Sidemen Are Revealed in New Bands and Jenney "Shakeup"

BY PAUL EDUARD MILLER

Is swing on the way out? That question has been asked me with frequent regularity, not only by my layman friends, but by professional musicians as well. Since 1937 my answer has always been the same: No, The reason for that answer? Too much money is invested in swing—by booking offices, promoters, pub-Too much money in lishers, etc.

money is invested in swing—oy booking onces, promoters, pur-lishers, etc. Obviously, however, something has happened to swing. It no longer possesses the freshness and vitality which it displayed in 1934-35. That something, I venture to remark, is middle-age. Swing has settled down. It is content to categorize and pigeon-hole is interested in seeking out and developing new utilize the stereotyped (but sur-fire) arranging tricks which the public has come to identify with swing. By and large, swing has degenerated into a cold business it wants pays off, it must also

One day Corres Auld, in a blass of publicity reflected by Art Shaw's walk-out, is playing one of the best apots in the country — Cafe Rouge of New York's Hotel Penn-sylvania. The next day (figuratively speaking) Auld cuts some records and is playing at one of the better dance apots in New York. #### Many Negro Orks in Rut

Many Negre Orks in Rut The predicament of the colored bands differs in detail, but essen-tially it is similar. Duke Ellington, who now leads the oldest and longest-lived swing band in jazz history, consistently retains his hold on a large and admiring pub-lic. But that hold is retained as much, if not more, through his activities in the composing, ar-ranging, and recording fields as it is through the spects at which his band plays. Cab Calloway and Fats Waller are good showmen, their personalities. Louis Armstrong's greatest appeal is his high-note trumpeting. Count Basie's high-powered jump style caught on, but if public reaction means anything, there's room for only one band of that calibre. As for the rest, even these who organized years ago, their financial success, to put it optimistically, is only mediocre. Earl Hines, Andy Kirk, Roy El-dridge, Ella Fitzgerald, Stuff Smith, Coleman Hawkins, Benny Carter, Teddy Wilson, Jimmis Lonceford, Claude Hopkins, and Don Redman are practically out of the picture so far as the gen-eral public is concerned. The truth is that the public will absorb only wery limited number of Nagre bands. What new directions will swing bands. What new directions will swing take in 1940? I can detect at least three possibilities. "Berigan Hasn't the Stuff"

three possibilities. "Berigan Hasn't the Stuff." First, the bands who have been financially successful in the past five years will continue to be finan-cially successful. But, it is more than probable that the leaders in this bracket will put forth their efforts to build better bands from both an instrumental and musical standpoint. This, I think, will be accomplished by an influx of well-known and highly capable instra-mentalists and arrangers into bands. I mean that the tendency will be to re-join, instead of to quit. Bunny Berigan is an excel-lent trumpeter, an asset to any band. But he hasn't the stuff out of which leaders are made. His re-joining Tommy Dorsey, just as vido Musso's joining Harry Jame. may point the way toward a new trend. The leaders of the auccessful band must soon realize that the ex-cellence of their organizations de-the excellence of the individual musicians. It is my guess that many of our finest instrumenta-ists, who are, or have been, leader on their own, would willingly ac-cept a fair offer from the leaders in the top bracket. The only thing member is that the genuine swing man enjoys playing swing, and it the remuneration allows him to (Modulate to Page I2)

On November 18, 1927, a select group of Whiteman boys turned up in Victor's Chicago studios to make history with a platter they still talk about—Hoagy Carmi-chael's "Washboard Blues" (Vic. S3877). Hoagy himself sang the vocals and Bill Challis made the searcement. The purponent Vocais and Bill Chains made the arrangement. The personnel: Jimmy Durney, Chai. Strickfadden, sates; Tummy Durney, Baye Calles, trombones; Ba Briderbeke, convert, Micha Russell, Kurt Distorle, violins; Chei Harilit, hus darinet. Hal MacDoneld, drume, Nieve Brewn, has: Matt Mainech, viol.

