the stuff I'm doin', they have a chance to go back and play the old Nashville sound if they want to do it.

"And I guarantee you, when you go in the studio with three or four good country songs, those guys come around!" Anderson smiles. "And when you get those guys excited, you can be sure you're gonna hear somthin' pretty decent!"

The son of a retired marine, Anderson has been listening to country music since his early years in Apopka, Florida, even though it wasn't played around his house much. Growing up with his five brothers and sisters, he began playing guitar at age seven, and then a couple of years later he became a member of The Living End. "It was a rinky-dink little rock 'n' roll band at first," he recalls humorously, "but by the time we were 12 or 13, we could cook right along! We were the best in town, man—even if it was really small town!"

But by age 15, he had already wearied of the hard life of the rock musician who is forced to carry his own amplifiers from show to show. He was instead, drawn to the gentler strains of acoustic music which an older sister of his was playing with her small group.

At age 18, after he had finished high school, he decided to move to Nashville and follow in the footsteps of this same older sister who had gone there to pursue a musical career. For the next eight years in Nashville, he made his way working at a variety of odd jobs—plumber's helper, carpenter's helper, laborer, bagging groceries. . . . On one of his many construction jobs, he even helped put the roof on the new Opry House at Opryland. ("Those big black singles are hangin' up there on account of me!" he laughs.)

At other times, he found work—often along with his sister—singing in the small joints along Lower Broadway in downtown Nashville; then eventually he graduated to playing the fancier nightclubs in nearby Printer's Alley. "I use'ta spend my whole life in those clubs practically," he recalls wistfully. "It was just a matter of gettin' by in Nashville during the winter.

"I think a lot of what's happened to me since then just came from having the opportunity to be around people like George Jones and Fred Carter, Jr. that I look up to," he adds. "I had chances to sit down and talk to them after a show, and maybe sometimes just sit on a couch somewhere and pick up a guitar and sing with them. You learn that way. And I also got some encouragement from them, at least enough to keep going."

A producer named Earl Richards, who was a friend of a friend, happened to hear Anderson singing in Printer's Alley one night and signed him to a small label called Ace Of Hearts. Though his several years with Ace Of Hearts Records produced no hits, some of the recordings that he made for the label did eventually come to the attention of Al Gallico Music Publishers, and through them, they were heard by Norro Wilson at Warner Brothers, his present producer. About two years ago, Anderson was signed to Warners.

Today, Anderson resides with his wife in "a little house in the woods," some 70 miles east of Nashville, near the small Tennessee town of Smithville. But most of his time these days is spent traveling between the clubs across the country where he makes his living. In fact, as he talks this particular morning, he is about to leave for an eleven hour drive to Texas. In a little over a year, he has put 114,000 miles on his old Chevy Caprice (15,000 miles in 20 days during one particularly busy period in July!), and he has played every venue from a country music festival in Edinborough, Scotland to Gilley's Club in Houston. "The parkin' lot there (at Gilley's) is about six acres, and when they fill that up and start parkin' along the road, you know there's some folks in there! It was kinda spooky (playing there) at first," he admits. "But then I realized that a bunch of them had come to see me, so I figured I'd better get myself right!"

"Some people seem to be knocked out by what I'm doing.' "

Anderson notes that when he plays clubs across the country—particularly in states like Texas, Georgia and Florida—he is left with the feeling that there is a real thirst for genuine hard country music—the kind of music you can drink beer and dance and play pool to. "Some people seem to be pretty knocked out by what I'm doing," he admits. "They'll say things like, 'You're the best that's come through here in a long while,' and things like that.

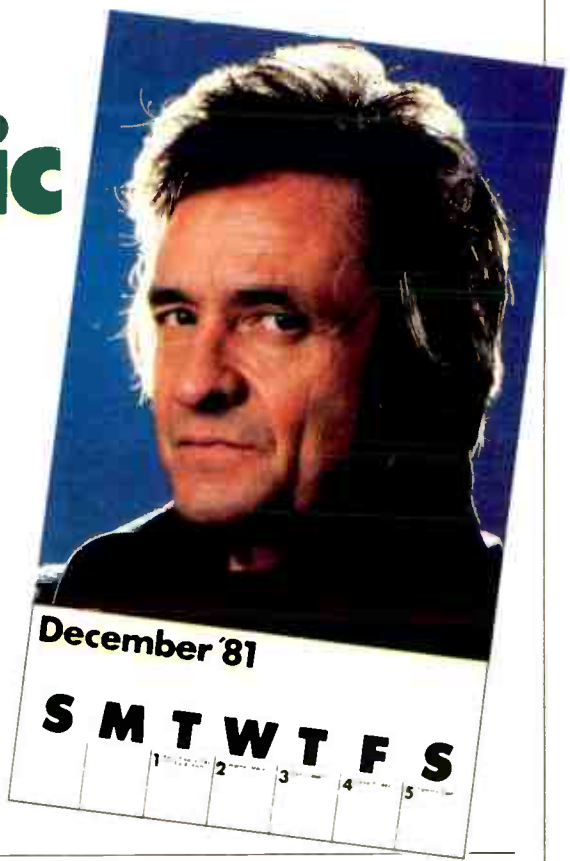
"Then I'll hear others yell, 'Play some rock 'n' roll!' " he grins. "And I still do sometimes.

"When I was out in California, I had a few people come up to me and say, 'Well, how does it feel to be a rock star?' ' He laughs and shakes his head.

"That kinda goes to show you anyway, you just never know!" ■

Now save over 40% when you order...

THE NEW 1981 Country Music ALLSTAR Calendar



Now that the new year is underway, we have dramatically slashed the price of our 1981 Allstar Calendar. There couldn't be a better time to order yours. It measures a big 8¼" x 22" when fully open, and features twelve different full color photos of some of Nashville's biggest headliners. It also includes the birthdays of all the country music stars past and present. There's even ample room to jot down all of your own personal memos. If you're not interested in a calendar, order your copy for the pictures alone. Each one can easily be cut out and is suitable for framing. That's the best part about this great calendar, it also makes a first class photo book. Anyway you care to use it, our seventh annual edition of our allstar calendar is sure to become a rare collectible among country music fans. So don't wait. Order your copy now while our limited supply lasts and you can SAVE TWO DOLLARS. Use the handy coupon below.

ORIGINALLY $4.95 NOW ONLY $2.95

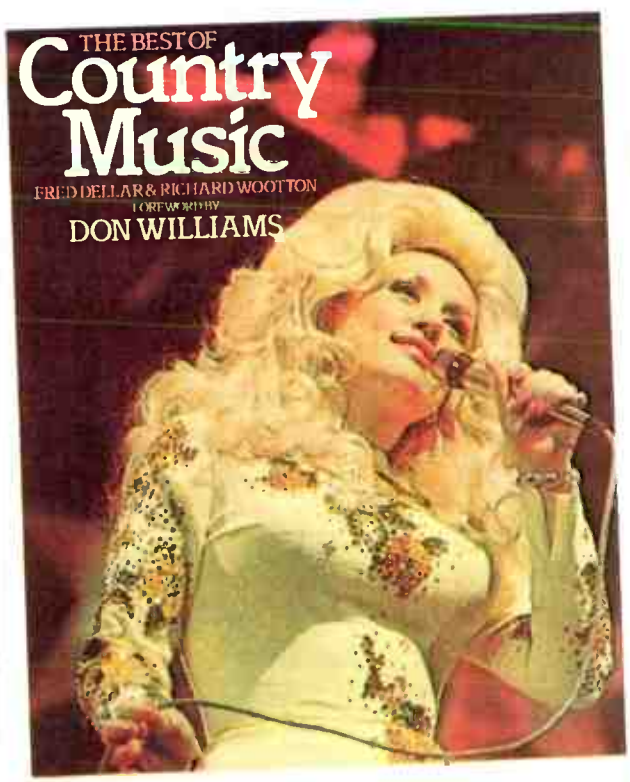
Or get your calendar FREE when you order



NOW ONLY $9.95

The Best Of Country Music

"The Best Of Country Music," with over 90 COLOR photos, is the hardcover edition that brings you all the excitement of the music you love. With the help of superb color photos that couldn't be matched anywhere it takes you on trips to Nashville and Texas, remembering old-time, gospel, western swing and bluegrass music and also including the up-to-the-minute sounds of the outlaws and the singers who nudge country records high into the popular music charts of today. It is a kaliedescope of different stars, moods, and special happenings masterfully brought together by authors Fred Dellar and Richard Wooton. "The Best Of Country Music" is not just a book – it's more like a musical heartbeat. And if you order your copy now, you'll also receive our special 1981 "Allstar Calendar" as a FREE GIFT. Even if your not completely delighted and return the book, you may keep the calendar with our best wishes. But act today, this is a limited time offer.

MAIL NO RISK COUPON TODAY!

TO: Country Music Magazine, P.O. Box 4071, Huntington Station, N.Y. 11746

Send me .... 1981 Calendar(s) for only $2.95 each plus $1.50 post. & hand. (G10O)

.... Instead, send me my Calendar FREE along with my copy of "The Best Of Country Music" for $9.95 plus $1.75 post. & hand. If not delighted, I may return the book for a refund and keep the calendar. (B11T/G10O)

0181-02

Name.....

Street.....

City.....

State.....

Zip.....

NYS residents add sales tax. No foreign orders accepted. Offer expires 5/31/81.

Classified

YOUR BEST ADVERTISING BET FOR THE DOLLAR!

TOTAL READERSHIP: 1,800,000
NEW CLASSIFIED RATE: $1.50 Per word
MAIL TO: COUNTRY MUSIC MAGAZINE
Dept. CMC
475 Park Avenue South
New York, N.Y. 10016

RECORDS & TAPES

DISCONTINUED Country Albums; over 100 artists. Send $1.00 (deductible from order) for List "D". ALLSTAR RECORD SHOP, Box 150, Meridian, Ms. 39301.

REAL COUNTRY MUSIC BUFFS LOVE OUR RECORD CATALOG; Wills, Cooley, Wakely, Bond, Williams, Brownies,, Carlisle, Western Swing, Bluegrass, Oldtimey, more. Send $1.00 Refundable: Club Spade, P.O. Box 1995 CM, Studio City, CA 91604.

