Goodman Still Takes it Easy

New York — Benny Goodman doesn't seem to be in any hurry to reorganize his band. He has been resting in Westchester the last couple of weeks and has post-poned his date at Chicago's Hotel Sherman until November.

Benny is mulling several ideas for his new crew. Ziggy Elman won't be with him, he and Benny won't be with him, he and benny having a minor argument which resulted in Elman's joining Tom-my Dorsey. Whether Negroes will be used in the band still is yet to be decided. Benny wants it yet to be decided. Benny wants it that way, but his managers are arguing against it. The band will be smaller than his old outfit, how-aver. After he decides, Benny will probably rehearse several weeks before unfolding in a public spot. He says he feels "wonderful."

Nan Wynn Quits Scott Ork. Pulls a "Billie Holiday"

Chicago—"I'll never sing with a dance band again," Billie Holiday declared last fall (Nov. 1 Down Beat). And she was as good as her word. Since then she has appeared only as a solo act. Last week, at Hotel Sherman here, Nan Wynn told Down Beat the same thing as she quit the Raymond Scott band and prepared to go out on her own. "Working with a traight dance orchestra dosm"!

here. Meantime she'll take a rest, she said, at the country estate of Ernie Byfield, who operates the Pump Room for Chicago's "400" crowd. Nan said special arrange-ments "designed to suit my style" were being made by Billy Stray-born, youthful arranger for Duke Ellington, whose band currently is elicking at the Sherman. "A singer-especially a girl-is desidedly limited singing with a dance band," said Nan. "Often the leader is more interested in vocal backgrounds than he is the vocal itaelf. Besides, I've long wanted to do more serious music, tunes by Cole Porter, Jerome Kern and the rest. And being on my own, I can out my own tempos and have the backgrounds I want, for a change." Nan is now 22.

Four More Men Leave Ray Scott

Chicago-Raymond Scott pulled a "housecleaning" act at the Sher-man. Hotel on his closing night. Besides losing Nan Wynn, his singer, Scott changed a tenor sax, trombone, trumpet and drummer. Those who left, in the order of above, are Charlie Brosen, Wen-dell Delory, Bert Lamarr and Andy Picard. Only one replacement was set. That is Jimmy Maxwell, Benny Goodman trumpeter, who took over Lamarr's chair. His po-sition with Scott, it was said, is only temporary.

Jimmy doesn't say much, but you can tell he'd have been a little more happy about the whole thing had Tommy's l'll Never Smile Again caught on next Christmas, or last spring. But he's not complaining. The sax-clary playing Dorsey has an unusual philosophy, one which is pretty generally known among musicians. It centers around his love of music, his lack of sym-pathy for commercial or "schmalz" dance music and its followers, and his way of living.

Jitterbugs Are No Worry "I like to just go along, blowing my horn the best I know how and my horn the best I know how and trying to keep the band improv-ing," he says. "Jitterbugs don't worry me-when they do I ignore them. Most of them are pretty de-cent anyway, and I know that when the day comes and there aren't any left, I won't have a job as a band leader. I'll go back into radio."

Surrounded by members of his band, Jimmy Dorsey checks a new score between stage shows. On his current tour, Dorsey has suddenly become terrific box-office and now ranks right along with his brother Tommy as a coin-grabber. Two records, The Breeze and I and Six Lessons From Madame LaZonga, are partly responsible for the band's surprise move. Shown above, behind Helen O'Connell, Jimmy and Charlie Frazier, are Bob Eberly. August he has been busting at-tendance marks—and the real money grosses—one atop the other. At Cedar Point, O., one of the largest summer resorts in the Middle West, the band a few weeks back drew more cash customers than any other band which ever played there a week. Bob Crosby held the mark. But it's Jimmyrs now. now.

"Are We Getting Hot?"