P.W. will back me up in this assertion. When Perella died a few months back he received scant at-tention in current trade papera, and even now there are many of his old side-kicks who don't know he has passed on. The old Bix story all over again, in this en-lightened year 1940! Geta Goldkette's Stars But let's drop records for a while and take a closer look at the personnel of the Whiteman band as it stood in the fall of 1927. There can be an awful sort of irony about fame, especial-ly the kind that has been won with the help of the newspapers. Not only does the public make little distinction between the famous and the in-famous, but once the papers have blasted a man or woman to fame they won't stick with him very long. Why? Well, after a surawspaper buildup that it com-pletely engulfed and submerged him almost as sensationally as it had noomed him to fame. Prior to becoming known as a suxophone soloist, Rudy was a bril-liant clarinetist and held the prin-tipal clarinet chair with many fine concert bands. He would amaze atteners, even in his early 20°s, by playing the unusually rapid Hun-swinn Rhapaody cadenzas entirely succato. He joined the U. S. Taught Rudy Vallee

Taught Rudy Vallee The writer has questioned at least 20 of New York's outstand-ing sax men today, asking them who their ideal sax soloist was. The answer has been unanimous-Rudy Wiedceft. Wiedceft was one of the first sax soloists to appear on radio and is believed to have made the first broadcasts from station WJZ, now main station of NBC's blue net-work. At one time a young fellow named Hubert Prior Vallee, a stu-dent at Yale university, was a pu-pil of Wiedceft, and admired him so greatly and so openly that his friends began calling him "Rudy." Which is the reason he's known today as Rudy Vallee. His Records Still Played

His Records Still Played

His Records Still Played Wiedoeft recorded for virtually all the leading record companies, toured the U. S. and Canada with the Eight Victor Artists, and com-posed dozens of saxophone solos. Although his records of his own works and others were made, some of them 18 or more years ago, they still are played and treasured by saxists all over the world. And his ability as a composer for the sax (Modulate to Page 18)

Is it fair for a leader to sell his "Famous Orchestra" for $1,500 and then appear in front of another orchestra" for $1,500 and then appear in front of another orchestra not his own—or one he never saw before? Especially if that "emer-gency" orchestra or "intact" band could be bought at any other time for around $400? Would you blame university students for getting angry after they had paid $3.50 each to dance to Isham Jones' music for two nights and then discover on the first night that it wasn't Isham Jones' "regular band" at all? Can you blame them for being disappointed when they recognized members of the orches-

he Same Stunt? ing to pay such a high price for what they considered being fooled? Needless to say, the spending allowance of the average student is very small and he should certainly never be ex-ploited! When a group of students hears and admires a famous band on the radio and have their curiosities aroused by stories and pictures in newspapers and magazines to the point where they pay a lot of money to see and dance to that band and its leader IN PERSON, it's no more than fair and just that the leader and his band deliver.

If Tommy Dorsey or Benny Goodman hired some local organized band for one night and fronted it as if it were his own band, students would quickly detect the set-up, would become angered and would demand refunds the same as they did in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, when Isham Jones "fronted" an intact band that he had hired just for the two nights.

Although Jones did not appear the second night, he claimed he still had $750 coming and filed charges against the univer-sity and sought to have the union collect it. The students took the attitude that they had been deceived and Professor Henry G. McMahon of the University's law school said "Particularly in the South, the 'fronting' of orchestras had become a per-nicious evil" and asked that the American Federation of nicious evil" and asked that the American Federation of Musicians officially terminate this evil by rejecting Mr. Jones' claim.

With a great deal of courage and wisdom in deciding Case Will Go Down as an AFM Triumph ana State University.

McMahon reflected the attitude of the entire South and the whole student world when he declared "We believe the decision rendered in this case is indicative of the future policy of the American Federation of Musicians NOT TO TOLERATE THE 'FRONTING' OF ORCHES-TRAS IN THIS MANNER BY ITS MEMBERS. The decision has confirmed and renewed the confidence of the people in the objectives, policies and practices of the American Federation of Musicians.

Down Beat would like to add that every musician member too, has confirmed and renewed his confidence in the justice of his National Executive Board. It's a triumph for fair-play.

