STONE JOINS LIVE 105, PUTS KNOCK ON SHOCK

Doing his best to convince a skeptical crowd of reporters and critics that he's no longer a "shock jock," Perry Stone announced his return to the air at a press conference August 14th in San Francisco. The next day, he began work at KITS/Live 105 as part of the morning team being assembled to replace Alex Bennett.

Stone was fired from KSJO-San Jose in March amidst a storm of protests over his remarks and comedy bits about gays, lesbians, Jews, Blacks, Asians, Hispanics, the disabled, and others. But at the press conference, he disavowed the "shock" tag, saying (as he said before, when various community groups filed protests against him with the FCC) that radio was theater and he was just an actor. Stone promised a "fun, entertaining, uplifting, get-you-out-of-bed show." He agreed to work within "limits" set by GM Ed Krampf. "Racist attempts at humor, homophobic attempts at humor,

Kiley's First Move

Miniaci is KFAC's Music Man; Amidon Gets MD post at KOST

The guessing game continues over what KFAC-Los Angeles is going to do, now that Liz Kiley from KOST is on board as PD.

But one recent hiring offered a clue. Kiley has hired Frank Miniaci, APD and Music Director at KVIL-Dallas for eight years, as KFAC's MD.

The Dallas station, as Miniaci describes it, is "a mix of what's called 'Hot AC,' gold and full-service." KVIL comprises Miniaci's radio career.

Miniaci, however, wasn't about to divulge KFAC's format plans. "It could be AC," he told the Gavin Report, "and it may not be." Miniaci, who said KVIL invented what has become known as "Hot AC," noted that there was no such format in Los Angeles.

Miniaci, who begins September 1st, said Kiley approached him. "We've been friends for a couple of years, and she called and said she might have something interesting for me." Miniaci, who was born and raised in Los Angeles, said he went through no interview process. "She asked my opinions on things she was thinking of, and that was about it."

Last Wednesday, three days into Kiley's tenure at KFAC, the station was still playing classical music. Guesses about KFAC's eventual format have ranged from light AC to hard AOR. "It's something between those two," Miniaci said coyly. KFAC kept the biz guessing with a billboard on Sunset Strip reading:

PIRATE RADIO, KLSX, KLOS Get Ready To...
MOVE OVER and let
the BIG DOGS EAT!

Meantime, Kim Amidon, co-host of the morning show on KOST, has filled one of the slots vacated by Kiley, who had been APD/MD.

Amidon has been named Music Director and will continue on mornings with Mark Wallengren. Before joining KOST in 1986, Amidon was an AT at KRTH/KHJ, KUTE, and KACE in Los Angeles.

KOST Station Manager and Program Manager Jhani Kaye, who announced the Amidon promotion, said he will have no word on an APD until the end of August.

An 'Affair' to Remember KSFO's Don Sherwood

"The Sherwood Affair," a gathering of old cronies, co-workers, fans, friends and competitors of the late king of San Francisco radio, Don Sherwood, takes place September 7 at the Fairmont Hotel (which once housed his employer, KSFO).

Don Sherwood, "The World's Greatest Disc Jockey"

The event includes hosted cocktails, dinner, dancing (to a band led by ex-KSFO DJ Del Courtney) and remarks by those who knew Sherwood, including Carter B. Smith and Russ Syracuse (KFRC-MAGIC 61), Russ Coughlan and Aaron Edwards (KGO-TV), Terry McGovern (K101), Frank Dill (KNBR), Jim Dunbar (KGO), Al Collins (KCSM-San Mateo), Bill Moen (KABL) and comedian-actor Ronnie Schell ("Bernie the Agent" on Rick Dees' and many other morning shows).

The event celebrates the new bio of Sherwood by Laurie Harper (Prima Books/St. Martin's Press) and is a benefit for the Don Sherwood Pulmonary Fund. The $125 admission includes a book and poster, and tickets, which must be purchased in advance, are available through BASS/Ticketmaster.

JERRY CLIFTON CONSULTS KIIS

KIIS-FM-Los Angeles, caught up in the most ferocious radio war in recent history, has signed Jerry Clifton as a consultant.

Clifton, whose background ranges from RKO's Top 40 stations to current clients including POWER 96-Miami, offers expertise in Urban/Dance and Hispanic markets.

KC101 Dance Party Turns to Stones

Stef Ryback, PD at KC101-New Haven, CT., will never forget August 12th. That Saturday evening, he got a call from the manager of Toad's Place, the nightclub/home of KC101's regular dance party.

There was a slight change of plans, the manager said.

When Ryback got to Toad's, he found the entrances jammed and heavily secured. After getting through, he found himself in the middle of an impromptu concert by the Rolling Stones, who'd been rehearsing for their "Steel Wheels" tour in the area. Before a packed club of 700 fans who'd picked up on rumors that day, the Stones performed a 50-minute, 12-song set including "Brown Sugar," "Jumpin' Jack Flash" and "It's Only Rock and Roll."

Ryback, first and foremost a PD, called in reports to his station and to Superadio's syndicated, satellited "Open House Party."

DANGEROUS BAND INVADES CONFAB

Among the Top 10 reasons to attend the NAB's Radio '89" convention in New Orleans next month: Paul Shaffer and the World's Most Dangerous Band has been booked for the awards show.

Shaffer, music director of "Late Night with David Letterman," will perform "When the Radio Is On" from his album, "Coast to Coast." Shaffer will also help Dick Clark host the presentation of the NAB's first Marconi Radio Awards.

The convention runs September 13-16 at the New Orleans Convention Center; an engineering meeting begins the day before.

Good Sports for Good Causes

With the White Sox mired in the AL West basement, Chicago fans are lucky that they've got the Cubbies—and Q101/WKQX-FM.

The station is taking the field at Comiskey Park August 19, before the Sox get pulled down by the Texas Rangers, for a softball game against an all-star lineup of TV soap opera stars.

The game, being played to raise money for the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, pits Q101 jocks like "Danger Dan" Walker, Humble Billy Hayes and Patrick Callahan against the "Surf All-Stars." The soap-batters including Gloria Loring, Richard Biggs and Mary Beth Evans of "Days of Our Lives," Peter Bergman and Maurice Bernard from "All My Children"; John Lopriano of "One Life to Live" and Carl Evans from Guiding Light."

In Washington, D.C., Q107 will go to the depths to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The station is co-sponsor of a "Diveathon" on Labor Day weekend. A team of divers will attempt to break the area record for staying underwater the longest—hopefully for 107 hours. Q107 personalities will talk with the divers and conduct contests at the site of the Diveathon in Tyson's Corner, Virginia. To raise funds, Q107 will sell keys to a "treasure chest" in the divers' pool; contestants acquiring the right keys will win such prizes as Rolling Stones concert tickets and weekend getaways.

and Lesbian attempts at humor have no part in radio today," said Krampf.

The "kinder, gentler" Stone, as Krampf called him, will share hosting duties with Lori Thompson, previously news/sidekick to Bennett; overnighter Harry O becomes sports anchor, and Live 105 is looking for a news reporter to complete the team.

Dressed in his Sunday best, in a suit and rep tie, Stone repeatedly apologized—"If I offended anyone, any group, I am truly sorry"—and repeatedly laid the blame on KSJO, which he sued for some $350,000 after his firing, claiming wrongful termination.

"I was asked to do that," he said about a particularly distasteful skit. "I was asked to be controversial. I followed directions."

At KSJO, GM David Baronfeld labeled Stone's claim "totally, totally false...180 degrees opposite from the truth." Baronfeld said he wrote numerous memos steering Stone away from controversial subjects, but added, "Perry was responsible for the content until the show was over. We made no suggestions of bits or material.

On his first day on Live 105, Stone adhered to the format, which calls for more music than on Bennett's comedy-talk show and, aside from a penchant for vomit SFX, behaved himself. But, as Thompson noted on the air, "I feel like I'm sitting on a volcano, waiting to explode." And yes, she told the Gavin Report, that volcano is Perry Stone.

Just say "Ahhh!"

GAVIN TOP 40: DEBUT IN UP & COMING

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE MUSIC INDUSTRY FROM NATIONAL MUSIC PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION, INC.
AND THE HARRY FOX AGENCY, INC.

We are pleased to announce that the mechanical and synchronization licensing commission rates of The Harry Fox Agency, Inc. have been reduced as of July 1, 1989, which will result in additional distributions of over one million dollars in royalties to our publisher principals in the second half of this year. Specifically:

- The HFA commission rate for television and commercial licensing has been cut permanently in half, from 10% to 5%, with a maximum commission ceiling of $2,200 per transaction.
- The HFA mechanical licensing commission rate of 4.5% will be lowered to 3.5% for the last two quarters of 1989.

The lowering of television and commercial commissions further improves the cost-effectiveness of utilizing HFA's synchronization department, which is expanding rapidly to meet licensing demands.

