DAVE SHOLIN'S Personal Picks — SINGLES

ERIC MARTIN - Information (Capitol)
Quite a transformation from his debut LP a few years back. His talent as a vocalist can't be denied. Match his maturity as an artist with the productions of Kortchmar and Ladanyi, some great players, and this soulful side, and you've got a tasty combination.

INSIDE TOP 40 WITH DAVE SHOLIN

HUEY dominates by a solid margin as PARR waits in the wings for a vacancy. These top two are far ahead of the rest in the pack below. Only half of the top ten are on the way up, making way for new entrants next week...count on PRINCE, DIRE STRAITS and KOOL "Cherish" is rapidly becoming one of their giant hits with a Hit Factor of 77% and top 10 numbers at WBEN, WHTX, WBMW, Z100, KSTN, KCPX, WCIL, WZYZ, I-95, WHYT, WTWR, KGGG, Q104, etc. MOTELS showing some quick conversion with Hit Factor growth of 4% to 17% and big jumps at PRO/FM 22-14, KSTR 40-19, KKEE 13-5, WLXR 27-21, etc. MOTLEY CRUE picking up adds each week as new believers just can't deny the power of this record...need more convincing? How 'bout WJZR 13-6, WJET 18-11, B-94 29-24, KFMN 27-13, Z104 5-3, KVRP 21-14, WOAY 15-7, WQID

30-19, WKXX 22-11, etc. A-HA goes top ten after only two weeks at KIIS/FM-L.A., joined by cross-town KKHR...also top ten at KIYS-Boise, OK95-Tri-Cities, Z-95-Salt Lake City, and more. Watch that stat — it'll be going up real fast. Long list of hot debuts on the EURYTHMICS...#29 92X, #26 WYKS, #30 KTRS, #30 KFIV, #24-KNVR, #27 WLYQ, #30-KC101, etc. GODLEY & CREME goes over the 200 mark in total reports with adds at KWOD, KITS, KAFM, WIZM, KGLI, WNKS, WALG, WGOL, KPOP, etc. WHITNEY HOUSTON now charted by WHYT, Y107, Z-98, KMEL, KOSO, FM102, B-97, etc. It was a month ago that READY FOR THE WORLD became our "Record To Watch" with only 8 reports...it is now receiving confirmation as a major hit, climbing 23-18 WBBQ, 28-17 WQBZ, 30-15 Z104, 28-19 KFIM, 36-23 KKYS, 26-13 KMGX, 21-11 FM102, 10-3

KIIS/FM, 12-9 KKHR, etc. KING top ten on the West Coast getting the nod with adds from Q105-Tampa, WZZU-Raleigh, KWOD-Sacramento, KJOY-Stockton, etc., while moving up for KTBC, KFIM, KSAQ and KWES. Though more of you are playing than reporting the BILLY CRYSTAL record due to heavy day-parting, it's becoming an important record for many programmers. Jonathan Little at Z104-Madison reports it as his "number one adult request." Big in Miami, Detroit, Topeka, Phoenix, Seattle, etc. We hipped you to SIMPLE MINDS from "Breakfast Club" when it had only 19 reports...now the same director, John Hughes has "Weird Science" with the title song from OINGO BOINGO, added by KS103 (nightly winner on "Battle" 5 straight nights), KKHR, KKYS, WPFM, WJZR...BIG BIG potential.

A/C ANALYSIS

BILLY JOEL dominates the top of the chart but I'm sure he can feel the heat being generated by KOOL & THE GANG. TINA TURNER's big push came from 56 stations that took her from medium to heavy rotation in one week. WHAM! picked up 49 new heavies and MILSAP picked up 33 H's (even though he's momentarily held up in ranking at #9). As predicted last week, AIR SUPPLY and WHITNEY HOUSTON certified themselves with the highest chart debuts. WHITNEY had 52 adds and AIR SUPPLY 33.

Last week's Record To Watch, ERIC TAGG's WOMAN I LOVE shows 34 more adds and a 36% hit factor. COCK ROBIN re-debuts in the New category with 10 new adds. First time in years a record has returned to the page after having its wings clipped.

Congratulations to those of you who hear A/C potential in the DAVID FOSTER AND MAURICE WHITE. MAURICE picked up some pretty impressive calls the first week including: WBT, WMT/FM, KWAV, KYLT, WFFX, WMGN, and KDES. DAVID FOSTER's lineup includes: WAEV, WEZC, KFOR, KWEB, KEY103, KVEC, WKYE, WKYX, and KTIM. Two other faves of mine, the A-HA and CARRIE LUCAS featuring the WHISPERS missed the cut by two stations each. Next week fur shur, fur shur.

for a construction permit to build the aforementioned rampart to the heart.

ABC - "Be Near Me" (Mercury/PolyGram) The band's grand experiment in oblique pop modernism may be forgiven now that they've cut a track as digestible as this. One of those rare tracks that can chart from page 2 to page 30 in The Gavin.

DURELL COLEMAN - "Somebody Took My Love" (Island) One of the big winners on the '85 version of Star Search, COLEMAN inks an Island contract and cuts a convincing ballad as his debut. A/C's should lead the way.

Ronnie Milsap has been makin' music for most of his life. Born in North Carolina, he attended the Governor Morehead School For The Blind. It was there that he received a formal training in classical music. He later turned down a scholarship to Emory University School of Law in favor of playing music for a living. He's been makin' music professionally for two decades, running the gamut from R&B with Scepter Records in the mid-sixties, to doing session work with Elvis in the late sixties, and finally signing on with RCA in the early seventies. He's established himself solidly in the country music field, while never being afraid to cross over into Top 40 and A/C on the slightest whim.

RONNIE MILSAP ...MAKIN' MUSIC

by RON FELL & LISA SMITH

GAVIN: Where did you grow up?

RM: In the Smokey Mountains of North Carolina in a small farming community called Robinsville. Then, when I started school at six, I moved four hundred miles away to Raleigh. So essentially, I spent most of my growing up/teenage years around Raleigh.

GAVIN: When did you become serious about music? Was it when you were in school in Raleigh?

RM: I've always loved music. We had an old battery Philco radio when I was growing up in the Smokies. I really grew up listening to radio out of Knoxville. Some of the people who eventually wound up on the Grand Ol' Opry in Nashville on WSM were on WNOX in Knoxville. I grew up memorizing lyrics to songs.

