FORMER #1 ON CFTR

INSIDE TOP 40

by Dave Sholin

Yes, sum-sum-summertime has arrived, and with it changes in lifestyle. It's the "summer attitude" that affects how we feel about what we see and HEAR. Just think about when you were in school and the hits you heard during summer vacation. More often than not they stand out from songs you heard during the rest of the year..they have a special category all their own. Many stations program "summer hits" weekends and add some special summer gold to the library. When school's out, the phones stay busy and that's what most of you are reporting. Of course, as more folks get outdoors, sharp programmers have devised attention getting promotions at county fairs, beaches, sporting events and other locations that draw big crowds. No other season gets this much recognition. To say the least, the GEORGE MICHAEL single is drawing mixed opinions and tracking. A handful of stations have been forced off the record due to negative reaction, but that does not diminish the positive response in most markets demonstrated by a HIT FACTOR increase of 14% to 33%. Most interesting is that the positives and negatives cannot be traced to those liberal and conservative strongholds you'd expect. It's a station-by-station situation. Giant gains for Z94 Boston 18-8, B104 Baltimore debut #20, 93Q Houston debut #19, Z95 Chicgao 27-19, KKSS Albuquerque 22-5, WPHR Cleveland 30-22, WTNZ Knoxville 19-6, Z93 Atlanta 32-18, HOT103 New York 22-16, WNYZ Utica 28-8, etc. Looks like the listeners love it!

DANNY WILSON moves into position for a spot on a future Top 40 chart. Doing very well in the Rocky Mountain region at KVFM 27-23, KBLQ 20-17, KUUB 33-27, KFMY 29-21, KQIX 29-25, KCPX 21-18, etc. New on KATD San Jose/Los Gatos, KSND Eugene, WPFM Panama City, Q99 Burlington, WSPT Stevens Point, WQUT Johnson City, KKIS Concord, WDBR Springfield, etc. May 8th's RECORD TO WATCH makes the weeks highest Top 40 debut. SURFACE has hung in there each Fast reaction on RICHARD MARX who's generating requests as "that Eagles record". Another week as one of the five Most Added tunes puts him well over 200 reports. Debuts in the Top 30 for Phane Phelan KZHR, Gary Cummings KZFN, Rob Poulin WWHB, Mark Ward WYNU92FM, John Delaney WCLG, Dave Kallaway KKLS/FM, Bill Brian KTUF, etc. week picking up a few more stations and doing big things for those playing it. They've reached a HIT FACTOR of 25% moving into the Top Twenty at WAVA Washington D.C. 21-16, WILI Willimantic 21-11, WQBZ Ft. Valley/Macon 21-14, KFIV Modesto 29-19, JLK/FM 27-20, WKPE Cape Cod 22-17, etc. Another record spending a second week in the MOST ADDED box is INXS AND JIMMY BARNES. Lots of new believers in the Midwest, including WXXQ, WBNQ, KYYY, KIIK, KCPI, Y94, WBIZ, KZEV, KRIT, KKXL, KKRC, etc. Other adds at LG73 Vancouver, KWIN Stockton, FM104 Modesto, KZZU Spokane, Q104 Gadsen, WROQ Charlotte, WANS Greenville, etc. One hundred-plus reports for the first time on DEBBIE GIBSON. This dance smash has been proving itself in market after market, and already has a 24% HIT FACTOR. Goes Top Ten for Scott Shannon and Steve Kingston at Z100 New York 12-10, Shadow P. Stevens and Joey Giovingo B97 New Orleans 16-8, Pat Gillen JLK/FM Asbury Park 12-10, etc. Other gains at KS103 23-18, Z95 29-21, WKRM 33-19, KQID 30-19, WWHB 17-9, WTIC 21-11, WAVA 29-22, Y106 37-27, KGGI 17-12, etc.

Just a few reports shy of making MOST ADDED this week, LOS LOBOS should top 100 total stations by next week. I had the opportunity to attend a screening of "La Bamba" the film about the life of Ritchie Valens, last week. Not only is the movie a must see, the music of LOS LOBOS heard throughout the film can only make this tune a bigger success. I'm looking forward to seeing it again during the Upper Midwest Conclave in Minneapolis next month. Added at KDWB, WNKS, ISLE 95, Z104, KZZK, LIVE 105, KNIN, KITY, KZLS, WJZQ, WKXX, 3WD, KIZZ, KMGX, KSLY, WKQB, 106X, etc.

Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, JONATHAN BUTLER, easily doubles his airplay. Jim "Catfish" Prewitt at WKXX Birmingham debuts it at #17 plus a 16-7 move from Elaine Werner at KKSS/FM Santa Fe/Albuquerque. New believers include WXLT, WHKW, WBLU, WNYZ, WRCK, KUBE, KKRZ, KMEL, KCPX, KDWZ, 95XXX, etc.

Keep your eyes on WILL TO POWER's "Dreamin'". This dance track is now number one in Miami at HOT105, POWER96 and Y100. Added at KZZP Phoenix, KMEL San Francisco, WAIL Key West, KHYT Tucson, KSTN Stockton, FM102 Sacramento.

Modern music Alternative radio's audience has been taking THE CURE for quite a while. The street buzz on the band grows louder all the time. Bob Harlow at KATD reported exceptional single sales and requests to me last week, and he charts this track 9-7 with Mike Preston adding it crosstown at KWSS, Top 5 in San Francisco at LIVE 105 plus a 20-11 move at KFMY Salt Lake City. 18 adds including WHYT Detroit, WBNQ Bloomington, Y106 Orlando, KSWB Seaside, K106 Beaumont, etc. On at 93Q, WPST, KSYZ, KVVN, KWXX, etc.

MIKE SCHAEFER: LIFE IS A BEACH

Yes, that Bruce Willis lookalike is Gavin PD of the Year Mike Schaefer. He's made news not only by shaving off the beard he's worn since 1969, but also by taking over as OM/PD at Honolulu's I94 (KMAI) and sister KIKI in the middle of the hottest Top 40 battle Hawaii's ever seen. The saga began when the former KIIS-Los Angeles programmer took off for what he thought would be a vacation on the beaches of Maui. No sooner had he slipped on his Ray-Bans than Parker Communications called with an offer he couldn't refuse. "The best vacation I never had," says Schaefer. "It's an incredible opportunity, with a lot of potential, and I'm back doing what I do best." Relaxing it is not: His first week on the job saw former I94 programmer Jay Stone and most of the station's air staff debut crosstown as POWER 92. "When I heard them, I said, 'This is deja vu of KIIS versus POWER 106,'" Schaefer says. "But I guess if anybody knows how to compete against that, it's me." Priority number one is finding a new air staff for what is now known as HOT MUSIC I94. "We tried to hire the top talent in the market, but only succeeded in getting him a $50,000-a-year raise," he reports. "Anyone interested in moving to paradise should send me a tape and resume!"

MANHATTAN EMI-GRATION

At Chinwag deadline, official word on the future of EMI America was still lacking, although local reps for the label have been told they will henceforth report to Manhattan Records Promotions VP Jack Satter. The saga continues. Meanwhile, at Capitol Records, Tom Gorman moves up to VP/Pop Promotion and Tim Devine becomes Associate Director, A&R, West Coast...Steve Pritchett has been appointed VP/East Coast Operations for McGhee Entertainment... A&M Records of Canada names Jean Pierre Guilbert as VP/Promotion and James Monaco VP/Publicity...As predicted, Wayman Jones has moved up to Leroy Little's position as VP/Urban Contemporary Promotion & Artist Relations at PolyGram Records.

DADE-IN, DADE-OUT

Miami's POWER 96, featured in last week's story on so-called "crossover" radio, is tearing up the Birch rankings. From a 6.8 in February/March, WPOW zoomed to a 9.0 in March/April and a 10.4 in April/May. "The only double-digit AQH for any station in the market in the last six months," says PD Bill Tanner. He's even happier with the station's 16 cume, compared to a 14.1 for rival Top 40 Y100. "You don't do that with a specialty format," he notes. "It just proves we're a mass-appeal station programming to the Miami market."

RADI-O-RAMA

EZ Communications gives B97-New Orleans PD Shadow Stevens regional programming responsibility for Florida properties WAIV/WOKV-Jacksonville and WHQT-Miami. PD Jim Richards of B94-Pittsburgh is now also responsible for KYKY-St. Louis, WEZC-Charlotte and WEZS-Richmond.

Ray Massie is the new PD at Country combo WIL AM/FM-St. Louis. He comes from WYNK-Baton Rouge, LA... WHMD-Hammond, LA, programmer Catfish Phil Colwart has a new set of call letters: KB5DKT. They came with his Amateur Radio Operator license. Now he can really ham it up...Musical chairs at WZIX-Columbus/Starkville, MS: John Eric Stevenson from Production Director to PD, Ray Fisher from PD to sales and Keith Miller from sales to a.m. drive...At WLGA-Valdosta, GA, Phil Stephens replaces Steve Sutton as PD, and Doug Hudson is named Operations Manager.

Album/Alternative beacon CFNY-Toronto will celebrate its 10th anniversary July 10th. The station is hoping to broadcast birthday greetings from all appropriate artists. Call Walter at (416) 453-7452 between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Eastern time...Other Gavin pals celebrating the big One-Oh: KBCO-Boulder, CO, ushered in its second decade with a party June 18th, and at the State University of New York, Stony Brook, NY, (notorious as Howie Klein's alma mater) WUSB celebrates its tenth on the 27th.

THE OTHER GUY FROM MINNEAPOLIS

PAUL WESTERBERG AND THE REPLACEMENTS

You never know what to expect from The Replacements. Either you get serious rock 'n' roll like the suicidal "Ledge" or just plain foolishness like the theme from "Green Acres." Usually it's an intersplicing of both.

But so far, releasing albums has been serious business with some amazing results. Pleased To Meet Me is their third Gavin Alternative number one album. Recorded by a trio since the departure of original guitarist Bob Stinson, the band has once again expanded into a live performing quartet with the addition of guitarist Bob "Slim" Dunlap. Bassist Tommy Stinson (Bob's younger brother) and drummer Chris Mars remain on board.

Pleased To Meet Me features some of the loosest and tightest rock 'n' roll you'll hear all year. That's no surprise, since The Replacements have made a career out of contradictions.