These unprecedented reductions have been made possible by a number of operational improvements, including computerization and the enlargement of our audit programs, which have helped increase HFA collections by 150% over the past five years. In 1989 the Agency is expected to process $200 million in royalties and 100,000 licenses - up from $80 million in royalties and 50,000 licenses in 1984. HFA is now the largest mechanical royalties collection organization in the world, and growing.

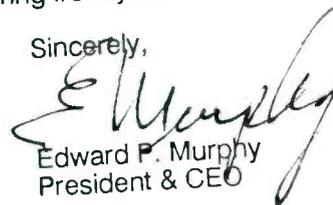

A significant portion of the commissions retained by HFA are used to support the essential activities of its parent company, National Music Publishers' Association, Inc. With this funding, NMPA is able to vigorously represent the rights and interests of its members, and the music community, both in the U.S. and abroad, helping to ensure the protection of American musical copyrights around the world.

The successes of NMPA/HFA are attributable in large measure to the confidence and trust you have placed in us. We give you our thanks for your help and support in aiding our growth.

To the music publishing industry, musical creators and our copyright licensees, we pledge that HFA services will continue to improve and expand, and that NMPA will remain a strong advocate for the rights of music publishers whenever and wherever the need arises.

NMPA and HFA welcome your inquiries concerning our activities. Our staff will be pleased to answer any questions you may have, and to help you in any way we can regarding music publishing issues. We look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Edward P. Murphy

INSIDE TOP 40 by Dave Sholin

Hardly an angle has been overlooked as rock historians and journalists of all types tell their versions of the Woodstock tale. It seems the coverage of the twenty year anniversary of the largest rock concert in history has eclipsed last month's anniversary of man's first walk on the moon. Besides movie, film clips, behind-the-scenes stories of what took place and how it all came down, we've seen and heard the 1989 perspective of young hippies turned middle-aged yuppies. Top 40 radio responded to the shift in musical direction several years earlier, but only by exposing a handful of hit singles by Hendrix, Joplin, The Jefferson Airplane and a few others. Even a song like The Who's now classic "Magic Bus" was not considered a huge Top 40 hit in 1968. Two years after Tom Donahue breathed life into FM radio, the progressive and as it was then called "underground" format and the alternative lifestyle it reflected got worldwide attention at Woodstock. As for Top 40 that year, not one performer that appeared at the legendary concert ended up in the Gavin Top 10 or for that matter Top 15 in 1969's Top 100. In fact one of the biggest songs that summer ended up as #2 that year, "Sugar Sugar" by the those hipsters The Archies. Isn't it ironic that twenty years after Woodstock the "classic rock" offspring of Album radio's innovators are under attack these days from rock Top 40's? In much the same way that tight listed, conservative Top 40 stations helped create the proper environment for the flowering of progressive radio, the dinosaur rock getting the bulk of airplay on most album stations paved the way for stations to win playing, as Brian Burns so aptly describes it with the slogan, "Today's Rock 'n' Roll."

In only their fourth week on the chart WARRANT glides into the top ten and makes it look easy. Nothing can stop 'em now from taking it all the way to the top for their first #1. A HIT FACTOR increase of 59% to 84% reflects the supersonic growth of this track which has a long way to go before it peaks. Hot gains at WMME 25-13, WBPM 22-16, PRO/FM 17-9, KZ103 23-16, POWER 99 24-11, WPST 24-16, WQLK 18-9, WLZ 24-10, KGGG 17-11, WSPT 24-16, KXRA 27-14, Y107 29-19, KLAZ 28-17, Y108 18-9, K106 27-14, POWER 104 23-17 and KPXR 21-11.

Last week's HOT side continues to sizzle as MILLI VANILLI makes their previous two releases look slow in comparison. HIT FACTOR more that doubles from 23% to 52% with a long list of hefty moves into the top twenty including 102QQ 24-14, WMJQ 25-15, KDOG 27-15, Q96 23-12, KFBD 25-15, Y94 28-19, WBNQ 23-15, KZZK 27-18, POWER 106 27-20, Z103 27-19, Y106 22-12, WDJX 29-19, etc.

GRAYSON HUGH had a story to tell back on July 14th when he became TOP TIP and now a lot more markets have discovered how much appeal this song's got. WJH Ashland, WI re-added it two weeks ago after first playing it in May to mild response. PD Randy Thomas says that's not the case now and he's getting "strong adult female response" taking it 38-29. It's the same situation at KSWB Seaside, OR showing a 29-20 gain and "incredible upper demo female requests." Takes a ten point gain at KKRC Sioux Falls, SD 31-21.

One week after Grayson took TOP TIP honors, THE CURE became RECORD TO WATCH and they've been generating noteworthy new airplay each week. They're now CERTIFIED, logging 47 new believers and more than 200 total reports. Racing ahead at WNVZ Norfolk 25-14, KXXR Kansas City 28-18, KATM Colorado Springs 24-14, POWER 104 Houston 14-5, KIIS/FM Los Angeles 22-18, etc. Adds include Y108, ENERGY 96.5, WJET, WDJX, KRNQ, KYYA, KFTZ, KTRS, LG73 and KUBE.

Doesn't seem to be taking long for BA-BYFACE to kick in. After only two weeks of play at KSTN Stockton, CA PD John Hampton moves it 28-20 and reports, "hot phone action, mostly young adult." Enters the top thirty at WTIC/FM 35-29, Y100 debut #26, KITY 32-23, KKXX 34-24, KWXX 36-28, etc. New on Z100 Portland, KUBE Seattle, EAGLE106 Philadelphia, KS104 Denver, KNOE Monroe, WJET Erie, etc.

Sales and requests are picking up in a big way for TOM PETTY in a number of markets. Goes top ten at KATM Colorado Springs, CO with MD Tom Fricke reporting, "lots of requests from all demos and strong CD/Cassette/LP sales." Doing well at KDOG 34-25 "getting good comments about Petty getting back to rockin'," WSTW 37-25, WSPK 20-14, WKQI 22-16, WGBQ 26-19, WBIZ 23-17, KMON 27-23, KZZU 24-19, WZVZ 35-22 "top three sales -- top five requests and wide demo appeal," WCIL/FM 19-16, KFMW 20-13 and WQUT 32-25.

Nineteen adds for THE BEACH BOYS who are getting across-the-board response at WJZQ where "calls from pre-teen to upper demo adults" help move it 32-29. Much the same at WKSQ Ellsworth/Bangor, ME with Tim Moore taking it 19-15 and getting great phone reaction from adult women as well as youngsters. Tim adds that this song from the Lethal Weapon 2 soundtrack is "getting teen response faster than 'Kokomo.'" Other gains at G98 32-28, K104 25-21, WJLK/K94 25-17, KRNQ 32-29 "lots of phone interest and requests, especially from 18-34 females", WCIL/FM 28-24 and KSND 28-21 where it's "getting 18 plus male reaction."

Houston's been very, very good to KON KAN who take this latest effort top twenty at ENERGY 96.5 (new calls are KNRJ) 27-19. Also charted top thirty at WKTJ debut #25, KITY 20-17 and X100 #29. Added at WZLS, X102, WJZQ, KRQ and Q106.

Bob Lewis MD at KRNQ Des Moines, IA moves PAUL SHAFFER into the top twenty and says, "It's top five phones in all day parts, mainly from women 12-34."

In San Francisco at X100, Bill Richards and Gene Baxter add two NEW KIDS ON THE BLOCK tracks into their top twenty. "Cover-girl" goes on at #19 and "Didn't I (Blow Your Mind This Time)" the Delfonics' hit from 1970 which was on The Kids' first album, is added at #20.

ON RATINGS AND RESEARCH

by Jhan Hiber

YOUR SPRING TRENDS:
WHAT DO THEY MEAN?

You had a good book! You had a bad hook (Boo). How do you know? Well, because you had a previous book to compare this Spring's results to. When you compare one survey to another you are trending—looking at what you did in relation to a survey earlier this year, or perhaps compared to a survey done in 1988.

Let's look at how trends are reported, how to read them, and what to do with the information. This will be the focus of our fifth "Ratings 101" column.

TRENDS BEGIN ON PAGE SIX

In your typical Arbitron market the trend section starts on page six, with information pertaining to 12+ data. Monday-Sunday 6AM-Midnight is the first daypart—what we'll call the "Country Club" share. Nobody buys off of the 12+ total week but it's the number that GMs like to bandy about to their buddies at the country club.

You'll also find in subsequent pages trends for Adults 18/34, 25/54 and so on. As for dayparts, after total week Monday-Sunday, you'll see mornings, middays, afternoon drive, nights and weekends.

How many previous books are covered on these trend pages? As you'll see in the enclosed example, the current book is shown in the right hand column. Previous sweeps in the market, up to four earlier surveys, are shown in chronological order from left to right.

Here's an example of how the trend data is displayed...

