AN EMOTIONAL THE SECOND TRACK OFF THEIR ALBIM Do.

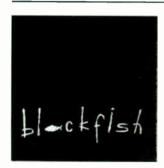

"CARELESS CHILD"

TOP PRIORITY

Illian Axe, "Crucified", I.R.S. Last year Poetic Justice hit sales figures in excess of 120,000 with corresponding chart success along the way. Lillian Axe has been blessed with the talent to write great songs, work hard, pay their dues, and break into the AOR ranks with solid singles like "True Believer" and "No Matter What". Psychoschizophrenia will likely take the band to the next level with hard hitting "Crucified" as a first release. Steve's guitar blazes once again as he incorporates his classical training and a terrific edge to the album. Steve takes Axe's sound to a darker, heavier place with results that are already paying off. Early action at WWBZ, WRZK, KZRX, WVCR and WKLQ have people like John Edwards at the Blaze admitting, "It has just the right texture for us." KLQ's Dave Wellington adds, "I'm really impressed with the sound of their new stuff." We think you'll agree.

HARD ACTS TO FOLLOW

lackfish, "Sweet Sixteen", Epic Take our word for it—this will be one of the best songs you've heard in months. KRFD may just be the hippest radio station of the week. They were out of the gate early on Blackfish because the single hits like a ton of bricks with a huge hook, hilarious lyrics, a maximum groove and 'RFD's Jim Naylor thinks it's "a killer tune going into rotation this week!" The instant appeal of the band makes sense given the fact that singer/songwriter Steve Ballard was heavily influenced by pop radio artists like Cheap Trick, The Cars and Van Halen in his formative years. Expect KRFD to be the first on the list in a steady stream of supporters for "Sweet Sixteen".

Ishbone, "Unyielding Conditioning", Columbia Fishbone's forte has always been live performances. They have long been considered the darlings of the underground with the affinity for incessant touring and hordes of loyal fans. The current Lollapalooza ride is giving the band mega exposure and raising temperatures at every show. The new album has done a great job of representing their super-charged live essence. A number of extras were employed on the project including Branford Marsalis who injects serious sax for added appeal. Though the Fishbone sound has always been hard to pin down, their bass-heavy sound is present once again and draws attention to similarities with past LPs. The Reality Of My Surroundings was the last success story for the crew and helped put the Fishbone name on the map. Thank

Norwood Fisher for his strong bass talents once again. He has provided one of many reasons

"Unyielding" is grabbing lots of Triple A adds which include AAA/AOR signals that straddle the fence like KBCO. The AOR push is on and Ginger Havalat is saying, "This one conjures up wonderful memories of Sly & The Family Stone in their hey day."

ohnnie Johnson And The Kentucky Headhunters, "Stumblin", Elektra Johnnie Johnson was born in 1924. He has honed his piano talents for over half a century while doin' the Chicago Blues scene with greats like Muddy Waters and Albert Johnson. Chuck Berry and Keith Richards are among some of the rock and roll legends who have dabbled in rock and roll with Johnson. The birth of That'll Work happened backstage at the 1992 Grammys. In a chance meeting, Johnson and the Kentucky Headhunters discussed the possibility of collaborating and soon The Headhunters were writing a ton of smoking blues songs for the new album. "Stumblin" captures the talents of the Blues legend and adds a serious back beat, honky tonk piano, a little sax, some boogie guitar and the Kentucky Headhunters to yield a song built purely for fun. The light single is great for anyone with two left feet and a love for musical simplicity.

V In Flames, "Love In Motion", Reprise TV In Flames is a strange name for a band, but it certainly grabs your attention. "Love In Motion" should have the same effect. The smokin' collaboration between lan, Shel, and Mike sounds like a mixture of music from members of Zeppelin, Aerosmith, The Stones...with a little blues character thrown into the mix. You're bound to hear a lot more from these guys and we recommend diving into the new single head-first.

ef Leppard, "Two Steps Behind", Columbia Track after track, Columbia has scored chart hit after hit from the Last Action Hero Soundtrack. That's why it's no surprise to hear that "Two Steps Behind" is already a Hard favorite 31". This is the official release week for the Def Leppard ditty and already the stats are impressive. More than 61 AORs, double digit adds including WRDU, KBPI, KCAL, KRZR, WDHA and KZAK along with Top 5 Phones from John Edwards at The Blaze, KUPD, KIBZ, WRCN and WKLQ combine to keep momentum strong. The latest power ballad from the English super-group is acting like a Def Leppard single should. It's a hit! M.J. tells us KCAL "is loving it. The audience never gets enough Def Lep."

NEW EMPHASISTRACKS

nthrax, "Black Lodge", Elektra The Sound Of White Noise is being labeled as Anthrax's biggest mainstream record vet. Now all the talk can be supported by the top 5 single, "Only" and "Black Lodge", the newest song for Elektra to brag about. The intriguing guitar tremolo and heavy darkness make it a perfect record for COR/AOR's to sink their teeth into. In fact, we dare to say that Judy McNutt at KRXQ would call it something like "the ultimate in heaviosity". She's one of the big names to jump early along with Brian Schock at KNAC, Gregg Steele at KRXX, Greg Mull at WXTB and Oedipus at WBCN. KNAC's Cindy Scull says "Holy sh*t! It's unbelievable!

n Emotional Fish, "Careless Child", Atlantic "Celebrate" was the single that raised eyebrows on the Alternative end and snagged a fair amount of AOR airplay as well. Now an even broader base has been established with the addition of Triple A enthusiasm and an AOR friendly release. Simply put, "Careless" is a strong record. The orchestration has been edited out of the LP version and the result is a clean. harder cut made for mainstream consumption. The Irish crew kicks off their American tour in Medford Lakes New Jersey this weekend at the party of all parties, The Hard Canoe Carnival.

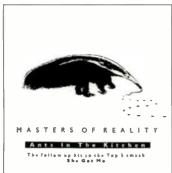

teve Miller Band, "Blue Eyes", Island/PLG The title cut to Miller's new project is in the history books as a top 5 single now. That's a great springboard for the second release "Blue Eyes" which picked up early action at KQRS in Heavy, KBCO, WHMH, KRXQ and more. The single comes in a nice, easy, three minute edit for those who like the classic Steve Miller hit and run. Word has it "Blue Eyes" is a live favorite with near-sellout crowds who have been attending the space cowboy's recent shows.

oto, "Two Hearts",
Relativity Kingdom Of Desire is the first album for Toto in years and one that marks a new beginning for the band. The perception that the band is full of life and diversity is growing by leaps and bounds thanks to their extensive live touring schedule and the terrific AOR success of "Don't Chain My Heart". "2 Hearts" promises to deliver more of the same for the mainstream world with heavy guitars and the strong, signature vocals of Steve Lukather.

overdale/Page, "Over Now", Geffen By now it's a safe call to say that David Coverdale and Jimmy Page are a big hit as a duo.
"Pride And Joy" hit number one, "Shake
My Tree" went to number two, "Take Me
For A Little While" went top ten and "Over Now" shows real signs of the same success. KILO, KAZY, WHCN, WRZX, KEZO, WUFX, WXLP, WXZL, WKQQ, WPLR, WHMH and KROK are only some of the new calls on the add list with people like WHCN's Pam Brooks calling it, "just another automatic from two legendary rock stars."

asters Of Reality, "Ants In The Kitchen", EMI/ERG Plenty of fans say a real Beatles flavor is present in much of Masters' music. Many heard it in the top 5 smash, "She Got Me" and some say they hear it again on "Ants". Whether you feel the Fab Four or not, you'll feel the relentless pounding and you'll hear a strange sense of humor. This is not for the faint hearted. Asthma patients and those with ticker conditions be warned. You'll only get a few seconds to catch your breath over the course of this one.

ick Jagger, "Out Of Focus", Atlantic If certified hits like "Don't Tear Me Up" and "Wired All Night" aren't enough to convince you that Mick Jagger and Wandering Spirit still have the goods, consider the new rock release. This is a bad single with a serious guitar break as part of it. Count on the usual Jagger attitude and some of the meanest back up singers in the business—as usual. It's the perfect "get down" rock track.

WKGB's Todd McCarthy shares, "He's still got it. We've been playing this one for four weeks and it's a major hit."

MOST ACTIVE

B ob Dylan, "My Back Pages", Columbia 'PDH's Greg O'Brien had a mouth full to say about "Back Pages". He said, "Talk about 'Greg O'Brien's blowing the load feast...' This song is out of control." That's just one of the reasons Bob Dylan picked up the Number One slot on the Most Added list this week.

Raging Slab, "Take A Hold", Def
American Early action at WBAB and WGLF was the first sign that the Slab was landing a big AOR hit with their second release. The Out Of The Box week earned a second Most Added spot in the stat books and showed major market support from WXTB, KLBJ, KRNA, WHCN and more as it forced a Hard Hundred Debut of 56*.
WDHA'S TJ called it "a highlight!"

Red Hot Chili Peppers, "Soul To Squeeze", Warner Bros. Much to Warner's delight, more than 81 AORs grace the add column for the Red Hot Chili Peppers. KIOZ and WAVF are reporting Top 5 Phones and 9 increases from signals like KRXQ, WSHE, WAVF, show off "Souls" upward progress. The Coneheads Soundtrack is apparently a good vehicle to showcase the Pepper talents.

B aby Animals, "Don't Tell Me What To Do", Imago This is not a Toyota commercial. This week WPDH's Greg O'Brien emphatically states, "I love It." The Hard debut of 79* should make a real impression on mainstream folks too, along with new adds at KRZR, WHCN, KEZE, KRNA, KNCN and more. Suzi D. will make your head spin with her vocals while the entire Aussi crew smokes.

the first single and video from "rumble doll," one of twelve songs by a singer and songwriter with a richly emotional voice and intensely personal vision.

"A perfect album." -Entertainment Weekly

"Scialfa's debut CD, Rumble Doll, is . . .finely crafted. Each of the songs . . . is good enough to be released as a single."

-New York Post

"Rumble Doll is a charming, vaguely old-fashioned album full of sturdy shimmering pop. Stand back, and let the woman in." -Newsweek

"Rumble Doll is securely Scialfa's album. Her voice frequently bends up beautifully to the top of her range..."

"Patti Scialfa has created an album that celebrates innocent love, brain-twisting desire, and the cause of the fever . . ."

-Newsday

"Scialfa definitely has her own voice-and it's most assuredly a woman's voice . . . dealing with the tough transition between an extended girlhood and a harder-fought maturity. Her writing unabashedly lays bare the hopes and dreams of everyday existence . . . It's an old-fashioned, traditional rock world."

-LA Times

"The album starts with attraction and temptation, moves into love and finishes with a deepening sense of how complex that thing called love can be."

MOSTACTIVE

Deep Purple, "The Battle Rages On", Giant Date Miller tells us at KATP "It exploded with Top 5 Phones the moment we played it. Deep Purple is a staple of the AOR format and the audience knows it." Deep moves 34-25* on the singles chart and debuts 22* on the album side as a top 5 Most Added single—again!

B ig Country, "The One I Love", Fox There is a real AOR story building in front of your eyes. The band is back on American shores with "The One" and it grabbed attention this week as a Top 10 Most Added single for another week. KOME's Stephen Page shared his enthusiasm saying, "Big Country has been rejuvenated. The new single is terrific."

Stone Temple Pilots, "Wicked Garden", Atlantic WDIZ's Tim Travis claims "You'll love it to death! It burns." 77+ stations are spinning the single to date including adds this week from KBPI, KSJO, KCAL, KRZR and Top 5 Phones at KISW, WHMH and KICT. Heavy slots at KILO, KNAC, WDIZ, WAAF, WXTB, WXQR, KRRK, KRAB and others are contributing to the hit feeding frenzy.

Gary Hoey, "Hocus Pocus", Reprise The newest guitar god on the scene continues to build his reputation with increases at signals like KNAC, KISS and WBZX. 17 new adds include WRIF, WDVE, WONE, KSJO, KUPD and KIBZ.

Idnight Oil, "Outbreak Of Love", Columbia KLOL, KLOS, WBAB, WMMR, WNOR, WOUR, KORS, WRDU, KSKE and WAVF are just a sample of the 72 mainstream supporters playing "Outbreak".

WMMR's Rikki Hofberg calls it a song that "completely grows on you." She also offers, "Give it a chance." The song hits 35-29* for the week.

The Waterboys, "Preparing To Fly", Geffen Greg O'Brien of WPDH added "Prepare" Out Of The Box and says if you play it "prepare to soar with this record." KLBJ, KCLB, WHMH, WPDH, KRFD and KJKJ also jumped on the single early helping to give it a 95* Hard Debut.

Radiohead, "Creep", Capitol "Creep" is turning into an amazing AOR story. The song has been building steadily for 8 weeks and hit 35* this week. The song is extremely reactive too with 17 stations reporting Top 5 Phones. New adds include WIOT, WRDU, KLPX, WONE and KDJK. WAVF's Holly Anderson says "'Creep' is blowing us away. Every time we play it we are inundated with calls."

Blues Traveler, "Defense & Desire", A&M
Blues Traveler a COR hit? You bet. This one is like no other Blues Traveler single you've heard. "Defense" is a rare cut with the ability to straddle the fine AOR/COR line with ease. KRXQ, KIOZ, KISS, WMMS, KSKE, WHMH, WMMR and KRFD are convinced even at this early stage of the game and plenty of action is certain to follow as their successful H.O.R.D.E. tour hits its climax,

Linc Gales Band, "Paralyzed", Elektra 70+ signals including new ones like KAZY, WLZR, KSHE, KRRK, KZAK and WWWV. Greg O'Brien describes it as a song that "sent numbness through my body!" from his 'PDH post. The Hard number 32* seems to reflect that sentiment along with 7 increases and Top 5 Phones at KQRC and WEGR. In fact, WEGR's Zeke Logan said, "I've had the advance cassette for awhile, but when I got the new Eric Gales Band CD today, I got jazzed. Quite a second effort!"

an Moore, "How Does It Feel", Capricorn
WKLS, KSHE, WFBQ, KXRX, WSFL, KMOD, WRCN, WGLF, KSQY and KATS are just some of the new signals to embrace one of rock and roll's brightest young guitar players. Eight rotation increases tell the story of how "How" is progressing on the AOR front. Ian has been on the road for weeks, killing every room. Next stop, the Hard Party! Don't miss it if your in the tristate area. (P.S. Happy 25th Birthday Ian!)

Trace Overkill, "Sister Havana", Geffen This is one of the bigger stories of the week. By now, more than 140 mainstreamers are on the Chicago band's new single with more than half in Medium or better. Six Top 5 Phones and 22 increases push the song to 13-11*, within one of being a Top 10 single. Look for the top ten break through next week. WBRU's Frank Huang says, "I personally dig Urge Overkill". KBAT's Dru Dawson tells us it has "electricity like crazy!"

WHY ASK YNF

The Tampa radio rumor mill has been in high gear for some weeks now, with speculation centering on CBS's 13 year heritage rocker WYNF. There was a Westinghouse trade rumor, talk of Cox doing some sort of station swap, loose talk of WYNF LMA-ing another station in town, and even conjecture that Infinity was poised to get their hands on Great American's WXTB.

Steve Downes

According to WYNF PD Steve Downes, the Cox rumor intensified toward the end of last week, and first thing Monday the other shoe dropped. The staff was assembled and told that CBS and Cox Enterprises had cut a deal giving Cox WYNF, with CBS — oldies giant that they are — picking up KLRX/Dallas. The staff was also informed that everyone would be let go as of Friday the 13th. Gulp. The following day Cox issued a memo saying they were interviewing for positions available and would gladly interview all dismissed WYNF personnel, saying there would not be an immediate format change. In the meantime, a switch to Hot AC or Classic Rock seems to be the smart bet among the locals. Given the current success the Cox sisters are having with WCKG/Chicago, the CR bet might seem a little stronger, but then again, word on the street has the organization very down on rock and roll, so who knows? But, considering their two existing Tampa properties are AC (WWRM) and AC talk (WSUN), they've got a number of viable options.

So, what was it like to sit through that Monday morning meeting? Steve Downes comments, "We felt an immediate sense of loss, but over the last few days it seems as if the rumors of WYNF's demise may have been premature. The fact of the matter is that there is a lot of heritage here that's a definite market impression over the last 13 years, and WYNF is the only mainstream AOR in the marketplace." We're sure Greg Mull will debate that last point, but probably not Steve's statement that, "There is a tremendous amount of talent at this radio station and where they choose to go and who will want them, only the future knows. Sean Portmann has been a tremendous General Manager to work for, and it's really a been a blast to work in such a family atmosphere." Despite the rumors, he continued, "It was a blind side hit, but that's radio in the '90s and it's a different ball game now. It's up to the people who play it to adjust to the rules. This is the first duopoly in this market and it probably won't be the last." One final question — to what degree did the Ron and Ron defection factor into the above scenario? "That was obviously an event of major significance to the station," said Steve, "but ultimately it had negligible effect on this deal".

Available as of Monday, August 16, (and all in the [813] area code): Steve Downes, 784-5088, M.D. Morgan, 823-6668, Promo Dir. Jon Volmar 345-0164, News Dir. Walt Bob Marsicano, 888-5608, overnighter Mike Bacchus 367-2073, Midday Ace Due Delaney 867-1967, Morning man Grego, 535-4892, Night timer Austin Keyes, 525-1958, and Asst. Promo. Dir. Zoltan Koppany, 577-3623. And that's just the list of full time personnel.

RANDY HOCK MOVES TO MUSICOM

The official announcement won't hit for a week or two, but you can count on long-time MCA VP Promo Randy Hock leaving the label for the VP/Marketing position with Philadelphia based Musicom marketing. Denny Somach's the CEO of the new publicly traded company, which specializes in music collectibles and memorabilia world wide. The company's first product line is a collection of limited edition lithos, and we hear tell they also have exclusive rights to all the Beatles covers, timing nicely into the 30th anniversary of the British Invasion next year. Look for Randy to make the official move once the Meat Loaf launch is underway.

KUKO CLOSES THE BOOK ON ALT

KUKQ/Phoenix has dropped its Alternative format and for now, will simulcast sister station KUPD. MD Leah Miller has been retained as Programming Assistant, with the rest of the staff, including PD Jonathan L. Rosen, joining the ranks of the unemployed. Jonathan told the Hard Report, "It was a financial and business move. An AM station simply doesn't sound as good as an FM. Although the alternative format is growing stronger, it doesn't mean that two stations that are strictly alternative can survive in one market at this point in time — I knew that when I came back to KUKQ. Regardless, I feel good about helping to pave the way, first with KEYX and then with KUKQ, for what will hopefully be a successful alternative FM station in the Phoenix market." Jonathan can be reached at (602) 963-1796.

INFINITY SOARS

While overall radio revenues are up 9% for the first half of the year, Infinity Broadcasting has announced record earnings for the second quarter. Earnings soared 382% to $5.7 million. Net revenues for the company climbed 32% to $40.3 million. For lucky investors, this translates into a three-for-two stock split.

Need A Goode Lawyer

Elektra's Manager, Adult Alternative Promotion, Andrea Goode left the label and is headed to law school. "I really love the Triple A format and the people involved with it," said Andrea. "I'm going to miss working with it... By the way, if you need a good lawyer in a few years, give me a call." Lisa Michaelson-Sonkin has been named as Andrea's replacement, taking the title of Manager/National NAC, Jazz & Adult Alternative Promotion. Lisa joins Elektra from AC WTMX/Chicago where she was Music Director. She'll report directly to recently named VP/Adult Formats Promotion Suzanne Berg.

TERZO & PFEIFER GO HOLLYWOOD

Bob Pfeifer

Bob Pfeifer and Nick Terzo have joined the A&R
staff of Hollywood Records as VP's of A&R. Prior to joining Hollywood, Pfeifer was VP/A&R at Epic, where he signed Screaming Trees, Sepultura, Ornette Coleman,
Eve's Plum and Alice Cooper.
Terzo previously was Sr.
Director of A&R at Columbia
Records, where he signed

Nick Terzo

Alice In Chains, Circus of Power, and participated in the A&R responsibilities for Toad The Wet Sprocket. Peter Paterno, President of Hollywood, commented, "I'm thrilled that two of the best A&R people in the business have chosen to join us at Hollywood Records. I can't wait for the great artists they're going to bring us. With Bob and Nick and the other changes we're making, it's an exciting time at Hollywood Records."

Leaning in close for a moment of studio love are (I to r): Doug Pinnick and Jerry Gaskill (both of King's X), producer extraordinaire Brendan D'Brien, Ty Tabor (King's X) and engineer Nick DiDia.

Gathering in a group huddle as a part of the presentation of a gold disc for the "What's Love Got To Do With It" soundtrack are (I to r): Phil Quartararo, Pres., Virgin Records: Tina Turner; and Roger Davies, manager.

THE BANDLIVE AT THE LONESTAR ROADHOUSE JULY 31, 1993

ew York City was the scene as The Band took to the stag at the famed Lonestar Cafe. This is a group that has survived some tough times: the departure of their guitiarist/head songwriter Robbie Robertson; the death of pianist Richard Manuel and relative obscurity in the last few years. All this from a band that once graced the cover of Time magazine. But the tide seems to be finally turning. British journalist Barney Hoskyns recently released Across The Great Divide, a biography on the group; a new LP for Great Pyramid (to be distributed by Rhino/Atlantic) is due in October and this current incarnation of The Band - original members Rick Danko, Levon Helm, and Garth Hudson, plus guitarist Jim Weidler, drummer Randy Ciarlande and former Full Tilt Boogie Band keyboardist Richard Bell - are on a national tour.

Despite hitting the stage an hour late (they were caught in a major traffic jam), The Band made up for their tardiness with a blistering hour long set comprised of their classics – a slower but punchy "Rag Mama Rag"; a joyous "Life Is A Carnival"; and an ironic take on "The Shape I'm In". Also in the show were previews from their forthcoming album tentatively titled "Back". The Band dipped into the songbook of their old friend and boss Bob Dylan and did a passionate interpretation of "Blind Willie McTell" and on Bruce Springsteen's "Atlantic City", Danko and Helm bridged the gap between the song and The Band's "King Harvest (Has Surely Come)". Though they were written some fifteen years apart, the message in both tunes are the same.

Bassist Rick Danko is looking a bit paunchy these days, but he's still in great voice. He brought the house down with "It Makes No Difference", which also featured some great sax work from Hudson. Levon Helm, one of the most underrated male vocalists in rock, showed off his R&B roots with "Love You Like A Wife" and "Willie And The Hand Jive". Jim Weidler's guitar work more than fills the shoes left by Robbie Robertson; Richard Bell handled most of the piano chores leaving Garth Hudson to do what he does best - play amazing synth and organ flourishes. The double drum attack of Helm and Randy Ciarlande had the place hopping throughout the program. A killer show.

There was a great degree of skepticism when The Band reformed in 1986, and when Robbie Robertson declined to hop aboard, that skepticism was doubled. But as the remaining members of The Band have shown with this performance, they may be a little bit older and a little slower, but they're also getting better with age.

WAPL/Appleton PD Garrett Hart has been promoted to the newly created position of Operations Manager for both WAPL and Sister station WHBY effective immediately. "This move is on the cutting edge of an industry trend," stated Station Manager Greg Bell. "It allows us to consolidate management responsibilities and allocate more resources to locally originated programming." The consolidation effectively dissolves the PD positions for both 'HBY and 'APL. As a result, former WHBY PD Gary St. John is no longer employed. "The WHBY programming emphasis on news, weather and sports will remain the same," said Hart. "We're looking forward to exploring the possibilities for more local programming, and fully utilizing the potential of our air talent, which is considerable."

WXTB/Clearwater raised $10,000 during Friday's (7/30) first ever "Play for Pay Friday" to aid flood victims in the Midwest. Requests were taken from 6am to 9pm from listeners who made a donation to The American Red Cross' Disaster Relief Fund. "The Midwest really came to our aid when it was so desperately needed when Hurricane Andrew hit Florida last year," said GM Dan DiLoreto. "We just wanted to show them how much we appreciated their effort, and to come to their aid in their time of need." PD Greg Mull added, "The 98Rock listening audience really came to the aid of those less fortunate in the Midwest. This was a class move on their part to do something good for our extended neighborhood." Beginning at 6am, 98Rock began taking bids for songs requested by listeners, at the end of each hour, the 12 highest bids were tallied, and those songs were played back the following hour. Other items that garnered attention were a trip for two to see Bon Jovi ($2500); a pair of $99 Lightning Season Tickets ($575); a package of prime seats, limo service and backstage passes for the 10/9 Coverdale Page show ($900); and a year long pass to The Ritz Theater ($350).

he first time I glimpsed Phil Walden, he was presiding over the annual Capricorn picnic, with the likes of Dickey Betts and then Presidential candidate Jimmy Carter sharing the running board of a vintage white Rolls (howing down on ribs. Imagine the size of my fresh out of North Carolina eyes. Fast fowarding nearly 20 years from that 1974 event, Phil is a little over two years into Capricorn's second incarnation. Only this time, the floor show is nonexistent. He's a man whose personal and professional ups and downs have been widely documented, and today's Phil Walden is focused, perceptive, and disarm-ingly down to earth. From his promo staff to the artist roster, Phil's new Capricorn is a case study in honesty and understate-ment — while the music kicks your butt to Atlanta and back, that is. After all, this is the man who found and managed Otis Redding while barely out of college, and went on to guide the careers of the Allman Brothers, Marshall Tucker, Wet Wilie, Elvin Bishop, Bonnie Bramlett and more. But it's not as if Phil found those great bands all at once....

