BANDS JUMP DESPITE DRAFT

Shaw Replaced By Donahue As Ranger Leader

Dave Tough Out As Tubman With Navy Jump Crew

New York—Sam Donahue, former tenor playing leader who has been in the navy for over a year, has taken over Artie Shaw's place as leader of the Rangers' band, which recently returned from a tour of South Pacific bases. Shaw is rumored to be in west coast naval hospital undergoing treatment, and will probably be given a medical discharge.

Dick Jones will assume post of manager and chief arranger of the Ranger crew. The band will leave for Washington, D.C., soon, and is anticipating a tour of European and North African bases in the future. Dave Tough will receive a medical discharge and looks set to join Tommy Dorsey, who has already been making offers. New tubman has not yet been named, but it will be Ralph Collier, ex-BG Aldebeater, as first reported. Rumor is that it may be Maurice "Mac" Purtill, who is being drafted now.

Jack Jenney In Navy Hospital

Los Angeles—Jack Jenney received the news of his winning a place in the trombone section of Down Beat's 1943 All Star poll in the Navy hospital at San Diego. Jenney was stricken with a fever shortly after he entered the service two months ago.

His wife, who resides with her mother here, reports that the Alhambra star is making satisfactory progress and expects to be out of the hospital soon. She reports that he would like to hear from his friends and can be addressed: Petty Officer, third class, Truman Elliot, (Jack Jenney), A.F. Co. 43-541, U. S. Naval Training Station, San Diego.

BLUE NOTES

By ROD REED

Jazz has invaded the Metropolitan Opera house, but there's little foundation for the rumor that the house has booked Lily Pons.

With his second marriage on the rocks, Dave Rose isn't expected to present anyone with a wedding band any time soon. Composition: Holiday for Kings.

A Labor Draft wouldn't be too helpful for members of the noisier bands. They'd find life in a boiler room peaceful and quiet.

Man for short story: Bandleader visits psychiatrist. Bandleader gives psychiatrist the key. Psychiatrist visits psychiatrist.

New rule over at Variety: Mr. Basie will henceforth be referred to as "Mr. Basie."

Jazz Honors

New York—Lovely Carol Bruce graciously did the honors when their Down Beat band poll trophies were presented to Eddie Condon, guitarist, and Pee Wee Russell, clarinetist, at a recent Town Hall jazz concert. Here she is with Pee Wee.

Freddie Slack Out of Navy

Los Angeles—Freddie Slack is out of the navy with a medical discharge and is making plans to reorganize his band. Prior to his brief period of military service Slack was working in a war plant here and playing only studio dates. However, now that he is assured of civilian status, he will resume his musical career on a full-time basis. Whether he would re-organize here or in the east, where the William Morris office has several weeks of theaters and two location spots available for him, will depend on the outcome of picture deals now on the fire here.

Service Ork to Emulate Fields

New York—Imitation implies success, they say, so bandleader Shep Fields can start looking smug. Oddly enough, the first band to copy the Fields' all-reed orch style is not a civilian one but a Coast Guard unit fronted by former civvie name leader, Dick Stable.

Stable, in charge of music here for the Coast Guard, is planning a band exactly like Fields' and has even borrowed arrangements from Shep with which to get started. The new Stable reed outfit will make its bid over local station WNEW with a Sunday show aired from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. (EWT).

Kitty Kallen As Crosby's Chirp

New York—Kitty Kallen is Bing Crosby's new dueter on the Music Hall program, replacing Trudy Erwin. Cutting out from Jimmy Dorsey's band here after closing the Roxy, the pert vocalist scurried to the west coast for a bit of rehearsing with Bing before debuting on the Music Hall. She had been with the Dorsey band for a year. Crosby's show is heard Thursdays at 9 p.m. (EWT) over NBC.

Proposed Labor Law May Limit Orks' Schedule

National Service Act Might Force Sidemen to Double

New York—Congressional debate on President Roosevelt's proposed National Service Act is being followed closely by musicians. Music has never been declared positively either essential or non-essential. Its value as a morale-builder was recognized by high army and navy officials. But as one spokesman of the music industry put it, "Let's not kid ourselves. When you get right down to it, who's more important in the war effort—a riveter who makes airplanes or a trombonist who makes dance music?"

Many sidemen assume that if a labor draft law is enacted, music will be required to furnish its quota of factory workers, ship-builders and farm hands. The leader with an all 4-F band will be no more secure than the maestro who's waving his stick at 14 pieces of army bait. Even all-girl orchestras such as those of Phil Spitalny and D'Artega will not be certain of retaining their current personnel—proposed labor draft laws would call for women workers as well as men.

Preview of what might happen to orchestras if a service act is passed happened to the Korn Kobblers here. The unit, formerly on a six day week, pared their playing to Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays to obtain time for defense work. Stan Fritz, trombonist, puts in a full week with an engineering company in Plainfield, N. J. Charley Koenig, bass, is working as a farmer at Roslyn, L. I. Other members of the combo are, or have been, in war work, devoting only their weekends to their wacky music.

A labor draft might reduce all bands to playing only two or three days a week.

Leaves BG

New York—Carol Kaye, who once sang with the Herman Herd and was featured with Benny Goodman at the New Yorker and in eastern theaters, left BG in Pittsburgh when he and the band took off for the west coast and returned to Manhattan. She is not under contract to anyone at present.

Mary Doubles

New York—Mary Small, once a child singing star, but now Mrs. Vic Mizzi, is doubling these days from a Broadway hit show to her own radio program. Hubby, a seaman first class, is busy, too. He wrote Take It Easy, featured tune in MGM's Two Sisters and a Sailor.

Leader's Wife Asks Divorce

Los Angeles—Edna Chester, wife of Bob Chester, has filed suit against the band leader here asking that she be granted a "reasonable sum" for purpose of separate maintenance. She stated in her suit that Chester had an income of $8,000 per month.

Mrs. Chester is a former dancer. The Chesters were married Oct. 15, 1939, separated New Year's Day of this year.

J. Dorsey Nabs Messner Chirp

New York—Vocalist Gladys Tell is the girl who takes over for Kitty Kallen in the Jimmy Dorsey band. Working with Johnny Messner's band at the Hotel McAlpin here, JD management caught her singing and signed her to take over a spot that could easily be a short cut to fame and fortune. Both her predecessors enjoyed unusual popularity, due, in part, to the excellent build-up and support that Jimmy furnishes his vocalists.

Gillespie Heads Groovy Combo

Ink Spots Bary In Service Band

Camp Shanks, N. Y.—Charlie Fuqua, original guitar man and baritone with the Ink Spots, is playing with a station band here.

Name Orks Still Send Although Key Men Leave

Charlie Barnet's New Versatile Crew Bids For First Position

By Frank Stacy

New York—During a recent dance date, Hal McIntyre told the audience that the draft had riddled his band. Presumably the speech was made to forestall criticism. While Tommy Dorsey was at the Paramount Theater here, his sole supply of questionable humor consisted of "4-F" gags about his musicians. Most bandleaders these days are moaning about the poor performances of their bands, yet, just as in peace time, there are still good, fair and poor bands.

Below is a round-up review of seven orchestras heard in New York at press time. If you like to do your own reviewing, attached to this article are the advance bookings of the bands discussed, (Modulate to Page 3)

Auld Ork Into Top NYC Spot

New York—Tenorman George Auld gets a second chance to show his new band here when he opens a six weeker at the Hotel Commodore February 3, replacing Eric Madriguera. The Auld crew is closely watched by the William Morris office and the music trade because of excellent reports sighting back to the Main Stem. Vaughn Monroe, who recently reorganized his band, will follow Auld.

Hub City Fire Hero Returns

New York—Mickey Alpert, leader of the band at Boston's ill-fated Coconut Grove and hero during the tragic fire there, returned to Broadway, leading his own band at the Belmont Plaza hotel. He has a shockful of grey hair, a grim souvenir of the holocaust.

Woody Herman On the Cover

The hoodman of the Herd not only has one of the best bands in the business (rated fourth swing band in the last Beat poll), but he is one of the greatest individual showmen among the current crop of leaders. Woody cut eight sides for Decca before jumping to Hollywood with his boys to make Sensations of 1944 for Andrew Stone. This interesting cover shot of the clarinetist-maestro was made by Jules Appelbaum.

Life on the Swing Shift with Alvino Rey and Louise King

It's midnight and lovely Louise King is giving hubby Alvino Rey his lunch as he takes off for the Vega aircraft plant, where he works from 1 a.m. to 8 a.m.

Here's the guitarist-band leader checking the radio equipment in a Flying Fortress. Radio always has been a hobby with Alvino. He's expert.

Having climbed into bed when most of us are getting up (or thinking about it), it's now afternoon and his pretty wife arouses him.

Despite a double schedule, Alvino and Louise find time for a little victory work in the garden of their home in Encino. Nice crop, eh?

Back to the business of leading a band, Alvino is shown on the job at the Casa Manana, where he plays three nights a week, in addition to miscellaneous dates.

Disc Chief Nixes Voice's Ten Grand Yule Greeting

Philadelphia—The Voice also has a big Heart, which hasn't received quite as much publicity as his tremolo. Duly appreciative of the noble effort of Manie Sacks, Columbia recording exec, Frank Sinatra deposited a check of $10,000 for Sacks with the Christmas greeting tagline at the New York City bank, which holds the waxwork's cabbage.

Sacks didn't learn of the generous gift until he attempted to open a bank account there, and was informed that $10,000 already had been placed in his account. It is understood that Sinatra made Sacks a fine proposition to leave Columbia and become his personal manager, but Sacks nixed the deal.

In spite of advice from friends that he accept the moola in view of the fine buildup he had given the Voice, Manie is still holding to his guns and giving the ten grand the go-by. Sacks played a major part in the swoon crooner's rise to stardom, and the two have always been great friends.

Como Vocals For NYC Club

New York—Perry Como returns to the night club field for a second time Feb. 3 with a date at the Versailles Club here. Como's first club date was an appearance at the Copacabana here a few months ago. He can be heard on the air currently over CBS at 7:15 p.m. (EWT) Sundays.

Miller Singers Add T. Morgan

New York—Tommy Morgan, ex-Glen Gray vocalist, is singing with the Glenn Miller singers. Morgan replaced Aviation Cadet Bill Green. The group, having completed a theater tour, is currently in Manhattan doing radio guest shots and angling for record dates.

Band Fronted By Lee Castle

New York—Lee Castle is again fronting his own band. The ex-BG trumpeter returned to town a few weeks ago after a slight altercation with Goodman and started laying plans for an outfit of his own. Band is the conventional 14 pieces with a gal singer.

Booked through GAC, the band is set to open at the Pelham Heath Inn here, replacing Henry Jerome. This stick-waving venture isn't Castle's first try; once before, in 1942, he picked up a baton, only to lay it down again because of an expected call to army duty.

Five Years Ago This Month

February, 1939

Tommy Dorsey's Clambake Seven played for the monkeys in the zoo at Philadelphia as an experiment. The gorilla didn't like it . . . The Golden Gate Exposition opened in San Francisco with the bands of Gus Arnheim, John Scott Trotter and Ray Noble . . . Rockwell-O'Keefe organization changed its name to General Amusement Corporation.

Jimmy Petrillo hosted 50,000 jitterbugs at the Chicago stadium, with dancing to the music of 20 bands, including Paul Whiteman, Bob Crosby, Ina Ray Hutton, Fletcher Henderson, Wayne King and Orrin Tucker . . . Herschel Evans, tenor saxman with Count Basie, died on February 16 in New York . . . Meredith Blake was singing with Jack Teagarden.

Harry James' new band made its debut at the Benjamin Franklin hotel in Philadelphia, following Red Norvo . . . The Drake, Palmer House and Blackstone hotels in Chicago followed the lead of the Edgewater Beach in restoring remote radio broadcasts . . . AFM executive board ruled that Paul Whiteman owed Consolidated Radio Artists $14,000 in back commissions.