	SP-88	SU-88	F-88	WI-89	SP-89
WEAZ - FM
Share	3.1	1.6	3.7	3.7	4.4
AQH (00)	83	41	101	101	118
Cume RTG	6.8	6.2	11.0	11.9	11.3
WEGX
Share	9.7	10.6	11.1	12.7	9.0
AQH(00)	260	280	300	347	241
Cume RTG	26.7	30.0	30.5	34.8	31.4
WFLN
Share	.3	.8	1.3	1.1	1.0
AQH(00)	8	20	35	31	26
Cume RTG	3.3	3.5	4.5	6.0	4.6

Let's review what this information is and what it means...

● Next to each set of call letters is the station's share of audience for that demographic and daypart. In this case it's Adults 18/34, total week (Monday-Sunday).

● The next line shows the Average Quarter

Hour (AQH) persons delivered by the station. When reading you need to add two zeros. Thus, for WEAZ-FM 118 means that the A/C station delivers 11800 A18/34 during average quarter hour during the week. The next station, Top 40 WEGX, garners more—24,100. That translates into a higher share of young adults, 9.0 versus WEAZ's 4.4.

● The cume rating line tells a station what percentage of the total population tried that station at least once during the diarykeeping week. In this case, as you'll see in the example pictured, WEGX was able to attract over 31% of the young adults—quite good.

The other station shown in this portion of the trends' alphabetical listing is WFLN, a Classical station—so you can see that they have even less strength in this demo than the A/C station, WEAZ.

HOW TO USE TRENDS

Here are some suggestions regarding how to use trends...

Are you really up or down? If the latest number is up/down just a half share or less it's basically the same statistical ballpark. No big deal. Anything more than a half share is probably worth taking seriously.

Are your numbers this Spring up or down from last Spring?

Was your change (up/down) due to cume growth/slippage, or was there a change in quarter-hour dedication? If the latter, perhaps you need to examine why your listeners are less loyal. If cume is down, what might have caused that? A new competitor? A big contest by another station? Maybe your top DJ went across the street.

Delve into the trends in your Spring report. If we can help with your interpretation call at 609-399-8212, or fax your trend page to us at 609-399-9504. ●

See you soon.

ON MANAGEMENT

by Oren Harari

"Employee Satisfaction": An Oxymoron?

I'm distressed. I just came across the results of a nationwide poll on employee satisfaction conducted by the respected Roper group. The results make me wonder if the term "employee satisfaction" is an oxymoron—a self-canceling, self-contradictory phrase, sort of like "military intelligence", "student athlete", or "business ethics".

The Roper folks asked a representative sample of 1,223 working people what parts of their job they find completely satisfying. What's particularly interesting is that the results of this 1989 attitude survey can be compared with results obtained in similar surveys conducted in 1973 and 1980. As we look at employee attitudes across these three time periods, the trend is crystal clear: down, down, and more down.

Let's get specific, but to simplify things we'll compare only the results of 1973 (where attitudes were, by and large, most positive) and 1989 (where attitudes were least positive). You might want to track your own attitudes as you read on.

Okay, here's the question: What parts of your job do you find completely satisfying?

And here are the results:

year. And they've been getting progressively lower ever since. It's astonishing—and depressing—to believe that only a third of the labor force gains a great deal of satisfaction from their work, or believes that their work has real importance to society. It's even more distressing to learn that, despite steady increases in average wage and salary rates over the years, only 17% of the respondents are truly satisfied with their pay.

Assuming that the results have some validity, what do they mean? Are people simply working more (Is that what #3 means?), but enjoying it less? If that's so, why? Are companies and employers less sensitive than they were in the past, or is it that people's expectations are higher? I lean towards the latter explanation. My conversations with students and employees convince me that they are impatient to get meaningful work, interesting work with some real authority and responsibility, genuine respect and recognition, and better wage and promotion opportunities. If that's the case, management needs to confront those issues because they won't go away. That is, even if employees' expectations are becoming higher, so what? If management wants (1989 vintage, not 1973 vintage) will have to be addressed. The challenge for bold innovative action is therefore on employers and senior managers, because middle managers and non-managers will not lower their expectations simply to please those at the top. It is ironic that while many employers and managers have become less Neanderthal (and sometimes quite progressive and creative) in their management of people over the past few years, the Roper results suggest even greater dissatisfaction within the workforce than before.

Perhaps the original survey question was setting too high a standard. Maybe asking what parts of the job you find completely satisfying is by definition setting up a negative response. But I'm not sure I buy that. I think most respondents understand that nothing in life is ever perfect and that the question wasn't asking if nirvana exists on the job. Besides, regardless of how people interpret the question, why should there be a steady decrement in percentages from 1973 through 1980 to 1989?

Well, reader, can you help me out here? I just study organizations. You work in them. What do these results mean? Are they consistent with your own attitudes and those of your colleagues? Is top management at your firm trying to rectify the "dissatisfiers" that you are experiencing? Is "employee satisfaction" an oxymoron? If you're willing to share your thoughts, I think we may get some insights into work, organizations, and the industry. How about sending any comments to me c/o the Gavin Report? Looking forward to hearing from you. ●

1. The people you work with.	50%	41% *
2. Personal satisfaction from your work.	43%	37%
3. Number of hours you work.	46%	33%
4. Importance to society of your work.	42%	33%
5. Benefits job provides.	32%	28%
6. Opportunity for promotion.	29%	24%
7. Income job provides.	21%	17%

In 1973, 50% of respondents said they found "completely satisfying" the kind of people they worked with. In 1989, this attitude was held by only 41% of respondents.*

Wow! Those numbers seem pretty low, higher productivity and loyalty from even during the more "positive" 1973 employees, their needs and aspirations ven, "Coming after that hot 'shower' hit," he says, "this one looks like it will be even hotter!" BOBBY BROWN finally releases VERY popular LP cut "Rock Wit'Cha" as a single (saw him perform this song live—great!) and is immediately rewarded with 19 adds. Making it their RTW are Scott Jantzen and Marylou at OC104/FM-Ocean City.

REGINA BELLE has many fans among programmers, and this song looks like the one that's going to make it for her. Rick Stevens, WCKX-Columbus, raves about how much he likes it, while Darrel Eason & Lyn Henry, KWTD-Little Rock, and Pete Rhodes, CBLS-Minneapolis make it their RTW. Earl Boston, WMGL-Charleston, makes CHERYL LYNN his RTW, "There have been fine attempts at comebacks, but nothing will rival this latest by Cheryl — she's back and she's brought us a great song!" Carter Garrett & Mikki Spencer, WKIE-Richmond make THIRD WORLD this week's favorite, and say, "Nice beat to it and already getting requests." On the mellow side, we've had two new singles brought to our attention this week. One is KEITH ROBINSON's "Sunshine," which P.C.Wiley, WGSW-Greenwood, says "This is a nice jazz cut that hits the spot for summertime music." The other one is BOBBY BLUE BLAND's "You've Got To Hurt Before You Heal," which Mad Hatter, WGOK-Mobile, says is "a blues ballad that should cross over to all music formats and go mass appeal. It's already getting huge phones."

NEW RELEASES by John Martinucci & Brian Samson

BOBBY BROWN - Rock Wit' Cha (MCA)

This sensual LP cut becomes a single and probably will be a big one at that. Concert attendees might recall the time dedicated to this song. Brown will prance and romance any listener into a state of panic. This romantic quality in Bobby has prompted some programmers to put "Girlfriend" (Bobby's first solo #1 hit) into recurrenents.

KARYN WHITE - Slow Down (Warner Bros.)

In a matter of just one year, this lady has worked her way up the charts with three number one singles and a Top 3. "Slow Down" is the first non-La'Face produced song to be released — this track has its work cut out for it.

BLACKSMITH - Get Back To Love (FFRR/PolyGram)

From week-to-week we've found the "New Jack Swing" sound in many artists throughout 1989. Question: Is the hit-form becoming redundant? Not necessarily, Blacksmith cleverly vitalizes the swing for a slammin' production package. The powerful Swing Beat mix makes it a record worth checking out.

JANET JACKSON - Miss You Much (A&M)

This track is bustin'... radio must be singing this song due to the absence of this power trio of '86 and '87 (Jam, Lewis, Jackson). "Miss You Much" is a long-awaited first single from Janet's forthcoming Rhythm Nation album, her first album in over three years. If this single is any indication of the rest of the album — Flyte Tyme is right on track and Miss Jackson will lead us right into the '90's with hits.

ZAPP - Ooh Baby Baby (Reprise)

Guess what? Roger is back, along with his school of Troutmen. Zappremakes The Miracles' 1965 Top 5 hit, via the Electronic Voice Box.

