INSIDE TOP 40

by Dave Sholin

Robin Williams jokes that "If you remember the Summer of Love...you weren't there!" Twenty years ago, this city was transformed into a mecca for young people who wanted to turn on, tune in and drop out. All sorts of celebrations are planned this summer to commemorate this anniversary of not only social significance, but also of importance to Top 40 radio. Up to that time, two or three AM Top 40 outlets owned the rock 'n' roll franchise in every market. But that summer, a disgruntled AM Top 40 jock named Tom Donahue changed all that by turning KMPX, a foreign-language FM station, into what we called "underground radio." Almost overnight, listeners were offered a new choice: records by new, unknown bands that Top 40 either refused to play or chose to ignore. Though many of the key radio programmers at the time didn't give it much thought, things would never be the same again. FM radio created music choices much the same way cable television now offers us options to network programming. This summer, you can tune into stations positioned as Adult Top 40, Teen Top 40, Urban Top 40 or Dance Top 40. The innovators, not the imitators, continue to keep the format fresh and vibrant. The winners continue to be those who play the right hits for their market and offer the best entertainment between those records.

More than half of the stations I spoke with this week reported SUZANNE VEGA as one of their hottest phone items. She's been in the MOST ADDED column the past two weeks and just barely missed the cut this week with 51 adds. On fire for Tom Cunningham WPST 23-16, Bobby Rich Q105 17-13, Keith Naftaly KMEL 16-12, Mike Preston and Robin Silva KWSS 23-13, Dave Shakes and Jamie Hyatt KSND 21-10, etc.

URBAN and A/C winner KLYMAXX took the long way around, but skipped past CHARTBOUND with their heaviest week of airplay yet. Key moves in Kansas City at KCPW 14-9 and KBEQ 23-19, and adds at Z94, WTNZ, WNKS, JLK/FM, Y94, WBIZ, WKDD, KSLY, Y108, KOZE, KMOK, B93/FM, KKBG, etc.

Another ballad that's really kicked in is DAN HILL's "Can't We Try." HIT FACTOR is up to 30% and growing quickly. Moves into high gear at KZZP Phoenix 15-11, WHBT Racine/Milwaukee 10-6, 106RTB Vincennes 22-16, K104 Erie 27-22, WBBQ Augusta 32-15, KWSS San Jose 30-22. New on WKTI, Y95, KMEL KREO, Y108, KYYY, WSPK, FM102, etc.

May 22nd's RECORD TO WATCH, the WHISPERS' "Rock Steady," built its base on the West Coast, where it's number one at KSTN, KMEL, POWER106, KYOS, KRQK, and Top Ten at KGGI, KYNO, KWSS, KVYN, KMGX, KATD, FM102, etc. Hot debuts at Y95 #16, B94 #22, WTIC/FM #28, etc. 25 adds and expect even more next week.

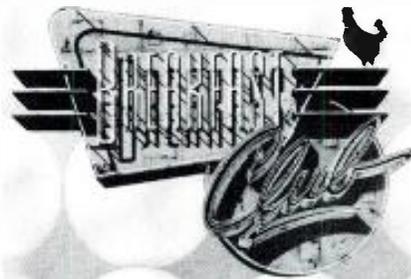

No problem for STARSHIP going over 200 total reports as they earn MOST ADDED honors for the second straight week. Debuts Top Thirty for Cathy Cruise WNVZ Norfolk, Jim Richards and Lori Campbell B94 Pittsburgh, Jim Leven and Larry Clark WAFX Bangor, Tim Fox and Denise Lauren WKTI Milwaukee, Randy Rice, WFMF Baton Rouge, J.D. Chandler KGOT Anchorage, etc.

Just a handful of reports separate WHITESNAKE from those in the MOST ADDED section. This release is giving the band the most Top 40 airplay they've had to date. Adds include KZZU, KZZK, FM104, KXGO, KHTZ, Q96/76, KZOU, WDEK, WDBR, KLYV, WABB, WYDD, Z94, WILI, KKIS, etc.

FREDDIE JACKSON is taking off quickly in Detroit, where Rick Gillette jumps it 20-14 at WHYT. Also debuts #30 for Nick Ferrara and Greg Rolling at KS103, and nudges into the Top Twenty with Chris Collins at FM102 Sacramento 23-20. New on Y95, KWSS, KKIS, KSTN, 95XXX, WWUF, Q105, 106X, WRCK, KZZK, KAGO, WXL, WKSP, etc.

Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, THE CURE, continues to prove itself from market to market. The band's fiercely loyal following got it started, but the appeal of this song is obviously not limited to fans alone. Ron Parker and John Cook debut it #30 at 93Q Houston...also Top Thirty at CKOI Montreal and PRO/FM Providence. Early believers Bob Harlow KATD San Jose/Los Gatos and Richard Sands LIVE 105 San Francisco list it at #4 while Gina Shurts KFMY Provo/Salt Lake City takes it 11-7. Adds include KWSS, KDON, KEYP, WNSL, WHDQ, KWKR, KYYY, WCGQ, KMOK, KOZE, etc.

Noteworthy airplay shows some key stations joining the BREAKFAST CLUB'S second track. 25 adds including Z100 Portland, KCPX Salt Lake City, WXKS Boston, Y106 Orlando, WIZM La Crosse, KITV San Antonio, WKQB Charleston, KWIN Stockton, KSND Eugene, PRO/FM Providence, KNIN Wichita Falls, etc.

A 12% HIT FACTOR for this week's RECORD TO WATCH, "Dreamin'" by WILL TO POWER, appears to be only the beginning. It's been number one for nearly two months at Miami's POWER96 where Bill Tanner calls it "the record of the summer..number one in 12" sales and in total sales." Also number one crosstown at Y100 and HOT105. Added at Z100 New York, K106 Beaumont, KMGX Fresno, KWSS San Jose, KRQK Lompoc/Santa Maria, etc. Moves 16-8 in Los Angeles at POWER106.

CAP CITIES BUYS Y108

Denver's rocky Top 40 boat got another jolt with the announcement that Malrite had dealt format leader KRRY and sister KMVP to Cap Cities/ABC for a reported $10.5 million. The sale thus transmutes Y108 from a sister station of Z100-New York to a sister station of archrival WPLJ. "Our first move is to call up Larry Berger and tell him all Scott Shannon's secrets," jokes Y108 MD Dom Testa. Crosstown, rumblings are increasing that Shamrock will throw its newly-acquired KBRQ into the Top 40 arena. The station, presently Country, has reportedly applied for new calls...Meanwhile, in another part of the Mile-High City, Toney Brooks is departing after eight years with Sandusky, six of them as president of its radio division. "I've been going to school on other people's money," he told Chinwag. "Now it's time to apply it." After a couple of weeks' vacation, he'll announce his future plans, which may involve building a radio division within a broadcast entity not currently in the medium.

MAKE MINE MANHATTAN

It's official: EMI America and Manhattan Records have merged into a single entity with the catchy name of EMI America/Manhattan Records. The company will be headquartered on the East Coast, while Capitol provides a California anchor. Sal Licata, currently head of distribution for RCA/A&M/Arista, will join the company as CEO next month, reporting directly to Joe Smith, Vice Chairman of Capitol Industries-EMI, Inc. Former Manhattan chief Bruce Lundvall will now be president of EMI America/Manhattan under Licata, concentrating on A&R, while former EMI America president Jim Mazza has resigned. VP/Promotion Jack Satter, who will handle combined promotions, says the restructuring will not affect artists: "We will still have two labels. Those with EMI America will remain there." A final lineup will be announced shortly, he says.

HONOR GUARD

The Chesapeake AP Broadcasters names WPOC Baltimore's Outstanding News Operation. Nationwide's Country outlet has a nine-person news shop, including two full-timers on weekends... NBC Radio News Producer Diana Quinn wins a Pinnacle Award from the New York City AWRT for her documentary, "Surviving Cancer," and Y107. He replaces Bob McNeill, who moves to Edens Broadcasting sister station WRVA-Richmond, while WRVA PD Gary King shifts to co-owned WWDE-Norfolk. Back in Nashville, Capitol Broadcasting still has a plum opening at KIX104. Interested parties can give Group VP Bill Thomas a jingle at (205) 942-4133.

I SECOND THAT PROMOTION

This month's annual BPME seminar in Atlanta drew more than 250 radio participants, including CBS Director of Media Relations Helene Bleiberg (at rostrum), flanked by NBC Director of Advertising and Promotion Joan Voukides (far left), RAB Vice President Danny Flamberg, Satellite Music Network VP/ Marketing Christine Sites and Dean Marion, Director of Merchandising for Westwood One Radio Networks. For more on the convention, see Harvey Mednick's report on page 32.

NIPPER IN THE BUD

To commemorate its 65 years in the Country Music business, RCA Records' Nashville Division has re-released Nipper's very first single record. "Arkansas Traveler" by fiddlers Eck Robertson and Henry Gilliland first came out June 30, 1922. According to RCA, the two walked unannounced into the Victor offices in New York, Eck in full cowboy regalia, Henry wearing a Confederate Army uniform. By year's end, Victor had become the nation's dominant Country label, a title it still claims today.

KOY/FM GOES "ADULT" TOP 40

A year after abandoning Easy Listening to simulcast its full-service AM sister, KOY/FM is changing formats again. GM Michael Horne says the Phoenix combo will continue to air the Bill

Heywood/Tim Hattrick morning show, then separate, with the FM targeting 25-34s and the AM, 35-54s. Midwifing the transition will be OM Michael St. John, formerly of Nashville's KIX104

POWERS THAT BE

Forget about George Michael--this week's real trouble track is "Dreamin'" by Will To Power. Some Top 40 stations up against "POWER" competition are altering the artist's name. That's why some L.A. listeners think the song is by "Will To KIIS"!

While we're on a "Power" trip, we'll let you know the new calls found by H&G Broadcasting to match the POWER 106 positioner at new its Honolulu Top 40: KXPW.

GATOR AID

Alligator Records names Blake Gumprecht head of AOR Promotion and Advertising, and former KFMH-Muscataine, IA, air talent Kerry Peace head of college/noncommercial radio promotion. Jay Whitehouse moves up to National Sales Manager, and Nora Kinnally will take over video promotion. Leaving the company is longtime promotion/marketing director Mindy Giles, who is forming her own artist management firm, American Outlines Management, with her first clients including Alligator's Lonnie Mack and a new Chicago band, Big Shoulders. She can be reached at (312) 327-1675.

"Reggae-flavored offering from Albert Hammond & Diane Warren, the songwriting team that gave us 'Nothing's Gonna Stop Us Now,' has strong summertime appeal. Contagious chorus has you hooked as fast as you can say Phil Ramone (the man behind the production)."

SMOOTH OPERATOR

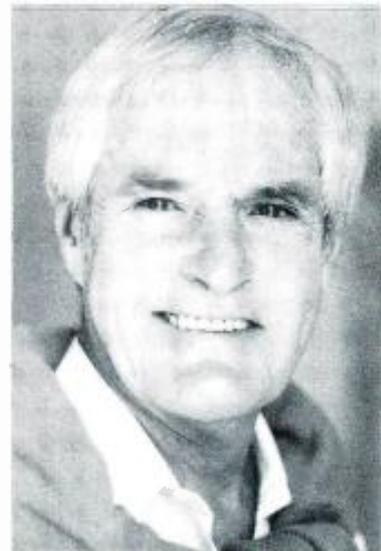

Does the name Ramona Lenny ring a bell? She's the voice of AT&T who tells you, "You have reached a disconnected number." Emmis Broadcasting has hired her to produce cute station i.d.'s like "The number you have reached is 93.1. Please make a note of it." According to the Jeff Pollack newsletter, Ms. Lenny is available to work for any station, as long as there is no Emmis property in the market. Her number is (215) 525-2460.

