INSIDE TOP 40 WITH DAVE SHOLIN

Only TEARS FOR FEARS stands in the way of PAUL YOUNG holding on to number one for a solid month. At this writing YOUNG will end his number one run at three weeks as TEARS FOR FEARS is primed to become king of the mountain next week. ARETHA FRANKLIN's profile continues to spell smash as the following markets take her top ten...Miami, Buffalo, Topeka, Denver, Los Angeles, Sacramento, etc. Hit Factor zooms from 52% to 75%. But the week's, (and one of the year's) biggest Hit Factor increases goes to JOHN PARR, blasting by everyone with the 25% to 63% jump. Another 20% of all reporting stations take BILLY JOEL top twenty including KUBE-Seattle, KWAI-Honolulu, KZZU-Spokane, KWOD-Sacramento, KLUC-Las Vegas, KYVA-Gallup, KKYS-Bryan, WRKR-Racine, WBNQ-Bloomington, WHTX and B94 in Pittsburgh, WCCK-Erie, PRO/FM-

Providence, WBCY-Charlotte, etc. PHIL COLLINS just about closed with adds at Z100-New York, Y108-Denver, KNPA-Boise, KIDD-Monterey, WZUU-Milwaukee, etc. BENATAR is on a roll that's been sure and steady for the past month. Biggest moves reported by WRCK 27-14, WHSB 28-17, WLXR 28-19, WCIL 26-16, KYMO 27-18, KFMN 34-11, KIIS/FM 37-28, etc. KOOL & THE GANG posts an excellent Hit Factor gain with 10% of all stations moving them up into the top 20, with at least as many ready to follow suit next week. HOWARD JONES and POINTER SISTERS go well over the 200 mark in overall mentions with JONES gaining nearly 1,000 total chart points. MOTELS keep pourin' it on with new airplay at: CHUM, KTMT, KWNZ, KITS, Q104, I-95, WBCY, KFBD, WFXZ, KDZA, KLRZ, KXGO, etc. MOTLEY CRUE enters "Chart-bound" with a 17% Hit Factor and key moves at CKOC 30-17, WAVA

24-18, WJZR 29-21, Z106 23-15, debuts #11 B-97, KIXY 30-20, OK95 23-15, etc. Strong belief on the part of programmers that DIRE STRAITS does indeed have their first hit since "Sultans Of Swing". 11% Hit Factor already! COCK ROBIN joins the playlist at WKPE, KCPI, 92X, Y107, WKXX, Z106, WDCG, KOSO, KCPX, etc. and building a nice chart story. KING proving to be a winner market by market, with L.A., Tri-Cities, San Francisco, all saying hit! 19 new believers on LOOSE ENDS...very heavy on the West Coast with adds at KIST, KWOD, KS103, KMGX, KMEL, KITS, KMJK, etc. PD's and MD's agree "Oh Sheila" by READY FOR THE WORLD gets instant heavy positive calls after one test. Watch out, it comes on fast...added by I-95, WBBQ, Z98, Z104, KMGX, FM102 on at KIIS/FM and moves 34-29 at KKHR-L.A.

Kim Carnes

BARKING AT AIRPLAY

I think it would be nice if we got to the point of not having to do a video of every song.

by Ron Fell

Kim Carnes is a veteran of the hit making process. She and husband Dave Ellingson have collaborated on songs for more than a decade, while Kim has worked with the best musicians in the business, her band and has an amazing talent for getting out to promote her music directly to radio. On one of her many visits to The Gavin Report we grabbed her for a sitdown interview.

RF: How did you begin your recording career?

KC: I signed on with Jimmy Bowen as a writer. Prior to that time I was playing clubs around L.A. The old grind of five sets a night and getting really tired of it. Mike Settle introduced me to Bowen and I started writing for a small salary, but at least enough so that I could stop playing the clubs. In those days I was real prolific. Suddenly I was a writer! So I wrote ten zillion songs a day. I shared demo time with John David Souther and Glenn Frey. They sang together as Longbranch Pennywhistle and wrote for Jimmy. We would go in and do our demos together, help each other out and sing on each other's demos. I'd never spent time in the studio, so it was great to be turned loose with an engineer. Everytime I wrote a song I was able to get a band together and put it down on tape. It was incredible in terms of learning the whole recording process without someone being there dictating.

RF: Do you remember any songs from that era? Did any of them see the light of day in terms of other artists recording any of the songs you were recording?

KC: Oh ... a lot of near misses. We worked on a soundtrack for a film called Vanishing Point. In fact, the theme "Nobody Knows" was my first single on Jimmy's label, Amos Records. And of course I thought it would be an instant hit. I'm glad nobody told me it would be awhile longer. But that led to my first album on Amos. It was called "Rest On Me".

RF: Was this listed as Kim Carnes or was this a Kim and David project?

KC: "Nobody Knows" was Kim and Dave and that film was Kim and Dave but the first album was Kim Carnes. And from then I signed with a different publisher, Chappel Music and one of my songs, a demo of a song called "You're A Part Of Me" was cut by Rita Coolidge, David Anderle was producing Rita at the time for A&M. He asked for a bunch of my songs, so we sent over a lot of other demos and he called Chappel and said, "Why isn't Kim recording these?" So that led to David signing me on A&M. The first A&M album I did was "Kim Carnes" with Mentor Williams producing. The second A&M album was called "Sailing" and Jerry Wexler produced that. I recorded that one down in Muscle Shoals with Barry Beckett and Wexler and what a great time. I have real fond memories of doing that album. Wexler taught me a lot of what a producer's rule was. He said, "It's not up to me to be a dictator and try to change you."

RF: Why was Muscle Shoals even then a hot bed for recording? It's not that big of a town.

KC: Well, the Muscle Shoals rhythm section. Incredibly good players and there was and is a certain sound that comes out of there that isn't Nashville, isn't Memphis, isn't L.A., isn't New York and was something really special, and that's where Wexler did all his recording. And I loved the sound of all his records coming out of there, so it was easy for me to go down and record there.

RF: One of the first times I remember you hitting as a singles artist was on "More Love" which, ironically was not a song you wrote, but was a Smokey Robinson song.

KC: "You're A Part Of Me" with Gene Cotton, was inside the Top Forty. My first hit, which went top five, and before "More Love" was "Don't Fall In Love with a Dreamer", which I sang with Kenny Rogers.

RF: You've had an opportunity, unlike many artists, to have people like Sinatra, Streisand and Kenny Rogers record your songs. From a writing standpoint, with the success of those records, do you find more songs are being submitted to you?

KC: I do get an awful lot sent to me. An awful lot of cassettes.

RF: Is it hard to listen to them all? Have you ever found a gem, have you ever found a song through this submission process?