I didn't know anything technically about music, but I had a God-given gift. Like a lot of people growing up in rural areas, I sang in church. When I started to school in Raleigh, the teachers discovered that I had an aptitude for music. When I was in first grade, they asked me to report for violin lessons. Well, I'd never heard of a violin. I knew fiddles real well, but I didn't know violins. A gentleman named Wallace Grieves was my first music teacher. He taught me violin and cello. He was one of my favorite all-time people. I started studying piano when I was eight years old. This school had instructors specially trained to teach blind students, and it was not only a great academic school, but the music department was just wonderful.

So that was basically my background—coming out of the Smokey Mountains (which is very traditional musically with bluegrass, country, and gospel) and going into school in Raleigh, where the only kind of music we were allowed to play was classical (Mozart, Bach, Beethoven). I can remember being in the practice hall with my violin and instead of practicing a number by Chopin, I was playing "Back Up And Push" by Tommy Jackson, an old fiddle tune. One of my teachers heard me and said, "That's not the way we play that instrument."

GAVIN: I remember reading about a band you formed in Raleigh called the Apparitions.

RM: I formed the group with three other guys when I was a junior in high school. As I've said, we weren't allowed to play anything but classical music at the school. On February 3rd, 1959, when the tragedy happened with Buddy Holly, Richie Valens, and The Big Bopper, I was in the practice hall with some friends of mine playing rock 'n' roll, because that was the music of the time and we loved it. I loved Little Richard, Fats Domino, Jerry Lee Lewis, The Big Bopper—all the music of that time. Anyway, we were playing "Great Balls Of Fire" and one of the music teachers came in and said, "That's it, I've told you guys not to play rock 'n' roll. You're expelled from the music department." We still got to go to the school, but we were expelled from the music department and couldn't play in any of the music festivals that year.

Eventually, they thought that they'd been a little hard on us, so they allowed us to form this group—The Apparitions. So I and a friend of mine named Jay Spell (now a session player in Nashville) and a couple of other guys formed the group. I played electric guitar and sang, Jay played piano, Chuck Langley played drums, and Larry Atwell played bass. Raleigh's a college town, so we played fraternity parties. At sixteen, that was a big deal. It was my first experience playing contemporary music for other people.

GAVIN: When you were talking about the teacher scolding you, I was reminded of the fact that rock 'n' roll was still considered "the devil's music" at that time.

RM: I can remember one of my teachers calling country music "corn" and rock 'n' roll "hell music." But growing up in the fifties and seeing the transition in music was wonderful. Up to that time, the music on the radio was orchestrated and pretty, and then along comes Little Richard banging on the piano singing "Tutti Frutti." We would stay up all night on the weekends and listen to WLAC out of Nashville with John R. and Huey Baby. It was a wonderful period with the change going on in American music.

GAVIN: I assume that at that point you had decided that music would be your life. How did you get discovered?

RM: I had thought that music would be my life. However, when I was in the 11th or 12th grade, I was talking to the sponsors for my education, the ones who were going to sponsor my college education. I mentioned to them that I'd like to go on to the Conservatory in Cincinnati or maybe Juilliard in New York. They thought that I was probably going to end up being an entertainer, and they would not sponsor me to go on and study music.

I still wanted to go to college. I had always loved American history and civics and political science, so I decided to Records in New York. So instead of going on to Emory University, I went to New York.

Scepter signed me to a recording contract, and I came out with my first record in '65. It was a song called "Never Had It So Good," which was a top five soul record. I started making records for Scepter and lived in Atlanta. I got married in '65 to a lady that I've been married to for twenty years. The folks at Scepter introduced me to a gentleman named Chips Moman from Memphis, Tennessee. I started going up to Memphis and making records in '67. I didn't have that much success with them, but John R. played 'em on WLAC and hell, that was all I

GAVIN: This seemed to be leading up to something big. It was around '72 or '73 when you actually put your John Hancock down on a contract with RCA Records.

RM: I had worked hard in Memphis, especially on my show at T.J.'s. My show there consisted of all kinds of music—jazz, rock 'n' roll, country, Broadway tunes. But then I came to a point in my life when I thought I wasn't going anywhere. Also, at that time, the Memphis recording industry seemed to be shrinking. So I talked to my wife Joyce and our son Todd and told them that I felt like I was on a treadmill—working at the club and in the studio.

I wanted to get into recording and try to find myself. Even though I played a lot of different kinds of music, I drew on my study law. After I graduated from high school, I went to a junior college just outside of Atlanta called Young Harris College. Since I had been going to a school for the blind, I thought that going to a college in an unsheltered environment would be a positive experience for me. I attended Young Harris Junior College for two years studying pre-law. I was the only blind student on campus, and I had two roommates who were very helpful to me. I played piano and guitar and people started to know me as a music person.

I started playing with some bands in Atlanta at that time. That whole period was when I discovered the blues. I had a chance to hang out in a place in Atlanta called "The Royal Peacock," and got a chance to meet Jackie Wilson, Marvin Gaye, The Supremes when they first started, and Stevie Wonder when he was still Little Stevie Wonder. Ben E. King called me on stage to sing with him. I started playing a lot of black music because these people were nice to me and allowed me to share their world of music.

After a couple of years of college, I was scheduled to enter Emory University to study law. But I had been hanging around in radio stations. If I hadn't ended up as an entertainer, I'd probably be working in broadcasting, because I have a tremendous love for it. Anyway, I was hanging out at WQXI in Atlanta with a disc jockey friend named Patrick Aloisious Hughes. He introduced me to Florence Greenberg from Scepter needed.

In '68, my wife Joyce and I finally moved to Memphis, basically because of Chips Moman and American Studios. At that time, it was a very hot studio. B.J. Thomas cut "Hooked On A Feeling" there, and Merilee Rush recorded "Angel Of The Morning" there. I came to Memphis to record, and a guy offered me a job at a local night spot called T.J.'s. So I'd work in the studio during the day and at T.J.'s at night. In '69 and '70, I worked on two album with Elvis.

GAVIN: How did you hook up with Elvis?

