'Over 26' Draft Kay Kyser Set Order to Keep Orks Together

New York—A number of name bands, which were anticipating a breakup with the imminent leader's induction, should remain intact for a few months, follow-ing the recent draft ultimatum, which suspended the induction of men over 26. Leaders, who were recently placed in 1-A but have passed 26 are: Les Brown, Bob Crosby, Mitch Ayres, Ozzie Nelson, Erskine Hawkins and Sammy Kaye.

Sammy Kaye. While selective service officials have announced that 95 percent of the men over 26 will be de-ferred temporarily, musicians are awaiting specific rulings on whether their talents are con-sidered essential to the war ef-fort. In the latest classification of essential jobs, music was not included. Arthur V. McDermott, New York City draft chief, de-clared musicians are in the same position as other unclassified workers-cases will be surveyed by their draft boards. From the west coast come reports that west coast come reports that Spike Jones and Stan Kenton, opice Jones and Stan Kenton, both facing imminent induction, have been temporarily deferred because of their activities in playing training camps and serv-ice hospitals.

Woody Herman's induction date has been postponed indefi-nitely because the Herd Boss is past the 26 mark and in 1-A lim-ited, which places him in a classification which will not be tapped heavily for manpower. Boyd Raeburn, who has been in a rather indefinite draft status, is also over 26 and his chances of being drafted have faded for the present. present

Music Affected by New Tax Measure

By JOHNNY SIPPEL

Chicago—The month-old 30 percent federal cabaret tax is already having a definite influence on histros featuring music. Reports from the nation's music centers reveal that business in a few cities has remained constant despite the new tax measure, while open ators in most areas have felt a sharp decline in patronage.

a sharp decline in patronage. Internal revenue officials in Chicago offered clarification of the cabaret tax, which puzzles many operators. Daniel J. Con-erty, chief field deputy, defined a cabaret as "a place which furnishes a public performance for proft, including every public vaudeville or other performance or diversion in the way of acting, singing, declamation or dancing either with or without instru-mental, or other music, con-ducted by professionals, ama-teurs or patrons, under the auspices of the management in connection with the serving or selling of food or other refresh-ment or merchandise."

selling of food or other refresh-ment or merchandise." If an orchestra is the sole at-traction, Conerty explained that the 30 percent tax does not apply. However, when a vocal is ren-dered or dancing takes place, the 30 percent tax becomes appli-cable. Contrary to rumors, Con-erty declared that the instru-mentation of the orchestra has no effect on the application of the tax. The orchestra, he said, can play any number, and if no dancing or singing is allowed, the tax is not applicable. Juke box music is allowed in a tax-free spot, providing that there is no singing or dancing to the music. Juke box music, featuring vocal-ists, can be played without pay-ing the tax. Conerty differ-entiated between a ballroom (a place which pays the 20 percent admission tax) and a cabaret by pointing out that a ballroom is a place where the refreshments are incidental."

bered, and on the laurels of which he now reposes At the moment, I can think of any number of tenor men who can cut Coleman Hawkins to the proverbial tatters, and they don't gurgle, hiss and show signs of mal-de-mer while playing mean-ingless, unnelodic snatches of Etude No. 36 in the Blue Book. To name a few; Bud Freeman, the master of the much-abused instrument; or Eddie Miller, who thinks Bud is the greatest; or Nick Clazza, who played with the Muggsy Spanier band; or the old Lester Young; Happy Cauldwell; or even the obscure but great Boomie Richman, now slaving for Paul Martel, while a hopeless clarinetist, for a hot man, is fea-tured.

Imitate the New Hawk

Imitate the New Hawk But it is unfortunate and dis-gusting that so many of the bud-ding tenor men have emulated the really below-average samples of the Hawk's playing instead of the fine, big-toned, sensible things on which he rightfully built his reputation. Some pretty well-known tenor boys have been influenced by the recent Haw-kins, and the star soloists of many successful commercial bands are slurring and rasping along, faithfully following the pied piper. along, fait pied piper.

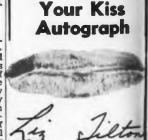

However, jazz tenor saxophone is something wonderful when the righteous boys mentioned above are playing it, and it serves to remind one that the tenor sax isn't a small-band bastard after all.

In the meantime, Doc goes right on taking his turn as a part time veterinarian, oper-ating his splendid kennels and playing superb jazz. He is no means a big man, but neither is Max or Muggsy or Marty. Conversely, his musical stature is something Olympian, especially in a day when the pattern of Joe Oliver has been generally superseded by that of Sy. Consistently inspired, Doc achieves those very qualities which have always distinguished the best white jazz: spare, in-telligent design and precise, energetic execution.

