Evergreen Trades $40 Million for KMEL

Both Evergreen Media Corporation and Century Broadcasting Corporation surprised the industry this week when Evergreen purchased KMEL/FM-San Francisco for $44 million. It's one of the top ten largest single FM station sales in history.

According to Arbitron, KMEL is the highest rated music station in the San Francisco market. It has a reputation for being one of the most innovative Top 40 stations in the country.

Evergreen Chairman/CEO Scott Ginsburg commented: "KMEL represents the culmination of many months of looking for a broadcast property which met Evergreen's stringent standards: a superior signal, a well-positioned format, a tremendous staff of professionals and a top ten radio revenue market which will support year-over-year growth."

"KMEL is a terrific radio station and we are thrilled to add it to the Evergreen family," said company President/COO James deCastro. "I started my broadcast career in San Francisco with Golden West, and the idea of bringing the Evergreen philosophy to a market and station with such a fine tradition is very exciting."

Said Century president George A. Collias, whose corporation has stations in Chicago, Denver and

Castle Rock (Colorado): "KMEL is one of the jewels among FM stations in the United States, ranking as it has for several years as the number one rated FM station in San Francisco...We're pleased that the professional and dedicated staff at KMEL can look forward to joining a rapidly growing company like Evergreen."

FCC action on the sale is expected within 90 days. At the moment no changes are anticipated, but despite strong denials by Evergreen word is that former KMEL morning zoo personalities John London, Dennis Cruz and Brian Cooley, currently on KMEL's now-sister station KKBT-Los Angeles, may be traveling North via satellite.

GEFFEN'S $1 MILLION GIFT

Geffen Records chief David Geffen gave his second $1 million to the AIDS cause this week.

Following a $1 million donation he gave to AIDS Project Los Angeles in March of this year, Geffen bestowed $1 million to Gay Men's Health Crisis (GMHC), the world's oldest and largest AIDS service organization.

"More and more people are coming to GMHC's door every day, said Geffen. "I hope my gift will prompt other people to come forward and give generously to the AIDS organization of their choice."

Quinn Returns to Columbia

After year and a half at MCA, Diarmuid Quinn returns to Columbia Records as Vice President, Marketing, West Coast. He worked at Columbia and Epic from 1981 through 1990 beginning as a college rep and eventually rising to Product Manager and Marketing Director for Epic.

"Diarmuid's experiences in the CBS and Sony organizations afford him a unique perspective," said Columbia VP/GM Fred Ehrlich. "His ability to introduce new and innovative methods for maximizing an artist's impact, coupled with strong relationships in the industry, and an energetic approach toward accomplishing goals in the marketplace will contribute greatly to Columbia's strategies."

FCC Warning: No More Hoaxes

The FCC last week put the brakes on deejays who fake murder confessions, nuclear attacks and other potentially dangerous programming.

A fine of $25,000 will now be assessed to stations who violate the so-called "hoax rule." It would be enforced if the commission deemed that the broadcaster knows he or she is broadcasting information that is false and could cause harm.

Concerned that the ruling would violate the First Amendment with regard to free speech, NAB president Eddie Fritts commented, "We have already made clear to the commission our concerns about the possible 'chilling effect' on programming of a hoax rule...we hope they will be sensitive to this concern."

The ruling was spurred in part by hoaxes perpetrated by two KROQ-Los Angeles disc jockeys who faked a murder confession, and a fake report on KSHE-St. Louis, aired during the Persian Gulf war that implied that the city was under nuclear attack.

MCA'S BIG FIVE

Five people were named to regional posts at MCA Records this week.

• Jan Teifeld is West Coast Promotion Director and will be based in Los Angeles. Teifeld comes to the label from Impact Records, and has worked in promotion at Elektra, Arista and Chrysalis.

• Clarence Barnes, who is Midwest Regional Promotion Director, was most recently at Chrysalis Records. A former air talent and assistant program director for WZOU-Boston, Barnes also worked in promotion at Arista. He will be based in Chicago.

• Trish Merelo has been appointed Regional Promotion Manager, and will work out of Philadelphia. Formerly program director at WPST-Trenton, NJ, Merelo most recently was Mid-Atlantic Promotion Manager for Impact Records.

• Jeff Davis is Regional Promotional Manager based in Atlanta. Before his stints with Impact and Elektra, Davis was music director at WPFM-Panama City, FL.

• Patt Morriss has been named Regional Promotion Manager. A promotion veteran, Morriss began working records in 1970 when he was with Warner Bros. Records.

He's also worked at ABC, RSO, PolyGram and Motown. Morriss' home base will be Houston.

"These five people represent some of the most well-rounded promotional talent in the country," said Mark Gorlick, Vice President, Pop Promotion. "Not only are they blessed with extensive knowledge of the radio marketplace, but their diverse industry experiences perfectly balance our local and national staffs."

James "Jazzy" Jordan has been promoted to Senior Director, Urban Music

Product Management at PolyGram Label Group (PLG).

DCC's Initial Push

In the beginning came LPs, then there were CDs followed by DATs, and this September Matsushita will introduce DCCs to the U.S.

FYI, DCCs (digital compact cassettes) are played on a digital deck called the RS-DC10. Because they compress the amount of recorded data to a minimum, DCCs are virtually free of excess noise (e.g. background hiss) commonly found on today's cassettes, though their sound is thinner and less detailed than a CD's. The flexible system will be available for home and car use, and current cassettes can be played on DCC equipment, but do not have recording capability.

Initially, RS-DC10 decks will sell for around 1K, though prices are expected to go down as production quantity increases. PolyGram has established the first DCC factory, and plans to manufacture 500 pre-recorded DCC titles drawn from a combination of pop and classical music on all major labels ASAP. Specific artists are TBA...

INSIDE TOP 40 by Dave Sholin

During their concert/multi-media extravaganza, U2 flash all sorts of messages on dozens of TV screens. One says, "Everything you know is wrong." Okay, so it's a slliiighht exaggeration, but the point is well taken. Old rules and theories don't always apply.

Just last week, Research Systems Corporation of Evansville, IN released a study of 5,000 television commercials. After surveying 1,000 American consumers, they found that three familiar advertising tools: sex, celebrities and humor, are ineffective in persuading people to purchase a product. One executive of an ad tracking service concurs that "celebrities don't necessarily sell products because they're not experts." In other words, they're not believable.

At a time when so many of our established institutions are under attack, and community leaders suspect, the believability factor is more important than ever. For some time now, Top 40 has been in the process of not so much tossing out all the rules as they've been reassessing, restructuring and adapting the basic tenets of the format.

Let's face it, the competition, in some cases former Top 40 programmers, are using many of the same strategies and techniques. (Today's audience is more sensitive than ever to jive, hype and insincerity.) The believability movement gathers more support every week. It won't be stopped.

Last week, I admitted to being somewhat stunned by stations who didn't add LUTHER VANDROSS/JANET JACKSON because of its small rap segment. I asked, "Why not simply edit it out?" That led to explanations like this one from R. Charles Snyder, PD/MD of KTMT Medford, OR. He promises no rap and all music on CD to his audience, so a tape edit won't work. Charles, like numerous others ask, in fact, "pleads," for labels to supply edits of any songs that include short "raps." Scot Finck, A&M's National Secondary Promotion Director, says all of this wouldn't have been necessary had the label been allowed to proceed with their marketing plan. Unfortunately, a leak forced the record out early and plans quickly disintegrated. By now, everyone should have the CD-pro edit on their desk.

It's not too often that a song debuts with an 11% HIT FACTOR, but it's not surprising when the artist is MARIAH CAREY. "I'll Be There" scores big, big gains at Z100 New York 23-7 and Q106 San Diego 19-6, where it's "number one in requests with adult women." Other top twenty stats at KISS 108, ISLE 95, Q95FM, WAPE, B96, WVIC, WDFX, HOT 102, KISX, KSKU, WKBQ, KS104, KMEL, B95, KIIS, WILD 107 and EAGLE 106.