Helen O'Connell joined the Jimmy Dorsey band at the Hotel New Yorker on February 20, replacing Ella Mae Morse . . . Charlie Agnew, with Velma Raye chirping, was held over at the Merry Garden ballroom in Chicago . . . Ted Straeter made his bow as a batonator at the Monte Carlo in Manhattan . . . And Hazel Scott, 18, was fronting an all-male band, singing pops in seven languages and playing a fair trumpet.

Jack, It Is Now Luigi and Serge

New York—It's Luigi Armstrong and Serge Catlett from now on in. Fred Robbins, WHN disc-spinner here, suggests that if jazzmen are going to invade the Metropolitan Opera House, the last stronghold of the long-hairs, as they did in the recent Esquire sponsored jazz concert, the least that the jazzsters could do would be to adopt suitable names. Here's the rest of the list, all of which have real operatic counterparts:

- Carl Maria Von Hawkins
- Giacomo Teagarden
- Theodorus Wilson
- Rudolph Norvo
- Lionel Hampton
- Ottorino Pettiford
- Bruno Elgard
- Benjamin Goodman
- Alberto Casey
- Ruggiero Eldridge
- Arturo Tatum
- Billie Sykes Holider
- Militta Bailey

Do Jazzsters Make Other Final Wishes?

New Orleans—Somebody on the Associated Press desk here must be kidding. Jazz lovers all over the country picked up their morning papers recently to read an account of the death of Sam Sparks, described by the AP as a "71-year-old Negro of Gretna." According to the AP, Sam had only one big ambition. He wanted to be buried to the tune of two bands.

Sam was a member of the Wolves Aid and Pleasure Club, according to the story, and always walked in front of the band at funerals. The AP quoted him: "What I wants when I die, white folks, is to be the onliest Negro in Gretna ever to be buried with two bands."

Forgetting the corny Uncle Tom-ish language, that same story has been used on several wire stories from New Orleans. In fact, if memory serves us right, every time any Negro remotely connected with music dies here, it creeps up.

Glaser Sets LA Booking Office

Los Angeles—Joe Glaser, in Hollywood for a brief visit recently, completed preparations here for establishment of west coast offices of his new booking combine, to be known as Associated Booking Corp. which will handle bookings of those Glaser attractions which are not booked by MCA or WM under special agreements. ABC offices are to be located on Sunset Blvd. "strip", west of Hollywood business center.

HJ's Arranging Staff Reduced

Los Angeles—Jack Matthias, arranger for Harry James, has been inducted by the army at Fort MacArthur. Departure of Matthias leaves Johnny Thompson carrying the burden of The Horn's manuscripting chores. Another exodus from the James' crew was Vic Stern, who joined Ray Palge's radio aggregation. He was replaced by George Sandell.

Herb Miller Into Army; Plans Band

Kalamazoo—Herb Miller, Glenn's trumpet playing brother, left the band here Jan. 10 for a date with the army. Miller passed his physical in December. The band is now fronted by Frankie Schenck, former pianist and manager, during its stay at the Club Hollywood here. Miller is expected to follow Capt. Glenn's move and form an army band.

Jam Sessions' Ops Hope For SRO Crowds

New York—A test of whether or not the Town Hall Jazz concerts have finally caught on with the paying public will be the session of Feb. 19. Impresario Ernie Anderson and Emcee Eddie Condon are optimistic about it and hopefully predict that all the jamming won't be on the stage.

Reason for their bright outlook is the capacity mob that swelled the hall for the previous session. Publicity for that event was hyped by Stan Warren on the angle that Down Beat All-American Band awards were to be presented to Condon, Pee Wee Russell and Lou McGarrity by lovely Carol Bruce. Disc-spinner Art Ford of WNEW and Fred Robbins of WHN added plenty of plugs on their platter programs.

CBS recorded the show as an audition for a possible radio series of Town Hall Jazz concerts.

Your Kiss Autograph

For the men in service, here and abroad, Down Beat presents you issue the kiss autograph of a popular dance band vocalist. The boys, is the actual lip impression of the canary herself, and the autograph below is in her own handwriting. This time it's curvaceous Gloria Van, songstress with Earl Hines, playing currently at the Palace theater in Youngstown, Ohio, and opening February 6 at the Circle in Indianapolis.

Lieut. Tucker and Bride

so you'll know where to go to hear for yourself.

Far out front is the exciting and excited Charlie Barnet band at the Strand. If you like low-down, gummy ensemble work matched by smooth, Ellington-like ballad-making, then CB's crew is your dish. There's no disputing that it's the dish of thousands of swing fans who've been breaking Strand box-office records to storm in for a listen to Cherokee. The brass jumps furiously and the rhythm section, sparked by drummer Harold Hahn, is superb. Just as good are the saxes with Charlie's soprano, alto, and tenor leading them through their paces. Vocals and charm are capably handled by Harriet Clark. If Barnet doesn't make it this time and become one of the country's really great bandleaders, it won't be the fault of his music.

Dorsey's Dynamics

Playing the One O'Clock Jump at break-neck speed doesn't improve that old live stand-by, if you ask us, but that's the way Jimmy Dorsey is featuring it at the Roxy and getting a big hand, too. All in all, JD and his gang really don't get a chance to show off their talent. The Roxy is still on a super-production kick and, admittedly, the stage shows there are unmatched visually, but it would be fun if the Roxy stopped thinking in terms of Hollywood giant stairways and let the band do more. Dorsey's Holiday for Strings arrangement with pizzicato reeds isn't as interesting as the same thing that Sonny Dunham is doing at the New Yorker with trombones. Cite Kitty Kallen sings nicely but is leaving the band and the next time you see her, she'll be doing a solo act. New singer Paul Carley fills Bob Eberly's shoes just right, even sounding like Bob but with less vibrato. He moves stiffly, but should relax with more experience.

Brother Tommy Dorsey's show at the Paramount would be a drag without Gene Krupa and a

Finks' Greeting

New York—A weird incident marred Tommy Dorsey's recent Paramount theater stay. At each performance, Gene Krupa acknowledged his tumultuous applause by stepping to the mike and addressing a few words of thanks to TD. One night while Gene was talking, wise guys heckled the drummer, then threw cigarettes at him.

Dorsey, livid with rage, rushed to the mike. "I wish I knew who did that!" he roared. "I'd throw them right back in your face!"

wonderful mimic named Paul Regan. Not only are TD's "4-5" jokes in poor taste but the program is broken up by one of those humor-within-the-band routines that should have gone out long ago. The band plays a flag-waver with gusto and a couple of fluffs. As for Krupa, his drumming is amazing, that's all; no other white drummer can compare with him for technical virtuosity, savage intensity and feeling. Betty Brewer laughed so much during the show caught that her vocals were almost nonexistent. Jimmy Cook sings pleasantly alone, though he seems nervous, but he and the Sentimentalists definitely do not sound like Sinatra and the Pied Pipers. They'd do better to get new routines of their own instead of using a style and tunes established by other singers.

Spivak Lacks Style

Charlie Spivak's incredibly pure lead horn is fronting the bandstand at the Pennsylvania Hotel. Powerful when let out, trim and tasteful with its ballads, the band is disappointing on the whole. For one thing, it lacks a truly original style, necessary to any band aiming for the top. The side-men play well enough, especially tenor-man Fran Ludwig, the beat is good, the brass blends nicely, but the sum total is lacking. Something must have happened along the way with Charlie because his band hasn't realized the promise that it showed less than a year ago. Irene Daye sings as good a ballad as any gal-with-a-band, but vocalist Dick Baldwin can stand improvement.

At the New Yorker Hotel, Sonny Dunham's band is a fairly pleasant surprise to these ears. When he left here last, his band was not rocking but rocky, due chiefly to a steady loss of key sidemen. Still ragged around the edges, it does sound improved. Sonny's own trumpet and trombone work, Holiday for Strings

Beat Winners Get Trophies

New York—Presentation to three winners in the annual Down Beat band poll was made here last month. At the top, Raymond Scott inspects the trophy which has just been presented to Lou McGarrity, all-American star trombonist and member of Scott's CBS band, by Frank Stacy, New York editor of the Beat. Center: Tommy Dorsey, winner of the sweet band award, poses with his wife, Pat Dane, and his trophy, which she presented to him on the stage at the Paramount theater. Below: Tommy Dorsey, Pat Dane, and Gene Krupa, who was chosen favorite drummer, on the Paramount stage. (Dorsey Photos by Warren Rothchild).

maybe you've got the answer to "After Sinatra, what?"

Last on the list is the Bob Strong band, making its eastern debut with a date at Rose-land ballroom. Strong plays also in a good sax section, leaving lead and hot work to others. Bassist Israel Crosby (from Teddy Wilson) worked review night so you know that the beat was good. The band features a number of jump originals which are played with plenty of spirit, even though more finesse would help. Trumpets sound a little on edge, trombones are much better. Gal chirper Betty Martin has had a sore throat for a couple of weeks which may explain why she doesn't sound too sharp, either in the room or on the air. Johnny Allen did all right with his vocals. Leader Strong works hard, is an intelligent, sincere fellow and, given time, should do even better things.

Tentative advance bookings of these bands:

- CHARLIE BARNET—Strand (N. Y.) to Feb. 3. One nighters to Feb. 11. Apollo (N. Y.) Feb. 11-17. Terrace Room, Newark, Feb. 10-March 3.
- JIMMIE DORSEY—RKO Boston to Feb. 2. Terrace Room, Newark, Feb. 2-17. Shea's Buffalo, Buffalo, Feb. 10-24. Sherman Hotel, Chi., Feb. 15.
- TOMMY DORSEY—Stanley, Pitts., to Feb. 3. Earle, Phila., Feb. 4-10. Circle, Indianapolis, Feb. 11-17.
- SONNY DUNHAM—New Yorker Hotel to March 5. Capitol (N. Y.) March 9 or 16 (tentative).

Straight Movie Policy Adopted After Dispute

Los Angeles—The Orpheum, only theater in L. A. playing first-line acts and name bands, went on a straight picture policy as the long-brewing wage dispute with the pit ork musicians under Al Lyons culminated in a walk-out.

Among the acts slated for the Orpheum's bill the week when the house shifted to straight pix were Dorothy Donegan, here for picture work and a nitery stint; and Tiny Bradshaw's band.

Previous Raise Nixed

Sherrill Corwin, manager of the Orpheum, says that he applied to the War Labor Board for permission to boost the scale at the house last April and the board nixed the raise. At that time, the musicians, who were laid off an average of one week out of four by the use of name bands on the stage, were ordered by Local 47 to report for duty every week regardless of whether their services were required and the Orpheum was ordered to pay them the regular weekly rate whether they worked or not. Previously, the union pact called for a guarantee of 35 weeks per year for the house musicians.

The house musicians have been getting $63 for 22 shows per week and $3 per show over 22. Recently they asked for $90 for 30 shows, $1 per show over 30, and $75 per week stand-by salary when other bands were brought in.

WLB Must Rule

Corwin says that he offered to abide by any WLB decision but the musicians refused to report for work when their demands were not met immediately.

Local 47 officials said it was not a strike—that the musicians had simply refused to work for the present scale and the union had no power to force them to work. They didn't say what would happen to any musicians who might choose to go to work at the Orpheum—if any should!

with pizzicato trombones, and a moody arrangement of Night and Day are highlights. Vocals are handled expertly by Don D'Arcy and frolicking-rollicking Dorothy Claire.

Garber Surprises

Down at the Hotel Lincoln, owner Maria Kramer continues to do better with bands, following up Count Basie with present incumbent, Jan Garber. Here again replacements are causing trouble; on review night, for example, Garber was missing a guitarist. Even so, this comparatively new swing outfit does extremely well for itself. Arranger Carl Ladra has polished off some fancy scores which the orch takes care of very smoothly. Tenor saxes Bill McKrell and Dean Ayres and lead trumpet Jack Dougherty, especially, are outstanding. Liz Tilton has a good voice and uses it with pep and humor. Singer Bob Davis is a boy to whom big things should happen. Of all the male voices heard for this survey, Bob's resonant baritone is the most impressive by far. His range is much greater than that of most popular singers and, although he's often uneven, he has fine tone quality. Add to this the fact that he's tall and handsome and

Phil's Patsy

New York—Patsy Brewster, definitely not in a ballad groove, is the new featured singer with Phil Spitznagel and his all-female ork in theaters, although she is not heard on his broadcasts.