JUNE BUGS, I@VE SH & P@STURE P@rti

The B-52's, hailing from Athens, Georgia are celebrating their return Cosmic Thing, a number one Gavin Alternative record. With the release of the single, "Love Shack," to Top Forty radio, the band is riding their hottest wave since "Rock Lobster" first shook the honey buns of rock n roll back in 1976. We talked with "52 girls" Kate Pierson (wearing starfish earrings) and Cindy Wilson (sporting a long blonde braid) along with original-drummer-turned-guitarist Keith Strickland (vocalist/barker Fred Schneider was a little under the weather) after a successful series of concerts at the historic Fillmore Auditorium in San Francisco. So rabid was the response to the B-52's return, word was that the band could have easily played a full seven nights (rather than three). That's because the B-52's seem to be gathering a new audience of rock lobsters, while keeping the original faithful hordes that go down, down, down on command.

Yet all has not been joyful in the B-52 camp. Three years ago, the band lost founding guitarist Ricky Wilson (Cindy's brother) to an AIDS related death. His untimely loss put a huge crimp in the band's future. Fortunately guitarist Strickland was a multi-instrumental collaborator from the band's earliest days. Consequently his role as instrumental conduit has been expanded. Residing now in upstate New York, the band at first was hesitant to continue as Wilson's death seemed to signal the end of a cycle. Yet the close friendship of the members and the need for a creative outlet put the derailed B-52's back on track.

Retreating back to a live roots sound, the band started work with producer Nile Rodgers. After a pitstop, Rodgers became unavailable so Cosmic Thing was relaunched with Was (Not Was) cohort Don Was. Once the Was (Not Was) concept took off, it was back with Rodgers. Fortunately the band took all of the ons and offs positively, using the stopgaps to carefully evaluate the results. Finally the tapes were finished with Rodgers' engineer Tom Durack mixing the results, giving Cosmic Thing a consistent snap.

The material represents the B-52's at their most conscious, with all eyes open to the world's events, particularly the disintegration of the planet. Issues were tackled first hand ("Channel Z") rather than indirectly ("Private Idaho"). Particularly under the hand of Was, the songs swing with a rehearsed tightness. Cindy Wilson, the band's only non-vegetarian, feels the social issues represents the "meat" of the album. The "radical" addition of a bass player and a combined road band of seven (which Kate Pierson calls the "Magnificent Seven") has broadened and swelled the formerly minimal-sounding live B-52 experience. Party, party, party is still the rule of the game, only this time, the band seems to have "sobered" up in a sense, realizing that the forum that they have built up is an important one.

GAVIN REPORT: Usually we don't start chronologically, but since the band has reached the ten year mark from the "Rock Lobster" days, maybe it's a good time to take stock.

KATE PIERSON: It's been more than ten years!

KEITH STRICKLAND: Officially it's twelve years because there was two years before we signed.

CINDY WILSON: Time just (snaps fingers) flies.

GR: A question you're probably asked a lot, did you ever think you'd still be doing this after ten or twelve years?

KATE: Today this German interviewer asked if we were dinosaur rock. I think we're stegosaurus rock.

KEITH: I think even from the very beginning, we took it all a step at a time. We started as a—

KATE: Spontaneous act!

GR: At the time you started up the B-52's, was there a certain void that needed to be filled in music during the mid-seventies?

KEITH: There was a need in our lives. We were all friends to begin with, hanging around together, going to parties, crashing parties. We'd go to Athens' only disco, The Circus. We'd get outrageously dressed up and wouldn't buy the drinks. They didn't like us and they'd throw us out. So we had to create our own entertainment. That's how the band started.

KATE: While we filled our own void, it was obvious that other people felt the same void in 1974. When we started, there was no place to play in Athens, no "new wave" venue, no place except maybe a folk club. But other things were happening all around the country. There was already Patti Smith, Talking Heads and Blondie. That sparked the whole movement in little towns where there is, in a way, a lot more creativity. I think a lot of the creativity that was coming out of New York City came from people who moved there from small towns. But if we had lived in New York City to begin with, I don't think we would have started the band. The way things happened for us was that we were able to take advantage of small town creativity. Everything fell together.

GR: Yet I would think that it takes a lot more nerve to do something outrageous in a small town.

KATE: It's actually easier. You do some little thing and suddenly you're outrageous overnight.

GR: With all of the bands starting an Athens sound—REM, B-52's, Pylon, Dreams So Real, to name a few—is there something in the air or the water that creates these progressive minds? What is it?

CINDY: It's rock and roll water! Seriously, it's because it's a cheap place to live which gives you time to rehearse, get together, be creative, learn about the world. It's a liberal college town. You have an artful element. Also you have lots of youthful minds coming in to the University Of Georgia, lots of fresh blood every four years—actually every year. The whole town feeds off the University. Businesses revolve around the University. So we took advantage of what the school had to offer. The University has the biggest library in the Southeast. There's good films, art films. If we'd lived in some place like South Georgia, I don't know if we would have had exactly the same slant to our music and concept. We were tuned in.

KATE: We also played the first Atlanta Punk Rock Festival. I remember their slogan, "Get Behind New Wave Before It Gets Behind You."

GR: So bringing it up to the present, after a three year break, was it time for a change when recording Cosmic Thing?

KEITH: We were focused. Most importantly, we wanted to get a band sound. We needed a sense of enthusiasm and spontaneity, which is something we feel is getting lost in a lot of the music that we're hearing right now.

KATE: In many ways, we've been much better as a live rock band. So I think we've finally captured that feeling on this album.

KEITH: Usually every album is an experiment for us. We didn't want to become a parody of ourselves.

CINDY: So going back to live drums, it felt good to get back to an organic sound.

KEITH: You couldn't do a song like "Love Shack" with a drum machine. You need space, a feel and a flow. Looking back, I think an album like Whammy, even though it's a good album, its use of technology sounds a little like a push-button sensibility. Then there was Bouncing Off Of Satellites, which was also a great record, but I think the material would have worked better if it was performed by a live band.

KATE: One thing I think we missed doing was what we did on the first two albums, which was to actually play the songs live before recording them. Not necessarily in front of a live audience, even though the first two albums were performed in clubs. We got to live with the songs. So we'd go into the studio with everything arranged and written. But on Whammy and Satellites, we hadn't even performed the songs together. So on this album we went with Don Was up to Bearsville and Dreamland Studios in upstate New York and rehearsed the material. We also had Sara Lee (formerly from Gang Of Four) on bass. We never had a string bass player on our albums before. It's so great to have that instrument.

CINDY: Plus it's a fuller sound on stage.

GR: The B-52's really did start out as a minimalist band, without even a bass player. There's that famous television segment that was recently reshowed from Saturday Night Live. You were performing "Rock Lobster." Talk about down to the bone.

KEITH: It frightened me when I watched it. The first album, too, had this stark shock to it.

KATE: The minimal line-up worked to our advantage. Plus I actually feel the drum machine was a real organic thing in a strange way. Keith and Ricky used to write all the instrumentation together using drum machines. Then Cindy, Fred and I would write most of the lyrics, the harmonies and the melodies. So it was a good writing tool.

GR: Maybe it's me growing up as a comic book reader, but seeing the band last night, especially the women, decked out in wigs, make-up, slinky clothes, and now sitting here, there's a big difference. It's almost like you have a public identity, the B-52's and a secret private identity. Any truth to that?

KATE: It's glamour!

CINDY: We've always wanted to have a visual side in addition to the sound of the music. It's the big picture. It's always been important to have fun with how we look. We have to enjoy ourselves. That's the first thing.

KEITH: That came from hanging out together at parties. We would dress up and get wild.

KATE: The dressing-up is the thing that allows you to bust loose or be that person that you truly are but can't reveal unless you're dressing up. It's not like a costume. They're party clothes. Going to our concerts is a party for us, too. For me, to put on a wig, make-up, weird clothes, whatever, is a transformation that was inspired by Federico Fellini movies. We draw from that archetype of femininity. It's not a look we use when we go shopping or go out to do the laundry. People do walk up to us and are disappointed that we're not wearing our wigs. But I'm sure Ann-Margaret doesn't wear her Las Vegas outfits everywhere. It's fun. I'd get bored going onstage with a tee-shirt on. It's good to have that strong image, but if it ever becomes forced, then it's time to quit. Fortunately, we've never been able to co-ordinate our look with each other. We allow each other to dress how he or she feels, so it's a magical coincidence that it works together. Last night while we were playing, I had this weird feeling seeing a new audience and our old audience. I kept getting

INSIDE A/C by Ron Fell & Diane Rufer

It's gettin' tougher and tougher trying to figure out which worthy record will replace RICHARD MARX at the top. GLORIA ESTEFAN is two stations shy of a perfect 100% HIT FACTOR. MICHAEL BOLTON (with six stations less than GLO) is but one station shy of perfection. DONNY OS- MOND adds twenty HEAVY rotations to his profile, but holds temporarily at number five. The BEE GEES add 67 HEAVY rotation reports and bump up to number six, followed closely by his good friend CHER who scores fifteen more adds. That, boys and girls, is one of the strongest top seven records we've ever seen!!

CUTTING CREW is moments away from going top ten A/C for the second time in their career. "Everything But My Pride," is up in HIT FACTOR from 73% to 85% this week and many of the holdouts are stations which would only play it if it were happening Top 40 - the logic at this point eludes us.