RM: Chips called me real late one night from the studio and asked me to come down and play piano on this thing that Elvis was recording. I had known that Elvis and Felton Jarvis were back in Memphis to record an album. So I went to the studio and played on a cut, but Elvis wasn't there at the time. Around the same time, Elvis called the owner of T.J.'s and asked him if I'd be interested in playing at Elvis' New Year's Eve Party. I thought that would be great. That's when I first met Elvis. Right after that, I played on "Kentucky Rain." I thought Elvis was very down to earth—very much one of the guys. My memories of him are very fond ones.

background of country music. In the South, country music and rock 'n' roll co-exist real well together. I can remember listening to the radio as a kid and hearing Ray Price and Fats Domino back-to-back. So I've always loved both types of music. I had met some country entertainers—Charley Pride, Merle Haggard, Charlie Rich, and Jack Johnson, who was managing Charley Pride.

I finally moved to Nashville and was offered a job at the club in Roger Miller's King Of The Road Hotel. In early '73, I started recording demo tapes, and we started shopping those around to see if anybody was interested. We talked to every major record label in Nashville, and nobody seemed interested. Jerry Bradley, who followed Chet Atkins as head of A&R for RCA in Nashville, heard the tapes. He took the demos and cleaned them up a little bit and actually released the demos as the first records on RCA—"I Hate You," "That Girl Who Waits On Tables," and "All Together Now, Let's Fall Apart." Then Jerry said, "I'm going to sign you for six months to see if you can sell some records."

I worked with Jack Johnson and Tom Collins, who was head of Charley Pride's publishing company. Tom had access to a lot of songs and so did I. Working in the studio in Nashville seemed like a natural evolution, because I had a lot of experience after working with Chips in Memphis, and I finally felt like my life was going somewhere. A lot of people helped me when I first came to Nashville—artists, songwriters, publishers, record executives—just the general music community in Nashville. That was a huge encouragement to go on and find my place in country music.

GAVIN: Your roots are obviously in country music, but you've never been afraid to go in other directions. We've seen your records crop up on the A/C Charts and on the Top 40 charts. Have you ever run into a backlash from country people for having put out something that wasn't exactly country?

record they can play.

I love this whole business—I have since the first time I heard somebody singing on the radio. I'm real big on collecting old tube microphones. Those old mikes require a little more maintenance, but I'm a real audio nut. I'm a ham radio operator.

I have computers that have all types of braille devices and speech devices that allow you to read what's on the screen. I'm into the whole electronics scene.

GAVIN: Is there a piece of equipment that you've been looking for for a long time?

RM: There are a couple of things. I'd be interested in talking to anybody who has access to the old E. H. Scott Tube radios. Some of those are four or five feet tall. And I'm particularly interested in a microphone that is made by Neumann in ever done. But we weren't able to get it all together and make that happen. We had a good video going, but we just couldn't put the pieces together on that one. So when I went home this past Christmas, we went into the studio and cut this song. It was my first shot at mastering to digital. I told myself that if this thing happened, I'd probably be mastering to digital from now on. It's a very simple record, but it tells a story that I like a lot. Of course, I can really relate to it. A lot of other people I talk to can relate to it. Even my son, who is fifteen years old, tells me that he thinks the fifties would have been a great time to grow up—you know, the music and the cars and the fact that things weren't quite as complicated.

GAVIN: I was impressed at how big the Milsap enterprises are. Could you outline the various enterprises for us?

RM: I've always felt that the best way for me to be happy was that if I had some success, I should turn around and

RM: Oh yes. I didn't intend to offend anybody, it's just part of what I do and part of my musical knowledge. I could not be happy staying in one spot and doing one kind of music all of my life. I love country music. I probably know more about country music—its heritage—than a lot of people who are playing the music. But you've got to progress. I love country, rock 'n' roll, and rhythm and blues. I also love production and arranging.

I built a studio in Nashville in '78 and started making up all my records over there. Over the years, I've sung ballads, and "up" things, and acoustic things with pianos and guitars, and I've done records that have been very high tech with synthesizers and drum machines. I enjoy the wide variety and most fans have allowed me to do that. Occasionally I'm sure that some people who receive a Ronnie Milsap record at a radio station may think, "The boy's gone crazy." But most people that I know have supported that and they understand that's how I am. They know if they can't play a particular record, that I'm going to circle back around and come out with the kind of Germany called the M269. I think it's one of the best sounding vocal microphones I've heard. They're hard to find.

GAVIN: I want to move towards your current product, but when we move to the current, we're actually talking about something nostalgic—"Lost In The Fifties Tonight" teamed up with Freddy Paris & The Five Satins' "In The Still Of The Night." How did the merger of the two songs come about?

RM: I've always loved the song "In The Still Of The Night." There are a couple of writers in Nashville who really know where my interests lie and know what knocks me out. These guys wrote a song around an old song. I was in Los Angeles hanging out at the pool at the Century Plaza, and the gentleman who co-produces my records was with me. He said, "I'm gonna play this demo of a song that these guys wrote around an old song—"In The Still Of The Night." I thought it was great.

It was about six months before I could be into the studio and cut that. At the time I had a song out called, "She Loves My Car." I thought that record was the best I'd

"If I hadn't ended up as an entertainer, I'd probably be working in broadcasting because I have a tremendous love for it."

reinvest that in my music life. At 12 Music Circle South in Nashville, there's a complex which houses Ronnie Milsap Enterprises. This basically takes care of the tours and shows that we do. There's a studio called Groundstar Laboratory. There's publishing facilities where we have special writers who write in the building and are recording things on cassette recorders, trying to create new songs. The publishing companies are called Milsap Music and Lodge Hall Music. I've recorded quite a few songs out of those companies.

There's one guy who's a super writer and I record a lot of his music. His name is Mike Reid, and he used to play for the Cincinnati Bengals and was an All-American for Penn State. He's a classically trained musician, and when he finished with football, he came to Nashville and worked his way up, and got better and better with his songs. Some of the songs that he's written that I've recorded are "Stranger In My House," "Still Losing You," and he was a co-writer on "Lost In The Fifties Tonight." He's wonderful, and a very able songwriter.