We tracked down leader Paul Westerberg and asked him questions about suicide, Whitney Houston and a lot of stuff in between. Do Westerberg and his co-workers still shudder at the idea of commercial success? Read on and discover the wit and wisdom of Minneapolis' other guy.

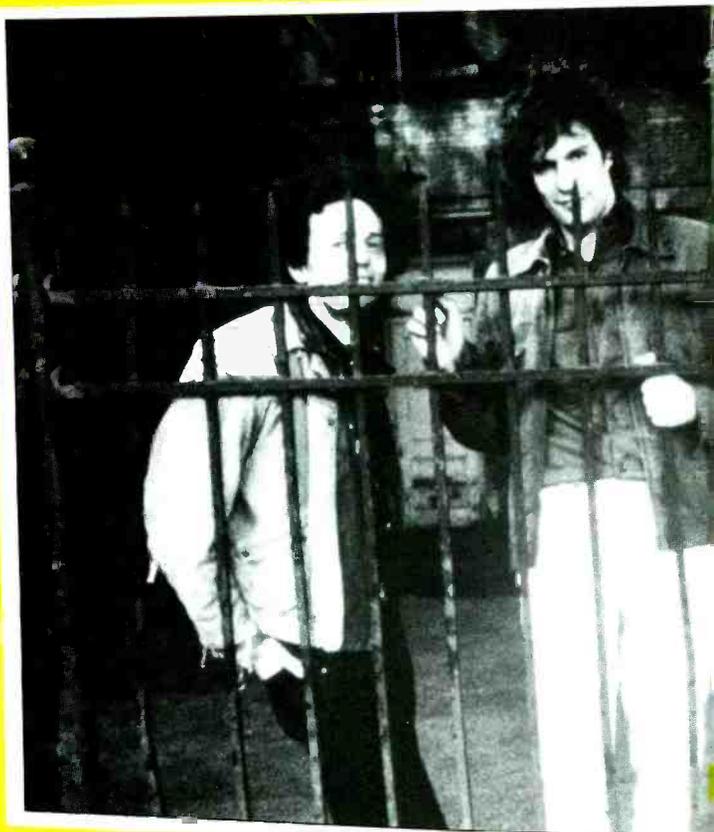

by Peter Standish

Peter Standish: You recorded your new album in Memphis. What was the vibe like there, compared to Minneapolis?

Paul Westerberg: Memphis was the choice of our producer, Jim Dickinson. That's where he works. We were happy to go there. There aren't a lot of distractions down there, though you'd think there would be. They're all—I can't quite think of the word—real cats. They're all sort of "black" white guys down there. Maybe we got a little bit more soulful. We had a hard time keeping our patience with them. They're slower, and we like to do things real fast. I think it helped us. It was exactly what we needed—someone to slow us down a little, do things more than once, get a little funkier feel, if it calls for it rather than just bashing everything out at full volume.

PS: Did the new environment actually give your music a different slant?

PW: I really don't think so, because once you're in the studio you could be in Guam or Iowa. Dickinson and the other engineers were more music-oriented than the engineers and producers we'd worked with in the past. These guys are closer to where rock 'n' roll came from. They've seen it all. They're hip to different styles of music. It was the first time we'd played or hung out with musicians. We've hung out with bands galore but these guys have played with everybody. They'd tell stories about Elvis. It was kind of neat. We didn't fit in with them, but we felt comfortable with them, rather than with some L.A.-type guys who are into making big records. I don't relate to that a whole lot.

PS: How did you connect with Jim Dickinson?

PW: Somebody sent him a record and he was interested a long time ago. We talked to other producers and those guys rubbed us the wrong way. They were more like, "We're going to make you a hit record and we're going to get all of this double-whammy-jammer on here"—all this technical bullshit. Dickinson just walked in wearing a plaid shirt and said, "How're y'all doin'?" Let's make some rock 'n' roll." We knew he was our kind of person.

PS: What is your kind of person?

PW: Simple and unpretentious. That doesn't mean you can't be flashy, but we have no time for people who take themselves and the music business seriously.

PS: What was Dickinson like working with?

PW: I thought we'd get some weird shit when we went down there, but he was much more of a rock 'n' roll kind of guy. He's a good musician. The best stuff probably didn't even make the record. There were nights we'd just roll the tape. He'd play piano and I'd sing and we'd just jam on an old Louis Jordan or Little Richard song.

PS: Tell me about some of the songs that did make the album, like "Red Red Wine?"

PW: We had recorded that in Minneapolis in August, and it was smokin'! By November, we really had to gear up to rock out. When we recorded it, we were in different rooms of the studio, which I think made the difference. In the past we'd always recorded in the same room. At Ardent (studios in Memphis) we were separated. I was in the closet. Tommy (Stinson) was in the control room and Chris (Mars) was in another room. I couldn't see anyone else while we were recording. I just stared at the walls. You lose the camaraderie on a song like "Red Red Wine." It works on songs like "The Ledge" or "Skyway" that are serious or touching, but on some songs, you have to have someone spittin' in the same mike with you.

PS: I love the chorus of "I Don't Know": "One foot in the door...the other foot in the gutter."

PW: Hey, what can I say? It was a stroke of...laziness. (laughs) That is the "band song" on the record. Pretty much every record has a song that's about the band without directly saying so.

PS: You named one of your songs after Alex Chilton, of the Box Tops and Big Star. When did you first get turned onto him?

PW: Probably five or six years ago. I wasn't into Big Star when they came out. Obviously they were never on the radio in Minneapolis. Our old manager liked them quite a bit and he turned me onto them.

PS: So why write a song called "Alex Chilton"?

PW: Actually the original title was "George From Outer Space." We had the chord sequence and all that. I just went home and it sort of hit me to write it about someone. The chord structure and the flow of the melody reminded me of a sing-songy pop kind of thing. I'm a fan of Big Star, so I figured what the hell, Alex might even enjoy it himself. He actually sang on it the other night when we played a live gig. He did the "oohs" with Slim. I never asked him if he likes the song. I'm embarrassed, actually. He was at the studio when we were doing it. He'd never heard it. He played a little guitar riff on "Can't Hardly Wait." We made sure to turn "Alex Chilton" off every time he came in, because I didn't want him to take it the wrong way. It's saying, "These are my roots" rather than other bands who try to hide them and say, "Well...I used to listen to him, but I don't now." Bullshit. I love Alex's stuff, so I named a song after him.

PS: "The Ledge" touches on the subject of suicide.

PW: It was written back in October. My greatest fear is that someone's going to feel like it's me trying to reflect on teenage suicide. It's not that at all. I mean I've tried to kill myself and I know how you feel when you want to do that. I wrote this song like the third person, like someone else. I can certainly feel what it's like to have no one in the world to turn to.

PS: What do you think should be done about it?

PW: I think people should stop glorifying it in the papers. People might think I'm trying to glorify it. I'm not at all. People have been killing themselves since the beginning of time. It's not a phase or fad or anything. It's just happening, and I just wrote about it. I could have written about it seven years ago—and I probably did in one song or another. "Unsatisfied" is pretty much the same song with different words.

PS: What were you like as a teenager growing up in Minneapolis?

PW: I was nervous, paranoid and frustrated. I did my share of drugs. I didn't know what I wanted in life. I lucked out because I found three friends who could play bass, drums and guitar. We formed a band after I was out of high school, when I was 19. The years 13 to 18 were pretty much hell.

PS: Those can be very hard years.

PW: They're very difficult years if you're awkward—and I was very awkward. Not that I'm not now, but you grow up a little. You don't understand your awkwardness at all. You can't see the light. It seems like you're never going to grow out of it, even though you always do. I couldn't begin to talk to a kid who's 16 or 17, who hates his life, what he's doing, his parents, and tell him, "Yeah...I used to too, but everything will be cool in a couple of years."

PS: How old were you when you first got hooked on rock 'n' roll?

PW: Probably about 10. I think the first record I bought was "Never A Dull Moment" by Rod Stewart. My sister played the early Rod Stewart records. That was what I really liked.

PS: Who were your early idols?

PW: Probably the Faces, from when I was 11 until 15. I liked the Stones quite a bit. I have sisters who are ten years older than me. I grew up listening to the Beatles, Supremes and the Stones. I remember when I was four or five having my mom help me put on records like the Temptations' "Beauty Is Only Skin Deep," because I didn't know how to turn the thing on.

PS: Do you hear any of those artists in your music?

PW: Not really. I owe more of my musicianship to someone like Johnny Thunders. In the back of my mind was the great pop music I heard growing up. The stuff that spurred me into

'THE WAVE' CATCHES ON

"Gorgeous" is KTWV-Los Angeles PD Frank Cody's word for the new Arbitrends showing "The Wave" crashing into sixth place among listeners 25-54. The Valentine's Day transformation of Album rock KMET into New Age/jazz "got more negative reaction from the trade press than from the consumers," Cody notes. "Believe me, if rock 'n' roll is threatened by New Age music, it really is in trouble!" Ironically, Cody compares the format to the early days of Album Radio: "People said no one would listen to it--but what matters is what the public wants, not what the critics believe! New Age and Jazz have never been stronger. It appeals to people. It relaxes them and stimulates them at the same time."

To minimize distractions, the station has kept to its no-jock policy, although the scripted "playlets" which replaced live announcers are now confined to top-of-the-hour time checks. Two or three times an hour, cuts are back-announced by the artists themselves--"everyone from David Sanborn to Toto," Cody says. Listeners who want to know what they're hearing at other times can dial a 24-hour "Wave Line." Station i.d.'s are also provided by artists like Al Jarreau and Brenda Russell. "We have something called 'The Wave Song,'" Cody says. "Other stations would call them jingles."

The Wave takes equal care with its commercials, offering to recut spots for free if they do not fit the sound. "Advertiser response has been very positive, especially from those who are trying to reach the affluent, upscale 'ultra' category," says Cody, avoiding the Y-word. "We have advertisers we could never get on the air when we were a rock station--grocery stores, banks, BMW and Porsche dealers."

As for the future, Cody says, "We're in the early stages of a dialogue on making The Wave available elsewhere, perhaps via 24-hour satellite delivery. But it's too soon to tell."

¡QUE VIVA SANTANA!

