INSIDE TOP 40 WITH DAVE SHOLIN

Step aside for the women...Janet, Tina, Cyndi, Anita, Lisa and of course...MADONNA. It's gonna be tough to keep her out of her favorite position...number one. Hit factor soars from 41% to 77% and charts Top Ten in Seattle at KUBE, Sacramento KWOD and FM102, San Francisco KMEL and KITS, Salt Lake City KCPX and KFMY, Boston WXKS, New York Z100, Atlanta Z93, Houston 93Q etc. Radios instant acceptance of BRUCE HORNSBY'S second single was justified. Moves up a bunch for Bruce Stevens WBQQ 29-21, Bill St. John and Leo Davis Q104 27-21, Denise Lauren WKTI debut #26, Rocky Burnette KZZO 27-20, Doug Erickson KPKE 25-18, Kevan Rabat KDVV 31-20 etc. Virtually every programmer I talked with this week expressed amazement at how fast BON JOVI has taken off. They've filled the rock n' roll void and are already Top Ten at B94, WZON, WNYZ, WRCK, WSPK, JLK/FM, KCIL, 98Q, Y106, WROQ, WKQB, KOZE, Q96, KEYP, KKYK, WSPT, KOKZ, WOAY, etc. Northwest and Far West are playing catch up on this one. But it was way out West where ORAN "JUICE" JONES first made his inroads onto the Top Forty. Number one at FM102, KSTN, I94, KMGX, KRQK, KROY, etc. Plenty of folks still coming to the party on CAMEO. Chartwise the word it's definitely up—with all positives to date. Nick Ferrara lists it number one again at B94 Pittsburgh plus huge gains at WKZQ 27-13, 106X 22-11, KNOE 23-17, WCGQ 24-18, KS103 20-14, KYNO 25-17, KZZK 25-18 etc. On the horizon there is a very bright spot for ROBBIE NEVIL. Charting quickly for those who jumped on it early with 52 new believers this week. Added at K104, WWMR, OK95, KIQY, KWSS, KHTZ, KZPS, KNEN, Z104, WKAU, KEEZ, Z103, etc. Excellent airplay growth for TIMBUK 3 added at Z93, 95XXX, WQTU, WAGQ, WBQQ, KTMT, KIVA, KNIN, KKTX, KSKG, WLRW, WCIL, KRIT, KZZO, KZFN, KATD, KMJK, G105, 100KHI, and a nice move from Rob Poulin at WWHB 26-18. Urban Contemporary's new number one song is by GREGORY ABBOTT. Worth checkin' this one out with key moves at WROQ 19-13 and WKZQ 22-19 plus adds at Z100, KROY, Q104, WNVZ, KC101, KIXS, KMGX, etc. New airplay on last weeks Record to Watch, B-52's includes KXFM, KKOS, Q104, WFTW, WHKW and now Top 15 at KMEL, KRQK, etc. Another big mover on the Urban chart is JESSE JOHNSON featuring SLY STONE. New on KHYT, I94, KMEL, WNFI, WCGQ, WKXX, and Top 30 at WROQ, KSER etc. Mark Jeffrey KVYN/FM Napa is first to report instant reaction to BILLY VERA & THE BEATERS. "At This Moment". Song has been used on "Family Ties" and Mark says the phones lit up from the first play with heavy female requests. He feels it could be the next "Friends & Lovers". Available on Rhino Records.

FULL FORCE GETS BUSY ▼ ONE TIME

ALABAMA'S GREATEST ► VIDEO HITS

T TIME ▲

THE BELLE OF BEL-AIR ◀

Whitney Houston was honored at a gilt-edged party after a triumphant week of sold-out concerts in the Los Angeles area. The party was held at a private estate in Bel-Air and the event just happened to coincide with her winning her first Emmy Award. Even though Whitney was at the party, this photo was taken of some of her celebrants: (l-r) Mr. & Mrs. Mo Ostin, Quincy Jones and Clive Davis, head of Arista Records. Mo Ostin is the Chairman of Warner Bros. Records.

CROONING THE NATIONAL ◀ ANTHEM

Australian duo Air Supply had the recent honor of crooning the National Anthem at a nationally televised Los Angeles Dodgers vs. Chicago Cubs game in Los Angeles. Following their performance, Air Supply's Graham

Russell and Russell Hitchcock chummed around with the Dodgers' colorful manager, Tommy Lasorda, who personally asked them to return in the future for another rendition of the National Anthem. Pictured (l-r): Graham Russell, Tommy Lasorda, and Russell Hitchcock.

WILD THINGS ▼

COUNTRY HANG-OUTS ▶ IN L.A.

Holi-Daze

We're writing this on a triple holiday... depending on you persuasian, it's either Columbus Day, Yom Kippur, or Thanksgiving in Canada. It's also a day following the day on which the California Angels were one strike...ONE PITCH...

away from entering the World Series. By the time both of you read this, we'll know if they made it. Our guess is they didn't.

This is also a day on which we awoke from a dream similar to that of Pam Ewing on Dallas. Pam dreamt all of last years episodes in a cheap shuck and jive con job scam to explain Bobby's disappearance. We've only dreamt the past few weeks. We MUST have. Otherwise, explain the following:

1. Dan Rather was beaten up on a New York street by a weirdo who spouted alien-type dribble. The L.A. Times respectfully printed Rather's contention that this science-fiction episode occurred, despite the fact that there were no witnesses. Rather explained his bruises by stating that a mental-type accosted him, asked some extra-terrestrial questions and pummeled him when he couldn't answer. Sure, and Teddy Kennedy never was near Chappaquidick. How could he be when he was on a panel at the Poe Convention? WE obviously dreamt the Rather thing.

2. Joan Rivers: The mouth that roared, quit Carson and introduced her her own show on a NEW NETWORK! Sure, and she probably had Elton John and David Lee Roth as guests. Not only that, but she vowed to outlast her former mentor, as Joey Bishop, Dick Cavett, Merv Griffin and Alan Thicke once did. If this is true she'll be 105 years old when she celebrates the silver anniversary of HER talk show. Bottom line: We dreamt the whole thing.

3. Sinatra's bio: We've seen this in our local SUPERMARKET! Why does anyone care if The Chairman Of The Board knows a few alleged mafioso types? And why is there such a fascination with him anyway, after 50 years in the spotlight? I mean, in the year 2034 will anyone be looking into mob connections in the lives of Lisa Lisa, Phantom, Rocker & Slick or Screaming Blue Messiahs? This promotion man had lunch with a suspect type only last week. He may have CALLED himself Gene Knight of B-100...but his ordering of a calamari sandwich and a bottle of chianti at an expensive San Diego restaurant gives us a hint as to his connections. And does anyone care? Hell no. We say...Frank is 70 years old, a bit older than Gene Knight, and still singing. Let him sing. On the other hand, it turns out that this bio was never written. No-one would have dared write it. We dreamt the whole thing.

4. Lucy: Someone tried to tell us that 94 year old Lucille Ball is back on TV with another 'physical comedy series'. That's about as believable as stories about Mrs. Gorbachev outdressing Nancy 'No Show' Reagan at the Summit Conference in Iceland. All of the above is obviously ludicrous. Lucy is retired at her ranch in Yankton, Mrs. Gorbachev only wears aprons and babushkas and the summit venue was Oxnard. We dreamt it all. Every bit of it.

5. They tell us there's been a big fuss about Paul Newman's height. A NYC journalist insists that the blue-eyed one registers no more than 5'8", and Paul, taking great umbredge has offered to contribute big dinero to charity for every inch he's over that figure. Sounds like a sting. However, in the interest of charity, we challenge George Chaltas, Mike Atkinson, Lu Fields, Don Anti and Joel Newman to prove they're over 6'2". We offer each of them a Gavin Hollywood Department lunch for every half inch. And that IS a dream.

6. Our final item is a wacko one. It seems that someone told us that Mary Catherine Sneed has a new association . . . and that, in this new affiliation she will NOT be consulting every A/C station in the free world, but will be broadening her scope. We wish her the best, but cannot believe that she will not be consulting every A/C station in the free world. There's no question about it. It was a dream.

Watch for major pre-conference articles coming up in the next few weeks. And that means YOU, John Roberts. ●

by Keith Zimmerman, Joe Belden and Kent Zimmerman

Ric Lippincott is leaving KYUU-San Francisco to become the new Program Director of ABC/Cap Cities' WYZZ in Chicago. According to Ric, it happened fast and somewhat unexpectedly. Once content that KYUU would have been his last programming assignment before a GM move, former contacts at ABC lured him back to the Windy City. Ric, you may remember, programmed WLS from 1981 to 1983 and he sees the WYZZ PD-ship as a definite challenge and an upward career move. Plus, he leaves KYUU in fine shape for his as yet unnamed successor. Good luck Rick!

