RESTLESS HEART "I'LL STILL BE LOVING YOU"
from their album WHEELS.
TOP 10 AC—NOW CROSSING OVER CHR BY POPULAR DEMAND.

INSIDE TOP 40 with DAVE SHOLIN

Program and music directors are not only responsible for what records are played on their stations but how they are played. Nothing extraordinary?...Pretty basic, right? I got to thinking about that the other night while watching ABC's 20/20. The show featured a piece about symphony conductors, who have to read music notes for multiple instruments and keep the ebb and flow of the music together all at the same time. They interviewed a young conductor who is studying with the conductor of the Chicago Symphony. He remarked that while, teachers can show you what to do and instruct you on how to improve technique, they can't give you a feel for how it should sound. That is part of each person's style, combined with experience. What separates the conductor of the high school band from the conductor of the Chicago Symphony is that undefinable element that can't be taught. Sure, there are lots of methods programmers use in balancing music but no hard and fast rules exist for what is always right or wrong.

STARSHIP

Week after week one of the toughest tasks recently has been deciding what to add from a list of excellent choices which doesn't seem to get any smaller. STARSHIP tops both chart and airplay stats with a staggering 300 reports. Number one seems to be a place they've been able to call home quite often in the past year and a half. Tops the chart at WKQB, Q105, KOKZ, KIZZ, WWYO, WIQQ, KFIV, KHSN, Y108, KWES, Y94, WSPT, WKZQ, WBEN, WQLK, Q104, etc.

No shortage of healthy gains for BANGLES..moving 30-22 for Greg Knop WKSP, 27-18 Steve Kelsey WFBG, 30-19 Don Graham KBAU, Kelly O'Shea KKEZ, Rick James WBIZ, Debut #24 John Lander & Patty Hamilton 93Q, 25-27 Dave Weissman

KZLS, 29-16 Steve Wall 99KG, 29-21 Steve Naganuma KMJK, etc.

Doubling HIT FACTOR from 10% to 20%, ROBERT CRAY logs another 20 adds including WXKS Boston, WQID Biloxi, WABB Mobile, KIYS Boise, KXFM Santa Maria, KKIS Concord, KWTX Waco, etc. Climbs into the Top 20 at WHNY, B97, PWR 99.7, Q105, 100KHI, KYMO, KKEG, KZEV, WPST, etc.

Strong activity on BARBUSTERS in the Northeast, with Tom Cuddy moving it 20-16 at PRO/FM Providence and Rob Poulin taking it up 26-19 at WWHB Hampton Bays. New on WPST, KINN, WKLQ, KATD, KFIV, KTAG, KEYJ, WGBQ, etc.

A story of steady growth on WORLD PARTY, which tops the 150 mark in reports for the first time this week. Debuts in the Top Thirty at FM102 Sacramento, WLGA Valdosta, KUUB Bozeman, KVRP Vermillion, KRRG Laredo, KHSN Coos Bay etc.

KENNY LOGGINS is closing in on a CHARTBOUND position. Over 100 reports for the first time, with 18 adds including KTAG, KYYY, KEEZ, KIXK, KKBG, KWXX, KTMT, KSWB, KBIU, 95XXX, KQCR, etc. Debuts #29 at KZZP Phoenix, #21 KGGG, #30 Q105 Tampa, #26 3WD Schenectady, #29 KXGO Arcata/Eureka, etc.

Also ready to hit CHARTBOUND next week is CHICAGO, who missed making it into the MOST ADDED category by two reports. New on Z93, KHIT, KKYS, WXXQ, WIFC, KCLD, WKXX, KCIL, WXKS, KC101, Q99, WBBQ, WFBG, WLS, KCPX, KZZU, KZFN, KGGI, KCPW, etc.

Look what's happened to CHRIS DEBURGH. Though it's been slow to develop, the track record on this entry is nothing short of astounding. Bruce Stevens at WBBQ Augusta takes it Top Ten 17-7, with other moves at Z93 26-21, PWR 99.7 14-10, KMEL 22-18, KSND 13-8, FM102 5-3, KWSS 16-13,

B106 26-18, etc. Based on new airplay it seems a lot of stations are taking note of this record's performance. Added at Z94, JLK/FM, KZZU, KIIS, Y95, KRNO, WLXR, KKXL, etc.

PSYCHEDELIC FURS get to number one at LIVE 105 San Francisco, scoring adds at KMEL, OK95, WDBR, KKIS, KVVN, KNOE, WRCK, WBNQ, KAGO, WPFR, KSLY, etc. Debuts Top 30 at Z100 New York, and 93Q Houston.

Early stages of POISON taking effect for Chuck Beck Y95 Dallas 27-19. Also debuts #17 at KGGG Rapid City, 2-1 KCPX Salt Lake City, debut #25 KFIV Modesto, debut #29 KBEQ Kansas City, #28 KOZE Lewiston, etc. Adds include KYA, Q96, KITY, Z95, WIFX, WSPK, Q105, etc.

Controversial subject matter will always cause reaction. That appears to be happening on the XTC release, "Dear God". Bob Harlow at KATD Los Gatos/San Jose was first to call last week reporting instant response. Z94 Boston's Harry Nelson echoes the sentiments of several programmers who are disturbed by the song's lyric content. Maybe it'd be wise to let the GM record a disclaimer stating it's not the opinion of the station and ask listeners to call and express their feelings.

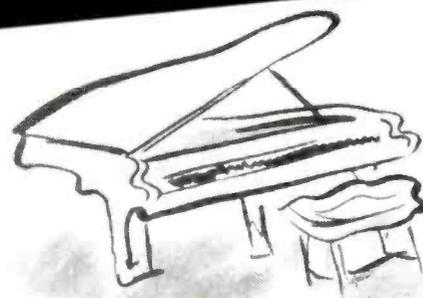

ANITA BAKER earns a CERTIFIED label on the URBAN CONTEMPORARY page. Chris Collins debuts her at #29 at FM102 with a load of hot new airplay including WKTI, KDON, KMEL, KKIS, KITY, WCGQ, Q99, KWIN, KS103, KNOE, WJKC, etc.

May want to check out a record by the NEW CITY ROCKERS. It's a cover version of the old LED ZEPPELIN hit, "Black Dog." Dale Taylor at Y104 Hattiesburg phoned to report it received an all-time positive response on his nightly "Smash or Trash" feature. ■

CHINWAG

PHILLY'S NEWEST 'EAGLE'

The City of Brotherly Love may be in for a no-holds-barred Top 40 scrimmage. Chinwag hears Malrite's newly acquired WTRK-Philadelphia, having won approval of a call letter change to WEGX, will soon be hatched as "The Eagle." "Everything's under wraps for now," says new PD Charlie Quinn. "You understand I can't say anything because of the competitive situation." Like its NFL counterpart, the station faces an uphill battle. One major block: its field position, split wide to the right at 106 on the dial. Then there's the identity crisis caused by three different sets of calls in less than a year. Malrite will have to put some heavy promotional bucks on the line.

PROFIT AND ROSS

Malrite has figured a way to recoup cost of re-hiring Ross Brittain as Scott Shannon's cohort on New York's Z100 Morning Zoo. Ross left for WTRK last year, but returned to Z100 March 9, and now kicks off the Zoo at 5:30, staying on till 9. Scott comes in from 6-10, giving the station an extra hour of triple-A spot availabilities. Brittain says he's glad to be back in the same market with his wife, WLTW News Director Rasa Kaye, and calls his return to Z100 "ideal," noting, "After all those cracks about 'Larry Booger,' I could hardly go to work at WPLJ!"

KEEP YOUR EYE ON...

Double celebrations at A&M Records in Hollywood this month: Co-founder Herb Albert will mark his 50th b-day on the 31st, and hot young A&R man John McClain has settled his "philosophical differences" with the label. McClain's now in possession of the company's longest job title: Senior Vice President of A&R and Executive Vice President and General Manager of Urban Music. A tip of the Chinwag fedora to Herb and John.

LIP SERVICE

KISF-Greeley, CO, has told KQKS in nearby Longmont to "KISS off." On March 5, KISF won a preliminary injunction barring the Western Cities outlet from using slogan, "Denver's all-new 104.3 KISS FM." Says KISF PD Jim Elliott: "We've been using 'KISS FM' since April, 1986. It was very confusing to listeners and advertisers." KQKS now goes by "KS104" and, according to PD Dave Van Stone, is launching a major TV campaign with Rulon Jones of the Denver Broncos.