"Are We Getting Hot?" The following week, at Detroit's Michigan Theater, the J. D. crew toppled another record. It even surprised Jimmy. "What goes?" he said after the closing show. "Are we getting hot?" In Toronto the band did dynamic business. And back in the Sixth avenue offices of Tom Rockwell in New York, the word went out that here was a hell of a note: Dorsey pulling a Miller and be-coming the hottest thing in the business, and after all these years! Rockwell's staff talked with Bill Burton, Jimmy's jittery, quick-acting, profane but always-gets-the-job-done personal manager. Fast Talk on the 'Phone

Nat Lebov-sky's trombone and Jimmy Camp-bell's trumpet have helped put the brass in its exciting, precise place. Bob Eberly is singing as never be-fore, Helen O'Connell doesn't miss when she starts selling her vocals, and the rhythm section is coming around. The sazes always were wonderful. Jimmy himself still doesn't mug much but he doesn't have to--not with his alto, his clat-inet, his Eberly-O'Connell combi-nation, his sidemen, and his man-ager. Everyone's on the gravy train and the fruit is finally falling in the right direction. Where's a Sponeor? in the right direction. Where's a Sponsor?

The entire band and all our ar-magements are built around our raythm section, which has steadily developed into a solid unit with a strong beat and lots of kick. Wayne Herdell on piano is an acceptional rhythm man and bril-liant on his choruses, which are strongly influenced by Hines and always in very good taste. His arrangements are deserving of opecial mention for their original-ity and drive. I consider him to be one of the most outstanding oung musicians of the day. Har-will hahn, drums, is the youngster of the band, and his beat is steady and consistent. Combined with this is his display of good judgment, which in itself is akin to being a witue. John Jordan, guitar, and Walter Sherman, bass, complete the thythm section and both work a top beat and a nice blend. As you may have guessed, I like the thythm section.

BY CHARLIE EMGE Los Angeles — Alfred Laurents, 1, an unfortunate violinist who came here from Texas and resorted to street fiddling to raise money to aid himself and his sick wife, is a free man again after serving three days of a 60-day sentence handed to him by Judge Byron J. Walters for violating a city ordi-nance.

Walters for violating a city ordi-mate. The case aroused a storm of pub-ficials, recalling that this is elec-tion year, made haste to look into the matter. Laurents was given an unconditional parole on an order signed by District Attorney Buron Fitts, County Sheriff Gene Bis-calluz, and Chief of Police Arthur Hohmann. The mayor was out of town on a vecatio. Following his arrest Laurents was released on $5 bail. He says the pleaded guilty expecting little more than a warning. Here are Mr. and Mrs. Toots Camarata, sunning on the beach at Cedar Point, O. Toots is Down Beel's current "Man Behind the Band" for his work with Jimmy Dorsey.

Camarata entered the famous Juil-lard school where he started study-ing in earnest for a career as an arranger. And on the side, he studied under the late Max Schloss-berger and Harry Glantz, the trumpet expert.

Played with Norvo, Barnet Jobs with Frank Dailey, Charlie Farnet, Red Norvo and Joe Venuti followed. And in 1935 Toots joined Jimmy Dorsey on lead trumpet. For two years he held down the chair, doing the Kraft show on the coast with Bing Crosby among others, then in 1937, his arranging alents in full blossom, he was forced to stop blowing a horn and grend his full time arranging for Dorsey. Nearly three years ago, in Chicago, he married a pretty, dark-cyed California girl, Dorene O'-Dette, who still outswims him when they can find time to hit the water. Remember Dizieland Detour? That was a Camarata job. So were Siz Lessons from Madame La-Zonga and The Breeze and I, the two biggest hits Jimmy Dorsey has had to date. Toots arranged hem both and ironically enough, doesn't think they are his best. Played with Norvo, Barnet them both and ironically enough, doen't think they are his best. Very Sincere About Music The Dorsey version of My Proyer, which featured Bob Eberly's fine singing and flute by Charlie Frazier, also was Toots' work. And so were Pagan Love Song, I Got Rhythm, Hep Tee Hotie and Bugle Call Rag. Fact is, there are so many Camarata dean't recall them all. Toots is an unusual young fellow. Broad-shouldered, brown-ing The Broad-shouldered, brown-ing the is serious about music jaz music if you please. He hates to read about musicians using "tea" and all the other un-favorable reports that get out, oc-sionally, about the profession. He goes out of his way to assist id musicians. His sincerity is so boticus it is the first thing one. Net Werona, N. J., "Toots told a Down Beat man recently. "If any young musicians need a little ad-problem, I'll do my beat to answer those who send questions please phones who send questions please phones who send questions please phones the single query and the can.