And at neighboring Cap Cities property WHYY-Detroit, Operations Manager Gary Berkowitz moves to full service A/C station WJR in the Motor City in the same capacity. Berkowitz will assist in the efforts to find his replacement at WHYY.

Expect an announcement by E/P/A dubbing Harvey Leeds the new national head of album promotion, the seat vacated by Bill Bennett's departure to MCA. Harvey headed up E/P/A's video promotion/development. Thus marks the Leedsman's return to the audio field.

As of yet, no official replacement for former Atlantic Records Top Forty VP Sam Kaiser who left to join MTV. It looks like Andrea Ganis could snag a promotion as Senior National Promotion Director. More on that when it's officailly announced. Meanwhile in the same building, Merlin Bobb has been appointed Director of A&R for the Black Music Division for Atlantic. Bobb comes from a two year stint at the Big Apple's WBLS.

Director...Mike Edwards has been promoted to PD at WSAU-Wausau,WS and at crosstown WIFC, Duff Damos is now PD and MD...Melodi Garrett of 98Q-Vidalia,GA called to say the station (WTCQ) is celebrating its 40th anniversary on October 22nd. Best wishers to them!...WQID in Biloxi,MS promotes Sandi Stevens to MD. Sister station WVMI promotes Rick Mize to PD after Dave Terry leaves to program WYGC in Gainesville,FL...Changes at KTGO-Columbia,MO. Chris Baker returns from KRVV-Vail,CO to afternoon drive and Marty Madden takes over nites...Harris Communications has appointed David Gariano as VP/Programming for the Philadelphia based consultants. You may remember Dave when he was PD at KPOP in Sacramento,CA...Andrew A. Langston, GM of WDKX-Rochester,NY, accepted both Broadcaster of the Year AND Broadcaster of the Decade awards from the National Association of Black Owned Broadcasters. Congratulations!...KKIS/AM and KINQ/FM in Concord, CA have new PDs. Ravi "R.J." Peruman will run the former and Sam James will run the latter...Album Radio legend Lobster leaves headbanger KNAC-Long Beach,CA to return to KSJO-San Jose,CA to do mid-days ((10-3pm). Kinda conjures up memories of the early days of the San Jose rock scene. Welcome back!...T.J. McKay of KEYP-Tyler,TX happily joins the staff of KKYS in neighboring Bryan as air personality.. Michele Weber is now handling MD duties as well as Asst. PD over at KUAD/FM in Windsor,CO...Mark Steven, from WJXR-Jacksonville,FL, is the new morning drive talent at KLAQ/FM in El Paso. And speaking of KLAQ, MD Magic Mike returns to C'wag some incredible prices on beer when one hops across the Mexican border: Corona-$5.80, Tecate-$4.75, Bohemia-$6.50. And that's by the case! Holy devalued peso!

Once again, Greg Lawley of WDBR-Springfield,IL scores national TV coverage with a recent appearance on the CBS Morning News last Wednesday. Along with WBNQ-Bloomington's John Norton, Lawley trekked up to Chicago for a live interview with news anchors in New York regarding his participation in a statewide "Rock and Roll Romance Songwriting Contest." Both WDBR and WBNQ were part of a network of stations selecting six finalists for the statewide competition. Contestants had to deal with the subject of teenage sexuality (no mean feat) and the event was co-sponsored by a group calling themselves Parents Too Soon, an organization dedicated to dealing with the problem of teenage pregnancies. Lawley, you may recall, hit Chinwag pages when he emceed an extravaganza that featured a speech by none other than our President, Ronald Reagan. Lawley presented him with WDBR paraphernalia and has an official signed thank-you letter to prove it!

Chinwag has been asked to inform one and all that we have totally sold out our most recent printing of the Gavin Top 100 books. If you want an updated version, including this year's final top 100 in all formats, they will be available in January.

Not too many surprises at the Country Music Association Awards. What was interesting was when Randy Travis nudged Dwight Yoakam for the Horizon /Best New Artist Award. Travis also won Song of the Year honors for his "On The Other Hand." Single of the Year was "Bop" by Dan Seals. Best Video was...are you ready for this?...George Jones! And the times they are a changinnnnnnn!

A/C ANALYSIS

Gonna be quite a battle for numero uno next week. Reigning champs Toto could be blown out of the hot seat by Cetera/Grant, Carly or Lionel Richie.

Still plenty of holdouts on the David Pack single, but a solid 91% HIT FACTOR from the 186 A/C's who play it make it top seven.

A couple of six week old records, Human League and Bruce Hornsby have 87% and 86% HIT FACTORS respectively and will both end up with an A/C chart ranking you can count on one hand.

Madonna, now HIT FACTORED at 74% of all reporting stations, shows her true colors with a 24 to 13 run on the chart.

Kenny Rogers is this week's highest debut and CERTIFIED. Key calls include: WELL, WEZC, WKRG, WSB, WRVA, KFOR, KMAJ, WMT AM&FM, 3WM, WMYX, WSPD, KBOI, KSL, KOST, KWAV, KFQD, KKLK and B100.

Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, Elton John's "Heartache All Over The World" picks up 28 adds including: WGOL, WKCX, KRIB, KO93, KGY, KLOG and KMWX.

This week's RECORD TO WATCH, Crowded House's "Don't Dream It's Over" debuts on our page thanks to a host of stations west of the Rockies and particularly in the Northwest.

RECOMMENDED FOR A/C RADIO

Linda Ronstadt & James Ingram

Somewhere Out There (MCA)

Two of the finest voices ever sing the socks off a killer ballad written in part by Barry Mann and Cynthia Weil for the Spielberg movie "An American Tail."

Amy Grant

Stay For Awhile (A&M)

A contemporary adult arrangement - bright, tight, harmonic and sung by a rising star in our format. It's positive yet preachless lyric is another plus.

Michael McDonald

Our Love (Theme from No Mercy) (Warner Bros.)

The "voice" is back on Warner Bros. The track is re-mixed from his last album and is co-written with David Pack.

The Police

Don't Stand So Close To Me '86 (A&M)

Maybe it was something they or we missed the first time, but here is the song again, complete with a new video.

Miami Sound Machine

Falling In Love (Uh-Oh) (Epic)

The fourth great single from the best album I never reviewed. The MSM has proven to be the surprise of 1986 and this track should close-out the year with another top five A/C smash.

Kansas

All I Wanted (MCA)

Without announcing the record on the air I don't think it'll be recognized as Kansas, but they're back together again and have made one of their best tracks ever. Not since "Dust In The Wind" have they met our needs so clearly and commercially.

Glass Tiger

Someday (Manhattan)

This, their third single from the Thin Red Line album, is by far their most appropriate A/C track. The track is co-written and produced by Jim Vallance of Bryan Adams fame.

SALES SKILLS by GARY DONOHUE CRMC

HOW DO I MAKE THE CAMPAIGN WORK?

Most salespersons would agree that the single largest factor contributing to the success of any radio campaign is FREQUENCY. The amount of spots run is always tied directly to the client's budget and if the frequency is low then the REACH of the station takes over as the controlling factor in success. Wouldn't you agree that more spots in a schedule minimizes the risk of failure? Wouldn't you also agree that if a campaign frequency is cut in half and the actual REACH of your station is low, that the odds of not enough people hearing the message go up?

Sometimes the retailer also realizes these facts by having been educated by a competitor of yours or through painful personal experience. Since your job is to sell radio "advertising". I thought you might be interested in what the advertising experts describe as the factors contributing to effective frequency. Al Maxwell, owner of KTLT/WITCHITA FALLS has prepared the best explanation of the terms I've seen. He had it mailed to every advertiser in his market and included it in each salesperson's on-the-street pitch book. Here it is:

The following is information taken from a commentary by Joseph W. Ostrow, Executive Vice-President of Young & Rubicam, New York.