There's also a booking agency called Headline International Talent, Inc. where we book other country acts in Nashville—they book my shows and my personal appearances, but they book personal appearances for a lot of other Nashville artists as well. We have a jingle company called Milsap/Williams Inc., which really centers around a gentleman named Dan Williams. He's a very good jingle writer

GAVIN: One other thing that I know you've gotten involved in recently is a large scholarship fund. Tell us a little bit about that.

RM: I've had a dream for years to do something special for the visually impaired community of this country, and hopefully internationally. I didn't have the right people around me until recently. With the help of several people from the business communities in Detroit and in Nashville, we've finally announced a Ronnie Milsap Foundation. We want to furnish scholarships for young, talented students who possibly would not have the means to go on and further their education. We'll be selecting students who have very good scholastic averages, and we will designate those students as Ronnie Milsap Fellows and offer them: scholarships to wherever they want to go to school. Also, we are donating certain funds to two eye institutes—the Duke Eye Center in Durham, NC, and at the Preskey

Eye Center in Detroit—for the purpose of eye research in the area of glaucoma and eye-related diseases around sugar diabetes, laser research for detached retinas, and these kind of problems. The third thing we're doing at the Ronnie Milsap Foundation is to develop career opportunities for the adult blind. 65% of those people are unemployed. Most of those people can type. They could operate computer terminals. There are ways that we could put these people to work. So we're trying to create jobs for these folks through career opportunities and special home study education.

We've had a lot of response to this from all over the world. We've had chances to explain what the Ronnie Milsap Foundation is on the Voice Of America. We're a very new foundation, but we have some very able people involved in this. We have a Board Of Trustees of thirty-five people and we're meeting again this fall in Detroit, and I really think that we're going to make a difference in the community of the visually impaired.

GAVIN: Is this a foundation that is fully funded or is it looking for contributions? And how would visually impaired people apply to participate?

RM: This is a non-profit organization, and we are soliciting funds in any way that we can. I'm doing a couple of concerts this fall and all proceeds will go directly to the Foundation. We have several corporations donating computers, money, and some of their staff to help us. We've gotten tremendous response from the business communities in Detroit and Nashville. Our organization is being funded by contributions from other people and from corporations.

Someone who is sightless and wants to know more about the Foundation, or would like to give us information about someone they know who is an outstanding student, should write to the Ronnie Milsap Foundation, 12 Music Circle South, Nashville, TN 37203. People who perhaps might want to contribute to it would write to the Ronnie Milsap Foundation, 600 Renaissance Center, Detroit, MI 48243. ●

STRIKE THREAT

When we heard about the end of the short-lived baseball strike, our first thought was ... who cares? So those fat tubs of goo will be back on our screens and their beer-swilling fans will be back in the stands. Well, what the heck ... at least all the peanut vendors, ticket-takers and ushers (the people REALLY hurt by the strike) will be back at work. But then it made us think about just what the boring-ball walkout was all about. It was about money, like everything else. Those pot-bellied, tobacco-chewing jamokes wanted more of the green stuff and none of them are half the athletes that Larry Bird and Magic Johnson are. The question is just what kind of remuneration do they deserve for their jobs, as opposed to what this reporter deserves for turning out this column once a week?

We examined the situation and we present the following thesis: Fernando Valenzuela is a pitcher. He earns one million dollars a year. He plays every four days in a 162 game season. That means he works forty days a year, barring whiny little injuries. Forty days work at one million a year works out to 25,000 dollars for each day's work, and if he's knocked out in the second inning it's STILL $25,000 a day! As we see it, writing this piece every week is a tougher job than throwing a baseball. We never get knocked out after two paragraphs, we must have the thing in the mail by Saturday morning no matter how we feel, and we have no bullpen full of relief columnists ready to bail us out.

Therefore we've hired Peter Overkill, an independent arbitrator, to negotiate our new contract with The Gavin Report. Our current 10,000 a column rate simply is not fair and we are contemplating a holdout. Fell, as Gavin publisher and representative of management, is clearly getting a bargain he doesn't warrant and WE say that if Fernando is worth 25 big ones for each day's work, we deserve thirty.

We therefore state that if we do not receive an increase of 300 percent to 30 G's a piece, you will not see this column again! We'll put ourselves in the free-agent draft for music writers and let Breneman, Rudman and Billboard have a shot at us. Hell, with our services on the open market, even Barry Feidel has a chance!

These grievances are legit. There's tremendous pressure here each week in figuring just how to work Danny Davis and Yankton, South Dakota into every column. Our wife, Rosemary, is not paid cent one for syntax and continuity checks. We're expected to type in pain as we often pour out this drivel while suffering from gut-wrenching hangovers, and the Gavin Report contributes penny zero toward typewriter ribbons and endless pots of MJB Automatic Drip. Yelping dogs, mewing cats and calls from our mother interrupt the creative process with annoying regularity and no clubhouse attendant services, such as those enjoyed by Pete Rose, make the atmosphere conducive to success. It's time to take a stand and we ask you to join with us in this campaign for fairness. If you feel we're worth a raise to just a tad more than Fernando's paycheck, write, phone and wire our boss. If we're Clark Kent, Fell is Perry White. Address your telegrams to Perry at The Gavin Report. Don't risk us sitting out a season. Speak up for monetary decency NOW!

While perusing our trivia file, we occasionally come across items worth sharing with both of you who read this weekly offering. Should our contract dispute be settled, and this column continue, we'll print these items from time to time.