Buffalo-A cooperative promotion stunt of several leading stores here has been foxing the public and irritating Local 43 officials. Placards plastered all over town announce twice-weekly dances to bands such as Glenn Miller, Benny Goodman, Tommy and Jimmy Dor-sey, Harry James, and all the rest. First reading of the cards leads the reader to believe he's getting these bands in person and for only 15 cents admission. In reality the bands are on records. The dances are held each Saturday and Sun-day afternoon in the "Danceland Make Believe" ballroom on Main mirret.

found the fiddle just as simple. Still unmarried, Jerry now lives in Somerville, Mass. In his "spare time," which isn't often, Jerry goes to movies, reads books and attends the races. His ambition is to compose and ar-range music and then direct the orchestra in motion pictures. For kicks Jerry digs out his Ellington records. He says Lester Young, Bud Freeman, Art Tatum and Max Kaminsky are his favorite soloists. Beats His Mail Home

Kaminsky are his favorite soloists. Played Violin with Shaw Gershwin, Debussy and Delius in-trigue Gray, and when he isn't listening to his jazz faves he usual-ly can be found listening to modern classical works by one of the three. When Shaw organized his first band — that little string outit which made a mess of fine records for Brunawick-Jerry had the first violin chair. He thinks his best diacs were Sweet Lorraine and Darling Not Without You. And when Artie junked the outfit to form his big band—the one that swept him into the limelight he later learned he didn't want—it was Jerry who did most of the arranging. The opinion of certain of my colleagues to the contrary, it is my belief that for all practical purposes hot music can be notated and orchestrated ef-fectively. To perform such music requires, of course, sympathetic and capable players inspired by an understanding leader who, musi-cally, is prepared for his grave responsibility. Under such condi-tions completely seared hot com-positions might well attain, in per-formance, the essential dual ele-ments of emotional fire and mas-tered discipline. Critics in the Doghouse Johnny Messner

BY JOHNNY MESSNER

"The public be pleased" has always been our motto. Whatever changes have taken place in our organization's method ever changes have taken place in our organization's method of playing, whatever tunes we've done, whatever presen-tation ideas we've used, all semmed from that thought. Right now we are in the midst of a marine controversy because of the little ditty we recorded called She Had to Go and Lose It at the Astor. Well, for the first time since we watch it, I now have an opportunity to give my side of it. To make it brief, we've been doing that number at the McAlpin for three years. During that time we have received only five or six isolated beefs, and we've had so many requests that I've low t track of them. I can't enumerate all the favorable comments we heard concerning the cuteness of the mel-ody and lyric; they're too sumer-ous. Thus it followed that if the people who came down to hear us at the McAlpin liked the number the chances were that the rest of the population would go for it. Thus, the motte that I quoted at the beginning of this paragraph was our guiding light and the number went on wax.

'Must Satisfy Three Groups'

"Must Satisfy Three Groups' At the first meeting of our out-fit three years ago, the decision was that the public was our sup-porter and whatever we did should stem immediately from its desires. We've pursued this course relent-lessly and find that it has paid off. It has brought results at the box-office and, situated in a hotel as essential for full-bodied dance ar-rangements. "Pardon the pun," cackles John-ny, "but I'm not stringing you when I say that most of the big bands in the country are going to become string conscious." From rwing to string in one regenera-tion.

was cut as the transformed back to the theater to play a matinee. It is interesting to note the tunes were waxed in stomp tempo and that Hoagy played the piano chorus on the Havana side only. Seidel played the long piano chorus on Stardust. It was almost two years later that Isham Jones took Stardust, recorded it aweet style, and made a sensation of the tune with the public. At a later date Hoagy changed the name of One Night in Havana to One Morning in May-and it also clicked.