Hot top thirty action for the BLACK CROWES at KZ10335-29, WJET 21-17, KQKY

34-30, WAPE 29-23, WBBQ 38-28, KKYS debut #27, KKEZ debut #28 and WMDM 35-24. ZFUN Moscow, ID reports early retail reports are very strong. ADDs on: WABB, WQGN, KROC, WBIZ, WQID, WTBX, KISM, KQLA/FM, KIXR, KHHT, Q102, KGWY, KHTR and KPLZ.

SIR MIX-A-LOT backs into #1 at KMEL 4-1, WILD 107 2-1, and WPFM 11-1. HIT FACTOR is a whopping 57% and, as expected, "the Mixmaster" doesn't take a "rear seat" to anyone in the request arena. Top Ten at WBSS, KKFR, KKNB, KJYK, WYHY, KZMG, B95, KPLZ, Q106, KCAQ, HOT 97.7, KS104, etc. New on: B96 Chicago, WYKS Gainesville, WSPK Poughkeepsie and B94 Pittsburgh.

Todd Wise, MD at KBKB Ft. Madison, IA, takes VANESSA WILLIAMS 29-22 and says it's "taking off just like 'Save The Best For Last'—women love it." Airplay doubles with ADDs at: Q105, WVNA, KISS 108, WJZQ, B94.7, KDWB, WTIC/FM, Z97, KLAZ, KZRT, KLIS, KYEE, Q96 and more.

KLUC Las Vegas, first to send out the alert on TAG's "The Way I Feel," moves it closer to the Top Ten 15-11. Michael Newman and Jennifer Wilde at KDON Monterey/Salinas, CA are now tracking similar response as confirmed by a huge gain, 23-16. Also doing well at KDOG Mankato, MN 39-23. Debuts top thirty on KSND #29 and KHTN #28. ADDED at: KPLZ, B95, KGOT, KWTX, KGGG, WRCK, etc.

Explosion time for THE COVER GIRLS, who take the biggest move of the week at KMEL San Francisco, 34-19! Also on fire at HOT 97 New York 29-14, KS104 Denver debut #20, KISS 108 Boston 24-16 and Y95 Phoenix 24-19. New on: KHTN, WCIL, FUN 107, WYAV/FM, WFMF, HOT 102, WVIC, TOWER 98, KIIS, G105, POWER 99, Q106, KXXR, WZOQ, KFFM, B98, WNVZ and 93QID.

KWOD, WKBQ, WXTQ, KAGO and KHK all chart BRONX STYLE BOB in their top twenty-five. Impressive new airplay at KDWB Minneapolis, POWER 99 Atlanta, KBEQ Kansas City, KJYK Tucson, WENZ Cleveland, WZYQ Frederick, MD, WSPK Poughkeepsie, NY, KRIT Ft. Dodge, IA, etc.

After only a week and a half, Steve Heller, APD/MD at ZFUN charts LIVE 38-31. Steve reports getting a lot of calls "close, but not quite enough to make top ten yet." Top thirty at MIX 99.9KHI 28-25, KWOD 24-20, KHK 34-29 and WMDM 31-26.

KMEL, first to ADD TROOP last week, moves it 24-20 reporting "top ten requests." New on: KS104, WKBQ, HOT 102, HOT 97.7, WPGC, KMGZ, KSTN, KCAQ, Y95, KTFM, WBSS and B95.

Who's Country and gettin' ADDED at Top 40 this week? Nope, it ain't GARTH BROOKS—it's BILLY RAY CYRUS whose big Country hit, "Achy Breaky Heart," breaks onto: WCIL Carbondale, IL; WBBQ Augusta, GA; KEGL Dallas; KYYY Bismarck, ND and KWTX Waco, TX.

MIX 96.5 Houston isn't wasting any time getting the next BRYAN ADAMS' single "Do I Have To Say The Words" on the air. It's already Top Ten, jumping 17-8.

DAS EFX couldn't have come up with a better name for their debut album. Proteges of the neck snappin' EPMD, Dray and Skoob have been sittin' comfortably at the top of the Gavin Radio Rap Chart for the last couple of weeks. Their debut single, "They Want EFX," has wrecked shop at every level, from charts to clubs and even retail sales. But the album doesn't stop there. Other cuts to check are "Mic Checka," "Jussumen," "East Coast" and "Klap Ya Handz." Check out this week's DAS EFX interview with our own M.C. Fly. B E Y O N D

In his final artistic statement, Miles Davis turned his ears to the sound of the streets from which he came, intent on capturing it in his music. Miles always had a gift for hearing the future, and he envisioned a synthesis of jazz and hip hop that would speak not only to his core audience of jazz fans, but also to a new generation who had grown up in the rap era.

In collaboration with producer Easy Mo Bee, he nailed it, just like he used to nail the high notes that made audiences stare in rapt wonder and musicians just shake their heads in amazement.

He changed the way we listen. And he's still changing it.

“A record that will be seen as a historic step in the evolution of rap and jazz.”

GAVIN COLLEGE & MIXSHOW HEADS KEEP THE FLAVA IN THE MIX

Howard University's Iran Waller, PD, WHBC/FM and Natalie Bowen, MD, WHBC/FM. Iran, a graduate of Howard University's Radio/TV Communications Department, is also the Mixshow Producer at WKYS/FM-Washington, D.C. on Saturday nights. Natalie is currently a Radio/TV Communications undergraduate at Howard University.

WCDX-Richmond, VA's Mixshow/Personality Lorenzo "Iced Tea" Thomas. Lorenzo has played a pivotal role in the Rap industry for producing the first Rap Mixshow in the Virginia market.

University Of Montana's Pamela Kreider, Asst. GM and Rap Show producer at KGLT-Bozeman, Montana. Pamela is one of the few women at college radio to take the programming managerial helm when it comes to College Radio and Rap music. A senior Graphics Design major, Pamela says that many people underestimate the influence of Hip-Hop in rural communities. "I made the decision a few years ago to implement the Rap format because I was tired of College Radio being stereotyped as Alternative Music. Our campus has a majority white enrollment, but everyone in the dorms and cars are jamming to groups such as Das Efx and Brand Nubian," says Pamela.

WAMO-Pittsburgh, PA's "Club 106" Mixshow Personality Melle Mel Plowden. Mel has also taken a lead role breaking underground Hip-Hop in the Pittsburgh region. As well as being the hottest club jock in the market, Mel is also the host and producer of "Video Music Gram" shown on a local Pittsburgh television station.

KXLU-Los Angeles' Mike Nardone (left) is shown with KCMU-Seattle's Nasty Nes. Mike is a Communication Arts graduate from Loyola Marymount University. He's been the producer of the KXLU Rap show since 1988, and is currently the Director of College and Radio Promotions at Poetic Groove Records. Nasty Nes Rodriguez is in his fifth year as the producer of the KCMU Rap Attack. Nes has played a pivotal role in the Seattle market for breaking all formats of Hip-Hop, and has recently been hired at Top 40 perenial KUBE-Seattle as the Mixshow/Remixer on Saturday nights.

Stands for "Musically Organized Brothers."
"Farway To Go" The debut single from Nubian M.O.B.

If you haven't heard of "tuning" yet, you will. Take a jazz-infused style and graft it onto a chanting, spiritual vibe where rap and singing meet. It's like nothing you've ever heard before. And that's a way to go.

Produced and Arranged by Daddy-O for Okedoke Music, Inc.
From the album Nubian M.O.B.

INSIDE URBAN

Motown's Sr. V.P. of R&B Promotion, Paris Eley, presents a check to 331 founders, Mike Bernardo and Charles Gladden, on behalf of Nations Bank, as 331 members Sheila Criqui and James Whitehead (Deputy Director of Minority Development for the U.S. Department of Energy) look on. The presentation took place at this year's Impact Convention at Bally's in Atlantic City.