CHICAGO BAND BRIEFS

The Panther Room, Chicago's favorite swing spot, inaugurated a new continuous bash policy when Gene Sedric, former Fats Waller hot tenorman and his solid jump combo, opened as an alternate with Glen Gray and the Casa Lomans. Entertainment is confined to the musical attractions, with the College Inn Models remaining to add a dash of charm and glamour.

Continuing to book the nation's best bands, the Sherman follows the Casa Lomans with Jimmy Dorsey (2/25-3/23); Teddy Powell (3/24-4/20); Sonny Dunham (5/19-8/15); Woody Herman (6/16-7/13) and Charlie Spivak (7/14-8/10), with Tony Pastor and Charlie Barnet tentatively set for August and September.

Following his successful Sherman date, Cab Calloway left for the coast to appear in the pic, Sensations of 1944, and Bob Crum, who completed a long engagement in the Panther Room, headed for a Gotham date.

Duke Ellington, off for a two-month theater tour, with Herb Jeffries back to share the vocals with Betty Roche, was replaced at the Stevens Boulevard Room by Bernice Cummins. Gracie Barrie is in there as a single, having recently given up her band. Bonnie Baker will be the next vocal attraction, opening Feb. 25 for four weeks.

Raymond Scott, formerly with the Cats and the Fiddle, heads his own trio at Eimer's Lounge, where Bill Samuels, Chicago 88-er plays intermissions. Dallas Bartley, former Louis Jordan bassist, has a six-piece jam combo at Joe's DeLuxe, 63rd and South Parkway. Frankie Quartell is at the Club Morocco in the loop. Eddie Fens replaced Al Kavelin at the Rio Cabana.

Flock of small bands being organized around town, with Floyd Bean cutting out from the Raeburn crew to work with his own outfit, Don Chester out of the Del

Courtney (who goes on and on at the Blackhawk) band to beat the drums with his own combo, and Bob Darfee, Sharps Randolph and Red Millard lining up their own units.

Chicago favorite, Arthur Lee Simpkins, now at the Florentine Gardens in Hollywood, will be spotted in Judy Garland's next picture, as well as the new Ziegfeld Follies, which goes into production in March.

Berle Adams, former GAC booker, has his own office in Chicago and in addition to managing Louis Jordan, is handling Trummie Young and the boogie-woogie team, Pete Johnson and Albert Ammons. Al Borde and Freddie Williamson have signed the Boyd Raeburn band.

The Ink Spots will play the South side's Regal theater Feb. 4 for a week and Will Osborne brings his band to the Oriental Feb. 11 for a week's stint.

Emil Pettit, almost a permanent fixture at the swank Pump Room, will pull out in April, with Ray Benson taking over. Bob Eberly is stationed at Gardiner General Hospital in Chicago. Red Allen in New York at this writing for a date with his draft board. Tommy Smyth of the William Morris office in the merchant marine. Nick Brodeur, maestro at the Drake, set for induction Feb. 25. Blue Network's Gene Rouse has been upped to head of special events and news for the central area. Roy Cohen, violinist, switched from Griff Williams to Neil Bondshu at the Blackstone Hotel.

All musical attractions at five loop spots, operated by a major chain, have been put on four-week notice, as a result of the projected 20 per cent tax on n.c. profits, creating a panic. Eli Oberstein due in the windy city to wax Lou Breese, Eddie Oliver

Jayne Autographs a Leg

Chicago—When Lawrence Welk and his band visited the Gardiner General hospital to cheer up the boys, vocalist Jayne Walton agreed to autograph the leg cast of Pfc. Gerald Ferran. The Welk band is headlined currently at the Trianon ballroom.

BG Cheered By Recent Additions To His Crew

Chicago—Despite some shifting in personnel, Benny Goodman arrived in Hollywood to begin work on his new picture with a band which not only looks good on paper, but which BG himself assured me would equal, if not surpass in performance, the crew which caused so much favorable comment during the Hotel New Yorker engagement.

His line-up was intact with exception of a missing trumpet, Charlie Frankhauser, who was expected to recover from his auto accident injuries in Pittsburgh and rejoin within a week, and an alto sax chair, which Heinie Beau was slated to fill on the coast.

Benny was even enthusiastic about the potentiality of Johnny Dee, young Philadelphia trumpet man; Jack Sims, tenor sax, also a youngster, and his new drummer, Mory Feld of Cleveland.

The personnel: saxes—Al Klink, Jack Sims, Eddie Rose, Heinie Beau and Eddie Beau; trumpets—Charlie Frankhauser, Johnny Dee, Frank Berardi; trombones—Al Mastren, Bill Harris; drums—Mory Feld; piano—Jess Stacy; bass—Sid Weiss; guitar—Allan Reuss; vocals—Ray Dorey.

BANDS BY THE BEAT

Trummie Young

(Reviewed at Capitol Lounge, Chicago)

One of the top trombonists any league, Trummie Young proving his worth as a leader with this ace sextet. His skillful direction is providing kicks galore for listener and musician, as the ex-Luncheon-Barnet group puts his men through one of the most ambitious books yet set up for small combos.

Trummie, of course, is the same exciting artist that's made his name synonymous with "trumbo," and he's putting his stamp through a driving workout nightly. Sharing solo honors is Lou Williams, young tenorman, who holds up his share of allotted choruses in fine style, though currently in his first bigtime appearance.

And it is big time, make no mistake! This three-rhythm tenor, alto, and tram group is currently engaged in getting some of the most dynamic, driving ensemble effects yet to be heard in the jazz presentation field, and a continuance of the group association promises even greater musical "sends."

All of Trummie's own tunes are featured, with two new ones, Satchelmouth Baby, and Look for Today destined to further his newly-acquired ASCAP membership. Musically, arrangements of standards are presented with such unique conception as to make them standouts, and the showmanship angle is capably taken care of by group rhythmic vocals, and Trummie's own amusing lyric contributions.

Louis Panico In Radio Show Bow

Chicago—Louis Panico, whose laughing trumpet and Wabash Blues theme sent dancers ten years ago, returned to a featured spot over Station WBBM Jan. 11, when a twice weekly radio show, spotlighting his trumpet, premiered here. A WBBM staff musician for the past three years, Panico was formerly a member of the Isham Jones' crew at the College Inn.

Raeburn Loses To Casa Loma

Chicago—Gil Parks, baritone sax, and Jerry Brooks, lead trumpet, had given Boyd Raeburn notice that they were leaving the band before the first of the month for duty with the Glen Gray crew.

SANTY SAYS:

Had a visiting tenor player in last week with that high note trouble, if you know what I mean. And many of you do! He was somewhat taken back when a thorough brushing of the goose-neck revealed a dirty horn.

Water simply isn't thorough enough to clean a horn's neck properly, and for that reason, I've designed a special brush which does the job but good. Drop in or write me about it, and I'll see that you're on the list when the brush comes from my manufacturer.

Frank Anglim, one of Chicago's top saxophone teachers, is now acting as "sax" for many of our finest players. He's available at the studio, and his expert advice and guidance will prove of great value to the beginner or advanced brass player.

Harry Carney, of the Ellington band, has been using one of the Runyon bass compensating mouthpieces for some time for his studio work. Johnny Bothwell, whom I'll put in place on alto was a great kick for his Chicago friends, uses my sax mouthpiece with great effect on the latest Woody Herman date. Emmett Carls, who's taken up alto now that he's rejoined Boyd Raeburn on lead, is using one of the Runyon mouthpiece adapters. If your mouthpiece-need situation is head-splitting, drop in . . . maybe we can work it out!

Did you hear about the Hittsburg who joined the Army so he could continue to be a chair wheeler in Capt. Glenn Miller's band?

LOS ANGELES BAND BRIEFS

By HAL HOLLY

Tiny Bradshaw, whose scheduled appearance at the Orpheum theater was washed out by the strike of the Local 47 pit ork men, took over at the Plantation (Central Avenue's, not Culver City's). He will be followed there by Andy Kirk Feb. 10 and by Lionel Hampton in the early spring. All deals set by Reg D. Marshall agency. Marshall also has Jimmie Lunceford set for a summer engagement at the Plantation. It's a sepiat spot but there will be plenty of ofay trade out there to hear those bands.

A number of new bands popped up in local spots since our last issue hit the presses. Daryl Harpa, who went forth on a tour from here a couple of years, returned to open at Zucca's Terrace, replacing Barney Bigard's combo. The Terrace, incidentally, is now under the management of Harry Schooler, but still under the ownership of the Zucca Brothers.

Hal Grayson took over the stand at the Aragon, replacing "Robin Moor" (Bob Moore) . . . Happy Johnson, whose jump band has put in a long stint at a Vine St. spot, moved his trombone and his jumpsters over to the Hollywood Cafe, following Lyle Griffin.

It's Sherman Crothers at the Swing Club, not "Leo Carruthers" as we had it in our last issue. He's a "scat man" and we must have had him confused with Leo ("Scat Man") Watson—or something.

Live Jottings

We finally located Meade Lux Lewis, or rather his present location. It's the Gayety, on Western Avenue a couple of doors north of Melrose. . . Dorothy Donegan getting a nice play at the Trocadero from movie bigwigs who frequent the Sunset Blvd. swankery.

Nothing new at the Streets of Paris except the good news that Jimmy Noone has signed up to remain through the summer . . . Ulysses Livingstone plunking his guitar with the Four Blues at the Club Cercle . . . Delta Rhythm Boys featured with the new show at Slapsie Macie's . . . Marvin George, formerly with Stan Kenton and recently the spark plug of Jan Garber's new crew, back in Hollywood for radio and picture work.

Art Whiting, who has been handling Frankie Carlson and his band on one-nighters, placed Frankie with Horace Heldt, where he is getting featured billing as skin pounder extra-ordinary. Frankie abandoned his plans for his own band temporarily because he has just been given a 1-A rating; he doesn't want to spend any more money on arrangements until he knows the outcome of his physical.

Notings Today

Al Salomon, the song pusher, now works directly for Songwriter Jimmy McHugh, plugging McHugh's songs exclusively regardless of the publishing company which puts them out, something new in the music business, we believe. . . Corky O'Keefe in Hollywood to set picture deals for his attractions. . . The King Sisters, who headlined the bill at the Orpheum theater here the last week it ran a stage show, moved out on an eastern theatre jaunt set by Bill Burton. . . lywood Casino reported to Uncle Sam Jan. 18, turning the baton over to Saxman Jeff Causey. . . Bob Chester band, which has been playing in Salt Lake City, was due back in Hollywood latter part of January.

Jack Riley Trio and Singer Carolyn Grey opened the Rhapsody Club, new down-town spot . . . Palladium issues the usual report on Harry James box-office standing there—"Breaking all records"—but gives no figures . . . Hollywood friends of Arranger Joe Glover, now with Kotelanets in New York, insist that the face behind those whiskers in the Calvert fire-water ads is Joe's and nobody else's. What do you say, Joe?

For an example of vigorous criticism we give you Wilma Cockrell in the Los Angeles Tribune, one of the better Negro papers. She wrote, of Maurice Rocco, "If you are a true follower of boogie-woogie, Rocco will do nothing for you but make you slightly ill." . . . In case musicians are interested, there is a Gates' Mortuary in Santa Monica, Calif. . . Wonder why Connie Haines, who opened as a solo attraction at the Clover Club with much fan fare, quit after three nights work? . . . Bob Willis ("and His Play Boys") are doing a Thursday night stint at the Casa Manana—and packing 'em in of course.

Les Brown Band Drops Pic Spot

Leader Claims Ork Received Poor Casting

Hollywood — Paramount has withdrawn Les Brown band from the picture Bring on the Girls following protests from the bandleader that he and his combo would not get proper presentation in the picture.

Picture will be re-written to eliminate the band sequences and Brown will fulfill his studio commitment next summer. Band left here latter part of January for a tour of the northwest which will be followed by eastern theatre dates.