It was twenty years ago today, mas o menos, that Carlos Santana launched his Latin version of rock 'n' roll firepower on Anglo America. This summer, Santana and his band will be the subject of a retrospective exhibit at the Mission Cultural Center in the heart of San Francisco's Mission District. Photographs, artwork, guitars and video presentations will document the band's evolution. Also scheduled is a national tour featuring hair-raising versions of both his hits and his musical heritage, including his compositions for La Bamba, the upcoming film biography of Ritchie Valens.

SHOW biz?

Donna Rice, Fawn Hall, Jessica Hahn and the lovely Gary "I Grasp My Lapels Just Like JFK Did" Hart have one obvious thing in common: Their last names have one syllable, making it easy for headline writers to save valuable space. More importantly, they've all proved that politics and show biz are just what we suspected all along, namely, one and the same.

Let's face it, the ruddy-cheeked guy in the White House really fused the two fields years ago, thereby opening the floodgates to an eclectic bunch of characters. The kid who played Gopher on "The Love Boat" is a U.S. Congressman from Iowa. Ex-Knick forward Bill Bradley is a Senator from New Jersey, a state in which he never set foot while setting picks and shooting outside jumpers. Steve Garvey is considering a bid, possibly for the Vatican. People like Patty "I'm Not Really Twins" Duke, Charlton "Love Ben, Hated Hur" Heston and Ed "Get Me That Coffee, Mary" Asner take their actors' union positions seriously, and there are rumors that The Boss is contemplating a run for governor of New Jersey. There's just no line between statesmanship and showmanship any more. Read our lips: GOPHER is actually a real congressman representing real people!

The most prominent meeting of the biz's is the mayorship held by one "Make My Day" Eastwood in sleepy little Carmel, Calif. An artsy seaside resort, Carmel boasts a permanent population of 4, and the most pressing local issue is whether or not ice cream cones should be sold by street vendors. Yet, because Dirty Harry is sitting in that hamlet's city hall, he's being talked about for higher office...MUCH higher office--the kind that gets you an intro to Gorbachev.

All of this occurred to us last week when we read an item in the L.A. Times about--and we're not kidding here--Sonny Bono running for Mayor of Palm Springs. The Times commented on the debate (presumably in English) between Sonny and his 78-year-old opponent, the current chief executive of that desert community. Sonny characterized the old guy as part of a "good old boy" mentality, and not in touch with "today" (whatever "today" is). Sonny was described as a 52-year-old ex-rock star and current pizza parlor entrepreneur. The staid and conservative Times seemed surprised that Bono "conducted himself quite convincingly, and appeared to be in possession of the facts." They obviously figured he'd sound like Sid Vicious in a debate with Gore Vidal.

Bravo, Sonny! We sort of liked you when we did promotion with you in the KFWB days, and later wondered how you sold yourself as a singer when you were barely able to croak "hello" to Don Anti in the '60s. The Times described Sonny's attire as "shocking to the political establishment." He was wearing a gray-and-black multi-patterned silk blazer over a leather T-shirt, bottomed off by snakeskin boots--not quite the garb donned by William F. Buckley.

We hope Sonny wins. Why? 'Cause life is short and fun is rare, and we have a great mental picture of Dirty Harry and Sonny attending the California Mayors Conference. It's just GOT to shake things up. The sight of U.S. Senators harrumphing at Fawn Hall's witness-stand appearance convinces us that show biz should be an even bigger part of politics than it is. Whitney Houston would make a helluva VP when boring ol' George Bush leaves that office. Heck, Whitney could call the Senate to order and host Solid Gold all in the same day. POISON would make one fine Board of Aldermen for the County of Cook...the possibilities are endless. Kenny G has a class instrumental image, and what better qualifications are there for Yankton City Manager? Check our office for bumper stickers.

All of the above is merely a set-up for the transcript of our Sonny Bono interview, which we think took place last week, and which we herewith reprint exactly as it may have taken place:

US: Sonny, we know you're a loyal Gavin reader, and, as this publication is venturing into affairs of state, we'd like to know your reasons for the mayoralty run.

SB: Tone, I've loved you since you worked Lou Christie, and I'm happy to give you an exclusive. I've been feeling the call ever since "I've Got You, Babe." The White House is, of course, my ultimate goal, but one has to start somewhere, and I figure running a town in which Sammy and Frank live is a nice start. I mean, the singing career hasn't exactly been warm. Quatararo won't sign me at Virgin, the pizzeria's only doing okay--except for the thick crust, which is building, and I see myself in the same position Ronnie was in when HE entered the fray.

US: Meaning?

SB: Ready for a challenge. Let's face it, General Electric Theater wasn't setting the world on fire when Bonzo made HIS first run. It's a question of looking for new fields and considering the possibilities. Not only that, but the counseling I received at the "Men Over Forty Seminars" gave me some encouragement.

US: Have you soaked up enough knowledge about the running of a municipality to be valid, should you win?

SB: No question! I've learned key phrases like "Water District" and "Police Benevolent Association." I've also picked up some catchy lines for speeches, like "I have a vision for this town" and "The future lies ahead."

US: Has Clint's political success been an inspiration?

SB: Major, babe, major! For a guy whose past career consisted of blowing away fictional perps with an imitation .350 Magnum, the dude's done one tough job in handling the ice-cream controversy.

US: Since declaring, have you heard from Cher or any of your unknown past wives?

SB: Cher's been great, Tone. She sent me 100 copies each of "You Better Sit Down, Kids" and "Bang, Bang" to donate to local synagogues and delis.

US: What's your policy on mental health?

SB: I'm all for it.

US: Potholes?

SB: We're putting them in as soon as I'm elected.

US: Good luck, Sonny, and thanks!

Perhaps we'll get together again!

SB: Count on it! I'll be "

INSIDE A/C

Safe to say there will be a new number one next week. Dan Hill leads the three prime contenders in HEAVY rotation reports, Carly leads in total stations and has the largest increase in HEAVIES (143 to 170), while Whitney has the largest increase in HIT FACTOR (94% to 96%).

Bruce Hornsby & The Range increase their HEAVY rotation by 46 stations but can only muster a one-point rank increase. Even more amazing is the Nylons record with 75 additional HEAVY rotations, it only moves one in ranking. We gotta tough chart, boys and girls.

Al Jarreau is moonlighting in broad daylight with a 32-19-9 sequence on the chart and a gain of 207 A/C stations in four weeks. A 75% HIT FACTOR in only four weeks!!

The Steve Winwood, only five weeks old, has an 81% HIT FACTOR as it nears the 200 station mark.

The Trio of Dolly, Emmylou & Linda are telling the truth with a 79% HIT FACTOR, up from 65% last week. Believers include WELI, WRVA, WZNY, KCRG, KFOR, KGLO, WMT AM&FM, WEBS, WJON, WIBA, KSL, KBOL, KFMB, KWAV, KFQD, KKLV, KYJC and WHYN.

Danny Wilson, tied for second MOST ADDED with Fleetwood Mac, has gone from 40 to 27 in the past two weeks with the help of adds from 29 stations this week including WSNY, KLTR, WSNI, WGOL and KYLT.

Jonathan Butler is still shy of 100 A/C stations, but he's picked up 27 adds including KWEB, KFYR, J107, WZNY, WAIV, KTBC and KMQ.

Surface debuts on the chart at 38 on a tight chart. Sixty-six A/C's hear it, with or without an edit at the rap, and 50% already have it in HIT FACTOR rotations.

Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, BB & CC Winans' I.O.U. Me, adds 14 stations and now includes WALG, KBMG, KGY, KFMB, WMT/FM, KSKI, WFMJ, WASK, KASY and WLGN among its 44 stations.

This week's RECORD TO WATCH, Bernie Taupin's Citizen Jane, attempts to prove that some pictures are worth a thousand words and some are worth less. Some of the stations who've gotten the message are WSKY, WTRX, WKCX, WQHQ, WBGK, WJON, WGSV, KDES and KQIP.

REVIEWS

by Ron Fell & Diane Rufer

DIONNE WARWICK & JEFFREY OSBORNE

Love Power (Arista)

An absolutely gorgeous ballad, written and produced by Burt Bacharach and Carole Bayer Sager. Sung by two of pop music's purest voices, it can't miss.

ROSANNE CASH

The Way We Make A Broken Heart (Columbia)

Remember all those great pop records that Marty Robbins made back in the late 50s and early 60s?

Well, Rosanne has discovered a great John Hiatt border song which defies formatic description. Should be her biggest A/C record since "Seven Year Ache."

CHICAGO

Niagara Falls (Full Moon/Warner Bros.)

"As long as Niagara Falls, Gibraltar stands, 'til hell freezes over, I'll always be your man." Now that's commitment! Welcome back to the full flourish of trombones, the signature of the band.

LAURA BRANIGAN

Shattered Glass (Atlantic)

Jack White's production and Laura's voice are perfectly matched (again). It's a song about some Humpty Dumpty with heart of stone.

MICHAEL FRANKS

Island Life (Warner Bros.)

A song for the Tarzans and Janes who don't want the greased grapevine of urban life. His island fever is infectious.

REO SPEEDWAGON

In My Dreams (Epic)

The band's airplay history in A/C is somewhere between accidental and incidental as their focus has been more towards Top 40 and Album radio. But unless I'm dreamin', this sweet strong ballad can get its lead from us.

NEW PRODUCTS

If your station puts phone calls on the air for contests, deejay bits, or public service or news conversations, you may be plagued with the old problem of level imbalance between the air person and the caller, and resulting distortion in the air person's voice. Many stations have found the answer to the problem in a device called a "phone hybrid." It isn't brand new, but I haven't written about it before, and variations of the device are now available from several manufacturers.

What it does is separate the incoming from the outgoing audio on the phone line, either through a sophisticated "flip-flop" circuit of the sort used in speaker phones, or with a phasing circuit that allows the two parties on the phone to talk simultaneously. Both use the studio microphone as a source for the deejay's or newsperson's side of the conversation, feeding that into the phone line in such a way as to prevent it from coming up the telephone circuit to the control board.

The incoming call is brought in via that route, and the announcer is heard cleanly "on mike," with very few extra artifacts during the conversation, and the incoming caller is heard cleanly at a consistent volume, at the same level as the announcer. I've had good results with the Symetrix TI-101, which rack-mounts and has additional high and low frequency equalization circuits to improve the audio quality of the caller. It really makes a nice improvement in the sound of callers on the air, and the $495 cost would seem a worthwhile investment for even the smallest station.