The elements that go into establishing an effective frequency goal can be broken into three separate marketing, creative and media factors:

1. MARKETING FACTORS

- * Establishing versus new entry - New products or brands require higher frequency
- * Brand Dominance/Share - A dominant brand needs less frequency; less dominant needs higher frequency
- * Brand Loyalty - The higher the brand loyalty, the lower the frequency needed
- * Purchase Cycle - Longer purchase cycle require less frequent reminders, short purchase cycles need higher frequency
- * Usage Cycle - a rapid "use-up" rate needs higher frequency
- * Competitive share of voice - If direct competitor maintains high frequency level, more frequency is needed to compete
- * Target Group - Specific age groups have different learning levels

2. CREATIVE FACTORS

- * Message Complexity - Simple messages require lower frequency
- * Message Uniqueness - The more unique, the less frequency needed
- * New vs. Continued Campaign - New campaigns need higher frequency

- * Image vs. Product Sell - Specific products generally require lower frequency
- * Message variation - The larger the number of different advertisements, the more frequency you need
- * Wearout - The less the degree of wearout, the lower the frequency that is needed
- * Advertising Units - Smaller units require higher frequency

3. MEDIA FACTORS

- * Clutter Level - The higher the clutter, the more frequency you need
- * Editorial Environment - If an editorial environment enhances the message, less frequency is required
- * Attentiveness - Higher attention level media require lower frequency
- * Continued vs. Pulsed - Continuous campaigns normally require lower frequency levels
- * Number of Media used - The more media vehicles used, the higher the level of frequency that is required
- * Repeat exposure - The use of media which do not present repeat exposure opportunities, should lead toward the establishment of the higher effective frequency goals

BASIC PRINCIPLES

From all of the studies, there are three basic rules of thumb:

1. It takes a minimum of three exposures over a relatively short time to complete the learning cycle. Once this learning process is completed, repeated exposures serve to reinforce that message and to motivate a consumer to take action.
2. The lowest frequency level to obtain response is three. Depending on your marketing objective and competitive advertising pressure, you may wish to establish a higher frequency level.
3. You cannot advertise too much; you cannot have too much frequency.

So, whether or not you rely on the mathematical models and services like AID, MARKETRON, NEWMATH, STRATA, or TAPSCAN, keep in mind that there is at least a dozen other factors contributing to the importance of FREQUENCY. Don't get yourself trapped in a box by hanging your hat on only one out of your "pitch-book."

A GAVIN CONVERSATION WITH

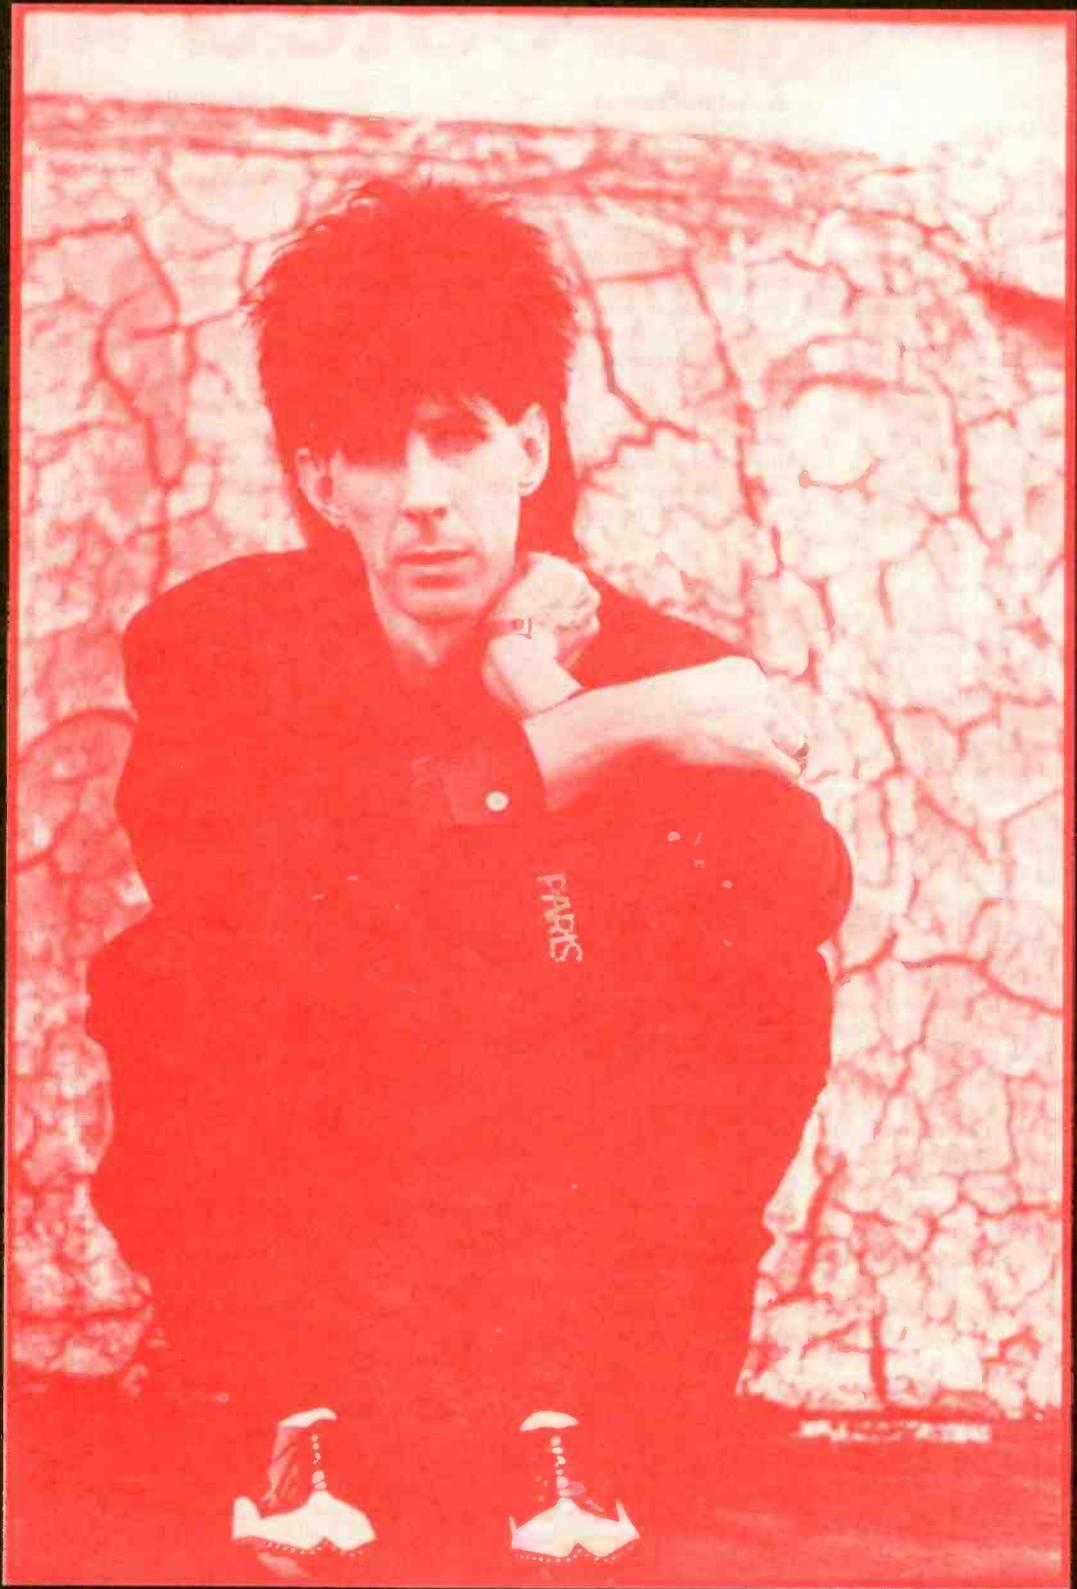

by Keith and Kent Zimmerman

"Music should have a lot of mystery in it. It should try not to answer any questions."

We spoke with Ric Ocasek just after the release of his latest solo album, This Side Of Paradise on Geffen Records. As Ric's latest single "Emotion In Motion" drives up the charts, he talked about the making of his album, the players, the false start, and even tipped his hand on his plan for the next Cars album.

KZ: What's the difference between the new solo album, This Side Of Paradise, and the first one, Beatitude?

RO: The first solo record I did was basically my eight track basement tapes put onto a record. A lot of the vocals were done late at night in a little room, sitting on the floor. It was a home-tape, personal record. This (new) record is emotionally personal too, but it's a much more produced record. It took a lot longer to do.

I'm interested in the KZ: Did your producers, Chris Hughes and Ross Collum, get involved from the start?

