Neil Young, "Downtown," Reprise

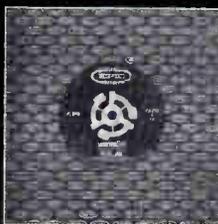

With a resounding BOOM, Neil Young rolls out a megaforce blast of first-week adds that span the station gamut, thanks to plenty of talk surrounding the Hall of Fame Awards performance in January. After a couple of dinners, it was decided. Pearl Jam and Neil Young would make a record. #2 Most Added Heritage, #2 Most Added at COR and #2 Most Added at Rock Alternative. And #3 Most Added at Alternative. True, having the Pearl Jam guys behind him buys some additional exposure along the Alternative front. But it's Neil Young's classic-based roots, the signature delivery, the respectful endorsements from purveyors of hipness like Sonic Youth and Pearl Jam that contribute to the stew. Not to mention that "Downtown" holds up as a very playable first single from a record that was recorded in less than a week, and conceived totally on the spot in Heart's Bad Animals studio in Seattle. WAVF's Dave Rossi feels "He's so good he transcends any type of label people want to put on him"... From WAAF's Dave Douglas, "Sounds like 'Rocking In The Free World', Part 2"... From Doug Sorenson, "I've always liked Neil, but I think I like him better with this backup band"... So a vote for the cacophonous guitar-meister who writes some of the most vivid songs in rock and roll covers all the bases. The gravel roar of Neil Young is back to the table at Rock Radio. The torn flannel flag flies high.

ROCK ALTERNATIVE

Pearl Jam, "Immortality," Epic

This hit album keeps spawning radio tunes. With the success of "Better Man," "Corduroy," "Nothingman," "Not For You" and the others, it's your basic no-brainer that when they say it, you play it. Pearl Jam are the epitome of the core artist at Alternative, and certainly hold their share of votes for core artist at COR. They are, by definition, a Rock Alternative band. The hits are still providing plenty of positive research. So what if Ticket Master crushed them like a bug? Their library material bridges the gap between Rock and Alternative like no other, and with "Immortality" the next supported offering in single-land for Pearl Jam and Epic you're giving the public more of what it wants. You're also showcasing a track that fully sounds like an album offering, rather than a cultivated, big money single. You will appear cool and hip to the listenership by exposing the other material on the album. So get in early and get those style points. ZROC, KL0L, WVCR, WJRR, KMOD, KMYZ, WDRE, WMMS and others have jumped the gun already. Officially out for adds this week, as if that really matters.

COR

Foo Fighters, "This Is A Call" Capitol/Roswell

With Nirvana's success, the remaining members could have retired comfortably in relative obscurity. Not Dave Grohl, who moved out from behind the drum kit to front the highly anticipated Foo Fighters project. He is joined by ex-Germs and ex-Nirvana guitarist Pat Smear along with Nate Mendell and William Goldsmith from Sunny Day Real Estate for this high energy track, both melodic and edgy with a familiar slashing Nirv-punk intensity, and even a nod to the Beatles. With buzz bin level feedback from the Mike Watt tour, radio is chomping at the bit, with adds from the 12" advance at WLZR, KISW, and KQRC, where Doug Sorenson called the music "melodic grunge with a good sounding groove and beat that I can dance to." According to Vinny Marino of Q104 the listeners are just as eager. "We had a huge phone response when we previewed the song, just calls like crazy!" Foo Fighters are shaping up to be a major impact band of the summer.

The Stone Roses, "Driving South" (Geffen)

After storming onto the UK pop scene (and the U.S. college market) back in 1989 and then disappearing, the title of Second Coming works, given that many of their fans probably figured Jesus would be playing lead on the Beatles reunion tour before the Stone Roses came back around. The difference this time has been the warm welcome from American rock radio. Twelve adds were logged in this week with increases at KCLB, KEYJ, KEZE, KLOL, KRZZ, KZBB, and WXRC, pointing to continued support. "Driving South" is a slick song with a hypnotic rhythm and with the confident, relaxed vocal style of Ian Brown, the band seems untouchable and real at the same time. Rob Hunter and KILO already came in feeling that "it is a strong song with a good groove, and the strength of 'Love Spreads' helped us with the add."

The Tea Party, "Fire in the Head" (EMI)

Radio is familiar with this trio already from their previous offering - which went platinum in their native Canada - but this could be the cut that puts them on the musical map. Inspired by a variety of sources whether they be rock or folk or orchestral, they create a style that is dramatic and majestic yet modern. The layered keyboards of "Fire in the Head" will nod to a similarity with Led Zeppelin and Martin's vocal likeness to Jim Morrison both harken to heritage rock roots, but the harmonic laced guitars and the middle eastern tone will set The Tea Party apart and bring them into the '90s. There is an obvious base in Canada and with adds at KILO and KISW notched in already, Current radio is starting to come to the 'Party. Obviously a love it or hate it record, but plenty interesting and different enough to succeed.

Tripping Daisy, "I Got A Girl" (Island)

The continuing cross-pollinations between rock and alternative could spell a major success for Tripping Daisy. With an indie rock edge, enough pop touches, and obviously wise-ass lyrics, this Dallas band has already blasted onto all kinds of stations with top adds at Rock Alternative and Current Rock with KEYJ, KFMZ, KILO, KLLO, KZAK, Q104, WDIZ, WKLL, WSFM, WVRK, WXRA, WXRC, and Z Rock. This isn't your normal pop single - in fact, a year ago it may have been shot down - but with "Self Esteem" and "I Kissed A Girl" all over MTV, Tripping Daisy are right in line. Cindy Bennett of KLLO confesses, "Yeah, it's pretty poppy, but we have no doubt it will be a huge hit." Mimi Griswold of WKLL expects some fun with this exclaiming, "How far can stations go? This record is totally off the edge, but if you're looking for attitude ... we dare you!"

Fight, "I Am Alive" (Epic)

There's always a place on yer playlist for some big, thick, dirty guitars, and judging by the airplay on "Blowout" and for bands like White Zombie and Monster Magnet, that slot is still open. There are a good million 20-somethings that will recognize the soaring vocals of Rob Halford, but his new collection of musicians have breathed new life into the rock god. And we think the anthemic and uplifting tone of "I Am Alive" will please the Priest contingent way past the first track. KILO's Rob Hunter is already on board, "We've been on that for awhile. I think that the band and song are amazing. It's a much better choice than the first one". If you caught Fight during the McGathy party or on their current tour, you're aware of their intensity. Need a recharge? Live up.

MOTHER MAY I

Meet You There

3 Out Of 4 Critics Agree On Mother May I

"Mother May I's debut is a study in writing pop songs with hooks that grab the listener."

- Alternative Press

"Mother May I has an ear for power-pop hooks... the trio's careening, infectious melodies are powered by the Mascis/Neil Young guitar style of Damon Hennessy."

- Guitar

"The jumpy and harmonic power-pop tunes are anchored by a bottom-heavy bass but it's Damon Hennessy's seductive plaintive guitar that give Mother May I its subtle kick."

- Entertainment Weekly

"These songs are trite and there are no hooks."

- Ft. Collins Coloradoan

Well, you can't please everyone...

Megadeth, "Reckoning Day" (Capitol)

Over a million records sold and still clicking as "Reckoning Day" approaches. Dave Mustaine and Megadeth have become regulars on rock radio with Youthanasia, and this is the meatiest offering from that successful disc. With chunky - but not pummeling riffs - set on top of a big booming drum beat, Mustaine sets off with his melodic but sinister sneer that has shot to the top echelon of the hard rock heap. The early add at WLZR and a major summer jaunt just underway, there will be plenty of Mega-action this summer as "Reckoning Day" approaches.

Silverchair, "Tomorrow" (Epic)

The old adage that every cloud has a silver lining doesn't apply to Silverchair, because their early careers have been nothing but blue sky. They hit #1 on the Australian charts before they got a deal, and with their entry into the U.S. radio airwaves they snatched another 17 adds to go with 14 increases at DMX, KCLB, KFMF, KFMZ, KILO, KIOZ, KISW, KLB, KRZR, Q104, WHMH, WZAT, X107 and Z Rock. On top of that, they got an early add at KUFO whose Dave Numme "decided to get aggressive and go after this right away!" Expect a solid debut on the Current Rock chart next week. The Aussie equivalent of Collective Soul? Could be.

Kix, "Put My Money Where Your Mouth Is" (CMC International)

Fifteen years later, Kix are still at it - making the most of their power-pop style and bringing it to the radio. Their undiluted metallic edge, once so popular in the '80s, is now brought on by the blending of guitar gimmickry and memorable melody lines. Their high octane sound, sparkle and wit are prevalent on "Put My Money...", making the track risk free for those interested in bringing fun and entertaining, straight ahead rock to the airwaves. Hip and trendy? Maybe not, but with a very satisfied core of stations still on "911", it's obvious Kix still has a viable audience out there.

Pearl Jam, "Immortality" (Epic)

To continue in a long line of Pearl Jam hits, "Immortality" is a safe bet among those looking for a track that captures the emotion that so-defined the sound of the band. Moody, transcendental qualities draw the listener in, while the soft, acoustic guitar leads keep them there. Can you say instant familiarity? Eddie and crew garnered a bulletted 42 COR chart debut, with 9 new adds and major increases reported at the likes of DMX, KIBZ, KICT, KLAQ, WDRK, WHMH and ZROC. With a summer tour just underway, and a plug from Dennis Rodman on a recent taping of the Late Show with David Letterman, the band's visibility couldn't be much higher.

Rock Alternative

Maids of Gravity, "Only Dreaming," Vernon Yard/Virgin

This band locks in the groove right out of the box with a guitar hook that can't be forgotten. Rock Alternative lovers of edge without too much craziness should gravitate to "Only Dreaming" in droves. The psychedelic overtones help form a sound that's within fashion, but oh, so easy on the stomach. It's hard to believe that this much music comes from a trio, but the L.A. band makes it happen. Formed in 1987, Maids of Gravity thrive on a free-flowing aesthetic of creativity. The lyrics are somewhat ambiguous. The overall impression is not. You'll have some fun with this one.