KC: Never. You know how I usually find songs? Maybe a cut that was a single that I think should have made it and didn't for whatever reason, or just a cut off an album that I particularly liked that I put into my file to save. A cut off the new album, "Touch And Go" was a single for Any Trouble a couple of years ago. It was a great song. In fact I first heard the demo and loved it before they cut it for their album. Nothing happened, but it's one of those songs that shouldn't be lost.

RF: In the process of choosing songs, some people will put an album together of more trax than they end up using. I've heard of some artists recording 48 songs, maybe in rough form. Obviously you have to gag at that today with the cost of doing that.

RF: And some artists claim they go in and conceive at the last minute, putting songs together spontaneously and actually writing during the studio process. When you're putting an album together, how much preparation goes into it before it gets to the studio and how much of it is inspiration in the studio?

KC: It's really a combination of both. I don't write an entire album before we start recording. If I have three things that we think are strong, I get the band together with Bill Cuomo, who co-produced with me, and we'll go and rehearse until those three or four sound like we want them to sound. Then we go in and try them. And where the changes come are in the studio. We record them the way we rehearsed them and then go back and listen and it's either right or that's when you discover that you thought it sounded great in rehearsal but hearing it back on tape, something is wrong. We rehearse as much "live" as possible, not overdubbing. I like live vocals. The band likes to play live. That spontaneity is so important . . . to go for the feel. I don't like slick, polished records. And I think for us the only way to get that is to have a lot of freedom in the studio, to be well rehearsed and then let whatever happens in the studio happen.

RF: Does that make your live show more legitimate because you're able to duplicate what you've done in the studio?

KC: Yeah! It's the same band. We've cut live. The singing is live so you don't have to figure out what to do to make it sound good. It's the same people. It does, I think, make it more legit.

RF: How did you and Bill Cuomo come together?

KC: Through doing demos. The minute I heard him play he started playing on my demos and helping with the songs I would write and that led to forever. He's really my right and left hand. He's the only keyboard player I've met that can hear me play it on the piano and sit down and play it with all the little nuances and the same feel. You can't teach someone feel. He just picks up on it and then of course plays it great, which I can't. I'm great in my own living room and that's it. People could technically sit down and copy your notes but there could be the key ingredient missing, the heart you wrote it with. When I write, I write on piano and I write lyrics and melody, I write it all at the same time at the piano. Bill just knows how to make it all work.

RF: I sensed he really came into his own around Mistaken Identity. It seemed like he had more impact on your music or had more of a dominant influence at that point.

KC: I can go back . . . "More Love", the intro is a little classical piece that was never planned, that was Bill sitting down at the synthesizer and going "do-do-do", playing the little passage and we went, "What is that. That's wonderful?!!!" We put it on tape, but it was never planned. But that's all Bill's. "Don't Fall Over The Dreamer", the whole Gideon album, when we wrote the album we did a demo album to present to Kenny (Rogers) to do the recording, and of course Bill did the demo album and then went to Nashville when I recorded it with Kenny and played on everything.

RF: The Gideon album was a rather courageous step for any artist to take. To do something as thematic as that was a risk. It could have set you and/or Kenny back.

KC: Ummm . . . well the concept came from Kenny, in that he wanted to be a cowboy. We made him a modern day cowboy, as opposed to the Old West and drew personality-wise from the Gable character in The Misfits and James Garner in Rockford Files. That rascal, you know, the wink, the sense of humor, I love Rocky. I love that character. So, before the songs were written for Gideon we had to come up with a story for this character: where he was born, how he died. The album opens with his funeral. Then we went back and wrote the songs to fit the concept. It was a real challenge because I'm not a . . . oh. I'm not . . .

RF: You don't write novels.

RF: Well you do some great three and four minute novels but maybe those are short stories.

KC: I'm not an assignment writer, I mean I just write. I don't have any set time, routine or schedule. I just write whatever comes into my head. So, to have to get specific was a challenge. Dave and I both wrote it.

RF: Do you and Dave, as writers, have specific responsibilities for melodies and lyrics or do you trade off?

KC: We both do both. Some of the songs I write with Cuomo, with my drummer Craig Kramf. We've written a lot with Duane Hitchings. "I'll Be Here Where The Heart is" for Flashdance, and my drummer was involved in that one. "Voyeur" was Duane. And off the current album, ABADABADANGO, we wrote with Duane and I co-produced ABADABA that's the only track I didn't do with Cuomo. It's not something I like to do. Writing is real personal because I can't sit down at a specific time in a room. I don't really like to write with other people, but these few people I'm real comfortable with.

RF: At various points in your career, not only have you collaborated in writing, but you've collaborated in performance. We've already talked about Gene Cotton, Kenny Rogers and Streisand. Did those experiences vary? Obviously the difference between Gene Cotton and Barbra Streisand has to be night and day. But from a collaboration standpoint as a performer, did you have to approach those differently? For instance, were they all recorded face to face with the other performer?

KC: The one thing that they all had in common was that we performed them face to face. I feel strongly that if you're singing a duet, one person shouldn't put down their part and the other person over-dub it. If it's a duet, look at each other. When we did "Dreamer" I was used to singing it in a key that was good for me and that's the only trouble in doing duets, finding the key that both can sing in and we ended up doing it in a key that was good for Kenny. The melody had to be made up on the spot, but I think it was a lot easier because we were singing it live at the same time.

RF: It seemed about the same time of "Bette Davis Eyes" and Mistaken Identity your music started to take on more visuality. I saw one of the press releases where you used the term "oral movies". When you were doing "Bette Davis Eyes" was there a concept for a video already there?

KC: No, MTV was not around yet. It also was not around for "Draw Of The Cards", the second single from the Mistaken Identity album. Even when Voyeur came out, MTV was not in all the markets it's in now. In fact, we didn't have it in L.A. and I used to get reports from friends in New York saying, "I saw the video seven times today!" So, I did a bunch of videos before that, but Bette Davis wasn't a specific concept for a video, we already saw it in terms of a visual I guess because we always like to record that way. I remember in rehearsal talking about how it should end. We were hashing around whether I think it should end or how it should go out, saying to Val Garay, who produced Mistaken Identity album, "No, it's just got to go out the way it does because she turns and just walks away." In my mind, I pictured the person singing this, turning and walking away. Not stopping, no grand finale. Now, Voyeur was supposed to be an entire video album. And I wish it had been. That is a huge regret because I wrote the album with that in mind and put so much into it. I wanted Voyeur to be a video album. I wanted the whole thing done. But things that had nothing to do with the music got in the way, unfortunately.

RF: Doing a video album would have been a major financial commitment.

KC: Well, at that time it would have been EMI. Jim Mazza president of EMI, felt so strongly about that album that he wanted people to see it visually. So the commitment on his part was there.

When I get a cold ... my voice gets real clear. That's not good!

RF: What did we miss by not having "Voyeur" in full form?