RADI-O-RAMA

96Rock-Atlanta morning crewsters Mark McCain and Steve Mitchell are reportedly setting sail for KSHE-St. Louis...John Clay, formerly of KHTZ-Reno, is the new PD at KGGL, serving the Inland Empire of Riverside, Ontario and San Berdoo. He replaces Cliff Roberts, who remains midday host. John, a native San Diegan, says, "I'm excited about being back in Southern California.

Commonwealth Broadcasting is an aggressive, growing company." Jerry Clifton will continue to consult the station...Heading for America's Biggest Little Market is KDON-Salinas asst. PD Shelley Rae, forsaking the green fields of California for greener pastures and her PD debut at Reno's Top 40 KWNZ. Rae's promotions/midday position at KDON is still open...Patty Martin, newly departed from KMBY-Monterey, now part-timing at KSJO-San Jose...Promotion Director/a.m. driver Bob Ihle moves up to PD at KRQU-Laramie, WY. Kevin Lewis is the new Music Director...Catfish Jim Prewitt moves up to PD at WKXX-Birmingham, AL, leaving MD job open...Letisha Jackson moves crosstown from WTKL-Baton Rouge, LA, to take News Director job at WXOK...New MD at WPRB-Princeton, NJ, is Josh Goldfein...A line-up change at KEED-Eugene, OR, moves Jim Tull from middays to mornings, where he's joined by meteorologist Rich Anselmo. Dave Tappan comes in from KHTE-Redding for the noon slot and part-timer Pat Allen takes over nights.

LEADERS OF THE PLAQUE

Congrats to PD Norm Winer and his WXRT-Chicago crew for winning "Best Radio Station" title for third year in a row in Chicago Tribune readers' poll. WLUP's Jonathon Brandmeier and Steve Dahl were top jocks, but 'XRT staffers took half the remaining top ten spots...Brian Henry of KLLK-Willits, CA, wants us to know that his station won Broadcast Management/Engineering Magazine's "Best Station & Facility" honors. He says the two-year-old Amer is "showing FM stations around here how to 'do radio!' How about 60 requests a day in a town with a population of only 4,500--over one percent of the town calls us every day!" Station has one more distinction: it's now on both sides of the dial, since its signal is now carried via cable FM to 15,000 households in Northern California.

LEKAKIS LOCATED

For those of you trying to get hold of the Paul Lekakis single "Boom Boom (Let's Go Back To My Room)," the label is RXY in Miami: (305) 339-1067.

RECORD ROTATION

Atlantic Records snags WBCN-Boston Associate MD Danny McCloskey as regional New England Rep, as Don Maggi moves to New York...Grant Spofford is the new Chrysalis Records rep in Dallas, covering Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana. Congrats to both.

A/C ANALYSIS

As predicted last week, Janet clears more than 200 HEAVY ROTATION stations, but that figure still puts her short of Hornsbys by fifteen BIG ONES.

The Starship gain 36 HEAVY reports to pass the speeding Paul McCartney to reach the outside front row of polesitters in line for number one.

Restless Heart's HIT FACTOR leaps to 89% and nearly doubles their HEAVY ROTATION tally (47 last week and 90 this week).

One of this week's largest HIT FACTOR increases belongs to Sergio Mendes who leaps from 45% to 71%. Throw in another 18 new stations to their universe.

Billy Joel does the usual: He's MOST ADDED by a wide margin. With some solid support from one of his idols, Ray Charles, Billy Joel can't miss landing a piece of an upcoming POWER TRIO.

Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, Kenny Loggins' Meet Me Half Way, is poised to debut on the chart next week. He added 61 stations to his profile in the past two weeks.

This week's RECORD TO WATCH, Gino Vannelli's Wild Horses is already on at 66 A/C's, including: KKLK, KALE, KTIM/FM, KDES, KYLT, WALG, WCHV, WKCX, WSKY, KCRG, KWEB, WTWR, KYMN, KSKI and WGSV.

Shirley Murdock, currently CHARTBOUND, has but 71 stations, though her HIT FACTOR is a very respectable 70% from an impressive list of stations such as: K101, KRNO, KEZR, WSNY, KOST, WSNI, B100, WMT/FM and WMYX.

It's worth noting that A&M has re-serviced the Chris DeBurgh record to A/C radio. Picked here on August 8th, 1986, and peaking November 8th at #10, this romantic record has recently been given considerable Top 40 play recently and is worthy of your re-consideration.

R&D

RECOMMENDED FOR A/C RADIO

PETER GABRIEL & KATE BUSH

Don't Give Up (Geffen)

There's a strange, domestic quality to the lyric. Peter's role is that of a broken, dispirited man who's feeling beaten by his world. Kate provides support, companionship and hope, suggesting he rest his head on the shoulder of their relationship. Their vocal qualities - Peter's grit and Kate's quaver - weave an extraordinary fabric.

PATTI LABELLE & BILL CHAMPLIN

The Last Unbroken Heart (MCA)

I think it's just incidental that this track comes from the soundtrack of Miami Vice (volume II). Both there and here it stands alone as a singular example of a beautiful ballad, arranged and performed with equal quotients of power and grace.

THOMPSON TWINS

Get That Love (Arista)

While I've had trouble "getting" some of their material after the first listen, I can testify that this one hit me from the gitgo. Producer Rupert Hine keeps the sound basic and bright - easy to hear.

HOOSIERS

Theme from Hoosiers (Polydor)

I'm sure from the title and artist, you can't tell it's from a movie. If you're one of the millions who've seen the movie you'll probably remember this theme. To firm-up the association between song and film, producer/arranger/conductor Jerry Goldsmith has adopted the name Hoosiers.

HIT FACTOR

Hit Factor is a percentage of stations which have it in Heavy or Medium rotation. ie: 100 stations playing the record - 60 stations have it in Heavy or Medium rotation - Hit Factor = 60%

TWO SENSATIONAL ALTERNATIVE

MATT JOHNSON of THE THE
RICHARD BUTLER of the PSYCHEDELIC FURS

By Peter Standish

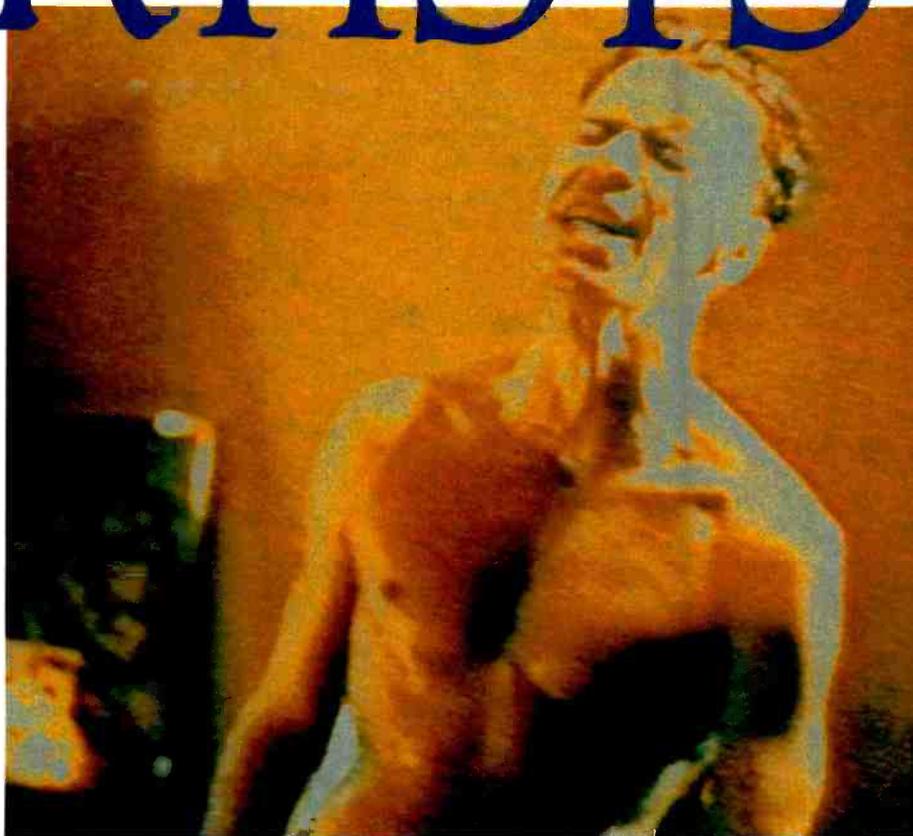

What do these two fine Alternative artists have in common? Besides wearing sunglasses on the Gavin cover, both are movie buffs and admirers of Francis Ford Coppola's underrated "Rumblefish." And both have bright, glaring futures.