The Talent Exchange Club of Champaign, Ill., one of Down Bret's classified advertisers, says, "Through our little ad, we acquired members from British Columbia to Buenos Aires, Argentina. So you see the Down Best does get around."

HIS Dallapé-AND HIS ORCHESTRA

JERRY SHELTON, foremost accordion stylist, is no stranger to the music world. He has made a truly great name for himself and his Dallape on the concert stage, in the dance field, on the air and as musical director for Veloz and Yolanda. Now, after a successful European tour, he has made his debut as leader of his own orchestra in Chicago's Pump Room in the swank Ambassador East Hotel. As might be expected of an artist like Shelton, the dance music of his unique band features the Dallape with its exclusive Organtone voicing and smooth, liquid tone guality. It "fits in" beautifully with the Shelton modern arrangements of the classics, too, which have all Chicago talking.

Tune in at twelve, midnight, WMAQ and NHC network. Hear music in the modern mood as in-terpreted by Jerry Shelton, his orches-Shelton, his orches-tra and his Dallape.

EDITORIAL

BY BOB CHESTER In the past year a general clean-up campaign has started in various cities in the United States. I believe it is high time musicians started action to eliminate some of the fantastic ideas certain people have circulated about the field That's why I'm writing this article, and in so doing, I know I'm expressing the sentiments of many a musician. magazine's inception, and many much-needed adjustments have been achieved through its efforts.

Now it seems that the combined forces of music men and Down Beat have another battle to fight. This time it is more malicious than any other present element. We are fighting something we can't see, something we know little about, something which few of us are guilty of.

Clean-Up Campaign"

We are being accused of being drunkards, dope-fiends and worse. Yet we have no idea what possesses people to create such obvious lies. Lionel Hampton certainly hit the nail on

Let's look at the question logically for a moment. We mu-sicians love our work. We love it to such an extent that many of us are willing to sacrifice our health. We are taxing our strength beyond the normal limit. We work half the day and

That Gossip Really Hurts! rumor says that it's to take the cure, or to rid our bodies of dope. I ask you, is that fair? There have been musicians who have drunk themselves to death. There are some on their way today. There are prob-ably some taking the weed, but you can find that in any business. Why pick on musicians?

Have you ever noticed the number of young men there are in today's bands, ever noticed the number of young men there are in today's bands, ever noticed the number of young leaders? Half of them don't know what the hell you're talking about when they are accused of being weed-hounds. They may laugh, but deep down inside I know it hurts them to be thought of in that light. All a musician asks is a fair break. We have enough real problems to contend with without fighting something we don't know anything about. Come on musicians, how about a little united action in showing the public that musicians are pretty normal guys after all?