The RICHARD ELLIOT/BOBBY CALDWELL record has now received every Gavin A/C award it can get except a number one. On July 7th we picked it. On July 28th it was RECORD TO WATCH. On August 4th it was our TOP TIP and this week the HOT on page one (moving 22 ranks in the past two weeks). It's new for WKIO/FM, WKMI, CKFM, WAFL and KKOR.

A close runner-up for a most active record in our format would have to be the new JACKSON BROWNE single, "Anything Can Happen." At number 23 on the chart after two weeks, it has picked up 57 ADDS during that time including KTSR, WFBC, WTNY, KFQD, KRKO and WKMI this week.

Last week's TOPTIP, the BEACH BOYS'

"Still Cruisin'" is predictably this week's highest chart debut at number 32. It's A/C's second MOST ADDED with 36 new stations including WMGI, KEZR, KOFY/FM, KFYZ, KDES, WELI, KLRR, KFIV/FM, KLOG, WZST and WDUZ.

Looks like the DOOBIES have a big one smokin' as "Need A Little Taste Of Love" debuts at number 34. Their previous single, "The Doctor," debuted at 38 after four weeks with 78 stations. The new one debuts higher, a week earlier and with six more stations.

SURFACE looks like a serious A/C record. Nearly a third of all its airplay is new this week, yet it debuts with an 82% HIT FACTOR from those stations on it a week or more. New this week for WJBR, KHLT/FM, WAEB, 3WM, WJTW, K103, KBOI, KBLQ, WJON, KIDX/FM, WCEM/FM etc.

Number one MOST ADDED again this week is MADONNA's "Cherish" which now has 106 A/C's in its first two weeks - more than enough to debut at 38 already.

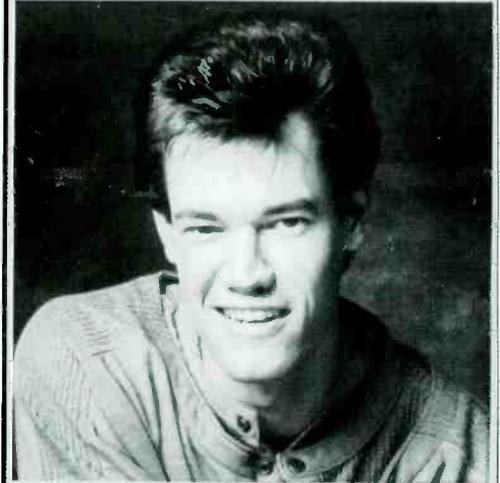

VAN MORRISON's secular single, "Have I Told You Lately," wins PLUS FACTOR this week by a handsome margin (up from 8% to 42% in one week.) It's now at sixteen more A/C's including WMYX, WOKZ, WZST, KGLO, WJON, KIDX/FM, KRKO and WMGI.

RECORD TO WATCH last week, CHARLIE KARP & THE NAMEDROPPERS,

TINA TURNER

The Best (Capitol)

Apparently Ms. Turner didn't retire after all. This Mike Chapman and Holly Knight composition may start out like an innocent campfire but it quickly turns into a general alarm burner sure to rekindle the Turner flame.

RANDY TRAVIS

It's Just A Matter Of Time (Warner Bros.)

This thirty year-old Brook Benton song gets the genuine Travis treatment with the aid of super-producer Richard Perry. Travis has sold about eight million albums in his brief career and we'll bet the farm that many consumers have come from the non-country sector, so expect him to be familiar to a large segment of your audience already.

TISH HINOJOSA

Let Me Remember (Americana/A&M)

A&M introduces a new label and a new artist for our format. Tish Hinojosa (pronounced Heen-o-hose-a) writes a carefree medley and lyrics that are easy to recall and sing-a-long.

SWING OUT SISTER

You On My Mind (Fontana/PolyGram)

Corrine Dreweny's distinctive voice has become synonymous with A/C. She really swings out on this single and could be a welcome addition to a ballad heavy playlist.

caught WFBC, WGMX, WKTJ, WMBA, WFEB, KLKC, KROC, KSTQ, KYMN, KTSR, KBOL, KLCY, KORT, KSNM, KIOO and KRKO with new ADDS and in three weeks moves closer to charting. The second time around Charlie and the boys are givin' it all they got.

JIMMY BUFFETT's "Take Another Road" is this week's RECORD TO WATCH. JIMMY's total reports of 60 has taken this single to CHARTBOUND in the four weeks since debuting in A/C. The PLUS FACTOR is up 14% in from a HIT FACTOR of 37% to 51%. With the surge of artists renewing their careers we can add JIMMY to that list. New ADDS from WYRY, WAYN, WMXB, WOHS, WCDN, WCPZ, WIZE, KDES, KJTT, KMCQ and KUIC.

TISH HINOJOSA

HOMELAND

GAVIN RECOMMENDED
NEW RELEASE
THIS WEEK! - 8/18/89

Tish Hinojosa's life and music have been shaped by her experiences as a first-generation Mexican-American. Homeland is her first album, a compelling blend of folk and country traditions: honest, quietly political songs about the lives and dreams of American immigrants. With songs in both English and Spanish, Homeland is a singular album as clear and true as Hinojosa's voice. Featuring "West Side Of Town" and "Till You Love Me Again."

The release of Homeland marks the debut of the A&M Americana Series, dedicated to chronicling the genre-defining and genre-defying sounds of regional America.

NEW RELEASES by Lisa Smith & Cyndi Hoelzle

DAVID BALL - Gift Of Love (RCA)

You probably remember David Ball's debut single, last year's swingin' "Steppin' Out." It promised Ball to be a great talent and we were all ready to crown him the new King of Texas Swing. He dropped out of sight for awhile, but is back with this single and an album due in September. This time out the emphasis is on his vocals, and the result is heavenly.

MARY CHAPIN CARPENTER - Never Had It So Good (Columbia)
This should be the single to do it for Carpenter. She co-wrote the song with her producer John Jennings. It's catchy and commercial as all get out, and sounds like she poured her heart into it. Don't overlook it.

KENNY ROGERS - The Vows Go Unbroken (Reprise)

Kenny is usually a master of love songs, and this single is certainly no exception. It's a beautifully told story of married life that should become a fast favorite for wedding anniversaries. An added plus are some wonderful background harmonies by Ricky Skaggs and wife Sharon White.

WAYLON JENNINGS - You Put The Soul In The Song (MCA)

While Don Goodman, J.B. Detterline and Tim Gaetano may have written this song, Waylon has taken it and made it his own special tribute to wife Jessi Colter.

JAZZ NEW RELEASES

PAINTING MUSIC - BILLY JOE WALKER, JR. (MCA MASTER SERIES)

Usually when you listen to an offshoot musical project by hired gun musicians who who spend days in the studios playing everything from commercial jingles to TV soundtracks, you can sense a lingering on-the-job slickness. Not so with Billy Joe Walker, Jr. From the slugging force of a track like "Virago," we would have easily figured this was David Gilmour or Joe Satriani—not somebody who gigs with Kenny Rogers and does film music for Burt Reynolds movies. Walker mixes acoustic and electric with equal-handed vigor and intensity. It sounds like the band was recorded in an empty airplane hanger warming up for a worldwide stadium tour. Painting Music, Walker's third Master Series release, is neither wimpy, egghead or all-shucks-folk; the acoustic guitars don't just zing—they pluck and resonate, the strings aren't syrupy, the rhythm section isn't "tish, tish, boom, boom" and the synthesizers don't whimper. Hell, we're not talking speed metal or anything here, but Painting Music is refreshing simply for its punch, room sound and determination. Pick any track and turn it up.

MY ABSTRACT HEART - HERB ALPERT (A&M)

Although he's in touch with Top 40 and A/C for potential radio support, Herb Alpert is much more an Adult Alternative artist. Alpert's penchant for blending instrumentals that can be jazzy with sophisticated pop melodies fits in well with Adult Alternative playlists. Last time around, Alpert performed well on our early AA prototype charts and this time around we look forward to catching the entire growth scope. Go for the title track, which features his trademark tone overdubbed in triplicate. West Coast arranger Shorty Rogers (who bopped in the fifties with such luminaries as Art Pepper) lends his considerable talents. Like the colors on the cover painting, the tonal colors on My Abstract Heart will create their own form of intimacy and expression. We gravitated towards tracks like "Romance Dance," "3 O'clock Jump" and "When The Lights Go Down Low."