KC: I don't know. We had plans. I was going to do it in London with Russell Mulcahy who did my first five videos. I've never seen anything of Russell's that I didn't like. The two of us working together worked. I would have liked to have done it then because there weren't so many videos around.

RF: I've sensed in watching, that they're running out of ideas.

KC: Oh, burn out! After Russell's first videos, we saw a whole rash of videos that would copy what he was doing.

When I started doing videos years ago, I would argue into the night how great videos were. People were saying they were terrible and that the listener should be able to use his or her imagination. Now I think it would be nice if we could get to the point of not having to do a video for EVERY song, and it wouldn't hurt your record. And I think some of my songs are better left to the listener's imagination. There are an awful lot of video people out there who are not in the music business and don't know the first thing about music and they're suddenly working with an artist who has spent six straight months putting their life into an album. The company comes in and says "Here's what your song really means. Here's our concept. We're gonna dress you up to look like a ... whatever. Now be sure to show up at ten o'clock and when it's finished we'll send you a copy." It's as archaic as if I went into the recording studio and did my vocals and then never heard them played back. But the people I worked with for the two singles from the new album were wonderful and real sensitive to how I wanted to be portrayed as an artist.

RF: Are these videos for "Crazy In The Night" and "Abadabadango" your first performance video which include your band?

KC: Well now. You see. You've just said it. I've done videos with my band performing before but they're always edited out. So, everybody asks, "Why haven't you ever used your band in your videos?" They were there!! It's just that the director didn't want them. On INVISIBLE HANDS, we shot for two days and nights straight. By the morning of the second day, after being there all the time and looking like hell, they (the morning people) said, "We're ready for your performance piece. Get the band." I can't tell you how exhausted we were. When I finally saw the edited video my first question was, "Where's the band?" They (the video people) said, "We couldn't use them. They didn't have any energy. They were dead." Boy did I lose it. I went CRAZY!!!!!! The producer and director had lost track of whose video it was.

RF: What about the crew you've just worked with?

KC: Greg Gold and Dominic Sena. Dominic is one of the best cinematographers I've ever worked with. I didn't see one second of film that couldn't have been used. I went to all the editing sessions and really was a part of it. How can it not be that way? You can't imagine what concepts some people come up with. I've had to throw out two videos in the past because I looked as foolish as I felt.

RF: Could you afford to make a video for a track that never becomes a single?

KC: You would have to have an incredibly wonderful idea. The hope would be that you could turn a lot of people on to the album. In the early days of MTV it might have been possible. But they're getting tight now, as tight as radio. So it's the same deal. Now, if the artist was super, super hot, anything could get played.

RF: Do you find yourself making more rock records than ballads? Or do you still have the same balance of both in your albums?

KC: I just do what I want to do. I wouldn't want to sit through an album of just ballads. You'd fall asleep. But I think they're special. It's like a live show. You can do a show of Kick-ass rock and roll and suddenly you come down to the ballad. The contrast makes it special.

RF: What in hell did BARKING AT AIRPLANES mean?

KC: You can bark at airplanes anyplace, anytime. If you could write down AAAWWOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!!!!!!, that would be my answer. It's just having fun.

RF: Where did this song come in the process of creating the album? Was it a spontaneous thing in the studio, or was this one of the gems you brought with you to the studio?

KC: Part way through the album. It was something from home. I always look for something out of left field. "Bent" is my favorite word in life. When we cut the song I knew it was a single.

RF: Do you pretty much deliver a finished album to the label? And do you ever get sent back to the studio to re-work or add on?

KC: No. I deliver a final album. But quite often, after finishing an album and playing it for the label I'm so excited that I go and write a song or two. On this album, after mixing and playing it for EMI, we went back and did PICK UP THE PHONE and ROUGH EDGES. It was one that had to be there. Ry Cooder played chilling guitar and he's somebody I've wanted to play with on one of my albums for years. Martha Davis sang and James Ingram came in and did some singing that was fabulous. ROUGH EDGES also reflects how I feel about making music. It's about rough edges being good, not bad.

RF: Speaking of rough edges. Your voice is very distinctive because of its texture.

KC: God!

RF: Does your voice require a lot of rest between performances?

KC: Knock on wood. If I'm on the road singing everyday, it keeps me in shape. But I don't run into problems because this is my voice. I'm not saying I can't strain my voice but nights when we've done tracks ... when we go all night and I really have to reach for it. I will lose my voice. When I have to watch my voice more than any other time is when I get a cold, because my voice gets real clear. THAT'S NOT GOOD!!

RF: Heaven forbid.

KC: I know (laughs). It's not the time to be in the studio.

RF: Did the sudden and total impact of your number one hit, BETTE DAVIS EYES, cause you to rush around to radio stations accelerating your promotion of the song and increasing your visibility?

KC: I have been running around to radio stations since my earliest singles. I can remember running around with NOBODY KNOWS. The label, Amos Records, was distributed by Bell (later to become Arista). I went out with the Bell people for more than 3 weeks. And I think for every A&M album I would go out for at least three weeks. With MORE LOVE on EMI Charlie Minor, my buddy, was still with them ... we went to every station. I have pals out there that I call up and keep in touch with. They've been good to me all these years.

RF: Is it different now, visiting stations?

KC: The difference is that there are appointments now. The way I used to do it was driving along, hitting stations. I'd go in and say, "Anybody here? Can I come in and introduce myself and play you my new record?" That was hard. I like radio now for their input. If you get away from it you forget their needs and what they like to hear and play.

RF: Do you listen to a lot of radio at home in Los Angeles?

KC: In my car, yeah. But when I'm recording my albums over long periods of time, I'm music'ed-out. Also, I don't want to be influenced by what I might hear. When we make an album, I don't want to sound like anybody else and I don't want to be trendy. Ever.

RF: But do hit records still have an influence?

KC: Yeah! I like the new Paul Young song. I heard it and went, "It's so simple. The statement ... why didn't I think of that?"

RF: Now that you've finished the album, what will you be doing for the rest of the year?

KC: I'll do more videos, for the third and fourth singles and I'll be doing more promotion for the album. I try to get to Europe once a year for a tour and promotion. That can take a month. I need to get out and tour. It has been a couple of years now and the band and I are overdue.

RF: Artists tend to bitch about being on the road ... even writing songs about it. Do you have that under control?