Neil Young, "Downtown," Reprise

The Alternative community came to the table on the first week out for this transcendent artist for a few reasons, not the least of which is that Neil is cool. The record was recorded at Heart's Bad Animals Recording Studio in Seattle back in January, with the Pearl Jam boys providing the backup. This and other tunes were composed on the spot in the studio. Sonic Youth readily list Young as a steady influence, as do other noise purveyors. "Downtown" is a great Rock Alternative connection for the reasons given. Nobody lives in his league. He's just Neil Young. You either love him or you hate him, but despite any contradictions of taste, you must admire the longevity of this man who has remained positively hip over the years. Adds at 91X, CIMX, KDJK, Radio One, WBCN, WBRU, WHFS, Q101, WWCD and something like 90 other rock stations across the country out of the box.

Buffalo Tom, "Summer," EastWest/EEG

You may not know this, but Buffalo Tom have already laid down an edgy/pop-laden musical canvas for mass consumption featured prominently in one of those inspirational/artful Nike commercials extracted from their last album Big Red Letter Day. Those market researchers at Nike obviously know what demo they're after. With that said, Buffalo

Tom are one of those bands who have kept their integrity fully intact (despite "commercialization") with a healthy and loyal fanbase as living testimony. Truly in the category of "band on the verge of breaking wide open," their latest offering pays homage to the summer solstice in timely fashion. Typically gritty, raw, and layered thick with guitar, this selection could be made in the carefree manner in which the season — and your playlist — should revel.

Hagfish, "Stamp (Eat It While I Work,)" London

Containing Ramone-like simplicity and an uncomplicated conceptual/lyrical content, "Stamp" is a wind sprint to the finish line, clocking in at 2:22. An all-out frontal assault on your involuntary senses, with no excess fat to be found. The band admits to being influenced by the Ramones' brevity, none of the songs on the album are longer than three minutes. Says bassist Doni Blair, "We never cared about image or lyrics or philosophy, it was just the pure energy that got us excited. We were these dorky outcast kids and all we wanted to do was have fun and play fast, to keep from getting bored." And to keep jocks from taking cigarette-breaks, no doubt.

del amitri ROLL TO ME

the hit song from Twisted

"Now that Counting Crows and Gin Blossoms have made the pop charts safer for tortured roots rockers, Scotland's Del Amitri might finally have a chance. And boy, do they deserve it."
-People

"Intelligence and exciting rock and roll don't always go together, but Del Amitri makes the combination seem as natural as bacon and eggs."
-New York Newsday

"Sixty words is hardly enough to capture the freshness and maturity of the Scottish band Del Amitri's fourth album, Twisted, a bracing mix of Beatlesque harmonies, clever lyrics, and accessible pop-rock melodies."
-Interview

Brother Cane, "And Fools Shine On," Virgin

We know this band rocks. We remember the unknowns that conquered rock airwaves a couple of years ago as a young band who could back every second of it up from the stage. New bands were a harder sell then. At the present time, Brother Cane are slamming down serious numbers. First week out of the box, they nail #1 Most Added at Heritage (52), #1 Most Added at COR (56), and #1 Most Added at Rock Alternative (20). The effort within the grooves is an updated version of the energy we witnessed with their debut. It is the work of a band that matured on the road. And the maturity was icing on an already-tasty cake. Did we say tasty? KZBB's Dennis Snow calls it, "Stronger than a fuckin' garlic milkshake." Can you tell he's also the morning man? From WUFX's Vince Richards, "This is a perfect example of a band that understands where music is at right now and has truly taken the sound to the level they needed to to get stations to play it"... Again to Doug Sorenson and "Everyone thinks it's 'Man In The Box' with a different feel. It sounds like the band has really matured and even though Jeff Naumann is working it, this still may become a hit."

Chris Duarte Group, "Scrawl," Silvertone

Duarte is making his mark with tempting riffs from a red-hot Strat that's plugged into the Austin karma of Vaughan, the ever-changing moods of Jeff Beck and the historical reverence for Hendrixian Blue. Duarte soars through passages with amazing eloquence, and digs out remarkable rock edge that lesser players couldn't find in a hundred lessons. While your main familiarity with this artist may come from the first single "My Way Down," and the subsequent rock radio exposure, know that his contribution to the Bad Co./Nugent bill will be one of the most talked-about sets in shed-dom this summer. As Marty Bender at 'FBQ told us, "They just did 10,000 here last weekend". "Scrawl" will build on Duarte's strong new rep, unleashing riffs dangerous to the ear. He takes the whole package to a new territory.

Ian Moore, "Muddy Jesus," Capricorn

Muddy ain't the picture. It's a #3 Most Added Heritage spot after an initial week that placed Moore in #1 Most Added land at both Heritage and COR, with adds at WXTB and KIOZ particularly groundbreaking. Bottom line: any and all format gradients can play this tune. There's been great regard for Moore's technical and artistic contributions to the complexity of the modern-day rock spectrum. He provides some edge in spots, and works well with the more straight-ahead contingent. WXKE's Rick West makes his case: "Once again, Ian refuses to typecast himself into one vein of rock style. The record smokes the more you hear it. He has made a record that definitely grows on you." 84-38* on the Heritage chart, new at 47* on the COR side. Also note the early request activity, with KATP, KEYJ, KLAQ, KLBj and WIMK already into Top Five Phone territory.

Van Morrison, "Days Like These," Polydor

What can you say about an artist who is unrivaled? Van Morrison is simply brilliant on this entire album, and the title track is no exception. Hook city. R&B glaze with horns and groove. Captivating lyrics. A "People Get Ready" pace. Musically, Van Morrison covers rock radio with pastel hues, primary colors and delicious diversity that never gets dull. The adults know he's the man. The kids need to go to school. Top 10 at AAA only means that he's scoring with the older demo. If you dare to leave him there, you need school, too. Classic-based rock stations can't ignore a heritage artist who paved the interstate for Counting Crows, Dave Matthews, and others who dare to let it hang out on the musical side.

Never The Bride, "Loser In Love," Atlantic/AG

A quick scan of the charts reveals a very large hole where a ballad can go, and when you think about it, breaking a new female artist at the ballad level isn't as tough as it sounds. You obviously can't draw from the Hot A/C female balladeer side and retain rock image. And we've got rockin' Melissa tracks rolling now. London's Never The Bride features a very tantalizing female vocal that runs with Melissa, Tina and Sass on the passionate level. The band appeared on the Encomium compilation with a stirring version of "Going to California," and are managed by the Trinifold group (Townshend's manager, as well as Plant & Page's). Seasoned by hundreds of gigs ranging from festivals to funerals, the emotive capacity of vocalist Nikki Lamborn is right up there with the greats. Obviously not an easy record, but different enough to get noticed. Atlantic's made home runs out of curve balls before, so keep an ear peeled.

The Screaming Headless Torsos

Earl Douglas is the producer of "The Carol Miller Show," which can be heard weekdays from 10AM-3PM on 102.7 WNEW in New York.

The Screaming Headless Torsos celebrated the release of their debut CD on Discovery Records with a party/performance at The Cooler (Discovery is a division of Warner Brothers). The Torsos defy categorization — musical styles weave in and out at a frantic pace. Guitarist Dave "Fuse" Fiuczynski rips out 21 Century licks. Vocalist Dean Bowman can give you a shrieking falsetto one moment, then do some serious scatting the next. The rhythm section of JoJo Mayer (drums), and Fima Ephron (bass) run the gamut from jazz, rock, hip-hop, and funk. Adding a dynamic Latin flavor to the mix is percussionist Daniel Sadownick. Once a meat storage facility, The Cooler was more like the Broiler because it was at least 90 degrees when The Torsos took to the stage. More of a showcase than a concert, live performance is clearly The Torsos' strength. "Vinnie," the single from the album, was a fine slab of funk-rock with some yodeling (yes, yodeling) from vocalist Dean Bowman. "Free Man" has an intro that spoofs Hooked On Phonics, but kicks like a mule as it tells the tale of a man who dares to use both his mind and soul. Jazz and hip-hop became one with "Word To Herb." Fuse and bassist Fima Ephron flew through jazz runs while drummer JoJo Mayer and percussionist Daniel Sadownick laid down the funky beats. add to that a rap and some more scatting from Dean Bowman and a new genre is born: Jazz Hop. Miles Davis' "Blue In Green," which incorporates "The Vampire's Song," captures the essence that is The Screaming Headless Torsos. It began with Bowman's soulful vocals over a reggae beat, progressed into a rock bridge that would make Soundgarden blush, and included a couple of jazzy excursions courtesy of Fiuczynski and Bowman. The Torsos also have a knack for taking a rock classic and putting their own slant on it (I have a cassette of The Torsos from a few years ago that has the most unique interpretation of The Beatles "Something" you'll ever hear — hope that makes the next one guys!). For this performance, Jimi Hendrix's "Little Wing" was given the Torsos treatment and was arranged to point out just how much of a great songwriter Hendrix was. To conclude the set, Ephron and Sadownick's percussive frenzy opened "Smile In A Wave" (theme from Jack Johnson), another Miles piece (with new lyrics by Fiuczynski) that acknowledges some of the heroes of the Progressive Black Music scene (Bad Brains, Living Colour, Fishbone, Bootsy Collins and the like). The music was a hot as the room. Watching the Torsos live is like watching the 1978 Yankees in September — nothing stops these guys. As a frontman, Dean Bowman doesn't ask for your attention, he demands it. His vocal skills will set new standards for lead singers. The rhythm section of Mayer, Sadownick, and Ephron can thrash it out with the best of them, but they're funky as hell, too. You don't find that in most bands. Guitarist Dave Fiuczynski is the guitar hero of the future, if he isn't already. I'm convinced that he's from another planet. There's no one out there that sounds like him. No one. (If you want proof, check out Lunar Crush, an album Fuse did with keyboardist John Medski). If there's any style that comes close to describing The Screaming Headless Torsos, I guess it would be art rock. But rather than draw from the European classical music (like their British brethren did in the late 60s and early 70s), The Torsos draw from American classical music: Miles Davis, John Coltrane, and Charlie Parker. I urge all your PD's out there to give The Torsos' record a shot - it's one of the year's best. If you have a chance to catch them live, seize the chance - you won't be disappointed. Like Dean Bowman sings in "Vinnie," "It's fine to mix the music, but please don't abuse it." Get ready for the next realm in contemporary music.