Pee Wee Hunt Leaves Radio

Los Angeles—Pee Wee Hunt, the former Casa Loma slip horn man, who has been holding forth as a platter chatter merchant on Station KFVB with a daily, hour-long program, left the show to take a production line job with the Adel Precision Works in Van Nuys, Calif.

Spokesman for Smith and Bull advertising agency, which placed Hunt on the show when he left Casa Loma last year, said Pee Wee was ordered to get with the war job or expect re-classification into 1-A. Frank Bull took over Pee Wee's spot on the air.

Something I didn't know about PLASTIC REEDS

By HANK BENNETT

"I was just going into Radio City when I bumped smack into Artie Ralston."

"I haven't seen much of Artie since he left Casa Loma. We took time out to chew the fat, although Artie was on his way to play the Lucky Strike 'All-Time Hit Parade'."

"We talked so long I finally said, 'Don't let me keep you, Artie. I know you have to get on the job well ahead of time to wet all your reeds.'"

"Artie looked at me kind of funny, as if I should know better. 'Don't tell me,' he said, 'that you, of all people, don't know that I have been using Goldentone Plastic Reeds for nearly a year!'"

"He had me there. It was news to me. I knew the other folks at Selmer didn't know it either. But I couldn't figure out what this had to do with his not rushing up to the studio. So I asked him."

"'Hank,' Artie answered, 'I don't have to fuss with wetting reeds any more. I can pick up one of my horns at any time and it instantly. Doubling as much as I do, you know what a big help it is.'"

"Coming from one of the top reed men in the country, I knew this was a fine tribute to the Goldentone Plastic Reed. I wanted to know more about it. How long did it take him to get used to playing the Goldentone Plastic Reed? How did tone quality compare to a cane reed?"

"Artie put it this way: 'If you're using an electric razor, you know it took you a month to get used to it. It's the same with a Goldentone Plastic Reed. These plastics are so totally different from cane reeds in the way they respond that it takes a little time to get on to them. In a little less than a month, I was getting everything out of a Goldentone I ever got out of a cane reed.'"

"'Don't get me wrong. I think a cane reed is tops for tone quality. But so is a Goldentone Plastic; especially after you've learned to control it. For all-around performance . . . and I mean trouble-free performance . . . I'll take Goldentone Plastic Reeds any day.'"

Platter Ban Revives Old Hit Tunes Through Films

Hollywood—The small amount of exploitation via phonodiscs which is now possible for new picture songs has proven a bonanza for songwriters and publishers with perennially popular favorites in their catalogues. Due to the uncertainty of getting platter plugs for picture songs the movie moguls for the past year have concentrated on revivals of the hits of yesterday.

Typical is Universal's forthcoming production, The Merry Monahans, which will carry all or part of 20 songs, only five of which were written especially for the picture.

It is the general practice for publisher and writer to split 50-50 on income from sale of picture rights to an old song regardless of contractual rights. The amount charged can vary from as little as $50 or $100 up to the $30,000 20th Century-Fox is reported to have paid Publisher Irving Mills and Songwriters Arler and Koehler for Stormy Weather. The manner in which a song is used has much to do with the price. Stormy Weather was used for a visual-vocal, a production number, as theme music in the score, and supplied the picture's title. It could have been obtained for use in one visual-vocal or for use in background music for much less.

Irving Mills, with a big catalogue of standards handy for picture use, was first publisher to set up a separate agency in Hollywood for sole purpose of selling his established catalogue for picture usage. It is now in charge of Karl Sands, former movie trade map writer. Other publishers are pushing same angle.

Sepia Musical Has Four 88-s In Pit Combo

Los Angeles—First full-size stage musical of the 1944 season to be produced here is Sweet 'N Hot, an all-Negro revue backed by the Southern California Producing Co. and supervised by Arthur Silber, which was due to open at the Mayan theater about Jan. 19.

Most unusual feature is the pit combo which consists of four pianos, harp and drums directed by Calvin Jackson, the former Harry James arranger, now a staff composer and arranger at MGM. Personnel lined up for the unusual combination consisted of Richie Del Archia, Bernice Lawson, Charles Lawrence and Joe Liggins, pianos; Olivette Miller (formerly with Noble Sissie), harp; and Lee Young, drums.

All music for the show is by Odis Rene. Credited for book and lyrics are Joe Green, Langston Hughes, Clarence Muse, Leon Rene, Paul Francis Webster and others. Cast includes Anise Boyer, Dorothy Dandridge, Marie Bryant, Mable Scott and Bob Parria. Another musical feature is the Lorenzo Flennoy Trio, which works as special on the stage.

Significant changes are taking place in the recording industry. Some of them are due to the ever-growing demand for discs offering any and all forms of music. Others are the result of the ban and, then, of its subsequent lifting. Most astonishing of such revolutionary indications is the rapidity with which so many new labels continue to appear.

There was a time, not so long ago, when Victor and Columbia and Decca shared between themselves a corner on the whole market. The members of that triumvirate, who once competed only with each other, have now lost their three-way monopoly. Progressive young firms are springing up all over the country. Most successful, to date, has been Capitol.

Many others have begun to reveal great promise, among them Asch, Beacon, Elite, Firestone, and Hit. Blue Note, Commodore, Jazz Information, Jazzman, and Signature are finding it profitable to concentrate entirely on hot jazz. Keynote and Musicraft, also with the emphasis on le hot, seem to specialize on merchandise packaged in attractive albums. It is very satisfying to see, everywhere, this unusual and energetic activity. It should prove both stimulating and productive.

Some things this month are far less encouraging, although even the worst have some saving grace or other. The vocalists, for instance, have returned with a vengeance. There is, on the other hand, a noticeable absence of unfortunate novelty material. Both Columbia and Victor have resorted to the rather lamentable practice of reissuing platters that are so recent as scarcely to warrant or necessitate such a procedure. These waxings, however, are generally admirably chosen, numbering several by Goodman, Ellington, and Dorsey.

Hot Jazz

George Hartman

- Jazz Me Blues
- Tin Roof Blues
- Muskrat Ramble
- Diga Diga Do

Keynote 601, 602

These four sides represent the finest Dixieland that has been released since the glorious days of Crosby's Bob Cats and Spanner's Ragtime Band. Harry Lim, Java's gift to the world of jazz, supervised these cuttings in New Orleans some time back. The band features Hartman on trumpet, Julian Laine on trombone, Leonard Conotable on clarinet, Roy Zimmerman on piano, Lloyd Dantin on guitar, John Bell on bass, and John Castaing on drums. No. 601 pairs Jazz Me Blues and Tin Roof Blues. No. 602 Muskrat Ramble and Diga Diga Do. Standout, even in the midst of such a galaxy of reputable performers, is unheralded clarinetist Conotable.

New Orleans, the birthplace of jazz, appears to be the home of musical anachronisms and anomalies as well. There, contradictions in spelling and wording are the rule rather than the exception. Milenberg Joys was originally designed to celebrate Milenberg, Muskrat Ramble is here presented as Muskrat Ramble.

Jazz Me Blues was once waxed by Wingy Manone as Jazz It Blues. Manone and Brunis, of course, have varied the spelling of their own names. We ought not to be surprised, then, at finding that trombonist Julian Laine is the son of Papa Joe Laine, first of the great Dixieland drummers. I was startled, nevertheless, to discover Hartman as a cornetist after knowing him in these years as a bass man. The times I have seen the name of the clarinetist, and each time was given a different spelling. Come to think of it, Castaing's name has been misspelled almost as often as Bauduc's. Furthermore, Johnny is a southpaw trumpeter!

These records are great just the same!

Bunk Johnson

- The Thriller Rag
- When I Leave the World Behind
- Franklin Street Blues
- Wearry Blues
- Blue Bells Goodbye
- Big Chief Battle Axe
- Sobbin' Blues
- Dust' Rag

Jazz Information 11, 12, 13, 14
These records, prepared under the guidance of Eugene Williams, are likewise products of the Crescent City. For details see George Hoefler's excellent review in The Hot Box, Down Beat, December 15, 1943. Bunk, I should like to add, most closely resembles his pupil Armstrong throughout. Sobbin' Blues and toward the conclusion of When I Leave the World Behind. He sounds pretty good for a man who, fifty years ago, was playing in the best jam-band in the land!

Swing

Will Bradley

- Cryin' the Boogie Blues
- Jingle Bells Boogie Woogie

Beacon 7013

This is the best yet for Beacon! Will Bradley gathered a group of all-stars together and named them his Boogie Woogie Boys. They include Billy Butterfield on trumpet, Bradley on trombone, Paul Ricci on clarinet, John Guarneri on piano, Bob Haggart on bass, and Billy Gussak on drums. The tunes, both composed by the mysterious Emporia "Lefty" Scott, are Cryin' the Boogie Blues and Jingle Bells Boogie Woogie. Butterfield and Guarneri both provide creditable solos, and Will himself has seldom sounded better. The lack of vocals, needless to say, is hardly to be deplored.

Erskine Hawkins

- Cherry Country Boy

Bluebird 30-0819

Once again, Hawkins' band comes through well, but not as well as in-person performances might lead one to expect. Cherry seems to be enjoying a deserved revival these days, and Hawkins' version compares favorably with that by James. Country Boy, the reverse, is once again largely a problem of inadequate material. Finis origine pendet, and in this case Gabriel had two strikes on him before he began to take a cut.

Capitol Cuts Jazz Album

Capitol 142

Joe is one of the two reigning queens of song, at least with the majority of younger generation hep-cats. Here, to the accompaniment of Paul Weston and his men, Jo chants Old Acquaintance and How Sweet You Are. The first is the title song of a forthcoming screenplay, the second the hit tune of Thank Your Lucky Stars. Woody Herman

By the River of the Roses
Do Nothin' Till You Hear From Me
Decca 18578

Coupled here are two numbers of unequal merit. By the River of the Roses and Do Nothin' Till You Hear From Me. The former is a little better than mediocre, the latter is nothing short of superb. You've probably heard it before, under another name. Woody plays and Woody sings, and that's as it should be. The band is there, too, as fine as ever. There is a bigger kick, though, much bigger. Ben Webster is all over the place on tenor! Nuf said!

Johnny Long

No Love, No Nothin'
You Better Give Me Lots of Lovin', Honey
Decca 4427

After spinning the Herman platter two or three times, it is something of a letdown to give these a whirl. In the first place, No Love, No Nothin' and You Better Give Me Lots of Lovin', Honey are nothing special even among ordinary dance tunes. In the second place, Long's orchestra is nothing special among dance bands. In the third place, Patti Dugan is nothing special among pop singers. No Love, No Nothin' from The Gang's All Here, is perhaps the better side. At that, this disc ought to make nice dancing.

Stan Kenton

Do Nothin' Till You Hear From Me
Baritone Folk Dance
Capitol 145

Do Nothin' is a cleanly played, not too interesting job on a tune which only its composer should be allowed by law to do. After the Duke's disc any other interpretation has all the life and color of an after thought. Tempo here is a little fast, being most apparent on Red Dorris' vocal. Based on this platter and other occasions, is the tendency of the Kenton doctrine of hyper-ten-

Music Biz Thanks Passenger Agents

As we enter the third year of the war, music for morale no longer is a subject for discussion. It is an established fact, whether it pertains to the fighting morale of the troops abroad or to the working morale of the civilians at home.

We have pointed out before that civilian dance bands have a mission which is relatively as important as that of service units which cheer the men in the battle areas. Whether they are bolstering the spirits of civilians in theaters and ballrooms, or those of servicemen in camps and training centers, their music is important!

There is one group of men, whose contribution to this important work is no less vital than that of the chaps who wield the baton or toot the horns, but whose loyalty has been unheralded and whose activity never has merited public attention.

Johnny O'Leary, who travels with Johnny Long, and Jack Boyd with Duke Ellington, and Frankie Walsh with Al Donahue, and Freddy Goodman with his brother's band, know about these men and appreciate their co-operation.

So do Dick Gabbe with Jimmy Dorsey, and Hugh Wright with Cab Calloway, George Moffet with Hal McIntyre, Max Schall with Charlie Spivak and Milt Ebbins with Count Basie.