KC: I do now. I didn't used to. But the last three tours have been the best. I love my band. They're the greatest guys and that helps. But I don't go out for too long. Five weeks max. Then we take a break. I like to finish every tour when we're not quite ready to quit. The last few tours have actually been a great relief. There are so many pressures at home. When I go on the road the only thing I have to worry about is showing up at the soundcheck and doing the show. The road is a sanctuary for me. It has really changed. It has come full circle. ■

A/C ANALYSIS

The battle for number one continues, with DeBARGE still holding off PAUL YOUNG while SADE lunges into the fray. She nearly doubled her high rotation commitment since last week. Columbia looks to be the hottest A/C label at the moment with four of the top nine A/C records this week and probably half of the top eight next week. And the highest debuts is also on Columbia as WHAM! opens up at #24 with 135 reports and 69 adds. WHEW! KOOL & THE GANG is now over 80% Hit Factor and pulling High Rotations from the likes of: WBEN, WELI, WTAE, WBT, WEZC, WRKA, WRVA, WSB, KOIL, WISN, WMYX, WTMJ, K106, KYLT, KFI, KFMB, KOST, KRNO, KWAV, KVEC, KGW, and KKLV.

This week's Record To Watch, MICHAEL McDONALD's NO LOOKIN' BACK picks up 45 adds including: B100, KFMB, KQIP, KTYL, KGW, KDES, WDUZ, WEBC, WSKY, WKYX, and WMGW.

RECOMMENDED FOR A/C RADIO

COMMODORES - "Janet" (Motown)
Since the departure of Lionel Richie Jr. from the band, Walter Orange has shouldered most of the vocals. But it has taken until now for him to get the perfect song. This mellow ode to the lady in question will set the Commodores to sail again with A/C radio. The best song I've heard in weeks.

MADONNA - "Dress You Up" (Sire/Warner Bros.) About the only thing comin' from Lady Madonna in the near future that won't have a staple in it. Well, she's become a staple with pop radio anyway.

AIR SUPPLY - "The Power Of Love (You Are My Lady)" (Arista) Hard as they may try to rock it, their mainstay is that of balladiers. With this track they "come home" with as solid an A/C effort as we've had in two years. Good job, guys.

JOHN WAITE - "Every Step Of The Way" (EMI America) Progressive, music-oriented A/C's should eat this up. This mid-tempo rock ballad advances his upcoming "Mask Of Smiles" LP.

◁VICE VISITS VAUGHAN

Stevie Ray Vaughan blew into New York with his band Double Trouble to appear at a Lincoln Center tribute to record legend John Hammond. After a typically smoking set, "Miami Vice" star Don Johnson came backstage to pay respects—and invited Stevie Ray to play on his debut album when recording begins later this summer.

THE ABSOLUTELY POSITIVELY FINAL COMMENTS ABOUT LIVE AID

We heartily agree with those who are promoting Bob Geldof as a logical Nobel Peace Prize recipient. He didn't merely have the idea ... he got up and did something about it. And that's the rub. It couldn't have been that easy to get Dylan, Jagger, Madonna and the rest of them on the phone. But he obviously persisted, and the results are history (and historical).

I had the idea myself but was just too lazy to leave Mary Tyler Moore re-runs and do anything about it. Of course if I had gotten off my duff I would have been lucky to reach Steve & Eydie or The Rip Chords.

So we enthusiastically endorse the idea of the Nobel Committee awarding their humanistic Oscar to the man who demonstrated to the world that the people of rock and roll have more than a little bit of soul. After all, Henry Kissinger won the thing and all he ever did was a startling impression of Rich Little.

The most grandiose concepts and biggest projects are often the resulting action from the simplest germ of an idea. Geldof says that the massive design for LIVE AID occurred to him after watching an Ethiopian segment on a TV documentary. Here's OUR simple idea for raising even more money for the hungry ... and we think it should include some of the deprived right here in the states:

We were reading recently that Sylvester Stallone, as producer, writer and star of RAMBO, is grossing millions of dollars per WEEK from that film. Since he has already banked uncountable millions from the three ROCKY flicks and can only wear one pair of pants or drive one designer car at a time, here's our challenge to Sly: Contribute every penny of your RAMBO earnings to LIVE AID and watch how fast the Peace Prize committee notices. You'll make the history books and do a hell of a job soothing some of the people who thought Rambo's violence was excessive. What you'll do is actually turn RAMBO into a man of peace, while donating more to world hunger than five LIVE AID spectaculars could ever hope to do. Spielberg, George Lucas and a number of others can also immortalize themselves by making the same announcement and following through on it. Just a thought.

On a lighter LIVE AID note or so ...

We watched the Dick Clark-hosted ABC network re-cap of the concerts and felt that there was a bizarre kind of time warp twist in hearing Mr. American Bandstand talking about Tom Petty, The Boomtown Rats and Phil Collins. We still identify the ageless King of Beachnut with Fabian, Avalon and Connie Francis ... and we wondered where they were.

Investigation has revealed that the three were working a bar mitzvah being held by the one Jewish family in Yankton, South Dakota. They all sent regrets, but it sure would have been nice to hear VENUS, TURN ME LOOSE, and STUPID CUPID right after the WHO reunion.

It certainly was considerate of MTV to superimpose shots of their Vee-Jays swaying and clapping in heartfelt appreciation, as Paul McCartney and associate legends were performing their moving LET IT BE finale. The Music Channel was most thoughtful and respectful of the intelligence of their audience in allowing us to view the ecstasy on the faces of Martha Quinn and her cohorts during Paul's stirring performance. Actually this gives us another creative idea: What about a special Nobel prize for Nina Blackwood's hairdresser? We'd have it in the form of an eggbeater mounted on a formica plaque.

In But Seriously Folks conclusion, we feel some real sense of pride that we dumped-on-by-the-public people of the music business have shown society that we're really about more than questionable lyrics and payola.

We, thanks to Geldof and so many others, did something that Bank Of America and Xerox and MGM and General Motors didn't do. And despite all our negative ink by the general press, the results can't be argued. It's just this simple: There are people who will survive thanks to LIVE AID!

Rock and Roll wrote the bottom line, and maybe some of us ain't so bad after all. ●

ON TRIAL WITH LONE JUSTICE

Lead Singer Maria McKee.

MARIA MCKEE of LONE JUSTICE

by Keith/Kent Zimmerman

On April 7, 1985, The Los Angeles Times ran a five page cover story in their prestigious Sunday Calendar section on a newly signed Los Angeles band. Lone Justice and their lead singer, Maria McKee, obtained what many up and coming bands would kill for—a well publicized record deal complete with a year to establish themselves musically before releasing any product plus an article in the Times by Robert Hilburn. Not bad for a band that started out in 1982 as being a new music band with a Country perspective. Formed in the summer of '82 by guitarist Ryan Hedgecock and a then seventeen-year-old McKee, Lone Justice eventually shed their Country skin in favor of an aggressive, "excitable" rock sound. Their debut album, Lone Justice was released in April and their latest single is entitled "Sweet Sweet Baby". After the mixed blessing of opening for U2 on tour, Lone Justice has just completed a short club tour on their own. We spoke to Maria as Lone Justice was just getting ready to leave Boston and fly to Oklahoma where they joined the Tom Petty tour. While Lone Justice's career has started off on a fast and furious note, there are no shortcuts when it comes to gaining gradual acceptance with music fans and programmers. Lone Justice has the makings for developing into a fine and credible contribution to the Spirit of Rock 'n' Roll Americana.