RO: Originally I started the record with Jimmy Iovine, and we were going for a live approach. Then I stopped and wrote some more songs. I was just going to start over again, so I took off for a month. Then Chris Hughes (Wang Chung and Tears For Fears) called and said he was available and that he'd like to do it. We got together and started it again. Ross Collum basically does all the engineering so we can keep our hands off the board.

KZ: Did you have a bunch of songs that you were going to redo with them?

RO: I had only done five (songs), so I basically kept my synch tracks. Then I had another dozen, so I picked five (more).

KZ: What was the problem with working with Iovine?

RO: No real problem at all. In fact he was wonderful. I just felt that I wanted to approach it differently. I didn't want to do it so live. I didn't want to bring in musicians that I didn't know and just bang it out. I wanted to weed through people and see what they would lend themselves to and (get) the sound I wanted. Jimmy pulled me out of the basement and made me start, (but) I just wanted to get a little more involved in Fairlights. Plus, Chris Hughes was a drummer and I loved his drum playing. I wanted to get that element in there as well.

KZ: On the subject of technology, (Cars drummer) Dave Robinson expressed frustration to us one time that he had to add his drums on Heartbeat City last on a computer. Yet, was that the album that best put songs and technology together?

RO: (Producer) Mutt Lange was very into that aspect of it at that point in time. Fairlight (computers) were fairly new on the scene then. He was real interested in having the drums sampled on Fairlight and programming them in last around the arrangement, instead of the arrangement being based on (the drums). He was a stickler for perfection and time. I respected Mutt's wishes on that record.

KZ: Did his philosophy rub off on the Paradise album?

RO: It's funny. I've been using drum machines for about eight years now. I started off using those little Korg boxes that you used in clubs. I always wrote on them. I found them to be unique because it wasn't an attempt to sound like drums. It was definitely electronic percussion. You could mess 'em up, make them real fast and just use the beat half time. But now since there's sampled drums, a lot of producers and engineers like the fact that they have total control over the sound without a lot of leakage from the cymbals and that kind of thing.

KZ: So with the Paradise album, you wanted that control?

RO: Exactly.

KZ: Are you going to be tempted to go with that kind of control on the next Cars album?

RO: Oddly enough, I've been thinking very much that the next Cars record should be very live. I was thinking that I'd almost like to rehearse the record down and go in like we did on the first record. Have four or five people in the studio and get that whole live thing going again. I'm very curious about how it's going to sound that way. I'm actually looking forward to rehearsing it and getting the arrangements down ahead of time. When you make a lot of records, your rehearsal time is cut down. You have to do a lot of things in the studio that you would normally do outside the studio. I'm very curious to get back to doing the next Cars record that way. Plus, I'd like to do quite a lot of harmonies on it.

KZ: When the bandmembers played on the solo album, was their role more as session guys?

RO: (laughs) Not really. It was comfortable when they came in to play because I know them so well. The couple of cuts that they did play on, it was a matter of those guys in the band being there when I was doing the tracks and saying, "why don't you let me play on this song?" Benjamin (Orr) did some background vocals. Elliot (Easton) played on one track. I went into the whole album with Greg (Hawkes). I wanted him to do whatever he wanted to do.

KZ: Give us your impressions of some of the other guest players. How about (Billy Idol guitarist) Steve Stevens?

RO: I used him a lot because he so dexterous. He's a classically trained guitar player. He was very fast and quick. Not just in his playing, but in his ideas. He was totally in control of his sound. You just take the output of Steve Stevens' gear, one cord, and plug it in, and you didn't have to do anything else. He had a huge rack full of equipment. But he was very immediate with it. He knew everything about what he wanted to sound like.

KZ: How about (Tears For Fears') Roland Orzabal?

RO: Roland came through Chris because Chris worked with Tears For Fears. When we went to England to start mixing, I knew we needed a guitar part for "Emotion In Motion" and Chris thought that Roland would be good for that because he had that kind of a touch. He came in for a day and did it right off.

KZ: Didn't Andy Warhol direct one of your film clips?

RO: He did the "Hello Again" one. He's gonna do the next one I'm going to do for, I think, "True To You".

KZ: Is he a friend of yours?

RO: Yeah.

KZ: How has Warhol influenced you as an artist?

RO: The whole pop culture thing. He represents the time he lives in. He does paintings and they represent the time we live in. He doesn't do classical paintings or subject matter, he does things that are today. I like his outlook on life. He accepts everything as being important. He can find good in anything. He's very supportive of other people.

KZ: What's your philosophy on video clips now? Is it what you make of it or is it a corporate art form?

RO: I think it's becoming sort of (a corporate art form). It's been great for the effects business. It's good for filmmakers and that art form, but I don't think it's great for music. The one thing that bothers me about the music end of it is that I used to be attracted to a band who would sit in a basement in Kansas and come with a new look and a new musical ideal on their own. When you would look at the album cover, you would have no idea. I just think that videos kill a bit of the mysteries of music. Music should have a lot of mystery in it. It should try not to answer any questions. It should leave things (open to interpretation). Some videos do try to interpret songs, and some don't. I get a little wayward about the fact that you get to see every band as soon as it comes out. I also get bored that so many clips look the same. I also think there's a lot of amateur directors that really suck and don't know what's going on. (Video) has to have its merits as well. One is video technology. Mass communication, television. It's all inevitable.

there's some of the

Alternative and I think

You could have almost predicted that music would come to it. I have fun doing them because I don't try to interpret the songs.

KZ: Can you explain the technology of the "You Might Think" video? A lot of people have this mental image of you as a fly now.

RO: The story board was a bit silly. The idea of it intrigued me in an animation sense. I went with it because I thought that if it was done properly, that it could be pretty funny. I liked the cartoon aspect of it. It looked like a Saturday morning cartoon. There was a lot of paint box work done and a lot of striping put together in a Monty Python sort of way. The company that did it, Charlex, did the effects and shot it. Jeff Stein directed it and storyboarded it. They got heavy into it when it started because they were basically a commercial company and had never had much freedom. They have to do what people tell them. Here they had a video to play with and could do anything they wanted with it and they were totally ecstatic about it. They just stayed in there two to three weeks, editing twenty four hours a day and having a riot. They were having as much fun as they could taking heads off people and putting them on other people. Plus I think they learned so much about their equipment doing that because they didn't have to stick to one thing. They did the National Enquirer ads and now they're doing quite a few--Diet Coke and the Saturday Night Live beginning theme.

KZ: What's your memory of writing the song "Drive?"

RO: I felt it was a desperate kind of song. It was a song about wanting to be supported, to have support from people. Is there anybody out there that's going to help me if I'm not able to manage on my own? If I keep making all the wrong decisions and all the wrong moves, who ultimately is going to pick up my pieces? I had that frame of reference. The real thing is that nobody is really going to pick up your pieces. You have to pick up your own. But the "who's gonna drive you home" wasn't literally, who's going to pick me up and put me in a car? (It was) who's going to take care of me? Who's going to hold me when I'm shaken? It was a desperate song, but I feel I know and see a lot of people that have that sort of feeling of being alone without any kind of contact with the human race. People in general, people who hang out in singles bars, people who have to have company. Everybody needs company.

KZ: How do you decide which songs go to your solo records and which songs go to the Cars?

RO: It's very easy because whatever songs I have at the moment I use. I don't really distinguish one from the other. That's why you might get a "True To You" on my solo record. I don't hold things for one or the other record because it's no advantage for me to do that. My basic need is to put the music out at the point of inspiration. For me to hold a song back for one or the other record, it would be too old to do. I like to do things that are new for me. As long as I maintain the mood, it doesn't matter who the players are.

KZ: Whenever you finished the Cars' first album, did you all sit around and say, "That's it. It's happening. We're rich."

RO: It's funny. We never talked like that all. We thought we had a cult album on our hands. We were popular in clubs at that time. I was getting a good indication from audiences that something was right. Quite honestly, we made the first record in twelve days. We were kind of expecting to have a nice local record.

KZ: How many labels passed on the Cars before Elektra signed them?

RO: Quite a few. There were a few coming down our throats in the end because we were getting a lot of airplay from demo tapes at WBCN in Boston, which is a great station because they would play it. They weren't too stifled and they really set a precedent in that sense. They were on their own doing what they wanted to do. Getting radio play with our tapes was a great advantage because a lot of people heard a band that was unsigned. It was like discovering something for them. A lot of people in the business felt that way too. It stayed around the charts for a long time, region by region. It was real popular in the Northeast, then it would get popular in Texas, then Chicago--always maintaining its longevity. It takes a long time in America, especially in those days with no video. I liked the fact that you could look at the album cover and say, "Gee, what the hell does that guy really look like?" AOR radio has always been so great to the Cars. If it wasn't for them, we would probably be nothing. In those times, they were willing to take the chance. I can't thank radio enough for supporting the Cars as an American band.