him busy un-til he started piano. That gave way to trumpet, but the day he got the horn he found it didn't "sound so good" so he traded it for an alto sux. Bubber Miley got him his first job. Jobs with Charley Johnson, Duke Elling-ton and Horace Henderson, at Wilberforce University, followed. Benny took over the Henderson band in New York, but gave it up to join Fletcher Henderson. A shurt spell with Chick Webh and a year with McKinney's Cot on Pickers led to his own band To the Editors: A recent Down Beat stated that Sleepy Hall invented the electric banjo and "just brought it out re-cently." I personally jammed with Joe Wolverton, formerly of NBC, when he played electric banjo al-most three years ago! That is what I know. Here is what I think: think: I don't blame you guys for not giving any space to steel "Ha-waiian" guitar; it is definitely a bastard instrument and the Cob of all com. But! I happen to guitar, and do my utmost to play modern, even if it isn't good. Due to that fact I'm strolling in a joint for beans and a bed for my wife and offspring. Understand I'm not griping, be-cause I'm happy. Happy because very musician who comes in the joint pays me a fine compliment. A few local leaders have even of these told me didn't hire me because I couldn't read. That's a lot of R. S. I read as good as any of them. The real reason they turned me down is because I can't play the kind of crap they expect or a steel guitar, and I wouldn't play the kind of crap they expect or a steel guitar, and I wouldn't play it if I could. I have put in four years of hard work trying to create a style of modern steel guitar. The only way I can back this up is to have one of your up to join Fletcher Henderson. A short spell with Chick Webb and a year with McKinney's Cot-ton Pickers led to his own band again in 1933. Two years later he went to Europe, stayed three years arranging for BBC and leading his own band, and re-turned in May, 1938, to the States. Meanwhile Benny had been making many famous hot records, playing both alto and trumpet, which he had mered all over again. Carter's arranging talent also had been devloped by now, so once again day, one of the best of the alto naxista, and widely respected as a trumpeter and arranger. Carter is stuggling with his band. Be-cause of his superb musician-ship, his personality and his de-votion to the real jazz music, Down Beat names Benny Carter for ite "Immortals" bonor.

Cincinnati, To the Editors: Is there such a thing as ethics left in the music business? Do all leaders grant girl vocalists leaves of absence because of illness, then fire them when they are flat on their backs. Doesn't an agreement mean anything to these leaders? Do they all publicize the new girl before the old one knows she's been fired? Is this the code of the music business or have I been just an isolated victim? I am writing this from my sick bed, where four days ago I received, indirectly, the shocking news that I had been replaced. Let this be a warning to girl singers. Demand a written con-tract when you go to work for any band. Verbal understandings are worthless, I've learned, and it's taken me four years to find out. BARBARA MOFFETT A 'Bad Bringdown' Detroit. To the Editors: I plays ax and gob-stick and am conscientiously interested in listen-ing to style sax men of farflung fame. There should be no doubt in any musician's "Body and Soul" that Coleman Hawkins is by far the most gifted exponent of ex-pressing beauty and technique on the saxophone. I know there are other musicians who have their "ricky-tick" to "righteous dig." But I wanted to ask fellow mu-sicians' opinions of Charlie Barnet. With all my heart I believe he plays a marvelous horn and the band really sends me. But I want to inquire why such a man of such fine musicianship should act like a small time jerk in front of his band. I gladly rushed pell mell out to the ballroom here where he played, and gladly paid my half buck admission. But I tell yoo, brother horn blowers, this man d the hour might as well have been a cigar store Indian. Barnet re-fused to sign autographs (a silly bright and far "solid guy." BY BARRELHOUSE DAN Best blues Count Basie has re-corded since he jumped the Decca label pope up this week under the title You Can't Run Around (Okeh 5690) which allows plenty of space for Jimmy Rushing's vocal, the leader's soft piano, and a full Tab Smith chorus on alto. Reverse, a Jimmy Mundy special tagged Super Chief, is just a series of riffs with Buddy Tate's tenor prominent. The Count has done better, but his disadvantage is that he already has set a tremendous Simith chorus on alto. Listed in the current Colum-bia releases is a side (No. 35594) titled Nostalgis played by Benny Goodman's orchestra. the closest thing to Venuti yet re-corded, despite a stodgy arrange-ment and an awkward rhythm sec-tion. Django's guitar is on the beam, on both sides. Followers of both Grappelly and Reinhardt can't miss on these. And there are no Jerry Mengo vocals to spoil things. no Jer things.