AWWWW...

Radio is a cutthroat business, right? Not in Sioux City, Iowa, according to Nightmare Productions' Sandy Einstein, who has nothing but praise for the local radio folks. "I was there with Eric Martin, who was opening for Eddie Money," Sandy reports. "We were supposed to do an interview on KGLI, but the cab was late. So Pat Paxton came over and picked us up in his car, drove us to the studio and then--get this--drove us across town to KSEZ for another interview. Not only that, KSEZ's Tim Harrison drove us back to the venue. I've never had anything like that happen in a big city! Can you imagine Scott Shannon doing that for WPLJ?" As Jack Douglas used to say: If the cockles of your heart get too warm, rub them with dry ice.

RADI-O-RAMA

Kevin Weatherly is the new MD at KMEL-San Francisco, coming in from KZZP-Phoenix, where Clarke Ingram moves up from Asst. PD to OM and Todd Fisher arrives from KFIV-Modesto, CA, to handle music. Also departing KFIV: Russ Novak now on nights at KO93-Modesto, and Ben Kelly, now on the air at KHYT-Tucson. KHYT also snags crosstown talent Mike Mason from KLPX and Steve Kellogg from KRQ.

Congratulations to Jack Silver, now officially the Music Director for KIIS-Los Angeles.

Eric Janssen is now co-MD with Matt Potolsky at Alternative KDVS-Davis, CA...Kevin James joins KXGO-Arcata, CA, from the MD spot at KZHR-Yakima, WA...Randy Muszynski is upped to PD/MD at Country combo KOTY in Washington's Tri Cities...Pam Pace leaves KZZB-Beaumont, TX, to take music reins crosstown at K106, where Jack Daniels moves up to Asst. PD.

Steve Penny, head of Consulting Services for The Programming Consultants, leaves the Wagontrain Communications subsidiary to join Transtar as Program Director for the syndicator's Country format.

Despite a "Wave" of rumors that Pyramid Broadcasting will take WRXR-Chicago in a New Age/jazz direction, the hiring of NY urban radio legend Frankie Crocker as programming consultant (some say PD in all but title) keeps the weathervane pointed towards an urban/pop mix, a la Boston's KISS108.

Amy Henry departs WUOGAthens, GA, to join air staff at Top 40 WAGQ crosstown...John Van Citters, ex-PD at WUSC-Columbia, SC, is now weekendening at local Album rocker WKWQ. The 1986 nominee for Gavin Alternative PD of the Year is still looking for a fulltime gig. His home #: (803) 252-1626...Former WLGA-Valdosta, GA, programmer Steve Sutton has teamed up with his brother Kurt to offer a combined programming/sales consultancy. "We're combining the two to offer our services to an entire station staff," says Steve. They can be reached in the Atlanta suburb of Buford at (404)945-8209...WZZU-Raleigh, NC, appoints Bill Whisenant General Sales Manager...Alex Gavula is now GM at WWVU-Morgantown, WV...Mark David Sawyer moves up to PD at WFTW-Ft. Walton Beach, FL...Clif Desmond moves from WDKS-Ft. Pierce, FL, to take over middays at WTRS-Dunellon...Tim Spencer departs the Satellite Music Net to program Album rocker WEGR-Memphis, as Howie Castle exits...Spider Wilson joins the air staff at WEDR-Miami as B.J. Barry segues to middays at Magic108 (KMJM)-St. Louis. In Detroit, Belinda Briggs moves up to MD at WJLB, while Bobby Hatfield arrives from WKLX-Rochester to program WDTX...Bill Webster is now PD/MD at WJXQ-Jackson, MI. Dave Scott has exited and can be reached @ (517) 787-6945... Ex-WZOK-Rockford, IL, MD Lisa Dent is now weekendening at Z104-Madison, WI...At WNFL-Green Bay, WI, Margo Lewis drops the "acting" from her PD title...Paul Johns departs KCPI-Albert Lea, MN, for night shift at KZIO-Duluth. PD Bob Hughes will handle music duties at KCPI... Asst. PD Rich Walker adds the MD title at KMGZ-Lawton, OK, following the exit of KJ Stone. Joining the air staff is midday man Ken Renfrow from KHME-Comanche...J.J. Davis is promoted to Assistant Operations Manager at KEZH-Hastings, NE. He'll be helping newly appointed OM Mike Will in switching MAGIC101 from Top 40 to A/C.

After a stint as PD at WWHB-Long Island, Rob Poulin is returning to 95XXX-Burlington, VT...Look for WLIR-Long Island's Denis McNamara, Larry the Duck and Malibu Sue in "Animal Magic," a 30-minute film about Neville Keighley, lead singer of the British band Belouis Some. The film, partially shot at WLIR studios, has been on MTV twice this month and will air again Sunday, June 26th at 10 p.m. EDT.

TUNE IN...

No, we are not having an editorial flashback. The reason for this photo of Timothy Leary is that he is keynote speaker at the Upper Midwest Communications Conclave XII, which kicks off in the Twin Cities July 9th. WHBT-Milwaukee PD Kipper McGee will host a roundtable discussion on "Building the Perfect Promotion." Participants include promotion directors Dan Seeman (WLOL-Minneapolis), Phil Wilson (KGGO-Des Moines) and programmers Steve Brill (WKLH-Milwaukee) and B.J. Hunter (KOOL-Phoenix). For more info, contact Tom Kay or Denise Lutz at (612) 927-HITS.

ROTATIONS

PolyGram Records appoints Chris Lopes as Manager, College Promotion. He replaces Joe Riccitelli, who moves to regional rep for the Carolinas, while Don Coddington shifts to the Seattle region...The new head of 415 Records is producer Sandy Pearlman, best known for his work with Blue Oyster Cult, Patti Smith and The Clash. Andy McKaie, Director of National Publicity for MCA Records, moves to the new position of Director of A&R Special Markets and Products...Atlantic Records has established a Creative Marketing Services department under VP Mark Schulman.

ROBBIE NEVIL HAS WOT IT TAKES

BY KEITH AND KENT ZIMMERMAN

In our most jaded moments, sometimes we espy a new musical face and immediately suspect him or her as being just another marketing project with little natural talent and lots of behind-the-scenes coaching. Nevil's press bio reveals just the opposite. Behind his boyish demeanor is a young songwriter/session guitarist who has also dabbled with production duties for Richard Perry. His credible writing contributions include songs like "Contact" and "Just A Little Closer" by the Pointer Sisters, "Under The Influence" by Vanity and "Someone" by El DeBarge. Most recently Robbie has completed writing and production collaborations with Alison Moyet and Maurice White. Regarding music and image, Nevil seems fascinated with elements of irony. His pop music is decidedly R&B flavored, yet his physical appearance suggests a more rock n roll point of view. We discussed this question of image along with the plight of being a new artist in the late '80s, i.e. finding the right producers and making his transition from professional songwriter to successful solo artist. There's more to Robbie Nevil than meets the eye and ear.

KZ: Your visual image contrasts with your music. Some folks think your music sounds black, yet you have a hip, rock n roll look.

RN: Contrast creates depth. If I sound one way and look another, there's more of a story. There's more to talk about. I like doing that. It's like the non-literal translation of videos. The song is about this or that but instead we'll show him on the oil fields. We have a rock look even though it's more of an R&B song. It's not a curve in a deliberate sense. It is what it is, but so far I think it's actually worked for me as opposed to against me. It's not that I'm trying to sound black and look white. When people meet me, they say, "I didn't think you were going to be like this." I don't know what to say. It's me, not some contrived idea. I've always loved long hair. As opposed to an in-studio color shot for the album cover, there was something a little bit tougher about a black and white picture and me wearing a bomber jacket—looking like something more out of rock n roll thing. It's like a white fur on black velvet, it's more powerful than 12,000 colors.

KZ: What is your background?

RN: I went to Palisades High in Los Angeles. I used to go to school with Susanna Hoffs of the Bangles. We just ran into each other in France, and I didn't even know that she remembered me. I remember that she was a dancer and I thought she was really cute. I was the long-haired guy walking around with his guitar and jamming at the parties. By the time I was sixteen, I was devoted to instrumental music. I listened to and sang pop, but the music that I was writing was more inspired by Chick Corea and John McLaughlin. I saw Chick Corea at UCLA's Royce Hall, and said, "That's what I want to do."

KZ: As a young guitar player, could you handle that kind of music?

RN: My dexterity was on a much greater level than my musicality and my knowledge of theory. Later on at nineteen, I went to jazz school for about a year. I was into the rhythmical intensity thing. I was taking my fusion tape around to companies. I took my tape over to a guy named Rick Shoemaker at ABC Music, which has been absorbed by MCA Music since then. He's drumming away on his desk and says, "This is great, but what do I do with it? What about writing pop stuff?" He ended up teaching me the A-A-B-A songwriting format. That's when I started coming back each week. Over the years, a metamorphosis took place between jazz fusion and pop.

KZ: How did you manage to get your songs recorded by artists like the Pointer Sisters or Vanity?

RN: In the process of trying to get record deals and getting turned down, some other groups heard my stuff. I'm generally lighthearted and softspoken. I'm not a really bang-the-doors-down-type person. But when it comes to my career, I'd be in the record stores checking out who manages so-and-so. Not scamming, but self-motivating. It's not that easy. I didn't know anybody in the industry. You don't just get to Richard Perry at Planet Records. You send something to Planet and so and so hears it. Eventually, I wrote more stuff and it finally got to Richard. A guy named Indugu Chanler cut a song of mine and it didn't make it on the record. But George Duke had played on it. You're gaining a kind of credibility which can't be bought. It wasn't my initial plan to get songs covered, but it seemed like a stepping stone. It got me involved with some good people. Rick Shoemaker, who taught me how to write pop music at ABC, is now Vice President at MCA Music, and I still work with him.

KZ: Was that enough to start thinking about getting a record deal again?

RN: I was cruising along writing for other people. I didn't want to drop what I was doing and showcase, send tapes and the whole thing when I was having some success. I didn't have the time and the energy. Things were happening. I associate-produced "Contact" by the Pointer Sisters for Richard Perry. I associate-produced four songs by Melissa Manchester for Quincy Jones. Things were starting to come together. A tape got sent to Bobby Colomby at Capitol. I had nothing to do with it. Someone was sending songs over to the people at Capitol Records for their artists. He heard it and said, "Who is this guy singing? I want to know more."

KZ: Can demo tapes for song publishing showcase singing talents?

RN: Everyone would hear me sing on my tapes. People like the Pointer Sisters would say, "You should have your own deal." If I was doing a demo and something was out of tune, I always had an artist mentality about it. When I was first doing demos at MCA Music, they'd say, "You don't understand, Robbie, these are just demos." I'd say, "No. You don't understand I don't put anything out that I'm not comfortable with." I've always had a sense of perfection.