KZ: What do you look for in radio these days?

RO: What I look for is different. I'm a collector of music in a sense and I always look for things that are much different than what people would normally want to listen to. I'm looking for a different twist in lyrics. I'm looking for a different way to play rock music. So I'm not going to be very attracted to what's in the Top Forty because that's going to sound like things I do all the time. I'm interested in the Alternative and I think there's some of the Alternative in me. I don't think I'm blatantly leftfield just to be that way. I feel like it would be much easier for me to do an album with three parts and some very strange poetry. It would be very free and easy for me to do. I think it's much harder to write songs that appeal to a lot of people. The funny thing is, I didn't know and I still don't know today what songs will appeal to a lot of people when I'm writing.

KZ: What are your radio listening habits like and what do you think of the medium these days?

RO: I understand that radio has to survive and the only way to survive is to sell commercial time. To sell commercial time, you have to appeal to everybody and to do that you have to play things everybody knows. So they're locked into a funny thing because it is a money thing. The only stations that can afford to play new music are the ones that don't give a shit and take a chance. Probably every city has at least one station that's a good Alternative station. Some of the college stations are Alternative and in New York I'll listen to a college station like WNYU when I have a radio on. Sometimes I'll have a radio on at a very low volume as a sound source of my life just like I would have a television on with no sound up. I find (radio) much more strict these days and far more FM stations are Top Forty oriented. We have MTV too which is almost like a funny kind of radio. There needs to be some rebel radio. (But) some people really don't want to discover music. Not everybody has an interest in it like you or I. Most people are just general listeners who just want to sit back and let it be background music for their lives. It depends on your kind of taste.

KZ: One last question. What is the correct pronunciation of your name?

RO: It's OH-CASS-IK. That's how I pronounce it. The real pronunciation in Czech is OT-KAH-SEK. The way it's really spelled is OTCASEK. Even through school, I've always had trouble with people pronouncing my name crazy. I don't even think about it anymore. Whatever you want to say, that's fine with me. I say OH-CASS-IK. ●

TALKING HEADS

IGGY POP

NEW ORDER

KBC (Arista)

For me, the magic of the Airplane and Starship was always the axis of vocalists sporting radically different styles, forming an unlikely blend. The context of the music and lyrics would often convey political conscience and a futuristic sense of utopian harmony. As those founding qualities gave way to a new set of pop priorities, Paul Kantner seceded from the vessel with all the subtlety of D.B. Cooper. Unlike poor D.B., Kantner landed on his feet, assembling former colleagues Jack Casady and Marty Balin with a maniac assemblage of super musicians as side one of this debut album so brilliantly illustrates. The opening track, "Mariel" with its tremendous drumroom sound, paints the picture of a crowded stadium in Chile backdrop by the horrible murder of Victor Jara and the suicide of Salvador Allende. In the context of side one, the single "It's Not You" shines. After the ballad "Hold Me," up comes the album's tour de force. "America" is an emotional evaluation of America's newfound pride in strength and weaponry. But to what end does arrogant superiority take us when eventually it's our collective visions and dreams that make us great? Side two can never hope to compete with questions like: "Where are the frontiers? How do I get there? There are no maps...no roads." If I hear a more powerful and hopeful collection of songs this year, I'll be surprised.

"Shelter"-Lone Justice (Geffen)

Sounds like a more promising, solidified direction for Lone Justice with platoon production by Little Steven, Jimmy Iovine and the band. A large portion of the battle deals with Lone Justice balancing roots with the present. The first taste sounds delightful. I think Maria McKee is ready and able to fill the female void--something Album Radio is sorely missing.

"Take Me Home"-Idle Tears (MCA)

Kevin Vargas at KWHL-Anchorage tipped me to this track that turned out to be a real grower. Every second is put to good use. I love the build-up. A hit record that could start on Album Radio.

NEW

Releases

"I Want To Make The World Turn Around"-Steve Miller Band (Capitol)

Steve Miller and Ben Sidran really are headed toward common ground. "Make The World Turn" is a low key upper demo pleaser as a former sailor returns to the fold.

BENJAMIN ORR

The Lace-Ben Orr (Elektra)

The Lace is concocted by part of the crew that gave us Joni Mitchell's Dog Eat Dog. Benjamin Orr's project, a long long time in the making, features the engineering support of Mike Shipley (who has worked with the Cars) and bassist Larry Klein. Along with fusion guitarist Mike Landau, this team magnifies Orr's songwriting collaborations with varying degrees of tempo and effectiveness. Best bets include trax like "Too Hot To Stop" and "In Circles."

Whiplash Smile-Billy Idol (Chrysalis)

The swing vote on any Billy Idol song for Album Radio is usually guitarist Steve Stevens. It is generally their combined fury that suits the format best. In this case, it's trax like "World's Forgotten Boy," "Soul Standing By" and "Man For All Seasons" (the odd numbered trax on side one) that rock n roll the hardest. Yet Whiplash Smile's most interesting moments come when the varied background of producer Keith Forsey surfaces. "To Be A Lover" and "Sweet Sixteen" are just shy of being open homages to Elvis Presley. "Don't Need A Gun," with its peaks and valleys and synth work is my personal favorite, today at least. The remainder of side two reflect the album's moodier moments.

Horses And Trees-Ginger Baker (Celluloid)

Smokin' set by Ginger Baker with the usual cast of Celluloid stars. Jason Corsaro (Steve Winwood) does an amazing job of mixing, balancing mood with the turbulent power of percussion. Ginger's looking pretty dapper in those boots. Check "Interlock."

Get Close-The Pretenders (Sire)

It's a brand new band and a brand new ballgame. The direction of Get Close is one of textures and layers rather than bottom line quartet toughness. A knee-jerk comparison is Simple Minds, though it's a little embarrassing to categorize eleven songs with one mere easy gesture. Still, Chrissie Hynde-Kerr utilizes the identical production methods, occasionally using a cyclorama of keyboard sound and airy guitar brush strokes. Guitarist Robbie McIntosh's services on guitar are retained while bassist T.M. Stevens and drummer Blair Cunningham are recent acquisitions. Celluloid sideman Bernie Worrell brings to the Pretenders some of the licks that livened up the Talking Heads during their arkestral ensemble days. Besides the uptempo single, the opening trax "My Baby" and "When I Change My Life" are an apt introduction to the new sound. I also like the softer "Hymn To Her" and the closer "Room Full Of Mirrors." Put it this way. Now the Pretenders and Simple Minds are now a more logical concert co-bill.

Johnny WINTER

3rd Degree-Johnny Winter (Alligator)

I know it's a tired cliché by now, but the success of the Vaughans proves there's a place and an appetite for blues on Album Radio. Johnny Winter was one of the format's original blues pioneers. Alligator, known for houserockin' music, serves up some of the best rockin' roots around. Though 3rd Degree reunites JW's original rhythm section, the opening two trax features an even stronger foundation. That's "Mojo Boogie" and the especially strong "Love, Life."