Cab Calloway

On With of a Chance" & ne On," Okeh 5687.

The Came On," Oach 3637. Nice of Cab to give Chu Berry a whole side to demonstrate his ability on tenor. Ghost is all Chu, and wonderful Chu, but sounding in spots like he has been influenced considerably by Hawkins of late. There's also more Berry on the "B" side, plus a few bars of Dizzy Gillespie trumpet, a full Calloway vocal, unfortunately, and nice clarinet bits. Note Cosy Cole's hide thumping—solid all the way but in good taste. Except for Cab, some nice jazz here.

Duke Ellington

"Harlem Air-Shaft" & "Sepia Pano Victor 26731.

View 26731. Barney Bigard hogs the first, neatly. But the better performance is Panorama which shows off some of the weirdest sax figures ever played, plus a batch of miraevor James Blanton bassing and a short, ultra-delicate Ben Webster tenor bit. The Duke's band is at its peak now. Never has it recorded so well as on its recent Victor sides.

Red Nichols

"Beat Me Daddy" & "Lowland Blues," Okeh 5676. Harry Jaeger's "kick" singing and Bill Maxted's boogie piano shine on Daddy, although the per-formance as a whole is inferior to the original Will Bradley waxing. Reverse side is a commercial blues taken at too-fast tempo. Jaeger again sings. On the whole, how-ever, encouraging, coming from Nichola. Nichola

Fats Waller

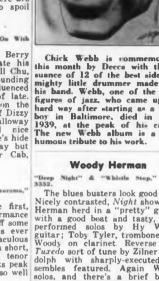

"Il Never Smile Again" & "Stayin' at ome," BBird 10811.

Home," Blard 10011. Waller's subtle satire is a mar-velous tonic. Playing straight, with his tongue in his cheek, he knocks out Smile Again in wonderfully humorous fashion, and at the same time, plays beautiful piano. Coupling is an original which doesn't mean much either way, aside from the piano.

Andrews Sisters

the Road" & "Ferryboat Serenade," 33281 "Oh He Loves Me" & "I Want Iama," Brees 3310.

Wy Mama," Bases 3310. First tune is a play on current Broadway smart-talk, and even with the band boys helping, the girls' close harmony doesn't add up to much. Other three are almost all alike, in the same Andrews groove. Maybe Vic Schoen's ar-rangements for the kids are be-coming stale. Schoen, with a pick-up outfit, does a competent accom-panying job here.

Chick Webb is commemorated this month by Decca with the is-suance of 12 of the best sides the mighty little drummer made with his band. Webb, one of the great figures of jazz, who came up the hard way after starting as a news-boy in Baltimore, died in June, 1939, at the peak of his career. The new Webb album is a post-humous tribute to his work.

The Crosby and Chick Webb al-bums this month are just a portion of what Jack Kapp's firm is accom-plishing. This collection of Webb masterpieces, selected by George Simon, gives one a well-rounded view of the great little hunchback's crew when it was at its peak. Ella Fitzgerald and Taft Jordan are most prominently featured, but there are solos and arrangements by most everyone ever connected with Chick's aggregation before its leader died just 15 months ago. Best of the batch: Don't Be That Way, and Sunny Side of the Street. Best Ella: A Little Bit Later On.

An excellent record—for sailing out the window. Goodnight, Mother out the window, Goodmight, Mother is the most asinine, insincere and out-and-out phoney tune recorded in all the years that this corres-pondent has been spinning a turn-table. In the same class with Gray Gordon's horrible I Am an Ameri-cam, the idea behind the song con-cerns a boy who won't go overseas can, the idea benind the song con-cerns a bey who won't go overseas to fight. Harry Cool does the vocal, a black mark against a young guy who up until now has distinguished himself by clean-cut, legit singing. A stinkeroo of the first water.

Reverse is a well-played com-mercial pop, a juke-box natural Cool's vocal is as good as his Mother vocal is lousy.