Richard Butler and the Psychedelic Furs are standing at the crossroads of their careers. With their new album, Midnight To Midnight, The Furs (as they are known in the U.S.) are reaping the benefits of tireless touring and painstaking recording. Besides conquering both Gavin Alternative and Album charts, their current single, "Heartbreak Beat" is getting serious consideration on the Top Forty level. It seems like only yesterday the band was cracking the American Alternative scene with early songs like "Pretty In Pink" (later re-recorded for the movie of the same name) and "President Gas" from Forever Now.

TIONAL ALT TIVE ARTISTS ARTISTS

Matt Johnson, who is virtually the only member of The The, is at a different plateau. Johnson's album, Infected, was an easy Gavin Alternative number one. Its predecessor, Soul Mining, had a vast European base and sold 750,000 units worldwide. Not satisfied with being a recording artist, Johnson conceived of Infected as a multi-media project, with an hour-long video and book to accompany the record.

PS: The line-up of the Psychedelic Furs has changed over the years. Who's in the band now?

RB: It's a seven-piece band. John (Ashton), Tim (Butler) and I are all original members. Mars Williams plays sax and Paul Garisto is on drums. Mars has been with us for about four or five years. He recorded Mirror Moves with us. Paul's been with us for about three years.

PS: Have you added anyone since your last album?

RB: We've got Roger O'Donnell on keyboards and Marty Williamson on second guitar. They did a tour of the States with us last year.

PS: Wasn't there a period where you stripped the band down to a smaller core of musicians?

RB: Yeah, for a very little time. It never got very small, though. It never went back to four people. We had a cellist in the band for a while, but we went off that idea. It seemed a bit pretentious. The cello is really a great instrument, but it didn't really fit.

PS: I can't start this interview without first asking about the name "The The."

MJ: From a design point of view, I think it's nice. It's just very simple. Also, it doesn't suggest any musical style. If you read through the Gavin Report, you can tell by a band's name whether they're reggae or heavy metal. Often people's names suggest a musical style, but I think the name "The The" is just a blank.

PS: It took you quite a long time to release this new album.

MJ: Yeah, it did, but it's more than just an album. It's a whole project. It straddles three mediums: There's a book and video coming out, too. There were so many people involved: 60 musicians, four video directors, producers, painters and photographers. It was a huge project to do--two years from conception to birth. There was a long time spent in the studio off and on. I needed to take that amount of time because it was just so big. I've got vague ideas about what I'm going to do next.

PS: Will it be as ambitious?

MJ: Yeah, I'm thinking about making a whole film. I've been talking to directors, but that won't be for a while. In between, I'm planning some film soundtrack work. I've been interested in doing that since I was a kid. A lot of my work has been cinematic. Also, it provides me with a relief from writing lyrics for PS: The Furs have worked with a variety of producers over time: Steve Lillywhite on Talk Talk, Todd Rundgren on Forever Now, Keith Forsey on Mirror Moves and now Chris Kimsey. In many instances you've worked with these producers just before they've become popular. Is that coincidental?

RB: I think we've probably got a good eye for a producer. We caught Steve Lillywhite when the only thing he had done was Siouxsie & The Banshees and maybe one U2 album.

PS: Why did you switch producers?

RB: Because we don't want every record to sound the same. When we write the songs for each album, we listen to the last one and figure what changes we want to make.

"I think America's got a far healthier attitude towards rock music. England doesn't have the vast underground that America has of college students. They don't have college radio stations in England."

Then we go and find the producer that's good for the particular sound we're after.

PS: Why did you select Chris as the producer of your current album?

RB: We had heard that he worked very much live in the studio, that he didn't layer everything. The tracks are played pretty much live, as opposed to putting down the drums, then putting down the bass and just layering it all up.

PS: How did that differ from working with Keith Forsey?

RB: Keith Forsey is very much a studio producer. He likes to build everything up. He likes everything to be perfect. (laughs) I think Keith's real strong points are the bottom end, with bass and drums. That's why he likes working a lot with drum machines. I think he prefers them to drummers. Certainly on our album he used drum machines. I know on Billy Idol's new album he uses drum machines, and probably on Charlie Sexton's album. He likes that tightness, and he doesn't feel like a human being can get it (laughs), whereas I like the feel of a drummer. We used a real one on our new album.

PS: What did you retain from Forsey in the production of this album?

RB: We learned a lot about dance and bass drum dynamics from Keith--not that we've made a dance album.

PS: That's interesting, because this album seems more dance-oriented than rock-oriented.

RB: I disagree. I think you're wrong. (laughs) It's a pretty rock album. It has a dance beat, but that's something this band's always had.

PS: You mentioned earlier that you like to evolve your sound with each new record. What changes did you make with this album?

RB: We wanted more guitars, more of a guitar edge to it. That's what we mainly missed with Mirror Moves. That's the main thing we put back into our sound with this album.

PS: I notice you've also re-emphasized the saxophone on this album.

RB: Yeah, Mars was just coming up with the parts and they all sounded good, so we put them all down. Back in the early days, we had a permanent sax player. Since then we've just had people who came and went, until Mars. Mars has more input. He was around when we were writing the songs and when we toured with them. We played about fifty percent of this album around Europe before we went into the studio. He had plenty of time to be thinking up parts. It was very good and it sounded like it jelled.

PS: Did you re-mix a large portion of this album?

RB: We did some additional mixing on the whole album. We recorded a lot of tracks when we made it. We filled up the 48 tracks. That's a lot of stuff to record. Because it had taken us so long to record, we didn't give him time to get his head clear. So he brought some other people in to do it, Steve Thompson and Michael Barbiero. They did a great job. They mixed the entire album except "Torture," I think.

PS: What can you tell me about my favorite song, "Shadow In My Heart"?

RB: That's one of the older ones from the album. We had the chorus together for a long time before we had the verse. That was a weird one to sing, somehow. It took me the longest time to get the verse properly. I can remember trying to sing those verses right during the whole time we were recording the album. It wasn't even the lyrics, I couldn't get the emphasis I wanted. But I got it in the end.

PS: I find side one of Midnight To Midnight to be more singles-oriented, whereas side two is more adventurous rock.

RB: Yeah, it's purposely like that. The album had tracks that went in those two directions anyway. It seemed like a nice idea to have two clear-cut sides, rather than jumbled up. Personally, I really enjoy the diversity on side two.

PS: You're not living in England anymore, are you?

RB: No. New York, for about four and a half years. I just love the vibe of the place. I like America too. I find England to be a bit boring and a bit parochial.

PS: How has living in New York influenced you and the band? I've noticed many American images in your songs.

RB: I've always had quite a thing about America. I always liked a lot of American music. I've been big on Bob Dylan for a long time, I've really liked Suicide, Elvis Presley, all kinds.

PS: Were American artists a bigger influence on you than British music when you were growing up?

RB: Definitely. I mean my old man was always playing Hank Williams and Bob Dylan. That's what I got when I was a kid.

PS: Now that you're a performer, do you find yourself still listening to a lot of American music?

RB: The music I listen to these days is probably less specific than it's ever been before. I walk around the house and I've got the radio on.

PS: What station do you listen to in New York?

RB: I normally tune into WLIR. It comes in best where I am. They play a lot of different kind of stuff, which I like.

PS: How would you describe the state of music in England?

RB: English music, at the moment, is pretty ineffectual. I think England tends to be very pop group-oriented. You go over there and it's like, "Top of the Pops." I really don't like that too much. I think America's got a far healthier attitude towards music, certainly rock music. You don't have bands like REM in England. Those bands can't survive. England doesn't have that vast underground that America has of college students who can provide a real grass-roots following for a band. They don't have college radio stations in England. You have to get on Radio One, which is owned by the government, or else you don't get a hit single.

RB: Do you feel the network of college radio stations in the States makes a big difference?

RB: Yeah! I do. You can survive on that. You can't survive by touring England. You can't even make money by touring England, it's such a small country. I think America's got a healthy attitude. It has a living, thriving, breathing underground and England doesn't. It was exciting there during the Punk time, you know. England had it then. It comes up with these things every so often, that're pretty happening (laughs), and then it's boring for the next 10 years.

PS: How important is it for you to maintain your core audience as you grow and change?

RB: Pretty important. I certainly think about those people a fair amount. You have to stick to your guns to a certain degree. You can't go selling out. You have to be true to yourself.

PS: What did you think of the movie "Pretty In Pink" and its director, John Hughes?

RB: I like John Hughes. I like him a lot. The movie was pretty good, but it's not my kind of movie.

PS: What's your kind of movie?

RB: I really liked "The Pope of Greenwich Village." I like Eric Roberts and Mickey Rourke. "Rumblefish" is the kind of movie I really like.