RIO AFTER DARK - ANA CARAM (CHESKY)

When Brazilian singer/guitarist Ana Caram moved to New York City to launch her career, she was lucky enough to gather a testimonial from the highly respected writer/arranger Antonio Carlos Jobim (who sits in for a couple of duets) as well as sax player Paquito D'Rivera. It was Rivera who invited Caram onstage during a recent JVC Festival gig at Carnegie Hall. What separates Rio After Dark from the dozen other titles is its thoughtful minimalism in the recording studio. The instruments are distanced from the microphone in the most subtle manner, giving the listener the impression (especially on CD) that she's sitting in your living room performing these songs. And her youthful musical vision still suggests a roots-like, haunting intimacy. Again, the production is careful not to barge in and ruin that feel. Try "Meditation," "LA Cumbia," "Rio After Dark" and "Anos Dourados."

WENDY WALL (SBK)

With novelists in the family—her mother, father and sister—the wagons were circled. So Wendy Wall became a singer, a folk singer of sorts. Influenced by Tim Hardin, Richie Havens, Harry Belafonte and, obviously, Joni Mitchell, Ms. Wall incorporates saxophone and sophisticated instrumentation much the same way Mitchell did during her work with the LA Express. Though the Joni comparisons are inevitable, Wall is still very much her own kind of artist. There are a lot of potential gems to choose from beginning with "The Streets Of Modern America." The songs are craft for Adult ears with the instrumentation ranging from solo acoustic to subdued band accompaniment. This one's a real New York find, fresh from a weekly Tuesday night residency at the legendary Bitter End in Greenwich Village. ●

P.D. NOTEBOOK

by Eric Norberg

TOM PETERS AND McDONALD'S

The major message Tom Peters stressed in his keynote address at the 1989 Gavin Seminar For Media Professionals was that pursuit of quality and attention to detail are what makes businesses great. Although Peters primarily advises major corporations that aren't in the communications business, he made it clear that he believed that all the points he was making would apply equally to radio broadcasting.

Meantime, over the years I have heard a number of top programmers—including the legendary Paul Drew—compare successful radio to the McDonald's restaurant chain. After all, it's the consistency of the project in meeting expectations that brings customers (listeners) back for both businesses.

I was struck by both these thoughts when I came across the following essay on "quality" by syndicated newspaper columnist George Will in the 1988 "annual report" of the McDonald's Corporation, which I reprint here by permission.

"It is altogether fitting that the founder of the world's foremost franchising success was also a serious baseball fan. What Ray Kroc did, successful baseball teams do. They act on this simple principle: If you take care of all the small problems, there are not big problems. A related principle is this: No problem, however small, stays small if it is not dealt with. Acting on these principles is the key to achieving quality.

"I am now finishing work on a book about baseball. It is actually a book about craftsmanship and the work ethic. I have focused on three players (Tony Gwynn of the San Diego Padres, Cal Ripken of the Baltimore Orioles and Orel Hershiser of the Los Angeles Dodgers) and a manager—Tony La Russa of the Oakland Athletics. The story I am trying to tell is one that has long fascinated me. It is the story of how attention to details—no matter how many, no matter how small—is what pays off in good product. I have chosen the small, enclosed world of major league baseball to illustrate this point. But I could have chosen any other field of endeavor, from brick laying to brain surgery, from raising wheat to running a restaurant. In any field, a high quality of attention to details produces high quality in the final product.

"The most interesting lesson of the hundreds of hours I have spent in dugouts and locker rooms is that the difference between great players and those who fall just short of greatness is consistency. And the key to consistency is not physical ability. Rather, it is a matter of mind. It is the determination to make the most of one's gifts. Or, to put the point more precisely, it is recognition that 'gifts' are not given ready to be used fully. Gifts are given to be developed. A gift really is a chance to go to work honing a particular aptitude.

"The high-quality pitchers and hitters spend hours with coaches and video tapes studying their 'mechanics'—their deliveries, their swings—and analyzing each part, seeing how each can go wrong and how to prevent that. On the ball field, as in any other business, the winners are the ones who supplement physical energy with mental energy. It was an architect who said 'God is in the details'. It could have been a baseball player or anyone else doing anything worth doing well.

"Ray Kroc's genius—it was nothing less than that—sprang from a fundamental insight that was, in truth, an ethical insight. He formulated an ethic of craftsmanship for the operation of restaurants. In the process he founded not only a phenomenally successful business, but also an entire industry. And the power of his good example has radiated throughout American business. His greatest legacy is a profound lesson for his country: Nothing matters more than concern for quality." ●

"MIXED EMOTIONS" - ROLLING STONES
(COLUMBIA)

Now who among us actually believed the band was kaput? Any Rolling Stones tour will move mountains of their past releases. Imagine what it will do to a new set of songs like Steel Wheels. With guitar rock making an across-the-board airplay comeback, who better to fuel the fire than the original bad boys. I like how the verses are sung over virtually a single chord. Meanwhile, the chorus carries the tune in a bucket. An easy call if I've ever heard one, especially with Jagger singing about lips.

"LOVE IN AN ELEVATOR" - AEROSMITH
(Geffen)

Going d-o-w-n? Lots of visual images, guitar hooks, call and response vocals and infinite video possibilities. Aerosmith sings about mischief in the elevator. Sounds like an ultimate monster summer record! Deadly, to be sure.

"PLANES" - JEFFERSON AIRPLANE (EPIC)

Jefferson Airplane takes off again. Expect volatile energy as Grace Slick, Paul Kantner, Marty Balin, Jack Casady and Jorma Kaukonen blend frontline harmonies and philosophy. It's a distinct piece of American history revisited. While the song construction is complex, there's a razor sharp chorus line that associates "Planes" with the rejuvenated Airplane sound. How can this miss?

SOWING THE SEEDS OF LOVE - TEARS FOR FEARS
(FONTANA/POLYGRAM)

Here's a surprise release from the guys from Bath who take their sweet time making records. The phrasing of the verses and the drumming is not unlike "I Am The Walrus". In fact, the music has a bittersweetness flashing back to a psychedelic era of excess. The ingredients include everything from a Beatlesque chorus, organ, live strings, horns, an opera soprano, all playing off each other with lots of counter melody and progressive motion. Interesting and quite elaborately constructed with many intriguing twists and turns.

"DR. FEELGOOD" - MOTLEY CRUE
(ELEKTRA)

Motley Crue does the rock 'n' roll chug-a-lug. Using a dash of Zep, and a pinch of Aerosmith, the Crue turns the title track of their new LP into a relay race at the three minute mark with a pretty cool guitar solo. This goody is well-paced and very hard to dislike. Go on, try to. I dare you.

TOO LONG IN THE WASTELAND - JAMES MCMURTRY
(COLUMBIA)

Too Long In The Wasteland is not only one of this year's best albums, it represents a new rural gem cut from a rough diamond. Producer John Mellencamp first happened onto McMurtry's work after James' father, author Larry McMurtry, was performing rewrite surgery on a Mellencamp movie script. To James' amazement, the four songs he had smuggled to Mellencamp caught the ear of the Indiana kid. The only challenge meant writing more songs. On top of that, this album marks the first time McMurtry's music has even been put to any sort of band accompaniment. As you might imagine, storytelling runs deep in the McMurtry brood. Between stints as a bluegrass picker, housepainter and post hole digger, James has built up quite a mental rolodex of images and characters. The title track came from a summer painting the McMurtry house in the Texas sun. And yes, there are bullet holes in the mailbox. My favorite, "Song For A Deckhand's Daughter" tells a true tale of a close friend's father who turned off the tractor plow in mid-field and trotted off to sea. Other trax include "I'm Not From Here," "Terry," "Outskirts," "Shining Eyes," "Angeline," "Poor Lost Soul" and the small townish "Talkin' At The Texaco." Band support includes some stray Mellencampers while the lead guitar work was handled by Joe Ely guitarist David Grissom. After several listens, this one gets triple thumbs up, Gavin's highest rating.

THE REAL THING - FAITH NO MORE
(SLASH/REPRISE)

Fans of "We Care A Lot" aren't gonna recognize the evolution of Faith No More with their new singer, Michael Patton. The Real Thing is a fantastic smorgasbord of rock styles, blending many rock ingredients with power. The Real Thing is one of the very finest hard rock releases I've heard mainly because of a bold range of ideology. Though the band has increased the panoramic quality of their sound with keyboards and improved vocals, the guitar edges make Faith No More a likely candidate for their well-earned slot opening up for the hot Metallica tour. With the addition of Patton, the musicianship has risen dramatically. Faith No More skate between a hard rock, rap and Alternative appeal. And they play wonderfully progressive hard rock, including a bang-up cover of the Sabs' "War Pig." Bravo!

"STAND UP" - THE UNDERWORLD
(SIRE/WARNER BROS.)