Many people have the perception that your success with Capricorn the first go-round happened almost overnight. But that really wasn't the case, was

they finally hit.

Phil: That's right. We had done a self-titled album, and Idlewild South was their second release, and that was mildly successful. I remember very vividly that the first album stopped selling at 33,000 units, and Idlewild South maybe did 100,000 - 125,000. Both of these albums later went on to be multi-platinum. But the breakthrough album was Fillmore East.

They did a lot of playing around Boston and the northeast in general, didn't they?

Phil: In fact, they lived and operated out of the Boston area for several months. To tell you what a modest budget we were operating on, they lived for a time period in an abandoned apartment with no running water or electricity, and through a series of extension cords, they ran power from someone else's apartment. They played free every Sunday in Boston, really working the area, much in the same fashion as they did Atlanta. By just playing at every opportunity, they really gained a substantial following. If there was a park available and power to drive the band. they would do it.

Do you think that Duane was still improving, or do you think that he was at his peak when he died?

Phil: I had a conversation with Duane, I think it was two nights prior to his death, following an Allman Brothers rehearsal. He was sitting alone playing the acoustic guitar in the rehearsal room, as everybody else was sort of milling around. I went down and sat next to him. I asked him what he was playing, and he said it was an acoustic version of Billy Stewart's 'Sitting In The Park.' I commented on how beautifully he played it and how great I thought he was as a player. He said, 'I really sense that I'm playing very well, and the scary part about it is, can I play any better than this?' I don't know whether he could play any better or not. Looking back, styles, perhaps. In addition to his wonderful technique and talent, Duane just had impeccable taste. That's what really did it for me. You run into a lot of guys with a lot of talent in varied playing styles, but the taste factor just really put Duane over the top.

Given your close personal relationship with the Allman Brothers, I can't imagine what it must have been like to lose Duane after going through a similar scenario with Otis Redding.

Phil: Those things are always so hard to take, especially with young people, and musicians in particular. Duane used to comment, 'Don't bet the farm on me because I want to do all the living that I can do every day like it's my last day." He stuck to his word pretty well. It's just one of those things you can't explain.

One hears a lot of Widespread Panic/Allman Brothers comparisons. Do you see those similarities yourself?

Phil: I think so. I think the spirit of Widespread Panic is identical to the spirit of the Allmans in the early '70s, sort of that communal music group, that wonderful interplay between the various members, much as it was with the Allmans. The early '70s with the Allmans was such an exciting time period, even before we were selling records because we were trying to make a statement about something. It was a statement not only about this band, but about the entire region of the south and the music that had come from the south previously, and the music that we thought was coming in the contemporary sense, and maybe even some indications of what was to come in the future. Everybody was so committed to the concept.

And that concept was?

Phil: Living and working in our region. That was a very important point. The Allmans went on to have this very large farm, they all had houses there. It was a nice era.

Lifestyles aside, do you sense that Panic is following somewhat the same developmental curve that the Alimans did through the first several releases?

Phil: That's an excellent point. There's a big difference between the first album that we made and the current album. I think you will look for another big step with the next album, very similar to the Allmans. If you listen to the first two Allman Brothers albums, you may feel that some of it is sort of tentative, that the search is on for what they are really about, and that is probably true for Panic, too.

Do you think Panic has matured more from their first to their second record than the Allmans did?

Phil: Yes, I think so. It's probably a sign of the times. The young musicians of today are much better prepared for careers and they certainly enter the market in a much more professional way and, of course, the litmus test is to put them on the road. If they don't mature on the road, it's probably best to go onto another project. The road has worked very well.

When you re-launched the label back in '91, the L.A. Times talked about how a number of labels were excited about rejuvenating the southern rock scene. Do you think that has happened in the time since?

Phil: Yes, in fact, I just came from Burbank yesterday and Kenny Puvogel told me one of the complaints he is hearing from radio is we have too many southern rock and roll bands to add 'em all, so there's definitely been a renaissance of sorts. The guys from R.E.M. and Black Crowes are due immeasurable credit for refocusing the attention on the south.

Who came up with the whole H.O.R.D.E. tour idea? Were you a part of that?

Phil: Actually, John Curtis, who was head of Artist Development for us. He has since left the company and returned to Hilton Head. South Carolina.

I can think of worse places to be.

Phil: Get him a fax machine and a cellular phone and his consumer pressi feet in the sand. He had this concept of putting Phil: I don't think we can manipulate the together various bands consumer press; but I think we have cer-Widespread Panic, Blues Traveler, The Aquarium Rescue Unit — and he talked to a couple of major promoters about it. then he talked to a couple of major agents about it. I think when it really started to develop was when he spoke to David Graham who, at that time, was managing Blues Traveler. David Graham, in turn, spoke to John Popper and then John pretty much took the reins and further developed the concept.

Do you know the Blues Traveler organization, or the band?

Phil: Yeah, I've met John Popper on a couple of occasions.

They're nice guys, aren't they?

Phil: Yes, and I think they're a wonderful band, too. They have done a magnificent job executing their career plan. You sense they're the people's band.

Well, they worked it from the roots up. which would appear to be simpatico with your grand plan, and that's why this whole H.O.R.D.E. thing is working. But still, you gotta be blown away that you pulled 18,000 people in Denver, 12,000 in Kansas City with a 6,000 walk-up...

Phil: It's incredible. Particularly if you consider there's not a gold album amongst all the groups on the tour. I think the fans of all these bands are really making a statement.

Give yourself a big pat on the back for such a great job of manipulating the tainly tried to expose them to what was going on and we have been trying to explain what was going on for the past eighteen months or so with this music, because everybody finds the need to try to categorize it.

We gotta do that, Phil! Can't have music without puttin' it in boxes, ya know!

Phil: You gotta find a shelf for it. The good news is that we're finally off of Southern rock shelves and now we're on the neo-hippy shelves. I don't know where we go from there.

operation and we just keep giving music the priority and the artists the priority, then this will ultimately all gel. In a start up company, you're tempted to try to make some short cuts. You see something and say, 'Damn I know this is going to sell,' but if you get away from the standards that you have set for the company, then the whole game plan, I think, can go down the drain.

Do you feel like the old Capricorn was too uni-dimensional artistically?

Phil: To a certain degree. I think we actually had a much broader base than we were given

I last seven to the lead of the lea

Standing (I-r): Jimmy Hughes, Alan Walden, Phil Walden, Johnnie Taylor. Seated, Otis Redding.

If the Southern perspective was such a key part of your first incarnation of the label, how important is it now?

Phil: Well, I think the spirit of Southern music is what we try to abide by and use as our inspiration. We have, of course, lan Moore, from Texas — and I guess you could consider that Southern to a degree — but 311 is from Los Angeles, we have the Swinging Steaks from Boston, and the Freddy Jones Band from Chicago. So, I think our music is much more diverse in this new incarnation. Certainly the label has a more well-rounded roster. I do think every artist on the label is important musically and every artist on the label has his own musical point of view, which I believe makes us unique among record companies in America. The diversity Widespread Panic to 311 to lan Moore to Hank Williams, Jr., Billy Burnette to the Dixie Dregs.

I think there's another thing that makes you unique, and that's Capricorn's apparent unwillingness to sign and promote somewhat schlockier bands, even though they might have huge commercial appeal.

Phil: Yeah, my age old approach to this is I don't want to sign anything that I can't listen to at home and we have really tried to abide by this formula. We place music absolutely first, now and forever. If we do the other business things necessary to ensure a good sound credit for, but because of the success of the Allmans and Marshall Tucker...

And let's not forget Elvin Bishop.

Phil: I never did hear Elvin Bishop and the Allman Brothers sounding alike. I thought Marshall Tucker was obviously much more country than the Allman Brothers.

Interesting that you've never dealt that much with country music.

Phil: We flirted with country in the middle '70s and we had very limited success. We now have Hank Williams, Jr., Billy Burnette and a very, very exciting new artist that we just signed, Kenny Chesney, who's a 25 year old brilliant songwriter, just unbelievable singer — we're releasing that this fall and we are committed to developing a major roster in country music as another element of our company.

Do you envision that progressive country music may get to the point where it could support its own radio format? Lyle Lovett, Dwight Yoakam...

Phil: I sure hope so. I've often wished that there was an alternative or progressive country radio format with the emphasis on album oriented country. If I see any problem with country music, it is a tendency to keep everything between the lines. I would certainly like to see country radio encourage its artists to expand the base. I think it could be a real exciting era if everybody would get away from all the formulas

Yeah, I read somewhere recently that Dwight Yoakam takes heat because he records his records in Los Angeles and doesn't use all the same studio musicians that everybody uses in Nashville. I was surprised to read that the format is that myopic.

Phil: It has changed substantially over the last several years. I think due in no small part to the leadership of people like Jim Ed

Norman, Bruce Hinton, Tony Brown, the absolutely brilliant development of Arista by Tim Dubois. I mean, it's text-book what this man has done. The good ol' boys are gone, so hopefully we're now dealing with a lot of very bright, very articulate executives that I think are going to really grab the reins of country music and steer it to a much wider base.

We're thrilled to have lan Moore headline our Canoe Carnival event this weekend. You've got to be over the moon about how well the record's doing.

Phil: It's always exciting when you sense that everybody else seems to agree with what you're doing. I was at Warner's in Burbank all day yesterday and you can just sense the excitement walking down the halls. Everybody is very pleased with how quickly we've come thus far and I think Jeff Cook and Mark Pucci and everybody at the company has done a marvelous job in setting this record up. It's rare to find somebody as young as he is with that much talent and that much confidence. From his ability as a songwriter, a singer, as a performer and a player, it's like he came from central casting. You sense that he has been preparing himself all of his life for this moment and I know he's ready and it's real exciting.

Dave Morell here had a conversation with Derek Ault at Alligator who mentioned that they'd received a demo tape of lan's and passed, and were really impressed with your success to date.

Phil: A number of people passed.

Really!? I'm surprised to hear that.

Phil: I think Giant passed, Hollywood tried to sign him, and in fact, lan was under contract to EMI. When Koppleman came in, a decision was made that they were going to go with English rock and roll acts and he was given a release.

And I heard his demo, as did a lot of people, and there was one song, 'Blue Sky,' which I couldn't stop playing. Then I got a call from Lenny Waronker at Warners. They were looking at him, but Lenny said he sensed that he'd fit our roster much better than the Warner roster. He asked if I was interested, I said yes, and then shortly thereafter I flew to Texas with Mark Pucci and we made a deal that night.

He's certainly got that taste, no doubt.

Phil: The wonderful thing about a young player like lan is that he has such tremendous respect for the past, but he uses that respect to really put it in a contemporary sense, I think, and I'm sure you know, that this is just the first chapter of the lan Moore story. We can really look forward to a lot of wonderful musical things to come from this young man.

Are you surprised that lan is doing as well as he is, given the lack of Top 40 and video exposure?

Phil: I'm not surprised, I'm delighted. In fact, I'm relying on the ol' gut instinct. I made a prediction early on when we first received the album from Barry Beckett and Ian Moore. I felt that Ian had put together an album's worth of music that would do very good at AOR. I felt it was perfect for the format.

Do you need Top 40 to bring this artist home?

Phil: I don't know, but it's going to be interesting to see because I don't know whether he is a Top 40/CHR artist.

You have confidence that you can sell this project gold without Top 40?

Phil: I really believe that is possible.

Given your central casting comment, you must have big video plans for the

Phil: Yes. In fact, last weekend in Burbank I began the discussions, and when I returned here, I was with lan and his manager Jan Mirkin and I advised everybody to start thinking along those lines. When we'll do it and what cut we'll use we can't say right now.

Is it unusual to go out with a project like this with such major expectations without a video?

Phil: We always operate outside the rules. We just do what we sense is best for the artist. There was some discussion whether we should go out with a video at the same time as the album, and I suggested we wait. We wanted to make an all-out commitment to AOR, #### lan on that tour?

Phil: The H.O.R.D.E. tour was a done deal by the time lan's album was set for release. I think he would've been perfect.

And if you had a wish list of acts to put him on the road with?

Phil: I think he will do well with virtually anybody because he is such a talented performer. I have so much confidence in lan, that I'm delighted for any opportunity. There are certain acts that may be more desirable, and I would like to see whoever he is on the road with appeal to a younger demographic, early 20's into early 30's, as opposed to touring with one of the older, more mature AOR acts.

Somehow I can't see him out there with the Moody Blues.

Phil: That would probably be the wrong match. I think lan can make the best of any situation he is presented with, and I think this is a wonderful place for a record company to be. We have all the confidence in the world in lan Moore. He is an immense talent.

For a young label, Capricorn has pleased consumers and critics alike with your various box sets, most notably the Elmore James collection. Give us a little background there.

Phil: I was moved to do this for several reasons. First, due to the sense of urgency I had as a preservationist about this music and putting it together in a package that would be well received by the consumer and yet be historically true to the music. Through this Sonic Solutions remastering process, we can make the records sound the best that they could possibly sound, and I'm pleased to report that even CD Review commented that these records have never sounded as good as they do on Capricorn Records, which was very flattering. But, in addition to the preservationist aspect and a deep love for this music personally, we did not have a catalog when we reincarnated Capricorn this time, having lost my catalog to PolyGram in 1979. I needed, for a start-up and if we were successful there, then talk about the next step.

Makes sense. Given all the success of the H.O.R.D.E. tour, why didn't you put company, to try to build a catalog as quickly and as effectively as possible. Through license agreements and this concept of documenting the independent record company story, we came up with this series of boxed sets. They've been very successful and well received from both consumers and critics alike, and they've all been profitable. If our game plan works as we hope, they will continue to sell on a monthly basis. They were not intended to come out and sell 100,000 units each and then disappear. We had hoped they would, in fact, establish a catalog for us and it is definitely shaping up to ultimately accomplish this.

From a fan's perspective, why wouldn't you offer, say, the Cobra collection individually? What does the consumer gain by buying the boxed set as opposed to individual releases where they can pick and choose?

Phil: What we try to do in the boxed set is to present an overview that you may not get should you just pick and choose. These boxed sets are really intended to be enjoyed in their entirety with the accompanying liner notes, which would give you a real sense of what these entrepreneurs were trying to accomplish, generally, with very limited funding. The great thing, the amazing thing, about the recordings that we've reissued thus far is the sense of urgency in this music and it makes me grateful for the fact the record companies had limited budgets, thus they didn't have enough money to overproduce these records. They're simple, straight ahead and pure. Should a record company owner or producer or entrepreneur have had greater funding available, they probably would have tried to make much more sophisticated records and I think it would have violated the spirit of early rock and roll.

I don't know if you know this, but we've done so well with this Triple A section that last week we started a blues section.

Phil: Oh great!!

(Laughs) I hooked up with Roberta Penn, who does the blues show on KXRX and is a well known critic and author in Seattle. We're doing reviews, interviews, and a chart based on blues show airplay all around the country.

Phil: There's a terrific one in Nashville on 'RLT.

Yes, Roberta interviewed the host, Chuck Bloominberg in this week's issue.

Phil: His show is fabulous. And afterwards at this club in Nashville, they have this blues gathering and he plays blues records for several hours there.

Given your preservationist bent are you concerned that as the blues get more institutionalized, a la the Smithsonian putting albums out and government subsidies, that the authenticity of the art form will be compromised?

Phil: I hope there is some happy medium between the two. I think both have their place. I certainly don't want to institutionalize it to the point that it loses its soul, that it robs all of its true character.

Roberta went on to point out how public funding, for instance, has been so deadly for Jazz.

Phil: Well, it's certainly a danger. I think any contemporary music form is in danger when we start intellectualizing it, when we start figuring out rock n' roll. How do they do this stuff? What's the structure of this blues song? Intellectualizing something that's just unnecessary. I think it robs it of its originality. So much of this music is spontaneous and so deep seeded in the singer and it's almost like an emotional outburst by singing poets to me. Those blues guys were really the black poets of their era, much in the same way that I think Hank Williams Sr. is probably the greatest blue collar poet that this country has ever produced. The incredible thing was the post World War II blues movement and the songs are so simple and yet so beautiful. When you try to analyze it that just breaks it up.

Do you think that younger black performers that might have done blues two decades ago would be doing rap now?

Phil: Yeah, probably so.

Do you think as more and more white performers specialize in the blues and fewer and fewer blacks, that the art form will persevere?

Phil: It'll certainly change it. Although the upside of it, with people like Eric Clapton and the Allman Brothers, is the blues will certainly continue to reach a much greater audience. I think that part is good. The downside is that any music like big band music, for example, loses something when you try to contemporize it because it's from a particular era and that's what's unique about it.

Obviously, you were very involved with Otis Redding and a lot of soul music. Do you sense the resurgence that we've seen in the '60s artists — Solomon Burke, Joe Tex, stuff like that. Do you think that's going to turn into something that we'll enjoy?

Phil: The influence of a lot of those performers is very obvious in today's music. But so much of it, say in the case of the Stax recordings (as opposed to the Motown recordings), was so rural. I think the African American audience may regard it as too rural in much the same way as the young African Americans probably looked down on blues as perhaps even embarrassing to some. It did seem to have more of a country or a rural flavor or sensibility to it. Today's black music is so much more urban.

After the old Capricorn kind of came apart, it sounds as if finding Jim Varney ("Ernest T. Worrell") was a key ingredient in your getting back to # where you are today. Is that true?

Phil: Absolutely true. I am deeply indebted to Jim Varney. He believed in me when there was not a broad based consensus for it. (Laughs) Realistically, I know I had been written off by most, and I don't know how many people took my dedication to being clean and sober seriously. I think even fewer thought that I would succeed with that program, but Jim got me back into the entertainment business. He was an incredible client and it was a great relationship. I'm forever grateful for Jim Varney.

I couldn't believe when I was flipping through my notes and I realized that his three Disney movies did 60 million bucks. That's big business.

> Phil: Oh yeah, he's a very talented guy. One whose friendship I'll value for many years to come.

What's Capricorn's agenda? Major expansion? Keeping things where they are now?

Phil: We don't yearn to be a small label forever. We would like to have that personalized label — at least the feeling of that — to grow with us as we grow as a company. There's a lot of music out there that I want to be involved with and we're just continuing to build. I think we have a very impressive roster at the end of a little over two years, and we would anticipate moderate to substantial growth next year.

Given your experience with the Zoo, is it safe to say you're future endeavors will concentrate on finding the strongest new talent as opposed to putting a new coat of paint on acts which may have been around?

Phil: I think that's getting away from what we've always done. We're an artist development company in the truest sense and, at least at this time in our very early new history, we should stick to the things we do best. I think artist development is going to be the key to our success.

You're credited in many circles with playing a key role in getting Jimmy Carter elected.

Phil: I think I'm getting far too much credit. Jimmy Carter should get the credit. He inspired me.

Phil: I think Bill Clinton's coming to grips with the job. It appears he may have been a bit overwhelmed when he first moved in or maybe a tad naive.

You mean about how it works downtown?

Phil: Yeah. That's the toughest city in the world to work. I hope he doesn't lose his enthusiasm. That's the most important thing. And I still think the administration can be a very successful one and I think the President and his staff are dedicated to that end. Things are going to get better.

The economy has been spiralling downward since the new Capricorn has been in business. Do you ever feel as if you're having to get up and rolling on a very uneven playing field?

Phil: Despite the economy, I'm so pleased to be back in business with Mo Ostin and Warner Brothers Records. The people I admire, respect and love are all there. Mo is undoubtedly the finest true record executive our industry has ever known. He's allowed us the opportunity to operate Capricorn with dignity. We aren't indulged unnecessarily, but he's certainly provided adequate funding for us.

Part of the organic approach to contemporary music that you specialize in, a la Panic and Hampton, is an anticipation of an ever stronger backlash to the synthetic music of the '80s. Do you see that that backlash is intensified?

Phil: The audiences are really demanding more musically from the bands today. I think it's going to get better. The success of the H.O.R.D.E. tour is really substantial evidence of that. Why would thousands of people gather to hear bands that have not achieved great commercial success other than to listen to the music? So, I think the consumer here is trying to tell us something. I think the '90s are going to mature in a nice way. We've got a lot of great music ahead of us in the '90s and I'm certainly looking forward to it with great expectations.

At the Elmore James Memorial Dedication in 1992 (I-r): Robert Clark/Pro Tempore Speaker of the Mississippi State House; Phil Walden; Bobby Robinson/Fire-Fury Records owner.

James Taylor

S Taylor (Livo). 🍻 It seems like just yesterday when that young, talented singer/songwriter with the long hair released Sweet Baby James and launched a career of platinum-selling albums and sold-out tours that has spanned three decades. The hair might be gone now, but the talent is stronger than ever, as evidenced by the release of this live double CD. The five song EP featuring "You've Got A Friend," "Handyman,"

"How Sweet It Is," "Don't Let Me Be Lonely Tonight," and "Walking Man" picked up early adds from KINK, WBOS, WXPS and KTAO. KFOG is one of many stations poised to add the EP next week, and Rosalie Howarth commented, "It's like butter. 'You've Got A Friend,' sounds as heartfelt as ever and not at all sappy.

THE HOT CORNER

Street With John Gorka, Kristen Hall and Patty Larkin, Windam Hill/High Street is assimilating a strong roster of Triple A artists, and now Pierce Pettis has joined the already impressive list. His album, Chase The Buffalo, has quickly caught the attention of several Triple A stations, including KFMG, WXPN, WYEP, KRCC, KMTT, KQPT, KRCC, WMMM, WXPS, KERA, KCSU, WNCW, WCBE, KRVM, WVAY and KZYR. As KOPT's David Anderson puts it, "If your station dabbles in Marc Cohn and Bruce Hornsby, Pierce is certainly worth checking out. When you have the quality of Pierce's songwriting and add to the mix the guitar of David Hidalgo and Booker T. Jones on key boards, it makes for a winning combination." KFOG's Rosalie Howarth adds, "Very strong. He's one of the most AOR friendly singer/songwriters. The Marc Cohn comparison is unavoidable. More teeth and more grit from Mr. Pettis.

ill Miller, "The Red Road," Warner Western Growing up in the Stockbridge-Munsee Indian reservation in Central Michigan, Bill Miller experienced his share of painful cultural tensions and social prejudices, and at the same time, reveled in his strong Native American Mohican heritage. His Warner debut, The Red Road, takes us through those conflicting emotions by way of beautifully crafted songs integrating traditional Indian flutes, chants and drums with contemporary acoustic music. It only takes one listen to realize the potential importance of this album to the Triple A format. WXPN recently featured Bill Miller on The World Cafe, and their live recording of "Reservation Road" has been included on the Summer Triple A Sampler. Other strong Triple A tracks include "Faith Of A Child," "Tumbleweed," and "My People."

avid Sylvian & Robert Fripp, "The First Day," Virgin Two of the foremost musical visionaries of our time, David Sylvian and Robert Fripp are the supreme virtuosos of everything art rock. It would seem that it was really only a matter of time before the two would collaborate on a project. And collaborate they will, for some time: The First Day is the first of a series of projects the two plan on undertaking together. Filled with emotion, the record is enriched with a heavy dose of jazz and lush musical complexity. The duo's mastery of the studio is evident throughout the record; its production (by Sylvian and David Bottrill) is, as expected, impeccable. The record is not for the faint-hearted, as its depth is nearly immeasurable. The record's journeys (or songs, if you will) recall the glory days of art rock, when Fripp was King and Sylvian was "Japan"-ese.

CHECKOUT RACKS

hrillcat, "Oneword," Justice This New York trio writes crafty pop songs that are rooted in an acoustic nature and possess a lighthearted, sprightly feel. A band that's very comfortable in an intimate, cabaret-type setting, Thrillcat performs music that is perfect for any Triple A playlist. The vocals are a highlight of the record and serve as the perfect complement to the minimalist nature of the songs, which are performed with a healthy dose of wit. Checkout tracks include "All Come True," "Honeyface," and "World." A feelgood record with striking candor and musical clarity.

Iim Dunlap, "The Old New Me," Medium Cool/Restless A legend of the Minneapolis rock scene, Dunlap has been in countless bands emerging from the scene, but is most famous for his stint as The Replacements' lead guitarist from '87 to the group's demise in '91. His debut solo effort is a display of bare bones rock and roll, rollicking at times and nostalgic at others, but raw and heartfelt throughout. The record exhibits his well-refined, R&B-tinged guitar skills and forthright vocal styled. A healthy number of college stations are already hip to the record, and there are a number of tracks that could do extremely well in our format as well. Songs like the Rolling Stones-ish "Rockin Here Tonight," "Ain't Exactly Good" and "Just For The Hell Of It" are on the louder, bluesier side while "Taken On The Chin" and "The Ballad Of The Opening Band" have more of a country/acoustic feel. A strong record throughout.