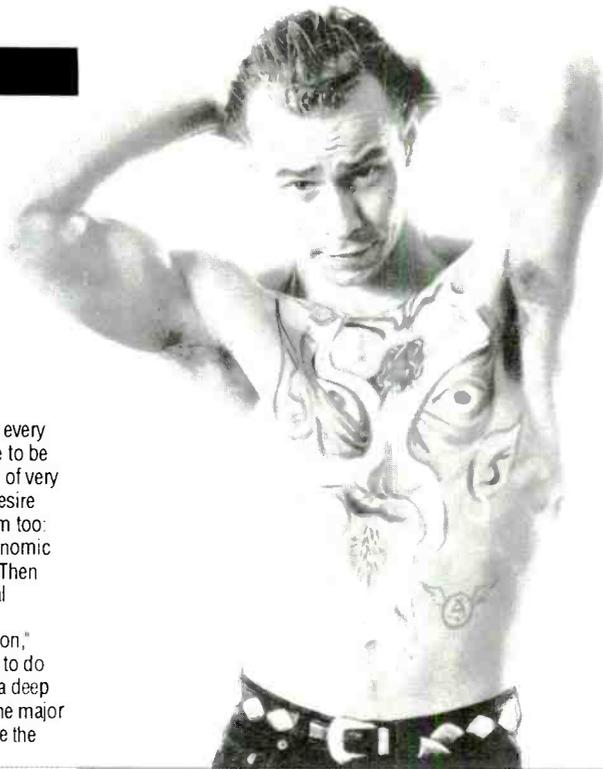

PS: When will you be touring the States?

RB: In April. It's the biggest tour we've done so far and the biggest production. ■ awhile. A lot of the time people analyze and dissect every word that you do. You start to feel under pressure to be profound. Of course, with this album I tackled a lot of very major issues. "Infected" was about AIDS: "When desire becomes an illness." Nuclear proliferation, terrorism too: "Sweet Bird of Truth," "Angels of Deception." Economic colonialization of Britain by America: "Heartland." Then there were some more personal things, like spiritual salvation in "Mercy Beat," the struggle between corruption and innocence in "Twilight Of A Champion," infidelity in "Slow Train To Dawn." What I've tried to do with this album is cover everything, from touching a deep nerve within people's private lives to confronting the major issues of the times. I don't think you can disentangle the Tom Waits. I was going to work with Tom Waits last year. He was going to produce "Heartland." I still may work with him.

PS: Is Matt Johnson the only permanent member of The The?

MJ: Actually, there is one other permanent band member--my brother, Andy Dog. He does all the painting, all the sleeves and the book we did. People think of groups in the traditional sense of four blokes standing there playing instruments. Nowadays, with the advent of high technology, the group can straddle video, books, paintings as well as music. I'm also starting a publishing company to do film music. The whole thing is more than just a group, it's like an organization.

PS: Infected is riddled with high technology instrumentation.

MJ: There's an interesting thing about the advent of high technology. When I first started using rhythm machines, which was when they first started coming out, I was very isolated because I could do everything myself. The musicians union, which is still quite strong, started to complain and say they were going to make examples of people like me because we were taking work away from musicians. I've got a 16-track studio, sample equipment and an acoustic library in my house. What that's enabled me to do is to orchestrate and work out songs with string and brass sections. So what's actually happened is I'm still considered to be electronic, but there are no synthesizers on this album. There are sample machines, but I used 62 musicians, probably more than any of my contemporaries. The ironic thing is the use of high technology has enabled me to envisage, orchestrate and arrange and consequently bring in musicians.

two. You may be watching TV and you'll see something come on about South Africa or Central America, then the phone may ring and it may be your girlfriend. That puts you in another mood. Your whole life is spent vying between moods.

PS: It's interesting that you want to get into soundtracks. Some artists, like Ry Cooder, have found them to be a creative and financially viable outlet.

MJ: That's right. He's a soundtrack artist I respect. What happened with the "Paris, Texas" soundtrack was that he gave his own interpretation. I've had soundtrack work offered to me where they've said, "Matt, can you write a track like so-and-so?" because they think I can be quite versatile. I'm not interested in being a session musician. I want people to send me a script, then I give my interpretation. They choose me because of my aesthetics and my style of work, so I'm providing as much creative input as the director or the actors. That's why Ry Cooder had equal credit with Sam Shepard, because his input was so significant. And someone like Stewart Copeland on "Rumblefish," which was a great soundtrack. I think the music is so damn important. People like Ennio Morricone or Henry Mancini have done fantastic soundtracks, but they're more professional kind of composers. The people that are more creative are the ones I'd like to emulate. You need to have time to fill up again with ideas and attitudes, rather than just doing a carbon copy of the last album. It took me three years between albums. There was a long time I took off just re-evaluating what I wanted to do and changing my opinions. Because I like working, film is an ideal outlet without the pressure of writing lyrics.

PS: I sense some bitterness in your lyrics towards the politics of the United States, particularly on

"Sweet Bird of Truth" and "Heartland."

MJ: There's always been a strong American influence in England. It's only recently that there's been a strong cultural influence like Ford, Coca-Cola, Levi's, Star Trek and television. That's not necessarily a bad thing, unless the national identity of the country starts to get lost. Like using Britain as an aircraft carrier to hit Libya. No one in Britain agreed with that. The government never had a veto. The American bases are basically out of bounds to the British. America can drag us into wars without the British people supporting it. We no longer have control over our destiny. There are good points and bad points, but I find that particularly disgusting. The idea that any other country's sovereignty is disposable in the interests of the American national security is just a neurotic, paranoid attitude. That's very dangerous. You're going to have another Vietnam on your hands with Central America, and I'm not radical at all in my politics.

PS: What's your background?

MJ: My family are working class. I'm probably middle class. My father worked on the docks and all my relationships are working class. I was brought up in East London. My parents ran pubs and did quite well, so we've moved up to the country. We went to state schools. I had things I wanted to have as a kid, but I was aware of a lot of working-class values by being surrounded by them. I got to see more of the working-class side. I despise the whole class system in Britain and I think the monarchy should be abolished.

PS: What music did you grow up listening to?

MJ: The first time I really started listening to music was when I was about 15, I started working in a recording studio. I used to listen to a lot of the glamour rock, Velvet Underground, Throbbing Gristle, The Residents. I used to send tapes to Ralph Records. Syd Barrett, Tim Buckley, PS: Why so many musicians?

MJ: There are two distinct groups. There are the session musicians, and I've fortunately got some of the best in the country on this album: Guy Barker on trumpet, Louis Jardine on percussion and the string section. I need someone to do the job, craftsmen. Then there's the other side with singers like Anna Domino and Neneh Cherry. They're people that technically aren't as good as the other people, but have a lot of character in what they do. I chose them for the spirit that they brought to this project. I'm working with many people, but ultimately I have final say in everything that I do.

PS: But there's no band, per se.

MJ: It's sort of my mastermind. People say, "Why isn't there a band?" I'm trying to be progressive. Bands HAVE existed in their present form and present instrumentation for, like, 25 or 30 years. What a lot of bands are doing nowadays, could have been done 15 years ago. They're copying the Byrds and the Velvet Underground, dressing up and playing guitars. They're copying everything but the spirit of the thing. What I'm doing couldn't have been done five years ago, because of so much high technology I'm using. I think that if the real innovators of the 60s, like the Doors and Velvet Underground, were around nowadays, they wouldn't be strumming guitars. They would be using high technology in a creative way as well. I think a lot of people miss that point. A lot of young bands are still living 15 years ago.

PS: What's been the advantage to you?

MJ: It gives me total creative freedom. I've never had the same instrumentation on any two songs. I can make a song like this: (taps his wrist) Make a loop of that and have a

They created music for the movies "Roadie," "Wanda Nevada" and "Liar's Moon."

NONA HENDRYX

Her new album will feature performances from George Clinton and Mavis Staples, and a song written by Prince.

BILLY IDOL

Hollywood & Vine

Joe "The Slash" Belden, Gavin editor, sent us a memo this past week. In the Slash's note, he told us our deadline had been pushed back to something like four years before publication, thereby eliminating any possibility of topical material. We had some great stuff about Fawn Hall, but had to eliminate it all, as no one will remember who she is by the time this appears.

Dick "I'm a promo guy who hangs out at Enrico's" Forester and Kevin "I personally met Billy Vera" McDonald have commented that our column appeared on page 63 a few weeks back, insinuating that we are being pushed back...and maybe OUT. We spoke to Ron Fell about it. Ron assures us that even though we're a free agent and have demanded more money for typing this stuff in '87, we will be here forever, featuring topical stuff about the Kalin Twins and the '62 Mets.