KZ: Is being a songwriter a back seat to being a recording artist?

RN: It really comes down to time. Time becomes structured. Schedules don't leave the time to write. I just finished a song yesterday. I've been up the last twenty-four hours because that was the only time I had for a movie thing. I used to have red eyes from being in the studio all night—now I have red eyes from going into different time zones. I'd like to play all the roles. As a producer, you're one role. As the singer, you're another role. They all give you insight and they're good for you. I'm enjoying the artist role, but I wish I had more time to write.

KZ: Surely you keep the good songs for yourself.

RV: Even if there's a slight bit of doubt, the song stays with me. I just finished co-producing and writing a song with Alison Moyet which is the B side of her single in England. It's called "Work On You." I was working in the studio with Maurice White. I don't know if it's going to get cut, but what an honor and privilege it was to work with him! We were singing together and I said to him, "You have no idea how many times we were singing together without you being there."

KZ: How much time passed between your signing with Manhattan and the first note struck towards the album?

RN: A year and a half—and it was not by our choice. We were all taking turns biting our nails. The producer we wanted, Alex Sadkin, had just finished Foreigner's Agent Provocateur and then he was doing Arcadia. Arcadia took a year. I'd talk to Alex and he's say it'd be two months. Then two months later, "Well, probably

INSIDE A/C

That's Dan Hill at the top of the pile this week. Not since the spring of 1978 has he been a chart topper. Dan leads in HIT FACTOR and HEAVY rotation reports. Carly leads in total stations and adds, while Whitney is second in HIT FACTOR and HEAVY reports.

With a 59-station increase in HEAVY rotation, Al Jarreau closes in on the top five. Only 29 stations don't have him in HIT FACTOR rotations.

Fleetwood Mac moves 38 to 28 to 19 with a HIT FACTOR growth of 26% to 49% to 69% and all that in less than a month.

Suzanne Vega was this week's third MOST ADDED, as the opinions turn decidedly positive. She's exceptionally strong in Top 40 radio as well as having already topped Album and Alternative radio's charts.

The new Chris DeBurgh, Fatal Hesitation, shows 111 stations in its first three weeks at A/C radio and it's this week's second MOST ADDED after being last week's MOST ADDED.

Larry Carlton grows Minute By Minute, debuting on the chart with 32 adds including: WFMJ, WBGK, WMON, KBOI, KIT, 3WM, WGOL/FM, KGY and KVSF.

U2's story is one of 61 stations playing their new single, but of those who committed more than a week ago the HIT FACTOR is 67%.

Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, Bernie Taupin's Citizen Jane moves into CHARTBOUND with 11 adds and a 53% HIT FACTOR. The eleven adds were KBOI, WALG, WMTR, KLZY, WOKZ, WGAD, WILI, WWMJ, WDIF, KWSI and WTUN.

This week's RECORD TO WATCH, Don't Disturb This Groove by The System, is starting to kick in with Urban and A/C radio, but only after going top ten and underlined in Top 40. A/C's plugged into The System include WHTX, WSNI, KLSS, WMYX, B100, KEZR and KWAU.

Do we have any clues that the Spring Arbitron book is finally over? How about eleven new records making the A/C page in one week? Led by the wonderful new Warwick & Osborne, A/C radio has done a major housecleaning.

MADONNA

Who's That Girl

MADONNA

Who's That Girl (Sire/Warner Bros.)
A full summer treat for the entire pop music spectrum, this soundtrack centerpiece is dipped in a sweet Latin percussion track, a la La Isla Bonita, and should find safe harbor at all ports of call.

NICHOLAS TREMULIS

More Than The Truth (Island)

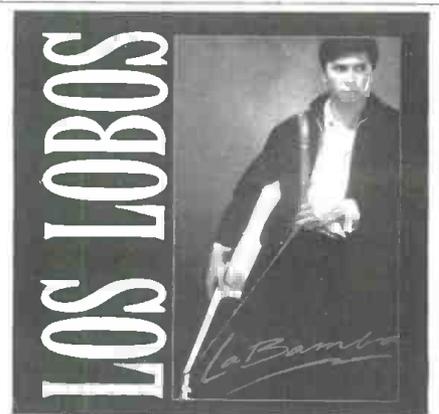

A smooth mid-tempo groove, lyric of absolute proportions and a fluid, fulfilling synthesizer bed on which to lay.

ABC

When Smokey Sings
(Mercury/PolyGram)

A sixties Motown rhythm track on the chorus fuses effectively with Martin Fry's eighties English accent and his fascination for the miracles made musically by Mr. Robinson.

LOS LOBOS

La Bamba (Slash/Warner Bros.)

The track gets three full plays in the movie set for release next month, and once you've seen the film you won't be able to get it or this song out of your head.

BIO FEEDBACK

by RON FELL

DIANA ROSS

She has cancelled nearly all of her remaining summer concerts tour so as not to interfere with her mid-term pregnancy.

GEORGE MICHAEL

Conservative BBC Radio One is playing George's "I Want Your Sex," but not before 9 p.m., and never on Top Of The Pops.

RICHARD MARX

His first single, "Don't Mean Nothing," was co-written by Bruce Geitah, who wrote Madonna's recent hit, "La Isla Bonita."

GENESIS

Their world tour concludes July 4th with a performance at London's Wembley Stadium. The tour has played for over three million people in sixteen countries.

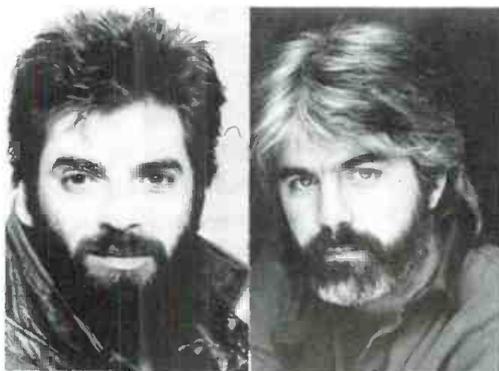

PARTLAND BROTHERS

They were members of a Canadian group called "Oliver Heavyside" before splitting and becoming a duo.

EDDIE MONEY

Ten years ago he appeared in a one-man play called "Bakk Tracks" in the part of a 90-year-old rock star who was the only survivor of a holocaust.

KENNY LOGGINS/MICHAEL McDONALD

After a one-off live appearance June 6th in Chico, California, Kenny and Michael are considering a short tour together later this summer or fall.

POINTER SISTERS

Sister Anita is working on a solo album scheduled for release later this year.

BERNIE TAUPIN

While many of his hit compositions have been written in collaboration with Elton John, he's also written a pair of number-one songs with Martin Page - The Starship's "We Built This City" and Heart's "These Dreams."

THE DOORS

July 3rd marks the 26th anniversary of the death of lead singer Jim Morrison.

JONATHAN BUTLER

Jonathan will be opening for Whitney Houston when she kicks off a nationwide concert tour on July 5th.

BE BE & CE CE WINANS

Benjamin and Pricilla, their real first names, are two of the youngest members of the famous gospel family, The Winans.

INXS with JIMMY BARNES

The Australian composers of "Good Times," George Young and Harry Vanda, were members of The Easybeats and Flash and The Pan. Jimmy Barnes was the lead singer for Cold Chisel.

ROY ORBISON

His first number one single in the Gavin Report came on July 22, 1960 with "Only The Lonely."

EVERLY BROTHERS

Contrary to a recent item in this section, The Everly Brothers are still recording for PolyGram and could have a new album out before the end of the year.

BOBBY LEE SPRINGFIELD

Still a person who can't sit still, he spent his youth attending 18 schools in 25 cities.

GEORGE HIGHFILL

For six years, he was director of the Hank Thompson School Of Countr Music at Rogers State College in Oklahoma.

With an appeal spanning four Gavin formats (Top Forty, Album Radio, Alternative and A/C), Suzanne Vega is among a fortunate few able to storm Top Forty playlists without alienating the core audience who first appreciated her expertise as a songwriter and image weaver. Vega's radio emergence shouldn't come as too much of a surprise to industry observers. Sales of her self-titled debut LP were well over the 200,000 mark in the United States alone. Vega's first successful flirtation with "pop music" culminated into "Left Of Center," a popular track off the Pretty In Pink soundtrack album. On the opposite extreme of the music spectrum, Vega supplied lyrics to Philip Glass'

"I remember being sixteen, trying to figure out exactly what was going on with my generation. I definitely felt in-between times."

SUZANNE VEGA: POPU

Songs From Liquid Days. In fact, it was composer Glass who prophetically stated, "I decided to pick someone of another generation, a much younger person who wasn't well known. Since then, she's become quite well known and I expect she'll become even better known."

By Kent Zimmerman

KZ: I understand the first song, "Tom's Diner," was originally slated to be the album's title track. When did you decide on "Solitude Standing" instead?

SV: About two weeks before we finished the record. It was partly because "Tom's Diner" was written in 1982, whereas "Solitude Standing" had just been written. I was working right up until the last day, literally, with "Ironbound," getting the lyrics together. I hardly ever work that way. Usually I like to know what I'm doing before I do it. This time, it was a bit different. Songs kept popping up. The album that I thought was going to come was so different from the album that eventually did come out.

KZ: This is the first album where you had your own band to bounce ideas off of.

SV: Definitely. I was able to be more creative. We could make up things as we went along. On "Solitude Standing," everybody came up with their part in about forty-five minutes.

KZ: Tell us about "Tom's Diner." Is it as obvious as it sounds? Is that actually a place?

SV: There is actually a place named Tom's Restaurant. It's a very ordinary place, which is partly why I liked it. People who have gone to eat there after they've heard me sing about it always seem slightly disappointed because it's the most average place you can imagine. There's nothing chic about it. I used to eat breakfast there before I went down to work. Although the song never happened to me exactly that way, it's more like a collection of details that I thought might happen to this one character. I was trying to see it through this character's eyes.

KZ: So there's no copy of the Daily News with lyrics scrawled on it. It's not a "napkin song."

SV: No. I do have some of the rough lyrics somewhere in a notebook.

KZ: Do you have any "napkin songs?"

SV: (laughs) I must, somewhere. I do have a folder that I throw everything into. There are actually a couple of ideas for songs on a couple of napkins here and there. They haven't come through, but we'll see.

KZ: Is "Ironbound" anywhere near Tom's Diner's neighborhood?

SV: Ironbound is in Newark, New Jersey, across the river. The part of town is called Ironbound because the railway tracks run around it. I was there one morning and I happened to walk by a school that said Ironbound. All these children were going in. I hadn't realized that that was the name of the section of town. I thought it was the name of the school. I remember thinking, "How strange." It sounds like a good name for a vocational school. What kind of things could you learn in this Ironbound School? It seemed so metaphorically peculiar.

KZ: Did the success of "Left Of Center" alter the course of the album?

SV: A little bit. I suppose it gave me a little more confidence to use drums. I really didn't know what the response to "Left Of Center" was going to be. Working with Arthur Baker, I remember thinking that that was about as pop as I would ever get. So I was very curious to see what the response would be, whether it would be negative, "Aww...she sold out." Instead, I got the total opposite. People told me it was great, much better than the debut album. Rolling Stone said stuff like that. I was a little surprised. It made me feel that I now had the confidence to go as far as I could in that direction. But at the same time I heard the final mixes of "Left Of Center," I also heard the final mix of Philip Glass' work on the same day, the same afternoon. I thought, "Boy, this is really stretching, going from avant-garde classical to Arthur Baker drum mixes. I felt that to be my experimental phase. I feel this album came out somewhere in between those two points. KZ: "Luka" is enjoying quite a bit of success on four Gavin formats.