Meantime, I've just received a flyer on something I've never thought of before, but which would make things easier for the deejay or who ever has the job of counting down calls in telephone contests. It's called the "Contest Computer," manufactured by DSI Communications. The device is rack-mounted in the control room, with easy access to the deejay, who programs a desired "call number," using mechanically-set digits on the front panel of the device. When the deejay hits the "start" switch, the machine starts answering the phone lines, using a computer-generated voice saying, "Sorry, you are caller number ____." The device counts down the calls in order, and updates a front-panel display showing which call number is currently being answered.

When the unit reaches the correct "winning caller," as pre-selected by the deejay, it does not answer the call, but routes it to a rear jack connected to a telephone, so the deejay can talk to the winner on or off the air. The device can handle up to ten phone lines, and can be programmed by the manufacturer with custom phrases.

While undoubtedly useful, the $1,495 list price suggests that at most stations, deejays will continue to clear the contest lines for some time to come! But it would seem to be a useful investment for larger stations, stations that contest continually and/or stations that worry about whether the contest lines are answered quickly or courteously enough, or whether a deejay might be skipping some intermediate numbers to get the contest over with (thereby creating potential legal problems for the station).

And for anyone who has experienced a cart dying on the air, ITC has come up with something new called the DCM-1 Dynamic Cartridge Monitor, which the company says can be connected to "any ITC cartridge machine." (Since it apparently works with even old ITC models, there seems to be no reason it wouldn't work with any brand cart machine, but to be safe, arrange with your supplier to return it for credit if it doesn't.) It consists of two outboard devices with no cart slot. One connects to the cart recorder, the other to five cart slots or machines in the control room. The encoding device records a reference tone on the cue track as you record the cart—in audible on the air and well away from the tone frequencies that activate cueing stops or cueing lights. The decoding device monitors the reference tone as the cart is played on the air, and uses front-panel LEDs to show what condition the tape pack is in. This equipment is in use automatically when carts are recorded or played back, with no further effort on the part of the staff, and should detect dropouts, tape damage and the increase in tension that precedes a cart jam.

I have no idea what it costs. ITC calls it "affordable," whatever that means, and offers more information through a toll-free number: (800) 447-0414. In Alaska and Illinois, call (309) 828-1381. ●

See How We Are-X (Elektra)

Last time around, X seriously broke into the Album charts with "Burning House Of Love." Though there doesn't seem to be that obvious a concession on this album, See How We Are is nevertheless one of X's finer efforts. Their version of "4th Of July" (expertly cut by writer Dave Alvin and HIS band as well) is a banner achievement. Energy runs on an even keel throughout the album. Songs like "Anyone Can Fill Your Shoes," "Left & Right" and "You" rock with a fury, like a blowtorch to the butt. The organ work by Heartbreaker Benmont Tench adds a texture never before heard on X's music. Special honors go to the title track, perhaps the greatest John Mellencamp song never penned by JCM. Give it a serious listen. Don't know if the words will ever get any mass notice but it's a great piece anyway. See how we are?

Into The Woods-The Call (Elektra)

Here's a true album among many one-track wonders. I found Into The Woods to be a double-edged sword. Side one contains potential plug trax like "I Don't Wanna," "It Could Have Been Me" or "In The River." Side two contains another 21 minutes that show The Call's consistency as a band, their role as musicians apart from the hunt for airplay. Into The Woods shows the band both "doing their job" recording airplay rock n roll while at the same time creating music that retains their dignity and original direction as trailblazers. Simply put, I guess side one is for "them," while side two is for "us." See how we are?

React-The Fixx (MCA)

The studio trax on React represent The Fixx's first work without producer Rupert Hine. "Don't Be Scared," produced by Hugh Padgham features more energized vocal work. Glossed over by Top Forty, hence re-recorded, "Red Skies" gets a new paint job. Also included are ten live options including "Stand Or Fall," "Saved By Zero" and "One Thing Leads To Another."

Stan Campbell (Elektra)

I'm guilty guilty guilty on this count. Judging Stan Campbell's album by the advance single was indeed a mistake. Taken as a whole, here's an album with a tasteful stamp, a most thoughtful collection of grooves and moods. Formerly a member of The Specials, it was he who first enlightened many of us first to Nelson Mandela with his vocal on "Free Nelson Mandela." (Back then, many European buyers used to merchandising ploys asked for their free Nelson Mandelas.) This album is a distant departure from the ska beat of The Specials. Soulful songs like "Save The World," "Years Go By" and a stunning version of the frequently cut "Don't Let Me Be Misunderstood" prove Campbell to be a born contender. Non-rockers especially should be hip to this beautifully recorded LP. Quick, which Elvis movie featured a performance of "Crawfish"? Correct! It was King Creole.

"I Want You Bad"-The Long Ryders (Island)

A lost treasure tidily resurrected by The Long Ryders. "I Want You Bad" retains the original magic of NRBQ's version plus that "little something" extra, a bright mix.

Private Domain (Private Domain/Chameleon Music Group)

Hardly a week goes by when a Private Domain fan doesn't plead a case. And there's always airplay to back up the praise. Each week we mean to write it up when yet another track gets a mention. So far, we're up to reports on three trax, "People Living In Shadows," "Spiritual Warfare" and "Absolute Perfection." You'll swear this is a major label priority. Call 800-423-6935 and find out what the fuss is all about.

"Wishes"-Jon Butcher (Capitol)

Glad to see Jon Butcher's "Wishes" getting the airplay nod. It's always been a favorite around here. It's hard not to hear that Hendrix inspiration, not only on the guitar work, but on the emotional vocal track. After all, there is a slow tempo void that needs filling.

Rover's Return-John Waite (EMI America)

The third trax on each side are the high rocking points of Rover's Return, John Waite's return as well. Though Waite's solo success has been dictated by how impressively he handles a ballad, "Encircled" and "She's The One" recall those accidentally brilliant trax The Babys were known to unleash exclusively to Album Radio. This album's "B-side" contains some nice textured moments, but let's face it, Waite's talents are best uncovered when things get hot and heavy. Turn this one up.

"Bogged Down In Love With You"-Charlie Daniels Band (Epic)

Didn't expect to be grabbed by this, but I sure was. Was it the groove? Was it the guitar solos? The song? The cool vocal? The words? The more we hear it, the more we love it.

"I Know"-Paul King (Epic)

Though a few cha-cha steps outside your typical Album Radio format, this song's so good, so snappy, it merits a hearty thumbs up. Paul King was formally known as King. Give it a listen, whydontcha? KZ

BUILDING SUCCESS FROM THE SOUND UP

INSIDE ALBUM

by Kent Zimmerman

"During the time Lobos were making By The Light Of The Moon, they had two studios set up," recalls Los Lobos manager Linda Clark, "One for the album, the other for the La Bamba soundtrack music." So when the young actor portraying Ritchie Valens opens his mouth, out comes the sweet voice of David Hidalgo backed by a swingin' Lobos beat. La Bamba is an amiable music film biography, produced by Taylor Hackford and directed by Luis Valdez, focusing mainly on the fact that Valens transcended traditional Latin stereotypes by becoming a bigtime rock n roll contender. The performance music by Los Lobos and the incidental soundtrack music by Carlos Santana alone should make a superior soundtrack LP. Expect La Bamba "repercussions" to reach radio. Columbia Pictures and Warner Brothers Records are deadly serious about this project...WELCOME WELCOME WELCOME. Welcome to two new rock n rollers who will be contributing info to the Gavin Album/Alternative section. From Springsteenland, here's PD Rich Robinson and MD Mike Morrone of WHTG-Asbury Park. Address is 1129 Hope Road, Asbury Park, NJ, 07712. Phone is 201-542-1410. Their contribution will be researched both for the Album and Alternative charts. Our second newcomer is to KYJR in Wenatchee, WA, who are coming back to the Album Radio fold. Welcome to PD Dan Moore and MD Larry King. Address is 1022 N. Wenatchee, Wenatchee, WA, 98801. Give them a shout at 509-663-5186. GOINGS ON AROUND THE LEAGUE: Epic Record's Jack "Mo" Isquith is raving overtime over Europe's "Carrie." "It'll be a hit both Album and Top Forty," crowed Isquith. John Edwards at KBPI-Denver showed Europe to be hot alongside The Outfield and INXS with Jimmy Barnes. Adds included Great White. On the exact same call, a visiting Kevin Lewis at KRQU-Laramie reported an add on Great White as well...HE KEEPS SAYING IT: "Rock Soldier" by Ace Frehley is my pick song." This week John Marshall put Ace numero uno on the WZON-Bangor playlist. Look out. Ace keeps moving up each and every week...Our spy in Savannah, Virgil Thompson at WIXV, reports he's having luck dayparting different Whitesnake trax throughout the day. "Here I Go Again" fits into the daytime while the rockin' stuff gets played at night." Whitesnake is a proven retail/request item...Jonathan Rosen at KEYX-Phoenix is reporting "heavy phones" on "Cash" by the Blow Monkeys. All that amid changes in the Phoenix market as KSTM storms off the air...Deb Brady at WXXP-Pittsburgh put her mark, X, onto the add category alongside Simple