CASSETTES, LIKE NEW; country, pop, orchestra. $4.00 ea.. Send SASE for listing: Cassettes, 24 Pebble Bch. Dr., Shalimar, Fl. 32579.

COUNTRY & BLUEGRASS LPs & TAPES. Complete country discount record shop by mail. Send $.25 for our extensive catalog of current hits and country standards. Everything discounted. Honky Tonk Records, P.O. Box 8182, Emeryville, CA 94662.

COUNTRY MUSIC CLASSIC! 20 Great songs by real truckers. As seen on TV! includes "Real People" star YoYo Worley, "Teddybear" writer Dale Royal, Ovation's Max D. Barnes. Two-record set, 8-track, cassette. With pictorial biography. $10. Song of American Trucker, Dept. CM2, POB 2388, Prescott, AZ 86302. Guaranteed!

MEMPHIS COUNTRY - 60's country anthology album $7.00 postpaid (U.S.A.) Free country and rockabilly record lists available. Write: Cowboy Carl, P.O. Box 116CM, Park Forest, Ill. 60466.

RECORD AUCTIONS, set sale, rare, country and western, and everything else, all speeds. Keith Records, 1735 Woodland, Columbus, NE 68601.

VERNON OXFORD, "America's Unknown Superstar" LP, $7.50. "Storm Over Nashville" (Book), $11.95. Everett Corbin, 118 Bailey Collins, Smyrna, Tenn. 37167.

HARD TO FIND, older C & W records, new-used, 33 1/3, 45's, 78's. Send wants. Charlotte's Country Store, 2920 Harborview, Tampa, Fla. 33611.

COLLECTORS! AND COUNTRY MUSIC FANS, send $2.00 for Johnny Hart's 1st release to, No. 1 Gold, Box 182, Bloxom, VA. 23308.

FREE POLKA LIST. Top 150 Albums/Tapes. POLKA SOURCE, 4045 Radford, Studio City, CA 91604.

SONGWRITERS

POEMS SET TO MUSIC. Songs recorded. Send best poems for prompt consideration. Nashville Music Productions, Box 40001-CM, Melrose Station, Nashville, Tenn. 37204.

POEMS WANTED. New songs recorded. FREE Radio-TV Publishing. Broadway Music Productions, Box 7438-CM, Sarasota, FL. 33578.

MAKE EVERY LYRIC END IN DOE! We can help. Send material for professional opinion. Include $3.00 handling (REFUNDABLE). Drawer 358, Dept. CM-101, Sawyer, Oklahoma 74756.

NASHVILLE NUMBER SYSTEM — The professional way to understand music and simplify learning. A must for songwriters and musicians. Order today. $4.95. THE NASHVILLE NUMBER SYSTEM, P.O.B. 121425, Nashville, TN 37212.

FREE EVALUATION of songpoems! Selected material recorded. Send your best songpoems today. Benson & Lenz, Box 22609-CM, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55422.

HOW TO GET YOUR SONGS HEARD AND RECORDED. Get the amazing facts FREE today. JAF, POB 385-A, Hobbs, NM 88240.

SONGWRITERS — Record company seeking new talent now accepting demos and/or leadsheets pertaining to "Country Music". Send to Equa Records, 1800 Mowry Ave., Fremont, CA. 94538.

HOW TO WRITE A HIT SONG AND SELL IT! Free details. Clanon Assoc. Box 425C, Brewerton, N.Y. 13029.

INSTRUCTION

ATTENTION SINGERS! Make big money as a recording artist. Results guaranteed. Free information. Entertainers Publishing Company, 11121 Village Bend Lane, Dept. 15, Houston, Texas 77072.

FREE LESSON, "Learn Chording". Piano, organ, guitar. Simple new system enables anyone to learn. Davidsons, 6727MC Metcalf, Shawnee Mission, Kansas.

MR. SCHRACLER'S GUITAR METHOD. Fast, easy learning! Complete introduction to basics. Send $4.50 to: Schrader Publications, 111 1/2 E. Washington, Grand Ledge, Mi. 48837.

INSTRUMENTS

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, STRINGS, Accessories, Parts. Repair and Learn-To-Play Books. Catalog $.25. STRINGKING, Box 5444 CM, Lindenhill, Flushing, N.Y. 11354.

WANTED

GIBSON GUITAR AND BANJO. MARTIN AND FENDER GUITAR. Write giving model and serial number. State exact condition. Harvey Edwards - 4437 Hwy 19N, Holiday, Florida 33590.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WORK AT HOME! Full or parttime stuffing envelopes no limits! Earn $.50 to $1.00 each. Income guaranteed. Stamps supplied. STACO Box 344-C, West linn, Oregon 97068.

UNLIMITED INCOME AT HOME! No experience, no large investment. Details send $2.00, SASE, Apex, Box 9332, Casper, Wyo. 82609.

RECIEVE $50.00 DAILY and keep all the money. For complete set-up rush $5.00 to: P-J-O-Publications, Box 18, Paxton, ILL. 60957.

HOMEWORKERS!!! Guaranteed income. Everything suppiled. Rush long stamped addressed envelope to: Patricia Burdett, 16 Twilight Lane - Rt. 1, Shawnee, OK. 74801.

MISCELLANEOUS

COLOR CONCERT PHOTOS! Waylon, Rogers, Denver, Oaks, Statlers, Eagles, CDB, Cash, Gatlin, Haggard, Buffet, Rabbitt, Rodriguez, Ronstadt, Mandrell(s), Boone, Frike, Wynette, others. Catalog/sample $1. Mention favorite(s). "SMILE", Box 15293-CM, Chesapeake, VA. 23320.

WAYLON, WILLIE, KRIS, ETC. Embroidery patterns of Country stars. Make T-Shirts, Pillows, Tote Bags, Etc. Easy directions. $2.00 each pattern. Piquet Publications, Box 92, Topsham, Me. 04086.

PEARL SNAP FASTENERS — 191 Color and Styles. Sewing Supplies. Free Catalog. The Bee Lee Company, Box 20558-M, Dallas, Texas 75220.

ORIGINAL OFFSTAGE PHOTOS: 6,000 stars. Barr, 310 East 46 St., N.Y., N.Y. 10017.

VOTE! In the MUSIC CITY NEWS "Cover" Awards Show by subscribing now at $10.00 — 1 year/$18.00 — 2 years. Don't wait! Send your check today to MUSIC CITY NEWS, Dept. CMM-1, P.O. Box 22975, Nashville, TN 37202.

BRAND NEW ELVIS and COUNTRY MUSIC products — also fantastic new 1981 - '82 Elvis calendar. Send for "FREE" catalog — Thurston Moore Country, P.O. Box 1829, Montrose, Colorado 81401.

COUNTY COCONUT BON-BON'S. Delicious and easy recipe. Send $1.00 and S.A.S.E. to: Mrs. D's, 4892 Charlotte Dr., Louisville, Ky. 40219.

"GRAPEFRUIT SHORTCAKE." Easy recipe, old fashioned flavor. Send $2.00 and self addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 5267, Lake Worth, FLA. 33461.

FREE CATALOGUE!!!

Over 24 great pages—More than 150 unique items to choose from—Savings up to 50%—A FREE GIFT WITH EVERY ORDER!

MAIL TO: Country Music Catalogue
475 Park Avenue South
New York, N.Y. 10016

Name.....

Street.....

City.....

State.....Zip.....

COUNTRY MUSIC
CHRISTMAS
Gift Catalog

CLASSIFIED RATE: $1.50 Per Word Total Readership: 1,800,000
Mail Ads To: Country Music, Dept. CMC, 475 Park Ave So., N.Y., N.Y. 10016

Record Reviews

Johnny Cash
Rockabilly Blues
Columbia JC-36779

Cash has been edging up to it these last few years, and now he's hit it. He's pulled the stops out, he's followed the purely personal dictates of his musical genie, and he's made the best album of his life. Rockabilly Blues is so great that it seems almost inane to call it the most inspiring country album of the last five, ten, or twenty years.

Given Cash's voice, his intelligence, and his musicality, the achievement should not come as a surprise, but it does, for despite his repeated statements to the effect that he's been wanting to make an album like Rockabilly Blues for some time now, it has sometimes seemed that the work might never surface, that somehow or other Cash would get distracted by the demands of one of his many other (non-musical) roles—a great moral force, a great statesman, a great patrician, a great family man—and would simply fail to fully apply himself to the task of being a great recording artist. This awkward possibility, of course, is now irrelevant—oh me of little faith!—and instead we are confronted with the fact that in his middle-middle age, with a quarter-century of recording behind him, Cash has come down from his mountain, gathered only the best of his buddies around him, found himself a whole new fountain of youth, and busted loose with a vengeance. His album restates and reworks the muscular heart of rockabilly music, re-energizes the fading intelligence of the modern country song, and scatters pretenders to the winds.

The quality of each component of Rockabilly Blues, overall a triumph of strength, determination, confidence and taste, represents a quantum-leap over even the best of Cash's recent work. Earle Poole Ball and Jack Clement and Nick Lowe are all producers infinitely more in tune with the basic true-grit Johnny Cash style than Brian Ahern (Silver) or those others who went before; Billy Joe Shaver and John Prine and Steve Goodman and Kris Kristofferson and Cash himself are all songwriters worth twice as many Larry Gatlins as can dance on the tip of an ego; a few electric guitars in the right hands please the angels more than all the Jordanairs who ever got hooked on Geritol, all the banks of viols which were ever put out to pasture by a $20,000 synthesizer; the studio and engineering values of Rockabilly Blues make John's House of Cash products sound like hush-puppies bounced on styrofoam. People worked on this album, and they knew what they were doing, and they had fun, and they were serious.