MY 2 cents

It certainly is Ric Ocasek week as Ric climbs back into the number one slot with Boston breathing rocket vapors down his neck. Pretenders' new single is going over big with Album Radio. The reaction to the rest of the album's new direction should be interesting. Whatever happens, the strength of the single should carry the album, especially with Top Forty NOT burning out the song's effectiveness. So far, the Pretenders' are a great Album image record. A rock solid Top Ten leaves even Bruce Hornsby knockin' at the door. His "The Way It Is" is putting the piano back into the forefront of music. Meanwhile inside the Top Ten, Fogerty, Winwood, Huey, Timbuk 3, and Til Tuesday should remain entrenched for at least two more weeks. Something's gonna have to give since this week is Billy Idol week. Kantner, Balin and Casady are making a big impression on Album Radio. Though certainly not as "slick" as the Starship, their aggressive sound is soaking in. Besides the single, "America" and "Mariel" are tailor made for Album Radio's air sound. Another up week for Pete Townshend. Incidentally, though it's not a well known fact, I hear song royalties are going towards Anti-Heroin efforts...It was somewhat of a surprise to hear Iggy Pop's "Wild Child" on Miami Vice. Either they add the music later on that show or else they got an early early copy of the tune. Check it out in addition to "Cry For Love"...Bon Jovi takes a serious turn upward 20-22-19...Other notable jumps include KBC up 13, Bad Company up 8, Benjamin Orr debuting at #28, Billy Squier inching yet another three notches to #26 and Georgia Satellites just about to crack the Top 20 at

*LONE JUSTICE (Geffen-12") "Shelter"
*SOUL MAN (A&M) "Soul"

#21...General Public make an appearance on the Album chart at #35. Besides the single, there's a couple of strong songs on side one, particularly "Come Again" and "Faults And All." Ditto with Howard Jones who puts in his first chart appearance at #36. Check out the track

"All I Want," which was the first British single...The new 1986 version of "Don't Stand So Close" was the runaway Most Added this week. It will be featured on the upcoming "best of" album due in a few weeks...Stabilizers are stable at #39...The dance obsessed Ratt (now that's a switch) come in at #40...Expect a debut next week for Big Audio Dynamite...Aretha Franklin's "Jumpin' Jack Flash" doesn't disappear altogether. It flies back into Chartbound. Among Chartbound's most notable debuts, there's the brand new single from Lone Justice, whose retooled sound seems entirely compatible towards Album Radio's airsound. Robin Trower has action on a few trax and not necessarily on "Doors," so listen to the LP for yourself...Something to look into if you haven't already is the Miles Davis album entitled TUTU. His collaboration with bassist Marcus Miller marks his first on the Warner Bros. label...Also keep a watch for the new Paul Young single entitled "Some People." Produced by Hugh Padgham, it is a killer. That should be arriving very soon. Paul's a-rockin'. That's all for now. Adios. XO KZ

ALTERNATIVE ACTION

It took ten weeks but we finally have a new number one album in the form of the Talking Heads. With R.E.M. stepping down, a sudden power vacuum is created, causing a surge as seven of our Top Ten records move up. Looking exceptionally potent is Iggy Pop who could make a run for number one next week! Elvis Costello is receiving exceptional response but he may be eclipsed by New Order who forge ahead behind dedicated college radio rotations and newly acquired commercial radio play, including; WBCN, WXXP, WLIR, WHFS, WFNX, CFNY, WXRT, KEYX, KTCL, KRQU, KROQ, etc. Richard Thompson breaks through the Top Ten and is still accelerating. General Public, Chameleons UK and The Housemartins

SPOTLIGHT LP

London O Hull 4-THE HOUSEMARTINS
(Go Discs/Elektra)

Don't casually lump The Housemartins into the "button-down sweater" musical category. London O Hull 4 is an album loaded with quality music. Choosing the obvious single from an album that contains an abundance of great songs can be a liability for many groups trying to gain access onto AOR radio. While this may present a challenge for The Housemartins on AOR, it's a formula for success on Alternative radio. Their forte lies in their enthusiastic pop writing abilities in songs like "Happy Hour", "Anxious", "Get Up Off Of Your Knees" and "Freedom." They display their versatility with the beautiful and emotional "Flag Day." One wonders if The Smiths had an optimistic outlook, would they sound more like The Housemartins?

Mania-THE LUCY SHOW (Big Time)

The Lucy Show made a modest impact last year with an album on A&M that didn't receive as much airplay as it deserved. Big Time has scooped up this duo originally from Vancouver, Canada who now live in London. Big Time, incidentally, has been on a tear signing some of the best available bands lately. "View From The Outside", "Sun and Moon", "Land and The Life", "Shame" and the lead track, "A Million Things", are hard and compact songs void of cliché laden hooks or melodies. This is an important crossroads for The Lucy Show and they've risen to the occasion with Mania.

LETTERS OF RECOMMENDATION: READING BETWEEN THE LINES

"Most people writing a letter of recommendation do not want to harm the future of somebody they have fired, and so will write a letter that is positive."

Unless you're really screwed up, you can get a letter of recommendation if you get fired. You can usually get one if you quit. So what good is the letter of recommendation to you, if you are an employer? It can be very useful--if you read between the lines.

Usually, if the applicant was fired, there is an indication somewhere in the application. If there is any credibility to the source of the letter of recommendation, it will be at least hinted at there. Most people writing a letter of recommendation do not want to harm the future of somebody they have fired, and so will write a letter that is positive. Frequently this positive information is more or less correct. They do get along well with others; they just can't follow directions!! The do get to work on time--they just don't do any when they get there!!

What does the letter say? What does it not say--what is it leaving out that might be relevant to the job the person was doing? Does the letter seem enthusiastic, or just courteous? Does it invite you to contact the writer for more information? (That often is your clue that there is more, much more, to say about the person that could not be put in a letter of recommendation.)

Get the picture? A letter of recommendation is something many employees ask for when leaving a company, and they are not usually denied; so simply the presence of a letter of recommendation in an employment application may mean little. What it says, or doesn't say, about the person may be more a matter of deduction than just words on paper.

None of this is to excuse you from checking references, of course. Many a bad employee has joined a company that didn't bother to check references. References should be relevant to the jobs the person has held, and you shouldn't limit yourself just to checking the references presented. If the person hasn't listed their supervisor at their last couple of jobs, call the stations and try to talk to them. If you get hold of someone who really talks down your applicant, you now know why they weren't listed as a reference, but consider whether the negative input seems fair or represents vindictiveness. Sometimes an employee and a boss just don't get along, and it isn't the employee's fault. If you have a suspicion that that could be the case, don't stop there. Call back and try to talk to the bookkeeper at the station, and try a previous station they list as having worked at.

Sometimes you'll find in checking that the person seems to be liked, but there are unfavorable facts. In checking a reference not too long ago I came across an unusual situation involving an air personality. The tape was good, the application was in order, and when I called the station and talked with the PD, I got generally good recommendations. The guy was liked, did a good job on the air...but as I probed I found that he had been arrested in the control room twice for writing bad checks!! The first time, the station had liked the guy enough personally and on the air, that when he explained it as a mistake, they bought it and he stayed. The second time they seemed less willing even then to consider that perhaps he was just very careless with keeping his checkbook balance up to date, and didn't want to sour someone on hiring him just on what they had to say, but they didn't want to cover it up either.

In this example, there was no mention of it in the reasonably supportive letter of recommendation, and it didn't even arise immediately in the phone call--but obviously, personal charm aside, someone who so embarrasses a radio station twice is likely to do it again, and certainly seems to have a personal ethics problem. He went to work for somebody else. Wonder if he's bounced any checks yet there.

There are PD's who simply hire based on tape and stations worked; sometimes that pays off and sometimes it doesn't. The laziness of not checking references will often come back to haunt you.

By the way, obviously there are the floaters in our business who never stay at a station long. You see resumes now and then which show a long string of stations, even some good ones, never longer than a year at each. Even if the references check out, this pattern is very indicative of someone who will keep doing it, and if longevity in your job is a consideration, such a person is not one to hire. They either are chronically dissatisfied, or else they are overly ambitious. Either way, they won't stay with you long, and probably won't give you their best work after the first month or two... 'cause they're already looking again. ●

COUNTRY SUMMARY

For those of you who may have missed it Monday night, here's a quick wrap-up of the major winners at the Country Music Association Awards: Entertainer Of The Year - Reba McEntire; Male Vocalist - George Strait; Female Vocalist - Reba McEntire; Song Of The Year - On The Other Hand (Randy Travis); Single Of The Year - Bop (Dan Seals); Album Of The Year - Lost In The Fifties Tonight (Ronnie Milsap); Group - The Judds; Vocal Duo - Marie Osmond & Dan Seals; Horizon Award - Randy Travis; Video Of The Year - Who's Gonna Fill Their Shoes (George Jones).