SV: Luka was a boy that I used to see in my old neighborhood. He was about nine years old. He probably does not remember me. I only spoke to him once. I don't think the story I tell in the song was his problem. The problem in the song is a violent one. "Luka" was based on a real boy, but the story is fiction.

KZ: When you were starting out, did you feel in between eras and styles of music?

SV: Definitely. I remember being sixteen, trying to figure out exactly what was going on with my generation. I definitely felt in between times. When I first started singing, it was difficult for me to get a gig partly because I was quiet and shy on stage. Friends used to tell me that if I had been ten years earlier, I would have been a big star--that kind of thing. I was told I should learn something useful-- like typing. Once I got to Folk City (the now-defunct Greenwich Village club), I met a whole group of people who were also writing folk-like songs that were experimental and interesting. That's where I got some great encouragement from people like David Massengill, Frank Christian--and Christine Lavin, who has a record on Rounder--a few people like that.

KZ: Is it terrifying being onstage alone when you're just starting out?

SV: I was afraid I was going to be so quiet that nobody would be able to hear me. I have a tape of that very first gig. I bellowed the whole thing because I was afraid no one could hear me. The guy I was going out with said that it sounded like I was shouting everything. Microphones are wonderful things!

KZ: People tend to drag you into a "folk" pigeonhole, which is not quite an accurate representation of what you do.

SV: I would agree with that. I definitely feel that I've been part of the folk scene in New York, but I've had quite a few other influences besides

THE BALANCE SHIFTS

by Harvey Mednick

If there was one overriding fact that made itself known to the radio attendees at this year's Broadcast Promotion and Marketing Executives (BPME) seminar in Atlanta June 10-14, it was that they now have greater responsibility than ever to their stations' bottom line. No longer can the program director look to the promotion person to be the "T-shirt folder" or "album mailer." The role of implementer has been supplanted by that of a marketing professional who controls a sizable budget, maintains the station's image and is, as one manager in attendance put it, "the keeper of the cume."

The seminar's Second Annual Radio Luncheon kicked off with a keynote address by Westwood One Radio Network founder Norm Pattiz, who stated that, while radio may be viewed as the Rodney Dangerfield of broadcasting, it has also served as a model for emerging media. Noting that services like CNN and MTV perform more like radio than television, he added, "Radio came of age in 1986, outgrossing the movie box office and record sales."

Absolutely essential to the success of the medium are the promotion and marketing efforts that have added an air of entertainment to radio's programming staples—music, news, sports and public affairs.

Judy Horan, the BPME's outgoing president, noted that the more than 250 radio representatives (out of a total attendance of more than 2,000) were "the best advertisement" of radio's interest in the seminar. The exact number of radio attendees, according to seminar chairman Lance Webster, was 268, up from last year, but below expectations.

The number and quality of sessions devoted to radio drove home the fact that BPME is trying hard to get greater radio attendance at future seminars. Among the areas covered were Research, Network Promotions, Sales Promotions, Communication Strategies, Contests & Prizes, Event Staging & Marketing, Sports Promotions, Community Service Promotions and Giveaways. There were usually two programs running concurrently, and people hopped frantically from one to the other in an effort to garner what they could from both.

The one session that countered the spirit of progress in the air featured programmers who were supposed to deal with the future of promotion/marketing as determined by programming trends. Robert Elliot, vice president of the mighty Burkhart/Abrams/Douglas/Elliott & Associates consultancy, portrayed the promotion manager as someone who "makes sure I (as the PD) am not surprised." He then proceeded to read a checklist developed by B/A/D/E for on-air promos— which gratuitously included the promotion manager in this "critical" programming/promotion activity. He then capped his presentation by playing an interminable series of promos authored by Mark Driscoll during his tenure as PD of WZPL in Indianapolis.

Rancor aside, there was an important message that was not wasted on those in the room: Elliott was reciting the typical PD view of the promotions director—one that this seminar was working very hard to change.

The four days of intensive learning, active networking and profitable interaction wound up with a lavish reception at Atlanta's historic Fox Theatre. Chuck Blore of Hollywood-based Chuck Blore & John Richman was honored with BPME's annual Industry Achievement Award for his "lifetime contribution to the broadcast industry." Chuck is well known as one of the founders of Top 40 and a constant innovator in the field of TV promotional campaigns for radio. One of the seminar's most touching moments came when Leo Rosenberg, 91, who literally launched the field of radio promotion while announcing the 1920 Harding-Cox presidential election results, was inducted into BPME's Promotion Hall of Fame. Comedian Jay Lenno passed out the 123 Gold Medallions to winners from both radio and TV. Among the multiple radio winners were KSL-Salt Lake City, KGON-Portland and 4KQ-Brisbane, Australia.

Joseph Logsdon, Promotion/Program Director of WFTS/TV-Tampa and incoming BPME President, expressed the hope that the 1987 seminar would help to dispel the notion that promotion is not in the "management mainstream— although the promotion manager may have the image of traditionally reporting to the PD, we here at BPME in Atlanta have worked hard to help overcome this lower-management role. We want to upgrade, to provide those skills necessary to compete in the station as managers and marketers."

The bright, young, aggressive and poised radio attendees seemed eager to fulfill this prediction made by consultant George Burns: "In the next decade, the ranks of general managers will come from marketing/promotion." For those who want the big chair, the seminar set the scene. Now we've got to work to get there, and the first step to take is attendance at the 1988 BPME seminar in Los Angeles, and active involvement in the program for that meeting.

And for those of you in the PD's chair who are reading this: Take another hard look at your station's promotion director. He or she is a skilled professional who is there to help the entire management team, yourself included, to enjoy the success the entire station is after. Ask him or her about BPME. I think you'll be surprised at what you can learn, and the new respect you'll bestow.

Next time: A look at the Arbor Study, which profiles the typical promotion director and his or her responsibilities. ●

Harvey Mednick is an independent marketing and creative services consultant who has worked as RKO Radio's Vice President/Advertising & Promotion and as Marketing Director for Radio & Records.

THE CURE

GO-BETWEENS

Sammy Hagar (Geffen)

Here's the hook. Sammy Hagar's first post-Van Halen LP is no glitzy metal production. On the contrary, Sammy Hagar was recorded with a basic bone crunching feel. A couple of pleasant surprises: Eddie Van Halen plays bass (!) while Hagar (so it sez) handles all the guitar. I have a feeling a lot of us have underrated his abilities as a guitarist. Stations are jumping on "Boys Night Out" and "When The Hammer Falls." Personally I prefer the mid-tempo rocker "Hands And Knees" with that underwater Robin Trowerized guitar.

"New Direction"-Echo & The Bunnymen (Sire)

"New Direction" is the first taste of the upcoming Echo & The Bunnymen. Guitarist Will Sergeant gets the final spotlight, stretching out a solo to magnificent proportions.

"Hot Love"-Twisted Sister (Atlantic)

No more fooling around. Twisted F. Sister gets back to business. Aside from being a media figure and visual curiosity, Dee Snider is a great rock n roll singer. He shows it here.

"When Smokey Sings"-ABC (Mercury)

Finally, a flashback to what made their first LP, Lexicon Of Love, so refreshing. Sweet and stringy, but what the heck. We like it.

Clutching At Straws-Marillion (Capitol)

Beautifully recorded and conceived, Clutching At Straws is more like a movie--actually, a play--than a simple disc of songs. However, like Roger Water's Radio Waves, tunes are easily extractable into airplay form. As with Marillion's past ventures, lyric and story match music in terms of importance. Ironically, Marillion in the studio is as flashy and theatrical as things get. Even in live performance, the band chooses to cater to the imagination rather than peddle eye candy and cheap effects. Songs whisk by on this album. Before you know it, you're three trax deep, surrounded and enthralled by careful arrangements and deft musicianship. Besides "Incommunicado," check "Sainte Mhath" and "Torch Song." Interestingly, each song is noted by where the song was originally written.

A Letter From St. Paul-The Silencers (RCA)

The other day, I dusted off my copy of "Bulletproof Heart" by Fingerprintz on the Virgin/Atlantic label. Damned if it doesn't hold up, which makes the gleaming superiority of Jimmie O'Neil's new group, The Silencers, no huge surprise. On the cover are four guys, three amps, guitars and drums. Though The Silencers make it seem easy, there's a lot of intertwining of ideas at work, making this record a special one. These are the kind of records that keep music junkies from throwing up their hands and joining a monastery. If "Painted Moon's" fade-up, smack-in-the-face intro doesn't push your buttons, hallowed be thy name. Perhaps you should be reciting mass or hand-copying Bibles. Other trax: "I Can't Cry," "I See Red" and "Bullets And Blue Eyes."

Once Bitten-Great White (Capitol)

Great White has recorded an anthem they will be singing until they retire onto the lounge circuit come the year 2000. "Rock Me" is a natural for a wide range of Album Radio stations, not solely because of the soft groove passages, but because the song is one of those one-in-a-million outbursts some bands luckily stumble upon. The remainder of the album is a jolt back to the world of decibels and leather. With Whitesnake happening and now this, Robert Plant either is proud as hell or he's looking in his rear view mirror. Top Forty people take note of "Rock Me."

THE FABULOUS THUNDERBIRDS

Hot Numbers-The Fabulous Thunderbirds (CBS)

Ever been, as George Thorogood once put it, "outdoors"? Have you ever been in between partners when he or she got the house or the apartment? Well, chances are you've been on the "Sofa Circuit." That track epitomizes the subtle groove the T-Birds have adapted on Hot Numbers. Aside from immediate contenders like "Stand Back" and the revived "How Do You Spell Love," my faves are the songs that occupy the alleyways and backstreets of this album. A few examples include "Streets Of Gold" and "Wasted Tears." This time around, the Fab T-Birds have decided on embracing a cozier and close-miked intimacy. Ironically, of all their albums (and we ALL have our favorites) this one gets closest to the roots. Chuck Willis would be proud. One complaint...Hey Kim, bring back the turban!

STARSHIP

No Protection-Starship (GrunT/RCA)

I'm in love with the album's opener, "Beat Patrol." Producer Peter Wolf does an amazing job putting together a complex yet intricate arrangement of instruments and voices that scamper across the speakers. After that, it's into Narada Walden's number-one production, "Nothing's Gonna Stop Us Now." The third track features yet another producer, former Music "Talk Talk" Machine bassist Keith Olsen. No Protection is primarily a tug of war between Olsen, who heavies up the band, and Wolf, who challenges their potential to brandish soft and hardware weaponry. Listen to this album loudly. Credit should go to the band for being so open and malleable. Other trax: "Girls Like You" and "The Children."

GRATEFUL DEAD

Touch Of Grey-The Grateful Dead (Arista)

They will survive! Twenty years since the "summer of love" and Haight Street still rools. Long live the Dead! Play the long version twice!