Marla McKee with Jesse Jackson.

KZ: It must have been exhilarating to have The Los Angeles Times write such a long piece on the band.

MM: We were really appreciative. By the time it came around it had already gotten out of proportion. We developed this attitude about our press where we just plod along and do our job. If they write about us, great. If they don't, great. Sometimes I don't even read my reviews because you can get caught up in what people have to say about you. We just try to do what we have to do without taking that sort of thing to heart.

KZ: That LA Times piece mentioned that one label wanted to start you out as a Nashville based Country act and then cross you over.

MM: Yeah! God yeah.

KZ: That sounds like an interesting concept to me. Lone Justice could have been a young version of an Alabama type band. Maybe it would have been a little bizarre.

MM: Yeah, it would have been a little too bizarre. I don't know. I think it's limiting. I really do. I like what we do now because we can play any kind of music we want. We'd be stuck in a Country thing. Plus, (Country listeners) are not ready to accept what we have to give them in Nashville. We play so aggressive live it's almost like a punk rock show. They would have laughed us off the stage at the Grand Old Opry. Hopefully in years to come, we might have something to do with (the Nashville scene). Bands like us and Jason & the Nashville Scorchers might open their minds to us a little bit. I don't think the Country market is quite ready to accept bands like us. We can slow down and use some Country ballads, but our two-steps are pretty frenzied.

KZ: Benmont Tench (keyboardist for Tom Petty & the Heartbreakers) played with Lone Justice for a while. How was that?

MM: He actually joined the band for a whole year and it was such a good experience for us. Since he's been playing in the same band for so long, he has a real sensitivity about when to lay back and when to support and give to a performer while he's onstage. His keyboard stuff gave us a lot of inspiration because he's got so much soul. He and (producer) Jimmy Iovine did a collaborative effort as far as helping the band turn the changes. We were pretty sloppy in the beginning. We were good but we were kind of sloppy because we would just get up there and play these wild Country stomp songs. We didn't have any direction as far as songs were concerned and that's where Jimmy Iovine really helped out. Jimmy said, "Look, you've got to write songs because that's the most important thing. You can sing your head off but people are going to remember the songs. Bands come and go, but songs always stay."

KZ: In your early days, Lone Justice was lumped in with bands like The Long Ryders, Rank and File, and Jason & the Scorchers? Did that sit well with you?

MM: That was fine. We used to play together. We had the same sort of vision in the sense of joining the rural and urban cultures together. We all tend to agree there. We did our first tour ever with Rank and File. Some of our first gigs were opening for them and The Long Ryders. Then Jason opened for us a year ago.

KZ: I remember when you were signed. It seemed like there was a whole year where you didn't rush out any product.

MM: It was great. We didn't have all these songs together and, like I said, Benmont and Jimmy helped us tighten it up. We played a lot live. I think Geffen Records was really sympathetic towards our situation of being such a young band.

KZ: Is that when your Country sound shifted to a three guitar rock band?

MM: The three guitars? No, we just added (rhythm guitarist Tony Gilkyson) about six months ago. We decided when Benmont left that we still needed something else to fill it out. My rhythm guitar playing live leaves a lot to be desired. My guitar is more like a thrashing instrument, almost a percussion instrument. Tony and Ryan (Hedgecock) trade rhythm and lead. It's almost like a Ron Wood/Keith Richards exchange. Plus, I like to throw the guitar down and dance a lot.

MM: Yeah, he's the leader of the band.

KZ: Do you ever feel there's too much emphasis on you rather than Lone Justice as a band?

MM: It happens all the time. There's nothing we can do about it. We don't like it because we're a band. If it was heading towards a lead-singer-and-her-back-up-musicians trip, we would quit tomorrow. I would be nowhere without the four of them.

KZ: But there was a time when you weren't the primary singer. Wasn't it a two vocalist thing in the early days?

MM: Ryan would sing a few songs, but I've always pretty much been the lead singer of the band.

KZ: You sang on the Streets Of Fire soundtrack. You replaced Rosanne Cash at one point.

MM: Oh gosh! Streets Of Fire (laughs). That was something I choose to forget I mean, no offense. It's a good song but maybe I'm being a little too candid about it. It was a good experience because it was me and Jimmy in a trial period. It was like, here's a girl singer, right? Girl singers are usually pretty freaked out. Let me see if this one is even workable.

KZ: Do you have any memories of the Lone Justice's early club scene days in Los Angeles?

MM: It's not really memory to me because I still live in LA and I still hang out with all those people. I go to all their gigs and my boyfriend is in a band that plays all over LA. It's not like now we're on fire and we can't go and play clubs in LA. It's not really a memory, it's reality. ●

Shock—Motels (Capitol)

MARTHA DAVIS ranks right up there with PAT BENATAR vying for Album Radio's Queen Of The Airwaves. While MADONNA and CYNDI LAUPER sing amidst the bangles, baubles, and beads, THE MOTELS utilize strong and fat backbeats rich with layers and layers of guitars and digital synths. SHOCK is a very modern sounding piece of work. SHOCK is a great way to modernize your air sound without shocking your diehards. Beautiful color artwork. Shock/Shame/New York Times/State Of The Heart.

"Weird Science"—Oingo Boingo (MCA)

I gotta credit ERIN RILEY in Philly for hipping me to this OINGO BOINGO tidbit. It's typically quirky, if you're familiar with OB's past work, but far better. If robots danced to hard rock, this would be their anthem. Cool song.

Red Sails On The Sunset—Midnight Oil

When RED SAILS first set, I ponied up twelve bucks for a premier copy of the Aussie import. Ironically it wasn't until the domestic release did I fully appreciate the power and the passion of this LP. Maybe the mastering is better, but a song like "Kosciusko" didn't gleam until now. MIDNIGHT OIL is one of the finest live performing units worldwide. They tended to keep an esoteric distance on record until now. The band has taken great pain to capture their unique blend of contrasting hard and soft textures by recording in Tokyo. Each song is thick with tradition and commentary, which is why we're tracking down spokesman PETER GARRETT for a deeper explanation. More on that later. Meanwhile take the extra time it'll take to be aware. Kosciusko/When The General/Best Of Both Worlds/Who Can Stand In The Way.

Standing on the Edge—Cheap Trick (Epic)

More BEATLESQUE rock with the treble on full. CHEAP TRICK walk a dangerous line between hard rock and TOP FORTY, playing dice with an image that is controversial, oddly enough. The unedited single track is even more of a throwback to the psychodaisiey 60's. In a strangely abrasive way, it's their best work in a long time. Other trax worth considering is Little Sister, the opener, and the album's title track, Standing On The Edge plus This Time Around. Check out RICK NEILSEN tossing a taped-over copy of their first LP.