The following piece is herewith reprinted, exactly as it appeared in Music Vendor Magazine from the issue dated May 8th 1961:

*STEREO FM NO THREAT
POP AM STATIONS SAY
NEW YORK: WHAT WILL THE ADDED DIMENSION OF STEREO TO THE NATION'S FM OUTLETS MEAN TO THE
"TOP 40" STATIONS THROUGHOUT
THE COUNTRY? NOT TOO MUCH—AT LEAST IN THE NEAR FUTURE—IS THE CONSENSUS OF OPINION OF
SEVERAL MAJOR AM STATIONS IN
THE NEW YORK AREA. REFLECTING
THE ATTITUDE OF MOST OF THE AM STATION PERSONNEL QUERIED BY MUSIC VENDOR, MORT MATZ, WINS
EXEC, SAID THAT THE PROSPECTIVE
FM SWITCH TO STEREO "WILL HAVE NO EFFECT ON OUR LISTENING
AUDIENCE AT ALL. I WOULD GUESS THAT NINETY PERCENT OF OUR LISTENERS DON'T EVEN HAVE FM
RADIOS," HE SAID. MATZ CONCEDED
HOWEVER, THAT IN THE FAR DISTANT
FUTURE, WHEN ALL FM STATIONS
MAY BE OPERATING ON A MULTIPLEXING STEREO SYSTEM,
"THERE MAY BE A SMALL DENT IN OUR LISTENING AUDIENCE."*

Reading that ancient piece reminded us of an item called SCOPITONE. Back in the sixties, some misguided characters actually surmised that filmed or taped pictures of records might be the wave of the future. They installed little screens on top of juke boxes, which showed us pictures of groups performing their records. Some of the mini-movies actually had stories of the songs acted out by the groups. Anyone with half a brain should have known that pop records are the theater of the mind and that NO ONE would be interested in seeing their favorite record more than once. So it was that SCOPITONE died. About 15 years later, someone at a company called MTV had a similar idea. Obviously the lesson of SCOPITONE was lost on them. People just don't learn.

See you next week if my attorneys can outfox Fell's. ■

MIDNIGHT OIL

These records define the Album radio and Alternative radio formats this

"I Knew The Bride"—Nick Lowe (Columbia)

Some of us actually knew this bride when NICK LOWE first knew the bride on the JESUS OF COOL (later retitled PURE POP FOR NOW PEOPLE) LP of 1978. Then it became a ROCKPILE standard. Now it's been resurrected again with help from a harp player ROCKPILE used to call up to the bandstand every-time they'd play in this area. Some are already billing the backup band as THE NEWS. On the label, "HIS COWBOY OUTFIT" is credited. One thing's certain, HUEY and his boys are somewhere. This is a rare second chance at a cool cool song (with an updated WALKMAN reference).

"I Want You Back"—Simon F (Chrysalis)

The HOODOO GURUS' "I Want You Back" was bound to be covered. After a couple of weeks as a number one Alternative record back in '84, it was inevitable that someone else would rock it up. SIMON F, an English newcomer, is produced by a committee that includes himself plus BILLY IDOL guitarist STEVE STEVENS and producer WILLIAM WITTMAN (GRAHAM PARKER/HELIX).

Lots of activity in the mix.

"Dancin' In The Streets"—Bowie/Jagger (EMI America)

"Apollo Medley"—Hall & Oates (RCA)

Those soulful sixties have and will always maintain an indelible mark on music generations, past and present. Artists will always return to that well as a pitstop and a recharge. The HALL & OATES "Apollo Medley" is a slice from their new LP, live at that historic venue. During LIVE AID, you saw the video portion of JAGGER and BOWIE'S romp. Now here is the audio portion for radio, the medium that still relies on ears and imagination. Proceeds feed the hungry.

Cliff Hanger—Jimmy Cliff (Columbia)

No messin' around here, mon. You get JIMMY CLIFF, SLY & ROBBIE, KOOL & THE GANG HORNS, politics, romance--all during our year of living dangerously. If you were quick enough to pull out the single, "Hot Shot!" and give it a loud boom, keep going. There is a myriad of influences on this LP--reggae, urban rock, soul, dance, techno, and Latin. One of CLIFF'S best LPs ever! Bag one fast. American Sweet/Hot Shot/Hitting With Music. Check out "Brown Eyes" with a bad ass bass track by JACO PASTORIUS.

Dio (Warners)/Malmsteen (Polydor)/
Girlschool (Mercury)

It must be international law that in order to sing heavy metal or live in Texas, you've got to have three names like RONNIE JAMES DIO or JEFF SCOTT SOTO. I guess liturgical, gothic lettering also preserves the solemn religiosity of the music. Sometimes I wish Heavy Metal would climb out of its own hallowed halls of self indulgence long enough to just have a little fun. Listening to YNGWIE MALMSTEEN is a lot like sitting in church. The straight back pews are rigid, structured, and flagellating. GIRLSCHOOL play pop image "play" metal, not dissimilar to either SLADE or QUIET RIOT. On the extreme, DIO has a whole lot more heart, sacred as he is. The band plays with agility and flexibility, bending and swaying for their "downtrodden and oppressed" middle class suburban audience. SACRED HEART is the finest metal LP we've heard in the past few years. Not only is DIO's identity strongly intact, the band is a close-knit unit, firmly united behind DIO's quasi-innocent dream references. I love this LP and its tight and economic mix. King Of Rock And Roll/Sacred Heart/Rock N Roll Children/Just Another Day.

MY 2¢

Even though STING wants his MTV on DIRE STRAITS' LP, the emergence of the "Fortress" track has moved ole GORDON back to number one. This week's big story is JOHN MELLENCAMP jumping 31-7, jumping in front of THE MOTELS. And the parade of this week's most active records include this week's CERTIFIEDs, MICHAEL McDONALD and EDDIE & THE TIDE, who seem to be sweeping the chart. MICHAEL checks in at #17 while EDDIE debuts at #32...just an eyelash away from being this week's CERTIFIED was MARILLION. After quite a few successful European LPs, this looks like one that'll break through. X and UB40 still look (initially) strong. CHEAP TRICK, not so surprisingly, alongside NICK MASON and his pal RICK FENN, take sizeable hops. COCK ROBIN had a good week all through the pages of this week's GAVIN...The modern sounds of OMD and A-HA can't be held down. Selected GAVIN Album Indicators and Top Forty programmers are having good luck with both of these fine tunes...Despite its broken wings, MR. MISTER debuts at #40...Next week's hot debuts will definitely include LOVERBOY and NICK LOWE, this week's two most added pieces of plastic. Don't be alarmed if WHAT IS THIS debuts as well...Now it's time to get down. It's time to wake up. The last JOHN HUGHES movie hatched the number one SIMPLE MINDS track. His new movie, WEIRD SCIENCE, will do the

ALTERNATIVE ACTION

REM stands as the number one Alternative album and they continue to look strong for the time being.

X begins to make their move, edging up two notches, and still appear to be REM's biggest threat.

Our CERTIFIED album this week is from the German group PROPAGANDA. They debut within the Top 20 and have shown up under MOST ADDED for two consecutive weeks. The album has a good airplay base and the rotations will inevitably pick up.