Hodes' brief planstics are note-worthy, also. The disc peddles for a buck. An enterprise like this de-serves support.

Mildred Bailey

Charlie Barnet

Soulful Barnet tenor, for a change, and striking sax ensemble work add up to top drawer stuff on Valley. The band has seldom played more moody, sincere jazz. "B" side also is slow and weird, with a clammy atmosphere. Not as outstanding as Valley and strictly for the Barnet followers.

Not so inspiring as Paul Robeson's ver-sion, Crosby's offering is never-theless better recorded and far more suitable for the ears of most Americans. Musicians should hear Ballad for Americans if for no other reason than because it has become the most significant offer-ing of the year. Crosby hits a new dramatic high with this release.

Published by Remick, ar. by Jack Mason. With an editorial deadline two weeks before date of publication we don't often get a chance to make long range predictions, but we'll stick our neck out with this baby. Fio Rito's and Howard's latest, and say that it's a cinch for 1, 2, or 3 position on the sheet by the middle of September. This is a gorgeous melody capably arranged as usual, by Mason. Tenor gets a sweet sole in the special backed up by flowing ensemble figures and the last chorum is grooved nicely. by Romich, are. by Jack Ma

Fifteen Minute Intermission Published by American Academy, arr. hy Don Redman.

Tuezdo Junction seemed to be the signal for the release of a mess of these descriptive hot tunes. American Academy has published some good ones, not the least of which is Fifteen Minute — a lot of arrangement but not too much time. Brass and saxes each fill in where the other leaves off with converse melodies in the first chorus. After a rather trite 4-bar phrase at B the saxes have it at C followed by get off tenor. G is really powerhouse and precedes an 8-bar coda which should die away to almost nothing for the finale. Tuezdo Junction seemed to be

Two Steps Down Pablished by Doraine, arr. by Jimmy Date. This is one of those jitterbug tunes with an abundance of "hoi hois," etc. etc. But it's good stuff for the band with novelty ideas and a scat singer. Dale fol-lows conventional stock arranging methods and throws his special sax chorus into 4 sharps for alto with the laconic instruction "bite." Good swing on last chorus.

The First Part of Hawk's Masterpiece

Shown above are 32 measures of what many musicians believe to be the greatest record Coleman Hawkins ever made. Space limitations made it necessary that Down Beat publish the second full choras in a later issue. But for all who admire Hawk's style—and his masterful improvising—the music above will serve the purpose. The tune should be easily recognizable after the first four bars. Watch for the second chorus in Down Beat — it is even better. Copied by Hoyt Jones.

Tom Herrick's orchestration re-view is fast becoming the guide to leaders who want to keep their libraries up to date with the best tunes. The review is a feature of every issue of Down Beat.

The most effective job of local promotion to come to the attention of this department in many moons is that of the George Barton Jr. band in Minnespolis. They're having a city pageant up there that they call be "Aquatennial." So one of Barton's ideas was to compose and feature the official song of the Aquatennial, which he named Aquatennial Swing.

Showmanship plays a big part in the success or failure of any dance from the value of the music.

Many leaders don't realize it. Some overlook it. But Glenn Mil-er is the first leader since Fred Waring blossomed out a decade ago to really take advantage of showmanship and milk it for all it's worth.

Purtill, according to members of the band, was plain "pitiful" at first but within six weeks had improved so sensationally that Miller kept him perma-nently. Today "Moe," as the band calls him, is rated one of the outstanding drummers in the business. His willingness to take advice, and his after-hour practice, on his own time, are credited with making him the guiding light of Miller's rhythm section.

from the value of the music. On a theater stage the Miller band uses lights to wonderful ad-vantage. Currently, the tune Danny Boy gives the band tre-mendous opportunity to spot the sections, and also the leader play-ing solo. Miller also uses a huge, well-lighted moon as a backdrop when the boys go into Sunriss Serenade. As the music is heard, the moon starts climbing. As the number is concluded the sky is light. "No Jealousy in Our Outfit"

BY HAL MEINTYRE thend Alte in the Miller B

The morale in the Glenn Miller band is plenty high, believe me. And the credit for that belongs that strict. But the attitude is what counts, the way in which he gives orders, advice, instruction. Glenn doesn't say very much. He's not a windbag. But when he does say something, we know he means it. People who say Glenn is a slave-driver are crazy. He's the kind of a guy who can work you hard, demanding perfection, and keep you with him heart and soul all the way. And that's leader-ship.