Buzz Bennett is back! All of the trades...even Record World...have featured articles about the 60s genius of San Diego radio. Despite a sizable loss of hair, he looks great and we welcome him back. We know he saw the Oprah Winfrey show about cosmetic eye lifts...THAT's how great he looks. Buzz will be consulting/programming many stations around the country. ALL those stations' competitors have hired rubber Charlie Van Dyke dolls to counterprogram the Buzz-guy.

Rick Dees took over Joan Rivers' low-rated Fox Network syndicated show for a few days. We thought he was funnier--AND cuter. In fact, we wouldn't use her to sit in for Rick. Rick appeared on the same night as the Joan lookalike contest winners. Three of the finalists looked like my Aunt Esther. The other two were ringers for Sige Sige Sputnik. Can we talk?

Our new favorite person, the aforementioned Oprah Winfrey, has been signed as spokesglutton for the Mrs. Fields chain of cookie shops. Oprah told Gavin Hollywood Central, "I never met a Mrs. Field store I couldn't eat."

Everyone's talking about the Al Coury promotional seven-inch pitching "Testa-fy." Florence Greenberg of Scepter has signed the Al-guy, and plans to record him, along with Danny Davis, on a duet remake of BACKFIELD IN MOTION.

ZZ TOP and Dave Sholin have enrolled in the Schick Center for the Control of Shaving.

Joan Collins' ex, Peter Holm, says he can't get a good table at plush LA restaurants since he became the former Mr. Collins. We've referred him to Kent and/or Keith Zimmerman, who still get good tables at the San Francisco Boarding House, even though it was torn down nine years ago.

In a recent Ron Fell LP review, the highly articulate Ron-guy noted that Cutting Crew "splash a dab of symphonic effects, with muscular arrangements." VIRGIN's Michael Plen went back to his record player to figure out what he'd missed.

Eric Norberg, after receiving Joe Belden's warning to Gavin writers about advance columns, submitted nineteen pieces about the potential influence of Tender Drillbit, Jello-Mold Mother and The Lime Spiders on AM radio in the nineties.

Bill "I'm cute as a bug's ear" Cosby was busted in LA this past week on a 507--cuteness beyond the call of network TV. When the Cos-guy pinched the cheek on one of the obnoxious midgets, er, kids on his TV show, the entire Cleaver family moved in and read him his rights.

Gavin Awards Banquet speaker Gary Owens has apologized to Gavin Hollywood Central for not using any one-liners about Juggy Gayles, Matty "The Humdinger" Singer, Moe Preskell or Billy Brill in his luncheon presentation. The material exists, call us at (213) 668-1032. We'll do it for you.

Our new deadline prevents our using the great Haldeman & Erlichmann material we had planned. Write your OWN Haldeman & Erlichmann material. Particularly if you're Norberg.●

SAINTS

The Joshua Tree-U2 (Island)

When a worldwide platinum band sings a song titled "I Still Haven't Found What I'm Looking For," that's a good sign. All through the Joshua Tree is a searching, longing stream of consciousness that separates this album from your standard superstar fare. As if sentenced to wander the desert for a generation, U2 comes back looking haggard, but full of vital spirituality. While passion has been U2's forte, it's the stops in between airplay gems like "I Still Haven't Found," "Where Streets Have No Name," "With Or Without You," "In God's Country" and "Red Hill Mining Town" that keep the album intriguing. My favorite moment is the recitation near the end of "Bullet The Blue Sky" when "Man breathes deep into saxophone." True music, like moving jazz, is merely an extension of simple breathing.

St. Julian-Julian Cope (Island)

If you took the highest highs from Julian Cope's first two import solo LPs and charged them up, you get a pretty good picture of the impact St. Julian packs. A stronger side one you're unlikely to hear. The fun doesn't stop there. Side two's "Spacehopper" and the LP's title track keep things heated up until the grooves run out. But it's trax like "Trampoline" and "Shot Down" that will convince album radio that this guy means biz. With all the subtlety of a wrecking ball, Julian Cope rides his mike stand into the sunset. Other trax of interest include "Eve's Volcano" and the album radio hit, "World Shut Your Mouth."

NEW

"Dirty Water"-Rock & Hyde (Capitol)

When Canadians get cranked about their own, look out. We got raves about Rock & Hyde (of Payolas fame) from our brothers and sisters up North. This is not a cover of a Standels song. Play loud and let it wash all over you.

Stand Up-Dei Fuegos (Slash/Warner Bros.)

Much to my delight, the Dei Fuegos continue to mine the same silver the Stones dug during their Sticky Fingers/Exile era. Using unsteady horns, gospel background vocals and blasted-out guitar alongside what sounds like an old Wurlitzer piano, the DF's crank out ten songs that bypass the trite world of pop polish. Instead, they take us to sad places like "A Town Called Love." Fans of the single, "Long Slide" will rejoice in "Name Names" and "Wear It Like A Cape."

Vigil (Chrysalis)

When this album comes your way, beware. This is no ordinary American debut. Eyeing the cover art, Vigil are serious about their conceptual commitment to making quality music that could stand a little Alternative radio leakage. Vigil have impressively splashed some fine compositions all over two sides of vinyl. This one's digitally recorded, so the upcoming CD should sing. It's "White Magic Spell" by a length followed by "Whistle In The Yard," "Until The Seasons" and "I Love You Equinox."

THOMPSON TWINS

"Get That Love"-Thompson Twins (Arista)

Twelve seconds into this song, I was hooked like a dog. Do you get the feeling this is the week we get singles we'll be hearing for months and months on end? The Thompson Twins, again, sound superb.

"Primitive Love Rites"-Mondo Rock (Columbia)

A bun-twitchin' rock n roll ode to the world's fave pastime. Finally...a song that goes somewhere. Thanks for a nice four-minute ride.

"Big Love"-Fleetwood Mac (Warner Bros.)

A textbook state-of-the-art smash single utilizing intelligent alternatives. The grand hook? The erotic oohs and aahs between Lindsey and Stevie. As a single, this merits an eleven on a ten scale.

Men And Women-Simply Red (Elektra)

Simply Red is, to my ears, a megastar pop band. Their new LP is a fantastic roaring R&B album that'll probably chart Urban as well. Trax like "The Right Thing," "Infidelity" and especially "Suffer" show much more than signs of life. I hear sounds of fury.

"Good Times"-Hoodoo Gurus (Elektra)

A sensational track! If you've never played Hoodoo Gurus on your radio station, trust me, you will. Yes, that's the Bangles on B-vox.

"Heat Of The Night"-Bryan Adams (A&M)

Gear up for another marathon Bryan Adams spring and summer. The first taste is a single with blues-flavored guitar licks. The tempo is hot and heavy and the sound is BIG BIG BIG. Love that mix.

"Beautiful Imbalance"-Thrashing Doves (A&M)

This week, aside from the superstars, it's singles like this that make the job fun. Are Thrashing Doves a group of British Miami Vice fans? If not, why the LP titled Bedrock Vice? TD does achieve a perfect imbalance. Keeps you off your toes.

My 2 cents

What's happening inside the wonderful world of albums? Check out the diversity of the Gavin Album Frontline, just above this week's reviews. We have Gregg Allman with his first number one album since Johnny Rotten invented punk rock. U2 is possibly the Most Added LP in the history of the Gavin Report. Psychedelic Furs grace not only this week's cover and our Frontline, but they are this week's number one Alternative album as well as #4 the Gavin Album chart. Amazing growth this week for Cutting Crew. I can't remember a debut act ever tearing up a chart like this Crew has. They went Top 30, Top 10 and Top 5, all the way up to #3 inside of three weeks. The magic is in how great this song sounds on the air. Santana, who was resting comfortably at #5 last week, saw a train go by with U2 written on the side of it. U2 debuts at #5 since most of those adding the record did so by putting the record straight into hot. All across the country, U2 incited many radio wars inside highly competitive markets. From here, the excitement is a sweet sight. In the midst of the storm, I'm sure it can get hectic. Rest assured, Santana is still quite active, as are Peter Wolf and Paul Simon. Last week's Certified pair took major leaps this week. Patty Smyth and Jon Butcher contribute to the swell of successful new artists that have dominated the chart since the beginning of 1987. Robert Cray re-earned his underline with the airplay on "I Guess I Showed Her" Look for the Light Of Day soundtrack to get stronger for the next few weeks as stations begin adding the Fab T-Bird's "Twist It Off." Joan and the 'Birds move 24-22-18. The movie is quite excellent for those of you "in the biz." Otherwise, perhaps, the film is a little too inside to empathize with. I thought it was a statistical mirage, but this week it seems real:

The Stranglers "Always The Sun" is gaining momentum. After wavering at the bottom of the chart, the Stranglers are looking toward Top 20 status after a three-week growth pattern of 40-37-24. The next two weeks will distinguish whether the Stranglers will break Top 15. Can I propose a nickname for this week's Certified, Frozen Ghost? I propose we call them Fro Gho. Anyway...after debuting conservatively at #40 last week, Fro Gho rises to #27. I'm still rooting for Chris Isaak. He jumps six notches to the #32 position, primarily based on those stations already playing the record. The rest of you, get in the game before he comes to your town. After you see Chris and his band perform live, you'll be embarrassed that you weren't an earlier push on his career. There seems to be a controversy brewing over the lyrical content of XTC's "Dear God." True, the lyrics are strong, challenging the existence of a supreme being. I'd play up the controversy and pander to some audience reaction. See what they think. One thing is sure, whether you pre-announce the track or not, you'll get calls. This has been a fantastic week for brand new music hitting our airwaves. If every week were this fruitful, we'd all be putting in major overtime. Stay well. KZ

SPOTLIGHT LP

The Other Ones-THE OTHER ONES (Virgin)

The Other Ones are an unlikely blend of three Australians and three Germans who got together about two years ago in Berlin. Like the German band Propaganda, The Other Ones combine highly technical and deeply textured music with proficient songwriting. "All The Love," "Holiday" and "Stay With Me" demonstrate a hyperactive instrumentation of wailing guitars, synthesizer fills, melodic background vocal harmonies and a sleek rhythm section. The choice single "We Are What We Are" is more restrained but overflowing with hooks. Producer Christopher Neil (Mike & Mechanics and Sheena Easton) should be commended for cohesively mixing all these elements on The Other Ones debut album.

True (North) Strong & Free-DOA (Rock Hotel/Profile)

After eight years of endless touring around North America, DOA is one of the longest lasting bands on the hardcore circuit. The band is very political (a portion of their royalties for "Ready To Explode" goes to the African National Congress to fight apartheid in South Africa) but is smart enough to not take itself too seriously. The cut "51st State" is a hilarious parody of their native Canada, while "Lumberjack City" sounds like it could have been lifted from an SCTV script. Lead singer Joey Keighley says "the band wants to move beyond the point of preaching to the converted." It's raw power rock that includes some commercially viable tracks like their cover of BTO's "Taking Care Of Business" and "Bullet Catcher."

trumpet over it. Or I could have a huge orchestra, or I could just have a solo guitar. The only limitation is my imagination. If you have a set band line-up, then Fred's got to play his bass bit, so-and-so has got to do that. You've got to have jobs for them. The advantage to having a group is, of course, the mobility. You can play live. The live situation is the only problem with me because I can't re-create what I've done live. I wouldn't want to use tapes and computers to do it, because I think that's cheating people. I'm not going to play live this time, but maybe in 1988. It's got to be good. I could easily give a bunch of session musicians my album and say, "Learn this, I'll be along in two weeks to do the vocals." (laughs) That's what a lot of people do, though. I don't want to do that. I know that there are high expectations, so I want to deliver more than people expect.

PS: What are your thoughts about the compact disc?

MJ: I think it's a superb invention. There's kind of a backlash in Britain at the moment. Have you got the term "yuppie" here?

PS: Absolutely.

MJ: People are saying in England, "Oh, it's a yuppie's thing." That's garbage. Who cares? It sounds great...use it. Listen to my album on CD. After the amount of money, time, sweat and blood you spend, people are hearing it as it was intended to be heard. I think it's a superb development. But there's one concern on the horizon: The Japanese have developed the digital cassette (DAT). I knew they would because I've got a digital tape system for mastering. This is a problem really, because now people can copy directly from CD. It's going to undermine things. You'll sell half a dozen and then that'll be it, because the quality is so good. If you tape it off a record, then the quality isn't so good and people like to have the record anyway.

PS: Who have been your biggest influences?

MJ: I was thinking about that recently. I'll tell you what it was, it was that Paul Simon song, "You Can Call Me Al," where he says, "What is your role model?" There are two people I can think of, both of whom aren't in music. I like to take their attitude to my work because of their discipline.

dedication, single-mindedness and just love of what they're doing. They're Marvin Hagler and Robert DeNiro--totally different people, but both the best at what they do. I love that dedication and single-mindedness. That's something that I really respect, and I'd like to bring to my own work.

PS: What's your personal benchmark for success?

MJ: Success should be a by-product of what you're doing, not a goal in itself, which is a problem with a lot of music. I've tried to make the work the primary thing, and consider what I'm trying to say, how I'm trying to say it and do the best I possibly can. It's unhealthy for money to be the end. In Britain, the whole film of Infected was screened on national television. I was at home watching it with my girlfriend, and when it all finished I just felt really depressed. It was two years of the hardest work I've ever done in my life. My soul laid bare before the nation of a couple million people. Five years ago it would have been unimaginable. I just thought, "So what? Is that all there is?" It was almost like post-natal depression. Then I just realized, it's not the arriving, it's the traveling that's important. The reward you get is in doing the thing, not in arriving there. It made me realize that the only thing to do is to start the next project. That's what I've been doing and that's what keeps you going. You sit around and a huge cloud descends on you. Happiness is a fleeting thing. You don't even realize when you're happy--you're not even thinking about it. It's only when you think about it that you start to get morose. ■

HOW'M I DOIN'?

Among the many interesting things New York Mayor Ed Koch does is to ask his constituents, on a fairly regular basis, "How'm I doin'?" One reason that Ed Koch remains popular with many New Yorkers, despite some rather unpleasant scandals, may be that he asks voters that very simple question.

What is its significance? Sure, voters like having their opinions solicited. But I think what is particularly significant about the question is that Ed Koch is even willing to ask it.

Most of us assume--or hope--that we're doing okay with our colleagues, bosses, friends, spouses or lovers. Few of us, however, ask for specific feedback about ourselves. Yet common sense would say that if we do ask for feedback, we are less likely to be surprised later on, and more likely to adjust our behavior to be more effective in influencing people. This is true for managers and spouses, as well as mayors.

Obviously, it's fine when people who work or live with us tell us what they like and don't like about us. But suppose they don't say anything, as is usually the case--especially if the feedback isn't favorable. What then? We could be surprised when an employee quits without warning, or a crisis erupts at work or home. Or, if we suspect that something's wrong, we worry and try to guess what it could be. Since none of us can read minds, that can waste a lot of energy and frequently makes matters worse. On the other hand, if something is right--that is, if our friends or employees really like something that we do--we may not know it, thereby losing an important piece of information that could enhance our worklife or personal life.

I really appreciated all of you who came up to me during the recent Gavin convention to say that you read this column and found it very useful. That sort of feedback is great--for one thing, it makes me feel good. The other day, I heard a consultant say he remembers his clients' positive letters and comments more than their paychecks. My experience is the same.

The second reason that sort of feedback is great is that it's informational. It lets me know that I'm on the right track. But suppose no one had approached me at the convention. How would I have known? And since those of you who may think the column stinks are unlikely to approach me, how can I possibly improve?

The same issues are relevant to any manager. If you wait for people to tell you what you're doing well (so you can keep doing it), or what you're not doing so well (so you can improve it), you'll be waiting a long time. In this case, patience is not a virtue. It reminds me of a cartoon in which two big, mangy vultures are sitting on a branch overlooking a deserted landscape. One vulture finally says to the other, "Patience, my ass. I'm gonna go kill something." Sometimes you've got to go out and get feedback, instead of waiting for it to come to you.

People at the Gavin Report know that I frequently ask them what they think of my articles and if they've heard any comments from readers. Shortly after my speech at the convention, I asked a couple of Gavin staffers what they thought about it. I think the good people at the Gavin Report know that I want to hear the bad news as well as the good, which is a very important message to convey to people.

I'm not saying this to blow my own horn, but to reassure you that I practice what I preach. You can do it, too--many of you already are, to some extent. Start by periodically asking your people, your colleagues, and ultimately, even your boss, "How'm I doin'?" What specifically do you like or dislike? Am I doing well as a manager? What do I need to improve? Is there anything I've done recently you thought was right on target? Is there anything I've done recently that you thought very little of?"