Rarely do all of the top three Urban Contemporary records report in with a 100% Hit Factor—but this week is an exception. Tight competition once again as the top six are all underlined. JOE PUBLIC's new single, "I Miss You," is our RTW, while on the Crossover Chart, "Live And Learn" is still enjoying top ten gains, moving from 8-5. Our Top Tip, CHRIS WALKER's "No Place Like Love," has been added at KMJQ, KJLH, WUFO, WJMI, K98, WKKV, WXVI, WHUR, WTLZ, KGRM, WVCR and WXYV/FM, and sits atop Up & Coming waiting for a chart number. Lou Bennett, KQXL-Baton Rouge, likes MARIAH CAREY's "I'll Be There" and says, "During the first two weeks of play it's been burning up the phones." Kimberly Kaye, WFKX-Jackson, agrees, saying, "Mariah's doing it live this time with a beautiful remake of a Michael Jackson tune." Matt Morton, WXOK-Baton Rouge, likes TROOP's "Whatever It Takes" saying, "It's a great record that's destined to be number one!" Andy Henderson, WQKI-St. Matthews, says, "It's amazing how many calls I get for SHANICE & JOHNNY GILL's 'Silent Prayer' and I think it's because of the message—the young people and the ladies like it." Neal Scoggins, KMZX-Little Rock, likes THE DELLS' "Come And Get It" saying, "It surprised me—a nice surprise, though, and I predict it will do extremely well." Stan Allen, WPMX-Tupelo, makes ALYSON WILLIAMS' "Just My Luck" his RTW, and says, "Getting lots of phones and it's just as hard as The Deele's version—possibly better." Edward Sargent, WICB-Ithaca, makes LUTHER VANDROSS & JANET JACKSON's "The Best Things In Life Are Free" his RTW, saying, "How did they manage to fit all those people on one hit? This is a sure number one—no ifs, and or buts!" Ciao for now, Betty

by John Martinucci

TYLER COLLINS - Just Make Me The One (RCA)

It's hard to believe that it's been two years since Tyler charted singles like "Whatcha Gonna Do" and "Girls Nite Out." And who could forget her vocal appearance as the redoubtable girlfriend on T.T.T.'s "The Blues" remix? Now kickin' with a more sophisticated, vintage seventies sound, the strong production gives Tyler a smooth yet funky music bed to showcase her fine vocals, as she declares her affection and devotion to her guy.

ALYSON WILLIAMS - Just My Luck (OBR/Columbia)

As Alyson's "Can't Have My Man" slowly moves down the chart, her follow-up from the self-titled album is equally enticing to listeners. "Just My Luck" is an infectious version of The Deele's 1984 effort which, ironically, was produced for a group (Daryl Simmons and Kayo). After one listen to Alyson's strong vocals and those driving beats, try to tell me you're not hooked.

TOM GRANT with SHARON BRYANT - I've Just Begun To Love You (Verve/Forecast)

I don't know about you, but I've missed Sharon Bryant's lovely voice. Though this song is from keyboardist Tom Grant's new album, In My Wildest Dreams, the first release is a sweet and tender ballad that spotlights Ms. Bryant's beautiful vocals. "Quiet Storms" will snatch this right up, but never fear—all ages should appreciate this one.

MILIRA - One Man Woman (Motown)

Milira, Back Again!!! is the title of this young lady's second album and it echos my sentiments. Milira is two-time winner of the Apollo Theatre's "Amateur Night" and in 1990 she debuted with a stirring update of Marvin Gaye's "Mercy, Mercy Me (The Ecology)." Two years later this 21-year-old sinks her soft, husky vocals into a feverish demand for a monogamous relationship. Producer/Arranger Narada Michael Walden helps Milira show what she's made of.

BRIAN MCKNIGHT - The Way Love Goes (Mercury)

Brian "musician/vocalist/composer/producer" McKnight is all of that and "The Way Love Goes" is his debut release. McKnight cites influences from Stevie Wonder to Bobby Caldwell, to the members of his oldest brother Claude's group, Take 6. Brian combines a seductive groove and passionate lyrics with what sounds like Take 6 background vocals to express his uneasy feeling about drifting relationships. Check it out—it's smooth.

P.D. NOTEBOOK

by Eric Norberg

USING JINGLES

•Downtempo vs. uptempo per hour?

"I was hoping to come up with a few simple guidelines for the jocks to follow, but no such luck. Every consideration I have regarding how to run these turns out to be a specific instruction to them. Any thoughts?"

There are absolutely no "right" or "wrong" ways to use jingles; the primary considerations are, in my opinion, (1) to establish a consistent jingle use policy, and (2) to establish one that sounds different from any competing station in the market. Bill Drake's "Boss Radio" Top 40 format in the 1960s used a jingle between every record, and out of every stop set, in essence reducing the hour to the smallest structural unity—one record. This allowed him to vary the number of spot breaks (and spots) per hour depending on the spot load while not allowing such variability to affect audience perception of the station. He got that idea, I believe, from the policy Ron Jacobs had established at the Colgreene stations, in which a single, never-changing a capella jingle came off the end of each record before the deejay said anything. Ron later joined forces successfully with Bill Drake. Both these concepts—extremely jingle-intensive—worked very well, and under some circumstances probably would work well today, although they are out of favor in the industry.

If you'd like to comment on the questions in this column, and I hope you do, note that the writer is asking about three things: (1) What should be in the jingles and how should they be constructed; (2) How should they be used; and (3) How should the program director communicate with his or her staff on how to use them?

As starting points for discussion, here are a couple of my own favorite approaches, which, admittedly, are unconventional: I personally have never found a point in matching the tempo and the key of a record with a jingle, but that's partly because every jingle I use says the same thing (station call letters, frequency and positioning slogan), with the difference being the backing or accompaniment. In this way these jingles, by being the same, become subliminal, and the differences in the backing instrumentation creates the impression of an indefinite number of jingles. (When they are all different, they can be distinguished from each other by the listener, and start seeming rather limited in number.) I also get a capella "lifts" of all the jingles, separated from the backing, and then have a brilliant man I know do synthesizer instrumental backings for them, to further expand the package.

As I said, there is no right or wrong way to use jingles. What do you like to do with them?

I've always felt jingles are one of the most effective structural elements of a format. A Gavin reporter, who I will not identify, writes me as follows:

"Here's a topic you might want to address one day. We recently purchased a jingle ID package to use on the air, and I've been grappling with how it would be used. I broke the cuts down into these types of jingles:

•Musical call/frequency (the "heart" of the package)

- A capella calls (to use occasionally)
- Primary image (primary music positioning statement)
- Secondary image (other important images)
- Jock ID
- Station Legal ID
- Weather

"And here are a few of the questions I've been asking myself:

- How often should the jingles air?
- Where in the music flow should they be positioned?
- How often should a particular jingle cut air?
- Separation between particular cuts?
- A capella vs. musical (and how often of each)?
- Simple calls/frequency jingles vs. image sings (and how often of each)?
- How often should the Primary vs. Secondary cuts air?
- How often should I air image cuts vs. other jingles (music call/frequency)?
- Bumpers (out of stop sets) vs. transitions (between songs)?

Back in the Winterland days, rock n' roll bands like the Jefferson Airplane and the Grateful Dead would have bodies swaying onstage. But when rock n' roll got too big and too many people needed to be on stage, that phase died. Now in the '90s, marvelous Metallica brought it all back with their "Snake Pit," in two sold-out shows in San Francisco. The show began with Lars Ulrich and Kurt Hammett on a mic from backstage half-dressed getting ready to come out and play after the crowd saw a 25-minute film covering the band's history. Approximately 100 guests got the thrill of a lifetime when the band invited people onstage. For me, it was quite a rush to sit under a see-through grate and feel the sweat pouring off James Hetfield as he worked his magic. When they planned the gig, the band made sure their stage was visible from every part of the facility. Jason Newsted rampaged up and down ramps all around the snake pit audience. At his closest, Lars was 10 feet away from the pit. The energy emanating from his moving drums was very powerful—to say the least. In one of his guitar runs down the back ramp, Kurt took time out to carry on a conversation with a fan in the snake pit. There is nothing to match the closeness this band brings to their fans through their great music...