The surprises are everywhere. They're in the total absence of cuteness and sentimentality and corn. They're in the hard, sure, passionate Cash baritone which somehow seems to have lost its old, peculiar quiver, in the desperately chilling edge to his vocal on Cold Lonesome Morning and in the authentically depressive theme of that self-written song. They're in the wondrous rockabilly Fender flow of Cash's W-O-M-A-N, a cunning and curly-crafted song which kicks and kicks some more. The re-emergence of Billy Joe Shaver under Cash's wing is also a surprise—we've missed that messed-up son-of-our-times ever since, for whatever reasons, the ex-Outlaws stopped recording his songs a few years back—and both The Cowboy Who Started The Fight and It Ain't Nothing New Babe are as eerie and haunting and lyrically original as any song Billy Joe has ever written. It Ain't Nothing New Babe, in fact, is just a pure masterpiece. Supported by an uncanny Dobro in the hands of Jack Clement (!), the song smashes form, breaks ground, and twists the heart. Cash strokes it with masterly care. For this performance alone he is to be praised to the skies, but there's also the point that in recording Billy Joe's songs and one by John Prine and Steve Goodman (The Twentieth Century is Almost Over), and—surprise again!—a brilliant new blues (The Last Time) by the lately-soft Kris Kristofferson, Cash has picked up the traces of the early Seventies quality-song movement so shamefully abandoned by the Willie/Waylon axis in particular and the mass of country entertainers in general. Good old Cash, still the father-figure but still the renegade too; still the Indian in the white man's camp.

PATRICK CARR

Record Reviews

Charlie Rich
Once A Drifter
Elektra 6E-301

From the first song on Once A Drifter, Charlie Rich's debut album for Elektra Records, it becomes obvious that a change of labels and a change of producers has done him a world of good.

Rich's recent United Artists studio efforts were noticeably lackluster and directionless; but working now with Jim Ed Norman for the first time on Once A Drifter, Rich seems to have once again found enough interesting material and creative energy to make him feel excited about being in the recording studio once again.

As suggested by the title, many of the songs on Once A Drifter are unified by their imagery of restlessness which Rich is able to interpret with much flair and evocativeness. Good Time Charlie's Got The Blues, a neo-classic written some years ago by Danny O' Keefe, for instance, is such a natural hit for Rich that his delightful version of the song makes you wonder why he didn't get around to recording it years before this. Angelina by Jerry Careaga and Randy Newman's Marie are just two other cuts that stand out among the album's ten carefully chosen selections.

I don't hear any blockbusters like Behind Closed Doors or Rollin' With The Flow on Once A Drifter, but the renewed excitement and the resurrection from listlessness that one senses in Rich's performances are justification enough for celebration and reason enough to believe that this album is a step in the right direction.

And that's good news, because Charlie Rich is far too great a stylist to stay on the back burner for too long.

BOB ALLEN

Loretta Lynn
Lookin Good
MCA-5148

This is a skillfully produced album with few outright flaws, if any, in its execution. Loretta, the musicians and producer Owen Bradley all do their parts well. But the material is simply too bland for a gutsy country singer like Loretta Lynn.

For the most part, the subject matter of the songs is typical modern country music. And sometimes, as in Cheatin' On A Cheater and Workin' Man, we hear themes reminiscent of those which did so much for Loretta's career. The former is mildly combative and tells a cheating lover that he's about to get what's coming to him—a familiar theme for Loretta, but not as tough and convincing as some of her older marital fight songs like The Pill. Workin' Man, which sings the praises of working-man love, may have been included because of the success Loretta had with Coal Miner's Daughter. While Workin' Man is done well, it lacks the poignancy of the older songs. Perhaps she ought to do more songs from her own heart and fewer from the pens of others. (She wrote none of the songs on this album.)

Sometimes I Go Crazy describes in straight-forward terms, with equally straight-forward backup, the anguish of the deserted lover. I Don't Feel Like Livin' Today has a similar message, but the backup verges on the melodramatic. Everybody's Lookin' For Somebody New is leavened with a touch of gospel sound that offers a nice change of pace, while Crackerjack Jewelry asks the time-honored question, "Wasn't life better when we were poor but still had time for each other?"

Somebody Led Me Away, one of the stronger cuts, tells a cheating lover that while he was leading someone on, someone else was leading his lover away—a not uncommon sequence of events in real life as well as in country lyrics.

Also among the stronger cuts is Since I Met You, which has an unusual twist. It refers to the treasured heirlooms around the old homestead—Grandma's bible, Grandpa's trunk. Country's usual treatment of anything around the old homestead is to give it almost mystical powers to banish modern-day troubles. One hand on Granny's bible and the other on the old trunk and, Poof! You're as happy as an innocent babe. But in this song, the heirlooms are actually rendered meaningless by the advent of a lover. (Such gall. Soon they'll be telling us that folks do smoke marijuana in Muskogee.)

In this entire album there is only one attempt at Loretta's traditional earthiness. What Am I Gonna Do is executed with a touch of raunchiness characterized mostly by a fuzz-toned guitar. But, like so much of this album, the effect is too subdued, and only serves to remind us of the gutsy, rawboned music that Loretta does so well and seems to have gotten away from. She is no middle-of-the-roader. This album is middle-of-the-road.

ART MAHER

THE BEST OF THE BEST FROM SIMONS

Records, Tapes, Cassettes
$4.98 each or 3 for $12.98

1. GENE AUTRY Country Hall of Fame	13. MARTY ROBBINS More Greatest	25. RUSS MORGAN Golden Favorites	37. ERNEST TUBB Greatest
2. JOHNNY CASH Best, Ring of Fire *	14. CARL SMITH Greatest *	26. BILL ANDERSON Greatest	38. KITTY WELLS Greatest
3. RAY CONIFF Greatest	15. STATLER BROS Sing Big Hits	27. BOBBY VINTON Greatest	39. BOB WILLS Best
4. JIMMY DEAN Greatest *	16. TAMMY WYNETTE Greatest	28. PATSY CLINE Greatest	40. GUY LOMBARDO Greatest
5. FLATT & SCRUGGS Greatest *	17. FRANKIE YANKOVIC Greatest	29. MARTY ROBBINS Greatest Vol. 3 *	41. CONNIE SMITH Greatest *
6. JOHNNY HORTON Greatest	18. SLIM WHITMAN Very Best	30. TAMMY WYNETTE Greatest Vol. 2 *	42. THE BROWNS Best
7. David HUSTON/Barbara MANDRELL — Best	19. FATS DOMINO Million Sellers	31. JIMMY DAVIS Greatest	43. PORTER WAGONER Best *
8. STONEWALL JACKSON Greatest *	20. RAY PRICE Greatest V2	32. Red FOLEY & Kitty WELLS Golden Favorites	44. EDDY ARNOLD Pure Gold
9. JOHNNY MATHIS More Greatest	21. MARTY ROBBINS Greatest *	33. BILL MONROE Greatest	45. THREE SUNS Pure Gold *
10. PATTI PAGE Greatest	22. HANK THOMPSON Best *	34. WEBB PIERCE Greatest *	46. AMES BROS. Best
11. RAY PRICE Greatest *	23. WAYNE KING Golden Favorites	35. FLOYD CRAMER Hits Country Hall of Fame *	47. PERRY COMO Pure Gold
12. GARY PUCKETT Greatest	24. ROY ACUFF Best *	36. MEL TILLIS Greatest	48. TERESA BREWER Best *

USE THE HANDY COUPON TO ORDER NOW...AND ENJOY!

 ASTERISK NOT AVAILABLE IN CASSETTE

SIMONS
Box 3066-CM01
Cookeville, Tenn. 38501

Canadian Orders add 15%

Check here whether you want
☐ LP
☐ 8-Track
☐ Cassette

Circle the tape number you want to order: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48

Enclose a check or money order payable to SIMONS for $4.98 for each LP, 8-Track or cassette, or $12.98 for any set of 3 — NO COD'S PLEASE. (You pay no postage or handling.) Allow 4-6 weeks delivery please.

If you wish to charge your order, fill in the information below. $10.00 minimum charge.
Charge to my VISA/BANK AMERICARD ☐ or MASTER CHARGE ☐

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

Card No. _____

4-Digit Interbank No. _____ Expiration Date _____ Month/Year

Signature (as it appears on your BAC/VISA)

_____

If you wish to charge your purchase to your bank card you may do so by calling your order on our Toll Free Number.

1-800-251-6771
9-5 Mon. thru Fri.

FREE Catalog With Any Order

Record Reviews

Emmylou Harris

Light Of The Stable (The Christmas Album)

Warner Bros. BSK 3484

I never buy Christmas albums, but I like to review them. It's nice to hear singers I like sing good old fashioned Christmas carols the dozen or so times I listen to a record I review.

This time there were only four of the good old fashioned kind. Three of them, O Little Town Of Bethlehem, The First Noel and Silent Night, are prettied up with pleasant country harmonies by Sharon Hicks and Cheryl Warren, aka the White Girls. The fourth, Away In A Manger, has a harmony by Nancy Ahern, Brian Ahern, who produced, arranged, and helped engineer, did some playing on this record. For some reason, the melody of Away In A Manger was completely altered after the first line here. It sounds more modern now, and although it's still pretty, I like the old way better.

There is one other traditional song here, an Irish lullaby called Golden Cradle. Not having heard the song before, I had a hard time telling melody from harmony. Maybe that's why it didn't repeat itself in my head, like Irish lullabies usually do.

The other five songs are modern. This is a ten song album clocking in at 30 minutes in the contemporary tradition of lets make the record as short, and consequently as cheap, as we possibly can. So much for seasonal generosity.

The prime selection and showpiece of the album is the title cut, Light Of The Stable. I asked Warner Brothers if they planned to release this cut as a single, and they said they have no plans to do so. That's a shame. This version of that song could well become a Christmas standard. The song could have been written a hundred years ago or yesterday, and the harmonies by Neil Young, Dolly Parton, and Linda Ronstadt are simply perfect.

Of the remaining four songs, Little Drummer Boy was the only one I was familiar with. Christmas Time's A-Comin' and Beautiful Star Of Bethlehem are slight songs, but the bluegrass arrangements are nice. Despite a great harmony by Willie Nelson, Angel Eyes was flawed by hard to understand lyrics. Not that the lyrics I could hear—Angel Eyes/Angel Eyes/The ways of the world are feeble/Don't give up on simple people—made me eager to hear the rest.