This week's chart is once again topped by Horizon Award winner Randy Travis, and Marie Osmond and Paul Davis will have to have another strong week next week in order to keep Alabama from leap-frogging over them to the top spot. Anyone who was having doubts about the strength of George Strait's record should be reassured by this week's eight-point jump Country's latest brother/sister act, The Bellamys and The Foresters, exploded this week with 139 reports and debuts at WCHK-Canton (24 - Jim Quinton sez it's a smash!), WFRB-Frostburg (33), WGAA-Cedertown (27), WLAT-Conway (37), WMC-Memphis (26), KIMM-Rapid City (19), KSO-Des Moines (26), WBLY-Springfield (26), WITL-Lansing (24), WKTY-La Crosse (31), etc. Hank Williams Jr. (with his rowdy friends Reba McEntire, Willie Nelson and Tom Petty) already has 16 stations charting him Top Twenty, including KATK-Carlsbad, WBAP-Dallas/Ft. Worth, KASH-Anchorage, WKKW-Clarksburg, WLAS-Jacksonville, WWRK-Elberton, WYGC-Gainesville, WAAX-Gadsden, etc. Kathy Mattea bypasses Chartbound and debuts on the Gavin chart, and also debuts for Bob Loucks at KVAS-Astoria, J.C.Simon at KFMS -Las Vegas, Randy Hill at KIDN-Pueblo, Stu Schroeder at KBUY-Amarillo, Eric Bell at KTGR-Columbia, Jarrett Day at KSO-Des Moines, Dave Terry at WVMI-Biloxi, Eric Marshall at WSIX-Nashville, Tom Brooks at WKNZ-Collins (Tom reports he's been overwhelmed by early requests for Kathy),

Rick Robinson at WEYY-Talladega, and more. Last week's "Recommended" Lyle Lovett turns up as one of our Top Adds, with 37 stations giving the nod to this "Cowboy Man". Tim Closson at WAXX/FM offers that Lyle's the hottest new artist since Randy Travis!! (Look for an interview with Lyle in an upcoming Gavin). After Lionel Richie's appearance with Alabama on Monday night's awards, we started getting even more reports of stations playing "Deep River Woman". Jack Daniels at KLIK-Jefferson City said his listeners went crazy with requests after only one play. Brett Davis at KXEL is playing both the Bob Seger and the BoDeans singles, and believes that they sound a lot more Country than some of the other songs currently on Country charts. Big John Libynski at KGRT-Las Cruces thinks that other stations should give Huey Lewis' "Stuck On You" a shot. His listeners think it sounds a lot like John Conlee's "Got My Heart Set on You". Natalie, Joel, Cyndi and I are looking forward to welcoming Elma back from her vacation next Monday, AND to talking to you next week!! Lisa

"URBANIZING" by JERRY BOULDING

STOLEN BASICS

Someone once said, "in order to win, the basics have to be in place." As it applies to radio in general and the urban format in particular, basics often make the difference, not only between winning and losing, but even having a chance to win! Most of us have heard of a station whose reputation indicated they were the format leader and even the market leader, but when we finally got a chance to listen to the station, either on tape or when we were in that city, we were very disappointed. What happened to the basics? What happened to the things that used to be part of every winning station's formula?

HOW EXPERIENCE ENHANCES MEANING

Perhaps there is no clear-cut answer. Perhaps it is possible to win in the radio ratings wars without having all the basics in place. But the question then becomes, what if these winning stations did have their basics in order? What then? Would their numbers and TSL (time spent listening) increase? And the most important question that emerges is, who is going to teach these basics to today's generation of programmers, music directors, managers and air talents? And the only real way to learn many of these basic skills is by "hands on" experience. Many of them have to be done, to be learned. It's one thing to have a series of memos and meetings in which basics are explained, but for the lessons to really mean something, there must be the first-hand experience of making these ideas 'fly.' Perpetual psychology teaches us that for learning to occur, the learner must be open and receptive to new experiences. Dr. Carl R. Rogers explains in "Client-centered Therapy" that, as experiences occur in the life of the individual, they are either symbolized, perceived and organized into some relationship to oneself, or ignored because there is nothing perceived and organized into some relationship to oneself. Symbolized means that the event actually becomes part of one's experience. A new air talent goes through a fall ARBitron ratings sweep with a new contest or promotion that works and he/she remembers it. When they get their first chance to go out on their own, they refer back to it as something they remembered and experienced that worked! What group of new pilots, eager for their wings, would not soak up knowledge, and symbolize it, so long as it related directly to their dreams of flying jets?

LEARNING TO SHARE

Another method in which the learning process in our industry often takes place is the "learning-by-sharing" method. This concept is still fresh and at least as vital as it was during the early 60's and 70's, when it appeared to be at its peak. This learning could have been captured in words, but the words did not come first. They also did not come easily. It is doubtful that they would have meant as much then as they do now. Words like sharing. Sharing the agony - and the laughter - of having to take arduous swimming lessons and tests the day after tetanus shots...of having to go on the air replacing a top air talent who had been in the market for several years, and not really being certain of the board, the format, or the music. Sharing the problems of petty jealousies that always exist at stations when the salary structure is unequal. And finally, there's sharing the pride of having your GM tell you that you performed well and that owner or GM was extremely happy with the rating results. This commitment continued to make the entire management team aware that at least they had a crew that could keep on winning!

Words like respect...mutual respect, the kind that comes from knowing that we were among the best. This can vary from market to market, but there comes a time when you just know that you are working with people that you have heard about and now have a chance to work with, and that the respect that comes from seeing firsthand that their reputation continues to spread and how it has been earned. Firsthand experience usually brings out these qualities. When you hear the format being executed the way it should be, hearing fellow staff members meeting exact standards...then, when it comes your turn to perform, you give a little more because of that respect. Lots of times it really goes back to doing the basics well...doing them better and better. Remember back when you were in college, you may not have liked one another universally but you respected one another universally. It's often the same in life.

Finally, there's teamwork. In our business, like many others, where there is interdependence, teamwork makes the difference. The kind of teamwork that would make you brief the person who relieves you so they will be aware of the songs you played, a cart machine that is not firing, and quirks in the current promotions,

"Firsthand experience usually brings out these qualities. When you hear the format being executed the way it should be, hearing fellow staff members meeting exact standards...then, when it comes your turn to perform, you give a little more because of that respect."

one-liners, etc. Even when you may not particularly like the person who relieves you, there should be the professionalism that would force you to at least brief them so they can sound comfortable and most importantly, the station, your station, will continue to sound good.

The teamwork, or "buddy system" is essential for winning radio. And yet, there are a number of situations in which the effort that should go into teamwork is just not there. Once again, the question becomes, what a difference a play makes. It's another one of those basics that we need to be reminded of every once in a while so that we don't take it for granted. In a world where learning and growth are essential and often proceeds at breakneck pace, a world of bytes and bits, mergers and acquisitions, production planning and fixed asset accounting, the greatest successes seem always to be enjoyed when there is time also for learning about sharing, respect, teamwork and love. It's really nothing but a language, but you have to learn the words and what they mean. Many people would learn from their mistakes if they weren't so busy denying they made them. ●

URBAN CONTEMPORARY SUMMARY

I know I'm supposed to devote my summary to music, but yet another major market victory for Urban Contemporary Radio cannot go unmentioned on these pages... The powerful KVIL-Dallas, which has been the top music station in that city (almost since the stone age), has been humbled this book by KKDA (K104). Our congratulations go to M.D. Terri Avery (first) and Operations Manager Michael Spears (second) on their 8.9 share...they beat KVIL's 7.1 and are still reeling from the high! As you may recall, last February at the Gavin Awards, KVIL walked away with A/C awards, including station of the year - but Terri Avery took away the Music Director of the Year prize for Urban! We applaud Terri, Michael and the entire staff at KKDA for adding Dallas to the major markets where Urban Radio is number one in the music game! The chart has a new topper... GREGORY ABBOTT shook down

HOWARD HEWETT, MELBA/FREDDIE, 5 STAR, and THE TEMPTATIONS to reach his first number one with his first single from his first album ever! MELBA/FREDDIE retain their underline but ABBOTT got there not only in chart averages and airplay points but with number ones in many markets and requests reported by adults and young adults at KUKQ-Phoenix, according to Rick Thomas. Jimmy Smith at K-97-Memphis says it's still the most requested tune there. Fred Harvey, WFKX-Jackson calls in requests for FREDDIE JACKSON from adults and teens...it takes a healthy jump on our chart from 12-7, with requests reported from Bruce Washington, WQDE-Albany and from Don Allen, WOWI-Norfolk, who says he's getting the women 18-34 calling for it. GENERAL KANE continues to look good in the request polls: Danny Harris, KDKO-Denver says his calls are from "teens and everybody else"; Sedric Walker, KHRN-Hearne reports calls for KANE; Stan Tompkins, WTOY-Roanoke says "I'm getting calls for it from teens and young adults, male and female alike." Speaking of Crack, ISAAC HAYES' new single "...is smokin' here on the request line" says Tony Gore, WWIL-Wilmington. Frenche Be, WQIM-Montgomery reports "people calling for it here like the contents and lyrics as well as the tune itself." For those of you who have been clamoring recently for up-tempo to battle all the ballads you've got on your charts, I just got a test pressing/acetate of the new SYLVESTER "Someone Like You" and it could be the answer to your prayers...sounds like "an instant floor-packer for the clubs", too... Thanks for the calls, talk to you next week...take care....