Lee Chesnut

In October 1994, after nearly ten years of providing viewers with a steady diet of AC videos, VH1 ended its search for an identity and an audience, changing the music's focus to target 25-40 year olds. With President John Sykes at the helm, the redesigned music network dropped the videos from Michael Bolton, Anita Baker and Kenny G, and replaced them with videos from Counting Crows, Melissa Etheridge, Gin Blossoms, Sheryl Crow and Hootie & The Blowfish, and at the same time, increased currents from 30% to 70%. The response has been overwhelmingly positive. With well-informed hosts and an eclectic music mix, VH1 has captured the attention of the thirtysomething generation who had outgrown their MTV. Sykes turned to the radio industry for talent in staffing the team that would take the network into the next century, and he found VH1's new VP/Programming Lee Chesnut at Star 94 in Atlanta. We asked Lee to fill us in on the format change and some of the promotions and programs that have been designed to shape the future of the network...

You have an extensive radio background. What was your first job?

Lee: My first job in radio was at WABB/Mobile in 1987. It was a Top 40 station, and I was MD there for two years. From there, I went to WAPI/Birmingham — which at the time was a rock-leaning Top 40 — where I was Music Director for about six months. Then I went to WAPW/Atlanta, which was a dance-leaning Top 40 known as Power 99. Next, I went to WSTR/Atlanta, Star 94, an Adult Top 40. I was there for about two and a half years. That's where I was when VH1 got in contact with me.

What brought you to their attention?

THE Hard INTERVIEW

Lee: At Star 94, I was Program Director for the first time, instead of Music Director. We were one of the only Top 40s in the country that was playing a lot of today's music that was having success with adults. We had great 25-54 numbers. When VH1 decided to make the change to move away from the AC approach, they put the word out that they were looking for somebody with experience and success in programming to adults, but doing it with current music.

Were you brought into the network specifically for the programming change?

Lee: Yes.

I detect a little bit of an accent. I'm guessing you are from Alabama?

Lee: I grew up in Camden, Alabama, which has a population of about 1,500 people.

I understand that you were instrumental in breaking Chris Isaak.

Lee: At the time, I was at WAPW. The album had been out almost two years, and 'Wicked Game' had not been released as a single, and there were no plans to do so. I think the label had given up on it. I saw the David Lynch film, Wild At Heart, where they used an instrumental version of the song. I saw the movie three times, and every time I saw it, the melody really stuck in my head, so finally, I dug out the soundtrack to the movie. When I found the song, it had vocals to it and I thought, 'This is a hit record. I just know that it is.' So, I went to the Program Director and said, 'Let's just play it for a few days. If nothing happens, we can take it off. But I know in my gut that this is a hit song.' Sure enough, about two days later it was our number one request, and record stores were going crazy calling us trying to find out where to get the album. From there, I called the label and convinced them to release 'Wicked Game' as a single. In the meantime, I personally got about twelve other stations to start playing it to see if the same thing would happen for them. Each station that put it on got the same reaction. About six or eight weeks later, the label finally released it as a single, and six months after that, it went Top 10. It's been really cool. Chris was great because he has mentioned me a lot in his interviews. So, he did just as much for my career as I did for his. We both got a lot out of that little experience. In fact, I saw him in L.A. a couple of weeks ago at the House Of Blues, and I went back to talk to him and the first thing he said was, 'Oh no, not you! It's four years later, and people as far away as Sweden still bring your name up to me in interviews.' The whole story of how he finally broke through still haunts him, I guess.

It's been about eight months since VH1 changed direction and began to target the 25-40 demographic. The network must have devoted an enormous amount of time and resources in researching the decision to make that move.

Lee: Definitely. A lot of money was spent doing a huge research project where the researchers actually went into the homes of viewers. This wasn't just over the telephone or in some auditorium. They actually went out and got to know the viewers and found out who they were, what their tastes were, what they expected from the channel — that's how we decided what changes to make.

After nearly ten years of providing 40+ baby boomers with their daily dose of Michael Bolton, did you initially get a lot of negative feedback from viewers expecting to see Kenny G and instead found the Counting Crows?

Lee: Naturally, there were a few people that liked VH1 the way it used to be. Overwhelmingly, though, the response has been very positive. We didn't just come in and say, 'Let's take off all the Michael Bolton and Gloria Estefan.' In fact, some of Gloria's videos are still on the channel. As far as the decisions that were made about what to take off and what to leave on, we left that up to the viewers. We did a lot of research on the music and videos and we followed their advice. It's not like there was anybody inside the building that said, 'I hate Michael Bolton,' or 'I hate Kenny G.' I'm sure that if some of those artists come out with some great new music, we're open to anything.

Along with assimilating a lot of new viewers, did the network also keep a lot of the old viewers whose musical tastes had evolved?

Lee: I think that the changes we made really were a reflection of the fact that their tastes had changed. Again, we were sort of doing what they wanted us to do.

Are the Nielson ratings a factor at all with VH1?

Lee: We watch the ratings, but at this point, when you have refocused, you have really got to establish yourself with your new identity before you get too obsessed with ratings. It takes a while.

Were the advertisers skeptical when you changed direction?

Lee: No, they were very supportive. I think everybody liked the idea that VH1 now really stood for something. It's 'VH1 Music First.' We are a music service now. I think our identity is a lot clearer to advertisers, and they like that.

Lee with Gina Suarez (A&M Records), and Del Amitri

I know that you don't program VH1 as a Triple A outlet, but there is a lot of crossover of the artists between the Triple A format and what I see on VH1. Was the success of that format a factor at all in making the change?

Lee: Obviously, there is a great buzz on the format right now. Some great artists have broken out of there. We've had a lot of success with Counting Crows, Tom Petty, people like that. If you talk to Atlantic Records, they credit VH1 with being one of the biggest factors in the success of Hootie & The Blowfish. Now, we're starting to see a similar thing happen with Blues Traveler. We were very early on that video, and that has turned out to be a really big hit. Of course, Melissa Etheridge has been a mainstay at the channel now for coming up on a year. It's great to see artists in what we call 'The Roots Rock Movement' having success — artists like Bruce Springsteen, Sheryl Crow, Chris Isaak. It's great news for VH1.

Do you have to carefully track MTV's programming to make sure there is not too much redundancy of the videos on the two networks? Or are you programming to two completely different audiences?

Lee: Actually, we have found that if we focus on our audience instead of focusing on MTV, the separation takes care of itself, because there is a lot of music that MTV plays that's great music but our audience just isn't interested in it. I believe that if you focus on your audience, you'll win.

What artists will you absolutely not see on VH1?

Lee: One of the first things I learned in the music business is never say never. That's a very dangerous place to be. Some artists like Snoop Doggy Dogg are not really a fit for us. Some of the hard-core grunge and metal artists play music our audience is really not into. There are very few things that I am going to say never to, though. You don't know how tastes are going to change.

And you never know, Cannibal Corpse may come up with a great ballad someday.

Lee: Exactly. No telling.

Who are your core artists today as compared to your core artists two years ago?

Lee: The core artists today are Melissa Etheridge, Elton John, Sheryl Crow, and Hootie & The Blowfish — Hootie have quickly become a core artist for us. They have only had a few songs, but I hear more hits coming from that album. Tom Petty is core. I wasn't here a year ago, so it's hard for me to say exactly, but I think that VH1 at that time was more well known for, as you said before, Michael Bolton and Kenny G. There were some of the same artists on a year ago, Elton John, for example — and for that matter Springsteen was on a year ago, too. Also, country music was programmed a lot on the channel at that time.

I love the commercials where an intern finds a Rolex taped to a video and puts it in a bin marked 'play.' But how are the videos really chosen? Is it by committee?

Lee: It's a two part thing. On Mondays, we have an acquisitions meeting where we take all of the new videos submitted to us by the labels and we watch them together. That is an open door meeting. Anybody that wants to come and see the new videos are welcome to watch. I like the idea of getting crowd feedback. At that point, we decide whether to accept the video or pass on it, but no actual programming decisions are made at that time. We just decide which ones to take and which ones to pass on or say, 'We're not interested yet, but keep us informed.' On Tuesdays, we have the actual music meeting, which is a smaller meeting involving myself and my department. The two other people that work in the Music Programming Department are Director of Music Programming, Darcy Fulmer, who came from K-Rock in Los Angeles, and the Manager of Music Programming, Janis Unterweiser, who has been here for about five years. Those people are in the music meeting, along with Wayne Isaak, who is the head of Music & Talent Relations. He came to us from A&M Records. He and his department — Terence Lam and David Weier — along with one representative from the research department — that is Rick Holzman. Occasionally Andy Schuon from MTV will come down and sit in the meeting. That is where the question you had earlier comes in, the separation between MTV and VH1. Andy is there to give us MTV feedback. That is pretty much who is in that meeting. That's where we decide which of the accepted videos we actually want to add into rotation and how often we want to play them, and which videos are burned out or maybe not working out.

If there is a question or an argument, who has the final say on what gets in?

Lee: You know what is really great — and this just isn't a line — there is almost never any disagreement here. I guess it's because we have such a clearly focused vision and a goal of what the channel should be, that we very rarely argue about whether or not we should be playing a video.

How many videos do you watch a week?

Lee: Anywhere from 15 to 25 new videos are submitted every week. It takes awhile to watch them all. We're talking about probably 100 videos a month, that's pretty healthy.

With only two significant music video channels, label pressure must be 1,000 times more intense than it is for any given radio station in the country. Do you get a lot of label pressure?

Lee: Oh, yeah! They work really hard to get their videos in rotation here. Fortunately for us, we have done presentations and talked to the labels in person. We pride ourselves on having great relationships with the record labels. They all understand really clearly what the goal and the mission is here. It's not that often that we get intense pressure to play something that we feel is wrong for the channel. We're just fortunate that they all understand what we are doing. That takes care of a lot of the problems.

Do you have to limit music call hours?

Lee: No. People can call whenever they want to. It's not too bad.

Do you sometimes get frenzied calls when you have five videos of one label and only two of another playing?

Lee: That doesn't really happen very often. No, I can't think of many times where the pendulum swung that far in one direction.

Do you consciously keep it equal among the labels or does it just work out that way?

Lee: It's the way it works out. Sometimes a label will go through a cold spell and somebody else might be red hot. You know how it is, it's up and down in this business.

I guess the labels can't get too angry with you when you're one of only two games in town.

Lee: They are great. We get along with all of them really well.

I could be watching at the wrong time, but I have never seen a video from an independent label on VH1. Do you deal with indies at all?

Lee: Yes, we do get videos submitted from independent labels. I know that we played a video for Belmark — they had Prince doing 'The Most Beautiful Girl In The World.' Obviously, most of the hit records do seem to come from the bigger labels, but we are open to anything. We are constantly on the look out for that great looking video for a special song. There is definitely no prejudice.