Misplaced Childhood—Marillion (Capitol)

So far, MARILLION has existed magni nominis umbra (in the great shadow of) GENESIS. So while PETER GABRIEL is ensconced inside his home studios and PHIL

COLLINS treads lucrative pop territory, does that mean that there exists a void left open now that GENESIS now longer spins elaborate tales about musical boxes and carnivorous plant life? Abroad, MARILLION has made mega strides fillin' the needs of those who thrive on compositions of grandiore. Art rock still has a vast legion of followers worldwide. MARILLION is their leader. Kayleigh/Waterhole-Lords Of The Backstage.

SAY IT ISN'T SO

"Say It Isn't So"—The Outfield (Columbia)

The line printed on the corner of the abstract picture sleeve says it. YOU'VE GOT ME ALL SCREWED UP. THE OUTFIELD is pure crisp pop with guitars. Listeners will ponder whether it's MEN AT WORK or else early early POLICE. Produced by WILLIAM WITTMAN (GRAHAM PARKER), this, along with OINGO BOINGO are the two ALBUM/ALTERNATIVE outfield picks.

"One In A Million"—Eddie & Tide (Atco)/

"American Way"—Hyts (Gold Mt.)

Here's a couple of acts out of our own backyard. EDDIE & his TIDES gained notoriety with this very track on Album Stations outside the San Francisco metro area. HYTS are produced by MATTHEW KING KAUFMAN. Bassist STAN MILLER once plucked for EARTHQUAKE. "American Way" first struck a responsive chord with our office Republican, CHAIRMAN DAVE SHOLIN.

MY 2¢

A hearty welcome to WXRK-NEW YORK, formerly WKTU-92 in the BIG APPLE. They debut as a GAVIN ALBUM INDICATOR this week. Happened to be in NYC on the day of their big debut. Kept hearing X's Burning House Of Love. No word yet on the PD and MD slots. PAT EVANS from KOME is acting PD... Also heard some great new music upcoming. That includes JOHN MELLENCAMP singing a song called Small Town, a ditty that sounded a lot like I Need A Lover and Pink Houses. Great song. Also heard some tunes by SIMON F (produced by STEVE STEVEN, IDOL's sidekick) redoing the HOODOO GURU's I Want You Back, ALAN VEGA, THE CURE, and PREFAB SPROUT (produced by THOMAS DOLBY)... Speaking of THOMAS DOLBY, MIKE COOPER from Atlanta hipped me to a new UK single by DOLBY'S CUBE, that includes LENE LOVICH, GEORGE CLINTON, DOLBY, THE BRECKER BROTHERS, plus members of EARTH, WIND, and FIRE and PARLIAMENT. Release here is due in September... BOBBY CHRISTIAN up at KTCZ in Minn./St. Paul is happy over the ARBs. Ole KTCZ went up 3.2 to 4.2 12+. The real story is that they are tied for the number one position for 25-34 men with a 12.0 share. Congrats... Also WAAF-Worcester has marched into Boston. They are the city's number nine station, doing stronger 18-34. That story about TEARS FOR FEARS breaking up is all a bunch of bull bleep... KILO-Colorado Springs has TOM PETTY's Spike pulling top requests. So ALAN WHITE says... kept hearing rumors about EDDIE VAN HALEN recording with none other than The Red Rocker, SAMMY HAGAR. Hmmm... Each week the GODLEY & CREME record has taken a ten point jump, 32-22-12. The correct way to pronounce LOL CREME's last name is "Cream" as in the dairy product. LOL is short for LAWRENCE, which I wasn't supposed to print... we received an interesting disc called TRASH TWANG & THUNDER featuring TEN GUITARS from TEXAS. It's on da Jungle label out of Austin, TX. Phone # is 512-443-7444... Another interesting twelve inch single is the new one by the GOLDEN PALOMINOS. The label is the famous NYC sound on Celluloid. The song is Omaha, that old chestnut by MOBY GRAPE. Stay safe.....KZ.

ALTERNATIVE ACTION

REM maintains their number one position for the fifth consecutive week. The race is close, but the HEADS couldn't gain any ground on the frontrunners. SHRIEKBACK and OMD continue to forge ahead into the top five, but they're running out of room. SHRIEKBACK is gaining excellent college play, while OMD's support is more balanced, with commercial stations heavily on the single. This difference could propel OMD past SHRIEKBACK. X's 12" single carried them to #15 and CERTIFIED last week. The album debuts at #10! MIDNIGHT OIL is CERTIFIED and presently on the road with their renown live show. If you're still not sold on the record, go see them live (opening many shows for UB40). You'll become a believer.

UB40 should expect big results from their new six-track record (EP?). It was our MOST ADDED release and is a projected CERTIFIED and top ten Alternative record.

RETURN OF THE LIVING DEAD SOUNDTRACK is beginning to acquire a solid base of stations - primarily non-commercial. The album debuts, with TSOL and THE CRAMPS tracks still receiving the most attention.

WELCOME back WNYU in NEW YORK CITY. The Music Director is LEIGH LUSTBERG and their playlist & phone number are listed within the correspondence pages.

SPOTLIGHT LP

Be Near Me & Vanity Kills-ABC (Neutron UK-12") ABC has had the burden of living up to the reputation of their brilliant first album "Lexicon Of Love". It spawned a pop hit, "The Look Of Love", and instantly put the band on the map. The group shifted directions with their last record, "Beauty Stab", adopting more of a rock posture. The results weren't as commercially successful, although many - myself included - felt it was one of the most overlooked Alternative LP's of 1983. "Be Near Me" has been available for months, while "Vanity Kills" is more recent. These two import singles feature the newly revamped ABC. Both songs are reminiscent of ABC's early pop sound with a dance, and even urban, feel to them. "Be Near Me" will be the first single from the album, scheduled for domestic release next month.

COUNTRY SUMMARY

CERTIFIED: There are a couple of stalls, peaks, and valleys in the 40. "On The Way To Montana" MARIE OSMOND and DAN SEALS are Certified to climb to the top. Charting a course between 20-11 at KXKZ-RUSTON, WBIU-DENHAM SPRINGS, WKNZ-COLLINS, KRST-ALBUQUERQUE, and at KIOV/KXRB they moved 13-9. LARRY ROHRER also reports that after three days of "Thing About You" on the SIOUX FALLS airwaves SOUTHERN PACIFIC shows signs of going places. GEORGE

GORDON-WFTP tells us SOUTHERN PACIFIC is a major force in FT. PIERCE. MOST ADDED: CRYSTAL GAYLE shifts out of second gear to make the new to Action Sides-Most Added. Tailgating the OAKS chartbound are RONNIE McDOWELL and STEVE WARINER. EDDY RAVEN is burning rubber. TOP REQUESTS: ROCKIN' SIDNEY continues to exercise power, thus holding back GEORGE STRAIT from cruising into the headlines this week with RONNIE MILSAP. MUD ON OUR FACES: The committee in charge of auditioning and recommending didn't intend to mis-lead supporters, but the DAN FOGELBERG entry "High Country Snows" we now understand was released for A/C last week and "Down The Road/ Mountain Pass" was serviced Country this week. Any cut from this almost "Gold" album is a winner for Country fans.