And the credit for that belongs mainly to Glenn. You won't find little cliques, petty jealousies, and ''leader'' gripes in our band. In the first place we are grid as hell to be working for Glenn. We re-respect his mu-micianship, his micianship, his micianship, his to survive even in the face of way he runs rehearsals. He can bring you down with a few well-chosen words if he has to — he's clicking together.

Because of the previously men-tioned occasional stammering, because of the previously methods tioned oc casional stammering, Chummy has been made a victim of one of the favorite stories among musicians. According to the story when MacGregor and Rube Bloom, who also stammers, met for the first time, each thought the other was putting on an act and a fight was nar-rowly averted. Asked about the truth of the yarn, Chummy re-plied, "Rubie and I have always been good friends, even though we do needle each other a lot. It's probably a shame to spoil such a

There at the age of 10 he started the study of piano—first from his older sister, then from local teachers. Later his family moved to Ann Arbor where he finished high school and attended the Uni-versity of Michigan. Always in-sical courses were included. Dorseys Get Him a Job His first interest in dance work came through association with Phil Diamond, who is now a professor at the University of Michigan, but at that time played piano with one of the campus bands. Once really interested and with some help from Diamond, Chummy developed into a "hot" man in a hurry and found plenty of work around the campus. He made frequent trips to Detroit to hear the famous Jean Goldkette ork, and became acquainted with Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, then members of that band. After hear-ing Chummy take off during a ses-sion, the Dorsey Brothers went to overk on Goldkette and soon had Chummy sitting in permanently in one of his bands. That was in 1925. About a year later Tommy or-ganized a band for an engregement the Renderous Cafe in Chicago from New Orleans, played guitar and drums. Jimmy Dorsey joined them a few weeks later. This group worked several other jobs before going into New York. There they were unable to secure work as a unit and scattered, Chummy catch-

The real story of how Glenn Miller worked out his famous voicing of reeds, with a clarinet on top of two altos and two tenors, has never before been told. So here it is: It was when Miller was playing with Ray Noble at the Rainbow Room in New York in 1936. At a rehearsal when the band was running through a Miller arrangement, Pee-Wee Irwin, hot trumpet-er, left the room. So Miller gave the part to Johnny Mince, playing clarinet. Instead of the trumpet on top of the saxes Mince took it on clarinet. No one thought much about it at the time except Glenn, who returned the part to Irwin when he got back. "But I thought at the time it sounded sort of different, and really god," Miller recalls. "So when I finally got my band started later on I started writing with the clarinet-atop-saxes idea in mind." The rest is history. And now Miller has so many imitators he's lost track of 'em all. But Bob Chester still remains, as far as a reed section goes, the best aper of them all.

Records of the Victor-Bluebird waxworks show that Miller's "jump" side of In the Mood, the Joe Garland composition, was the biggest seller on the entire Blue-bird list in 1939. And it's still sell-ing. Second on the list was Miller" version of Sunrise Serenade, which had as a backing the Miller theme, Moonlight Serenade. After Sunrise began to slump, the public began to get on the Miller bandwagon in earnest, so the record took another spurt as a result of the demand for the band's theme. According to Glenn, the next eight biggest sell-ers on the Bluebird list were by the Miller band-making it the biggest sweep in dance band his-tory. Others on the Bluebird list, with whom Miller competed, include the bands of Shep Fields. Erskine Hawkins, Coleman Hawkina, Red Nichols (now on Victor), Bob Ches-ter, Ozie Nelson, Dinah Shore, Dick Todd, Wingy Manone, Earl Hines, Blue Barron, Charlie Bar-net, Fats Waller, Gray Gordon, Les Brown and many others.