So an independent artist could submit a video and it would get the same consideration as a major label?

THE Hard INTERVIEW

Lee: Absolutely. No question about it.

What's more important in programming a video network — is it the entertainment quality of the video or the artistic quality of the song?

Lee: It's really both. If a song is a big enough hit, it tends to become a hit video no matter what it looks like. On the flip side of that, there have been some okay records that had great videos that ended up helping the song out. But most of the time, the great songs have the great videos. I don't know how it works out that way. Maybe the labels just have really good foresight and they put the most money into the ones they believe are going to be the biggest hits.

Have you come across instances, though, where you had a really great song and a mediocre video?

Lee: Every now and then VH1 will come across a video of a song that, sound-wise, probably fits with the audience, but maybe the artist or the record label chose to make a video that looked a lot younger. That definitely hurts us. If a video looks too young or too grungy, that could affect decisions.

Have there ever been any big surprises — something you thought was not going to work and it did really well? Or something you thought was going to do well and didn't work at all?

Lee: It's easier to think of things that we did think were going to work but didn't. That happens a lot. We were all really disappointed that the single 'Bedtime Story' didn't turn out to be a bigger hit for Madonna, because the video was incredible. It cost almost $2 million to make and it had these mind-blowing special effects. It was a really beautiful video. The song turned out not to be a very big hit, though. I'd say we were disappointed with that. But then you know Madonna, she turns right back around and makes another smash hit.

VH1 programs a lot more than music. What are some of your more successful non-music programs?

Lee: We have '4 On The Floor,' which is our music critics' roundtable. Even when it's not music videos being played, we try to connect everything to the music. For instance we have a show called 'Naked Cafe,' which is a unique behind-the-scenes look at some of the artists, where we don't necessarily play the video. It's more about getting to know the artists. That's a great way to showcase some of the big stars, and at the same time, introduce the audience to up-and-coming talent.

I've heard criticisms, mostly from artists, that both VH1 and MTV are diverting their attention away from music. That at any given time you are more likely to see a talk show or a fashion show or a comedy show than an actual music video. How do you respond to that assessment?

Lee: Just turn on VH1. We are still contractually bound to comedy until the end of the year, but you don't see as much of it on the channel as you used to. Other than that, almost everything that we program on this channel relates to music. We don't have any sitcoms on here. We really are dedicated to being a music service.

There seems to be two major differences between the VH1 host and the MTV VJ — 1) they are musically knowledgeable, and 2) they have more than one name. Does your research tell you that you are dealing with a more intelligent audience that prefers to see people like Moon Zappa and Ian O'Malley, who can educate as well as entertain?

Lee: Definitely. From the research project, we found that adults still cared about today's music and they wanted to be informed about it. They want to keep in touch and know what is going on out there, they want it to be presented to them, like you said, in a very intelligent manner. But MTV knows their audience as well as we know ours. I would guess that they are doing the right thing for their audience.

The 'Tickets First' promotion was a brilliant concept, who came up with that?

Lee: John Sykes, the President of the company.

I was just in awe while I was watching the first one, which was for Tom Petty's tour. Is it true there was something like a half a million people calling for tickets in the first 15 minutes?

Lee: Yes, that's right. It did very well. Then we followed it right up with the Melissa Etheridge 'Tickets First' which also was a huge success. There were 10 million phone call attempts for Melissa Etheridge.

How many tickets did you have?

Lee: 40,000 tickets were sold.

Explain a little bit about the whole 'Tickets First' concept — you had the tickets before they actually went on sale to the public?

Lee: Yes, exactly. They are choice seats that you can buy before they are put on sale. The idea behind it is, again, that this is an adult audience. They are more mature. They don't have as much free time on their hands as kids do, and this whole idea of going and camping out in front of the venue to get the best tickets — our audience just doesn't have time for that. So, we were really presenting them with a great opportunity, 'Hey, just pick up the phone. All you have to do is watch VH1, and you will get a chance at having some of the best seats in the house for one of your favorite artists.'

THE Hard INTERVIEW

I assume that is a promotion that you are going to continue?

Lee: We're trying to work out our next one right now. We are talking to several different artists, trying to nail one down.

Will you acquire more tickets for each show now that it's so successful?

Lee: It will probably be a project by project decision. But I know the original idea came from John Sykes when he back stage visiting with Tom Petty after one of his shows. Tom loved the idea.

Are the tickets more money than they would be at a Ticketmaster outlet?

Lee: No, it's the same. The buyer just has the advantage of getting choice seating earlier and without having to stand in line.

I imagine everyone at the network has been busy preparing for the second annual 'VH1 Honors,' which will be held on June 22. Who's involved in the project?

Lee: The artists that we've announced officially are Annie Lennox, Vince Gill, Whitney Houston, Boyz II

Men, and Bette Midler. There should be some other surprises announced in the next week or so.

How are the honorees chosen?

Lee: They are being honored not just for being popular, but for the charitable work they have done. We keep a real close eye on which of these artists are really involved in giving back to the community. These are some of the people that have caught our attention.

I noticed that you have a promotion tied into that, a contest or something.

Lee: Yes, there's a big national sweepstakes that we're doing. Viewers can enter by calling or writing in, and the winner gets round trip air fare to L.A., where they'll spend the weekend at a luxury hotel, and they will be driven in a limo to the show and go to the party afterwards — they receive the whole VIP treatment. They also win a Dodge Neon with a stereo and CDs.

That should get you another 10 million calls at least. When were you officially able to call this new format change a success? It was pretty early on, wasn't it?

Lee: I would say that we didn't even have to say it ourselves, the press pretty much nailed it as a success almost right away. It was almost immediately that people noticed the changes and started writing really great things about the channel.

Do you have any big future promotion plans for the network?

Lee: A lot of things are in the works. There are obviously going to be a lot of new, exciting shows that are coming. I don't know if you are familiar with our show 'Crossroads.' It's a thirty-minute show that comes on every night Monday through Friday that is formed around the Triple A format. That is the show we started Blues Traveler, and as they started to grow, we moved it into a full time rotation. You can tune in to 'Crossroads' any night and see a lot of artists like Hootie & The Blowfish, Blues Traveler, Dave Matthews, but at the same time, we mix in videos from Wilco, Billy Pilgrim, Joan Osborne, Danny Tate, Jeff Buckley. It's basically a new music show for the Triple A fan. It's a great starting place for a lot of new artists.

How many viewers have access to VH1?

Lee: We're in over 50 million homes right now, which is great. And, of course, we always expect that number to increase.

TRIPLE ACE

Natalie Merchant, "Tigerlily," Elektra/EEG With the highest Triple A debut in recent memory (#2), we predict that Lisa Michaelson and the powers that be at Elektra are going to have one hot summer. Jim Herron/WBOS, "We are all over this Natalie Merchant album. It's better than the Maniacs, and her voice sounds better than ever. This album is extremely deep, so take a long listen." Greg Hills/WNCW, "We got immediate telephone reaction upon airing 'Carnival.' Natalie Merchant's voice is stunningly beautiful, yet exquisitely simple." Greg Roberts/KFMU, "This album is a smoker, a scorcher — heat up the airwaves with Natalie Merchant. The track 'Jealousy' is very well done, we bumped it into heavy. It's definitely the standout track on the album." Bob Terrill/KCSU, "Tigerlily is a wonderfully, musically direct record that really surprised me. And you'll be happy to know that you know longer need cliff notes for her lyrics. Terrific stuff." Don Ferrell/KRVM, "What can you say about Natalie Merchant that hasn't already been said? The single 'Carnival' is incredible! The moment we threw it on the air, we got instant phone reaction. This is something that the Triple A format has been waiting for — for a very long time. Great stuff!"