Duane Eddy (Capitol)

Even on some of his early work like Have Twangy Guitar Will Travel, Duane Eddy was into mixing the instrumental music of the times (like slick movie themes), combining big production with raunchy, sidearm guitar. Hence the participation of folks like Paul McCartney, James Burton, George Harrison, John Fogerty, Ry Cooder, Art Of Noise and David Lindley--all of whom give Eddy a contemporary dose of production. Check out the "superstars" not too proud to mug in front of the camera next to Sir Gretch. This is no loose jam LP. Everything rides extremely tight and in its place. The smash track is a cover of "Rockestra Theme," produced by Paul McCartney along with "Spies."

Understanding Jane-Icicle Works (Beggars Banquet/RCA)

A little something for the "big hair" people. First Jane's getting serious, now we have to start understanding her. Heavy stuff from a band known for playing it much poppier and lighter. From the album If You Want To Defeat Your Enemy Sing His Song. Hmrrrrrrrr. Hmrrrrrrrr. KZ

INSIDE ALBUM

by Kent Zimmerman

FIRST THINGS FIRST, MATEYS. Welcome a new station. John Larson is the PD at WAAW/FM, a 100,000 watt commercial station serving West Kentucky and parts of Tennessee and Illinois. That includes a student population of 8,000. Address is 118 S. 5th Street, Murray, KY, 42071. Phone number is 502-759-1300. John would love to hear from you.

HAD TO LAUGH. Vigil Thompson at WIXV-Savannah reports the station had $5,000 to give away to listeners who heard the designated "hot track." Ten $500 cash lumps were parcelled out. Everytime "Twist And Shout" let loose, listeners would blow out the Savannah phone lines, preventing anyone else from even getting a dial tone. The phone company was not pleased, even though it didn't interfere with 911...Deb Brady at WXXP- Pittsburgh added the Young Fresh Fellow's song called "Amy Grant"... Charlie Wrobbel discovers a Gavin fave by adding Mondo Boffo's "I Wanna Be A Marine." The next line is "I wanna use a latrine".

IT'S ALL IN YOUR MIND. Jamie Karr at KACV-Amarillo says that The Silencers sounds to him like Gerry Rafferty's "Baker Street"...KEYX-Phoenix's Jonathan Rosen is hot on Pete Wiley, upcoming on Virgin... Dead-heads are coming out of the woodwork. I'm talking about Dave Hatton and Chris Stoney of KMED-Medford. "We're a satellite Dead community," admitted Hatton...At first I thought it was fake, but Sean Coakley forwards a copy of the New York Post who dutifully reports that Bernhard Goetz is anxiously awaiting a copy of the upcoming Dead LP In The Dark...An old reporter buddy, Red Noise called in for vacationing Alan White with the KILO-Colorado Springs list. At the top of the adds was the Dead, who are playing a round of shows in the Rocky Mountain area, as if things aren't spacey enough up and out there...KFOG-San Francisco's only add was the Dead. Phones are continuous for more. "People are chomping at the bit"....."If I had one more slot on the playlist..." said Michael Right at KNOX-Grand Forks. He was expressing his admiration for The Silencers. Somebody should hold him to it this week...KRXQ/93 ROCK in Sacramento is a good barometer for new stuff. Ron Garrett adds The Silencers as well...Ty Banks and KQWB-Fargo knows how to mix it up. In heavy, side by side is U2's "Spanish Eyes" alongside The Cult, Suzanne Vega, The Call and Motley Crue...#1 at WHMD-Hammond is Level 42's "Lesson In Love." Catfish Phil is also hot on Whitesnake. The Call is testing well...Never a week goes by without a Farrenheit add. This time it's Mike Michelli of WONE-Akron.

ADDS AND SODS. Over at KBCO, Doug Clifton and Ginger Havlat add the following: In Vitro, Neville Brothers, Grateful Dead, Great White and Pat Metheny...WNEW/FM celebrates WXRK's sojourn into classicism by adding The Dead, Little Steven's "Freedom," Simple Minds, Fogelberg, P. Furs, Truth and Cutting Crew...91X's Peoples' Choice of the Week was "All The Love" by The Only Ones...KZEL added The Call, only Bill St. James is sweet on another track. "In The River" is my pick of the week, "proclaimed America's number one k. d. Lang fan...Mike Marrone at WHTG-Asbury Park, NJ is deep into The Cure. "I keep finding another cut."...Sky Walker at KQSP-Spokane is revving up his engines. The station will be hosting the Spokane Grand Prix, broadcasting three days on the site...KLOS adds Cruzados, Hagar and The Dead...Coast to coast ABC adds on both KROQ and WLIR...Patty Martin at KSJO-San Jose agrees. The Charlie Daniels is a damn good song. We sez check it out. Stay well.

INSIDE ALTERNATIVE RADIO

by Peter Standish

Suzanne Vega delays the inevitable triumph of The Cure for at least another week. Heavy phones for their double album are coming in to Bruce McDonald-WFNX Lynn/Boston, Steve Balcom WXYC-Chapel Hill, Matt Potolsky KDVS-Davis, Ken Ornberg KABL-Minneapolis, etc. But the big news is just inside our top ten as three albums bolt up from #20 or lower. The Jesus & Mary Chain 12" achieves the remarkable feat of huge airplay without the benefit of a full album. The Go-Betweens and X (#1 Most Added) pulled off dramatic gains as full album play sunk in. X is one of the strongest new releases for Bob Showacre WHFS-Annapolis, Jim Keller KJET-Seattle, James Lien WTUL-New Orleans, etc. Warren Zevon, Marshall Crenshaw (stronger than his 7 slot jump indicates), Bob Pfeifer (who finally busts loose) and That Petrol Emotion are the fastest mid-chart gainers. Almost twice as many records debuted on the chart as normal, with the Certified Silencers and Hard Ons leading the way. Lin Brehmer (aka Elliott Ness) WXRT- Chicago is a big Silencers supporter, while Larry "The Duck" Dunn WLIR-Long Island has been raving about "The Girl In The Sweater" by the Hard Ons for weeks. Steve Jones, The Call ("Every hair on my body stood up when I heard "In The River"-Mike Marrone WHTG-Asbury Park), Steve Earle, Nitzer Ebb and Bleached Black broke past chartbound. Bleached Black could have been Record To Watch except they had such a great week that the only thing to watch was their debut. BB is the hottest new record for Bill McLaughlin at KUSF-San Francisco, Gina Mainwal KUNV-Las Vegas, Lisa Securo WUNH-Durham, NH, Adam Langley WBNY-Buffalo, etc. Figures On A Beach are our Record To Watch with Maximum play at WLIR, 91X, WHTG, WMDK and WUSC carrying the torch. Moderate play includes KBCO, KEYX, KTAO, KACV, WXCI, KWWC etc. Shelleyan Orphan is also on the march, drawing a core of college play from WUOG, WXCI, WRVU, KBSU, WXYC, WRAS, WBNY, KVNF, WUSC, etc.

SPOTLIGHT LPS

Live, Love, Larf & Loaf-FRENCH, FRITH, KAISER, THOMPSON (Rhino)

The role of art in music can always stimulate a lively debate. This new John French, Fred Frith, Henry Kaiser and Richard Thompson "super-group" album builds a solid case for artistic achievement that might not appeal to your typical 7-11 shopper. You'll be pressed to find obvious hooks on Live, Love, Larf & Loaf, but that's not the point. There's more to music than adds, rotations, chart positions, etc. (i.e. the industry). LLL & L meets the adventurous criteria of Alternative music with dissident layers of guitars and rhythms on "Wings a la Mode," "Hai Sai Oji-San" and "Drowned Dog Black Night." "Disposable Thoughts" sounds like it could have been an out-take from Captain Beefheart. Not suprisingly, it's written by former Beefheart drummer John French (aka Drumbo). For a good laugh, check out the hilarious cover of "Surfin' USA."

Keep Your Distance-CURIOSITY KILLED THE CAT (Mercury/PolyGram)

Curiosity may have indeed killed the cat, but your curiosity in this band will reap high rewards. CKTC breaks through the clouded and dreamy visions of Everything But The Girl, translating them into bright, warm, pop sunshine. Emphasis is heavy on brass and blue-eyed soul grooves. Sip your martinis to "Misfit," "Down To Earth," "Red Lights," "Ordinary Day" and the Sly and Robbie produced "Free."

SUZANNE VEGA

folk. There's rock n roll and minimalism like Philip Glass and Steve Reich, and a lot of Brazilian jazz.

KZ: I hear Astrid Gilberto in your voice.

SV: When I was a kid growing up, I thought her voice was the most beautiful I'd ever heard. It was simple and straightforward, with no vibrato. I guess I felt that was the way everyone should sing.

KZ: What about Leonard Cohen?

SV: I love Leonard Cohen. I also like his voice. I may be one of the few people who prefer hearing him sing his own songs as opposed to women with beautiful voices singing his songs. I prefer hearing him because he's so dry. I think most people who have dark sides have good senses of humor.

Morrissey of the Smiths is a little bit like that. I like the Smiths a lot.

KZ: Wasn't the Smiths' guitarist, Johnny Marr, supposed to perform on the album?

SV: We talked about getting together and working. Then he had to work on his album. I can understand how it is, when everyone is jumping on you to get your album done. That didn't work out, but I hope we'll meet up at some point.

KZ: What about your co-producer, Lenny Kaye? I remember reading his rock criticism. He was also a guitarist with Patty Smith. What is his role when you make records? Isn't your production team a close-knit group of friends?

SV: Yes. Steve Addabbo has been a friend of mine for a while. He works with Lenny. You might say Steve works on the technical aspects of things, making sure the band has their equipment and that the parts are right and everything sounds good, whereas Lenny works with me more on the conceptual side of things. He's great to talk to about ideas and concepts. Actually, with this album, he was the greatest help in the world. He made sure I wasn't falling back on myself. I have a tendency to be hard on myself. If I don't like the way something's going, I'll get depressed or say, "This isn't working. The hell with it, forget it. I don't want this on the album. There's not gonna be a song." And there were three songs that were like that. Lenny had to kick my rear end to get me to commit words to paper and quit fooling around. But he does it in the most considerate way. He's so smart. I could talk to him all day about... anything. In some ways, he's a spiritual companion. He gets into the record on an emotional level. With Lenny, it was a pilgrimage together. The two of us were fighting through the album, every day—not with each other. Can you imagine what it's like starting pre-production with three songs that were not finished? Then when we were done with pre-production we still had two songs that had no lyrics and one song—"Caspar Hauser"—with just a drum track. That's all we had—the drum track! Lenny was at his wit's end. It's hard to work with me because I'm rather stubborn. If I get it into my mind that something's not working, I'm not going to slap some stupid words onto a piece of paper so I can put it on a record. Lenny has a delicate job of inspiring me to write without making it obvious that that's what he's trying to do. He's great to work with.

KZ: How did "Tom's Diner" become decapitated, with the a cappella vocal on the front of the album and an instrumental version at the end?

SV: I've always performed that song a cappella because I had always imagined it with a kind of tinny-sounding out-of-tune piano playing behind me. I don't play piano at all. I had asked a couple of people if they would want to arrange a piano track for "Tom's Diner." Joe Jackson said "No" because he liked the way it sounded a cappella. But in the back of my mind, I still wanted to have some kind of music there. I brought it out to the band and I said, "I think we should arrange it in such a way that it's interesting." I didn't know what to tell them. I thought it was going to sound a little bit more rowdy than it did, but my band isn't really the rowdy type. They organized it as a tango. They did the whole job themselves.