Dorsey Goes For It Tommy took a look. It was Lonesome Road. Tommy liked it. Later he made it famous with a Victor waxing. But Tommy's staff was full so he got hold of Miller. Giving Finegan a big buildup on the strength of Lonesome Road, Tommy fixed it up for an audition. Miller looked at Bill's stuff and took him on as full-time arranger. Bill also has done Rug Cutter's Swing and a mess of other jazz tunes for Miller, as well as many pops. He doesn't touch his horn anymore. "No time," he says. Jerry Gray a Hard Worker

William (Bill) Finegan, only 22. has never worked for any other band. A trumpet player since he was 10, Bill started studying harmony in high school at Rumson, N. J. A little over a year ago he sum-moned all his courage, drew in his breath, and walked up to Tommy Dorsey. "I've got an arrangement I'd ifke you to look over," said Bill. way. Those five saxes were attract-ing a lot of attention. Miller's scheme of playing the lead clari-net (Willie Schwartz) on top of two tenors and two altos was becoming an identifying measure — it meant Miller and only Miller, although in the last year several other name and semi-name outfits have tried to out-do Miller on his own device! But unsuccessfully. Just as Glenn predicted (not publicly, but to himself) the Glen Island date really sent the band to the top. A radio commercial followed. It pays him nearly $5,000 a week. He asks and gets a $1,500 guarantee with a percentage option on every one-nightor he plays. And the Hotel Pennsylvania will pay the band about $3,000 a week when it opens there next month for the winter.

Two Reasons for Success

Two Reasons for Success Glenn, after learning about mu-sicians the hard way — which cost him a lot of money and even more heartaches — attributes his success as n leader to (1) the spirit within the band. Mostly kids, they owe much of their knowledge of dance music to Glenn. Each puts the band first. When a man isn't whole-heartedly, 100 per cent for the

It was smart think-ing and the will to unmount to some-thing which made Glenn Miller the most popular leader in the business. His story is a lesson to all young musicians.

New York — The ranks of the racket's benedicts were joined a month ago by genial Ira Steiner, who married Ruth Rome here. Ira, of course, is known for his press agentry on behalf of Benny Good-man, Woody Herman, Will Brad-ley and the Andrews sisters.

NEWS

Plenty of Bull was mixed with Martha Raye's bull-fiddling last month in Chicago as Raymond Scott (center) and his bassist, potbellied, jovial Chubby Jackson, met with La Raye between sets at the Sherman Panther Room. Martha currently is starring in the Jolson musicomedy Hold On to Your Hats but every night, after the curtain, she finds time to sneak out and dig the better jazz in whatever city she's playing. Scott is now touring with his band after doing terrific at the Sherman. Photo by Ray Rising.

"You Ain't Hodges," Joe Louis tells the Duke of Ellington as Edward Kennedy messes with Johnny's soprano. Ellington and band are getting 12 airshots a week at the Sherman Hotel in Chicago, where Ray Rising snapped this shot.

No Illusion at all. it's only Big Mike Vetrano. former wrestler, rubber-downer and health kick authority, showing off at Hotel New Yorker where Woody Herman's band is safely encorced until mid-October. Vetrano is manager of the Herman herd and a poor guy to pick a fight with. Woody and his herd take to the road next month, playing Chicago's Oriental Theater the week of Nov. 11.

How to Get Kicks ... Garson Kanin, now a noted motion pic director for RKO, broke into show business many years ago tooting a sax. He played panics in New York's Catakills for years until he hit his right groove in Hollywood. Kanin is shown doing what he likes to do most—jam by himself between takes. Kanin's name has been linked with Katherine Hepburn's in recent goasip columna.