The two months since we picked up the AAA format have been a whirlwind of activity. I'd like to thank all the record people who've helped us get our library in order, and especially Maxanne for all her help.

Usically, things have been quite exciting here in the Pacific Northwest. In the last few weeks, we've seen Peter Gabriel, the Women of Reggae tour, an amazing acoustic show by Little Feat, and the King of the Blues, B.B. King. B.B. was in rare form on stage, and our morning man John and I got the chance to talk with him after the show — what a sweet man! We treated our listeners to a half-hour segment of the man's music and clips from our interview the morning after the show. Music still coming through town this summer — Stephen Stills, Marc Cohn, the Dead with the Indigo Girls, a great double of Bob Dylan and Santana, Los Lobos, Phish and the Jerry Garcia Band, for which we have hired a bus to take 40 of our listeners up to the show. We're also planning a blues festival for October, which will include local and national acts.

We only caught the tail end of the spring book, but the preliminary numbers are awesome. Our metro AQH is only slightly lower than the KAVE's was when they signed off, and a 2.8 12+ is more than I expected in our first book. We're on our way!

One last thing — I'm still looking for some kind and generous person to sponsor my trip to Boulder later this month. Improve your karma by calling (503) 687-3146. See you at the Summit.

ast week was one of the most intense weeks in my life. Following a whirlwind of fun at the New Music Seminar (Nirvana, Buzzcocks, huge pancakes, and A. Brooks Brown), it was two consecutive backstage broadcasts from the Saratoga Performing Arts Center with the Festival New Orleans and Kinks/Aimee Mann shows (Ray Davies had been listening to the station during the day and said he really dug that we played the Sugarcubes!). Then, on Thursday, we planned, executed (it was so well done that it was even talked about over our competitor's airwaves), and kicked ass with the biggest in-store I've ever been a part of: Basically, the entire H.O.R.D.E. tour hung out at Records N Such in Albany with about 500 fans who braved a torrential downpour to come out and see Widespread Panic jam (live over the air via Marti, as well) for 45 minutes with John Popper of Blues Traveler joining for a killer version of "She Caught The Katy" at the end. Live TV coverage from the event, too. Then the Samples played, and Mr. Reality too. After the jamming was done, fans patiently waited for the chance to rap with all the above artists, as well as Big Head Todd and The Monsters. It was all smiles from start to finish, with over 65 tickets to the H.O.R.D.E. tour sold at the in-store, and Records N Such's top 4 for the week being the Samples, Blues Traveler, Widespread, and Big Head, with catalog for the first three showing up in the top 30 too. Listeners were incredibly grateful and psyched, the bands had a good time, and we solidified our image as the only radio station in this market big enough to play these great artists, and carry enough clout to pull off an event of this size. It's tremendous to see what can happen when a few dedicated minds get together and pull something like this off. A definite win/win/win situation - for WEQX (we turned a promotional shut out into a steal), the record store, and all the bands and labels involved. Many thanks to those who organized and made this event happen - Donna Smith, Jim Lewis, Rob Gordon, Jay Hart, Jon Cohen, Linda Metz, Tom Jodka, Charlie Londano, and our Promotion Director, Joy Johnson, who organized it from our end. It was also fun to introduce the Samples in front of 10 or 12,000 fans during the H.O.R.D.E. show at SPAC the next night. This week we are giving away an autographed B.B. King guitar, which is pretty cool, and I have to say thanks to Ed for filling out his diary and helping us achieve our highest ratings and ranking in Albany (6th 18-34, 8th 25-54, out of 31 sticks), and to the readers and critics of Metroland (Albany's weekly), for voting WEQX Best Radio Station in the Capitol District for the seventh year. Not bad for a bunch of "total novices" 50 miles from the city limits, in a different state and with a limited signal. Congrats to Kerry Gary, Mary Brace, Gary Schoenwetter, and our parttimers, and a hearty welcome to the newest 'EQXer, the recently arrived from KPNT, Eric Schmidt, who takes on our 7-mid/production director gig.

Mick Jagger is now 50 years old. But despite age, the Rolling Stones are still frequently played on AAA radio. Everyone who has received a copy of 'Patience' has been taken by the beautiful art work involved in this project. I understand that it was something you did yourselves.

Linford: Yeah, well, we've always said that when in doubt, always surround yourself with real artists. We have a mentor and close friend who does the photography for the band, his name is Mike Wilson, and we love his work. As far as the little woodcuts go, we discovered a book a couple of years back with those illustrations in it. It was published in 1930, and they were in a book of obscure poetry. The poems were dismissable, but the illustrations just made our hearts beat faster. The author had died — must be coming up on 20 years now — and after a myriad of phone calls and a long and winding road of inquiry, we tracked down his aged widow in upstate New York and she granted us permission to use those little woodcut images. As we were thinking about the collection of songs that we had, we were just amazed when we sort of opened those up and how easily they married themselves to the lyrics. We were really happy to be able to use them.

The whole package is beautiful. Where did the little leather books that were enclosed in the cigar box come from?

Linford:

We're all avid book collectors, and we just threw those in there. A little way of saying thank you for listening to our music. So which leather book did you get?

'The Rubiayat Of Omar Khayyam.'

Karin: Oh, you got that one.

Linford: Toss them in a picnic basket or a backpack, it's very portable.

)hine

Is this package how you presented your album to I.R.S. when you were shopping for a label?

Linford: No, not exactly.

Karin: Basically, we didn't shop at all. What happened with I.R.S. — I'll try to make a long story short. This fine lady, by the name of Leslie Wadell saw us play a festival about three years ago when we were just getting started and liked us, and bought our first independent release called 'Till We Have Faces.' Then, when our second release came out, 'Patience,' which we put out ourselves, she purchased that, as well. She happened to be a friend of Jay Boberg, president of I.R.S. She gave the record to him through odd circumstance. Actually, her mother died and they met at the funeral, and at the funeral she gave him 'Patience' and said, 'Listen to this, and call me.' Which he did, and that was the story. That's how it all began. Since then, we've always used a cigar box as a way of packaging our product. We just think it's some of the most innovative and beautiful packaging, and it's a way of protecting what's inside when you mail it.

And it's certainly a way of getting people's attention.

Linford: Since then, we've sent out hundreds of those packages. I.R.S. is really showing an incredible respect for our identity. They really try to retain the feel that we've developed thus far and tried to complement that, in exposing the band to more people.

The name Over The Rhine is unusual. It's taken from an area of Cincinnati?

Linford: Actually, Over The Rhine is a neighborhood here in Cincinnati. It's an old German neighborhood. We're not far from the Ohio River, and I guess that the Ohio reminded them of the Rhine River to some extent. There was also a canal that divided the neighborhood from the rest of the city at one time, thus Over The Rhine became the nickname for the neighborhood, which stuck for the last 150 years. When we moved here about five years ago, it was primarily a slum area. Since then, more and more artists have been moving into the neighborhood, and it's actually been moving into the neighborhood, and it's actually gotten a little too trendy income for its own good.

Lots of galleries and coffee was shops and trendy little clubs opening. But it's still quite an intriguing place to live, although we are starting to miss trees and the dew and quiet nights.

Is everyone in the band originally from Cincinnati?

Karin: No, actually, none of us are. We relocated here roughly three to five years ago, depending on who. I moved out later than the rest of the band.

How did the band get together?

Linford: Rich, Brian and I had been collaborating and sort of functioning as side men with some singers and so forth from Nashville and elsewhere. Actually, for me, it goes back to a festival we were playing in New Zealand. It was a really surreal kind of night where it was pouring rain, and there was about 4,000 young people who wouldn't go away — they were so hungry for music. It just sort of began to dawn on me, how important popular music is in our present culture and how musicians are given a platform. It became a very intriguing way to think about exchanging ideas with people and meeting people, so we really got it into our heads that we wanted to start our own band as soon as possible. Shortly after that, I happened to see Karin sing at a recital. We had actually gone to school together, but I didn't know Karin very well. But when I heard her sing this little aria in either French or Italian, I just — I don't know. Something resonated with her voice and I was thinking, 'Karin could be the right singer!' I just sort of asked her if she would be interested and before I could get the words out of my mouth, she was like, 'Absolutely!' So, we began by recording a few songs together to feel out our identity and it went from there. It's been four years

The band that I hear you compared to most often is the Innocence Mission. Do you hear many other comparisons?

Linford: To other bands? I don't know. To us, we don't perceive ourselves to be real innovative. We're certainly not reinventing the wheel musically or anything. We try to keep things fairly simple. But we are amazed at how many people seem to think that we are so unique, and they can't describe us very well to people. Part of that I think is our live performance. When you see the band live, it's a whole new dimension, and that together with the recordings, I think the general consensus is it defies comparison, which I

they are getting into

How often do you perform live?

inford: It's getting to be more and more. We've been averaging four and five dates a week. It comes down to a lot of hard work. To me, there is a lot of honesty about being a musician and making your living by playing your music for an audience. To me, that rings true as the way it's supposed to be. But on the other hand, it's very difficult to create and be open to ideas that can work themselves into songs and be on the road constantly. There's just not a lot of solitude and it can be very overwhelming at times.

Have you toured mostly in the Ohio area?

Linford: We've made it pretty much across the country at least once. The nice thing about Cincinnati is that it's centrally located. It's equal distance from like Cleveland, Chicago, Nashville, Pittsburgh, and we just sort of expand on that circle. We were fortunate to be able to do some concerts opening for Bob Dylan further west, and then we opened for Adrian Belew on his last tour. We did 30 dates with him as far west as San Francisco, north to Toronto and south to Atlanta, and out to Buffalo. We are definitely children of the Midwest, but we've been expanding our horizons in spite of our shyness.

In making your deal with I.R.S., you were able to retain a lot of creative control.

Linford: Yeah, we sure did. And that wasn't something that we had to kick and scream about. The people at I.R.S. have been very happy with the visual presentation of the band. They've been really interested in retaining that and continuing to allow us to explore who we are. We're real happy with I.R.S. Our relationship is still fairly young, maybe it's still in the honeymoon stage. But the level of communication is overwhelmingly good. It has the feel of a small label. Karin, what do you think about it so far?

Karin: I'm quite impressed with the fact that we've met so many of the people at I.R.S. We actually met Barbara Bolan in Chicago. She's this high position executive, very impressive woman, and helped us carry our gear into the radio studio where we were going to do an interview! I was immediately just overwhelmed by her character. And most of the people there that I've met have that same family sensation about them. It's been a very good experience thus far.

Linford: And Jay Boberg, the president of the label, came out and spent like several days with the band.

They're so accessible. It doesn't feel very corporate, but on the other hand, they seem to be working real hard to help more people stumble across us. But it will be a fairly gradual thing.

Have they set up any kind of tour for the band?

Linford: Yeah, they are helping us to set up dates in August, closely tied in with a lot of the radio stations that are playing cuts from 'Patience.' And there is talk about us possibly doing a couple of months opening for Squeeze later in the year, when they release their new record.

Without the support of a label, how did you distribute and sell your first album, 'Till We Have Faces'?

Karin: We were selling that out of our own back door. We took orders and some smaller places would help us, some Mom & Pop stores, record stores. They have been ultimately supportive, but it's basically been out of our own home.

How did you make out with that? How many did you sell?

Karin: We did really well.

Linford: For selling it out of the trunk of our cars, essentially, we sold between 8 and 10 thousand copies. It certainly helped to put gas in the van along the way. There was a distributor in New York that helped us with some European distribution, and we did play some festivals in Europe last August. So, it has managed to find it's way to some distant shores, and it's generated some mail and some press here and there. It felt very much like a little cottage industry thus far. We kept it fairly small and we try to give every aspect a lot of personal attention. It's a big relief to have I.R.S. involved in taking over some of the business so that we can focus more on the music again.

How is 'Patience' different from the first album?

Karin: Just in that they are both documents of certain phases of our lives together as we expand as a band and in our own personal lives. I think that the difference is, in the second album, we've grown quite a bit as a band. The fifth person that evolved from the quartet is much more of an independent entity then it was when we did 'Till We Have Faces.' We were basically throwing ourselves together, having never really worked together on anything like this before. We just came together to record before I even lived down here. I think in that aspect, they are different. Musically, I don't know. I can't say too much else about it because I'm too close to it. Linford, what do you think?

Linford: I think our first one had a few more rough edges than the second one. But, hopefully, it was just a natural growth. We had a little bit better equipment for the second project, so it may sound just a little more atmospheric and smooth overall than the first one, which was a little more rootsy.

The Triple A stations have really responded well to the album. 'Circle Of Quite' was on the chart the week it was released, and 'How Ooes It Feel' and 'Jacksie' are also both picking up adds.

Linford: It's a little overwhelming for us, because we didn't record the material with the idea that it would be released on a major label. It was basically just an exploration for us of some more songs that we had written. When we talked to I.R.S. about it, we didn't really have a whole lot of expectations when it came to radio, but I'm glad that there are some stations that are adding it. I remember when we first got together as a band, we recorded a half dozen songs, which became the first half of 'Till We Have Faces.' And I just gave that tape to a friend here at Over The Rhine, who was sort of going through a hard time in her life. She called me back about a week later and said that she had been listening to it and made it part of her morning ritual. When she woke up, she listened to, to begin the day. I remember thinking at that time, that if we never did anything else together as a band which we weren't sure that we were going to at that point — that it would have been worth it that one person made our music a part of their day to day life. With radio stations playing our songs, it seems like a wonderful privilege to have the opportunity to say something to people. For 4 kids out of the Midwest, that's really exciting. There's not a whole lot of talk about hyping the band and trying to make it a big overnight success story or a flavor of the month type of thing. I think it will be a real gradual approach to building a following and for establishing some creditability as songwriters and so forth. We're not really expecting our lifestyles to change dramatically. On the other hand, if people are finding the music and liking it, that's absolutely wonderful.

The Blues Music Festival '93 ("Lollapalooza of Blues") was kicked off during an all-star jam session at the Hard Rock Cafe in NYC. BB King, Buddy Guy and Junior Wells backed by his fellow Alligator All-Stars -- Koko Taylor and Lonnie Brooks -- treated the restaurant's patrons to a memorable performance before donating everal guitars to the Hard Rock's famed rock 'n roll collection the highlights of the summertime blues of '92 was the traveling bash that celebrated Alligator Records' 20th anniversary. Four or more hours of the piano-pounding of Katie Webster, Koko Taylor's bulldog beltin' vocals, guitarists Lonnie Brooks and Elvin Bishop covering the blues from Louisiana in the '50s to the rockin' kind played today, and Lil Ed's steel rail screaming slide guitar made for one hell of a showcase. Two of the concerts, one in Philly, the other in Chicago, were recorded for this two disc set, and it's almost as live as the shows, with Webster and fans chanting back and forth like they were in church, and Elvin Bishop cutting up hysterically on "Beer Drinkin' Woman" then getting down to some serious playing on "El-Bo." Lonnie Brooks is both soulful and funny in his set, which includes "Wife For Tonight," "Thos Lonely, Lonely Nights" (with Katie Webster) and "Two Headed Man." Guitar freaks will go ballistic over his 11 minute version of "I Want All My Money Back." Taylor, the Queen of Chicago blues, does a butt-kickin' version of her signature tune. "Wang Bang Boodle" also the outer for her but here. signature tune, "Wang Dang Doodle," plus three cuts from her hefty Alligator catalogue. Then the whole crew comes back for a 10 minute jam of "Sweet Home Chicago," the perfect nightcap for a mighty heady evening boss blues. This cut should be played at all of the Bulls out of town games — it's non-st -- it's non-stop rave up of the Windy City is sure to drive the competition into the ground before the game even starts three Kinsey brothers check in on their second Pointblank release with a set of three very interesting covers and ten originals. The new material, penned collectively by the Kinsey brothers -- guitarist Donald, bassist Kenneth and drummer Ralph ranges from message tunes like "Release Yourself" to love songs such as "Love Is Real" and heavy metal blues like "She's Gone." Also included is a cut from an earlier album the Kinseys did for Alligator, "Midnight Drive," a full-moon kind of song that is destined to be a classic. The covers include a snakey version of Prince's "5 Women" and two takes on the soul classic "I Take What I Want." The first rendition updates the Sam and Dave soul brothers sound, but the second is out of this world with Donald's guitar sounding like a lecherous monster that not only takes what he wants but wants it all. Donald is a guitar player with as much fire and fury as Vernon Reid so his blues are always blazing like an oil field in flames. He can also funk, as he demonstrates on "Chicken Heads.

This Paris session was recorded almost a decade ago when Chicago guitarist Melvin Taylor was 25, and the set makes you wonder why he hasn't been snatched up by one of the majors looking for young blues blood. It's jazzy, as in Wes Montgomery, nasty and soulful as in Albert King, at times rockin' like Jimi Hendrix and so authentic that the Chicago West Side blues sound is evident. The tunes are either standards — "TV Mama," "I'll Play The Blues For You" and "Cadillac Assembly Line" — or originals that swing ("Born To Lose," "Groovin' In Paris") or get down ("Talking To Anna Mae"). Each of them has a fluid but stinging guitar solo that shows Taylor to be an accomplished player who can translate emotions to the six-string without pretense. Taylor's singing is smooth and husky, like Albert King's, giving the music a sweetness. Providing very cool organ fills is a very young Lucky Peterson. It just makes you wonder, why isn't there a 1993 Melvin Taylor recording date?

racy Nelson, "In The Here And Now," Rounder A big-voiced diva who was compared to Janis Joplin in the late '60s, Tracy Nelson has performed steadily for nearly three decades even though her spotty recording career hasn't taken off. For this Rounder release, Nelson has gone into a Nashville studio with producer Tommy Goldsmith and come up with a set that showcases her versatility and talent. There's her country rocker original, "Living The Blues," a torchy version of Oliver Sain's "Walk Away" (with burnin' guitar from Mike Henderson and soul fills by the Uptown Horns), and a duet with New Orleans Soul Queen Irma Thomas on "Please Send Me Someone To Love." Nelson first emerged as a folk blues singer and guitarist, and that feel is recaptured on "Go Down Sunshine" and an update of "Motherless Child Blues," which long time fans will remember from Nelson's debut disc, "Deep Are The Roots." Two perfect for blues radio cuts are her version of Elmore James' "It Hurts Me Too" and Willie Dixon's "Whatever I Am, You Made Me." Note that Reese Wynans, formerly with Double Trouble and now with Joe Ely, is playing keyboards throughout the set.

is last name, Benoit, is pronounced Ben-wah, as in French, as in Creole country, and that's where he's from, Louisiana. Tab is his first name, as in Tab Hunter, and he's just about as good looking. But it's Tab Benoit's guitar playing rather than his good looks that has got people talking. The buzz is about his debut album. "Nice And Warm." on Justice Records.

Tab, I got your record, played it on Seattle Blues, and the phones started ringing. I understand that that's what's happening all over the country.

Tab: That's always a good sign. Bolder was the first place. KBCO put me on and people started calling and they kept on playin' it and one thing leads to another.

What cuts are being played?

Tab: Different stations are playing different songs. Most of the AOR, rock stations are playin' "So High." It's the most rockin' tune on the CD, but on the blues shows they're playin' "Nice And Warm."

Yeah, I play that, and I really like your version of the Lightnin' Hopkins tune.

Tab: "Shining Moon," yeah, that's a pretty popular one too. It's funny, we thought people would pick up on "I Put A Spell On You," but nobody's played it. Then when I play clubs people tell me that's their favorite cut on the album.

Why did you cover that tune?

Tab: I've always liked Screamin' Jay Hawkins 'cause he's just a wild man, you know. I always kind of like the wild people like Buddy Guy, guys that let loose and do what they feel. He's that kind of guy plus I wanted to put something on there that would appeal to anybody, not just blues fans, not just rock fans. Anybody can relate to that song, a lot of people have done it.

I think it's not played more on the blues shows because Screamin' Jay does a live version of "I Put A Spell On You" on a new Evidence release. And yours is kind of an Adult Alternative version.

Tab: Right. And I figured some of the AOR stations would pick that up but I was surprised they picked up "So High." In Wichita they're playin' "Voodoo On The Bayou."

I love that. I think that's the rockingest tune in the set.

Tab: I went "Wow, y'all are playin' that?" I never expected them to pick up on "Voodoo on the Bayou." It's just kind of a live song in the club, people get into it. That might be the next single. They just released "So High" as a single. They were waiting to see what the radio stations would pick up on before they released the single so that just happened.

You probably didn't expect to be on radio at all, did you?

Tab: Not on rock radio, no. I figured a couple of the blues shows would play it and some of the public stations. It blew me away when the rock radio stations picked up on it. It makes such a difference, it's kind of scary to see how much pull the radio really has on what you sell and how you do. The radio has so much power.

Do you consider yourself a blues artist?

Tab: Yeah, I guess I do. I try to be. I'd like to get more and more traditional as I get older. I like the real blues, the guys who play by themselves — the old John Lee Hooker and Lightnin' Hopkins. If I could play like that I would but I can't. It's hard for me to sit down with a guitar by myself and entertain people. That's tough to do and I really respect those guys who do it.

It takes a real personality to do that.

Tab: Definitely. You're making all the music yourself. You can't be alraid to put everything you've got into it because that's what it takes.

You're 25 now, how long have you been playing the blues?

Tab: For a while. The only reason I didn't play more blues was because where I live people didn't want to hear it

Where exactly is Houma, Louisiana?

Tab: South of New Orleans about 60 miles, almost in the Gulf. This is a shrimp and oil industry kind of town. I grew up on Cajun and country. When I was a kid I didn't dig it at all, I just thought it was some chinky-chink bull. There wasn't any blues around here and every time I'd hear some on the radio I'm goin' "Man, I like that." I'd gotten a few little bands with my friends and we'd throw "Stormy Monday" in there, and people would say "Don't play that shit no more. Play somethin' we know, play some Lynyrd Skynyrd." It was tough to play blues around here.

But you decided to play it anyway?

Tab: About four or five years ago I said "I ain't havin' no fun, and I ain't doin' what I wanna do." So I just dug up all the blues I could and leamed everything I could and I'm still diggin'. I'm still leam', and it's fun, I enjoy it.

Do you make your living playing blues?

Tab: Yeah, I've been doin' it for about seven years. My parents didn't enjoy it, but I figured that if I'm gonna do it I better do it and forget about everything else. And that's what I did. Around New Orleans there's a lot of clubs and you can make a pretty good livin' playin' around the New Orleans scene and Baton Rouge and Lafayette.

Are the members of your band the same people on the record, with the exception of Dr. John?

Tab: No the guys in my band are from here. The guys on the record are out of LA or Houston. Paul English, on the Hammond B-3, he's a jazz cat out of Houston, has his own jazz quartet, but he can do anything and do it well.

Do you usually play as jazzy as this record?

Tab: It was kind of an experiment for me. It was the first time I'd been in the studio to do an album, where I didn't have to worry about payin' for it. And they said, "Just do what you want." That was the way I played then, I don't think I play like that anymore. My style has been changing since I started playin.' Everywhere I go I gotta hear the record 'cause I do these record store gigs and they've got the CD on, and I show up to a radio station and they've got it on, and I'm going, "That doesn't sound like me anymore." Most people say I sound better now.

How did you get up with Dr. John?

Tab: His manager BB introduced me to the record company. She saw me in New Orleans when they were putting that blues guitars for the homeless together, you know?

Yeah, Strike A Deep Chord.

Tab: They were looking for some young guy, an unknown, to put a song or two on the CD, and BB saw me at a club and said, "I know a record company that would probably be interested in using you for this project." I wasn't looking for a record deal or anything, but I said "I'll check it out." BB and I became good friend, now every time Dr. John is around, we get together, and Dr. John is such a cool person, and he was great in the studio. We're opening up for him in September.

Who's your favorite guitarist?

Tab: Buddy Guy is my all time favorite. If I could play like Buddy I'd have it made. He's the best on stage. I'don't care who you are or what kind of music you listen to, you go to see Buddy Guy, you're gonna have a good time. He gets everybody into it. Even if he wasn't playin' anything, just to watch him walk around on stage is cool. I'm openin' up for him, BB King and Eric Johnson in San Diego in September. I'm flipping out on that one.

How did you choose the tunes on this disc?

Tab: All the tunes are songs I played in my show. I never went out looking for a record deal.

And you didn't have one before that? No other releases?

Tab: No. The first release was the two songs on the homeless record and then Justice gave me a deal. I was just lookin' to play as much as I could when they found me so wasn't really no big deal. I didn't sit down and think about it, they were just my favorite things to play at the time.

Do you feel under pressure to come up with material for the next album?