We are talking about the passenger agents of the various railroads, Bill Gengenbach of New York and Bernie Snyderworth of Chicago for the New York Central, and Sam Reiter of New York and Tommy Thomas of Chicago for the Pennsylvania, and M. O. Strom of the Santa Fe in Chicago, to name a few.

These are the men assigned originally to the transportation of theatrical troupes and orchestras, the men who contacted the road managers of the bands to arrange jumps on theater or dance tours.

In the pre-war days this was a comparatively simple problem, although emergencies and close time schedules did arise and manipulation sometimes was necessary.

Today, with facilities strained to a point almost beyond capacity, small miracles frequently are indicated. To keep dance bands in circulation without violating the stringent regulations of the ODT requires special knowledge, patience, and a realization of the need of music for morale.

That's why W. W. Pontius of the Northwestern, William Klomp of the Milwaukee, Earl Goettner of the Council Bluffs, Ia.

To the Editors:
For a swell band who doesn't get enough credit for his good work, how about Bob Strong? He played in Omaha not long ago and really set the town jumping. He's really up there! We in the middle west all agree! We say Orchids to Bob Strong!

Helen Jensen.

That's Plenty

Kodiak, Alaska.
To the Editors:
I have just seen the movie The Gang's All Here with Benny Goodman. I received quite a surprise, although it was a pleasant one, when Benny gave out with the vocals on Paducah and Minnie's In The Money. I, as well as the sailors around me, really enjoyed his singing. He didn't know he had it in him. He deserves a big hand for a job well done. His band as a whole did a splendid job in the picture.
All I can say is chalk up another accomplishment for the king!
Al Pincus, F 1/c.

Touts Herbie

Langley Field, Va.
To the Editors:
I was fortunate enough to enjoy Herbie Fields' broadcast each night from the Palomar in Norfolk. In answer to your veiled question of his future success, published in the Jan. 1 Beat, there are several of us really enthused over his music. Singer Marilyn Duke is fine, although she suffered a broken arm in their last week but was heard too little on the half-hour shot. The band seemed to improve each night. Herbie and the band left Norfolk Jan. 9 and inherited a large group of admirers. Most power to them, and good luck too!

To the Editors:
In writing this, I believe I'm speaking for a lot of us up here. One of the few things we can enjoy is a rebroadcast of the Parade. But you can't imagine how it grips us to hear all the gals scream when lover Sinatra starts putting on the goo. Can't Just ask Max Schall (Charlie Spivak), Dave Hyltone (Harry James), Grady Watts (Sonny Dunham), Jack Naples (Teddy Powell), Jerry Levy (Shep Fields) or Dutch Williams (Jimmie Lunceford).

They'll tell you that without the friendly and unselfish help of the railroad passenger agents there wouldn't be any music for morale—for civilians!

Concerts By Wallenstein Boost Fund

Los Angeles—Two concerts, sponsored jointly by ASCAP and the Los Angeles Times for the purpose of raising money to purchase phonograph records for servicemen, were played here on Jan. 29 and 30 by the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra under the direction of Alfred Wallenstein.

The initial program presented the serious music of ASCAP composers, while the second program was devoted to the lighter music of the Society's writers. Robert L. Murray, ASCAP public relations rep. was in charge of arrangements, while Robert Svensson, Times promotion man, primed the ballyhoo.

something be done about this? Believe it or not, it's a morale breaker.

Also, a swell radio program that is broadcast to us in the Pacific area is Hi Neighbor. It comes out of San Francisco with two people who call themselves Jack and Jill, giving out with all the old records—the Bunny Berigan band, Dorsey brothers, the Duke, BG, Basie—all the old jazz and swing discs that will live forever, not to mention all the swell Bing Crosby records, the ones that are really good.

Word has also come through, by way of the grapevine, that Jill has got all the glamour gals beat when it comes to looks.

Connie Again

Andover, Mass.

To the Editors:

I have just finished reading a letter written by one Connie Arriola concerning the merits of James against those of Louis, and I wonder, more than ever, why people with such distorted views are allowed to run around loose. The woman even asks for evidence that Louis is King! Where has she been the past fifteen years? While she might have been listening to such sides as West End Blues, demonstrating Louis' superb improvisation, she prefers to listen to Flight of the Bumblebee. I don't think she has ever heard Louis.

This commercial trash has gotten out of hand, but as long as Satchmo and James are in the same world, Satchmo will be able to dunk his horn in a barrel of molasses and still blow rings around James.

Tenor Dies On USO Junket

London (by special correspondent)—The name of Charles King is added to the gold star list of entertainers who have given their lives in service during the Second World War. King, a tenor known to radio, stage and screen audiences, contracted a cold while on a USO camp tour. Pneumonia followed and he died Jan. 11 in a U. S. Army hospital in Britain where he had gone to entertain more soldiers. King was best remembered for his work in Broadway Melody, one of the earliest talkies, hit in 1928. He was 49 years old.

THE SAX OF THE FUTURE

THINGS YOU WILL WANT TO KNOW ABOUT BUESCHER

Next to "When will the war end?," the question foremost in the minds of many musicians is "When will I be able to get a new instrument?"

In the case of Buescher, the answer to the second question depends on the answer to the first. For we are ready to go full speed ahead the minute our fighting men fire the last shot!

Right before the outbreak of hostilities, we had tooled up to produce the most marvelous saxophones in music history—the magnificent new Tenor and Alto "400" series. We made and sold just enough of these great new instruments to win the highest praise of some of the best sax men in the business.

Today, in full production on vital parts for Uncle Sam's victorious warbirds, we have maintained full crews of Buescher metal working craftsmen . . . and even added many new members to our big family of skilled workers.

Because the things we make for war require the same type of work as Buescher instruments, our production equipment is ready to turn from war work to the world's best band instruments almost overnight.

Look to Buescher for the Sax of the future!

ALONG MELODY ROW

Since the revival of As Time Goes By in the film Casablanca, music publishers have been busy digging way back for old tunes to exploit along with current hit tunes. The latest oddie to get the dusting-off process is I'll Get By, popular back in 1928 and being brought to life again by Irving Berlin, Inc. Written by Freddie Ahlert and Roy Turk, tune is getting its new debut in the MGM pic A Guy Named Joe.

Harm's latest tunes are from the Dinah Shore pic Up In Arms, scored by Harold Arlen and Ted Koehler. Numbers are Tess's

Torch Song and Now I Know. . . Remick has the tune Marianne from the Warner picture Uncertain Glory, starring Errol Flynn. Writers are Ernest Lecuona and Eddie de Lange. . . Miller Music's Mairzy Doats, newest novelty click, is destined to be a big hit with recording by Al Trace selling fast and the Merry Macs recording set for release any day.

Barton Music has purchased Moon Nocturne, the beautiful tune recorded by Count Basie, from Melo-Art Music. Tune will be recorded by Frank Sinatra, along with his theme Put Your Dreams Away. Also on the Barton list is the Sunny Skylar-Adeline Basie tune, Say It Again.

Tempo Music's Perdido is headed for popularity, getting plugs from Cab Calloway, Stan Kenton, Les Brown, the Dorsey brothers and others. Ted Persons is doing the plugging from New York. Tune has been recorded on Victor by Duke Ellington. Leeds has the Sammy Price Five Famous Boogie Woogie and Blues Solos. Whole Nest of Robbins artists. A Leeds instrumental is Cornucopia, by Phil Moore and Rex Stewart. Tune has been transcribed by Paul Baron.

New York—Here's a father and his two sons, who may have been seen together here and there, but who never appeared in print as a group before. Left to right it is Marshall Robbins, Jack Robbins, music publisher, and Howard Robbins. Do we have to tell you that Jack is the papa?

On the Southern list is a brand new samba titled Tico-Tico-No Fuba, with Portuguese lyrics by Aloysio Oliveira. English lyrics are by Ervin Drake and music by Zequinha Abreu. Tune is being featured by Carmen Miranda in one of her new musicals.

Allen Beat, formerly Raymond Scott's manager, is now professional manager for Noble Music. Tune being pushed by Noble is I'll Be Thinking of You Easter Sunday, written by Buck Ram.

Adams, Vee and Abbott, a Chicago firm, is plugging Walk Alone, recorded on Decca by Dick Robertson. . . Bregman, Vocco and Conn have started pushing the two tunes from Moss Hart's Winged Victory, My Dreambook of Memories and Winged Victory. Ira Wegodsky rates Holiday for Strings as the most sensational tune yet.

Shapiro-Bernstein's newest is Good Night Wherever You Are, written by Dick Robertson. Frank Weidon and Al Hoffman. Tune has been introduced by Guy Lombardo. . . Triangle Music is working on Journey To A Star from The Gang's All Here, written by Leo Robin and Harry Warren. New on the Triangle list is a Jimmy Mundy Series of Original Compositions.

Paramount's newest is Sinatra Stay Away From My Girl, written by Jimmy Dodd and introduced by Spike Jones. . . Regent Music has a new Jess Stacy Folio with two original piano solos. . . Foster Music has a Frankie Carle Individual Piano Solos book out, including Hindustan, Missouri Waltz, On the Alamo, and other favorites. . . Mills' Sunday In Sorrento, written by George Myer and Sam Lewis, is a great song, according to Benny Gilbert.

Dick Arnold has taken over Robbins Hollywood office. Benny Ross of Remick and Lester Lees of Witmark have just discovered they are related. . . Abe Glaser's baby girl is named Barbara Anne. . . Ralph Peer, owner of Southern Music, is on the west coast taking it easy. . . Felst's Star Eyes is climbing on the Hit Parade. . . Ben Barton on a business trip to the west coast. . . The Irving Siegel catalog has been placed with BMI. . . Nick Campbell is in Florida for a rest.

Along Chicago's Melody Row

by Chick Kardale

Elaine Resnick is the new girl Friday at the Mercer-Morris office. . . Chirp Betty Burns spliced Dec. 20 to Trumpet Wayne Robinson, both of the Jimmy Joy crew, with Tubman Rolly Culver as best man. . . Gene Goodman, BG's kid brother, making the spots with his pretty frau of the Sons O' Fun cast.

Gloria Van, thrush with Hal McIntyre, pining away for the "ole man." Lynn Allison of the Clean Miller AAF band. . . Khatiklad Mike Vallon diggin' Trummie Young at the Capitol with Horn Girl Billie Rogers and her bean, Jack Archer of GAC. . . Mary Ann McCall making with the vocals at the Croydon bar until she opens at the State theater in NYC soon. . . Lawrence Welk's arrangement of the Star Spangled Banner is really Zoot. . . Milt Gabler of Decca in for a flock of transcription dates with Mitch Ayres.

Berle Adams bound for the Big Apple to handle the managerial reins of the Louis Jordan and Trummie Young combos. . . Cab Calloway, Andrews Sisters and Duke Ellington recently entertained the servicemen convalescing at the Gardiner General hospital and all through the efforts of Sgt. Sam Lutz. . . Mickey Golden of Capitol Songs in to spread his first one, Johnny Mercer's G.I. Jive.

Blossom Lee of the Low Brown band picked as pinup queen of Fort Sheridan. . . Joe Burns and Max Lutz off for a business jaunt to Nashville and Beasley Smith. . . Harry Weinstein, ex-manager of Abe Lyman, now contacting for Mills Music. . . Hymie Spitzer, G.M. of the Mercer Morris firm, stopped here 20 minutes between trains for NYC.

Estelle Weinberg, Ben Kanter's secretary, married to Capt. A. Hallers in NYC Jan. 13. . . Ted Phillip's new tune, Diddin'. . . Fran Shirley and her sister, Mildred, hitting the jump joints here because they were awing starved after working the corn belt for nine months with the Ada Leonard aggregation. . . Dipsey Miller of Santly-Joy telling Serene Beryland about It's Love, Love.

A COLUMN FOR RECORD COLLECTORS.....

THE HOT BOX

By GEORGE HOEFER, Jr.