P.D. NOTEBOOK

TAKE TWO

Of all the topics covered in seven years of columns in the Gavin Report, the one that has excited the most polarized comments, believe it or not, have been the two on "Keeping the Staff Healthy," with some tips I've learned over the years about preventing staff colds, treating the throat when it's in bad shape, etc. Some people have found these columns very helpful, and others have accused me of practicing medicine without a license! Perhaps one day there will be enough demand to venture forth on that topic again for those who haven't seen those columns before.

In the meantime, perhaps this column has the potential of generating the same sort of comments. I have noticed that Program Directors, especially in the smaller markets, tend to work a lot of hours and wear a lot of hats!! I was one of them, and I have never stopped keeping the long hours and doing a lot of different stuff. It can wear you down a bit.

One of the things that isn't talked about much is that after a while—as you cruise through your 30's and head into the 40's and beyond—it seems that perhaps the mind used to work a little better than it does now. There are days when it feels like you have a bowl of oatmeal for a brain, and days when you wished you'd stayed in bed.

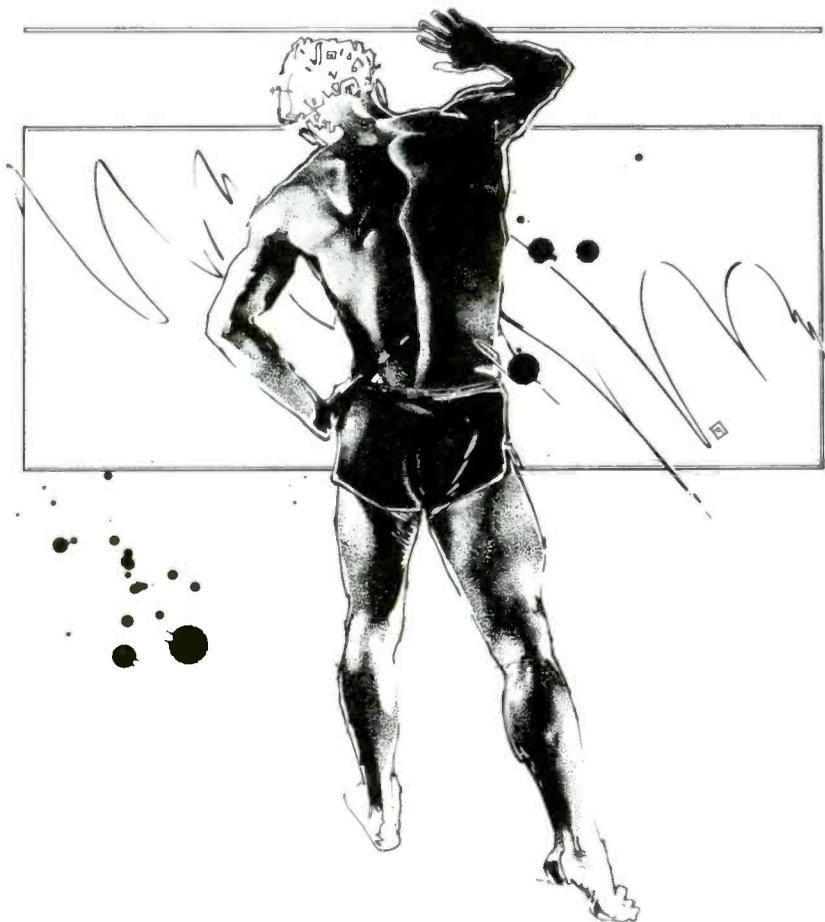

Citing as my sources a PhD in nutrition, a pharmacist, and my own experience, I will recommend two products to you if you need a little help to stay on your mental toes (besides coffee, of course).

When I first started taking Lecithin capsules almost a decade ago, the practice was regarded as worthless by the medical profession, but I did notice that with three capsules a day (19 grain, or 1200 mg, size) my mind seemed to work a bit faster and better, so I kept it up. Nowadays Lecithin is acquiring some grudging respectability in medicine, because studies tend to support my experience. There is a great deal of Lecithin in the brain anyway; taking at least three capsules a day seems to help. These capsules are quite inexpensive and are available in all drug stores and most supermarkets.

Recently, a pharmacist called my attention to an amino acid that he felt lived up to its report of improved brain function and new overall vitality. I've tried it, and without experiencing anything in particular that one could label an effect, I do seem to be realizing these benefits, so I recommend it to you if you'd like to try it and see what you think for yourself. It's called L-Tyrosine. This is a bit more expensive, and not as readily available, but as I say, the results seem to justify the effort and expense. Take three tablets a day first thing in the morning on an empty stomach.

Both Lecithin and L-Tyrosine are natural substances, and are nontoxic. Their use is harmless. Perhaps you'll find them useful in keeping the mind going! ●

R&amp;B SUMMARY

This was the week that was made to separate the men from the boys and the hits from the misses. Take a look at the debuts, beginning at #20 with 9.9, and then non-stop from #24 to #29! Seven hits that will go a tough mile when it gets to be Top Ten Time? Who will make room above them for spots on the chart remains to be seen in the weeks to come? This 9.9 single is, of course, doing well in Boston (from where this trio of ladies hail) at WILD, where it's charted at #7 already. Other charts look like #6 at WBMX-Chicago for Marco Spoon, #9 at WDPN-Columbia for Chaz Saunders, who says it's "hot and climbing", #15 for Donnie Taylor at WYLD-New Orleans, #17 for Julian Davis at WOKJ-Jackson and #17 for Bill St. John at KIIZ-Killeen. "Automatic" Certification for THE POINTER SISTERS, who seem to have yet another great first single from a new LP that many of you report as outstanding. And although it doesn't happen very often, a third "Certified" award of the week goes to PRINCE. All three of the above are getting so much attention, it would have been negligent on my part to leave any one of them out. Just below these three debuts you'll find READY FOR THE WORLD's "Oh Sheila". Although MARY JANE GIRLS wins hands down the Pop Crossover pick this time, keep an eye or two on READY. On page one of the Top 40 chart section, Dave makes it his "Record To Watch" and cites the following Top 40 attention it's getting: #34-29 at KKHR-L.A., added at FM102-Sacramento, 195-Miami, WBBQ-Augusta, Z98-Tampa, Z104-Madison, KMGX-Fresno, and KIIS/FM-L.A. Not too shabby for a group that has never had a pop hit before and could be looking at their first. Getting on to new product, our Most Added listings consist of two that were pretty obvious from day one - THE FAMILY and FREDDIE JACKSON - and one that wasn't so obvious - BOBBY WOMACK. His first single to get this much attention in quite some time, "I Wish He Didn't Trust Me So Much" is generating a lot of "good lyric" mentions from our reporters. Betty

PROMOTIONS

by Lisa Smith & Betty Hollars

CKSL's free outdoor concert presents Gowan for 12,000 in London, Ontario, Canada.

and 7:00 a.m. Then, between 7:30 a.m. and 8:00 a.m., Chris will take a random caller at 631-2MJL. If they can repeat the morning secret, they win.