Tab: Not really. I get excited about goin' in the studio and I start writin'. Three of the songs that are mine on Nice And Warm were written a week before I went in the studio. They just start poppin' up in the middle of the night. They're startin' to come for the next one — I've got six or seven written. I'm gonna try to do more originals.

What about the comparisons between you and Stevie Ray Vaughan?

Tab: I get a lot of that. In one way it's an honor, and in another way it can really hurt you because there are thousands of Stevie Ray copies out there, and I mean thousands. I see 'em in every state I've been in. I'm not talkin' about what I'm doin', I'm talkin' about total copy — playin' all his songs, playin' the same way, dressin' up like him, the whole bit. I find that real cheesy, and so do a lot of other people. But I can't get away from the comparison because I am a young, white guy playin' blues, and I'm a big Buddy Guy and Albert King freak.

Were you a fan of Stevie Ray's?

Tab: Definitely. Never got to see him live because I figured he'd be around for a while. Every time he was playin' in this area, I was playin'. I didn't do any touring before the CD.

You had kind of a bar band?

Tab: Yeah. South Louisiana was where I stayed for six, seven years. I would have loved to have jammed with Stevie Ray, he had a lot of fire.

You're a fan of Rockin' Tabby Thomas too?

Tab: He's a friend more than I'm a fan. He's given me a lot of advice and pushed me along and taught me the ropes from the inside out. I love the way the guy sings.

Did you play in his club, Rockin' Tabby's Blues Box?

Tab: Many times. I used to play every Sunday over there. That's the real shit, that's the real blues. I played in there when it was pouring down rain, inside. People had umbrellas open. That's how bad this place leaks. They had about three inches of water on the floor and people were still dancin', splashing water around. It's the real shit.

Is that right in town, in Baton Rouge?

Tab: Yeah, the bad part of town. Lot of crack dealers and a lot of people get killed around there. But you go to the Box and you've got everybody from the richest little white yuppie kid, 'cause LSU is in Baton Rouge, with penny loafers, and you've got the poorest old black guys you're ever gonna see, all hangin' out and dancin' and drinkin' and partyin' together. It's like going to church, going to that place. It's an experience.

Do you know his son Chris Thomas?

Tab: Yeah, when he's on, look out. Now he doesn't know what to do. Tabby's going "You've got to do the blues," and he's going, "Yeah, but look how much money Prince to makin."

Prince should be so lucky to have the kind of passion in him that Chris Thomas had on his last Hightone record.

Tab: He's a lot better live than on tape. Every time I'm in Baton Rouge I go by Tabby's and he gives me the low-down on him.

Do you know Johnny Adams, the Tan Canary? I think he lives between Baton Rouge and New Orleans.

Tab: Yeah, Lopened for him three or four months ago. There's a bowling alley in New Orleans that's really happenin' right now.

You and Johnny Adams played a bowling alley?

Tab: Yeah. It's a crazy place. It's called Mid-city Rock and Bowl. They've got two stages, one on each end, when one band is taking a break the other one plays so there's constant music goin' on. There's a bar and they serve lood. It's more like a club with bowling in it.

What kind of guitars do you play?

Tab: Telecasters, I like the bite they got. But I'm always looking around.

Picks

illian Axe, "Crucified", Grand Slamm/IRS Surely you remember this talented bunch, given the fact that many of you played "True Believer",
"No Matter What" or "See You Someday" from their last album "Poetic Justice". Extremely agile songsmiths, the band have a knack for writing hard rock songs that ride the line between power and melody, making them an easy proposition for COR radio. They've been cranking away for years, always on the cusp of greater success with albums like "Love And War" and their self-titled debut (both were major label releases). But over the last couple of years their career has kicked into gear. Now they're on the verge of releasing their finest achievement to date, "Psychoschizophrenia" — a record filled to overflowing with Ron Taylor's powerful vocals and harmonies; the dazzling guitar virtuosity of Stevie Blaze, and a well balanced marriage of high adrenalin rock with sweeping melodic hooks. Lyrically, Blaze has pushed the band (rounded out by Jon Ster: guitar/keys/vocals; Darrin Delatte: bass; and newcomer Tommy Scott on drums) into darker, moodier and more thoughtful realms as well. "Crucified" is the first track out and offers the perfect crunchy start, to what promises to be an exciting run at AOR/COR. Check it out and remember these words for later reference — "Moonlight In Your Blood".

Ccept, "I Don't Want To Be Like You" CMC International Amazing as it seems, long time German metal stalwarts, Accept, have been enjoying a fabulous resurrection on the metal side of life. What's most impressive about their return, however, is the growing buzz about them that's taking place on the COR level. Accept are in fact already getting airplay on the likes of KNAC, KILO (with #1 phones), KBER, KZRX and WBLZ. Led by snarling vocalist Udo Dirkschneider, the band formed way back when in 1977 and became legendary in the metal forum with underground favorites like "Balls To The Wall" (1984) and its follow-up "Metal Heart". Aside from that, Udo has also enjoyed a fairly successful solo affair with metal radio, over the course of 4 albums. The band recently reunited, the result being "Objection Overruled" (which is currently a Top 15 record at metal), and suddenly the classic, grinding aggressions that once made them rebels, have now granted them entry into the harder rocking '90s radio world. The lead track to COR currently is the barre chord extravaganza of "I Don't Wanna Be Like You," an anthemic stomper, full of melodic, controlled aggression and attitude — kind of AC/DC power kick-ish. The song reeks of heavy metal effect, but rips along a modern ridge of guitars and sentiment. Don't be afraid to crank this one on the air. It works.

nthrax, "Black Lodge", Elektra Now that you've all had a chance to familiarize yourselves and your listeners with the bold new '90s version of Anthrax, what better than the melodic twist of "Black Lodge" to solidify the relationship. Obviously, "Only" worked extremely well for most of you — though it is the most radio friendly of all the harder songs on the album. Perhaps you were secretly wishing for something slower — or maybe something darker. Wishes are meant to be fulfilled, and so now you get the Twin Peaks inspired abstractness and subtlety of Anthrax's "Black Lodge". Anyone who has experienced the films or the series will understand this song's meaning more fully, and no doubt can understand the inspirational quality of them. Anthrax are avid Twin Peakers (don't forget "Bob" even appeared in their video for "Only"), and they've taken one of the darkest most mysterious elements of the show and put it to music. And it could be the most melodic, most tempered and emotive piece we've ever gotten from them. A sinister and secretive love ballad of sorts, "Black Lodge" could be the perfect twist for your list. Also included on the CD pro is the "Black Strings Mix" — complete with heavier guitar embellishment for a bit more power. Don't forget Anthrax are are on the road right now, with Quicksand and White Zombie supporting — an amazing bill. So go and see them!

CURRENT ORIENTED ROCK

UP AND COMERS

iving Colour, "Bi", Epic This single has just gone out to metal radio, but we're sure a lot of you will want to take note of it, since it's much more up COR's alley. The glib, light-hearted stab at a topic that provides a serious undercurrent of tension in today's society, "Bi" has just the right balance of crunch and good time vibe to make it work. Living Colour have always proven adept at combining serious ideas, with great music and, of course, a wonderful sense of humor (remember "Glamour Boys"?). This song is very much in the same vein as that one, and an instant attention getter. What could be more appropriate for COR than a song that's sure to turn heads with its concept, while rocking folks into motion with its hip clip?

ef Leppard, "Two Steps Behind", (Last Action Hero), Columbia It was only a matter of time before this song got the official nod as a single, since so many folks have already jumped on it. Still touring in support of "Adrenalize", the band throw a surprising and lovely twist into their standard power pop style with this song. A gentle acoustic rocker, "Two Steps Behind" provides one of the softer and more melodic moments on the gi-hugous "Last Action Hero" soundtrack. Orchestrated (lightly), the song's infinitely singable and thus, extremely memorable. It's one of those, heavy-sigh songs, for sure. It's nice to hear Def Leppard purely acoustic, unaffected and very natural. Undoubtedly, this one should go racing up the charts.

overdale Page, "Over Now", Geffen With the "Take Me..." single now beginning to fade off of the charts, the next single is already lined up and waiting and it's an easy pick. With its mid-tempo swirl, "Over Now" is the perfect addition to any playlist — a song blazoned through by Page's undeniable six string trickery and dazzle, the huge airy production pierced by Coverdale's, at first smooth then high and raspy, vocals and a huge jangly sound overall. "Over Now" has a pace that, while seemingly mellow, hides an edgy confidence and strut, comes alive midway through the song. The Coverdale Page combo has certainly proven one of the more viable and successful superstar teamings in some time, and no doubt there's a lot of life left in this album.

KBPI-Denver had a visit from Chrysalis/ERG artists The Big F recently. The band are out promoting their "Patience Peregrine" EP, and the full album which is due out in September.

Algazam aka John Crawford (Big F), Julie Traub (ERG-Denver) and Mark Christian (Big F).

One of these things is not like the others... Mercury recording artists, Animal Bag blitzed through Tampa Bay recently, hitting 98 Rock/WXTB along the way. First we have a shot of WXTB night timer Ron Michaels, surrounded by members of the band. He fits right in, don't you think.

Hello, Cosmo... And here's a shot from WXTB's "4th Of July/World's Largest Barbecue" contest. Pictured are Animal Bag lead singer Luke Edwards and WXTB air personality, John "Wolfman" Wolf.

PROGRESSIVE

he Ocean Blue, "Sublime," Sire/Reprise
"Sublime" is a word that has been used to describe this band's brand of clean, unadorned pop. It's also the title of the lead track off Beneath The Rhythm And Sound, the band's third album overall and long-awaited follow up to the widely popular Cerulean.
The track offers no big surprises in terms of musical direction, in the sense that it is fused with the band's signature sound throughout. Why tinker with a good thing? They've developed legions of fans throughout the world, and this release is sure to keep them happy. "Sublime" is a wistful track, lighthearted and warm in nature - it is sure to set the course for the band's further success in the alternative format.

n Emotional Fish, "Careless Child," Atlantic This band has been at the forefront of the minds of everyone here at the HardHouse and for good reason. They're making the trip down to Medford Lakes, playing at Canoe Carnival (who knows, maybe they'll be stopping at the 7-11 as well). This ballad shows a more subdued side of this Dublin quartet, who are better known for their louder, more dynamic material. A reflective, intimate song that will undoubtedly evoke heartfelt emotion in your listeners. Look for them out on the road through the rest of the summer (that is, assuming they survive the hedonistic insanity of Canoe Carnival '93)

he Posies, "Solar Sister," DGC Our handsdown favorite off Frosting On The Beater, this song (which mentions the album's title as well) is sure to take the success provided by "Dream All Day" many steps further. This track doesn't even remotely apply to the loads of debates over the acceptance of second singles in alternative radio. Why?

Simple. If there EVER was a track (not to mention an artist) for programmers to get behind, it is this one. This track is 3 minutes, 15 seconds of perfect power pop from a proven winner in our format. There should be no reason whatsoever for anyone needing to be sold on this record. Okay? Good. Now go read the interview with Ken Stringfellow later in this section.

oo Radleys, "Lazarus," Columbia First off, just saying "boo radley" here at the Hard Report gives us the jollies. That said, let's focus on the band, whose first full length album (they've had four EPs) was released in the U.K. to massive critical and commercial acclaim. Everything's Alright Forever is now being released in the States, and it is sure to meet similar success on these shores. The band is made up of masterful musicians who take something from their wide variety of influences and fuse it into a cohesive, intelligent and colorful end result. The first single displays the playful nature of the band (Partridge Family-esque backing vocals) as well as its high levels of musical proficiency and understanding of good, solid pop. A must listen.

andelion, "Waiting For A Ride," Relativity Thick, dense, aggressive hard rock that pulls no punches, Philly's Dandelion has raged on college playlists for a while now, and it's now finally going to commercial. Borrowing much from the Detroit sound of the early '70s and injecting it with a unique, post-grunge, '90s flair, Dandelion is a vicious band that performs with intense ferocity.

The lead track is a ruthless, track filled with raw power and a tremendous sense of vigor. Enjoy turning it up a bit? If so, this one is perfect. According to WVBR's Mary Ramirez, "Dandelion has elicited so much response on the metal show that we're going to crank it with heavy nighttime play. It's what hard rock should ortran 5, "Bad Head Park," Mute/Elektra This band is made up of the English duo of Simon Leonard and David Baker, who make music that is at once danceable and challenging. Bad Head Park, their second full length release, is along the lines of fellow Brits Ultramarine and St. Etienne in the sense that their music is much more than simple dance fodder. The duo utilizes creative samples and intricate musical structure to result in a record that's well-done and entertaining. Fortran 5's music possesses personality, and displays it intelligently with a pronounced sense of humor. Check out "Time To Dream," the first single, which is already on the airwaves at WDST, KDGE, WDET, WWCD, WBRU, and WHTG. Also, take a listen to the campy and hilarious cover version of "Layla."

Stereo MC's, "Creation," Gee Street/Island/PLG Take some fabulous funk, a touch of soul and jazz, hip-hoppin' drums and a fresh-faced approach to rap and you've got what's known as the Stereo MC's. These guys have already made quite a niche for themselves in the alternative world and while the dorks at CHR have just "discovered" this band, those in the alternative realm are primed and ready to hop onto the third track — "Creation." "Connected" and "Step It Up" have already proven themselves and "Creation" follows along the same formula that made the first two tracks a complete SMASH. Last one to play this is a rotten egg.

anic Street Preachers, "Scream To A Sigh (La Tristesse Durera)," Columbia Britain's Manic Street Preachers' first release Generation Terrorists was greeted with loads of critical acclaim — the alternative world was just all raves about these guys. "Scream To A Sigh (La Tristesse Durera)" is the first single off their forthcoming release Gold Against The Soul and it's poised to receive as much, if not more attention as their debut. This track covers a wide range — the anger of punk, unrestrained energy of metal and the charm of pop from the minimalist beginning with quiet, restrained vocals from James Dean Bardfield along with the bare minimum drums and guitars to the totally rocking end, which is full of rolling bass and guitars and vocals sung with total abandonment. Quite a ride indeed.

The Pet Shop Boys, "Can You Forgive Her?" EMI (15/16) Can we forgive the numerous stations that aren't on "Can You Forgive Her?" The Pet Shop boys debut at 41* and take #1 Most Added status this week. KKDJ has already been in a very Heavy forgiving mode. Stations that can do no wrong in our eyes include the 15 stations that added The Boys this week — 91X, KACV, KBAC, KDGE, KEDJ, LIVE 105, KNDD, KNNC, KPNT, KRZQ, KTCL, WAQZ, WBRU, WCHZ and WWDX. It's time for you to get into some petting action too.

with The Pasies' Ken Stringfellow By: Spiro Phanos

How has the tour been going?

Things have been going really good actually. It's so different from the last time around. All I can think of is 1991; broken van, nobody coming to the shows, 4 people a night, heavy metal clubs. All those seem like dimmer and dimmer memories.

So you're pleased with the response.

Yeah, I might as well call it that. A lot of the places that we've been playing have been pretty packed, and at least there have been healthy crowds and people really are digging the stuff.

You guys did the 'HFStival a few weeks ago. Was that a thrill or what?

Well, the thrill part was probably getting to hang with all of the other bands and what not. The show was really fun. It's not like playing to that many people makes any sense at all. I never had the cognitive need to understand how many people were standing in front of me at that point. It just seemed like a slightly larger crowd than normal, unless I had looked all the way up. But mostly, I looked at the people right in front of me, or the ground.

It wasn't intimidating having over 50,000 people stare at you?

The funny thing, it really wasn't. After a certain amount of people it just doesn't make any sense anymore, and I really couldn't tell.

How different were people's perceptions and expectations of this record, as compared to Dear 23?

For some reason, there are all sort of different levels. From a professional point of view, there is just differences, and this is kind of getting behind the scenes but for example, on "Dear 23," the record company just wanted to do the basic things to get the record out, and it's almost as if our last record wasn't going to be as easy to work as this one for them, so they just decided to do the very basic things, and be done with it. But this record, they are doing crazy things, spending crazy amounts of money. I'm kind of perplexed, but pleased, that they're treating this record like Bon Jovi or something. It was that big of a deal for them.

That's got to make you feel good.

They are really into it, which is great, good for them. Our last record wasn't really released in any other countries, then the U.S. and Canada, and maybe Germany or something like that, and this record has been put out in almost every territory and they are actually advertising it, and selling it in other countries, and they're doing lots of foreign press. That's the big difference for me, because that is the really exciting stuff for me, to have stuff happen in other countries

they're excellent reviews

Are there any plans to go over to Europe?

Yes, at the end of the summer we're going over there, playing at the Reading Festival, and a festival in Holland, some English club dates, and then we're going to tour with Teenage Fanclub for like 2 months. We're playing every possible place you can play in the UK, every little college and what not

You guys also have a producer in common. What was it like working with Don Flemina?

One of Don's greatest talents is making bands feel at ease and make the proceedings seem causal, not in a thoughtless way, but in a way that it just doesn't seem so ponderous and important so that you can play in a really enjoyable way. He really doesn't bring a lot of technical knowledge to the proceedings, but for our record, he pretty much picked the songs that we did. He went through, and put a good concentration of songs that I think he wanted. He wanted to pick songs of ours that were the lighter, pop songs that we had, that each song was a little bit more mysterious. I think he wanted to bring out the rock side a little bit. But that means that in the writing, he kind of eliminated some of the light pop elements of us that we already covered, because the pop elements were so well covered in our last two records. He wanted to show another side, the other

Do you think that he brought it out?

I think so. He just got us to focus. I think if anything, he instinctively knew how we wanted to sound on this record, and found all the best ways to make that happen, which is interestina.

How long was the recording process?

It took a while. We started last February. We met Don at the end of '91.

Did someone set it up for you, or did you guys hook up independently?

Well, he was in town talking to the Screaming Trees, and so while he was there, we went and talked to him, kind of cornered him, and gave him our demos.

This is a year and a half ago?

Yeah, February '92. What happened is, by the time he was done with the Trees, he had heard the tape, and we decided that we would do this trial session to see if we really wanted to work with each other. So he came out to Seattle for a few days and recorded with us, and it was great. We cut all these songs, we did like 5 songs in 4 days. They turned out amazing.

Did they end up on the record?

All but one. We did "Solar Sister", "Lights Out", "Burn Shine" and "When Mute Tongues Can Speak." We also did a band version of "Coming Right Along" and that we didn't end up using, but the other four we thought turned out great. So we went out to New York about a month later, because he wanted to work out there and set up camp there, and we recorded a bunch of stuff, but we didn't end up using all of it. We ended up using three songs from a three week session, or four songs or something like that, and then there is a lot of leftover songs.

Any plans to release those?

Those have been coming out steadily as B-sides and on compilation albums. That's how they will all get out. So, it just keeps going (laughs). In the summer of 92 we went to Los Angeles and mixed what we had, and then we were like 'We need more', so we wrote some more songs and Don went out and worked on his own record, the Gumball record. By the time that was all done, it was November when we could work with him again. He came out to Seattle, we did another quick session, did "Dream All Day," "How She Lied By Living," "20 Questions" and "Flavor Of The Month". They all turned out great, and we used all of them. We went down to Los Angeles and mixed them. We remixed a couple more songs, and then we were done. There were all these different stages spread out over enough time that it seemed like it took almost a year to do. But inside that year, there was a lot of waiting around or writing songs

You know, I was wondering about where you guys found the time to be involved in other projects, as both you and John have been, over the past

Well, that summer we had time pretty much off, so we could write songs and stuff, but from the time we were done with the mixing in June, until the time that we started recording with Don again in November, there was quite a bit of time available to us. And indeed, in that time, John got married and went on his honeymoon for about a month, and I think that is when he worked on a couple of records. In some point in there, he did the "Pond" record, and he did the "Gnome" record, but I guess he did that record this year though, that's coming out.

What's your impression of the alternative side of the music industry?

It seems to be the only part of the industry where people really care about the music. I mean, that's what I figured out. That's what we call "alternative"; the bands that people actually care about, at record labels and otherwise, which is great, but also sad. This is the first thing that comes to mind. You go to a record company, meet some people there. Let's say you had a friend that worked at a label. It seems that they're like, 'Yeah, there is this new metal band, they're pretty stupid, there is this new soul guy, it's pretty dumb.' It's just kind of what came to mind when you said that. Beyond that it's such a broad thing.

This record is being well embraced by radio. What are your perceptions of that side of the industry?

Well, I'm impressed with how much they play our stuff. They've even managed to get us on some Top 40 stations, which boggles the mind. Radio is still pretty timid, and they all look to see what the others are doing before they do something. There's not very much boldness, not many daring actions taken in the world of radio, but that's okay. I think that it's been a very slow process to get them to change, and it is happening. It couldn't happen fast enough for me. Although, I was amazed, we went to WDHA in New Jersey for a couple of days, and they had the ultimate format. They would play whatever. Any kind of music, and stuff I hated, stuff I loved, old stuff, new stuff, medium-old stuff, medium-new stuff.

There's nothing wrong with having a broad base of music to choose from and being loosely formatted. In the right market, it works.

People seem to love the station, too. It seems to be a really popular station there. When it gets to the point that every radio station sounds like compilation tapes that I make, then I'll know that the battle is won. Maybe that's soon. If John Coltrane, Deep Purple, and Sebadoah can be linked together in a radio block, it would really be something.

How will Gary Gersh going to Capitol affect you A&R wise? I was wondering what would happen to all of the bands he used to take care of at Geffen.

His duties got passed to someone else at the label. I think that the hardest part of him leaving was definitely the fact that he truly loved the bands that he worked with. He really gives a shit about us and Nirvana, and Sonic Youth, and a host of others, and I'm sure that was a real pain in the ass that he had to leave it all. But I know that he is very careerminded and he wants to be able to do the most he can, and to have a job where he has the most control. Now he has control over the destiny of a whole record company. That's pretty intense. I've never known a record company president. I've never even met David Geffen before, although I know the president of the company. It should be real interesting to see what he does. He's already started chopping the staff, and I know that the bands are going to be chopped up a bit. Gary's tough; I know from working with him. He's very determined, and he didn't let this record happen any sooner than when he was happy with it as much as when we were happy with it. He was very involved. The best thing about him is that he likes bands with songs, that write good ones and a lot of them. He's also very skeptical. When he was working with Hole, he would call up Courtney and say 'Well, Courtney, do you have any songs?' and she would answer 'Well, not really', and he would just hang up. He was basically waiting for something real to happen to her band. If that process was completed by the time he left, hopefully he made a real band out of them.

What's in store after the tour?

Well, there really is no 'after the tour' now. There is just more of it. So, that's all that is in store, just more playing, more playing, more playing. We're going to go to Europe, by the time we get back from there it will be November, and if there is more stuff to do, we'll do it. There are so many places we haven't been, even in America and Canada. We have to do those, there are places in Europe that we should go to, we should go to Japan. Until all that is done, there is no reason to stop.

A sad farewell to KUKO/Phoenix and the staff there But of course, Jonathan L. is leaving on a positive note — "It was a financial and business move. An AM station simply doesn't sound as good as an FM. Although the alternative format is growing stronger, it doesn't mean that two stations that are strictly alternative can survive in one market at this point in time I knew that when I came back to KUKO Regardless, I feel good about helping to pave the way first with KEYX and then with KUKQ for what will honefully be a successful alternative FM station in the Phoenix market." ad Brains, "Rise"/"Unidentified", Epic Before there was a Living Colour, a Faith No More, Red Hot Chili Peppers, Fishbone or Beastie Boys, there were the Bad Brains. Born on the streets of D.C. in 1977, the Bad Brains were breaking ranks and crossing racial and musical formats, before anyone had ever contemplated doing so. Influenced by such imposing musical forces as the Sex Pistols, they were one of the first groups to pioneer a rock/punk/funk/reggae hybridization — and look how far that has come in today's world. Over the course of their career the band has released 7 albums (including, "Bad Brains" on R.O.I.R., "I Against I" on SST, and "Rock For Light" and "Quickness" on Caroline), 3 EPs and had various tracks included on compilations and soundtracks. They've also undergone several personnel changes, most notably having run through frontmen like founding member HR, and the unpredictable Chuck Mosely (ex of Faith No More). The band are now boasting the phenomenal talents of Israel Joseph-I on lead vocals — and what a spark he's brought to this band (Dr. Know-guitar, Darryl Jenifer-bass and drummer Mackie, who replaced founding member Earl Hudson in 1990). Strange as it seems, the Brains' forthcoming album, "Rise", is some 16 years later, the band's major label debut. Not surprisingly, it's one of their absolute best. Produced, by what would seem a very unlikely choice — Beau Hill (Ratt, Winger, Warrant), the record simply soars. Just check out the first two tracks if you need confirmation of it. Crisp, biting, full and heavy, "Rise" cranks above a pounding riff, while Israel's vocals flow clearly above. The sound is huge. "Unidentified" offers the more hardcore edged punch of Bad Brains, so no doubt it will be a fave in the metal ranks. The full album is just as impressive, and apparently the band are tearing it up live too. Finally, perhaps Bad Brains will be acknowledged for their endeavors and placed up there, in the hierarchy of success stories alongside the countless numbers they've so obviously influenced. Spin these two singles for now and look for a monster album heading your way in the very near future. "Rise" and shine.