Minds...Those wacky Neville Brothers are playing a gig presented by WNCS-Montpelier. Thus the station is "blasting them"...WHAT DO YOU DO DURING THE WEEKEND IN GRAND FORKS? Michael Right spent it listening to Roger Water's album. He loves it. Ron O'Brien at KATS/FM-Yakima reports play on The Cruzados "the minute we got it in the mail." O'Brien also reports a buzz off the press kit also included...HAD TO LAUGH: Arista's Sean Coakley's letter inside the re-service of the Cruzados refreshment kit MINUS the cactus plant and the sand: "Although The Cruzados are a gritty band, that's not exactly what we had in mind. Signed Sean Coakley, Mailroom Intern"...Jim Keller at KJET-Seattle was running ragged as the Beasties /Run DMC changed venues three different times while the local media exaggerated potential mob violence threats...Congrats to Bill Webster, just appointed PD and MD of WJXQ-Jackson/Lansing. Former PD Dave Scott has departed and can be reached at 517-787-6945...Chris Bailey at WPKY- Birmingham is looking forward to an edit on Rock & Hyde's "I Will," "It should be coming soon. Forty-five minutes into the song, it really gets going. The song sounds much better for Album Radio without the intro." Meanwhile Bailey will be shopping for an XL Alabama Crimson Tide sweat-shirt after betting on the Celtics. I'll be wearing it to Warrior games once I get it, Chris...AMONG THE ADDS: At KLOL-Houston is Jon Butcher's "Wishes." Also on is the new U2 "Spanish Eyes" and more Roger Waters...Bill St. James at KZEL-Eugene, besides having success with X, INXS and Steve Earle is having luck with ANOTHER Tom Kimmel track, "Trying To Dance"...HOOTERMANIA IS ALREADY SWEEPING PHILLY. Erin Riley is anxiously awaiting the release date. Adds at WMMR this week were Cruzados, 38 Special, Neil Young, Daltrey and Roger Water's "Waves"... It was unofficially Spanish Week at KROQ-Pasadena. Besides Hunter, Petty, X and The Fixx, added was Los Lobos' "La Bamba" and Cruzados... Cruzados were added in hot at KXRX-Seattle. Starship and the Fab T-Birds saw out-of-the-box action in medium...Brad "Shredded Wheat" Hockmeyer admitted that KTAO-Taos signature acts include Suzanne Vega, Warren Zevon and John Hiatt...STEPPING OUT ALL BY THEMSELVES: KFOG-San Francisco added The Dynatones off the Rhino Frat Party LP. Also added at KFOG were two Roger Waters trax, "Who Needs Information" and "Sunset Strip"...New faces at KSJO-San Jose. Acting MD is Patty Martin who was unemployed for just one day after leaving KMBY. New air people include Sean Donahue (son of legend Tom) and former KOMER Candi Chamberlin, who hosts an oldies show on the weekend. Stay well. KZ

INSIDE ALTERNATIVE RADIO

by Peter Standish

Suzanne Vega and The Replacements (be sure to read our interview with Paul Westerberg starting on page 19) hold steady as The Cure creep up. Adam Langley at WBNY-Buffalo says Cure fans "want to hear the whole album, not just a few cuts," while John Jesser with WOXY-Oxford reports, "Fans are going nuts over them." Jennifer Grossberndt of WRAS-Atlanta says, "They're the #1 selling record." It's been a long but relentless climb for the Bears who are top ten-bound. Ivar Hamilton of CFNY-Toronto says their recent gig "drew 1,000 people and blew everybody away with three encores." The big news was the Go-Betweens' Certified performance as our highest debut. They're already picking up Maximum play at KABL, KBVR, KUNV, KVNF, KUCI, WNUR, WRAS, WWVU, WXYC, WUNH, WPRB, etc. Other commercial stations getting behind them include 91X, WHFS, KJET, KTAO, WOXY, KEYX, etc. Faith Henschell with KCMU in Seattle says, "response has been great." Judging by the strength of their debut this is a certain top ten contender. Sharing Certified honors is the Jesus & Mary Chain single, "April Skies," which is gaining Maximum play from WLIR, WFNX, WBNY, WTSR, WTUL, KUNV, KDVS, KBVR, etc. The Lime Spiders were #1 Most Added behind the import servicing of the six-song record in advance of the album (which won't contain any of these songs). L.L. Cool J is our Record To Watch, with James Lien of WTUL-New Orleans seeing "LL and Public Enemy starting to take off." Other stations getting heavily behind Cool J are KUSF, WNUR, WXYC, WPRB, WRUV, WUSB, etc. The KCGL dynamos are back on the air - at least part-time - at KRPN-Salt Lake City. Contact Richard Rees for more info (801) 359-2761.

"I Can't Go Back"-FIRE NEXT TIME (Polydor UK-12")

You'd better be wearing your asbestos gloves when you put this flame-thrower on the turntable. James Maddocks' passionate and pleading vocals provide an explosive combination with a power-packed rhythm section on "I Can't Go Back." Sharp horns and guitar solos add fuel to this inferno. This song is produced by Hugh Jones, whose past work includes The Saints, Echo & Bunnymen. The Damned, The Sound, Icicle Works, Modern English, etc. Formed nearly three years ago, the band took their name from a book of essays by black American writer James Baldwin.

The Donner Party-THE DONNER PARTY (Cryptovision)

The stiff competition for new artists and debuting records requires them to "shout" to be noticed. On their first album, The Donner Party distinguish themselves by dovetailing shades of neo-psychedelia with a melodic wall of guitars. "Before Too Long" is the springboard track with concise bass, drums and guitar rhythms tightly bound together by a vocal chorus hook. "The Ghost" is drafted from the same successful blueprint. Two instrumentals that caught my ear: "Surfin' To The Moon" takes us to the beach while "That That Is, Is" sounds like Husker Du in low gear. The Donner Party's sense of humor and graphic lyrics emerge on "When You Die Your Eyes Pop Out," backed by only vocals and acoustic guitars. The band's name derives from a famous expedition stranded by a blizzard storm in the Sierra Nevada mountains over 100 years ago, and forced to resort to cannibalism to survive.

joining a band was the early punk stuff like the Ramones, New York Dolls and the Sex Pistols. My musicianship was spawned out of punk, and my love for music came out of the classic mid-Sixties pop.

PS: What about the late Sixties?

PW: I think that was a terrible time for music. All of the heavier stuff like Cream, Hendrix and all the psychedelic music—I black it out in my mind. I can seriously remember music from 1964 when I was four years old more clearly than something from 1969 like Chicago, when it got more complicated. I like melodies. Melodies are what made me love music. The excitement of punk was what made me realize rock 'n' roll was what I HAD to play.

PS: Do you think of yourselves as a rebellious band?

PW: Relatively--compared to Phil Collins. We no longer try to pretend we're rebellious. We've grown out of that. We just play music that will rub a certain kind of stiff person the wrong way. You have to have a sense of humor to enjoy what we do.

PS: But aren't you taking the band more seriously now?

PW: That's always been the point we've straddled--the humorous versus the more serious side. The band isn't being taken more seriously--we've just grown up a little. We don't make as many stupid mistakes as we used to. We realize it's ridiculous to try to act like we're 19. Tommy's still 20, but I'm 27, and I'm no longer going to pretend I'm 19. I've just grown a little older.

PS: What are some personal highlights of the Replacements career over the past seven years?

PW: The first gig we ever played out-of-town was in Duluth. We were so nervous. I tried to bang the mike stand into my guitar and hit myself in the head with the microphone. Blood was pouring down my face. I broke the guitar during the second song. We'd waited a month for this big gig, at a roller rink no less. Kids were skating around while we played. This was at the height of new wave. I think they were puzzled by us more than anything else. It was a memorable experience.

PS: Do you still get nervous when you play live?

PW: Yeah, I do. I can't put my finger on why. I used to worry more about how was I going to sing, but not now. I realize it's a mystery. I can get plenty of sleep, drink milk, exercise and go up on stage and not be able to sing a note. I can be up for three days and drink whiskey and my voice will sound great. There's no rule for either one. I've just resigned myself to, "It's going to sound like whatever it wants to, so don't worry about it." I get antsy. I can't relax. I don't read or watch TV on the road. That's something I can enjoy at home. But once I'm with the band on the road, I can only think of music and music-related things. It gets kind of one-dimensional. You can't slow down enough to be a human.

PS: Is that why you wrote the song "Nightclub Jitters"?

PW: I get the jitters going out to see a band when I'm home. I feel uncomfortable being in a club when I'm not playing there. That's what that song is about. I'm a very uncomfortable patron. If we're playing, I feel a little more comfortable because the people there have come to see us. There's probably not going to be anybody who wants to punch me.

PS: I really like the song "Shooting Dirty Pool."

PW: We played it last night, and it really sounded good for the first time in a couple of weeks. It's kind of metal-y and I'm really not a fan of metal at all. Slim likes it.

Tommy doesn't like it. Chris will

The World According To Westerberg

Favorite current Top 40 Records:

U2 "With Or Without You" "I like Bono's voice quite a bit. I don't listen to the words. They could be singing about tractors or lawn mowers. The Edge is a great guitar player."

Bryan Adams "Heat Of The Night" "I like him, he's a simple rocker. I like the hooks in his songs."

Jody Watley "Looking For A New Love" "If I danced, I'd probably like it."

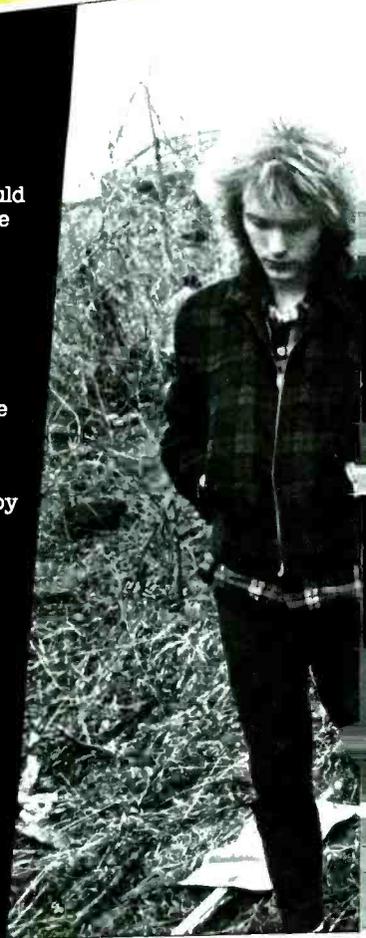

Whitney Houston "I Wanna Dance With Somebody..." "It's starting to grow on me. I like some of her songs."

Last Movie: Portrait of Jenny "I like old movies, but I'm turned off by 99 percent of new movies, by the way they hype them on television."

Last Books: A Good Man Is Hard To Find by Flannery O'Connor. Complete Book of Palm Reading, Winnie The Pooh. "I'm not what you'd call a reader. I read in spurts. When I get really bored I'll get into reading for a couple of days."

Favorite Magazines: "I must admit I'm a definite junkie for rock 'n' roll magazines. I like Cream a lot because they have a sense of humor. They've changed in the last year, but they still are far and away the best. I read Rolling Stone, Spin...all of them. They all have their good and bad points."

Last Record Purchased: Miles Davis, re-issue double album, Working and Steaming.

go either way. If I can get my voice right, I enjoy it. If I'm a little rough, it's kind of embarrassing to be squeaking on a song you're suppose to sound tough on. It's tongue-in-cheek macho and when you can't get up for it, it's really sad.