SILVER/BLACK ATTACK ◀ IN L.A.

ORLEANS IN NEW YORK ◀

MCA recording artists, Orleans, recently visited New York City radio station WHN to talk about their new album. The group presented the staff with a basket of goodies and

PROMOTIONS

Mickey Gilley performs at the KMPS picnic.

30,000 ATTEND KMPS PICNIC ◀

The promotions and programming staff at KMPS-Seattle were worried last year about how they were going to top the 18,000 people who attended their Listener Appreciation Picnic. But they shouldn't have been concerned. This year's picnic, held on Sunday, August 10th, drew a crowd of 30,000! The day-long event included performances by Mickey Gilley and Gail Davies and a Country/Gospel show, along with appearances by five Northwest Country bands. There were also food booths, arts and crafts booths, and Jay Hamilton, Promotions Director at KMPS, says that he's not worried about topping this year's attendance next year. "Thirty thousand folks again next year would be just fine with me!" ■

PUTTIN' ON THE RITZ ◀

As part of its "National Tom Sawyer Days" each year, Hannibal, Missouri hosts a "Mud-Volleyball Tournament." When KGRC was asked to play in a media match against another local station, Promotions Director Chuck Yates decided that showing up in old shorts and station t-shirts would not do. So he made arrangements with a local tuxedo shop to use their tuxedos to play in the mud. (Note that the tuxedos were several years old and not their current stock.) Chuck also decided that his team needed to make an entrance, and that they did with the team riding up in a new bass boat. To add a touch of class to the event, they pulled out bottles of champagne and toasted the opposing team. Then into the mud, and the crowd went wild. Chuck notes, "the promotion is messy, but fun, and created a lot of street talk for a relatively small amount of money. One must remember, however, to play ball with your mouth closed." ■

GREAT AMERICAN SIGN-OFF ►

KSJO-San Jose promoted a "Great American Sign-Off" in an attempt to stamp out those silly "Baby On Board" signs and variations that are popping up all over the country. KSJO's morning team solicited listeners to turn in their signs for an album of their choice from the KSJO Album Locker. The response was tremendous. Not only did KSJO have to replenish the Album Locker several times, but they got newspaper and television coverage as well. ■

AROUND THE WORLD WITH GENESIS

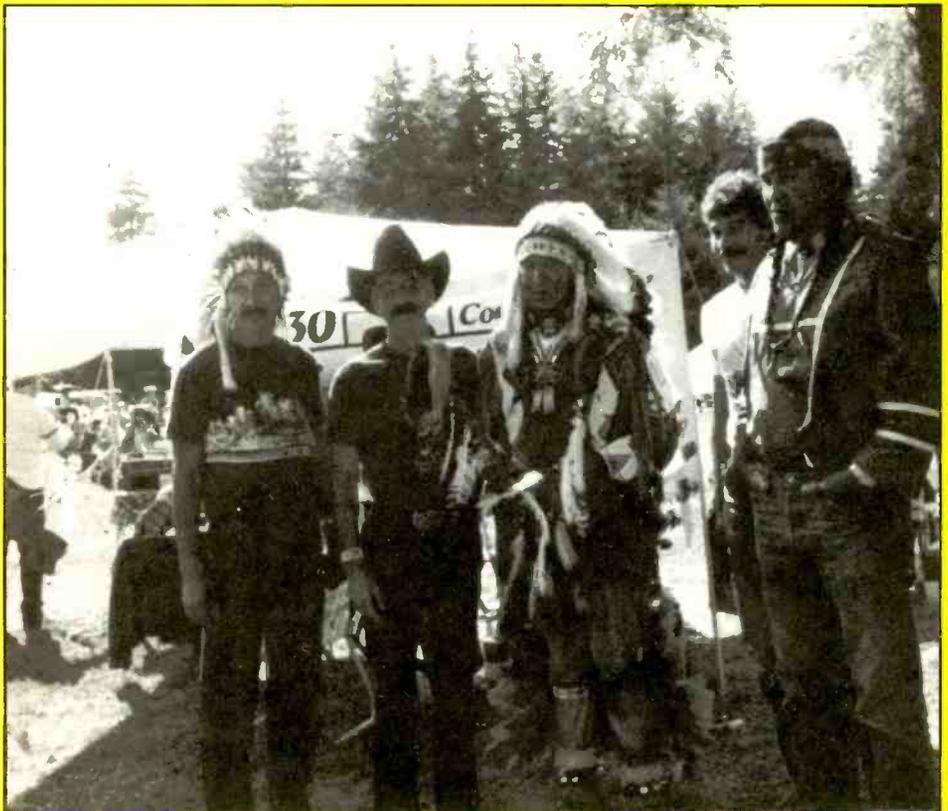

WMMR-Philadelphia is right in the middle of their largest concert promotion to date. Seven winners and their guests are enjoying Genesis shows in Detroit, Toronto, Philadelphia, New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco. All winners receive round-trip airfare, first-class hotel accommodations and transportation. They also receive escorted sightseeing tours and pre-concert celebrations. Promotion director Jack Quigley says, "The forced listening vehicle has been highly successful with thousands of calls daily, generating a tremendous buzz on the streets of Philly for both Genesis and WMMR." ■

THE COWBOYS ► VISIT THE INDIANS

What could be more appropriate for a Country station than to have their "cowboys" broadcast live from a real Indian pow-wow? That's what the folks at KTDO-Toledo, Oregon, have been doing for the past four years at the Confederated Tribes of Siletz Annual Celebration Days Pow-Wow. The theme of this year's event was "Respect Our Elders And Guide Our Youth," and KTDO Music Director Dennis Edwards posed here to prove that Cowboys and Indians really can co-exist peacefully!! ■

Shown here with a partial collection of the signs are (l to r) KSJO Promotions Director Jim Sheehan and the morning crew of Rudy Koerner, Laurie Roberts and Ted Kopulos.

the GAVIN REPORT

DAVE SHOLIN'S

Personal Picks — SINGLES

GENESIS - Land Of Confusion (Atlantic) How do they do it? The Banks, Collins and Rutherford collaboration is unbeatable and it seems they have a seemingly unending supply of hit songs. While there's a commonality in the music of Genesis, each release is very much its own, exemplified by this remarkable entry.

EURHYTHMICS - Thorn In My Side (RCA) All the critical acclaim this duo has received over the past couple of years has been well deserved. I'd swear this side is at least one to two minutes shorter in length... always a positive sign.

MIAMI SOUND MACHINE - Falling In Love (Uh-Oh) (Epic) I know there are some of you, like me, who thought this band would do the "Conga" and disappear. WRONG rhumba breath! Here is yet another example of their versatility and diverse song writing talents, which explains why they are one of the year's big surprises.

KANSAS - All I Wanted (MCA) Names from our musical past continue to re-emerge with hot new material. Refusing to just be dust in the wind, Kansas returns and takes a very different direction. I heard this a few times without knowing the identity of the artist and never did figure out who it was. All I knew was it sure sounded good.

RON FELL'S

Personal Picks — ALBUMS

BENJAMIN ORR - The Lace (Elektra)

After all that time riding shotgun with The Cars, Ben now gets his chance to drive his own vehicle. With the usual drum machine and Elliot Easton at his side, the journey begins with his first single, STAY THE NIGHT, a personal pick to click and a safe introduction to the world of solo performance. A bit more reckless (not rockless) are side-openers TOO HOT TO STOP and SPINNING, both of which feed off of the aforementioned rhythm monster. Unlike Ric O and Cars projects, the songs on this LP, to their credit, stay close to home and don't drift onto the shoulder of pop music's highway.

LUTHER VANDROSS - Give Me The Reason (Epic)

Pop radio blew it by not playing the title track. Nuff said. And while I probably haven't shamed anyone into listening carefully to this LP, there's still plenty to consider. STOP TO LOVE, set to a cool groove (that's a sixties' phrase), is a radiant, digitally brilliant opener. I GAVE IT UP is reminiscent of his earliest biggies and THERE'S NOTHING BETTER THAN LOVE (a duet with the hooper Gregory Hines) is a curious ballad sung about a mythical miss. The rest of the LP reinforces the class and consummate musicianship that is Luther Vandross.