Other debuts include WHAT IS THIS, also doing well on our Album chart, and THE ARMOURY SHOW,

SPOTLIGHT LP

"Makes No Sense At All"—Husker Du (SST)

This powerful group from Minneapolis have become one of the definitive hard core bands of today. They've created a reputation with their furious flurry of guitars, but have always managed to wedge melody between their wall of chords. HUSKER DU is more of a high-speed rock & roll band than a typical hard core group. They have continued to grow gradually with each new record. Their changes are subtle and sensible, rather than blatant and contrived. They exchange a little of their abrasiveness for accessibility with "Makes No Sense At All" (the single from their upcoming album "Flip Your Wig"). It's trademark HUSKER DU that will please their ardent fans and should gain them new followers as well.

COUNTRY SUMMARY

NEIL YOUNG & WILLIE NELSON is being sought equally by cowboys and cowgirls at KQIL-Grand Junction. Destin residents do not mind the thorns when they hear LEE GREENWOOD sing about his rose on WMMK. "Hang Onto Your Heart" by EXILE is receiving positive reaction at KGRT-Las Cruces. WKKW, the Clarksburg population, and the STATLERS are harmonious with "Too Much On My Heart". Our Canadian neighbors in the CFAC-Calgary area concur with the sentiments of GEORGE JONES. The album cut "Michael" by HILLARY KANTER is arousing the attention of the female listeners of WDVA-Danville.

REMINDER!!!

As of August 26th, our deadline for country reports will be Wednesdays at 1PM PDT.
 Thanks for your co-operation!

R&B SUMMARY

WHITNEY HOUSTON took the challenge in last week's "Summary" and went after her #1 labelmate and jumped her for the number one spot. READY FOR THE WORLD looks like the next number one go-getter, but the biggest chart gain of the week goes to ANDRE CYMONE and it should go top ten next week. New FREDDIE JACKSON goes top 20 and my reporters say "the ladies love it!" FAMILY debuts and goes "Certified" and, as predicted four weeks ago, the BOBBY WOMACK is a hot number and gets the other "Certified". I hear he's headed for New York to play on the next Rolling Stones album and he'll be doing some background vocals on the same. Meanwhile, his own "wish" is getting heavy airplay and great chart gains. The girls of KLYMAXX move hot numbers that debut with "I Miss You". No surprise that JENNIFER HOLLIDAY and MAURICE

WHITE pass up a lot of winners to get to the top of "Chartbound" ahead of the rest, looking like two major possibilities for the chart next week. Getting on to newer items, "Most Added" was a tie between ATLANTIC STARR, which appeared last week for the first time on the page, and a newer entry, RENE & ANGELA. This was such a popular LP cut while their first single was charting that many of you have told me this week that you've added it to medium or heavy rotation because of previous light rotation airplay as an album cut. DOUG E. FRESH makes the page because of adds at WQQK/FM-Nashville, WWDM/FM-Sumter, KMJM-St. Louis, WJLB-Detroit, KKDA-Dallas, KMJQ-Houston and KSOL/FM-San Francisco. It's also #2 at KDAY-Los Angeles, #4 at WRKS-New York and #6 at KGFJ-Los Angeles. DENNIS EDWARDS was another one that had strong adds this week:

WHUR-Washington, D.C., WAMO-Pittsburgh, WVBX-Georgetown, WTLC-Indianapolis, KMJM-St. Louis, KHYS-Pt. Arthur, KMJQ-Houston. DURELL COLEMAN racks up some impressive adds his first week out: WTLC-Indianapolis, WQQK/FM-Nashville, WANM-Tallahassee, WOWI-Norfolk, WQKI-St. Matthews, KMJM-St. Louis, and KHYS-Pt. Arthur. A probable sleeper could be the GOON SQUAD's "8 Arms To Hold You". It goes to #9 at KMJQ-Houston, #15 at WNOV-Milwaukee, #18-WOWI-Norfolk, and #25 KRNB-Memphis, as well as being on at WDKX-Rochester, NY, WHRK-Memphis, KIIZ-Killeen, KJLH-Los Angeles, and gets added this week at KNOK-Dallas/Ft. Worth and KKDA in that same city, and WYLD-New Orleans. Lyrics are different and that might be why it's catching on.

Betty

P.D. NOTEBOOK

by Eric Norberg

REACTION TO THE "P. D. TEST"

In the July 12 issue, the column's headline was "Test Of A Program Director," and it dealt with some of the attributes of the "great" Program Directors. I received a thoughtful reply from Howard Klein of 415 Records in San Francisco, who noted ruefully that if "a large number of gifted P.D.'s had one or more legendary radio stations to grow up listening to," as I suggested, the future of radio may be uncertain. He continued:

"I've always thought the real job of a P.D., particularly on AOR radio, is to work with people. I hate P.D.'s who try to set out the station song by song ... A P.D. who acquires a great staff, and then consistently works with them to keep them on track, will be doing a difficult job really well. You mentioned in the column that a P.D. should make sure the airstaff 'understands why they do what they do.' That's the most important thing a P.D. can do, and that's exactly where most P.D.'s seem to fall down. It seems so much easier to just tell everyone exactly what to do (and then keep your fingers crossed) than to actually communicate to a staff of real people, and get everyone functioning as a team with the same goal in mind, and with a consensus about the tactics to achieve that goal. Over-formatting seems to me to be one of the main reasons why radio sounds dull—even moronic—lately. I think, at least in the case of AOR stations, that self-serving consultants have created a whole generation of mindless P.D.'s, M.D.'s, and worst of all, mindless D.J.'s.

"Everybody's looking for the shortcut for the easy way out for the path of least resistance. 'I'm the boss, and this is what you play, and this is what you say, and if you don't like it, go back to college radio' is a lot easier (or at least it's easy to believe it is) than working with someone to get them to actually understand something vaguely abstract—something the P.D. may only have the most tenuous of grasps upon, himself!"

I personally do feel that a sense of direction and a feeling of teamwork are about as important for the P.D. to instill as anything else he/she could accomplish. I would like to make it clear, though, that I do not advocate a lack of control. A creative person works best within a framework, and since in radio the only framework consists of the predictably repetitive hourly structure and the consistency of the music, these are very important elements. Nonetheless, somebody with a brain will do their best work when using it, and choices and options should be part of any winning format.