LOS ANGELES NEWS

The biggest news in the music business here this month is that Louis Armstrong has been signed to follow Horace Heidt at the Trianon May 9. It marks the breakdown in the color-line thrown up here by major nitery operators last year following a series of unfortunate race incidents. One of those who took the rap on the issue was the Trianon's manager Ed Jameson, who was blamed for setting up a color bar following the Jimmle Lunceford incident at the Tria-non.

This famous number, com-posed nearly thirty years ago by Nick La Rocca and Larry Shields Nick La Rocca and Larry Shields, did for rags what Handy's St. Louis Blues did for the blues. First recorded by the Original Dixieland Jazz Band, it has since been waxed any number of times with any number of arrange-ments, from the concert rendi-tions by Arthur Fieder and An-dre Kostelanetz to the corn ren-ditions by Ted Lewis and Fredie Fisher. Designed originally as a vehicle for Shields' pioneer blackstick, this fine tune still sounds best in the hands of some capable clarinetist. There's nothing like Wild Bill's Panama this month, but some pretty fine jazz just the same. From now on, friends, you can expect plenty of real jump stuff furnished by small colored pick-up crews. Teddy and Roy Hall and Heywood, the Earl and the Hawk have all cut some wild ones lately. Nor will Dixieland fall too far behind. There are some Wingy numbers, and some by Miller, and some by Condon, and some by Lawson due before very long. Better stick around a while, because things are going to start popping!

When I Grow Too Old To Dream Asch 501 Jerome, ex-Goodman tenor-man, assembled a wonderful bunch for this date. His "Cats and Jammers" were on a real Dixie kick this time, and the mu-sic they made was definitely something. Rainbow is a fine blues number, ardently played and with much meaning. It seems a bit strange hearing that nos-tale's perennial taken hot on the reverse, but good! 37 Floor, showcasing planist Guarnieri's nimble invention, once more re-veals Johnny's ability to play any keyboard style neatly and re-spectably. When I Grow has been done in Dixieland before, but never like this. Repeated play-ings may bear out that this last side is the best of the lot. Je-rome's sax sounds better here than it used to, but hardly good enough to stack up with the rest of his outfit. Haggart on bass and Wettling on drums kick up a terrific mess of rhythm all the way, supported more than some-what by Guarnierl's plano. Ray Coniff, who's never had such an opportunity to show what he can do, comes through with some sur-prisingly appropriate trombone. Yank Lawson, however, is the hero of this jazz battle. His all comers seem a triffe feeble

Furthermore, it's just about the best work the Sher-wood band has waxed thus far. All four sides are instrumentals, jump numbers to you, and all are what you might call solid all the way. No one would think for a minute to class Bobby alongside the Duke or the Count, I nope, but there are lots worse white orchestras around and about. A few better, too, of course. The personable young trumpeter-gui-tarist-leader is coming on, and tarist-leader is coming on, and on, and on. Let these discs prove and my point.

It's better than devising a meaningless, sac-charine sort of stuff that's obvi-ously intended for dancers only, and for tin-eared terpsichoreans at that! Stompp, a jump tune from the Bean's fast-growing library of originals, features all seven mem-bers of this particular Hawkins, unit. Clarinetist Andy Fitzgerald, pianist Ellis Larkins, and drum-mer Shelley Manne perform sat-isfactorily, while trumpeter Bill Coleman, guitarist Al Casey, and bassist Oscar Pettiford do better than that. The two Colemans ac-tually steal the side, and who would expect otherwise? On the Berlin opus it's Hawk-ins and his tenor throughout, ostensibly an attempt at a se-quel to his own Body Ard Soul. Smoky City Orks Eye New Spots

Pittsburgh — Two veteran Smoky City batoneers are mak-ing comebacks with bands for the summer opening of two dancer-les, the Kennywood and West View parks. Kennywood opened Apr. 23, with local bands fea-tured. Alternating at the Aragon ballroom are the orks of Ciyde Knight, Brad Hunt, Lee Barrett, Babe Rhodes and Benny Burton. Busiest bandsman here is

Babe Rhodes and Benny Burton. Busiest bandsman here is Maurice Spitalny, who finds time to lead a band at the Terrace Room of the William Penn Hotel; baton the pit ork at the Stanley theater; and front a studio crew during a half-hour weekly spon-sored show. Skippy Straw is seek-ing brass replacements for losses to the draft. A boon to local amateur com-posers is the incorporation of United Music Inc., which protects local composers from the song sharks. —Sinbad A. Condeluci Parching heat of Africa, freezing cold of Iceland and Alaska, and torrential rains of the tropics do not affect the playing qualities of a KING. Special construction, plus finest wood and handcrafting make these KING bass fiddles the last word in excellence.