Faith No More for a summer tour to end all summer tours. Each band will perform for at least a couple of hours. The first six dates have been announced: July 17 at RFK Stadium in Washington DC; July 18 at Giant Stadium in East Rutherford, NJ; July 21 at the Silverdome in Detroit; July 22 at the Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis; July 31 at Schaefer Stadium in Foxboro, MA, and August 2 at William-Brice Stadium in Columbia, S. Now all I have to do is figure out how to get a three-month leave so I can hit the road. What a dream show!...

Wilson Phillips is set to release their second SBK Records album Shadows And Light, and this time there's something a little different in the works. During the weekend of May 29 a special trailer will arrive at 278 Cineplex Odeon Theatres and will run on approximately 1,115 screens for four weeks. The WP program is 90 seconds in length and marks the first time a musical artist will receive this documentary-style exposure in a movie theatre. The trailer includes behind-the-scenes footage with Carnie Wilson, Chynna Phillips and Wendy Wilson, plus film taken inside the recording studio and on the video set for "You Won't See Me Cry." "Give It Up" is also heard interspersed throughout the footage...

Bits & Pieces: Former Night Ranger guitarist Jeff Watson is climbing the Album Radio charts with "Cement Shoes," from his Shrapnel album Lone Ranger. At the same time he's hosting bassist Bob Daisley and drummer Carmine Appice at his ranch studio, which is a couple of hours from San Francisco. Watson tells me they're looking for a vocalist for their new project. If you think of anyone drop me a line. Jeff wanted me to remind you that their new tune is "Morris Minor"... "Be Quick Or Be Dead" will probably be the cry of fans clamoring for tickets for the Iron Maiden tour that kicks off in Iceland on June 6. It's a new, improved and crunchy Maiden. The Sony album Fear Of The Dark is out and spinning everywhere... Over a thousand guests turned out for the grand opening of Studio X at Bad Animals/Seattle, the new state-of-the-art facility co-owned by Seattle natives Ann and Nancy Wilson of Heart and Steve Lawson. After Heart records their new album, produced by Duane Barron and John Purdell, R.E.M. and Queensryche will be making use of the new facility... Baby Animals, the new Australian sensation, is getting great reaction as they tour across the U.S. opening for Van Halen. Suze DeMarch's lead vocals and Dave Leslie's guitar set them apart. After the Van Halen stint, the band will head back to their homeland to do some headlining dates. They didn't have the luxury of staying around home earlier in their career... ●

EN VOGUE

ALL paper, En Vogue might seem like just another pre-fab group that got lucky. Terry Ellis, Cindy Herron, Maxine Jones and Dawn Robinson were brought together in 1989 by producers Denzil Foster and Thomas McElroy who, by all accounts, knew exactly what they were looking for, right down to shoe color.

Though the four women, in different combinations, had crossed paths, there was nothing to suggest they'd ever sing together.

But En Vogue has something other pre-fab groups never will. Aside from tremendous individual talent, there's a strong invisible force that binds the four members together. As Terry Ellis said in her thank yous on the group's latest album, Funky Divas, En Vogue is "the essence of sisterhood without a blood test."

When we profiled them in June of 1990, En Vogue was riding high on the success of their first hit single, "Hold On," from their debut album, Born To Sing, which eventually sold over 2 million copies. Funky Divas, their second album and first on Atco/EastWest America Records, came out in late March and surpassed all expectations. It debuted inside the top ten on retail charts, and by the time you read this will have passed platinum. The first single, "My Lovin' (You're Never Gonna Get It)" went gold (sales of 500,000 units) in just three short weeks.

ALL recent Thursday morning at 8 a.m., Maxine Jones checked in with us. She laughed when told it was a little early for a singer to be up and at 'em. "You helped me put off jogging around the lake (Oakland's Lake Merritt) a little while longer," she chuckled.

Maxine confessed that she, Dawn, Terry and Cindy were taken aback by the immediate success of Funky Divas. "We were shocked," she said, still sounding amazed.

"Our manager came in and told us to guess what number our album came in at on the pop charts. We said eighty, ninety—and he said no. So we said 154 and he still said no." She paused. "So, as a joke one of us said thirty—and we all laughed. He didn't. He said we came in at number eight. Our mouths dropped. We were dumbfounded."

The maze each individual En Vogue member followed that finally ended at Foster & McElroy's studio was a complicated one. Jones, while working as a stylist in a hair salon, was singing background for a lot of Bay Area (California) singers; Robinson worked at Safeway, but did studio work and sang in clubs; The classically-trained Herron acted in both theatre and movies; Ellis sang with a Houston-based band put together by Olympian Carl Lewis.

Pre-fab groups being what they are, it takes special people to survive one album, much less two. Jones testified that the moment they met, sparks began flying. And continue to.

"Usually (at auditions) I would be so afraid that my legs shook, my lips shook and I couldn't get anything out," she confessed. "But that time, for some reason, I was very calm, and once I met the girls, well, they were so sweet and supportive—not competitive at all."

Foster and McElroy tried out all their "applicants" in every possible combination, but when Jones, Robinson, Herron and Ellis took to the mic, the producers knew they had a winner. "For some reason the four of us blended really great," Jones said, still at a loss for a concrete reason why the group meshed so well.

So well, in fact, that the song they sang that first time together, "Waiting On You," landed on the group's first album. "That song, as it appears on the album, is our audition," Jones said.

It's a good thing the four got along, because along with Born To Sing's success came forced togetherness. And, as Jones explains, being stuck with three other people can sometimes be hard. "We spend much of the time closer than you would be with your family," she confessed. "At least if you get tired of someone in your family you can go into another room, or close the door, or leave. But we're forced to be with each other, and even when we disagree or have conflicts we have to sit up there and face each other."

This is where the aforementioned "essence of sisterhood" comes in. Jones continued, "The good thing about the girls—and this is hard to describe—no one's selfish, everyone's considerate. Their energy is really open. They're very sweet people."

According to Jones, there was very little pressure when the group was in the studio recording Born To Sing. "We were fishing around in the dark," she confided. "Denny and Tommy knew what would work, but the four of us didn't."

I remember thinking, 'the music sounds strange—it doesn't sound like anything that's on the radio now.' But Denny knew better. And what we did worked."

When it came time to become successful a second time around, the sophomore time, things were stressful. "We felt the pressure," Jones said. "Once we heard the tracks we were excited, but we still felt a lot of pressure. But we were willing to stick behind Funky Divas no matter what. Even so, it was scary."

With four voices that are, arguably, equally strong, it's hard to imagine having the chore of selecting who'll sing lead on what track.

—Sometimes Denny and Tommy will write something with a specific person in mind," she said. "Sometimes they'll write something with no one in mind and we'll all go in and just try it. I usually do the low stuff. Sometimes the other three girls switch in the middle, but mainly it's Terry at the top because she has crystal clear tones. When a song needs a lot of dynamics Cindy will take the top, and when I'm singing lead, Cindy will take the bottom."

Immediately following the success of Born To Sing, En Vogue hit all the stops. They were on Oprah and Arsenio, they were nominated for a Grammy, and "Hold On" won a 1990 Soul Train Award for "Best Single By A Band

Or Group."

With the release of Funky Divas, the group is poised to make the circuit, but are taking their time putting on their traveling shoes. Cindy Herron recently made an appearance on the sitcom "Royal Family," but as a unit, with the exception of a promo tour and some amusement park dates, En Vogue is sticking close to home for now. "We're going to do some television shows," Jones said (they've already appeared on the Arsenio Hall Show and on Saturday Night Live), "nothing else major. We're waiting to see how the album holds up—how the sales go."

Well, the sales of Funky Divas are somewhere up in the stratosphere, and the second single, a remake of Aretha Franklin's "Giving Him Something He Can Feel," is due for release in early June, so it looks like En Vogue will have to hit the road soon. Characteristically, Jones wants to take a "wait-and-see" stance. "When we did the Essence awards we were terrified because we were there with Quincy Jones, Whitney Houston, Nancy Wilson, Melba Moore—all these really great, famous legends," she said. "And they introduced us as 'women who set standards in the music business for great singing.' They said all this wonderful stuff like we were the bee's knees.

"I thought, please don't compare us to anybody, we just want to sing. Don't compare us to Aretha Franklin—please!"