All the arrangements are understated and appropriate, acoustic on the old carols and never overdone on the others. Still, the only indespensible cut is Light Of The Stable. That's just indispensible for everybody. I'm sure fans of Emmylou and Christmas will like the rest of the album.

PETER STAMPFEL

Merle Haggard

Back To The Barrooms

MCA-5139

I got a bit nervous when I heard the first track of this album. Nothing against Bronco Billy, mind you, but Misery And Gin just never seemed to work for Hag, sounding as it does like Cole Porter strained through Barry Manilow and backed with string arrangements that threatened to swallow everything in their path. Well, maybe it isn't quite that bad, but I am having some real problems figuring out just what Hag's up to these days.

Back To The Barrooms is a wildly inconsistent album, especially compared to Serving 190 Proof or just about any of his Capitol albums from the Sixties and early Seventies. Instead of using his Strangers, or even that huge Texas Playboy type band he sometimes creates, he depends here upon only two Strangers, steel guitarist Norm Hamlet and hornman Don Markham. The remainder are Nashville musicians, playing totally competent and boring music. But even that's not as bad as the material. On one hand there's the incredibly touching Leonard, a true-life portrait of veteran singer and longtime Haggard idol, Tommy Collins, that should rank with his best original work, along with the engaging Back To The Barrooms and I Don't Want To Sober Up Tonight. On the other, there's his sloppy treatment of his own Make-Up And Faded Blue Jeans, a song that literally goes in circles. Easy Come, Easy Go is likewise thoroughly unsuited to him. Only one other tune, his rendition of Hank Jr.'s I Don't Have Any More Love Songs seems to stir his interest at all.

I can't figure the problem here, but maybe it's time for Hag to get out of the studio, get the Strangers together and hit the stage somewhere with a mobile recording van parked outside.

RICH KIENZLE

IS ELVIS ALIVE?

READ THIS STARTLING BOOK THAT RAISES QUESTIONS THAT MUST BE ANSWERED! DID ELVIS FAKE HIS OWN DEATH SO THAT HE COULD LEAD A NORMAL LIFE? WILL ELVIS EVENTUALLY COME OUT OF HIDING? THIS IS THE ONLY BOOK OF ITS KIND TO EXPLORE THE POSSIBILITY THAT ELVIS IS STILL ALIVE.

Where Are You?
by
Steven C. Chanzes

READ THIS STARTLING NEW BOOK

"ELVIS -- WHERE ARE YOU?" IS A BOOK THAT EVERY ELVIS FAN WILL WANT TO OWN. YOU WON'T BE ABLE TO PUT THIS BOOK DOWN. "ELVIS -- WHERE ARE YOU?" IS SPELLBINDING, CAPTIVATING, BUT MOST OF ALL, "ELVIS -- WHERE ARE YOU?" CAUSES ONE TO WONDER IF INDEED, ELVIS IS STILL ALIVE!

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR YOUR MONEY BACK

$8.95

READ ABOUT THE CLUES THAT ELVIS LEFT US, CLUES THAT UNDERSCORE THE FACT THAT ELVIS MAY STILL BE ALIVE! LISTEN TO ONE OF ELVIS'S VERY LAST RECORDINGS, "WAY DOWN" - FROM THE ALBUM "MOODY BLUE". IN THE SONG ELVIS SAYS THAT "FATE IS GROWING CLOSER" AND HE'S FOUND "LYING ON THE FLOOR". THE ONLY TIME ELVIS SAID "ADIOS" WAS DURING HIS FINAL CONCERT TOUR. "ADIOS" IN SPANISH MEANS "GOOD BY" AND "I'LL SEE YOU THE NEXT TIME IN HEAVEN." READ ABOUT MANY MORE STARTLING CLUES THAT POSITIVELY INDICATE THAT THE "KING OF ROCK N' ROLL" MIGHT STILL BE ALIVE!

"ELVIS -- WHERE ARE YOU" IS A MUST FOR EVERY ELVIS FAN. IF YOU LOVED ELVIS; IF YOU CRIED WHEN HE PASSED AWAY, THEN READ "ELVIS -- WHERE ARE YOU?" IT WILL MAKE YOU THINK. IT WILL MAKE YOU WONDER -- IS ELVIS ALIVE?

SEND $8.95 TO:
DIRECT PRODUCTS
12201 N.W. 35TH STREET
CORAL SPRINGS, FLORIDA 33065

☐ YES - Send Me "Elvis-Where Are You!"

NAME _____

STREET _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

DO NOT SEND CASH SEND CHECK OR MONEY ORDER

ALLOW 3 TO 4 WEEKS FOR DELIVERY

Record Reviews

Patsy Cline Always
MCA-3263

Though she died 17 years ago, Patsy Cline's music has remained to influence many country-oriented female artists who have come along since.

Through the years, her albums have also continued to sell; and her portrayal in the film, Coal Miner's Daughter as a major character in the early career of Loretta Lynn has created a renewed interest in her music. In response to this, veteran producer Owen Bradley, who was Patsy's original producer, in hopes of making her even more accessible to today's new country audiences, has taken a selection of her original hits back into the studio where he stripped everything off the tracks but her voice, and then added new, updated arrangements.

The ten selections on Always are the results of this project, and they are a moving collection of songs whose arrangements, even though they have been updated, seem to remain faithful to the basic integrity of the original versions. These new arrangements are, for the most part, tastefully executed; and in fact, they seem to bring to the forefront even more clearly, just how powerful and universal Patsy Cline's appeal as a vocalist was.

One thing of which the selections on Always particularly remind us is Patsy's awesome abilities as a pop singer. She was one of the best ever, and as such, she had more in common stylistically, in many ways, with a Patti Page of yesteryear or a Linda Ronstadt of today than she did with many of the more traditional female country singers. Selections on Always like South Of The Border and the title song, written by Irving Berlin, demonstrate the power and ease with which she was able to master the intricate melodies and emotional nuances of top-flight pop material.

It's difficult to speculate just what sort of impact Patsy Cline would have were she alive today. But the material on Always makes it easy to believe that she would be a giant whose immense vocal talents would win the affections of country, rock and easy-listening fans alike — much as Linda Ronstadt has. Her music is simply that good, and that enduring.

BOB ALLEN

Various Artists
The Legend of Jesse James
A&M SP 3718

Concept albums are tough propositions. For one thing, there's no middle ground; they either work beautifully, as Willie's Phases and Stages and Red Headed Stranger did, or wind up consumed by the flames of pretension and mediocrity, evoking more laughs than serious reactions. But those who can carry it off can add a new dimension to their work. This one comes from the same folks who produced White Mansions, the Civil War epic that featured Waylon and Jessi among others, and is precisely what the title states: the entire Jesse James legend (as much as could fit on one record) sung by ex-Band drummer Levon Helm (Jesse), Johnny Cash (his older brother Frank), Charlie Daniels (fellow outlaw Cole Younger), Emmylou Harris (Jesse's love) with Rodney Crowell, Albert Lee, Jody Payne and Rosanne Cash in supporting roles. Considering the backgrounds of the principals, all were well chosen. Cash, after all, pioneered these sort of records nearly 20 years ago, and Helm's memorable vocal on The Band's The Night They Drove Old Dixie Down helped to make that song a classic. Daniel's talents in this area, of course, are best exemplified with The Devil Went Down To Georgia.

The music itself, varying from bluegrass, gospel and stomping rock to lush orchestrated ballads, works well with the plot, which pays ample attention to historical detail (laudanum, mentioned in one song as a painkiller, was just that in the 1800s.) The moods and insights are well-integrated and compelling with only a few rough edges, such as Albert Lee's garbled vocals.

Not only is The Legend of Jesse James a success from the listener's viewpoint, it's also a damn fine model for other artists who might want to try something similar in the future. If you're gonna do, you might as well do it right.

RICH KIENZLE

Record Reviews

Conway Twitty
Rest Your Love On Me
MCA 5138

Strangely enough, for some reason Conway Twitty has always managed to straddle the fence between country and rock, forever graceful, never losing his musical balance. How many artists could wallow straight-faced through a corn-ball country corncake like Happy Birthday Darlin' and then turn right around on the same album and hit a cooker like the Sanford-Townsend Band's FM hit, Smoke From A Distant Fire? Or come up with a red-hot version of Truth On Your Love Light that would give Bobby Blue Bland reason to pause?

You've got to hand it to the man: he's nothing if not versatile. He's probably the only country artist around who could figure out a way to cover My Sharona if he wanted to.

Maybe it's this willingness to experiment with styles and sounds that's contributed to Twitty's longevity and appeal. His last two albums (Crosswinds and Heart And Soul) both carried an eclectic mixture of tear-jerking country ballads and off-the-line smokers designated to steam up a turntable. And perhaps this was due partly to the presence of David Barnes as co-producer on both those LPs. With Barnes around in the driver's seat, Twitty seemed inspired with a certain intangible creative derring-do that gave a gritty undercurrent and energy to the finished product.

This time around, though, Barnes is nowhere in sight, and Conway appears rather less inclined to hurl himself off a musical cliff and run with the tide. Instead, he's opted for a mellower package, a softer overall presentation. Ron Chancey (known for his work with the Oak Ridge Boys and Brenda Lee, among others) has replaced Barnes as co-producer —and Chancey is not one to fall into the trap of overfoliaged orchestrations that mar certain other Nashville-cut albums. If he's not a rocker, he's still a clean, effective force behind the control board.

So what they've come up with here is a bright, smooth package that contains some fine standouts: I Still Believe In Waltzes, For All The Right Reasons, We're Gonna Try It Tonight, and the already-smells-like-a-country standard, A Bridge That Just Won't Burn. The material stays fairly close to home with a decided country slant.

And if the gravel 'n' guts vocals that have signatured other Twitty recordings recently have mellowed, well, he's still a formidable artist. It's just that personally, I miss the element of surprise in his records that found a Bob McDill tune sequeing into Bob Seger, or She Thinks I Still Care leaping into a no-holds-barred Night Fires. Twitty is one of the few artists in country who's capable of delivering unpredictability, and it's fascinating when he lets go to sail in unchartered waters.