KZ: How is it being a bandleader?

SV: It's fun. In some ways, it's like being part of a family again. I know it sounds corny, but it's true. I'm the oldest of four kids, so it's like that. You have to keep your eye on everybody and make sure everyone's happy and that nobody's sulking or going off for a walk in the woods. I like it a lot. It's very satisfying.

KZ: "Gypsy" was a single in England long before the album was released here. You worked with producer Mitch Easter on that track.

SV: I made that with Mitch Easter and Steve Addabbo last summer when we were thinking of working with different producers. Lenny was busy. He got a lot of job offers from the first album producing a few people like Microdisney and Weather Prophets. At one point we were thinking of working with other producers, and "Gypsy" was kind of a test drive to work with Mitch. I liked working with him quite a lot, but he was active with his own band, Let's Active, so it didn't work out in the long run.

KZ: You have a big following in England. How did that happen so fast?

SV: I'm not really sure. My following is actually bigger there than here. More copies of the first record sold in England than it has here. Of course England is comparatively a much smaller country, so it's astounding to think that would've happened. All I knew is that we were playing moderately-sized houses. Suddenly I kept hearing these reports of 25,000 copies being sold a week. I figured they must be mistaken. Then I did two nights at the Royal Albert Hall in October (of '86), with 5,000 people a night. It a very beautiful place. It's huge, but it's very pretty.

KZ: That was the hall Bob Dylan played in during the filming of Don't Look Back.

SV: I haven't seen...

KZ: Buy the tape! It's only $29.95!

SV: I have the tape at home, but I haven't seen it yet. I've been really busy. I've been finishing this album.

KZ: It sounds like this was a tough album. SV: In a way, it was. I knew "Tom's Diner" was ready. I knew "Luka" was ready and "Gypsy" and "Calypso," but I didn't want to make it a record of old songs. I felt like I had to find a new way of working to get my feet back on the ground and my confidence again. It always hard when you're trying to create something out of thin air. You have to do a lot of digging.

KZ: So there's truth to the saying you have all your life to write that first album and eight months for the follow-up.

SV: That's the way people perceive it. I was shocked. My whole life, I've wanted to make one album. You make your album, it does pretty well and suddenly everyone's looking at you asking, "Where's your second one?" It's like having children. What's the matter with the first one? The first one's still there. It's still good. Of course, the world doesn't see it that way. The world sees it in terms of product. "Where's your new product?" Whaddaya mean product? I'll be interested to see what happens in the future, to see if I've gotten over a real hump here and whether I can continue. As a kid, I remember thinking I could never ever make up something in the studio. I was not that kind of artist because I'd heard Lou Reed worked that way. But three or four songs on this album turned out exactly that way, like "Caspar Hauser" and "Ironbound." Maybe I will turn out to be an "album-a-year" person. I'm sure A&M would be relieved, and so would my manager. (laughs)

KZ: Prior to recording your first album, you released a few things independently.

SV: I was involved with Fast Folk Magazine in New York. They're still recording people. A few of my songs came out on that—"Cracking," "Small Blue Thing" and "Some Journey."

KZ: You live and work out of New York City. Can you picture yourself ever living elsewhere?

SV: Sometimes I think I might like to live in Europe. The cities are much cleaner there. But New York is definitely unique. I've never lived anywhere else, so I don't know how I would take to it. I grew up in the kind of neighborhood that if you walked a block in one direction it was upper-middle class but if you walk another block in another direction it was all projects. It's very very mixed. It's like a minefield.

KZ: The name of your album, Solitude Standing, implies you're a moody person. Yet you don't seem to be.

SV: I must say, I write when I'm in a certain mood. That mood comes out in the song, "Solitude Standing." But in real life, I think I'm a lot more cheerful. I was in Japan recently. One person looked at me and he said, "From your music, I thought that you would be a very mysterious woman. But I see you are talkative and cheerful." I think he seemed a bit disappointed. I mean, I have my quiet and moody times. The band can certainly tell you about those. But for the most part, I take care of that side in myself in my music, so I don't have to be that way in real life, too. ●

INSIDE COUNTRY

Holly Dunn, Academy Of Country Music's Best New Female Artist of 1986 finally nudges her way to the top of the chart. However, there's serious competition as Reba McEntire moves another five slots to the number two position, and Ronnie Milsap snaps into third place. Quickly making their way up the chart, The Trio increase their HIT FACTOR from 85% to 91%. The same goes for Hank Williams Jr. who jumps from 76% to an impressive 86%. Debuting at number 28 are this week's CERTIFIED duet, Kenny Rogers and Ronnie Milsap. Judy Rodman also CERTIFIED is already in HIGH ROTATION at K92/FM- Destin, FL. RECORD TO WATCH, The Desert Rose Band, receives 40 adds, with a lot of positive response. Former RECORD TO WATCH Foster & Lloyd continue doing well. Chuck Walley at WGAA-Cedartown says "The reaction is awesome!", and Phil Badger at WKRE-Exmore, VA, reports, "Immediate response as soon as 'Crazy Over You' hit the turntable." Another record receiving strong support is Joe Kenyon's "Hymne." Ken Conlin at KRED-Eureka, CA, says, "It continues to climb and receives a lot of positive phones." Michael Johnson's 'Ponies' is a hot number at KYKR-Pt. Arthur, and is doing extremely well at KNIX-Phoenix and WXTU-Philadelphia.

Here at The Gavin Report, Associate Editor Lisa Smith has finally gone on maternity leave as she patiently awaits her first child. Be assured we'll announce the arrival of "Little K."

Meanwhile, helping out while Lisa's away are Liz Pullen and Lisa Austin.

Have a Great Week! Natalie and Elma

REVIEWS

Hit Factor is a percentage of stations which have it in Heavy or Medium rotation. ie: 100 stations playing the record -- 60 stations have it in Heavy or Medium rotation -- Hit Factor = 60%

ROSANNE CASH - "King's Record Shop"

(Columbia) Rosanne returns with a fresh style and a new LP. "King's Record Shop" (appropriately titled after a reknowned little store in Louisville) is an A-1 showcase of Rosanne's multiple talents. Produced by husband Rodney Crowell, the LP features such diverse artists as Benmont Tench (Tom Petty & Heartbreakers), Steve Winwood and Patty Smyth. Favorite tracks include: IF YOU CHANGE YOUR MIND, RUNAWAY TRAIN and TENNESSEE FLAT TOP BOX (written by her father, Johnny Cash).

LEE GREENWOOD - "If There's Any Justice" (MCA)

Once again Lee delivers his music with commitment and meaning. The album combines an occasional upbeat tempo with touching ballads. With the help of co-producer Jimmy Bowen Lee's stylized vocals and instrumental tracks come to life. Noteworthy cuts include the title track and "Silver Dollar," a heartwarming narrative supposedly based on a true story. The single "Someone" only hints at the intense romantic messages prevalent throughout the album.

WHERE IS AM BROADCASTING HEADED?

Brian Henry, a San Francisco broadcast engineer who built his own AM radio station, KLLK in Willits, California, wrote to me on the subject:

"Is it possible that AM broadcasters are perhaps viewing their medium from the wrong perspective? Rather than viewing the current situation as the 'death of AM,' quite possibly this should be construed as a 're-birth' period. The national audience for AM has dropped to around 25 percent of that available, similar to the size of the FM audience in the early 1970s.

There are countless factors which caused the gradual shift to FM, all directly tied to the market force. For example, I distinctly remember early AM/FM transistor radios that had such poor sensitivity that the FM section was practically useless, but, as the market began to dictate improved receivers, they became available to the consumer.

"The AM broadcast band has had a longer period of time to become 'worn out,' being considerably older than the FM band. I would venture to guess that 80 percent of the AM stations in the United States have technical facilities that are 15 to 20 years behind the times.

"Anybody who has ever done sales knows that, for the most part, there is no quick fix to a sales problem. The solution is more often than not hard work and a thorough understanding of the problem at hand.

"AM broadcasters need to work on more than one front. First and foremost, they need to invest in their facilities. They are in the business of selling 'sound.' It only makes sense to be able to deliver as high a quality of audio as is technically possible. Today's FM facilities easily operate under one percent total harmonic distortion; and today's AM radio is capable of reaching that mark, too. The pre-emphasis curve that the National Radio Standards Committee (NRSC) is proposing (and that the NAB is advocating) is very important--if only for this reason that it gives every AM broadcaster a uniform standard to work with. All things being equal, it provides a consistency that has been missing for at least 30 years.

"I would like to urge AM broadcasters to take the following steps:

"1) Clean up your facility, regardless of whether or not it is in stereo. Every piece of audio equipment must meet the manufacturer's original specifications. Even a station with equipment that is over 20 years old can have acceptable audio performance if the equipment is maintained properly.

"2) Insure that your transmission system is capable of passing anything that is put into it. This generally means that overall frequency response be within 1 dB from 50 Hz to 12 kHz. Worst-case total harmonic distortion should not exceed two percent at any level of modulation. (Your transmitter may be nicely flat, but unless you have checked the tower system, you may be rolling off your highs badly. Many older tower systems were built with "high Q" characteristics for more efficient transmission on the carrier frequency, but with considerable roll-off of the sidebands--where the high frequencies are.)

"3) Adopt an audio processing system that is in agreement with the NRSC/NAB pre-emphasis standard. This is important for uniformity throughout the band. At this point, I'd like to stress something else which quite likely contributed to the success of the FM band in the mid-70s: Clean, not loud! As an example, the Optimod 8000A was capable of only 10 dB of gain reduction. Many stations used it, and sounded incredibly good. (Others pushed it too hard and sounded terrible.) Loud, over-processed AM radio is not the answer. There is unquestionably a point at which increased loudness just results in a 'dial punch.'

"4) Be innovative with your product. Do a quality job with it, and be in it for the long term. There is no short-term fix for AM radio, but the medium can become dominant again. I might suggest that chasing the 50+ audience today can only lead to ruin tomorrow. When they die, you die. The key to AM radio's future is today's youth. It's going to take time (and imagination), but the first step is to get the technical standards into place. The next step is programming--and innovation is the key here. One station alone can't do it; it takes a joint effort by the whole industry. If we work together, we can change the situation. It won't happen overnight. AM broadcasting needs to re-establish its respectability. Perhaps it's time to invest in the future!"

My thanks to Mr. Henry, who, I might add, practices what he preaches. You can find his station profiled in the December 1986 BM/E engineering magazine that most stations receive free. His station was featured as one of the best-designed and engineered in the country.●

INSIDE URBAN RADIO

STEPHANIE MILLS "feels good" at number one. How long she can keep JANET JACKSON out of that spot is anybody's guess - probably not long. MILLS has a 100% Hit Factor, meaning all stations reporting this week have her in heavy or medium rotation. JANET has a 95% Hit Factor, but is a newer record by two weeks, and could hit 100% next week. FREDDIE JACKSON makes the biggest move in the chart. It's also hot on phones for George Frazier, KOKY-Little Rock, and is getting good calls for Jon Eric, KJAM-Mission, TX. Another big mover is GEORGIO, which is drawing calls for Royce Blake, KKPW-Tucson, Gary Weiler, WBLZ-Cincinnati and Joe Diaz, WWIL-Wilmington.