Ask people informally, sincerely and regularly. Certainly, do an occasional formal, written survey, but the real key is to ask people in the halls, over a drink, at lunch, at a ballgame or while chatting at the office. Probe for specifics--don't be satisfied with vague generalities. You don't need a consultant to do this for you. (Remember the definition of a consultant: Someone who takes your watch, tells you what time it is, and bills you.) If you feel it is necessary, you can supplement (not substitute) verbal queries by encouraging people to write you "How'm I doin'?" types of notes--anonymously, if they prefer. (Why not print some "How'm I doin'?" cards with blank spaces, and give them to people in your office?)

Ask only if you really want to hear some answers. If you don't want to hear bad news with the good, or if you're not prepared to follow up and do something about the bad news, don't bother asking.

Ask whenever you need feedback. Sure, if you're constantly saying, "How'm I doin'?" people might think you're insecure. But "regularly" doesn't have to mean "frequently." Use common sense. Ask when you need specific feedback or to feel the pulse of the person(s) in question. Most managers don't ask at all, and if they do, ask far too infrequently to make the responses meaningful.

We all need constant feedback to do a great job. Do yourself a favor and don't wait for it to come to you. Go out and seek it! And to anyone who's willing to write me c/o The Gavin Report with some feedback about this column, "How'm I doin'?" ■

'If you wait for people to tell you what you're doing well (so you can keep doing it), or what you're not doing so well (so you can improve it), you'll be waiting a long time.'

RODNEY CROWELL

"SHE LOVES THE JERK"

A Houston native, Rodney Crowell arrived on the Nashville music scene in the early 1970's and quickly began making his mark as a new generation writer. Gaining the attention of Emmylou Harris, he was invited to join her Hot Band, and in the 10 years since emerging from this highly acclaimed group has forged his own style not only in the songwriting arena, but as a recording artist and producer as well.

His catalog of songs includes such well-known titles as "I Ain't Living Long Like This," "Leavin' Louisiana In The Broad Daylight," "Till I Gain Control Again," "Shame On The Moon," "Amarillo," "Angel Eyes," "Even Cowgirls Get The Blues," "One Way Rider," and "Viola, An American Dream," covered by artists Waylon Jennings, the Oak Ridge Boys, Crystal Gayle, Bob Seger, Emmylou Harris, Willie Nelson, Johnny Cash, and the Dirt Band, as well as the Grammy-winning "I Don't Know Why You Don't Want Me," co-written with his wife Rosanne Cash.

Most of these songs were featured in earlier solo albums. But since his marriage, Rodney has spent a majority of his time writing and producing for others. He is credited with Rosanne's first three albums as well as albums by Guy Clark, Bobby Bare, Albert Lee, Sissy Spacek, Larry Willoughby and the Survivors compilation with Johnny Cash, Jerry Lee Lewis and Carl Perkins.

Street Language marks a well deserved return to his solo career for Rodney Crowell, and with "She Loves The Jerk," he has found the perfect single to bring country radio to its feet.

COUNTRY SUMMARY

Last week, it was a very close race between the top three to see which song would come up as #1. This week, the choice is much clearer. The Bellamy Brothers capture the top spot with 91% of all reporting stations playing it in their HEAVY rotation. The Trio, Michael Johnson and The O'Kanes will all be fighting to break into the top ten next week. The story of the week has to be Dan Seals, who made a huge 11 point jump on our chart. Programmers are high on this one, including Tim Closson at WAAX-Eau Claire who says he's gotten instant phone reaction from the record. The other CERTIFIED was Conway Twitty, who's having a great debut record with MCA. It's been the #1 requested record for the past 3 weeks for Ray Romero at WFPR-Hammond, LA. The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band got the MOST ADDED honors its first week out with 44 adds. George Strait has been the TOP REQUESTED song for six weeks in a row, and it's still receiving double the requests of the closest competitor.

CHARTBOUND is especially crowded this week, but noteworthy among the pack is Southern Pacific, who jump into the category after only two weeks. Quite a few programmers were asking about the Bruce Hornsby & The Range record. As you can tell, it had another good week, with 16 more adds including WRAJ, KTGR, WPOR/FM, WUBE, KOKK, KHwy, WLAS, KJIN, KATK/FM, KUSA, KMNS, KTOQ, KYCK, KXKZ, WKKN and KGVO. Keep an eye out on the new Johnny Cash. With 26 adds the first week, it's Johnny's strongest start in quite a while. Other newcomers to the Country section this week include Eddy Raven, Mickey Gilley, Tanya Tucker, Patty Loveless, and the aforementioned Nitty Gritty Dirt Band. Our Record To Watch this week is Jenny Yates' "A Whole Month Of Sundays." Steve Small at KKAJ -Aberdeen has it in his MEDIUM rotation and is getting great listener response to it. Others playing it include Gordon Stack at

KWYO-Sheridan, WY, Bob Loucks at KVAS-Astoria, OR, Jeff Shakelford at KZMO-Callifornia, MO, Mike West at KPRB-Redmond, OR, The Cowboy at KJB-Jamestown, ND, Dave Davis at WWRK/FM-Elberton, GA and Bob Filittle at WNAX-Yankton, SD. Dave Shepel at WLXR/AM-LaCrosse, WI recently had a contest where winners were given their choice of albums. The most requested album was Restless Heart, especially for demos in their 20's. Jeff Roberts at WRAJ-Anna says the "Storms Of Life" cut from Randy Travis' LP of the same name is doing extremely well for him. Tom Aldrich at KVDB-Sioux Center, IA is receiving more requests for The Judds' "Cow Cow Boogie" cut than anything else currently on the air. And finally, KIMM-Rapid City, SD, is celebrating their 25th anniversary the entire month of March. Calls from artists would be greatly appreciated. Contact Bob Louls @ 605-348-1100. Talk to you next week! Lisa & Elma

THE INQUIRING PHOTOGRAPHER

Today's question:

What do you think of Miki Howard's new single, "Imagination"?

Lynn Tolliver—WZAK, Cleveland:

"'Imagination' is a true upper-demographic appeal song from Miss Howard, and should get great song response. We had good requests when it was played previously from the album. Atlantic's got another winner!"

Pam Wells—
WHRK, Memphis:

"Once in a while a great singer comes along whose style, delivery and phrasing are incomparable and unsurpassable. Miki Howard is a fresh new sound, and her latest effort, 'Imagination,' sets her apart from the rest!"

Joe Bullard—WANM, Tallahassee:

"When you hear Miki Howard sing 'Imagination' it's like the land of Oz: this time the yellow brick road is pure gold. Nonstop to the top!"

Jamie Brown—
Producer, Black
Entertainment Television:

"Miki Howard's a wild and crazy kid who not only 'shares her love,' but her gift of song, too. It doesn't take any 'Imagination' to see she's got another hit on her hands!"

Kelly Karson—WTLC, Indianapolis:

"Miki Howard's Come Share My Love is a great album, with an excellent title track. Her new single, 'Imagination' is a smash. Musically, Miki Howard is one of the best newcomers I've heard in a long time!"

Pam Robinson—
KACE, Los Angeles

"'Imagination' has all the qualifications for a modern day standard. Just kick your shoes off, sit back, relax and Miki Howard will take you back to that smoky, serene jazz club in 1947. Let your 'imagination' take you there without ever leaving '1987's musical sophistication!"

THERE YOU HAVE IT—RADIO'S CHOICE!

"URBANIZING"

by JERRY BOULDING

FIXING THE FORMAT

In response to some of the many people we saw during the Gavin Seminar, we thought we'd take another quick look in the "answer book" to see what the experts say about the causes and effects of crossover, research and safe songs.

THE SAFE SONGS SYNDROME

Some programmers, consultants and other so-called experts say the best way to program any music station is to play the hits...the safe hits, the well-researched hits, the songs everyone wants to hear. For the most part, that's true--except in the urban formats, where so much emphasis is placed on being first with the freshest new music. Does this mean that urban-formatted stations and those who want to appeal to this vast and growing audience should take unnecessary chances? Not really. What it does mean is that the urban music audience, in many markets, has been somewhat spoiled. For years, they have been able to hear the strong songs first, or certainly before competing formats have filtered them through their research process.

Although many things have changed over the years, this basic premise has not. Our target audience still wants the latest. They want the latest clothes--fashion is big business for poor folks as well as for the more affluent portion of the audience. They want the latest dances--when they watch music videos or shows like Soul Train and American Bandstand, they've got one eye on the performers and dancers, and one eye on the clothes they wear. The dancers then become the trendsetters for a lot of folks who want to be perceived as hip and with it--whether they dance, jog or just want to look like they do.

URBAN MUSIC IS BIG BUSINESS

While we're deciding who should do what in order to fix and maintain a successful format, we must touch on just how big urban music has become. This year, America's record companies will register gross sales of more than $3 billion--nearly half a billion more than the American film industry. One third of that money will come from black, urban and dance music in 1987.