KIP KIRBY

BURIED TREASURES

by Rich Kienzle

It looks like the rockabilly boom everyone's been expecting is finally here. The anthologies are still pouring in from Europe, and recently Billy Burnette, son of the late Dorsey Burnette, was signed to Columbia, the first new rockabilly artist they've signed since the Fifties. There are some outstanding new ones from Europe and if all goes well, we'll look at the Charly reissue series from the Sun label in the next issue.

One of the great myths about rockabilly is the idea that nothing like it happened before Elvis came along. Truth is, the "country boogie" idiom had been around since the late Thirties and really began to take off after World War II. One of the first labels to take it seriously was Bullet Records of Nashville, a label that also made the first recordings of bluesman B.B. King. Boogie With A Bullet (Redita LP 109) is a fascinating chronicle of the label's country and country-boogie activities in the Forties, with fantastic rocking tracks by Butterball Paige, the electrifying Tom Cat Boogie by Johnnie Lee Wills' western swing band, some hot boogie woogie from Bill Nettles and pre-Jerry Lee pianist Roy Hall, and Guitar Blues, a jazz-tinged number by "Chester" Atkins and the 1950 Jealous Lies by Ray Price. Both are the first recordings made by either Chet or Ray.

England offers two new rockabilly sets. Imperial Rockabillies (UA UAG 30312) features some of the late Bob Luman's earliest recordings, along with two previously unissued tracks by Dorsey Burnette, including his original recording of It's Late, which he wrote for Rick Nelson in 1959. Victor Rock 'N' Rollers (RCA PL 42809) looks at the artists the label signed in Elvis's wake, including Janis Martin, the "female Elvis," a weird version of Blue Suede Shoes by Pee Wee King's Golden West Cowboys, Sugar Sweet, an early David Houston number and other tracks by lesser-known artists, produced by Chet Atkins (who produced most of them) along with country guitarists Grady Martin and Hank Garland, both of whom could rock with the best of them, as well as Floyd Cramer and others.

Dakota Dave Hull and Sean Blackburn have been a mid-western folk-blues-swing team for sometime now, and have recently gone hole-hog into western swing. Not the Bob Wills material, but the earlier, funkier fare of Milton Brown and The Lightcrust Doughboys. River of Swing (Flying Fish-236) features them performing with a large backup group mocking off enthusiastic renditions of the Delmore Brothers' Mississippi Shore, Bill Boyd's What's The Use and nine other songs. Since Asleep At The Wheel's been drifting away from the older sounds, its nice to see someone picking up the ball.

Back in one of the earliest issues of Country Music was a story about an obscure guitar genius named Phil Baugh, and how he was tracked down after writer Charlie Burton found an old LP of his, titled Country Guitar, that spotlighted Baugh's Telecaster virtuosity and the vocals of Vern Stovall. Recently Longhorn Records reissued the album (LP-002) with some added material. If you wondered why the fuss at the time, you can now hear Baugh, now a successful Nashville session man, playing some incredible music.

Since Johnny Cash is now a member of the Hall of Fame, it's all the more appropriate that Columbia's Limited Edition series has seen fit to reissue Now There Was A Song! (LE 10019), a late 1960 album of country hits of that era done, surprisingly enough, with twin fiddles and steel in the George Jones style.

The Bullet, Imperial and RCA rock LPs are $9.50, $11.98 and $9.98, plus $2 postage, from Down Home Music, 10341 San Pablo Ave. El Cerrito, CA 94530; the Phil Baugh LP is available from Keith Kolby, 6604 Chapel Lane, Fort Worth, Texas 76135. Write for information. Most larger stores carry the Cash and Hull/Blackburn.

Record Reviews

John Hartford
You And Me At Home
Flying Fish 228

You And Me At Home is a theme album—"an album of love songs for grown-ups and other minority groups." Although it's a very tight album, it was a very quick album, recorded in two days flat last December in Nashville. But the main thing that stands out is that this is an experimental album.

The experiment took place on eight of the ten songs on the record. (There are actually eleven cuts here, the title selection is reprised instrumentally on the last cut.) All eight of the above mentioned songs are constructed in the same way. They started with John and the backup chorus singing the song's refrain together. For instance, You And Me At Home starts with everybody singing, You and me/You and me/You and me at home. Everybody sings this twice, then, while the backup chorus continues singing that, John puts a new melody—a countermelody—over their part. There is no bridge. The chorus has the repeated refrain going throughout the entire song.

Seven of these songs are solid and simple, and one of them, Your Stuff, is airy and jazzy, more complex. But eight songs with the same basic shape was a little too much of a good idea.

The words were no problem. With John, they never are. With other people holding down the basic melody/refrain, John is free to do some real fooling around with the words he writes and sings. I Believe In You is the one that's been repeating in my head the most, with My Love For You a close runner-up. Ladies Live Such A Long Long Time is another goody. It's about the fact that women live longer than men, and why.

But I do wish there would have been bridges on at least a couple of these songs. John's dead-on sense of note choosing makes his bridges unusually exciting, bridges being natural jumping off places for the melody, and John being a great jumper-offer. There's only one song with a bridge on the album, Imagination Fired By Books. Naturally, it's a lulu.

The most unusual song here is Don't Go Away. I don't know whether to call it jazzy blues or bluesy jazz, but it's a beautiful haunter. Buddy Emmons' steel guitar and Hartford's fiddle do some fine intertwining here.

John's got a great new way of putting a song together here. I really can't blame him for going a little bit overboard with it.

PETER STAMPFEL

Jerry Lee Lewis
Killer Country
Elektra 6E-291

I think a lot of my contemporaries in their late twenties could take a lesson from the Killer when that first fear of getting older hits them, that hysterical anxiety that results from the realization that time is chopping away. Some get over it and some don't; myself, I couldn't care less. Elvis got upset when he turned forty, but not Jerry Lee. Now, at forty-five he's still careening headfirst across the universe, filled with madness and fueled by Jack Daniels. I think he has the ultimate answer: have another drink and the hell with it all. Anyone who can make albums like the last few he's done has nothing much to sweat.

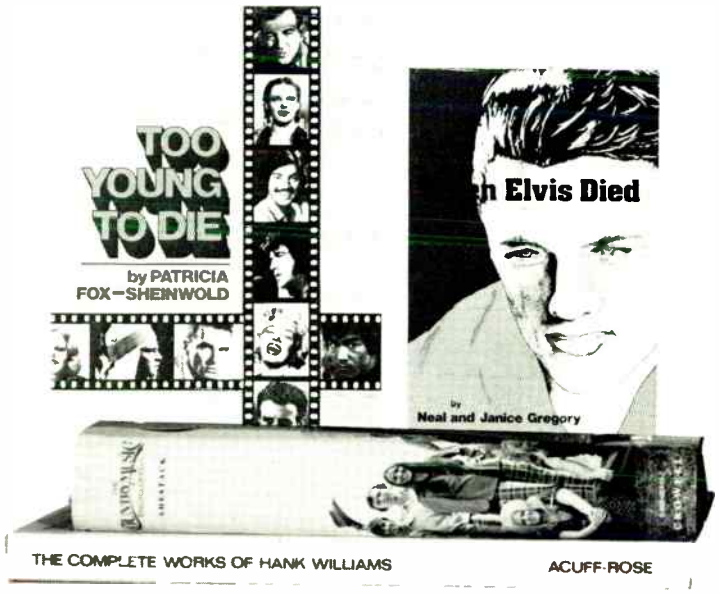
Still, there's a bit more introspection this time around and some surprising self-confession. Listen to the liberties he takes with the lyrics of Folsom Prison Blues, perhaps referring to his own escapades with guns and shooting. In two Foster/Rice compositions, I'd Do It All Again and Thirty-Nine And Holding, he sings of faded, piano-pounding singers in the former and of a man rooted in the Fifties living in the Eighties in the latter. Both sound suspiciously familiar. So does the world-weary honky-tonk singer of Change Places With Me, a skillful dissection of the conciousness of that entire species. His version of Ray Griff's Mama, This One's For You combines raffishness with some heartfelt emotions, that play perfectly against the Dixieland arrangement (one of the nicer things producer Eddie Kilroy has added to his recent albums). The rockabilly macho of Jukebox Junky and Let Me On stand out all the more because of the variety of the other material.

That variety is no more apparent than on the last song anyone would expect from him: Over The Rainbow. And though I kept expecting him to rip into doubletime at any second, he plays it straight. Kilroy's challenges of this sort seem to be what he needs (had he only had the chance to produce Elvis . . .).

When Jerry Lee was on Mercury it seemed like his albums were coming out every other month, judging from the sloppiness and lack of attention to detail. But Kilroy and Jerry Lee are digging deep here, and it's worth hearing.

RICH KIENZLE

FREE BOOK when you order any two of these...



Great Books For The New Year

FREE COUNTRY MUSIC HANDBOOK!!!
With 70 pages, this answer book has everything — fan club listings, guide to Nashville, short biographies, birthday's of the stars and more. It's your FREE when you order any two books below.