ENYA

Book Of Days (Reprise)

From Enya's "Sheppard Moons" album and the soundtrack to the new Cruise/Kidman film "Far And Away." This is a melodic and harmonic masterpiece with all the elements to make it a classic.

JAMES TAYLOR

Everybody Loves To Cha Cha Cha (Columbia) JT brings his mellow style to a song that was recorded in early 1959 by its writer, the late, great Sam Cooke.

RICHARD MARX

Take This Heart (Capitol)

Another perfect counterplay to the overwhelming abundance of ballads, Richard's newest single, even the E-Z Mix, is a full-bodied passion play.

PEABO BRYSON

Shower You With Love (Columbia)

A nice merging of Peabo's talents as a songwriter and singer. It's a formula ballad, but memorable and comfortable after just one listen.

BIOFEEDBACK

by Ron Fell

•BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN

Both 2 Live Crew and Cheech & Chong have taken liberty with the lyric of Bruce Springsteen's BORN IN THE U.S.A. 2 Live Crew's BANNED IN THE U.S.A. was released in 1990 while Cheech & Chong took their shot with BORN IN EAST L.A. in 1985.

•ANNIE LENNOX

Popular legend has it that Annie Lennox first recorded in 1979 as a member of the group The Tourists, with Dave Stewart. But she had recorded and released at least one single in 1977 as a member of the group The Catch, another group formed with the very same Mr. Stewart.

•PINK FLOYD

The next time we'll hear from rockers Pink Floyd is the end of this month when they release a music video called "Pink Floyd: La Carrera Panamericana," a documentary of David Gilmour and Nick Mason's 2,500 mile road race along the Pan American Highway. The video will include eight new Floyd songs.

•3RD BASS

M.C. Serch has split form his fellow 3rd Bassmen Pete Nice and Richie Rich. Serch will concentrate on solo material while Richie and Pete will continue on together.

•DOLLY PARTON

Dolly wrote her new single, LIGHT OF A CLEAR BLUE MORNING, more than fifteen years ago. This came at a time when she was leaving her seven-year professional association with The Porter Wagoner TV show and beginning her solo career. The original version of the song appears on her first solo album.

•JON SECADA

The Jon Secada/Gloria Estefan connection began about five years ago when Secada was hired to sing backup in Gloria's Miami Sound Machine. Later he co-wrote Gloria's comeback song, COMING OUT OF THE DARK. Gloria returns the favor on Jon's debut album by singing backup on his current single.

•MICHAEL JACKSON

Earlier this month, Michael Jackson, the King Of Pop, Rock and Soul, was one of twenty-one new members of President George Bush's Annual Points of Light, a ceremonial reward that is part of National Volunteer Week.

•TLC

The trio known as TLC were discovered and are managed by the singer Pebbles, who's married to L.A. Reid. Reid co-produced some songs on the group's debut album for LaFace Records.

•ERIC CLAPTON

Not only will we soon hear Eric Clapton's contributions to the recent George Harrison tour of Japan via Harrison's live album, but Clapton can also be heard on the new Sting single from "Lethal Weapon 3" and on a new Elton John CD due before the duo begin a summer co-headlining concert tour.

•SIR MIX-A-LOT

The now-famous inflatable butt, seen in both Los Angeles and San Francisco outside brave new music stores, has now been cast in the film "Falling Down" starring Michael Douglas, Robert Duvall, Barbara Hershey and Tuesday Weld.

•LITTLE SHAWN

Rapper Little Shawn is hardly little. Given his nickname while just a child, Shawn is now a full grown six-foot-one-inches tall.

•GEORGE MICHAEL

George Michael has contributed three previously unreleased songs to the new AIDS charity album, Red Hot and Dance. Other artists donating songs include Madonna and P.M. Dawn.

ON MANAGEMENT

This week's question comes from an anonymous female:
"There is no question that when they built the radio station in which I work, they constructed a 'glass ceiling' that has always prevented women from holding anything more than token responsibility. Over the past few years the owners have just created more departments and thus have filled those with women managers. But women still have not been promoted to top jobs and have not been able to prove their merit as general managers, sales managers and program directors. How do I make a difference in their thinking?"

What a depressing question! I find it remarkable that such blatant sexism should still be going on in organizations today, but any woman can testify that it's not uncommon. I really should be addressing my remarks to the men who run that radio station, and if I was I would tell them the following:

Your policies are counterproductive because you are failing to tap into a valuable source of creative talent. I would go so far as to say to senior management that in an era where brainpower is the most important source of competitive advantage, senior managers who allow glass ceilings should be accused of failing to fulfill their fiduciary responsibilities. When good creative management is so sorely lacking in so many firms, the failure to promote the best and brightest because they don't fit into the "good old boy" network ought to be grounds for a shareholder lawsuit. On top of that, I would tell the owners that they are failing to prepare for inevitable demographic trends. The statistics indicate that only 15% of new entrants into the labor force during the remainder of this decade will be white male citizens. The remaining 85% will be women, minorities and immigrants. What do you think about that?

But I digress, because the question was aimed at what the reader can do. Here are a few options, and keep in mind that some of them are mutually exclusive, which means you'll have to pick and choose.

- Commit to being the first in your station to break through the old-boy cycle. Persevere through hard work and excellence in performance and, most important, continue to request more responsibilities. Impress the hell out of the top brass, and eventually you may be the first woman promoted to a position you deserve.
- Get a mentor, get a support system. Locate women (in radio and other indus-

• Quit. Find an organization that appreciates you more. There are many successful organizations that are aggressively and sincerely seeking and promoting women. It's scary to quit one's job, but it may even be more depressing and debilitating to continue in a situation that you find demeaning.

• Quit and start your own organization, even if you're the only one in it at first (like a Jane Doe and Associates). This is an even scarier proposition, and it does demand guts and optimism, but business writer Genevieve Capowski has summarized several trends tries) who have made it, and get their advice. Locate sympathetic men who can help you impact the owners. Also, there are probably several women's professional organizations in your area that you could plug into. If possible, attend the meetings and do some networking. You'll get practical career advice, practical tactics on how to deal with the owners, emotional support while you're going through all this, and maybe, if all else fails, you'll get a lead for another job.

• Try to educate the owners about business realities; that is, given today's demographics and market trends, bottom line success will depend on recruiting, developing and promoting qualified female and minority candidates. This is a tough sell, but it is an option for you to consider. Who knows—you may be successful. As to how to educate the owners, perhaps you can get advice from 9 to 5: National Association of Working Women (based in Cleveland; 216-599-9308. Their Job Problem Hot Line is 800-522-0925) and from Catalyst (based in New York; 212-777-8900).

• Consider legal action. This gets nasty, and as the Anita Hill case showed, you won't get much sympathy from men with a biased agenda. But you may want to go this route. You'll certainly get their attention, and you may win a promotion or at least back pay. Organize other women for a class-action suit and find a good attorney. Again, you may want to call 9 to 5.

There are two other options that go beyond trying to affect the owners' way of thinking:

that will make you feel better:

*Today there are an estimated 6 million women-owned business in the United States.

*Women-owned businesses have grown 35% in 1989-1990.

*Women business owners reported sales and receipts of $280 billion in 1987.

*By the year 2000, 40 to 50 percent of all businesses will be owned by women (tell that to your owners).

There are several organizations that are geared to the woman entrepreneur, including American Woman's Economic Development Corporation (call 800-222-AWED or 282-688-1900), the National Association of Women Business Owners (call 312-922-0465) and the U.S. Office of Women's Business Ownership (call 202-205-6673).

Stay optimistic, reader. To quote Sandra Woods, Vice President at Adolph Coors Co.: "Today's turbulent business would demand leader-style executives. Most competitive organizations will select leaders wherever they find them, no matter what sex they are. I believe it's the right time for change."

And as you're fighting your battles, keep in mind the words of former Ottawa mayor Charlotte Whitton, who observed: "Whatever women do, they must do twice as well as men to be thought half as good. Luckily, this is not difficult."