PS: I think the sleeper track on the album is "Valentine."

PW: Maybe somebody should wake it up. (laughs)

PS: Do you write when you're on the road?

PW: No. We've tried. The ideas will come. I never write them down, but I tend to remember them once I get home. That's worked in the past and I'm confident that if something really cool or shitty happens, I'll be able to take it home with me. Then I can look at it with perspective, because when you're on the road, every song is: "Where's the club?/God, I'm so tired tonight/Oh no, another show/Hit the road." I think there are enough road songs written that no more need to be added. It's all been said.

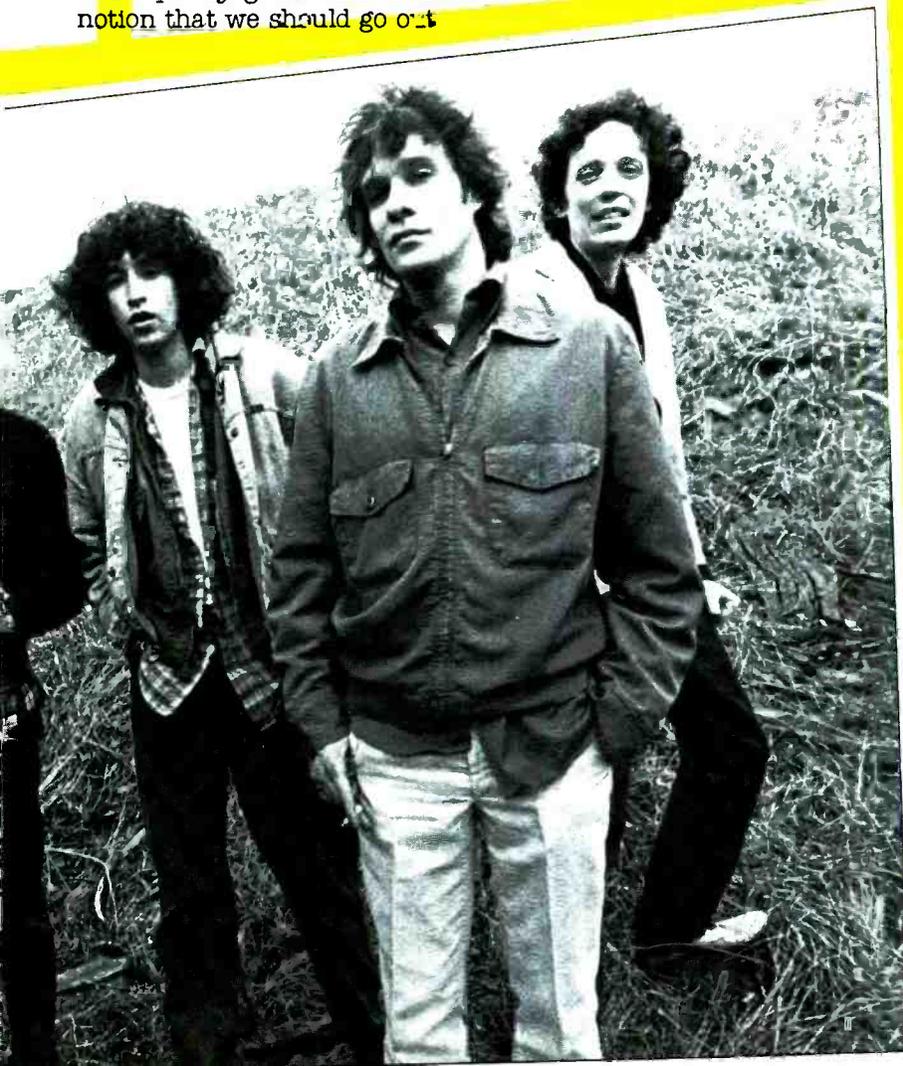

PS: Do you write best in a rowdy atmosphere or in a quiet setting, like at home?

PW: A song like "Red, Red Wine" was written in my parents' basement. I had the tape recorder on my mother's ironing board. It sounds like we wrote it in some club during soundcheck. I don't write with the band. I'll come up with all the ideas by myself first and get a rough tune down. Then I show it to them. They will decide the fate of the song by deciding if they want to play it twice. I've written hundreds of songs that we'll try once. If they don't say, "Let's try that one again," the next day, I don't bring it up.

PS: Do you remember any of the band's lowest moments?

PW: I think opening on the R.E.M. tour. We had some real low points then. That was back when everyone was hitting the sauce pretty good. I had some wild notion that we should go out and alienate everyone in the crowd. Lo and behold, we did, and after a few nights the rest of the guys kind of got tired of it. They actually wanted to play their instruments. I was content to just go up there and pull fruit out of my pocket or something. We had one real teeth-gnashing argument where Tommy threatened to fly home. Everyone wanted to quit and everyone cried. That was about two or three years ago, in Kentucky or Ohio. R.E.M.'s management wanted to kick us off the tour. We just didn't realize that we should never ever open up for another band and play to people who aren't equipped to deal with what we are. We'd much rather play to 50 people who know us than 1,000 who don't care. I have no desire to open up for bigger bands just to reach a larger audience. The people who work with us understand that The Replacements have to be themselves.

PS: You said you were hitting the sauce pretty heavy back then. Do you feel you've outgrown that?

PW: Yeah. We went through it. We still drink and party, but we don't get totally destroyed before we play.

PS: Do you think bands abuse alcohol and drugs out of rebellion?

PW: Partly that and partly out of fear of success. We were very afraid that it got to the point where things seemed to be out of our control. Now we realize we can go at a slower pace and do what we want. Back then, we were afraid some guy would sign us up and make us do this and that. We never really stopped long enough to sit down and realize we can do anything we want. No one can tell us what to do. We were afraid of becoming what we hated, which at the time was a self-important and arrogant band. I mean we're very arrogant too, but in a playful manner. We are the first people to criticize ourselves. But we are comfortable with what we are now.

PS: What is rebellious today?

PW: I think rebellion is mistaken for being obnoxious, which it's not. I think the Young Fresh Fellows are rebellious because they do exactly what they want. They don't fit in at all. That's a very strong statement. It's very easy to wear the clothes and the make-up and say the rebellious phrases to just fall in line with all the other people who have made it. To follow your heart and to do something that might not go over big is rebellious in my mind.

PS: Even though he's not usually described as rebellious, I think of someone like Van Morrison as fitting that description.

PW: I agree 100 percent. He sticks to his guns. You've got to commend him for that. He's true to himself and probably has more honest fans than some metal bands. They have kids who want to have a good time, but I seriously doubt when they're 30 years old and have children in the suburbs they're going to slip on one of those metal albums. Van Morrison's a little deeper than just pure entertainment.

PS: What are The Replacements rebelling against?

PW: That's almost too deep a thing for me to answer. It isn't "Let's go write a rebellious song or live a rebellious lifestyle." We dare to be different and dare to fail. That's our claim to fame. We're willing to take risks that might not be advantageous to our career. We were very surprised when we were signed. We always figure if they drop us, we'll find another little label that will want to put our records out. If they won't, damn it, we'll buy a tape recorder and put out our own. We're going to make records until the day we drop.

PS: Isn't there a self-destructive element to rebellious and creative bands, like Sid Vicious and the Sex Pistols?

PW: I don't know if I would call Sid an artist, probably a confused kid who never had nothin' in his life. He had a little taste of dollars and some chicks. I guess he had the wrong people talking in his ear. But as far as artists being destructive, I think there's a certain truth to that. I can't explain it. Maybe the people who feel the need to create and express themselves also need to cloud that over sometimes. Sometimes you don't want to be creative. You just want to be normal and not have to worry, or think, or write. People will then turn to distractions like drugs, liquor or whatever.

PS: Is it pressure?

PW: Pressure too, but then again, a lot of artists off themselves, who have never had any success or any pressure. It's just the thing inside you that drives you to create things.

PS: What is that "thing"?

PW: I don't know. That's like, "Where does the wind come from?" ●

INSIDE COUNTRY

The Judds make it two weeks in a row at the top of the chart, but Holly Dunn is right behind making a bid for her first solo number one. Another good week for Reba McEntire as she jumps five places into the Top Ten. The Trio's momentum continues as their HIT FACTOR jumps from 73 % to 85%. Ditto for Hank Williams Jr., who moves up ten slots and shows HIT FACTOR increase from 45% to 67%. CERTIFIEDs are Steve Earle (with 15 more adds this week, including KSO, KUSA, KRAK/AM, KRED, WFMS/FM, KIMM, KTFX, WCMR, etc.) and the Glen Campbell/Steve Wariner duet (Dave Millar at WAOV-Vincennes, IN, tells us, "This one's really grabbing our listeners. They love the lyrics.") Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, "Members Only" by Donna Fargo & Billy Joe Royal, made another good showing this week with 29 more adds. Bob Smith at KPRB-Redmond, OR, predicts this one will reach the Top Ten in no time.

This week's RECORD TO WATCH is another duet, Foster & Lloyd's "Crazy Over You." Early believers include: KEED, KFGO, KHEY/Y96, KORD, KOLO, KFEQ, WYGC, etc. The Randy Travis record is living up to its name, as it stays the most requested record for the ninth week in a row. That shows the durability of this one. Speaking of durability, The Judds' "Turn It Loose" has been our most mentioned LP cut since the week of April 10th.

REVIEWS

Hit Factor is a percentage of stations which have it in Heavy or Medium rotation. ie: 100 stations playing the record -- 60 stations have it in Heavy or Medium rotation -- Hit Factor = 60%

NITTY GRITTY DIRT BAND - Fishin' In The Dark (Warner Bros.) The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band celebrate their 21st year together in fine fashion. The first single from their "Hold Me" LP, "Baby's Got A Hold On Me," shot up to number one on our chart, and this cut could follow suit. It's been the most played cut from the album and is a real favorite with our reporters.

THE DESERT ROSE BAND - Love Reunited (MCA/Curb) Chris Hillman, Herb Pedersen, John Jorgenson and company made some inroads with their first single "Ashes Of Love." This cut could be the one that makes their mark on Country charts.

CONWAY TWITTY - I Want To Know You Before We Make Love (MCA) This beautiful love song conveys strong lyrics. It's perfectly timed for summer love.