THE HOT CORNER

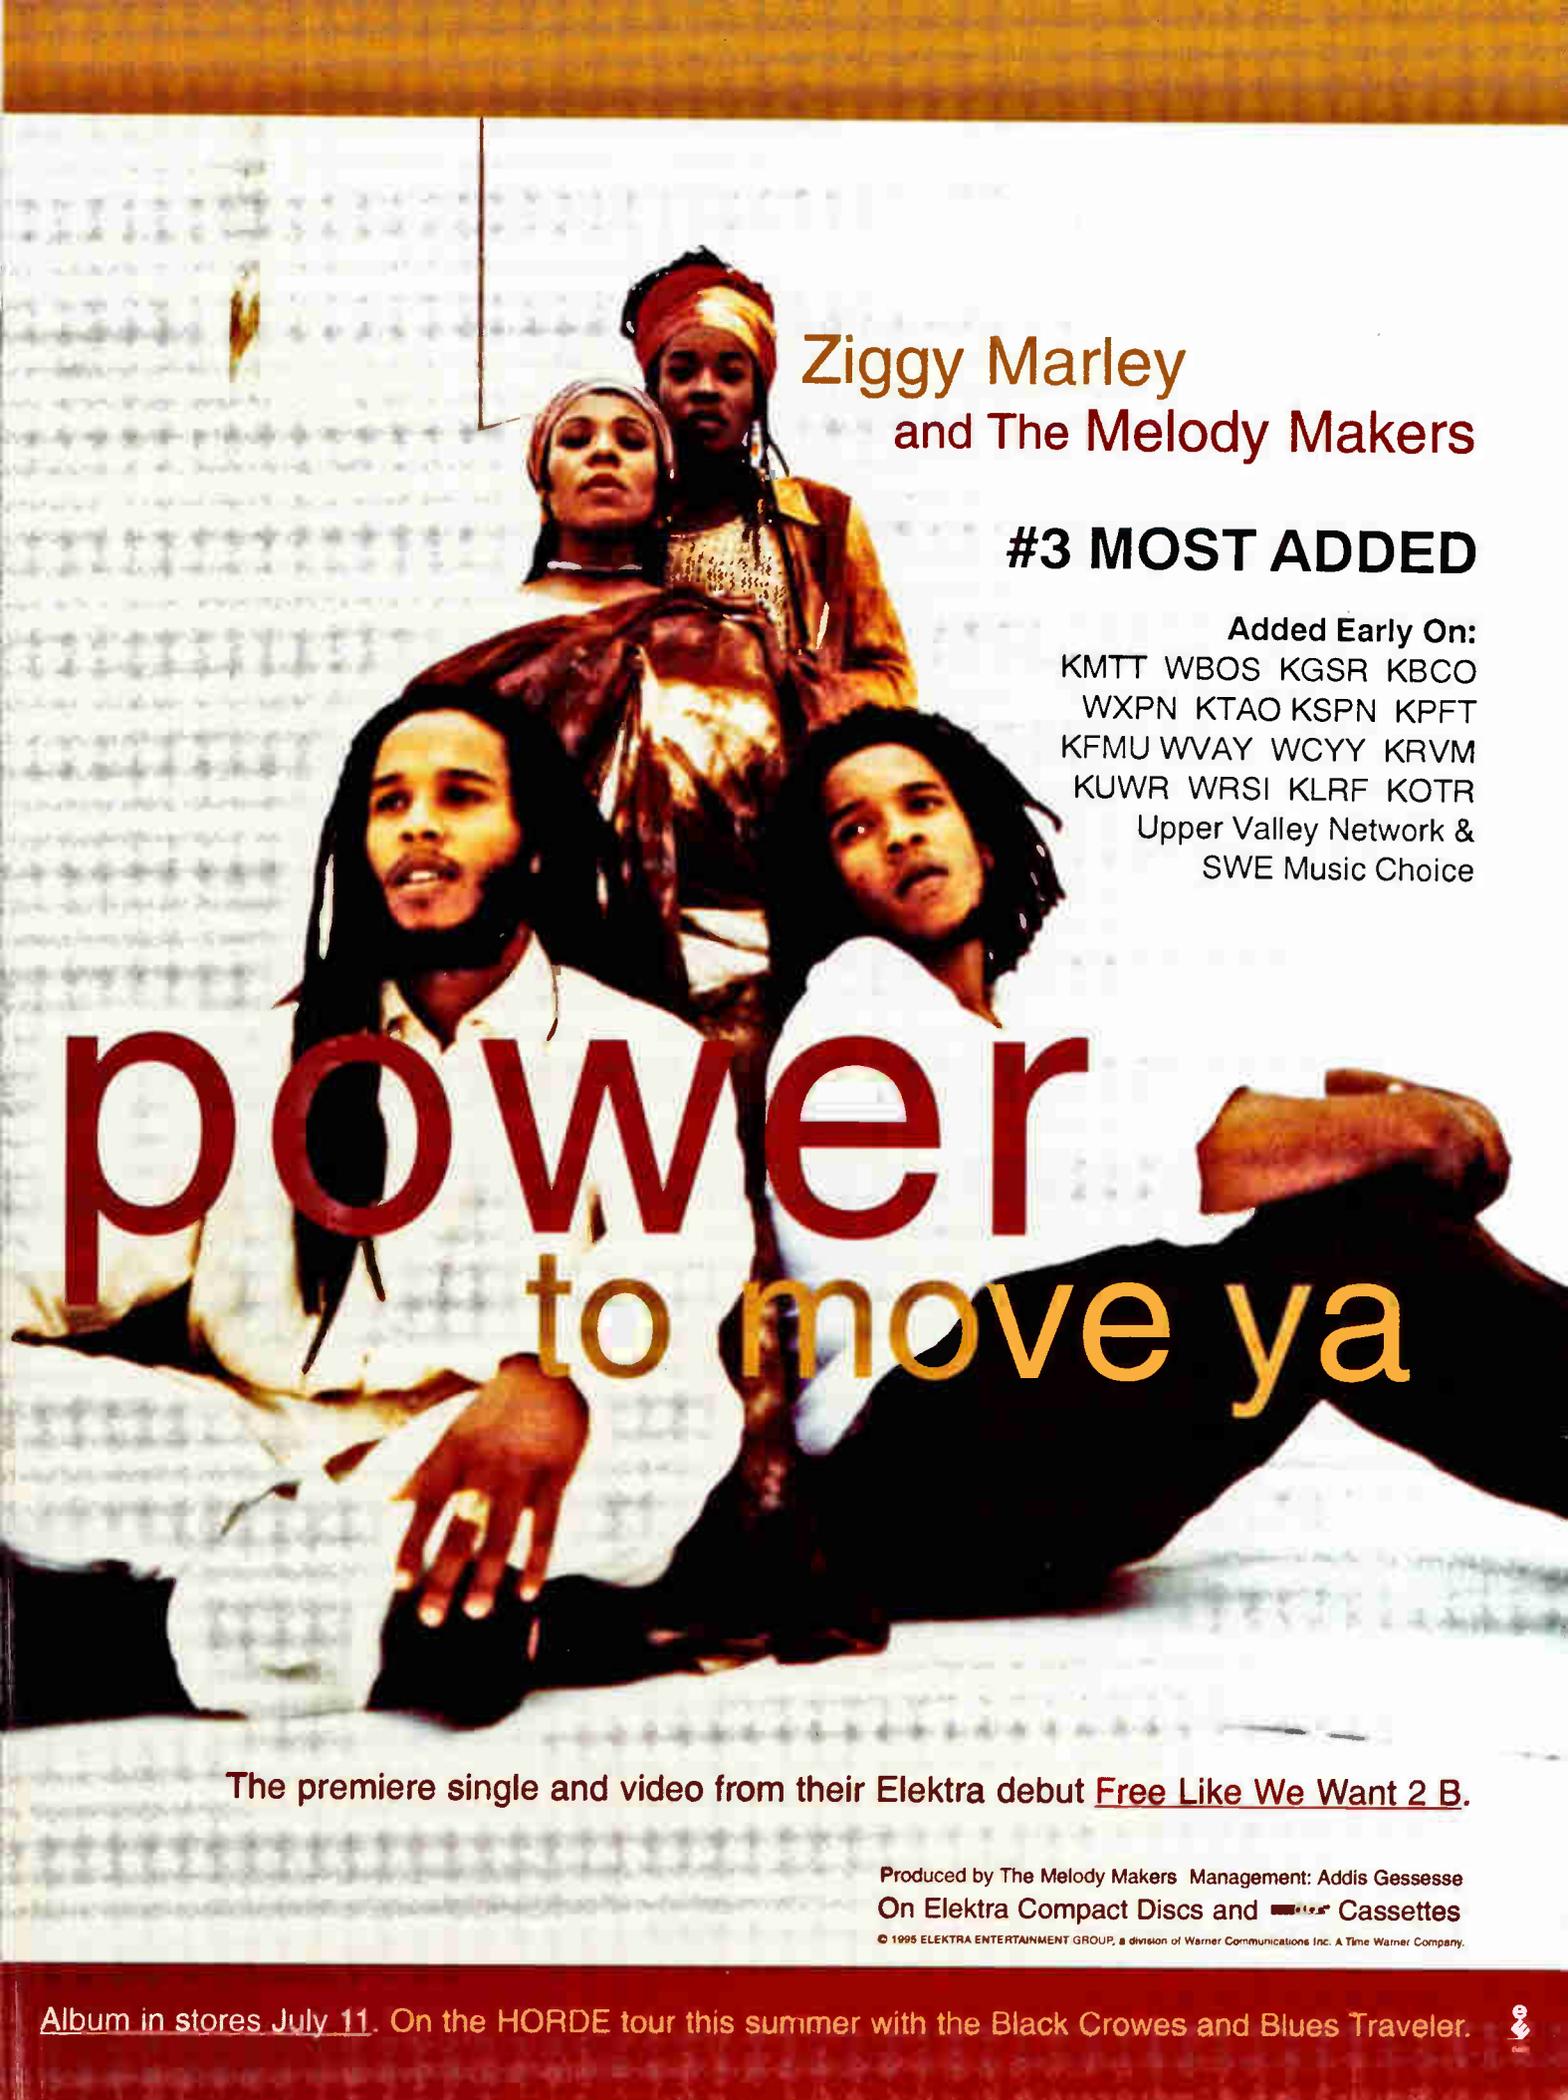

Ian Moore, "Adult Radio Sampler," Capricorn The guitar-driven Moore holds a special place in his heart for the Triple A community (he's long been a supporter of KGSR in his hometown), and he proves it with the release of this 4-song EP made especially for the format. The first track, the acoustic, bittersweet "Daggers," highlight's Ian's vocals, and the pop-driven harmonies of "Monday Afternoon," put Ian in a whole new light. Equally impressive are the soulful "Today," and "Morning Song," where Ian's guitar gets equal time. Jody Denberg/KGSR, "We added 'Monday Afternoon.' What a surprise! An Austinite known for his guitar work emerges with this punchy, pop song — I'd even call it Beatlesque. It's on." Steve Cole/KSPN, "If 'Blue Sky' from Ian Moore's debut album worked as well on your airwaves as it did on our's, you'll find the new Adult Radio Sampler well worth checking out. Selections burn with the same semi-quiet intensity." Greg Roberts/KFMU, "This went right into medium. Ian Moore is back and he keeps getting better and better — it really shows on this album."

Ziggy Marley & The Melody Makers, "Free Like We Want 2 Be," Elektra/EEG EEG continues their red hot Triple A streak with an outstanding label debut from Ziggy Marley & The Melody Makers. Jody Denberg/KGSR, "This song is perfect — and the perfect complement to Bob Marley's 'Keep On Moving.'" Jim Herron/WBOS, "It's cool, mon. It's summer and nothing goes with summer like Marley." Steve Cole/KSPN, "It's obvious from the opening thwumps of Ziggy Marley's latest single, that he does indeed have the 'Power To Move Ya,' and will beyond all doubt move your listeners too. It's finally summer here, and Ziggy has provided us with a perfect 'summer is finally here' single." Don Ferrell/KRVM, "We're very excited about this new Ziggy Marley. He's coming our way to the Northwest soon, and we can't wait. Ziggy Marley is very popular here at the station. This is just a great album." Tom Krumm/KLRF, "We added Ziggy Marley's track 'Today' to our current list and it sounds great. Ziggy is coming to Eugene in mid-July, and this is a fine record leading up to the concert."