INSIDE COUNTRY

#1 ONE YEAR AGO TODAY
JOE DIFFIE - If The Devil Danced

#1 FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY
RANDY TRAVIS - Forever And Ever,
Amen

#1 TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
WAYLON & WILLIE - Just To Satisfy You

WHYL-Carlyle's Lee Adams says she spent the whole week at the Country Radio Seminar telling people, "No, I am not Jeri Mitchell from BNA Entertainment." The two got together for this photo just to prove that while they may look alike, they are indeed two different people.

BILLY RAY MANIA...Billy Ray Cyrus, whose debut single is at number one this week, recently saw his debut album ship gold. Can you think of any other Country artist who's accomplished that? Now a Memorial Day tribute is being planned around the title cut of his new album Some Gave All. The song was written by Billy Ray for a Vietnam vet he met in West Virginia, and at 1:00 PM EST, Country stations across America will simultaneously air the song. If you have any questions or need a copy of the CD, contact the Mercury/Nashville Promotion department at 1-800-456-4971.

PROJECT LITERACY...WSM-Nashville has really committed itself to Project Literacy. On May 7, they organized an on-air book drive, urging people to donate books. News Director Jerry Dahmen told us about one of the day's highlights: "In the middle of the day we received a telegram from Barbara Bush commending us on our efforts. We had two people who had learned to read through the Project Literacy program read the telegram over the air." The drive collected over 26,000 books that will be used in literacy campaigns in Nashville and throughout Tennessee. In addition to the drive, WSM co-sponsored a concert for Project Literacy at the Grand Ole Opry on May 12th. Featuring Trisha Yearwood, Tracy Lawrence, Billy Ray Cyrus, Pam Tillis and Project Literacy spokesperson Paul Overstreet, the sell-out concert collected over $22,000 for the project.

COUNTRY HAPPENINGS...Teams are being chosen for the Second Annual Music City Celebrity All-Star Softball Challenge, which will take place June 7 (during Fan Fair) at Greer Stadium in Nashville. The teams, sponsored by WSIX and WSM respectively, will consist of Clint Black, George Jones, The Oak Ridge Boys, Suzy Bogguss, Steve Wariner, Exile, Travis Tritt, Wynonna Judd, Sawyer Brown, Mark Collie, Diamond Rio, T. Graham Brown, Billy Dean, Brooks & Dunn and Joe Diffie. Reba McEntire will sing the National Anthem and there will be an all-star concert after the game. Jimmy Lehn is leaving KYKZ-Lake Charles to be the new PD/morning personality at KYKR-Beaumont. No replacement at KYKZ has been named...WWRK/FM-Elberton has a new phone number: 706-283-1714 and Fax: 706-283-8710...Rick Young has left KSNi-Santa Maria to take over as PD at A/C formatted KSTT-San Luis Obispo. MARTY STUART AND TRAVIS TRITT
- This One's Gonna Hurt You (For A Long, Long Time) (MCA)

Touring compadres Stuart and Tritt team up again, this time to warn a leaving lover how much she's gonna miss her man. It's fun just to hear these two trade verses.

ALABAMA - Take A Little Trip (RCA)

Alabama's latest will hit home for a lot of folks, and should play well throughout this recession summer.

KAREN BROOKS AND RANDY SHARP
- Baby I'm The One (Mercury)

Their bio says that this duo have written "hits for everyone from Restless Heart to Big Bird." What a great claim! The two singer/songwriters have worked together before, but never as a recording act. We love the spoken outro.

KAREN TOBIN - Love From A Heart Of Stone (Atlantic)

Tobin's second effort is a very strong song that she pours her heart into.

WYLIE AND THE WILD WEST SHOW - This Time (Cross Three)

Wylie, a Montana boy by way of Los Angeles, has come up with a very soulful single. His cool, crooning style really makes this song, and could be why the band recently won the California Country Music Association's Vocal Group, Song and Video of The Year. Look for the video of "This Time," which has been getting heavy play on CMT and TNN.

TOY CALDWELL - Wrong Right (Cabin Fever)

After fifteen years as a singer, songwriter and lead guitarist for the Marshall Tucker Band, Caldwell is now stepping out with his first solo effort. The most Country leaning cut on the album, "Wrong Right" is a heartfelt ballad with just enough of that Southern Rock feel.

Nelson is now handling all the music duties...A couple of new music call times to report. WNFM-Reedsburg's Kevin Kellog will take calls on Mondays and Tuesdays from 10:30-Noon, and WMBC-Columbus' Johnny Dees will take them on Mondays and Tuesdays from 11AM-1PM.

Talk with you next week. The Gavin Country Crew

ALBUM NEW RELEASES

BY KENT ZIMMERMAN

"IT'S PROBABLY ME" - STING with ERIC CLAPTON (A&M)

This is the song that $33 million worth of movie-goers heard during the opening titles, the first weekend of Lethal Weapon 3. In James Bond style, the opening credits are quite lavish, using flames and fire complementing Sting's smoldering vocal. Eric Clapton is back on the gut-string guitar he played on "Tears In Heaven," and he lets go of a great electric solo at the halfway mark. No pun intended—I found this song disarming.

"2001" - MELISSA ETHERIDGE (ISLAND/PLG)

Melissa Etheridge enters the twenty-first century eight years early. This is quite a departure from the acoustic-based Melissa we've come to know and love. Featuring her band, "2001" snakes its way over a bed of "industrial percussion." Melissa had a lot of options to go with as far as picking a track from Never Enough. "2001" was the boldest move, and it paid off, as it's this week's Most Added.

"WRONG" - LINDSEY BUCKINGHAM (REPRISE)

After living with the complete album the past few weeks, it's difficult to pluck just one of sixteen trax to represent such an eclectic effort. "Wrong" is the first slice of Out Of The Cradle that hits radio. Recorded with Richard Dashut, who collaborated on many of Fleetwood Mac's biggest efforts, including Rumours, "Wrong" also contains its share of rumors. Written partly as a response to a chapter of Mick Fleetwood's tell-all book, "Wrong" is a saucy and unusual guitar song very much in line with Lindsey's experimental, cocooned approach to recording. After quite a few spins, I found myself fascinated by the layers of guitars and cynicism. Both thumbs up!

"SHAKIN' THE CAGE" - THE ZOO (CAPRICORN)

So who but Mick Fleetwood could follow Lindsey Buckingham? Just to be safe on the safe side, I'm putting both discs in separate stacks. Fleetwood's Zoo has traveled as far as Africa in search of the eternal beat. Now he's holding down a backbeat in Los Angeles, playing borderline metal. This six-piece includes guitarist Billy Thorpe, best known for his spacey rock n roll of the seventies.

THE GREAT INDOORS - BRENDAN CROKER (SILVERTONE/RCA)

This is the disc that was stuck in my machine all day on a Tuesday. Sixty minutes of divinity played over and over for well over four hours. Brendan Croker made a little headway quite a few months back with his band the 5 O'Clock Shadows with guests like Eric Clapton. Sans the band, Brendan has found a sweeter, more personal sound. The Great Indoors will give those into Bob Dylan's Slow Train a flash of deja vu. Not that it contains any startling spiritual revelations. Producer Barry Beckett, who worked with Dylan on that album, gives Brendan the same backwoods tour of America that Croker puts to good use on songs like "I Hope That It Don't go Away," "I Guess That Says It All," "Darlin'," "Tell Me" and "There'll Come A Day." "Send Me To New Orleans" is a nice Allen Toussaint tribute. But it's the opening "Heart And Home" that begins The Great Indoors on a dynamic, swampy note. On various other trax, guest guitarist Mark Knopfler makes his presence felt. However, it's Croker's experience as a pub rocker that makes The Great Indoors so brilliantly logical. Here's a record that's precious and warm-blooded, and not too far from the gut-stringed direction Clapton himself has taken with the Rush and Lethal Weapon 3 soundtracks.