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF HANK WILLIAMS

Here, in one book, are the words and music to all 129 of Hank's songs. Included are: I Heard You Crying In Your Sleep/Cold, Cold Heart/Alabama Waltz/Hey, Good Lookin'/I Saw The Light/ Honky Tonk Blues/You Win Again, and more. It is the number one songbook of country music.
Item No. B10L NOW ONLY $12.95

TOO YOUNG TO DIE

From Hank Williams, Judy Garland and Marilyn Monroe to Elvis Presley, Janis Joplin and Freddie Prinze, here are 31 perceptive profiles of charismatic entertainers who died young. This unique edition reveals the driving obsessions and desperate cravings for puplic adulation behind their self-destructive personalities. It includes over 500 photos, 8 in color, and comes at a big savings.
Item No. B3K Published At $17.95 NOW ONLY $9.95

THE COUNTRY MUSIC ENCYCLOPEDIA (Softcover)

This is the whole fascinating story of country music, through the star-studded lives of greats like Jimmie Rodgers and Patsy Cline right through Dolly Parton, Roy Clark, Tanya Tucker and the rest of today's headliners. You'll find over 450 pages with more than 250 revealing biographies and 150 photos. There are also special entries on Bluegrass, Grand Ole Opry, Honky Tonk, Blues, Saga Songs, and the Country Music Hall Of Fame. It's the definitive book on country music.
Item No. B12A NOW ONLY $7.95

COAL MINER'S DAUGHTER (Not Shown)

Since Loretta admits she is better at "talkin' than writin'," she has found a writer to put her story down on paper for her. But she warns right off "you can bet your last scrip penny that I checked out every word ... and if I didn't like it, out it went." The result is a book that sounds as honest and saucy as the lady on stage. You've seen the hit movie, now read the book.
Item No. B2R NOW ONLY $2.50

HANK WILLIAMS JR : LIVING PROOF (Not Shown)

With his career now stronger than ever, this great singer movingly conveys his extraordinary life and tortured journey to escape his father's fate. Child star to booze, drugs, divorces and hostile audiences and fight to live after his mountain climbing fall, it's all here in this autobiography, soon to become a motion picture.
Item No. B2B NOW ONLY $10.95

THE LIFE & TIMES OF JOHN WAYNE (Not Shown)

This handsome hardcover edition includes 80 pages of photos, plus an 8-page full color insert. Included in this photo-packed tribute are "the duke's" films, marriages and children, early days in Hollywood, courageous fight against cancer, and special coverage of the world's reactions to his recent death. It's must reading.
Item No. B2V NOW ONLY $4.98

DOLLY (Not Shown)

Based on interviews with Dolly and others who have known her all her life, DOLLY reads like a Cinderella story — one of 12 children growing up in the Smokey Mountains, to one of the leading female vocalists in America. But above all, author Alanna Nash takes us beyond the flashy exterior to reveal the true Dolly —a bright, articulate woman who knows wnat she wants.
Item No. B9E Regularly $9.95 NOW ONLY $5.95

WAYLON AND WILLIE (Not Shown)

They have traveled a few more roads than most, sometimes alone, and like fine wine, they are getting better all the time. Here for the first time is their full story, told on 128 exciting pages, with 87 rare photos and a 12 page discography that even includes lyrics. To an extent, it is a story of broken marriages, drug problems, disillusionment and emotional burnouts. But more than anything, it's the story of a struggle to bring us the unique kind of country music we love.
Item No. B10D NOW ONLY $4.95

JUNE CARTER CASH (Not Shown)

Warm, witty, intensely honest, June Carter Cash is just about everything you'd look for in a good friend. Now, in her autobiography, she sits back and talks freely, almost as if from across the kitchen table. Sharing personal stories, treasured photos, and a generous helping of original poetry, she not only takes you behind the scenes, but into her thoughts and prayers.
Item No. B4D NOW ONLY $6.95

HANK WILLIAMS: TRAGIC KING (Not Shown)

Complete with 26 memorable photos, this life story evokes not only the man but the feeling for his era. From Alabama farmtown to the Grand Ole Opry and subsequent plunge from glory, this privileged biography draws on eyewitness testimony to lay bare more than has ever been told of Hank's life on and off stage.
Item No. B8P NOW ONLY $10.95

BRAND NEW RELEASE!!!

WHEN ELVIS DIED

From the moment Elvis burst upon the American scene, his music and mystique stirred the world. And when he died the world reacted. The bulletin from Memphis on August 16, 1977 set off a frenetic scramble by the media. The resulting news coverage was unparalleled for the death of an entertainer. Now, for the first time, the story of how the world responded to Elvis' tragic death unfold in WHEN ELVIS DIED. In analyzing the media reaction, this brand new book probes deeper, explaining the phenomenal impact Elvis had on the music and mores of a generation and on people from all walks of life. It is a thoroughly fascinating book.
Item No. B11Z NOW ONLY $13.95

MAIL NO RISK COUPON TODAY!

TO: COUNTRY MUSIC, Box 4071, Huntington Station, N.Y. 11746

Item No.	Title	Price
☐ I've ordered 2 or more books, so send my free HANDBOOK. (B2G)
0181-05	Total
	NYS residents add sales tax
	Post. & Hand. From Chart
	Enclosed Is Check For $

Name.....
Street.....
City.....
State.....Zip.....

Post. & Hand. Chart

Up To $5.00	-Add $1.95
$5.01 To $7.00	-Add $2.10
$7.01 To $10.00	-Add $2.30
$10.01 To $15.00	-Add $2.60
Over $15.00	-Add $3.00

NYS residents add sales tax. No foreign orders. Offer expires 5/31/81!

All Your Favorite "Country Hall of Fame" Songs are Here!

"Little Green Apples" • "Take Me Home, Country Roads" • "My Special Angel" • "Your Cheating Heart" • "It's Only Make Believe" • "Help Me Make It Through The Night" • "Welcome To My World" • "King Of The Road" • "Make The World Go Away" • "Walk On By" • "Green, Green Grass Of Home" • "I Can't Stop Loving You" • "For the Good Times" • "Honey" • "Secret Love" • "You'll Never Walk Alone" • "Crazy" • "Memphis, Tennessee" • "500 Miles (Away From Home)" • "I'd Be A Legend In My Time" • "City Lights" • "Lonely Weekends" • "Moments to Remember" • "Oh, Lonesome Me" • "Release Me" • "Heartaches By The Number" • "Sunday Morning Coming Down" • "Amazing Grace" • "Scarlet Ribbons" • "Peace In The Valley" • "I Believe" • "If I Were a Carpenter" • "Please Help Me, I'm Falling" • "Wings Of A Dove" • "Jambalaya (On The Bayou)" • "Crying In The Chapel" • "You Win Again" • "I Can't Help It If I'm Still In Love With You" • "I'm So Lonesome I Could Cry" • "You Are My Sunshine" • "Me And Bobby McGee" • "Husbands And Wives" • "Sweet Dreams" • "Convoy" • "I Love" • "By The Time I Get To Phoenix" • "Four Walls" • "All I Have To Do Is Dream" • "There Goes My Everything" • "Crying Time" • "You Gave Me A Mountain" • "Before The Next Teardrop Falls" • "Rose Garden" • "Almost Pursuaded" • "Behind Closed Doors" ... and many, many more! Hundreds Upon Hundreds of Priceless Recordings in all!

Find Your Favorites— For All The Great Country Artists Are Here!

Conway Twitty • Roy Orbison • Everly Brothers • Jerry Lee Lewis • Hank Williams • Charlie Rich • Tammy Wynette • Roger Miller • Jimmy Dean • Marty Robbins • Patti Page • Dicky Lee • Eddy Arnold • George Jones • Ricky Nelson • The Browns • Dolly Parton • Jim Reeves • Johnny Cash • Ray Price • Tom T. Hall • Chet Atkins • Glen Campbell • Hank Williams, Jr. • Sonny James • Tennessee Ernie Ford • Floyd Cramer • June Carter Cash • Legendary Carter Family • Johnny Horton • Bobby Bare • Statler Bros. • Donna Fargo • Bobby Helms • Jimmie Rodgers • Jerry Reed • Skeeter Davis • Mel Tillis • Jim Ed Brown • Freddie Fender • G. W. McCall • Willie Nelson • Pat Boone • Lynn Anderson • George and Tammy • Ronnie Milsap • Linda Ronstadt • Kenny Rogers • Loretta Lynn ... and many, many more!

PLUS You get the exclusive HANK WILLIAMS STORY!

The AMAZING GOLDEN DREAM OF HANK WILLIAMS! Discover the man behind the legend. How did Hank Williams compose so many great songs? Why did Hank record under a different name? Find out for yourself why HANK's popularity has grown BIGGER every year since 1953. Was he destined to die at the age of 29?

You'll find out when you hear what's in store for you in the greatest country collection of all time!

Candlelite Music, Inc. proudly presents...

Country Music Cavalcade!

The first and only complete Country Music Treasury ever assembled! 15 star-studded volumes—and the first one is yours FREE! The greatest home music value in the history of recording!

Only Candlelite Music, Inc. could produce this vast and remarkable country music collection that captures the very heart, soul and history of Country Music in America!

ORIGINAL ARTISTS! ORIGINAL HITS!

Come and join us on a rare and exciting sound trip to the heart of America—birthplace of our very own music. Here is an unprecedented legendary country music song collection—your very own "Grand Old Opry"—featuring the best of country music from yesterday and today ... performed by the great country stars who gave these songs life and meaning!

IT'S A ONCE-IN-A-LIFETIME COLLECTOR'S EDITION!

A complete home music library of America's most popular kind of music ... a treasury not available in any store at any price! No record collection can possibly be complete without this fantastic cross section of Americana!

Let your emotions take flight with the sentimentality of "Take Me Home—Country Roads" ... the haunting refrains of "Release Me" ... the joy of "My Special Angel" ... the melancholy of "Help Me Make It Through The Night" ... the spirit of "King Of The Road" ... and literally hundreds more million selling songs by all the greatest country artists ... names like Johnny Cash, Conway Twitty, Hank Williams, Glen Campbell, Chet Atkins, Jim Reeves, Charlie Rich, Roger Miller and Tammy Wynette, to name just a few of more than 60 artists!

The Authentic Golden Treasury Library Series!

Each volume of The Country Music Cavalcade features a different theme: Heart of Country ... Midnight in Memphis ... Kings and Queens of Country Music ... Legendary Guitars and Piano Sounds ... 15 great volumes in all! Your choice of three records or two 8-track tapes cradled in deluxe/handsome gold-lettered presentation cases that lock out dust and dirt. Choose the handsome blue-denim look, or the deluxe collector's edition in a hand-crafted leather look for just $1 a volume more! Each edition an heirloom to be passed on to your children and grandchildren.

Listen to each volume FREE for 10 days!

To sample the flavor, the magnificent artists in this one-of-a kind musical library, simply complete and return the FREE Volume Certificate. You will receive Volume One, American Country Gold as a FREE gift! Future volumes will then be sent you on approval to keep or return as you wish. You always have 10 days to audition each volume before deciding. NO MINIMUM PURCHASE is required and Volume One is yours to keep FREE in any case.