If, after "Underneath The Radar," you felt the Underworld was painfully overlooked, cheer up and wait until you hear "Stand Up." Underworld's hook has always been their sense of adventurous spontaneity. This new song sounds much more produced, layered with aggressive impact. By the time you hear the first "Stand Up" chorus, you're hooked. We heard many isolated success stories last time around about the Underworld. This time around the converts should come in well-timed and steady. Great song! Don't forget to turn it up. KZ

INSIDE ALTERNATIVE RADIO By Linda Ryan

The Hoodoo Gurus have taken over the number one position this week. The B-52's are still going strong, as are The Pogues, Ziggy Marley, Fetchin' Bones, Winter Hours, and Mary's Danish. It's a very tight top ten with not much room to move. The competition stiffens... As far as the Retail Column is concerned, look for it in about two weeks. I apologize for the delay...I expect we'll be inundated with the Fall releases in the next couple of weeks. I always look forward to this time of year because the bands you've been dying to see all summer finally tour...In closing, just a reminder for college stations to PLEASE call (with your retail info.) on Mondays. It's too difficult to catch up if everyone calls in on Tuesday...Enough bitching from me. Go out and enjoy your summer. 'Til next week.LR

NEW RELEASES

EXENE CERVENKA - OLD WIVESTALES (RHINO)

Exene's involvement with the legendary group X firmly established her as the first lady of the L.A. punk scene. This, her first solo effort, showcases the same biting political satire and keen observances of human nature. In the song, "She Wanted," Exene writes, "She believes the meek will inherit the earth but by then it won't be worth much." Exene has proven once again that no one can do it like she does. Other tracks to listen to include: the X sounding "He's Got A She," "Biggest Memory," "Coyote On The Town" and "Cocktail Trees." LINDARYAN L.A. GUNS - COCKED AND LOADED (VERTIGO/POLYDOR)

About a year ago I was invited to a dinner for L.A. Guns at a very nice restaurant in the North Beach area of San Francisco. I remember feeling a bit out of place as the majority of our table sported big black hair and tattoos. There was a table of kitchen appliance salesmen (No kidding—they were in town for a convention!) at the next table making rude noises and throwing food. Everyone thought it was our table until the salesmen got up and danced throughout the restaurant, forming a human chain in the process. I was waiting for the band to go join them but I was relieved to find that the band save the 'show' for when it counts: onstage and on vinyl. L.A. Guns play the sort of hard rock that encourages those promiscuous guitars to go a little further—and they do! Songs to check out include: "Rip And Tear," "Never Enough," "Give A Little" and "Ballad Of Jane." LR

TOAD THE WET SPROCKET - BREAD CIRCUS (COLUMBIA)

Toad The Wet Sprocket hail from Southern California—Santa Barbara to be exact. Ever been to Santa Barbara? College Town, USA.

That could be why this young band excels in the articulation department. Thoughtful lyrics and a moody sound highlight this band's many talents. Suggested cuts: "Unquiet," "One Little Girl," "Way Away," and "One Wind Blows." Here's a band to keep an eye on in the future. LR

TRUST - CHRIS AND COSEY (NETTWERK)

Since the demise of Throbbing Gristle, Chris Carter and Cosey Fanni Tutti, aka Chris and Cosey, have written and released some of the most ambitious industrial dance music to date. Often dark and brooding, their overlaying of voice and textured synthesizer is intentionally challenging and disturbing, upsetting our musical expectations. Tracks include: "Deep Velvet" (destined to be the next dance single) "Illusion," "Percusex," "Watching You" (not for the paranoid) and "Trust" a track illustrating the soft quiet gloom of this duo. I said louder! ROBERT BARONE

ALBUM PROFILE

SAVE YOUR VINYL

by Kent Zimmerman

The recent shipments of CD-only releases from Warners and Reprise set my heart and mind to thinking about the future of vinyl. Unfortunately vinyl is a synthetic by-product, so its decline—as far as I know—isn't going to save any endangered whale species or extinct mammals. Too bad. As we enter the "fast and mean" nineties, a little windfall conscience relief would have been nice. Yet let's go back to what songwriter Dave Alvin said about his record collection. "Records are your friends during the sad and lonely times." Too true. So where does the fate of vinyl hinge for those of us who muster up affection for an inanimate object that emits music using the prehistoric method of preamplified stylus vibrations?

I called a dealer who deals in collectables specializing in sixties, seventies and eighties out-of-print and special edition rock n roll records. Is my record collection doomed? Should I just call the trashman in to haul it all away and convert to CD or what?

His inside consensus was that a lot of vinyl collections will bite the dust as frenzied CDaholics digitally convert their collections to God knows what, in turn forcing the demand for black platters down as the marketplace is glutted. But wait...two to three years later, look for a comeback as music afficiandos, nostalgics and collectors resuscitate the medium back to life, at least on the private collectors circuit.

Although CDs started out as a premium music medium, as CD pressing prices decline, even the Alternative independent labels (from which a lot of our big artists are born and bred) are able to compete technologically. True, vinyl will linger longer on the college/alternative radio circuit as it will on Country and Urban Radio as well as various market sizes who still depend on vinyl for extended mixes or just plain steady ole reliable back-up. So it's safe to say that despite the Warners decree, vinyl still has a place both on the radio professional level and on the marketplace. But let's face it. Having that out-of-print John Hiatt album on Geffen is still a trophy, especially if you consider the likelihood of it never reaching CD status except for some overseas licensing agreement. And as even the biggest artists no longer issue vinyl, won't there someday be a Led Zeppelin fan who will again crave the joy of clutching that one foot by one foot gatefold copy of Led Zep 11? What about all of the hit records that are started by dance club jocks spinning twelve-inch vinyl? Is the answer just blowing in the wind?

Quite possibly.

Another probability is that CD compilations by cult catalogue artists (the recent Warners CD-only collections by Rodney Crowell and Doug Kershaw come to mind) may bring about demand for the complete albums by these artists from fans turned on by the CD samplers. That may turn the corner independent record store instantly into a collectible specialty shop.

So what's hot and sought-after by these collector-types seeking vinyl restitution? Here's a few stray examples listed by decade, starting with the sixties.

SIXTIES. Remember those red Columbia labels that said "360 Sound"? If your Bob Dylan album is so marked, it's worth a sawbuck. Of course Beatles Butcher covers of Yesterday And Today have risen to extremes. Early Who albums on the American Decca label, especially My Generation are fetching dollars especially since the Who's nostalgia tour. Early original Byrd albums are in demand at about $20. Some of the major artists like the Beatles' Capitol records and Stones London LPs are somewhat attractive, although think of the thousands of copies now circulating. But think about when the nineties arrive, making a lot of these vinyl versions twenty-five years old. Then cult bands like 13th Floor Elevators will be damn near museum pieces, especially if you consider that The Gavin Report was mentioned on the liner notes of the first album.

SEVENTIES. Seventies albums generally go by the disc, not necessarily the artist. There seems to be a vast plateau of out-of-print middleweight/cult artists that are riding the ten to twenty dollar range. Examples include older albums by the aforementioned John Hiatt (on Epic, MCA and Geffen), Tim Buckley (just superbly reissued on CD by Enigma), seventies Brother/Warners Beach Boys discs, catalogues by former Monkee/current visionary Michael Nesmith, old albums by Mott The Hoople and vintage Faces albums feverishly sought after by Replacement fans. A lot of seventies disc values depend on what retro trend is flourishing right now. Again, it's usually the middleweight bands that have achieved cult status that gather the most interest. Still, that could change with the departure of the 80's or an extreme outbreak of overseas demand. Right now German dealers are scouring the country for vinyl versions of seventies rock and shlock.

EIGHTIES. The European concept of special limited editions, picture and shape discs and unique repackaging has brought the vinyl collecting market into the eighties. Rarities like a copy of REM's "Radio Free Europe" single on Hibtone will set you back about one hundred and fifty dollars. If you've just started collecting, those special packages by Prince, Keith Richards and Talking Heads may be valuable in the future. The elimination of singles in favor of cassettes may up the value of the beleaguered 45, currently following the path of the brontosaurus. (Good news for A&M's Steve Resnick who has the famous basement Billboard Top 100 collection.) One word of caution. Like baseball cards, millions of items can be made printed and pressed in many different configurations. A good rule of thumb is to always to buy what you enjoy listening to, dig the music, then think about retiring. But if I were you, I'd think hard before chucking that vinyl. ● confused. Were we playing for an audience or was the audience playing for us?

CINDY: I was watching television last night, some kind of rock retrospective. They showed Steely Dan in 1971 with all of the long beards and dashikis. I hope we don't look that dated...actually I have looked back and I can't believe some of the stuff I used to wear! We used to pull stuff out of the thrift store bins and wear whatever! It wasn't serious, there was a sense of humor involved. We purposely wore some of the ugliest, tackiest polyester shirts you could imagine.

GR: What do you say to people who categorize your music as mindless techno party music?

CINDY: We tell them to look harder. I can see people just giving you a glance. But if you look harder, you see art and poetry. The vocals are a group of harmonies. We've always wanted to be original. The music is original. Keith has always been fantastic at writing the music. To me, there's the meat. On this new album, it starts out as a nostalgic look at living in Georgia and ends up on a futuristic note with "Topaz" and the instrumental "Follow Your Bliss."

GR: Did taking three years off help in making this album?