WESTERN BEAT - KEVIN WELCH AND THE OVERTONES (REPRISE)

Kevin Welch is one of the best writers in America. Before all of this mass appeal Garth Brooks stuff, he was mixing American styles and metaphors, not really comfortable being corralled in Nashville land. So he hit the road and has seen a helluva lot of America as a soloist. With his band, Welch's sound is full and new. Calling his brand of rock n roll Western Beat, Kevin could conceivably share the stage with disenfranchised cowpokes like McMurtry, Mellencamp, Springsteen, Ely, Yoakam, Lang, Hancock, Gilmore, Raitt, Falcon, Shocked, Darden Smith and more. Despite economical and racial turmoil, America is turning out it's freshest crop of songwriters yet. Trouble is, a lot of them are still looking for radio homes. To these ears, a song like "I Look For You" has the passion that can match the best of them.

'THINK ABOUT SOUL' - THE SIGHS (CHARISMA)

A kickin' four piece from Boston holds onto that Beantown Real Kids/Willie Alexander/Fools heritage. Producer Ed Stasium lets the leather jackets and guitars speak for themselves. Whether they're talking about inner soul, soul music, whatever...it works within the confines of three quick minutes. Nice wham, bam, hit, run and attack.

NO SOUL NO STRAIN - WIRE TRAIN (MCA)

Oh, what a clever four piece Wire Train has turned into since bolting the Bay Area for La La Land. Since their wispy 415 daze, Wire Train has muscled up with a rock solid line-up. Jeffrey Trott has seen the world, wowing the Brits, working with the likes of World Party. He's an innovative and thoughtful player. Drummer Brian MacLeod has also expanded his skills, playing sessions with Roger Waters and Toy Matinee. Anders Rundblad has been holding Wire Train's bottom since the early days, and is a mad San Jose Sharks fan. Kevin Hunter seems to be going through his beatnik phase, writing his best poetry yet, when he isn't washing his lyrics in the wash machine. "Stone Me" is a raving beginning, a bouncy, hooking rhythm. Throughout the rest of the album, similes and metaphors collide with guitar licks and bold drum beats. It's nice to hear Wire Train so vibrant, making their best music ever.

ALTERNATIVE INSIDE

BY LINDA RYAN

THE CURE found their land-legs last week, disembarking from the QEII in New York on Wednesday, May 13. WDRE welcomed them with a fans only press conference and the band, in their first and last radio interview this time out, hosted TOM CALDERONE's syndicated show, MODERN ROCK LIVE. Tom said the band was great to work with and "talked about everything from sanck cakes to their favorite record." Things went so well that the 60 minute show was extended to 90 minutes! New numbers...The area code in Athens, GA. (or parts of it, anyway) has changed. You can now reach WUOG at 706-542-8466...KTCL has a new phone and fax number—303-493-9043 and 303-493-9073 respectively.

Look for WHTG's MATT "Media Magnet" PINFIELD in an upcoming episode of MTV's new "series," Real World. The Pinster will be playing a DJ (no jokes, please) interviewing the band REIGN DANCE.

Matt "Hands Across The Water" Pinfield also mentioned that England's music monster, the NME, phoned (or should I say rang) him up at 5:30 a.m. last week, hoping to confirm or deny rumors that Asbury Park's best-know son BRUCE "The Boss" SPRINGSTEEN had died in a car accident. Pinfield hadn't heard anything about a car accident and reminded the reporter that The Boss now lives in Los Angeles. Then he gave him

LEWIS LARGENT's number. Not!

Speaking of powerful English music papers, rumor has it the Bay Area's beloved PAVEMENT has turned down a MELODYMAKER cover. Now that's entertainment.

I had a blast last week on LIVE 105's Boat Cruise party, which featured THE SPENT POETS, THE SENSELESS THINGS and BLUR. The Spent Poets were plagued with sound problems that thankfully cleared up by the time The Things hit the stage. (I'm still half deaf from that one!) Not to be outdone, Blur played on—wreaking havoc on-board the ship—for a long time after the boat docked.

A very long time after the boat docked.

CIMX—89-X—has announced plans to host an anniversary, celebrating one year (time flies when you're having fun!) of Alternative music, twenty-four hours a day. The X-Fest is set to take place on Saturday, June 6 and Sunday June 7. The line-up includes: PETER MURPHY, THE NYMPHS, THE SENSELESS THINGS, THE SMITHEREENS, THE POSTER CHILDREN, PRONG, etc.

Congratulations to XTC on their new number one! THE CURE, despite the backwards move, are still a force to be reckoned with, while THE CHARLATANS' new track earns them plenty of steam—and an underline—this week.

NEW RELEASES

TUMBLEWEED - THEATRE OF GNOMES (WATERFRONT/ AUSTRALIA) P.O. BOX A537, SYDNEY SOUTH 2000.

I try to avoid starting the review section with imports because A) not everyone can get them and B) not everyone cares about what's going on in other parts of the world, but this five-song EP is the best thing to cross my desk this week. Hailing from Australia (a place called Wollongong—don't ask me 'cos I don't know), Tumbleweed owe a great deal to American guitar bands like Mudhoney, The Ramones and Dinosaur Jr., and pay their respect without blueprinting the sound. My favorite track on the EP is "Carousel," whose psychedelic monster-of-a-groove is the only track that sounds, well, Australian. The other tracks are heavier (and if you'll excuse the term), grungier and definitely American sounding. They include "Stoned," "Millennium," "Holy Moses" and "Shake-down." Well worth hunting down, or write to the address above. LINDA RYAN

THE STAIRS - "WEED BUS" (GO!/LONDON/PLG)

I shelled out ten bucks for the import CD of this single, which sees the light of day domestically this week. This Liverpool band takes its musical influences seriously, staying faithful the sounds of garage bands like The Chocolate Watchband,

The Standells, Small Faces and even the early Who and Stones. Hey, they even record in mono! With his gritty, snarling vocals, Edward Summertyme sounds like a beer-drinking, cigarette-smoking, seasoned bluesman, not a twenty year-old Liverpudlian who cut his teeth playing bass for Ian McCulloch. It might be hard for some of you to get past the "Last Time"/"Magic Bus" vibe, but one thing's for sure—"Weed Bus" sounds nothing like anything else on your playlist. Can you dig it? Yes I can! LR

RISE ROBOTS RISE (TVT)

This one's hard to get a handle on because Rise Robots Rise sound different on just about every track. The band combines funk, hip-hop, retro-rock and plenty of soul on their album, so you'll hear a psychedelic Beatles-type of vibe on "Buffalo Wack Child," a seventies soul-flavored kiss on "All Sewn Up" and "Get Ready," with a hip-hop, socio-political groove weaving in and out of it all. Your favorites will depend on whether you like a more retro or hip-hop sound. Aside from the tracks already mentioned, my faves include "If I Only Knew" and "The Pipe Talks To You." Give it a listen and live with it for a while. LR

THE SEXTANTS - LUCKY YOU (IMAGO)

Probably the first thing that strikes you when listening to the San Francisco-based Sextants is the vocal interplay between siblings Brennan and Lori Hester—I mean their harmonies are dead on! The band's clean sound and sing-a-long pop style underscore this dynamic contribution to The Sextants' debut album, Lucky You. Without a doubt, the cornerstone of the album is the lead-track, "One I Love," a jangling, love-gone-wrong song with chiming Beatlesque harmonies. There are a few songs that fall short of their potential, but for the most part, Lucky You offers a lot of promise. Other songs to check out include "Sand Dollar Girl," "She Thinks" and "I Had A Thought." Give it a spin. LR

TOM TOM CLUB - DARK SNEAK LOVE ACTION (SIRE/REPRISE)

Hard to believe it's been three years since we last felt the cool caress of the Club's inimitable sound, but this ...Action was worth the wait. "Love Wave" slithers sensually with Tina

Weymouth's half-spoken vocals and a cool James Bond-like guitar. The single "Sunshine And Ecstasy (Feel My Heartbeat)" is an excursion into exotic, forbidden terrain guided by burping bongos and lulling keyboards. Tina injects the required amount of raw adoration into the cover of Hot Chocolate's "You Sexy Thing," and "Irresistible Party Dip's" bass line trolls and rolls along. "Dogs In The Trash" is the trademark eccentric groove with werewolf howls and eerie keyboards, but "Daddy Come Home's" surreal mix of bagpipes and nimble vocals make it my coldest cut. Dark Sneak... catches its quota of hop on grooves and shaking moves. BUFFALO TOM

When Good Things Happen To Good People

The most appealing thing about the guys in Buffalo Tom is that they're completely unconcerned about cool. Their attitude is sort of like their records—no premeditated engaging quirkiness or self-conscious wanking—just full-on, unpretentious, soaring, and textural rock that hosts melodies so thick they'll choke you. The band's newest release, Let Me Come Over, is their third full-length and could be considered their coming-of-age, as it is the Buff's first effort sans the production skills of Dinosaur Jr.'s mastermind J. Mascis, whose periphery presence on 1989's eponymous debut and 1990's Birdbrain earned Buffalo Tom the not-entirely-deserved nickname of Dinosaur Jr., Jr. In just about every interview I've read with Buffalo Tom, the subject inexorably turns to Mascis and his influence, and my conversation with their well-grounded frontman, Bill Janovitz, progresses accordingly.