This fabulous collector's edition home music library is yours only through invitation ... so please return the FREE VOLUME CERTIFICATE today as this invitation may be withdrawn without notice!

YOUR FREE GIFT —Volume One! Three Superb Records ... Two Deluxe 8-Track Tapes!

UP TO $10.49 VALUE—FREE

Your FREE gift just for sampling the wonders of Country Music Cavalcade is the world's finest collection of ballads, rock and down-home country songs that have rolled out of Nashville and into your hearts.

AMERICAN COUNTRY GOLD—Discover your fondest and best loved memories with Conway Twitty, Patsy Cline, Bill Anderson, Jan Howard, Brenda Lee, Red Foley, Buddy Holly, Barbara Mandrell, Don Williams, Kitty Wells, Wilma Burgess, Webb Pierce, and many more! It's all yours FREE ... no obligation to buy anything at all!

Just look at these songs —

Misty Blue • Sweet Dreams (of You) • She's Got You • Kisses Sweeter Than Wine • All Alone Am I • Wasted Days And Wasted Nights • Vaya Con Dios • Sleeping Single In A Double Bed • My Heart Is An Open Book • Honeycomb • Foot #1 • Another Somebody Done Somebody Wrong Song • Oh, Oh, I'm Falling In Love Again • Hello Darlin' • That'll Be The Day • Walkin' After Midnight • Statue Of A Fool • Lonely Teardrops • San Antonio Stroll • A Satisfied Mind • Texas (When I Die) • You're My Best Friend • You've Never Been This Far Before ... and, many many more!

Free Volume Certificate

Country Music Cavalcade
A Service of Candlelite Music Inc.
6 Commercial St., Hicksville, N.Y.

This certificate entitles me to receive—as a FREE gift—Volume 1, American Country Gold, of the 15 volume collection COUNTRY MUSIC CAVALCADE.

I understand that I am under no obligation to buy anything at any time, but as a subscriber, I will be notified of all future shipments. I may reject any shipment or cancel my subscription by notifying you before the shipment date shown on the invoice accompanying my advance shipment notice.

After receiving my first volume, if you do not hear from me, you may send me one volume approximately every six weeks to enjoy in my home free for 10 days. At times I may receive several volumes in a single shipment ... I have the same 10 day FREE trial. I will also receive, without obligation to buy, the special Candlelite Country Music annual release. I may return any volume at your expense and owe nothing. Bill me for only those volumes I keep at the rate of one volume every six weeks, at the low price of just $9.49 for three records, $10.49 for two double-length 8-track tapes (plus a small charge for shipping and processing). I may cancel at any time by writing to you.

I prefer
☐ DENIM-LOOK EDITION ☐ LEATHER-LOOK EDITION†

Please check one only: ☐ RECORDS ☐ 8-TRACK TAPES

☐ Mr.
☐ Mrs.
☐ Miss _____

Address _____ Apt. No. _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

( ) _____
area code Phone

Signature _____

Sales tax added for N.Y. residents
Limit one subscription per household. All applications subject to review and we reserve the right to reject any application. Copyright 1976 - CMI
Sales Expiration Date: 6/81
†$1 more for leather-look edition.

151

Now for as little a

THE BEST OF

On Records & Tapes

SURF & DRAG: Jan & Dean: Surf City; Little Old Lady From Pasadena/Beach Boys: Surfin' Safari; Surfin' Girl; Surfin' U.S.A./Surfaris: Wipe Out/Hondells: Little Honda/Ronnie And The Daytonas: Little GTO/Chantays: Pipeline/Rip Chords: Hey Little Cobra; 3 Window Coupe/Lonnie Mack: Memphis/Jan & Dean: Ride The Wild Surf/Ventures: Walk Don't Run, 20 great hits in all!
LP No. R1R
8 TK No. T1S
LP-$7.98/8 TK $8.98

JERRY LEE LEWIS — 18 Hits On One Record: Whole Lotta Shakin' Goin' On/She Still Comes Around/Great Balls Of Fire/High School Confidential/Chantilly Lace/Drinking Wine Spo-Dee O'Dee/One Has My Name/He Can't Fill My Shoes/Me & Bobby McGee/Crazy Arms/There Must Be More To Love Than This/Breathless, and more!
LP No. R3E
8 TK No. T3F
LP-$6.98/8 TK-$7.98

THE BEST OF RED SOVINE — 2-Record Set: Teddy Bear/Daddy's Girl/Lay Down Sally/Truck Drivin' Son Of A Gun/Giddy-Up-Go/Little Rosa/I Didn't Jump The Fence/It'll Come Back/Little Joe/Phantom 309/Roses For Mama/18 Wheels A Hummin' Home Sweet Home/Anything Leaving Town Today/Woman Behind The Man Behind..., more!
LP No. R6P
8 TK No. T6Q
LP-$7.97/8 TK-$7.97

GOLDEN DREAM OF HANK WILLIAMS—2-Record Set: Cold, Cold Heart/Settin' The Woods On Fire/Take These Chains From My Heart/Half As Much/Wedding Bells/Hey, Good Lookin'/My Buckets Got A Hole In It/You Win Again/I'm So Lonesome I Could Cry/I Saw The Light/Lovesick Blues/I Can't Help It/Mansion Of The Hill/There'll Be No Teardrops Tonight/Your Cheating Heart/Jambalaya, 22 in all!
LP No. R1X
8 TK No. T1Y
LP-$6.98/8 TK-$9.98

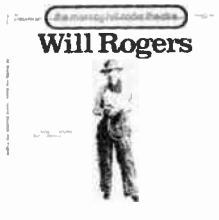
CONWAY TWITTY 20 CERTIFIED NO. 1 HITS—2-Record Set: I See The Want In Your Eyes/I've Already Loved You In My Mind/Linda On My Mind/I'm Not Through Loving You Yet/It's Only Make Believe/I'll Try/Play Guitar Play/Don't Cry Joni/15 Years Ago/To See My Angel Cry/I Can't See Me Without You/The Games Daddies Play/Hello Darlin'/Touch The Hand/Baby's Gone, much more!
LP No. R7T
8 TK No. T7U
LP-$7.98/8 TK-$9.98

MAC DAVIS CO LECTION — 20 Hi On One Record: I' A Survivor/One He Of A Woman/Drea Me Home/Baby Don Get Hooked On M Friend, Lover, Wor an, Wife/I'll Pal You A Song/Ever body Loves A Lo Song/Music In M Life/I Believe In Mu ic/In The Ghetto/M mories/Kiss It Ai Make It Better/Fo ever Lovers, more!
LP No. R11F
8 TK No. T11G
LP-$6.98/8 TK-$7.9

SPECIAL NOSTALGIA RECORD SETS

ALL TIME GREAT BLOOPERS ON AN EXCLUSIVE 6-RECORD BOXED SET

Here are uncensored super bloopers made by some of your favorite biggies: Dave Garroway, Lowell Thomas, Bing Crosby, Adlai Stevenson, even Santa Claus, and including Joseph Cotton's classic "Sonny Tufts" announcement. They're all here on this 6-record set — the 1st, 2nd and 3rd editions in the "Pardon My Blooper" series. It's hours of listening enjoyment.
LP No. R2ZA $30 Value NOW $19.98
No Tapes Available



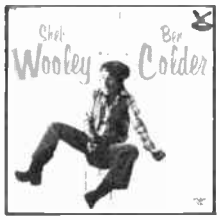
WILL ROGERS ON A SPECIAL 3-RECORD BOXED SET

America's most popular "philosopher" holds forth with an extraordinary selection of his famous speeches, monologues and radio programs in this special 100th Anniversary record set. Hear Will's last radio appearance; commentary on Hitler; "Plan To End All Plans"; and much more. It's a rare collector's edition.
LP No. R3CA $15 Value NOW $11.98
No Tapes Available

THE IMMORTAL COMEDY TEAM OF AMOS 'N' ANDY ON A SPECIAL 3-RECORD BOXED SET

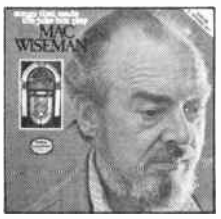
This classic is a great inflation fighter. You get 12 complete programs featuring everyone's favorites, AMOS 'N' ANDY. Hear what happens when Andy moves in with Kingfish ... or when Sapphire sends Kingfish out the door with orders not to return ... or when Sapphire's old boyfriend comes back to haunt kingfish. It's all on this hysterically funny record set.
LP No. R2SA $30 Value NOW $11.98
No Tapes Available

ERNEST TUBB: THE LEGEND AND THE LEGACY — 2-Record Set: Ernest performing with Willie, Waylon, Loretta, Merle and the other top country names ... Featuring: Waltz Across Texas/Answer The Phone/Journey's End/Walkin' The Floor Over You/Set Up Two Glasses Joe/Filipino Baby/It's Beeen So Long, Darling/Jimmy Rodgers Last Blue Yodel/Blue Eyed Elaine/You Nearly Lose Your Mind, 20 in all!
LP No. R7B
8 TK No. T7C
LP-$9.98/8 TK-$11.98



GREATEST HITS OF SHEB WOOLEY & BEN COLDER — 2-Record Set: Purple People Eater/That's My Pal/I Walk The Line/Runnin' Bear/15 Beers Ago/Detroit City/Harper Valley P-T-A, Later The Same Day/Don't Go Near The Eskimos/Little Green Apples/Hello Walls 2/Rollin' In My Sweet Baby's Arms/Little Brown Shack, more!
LP No. R6T
8 TK No. T6U
LP-$7.97/8 TK-$7.97

CHARLY PRI FAVORITES — 2-R cord Set: Kiss An A gel Good Morning Shoulder To Cry C Let The Chips Fa Crystal Chandelie Tennessee Girl/T Easy Part's Over/ Rather Love You/I So Afraid Of Los You Again/Just tween You And M She's Too Good Be True/Lovesick Blu Green, Green Grass Home/The Snakes Cra At Night, much more
LP No. R7F
8 TK No. T7G
LP-$7.98/8 TK-$8.98



MAC WISEMAN & SONGS THAT MADE THE JUKE BOX PLAY—2-Record Set: Bubbles In My Beer/Slipping Around/Home In San Antone/My Mary/Time Changes Everything/Yesterday's Girl/Worried Mind/Born To Lose/Divorce Me C.O.D./Waltz Across Texas, many more!
LP No. R4A
8 TK No. T4B
LP/8 TK-$11.98 Each

EMMY LOU HARRIS GLIDING BIRD — 10 Hits On One Record For A Special Low Price: Gliding Bird/I'll Be Your Baby Tonight/Fugue For The Ox/I Saw The Light/Black Gypsy/Everybody's Talkin'/I'll Never Fall In Love Again/Waltz Of The Magic Man/Bobbie's Gone.
LP No. R11B
8 TK No. T11C
LP-$4.98/8 TK-$5.98

THE BEACH BO SUMMER FUN — Record Set: Fun F Fun/Dance Dan Dance/Little Dei Coupe/Help Me R da/Surfin' U.S.A Get Around/Sur Safari/Surfer Girl My Room/Long Texan/Shut Do California Girls/B bara Ann/409, F many more
LP No. R2T
8 TK No. T2U
LP-$6.98/8 TK-$7.9

30¢ a song, enjoy COUNTRY MUSIC Plus Something More!