TRIPLE CROWN

Terence Trent D'Arby "Vibrator," Work

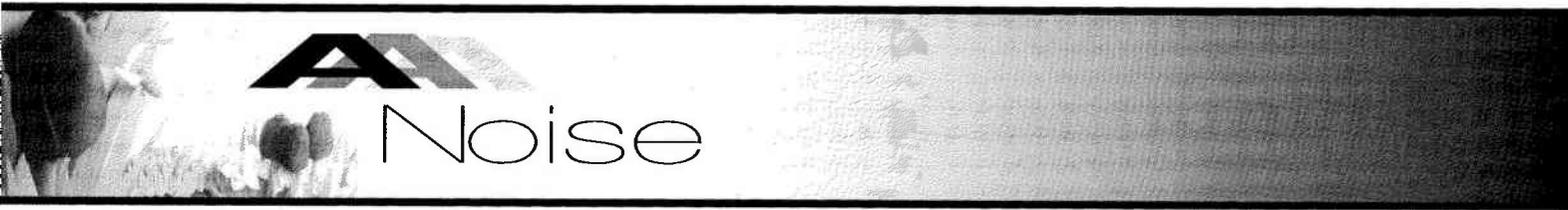

Souful, hot, cool, heavy, light, aggressive, mellow — sorry — oh yeah, that's right it's Terence Trent D'Arby — the total package! This guy has it all — talent, a cool new Dennis Rodman haircut and an incredible new record, Vibrator. Smooth vocals, songwriting and attitude are all a part of Terence's gig. Although Terence's styling is similar to a few other popular artists of today, he manages to set himself apart by being raw and natural, without being over-produced. One only has to mention that a new TTD album is out, and radio will be right on it (unless they are out of their minds). Here are a few helpful TTD programming hints compliments of the Hard Report: "Holding On To You," "Surrender" and "Supermodel Sandwich W/Cheese." You're welcome.

Papa Wemba, "Emotion," RealWorld

Dance, dance, dance. It's summertime and Papa Wemba is here. Pounding African rhythms fused with a commercial pop feel and an all encompassed cultural flair equals none other than Papa Wemba. This music is completely synonymous with warm weather, barbecues, dancing on the beach and having a good time. Wemba's vocal melodies, catchy beats and high caliber of musicianship have already made him a very viable asset for other artists such as Peter Gabriel, but now Papa is able to open up even further on his own project. One other way to describe this unique musical experience is that it's got that Jimmy Buffet vibe, only African. Groove On: "Yolele," "Show Me The Way," the Otis Redding Classic "Fa Fa Fa...Sad Song" and "Sala Keba."

K IOT/Santa Fe-Albuquerque is officially under the new management of operating partners Simmons Family Broadcasting of Salt Lake City, who have made some significant changes at the Triple A outlet. The entire air staff was let go, and consultants were switched from Dennis Constantine to SBR. SBR VP Dave Rahn commented, "Coyote has been a progressive station for several years and the Simmons Family sees an opportunity to build on the foundation that has already been laid. The Santa Fe/Albuquerque area is very supportive of progressive radio and KIOT plans to continue in that direction stronger than ever." GM Ellen Cavanagh and PD Mike Marrone will both remain at the station.

The media friendly Michael Jackson will make a special appearance as an honoree at the second annual "VH1 Honors," which will broadcast live from the Shrine Auditorium in L.A. on Thursday (6/22) from 8-10pm. The event will be co-hosted by hip "Friends" stars Jennifer Aniston and Lisa Kudrow.

As of July 1, Warner Bros.'s Promotion Superwoman Nancy Stein will actually be able to have a life. That is the day she turns over Reprise Triple A promotion duties to Rich Garcia. Nancy, of course, will continue AAA promotion for WB, and she can be reached at (818) 853-3559, or new FAX (818) 840-2350. You can contact Rich at (303) 666-0216.

The Local Beat

Mikel Elcessor WYEP/Pittsburgh

WYEP is launching two new programs in late July and we're expanding the library. Spread the word and please copy this to other departments. Please add us to all servicing lists that handle the following styles of music:

Contemporary Jazz (acoustic and electric), Acid Jazz, Adult Urban, Rare Groove, New Soul, Classic Soul, Adult friendly hip-hop, Trip-hop, Trance, Dance, Good Vibe and Stax o' hot wax — if it's got a groove, get it to us!

Back catalogue is needed and we will have local retail support on this music. Starting July 1, WYEP will have a section in all the Borders in Pittsburgh, and some record stores that cater primarily to an African-American clientele have expressed interest in WYEP.

More News: WYEP is now hosting a weekly remote broadcast called The Modern Times Live from The Sandbar at Sandcastle, a popular water park with the under 35 crowd. Our very own Don Doherty, the host of The Modern Times Extension, our Friday night modern rock extravaganza, is the head cheerleader for these little excursions into waterlogged joy.

❖ Got a new modern rock title that you want to throw at a captive audience?

❖ Got a bunch of promo stuff that you want to clean out of the closet?

❖ Got a band on the road and want to do a promo gig on a Friday night?

Please gimme a call! (412) 381-9131.

Dennis Constantine

Broadcast Consultant

Neil Young & Pearl Jam

As mentioned earlier, for his forthcoming album Mirror Ball (Reprise), Neil Young enlisted the help of Pearl Jam to back him up. The result is seen in the lead track "Downtown," which is a classic Neil song infused with the energy and vitality of his young friends. The song is a bit repetitive, but it's classic Neil paired with one of today's hottest bands. The result should be a wider audience for both.

Urchins

Urchins is a band centered around the throaty vocals of Karen Bradbury which has a propensity for no-holds-barred lyrics and clear toned power pop music. Their debut album Yummy features the song "I'd Like To See You," a lifting folkish ballad of violence and revenge for infidelity. On the first listen, you may be put off by the blatantly violent lyrics, but I have come to find the song a great satirical farce. Also included on the album is a wry cover of The Partridge Family's "I Woke Up In Love This Morning," and the song "Grudge" which you should check out.

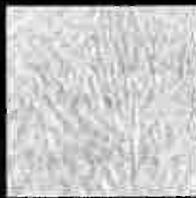

Shara Nelson

Shara Nelson was the vocalist for Massive Attack on their first album a few years back. Her solo album What Silence Knows (Chrysalis/EMI) has been shipped to Progressive radio by the new EMI promo dude Todd Bisson, and contains some great tracks. It has a very dancey feel, but much like Dionne Farris, it has some serious soul behind it. Start with the songs "Inside Out" and the title track, then check out "Nobody," "Down That Road," and "Uptight."

Van Morrison

We received an advance CD of Days Like This (A&M), the new album from Van The Man. This one continues Van's string of superb albums, and will please long-time fans to no end. There are so many great songs it's hard to choose a few, but my early favorites are "Perfect Fit," "No Religion" and "Russian Roulette." Have at it!

Carol Noonan

Raised in the Boston area, Carol Noonan blends the early Irish influences of her parents' music with the music of what she calls "The Three J's" — Judy Collins, Joni Mitchell, and Joan Baez. Her work with the band Knots & Crosses earned her Boston Music Award for Best Female Vocalist in 1993, and she hopes to expand on that success with her solo album Absolution (Rounder). With emotional lyrics and stellar acoustic guitar work, the album reveals a consummate musician who does not shy away from exposing intensely personal issues. Try tracks like "Hard Way," a heart-wrenching story of loneliness, "Sacrifice," "Train Song," and the title track.

Ali Campbell

You may not know Ali Campbell by name, but you are surely familiar with his voice. Campbell is the vocalist for UB40. Big Love is his first solo outing, and combines the best elements of his band with a smoother pop sound. The lead single is "That Look In Your Eyes," which is more of a standard pop song than Reggae, but it is unmistakably Campbell singing. The rest of the album will be in your hands in two weeks, and includes more of what you'd expect from UB40's frontman if you find the single too tight. Fans of UB40 need not fret, Big Love does not signify the demise of the band. It is only a holiday for Campbell from UB40.

Sarah Nagourney

With her debut album Realm Of My Senses, Sarah Nagourney has crafted a warm, detailed account of her extraordinary life. Oxford educated, this New York based singer/songwriter has among her credits singing with Chet Baker, performing Brecht at Britain's National Theater, and even a stint as a private eye. Described by The New York Times as "the thinking person's songwriter," Nagourney has established herself in the New York area, and is attempting to branch out. With a refined, well-crafted sound, songs like "The Space Between Us Melts" and "Get Back To That Emotion" are worth of your ear. And any artist who works as hard as Sarah gets a vote of confidence from me.

Ian Moore

Austin based guitarist and songwriter Ian Moore has been a critical favorite since his days in Joe Ely's touring band. With the release of Modern Day Folklore (Capricorn), Moore shows us that he's a talented songwriter as well as a guitar wizard. "Daggers" is a short and sweet acoustic number, while "Today" and "Morning Song" are more spacey ballads. But the strongest song on the Adult Radio Sampler that you should have now is "Monday Afternoon," a soulful song that every working person can relate to. This is a great summer time song that you will also find on our forthcoming New Music Sampler #4 due out in July.

Fury In The Slaughterhouse

After living with new one from Fury In The Slaughterhouse titled The Hearing And The Sense Of Balance (RCA), for a while, one song in particular has really grown on me. "Your Love Won't Take Me Anywhere" is the highlight of the album. Like many songwriters whose first language is not English, they have a tendency to write some goofy lyrics, but the aforementioned track is just a feel-good type of song.

SUSAN WERNER

LAST OF THE GOOD STRAIGHT GIRLS

BY JEFF HANSEN

Private Music recording artist Susan Werner recently spent some time at the KPFT/Houston studios with PD Jeff Hansen during the station's fund drive. Susan stuck around for an on-air interview and performance, and it went something like this...

I'm Jeff Hansen, and joining us in the studio right, now we are very pleased to welcome Susan Werner, who has a brand new album out. Susan, good morning and welcome.

Susan: Good morning and thanks for having me.

It's our pleasure. We have been playing your new album, Last Of The Good Straight Girls, for a while now. It really is excellent. We just played 'No One Here But Me.' Tell us about that song?

Susan: I have a brother who is a stand-up comic and he talks about this thing called 'date mania.' If you are in a relationship, then you are safe from date mania. If you exit the relationship, then you re-enter the gerbil cage, which is date mania. You'll go on date after date after date, and then you'll find somebody special, and you're back out of date mania. So, it's like a gerbil cage and you keep running around in it, and you say to yourself at some point, 'You know, I've got to do this for myself. I've got to stop throwing myself back out there, hurling myself back out there at some date just because I'm supposed to be in a relationship.' It's not really an anti-love song, but it's not really a love song. It's about taking care of yourself.

I was taking a business call from a man yesterday relative to music, and sometimes these calls open up with some sort of warm-up. Somehow, it came up that I was married, and he said, 'Boy, are you ever lucky. I'm dating, and is it rough out there!'

Susan: Yeah, I think that's right. It's nice to be out of the circuit and say, 'Okay, this is the person I'm with, and I'm just going to make it work.'