"Blues Upstairs" you will probably be surprised to learn that Tommy is a virtual new. comer at playing the style, having started a little more than a year ago. It came about when a group of the boys in the band were having a record session and someone stuck on one of Pine-top Smith's old masterpieces. Tommy, impressed, began experi-menting with the style and like everyone else who grets going in the boogie groove, is now an en-thusiatic booter. Linehan, who is 28, was born and raised in North Adams, Mass. His farter is of Irish descent, his mother French Canadian. Tommy says, "Guess that makes me a plain Yankee." execution so brilliant." Told Tall Stories More than any other person, Wiedoeft lifted the saxophone to its present popularity and accept-ance as a truly legitimate musical instrument. Wiedoeft compositions such as Valse Eroica, Valse Lew-ellym and Sazophobia have been the inspiration for countless young musicians to adopt the saxophone as their instrument. As well as being a musical gen-ins, Wiedoeft was an entertainer and dialect story teller of ability. In an informal gathering I have heard him rattle off any number of killing stories in Jewish and German dialect, and no profe-sional of the stage could tell them in a more amusing manner. He was a guy who always was ready and willing to accomodata his friends and admirers, some times playing by the hour, without accompaniment, some of the most difficult numbers and figurations possible to play on the sax. We doeft enjoyed nothing better than to play the sax before critical mu-sicians, especially axophonist. There was nothing "impossible" on the instrument for Rudy. #### Griff Williams Wears Corset

Chicago—The agility with which maestro Griff Williams led the customers in a conga at the Ste-vens hotel the other night belied the fact that he was wearing a "corset." In Cincinnati two weeks earlier his enthusiasm for the dance had got the better of him and he sprained his back trying to make one of the bends look convincing. An osteopath gave Griff a couple of deft manipula-tions, put a corset on him and sent him conga'ing merrily on his way.

Bill Challis) and "Ramona" (arr. Grofe) (both rec. Jan. 4, 1928). First side features a won-derful cornet chorus by Bix and a half chorus of hot ensemble saxes that still sounds modern. A differ-ent version of this has been re-issued in the Beiderbecke Memo-rial Album (Vic. 25366). "Ramo-na" is well arranged waltz with vocal by Fulton-Young team. Vietor 21218 (reissue 25249)—" "O' Man River" (rec. Jan. 11— arr. Challis) and "Make Believe" (rec. Jan. 27—arr. Grofe). First side features one of Crosby's best early vocals, and 16 classic bars of trumbauer. Particularly skillful are the Challis transitions in this arr. Reverse is one of those "empty" Grofe scores that he prob-ably batted out overnight. Cros-by's vocal is throaty and coarse there. Vietor 21228—"Smile" (rec. # · Band Promotion · These Stunts Build Business For Other Orks GRIFF WILLIAMS' recent open-ing at the Stevens, Chicago, was priceded by the moot laviah promotion campaign waged by a dance band in Chicago this year. Griff sent out large Easter baskets filled with eggs and chocolates with the receiver's name neatly written across the top of the largest, and with it was a card inviting the receiver to "celebrate Easter with" the band that sings as it swings." Result: a record turnout and a lot of goodwill. .

Bernic Collins, popular maestro at Newman's, Saratoga, N. Y., calls his tyle velvet music. Nothing too unusual in that, but his way of promoting it is. Bernie mails out to dancers cards about the size of a postcard, one ide of which is covered with black velvet. Serves to remind customers, and men who buy bands, that his outfit has a definite style. Reverse side lists a long number of spots where the band has played successful dates. Kewn Read passes out neatly-

Kemp Read passes out neatly-printed cards reading "We would like to play your requests. Kindly write them on this form and well play them back to you." It's a smart idea, very inexpensive, and can be used by every orchestra— large or small—to win friends.

Frank Burke's latest achievement is a neally-bound, attractively ar-ranged press book for Paul White-man. The book, or manual, list dozens of ways to promote White-man's appearances, and includes many specially prepared news sto-ries for use in newspapers. Each page in the manual is perforated so that any sheet can be jerked out for use without destroying the value of the manual.

BY DICK SHELLENBERGER Coulee City, Nev.—Here, near the site of the world's largest structure, is a 3-man combo that's strictly top-drawer stuff. show. At least we stayed until it ended. Although the band is small, there are six—count 'em—vocalists and the bandsmen will scramble down off the stand and sing with them at the drop of a hat, leaving prac-tically no one playing, not that it matters particularly. The rhythm section consists of piano, drums—OK so far, but wait -Hammond organ, Hawaiian gui-tar, and tuba. The braas were two trumpets, who double on French horn, and a trombone. The reeds are three tenors doubling clarinet, but not an alto in the lot. Jean Blair, the solo singer, has a lovely soprano voice, with which she sings concert selections like It Bacio. We give up. What is Olsem trying to do?