MAKE COUNTRY MUSIC YOUR RECORD STORE & SAVE! YOU'D PAY AS MUCH AS $33.00 IF YOU BOUGHT THE HITS ON EACH OF THESE ALBUMS SEPARATELY.

RTY ROBBINS
L AROUND COW-
Y — 20 Hits On e Record: El Paso/
e Hanging Tree/El
so City/Red River
lley/Streets Of Lar-o/The Fastest Gun
ound/Cool Water/mbling Tumbleeds/Ballad Of The amo/Big Iron/Old
d/Running Gun/5 others/Mr. Shorty/ey're Hanging Me night/All Around wboy, more!
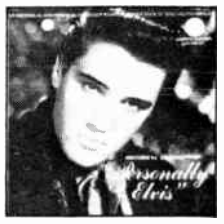
No. R11Q
K No. T11R
-$7.98/8TK-$9.98

LEFTY FRIZZELL'S 20 GOLDEN HITS — 20 Hits On One Record: If You've Got The Money, I've Got The Time/Saginaw, Michigan/Release Me/I Love You A Thousand Ways/Look What Thoughts Will Do/I Want To Be With You Always/Mom & Dad's Waltz/Give Me More, More, More Of Your Kisses/Forever/Cigarettes And Coffee Blues, and more!
LP NO. R11O
8TK No. T11P
LP-$7.98/8TK-$9.98

AMERICA REMEMBERS JOHNNY HORTON — 20 Hits On One Record: All For The Love Of A Woman/North To Alaska/Battle Of New Orleans/Honky Tonk Man/Sink The Bismark/Jim Bridger/I'm A One-Woman Man/I'm Ready If You're Willing/Sal's Got A Sugar Lip/Whispering Pines/All Grown Up/Sleepy-Eyed John, and more!
LP No. R11M
8TK No. T11N
LP-$7.98/8TK-$9.98

THE MAC WISEMAN STORY — 2-Record Set: Love Letters In The Sand/Six More Miles/Little Blossom/I've Got No Use For The Woman/Dark Hallow/Wreck Of The 97/The Ballad Of The Lawson Family/May I Sleep In Your Barn Tonight, Mister/Bringing Mary Home/The Girl In The Blue Velvet Band/I'll Be All Smiles Tonight/Little Box Of Pine, more!
LP No. R10G
8TK No. T10H
LP/8TK-$11.98 Each

GEORGE & TAMMY — 20 Hits On One Album: George Jones: Once You've Had The Best; Grand Tour; Her Name Is; I.m All She's Got; What My Woman Can't Do; The Door/Tammy Wynette: Bedtime Story; Reach Out Your Hand; D-i-v-o-r-c-e; Stand By Your Man; Woman To Woman/George & Tammy: We Loved It Away; The Ceremony; We're Not The Jet Set, and much more!
LP No. R1T
8TK No. T1U
LP-$6.98/8TK-$8.98



Personally ELVIS — A 2-Record Set On Colored Vinyl: This Is Not A Press Conference But A Rare Collector's Edition Featuring An Historic Personal Interview Where Elvis Revealed The Most Intimate Secrets About His Professional And Private Life. Not Sold In Any Stores At Any Price, It Comes Complete With An Elegant Book Type Cover Suitable For Framing.
LP No. R10Q
No Tape Available
LP-$14.95

UNTRY SWEET-
ARTS — 20 Hits
One Record: L.
derson, B. Mand-
, T. Tucker, T. nette - What A n My Man Is/Bede Story/Give A tle Take A Little/uld You Lay With /Delta Dawn/My n/Top Of The Wor-
many more!
No. R2L
K No. T2M
$6.98/8TK-$7.98

BEST OF BRENDA LEE — 20 Hits On One Record: I Want To Be Wanted/I'm Sorry/That's All You Gotta Do/Fool Number One/You Can Depend On Me/Is It True/All Alone Am I/Heart In Hand/As Usual/Too Many Rivers/Coming On Strong/many more!
LP No. R4Y
8TK No. T4Z
LP-$5.98/8TK-$6.98

THE PATSY CLINE STORY — 2-Record Set: South Of The Border/Walking After Midnight/I Fall To Pieces/Heartaches/San Antonio Rose/Heartaches/A Poor Man's Rose/Your Cheatin' Heart/Crazy/I Love You So Much It Hurts/The Wayward Wind, and more!
LP No. R7R
8TK No. T7S
LP-$8.98/8TK-$9.98

Gene Autry 4-LP Boxed Collector's Set

LP One: Back In The Saddle/We're Gonna Round Up Our Blues/1/1/40 First Show, more!

LP Two: Cowboy Blues/Doc Reardon Tried For Manslaughter/Longing, and much more!

LP Three: Good Old Fashioned Hoe Down/Gene Is Robbed/Mr. & Mississippi, more!

LP Four: Tweedie-O-Twill/In The Blue Canadian Rockies/Tree Top Tall, stories and more!

LP No. R2D
Regular $20 Value
NOW $14.95

No Tapes Available

MAIL NO-RISK COUPON TODAY!

Send to: Country Music Magazine
Box 4071
Huntington Station, New York
11746

Name.....

Street.....

City.....

State.....Zip.....

I WANT TO CHARGE MY:

☐ Master Charge
☐ Visa

Master Charge Interbank No. .....

Card Number.....

Expiration Date.....

Signature.....

Artist/Title	Check One LP	8TK	LP/8TK Number	Price

☐ Send my FREE Mystery Gift (Item No. G101)

POSTAGE & HANDLING
Up to $10.00 —Add $1.95
$10.01 to $20.00 —Add $2.45
$20.01 to $30.00 —Add $2.75
Over $30.00 —Add $3.45

0181-06

Item Total
NYS residents add sales tax
Add postage/handling from chart
Enclosed is my check/money order for

No Foreign Orders Accepted!

Offer Expires 5/31/81

Record Reviews

Brenda Lee
Take Me Back
MCA-5143

No one can refute the fact that Brenda Lee is among the finest vocalists in the last half of the twentieth century. She's been belting out tunes since she was a teenage sensation in the Fifties. Her contributions to music have been immense, so much so that even if she never recorded again, her mark would still be indelible.

Fortunately, she has not retired and since she is still only in her mid-thirties, she has many more years of singing ahead of her. Her latest release, Take Me Back is a statement of musical maturity and versatility, and lends credence to the fact that she is better than ever, if that's possible.

Produced by Ron Chancey, this album may be her best in years. Chancey's production is masterful in that it never overpowers the main ingredient—Brenda's powerful vocals.

The selection of material on this LP is top shelf all the way. Brenda has a knack for choosing excellent songs and then improving them with her voice. Few artists can interpret a lyric with more emotion than Brenda.

The material ranges from the Chips Moman/Bobby Emmons tune, Staring Each Other Down, a bluesy ballad, to What Am I Gonna Do, a rocker written by Kim Carnes and Dave Ellingson. There is literally not one mediocre song to be found on this album. Other top notch tunes include Too Many Nights Alone by Even Stevens and Shel Silverstein; Jimbeau Hinson's Broken Trust, with background vocals by the Oak Ridge Boys; and Every Now And Then, a killer ballad written by Shayne Dolan and Rock Killough.

The true test of artistry is whether or not it can withstand the test of time. Brenda Lee is one of the most enduring singers of our era. Take Me Back should only add to her laurels.

KELLY DELANEY

Jacky Ward
More! Jacky Ward
Mercury SRM 1-5030

More! Jacky Ward is the personification of middle-of-the-road country, fitting perfectly into the definition of what has come to be termed the "Nashville Sound". Small wonder, since the LP was produced by Jerry Kennedy who helped mold this distinct musical formula.

Ward's voice is as deep and smooth as blended whiskey, framed with the string arrangements of Bergen White. While there are no holes in Kennedy's production, the songs do lack any kind of spontaneous excitement. This is a solid, though not necessarily inventive style of musical architecture.

As a vocalist, Ward seems most comfortable with ballads. He's a crooner and the selection of material is well-suited to his voice. Even the more uptempo tunes have a certain reserved quality to them. The best of the lot is a Bob McDill tune entitled Save Your Heart For Me, which has a bouncy beat with a sing-along chorus. There are also remakes of It Doesn't Matter Anymore, written by Paul Anka and sung into immortality by Buddy Holly, and the Cynthia Weil/Barry Mann composition, I Just Can't Help Believin'", a big hit for B.J. Thomas. Ward's performance on both numbers is commendable though hardly memorable when compared to the aforementioned versions.

With the exception of one song, the subject matter on this album is love. The one outsider is Tony Joe White's, That's The Way A Cowboy Rocks And Rolls, which is a little too mellow to be convincing. You'd be a bit hard-pressed to find a bonafide cowboy who rocks out anywhere near the way this tune sounds. On its behalf, it is consistent with the overall restrained sound of the album.

Over the past few years Ward has steadily moved upwards through the ranks of male country vocalists. More! Jacky Ward showcases his considerable talent.

KELLY DELANEY