Are you married?

Susan: No, I'm not married yet, but it's a feeling of — it's like auditioning all the time. Or it's like interviewing. It's like you never have a job you just interview.

How old are you, Susan?

Susan: I'll be honest, I'm thirty. In Iowa, where I grew up, they would consider me a spinster for sure.

So you really did grow up in Iowa? You mentioned that in one of your songs, but when you are listening to someone's songs, you never know if they are talking about themselves specifically or —

Susan: — a character of some kind. Yes, I really am from Iowa. That's part of the reason that I enjoy being in Texas — the sky is plenty big here. It's big and it feels right to me. It just feels good. Last night, I had dinner at the restaurant called Lettuce Surprise You, and you get lowa-size portions of everything. You get to just eat till you fall from the table, and that feels very familiar to me.

Texas has a kind of a midwestern feel?

Susan: Pretty much does. The first time I was here was this year for the South by Southwest Music Festival. I got off the plane in Dallas, and there were three people right there that had Iowa Hawkeyes gear. There is definitely an Iowa connection. Farmers that were farming right around my folks where I grew up would take their vacations in Texas.

Is the sky bigger here?

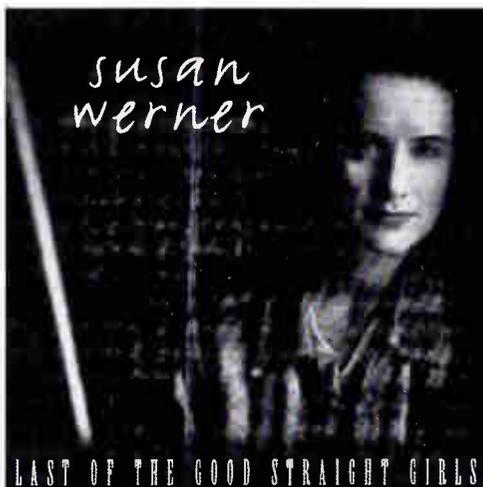

Susan: It's no bigger than in Iowa, but it's plenty big here. It's bigger than Philadelphia. Philadelphia is full of trees.

Which is where you live now?

Susan: Which is where I live now. Philadelphia is full of trees and buildings and man-made artifice. But the sky is good here, it feels good here.

What song do you want to play next, Susan?

Susan: I think I'll play a tune for you that I wrote up on the occasion of my 30th birthday, which was recent. The song is somewhat about lowering your expectations. When I turned 30, people warned me that I would get suddenly calm, but it's more like a speedbump, hitting 30. There's a great deal of anxiety, and then you hit 30, and everything is just relaxed. Everything is easy because you can be whoever you want to be.

What's the name of that song?

Susan: I think it is going to be called 'I'll Take It.'

So, that's a brand new song, not yet on an album?

Susan: No. That is for audiophiles who have their tape running, chronicling the futures of music.

Susan, are you really a part of the Von Trap family?

Susan: Part of the Von Trap family? Not exactly, but I made a credit in my Live At The Tin Angel CD, 'Thanks to my family, the original Von Traps.' My family is 100% of German origin, and we all sing like birds. We all harmonize, so 'The Sound Of Music' gets more attention in my house than any other house. When we were little kids, we all watched it.

I assume that you believe in the concept of public radio?

Susan: In Philadelphia, where I live now, we have WXPN, which is member-supported, commercial-free radio. It is a big station in Philadelphia that started out as a tiny college station. It had all kinds of great music and it had a great loyal listenership, but then they got a bigger transmitter and they grew in power, and so many more people started listening to 'XPN. The station is a great station. They have a lot of personal relationships with listeners. The listeners call in and they get a member card, which can get you discounts at concerts and free tickets to all kinds of stuff. 'XPN is a great station and it's very responsive to its listeners.

You know, one of the songs on the album went over like gang busters when it came out, and got lots of phones, 'Much At All.'

Susan: The piano tune.

Yes. It's fascinating because you have such an interesting range. You seem to quote from the full spectrum of American popular song.

Susan: That's nice of you to say that. This tune, especially, is a treat to talk about when I do radio interviews or any sort of public interaction, because people come up and they say, 'Isn't that a Cole Porter song?' And I get to say, 'No, I wrote that.' That's a nice compliment.

That's a very high compliment

Susan: I've heard that a lot, and it makes me feel great that people think that this is a song from a different era.

Actually, I just popped it up on the piano last year and it ended up being the last song on the CD. It has that quiet little person by herself at the piano intimate feeling.

'Much At All' definitely harkens back to a slightly different era and time in songwriting.

Susan: There is even an element of irony in there that you might miss on the first time through. The first two verses are really tongue-in-cheek about how, 'I'm fine without you and I don't miss you at all. I like to read myself what is in the morning paper.' This is a very telling comment because this ex-boyfriend would always read me what's in the paper. I think everybody has had a relationship where somebody would say, 'Ooohhh, did you see this in the paper?' I think people were probably even in marriages with a spouse that did that. Whether you find it to be an endearing quality or not, that's the fun of the first two verses of the tune, then it becomes more serious.

On your second album, you have a couple of songs that reminded me of that different songwriting — one of them was 'Shakamatson Street' — was that written by you or was that Tom Galla?

Susan: That was Tom Galla's song.

And then the song that you wrote, 'Maybe If I Sang Cole Porter,' again, could be a standard.

Susan: It is an exact rip-off of a standard. There actually was no specific standard I was stealing from, but the point of the song is singing the song. It is in a Cole Porter style. The details of the song are coaxing someone into falling in love with you, and at the end of the song, it is revealed that I have been singing Cole Porter, 'Because maybe if I sang Cole Porter, you wouldn't find it anyway.' So there's a little joke inside the joke. But that is a standard kind of tune, and this 'Much At All' is like a bookend to that tune. In shows, I play them back to back and people can see how they fit together.

You worked with Fernando Saunders on your new album. How did you get hooked up with him as your producer?

Susan: Fernando is the bass player for Lou Reed and for Marianne Faithfull, and he has done quite a bit of work with Joan Baez, and he's New York based. I had some other ideas for a producer for the album, but my A&R guy called and said, 'You might want to meet with this guy Fernando in New York.' So, I went to New York, and we sat down and Fernando ordered carrot juice and I ordered carrot juice and I knew we were going to get along great. We went to the rehearsal studio and just started banging stuff out, and everything felt good. He is a very talented, soulful guy, and a very sweet man. He enabled me to go into directions that I didn't know I could go in — being really tender and showing sadness, which were two things I really wanted to get on this album that I haven't done before. I haven't shown sadness and broken-heartedness in a lot of tunes, so Fernando drew those two things out of me. One of the interesting ways he did this was when I was singing the sadder songs, he would come into the studio and sit beside me while I was singing. He would just sit with me. I was just sitting in front of the microphone, and he would just sit next to me on a chair. It was strange, but it made a big difference in the amount of tenderness I was able to work up for the microphone while recording the album. On the tune, 'Saint Mary's Of Regret,' Fernando was just sitting right beside me in the booth, and for some reason, that was the catalyst.

It means a lot to get the right producer?

Susan: Producers have different responsibilities with records or movies with budgets, but part of their job, if they do it well, is to draw the best performance out of you. Fernando did a wonderful job with that just by being a very warm human being.

The album is beautifully produced and there is a great sound and range of emotions and attitudes.

Susan: And there is a cleanness to it. We wanted a pretty clean, direct sound, and we came away with that, so I'm pretty happy with that.

Which, by the way, has great appeal for our listeners, who don't want that overly produced sound.

Susan: I'm surprised at how many listeners already know about my music from you guys

Tell us about 'St. Mary's Of Regret.'

Susan: I think the song speaks for itself. It is one of those 'one who got away' kind of tunes — things that might have been, the path you didn't take — that genre.

I always marvel at someone who can both write an absolutely gorgeous song and the lyrics, and then perform it.

Susan: You have to conquer a couple of things to do this well. You have to write well, you have to sing well, you have to play well, you have to be okay in front of people. Some things come to us easily, and some things you have to work on. For myself, I was a singer from early on and I played guitar early all my life, but the writing, that's coming with time. There are people that are just born writers. You can see that from early on, they were putting words together and making pictures out of things in interesting ways.

We were talking about Cole Porter a little bit ago. Now here is a man that is a talented songwriter, and it was even unusual in his day to write both the music and the lyrics.

Susan: That's correct.

But he didn't perform the music except maybe as a novelty.

Susan: I have this Sony recording of all the works from Cole Porter. Yeah, he probably wouldn't make it as a singer/songwriter. He was not a great singer.

That was standard then. There were the songwriters and the musicwriters.

Susan: It is its own tradition because it requires you to be a one-man band yourself. It has its own tradition and I'm glad to carry it on. I think it is really personal and intimate. It's portable, and it goes well at folk festivals. It fits my personality well.

Studebaker John & The Hawks Outside Looking In Blind Pig Records

Paul Kenedy, Premiere Radio Network, CA

I'm sitting here in the midst of the first 90-plus degree heatwave here in L.A., and yet the latest CD from Studebaker John & The Hawks, Outside Looking In on Blind Pig Records is making me want to get up and jump around.

Chicago native "Studebaker John" Grimaldi (the nickname came from his first car - a Studebaker Lark) is a triple threat: vocals, slide guitar and harmonica. He started playing harmonica at age seven and added slide guitar after the epiphanal experience of seeing Hound Dog Taylor perform. The Hawks were formed in 1971, featuring Muddy Waters veteran guitarist Rick Kreher, plus bassist Ron Ragnas and drummer Joe Fink. Outside Looking In is actually a re-release of a majority of material from their third album Nothin' But Fun, (a European release from 1990 long since out of print). "The old guys," says Grimaldi, "gave me the best advice when they told me to try to sound like them, but to also sound like myself." Studebaker John shows off the learning he got from the likes of Little Walter and Paul Butterfield on the jump-blues harmonica tour de force "Flippin' Out." J.B. Hutto's influence is present in the sheer exuberance and reckless abandon of the slide guitar on "Shakin'" and "Nothin' But Fun". Check out the '50s style Chicago shuffles "You Done Me Wrong" and "Dirty Business" and the simmering blues samba "Blue Feelin'." I'm glad Blind Pig didn't let this material languish in "out of print" limbo. Look for a new release from Studebaker John & The Hawks on Blind Pig sometime in early 1996.