JOHN CONLEE - Mama's Rockin' Chair (Columbia) Mr. Conlee's string of hits just keeps on coming. This heartfelt "tribute to Mama" will have listeners traveling down their own memory lane in no time.

TURNING CUSTOMERS INTO EX-CUSTOMERS

I'd like to tell you about something that happened to me recently. I'm sure you've experienced a variation of it. I believe the story says a lot about how many firms alienate customers, who then wind up spending their money someplace else.

Two weeks ago, I traveled to the Midwest for a two-day meeting with a group of senior managers at a large manufacturing company. The meeting was to be held in the hotel where I was lodged. I flew into town the night before the meeting. Around midnight, I called the front desk and asked for a 7 a.m. wake-up call. I happened to have a little portable alarm clock with me, so as insurance, I also set it for 7 a.m.—after all, being late for an early-morning meeting is not a good way to make friends.

At 7 a.m., my alarm went off. But no wake-up call. Around 7:20, curious as to why I had never received a call, I phoned the front desk. A young lady answered. Our conversation went something like this:

Me: "I asked for a 7 o'clock wake-up. Can you tell me why I didn't get one?"

She: "Well, I wasn't here at 7, but it says here on our chart that we called you and nobody answered."

Me: "I assure you that I have been here all morning. There was no phone call."

She: "I'm sorry, but I can't help it because I wasn't here then, and it says you were called."

By the time I hung up, I had a positive attitude towards my alarm clock, and a negative one about the hotel.

It's now 7:25, and I decided to order a quick breakfast. So I phoned room service. Maybe I was naive in hoping for the cheery "Good morning" I've received in other hotels, but neither did I expect someone to answer with all the warmth of Darth Vader. I was so taken aback by the growls I heard at the other end that I almost told him to forget it. But I was hungry, so I pressed on. After he finally snapped, "What room are you in?" I gratefully hung up the phone. Another strike against the hotel, and it was only 7:30 a.m.!

By the way, lest you think I was staying at some cheap flophouse, I can assure you this was a large, upscale hotel, part of a well-known nationwide chain. I must say, however, that these two early-morning experiences provided me with a great opening for my preliminary remarks at the meeting.

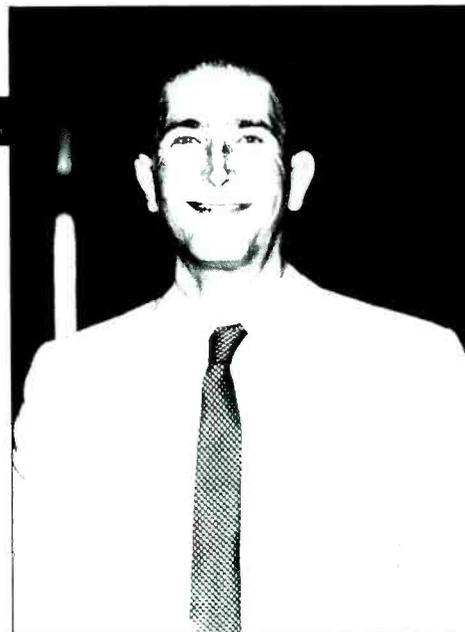

Picture this scene: I'm standing before 15 top-level managers—tough, analytical, no-nonsense types. We're getting ready to discuss some high-powered strategic planning for the company, and I begin with the story of a failed wake-up call and rude room service as examples of real strategic planning at work.

Let's look at the situation carefully. This hotel undoubtedly had managers who ran the place. These managers had no doubt developed careful marketing and financial strategies. They certainly had had lengthy discussions and produced complex reports analyzing financial ratios, cash-flow projections, pricing policy, demographic trends, and so on. Then they had made some sophisticated decisions. And they must have described all this as part of the strategic planning process. And they were right. That is part of the strategic planning.

Yet when you or I enter a hotel (or any business), on what basis do we judge whether we like it, whether we'll come back, whether we'll recommend it to others or warn them to stay away? Do we ask to see cash-flow projections or demographic trends? Do we ask to meet with the Chief Financial Officer or the Director of Marketing? Of course not. We make our decision based on all the little things done by the people who serve us: the people at the desk, the bellhops, the housekeepers and so on.

In my case, the lady at the front desk wasn't technically at fault. She probably wasn't there at 7 a.m., as she said. And maybe the guy who answered my room service request had had a bad night before. But as a customer, I don't care! That's the trouble with customers, isn't it? They really don't care about your troubles. And they don't care about your complicated strategic plans, either. They want good service and products that work. Aren't you the same way when you're a customer? If your plane is late or the restaurant's food is lousy or you get crummy service at the bank or the dry cleaner ruins one of your shirts or your new TV set goes on the blink or you have to wait two hours in some office—do you really care about the internal problems of the organization? I suspect not. If you're like most of us, you'll get irritated and, according to the research, you will probably take your business elsewhere in the future.

As I spoke to the managers in the room, I tried to impress on them the fact that all these little details are a critical and all-too-often neglected part of strategic planning. Well-managed, growing companies pay obsessive attention to all those mundane little details that result in reliability and dependability, top-quality products and superb customer service.

I consider myself a very rational person, but I can tell you that all of us as customers behave anything but rationally when we're dissatisfied. On the basis of two little details—a failed wake-up call and rude room service—I would have been prepared never to return to the hotel and to look for another hotel to conduct a future conference in that city. That would mean a lot of lost revenue to the hotel, and the tragedy is that the managers and accountants of the hotel would never even know it.

Maybe you would have been more tolerant under these circumstances. Fair enough—perhaps I would be more tolerant than you in other situations. But does it really matter? The fact is that in different situations, you and I would represent a whole bunch of other dissatisfied customers. Call me, or you, or any other dissatisfied customer "irrational," and that customer will say, "Okay, I'm irrational. But it's my money!" And all the complicated strategic plans won't make up for that. Conversely, when companies do pay attention to the details—when service is consistently superb, and products are consistently excellent—we'll come back for more, and we'll tell other people about it, too. ●

THE "COVER" STORY

The pattern of progress of black radio and black music has a longstanding history of being cultured in racism. For example, who was crowned King of Jazz? Paul Whiteman. He couldn't even play! He had some good players in his band, but King of Jazz? Moving up to the swing era, we find a white clarinet player, Benny Goodman, crowned King of Swing. He was a fine musician with a fine band, but it was Count Basie and Duke Ellington and Jimmie Lunceford or any of an army of black men and women who really created the music.

As rhythm and blues caught on, this attitude led to a nefarious practice known as "covering"--copying R&B hits note for note for the white Top 40 market. Since arrangements are not specifically protected by copyright laws, cover versions could not be stopped. And since the original black versions were not played on the big pop stations, and therefore could not compete with the heavy promotional support the white cover versions got from the major record labels, the white cover versions usually became the hits and the black originals were buried in the charts.

Here's one example of what happened with Atco, a division of Atlantic Records: A vocal group called the Chords had a smash song called "Sh-Boom," which sold 100,000 records--not too shabby, back then. Bobby Shad, who headed A&R at Mercury Records, decided a Canadian group called the Crewcuts should cover it. He had his public relations people start calling deejays all over the country about the recording by the Crewcuts--even though the hadn't even recorded the song yet. The Crewcuts ended up selling more than a million records.

Ruth Brown, another major Atlantic artist, cut "Oh, What A Dream," only to have it covered by Mercury's Patti Page. Then Ruth recorded "Please Don't Leave Me," which Mercury artist Georgia Gibbs covered. Both Page and Gibbs got credit for the hit versions of these black songs.

Sometimes the lyrics were changed to make them more acceptable to white ears. Etta James' "Roll With Me, Henry" became "Dance With Me, Henry" when covered by Georgia Gibbs. Perhaps the classic example of a "cleaned-up" black hit was Big Joe Turner's "Shake, Rattle And Roll." In the original, Joe orders his woman to get out of bed and into the kitchen to "rattle them pots and pans." By the time Bill Haley copied it, all references to the bedroom were eliminated--and so was much of the feeling and soul.

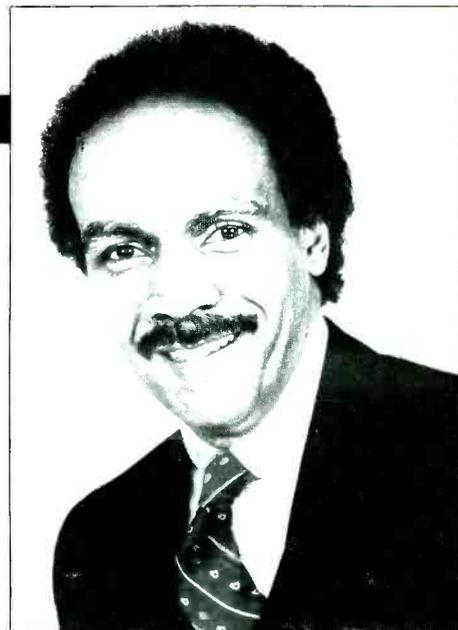

CENTER STAGE

During the '60s and '70s, black radio really came into its own in major cities. Record companies which had initially resisted having their product played on the air now sought it. The growing number of small stations enhanced the possibility that radio and the fast-talking deejays might serve as an excellent medium of exposure for this new black music, which was getting better and more appealing.

Soon it became apparent that these unheralded "hitmakers," as they were once called, were indeed the key to success, especially for small record companies. A synergistic effect developed, as both the artists and the disc jockeys found themselves playing to ever-growing, ever more eager audiences across the country. Then something even more amazing happened.

The black deejays became the organizers and hosts of live shows featuring the artists whose records they were playing on the air. It happened at the world-famous Apollo in New York, at the Howard in Washington, D.C., at the Uptown in Philly and at the Royal in Baltimore. Capitalizing on the popularity of the artists they played, the deejays themselves became headliners.

These shows often featured as many as a dozen different hot acts, many of whom had one hit, and would not have had even that, had not the deejays in that town played it. But, while the audience usually got more than its money's worth, the performers often were exploited in various ways. Sometimes you wouldn't even see their names on the marquee--only the deejays. They were in control. If he played your record, you had it made. If he didn't, you were dead. Often, the deejay was in control of who got to work the theaters, because the theater owners would call up and ask, "Who's hot this week?" New acts would appear for little or nothing just to get their songs on the air. Many deejays, meanwhile, found themselves in the role of performers, while some found they had to have an act to get over on the stage.