The KING string bass is laminated to withstand all kinds of weather. Specifications meet the most rigid requirements of the armed forces. Despite wartime punishment and abuse which would ruin the average instrument, KINGS maintain the sweet tone and better volume which have won the favor of musicians all over the world.

Plan now to get a KING string bass when the war is over. You will always be delighted with the choice. Write for a special String Bass folder.

A limited number of KING cellos are also available for civilian use.

JustWho'sWorking For Whom—Benny

"I think MCA or any agency should work for the bandleader. They think I'm working for them!"

Thus Benny Goodman summed up the beef that caused him to dissolve his band rather than continue under the banner of Music Corporation of America. This complaint, usually uttered less succinctly but with more profanity, has come from many other bandleaders about several other booking offices. The leaders can't all be wrong. In many cases the bookers have been all too willing to loll back in the overstuffed chair and wait for the commissions to come rolling in.

Under present conditions, the integrity of the booking office is the only assurance a leader has that he will get a square deal. Even as a lease favors the landlord, so a contract favors the booking office. Legally, it's OK, but in actual practice, it gives the booker a vicelike grip on the leader's left ear and his only alternative is to quit—as Goodman has done.

But few can afford a musical hunger strike. Limited is the number financially able to vacation. Even more limited are the guys who could let their names fade from the public eye and then expect to come back.

And even after time has lapsed the hated contract what is the leader's alternative? He can sign up with another big booker who may give him a worse deal than the first!

If a man as big as Goodman gets what he considers a bad deal from the bookers, consider what must happen to the smaller fry, the newcomers trying for a break. Most of them are eager to sign with a big office. They think that's the open sesame to fame and fortune. They know little of legal technicalities and are unwary of the pitfalls in a long-term contract. The little leader soon discovers that he is getting no more work than before; the only thing that's happened is that now he's paying the booker a commission on the work he gets. But it's too late-the contract is forged in steel.

This jab isn't aimed at MCA-we are only quoting Goodman, a top man in modern music, as saying that his deal there was unfavorable. But it is aimed at any booking office that has become too big, too complacent, too what-the-hellish in its attitude toward clients. It's true that the orchestras need bookers, but it's just as true that bookers would be nowhere without orchestras!

Are conditions going to remain this way forever? We think not. A change is coming-perhaps faster than some big agencies realize. New, alert, independent bookers are beginning to make their presence felt. They're grabbing some of the cream of the music crop. They're growing stronger. Competition will either make the rigor mortis firms come to life again or die out completely. It will mean tearing down the old wall motto: Survival of the Fattest.

Voynow's Mother Dies

From the Aleutians an army post, Yehudi Menulha called swing the burlesque ar vaudeville of the world of music. He said that swing required no apologies, as it has a very def-nite place in music, "even though that place be widely separated from that of the great compos-ers." Asked whether swing we here to stay, he observed the time was one of change and best-tated to pose as an oracle. "Cpl. Lou Cramton Los Angeles-Mrs. Edward B. FRANKIE MASTERS

It seems to me that it's time I write and "Thank You" for making Rico reeds.

Ies, Frank, I said "Thank You" and that's just what I mean. Me we experimented for years in our sax section _ always striving to find the reed that gave us the most in tone _ always the same time took the beating of "on the road" work.

About two years ago we started using Rico's exclusively and our experimenting days are over. Critics say the section is sounding better than ever, and I know part of the section belongs to your product. So again I say "Thanks".

It's especially swell in these days of substitutes and changing standards, to know that a box of Rico's still contains the same quality product that it did in days of old. Your workness are to

Only once in a great while are we blessed with the advent of such a musical personality as Johnny Hodges. From this virtuese's alto saxephone pours fourth an ava-lenche of notes and molody expressed with such sweetness that the hearer is continually surprised and enraptured.

For 15 years, Johnny Hodges has been a mainstay of Dube Ellington's band — and to this very day, popularity polls and critics alibe unanimously vote top honors to this Dubs Mington is "one of the greatest personalities in music." Professionals consider him 10 years cheed of his time. The highlight of his career was his band's unforgettable concert early this year at Carnegie Hall - the highest temple of music and goal of every great musician. The finest compliment we gan pay to Ellington is that his music is a true expression of America - it is enjoyed by the longhaired music lover as well as by the wildest jitterbug.