I remind you that this is an open column, and I invite your letters, comments, suggestions. Any that seem potentially of wide interest generally see print right here! Write me c/o the Gavin Report, or through Consolidated Communications Consultants, Suite 209, 2130 Huntington Drive, South Pasadena, CA 91030. ■

NEWS DIRECTORS: DOLLARS AND SENSE

EDITED BY BETTY HOLLARS

If you find yourself making the same amount of money this year as you did in 1984, you're not alone. Broadcast news salaries changed little during the course of the year, and a look at the national picture shows the average as the same. Dr. Vernon A. Stone is the director of the School of Journalism at Southern Illinois University and is the Radio and Television News Directors' Association research director. Dr. Stone published an article reporting the results of a recent survey conducted by the RTNDA in the fall of 1984 where questionnaires from news directors at 463 commercial TV stations and 327 commercial radio stations (with working addresses in "Broadcasting" Yearbook) were tabulated with the results presented in his article. More than two-thirds of the TV stations responding in the survey reported that their news operations were making money, one in five was coming out roughly even financially, and only about one of every ten was losing money on news.

"It all started in a 5000 watt radio station in Fresno, California." Ted Baxter's trademark soliloquy is universally recognized by lay persons and professionals alike. For those of us in the business, memories of such an experience are of a most dichotomous nature. Warm, comfortable meanderings are intermingled with the painful realization that we were woefully underpaid. Indeed, we are awestruck at our ability to have made meager ends meet.

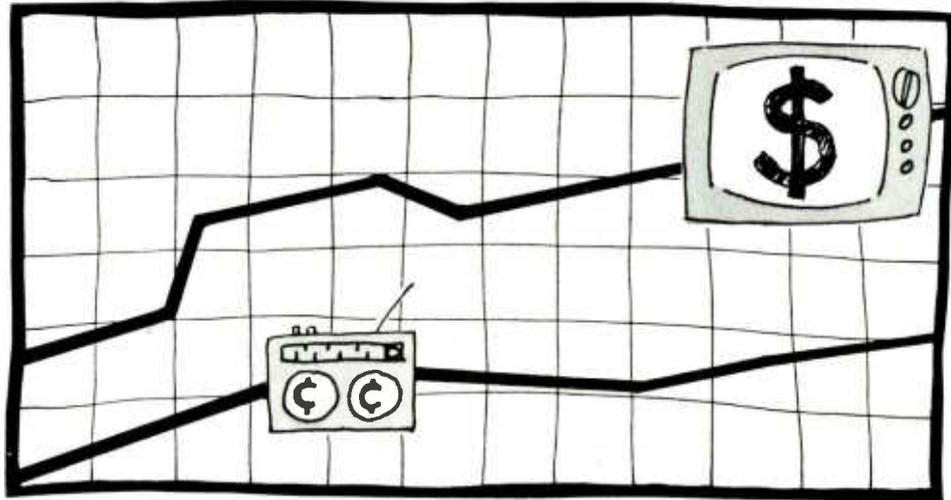

Dr. Stone indicated, in his study of the results of the survey, that for those individuals interested in pursuing a career in broadcast journalism, the situation relative to remuneration remains pretty much status quo. It is Dr. Stone's contention that although "... TV news directors' salaries are generally comparable to those of other professionals in most markets, RADIO news directors at a majority of stations appear greatly underpaid ..." for a similar position with the same training.

A TV station's typical reporter was making $300 a week last October, the same as in August of 1983. The median for radio reporters was $220 weekly in '84 and $224 in '83. In comparing TV and radio news directors, the average salaries showed a weekly $626 up from $600 in '83 for TV, with $300 weekly for the same position in radio.

Market size had a lot to do with the averages. In a major market the typical anchor person makes approximately $1,000 per week. A small market person with the same position received less than half the latter. For some positions, differences by staff size were even more pronounced than those by market size. The highest paid anchorperson for TV stations with a staff of 36 or more typically made roughly $100,000 a year, compared to less than $21,000 a year for staffs of 10 or fewer. In radio, news staffs of three or more full-timers had a median of less than $17,000 for the highest paid newscaster, whose pay would have been about $10,000 as a one-person staff.

A 38-year-old woman being paid $200 a week as news director of a small market radio operation consisting of herself and a part-timer said, "This station makes a lot of money, but we're in a college town and labor comes cheap." A 28-year-old news director making $228 per week, working with one part-timer at a large-market radio station listed as making money on

With a few exceptions, making big money in broadcast news requires moving into the majors. Salaries generally were much larger in the 50 largest TV markets and in radio markets with more than a million population. Radio news directors usually double as newscasters and make at least as much as the station's "highest paid" newscaster/anchor. Major markets are a different world altogether from small markets and bear only limited resemblance to medium (50,000—250,000) and large (250,000—1 million) markets on payday. For example, no news director sampled in a major market made less than $200 a week. A salary of this size was commonplace in small markets and was reported by a fifth of the news directors.

news, said, "It's hard to find people to work full-time at part-time wages" ... when faced with hiring people to help her. And this from a 33-year-old male radio news director who was making $360 weekly in a medium market and assisted by two other full-time staffers, one being paid $215: "I am sick and tired of following wage, salary and benefit negotiations for teachers, municipal employees and government workers who say their pay scale is not high enough to attract qualified people ... news people are expected to know EVERYTHING, work most holidays, and be on call 24 hours a day, and they make less than clerical assistant trainees."