Bear in mind that we aren't counting TV, concerts, or any of the lucrative spinoffs. Nor have we factored in the hundreds of millions of dollars in annual sales of stereo hardware to spin and wind all those discs and tapes. The people who do the heavy purchasing of our music do it in an assertive manner. Current stats say the average radio listener purchases 15 or more albums or tapes a year--not counting those swapped or duplicated from friends. So we find the numbers are really prodigious, the profits tantalizing and the market ever-growing.

RESEARCH

Whether you're a programmer, music director or air talent, you are directly affected by research--and in some cases, by the lack of it. Why do research? Isn't it better to feel the magic in the music, to use your own gut feeling? Isn't that why we're in this business? There certainly is a place for those feelings, but it's still far better to know than to guess, especially given the importance placed on being a consistent ratings winner.

A few years ago, when the record industry experienced a real slump, there was much concern that, without retail sales as a guide, radio was going to have a hard time determining what the hits were. Then someone discovered that there were still songs that people wanted to hear--songs they would buy, if they had the money. But how do we determine the tastes of these potential buyers?

Along with other musical formats, urban radio found it had to draw up new marketing plans in order to remain truly competitive. What did they discover? For one thing, young kids, regardless of color, who grew up with rock or urban music, was staying with it. They weren't turning to softer forms of music as the A/C stations would have you believe. And if you've listened to the new A/C stations lately, many of them are playing urban and crossover music early. The demographics of today's major record buyers have spread to age 40 and beyond, from the single to the album, CD or 12-inch. Sharp record companies are not forgetting the older consumer, and neither should radio.

As a serious program or music director today, you must define your target audience--the listeners you now have and those you'd like to have. We're not just talking about demographics, but socio-economic class, level of education, source of income, occupation, etc. Then you must find a sample that fits that target audience. (We prefer using face-to-face interviews or focus groups, but that may not always be possible or practical.) Then you must qualify those who participate in your sample. They should listen to the radio at least an hour a day, and would be regular listeners, either actives or passives. Included should be some random phone calls.

Eventually, you should reduce the total number of people sampled to a group most representative of your target audience, preferably those who have a stated preference of being an available audience. Then your task is to win them over, get them to listen longer and watch your TSL (Time Spent Listening) increase.

Next week: attitudes, contact and exposure. ■

'The demographics of today's major record buyers have spread to age 40 and beyond, from the single to the album, CD or 12-inch. Sharp record companies are not forgetting the older consumer, and neither should radio.'

URBAN CONTEMPORARY SUMMARY

The current chart is one of those jumpin' and movin' ones - tunes either jumped up the chart or moved quickly down to make room for some massive movers. One of those was the PRINCE from #19 to #4, following labelmate SHEILA E at #3. James Alexander, WJLB-Detroit, reports calls for PRINCE, Tony Fields, WLOU-Louisville, reports requests for both PRINCE and SHEILA E, as does Dave Allen, K94-Norfolk. Daryl Moore says PRINCE has requests from all demos and Frenche Be, WQIM-Montgomery, calls in with requests for PRINCE and PATRICE RUSHEN from the 18-34 bunch. Speaking of RUSHEN, she's up there with ANITA BAKER as the two ladies who win Certified listings - you'll find another lady in the headlines.. MELBA MOORE gets Most Added along with FREDDIE JACKSON and yet another woman, SHIRLEY MURDOCK. They're still holding their own with all the male and group competition. Harold Jackson, WDUR-Durham, is reporting calls already on the new SHIRLEY MURDOCK, and Dalsy Davis, WBMX/FM -Chicago, backs him up with reports of requests on that, CLUB NOUVEAU, PRINCE and PATRICE

RUSHEN from the 25-34 group. SMOKEY ROBINSON comes back in the groove with a jump from #33 to #19. ATLANTIC STARR goes from 34-20 with calls "burning up the phones early" according to Dave Allen, K94-Norfolk. Chris Turner, WTMP-Tampa, sez he's getting calls for the ATLANTIC STARR, and big phones on NORWOOD already. Debut number for GEORGIO on this week's chart is 38, with calls surprising even Royce Blake, KKPW-Tucson - he says, "doing better than I night!" sez Clint. He marvels, too, at the requests for SURFACE: adults and kids, across the board. When Ron Davis, WQIS-Laurel/Hattiesburg, called in, he said the same thing about SURFACE. They're both joined by Pete Rhodes, CBLS-Minneapolis, who's also getting calls on it, and Rick Stevens, WCKX-Columbus, who's getting calls from all demos. SURFACE should be "Happy" with all that attention! CYRE is also getting attention in some parts: Stan Tompkins, WTOY-Roanoke, tried it out on hi "Pick It Or Stick It" show this week and the results were it was a pick it! More attention from Joe Diaz, WWIL-Wilmington, who says he's getting calls from young adults. THE SYSTEM is number one in sales and requests for Stan Tompkins, WTOY-Roanoke, and moves to #17 with an underline. KLYMAXX is getting lots of phones for Andy Henderson, WQKI -St. Matthews, and he says that MILLIE SCOTT's requests are following close behind. When talking to many of you this week, we realized that you didn't know that you could call in your reports as early as Monday morning. We take reports all day Monday and Tuesday and are seeing a glimmer of hope that we will eventually receive all reports on Monday and Tuesday. We'll soon be moving our deadline to Tuesday evening 5:00 West Coast time, which is 8:00 back East and in the South, where many of you are calling from. Our goal is to move many of the Tuesday callers into Monday so that the phones are still open on Tuesday. This week they stacked up like this: 25 of you called in on Monday, 62 called in Tuesday and we only had 30 lingering on Wednesday. Thanks for your time - talk to you next week. Betty

DAVE SHOLIN'S Personal Picks — SINGLES

FLEETWOOD MAC - Big Love (Warner Brothers)

Big Event of the Week has to be this release. Lindsey Buckingham remarked how excited and proud he was of the album during the Cutting Edge session at our Seminar. Can't imagine how anything on the LP could top this amazing track, but I'm looking forward to being proven wrong. They just don't make 'em any better.

PETER GABRIEL & KATE BUSH - Don't Give Up (Geffen) A smart screenwriter could easily build a film around the lyrical plot of this beauty. Simply transferring the song's sensitivity to vinyl deserves an accolade. A work of art that shouldn't be overlooked.

BRYAN ADAMS - Heat Of The Night (A&M) A tune that captures the mood of the song's title. Few artists are produced this clearly on a consistent basis. And, as always, he holds nothing back vocally.

PATTI LABELLE & BILL CHAMPLIN - The Last Unbroken Heart (MCA) Has the three ingredients required for a winning duet: a great tune, two vocalists with the chemistry to give the record style and a top production effort. Jay Graydon provides the later with LaBelle and Champlin making each thought and phrase memorable.

DR. DAVE - Vanna, Pick Me A Letter (TSR)

Best novelty I've heard in a while. Some stations already are getting the expected tremendous phone response. Makes you wonder where Pat and Vanna were 20 years ago when the Box Tops took "The Letter" to number one. Could they ever have imagined they'd be the inspiration for this parody? A natural for morning drive. Available from TRS Records, 8335 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90069. (213) 656-0970.

RON FELL'S Personal Picks — ALBUMS

U2 - The Joshua Tree (Island)

Bono's words, both written and sung, pierce and parry the usual indifference associated with rock lyric. Engraving indelible wordstreams on mere mortal vinyl, he leaves enduring visions which do more than scratch the surface. Like the Joshua trees of the California desert, the characters in Bono's vignettes stand exposed to the elements in a vast wasteland, alone but unvanquished. In the Old Testament, Joshua scouted out the holy land for Moses and his followers. Bono, on the other hand, gives new testament to the sacred scripture of conscious engagement. Now, there are other guys in the band, and the teamwork is evident, both in conception and execution. It's just that Bono gives us a Last Supper performance. Let the feast begin.

Simply Red - Men and Women (Elektra)

Mick Hucknall is an extraordinary singer of soul. His punctuation is usually an emotional exclamation point, driven home under the influence of pre-beatbox urban rhythms. You wouldn't expect a boyish paleface with a manic mane to sing with such empathic persuasion. Simply Red is as much Mick's as Culture Club was Boy George's. Mick's collaborative efforts with soul writer Lamont Dozier and remakes of songs composed by Sly Stone and even Cole Porter are good, but the self-penned single, THE RIGHT THING, and a genuine reggae track LOVE FIRE, are my personal faves.