FREEDOM STRUGGLE

So even as late as the '60s, there were many obstacles in the struggle for recognition and freedom of expression within the radio community. Indeed, the fight for equality continues as the central theme in the black American experience. This struggle, in turn, played a profound role in shaping the contemporary American social and political conscience. The racial disparities of privilege and power in our cities were dramatically revealed by the parallel emergence of gentrifying yuppies and an entrenched underclass. But now, both found that music is music, and when the "feeling is right," little else really matters. And the players...they too were changing.

INSIDE URBAN RADIO

Another great week for last week's two Most Added: FREDDIE JACKSON (33 last week, 28 this) and MIKI HOWARD (24 last week, 26 this). Both are pulling early phones and logging those adds. Tony Brown, WBLX-Mobile, says females 18-34 are asking for Freddy. Another Tony, Scott at JET94-Chattanooga, reports it's the hottest of his new product. One of biggest movers in the chart is the REGINA BELLE: Greg Beasley, KMJM-St. Louis, reports all demos for it, Paul Perrodin, KACE-Los Angeles, reports calls, male and female, 18+. Dave T.J., WNOV-Milwaukee, reports huge phones for ALEXANDER O'NEAL, all demos, as does Dee Perry, WEKS-Atlanta, adding, "It's starting to cross that demographic line." Andrew Bailey, WYNN-Florence, reports it as one of his biggest movers, and it's hot for Tony Richards, WIKS-New Bern, young adults. After the top five Most Added listing this week, VANESE THOMAS' "Let's Talk It Over" jumps to number one in Chartbound. Look for this, her debut single, to Certify next week with a high chart number.

Two albums making a dent on the request lines at various stations are the WHITNEY HOUSTON and the L.L.COOL J. Whitney's remake of the Isley Brothers' "For the Lover In You" has had a tremendous impact on the phones for Cy Young, WQQK/FM-Nashville. He says it's a monster with adult females.

Daisy Davis, WBMX/FM-Chicago, reports calls from all demos for the same cut. L.L.COOL J's LP is selling in Memphis like there's no tomorrow! KRNB's Melvin Jones says two cuts other than the single are prompting sales. The slow rap cut, "I Need Love," brought incredible reaction: "The phones went crazy. It was unreal!" he says, "and the sleeper cut is 'Do The Wop,' which is also getting calls." The LP sold 8,000 copies in Memphis in one week!

To fill all those voids on your playlists, Gary Weiler, WBLZ-Cincinnati recommends the new single by LIVING IN A BOX: "With so many FEMALE vocalists flooding playlists, anyone who needs a good male vocal for balance should take a longer look at this." Licia Torres, KJLH-Los Angeles, reports one of her biggest requests is VAL YOUNG, with across-the-board demos. Our Record To Watch, ELLA BROOKS, had a good week, picking up 11 adds, and doing well in her hometown of Memphis, according to Pam Wells, K-97. Thanks for the calls - next week we'll do it again! Betty

By Betty Hollars and John Martinucci

FORCE MD'S - Love Is A House
(Tommy Boy) Force MD's are becoming "heavy" balladeers. This debut from the British producers Martin Lascelles and Geoff Gurd presents a good balance for those lists crammed with mid- and up-tempo product.

BABYFACE - I Love You Babe
(Solar) Check-out of the week. These sweet lyrics should grab the lady listeners in any city, which will eventually bring in the male listeners with the hook. Sweet summer sounds for those swell summer nights!

LEVERT - Casanova (Atlantic)
Levert's back. The new single from their forthcoming album, "The Big Throwdown," has that smooth and satiny sound down pat. Should be another "Pop Pop Pop" hit.

IAN FOSTER - Out For The Count
(MCA) Whew! Where's the smelling salt? It's a sure knockout for filling in the void left by the heavy female vocal overload currently predominant on playlists. THERESA - Last Time (RCA) Credit Rick Stevens, WCKX-Columbus, OH, for bringing this newcomer to our attention. Catchy intro, should get YOUR attention!

PROMOTIONS

By Lisa Smith and Betty Hollars

KZOU MONKEY SHINES ◀

What's black and white and the hottest thing on four wheels? The KZOU/FM-Little Rock "Zoo-98 Sound Machine." The station gave 980 listeners a chance to win the striped 1987 Mazda equipped with a $5,000 Kenwood auto stereo system. The finalists showed up at a local mall to see if their key would start the "machine." Shown presenting the keys to the winner are (left to right) GM Hal Smith, the winner, the KZOU "Zorilla," and KZOU's morning team of PD Jerry and Ann Lousteau, otherwise known as "The Uglees."

Y NOT?

Y106-Orlando is throwing a party for kids who stay away from drugs. As part of national "Kids Say Know To Drugs" week May 15-23, WHLY co-hosted a shopping mall "pledge center," where students could sign pledges to remain or become drug-free. Oakridge High School, which had the most pledges won a "Y-party," with state-of-the-art music, lights and video equipment provided by the station.

Q107 GOES TO EUROPE

The shortest way from Washington, D.C., to Europe is through Q107. The station gave away copies of Europe's LP and tickets to their premier concert in Washington. The show featured a grand prize drawing by Q107's Chris Jagger for a one week all-expense paid trip for two to Europe (the continent). The lucky winner got their choice of fun-filled London, romantic Paris or fabulous Frankfurt.

BRINGING MOM HOME ▲

To help listeners celebrate Mother's Day, KXGO-Arcata, CA, offered them the chance to win round-trip airfare for mom to come home for Mother's Day. The contest, run four times daily, allowed the four winners to bring moms home from Nebraska,

SPOTLIGHT PROMOTION ► OF THE WEEK

A HEART-FELT PROMOTION

Not one to be outdone by any other station promotion, KHIT-Seattle is claiming a world record for Most Albums Given Away On The Air in a single day. A total of 424 of Heart's "Bad Animal" LPs were snatched up by lucky listeners, and soon thereafter Ann and Nancy Wilson stopped by the station to thank the staff for putting Heart in the record books. Shown here are (back row, from left) KHIT's Dave Fuller and Capitol Records' Stan Forman. Front row: KHIT MD Maureen Matthews, Nancy Wilson and Ann Wilson.

RHODODENDRON FEVER ▲

Here it is--the first-prize float in this year's Eureka (California) Rhododendron Festival parade. The folks aboard this eighteen-wheeler are a local band called "Ready But Right," along with some of the crew from the float's sponsor, KRED-Eureka. This wasn't the debut appearance for the float--it's been entered in all the recent major events in Eureka, with several talented local bands being given the opportunity to showcase their talents at the same time.

K101 THROWS A WORLD PARTY

The Grand Prize in a weekend promotion by K101 (KKRQ) in Iowa City was dinner in Moscow--Moscow, Iowa, that is. The station took its listeners on a round-the-world musical journey (or Journey), by giving away albums by Europe, Asia, Boston and the ever-exotic Kansas.

DROVE MY CHEVY TO THE LEVEE...

KOKZ-Waterloo, IA's, Fourth Annual Street Cruise drew an estimated 15,000 spectators who lined the curbs to watch 4,000 automobiles cruise downtown Waterloo. The Memorial Day weekend event included the town's largest-ever sock hop on Saturday night, with 7,000 dancers rocking and rolling to the music of Bobby Vee, The Crickets, Buddy Knox and the Rockin' Richochettes. All the money brought in by the event was donated to local charities.

DAVE SHOLIN'S PERSONAL PICKS — SINGLES

THE SILENCERS - Painted Moon (RCA) What a year for new bands with highly original styles and material. Lead vocalist Jimmy O'Neil, who hails from Scotland, injects his own brand of soulful sincerity on this track. Peter Standish recommended this to Alternative Radio several weeks ago, and it's got Top 40 written all over it as well.

CHICAGO - Niagara Falls (Full Moon/Warner Brothers) Nothing like a simile to make a song memorable. The famous honeymooners' rendezvous evokes thoughts of love and romance--which usually go hand in hand with the music of Chicago. Expect to hear this on radios from Niagara Falls to Klamath Falls.

KAREN KAMON - Give A Little Love (Atco) Reggae-flavored offering from Albert Hammond & Diane Warren, the songwriting who gave us "Nothing's Gonna Stop Us Now," has strong summertime appeal. Contagious chorus has you hooked as fast as you can say Phil Ramone (the man behind this production).

CROSSOVER PICK

REGINA BELLE - Show Me the Way (Columbia) Okay, I'm a patient man but I've been anxiously waiting for the opportunity to write this up as it gets ready for serious Top 40 consideration. This weeks 13-7 jump on the URBAN CONTEMPORARY chart demonstrates the power of this song. Has much of the same appeal as Whitney Houston's "You Give Good Love" and a great sell line, "Touch me where I've never been touched."

RON FELL'S PERSONAL PICKS — ALBUMS

GLORIA ESTEFAN & MIAMI SOUND MACHINE - "Let It Loose" (Epic)

After a decade on the road to overnight success, Gloria & Company are gonna need a forklift to haul out the hits from this, their second English-language album. The "problem" with this album is not the selection of future hits, but their sequence of release. Expect a fair balance between the pop/dance and ballad styles, with CAN'T STAY AWAY FROM YOU, BETCHA SAY THAT and 1-2-3 the all-too-obvious choices for eventual 45 rpm status.

THE OUTFIELD - "Bangin'" (Columbia)

I guess it could be said these Britons came out of left field last year, hit a home run at the top of the first and now, with the side retired, they take the field with hopes of holding their lead. On the first pitch, they throw one high and tight...SOMEWHERE IN AMERICA. No other wild pitches and more strikes than balls from the nine other pitches. The album's first single, SINCE YOU'VE BEEN GONE, is already destined to make their highlight film, and when they come out swingin' in the second frame, expect them to go for the fences with four-baggers like BANGIN' ON MY HEART and PLAYGROUND. Should be a big album with rock 'n' roll radio.

JOHN HIATT - "Bring The Family" (A&M)

The album and its title sound like open invitations. John's doin' the cooking, fixing up a picnic feast of ribs with lots of meat on the bones, a tossed salad, corn on the cob, peppered chili and slices of Ry Cooder. It's blues-based rockin' folk with wonderfully clever lyrical twists, most notably MEMPHIS IN THE MEANTIME, LIPSTICK SUNSET, TIP OF MY TONGUE and YOUR DAD DID.