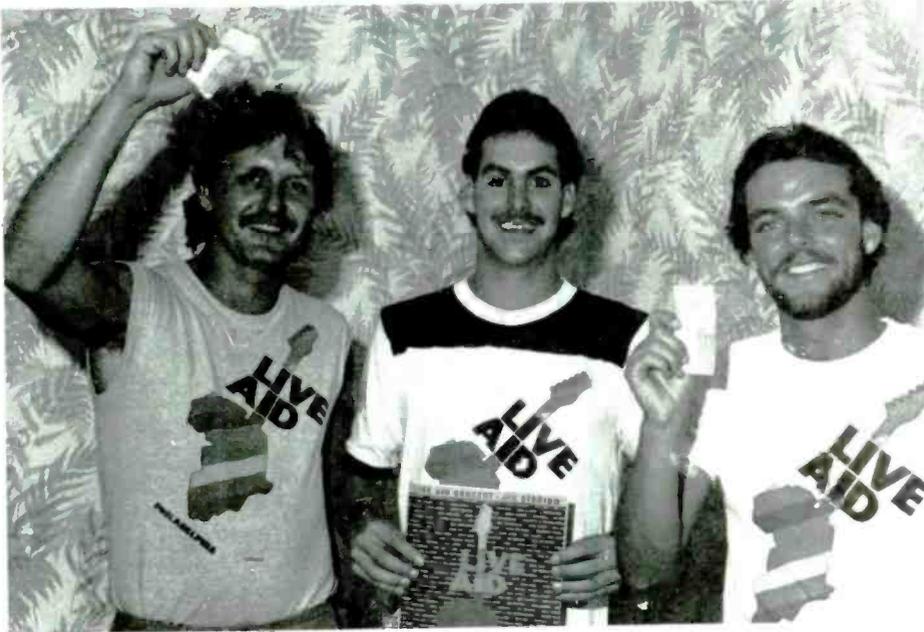

Other surveys have found that more than half of the nation's radio news directors are college graduates, as are three-fourths of TV news directors. News directors at a majority of radio stations appear greatly underpaid for their training and responsibility. ■

LIVE AID LIVE

WKZQ in Myrtle Beach, SC, recently sent two lucky listeners and their all-night personality John Kilgo to the Live-Aid concert in Philadelphia. Listeners wrote in explaining why they should go to the concert with the two best reasons winning. Pictured are (l-r) Kirk Lane, Will Connell and WKZQ's John Kilgo.

UP AGAINST THE WALL

KDWB-MINNEAPOLIS launched a cities' wide billboard campaign on major interstate freeways featuring morning show talents Buck & O'Connor and the short phrase "Crazy? Just listen." After a month, all billboards were hit by talented vandals. Some boards sprouted handlebar moustaches on the guys' pictures, others had clown noses, horns, false glasses, beards, etc. Confusion reigned. After many clues, it turned out that O'Connor was the vandal. Seems his name gets second billing (Buck & O'Connor) on everything, so he defaced the boards. Punishment? Get back on the boards and scrub the graffiti off. Equipped with a bucket of soapy water and a longhandled brush, Buck & O'Connor broadcast their Friday morning show from 100 feet up on Interstate 494 scrubbing and waving. Good TV coverage, with the life of the billboard campaign easily doubled!

LET'S GET AWAY FROM IT ALL

Carter B., P.D. at KWHL—Anchorage, tells us that his "Vacation A Day In The Month Of May" contest brought in more than 97,000 entries! Besides giving away trips to Hong Kong, Amsterdam, Hawaii, and a cruise to the Mediterranean, 400 people received a two hour "vacation" by winning tickets to see the latest James Bond movie "A View To A Kill".

ON THE DREAMLAND EXPRESS

Patty and Robin Peavy have been doing a lot of jetting around the country lately. The Novi, Michigan couple were flown to Denver on the private Lear jet of RCA recording artist John Denver—with Denver himself piloting the craft! That trip, plus front seat tickets to the artist's Red Rocks benefit concert, a private dinner, $1,000 spending money, and limo and hotel accommodations were the Grand Prize in the VH-1 cable network's "Dreamland Express With John Denver" contest. VH-1 received more than 80,000 entries, with Mrs. Peavy contributing 150 of them herself.

DAVE SHOLIN'S

Personal Picks — SINGLES

RON FELL'S

Personal Picks — ALBUMS

DAVID BOWIE/MICK JAGGER - Dancing In The Street (EMI)

Almost everyone mentions this video as one of the highlights on the recent Live Aid telecast. Updated version of this Motown great can't help but make those car radios sizzle just like they did when Martha and the Vandellas sang it exactly twenty-one years ago. All proceeds are going to Live Aid but you shouldn't need that as a reason to play this outstanding track.

STING - Fortress Around Your Heart (A&M)

Pick a cut, any cut, off Stings LP and you come up with a winner. He demonstrates that art and commerciality are not necessarily self-cancelling terms. Instrumentation is a perfect compliment to these novel lyrics.

DON HENLEY - Sunset Grill (Geffen)

Issued as a single due to radio response and listener demand. Despite the title and story, this is not simply an "L.A." record. Where it's been tested, the results have been overwhelmingly positive. One of the finest choices available on the current pop and A/C menu.

LOVERBOY - Lovin' Every Minute Of It (Columbia)

Borrowing a trick or two from Queen, one of Canada's premiere bands put their bait on a heavy hook.

ABC - Be Near Me (Mercury/Polygram)

Producers/Composers, Martin Fry and Mark White wisely went back to the basic ABC's that brought this group to prominence. They've done a super job recapturing the magic of ABC.

NIGHT RANGER - Four In The Morning (I Can't Take It Anymore) (MCA)

Without losing their identity, Night Ranger's been able to move towards that shakey middle ground between pop/Top 40 and heavy rock. This strong contender for the airwaves in the weeks ahead convinces me they're on target again.

EDDIE AND THE TIDE - One In A Million (Atco)

A lot of folks in this town have felt the Tide rushing in for quite sometime. From their home base in Santa Cruz, these hard workin' guys have established a following of dramatic proportions. Give this debut single a listen and find out why.

Michael McDonald "No Lookin' Back" (Warner Brothers)

Michael's first solo in 1983 was a comfortable collection of mild-mannered pop performances. The songs were more croon/swoon than doom/gloom. All the edges had been rounded-off. He'd become a smoothy--a musical Smurf. "No Lookin' Back" does as the title implies. He must have learned that with no pain, there's no gain. The new LP still finds Michael singing heart felt songs still sung in his peculiar, breathless alto/soprano range, but the arrangements are more rhythmic and rock-oriented. When he sings of heartbreak the emotion cuts through more effectively. Beyond the obviously successful first single, NO LOOKING BACK, check out (I HANG) ON YOUR EVERY WORD, (I'LL BE YOUR) ANGEL and a delicate ballad, OUR LOVE.