Hard Rock/Heavy Metal

illian Axe, "Crucified", Grand Slamm/IRS Lillian Axe have been kicking around the metal scene for years now, first making a dent with their eponymous debut (on MCA) and then the subsequent release, "Love And War" — a great record that succeeded in putting the band on the map (charting/MTV). A breakthrough was still in the offing, however, and after parting ways with their major label, the band found themselves a new home with Grand Slamm. After releasing a compilation that packaged the band's two previous albums, Lillian Axe unleashed "Poetic Justice" upon the world, and stepped ever closer to the limelight. With songs like "See You Someday" and "True Believer", the band (Stevie Blaze-guitars/songwriter, Ron Taylor-vocals, Jon Ster-guitar/keys/vocals, Darrin Delatte-bass and newcomer, Tommy Scott-drums) began to realize their breakthrough dreams. Crossing over from metal to mainstream, their music was finally making inroads, and affecting a much larger audience. Which brings us to the here and now. From the band's latest release, "Psychoschizophrenia", comes

"Crucified". A hard slice of Lillian Axe's more than capable maneuvering of melody and hooks within a very crunchy and impressive casing. The song is, of course, punctuated by Blaze's classically trained guitar finesse, and Ron Taylor's lungs-of-steel power vocals. It's just the tip of the iceberg, too, because the full album's loaded with darker, more serious songwriting, and a harder style of playing that stretches back to the days of "Love And War". Perfect for the harder rocking masses, but remember, crossover is imminent, so jump on now. Look for the full "Psychoschizophrenia" in a few.

udgement Night STK, "Just Another Victim" (Helmet/House Of Pain), Epic We've seen a lot of unique and intriguing

teamings in the metal world lately, from Rob Halford and Pantera, to Onyx and Biohazard, Heart and Alice In Chains (on "SAP"), Slash with just about everyone, etc... (all the way back to Aerosmith with Run DMC). We've also seen a lot of incredible remix work going on between genres (Jim "Foetus" Thirlwell is everywhere, among others). The "Judgement Night" soundtrack promises to dish up even more incredible combos and mixes, beginning with this one. Granted, no one knows much about the movie yet or even when it's coming out... but then metal fans are getting the album way in advance of it. In some cases, soundtracks are proving much more popular than the movies they're supposed to accompany anyway. The first punch from "Judgement Night" is being landed by the uncanny pairing of Helmet with House Of Pain. Alive with typical Helmet power grind and yelled/rapped vocals, the song takes a definite turn when the House Of Pain influence bops in, a la dancy sampling (the high pitched "weeeoohs") and the rap/hip hop second half. And just in case that mix doesn't work for you, there are 5 different ones for you to choose from (including an instrumental version). They're all pretty wild. Also coming from this dangerously excellent and groundbreaking soundtrack are tunes by Slayer & Ice-T (which cranks), Biohazard & Onyx, Faith No More & The Boo Yaa Tribe and Living Colour and Run DMC, just to name a few.

y Sister's Machine, "Wallflower", Chameleon/Elektra It's great to see that Seattle's other sons are stabbing

straight at the heart of metal radio with their latest release,
"Wallflower".
Preceded by a three track CD pro (which picked up #1 Most Added this week with 40 stations), the album should just be settling into your palms as you read this — and a wonderful piece of work it is. You've obviously already gotten a taste of it via the aforementioned three songs, "This Is Fear", "Enemy" and "Feed" (which exemplified the varied faces of MSM), now prepare yourselves for the rest. The full album offers an equally potent blast of dark and dramatic tones, enveloped in the band's subtle pop/rock sensibilities. 12 songs that divine deeper emotions and greater dimension than even MSM's highly acclaimed "Diva" debut. Heavy, aggressive and bolstered by intravenous rhythm quitars, a steady stream of burning leads, and snarly throaty vocals, the record plows powerfully along with no weak links evident. They pause thoughtfully to reflect on "Empty Room", before sliding into the ultra catchy groove of "16 Ways To Go" (not unlike "Enemy" --- both could do well at COR), and then it's a rocket rip back into the grind. My Sister's Machine have a little something for everyone, and that's one of their strongest features. What a great record. Try "Inside Of Me", "Broken Land", "Burn", "Cracking New Ground" and, of course, "This Is Fear".

MFDM, "Sucks", TVT Records Amidst fuzzed out industrial grooves, pounding drums and an array of sonically induced

sounds, KMFDM
puts forth a veracious message to the masses. The distorted wails of Sasha Konietzko (vocals, percussion & programming) and En Esch (vocals, percussion & guitar), intertwined with the volatile quitar licks of Mark Durante and Svet Am, make for one helluva crushing combination. The band have been making a big noise since their 1984 inception in Hamburg, Germany, and are still going strong. Now, with a vast amount of albums and a number of successful tours (one as the support act on Ministry's 1990 tour, as well as extensive headlining tours) tucked under their belt, KMFDM is back and ready to blow you away with their new non-LP single, "Sucks". Originally serviced to alternative, "Sucks" has now arrived for all of you in metal-land to enjoy. Diverse, spirited, intense, groove-laden, not to mention extremely humorous — what is there not to like? If you haven't experienced KMFDM yet, now's the time to do so. You even have four mixes to choose from — the no-shit-radio-mix, P-O-T-A-T-O-mix, Goodbye Barb-mix or the original 12"mix - so there's no excuse. So, what is KMFDM really all about? I think they say it best -"We like talkin' dirty/We smoke and we drink/We're KMFDM and all other bands stink/Our music is samples/Totally fake/It's done by machines/Cause they don't make mistakes." Honesty is the best policy, ya know. (Jenni Glenn)

Solution imple Aggression, "Formulations In Black", Leviathan_Leviathan Records has, over the years, brought us a wide assortment of music, from hard rock/metal bands like CJSS and Chastain, to instrumental solo work from Leif Eric Mattsen, the ever prolific David Chastain and others. Their latest offering could, however, be their most timely, as far as the music climate is concerned. Simple Aggression are a spirited five piece (Doug Carter-vocals, James Carr-quitar, Darrin McKinney-guitar, Dave Swart-bass and Kenny Soward-drums) from the Cincinatti/Northern Kentucky region (an area which also yielded progressive rockers Lethal), who churn out a brazen mix of metal that employs speed grinds, quick angular maneuvering and an almost hardcore bent at times. Their youth (18-22 years of age) allows for a certain hungry intensity within their involved and almost progressive sounding songs — an edge that should pay great dividends for them at metal radio. They are as capable of spinning out a contemplative and mellow tale, ("Of Winter"), as they are a more funky edged hardcore brew, ("Frenzy") or a speed demon dash of riffs ("Simple Aggression"). Etched in the grooves there's an awful lot of promise. Check out "Madd", "Share Your Pain", "Sea Of Eternity", "Spiritual Voices" and especially, "Jedi Mind Trick".

Quick Pick

ords, "Eat Your Heart Out", TVT Records I had heard the name in passing, but I really wasn't too familiar with the band...

that is, until a couple of weeks ago at the New Music Seminar in New York City.
As I walked to
into The Grand

(where Cords were opening up for Barkmarket and Cop Shoot Cop), I was hit with a wall of fierce, vibrating sound that completely floored me. Leading the band (Marzel Morsink-lead guitar, Marc Fabels-bass, Arnoudt Peiters-drums) in an all-out musical assault on the senses, was Simone Holsbeek (vocals, guitar) belting out a fierce wail right from the gut. The whole audience was mesmerized and captivated during their entire emotive performance. If you haven't had the pleasure of seeing them live yet (and you definitely should if you get the chance!), you can still experience a taste of the Cords via "Eat Your Heart Out" (a 7" single released on Fuel Records and re-recorded for their debut LP, "Taurus, No Bull"). It careens and crashes in a frenzy of guitars, with Simone's savage. frantic howls infiltrating throughout. Over the years, women have become a much more substantial presence in the metal/alternative realms and this is definitely another shining example. Don't let this one slip through the cracks. (Jenni Glenn) n metal chartville this week, Mercyful Fate holds tight to #1, and continues to gain points, as King Diamond and crew prepare to hit the road with Flotsam & Jetsam, Cathedral and Anacrusis in tow, beginning September 8th. Rising super fast, however, and posing the newest threat to the very solid (up to this point) Top 4, are MCA's Voivod, who brought home a 10-5* move this week. Helping were 19 increases (many into power) and continued airplay at well over 50 stations. Also keeping the pressure on were Capitol's amazing I Mother Earth, who knocked past a couple more for an 8-6* move this week. Along the way, they picked up 6 increases on the LP Epic's "Still Cyco" Suicidal Tendencies are also still raging towards the Top 5, with a quick jump this week from 9-7* (with 4 moves into rotation and 8 increases clicking in) Century Media's Only Living Witness have bulleted their way past many more well known groups straight into the Top Ten at 10*. This, with new air at WTPA, 5 increases and moves into rotation at KFMX, KUSF and WDCR Polydor's The Almighty, continue to keep their momentum building this week, with a move from 16-13*. Helping were 4 moves into rotation and just as many increases, plus new adds at WBCN and WRCN. The new single is the title track, so look for that to hit relatively soon... CMC have hit with the reunited, Accept. Germany's heavy metal heroes are not only sweeping the metal ranks (18-15* Hard Hitters), but are also beginning to pick up coveted ground at AOR Capitol are on the metal map again, with Blackie Lawless' W.A.S.P. — who this week powered past a couple more from 19-17*. Giving 'em a boost were new adds at KMJX, KMSA and WLFR, as well as increases at KQAL, WARY, WNEW and WPSU Virgin's wonderfull Smashing Pumpkins are sweeping over the charts, especially since most of our reporters now have the full album to jam to. This week at Hard, Pumpkins rose 33-22*, with 19 new adds landing for the full, as well as 8 increases and 4 moves into rotation. Requests are also on the rise Priority are finally seeing their Engines Of Aggression firing up the metal charts, this week with a hop from 37-26*. A whopping 8 increases helped, as did new air at CFOX and WRCN Chrysalis' The Big F continue to build in intensity with their 4 song EP. "Patience Peregrine". This time knocking past a few more for a move from 30-27" (with increases at WARY, KEYJ and WVUD, plus new air at WRCN). Keep an eye peeled for the interview with the band's drummer, Rob Brill, in this issue, and just know in advance that the album is pretty damn great Little Stevie Vai's got it rolling again at metal, with his new self-titled band and "Down Deep Into The Pain"; which moved Vai up a few more notches chartside from 31-29* with 6 increases and 4 moves into to rotation all clocking in. The incredible new Maverick band, Candlebox, have got folks everywhere buzzing like crazy. No wonder... since their debut is brilliant. On the metal end of things, they kick up a few more slots from 38-32*, with new adds landing at KEYJ, WPHD and WTPA Roadrunner's Black Train Jack are clicking in and picking up steam finally as 6 increases, 3 moves and 3 new adds (KISW, WMHB and WZMB) all fell into place Restless' BWF (formerly Beowulf), ripped out a super high jump this week, following up a debut at 50* last ish, with a move to 36* this one. New adds came in at KEYJ, WAIF, WKLL and WZMB and so did increases at KDUR, WMHB and WVUD Which brings us to our debuts this week... and there were only two. First, Energy's Souls At Zero hit extremely high at 23* following up last week's #1 Most Added showing with 9 more adds this week. Aside from that, they also picked up 14 moves into rotation and 4 increases, with over 40 stations already playing "Never". Great stuff. Also landing on the chart this week were Century Media's Morgoth at 42*. They locked in a couple more adds (WXZL and WZMB), plus 7 moves into rotation, with close to 20 stations already on So, the wheel keeps spinning, and has still to reveal the new Strip Mind, Fight, Type O Negative, Greta, Annihilator, and so much more

Metal Filings

Greetings! I just gotta tell ya that Steve Vai (Relativity) brings his album "Sex & Religion" to metal radio with the whole entire thing going for adds on August 9th. The thirteen track album was produced, arranged and engineered by none other than Vai himself. Cool. By the time you read this, Steve Vai and his entourage will have taken The Tonight Show with Jay Leno by storm when they hook up with Branford Marsalis and his band to perform on August 6th... The self-titled 3 song EP from the new Relativity project, Enemy In Me, should arrive on your desk ready for adds August 23rd... The band - Dog Eat Dog (Roadrunner). The EP - "Warrant". Got it?... Coroner (Futurist/Noise) bring their goods to metal types everywhere with the August 30th release of the "Grin" record... September 7th marks the add date for the Entombed (Earache/Columbia) EP, "Hollowman"...

TAD (Mechanic) debut the first single, "Greasebox", (from their upcoming album "Inhaler") for adds September 14th. The full length record is scheduled to land on your desk October 5th... The Sylvia Massey produced Greta (Mercury) record, "No Biting", will find its way onto the metal streets on September 21st... Another September 21st arrival is from the Scorpions (Mercury). The album is called "Face The Heat"... Okay, okay. Another disc hitting the streets on September 21st is the "Respect" live EP from Shootyz Groove (Mercury). It was recorded at Raw in Queens, NY ... Kreator (Futurist/Noise) find their way back to the metal community on September 27th when they re-issue "Terrible Certainty" Fat Tuesday (Red Decibel/Columbia) drop in on the metal ranks with the October 19th release of "Everybody's Got One"... Also arriving in October, on the 12th to be exact, is the "She's A Weird Little Snack" album from one of Red

Decibel's newest signings, Cher U.K. Gamma Ray (Futurist/Noise) join all the other October 12th releases when "Insanity & Genius" falls in your lap... King's X (Atlantic) are in the Southern Tracks studio in Atlanta, Georgia, with producer Brendan O'Brien, working on their next record. Watch for it to arrive early in 1994... The Obsessed (Columbia) are currently locked up in a San Francisco studio, with the ultimate plan of releasing their recordings in February of 1994... Another act with plans on handing over their new material in the new year is Tribes With Knives (Red Decibel). The band deliver their self-titled release on the 11th of January in 1994. ◆◆◆◆◆ It's like this (according to the June 23rd issue of a UK rock publication), when Glenn Danzig, of Danzig (Def American) fame, was leaving the venue at the Nurburg Ring during the Rock Am Ring Festival, in Cologne, he apparently found the way out of the venue's catering tent was blocked by members of Def Leppard (Mercury). Danzig then supposedly told the Leppards to "Get the f*ck out of my way", whereupon Def guitarist Vivian Campbell was reported to have popped Danzig in the kisser. Then, Glenn was said to have "scurried off" to his trailer for the rest of the day. Well, to make a long story short this statement about the incident was issued — "The story is a total fabrication, but we must consider its source...Anyone who knows me or my past knows that I never walk away from a fight. I have nothing to prove. It's true that an altercation occurred, but we never came to blows, as [RAW] reported. I was never 'bloodied', and I certainly did not 'scurry off' to my trailer...As a student of martial arts, I am quite capable of taking care of myself. To consider any of this as fact is simply laughable." — Glenn Danzig... When Ugly Kid Joe (Stardog/Mercury) took the stage in Phoenix, Arizona (they were there with Def Leppard, dont'cha know) and took off on a ripping version of "Goddamn Devil" Rob Halford (now of Fight fame) joined them on stage to sing the backing vocals part he put down on the album. What could be cooler? ◆◆◆◆◆ The last date of the Greta (Mercury) and Catherine Wheel (Mercury) double bill is August 11th in Dallas, Texas. You can still catch the Catherine Wheel out on the road until August 22nd when they stop in Detroit, Ml... So listen, September 22nd is the first date of the Fudge Tunnel (Earache/Columbia) and Season To Risk (Red Decibel/Columbia) tour. The bands land in Providence, Rhode Island for the first show of Fudge Tunnel's first ever U.S. tour. This double bill will continue their travels through November 16th... Yes, it's true. Coverdale/Page (Geffen) have announced their plan to travel the highways and byways of America and Canada. The Jimmy Page and David Coverdale duo announced they will kick off the tour on October 8th in Miami, Florida and will travel through December. If you can catch one of the 43 dates of the tour, you'll get to hear classic Led Zeppelin tunes as well as Whitesnake songs, plus if you get there early enough (and you really oughta) you can hear

Vince Neil (Warner Brothers) and his band as they warm up the audiences... As you all know, Accept (CMC Int.) are playing at this year's Foundations Forum, but what you might not know is that the performance will be the band's first U.S. appearance in over 4 years. The band are currently in the process of touring Europe, Japan and South America with tentative plans of touring the States sometime in November and December of this year. We'll keep ya posted.

◆◆◆◆ So, the Mind Bomb (Mercury) track "Do You Need Some?" has been rumored to be in the Cliffhanger movie. Is it true? Can it really be heard when they are cruisin' in a Jeep? Is it really the only time in the entire movie where classical music isn't being played? Help me answer these questions, please?... The Fishbone (Columbia) video for "Servitude" has been completed with the help of director Sam Bayer. The clip contains footage filmed at the Lollapalooza Festival and at the Limelight in NYC... The Death (Relativity) video for the track

mon than not. The renewed cravings for "real" rock n'roll, for new and creative hybrids, for angry, make-a-difference music with integrity... have, some three years down the road, paved a clearer road for bands like The Big F. And so they've returned to us, courtesy of Chrysalis/ERG, with a four song EP called "Patience Peregrine" (an appetizer of sorts, as the excellent, more diverse, full album is slated for release later this year). It shines The Big F home to a time more ripe for their unique and aggressive strictly "metal" bills, and established the band as a potential monster. Luckily, as we've all come to realize, the musical circles are rotating into whole new spectrums

now, with overlap of the genres more com-

It's been an awfully long time since we've heard from The Big F.

tilt, and one we suspect, that should prove

Rob: Yeah, it sure has.

very successful for them.

What has the band been doing for the last 3 years. Obviously, there've been some changes happening.

Rob: Well yeah, it's not like we were on permanent vacation or anything really. We had gone back after touring with Soundgarden and the Buck Pets and all these other bands that we were touring with 3 years ago... We'd gone back and started writing for the second album, we went in to record it, we had it all finished, and we delivered it to Elektra - I'm making it really brief now. Pretty much the catalyst for our changing... making this big change (to Chrysalis/ERG) was obviously when our A&R person got fired. We decided, judging on past experiences with that label, that we wanted to try something new, and they had given us the option of staying or leaving. We decided to leave and we hooked up with ERG and I think we were really crazy at the time to take that chance, but I think we're really lucky to have done so now.

Yeah, I guess in retrospect it would seem really risky, just because of all the momenthat was still building behind the band at the time. There was so much happening with the 3 videos and the tours, like you said. It must have been a big step.

Rob: Yeah, but you know what? I never was completely convinced that Elektra "got" the Big F, you know what I mean? Whereas, I'm pretty convinced that Chrysalis/ERG definitely "gets" it. No unfairness to Elektra, but we were at a point three or three and 1/2 years ago, when this kind of stuff was completely embryonic and we were — as you probably remember — straddling both areas (metal and alternative) and sort of falling through the cracks.

You guys have got to be pleased with the fact that the musical trends, the musical climate in general, has come around to this kind of music so much more.

Rob: Yeah, I'm really pleased. It seems to me, and I'm not trying to be egotistical, but it seems like people are coming around to us rather than the night-mare notion that bands have to come around to the general masses. I would never do something like that, so I'm really pleased. Being in a band like this, it's hard enough when you do your own stuff, you pretty much have to accept the consequences of it—succeeding or failing. But when people do come around, it makes it so much more feasible that it can work

I just think that radio in general has gotten much wiser, and is choosing what music they want to play, stuff that isn't necessarily what's dictated to them.

Rob: Amen! And I think pretty much kids are dictating, 'Look man, we don't want to just hear that tight parameter of playlists.' I think kids basically say, 'Look, we like music — all sorts of shit.'

Which should work to the Big F's benefit, just because the music still really doesn't fit into any strict category.

Rob: Oh thanks, I'm glad to hear that!

Do you feel like, since you've gone to a new label and so much time has passed, that you're kind of starting at first base again. After all, it's been three years, and a lot of the people that were supporting the record are gone or have moved on.

Rob: Well, you know, I've done quite a few interviews now, as we're starting to tour for this, and I'm finding that a lot of people remember us, but I think it's healthy to sort of perceive it as a new beginning because I think we have a label now that really gets it, is behind us and wants to see this succeed, basically. I think it's kind of healthy, in our minds — in the band's minds, to sort of start over again too. And that's not to discount the first album at all, but it's just to say that we have the machinery behind us now to support us.

The first record was very raw and intense, I quess because the band was so new too.

Rob: Exactly. I mean, I like that first album. The second one has branched out a little more and who knows where we're going from here. I think the thing about the first album that I'd love to retain throughout, is that sort of raw sense of emotion coming in from the gut, rather than the head. I didn't want to be too squeezable.

That's the thing I remember most about that record, to be honest with you. The record was extremely emotional.

Rob: Oh, thanks. We were dealing with a lot of emotions at the time, and I don't want to ever lose that

It seemed at the time — you had even said once before — that there was a lot of interpersonal conflict within the band. Does that still kind of fuel what you're doing?

Rob: Yeah. Probably more so now.

Really?! Even after three years of working together?

Rob: Yeah. None of that stuff I said back then was bullshit. It just seems to apply on a daily basis now. It's scary! I was just thinking about that actually. I was telling this friend of mine the other day, how you can be in a band with two other guys and not... you know, there's got to be like some reward in it. To me, the obvious reward is that we seem to create this music that's either three separate parts on one hand and on the other hand it's not compromised, so it's like everyone seems to be happy with it and is open and getting it.

Does everybody still have direct input into the songwriting process?

Rob: Oh, definitely.

I remember when I heard your debut, thinking how the music was always in motion, so non-complacent. It was just so angry and this record when I listened to it, didn't sound quite as angry, it sounded more focused. Do you think that's a true statement?

Rob: Umm, I think there's still that sense of anger, but I don't think that anger is the only emotion you can deal with without being complacent. I think, like you said, complacency is the worst. I think then it's time to quit. I just haven't found a way to make joy or extreme happiness, a real viable emotion in the Big F's music. At that point in time, I would imagine that you could tap into it and really bring it to like the "nth" degree. You could be probably as emotional as you can be angry. I just think anger and frustration and angst really work for this band. It's not like we're manufacturing it, it's inherent in these three people when they get into the same room together.

It's almost completely apres pos because it's such a mirror perception of what's happening with society right now — so many people seem angry and frustrated.

Rob: Yeah, you know, that's another funny thing. It seems to me that with the breakdown of the Soviet Union and all this stuff, it's like the big communist threat is gone! You'd think that people would sort of — this stuff is kind of thawing out. Instead, it just seems to heighten the whole reaction. It's like the old hatred is coming to the forefront and people are just finding new ways to hate each other.

It's pretty sad, isn't it, you would think that there would be a sort of new world joy.

Rob: Yeah!

But it's the opposite actually. There so many new kinds of fears for people to be worried about, too.

Rob: Well, that's true too.

'Gone Ancient' to me is an up-tempo, upbeat song.

Rob: Really? To me it's like the most negative actually... I wrote the lyrics when we were in New Orleans with Soundgarden. I started to write them there, because I saw all these like, zombie kids, just kind of prowling the streets of New Orleans. They were completely messed out of their brains and I thought, 'God, this is the future?!' So, 'Gone Ancient' is like literally going back to caveman days—everything is the lowest common denominator.

And yet, there's this really upbeat groove in it that makes it so...

Rob: Oh yeah that! I like that kind of surface vibe.

It's pretty ironic. And, of course, 'Patience Peregrine' is more of direct blow, hammer-to-the-head statement. I remember songs like 'Kill The Cowboy' and 'Doctor Vine' — they weren't really, as matter of fact or to the point as "Patience" is. I think, lyrically, it seems you've really gone down a more direct path.

Rob: Yeah, we probably have. 'Patience Peregrine' is... When I was a kid, I used to live in Guatemala with my parents and that's like a personal thing for me. I don't like that fact that God and the state have played such a massive role in the destruction of people. And it's not to jump on any political bandwagon, although I have no opposition to people who do. I think that's the least you can do when you're tapping into billions of people like Sting does, or these bigger bands. I think you can put 'em down or whatever, but I think it's only good what he's done. He sort of brings these musicians to the forefront, who people normally would maybe be ignorant to, you know?

I think a lot of bands are feeling an obligation these days.

Rob: Yeah, and I think there's definitely a certain amount of obligation there.

I'm surprised because it seem to have been discouraged for so many years.

Rob: Yeah, I don't know why. I just don't understand and I don't understand why people put down bands doing that. Obviously, they're going to get more press as a result, but there's also something more to gain. And I think it's been a fear that they have all these other ulterior motives in mind. They're only doing people good. I can't see them doing anything bad.