"I think sometimes I actually sound defensive about J.," Janovitz muses, "but I don't really mean to because without a doubt I think J. was a big part of the band, especially when we got started. Sometimes I read interviews that I've done and people come out and say that I was acting very defensive, but I don't mean to. I just want to clarify the whole thing. On our first record J. wasn't a producer in the producer sense of the word. We were just getting to know him as a friend. He's a pretty quiet guy anyway and he was even more quiet because we didn't really know him then. And he came in about halfway through the record, which we had recorded over the course of a year whenever we had money. J. came in halfway through the process and recommended a couple of things—that we rerecord 'Sunflower Suit' and another song, and then he was there for the whole mixing of it. He was kinda hands-off—it was more ideas and opinions.

"I think J. was more influential on Birdbrain," Janovitz continues, "because by that time I had really gotten into You're Living All Over Me and gotten to know him as a person. And he was there for the whole album. With that record, I could see where people would say, 'well it sounds like Dinosaur, Jr.' When bands first start, critics need to say how they sound, so with us it was really natural to say 'this is where they come from.'"

Where they (Buffalo Tom) come from is Amherst, Massachusetts, home of the University of Massachusetts and about two and one-half hours from bustling Boston. In many college towns, even the most talented local bands have a hard time winning an audience, and Amherst was no exception. As Janovitz explains, "It was like beating our heads against the wall. It's a really dry scene in Amherst. Even for Dinosaur. I remember going to see them after their second record—which was probably really big everywhere else in the world—and there would be ten people in the ballroom. There are five colleges and I'd guess one hundred thousand students in that area!"

With Amherst unreceptive, Boston was the easy avenue for Buff Tom. "Because of the kind of environment in which we started," Janovitz says, "a lot of our time was spent trying to get gigs in Boston." He admits, however, that Boston, which, a few years ago, was genuinely "happening," may be on the wane: "Us and Galaxie 500 were probably the last couple of bands to get lumped in the Boston scene." But as far as influences are concerned, besides the aforementioned and oft-mentioned Dinosaur, Jr., Janovitz considers his band's musical roots to be considerably west of Beantown. "It's pretty true that none of us really came from the hardcore scene, as far as what hardcore meant in Boston. J. was in one of the hardcore outfits called Deep Wound, but I really didn't know the stuff. We were definitely influenced by second generation hardcore bands like Husker Du and the Replacements, 'cause I was turned on to what was going on in Minneapolis. And I can see the Sonic Youth influence, and the SST thing."

Buffalo Tom's self-titled first effort appeared on SST in 1989. For the Buffs it was a real thrill, as many of their favorite artists (including Dinosaur) were recording for that label. Janovitz, although aware of the many complaints other bands have voiced concerning SST, doesn't have any gripes about his dealings with them. "I understand what everyone's complaining about," he begins, "because nobody's been paid, basically. But I don't know what they were expecting. I think our expectations were different. We signed to SST because we had the opportunity to and we were awestruck to have that opportunity, because we were big fans. J. had been on SST for a while, and I think he even suggested we stay away from them. He continued, "I think we made the right move because having a record on that label opened a lot of doors for us. There are some things that are still up in the air and that we're trying to get straightened away business-wise, but I really don't expect to see any money from them. On our first tour we'd have to go out and schedule our own interviews and things like that, but that's the grass roots SST philosophy, I think."

That era of self-promo ended for Buffalo Tom when they hooked up with Beggars Banquet just before Birdbrain. They were the label's first American-and-living-in-America signing. "For us the attraction was, after SST, getting some records in to the stores," says Janovitz. Beggars, as a mostly European-based company, has aided the band in building a reputation in Britain—something that can be difficult for an American guitar band.

Currently, the band is touring in the U.S., and, judging from their recent San Francisco show, garnering lots of fans stateside in the process. But Janovitz isn't letting all the acclaim go to his head. "I would just like to do better than last year," he says, "just be able to make a living. For me, music is definitely it."

Cool.

PERSONAL PICKS

SINGLES by Dave Sholin

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN - 57 Channels (And Nothin' On) (Columbia) Anyone who's ever scanned their television can relate to this story/song. Besides, here's radio's opportunity to take a shot at TV via music. But one channel had something on a few weeks back, when "The Boss" performed this song on "Saturday Night Live" and racked up the biggest numbers the show has ever had. He'll do it again on June 5th with a telecast of the dress rehearsal for his upcoming world tour.

RICHARD MARX - Take This Heart (Capitol) Refusing to simply play it safe, Richard took some chances on the Rush Street album, and they've paid off. Mainstream, uptempo, wide appeal, this latest entry should once again take him to a place he's very familiar with—the upper regions of the chart.

RADIO ACTIVE CATS - Bed Of Roses (Warner Bros.) Brothers Shel and Mike Graves say their music heroes are bands like Led Zeppelin, Aerosmith and T-Rex, but the '50s Rock N' Roll/Blues attitude on this track is undeniable. These cats deserve a home—on radio.

SHAKESPEARE'S SISTER - Stay (London/PLG) When this duo debuted back in 1989 with the song "You're History," it was clear they would stand for nothing less than the unusual and offbeat. This haunting ballad proves they haven't changed course as they deliver a melody that has true staying power.

ENYA - Book Of Days (Reprise) If ever an artist set a mood with their music, Ireland's Enya is the one. Featured in the new Tom Cruise/Nicole Kidman film "Far And Away," the video is once again spectacular and includes movie footage. Check it out on Gavin Video Magazine #7, out this week.

TEENAGE FANCLUB - What You Do To Me (DGC) Even the name of this Scottish group is hot! Clocking in under two minutes is not the only shocker here—how about a song with no verses, only chorus? From start to finish we're talking hook, hook and more hook.

INDIGO GIRLS - Galileo (Epic) What began as a groundswell has turned into a large and loyal following for the creative and sensitive artistry of Emily Saliers & Amy Ray. Fresh, compelling and strong on adult appeal, they will surely delight audiences with this spiritual tale of reincarnation.

ALBUMS by Ron Fell

WILSON PHILLIPS - Shadows And Light (SBK/ERG)

While there is no need to apologize for the net results of their debut album, the Wilson and Phillips ladies have been careful to note that their debut was a product of teenage vision, while this new album finds them all in a post-adolescent mindset. Whereas they harmonically avoided their celebrity parentage on the first volume, this new album airs dirty linen for all to hear. Knowing our curiosity about their lives as offspring to Beach Boys and Mamas & Papas, Shadows and Light sheds some of each during the lyrical discourse of this set. Having set exceptional standards for vocal harmony on their first album, Wilson Phillips have now taken time to compose revealing, grown-up letters home, and other songs of emotional engagement and entanglement like GIVE IT UP, THIS DOESN'T HAVE TO BE LOVE, WHERE ARE YOU, DON'T TAKE ME DOWN, the lead single YOU WON'T SEE ME CRY and the Wilson's daughter-to-father reality check titled FLESH AND BLOOD. Wilson Phillips was and will remain "the franchise" to their label, SBK. Talent and charisma do that.