This month jazz record shops will be featuring a new label known as S.D. These two letters stand for Steiner-Davis and represent the combined efforts of two jazz enthusiasts already well known in the field. John Steiner, besides being a chemist in one of the prominent chemical laboratories in Chicago, has written about jazz in various publications, done noteworthy research regarding old records (of which he has an enormous quantity stored in his Milwaukee home), and aided his partner Davis in the perfection of recording technique as applied to jazz.

Hugh Davis is a young consulting engineer with a Chicago manufacturing concern that before the war made erstwhile juke boxes but now devoted exclusively to the war effort. Davis is also vitally interested in jazz and maintains a collection of the best jazz discs made through the years, besides the many recordings he has made with equipment designed by himself. Steiner-Davis has been functioning as a unit for about four years, but it is just now that their efforts will be made available to the jazz public. They have cut jam sessions, individual musicians and combinations in and around Chicago, recorded radio programs and dubbed old records with their perfected equipment. The first of their work to be released will be reissues of rare collector's items. See below for review of their first releases now available. Regarding their recording technique, John says:

"Nineteen cuttings were made before the four sides are re-issued were picked. We are using a new fading technique using timer ticks twice a second and by starting the records at the same point synchronization of the treble and bass control gives an effect omitting the sizzle on old records." They are using the best red seal quality blanks. There was some experimentation with the new plastic vinylite, but records on this material were found to be impractical due to noises from old records.

Regarding future releases: S.D. has secured rights on twenty-four Paramount sides to be re-issued. All copies for dubbing are new. Plans also include the recording of originals such as piano solos by Jack Gardner and Tai Soper, combinations featuring Punch Miller, Jimmy Dudley and Bill Davidson. Steiner-Davis have signed with Petrillo and have union approval for all releases they make. It is possible they may be able to put out the several recordings by the Pete Daly Jazz Band featuring the late Frank Melrose waxed in 1940.

JAZZ RECORDS: S.D. 100—Mabel's Dream and Riverside Blues by King Oliver's Jazz Band. Originally released on Paramount 20292. These are both the same masters as released on Signature 905 late last year and reviewed in the Jan. 15 Box. Baby Dodds gave the personnel which is listed identically on both labels. He thinks Johnny St. Cyr played the banjo, although it is possible that it was Bill Johnson. Baby believes the date took place after the Oliver Okeh sessions due to the presence of the tuba. The sides were originally waxed in the Marsh Laboratories in Chicago where this company acted as agents for Paramount as well as releasing their own recordings on the Autograph label.

Sammy Gets His Stabs From the Canteen Kids

Hollywood—Sammy Kaye joins Sylvan Simon, director, in digging Chuck Falkner's Hollywood Canteen Kids, the juve band that has been attracting so much attention in the movie capital. Both Kaye's and Falkner's hands will be seen in Song of the Open Road. That's Chuck with the trumpet. The young drummer, Karl Kiffe, is said to be out of the world on a Krupsa kick. And how about that chick with the alto sax? What's her name?

St. Blues. Piano solos by the late Jelly Roll Morton. Originally issued on Paramount 12216. The master numbers do not show in Delaunay but are 8071 8072 respectively. Mamamita is an old Spanish rag that Jelly knew during his New Orleans days. The sides were recorded in 1924. Another fine addition to any piano collection.

The headquarters for S.D. Records is 104 East Bellevue Place, Chicago.

COLLECTOR'S CATALOGUE: Keith Lees, now in India with the R.A.F., writes that mail from the U.S.A. has been reaching him in India. Address 1540930 LAC Lees, K. R.A.F. India Command. He came across some American Brunswick Ellingtons of the 1928-29 period that had been intended for the Philippines but diverted to India. Lees is still interested in obtaining certain Lang items as follows: Reis & Dunn, Sammy Fain, Boyd Senter, Emmett Miller and Annette Hanshaw.

Ken Brown, 12, Bruce Road, Glasgow, S. I. Scottish representative for Jazz Tempo. Brown is now in the Armed Forces but still wishes to be listed as interested in New Orleans, blues and boogie-woogie.

Harvey Taylor Fritz, Jr., 540 Maple Ave., East Pittsburgh, Pa. Ardent collector of Coleman Hawkins, Bunny Berigan, Benny Carter, B. Goodman and Lionel Hampton.

Dan Bled, 1200 S. Central, Burlington, Iowa. Collects Benny Goodman, Duke Ellington and Jimmie Lunceford.

Dick Kendregan, Oak Knoll San., Mackinaw, Ill. Interested in New Orleans and Chicago groups. Especially Jelly Morton, Wingy Manone and blues.

Bobby Guy Lost To Kyser Krew

Los Angeles—Uncle Sam, who has been bearing down on the Kyser Krew recently, took another key man from the combo as Bobby Guy, Kyser's anchor man in the trumpet section, was notified to report for duty Jan. 29. No permanent replacement had been obtained at press time. Last month Kyser lost two key men from his sax section, Deacon Dunn and Jack Martin. The replacements were Ted Romersa and Dale Brown.

Rivera's Clever Pianistics Send Calloway Crew

Cab's Piano Find Formerly Worked With Jump Combos

By Sharon A. Pease

Last fall Cab Calloway was faced with the problem of replacing one of the key-men in his orchestra. Pianist Benny Payne, who had been with him throughout the preceding 11 years, was scheduled to enter the Army. Selection of a replacement is doubly hard for Cab, as it has been his policy to base decisions not on musical ability alone, but with equal emphasis on deport-

Cab Calloway and Dave Rivera

Cab's choice was Dave Rivera, a young pianist he had heard with a trio during an engagement in Buffalo. The job was more or less on a trial basis. Apparently Rivera has made good, for now, four months after joining the band, his brilliant solo work is being featured in more and more Calloway arrangements.

Early Piano Training

Dave was born in Puerto Rico 27 years ago. When 8, he traveled with his parents to Buffalo. Musical training was started shortly after the Riveras were established in their new home. "It was my mother's idea," Dave recalls. "She thought it would be a good means of keeping me busy and off the streets."

After three years of study, Dave's interest waned but was revived during his high school days when a group of students formed a small dance band. After graduation, Dave decided to make music a career and enrolled at the Boston Conservatory. The next two years he devoted his entire time to musical studies. Upon returning to Buffalo, he worked with various dance groups for two years before trying for bigger things in New York. There he survived the first three months on occasional club dates. During this period, he frequented a place known as the Rhythm Club at 132nd Street and 7th Avenue in Harlem. The Rhythm Club is a pool room with a couple of tables, a telephone and a small lunch counter. It is a hangout for sidemen, especially out-of-towners and those out of work. Leaders looking for men often drop in. It was thus that Dave landed his first steady job, with Frankie Newton at Kelly's Stables. He stayed on at the spot when Lips Page brought his band in six weeks later. This band broke up after three months when Lips joined Artie Shaw. More jobbing preceded steady work with Ovie Alston and Coleman Hawkins.

Hawk's 88-Man

Dave's stay in New York was interrupted a couple of times when he was called home by the illness of his mother. During these times, he worked with various groups in Buffalo. It was his work with a trio that impressed Calloway. Dave was back in New York working with Coleman Hawkins at Kelly's Stables when he received the offer from Cab last October. "I'll never forget that day," he says. "It was like a dream come true—the break I had always wanted."

Rivera is greatly interested in movie background scores, and attending movies is his chief hobby. Often he sees the same picture several times to become more familiar with the musical score. Musically, his ambition is the constant improvement of his solo style, which he illustrates in the accompanying original entitled A Story In Blues. It should be taken at a moderately slow tempo and employs a natural accent. Included are some excellent ideas for runs, single tone melodies, and harmonic progressions. In the latter department, note particularly the structure throughout the last half of section B.

(Editor's Note: Mail for Sharon Pease should be sent directly to his teaching studios, Suite 815, Lyan & Neely Bldg., Chicago.)

Marital Trouble Fats Waller's Death Rocks Musikers Hits Philly Oldsters

Marriage Splits Stir Lives Of Music Makers

New York—This seems to be the mising season in the music world. Old Dan Cupid's boomerang arrows have recently pinked a number of worthies in the sharp and flat industry, as follows:

Sgt. David Rose, composer of Holiday for Strings, is being given the heave-o by Judy Garland. They were wed July 28, 1941, but have been separated more than a year.

Martha Raye, Rose's ex, has filed suit for divorce from No. 3, Capt. Neal Lang of the Army.

Drummer Al Spieldock and wife, Vocalist Helen Forrest, have a divorce pending.

Bob Chester and his wife (the former Edna Torrance, dancer) are also splitting, as are Freddie Slack and his wife.

Shirley Ross, of the movies and the songs, was recently granted a divorce from hubby Kenneth R. Dolan.

Alfred (Capurro) Drake, who gets the plum songs of the season in Oklahoma (Oh, What a Beautiful and People Will Say), is—at press time—awaiting word from Nevada where his estranged wife has gone for you-know-what.

Philadelphia—The Quaker City felt the death of Fats Waller just a little more because the famed piano man with a personality got his start here as a professional entertainer. Back in 1927, he signed his first contract with Charley McClane, theatrical impresario at the Royal theater, a movie house operated by the Morris Wax circuit, which still owns a string of Negro houses in this territory.

McClane, now managing the Lincoln theatre, revealed that Fats' contract called for a Philly appearance as organist in the silent picture house. While the original pact called for one month, Fats proved a socko hit and stayed nine months. Always possessed of a prodigious amount of energy, Fats left the organ at 11 p.m. and would report at the Sunset Grill an hour later. He would knuckle the ivories here until 3 a.m. —Dick C. Land

Quakers Back Rex Riccardi

Philadelphia—James C. Petrillo's successive election to the presidency of the Chicago Musicians' union may start a precedent. Philly musicians are booming A. Rex Riccardi, who left his secretarial post here to become one of Petrillo's assistants, as likely prey timber for Local 77.

Oncoming Paternity Perturbs the Voice

Los Angeles—Frank Sinatra, who usually gets along well with newspapermen, recently got into a jam with newshawks here when they misunderstood his anxiety over coming paternal possibilities for effrontery. On his arrival in Los Angeles, Sinatra was accompanied by cousin Frank Sinatra, who is his aide de camp.

While the Voice was greeting the representatives of the press, his cousin signalled that the Voice was urgently desired at the phone. Thinking it was the Big

News of a new arrival, Frankie dashed off without any explanation to the reporters. As a result of the misunderstanding, nothing favorable was printed about his arrival in the papers.

It was all forgotten shortly when the newspapers received the news that Frank Junior had arrived safely. Sinatra received the news of the baby's birth in Palm Springs, the retreat he had chosen to undergo the rigid ordeal. He immediately dashed for Los Angeles and spent the evening celebrating.

Hutchenrider Asks Checkup Of Casa Loma

New York—Clarence Hutchenrider, veteran clarinetist who left the Casa Loma orchestra recently after many years of service, has filed an action against the Casa Loma Orchestra, Inc., charging that its profits had been misinterpreted in payments made to him.

A referee in the New York supreme court has ordered a hearing for Feb. 17, at which the court will determine whether or not "Hutch" is a stockholder in the orchestra. Hutchenrider also asked that the orchestra's account be examined to determine the value of his stock, so that he might bring suit for the balance due to him.

In opposing Hutch's claim, Glen Gray and Francis "Cork" O'Keefe, band manager, maintain that they are sole owners of the band's stock. Hutch, they contend, sold his stock back to the corporation for $7,000.

THOUGH
INSTRUMENTS ALWAYS HAVE ENJOYED THE REPUTATION OF BEING PERFECT—We are studying ways to make them still BETTER after the war...

Our facilities are now given over to war production which demands a precision and accuracy exceeding the requirements of peacetime manufacture. The experience we have gained in meeting those close tolerance standards will be highly valuable in improving the famous KING line of instruments when Victory has been won. Every instrument is being carefully examined with this in mind.

After the war thousands of musicians who have exchanged cornets for tommy guns and saxophones for rifles will return to civilian life and require new instruments. They can make no better choice than KING—the leader for over half a century.

To the men in the services and to our loyal friends everywhere we pledge the finest, sweetest instruments we ever manufactured. Toward this end our research laboratory is devoting every effort. Plan now to make your postwar instrument a KING!