◀FREE GOWAN

It is CKSL's fourth consecutive year of presenting free outdoor summer concerts in London, Ontario, Canada. Over the past three years they have had in attendance approximately 60,000 people. Their first summer concert '85, was held May 20th with CBS recording artist, Gowan. 12,000 Londoners rocked Victoria Park for his 90-minute concert, CKSL's biggest and best yet!

▼NEW MEXICO HOME GIVEAWAY

KOB/FM in Albuquerque, NM just completed what will go down in New Mexico history as the grandest grand prize ever in the state. Nine finalists were given keys to a new 1,919 square-foot $89,900 home, complete with furnishings worth $16,000, and the key that fit belonged to a woman expecting her first child. Since her husband was a policeman, she received a police escort to her new home, and was so excited she went straight home to pack for the move!

IT'S SATURDAY NIGHT-LIVE AID

Washington, D.C. people were given the opportunity to win "Live-Aid" tickets from Q107. After sending in postcards with names, etc. on them, listeners were given the chance to call "Live-Aid" within 20 minutes to win their free pair of tickets.

MESSAGE TO LOST AND ABDUCTED CHILDREN

Radio will be getting involved in the child abduction problem in what may be an industry first. WAXY/FM in Ft. Lauderdale is running a public service campaign targeting announcements to lost and abducted children which will go directly to the actual child abductee. During the weekend of July 20th, a message will run every hour. It will give children a personable message, followed by a 1-800 number which can be easily remembered. Children who call will be put in touch with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children in Washington, D.C. The center had over 247,000 cases of missing persons reported in 1984 and WAXY-FM is hoping that this one-to-one appeal to the child will go one step further to help the cause.

ANOTHER PHRASE THAT PAYS KMJL-Englewood, CO, is offering listeners $100 if they can repeat the "Majic Morning Secret". Monday through Friday, a phrase will be given by disc jockey Chris Elliot on the air, between 6:30 a.m.

Chuck Ellis of Circle K, Bob Towne, Bill Hooten and 93 KOB/FM's morning team, Jay Scott and Phil Sisneros, congratulate the lucky winner who is expecting her first child this year.

MOST OUTRAGEOUS ACTS

Dave Anthony lets us in on his latest promotion at KDWB-Minneapolis: based on the theme "What's the most outrageous thing YOU would do for one thousand dollars?" he calls the response "hot and heavy". The station was instrumental in raising a record amount of cash... over $50,000 for the University of Minnesota charity fundraisers. Some of the winning entries were: a just-married couple, still in wedding gown and tuxedo, doing nose-flossing; a synchronized tricycle race; a guy drinking a glass of beer containing 13 raw eggs while standing on his head; and the "Human Quiche", who poured dozens of eggs over his head and took a bath in egg-soaked spinach.

▼ LIVE-AID AUDIO & VIDEO

KJOY in Stockton, CA got into the "Live-Aid" concert in a big way... not only did they provide 18-hour coverage on the air beginning at 3:00 a.m. Saturday morning, they went to the local mall and provided live Video coverage on two big screen televisions from 10:00 a.m. Saturday. The admission to the video show was a $1.00 donation with all proceeds going to "Live-Aid". According to P.D. Roy Williams, the turn-out was tremendous and will go down in KJOY history as one of their most successful promotions.

Pictured with the first bikini to enter the station (worn by the girl on his lap) is P.D. Drew Bentley, P.D. of WBEA-Elyria, Ohio.

▲ BIKINI BIRTHDAY

WBEA in Elyria, Ohio, recently celebrated the 39th anniversary of the birth of "THE BIKINI", by inviting listeners to wear their "bikinis" into the station to win prizes! The first person to enter the station wearing her bikini was awarded with her prize and photographed with P.D. Drew Bentley (sitting on his lap).

G105 PRIZE PATROL

G105-Durham, N.C.'s "Prize Patrol" has been hitting the streets with eyes "pealed" for G105 Bumper Stickers. If one is spotted, G105's mascot 'Atilla G-rilla' will give drivers the chance to pick from his "Bunch of Bananas". Each banana contains a prize certificate, ranging from AM/FM Headphone Radios to $105.00.

ATTENTION: ALL NEWS PERSONNEL

DAVE SHOLIN'S
Personal Picks — SINGLES

RON FELL'S
Personal Picks — ALBUMS

MADONNA - Dress You Up (Sire/Warner Brothers)
Get ready for the one-liners!

JOHN WAITE - Every Step Of The Day (EMI America)
Doesn't take long to get into this one. Besides his instantly identifiable vocals, Waite again shows off his skill at coming up with songs than can hold up well under the heavy exposure of Top 40 play. His name won't be missing from our chart much longer.

HYTS - American Way (Gold Mountain/A&M)
Boy if there was ever a time for a flag wavin' rocker it's now! Wrapped in red, white & blue this powerhouse makes a statement but does so in the context of up, feel good rock 'n' roll. The Hyts may well have their first one.

Pointer Sisters - "Contact" (RCA)

When the trio that picked up the slack with the Supremes broke up made firm and unquestioned contact with all of pop radio last year. (Both JUMP and AUTOMATIC made our Top 100 of 1984). The kinetic continuity evident on "Contact" will no doubt compound their success. The first of many singles, DARE ME, is already getting considerable airplay. The follow-ups include: POUND, POUND, POUND, TWIST MY ARM and BODIES AND SOUL, and for a refreshing change of pace, don't overlook the ballad, FREEDOM with Jeff Lorber adding fusion to fision.

The Motels - "Shock" (Capitol)

Martha Davis and her supporting band members have now firmly established an identifiable sound. But I think what cuts this new LP apart from their past LP's is the incredible plot lines of lyric. Fear and loathing anchor the themes, as our heroine stalks elusive dreams almost solo. Have you noticed? She never layers her voice, nor do other band members lend support vocally to her tracks. Harmony is not the game for Martha. SHAME, ICY RED, NEW YORK TIMES, HUNGRY, CRIES AND WHISPERS.