CINDY: After Ricky died it was hard. The first few songs were a struggle. But "Junebug" was the first song that came together. It made me feel, "Hey, we can do it! We can write without Ricky." It was hard for me. I needed a creative outlet. Keith and I live across a lily pond from each other in Woodstock, so I'd just canoe over to his house for some herbal tea.

KATE: We all see each other a lot. After Ricky died, at first it seemed like a natural end to the band. But because we're friends, we stayed together. That became a source of strength for each other.

KEITH: Plus we began to see a real interest. It was unexpected to us when "Rock Lobster" became popular again in 1986. We were taken aback. So we slowly crawled back into it. After Ricky died, it seemed impossible to get back into it.

GR: What was Ricky Wilson's contribution to the band that had to be patched up after his death?

KEITH: Ricky was the musical center of the band. He was an incredibly original songwriter. "52 Girls" is a good example of how he could put music to lyrics.

KATE: He also did many of the arrangements. His guitar sounds were unique. Keith and Ricky worked together a lot, so it was a natural step for Keith to be playing guitar even though he was our drummer.

GR: Getting back to the messages of the music—

KATE: Some of the earlier songs had different messages. "Private Idaho," "Big Bird" and "Juicy Jungle" all had an environmental sensibility. Don Was felt that with "Channel Z." We were trying to make it clear that there are two sides. First there's the doom, gloom and disaster side. We've always been big on disaster songs—for instance "Devil In My Car" and "Lava." That's why we always scream. We have a lot of conversations. We'd come into the studio after reading the papers or watching the news—talking about all of the horrible things going on. The hole in the ozone layer is getting bigger! At the end of the conversation, we'd find no solution. But we still feel that it's every person's responsibility. What we're saying in "Channel Z" is that change can happen.

CINDY: A lot of our music is stream of consciousness jamming. We would always talk before we'd start writing or playing each day. We'd take a topic.

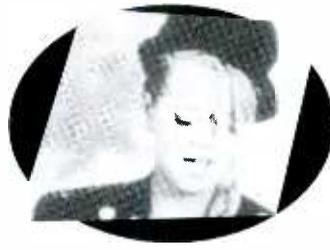

GR: The extreme to that is Lou Reed and Ruben Blades writing about issues until they get anxiety attacks. That's something I don't think our readers can realize enough. Some songs you really have to wring out and squeeze out.

KATE: Writing with a stream of consciousness opens the big gates of the collective unconscious. Plus the fact that there had been so much on our minds that was so urgent. The situation with the environment, particularly, is an emergency situation. That came out more on the surface of these songs whereas in the past, our messages may have been way more subtle. So even in the early songs, we definitely tried to build in layers of meanings.

GR: Maybe that could be another reason why you came back after three years. It's powerful having a communication forum.

KEITH: I was pleased that Reprise led this release with "Channel Z". It was good to feel like we weren't just promoting another song. There was an idea there. It's good that people are worried about the environment and it should be talked about. It's nice to feel that there's more to it than another single and another rock band.

KATE: Plus, our first live performance in five years was for the "Don't Bungle The Jungle" benefit that Madonna helped sponsor. That was a good reintroduction for us. Not only did it help us realize that we still had an audience out there, but it was inspiring to know that what we do best can be something that can be used to do some good. Yet I don't think we've lost the knack for writing hearty dance songs with a quirky twist. I get lots of letters from people who say that our music helped them because they felt like outsiders and weirdos in school. I've heard it a million times, "I couldn't have gotten through high school or college without you guys." That's wonderful to hear because you sometimes don't realize that while you're playing. It's a wonderful communication thing that we have going. So that element is still there. With "Love Shack," that can work on Top Forty radio, too. It makes people feel good. It all works on different levels.

GR: Having read some of the Southern writers like Carson McCullers and Flannery O'Connor, a lot of us Northerners have these terrible Southern stereotypes. Yet isn't there more of a "Southern-ness" to this new album?

KEITH: Yes, but it's a result of the spontaneity. "Junebug" was the first song we wrote. A lot of words do hearken back to a rural Southern imagery. But it's not really nostalgia.

KATE: It's funny that you say that. Fred and I are both from New Jersey—even though I didn't meet him until I moved to Athens—but Carson McCullers was one of the reasons I moved to the South. I had been reading a lot of her stuff in Europe. That was why I wanted to go down South. I wound up getting a few goats and a love shack little house. We'd milk the goats. Talking about Athens beyond being a university town, the feel of the land was also based on farming. There were these farmers' hardware stores with men in overalls coming to town, buying seed at the seed stores. That element of the town was wonderful, the surrounding farms. Now it's getting suburban, an unplanned sprawl. But the rural feeling of Athens and Georgia is beautiful. That kind of lifestyle seems to have been abandoned in the Northeast.

GR: And what songs on the new album communicate that loss?

KEITH: Most of side one.

KEITH: "Deadbeat Club" is probably our most autobiographical song.

KATE: Just being able to ride your bicycle and visit people is real. Because we're all nature hogs, natural images will keep popping up in our songs and albums—even if they're about outer space! It's all a part of natural history.

GR: Is the final instrumental, "Follow Your Bliss" a reference to Joseph Campbell, the late great writer of mythological research?

KEITH: Yes. I had written that instrumental a while back, but we were waiting for a good time to include it on an album. I had been reading Joseph Campbell. I wanted the music to have this sense of travel. Also I wanted it to feel very solitary.

GR: So the music is a combination of outer space, travel, solitude, ecology and partying. That's a pretty interplanetary mix.

KATE: I used to live near a cow field. Sometimes we'd have parties where we'd set the table outside with a keg and create this party table. You know how everyone gathers around the food table at a party? Sometimes the cows would gather 'round the table. Maybe they confused us with the trucks that would drive out and feed them. But I remember one time we were playing music and all the cows were in a circle, nodding their heads!

CINDY: I remember a visit from Richard Lloyd of the band Television with this New Yorker who was interested in investing in the band. We'd have a party and the goats and cows would circle around us. When they walked back to their car, Kate's goat jumped up on the roof and they couldn't drive away. They must have thought we from a different planet.

PERSONAL PICKS

SINGLES by Dave Sholin

JANET JACKSON

JANET JACKSON - Miss You Much (A&M)

Faced with the challenge of carving out an artistic identity and career under the shadow of her famous sibling, Janet's shown us all her own unique abilities on hit after hit. Programmers had good reason in wanting to get this on the air as quickly as possible. Wisely, she and producers Jimmy Jam and Terry Lewis have cooked up a super hot track unlike any of her previous winners.

AEROSMITH - Love In An Elevator (Geffen)

Feelin' down? Here's one on its way to the top and guaranteed to give everyone a lift! (Sorry, I couldn't resist.) All the glowing comments about this effort still couldn't truly describe how hot it sounds. The intro makes you wanna ride an elevator and sets the stage for this shining example of what rock n' roll is all about.

BOBBY BROWN - Rock Wit' Cha (MCA)

Certain to join his string of successive smashes from "Don't Be Cruel," here's a seductive entry perfect for a quiet party of - two. Already researching well for those who have been playing it off the album, including KRQ Tucson where it's number ten and KWSS San Jose who add it at #11! Marvin Gaye would be proud.

ROLLING STONES - Mixed Emotions

(Rolling Stones) There are rock n' roll bands and then there are THE ROLLING STONES! I'll readily admit it's difficult for me to be objective when it comes to Mick Jagger and Company. For more than twenty-five years, they've provided millions of fans with music that sounds just as contemporary today as when it was first released. Back in fine form and ready for the most anticipated tour of the past several years, they deliver a first-rate production that leaves me with (if you can't tell) anything but mixed emotions.

TINA TURNER - The Best (Capitol)

Five years ago Tina finally got the recognition she deserved and it was long overdue. Her amazing ability to capture the emotional essence of a song's melody and lyric is at full strength once again. A tremendous performance capped off by a screamin' sax solo courtesy of Edgar Winter.

KON KAN - Puss N' Boots/These Boots (Are Made For Walking) (Atlantic)

Not surprising that minds clever enough to figure out a way to use "Rose Garden" in a modern dance track have conceived this ingenious creation which incorporates Led Zeppelin's "Immigrant Song" and Nancy Sinatra's smash from 1966. Has the qualities of a big request item. See INSIDE TOP 40 for the latest airplay activity.

MOTLEY CRUE - Dr. Feelgood (Elektra)

Getting hearts started must be the ol' Doc's specialty and this tune delivers just the right jolt. Those in need of a good strong dose of intense rock should listen four or five times daily (or as required) and turn up loud. Comes complete with a chorus you can sing along to.

MARTIKA - I Feel The Earth Move

(Columbia) Those of us in earthquake country find it easy to relate to this song. Martika was barely walking when Carole King's "Tapestry" album turned into, at the time, the biggest selling LP in history. Eighteen years later, another multi-talented artist injects one of "Tapestry's" biggest hits with some nineties energy under the skillful guidance of producer Michael Jay.