Is the full album going to have a lot more songs like this then?

Rob: No. I don't think... Me, writing the lyrics and then trying to get the other two guys to agree on them from a political standpoint, would be a nightmare. So I don't know if I should even delve into that

It's just hard for me to judge because the three other songs on the EP seem pretty serious. As you said "Gone Ancient" is. 'Towed' is kind of one of those off the wall things, but it's hard for me to gauge the direction I think the album is going in.

Rob: I think 'Patience' is about the only one that I can think of that makes a clear, set-in-stone statement. (ed. note: "Patience Peregrine" and "Gone Ancient" are the only two songs from the EP that will appear on the full album).

Did you have any say in Chrysalis decision to go to radio with an EP first?

Rob: No, actually that was pretty much the idea of Richard Sarbin over at Chrysalis, and thinking about it now, it was a brilliant idea. Just because the band had been out of the limelight for a few years, and it's real important for us to get the machinery going again and get ourselves back out on the road. So, I think it's a really good idea.

And they're working it directly to metal first too, which I think is appropriate. Obviously, there's a long time between this EP and the album. It's not coming out until the end of September, I think, right?

Rob: Right. Let's say like some time in the Fall.

That seems like a long time.

Rob: Yeah, but you know, you can create a lot of momentum with this EP. Especially if we're out there touring and stuff.

Definitely. Who are you going out with?

Rob: Well, it's not definite, but it's looking really good that we'll be going out with a band called Candlebox. And then we sort of just go on from there. That looks pretty promising.

And I guess there's a video out now too?

Rob: Yeah, we did a video for 'Patience'.

Oh really, I haven't seen that yet.

Rob: Oh, you should see it. I think you might like it. I went down with this film director to, basically, all along the Mexican/Guatemalan border and we shot some stuff. I didn't personally want the band in there, because I felt that would be like one of those Duran Duran travel log things. It gets a little slick. And we had such a finite amount of money to work with. Basically, all of us — me, our manager and the film director... we were all filming shit. And what a great way of making a video! If I have any say in the next one, I'd never go back to the old ways. Not that we ever have made slick stuff, but I'd never go to that — what I've heard are like standard ways to make videos. 'Cause this way, man, we were in like VW Bugs and we were zipping all over the place. When we didn't get a shot we wanted, we could just zip somewhere else... just crisscross that whole area. It was fantastic. It felt so good to be spontaneous.

That's very cool. On the last videos you used three no-name, producers — just people that were just starting out like yourselves, right?

Rob: Yeah, Elektra had given us a budget to do one and we did three. One of those was with Andrew Doucette (Sugar Cubes) — who did the "Alpert Tango" video, and we liked that one so much, he was the guy that we brought down to Mexico with us. I'm a firm believer that given a budget, you sort of strip it down and say, now we're going to try to do it for much less than that, because we'll rely on imagination and brain power rather than camera gear and dollys and all this crap, you know, like catering.

I think the current video viewers and people that are buying right now, are probably just as tired of slick looking videos as we are.

Rob: Well, I sure hope so! I don't see how a band can afford to make one for that much. It just doesn't seem logical to me when you're making an album relatively cheaply, that you would then spend like upwards of you know, I don't know, I'm hearing horror stories of guys spending 500 grand, to do one video.

It's not uncommon these days.

Rob: That sounds completely whacked.

Especially in a depressed economy, or one that has been depressed.

Rob: It's like a blatant throwing away of money or something. I don't know, it's just not right to me.

I've always been a firm believer that touring a band is more important anyway.

Rob: Yeah, exactly. Try to get to see that video and let me know what you think. I wanted the band to be perceived as the way we sort of perceive ourselves, and I think the video pretty much did that.

Okay, I'll let you know what I thought. You guys certainly did a lot of roadwork the last time.

Rob: And I'm hoping we do like three times that amount this time around.

I would think it would be easier now, because there are many bands that seem more compatible with you. Soundgarden was kind of appropriate I guess, but the Buck Pets and Voivod were kind of odd I thought.

Rob: Mmm hmm. Yeah, they were kind of odd, but I'll tell you, especially like the Buck Pets... I mean, I really like that band because they have sort of a garage-based aggression and mentality that I thought was kind of pure and I really liked their first album.

Oh, I like the Buck Pets too, they're a great band. I haven't heard their new stuff yet but I'm looking forward to it. So Rob, is there anything that you want to add, so folks have a really good picture of what the Big F is about. I mean, obviously, they're going to have to judge from the music, but for a lot of people this is going to be a brand new experience. A lot of the college programmers that I'm dealing with are just starting out, and might not have a background with the band.

Rob: Right, yeah. Um, I don't know, without sounding... God, I don't know, I just think the Big F is about you know, about what hopefully any band should be about. And that's trying to create your own sound and then living by it, basically. And knowing that it's just a matter of time. If you believe in yourself it's going to succeed, but in the process you have to be willing to take the downs as well as the ups to get there, and I think that's the thing that keeps this band going. When all is told, with all the fighting and screaming that goes on, when we hear the final product we realize that the three of us "together", is better than just me by myself or them by themselves — and that makes all the difference in the world. It's probably that sort of misfit interaction of personalities that makes this band work. I wouldn't want to tamper with that

Yeah and on stage...
Man, I remember watching you guys play live a few times like at The Whiskey and at Woody's in New York

Rob: Oh Woody's!! (Laughs) God, what a drag that was, because we knew when were playing, Christine, that we were just blowing them away with sheer volume.

It was extremely loud!

Rob: It must have been incredibly fucking loud (laughing). I just couldn't believe it when we walked into that place. I said to this A&R guy at Elektra, 'You gotta be joking! With no amps on, the drums would just blow everyone away with the volume!'

It was unbelievably loud but it was great, and I just loved the looks on people's faces, because I don't think they expected it.

Rob: Well, you bring up another point that I'd kind of like to mention if I could. I'm a music fan myself, so I like to go to see different concerts and I just went to see one where everyone was sitting down and was like real passive... and I just can't stand that. It felt to me, like God, these people are ripping themselves off emotionally and monetarily by even coming to the show like this and then sitting down. And

I think the thing about music is it's gotta be active.

Actually, interactive.

Rob: Interactive, yeah! But you've got to come away with some sort of emotion, whether it's hate or 'God this band is too fucking loud,' or whatever, music has got to go in that direction again and I think it was there at one point. I think that's what makes everyone sort of relish '60s bands, because that's what it was. They were larger than life and there was all this interaction, whether from drugs and what not, but there was kids coming away from those shows feeling like they've gotten something and for awhile there I thought, 'Boy, kids just want to be handed this shit on a silver platter.'

The second of th

they are though with MTV and all, that's the thing.

Rob: And I think people make a real big mistake doing that. I don't want to do that. I'd rather suffer the fact that people don't like us, then get say a, 'Yeah, they went down easy' sort of thing.

Yeah, well that's one of the reasons why I feel so bad for bands just starting out right now, because people have so many shows to choose from and they have only so much money to spend.

Rob: Yeah, sure, but I don't understand. You might as well just sit home and listen to the CD or something. I think it's the performer's fault too. I mean, if we're ever in control of where we play, I mean, I would insist upon standing room only — you know, no seats and all ages.

A lot of the promoters have a real problem with that. I've seen a lot of bands booked into theaters where you have no choice but to sit. Security is bouncing on your head and stuff, that's unfortunate. But you guys played a lot of clubs when I saw you last time.

Rob: Right, and I'm sure we'll continue to do so. We'd like to play clubs and small theaters, you know, depending on who we're opening for. I would be pretty much willing to open up for anyone within reason. I'll probably regret saying this, but...

Who are some of the bands that you most would like to play with though?

Rob: Anyone that's emotional, but the bands I'd most like to play with... hmm. I think there could be a really great package. Umm, I don't know, I'd like to play with Body Count for example.

Really?! How volatile.

Rob: I think it would be an interesting bill, I really do. And Helmet... oh, there's tons of bands.

It's a really good time for packages like that. You know, all these bands now... it almost seems like your other record was too early.

> Rob: Yeah, and that's another thing... like Elektra was saying to us as we were delivering the second one, 'Maybe we should hold off on this and just re-release the first one.' And I was like. 'Yikes! C'mon man!' We've grown in the process and we can't just sort of go back three years now. I mean, that album, unfortunately didn't do better, but we've got to keep moving here.

> > But it did what it set out too didn't it? It introduced the band really well... built a base to grow from.

Rob: Thanks Christine, that's really kind of you.

I don't mean that in any way but a good one.

Rob: No, I know you don't. If there's any blame to be put on anyone, I would blame the band more than I would the label people. I don't know if there's any blame... We made a conscious attempt to let the music speak for itself. There were very few credits on that album, the pictures were all fuzzed out. It was a real controversy. But it wasn't just us trying to create a great mystery, it was, 'Look, we're tired of being musical wards, let the music speak for itself and let people react to the music and then get to know the band.' Otherwise, there's too much garbage out there.

It's just unfortunate that so much time had to pass between the two records. But the thing is, I don't think the timing could be any better than right now for the Big F.

Rob: Yeah, I know. And I really firmly believe that we have a strong label behind us. I mean, everyone I've met there... You can just tell sincerity from bull-shit and stuff, you know?

Yes you can... and The Big F are about as real and sincere as it gets, check out the "Patience Peregrine" EP — the songs speak for themselves. Full album this Fall.

The Lollapalooza festival won't be invited back to the Central Florida Fairground in Orlando. Herschel Parrish Jr., manager of the fairgrounds, objects to the language he heard this year. "I've been to Las Vegas and never heard language like that. I haven't heard garbage like that since I was in the Marine Corps," he says. "Why suffer through another one?" Because of last year's show, Parrish asked concert promoters to put a clause in the contract this year prohibiting foul language. But the first two bands didn't comply and Parrish threatened to cut power to the stage. After that, the bands cleaned up their lyrics and their comments. "It's against everything I morally believe in," Parrish says. "When you use the big F-word every other word, I don't think it's necessary and I don't think it's appropriate."

The City Council in Steamboat Springs, Colorado, has allowed a new bridge to be named the James Brown Soul Center of the Universe Bridge. The council accepted the results of an unofficial poll of townspeople, who were allowed to vote on names published in the Steamboat Pilot newspaper. City Council President Mary Brown says 26,831 ballots were submitted, almost three times the number of registered voters in Routt County. James Brown Soul Center of the Universe Bridge got 7,717 votes, 258 more than the name New Stockbridge. Some people don't like the James Brown name. They say it ignores the town's ranching and mining history. They also note that Brown is a convicted criminal. "The name was supposed to add a little humor, to lighten things up," Mary Brown says. "Some people like it. Some people said we went too far." The James Brown Soul Center of the Universe name had been submitted for a city park in a previous competition, but was not chosen. The $1.2 million bridge crosses the Yampa River linking U.S. Highway 40 with ranches on the west edge of town.

The BeeGees are planning a concert next month at the Hollywood Bowl, hoping to raise $10 million for refugees. The line-up for the show already includes Barbara Streisand, Billy Joel, Annie Lennox and Michael Bolton, who are expected to perform BeeGees songs. The group says it's contacting its showbiz friends about participating in the concert, which was inspired by coverage of refugees in the former Yugoslavia.

Guns N' Roses have been causing chaos for their fan club organizers. The Fan Asylum produces newsletters, posters and photos for members, but hasn't been able to send them out because everything has to be personally approved by the band. Applications from thousands of fans from around the world have swamped the fan club offices. Now some fans are getting irritated about having to wait for a response.

Phil Collins is at the top of an earnings' list of musicians put together in England. Collins made more money than any other musician last year, taking in $20 million, a drop of six percent from the year before. Elton John ranked second with over $12 million.

A Superior Court Judge in New Hampshire has granted $8,500 per month in child support to the former wife of Steven Tyler, lead singer of Aerosmith. The amount is far less than ex-model Cyrinda Tallarico had sought. She had asked Judge Robert Morrill to award her $45,000 per month for the couple's daughter, Mia. Tallarico divorced Tyler in 1987 and asked for higher support payments in 1990 after Aerosmith was seeing improved success. Court master Larry Pletcher criticized Tallarico for not trying to support herself and said she was trying to "live a lifestyle far more opulent than she lived during the marriage."

The Black Sabbath reunion tour that was to have begun in November won't be happening. Ozzy Osbourne has decided not to participate and will instead work on a new solo album. "As always, I wish the other members of Black Sabbath much success with their next studio album," Osbourne says.

Allman Brothers Band guitarist Dickey Betts is free on $1,000 bond after being arrested in Saratoga Springs, New York, on charges of obstructing governmental administration and resisting arrest. Betts allegedly pushed a police officer at a hotel where he and his wife were staying. His wife, Donna, had called police because she said her husband was drunk and abusive when he returned to a Holiday Inn where they were staying. "When the officers arrived, his wife asked us to stand by while she retrieved some of her personal articles," says Lt. Lynn Thomas of the Saratoga Springs City Police. "When (Betts) was asked to step aside by the officers, he refused. We were there to assist her. He refused to let her leave the room." That's when Betts allegedly shoved the police officer. Police say Betts was abusive and had apparently been drinking before the incident, which occurred about 8:30 in the morning. The Allman Brothers had played a show at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center the night before. A preliminary court hearing on the charges has been delayed.

Tracks from Bad Company, King Missile and Pandemonium featuring Marky Mark appear on the soundtrack to the film "Surf Ninjas."

The Chicago-based Freddye Jones Band will have an album out in late September (on Capricorn Records). The band released a self-titled CD independently last summer. They're recording a new album in Tennessee.

Kate Bush releases her first new album in four years in early October. It will be called "The Red Shoes," and it's partially a tribute to the late film director Michael Powell, who directed the film "The Red Shoes." Bush produced the LP at her home studio in Kent, England. She's also working on a one-hour film based on the album which will feature actress Miranda Richardson and mime artist Lindsay Kemp.

The Cure releases a live CD-5 called "Side Show" in early September, with four tracks not included on the full-length live album "Show" coming out a few weeks later. "Show" is the soundtrack to the band's new full-length concert film, from a performance in Detroit a year ago. About a month after "Show" is released, there'll be another live album called "Paris," recorded during a European tour last fall.

John Mellencamp's "What If I Came Knocking" won't be available to the public until his "Human Wheels" album is released in early September. Mellencamp finished an album just after Christmas, but decided not to release it and instead decided, with the exception of a few songs, to record an entirely new LP.

A 43-date Coverdale-Page tour of North America begins in Miami on October 8. Vince Neil will open for Coverdale-Page.

The new Nirvana album, "In Utero," will include a song called "Penny Royal Tea," that will also appear on the next Hole album. The song was co-written by Courtney Love, lead singer for Hole and Kurdt Cobain's wife. Hole are to record the album in Paris with producers Butch Vig and Alan Moulder. Nirvana are considering releasing tracks called "Moist Vagina" and "Marijuana" as b-sides to "Heart-Shaped Box," the first single from the album. "Moist Vagina" reportedly refers to Courtney Love.

The driver of a tour bus for Peter Gabriel's entourage has been charged in connection with a Central Florida accident in which the bus hit the back of a cement truck. Bus driver Dustin Calhoun and five others were injured in the accident. Calhoun suffered broken bones, while assistant stage manager John Gray suffered a gash on his leg. Four roadies suffered minor injuries.

Carly Simon will give two private concerts following a charity auction to benefit social service agencies on Martha's Vineyard in Massachusetts. A South Carolina couple bid $81,000 for the concert, then an anonymous losing bidder offered the same amount if she would give a second concert for him. "I'm really not that good," Simon said. She said she was "terribly humbled" to be the "catalyst for such incredibly generous gifts."

Bob Dylan and Carlos Santana begin a 31-date concert tour in Portland, Oregon, on August 20. Dylan and Santana will alternate as headliners, while the Wailing Souls will also perform at concerts through September 12. After the tour with Dylan, Santana plays a benefit concert at Madison Square Garden in New York City on October 22 to support the movement for recognition of Native Americans by the United Nations. Santana has a 13-song CD coming out in October, called "Sacred Fire — Santana In South America." Also coming out later this year is an album called "Live Forever," on Santana's new record label (Guts & Grace). The LP is a collection of previously-unreleased live performances by Jimi Hendrix, Marvin Gaye, Bob Marley, Stevie Ray. Vaughan and John Cottrane. The label will also be releasing an album that features Carlos and his brother, Jorge Santana, as well as Carlos' nephew, Carlos Hernandez. Next year, there will be a boxed set released of older Santana group material.

The Allman Brothers Band is playing at least a half a dozen new songs during concerts on its current tour. They include "All Night Train," written by guitarist Warren Haynes with keyboardist Chuck Leavell; "The Same Thing" by Willie Dixon; "What's Done Is Done" and "Temptation Is A Gun" by Gregg Allmann; and "Change My Way Of Living" by guitarist Dickey Betts.

Terrance Simien has a new album coming out at the beginning of October (on Black Top Records) called "There's Room For Us All." The LP features the Mallet

Playboys and the Meters, and includes versions of King Floyd's "Groove Me," Bob Dylan's "I Shall Be Released," Daniel Lanois' "The Maker" and Boozoo Chavis' "Dog Hill."

Shaun Ryder, formerly of the Happy Mondays, has recorded a duet with vocalist Stella Grundy for a record billed as

By Mike Cooper

Beauty And The Beast. Grundy is the singer for a Manchester band called Intastella and the single is a version of Intastella's "Can You Fly Like You Mean It?"

A coroner has concluded that Thee Hypnotics bass player Craig Pike died from a heroin overdose in May. Pike was found in his home in south London by Thee Hypnotics singer Jim Jones. The coroner says Pike died after injecting a large amount of particularly pure heroin.

Jon Bon Jovi is setting up donation tables at all of the stops on his current tour, seeking money for the American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund to help Midwest flood victims.

The British band All About Eve has broken up. Bass player Andy Cousin is now in the Mission, guitarist Marty Willson-Piper is currently working with the Church, Mark Price is doing session work and singer Julianne Regan plans a solo career.

Kirsty MacColl releases a new album in September (on IRS Records) called "Titanic Days." Her husband, Steve Lillywhite, is producing the LP.

John Lennon's original handwritten lyrics to "I Am The Walrus" sold for $60,000 at an auction at Sotheby's in London. They were purchased by the same St. Louis collector who bought Elton John's record collection for $269,000. A collection of 5,000 rare photographs of the Beatles from the early 1960s sold for $122,000.

Kim Simmonds of Savoy Brown is producing an album for blues band the Homewreckers to be called "Tenaments Churches & Liquor Stores."

Two record store companies have filed lawsuits against four out of the five major label record distributors over their threats against stores that sell used compact discs. Nothing Beats Fun Inc., of Toledo, Ohio, and Repeat The Beat Inc., of Birmingham, Michigan, filed the lawsuit in U.S. District Court in Toledo, claiming that the companies (CEMA, Sony Music, UNI and WEA) were withholding advertising and promotion money to stores selling used CDs. It also notes that Garth Brooks' new album might not be offered to stores selling used CDs. The record stores are seeking unspecified damages and a change in the major label policy. And in Los Angeles, the Independent Music Retailers Association has filed a similar lawsuit against the same four major companies, claiming they want to squash used CD sales in order to maintain inflated prices for new ones. Meanwhile, Long Beach-based independent label Cruz Records has launched a "Getting Even" co-op advertising campaign, emphasizing that it will support retailers regardless of whether or not they sell used CDs. That policy will be in effect as the label releases Skin Yard's "Inside The Eye" album and the Greg Ginn LP "Getting Even."

The Jayhawks shot footage before a July 4 concert in Chicago for the promotional video for "Settle Down Like Rain."

Tom Hulett, a former manager for the Beach Boys, Three Dog Night, Frank Zappa and the Moody Blues, has died in Los Angeles of cancer at age 55. Hulett was also an early rock concert promoter, having helped found Concerts West in 1967.

Pete Townshend says he now has "less sympathy...than I ever did" for the lifestyle of the late Who drummer Keith Moon. "He was a nihilistic clown, a brilliant example of the tragedy behind the clown. If he thought it would make you laugh, he would pour petrol all over himself and set himself on fire," Townshend says. "I'm far more interested in holding my family together and bringing up decent kids with principles than in being a rock star. As long as I can hang onto that, I think I'm a worthy member of society." Townshend has been meeting with Roger Daltrey to discuss plans for a 30th anniversary boxed set of Who material that would be released next year.

John Mellencamp's concerts to aid Midwest flood victims were expected to raise at least $700,000, but the last of the three shows was canceled Local authorities in Maryland Heights, Missouri, were concerned that the traffic caused by the concert would make it more difficult for emergency vehicles to get through. Blind Melon and Lisa Germano were also on the bills for the concerts near Chicago and Indianapolis. Mellencamp was said to be very disappointed that the concert near St. Louis had to be canceled. "Really what we're here for is just to send a postcard to these people who are in trouble and say: 'Our hearts and thoughts are with you,''' Mellencamp said. "The kind of money that we could raise is nothing compared to what these people need." Mellencamp has also organized a toll-free line and post office box for additional donations (800-251-6222 and Concerts for the Heartland, Box 5955, Bloomington IN 47407). The Beach Boys plan a flood benefit concert in August in Moline.

Juliana Hatfield sings on six tracks on the Lemonheads' upcoming album, which should be out in late autumn.

Singer Mac Davis says Elvis Presley wanted to appear on the television program "Laugh-In" in the 1960s. Davis says Presley wanted to ride Arte Johnson's tricycle, look at the camera and smile "just for shock value." Davis says Colonel Tom Parker wouldn't let Presley appear.

The Ramones are calling their next album "Acid Eaters." It will be made up entirely of covers of songs from the 1960s, and is scheduled for release in late September.

Singer Chris Connelly has left Murder Inc., just before the band's self-titled album is released (on Futurist Records). Murder Inc. includes former Killing Joke members Martin Atkins, Paul Ferguson, Paul Raven, John Bechtel and Geordie Walker. The album was originally produced by Steve Albini and released on a small Chicago record label. Connelly is reportedly working with Jesus Lizard guitarist Duane Denison on a single.

Even though Bjork Gudmundsdottir, former lead singer of the Sugarcubes has just released her "Debut" solo album, she's already working on a new one. She's planning a European tour this fall. She's also a bit skeptical about collaborations. Mick Hucknall of Simply Red asked to work with her and she let him remix "Venus As A Boy," her next single in England. But she insists that his remix remain on the b-side of the single. "I didn't think it improved much on the original," she says.

Aaron Neville sings a new ballad by Carole King and Hans Zimmer called "Out Of My Dreams" on the soundtrack to the film "Calendar Girl."

Boston band Swinging Steaks releases an album, "Southside Of The Sky," (on Capricorn Records) in mid-September.

The Ottoman Empire is releasing its debut album (on DB Records). The band features Clay Harper and Rob Gal formerly of the Coolies, guitarist Bob Elsey formerly of the Swimming Pool Q's, and former Jody Grind and Col. Bruce Hampton drummer Walter Brewer. The acoustically-based band will be going on tour with Murray Attaway later this year.

Madonna is reportedly joining John Denver in offering support to China's bid for the Olympics in the year 2000. A Hong Kong newspaper says Madonna wants to give a concert in support of the bid and promises to tone down her show so as not to offend government officials. The Wen Wei Po newspaper quotes Li Juan, an anchorwoman for Chinese government television, as saying Madonna "is very keen to go to China to perform and support Beijing's bid for the 2000 Olympics."

Kenny Loggins releases a new album in mid-August, called "Outside: From The Redwoods." It was recorded live in Santa Cruz, California, in June. A film of the same performance is to air on public television stations during their August fundraising drive. Loggins has just begun a tour with a series of shows in Saratoga, California.

Holly Beth Vincent, formerly of Holly & The Italians, has a new group and a new album (on Daemon Records). "America" is the name of the album from the Oblivious. Former Italians drummer Steve Dalton is featured on the LP.

James release a new album in September produced by Brian Eno. "We've been doing first takes rather than seventh takes in the studio," says Tim Booth of James, "and we're much happier with this kind of spontaneity. There's a lack of fussiness about the way Eno works. Most producers aim for perfection in the studio but that's a dirty word in Eno's book."

Roddy Frame, formerly of Aztec Camera; John Taylor of Duran Duran; Willy DeVille and former members of the New York Dolls are to contribute tracks to a Johnny Thunders tribute album to be released later this year.

Nick Cave and Tom Waits are writing material for Johnny Cash's next album (on Def American Records). Dolly Parton, Frank Black and Tom Petty are also reportedly contributing songs for the LP. Cash is said to be planning to record a new version of the country song "Long Black Veil."