Double Life

Fort Myers, Fla.—During the day Marian Marshall, a Miami beauty, is a civilian employe at Buckingham army air field here. At night she blossoms forth as a socialite with the crack 349th A.A.F. dance band, fronted by Ft. Les Robbs, former Whitehouse arranger, and managed by Cpl. Clayton Hill, who plays bass.

RAVINGS at REVELLE

By "SARJ"

Music is playing an equally important part in maintaining the morale of soldiers in overseas stations, as does the daily mail call, officers of the army's coast artillery report. In order to provide soldiers with their favorite music, 20,000 popular recordings, 150 field transcription sets and 275 portable phonographs were recently purchased for coast artillerymen.

Soldiers, who were formerly electricians, have rigged up amplifying sets throughout jungle outposts in the Pacific, and one weathered topkick reports that "music is helping the men to get jobs done quickly, which were a tremendous task before." Publications in scattered CA posts devote regular columns to music news, platter chatter and a weekly hit parade of tunes. Rube Cummings, former South Jersey Beat correspondent, keeps coming on with the news in a report from the Melville, (R.I.) torpedo training station. He is playing with a service band, which features the clarinet of Bud Grange, former civvy band leader.

Willie Smith, former Spivak and Laneceford alto ace, recently made a couple waxings, at the Great Lakes naval station with Bob Manners, bass; Freddie Grant, drums; Carl Paradise, guitar and Johnny Pietro, accordion, a quartet who formerly worked as the Music Makers before entering the navy.

From the Guelph, (Ont.) RCAF station, former drummer Bill Thompson says he has dropped his tubs in the service band in favor of pilot training. Buff Estes, ex-Goodman reed man, is leading a band at the Trenton, (Ont.) RCAF field, he adds.

Bob Levy, band boy for the Teddy Powell ork before joining the navy, is stationed at Farragut, Idaho, where he is playing with a service band. Howard Davis, former sideman with Griff Williams, is now a musician, third class at the Great Lakes naval station.

Doing plenty of socializing with the Gainesville (Tex.) camp band and some broadcasting is Sgt. Howard DuLans, former singer with Gene Krupa. He is a member of an MP unit there.

Musician Glen Roling, trumpeter with the Great Lakes naval band which plays the Friday Meet Your Navy program claims that he has played with more names than any other blue-jacket. He's been with Sleepy Hall, Tom Gentry, Henry Busse, Joe Venuti, Paul Whiteman, Anson Weeks, Gray Gordon, Red Norvo, Al Donahue and Ben Bernie. Who challenges that record?

Pfc. Bill Pitman, former trumpeter with Sonny Dunham, has travelled all over India with a

Camp Lee Gates Get With Jive

Camp Lee, Va.—The army has established a band training unit at the Quartermaster Replacement Training Center here, to assure a flow of jazz and jive to troops abroad. These students are: first row, kneeling—Pvt. Harvey Nevins, clarinet (Louis Prima); William Vitale, sax (Woody Herman); Pvt. David LaManna, sax. Standing—Pvt. Kenneth Hertenstein, trombone (Philly Symphony); Pvt. Louis Levinsky, trumpet. Seated—Pvt. Edward Wagner, drums; Pvt. Edward Grossman, bass (Leo Reisman), and Sgt. Thomas Merriman, instructor, at piano. (Official U. S. Army Photo)

14-piece band, which recently sent even the Maharajah of one of the provinces. Bill's address is: 17th Station, APO 884-AT-CICW, c/o Postmaster, N.Y.C.

The This Is The Army pit band, touring with the show in England, is attracting considerable notice because of the work of clarinetist Johnny Mince (T. Dorsey); trumpet Ralph Keseler (Powell); Tram Seymour Goldfinger (Teagarden); and the work of Abner J. Silverstein, former director of the Washington Symphony. Sgt. Freddy Gold of the show troupe says the British are sent by American jazz, especially Dixieland combos. He reports that the British go for all out "basking," which is "faking" in our vernacular.

Sgt. Thomas M. Enos, U.S.M.C., who formerly played sax with Russ Morgan and Henry King, is convalescing from bullet and shrapnel wounds in the naval hospital at San Diego, Calif. As a field musician, his job was to aid naval medical men in caring for the wounded. It was at Tarawa that Sgt. Enos was hit by a Jap sniper's bullet and by shrapnel fire.

Hal Wallis, former bandleader, is using his time off at Fort Sill, Okla., to work on a symphonic number. His address is: Cpl. Hal L. Wallis, c/o EENT Clinic, Station Hospital, Fort Sill, Okla.

The former Baltimore Beat correspondent, John "Dutch" Deintlein, now provides the news from an Egyptian base. He'd like to hear from some of his old buddies, so here's his address:

Army to Plan Service Band For AAF Base

Los Angeles—Thanks to the efforts of Army Special Services command, a 28-piece music unit is being activated for attachment to the Army Air Forces Redistribution Center, established here at nearby Santa Monica.

According to Staff Sgt. Mark Newman, who has been assigned to develop an entertainment program at the center, which is located in a former de luxe beach club, the group will be split into two 14-piece dance bands. The entire unit will be in charge of a warrant officer being sent in from Washington, D. C. Personnel of the music unit will be drawn from various service bands in different parts of the country.

Sgt. Newman, the brother of Alfred and Emil Newman, prominent motion picture composers and conductors, was formerly in the advertising and publicity business. He said, with a grin: "No one will ever believe that I drew this close-to-Hollywood assignment by sheer chance, but it's an absolute fact."

Ex-Batoneer Is Upped To Major

Los Angeles—Meredith Willson, top rank conductor and composer who has been serving in the war department's Special Services' branch, was recently promoted from captain to major. He is stationed in Hollywood as musical supervisor of government radio shows, emanating from here. He is responsible for the development of numerous programs, popular with the armed forces, including Mail Call, Command Performance, and Great Music.

His recordings, featured on an AEF station there. The world premiere of Take the Sun and Keep the Stars, battle anthem of the Second Army Air Force, was heard on Jan. 30 over a coast-to-coast NBC hookup. Written by Roy Harris, composer in residence at Colorado college, the music was played by the Second AAF headquarters band, directed by Warrant Officer Gilbert N. Burns.

Marine's Guitar Kicks In Pacific

Somewhere in the South Pacific—Marine Cpl. Al Carbutto's guitar is sending Yank fighters within the range of Jap guns. Since the conquest of Guadalcanal, Lieut. Layton Bailey, former civilian band leader, has toured the battle zone with a band, built around Al's guitar plunkings.

AP0 8868, c/o Postmaster, N. Y. C. He especially requests letters from Joe Provance, better known as "Buddy Howard".

Paris Will Sing Again is the newest tune by Cpl. Peter Kara, former civilian batoneer, now stationed in England. Kara is planning on reorganizing his band after the war.

Kal Winding (Alvino Rey) and Irving Goodman (BG) have been promoted to musician, second class, at the Curtis Bay (Md.) coast guard station. Jerry Saffino of the same band is a musician, first class.

Pfc. Al Brackman, former publicity chief of Robbins Music, still gets with the cheery chatter, but from somewhere in North Africa. Al gets his kicks from the

Pipers Play Nothing But Specials

Hawaii—With no less than ten capable arrangers in the band, the Pipers play nothing but specials. In addition to playing dances at the recreation center on Waikiki, this swing group visits other posts in the area and broadcasts to the central and southwest Pacific areas. Dominick Peters directs and Dale Sloan is chief arranger. Trumpets: Chuck Medeiros (Charlie Barnet), Tommy Loberg, Smokey Smith; trombones: Frank Martorano (Red Nichols), Jim Cassel, Mal Murgrove; saxes: Clyde Bell (Gus Arnheim), John Heidel, Dan Bartelot, Ed Schanz, Si Mayerhofer, Bill Rusinak; piano, Bruce Geurin (Ben Pollack); drums, Tony Lofrano (Paul Whiteman); guitar, Ed Hallway, Jr.; bass, Fred Studwell. Alaskan Service Bands Ask New Arrangements

Soldiers Want Full Books Of Variety Jump and Pop Tunes

Los Angeles—Service bands in the Alaskan and Aleutian area are badly in need of arrangements, especially special arrangements of name bands, Guitarist Jimmy Dodd, who recently finished a tour of that theater of the war, told a Beat reporter. Dodd and his wife, Singer Ruth Carrell, were members of a USO troupe, including Errol Flynn and Martha O'Driscoll, which played for servicemen in the northern posts. (See photo on Page 6.)

The service bands, Dodd said, are full of fine musicians, but the military audiences want arrangements of name bands, because these numbers bring memories of home—a real morale builder. Virtually all the bands have full instrumentation, five saxes, five brass and four rhythm, with a capable arranger or two on the staff.

"Up here we don't worry much about style," one officer in charge of musical entertainment, told Dodd. "We want a variety of music to please every soldier listener. We'd like a book that would include copies of specials by such names as Harry James, Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey, Glenn Miller and Guy Lombardo."

Members of the party were guided through the northern jaunt by Lieut. Fred Ebener, former midwest batoneer who had charge of transportation and accommodations for the party. All members of the troupe agreed that morale of the boys is high. Hospitals and canteens are not stocked with even a phonograph or radio, and civilians could make up for this shortage, Dodd added.

McGee Takes Over Combo

Los Angeles—Billy McGee, saxman with the late Burns Campbell, who died of a kidney ailment after a brief illness while his band was playing at Billy Berg's Swing Club here, has taken over the baton with the combo. Reg D. Marshall, coast booker, is handling the band, which opened in Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 14.

Air Corps Pit Band Sparkles With Top Men

New York — Technical Sgt. Dave Rose is fronting the 47-piece pit band, playing the scores for Moss Hart's Winged Victory. Rose has members of some of the nation's leading jump and commercial bands, as well as some outstanding musicians from the longhair field, in the outfit.

At present, the band shapes up with Sergt. Martin Heylman and Pfc. Francis P. Taylor, flutes; Pvt. Samuel L. Arons, Sgt. Stanley W. Aronson, Sgt. Robert A. Bunch and Sgt. Harold Dankers, clarinets; Pfc. Michael Glass, Pfc. Arthur B. Holmes, Pfc. William Lebedeff and Pfc. Lester Salomon, French horns; Cpl. Robert J. Wisneskey, bassoon; Cpl. Sidney Baker, Staff Sgt. Milton Bloom; Pvt. Stephen V. Lipkins, Pfc. Joseph Perrin, and Staff Sgt. Ruben Weinstein, trumpets; Sgt. Joseph C. Clements, Sgt. Phillip Croughan, Sgt. Marvin W. Long, and Staff Sgt. Henry M. Singer, trombones; Pvt. Alan I. Abel and Pvt. Max Albright, drums; Cpl. Julius Arluck, Pfc. Noah Bielaki, Sgt. James Caesar, Staff Sgt. Elias Dan, Pvt. Bernard Gerrard, Cpl. Leon Goldstein, Sgt. Jacques Gorodetky, Cpl. Jasper Hornyak, Pvt. Saul Pavlov, Pvt. David Sarser, Pvt. Eugene Shepherd and Pvt. Robert J. Sushel, violins; Sgt. Jerome Lipson, Pfc. Joseph Malta, Pvt. Joseph Rellich, and Pvt. Samuel Ross, violas; Pvt. Claus Adams, Cpl. Edward Cresswell and Cpl. Cesare A. Pasarella, cellos; Technical Sgt. Edward Gilbert and Sgt. Harry Goodman, basses; Sgt. Joseph Bushkin, piano; and Pvt. Abraham Rosen, harp.

Service Drums Go Via Trucks

New York—Drummers in service bands are getting a break, according to scenes from Music on the Upbeat, new March of Time film. Unlike the first world war when tubmen toted their own set, shots of Capt. Glenn Miller's band show the bass and snare drums riding on an army truck.

Dave Tough of the Artie Shaw navy band, however, reports that he almost ran his legs off, lugging the traps from the launch to ship and back in the Pacific area.