Reaching a high spot on this week's Up & Coming, SHALAMAR is starting to pick up phone action for Dee Perry, WEKS-Atlanta, and Michael Hightower, KXOJ/AM-Tulsa. Stan Boston, WTOY-Roanoke, made it his "Pick It Or Stick It" and the listeners loved it. His "Valley Special" choice was the JESSE JAMES, "I Can Do Bad By Myself." Could be one to check out. Former "Record To Watch" PEGGI BLU picks up 6 adds: WAMO-Pittsburgh, WDKX-Rochester, KRNB-Memphis, WTLC-Indianapolis, KKPW-Tucson, and KJLH-Los Angeles. Stations already listing it in heavy rotation are WTMP-Tampa and WWIL-Wilmington. LEVERT debuts in a big way: first week out, 42 adds, making it this week's most added.

Some hot LP cuts for this summer have been brought to my attention. James Alexander, WJLB-Detroit, reports that L.L. COOL J's "I Need Love" is generating enough interest to make it the number one phones with the older demos. Tony Scott, WJTT-Chattanooga, reports that it's getting teen calls. Joe Bullard, WANM-Tallahassee, and Tonya Pendleton, WILD-Boston, report all demos. Steve Crumbley, WOWI-Norfolk and WPDQ-Jacksonville, says it's the first rap record that has generated requests from the 26+ group. It's a slow rap that's not offending the adult demos. David Rosas, WWWS/FM-Saginaw, show the PRINCE cut "Adore" as his number-one requested ballad for nine weeks in a row! Mikki Spencer, WKIE-Richmond, reports that same cut getting constant requests.

This week's "Record To Watch," THERESA, is already getting its heaviest action out of FM102-Sacramento, where Chris Collins already has it in heavy rotation. THERESA, whose last name is King, is a cousin of Jay King, the associate producer of this single. She used to play the State Fair and local clubs and community centers in Sacto, so it makes sense that this single should take off there first. Watch it grow!

DARE WE DREAM ON?

During the past three issues, we've commemorated Black Music Month with a brief look at some of the people, places and problems of early black radio in America. In this concluding chapter, we thought we'd take a look at the future--after all, the growth process continues, and we must reach for new branches and continue the climb.

Those of us who care have to look beyond the music. The problems facing our listeners cannot go unnoticed. They are the problems the consultants don't want to talk about...perhaps because they don't understand them. But we do, and, while that doesn't mean we have to stop playing the hits, it should encourage us to say something meaningful between them. Radio still has to be fun to win, and, like the Cosby Show, there's a message that needs to get through every now and then.

When Dr. Martin Luther King declared his dream for America in 1963, his vision seemed to many Americans both noble and attainable. Today, that dream seems somehow naive and utopian, no closer to realization than when it was articulated. The bottom stratum of the minority community seems increasingly to be without hope of achieving full equality of opportunity. The latest figures on welfare dependency, unemployment, inner-city crime, incarceration of our youth, the drop-out rate in big-city high schools, teenage pregnancy, and children raised in single-parent households are staggering.

Behind the statistics is a misery, hopelessness and alienation that is difficult to comprehend for anyone without direct experience of this social stratum. For the sake of the future, we must continue to act as a voice of the community, responding to those dreamers and helping those dreams along the road to fulfillment. And if we use long musical sweeps to encourage our listeners to tune in for extended periods of time, when we do finally stop for the spots and the promos and the PSAs, we've really got to be focused, fast and fresh to be effective.

TOMORROW'S LEADERS

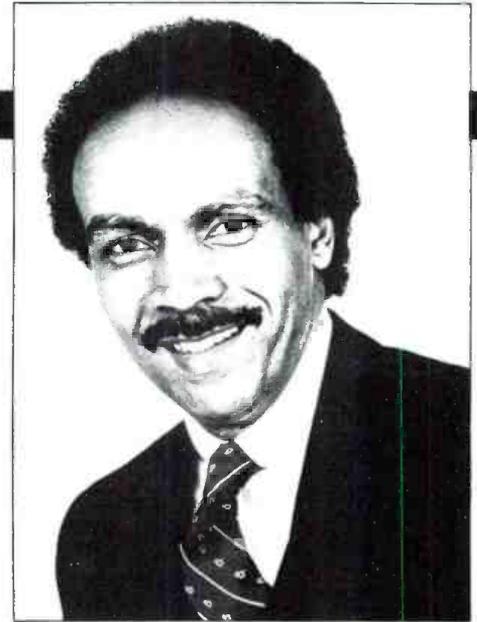

From today's air talent will come tomorrow's programmers, consultants, and even managers and owners. Some will make it through the obstacle course. They will be computer-literate and highly skilled, and, once they develop the callousness to cope, they will be more involved and caring than the generation they replace. It is to these potential leaders that the remainder of this column is dedicated:

On your way to the top, get involved--politically and socially. There are answers. We can't blame all our problems on racism, or continue to insist that circumstances prove the continuing existence of unsolvable problems. The solutions will have to come from you. You may not be able to solve them by yourself, but you can raise the issue so they can stick out and be seen--and maybe solved by someone else. This is the old, but effective method used by civil rights activists to embarrass, harass, compel and cajole white America into taking up its unfinished business and admitting its guilt for the perpetuation of racism.

While you're playing the hits and giving away prizes and doing all the fun you must do to keep winning, you must also be aware of what's going on around you. Then, when election time comes around, you can mean something to the community you serve. A winning station can continue to win big by showing that it cares. How about encouraging education with some scholarships as prizes in a direct tie-in with the school system? How about getting a corporation to sponsor an anti-drug program, where jocks go out to the schools? Wouldn't that do much to discredit the notion that our audience is more into rapping than learning--that they have less and less incentive to avoid trouble with the law or to remain employed, to keep their families together and ensure that their daughters finish high school without becoming pregnant?

In spite of the obvious good they have accomplished, much of the present leadership of civil rights organizations and in Congress remains wedded to an outmoded conception of the plight of minorities in this country. There is too much the story of discrimination, repression, hopelessness and frustration--and too little the uplifting saga of the march forward to genuine empowerment, whether others participate or not. There are always some who are out front. Urban and black radio have been leaders in many cities, and will continue to be, even more as cities with smaller minority populations discover the magic in the music and the appeal of our formats. And this proves we really don't need quotas to succeed, just the opportunity.

While you're playing the hits and giving away prizes and doing all the fun you must do to keep winning, you must also be aware of what's going on around you.

Finally, a quick word about quotas. In some ways, they--or at least the demand for quotas--may have hurt us. Many saw quotas as the only path to equality, in a sense endorsing the notion that blacks could never otherwise be equal. Aside from those instances where quotas were ordered by courts in the face of explicit findings of illegal discrimination, the use of different standards for hiring and educating blacks and other minorities tacitly acknowledged their inability to perform up to the standards of whites. And that simply is not true.

As we celebrate Black Music Month, it is also interesting to note that in June, 34 years ago, the Supreme Court ordered Washington, D.C., restaurants to serve "respectable" black people. His royal Badness, Prince, was born in June, 27 years ago, and another June saw the passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. Like Black History Month in February, June has a special meaning for special people, and we're making history in music every June and every month. Just like in school, tomorrow's history will consist of today's events. And, especially in our business, every time history repeats itself, the price doubles.●

By Betty Hollars and John Martinucci

CLAUDJA BARRY - Secret Affair (Epic)
The intro of this song draws you in like "Erotic City" did. The repetitive hook creates an infectious and subconscious audience grabber.

JELLYBEAN - Who Found Who (Chrysalis) Walked back in our office and caught John dancing to this, so it's an automatic club choice! Jellybean "found" himself a fine lady vocalist by the name of Elise Fiorello, who sounds like a very sophisticated version of the Madonna/Regina/Stacey Q and all other puberty-stricken females.

PEPSI AND SHIRLIE - Heartache (Polydor/PolyGram) Re-mix has great intro - not to be overlooked! Our apologies to those who might be trying to recover from all those female releases. This is a must! Pick-A-Mix - they're all GREAT!!

DIONNE WARWICK and JEFFREY OSBORNE - Love Power (Arista) If that's what friends are for, Dionne has found a friend in Jeffrey. Their voices blend so well together, it's hard to say whose complements the other's the best. Marvelous duet with good tempo for our format.

TRIVIA QUESTION FOR WEEK FOUR:

Q. Can you name the jovial singer and piano player from New Orleans who appeared in several rock and roll movies, owned his own label, Broadmoor Records, and recorded 22 gold singles?

Do you know the answer to this Star Quiz question?

In celebration of Black Music Month, the Gavin Report presents Star Quiz, exclusively for Gavin Report subscribers. Guidelines are as follows:

1. Only Gavin Report subscribers may enter.
2. Four different questions will be given during the four weekly issues of Gavin during Black Music Month. Subscribers may mail in their answers or phone them in when calling in their weekly reports.
3. At the end of the four weeks, a winner will be drawn from those subscribers who have submitted four correct answers.
4. MJI Broadcasting is responsible for the delivery of all prizes.

Random Notes from Hollywood & Vine

We think it's time for the PMRC to expand its activities and start looking into the world outside the record business. Our considered opinion is that the rest of society is a lot more risqué than Ozzy Osbourne and Lucy In The Sky With Diamonds (which, by the way, the PMRC never mentioned in this, the 20th anniversary of Sgt. Pepper).

Examples: Barbara Wawa asked Donna Rice on national TV--which is watched by a number of individuals under 12--whether or not she'd actually slept with Gary Hart. The PMRC said nothing. During the telecast of the Lakers' victory parade, a number of signs prominently displayed on the tube featured most of the seven words which can't be said, all of them utilized in inventive putdowns of Beantown's losing Celtics.

Discussions of intimate places where Fawn Hall might have stored secret documents have taken place on such venerated programs as "Nightline" and "David Brinkley's Journal." Yet the PMRC prattles on about The Dead Kennedys. Sleazy details have been published about exactly how Jim Bakker bedded or didn't bed Jessica Hahn...details which can be read by nuns...or my mother! Yet the Washington Wives focus on RUN DMC and their ilk--groups people CHOOSE to see, and whose records they CHOOSE to purchase. If anyone doesn't like RUN DMC, etc., they can simply exercise their right to pass. TV and the papers, however, don't give you that option. It's all there in black & white, right along with Doonesbury and Dagwood.

The L.A. Times recently featured a story about a lady who was just elected to a seat in the Italian parliament, and who garnered more than some attention by appearing topless at most of her "political" rallies. Tipper Gore and her buddies haven't been heard from on THAT. Then, of course, there's the rampant promiscuous sex on TV sitcoms and soaps. Despite AIDS awareness, Lance Cumson of "Falcon Crest" and J.R. Ewing of "Dallas" are most casual in their sleeping encounters, and our youngsters and the above-mentioned nuns watch these scary role models. Never mind the flagrant stuff on non-FCC-governed cable, where bizarre witchery, bloody violence, indiscriminate sexual activity and foul language are the order of the day--and night--every day and night. It goes on and on, and the PMRC are...is?...silent.