It's been 24 years since the Woodstock festival took place near Bethel, New York. But disputes abound about plans for a commemorative rock concert and even about the land itself. A lawsuit is pending over ownership of the 38-acre field that Max Yasgur sold in 1981 to Louis Nicky of Brooklyn, New York. Nicky died in 1989 and left no will, and a woman who says she was married to Nicky in the 1940s and never divorced him has filed a lawsuit asking for partial ownership of the estate. She's said to be negotiating a settlement with June Gelish, Nicky's wife. Meanwhile, there are two competing proposals for a 25th anniversary Woodstock concert. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society proposes a benefit concert geared to people aged 35 to 50. Under their plan, tickets would be $200 and National Guardsmen would provide security for the site, which would include a temporary jail. John Roberts, one of the original Woodstock promoters, wants to have his own concert — and he co-owns the rights to the Woodstock name. But because officials in Bethel won't permit his concert, he's planning to hold it in Saugerties, about 50 miles away, and closer to the town of Woodstock. Roberts says he shares ownership rights to the Woodstock name with Time-Warner, which hasn't said if it would sanction a 30th anniversary concert.

James Taylor plans two benefit concerts in New York City in September to benefit Babies Hospital, where his teenage son, Ben, underwent successful surgery for an undisclosed illness. For the first show, most of the tickets will cost $100 to $1,000, while all tickets for the second show will be $40.

The soundtrack to "The Coneheads" includes k.d. lang's duet with Andy Bell of Erasure, "No More Tears (Enough Is Enough)."

The U.S. version of Deborah Harry's upcoming album, "Debravation," will include a track with REM called "My Last Date (With You)." Harry recorded the track with Bill Berry, Mike Mills and Peter Buck in May in New York City. It does not appear on the just-released British version of the LP.

Seattle trio Engine Kid are recording their debut album in Chicago with producer Steve Albini.

311 vocalist Nicholas Hexum suffered second degree burns on parts of his back and arms when the band's RV caught fire on a highway outside of Springfield, Missouri. Band members saw smoke coming from the back of the RV, then pulled over just before the RV and the van it was towing burst into flames. All of the band's equipment and clothes were destroyed. 311 had to cancel a concert in Kansas City, but borrowed equipment to play in their hometown of Omaha. It's believed that a ruptured fuel line caused the fire.

Concrete Blonde will have a new album out in October (on Capitol Records), called "Mexican Moon." Several tracks on the LP feature original guitarist James Mankey and drummer Harry Rushakoff, while others feature former Roxy Music drummer Paul Thompson. Rushakoff and Thompson will both perform with the band live in support of the LP. "Harry will play in the States, and Paul will do Europe and Australia," says singer Johnette Napolitano.

A bathroom supply manufacturing company has filed a lawsuit in Alameda County, California, Superior Court, against Hammer, claiming he broke a contract and failed to pay an $82,485 bill. Artistic Shower Door & Mirror Co. Inc., of Benicia, California, contends that Hammer and his interior designer failed to pay for work done on his $20 million home over the past four years. Hammer's wife is also named in the civil complaint. She had filed a lawsuit against the decorator earlier this year claiming she wasn't promptly billed.

UB40 actually recorded Elvis Presley's "Can't Help Falling In Love" two years ago for the soundtrack to "Honeymoon In Vegas." "When we were asked to contribute to the soundtrack, we didn't know that about 200 people were also asked to send songs," says guitarist Robin Campbell. "It turned out that only the biggest name artists were chosen. Bono did the same song as us, so his version was picked. We heard back, 'Thanks but no thanks, we're taking Bono's version.' It tickles us to death that Bono's version was released as a single, but didn't do anything. But ours has gone to number one in 15 countries." Campbell says the band had "almost forgotten" about the song when their record label called to ask for it for the "Sliver" soundtrack. Campbell says UB40 is being criticized for its cover tunes, including Neil Diamond's "Red Red Wine" and Sonny & Cher's "I Got You Babe." "It's a strange development," Campbell says. "I don't know why some critics think our doing other people's songs is out of order. If you do write your own material, as we did starting out, then that's apparently expected of you forever. Nobody tells Whitney Houston or Tina Turner not to do cover songs. But when we do them, the knives come out. Really, you do a song because you like the song. I find it very funny when people accuse us cynically of doing a cover version so we can have a hit. There's no guarantee you'll have a hit with anything."

My Life With The Thrill Kill Kult release a new album this month called "13."

Victoria Williams is negotiating with an independent record label to reissue her two albums and record a new one. The "Sweet Relief: A Benefit for Victoria Williams" album just out will help pay Williams' medical expenses for multiple sclerosis as well as funding the Sweet Relief Musician's Trust Fund for other musicians who have no health insurance. "Until they get a health act passed in this country, this is just a safety net," Williams says. She says her health has been good enough lately to allow her to tour with the Jayhawks. "Right now, it's a little wobbly," she says. "When it gets a little wobbly, I think I am sick and I get into all the things I'm supposed to be doing to keep my health up. Right now, my eyes are kinda foggy, but basically I'm feeling pretty good."

What was supposed to have been the big rap tour of the summer has now been postponed until the end of August. Dr. Dre, Run DMC, Onyx and Boss were to tour 75 cities, but the tour was delayed because Dr. Dre is under a 90-day house arrest in Los Angeles. He violated his probation for beating rap television show host Dee Barnes.

An employee of Madonna's record label has filed a complaint with Los Angeles police against Marky Mark over an incident at a party in Hollywood. Guy Oseary of Maverick Records was treated at a hospital for a bruised nose.

Willie Nelson got a $150 parking ticket when he went to Washington, D.C., to appear at a forum sponsored by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. His "Honeysuckle Rose II" bus was cited for blocking a fire hydrant, idling, and being in a right-of-way for city buses.

Mexico gets concerts by Madonna and Michael Jackson this fall. About 50,000 tickets were sold in just under six hours for a November 10 Madonna concert, part of "The Girlie Show" tour, and a second show was subsequently added for November 12. Concerts by Michael Jackson are slated for October 29 and 30 in Mexico City, but tickets have not yet gone on sale.

A judge in Birmingham, Alabama, has set a November 1 trial date for a lawsuit filed against rap group NWA by a woman who says she was raped after one of their concerts by group member MC Ren. The woman, who was 16 at the time, says she gave birth to a daughter because of the incident. She had been awarded a judgement of $350,000, but the members of NWA never paid, saying they never gave permission to settle the case. "I'm not happy the ruling went that way, but I'm not negative because if we try the case again I think I'll get that much money or more," says J. Gusty Yearout, the woman's lawyer.

Producer L.A. Reid says Yvette Marine's role in Paula Abdul's debut album was minimal. Reid testified in Marine's lawsuit seeking "co-lead vocal" credits for the 1988 album "Forever Your Girl." While the "Forever Your Girl" album is the one at the center of the lawsuit, Marine had also claimed to have been entitled to royalties for the earlier "Knocked Out" LP.

The Phoenix Festival is still at the center of controversy this week as allegations and counter-allegations about the violence which broke out at the event (see report in last week's UK Music News) make the news pages of both Melody Maker and New Musical Express. The Phoenix was the scene of a mini-riot involving a clash between festival-goers disgruntled at the midnight curfew for music and security staff. 23 people required hospital treatment, including one security guard who was stabbed. The NME claims to have received a number of letters and photographs which include allegations that security staff fired three missiles at the crowd, charged the crowd and used "truncheons" and "pieces of wood" as weapons. Specialized Security, who have also been employed at Glastonbury and Reading over the past few years, have expressed concern at the allegations and have launched an internal enquiry into five incidents on the night of the riot. Meanwhile, Phoenix security consultant George Crawford told the NME, "All letters will be investigated and the individuals in question contacted. We are even considering employing an independent body to do an assessment of this." Vince Power of the Mean Fiddler Organization who organized the event has defended security staff, saying, "The security guards were the only ones who were seriously hurt." Power has also questioned the local government of Stratford County Council's licensing arrangements. These specified that the main arena be cleared by midnight and that campfires should be extinguished. Power commented: "This left the security firm in an untenable position. They cleared the site and extinguished all fires, but then 50 people tried to break into the site and the security stopped them." However, a spokesman for Stratford County Council has pointed out that the various restrictions were agreed with representatives of the Mean Fiddler back in December. Power still claims Phoenix will go ahead next year, despite local police launching an inquiry into the incident. Elsewhere, the Mean Fiddler will also run the Reading Festival, which takes place on a site 50 miles east of London on the last weekend in August. Several major bands will warm-up for Reading with lowkey gigs. The Lemonheads will play at the tiny north London Garage club on August 28, Blur will perform at the Windsor Old Trout, just outside London, on August 28 and The The will play two larger club gigs (details tba).

The Beatles 'Red' and 'Blue' compilations will be released via Apple/EMI on September 20. The digitally remastered double CDs will be in stores to coincide with the anniversary of their first release on vinyl 20 years ago. The settlement of a recent court case over royalties cleared the way for the albums to be reissued.

Rob 'The Bass Thing' Jones died in New York on July 30. Jones was a founder member of The Wonder Stuff back in 1986, but left the band in 1989. At the time, it was rumored he was about to be sacked because the rest of the band felt he was no longer fully committed to the project. He moved to New York and got married, but the marriage broke up and his new band The Bridge And Tunnel Crew was unsuccessful. It's still unclear how Jones died, but initial reports suggest he had a heart attack. Elsewhere, the new Wonder Stuff album 'Construction For The Modern Idiot' is set for a late September release.

Cocteau Twins return on September 27 with a new album 'Four Calendar Cafe' for Fontana. A single 'Evangline' b/w 'Mud And Dark' and 'Summerblink' will precede the album on September 6. The full track listing for the Cocteau's major label debut and first release in three years is as follows: 'Know Who You Are At Every Age', 'Evangline', 'Bluebeard', 'Theft And Wondering Around Lost', 'Oil Of Angels', Squeeze-Wax', 'My Truth', 'Essence', 'Summerhead', and 'Pur'.

Desmond Dekker, the man behind the 1969 reggae/ska classic 'The Israelites' has been charged with drunk driving by the London Camberwell Magistrates Court. Dekker, real sumame Dacris, is reported to have crashed into three parked cars and then hidden under his car when police turned up. Dekker pleaded guilty to both careless and drunk driving after it was discovered he had twice the legal limit of alcohol in his bloodstream. He was remanded on bail by magistrates until August 9.

Shaun Ryder and Intastella's 'Can You Fly Like You Mean It' b/w 'The Drifter' single will be released by a new label Planet 3/EMI in September. The single was recorded as a result of former Happy Mondays singer Shaun Ryder's friendship with drummer Spencer of Manchester's Intastella. Planet 3 has been set up by Dave Ambrose who signed both The Sex Pistols and Pet Shop Boys to EMI and previously played bass with The Crazy World Of Arthur Brown. Ironically, in view of the EMI connections, many blame the Mondays' failure to clinch a deal with the multinational as one reason for their split. Insiders say the single may be strong enough to resurrect the career of Ryder.

The Birmingham Hummingbird one of the principal venues in England's second city in the midlands of the country, has closed. The theater was repossessed by its owner Pearl Assurance, allegedly after rent wasn't paid. A spokesperson for Pearl Assurance has confirmed the Hummingbird will reopen, but refused to say whether it would continue as a live music venue. Carter The Unstoppable Sex Machine and Teenage Fanclub have been forced to move shows to other theaters in the area as a result of the foreclosure.

Mega City Four are reported to be on the verge of splitting with their label, Big Life. An option for renewal of the band's contract comes up next month, but it seems neither party is keen to continue their association. Both band and label are said to be frustrated by a lack of hit singles. (MC4's highest UK singles chart placing was number 36 for 'Stop'.) MC4 plan to work on new material and hope to sign a new major label deal by the end of the year.

Bjork will release another two albums within the next two years according to a report in Melody Maker. 'Bjork's Affairs', an album featuring remixes of tracks from her critically acclaimed and commercially successful 'Debut' album will hit stores in November via One Little Indian. The new year will see a second album of new material. Bjork will support U2 at London Wembley Stadium later this month. Elsewhere, Einar, who previously played with Bjork in The Sugarcubes, returns this week with his new project Frostbite. The band's debut 'The Second Coming' album is rereleased by One Little Indian.

The Levellers eponymous third album will be released by China on September 10. The band are this week's cover stars in Melody Maker. A controversial article on the band, which was written by freelance journalist George Berger on the understanding it could not be cut or altered, outlines the band's mistrust of the British weekly music press. In the article, the band advises readers to: "Not to buy this rubbish. Don't buy it. Go and get fanzines..." They also comment they feel happier with press coverage in Germany because it is: "Unbiased, coming from a totally objective point of view." Melody Maker promises to address the complaints of The Levellers (and also many other bands, it might be noted) in next week's issue. It's not the first time The Levellers have spoken out against the British music press. Building their reputation by word of mouth, the band have said in the past they've been either misrepresented or ignored in the mainstream media. While the point might be argued, it's worth noting that the band's audience, many of who are "new age travelers" or "crusties", and broad support for "alternative" lifestyle has often been criticized more than their music.

The Stone Roses' second album has been provisionally scheduled for an October release by Geffen. The label say the new album, a follow-up to the band's debut of four years ago, has been finished. However, rumors are circulating that the band are still working at a 16-track studio in Manchester.

Carter The Unstoppable Sex Machine release their new album 'Post Historic Monsters' (Chrysalis) on September 6. The track listing is as follows: 'Suicide Isn't Painless', 'Being Here', 'Evil', 'Sing Fat Lady Sing', 'Travis', 'Lean On Me I Won't Fall Over', 'Lenny And Terence', 'Under The Thumb And Over The Moon', '2 Million Years BC', 'The Music That Nobody Likes', 'Midday Crisis', 'Cheer Up It Might Never Happen', 'Stuff The Jubilee', 'A Bachelor For Baden Powell' and 'Sports Personality Of The Year'. The album looks likely to prove controversial. 'Lenny and Terence' seems to deal with Lenny Kravitz and Terence Trent D'arby in less than complimentary terms; 'Travis' is inspired by Scorsese's classic but violent film 'Taxi Driver', and 'Stuff The Jubilee' is anti-royalist. A single 'Lean On Me I Won't Fall Over' b/w a cover of The Sugarcubes' 'Hit' and 'Always The Bridesmaid Never The Bride' precedes the album on August 23. The duo of Jim Bob and Fruitbat will tour with UK in September and October.

Midway Still and Fire Records have been ordered by PolyGram Music to stop producing a single 'A Day In The Life Of A Showgirl'. The track on a limited edition 7", which was given away with Midway Still's 'Life Too Long' album, features the lyrics of The Auteurs' 'Showgirl' and melodies from The Beatles 'A Day In The Life' and George Harrison's 'My Sweet Lord'. PolyGram's action is being taken on behalf of The Auteurs, but the band's manager Tony Beard told the New Musical Express: "We don't own our publishing and we haven't even heard the track. We would like to distance ourselves from the action." If Fire fail to comply with Polygram's wishes, they may take legal action.

The Mercury Music Prize shortlist has been announced. Last year the £20,000 award, which seeks to honor the best British album of the year regardless of genre, was won by Primal Scream for 'Screamadelica'. This year, the early betting is as follows: Suede - 'Suede' (2-1 favorites); Apache Indian - 'No Reservations' and Stereo MC's - 'Connected' (both 3-1); New Order - 'Republic' (12-1); and PJ Harvey - 'Rid Of Me' and The Auteurs - 'New Wave' (both 20-1). Other shortlisted albums come from Sting, Dina Carroll, Gavin Bryars and Stan Tracey Octet.

Suede manager Charlie Charlton has advised fans not to buy a copy of a new book on the band Suede: The Illustrated Biography. He says the book (which is long on pictures, but short on text) contains "inaccuracies". Elsewhere, Suede frontman Brett Anderson has been photographed by Stephen Meisel. Meisel worked on Madonna's Sex book and the pictures will appear in Italian Vogue.

UK MUSIC PRESS ROUND-UP:

Both Melody Maker and NME carry long reviews of Spiral Tribe's Techno Terra' album, but neither accord it a positive review. NME gave The Pharcyde's Bizarre II Ridge The Pharcyde's Toto. Select focus on and give positive reviews to The Boo Radleys - 'Giant Steps'; Curve - 'Cuckoo'; Juliana Hatfield - 'Become What You Are', Ultramarine - 'United Kingdoms'; and London's reissue of the Joy Division back catalogue. Q also devote long reviews to Juliana Hatfield and Joy Division (along with New Order who have also had their back catalogue reissued), but reflect their older relationship with long reviews of UB40 - 'Promises & Lies' (4/5); Various Artists - 'Bob Dylan 30th Anniversary Concert' (3/5); and Various Artists - 'Peace Together' (2/5).

Cathy Faulkner, KISW, Seattle

Trust me, it was not a publicity stunt. But publicity is exactly what we got. Friday afternoon, our KISW "Miss Rock" Hydro was attempting to qualify during the time-trials for the Seafair Texaco cup. After qualifying, the boat went airborne and flipped. Thankfully, our driver Ken Dryden is fine and our boat is now kindling for our next weenie roast. All three local TV stations and the front page of the Seattle Times - not bad for a day's flip. The lesson we learned was to paint our calls on the bottom of our boat next year in case we flip again. Gee, this reminds me of the year our boat blew up. We would like to thank Gilligan (Bob Denver) for coming to Seattle to be our honorary driver. It was fun working with you. The saga continues next summer. Cheers to the KISW Miss Rock!

Morgan, WYNF, Tampa

These will be my last comments for awhile. (I'm sure you all know the story by now). After 13 years of literally growing up with 95YNF, it's really hard to say goodbye to something you love with all your heart. I've worked here for five of those 13 years with the most incredible, talented people. It's been the most wonderful, memorable, cherished experience of my entire life. Thanks for all the good times - The Home of Rock and Roll will be missed.

Zeke "The Human Tripod" Logan, WEGR, Memphis

I've had the advance cassette for awhile, but when I got the new Eric Gales Band CD today, I got jazzed. Quite a second effort! I usually don't go for remakes, but their version of the Beatles "I Want You/She's So Heavy" is outstanding... In other Memphis music news - Elvis is still dead and to prove it the 16th annual Elvis International Tribute will begin in a few days. Once again, Memphis will be taken over by hoards of drooling, inbreeding, white trash in big RV's and white Cadillacs that want to be closer to the "King". Alas, we have no choice but to endure it... On the bright side, football season is almost here. Give me a big couch, a big screen, a big cooler, and a big box of "Depends Undergarments" and I won't need to get up until late January '94.

J.D. WDNE, Akron

Football's biggest day with the induction of Walter Payton, Chuck Noll, Bill Walsh, Dan Fouts, and Larry Little as the enshrinees into Pro Football's Hall Of Fame in Canton, Ohio. Of course, this was the final installment of the week long celebration which was part of the Pro Football Hall Of Fame Festival. But that's just the beginning... Coming up, it's the annual 97.5 WONE Beach Dig, which is set and ready to go Saturday, August 21 at Riverfront Center in Cuyahoga Falls. 97 listeners will qualify to dig in the sand for concert tickets, CDs, limousine service, or the grand prize - a Sunkist Waverunner... Also happening this month - The 56th annual All American Soap Box Derby at Derby Downs and the NEC World Series of Golf at Firestone Country Club... This coming week we welcome

Hey guys! Ok, let's start with the obligatory salutations. It was great meeting everyone at the New Music Seminar. Now everyone knows what I look like and they can track me down and hunt me like a dog when the add doesn't come in... Don't forget, September 17 and September 18 is the WBRU Birthday Party. We're looking for more bands to help us party... In music, got the Big B's - Blind Melon and Bjork are big for 'BRU (holy shit that was incredibly corny and Dr. Seuss like...l think therapy may be in order). Smashing Pumpkins is also growing very very fast for us... I personally dig the sounds of Urge Overkill, Tribe, Fortran 5 and yes, dammit, I'll admit it, I like the k.d. lang/Andy Bell tune from "The Coneheads". (If you laugh, I'll have Jeffrey Anne and Special K beat you up at recess).

Jim Naylor, KRFD, Marysville

Wow. What a show. Pete Townshend. Thanks to Pamela Jouan for taking such good care of us, she is a goddess y'know. We got to meet Pete before the concert. What a great thrill, I've been a Who fan since forever. He did a short set of tunes, then "Psychoderelict", which was excellent, then a long ass-kickin' set. Highlights included a funky version of "Magic Bus", "Heart To Hang On To", "I Am An Animal", "A Little Is Enough", "Eminence Front" and an extended jam version of "Face The Face". I could go on all day about the show - enough. It was really nice to see Jon Russell again, and to finally meet Zeb Norris. We had the best time. Thanks to Atlantic, and especially Pamela Jouan. The Thai food was killer... Some killer tunes going into rotation this week: Drivin-N-Cryin, The Waterboys and Blackfish "Sweet 16". Any band with "Fish" in their name has a shot in our rotation, at least until we get over this trout fever thing. Till next time. Dug. WRFC. Athens

I got to experience that thing called "morning" this past weekend. All the shadows were pointed in the wrong direction and the sun was in the eastern part of the sky. The girl I asked said this was normal. I'm not sure if I Believe her....

Frank Copsidas, WCHZ, Augusta

Well, thanks to two on-air winner who decided to turn down their grand prize, afternoon Z-Jay Rob Nicholson and I headed off to London last Wednesday to see Depeche Mode in concert at Crystal Palace. Sometimes this job is just too tough! Rob and I had a fabulous time in jolly ol' London. Thanks to Steve Tipp and Warren Hudson! Also thanks to Jon Rifkind for arranging an interview with Andrew Eldridge from Sisters Of Mercy, the opening act for Depeche. What a gentleman! The interview went very well and the show was killer! It was also quite a rush experiencing 40,000 Depeche Mode fans totally into the show. Can't wait until it gets here... This past week, we sent listeners to see both Paul Westerberg and Peter Gabriel in concert in Atlanta. Thanks to Warren Hudson (Reprise) and Scott Davenport (Geffen) for making it happen! Our winners came back with great reports, and better yet, great sound bites!... Congrats! goes to Pearl Jam for winning Shriek Of The Week with "Crazy Mary". It moves to Heavy this week... And thanks goes to Geordie Gillespie and Michelle Block for arranging the private screening of "So I Married An Axe Murderer"! Channel Z listeners won tickets for the screening in return for donating food and supplies for our flood relief drive. The relief drive was a total success. Just try walking out of my office! Food and supplies are piled high. To conclude our drive, we are doing a benefit concert for the American Red Cross special flood relief campaign with Definition FX on Friday, August 13th. Thanks to Thomas Westfall, Bob Engle and of course, the band for agreeing to help the cause... Our recycling Saturday was the best yet! Listeners are encouraged to save their recyclables and bring them to a central collection point on the last Saturday of each month. Every month the turnout gets bigger and better! Channel Z continues to show our commitment to our community by Daring To Care!... I'm getting ready for yet another Psychic Saturday with Daphne! Want to know what's in your future? Give our Z-line a call this Saturday between 9 and 11 am (706-650-9510)! So until next week, as always, Keep Smiling! Thanks to everyone for your support!

Jeff Horn, WRZK, Tallahassee

Congratulations To Ourselves!!!! Let me congratulate each employee of Z-Rock 106 (WRZK) for becoming the new #1 Rock station in Tallahassee! The ratings are in, and we kicked ass. I can't quote the numbers, but let's just say there has been a changing of the guard. I don't think you have ever seen a turnaround in 1 book like the one we put together. So a big congrats to: John Summers, B.C., Steve Christian, "The Coach", Helen Brown and the rest of the Z-Rock team. I know Lee Abrams and Pat Dawsey have never seen Z-Rock shine like this before. Also, a special thanks to Ennio and Sam Callie for helping from the beginning, as well as several local reps. If you know the history behind this situation, you know how satisfying it is! Have a great week! P.S. To cap off the week, I got engaged this week.

Sybil McGuire, WMMM, Madison

This week we've been deciding on the five finalists for our "Battle of the Bands" competition at the "Taste of Madison" coming up on September 5. Five local bands will compete for $2000 in cash prizes and get a chance to play before an estimated crowd of 90,000 people. We received nearly fifty tapes and CDs from local bands and artists (50% of gigs in Dane county). The selection process was agonizing; how to narrow the field from fifty to five when the submissions were nothing less than spectacular and the number of entries overwhelming? We all felt sorry that we couldn't showcase even more phenomenal local talent. A&R folks from record companies are encouraged to attend. If I win the lottery, I'm starting my own record company, and I won't even have to move. Seattle eat your heart out. Finalists: Code Blue, Cornelius Klein, 17 Rhinos, Stone Bogart and Weaker Youth Ensemble. Jim Jump, KXFX, Santa Rosa / was lost in a black hole last week called "The Sonoma County Fair". I can't deny I have referred to it as the only hell in radio. But lots of exciting news in the rock world here, so I'm back people!!... First, let's mention a band without a record company, getting such incredible listener response we increased it's rotation to Medium. A&R people, I've got your contact! The band's name is The Ring - you won't believe their demo CD... Also, let's talk adds - Spin Doctors are the most fun AOR band since I discovered sex. "How Could You Want" is another killer piece. Lenny Kravitz, let's just say I "Believe" too! With the constant listener response (the calls still come in daily in huge numbers) for Big Head Todd's "Broken Hearted Savior" we can't deny the incredible possibilities with "Circle". Cry of Love - and I hate to say this - but this "Peace

Blackfish "Sweet Sixteen".