Iowa Musikers Enter Service

Davenport—Local 67, AFM, staged its annual Winter party for members and their guests at the Eagles club. Chuck Lotspeich and his crew provided music for the dance and floorshow, staged by Wayne Rohl's Stars and Stripes Revue. The local is negotiating for a new contract with Station WOC.

Staff Sgt. Joe Stroehle is home with a medical discharge. He will have to rest before returning to the piano. Valvist Jack Nugent and clarinet Louie Corry, both recently inducted, are stationed at the Specialized Band school, Camp Crowder, Mo. Pianist Ray Brasch, recently released from the Army Air Corps, has left for basic training with the marine corps.

The popular Licata trio, consisting of Curley and Paul Licata and Lennie Bruckmann, are still at the Maples in LaSalle, Ill. Dick Ostrom, formerly with Jack Austin, is being considered as a replacement for Lyle Nickles, Jack Willett's trombonist who recently entered the army. The Kenny Firmann crew, spotting several new faces, is coming to the fore again.

Texas Service Band Rocking

San Antonio—The Brooks Field Post orchestra, which includes ten sidemen from some of the nation's top bands, is sending the cats here. The ork has no acknowledged batoneer, but Pianist Jack Sacks, Tenorman Arnold Baca and Trombonist Buddy Hancock, who also handles the vocals, might be called leaders.

Arrangements are made by Baca, who hails from Texas; Sacks, from Passaic, N. J., and Bill Henry, who formerly worked with Fred Kibler on the east coast. Other instrumentalists are: Sgt. Robert Lemieux, tenor sax; Sgt. Julius Fox, drums; Cpl. John Moll, bass; Doug Carpenter, tenor sax; Cpl. Tom Enzian, first trumpet; Pvt. Emil Hofner, guitarist; and Pvt. Jim Stringer, trumpet.

Arcari Returns With Citation

MacArthur Thanks Philly Accordionist For Service Tour

Philadelphia—Andy Arcari, local squeeze box artist, is back from a six week, 35,000 mile tour of New Guinea and Australia, with a souvenir to prove that he did his job well. Andy is currently displaying an autographed photograph of General Douglas MacArthur, with the inscription, "To Andy Arcari, with deep appreciation of your patriotic services."

Andy and his accordion provided accompaniment for the recent tour, undertaken by Gary Cooper, Phyllis Brooks and Una Merkel. His party was "definitely bombed" twice and was in many alerts during the tour. Andy reports that the marines have the Japs reason for committing hari-kari all figured out in verse, which goes like this:

"To save their face, the Japanese
Meet their death and brave it
But if you had a face like a son of that race
Who the heck would want to save it!"

Holiday For?
New York—It's a real Holiday for Strings when Jimmy Dorsey and Sonny Danham play the Dave Rose hit. Dorsey uses reeds to make like the pizzicato of the fiddles and Danham uses four muted trams for the same effect.

★ TONEX PADS ★
Improve Tone and Volume

● You won't believe your ears when you first try your clarinet or sax properly padded with ToneX Pads. The tone has more volume and clarity. This is because ToneX reflects tone instead of absorbing it.

LAST LONGER
The patented laminated (sandwich) construction of ToneX also adds to the life of your overhaul job. Exhaustive tests have definitely proved that ToneX will outlast two or three sets of ordinary pads.

FINE ARTISTS PREFER THEM
Many of our finest clarinet and saxophone players are using ToneX with utmost satisfaction. Once an instrument is properly padded with ToneX, it plays so freely that an equally good instrument with regular pads plays stuffy by comparison.

Be sure to specify ToneX Pads with your next overhaul job. Any good repairman can install them. How much extra to get ToneX? The additional cost usually runs about one dollar—that's all!

Bobby Byrne Gets His Wings

Eagle Pass, Texas—Bobby Byrne received his wings as an army aviator last month at the advanced flying school here, but the photo shows that his grip on a slide trombone still is just as natural to him as his grip on the controls of a fighter plane. A Jimmy Dorsey graduate, Bobby played from coast to coast with his own dance band before he entered service. (Official Army Air Force Photo)

Vaughn Ain't No Li'l Abner

New York—Al Capp, creator of the Li'l Abner comic strip, and Vaughn Monroe, band leader, decided that the gal in a recent Hotel Commodore contest who looked most like Daisy Mae was Mickey Randall, who has the further distinction of having the most normal name of any Conover model we've met yet.

Jazz Picture Plan Revived

Hollywood—That "jazz picture" that Hollywood has been promising for ten years but has never delivered is on the fire again. This time it's an opus tentatively titled Riverboat Jazz, which Howard Benedict plans to produce for Universal.

Benedict was in New York at this writing, reportedly to catch the Esquire jazz concert and to chat about the proposed venture with jazz experts and musicians. Among musicians rumored to be spotted in the picture is Wingy Manone, currently holding forth at the Club Babalu in Los Angeles.

Walt Disney has been mulling over a prospective picture that would be another Fantasia based on jazz instead of classical music. However, Disney studio informants stated that it was unlikely any steps would be taken toward its production until after the war.

By BILL DUGAN

Tiny Magnus, 35 Hillside Ave., New York 34, N. Y., informs us that he and the members of his Bobby Sherwood club are also very fond of composer-vocalist Johnny Mercer and therefore, have started a club for him in addition to their Bobby Sherwood club. They expect to make both clubs a success and Tiny hopes to hear from anyone interested in joining either club.

Danny's Droolers, a club for Danny Baxter, former featured vocalist and trumpeter with Herb Miller and now with Gray Gordon, consist of approximately 10 members, mostly from Indianapolis, with a few from other spots. Lillian McCarty, pres., R.R. 3, Box 51, Indianapolis 44, Ind., wants members from all 48 states and writes that all service men have membership cards waiting for them!

Virginia Crawford, Pleasant Plains, Ill., president of a Jayne Walton (Lawrence Welk vocalist) club, would like to hear from more Jayne Walton fans. Regular dues are 50 cents every six months and 25 cents every six months for members in the armed forces.

Pat Symington, 318 Prospect St., Norwich, Conn., is president of The V. I. Club (Vocalists Inc.), a club for all vocalists, including Ray Eberle, Frank Sinatra, Bob Eberly, Helen O'Connell, Bing Crosby, Marion Hutton, Helen Forrest, Gene Williams and others. Pat also has the Connecticut branch of a Dick Mains fan club, and would like members for both clubs. Mary Nallen, 85 Hughes St., Jean Kane, 436 S. Hancock St., and Terrie Williams, 461 S. Hancock St., all of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., expect to publish a newspaper, "Trumpet Talk," as soon as they have more members for their Dick Mains fan club.

If you see photographs of bandleaders and vocalists and are interested in joining a photo exchange club, write to Foto-graph Friends, c/o Al Koondel, 1312 West 6th St., Brooklyn, N.Y. There are no dues for this club.

Jean Garlow, Box 145, Jamesville, N. Y., has a new club for Corky Corcoran called Corckettes. Bob Appled, 18 Hope St., Centre-dale 11, No. Providence, R. I., wants members for his newly-organized Harry James club. He is offering membership cards and photos. Servicemen will receive free membership. Kay Dower, 35-33 84th St., Woodside, N. Y., president of the Viola Smith (with Phil Spitalny's ork) Fan Club, would like to hear from more Viola Smith fans. Bernice Geelan, 465 Marlboro Rd., Brook-lyn, N. Y., is the vice-president. She is also president of the National Billie Rogers Fan Clubs.

Kaye Ryan, 31 Gray St., Newark 7, N.J., president of a Jimmy Cook Fan Club, has many plans for the club. Jimmy sings with Tommy Dorsey's band, and Kaye would especially like to have members who are in the armed forces and are also Tommy Dorsey fans. Club members will correspond with those in the service and membership cards and pictures of Jimmy will be sent to all members.

Lewis Iacovitti, 398 Houston St., Washington, Pa., has had a boost in membership in his Bob Davis (Jan Garber vocalist) club and wants more Bob Davis fans to join. Ruth Ann Lyon, president of a Woody Herman Fan Club is offering membership cards and 5 x 7 photos to members of the club. The first ten to write will receive free membership. Write to J. E. Yates, vice-pres., 723 Yoke Ave., Indianapolis 3, Ind.

David Whitfield, 62 Highland Ave., New Rochelle, N.Y., is going strong with his Lena Horne-Duke Ellington fan clubs but would like to hear from many more interested fans.

Susan Shankland, president of a Muggsy Spanier Fan Club, has a new address, 1209 Bowie St., Galveston, Tex. She has members from England, Scotland and India, but wants more members. A new club has been organized for Bob Anthony, vocalist with Glen Gray's Casa Lomas. Write to Kit Myers, pres., 768 Farmington Ave., West Hartford 7, Conn., or Carmella Todd, vice-pres., 51 Darlin St., East Hartford 8, Conn. Sophia Hryencok, 822 E. Jersey St., Elizabeth, N. J., has organized a fan club for bandleader Eddie Gee. Members will receive photos of Eddie.

Pfc. Larry Coleman, ASN 12189389, 215 W. 91st St., New York City, wants to thank all Frank Sinatra clubs that made him an honorary member and those who wrote to him since his song That Guy Swoonatra came out in Radio Hit Songs.

The Frank Sinatra Fan Club No. 1 has been renamed The Voice's Echoes. This club has a membership of 1200 and a South American branch is being organized. All service men receive honorary membership and get special photos and a special service paper. Ruth W. Blauson, 93 Walworth Ave., Scarsdale, N. Y., is the president, and she would like to have any small F. S. clubs incorporate with hers, especially those in New York, New Jersey or Connecticut. All members receive the club paper (The Sinatra Songsheet) six times yearly, a membership card, a photo and snapshots, and a large pen pal list. Audrey Cleveland, 3500 Denison, Cleveland, Ohio, would like members to join her Sighing Society of Sinatra Swooners. Rose Venuto, 1634 Jackson St., Philadelphia, Pa., wants members for her South Philly Swoonatra Club.

Elizabeth Fraser, 106 Tappan St., Kearny, N. J., has a very active Freddy Martin club. Dues are 30 cents every six months. A club bulletin is printed each month and photographs and informal pictures and autographs of the different members of the band are offered to members. Every month a different member of the band is chosen as the Band Man of the Month and his life story is printed and mailed to members along with his autographed photo.

Cecily Steinfeld, pres., 650 Howard Ave., Brooklyn 12, N. Y., and Selma Dressner vice-pres., 650 Howard Ave., Brooklyn 12, N. Y., have a Vaughn Monroe-Frank Sinatra fan club. There are 68 members in the Vaughn Monroe club and 100 members in the Frank Sinatra club. All persons in the armed forces receive free membership and photos are available to all members. Frank Sinatra fans write to Cecily and Vaughn Monroe fans write to Selma.

Doll Samson, 234 E. Mayfield St., Philadelphia 34, Pa., has organized a fan club for Joey Corr. Teen-aged Joey is the former WDAS, Phila., disc-jockey, and is now Petty Officer Jcs. Corr, USNR, DE-Crew 795, Unit B, N.T.S., Norfolk 11, Va.

Doris H. Wood, 5213 Haverford Ave., Philadelphia 39, Pa., is president of a Johnny Long fan club, and Anne M. Schmidt, 319 N. Wilton St., Philadelphia 39, Pa., is co-pres. They want Philadelphia members. Cam Cross, 321 Goodison Hall, Ypsilanti, Mich., would like to hear from Ina Ray Hutton fans and Bill Beattie, pres. of the Ina Ray Hutton Victory Swing Club, Box 9, St. Jovite Station, Canada, would like more members.

Clubs wanting additional members: Fanny Reuben, sec'y-treas., for her Benny Stabler (former Woody Herman trumpeter) club; Betty Walsh, 1276 Ogden Ave., Bronx 52, N. Y., and Kay Sands, 1269 Nelson Ave., Bronx 52, N. Y., for their Ray Sinatra fan club; Arthur Gttits, pres., 404 N. Locust St., Adrian, Mich., and Irene Thiem, sec'y., for their Billie Rogers fan club. Anyone getting at least eight new members will receive a personally autographed photo of Billie.