► We've been told over and over again that we don't recognize the "new technology" because we haven't transferred our LP collection to CD, and that we've obviously never heard just how crisp a synthesizer can sound. We're not a total dinosaur, yet we can't figure out how to go about this. We have many thousands of LPs with liner notes we can read without the aid of a magnifying glass. We like to finger these albums, play with them, caress them, look at them and sometimes even listen to them. Not only that, but our shelves have been built to accommodate their size, and MOST important, we can't imagine how the Sgt. Pepper LP which we heard this morning (for the first time in years), which was recorded in (get this) FOUR TRACK, could sound any crisper. This could be due to failing hearing, but we doubt it. We like our LPs, won't live long enough to hear them all and just haven't got time to switch them over to crisper sound. Rock critic Todd Everett of the LA Herald Examiner, a much hipper person than us, agrees. By the way, we have broken down and CD is now in our system because a lot of product is only shipped to us in that form. It DOES sound good, but dammit, "Sympathy For The Devil" and "Light My Fire" are not going to sound any crisper, whether you like it or not.

► Recent Hollywood columns have inspired you to respond with vitriolic correspondence. In the unenthusiastic interest of fairness, we offer a sampling:

Dear Hollywood Column:

The cavalier tone in your piece about my visit to the States was just a bit too cavalier for me and the Cardinals (never mind the Brewers and the Orioles). Clearly my U.S. rep, Father Guido Sarducci, didn't explain to you that there is a dignity in my office which must be respected. Cracks about me dining at Shoney's in Nashville with MTM's DeDe Whiteside are vile and without basis in fact. It so happens that I detest Shoney's, their burgers, their patty melts and their cole slaw. Whenever I am in Nashville, DeDe and I go to that city's finest French cafe, Chez Oak Ridge Boys, where DeDe and I dine on Pheasant a la Reba and Escargot Willie. Why don't you attempt a little Truth In Journalism, a la Norberg?

Cordially,
The Pope

Dear Richland:

The snide and sarcastic manner in which you noted my candidacy for Mayor of Palm Springs made me gag...and that's not because I just had lunch in my own pizzeria! You seem to feel that just because I used to wear bell-bottom cords while croaking "I Got You Babe" that my political aspirations couldn't have any validity. I hope you'll take note of the fact that my hits were socially and sexually responsible, and that when Cher and I croaked "I Got You Babe," we never meant it in an immoral fashion. As for my promotion-person days, you might recall that Don Anti and I lunched on a regular basis, while you were fortunate to get a two-minute audience with him--and then only if you were carrying the new Connie Francis! Bottom line: If I'm ever mentioned again in the Gavin Report, let's hope it's a more dignified spot--like Jerry Boulding's column, Chinwag or Birthdays!

Love,
Sonny Bono

ROBBIE NEVIL

KZ: There was never any temptation to find someone else?

RN: After waiting a certain amount of time, I would have had to wait again for anybody else on that level. There's only one Alex, so figure how many bands want to work with him. When Manhattan signed me, they wanted me to be the very first artist released. That was the whole plan, but I'm glad it didn't work out that way. It became: Robbie Nevil, album due date—one big question mark. It wasn't that I went for him because he was a name. I wanted to work with somebody who was going to help me go to the next step. I came from production that sounds a little New York or Los Angeles, I wanted the European sound and a little bit of something that I didn't know. Hopefully it would make my sound carve its own niche.

KZ: Was every track written before the recording sessions?

RN: Except for two songs, "Wot's It To Ya" and "Back To You."

KZ: The lyrics to "Back To You" sound distinctly religious.

RN: It is. I wrote it to be two ways. It could be taken as a girl or God. I wrote that in England. Bruce Lundvall came out one time and said, "Maybe you could have another ballad on the album." I love it when someone dares me to write a song. We need it yesterday. No problem. You push yourself and the incentive factor is so great. Sometimes that's my biggest inspiration. With "Back To You" it was, "Wow, Bruce wants me to write a song!"

KZ: Every song on the album has different collaborations. Why so many co-writers?

RN: When I signed with MCA Music, I found the most fun I'd have was writing with many different people. Some people I write well with. There's a magic. My strong point is not my lyrics, it's my music and the overview of the lyric. I come up with the title and the concept and I hand it to a scriptwriter. Then they come up with a rough draft. I keep the overview, as opposed to getting caught up with what rhymes. I can write music real fast. I get gray hairs trying to write lyrics. I don't mind putting a couple of names on the song if that's what I feel the song needs. If it's three people and it's better, fine. When you're writing for publishers, you want to write more songs because it creates more opportunity.

KZ: How does a song like "Limousines" fit into your creative pattern?

RN: Tommy Faragher and I were over at his house and came up with this R&B/pop song. It was sort of cute fun and had some energy to it. Sometimes, after I have the music, I sing dummy lyrics. I make up these complete nonsense lyrics—words with emotion but not saying anything. Out of the rough scratch vocals of "Limousines," we both agreed we didn't want a song about limousines. It's a figurative analogy of this woman who is trying to gain control of her life. She's scared because she's been through some bad situations and has hurt people in the past and has been hurt. The man is saying, "I don't care. I dig you." She's saying, "I want to be in control. You don't know what you're talking about. Some people drive limousines. Some people take the back seats. Some people let things happen to them naturally." The man doesn't care. He's willing to take the fall.

KZ: Would it make sense for you to tour now?

RN: We were approached by a number of bands to open. I was the kid in the candy store going, "Oh, I can't believe such-and-such wants us to tour with them. Let's go." Fortunately, my manager is not interested in a quick buck. He's not into the short-term thing. Do we want to wait a little while and headline smaller places instead of getting out there on the road and not being able to write and the next album will suffer? Radio is very important right now. Live isn't about reaching the masses. It's getting in touch on a personal level and taking it to the next step. The idea of being the opening band and not getting a sound check with my kind of music scares the shit out of me.

KZ: Alex Sadkin supposedly recorded a backwards fire extinguisher on "Back To You."

RN: It's hard to hear—Alex went to the kitchen and got all the silverware and everything else he could find. He'd drop all the silverware on the floor and then he'd grab the fire extinguisher. It was out to lunch, but it was brilliant. That's what was creating all those sounds in the background. Backwards silverware hitting the floor and the extinguisher was creating some sort of electric shock through the microphone.

KZ: What's the story behind your first hit, "C'est La Vie"?

RN: When we wrote the song, one of the people we were thinking of submitting it to was Kool and The Gang. But there's a rumor that they turned it down. It's not true. Beau Williams cut that about three years ago on one of his albums. It was on Capitol on an album called Bodacious.

KZ: "Wot's It To Ya?" is a very English title.

RN: I wrote that song in England. Alex used to work with Bob Marley. I thought it would be fun to do a reggae pop thing. It was basically written as a summerish tune. That's why we're going with it as a single. The same harmonica player on "Karma Chameleon" by Culture Club played on that track. I wrote the music and had a general idea of the subject. You know, "You didn't care for me before. Why are you so interested in me now? Now that my life's coming together, you're coming around again." I had it more vindictive at first. I told Brock Walsh, "I think I'm making this too mean because it's a pop song. Don't make it too vindictive, but keep the attitude." As usual, I came up with the music, title and my la-di-dah lyrics. It was one of those lyrics that was written fast and didn't need a lot of changes.

KZ: How long did it take you to make your first album?

RN: Too long. Five months. We didn't do any live tracking. I'm not a band, and in a sense I was a minority. I had to work with Alex and Phil. We all decided to work together and respect each other's opinion. That's one of the reasons it took so long.

KZ: For a guitar player, the album is very keyboard-oriented.

RN: The next one will have a lot more guitar. I've done a lot of session guitar playing in Los Angeles. It's a strong point of mine that not many people know about yet. Alex, Phil and I didn't quite see eye-to-eye on this particular issue. It's important that I establish the credibility that I'm a guitarist. I've been toying with the idea of asking some people if I could show up at a concert and just do some playing. I am a guitarist and no one really knows that. On the next album, there will be more of a story. That's what building a career means—building a story.

KZ: Are you going to heavy up more next time?

RN: I want to show that I've got chops. Blow a little bit. I love guitar solos. I remember when I wrote "Just A Little Closer" for the Pointer Sisters, I was walking upstairs, and thinking, "I don't know if they're going to like it." I was using all these pregnant thirteenth chords. KZ: What are some thoughts about radio?

RN: I'm learning a lot about radio. I know much more about radio now than I've ever known before. It's really important to meet everyone in radio and make sure that they understand that there's a person that is the artist and that I don't take myself that seriously. I can throw the pie in my own face. I wouldn't have thought I'd be the type to like to get on radio and just mess around. I really do. I wouldn't have had a shot without radio, especially my kind of music. I'm not a cult rock thing. I'm a radio oriented artist. ●

DAVE SHOLIN'S PERSONAL PICKS — SINGLES

BANANARAMA - I Heard A Rumour (London/PolyGram)

Wondering if summer's really arrived? This entry will remove all doubts. Its inclusion on the soundtrack of the soon-to-be-released film "Disorderlies" is sure to reinforce radio exposure, but this one is hot enough to make it on its own.

MADONNA - Who's That Girl (Sire/Warner Bros.)

I can only believe that the stations which haven't add this one yet don't have a copy. Her string of number-one hits earns her the label superstar. This Latin-flavored tune, the title song from her upcoming film, is sure to join that list of winners.

ABC - When Smokey Sings (Mercury/PolyGram)

Sounds like enough extra care went into creating this tremendous effort to make Smokey extra proud. Easily their best production since "Look Of Love."

DIONNE WARWICK & JEFFREY OSBORNE - Love Power (Arista)

This is loaded with A/C power, as you'd expect, but it also has mass appeal in both lyrics and music. Burt Bacharach and Carole Bayer Sager couldn't find a better pair than Dionne and Jeffrey to draw all the emotions out of this beauty.

BREAKFAST CLUB - Kiss And Tell (MCA)

Gotta admit I wasn't a believer on the first several listens. I'm glad Lou Simon at KCPX-Salt Lake City encouraged me to give it another try. This is a quality track with a hook that sneaks up. A serious contender.

JELLYBEAN - Who Found Who (Chrysalis)

Madonna's pal and sometime producer has found his own groove with some help from 18-year-old Elise Fiorello, who takes a "Madonna" approach to this hot dance track.

PEPSI AND SHIRLIE - Heartache (Polydor/PolyGram)

Production and a chorus you instantly remember make this a great candidate for Top 40 stardom. Don't let it pass you by.

RON FELL'S PERSONAL PICKS — ALBUMS

STARSHIP - "No Protection" (Grunt/RCA)

The title implies some sort of vulnerability, or maybe an unsheathed sword. (No, maybe not.) Now that Peter Sears ejected from the Starship, the four remaining cadets forge ahead as the crew of the Starship enterprise. "No Protection" is a collection of moon rocks which will turn into airplay, if they haven't already. The first three are boulders: BEAT PATROL is an obvious single, NOTHING'S GONNA STOP US NOW already was and IT'S NOT OVER ("TIL IT'S OVER) is just about in orbit, with all systems "go." They bring the big ship down to earth at the end of side two with a Grace-ful ballad, SET THE NIGHT TO MUSIC, written by Diane Warren, one of our most prolific songwriters and co-author of NOTHING'S GONNA STOP US NOW.