Pipe" shouldn't be passed. It's too good. Candlebox - I wish it could have happened here earlier, but hey it's happening and that's the only thing! 707-543-0116 is the number - don't forget to call!

TJ Bryan, WDHA, Cedar Knolls

It's amazing what changing a few clocks and rotations can do as we have 13 adds this week. Highlights include Baby Animals, Raging Slab, Smashing Pumpkins and Big Country... Is it just me, or is it really difficult to tell when the vocals switch from McGuinn to Petty on the live "My Back Pages?"... I indulged in a little early '80s nostalgia by checking out Duran Duran last week. "Planet Earth", "The Reflex" and "Hungry Like the Wolf" were highlights. Even Bruce Springsteen was seen screaming at the sight of Simon LeBon (although I have a feeling Bruce was actually there to catch opener Terence Trent D'Arby). Thanks to Frank Murray for the flashback.. Congrats to Jon Cohen for getting the National Alternative gig at ERG!... By the way, it's nice to see the rest of the country finally catching on to a song that 'DHA added 8/31/92. The Gin Blossoms' "Hey Jealousy" and "Mrs. Rita" have both been stepped up in our recurrent rotation and we're seeing equally strong phones on "Allison Road", which the band did live in the studio recently. As always, it's been a business doing pleasure with you.

Kim Monroe, WNCD, Youngstown

Greetings from Youngstown!! I haven't written for awhile, so I figured I'd let everyone know The Wolf is alive and well and still howlin' through the summer!! I just returned from vacation a week ago, so I'm still operating in slow speed, but here goes!... "Runaway Train" is not only the title to a great tune, but kind of describes what's happening with Soul Asylum - this band definitely can't be stopped and they have also, by far, "Runaway" with top honors for #1 requests here!... Also doing well are John Mellencamp (great tune!), Aerosmith and Steve Miller. New this week, George Thorogood, Big Country and Urge Overkill. Well, that's all for now, it's time for my daily marguirita and sunbathing. See Ya!! Sean Tracy, KFMH, Davenport Being in Davenport, an area hard hit by the Flood of '93, KFMH has been very supportive of Flood victims. On Friday, July 23rd, our station was to do a remote from a flood site. Torrential downpours kept us inside the studio that morning prompting a impromptu flood relief telethon on our morning show. In just 3 hours, our listeners pledged over $2500! A local bank is matching the pledge. The money will be given to the Red Cross. More good news! The river is now below the flood stage! Let's go boating! Peg Pollard, KIOZ, San Diego Ok, we have moved White Zombie to Medium. Am I still a weenie Judy?!?!... Love the Fred Flintstone glow-in-thedark boxers. They look great on Len, but I still won't be adding that Henry Lee Summer song! We are, however, adding the new Blues Travelers track! Never thought I'd be saying that, but the sucker rocks!... Greg and I really like Dog Society's "When You're Dead" too! We just added that... Thanks to Sharona from Geffen for getting Joe Perry by our booth backstage at the Aerosmith show. They filmed the crowd scenes for "Wayne's World II", so look for us when the movie comes out! Rock on, Peg. Gari Calvert, WVCR, Loudonville Hi to Debbie Dowd!! We all miss you here at WVCR! Hope you're doing as well as you sound! (Even though we kick the affiliate's ass here in Albany, New York!) Yes, Debbie Dowd got her start right here at the "Heaviest Station In The Nation"!... Tommy Daly from Capitol - you rule and so do your bands! Thanx for the back orders! You are the first to fulfill my back order requests. I hope that there are many to follow suit. The tour book with all of Iron Maiden's autographs made me very happy indeed! The new (old) W.A.S.P. is kicking ass here! To think we play "The Idol" during rock! I guess that's why all of the competing stations are losing market share! Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha. And with 25,000 watts to spare, we'll take on anybody! I love competition - all it can do is make you better... To all of you that haven't been able to get ahold of me during the past weeks I'm truly sorry. I am still trying to get adjusted to working for General Electric and the corporate stuff that goes along with it. To think, I'm involved in a meeting with upper management at GE during the day, and then I play "Killing In The Name" by Rage Against The Machine at night?! Only in America! I wonder if I can say, "Fuck you, I won't do what you told me" to my supervisor?... Pro-Pain will be here in Albany on August 21st and WVCR will present them! I love it! Why should a commercial station get a cool show like this when they don't play the music? Well. I've started something here in the capital district that hopefully will never change. We will be a major force in presenting national acts - end of story. Watch when Mercyful Fate - Cathedral - Flotsam And Jetsam tour comes in here. Go WVCR! C U later. Bob "Also" Morgano - The only guy at WBIM in Bridgewater, MA crazy enough to actually take calls from metal promo geeks ! wanna thank Goz for having a killer party at his house on 7/24! You should have seen all the shrapnel left on the street from all the fireworks that we lit off! The knuckleheads sitting keg-side the entire party also had a new concept. Keg tossing! It's fucking hysterically funny watching a bunch of drunk idiots trying to throw a keg the farthest! One was even dumb enough to lay on the ground and continually drop the keg on his stomach about ten times! Thank god it was empty!... In the "Wouldn't You Be Embarrassed Dept.": I took a female companion to dinner in Boston's Chinatown section. For those of you who don't know, this is right next to the infamous, Combat Zone (i.e. Hookers, porno flicks, drug dealers, etc.). We proceeded to eat the worst Chinese food we've ever eaten (when in Boston, avoid Rainbow Restaurant). While my companion didn't want to listen to me scold the waitress for not "Doggy-Bagging" my food, she decided to wait at my car. I proceeded to pay the check and headed for the car. While I walked towards my car, I saw a car drive away from my companion sitting on my hood. Come to find out, the driver of the other car was one of two people that tried to proposition her!! Would you be embarrassed?? I really wasn't. I thought it was kind of funny. Besides, I didn't want the leftovers (Chinese food, not the girl!! You guys are sick!)

Paul W. Brown, Virgin, 212-586-7700

Anyway.

Let's start with a question. What ever happened to Spiro Agnew? Is he still alive? Don't know why I was thinking about that the other day, but this all-too-inquiring mind wants to know... On the current front, Brother Cane still picks up spins. We're continuing to watch the sales grow every week and, in the aftermath of shows, people are raving. Don't dump out of "Got No Shame" simply to make room. The research is too strong and now MTV has committed. Here's the formula: Spins plus sales plus strong research plus MTV plus tremendous live shows equals the breaking of an act. Your basic artist development job. All of the plates on this tabletop are now spinning... And now the Lenny Kravitz sales have picked back up, the tour penetration and I "Believe" that this guy is ready to go to a completely different level. There's just too damn much excitement. Be aware that a few years ago, we were putting all the pieces together much like we are with Brother Cane. Manicuring the base brings a whole ton o' success later on down the line. And in a culture which has a virtual fetish for numbers, alternative, Top 20 metal and Top 20 hard rock. After one week at retail, sales are already at approximately 350,000. And it debuts at 10 bullet at Sound Scan. Ouch. But Caesar must rest now. Now more than ever

Mark Tindle, A&M, 708-298-6640

The momentum is there, now the time is at hand for everyone to get a piece of the Gin Blossoms, "Hey Jealousy." Enough speeches about how great this song is and how well it will do for you. I think the sales and radio picture tells the story at A&M or you're so overworked you're not thinking clearly. In this week—WHJY, WKLS, KLOL, WSHE, WFBQ, WTPA, WKLL, KLBJ, WIMZ, and WDIZ. BDS has us the #12th most spun record in the format - and it's not going away... "Defense and Desire" picks up KISS, WMMS, KIOZ. WBLM, WEZX, WRCQ, WROQ, WWWV, WKIT, KRCH, KIOZ, and KWHL. Not a bad week for Blues Traveler, who are now just wrapping up a very successful H.O.R.D.E. tour... Paw will put Lawrence, Kansas on the map as a new music mecca. "Jessie" is now being played and reported on WMMS, WRZX, KPBI, KRXQ, KIOZ, WAAF, KRRK and KAZY. Please take this CD out and give it some serious listens. Paw is now touring with Raging Slab and Monster Magnet... Required listening this week: Monster Magnet - "Face Down": ask your A&M rep for a listen to the upcoming John Hiatt track - "Perfectly Good Guitar"; and go back and listen to Extreme's "Tragic Comic" - better still, put it on the air. I think listeners may want to hear more from this platinum band.

Jeff "Lots Moore" Cook, Capricorn, 404-873-3918

Sure we've got tons of adds on lan Moore, but we'd still take lots moore to go with: WKLS, KSHE. WFBQ. KXRX. WSFL. KXUS. KMOD. WRCN, WGLF, KSQY and KATS. And, of course, stations are rotating it up at an incredible rate but we'll take lots moore: WLVQ, WPDH, WRXR, WARQ, WONE, KEZO, KCLB, WCIZ, KATP, KRNA, KLBJ and KNCN. And lan's on the road having just played Cleveland, Akron, Columbus and Philly and he's left everyone screaming for lots moore. "How Does It Feel" has broken into the 20's on all of the charts in only six weeks and we at Capricorn feel you're going to be hearing lots moore from lan... Widespread Panic is a favorite with savvy programmers who understand the street. The HORDE tour is doing great business out there (over 13,000 in Stowe, VT last week) and word is spreading across the country that Widespread works at radio... Get ready for the great new band from Boston, the Swinging Steaks. The first track will be "Beg, Steal or Borrow" and it ships to radio August 17... Don't forget, with the flood on everyone's mind, to drop in Col. Bruce Hampton's "No Egos Under Water", it's guaranteed to get a "rise" out of your listeners.

Lea Pisacane, Atlantic, 212-275-2215

My birthday: three of my most urbane, GQ friends (I mean- bowties!) go to the St. Regis Hotel and sit at the imposing wooden bar in the King Cole Room where the median income of the clientele is a quarter of a million dollars, no less, and everything is oak and silver and low lights and there is a massive mural by one of the greatest illustrators of all time. Mr. Maxfield Parrish. We crossed our mini-skirted legs, sipped our Absolut and tonic and felt adult. "Kiss of the Spider Woman" was truly transcendent in all respects. Lemme tellya - lock ME in a cell forever with someone I was intensely attracted to who wouldn't sleep with me and it would be SO OVER. The rotating sexual ions alone would make me explode. Dinner at Cafe des Artistes really plugs you OUT of that sexual thing and IN to that finerthinas-in-life-all-that-is-best-in-humankindisn't-civilization-wonderful vibe. Unless, of course, you experience food as orgasm, as I do. To inject some much-needed balance into the evening, we then perused the new installation art running the length of perhaps the sleaziest block in NYC: 42nd between Broadway & 8th. Sense and hash and women/dog configuration videos and eyes burning holes into the miniskirt thang and guys getting too close to you on the street and, lo & behold - Columbia recording artists Onyx doing a video under the splash of white floodlights. 30 million Times Square Denizens and 80 MILLION COPS standing by. We coulda had a revolution, but I was too tired.

Missi Callazzo, Megaforce & Crazed Mgmt., 908-972-3456

Thanks to all for your support of Warren Haynes! "I'll Be The One" is beginning to make an impact nationally! Warren is currently on tour with the Allman Brothers, opening with his solo band, and later closing the show with the Allmans! If you need tickets for any of the upcoming shows, please give me a call!... Please continue to listen to "Ice Below" from Tribe After Tribe! The entire album is amazing, so please give the entire a listen! Bye!

Dave Lombardi, Warner Brothers, 818-953-3711

"Change" by Candlebox and the Chili Pep's "Soul To Squeeze" are both looking real good. If you're reading this, you should be playing (or close to playing) these songs. I may be crazy, but I'm not going to Alcatraz! I'm out.

Roger Mayer, Capricorn, 818-990-8903

Man, this is what it's all about! To have a lofty vantage point on the development of a special new artist is a great delight. That is the sense of elation that the Capricorn staff is feeling about Rock Radio's acceptance of Ian Moore. In short order, "How Does It Feel" has grabbed the format and demanded attention. The latest welcomed converts include WFBQ, KATS and KSHE! As for those not yet in the fold, fear not, fan Moore's "How Does It Feel" is as safe a bet for the American Rock Radio as they come and it is just the tip of an extraordinary debut CD... Did you see the article on the H.O.R.D.E. tour in Rolling Stone? Col. Bruce (Ret.) looked resplendent and John Bell of Widespread Panic certainly showed his handsome self. The perfect complement to H.O.R.D.E.-mania, is Panic's great new track, "Pleas"... Also, The Aquarium Rescue Unit is stepping forward with "No Egos Under Water". Check it out - very cool, very tropical. Talk to you later... 311 and Peace.

Michelle Robbins, Hollywood, 818-560-5670

So, I'm back and I've actually survived 3 weeks with 4 Irishmen who consume cigarettes and beer the way you and I consume water. The 2nd Annual Ghost Of An American whirlwind Winnebago tour having completed itself in Chicago, I reckon I'm no worse for the wear and thankful to have had the opportunity to visit/hang with pretty much everyone of you out there between New York and St. Louis. (I'd personally name everyone, but that would take up a little too much time - incriminating pictures coming soon to a trade near you). We had one helluva run, covering NYC, Boston, D.C., Philly, Detroit, Minneapolis, St. Louis and Chicago. (We do plan on holding a benefit concert to pay for the tickets those fine law enforcement officers were kind enough to throw my way - details tba). If you missed us, better luck in the Fall, old chum, 'cause they're headin' to Europe. Until they come back to the States, however, we've got their new release, Skin, to keep you rockin' and rollin' (or bobbin' and pogo-ing as the case may be). "King Of Nothing" adds on 8/16 - be there or forever feel the guilt of one that has let their fellow mankind down, never to return again to that same feeling of happiness and contentedness that you had once known. The album adds at Adult Alternative and college radio on 8/23. You know what you need to do. Just do it.

Derek Ault, Alligator, 312-973-7736

The full release of Dave Hole is on your desk now! Forget that he's a new artist. Forget any possible bias against independent labels and distribution. Dave Hole is simply one of the most awesome blues rockers ever!!!!!!! Your listeners will respond to this! Check out "Nobody Hears Me Cryin". "Workin' Overtime" and "Mean Old Airplane" if you have a desire for strong adult male demos. I can't think of a better place to start. Just ask new supporters KSKE, WTCS, WQNY, KXGO, more!... I miss Jeffrey Shane. What other middle-aged man could get so excited over Megadeth? Thanks for reading! Buenas knockers!!!!

Artie & Jim, Alert, 1-800-772-7640

Floundering talk show host Jay Leno guoted in USA Today that "Pinhead executives are the exclusive property of NBC." Any excuse it seems to jump on the bandwagon by public use of the "P" word! And speaking of said Pinheads, maybe they aren't quite middle management material. But they sure do (as the kids say) "rock". Just ask Watertown, NY. Stage-diving, fist pumping mania at WCIZ - sponsored show. KIOZ has "Proud To Be A Pinhead" in Heavy and are getting calls, etc. Also in are WKLL (hey, Mimi Tico says hi), KRXQ, WROQ and WPYX. And continued thanks to DMX and DCR the cable radio guys. Now that's airplay. And Jay, stop lifting my material. It's getting embarrassing. See ya.

John Perrone & Chuck P., Caroline, 212-989-2929

Well, Chuck is away seeing the sight of England and I'm in New York City with some great new music coming your way. By now everyone should have the new St. Johnny High As A Kite CD and the debut release of Caroline's new imprint, Astralwerks, Amorphous Androgynous Tales Of Ephidrina CD. Also out there, Idaho The Palms EP and the brilliant David Gray A Century Ends CD... As you probably know by now, we hate Brenda and you will be able to spread the hate soon with the release of Rump Hating Brenda CD. There is one for everybody on this record!... Still out on the road, Walt Mink heading through the Texas and west coast!... WOMAD is coming to the states for the first time, so be on the lookout... A look into the magic eight ball tells me about upcoming releases: House Of Acid Jazz, Hot Rod and Idaho full length. Phone or fax us at (212) 989-2929/(212) 989-9791. Remember, Every Day is Brenda Day!

Susanne White, Aural Gratification, 718-330-9644

Happy Rhodes - Happy Rhodes - Happy Rhodes. Thanks to all of you at radio for getting behind her EP HR5. Check out the singles chart. Her incredible acoustic cover of Bowie's "Ashes To Ashes" is taking off. To those of you who aren't on this yet, JUST TEST IT!! We're getting response everywhere on this, not to mention the entire EP is a killer. Because of the phones we're getting we've had to press an entire CD of her acoustic work with cuts from all her previous albums for retail entitled Rhodesongs. Shipping on 8/23. So, once again, thank you for exposing Happy Rhodes to your listeners and look for our new artist Mitch Elrod in September.

Jon Nardachone, Atlantic, 212-275-2135 Sweet Water is not metal. Sweet Water is not alternative. Sweet Water is not JUST rock n'roll, vet Sweet Water is somehow all of the above. I really can't figure it out yet, but play Sweet Water's "Head Down" because it does kick ass!!... Stone Temple Pilots are truly phenomenal! This band is playing with twice the intensity since I last saw them four months ago. A crowd of 5000-plus jammed with STP in New Jersey and screamed the words to every tune, including the new single, "Wicked Garden"... Play "He Carves His Stone" from the Savatage 1993 EP. The 'Tage kick off the "Edge Of Thorns" U.S. tour on August 4th in Buffalo... The new Screaming Jets single will be "Living In England". The boys also covered the Sex Pistols "Pretty Vacant" as a b-side just for you... The Overkill tour will continue as soon as Bobby "Blitz" Ellsworth recovers from the respiratory infection he caught from work/playing too hard. Get well quick Blitz!... The God Damned Kix Band hits the road again this week in support of the Kix Live release... Winger/Sweet Water tour continues. The new hard rock Winger single will be "Junkyard Dog"... The fall will bring Rush, Melvins, King's X, Mr. Big and Saigon Kick.

Michael J. Schnapp, Epic, 212-833-5987

The only thing that was more exciting than stepping on a Cactus (Thank You) was seeing Fight slam the Mason Jar on their first few shows. Rob Halford has got a new band and they SHRED HARD! Everybody's lookin' for a Fight and Rob and company are lookin' for you! "Nailed To The Gun" hits hard on August 23rd and 24th at radio. Fight is better than stepping on a cactus (something I don't recommend, TRUST ME!)... RISE! RISE! RISE! Bad Brains will "Rise Up" with the first single "Rise"!... Judgment Night Soundtrack's first offering is Helmet/House Of Pain with "Just Another Victim". Get with it!... Look for two live cuts from Living Colour on their new Bi CD-pro and Annihilator will "Set The World On Fire" August 16th and 17th, so be warned... Suicidal Tendencies will keep you "Institutionalized", Ozzy will keep you "Live And Loud", Fuck You Rage Against The Machine won't do what they tell you and Sepultura's "Chaos" A.D. is coming sooner than you think!... And if that's not enough, Prong will stick you this year. Hey, it's less painful than stepping on a cactus.

Susan Greenwood, MCA, 818-777-4118 Oh Hi! Voivod, Voivod — ALL YOU METAL STATIONS TOTALLY RULE!! COR/ROAR stations listen to "Fix My Heart" we are coming your way with this track!... Milwaukee Metal Fest was last weekend. What a great time! Flotsam totally kicked ass! Major highlights from the weekend: Todd Jaymz wearing my dress in a bar (I think Cheryl Valentine has the pictures...) and watching Mike Rittberg calmly supervise over 500 people standing in line over 2 1/2 hours to get an autograph from King Diamond!... With that said, BIG ROCK TOUR (Flotsam and Jetsam. Mercyful Fate. Cathedral with Anacrusis opening up until Sept. 25th) COM-ING TO YOUR TOWN VERY SOON - just look in this festive trade for initial dates. More dates coming soon. Oh Bye!

E.J. Johantgen, Columbia, 212-833-4989
Don't even think about it. Milwaukee Metal Fest kicked my ass. Cannibal Corpse were amazing. Todd from WWSP one of the more attractive drag queens I've ever seen. Cheryl-So I hate flying. Munsey who are you sharing a room with at Foundations? The next time Milwaukee will see this kind of destruction will be when Cathedral rolls into town... Fudge Tunnel is getting ready to embark on their first ever US tour with the Pain Teens and Season To Risk in support... Fishbone's "Servitude" beginning to kick in. I still can't understand why you won't support this band. Don't even bother asking me for tickets when they headline. You'll want to go because by then it will be "cool" to be into them. Lame.

Steve Prue, Concrete Marketing, 212-645-1360

Add Lillian Axe CD5 NOW!! Add George Lynch full CD NOW!! I'm late, I'm late for a very important date... Here are the bands: Skin Yard, Greg Ginn (call if y'all don't have 'em), I
Mother Earth, Bionyx, Accept, WASP, Bosstones, Mindbomb, Quicksand, Fishbone, Schnitt Acht, Season To Risk, and of course keep on Style Monkeez. Call me for tour info, add dates, NMS gossip and the bands played on... Fight, Strip Mind and Greta on the way!

Clarissa Garcia, Def American, 818-973-4545

Okay, people. I've heard the godlike 1993 remix of "Mother". It's fuller, it's bigger, it's, well, DANZIG! Look for it as our next emphasis track and video from thrall-demonsweatlive in September. Best Danzig impersonators who sing the chorus to "Mother" (remember doing that when it was first released?) will get a Danzig pin. Danzig continue to enthrall (along with Sacred Reich and Genitorturers) across the country... I hear that Raging Slab, Monster Magnet and Paw together form a great bill. The tour continues as you read this and I can't wait till they hit L.A. on August 26th. "Take A Hold" is the current song and soon-to-be video... You will soon receive the three-track sampler from Barkmarket. "Redundant", "Whipping Boy" and "Dumbjaw" will give you an idea of what Gimmick, Barkmarket's September 14th release, is all about. I love this album! Please listen to the three songs again and again and let me know what you think. Take care, dahlink, and I'll speak with you soon.

Michael Rittberg, Metal Blade, 805-522-9111

Milwaukee - Thanks to John & Neil at WLZR. 1 had a great time at dinner! It was great seeing the Midwest crowd make it to the Milwaukee Metal Festival #7. Personally, I think that Cannibal Corpse was THE band this year. Ice-T even said, "It's an honor to play on the same stage as Cannibal Corpse." Basically Cannibal crushed. King Diamond (Mercyful Fate) did an autograph session for Y108 (Chicago) in which over 500+ fans waited over 2 hours to get an autograph! That's over 20% of the total attendance. Speaking of Mercyful Fate, the headlining tour with openers Anacrusis, Cathedral & Flotsam & Jetsam kicks off Sept. 8th in Albany, NY! This tour promises to SELL OUT since its the first time in 8 years that Mercyful Fate has toured in addition to In The Shadows being #1 at metal radio. For you AOR types "Is That You, Melissa?" is a focus track for your station. Look for tour dates & a CD headed your way soon. If you listen to what's happening on the street you will know that this Mercyful Fate tour will be huge & we want you to get involved! I look forward to working with you on making this a success.

Munsey Ricci, Skateboard Marketing Ltd., 516-825-5549

We're all still recovering from Metal Fest in Milwaukee. I gotta say, it has to be the worst city ever. But anyway, how about records... I Mother Earth, you love it. I love it, we all love it. Go for it all the way... Smashing Pumpkins buzz band of the '90s. Full length on your desk now... The Almighty kicked ass at Metal Fest. See them live. The next single is "Power Trippin'"... George Lynch will be calling radio this week. You will have station liners in a few weeks... Morbid Angel's tour is going well, it's so brutal we dig it... Deep Purple is in your face now. The Deep Purple tour will come the first of the year... Vendetta, yes Vendetta. Check it out... Going for adds now, Lillian Axe and Simple Aggression. Axe is on the road starting August 11th... The Power Trio is starting their U.S. tour soon. Anyway, it was great hanging with Jeremy KQAL, Cory, Sudi, Cheryl, Andy & Tony KSDB, E.J., Greenwood, Todd WWSP, Eric WPSU, Rittberg & Faley & Flagel, Tommy T, The Almighty, Mitch TCI. By the time you read this, I'll be recovering from the Hard party. I love the record business.

David Jafri, Priority, 1-800-235-2300 ext. 277

Hey retail, my boys are tearing up the road! The band had an intense set in Long Beach (Bong Leach) last week that was relentless. If you want to check out what I'm barking about and see these guys live, call me and I'll take care of you. The towns that EOA have played receive good retail response, so try not to be caught short with your Speak stock... I'm sure Ice Cube is doing well for you. 'Check Yo Self' is crushing radio and pieces are blowing out the door all around the country. Go ahead and dive deep in the bins with this one! As always, display material is big, beautiful and bountiful - just call me. That's all for now. Get back to work.

Steve McClure, Leviathan, 513-825-0612
Hopefully, by now you have received the new Simple Aggression Formulations In Black.