Why do some bands struggle along just making "coffee and . . . "? What is it that makes other bands famous? What puts them into the top spots? What makes famous bookers like MCA, Wm. Morria, CRA and GAC, engerly bid for some bands and pass others by? What's the secret of getting a juicy commercial? $ 2.50

There is no magic word to success. Neither do you have to be a "big-shot's nephew" to rate a top spot. But any band if it wants to get into really big money must follow certain fun-damentals. We don't say that following these principles will absolutely guarantee $1,000.00 one-nighters and big hotel jobs. But we do know that a band which does follow these principles has a tremendous advantage over a band haphazardly organized.

Into this unique book has been packed the asperience which has cost other hands thousands of Arilars to lears. Never before, we believe, have all these "fundamentale of success" been put into a book. is based on tested facts. The author isn't an amateur theorist —he's one of America's most successful band organ-izer—a man who has been retained by many of Amer-ica's top-flight bands. He knows what he's talking about. And he fells it in a straight, easy-to-understand manner. I personally guarantee this book as a belp to any loader, manager, or olds men. I personally guarantee a returns the book in 5 days.

A Book for Every Musician

The book is not confined to leaders close. It should constantly be in the case of every musician to check his own efforts. It can be the means of making the average side man an (min)spenshie asset to his leader. Big hands are looking for competent man-agers and this hook may prove the way to an important position for any mu-sician in one of the famous bands of the country. It can be a help and so inspiration to the small band "just attring out." If can serve as a "check char" for the hand that has already arrived. In fact it is one of the most valuable book any musi-cian, leaders, attranger or manager in the music bolings can own.

that makes you bankrupt, it's a pleasure to be broke." It is generally known in the mu-sic industry that Tommy did lose some money in an oil well invest-ment, but what it does not know, is that Mr. T. D. would not let any of the money they had invested in the same enterprise, and gave them the money they atood to lose, out of his own pocket. It is not gen-erally known, either, how many pool musicians have gotten back on their feet through the generos-ity of Tommy's pocketbook. And Tonuny's band still brings him be-tween six and eight thousand a week in theaters and his band will still gross close to a half million this year. That's phenomenal suc-cess, whether you like Tommy Dor-sy or not. or not.

Seessfully run Down Beat without one. Further, Charlie Barnet is one of Down Beat's favorite bands and Down Beat's favorite bands Charlie has a standing invitation to visit my home any time he's in Chicago, and I really want it known publicly that any other stories like this that have been started either to Barnet, or Goodman or any oth-er leader are damn lies. Always amusing are recurring reports that Down Beat is for sale. And in five years, Down Beat has been auctioned off at least three New York—Danny Perri, guitar-ist who gained fame in England, is the new guitarist with Jan Savitt is the Savitt.

The KING of Riverboat Musicians

The boy who taught Bix!

For the first time—the complete story of a legendary cornetist of the jazz age

WHEN one of Capt. Joe Streckfus' modern steamers glides down the Mississippi, with lights twinkling and the band playing, old darkies along the river pause in their storytelling. They cock their heads, listen a moment and then mumble more to themselves than their audience of cager listeners, "Taint Emmett."

Emmett Hardy still lives for them as he lives in countless stories and vague legends passed between musicians for the last 15 years.

Emmett Hardy was a great cornetist. How great. perhaps only Bix who idolized him, could tell.

In a highly interesting article which catches the brawling, lusty life of the river boats, Dave Dexter, Jr. tells what he found out about this legendary riverboat cornetist. Dexter dug into musty files, searched through old courthouse records, interviewed Hardy's relatives, wheedled from them heretofore unpublished photos, and tells more about Hardy than any man has known before.

Jimmy Dorsey, reading printer's proofs, calls it "the most dynamic and thrilling story of a jazzman ever written."

You'll agree with Jimmy when you read the story in the May 15th issue. But this is only one of the hundreds of fine stories and articles published in Down Beat throughout the year. Why not get them all?

Just fill out the coupon. And get your own personal copy of DOWN BEAT before it goes on general sale!