Blues Plate Special

Tom Principato
In The Clouds
 Powerhouse, distributed by Ichiban Records
 Randi Anglin, Host of "Crossroads"
 WVBR FM/Ithaca, NY.

I must confess, I'm a big Tom Principato fan. The first time I heard "Blue Lights" from the 1991 Hot Stuff album, I asked, "Who is this guy and why haven't I heard of him before?" Tip of the Iceberg from 1992 made new fans and even got Tom in Guitar Player magazine. Tom's new one, In The Clouds, just might be the one that gets the most attention from a larger listening audience. From the very beginning, this album is different. Most releases start with a hard rocking catchy number. But not In The Clouds. Instead, Principato chooses to kick off with a slow reflective instrumental piece that's bound to bring tears to the most hardened listener. In fact, half this album is instrumental, which is fine with me. It's not that Principato's voice is bad, it's that his playing is so good. You can hear a lot Principato's influences (B.B. King, Jimi Hendrix, and Robert Johnson) on this record. Last you're afraid this is just a rip-off of a lot of great artists, rest assured: Tom Principato is the real McCoy. Like other great musicians, he draws on his influences and then speaks with his own voice. The highlight of Clouds is "Return of the Voodoo Child," recorded live at Tornado Alley. Showing signs of possible possession by the spirit of Jimi, Tom embraces the feel of Hendrix's epic "Voodoo Chile" and takes it to another dimension.

The 12th Annual Chicago Blues Festival (June 2-4), three days of blues on three different stages, started off on a rainy, windy, foggy Friday, but was transformed by Saturday into a sundrenched party for the over-100,000 people in attendance. From intimate sets Friday by Robert Junior Lockwood (clad in a plastic rain poncho) and Keb Mo, to jazzy, smooth sounds by Johnny Hearsman, to the "incendiary" performances on the main stage by Eddie C. Campbell, Luther Allison, and Otis Rush, visitors from around the world were treated to a dazzling array of blues. The words on everyone's lips after the fest were definitely "Luther Allison." Jeff Johnson's front-page Sun-Times review of the fest said, "The weather was perfect, the crowd had swelled to six figures, the opening acts had set the table and the sun was slipping gloriously behind the Loop skyscrapers. All the Chicago Blues Festival needed was a hero. Enter Luther Allison." Bill Dahl's Tribune article echoed the sentiment, affirming that "Allison's boundlessly energetic set was the most electrifying of the fest so far, but Otis Rush proved up to the challenge." The accompanying photos were all snapped by Eric Veldt, Alligator Records mail order department and budding photographer.

Kyuss, And The Circus Leaves Town (Elektra/EEG)

The desert rats of Kyuss have been going about their career in an unconventional fashion, forming their unmistakable style out in Palm Desert generator parties rather than on a sweaty club circuit. It was the ideal path for them, with the heat, sand and grit seeping into their music like it does your shoes when you walk on the beach. Kyuss has always injected a bit of their laid back but slightly demented personality in their music, intertwining it into the overwhelming riff attack on each release, including the three movement set up of Sky Valley and the short but sweet track "Yeah" found at the end of Blues for the Red Sun. With songs like "The Old Boozerooney" and "Jumbo Blimp Jumbo", you can see that they are still as active as ever with their trademark low end monster grooves, hypnotic jam sessions, and the mesmerizing vocals of John Garcia, which seem to float like a vapor alongside the music. According to the industry types in the Hard Hitters realm, the Sky Valley offering was among the top ten in the year end favorites, making the upcoming And the Circus Leaves Town one of the most highly anticipated of the year. Fans will not be disappointed at all as they journey through the Circus, kicking off with the aptly named "Hurricane", which swirls out of the gate with force and speed as Scott Reeder's bass steals the spotlight. The first focus track is "One Inch Man" (try out the edit version), which features some relatively kinetic fretwork for this troupe, while still showcasing their dusty and dirgy foundation. "El Rodeo" is a current favorite down here, which uses a repeating guitar melody and builds up the tension to a peak before spilling over to the meat of the song. The opening sample of "Tangy Zizzle" is sure to catch some attention, and as the song quickly moves into churning dust cloud of a jam, you can just picture a dance floor pit beginning to brew. For a more emotive side to Kyuss, hop over to "Catamaran", which explores more pop laden melodies before breaking back to their grungy form. The album draws to a pummeling close with the relentless riff attack of "Spaceship Landing" (beware of the hidden track at the end). Some eager beavers - KMSA, WDBM, and WKPX - slipped in some early spins, but all of the add action is expected to break the dam this week, and even if the circus leaves town, Kyuss has definitely arrived.

TOP Picks

Black Sabbath, Forbidden (I.R.S.)

Not many can match the longevity of Black Sabbath. Tony Iommi and his entourage have, over the years, put out enough masterpieces to not only fill 25 releases, but in the past year were the focal point of two tribute albums: the highly acclaimed Nativity in Black and the current, Eternal Masters compilation. With all of those releases, you may be surprised to find that the vocalist found most often beside Iommi, is actually the current crooner Tony Martin, whose haunting voice now sounds quite familiar over those huge majestic riffs. An interesting addition is made this time around on the production front with Body Count's Ernie C at the knobs, making sure that the formidable guitar rhythms are up front and center. What can you expect musically? Well, Green Day this isn't, and the solemn intensity of the Sabbath sound makes the tinny fretwork of these pop rock bands sound amazingly weak next to it. The opening cut, "Illusion of Power" (featuring a cameo from Ice-T), kicks things off with an amazingly sinister tone which throws out the dark eerie fog that will remain throughout Forbidden. "Guilty As Hell" is the first focus track - and already grabbing some spins at WVXU, WMMR, and XEQC - and the song propels forward with reverberating power that etches itself into your brain. The closing "Kiss of Death" can be misleading with its gentle opening, but soon it kicks in with a monolithic heaviness which has become their forte. There are no surprises here, but if you peek inside you will find another consistent offering from the original heavy metal band.

Smile, "Staring at the Sun" (Atlantic)

Put on your shades, because now that it's summertime you will need to step outside and do a little "Staring at the Sun". This won't do any damage to your eyes though, but if you turn it up loud enough your ears may feel it. The California trio Smile (Mike Roses - vocals/guitar; Scott Reeder - drums; Aaron Sonnenberg - bass) seem to be well named because of the cheerful yet crunching single from their upcoming debut album, Maquee. "Staring at the Sun" has a modern feel to it, but don't confuse them with the pop/punk movement because they share little with that school of thought. They sound BIG, with bombastic drums and a deliberate crunching guitar rhythm. The smooth vocals, pounding percussion, and exploring guitars all seem like they would contrast each other, but the three elements lock in place to grind out this memorable tune. It is sure to put not only a smile on your face, but also a Smile on your playlist.

TOP Picks

The Doppler Effect, Ground Zero (Firenze)

Vivid images of summertime fun and frolic are created when Doug Doppler touches the guitar, and considering the summer solstice is upon us, what better time to make The Doppler Effect album, Ground Zero, a hot weather anthem. The songs are intricate and richly textured but have enough hard driving overtones and moments of coarseness filtered throughout, that it will be easy to satisfy even the harder rocking segment of your audience. Some of the more memorable tracks include the punchy and buoyant "The Black M5";

"Valley Of The Moon", with it's crunchy flair, and the melodic "Object To Be Destroyed". While you are at it, be sure to give a listen to the no-vocals-allowed cover of the Rolling Stones' "Beast Of Burden". Cue up any of the magnetic tracks, then share Doppler's upbeat use of the guitar with your listeners. This album should be heard from open-top vehicles throughout the summer - twenty Hard Reporters got a jump on the action by adding the disc last week - while the ambient sounds of Doppler are already emanating from the waves of WAIF, WKLL, WKTA, WSUP and WVBR.

Monster Magnet, "Look To Your Orb For The Warning" (A&M)

To help build the story that started with "Negasonic Teenage Warhead", one of the most aural and atmospheric tracks found on Dopes To Infinity has now been released to the metal masses. "Look To Your Orb For The Warning" is set to come crashing onto the metal radio waves, the very waves that helped generate a ton of interest (that includes a slot in Active rotation on MTV and a profile in Rolling Stone) in this trippy, yet hard-edged New Jersey based band. Monster Magnet are on the verge of breaking wide open at all formats, but with three different edits of "The Orb" serviced only to metal radio, this very format will be the one that brings the Magnet to the forefront as the best of the acid-tinged genre. As 60 stations already know, Dave Wyndorf and crew have a sound unlike any other - swirling guitars blended among the sound effects and sonic musical qualities make their music catchy enough to be stuck in your head hours after listening to it. Destined for mega-radio activity once again, we're sure those in the COR and Alternative formats will be following the lead of the metal contingent. As they hit the road with C.O.C., help Monster Magnet get up into the upper echelon of the musical community by playing any of the three astral versions of "The Orb" today.

Fight, "I Am Alive" (Epic)

With a strong push of airplay at Hard Hitters stations and a hefty chunk from mainstream as well, the latest from Fight has notched it's way up to the #2 slot on the charts this week, which, for most bands, is a satisfying achievement (especially with White Zombie lodged in the top position). But this project is far from over, with A Small Deadly Space still gaining momentum as the band is in the midst of an extensive tour, which made a pit stop for a very intense showcase at CBGBs during the McGathy party weekend. If you have made it to a show, then you know that Halford sounds amazing on both the new Fight tracks and also a couple of Priest classics. Now that the live performance is just warming up the fans, the ensnaring rhythm of "I Am Alive" is set to be unleashed to radio. As many of you have already discovered, this is a grandiose song with thick, churning, and very hooky riffs that are memorable enough to sound familiar after one listen, which is always a plus when you're looking for audience response. The full album is responding already, with play at 63 stations including top 5 phones at 23 of them, and four early adds for "Alive" at DMX, KXFX, WMMR, and WRFL. With Halford and company "Alive" and well at radio, there shouldn't be any fighting when it comes to adds this week!

Tripping Daisy, "I Got A Girl," Island

Dallas-based Tripping Daisy's Island debut is already getting a lot of early attention at Alternative radio. From a #1 Most Added spot last week comes another one this issue, good for a *39 debut. Hometown KDGE's Jay Michaels gloats about this band, asserting that it's not just that Daisy's from Dallas that inspires these thoughts: "The lyrics are really hooky, the music is right. It's got all the ingredients to become a hit single." WEND's Kim Monroe thinks, "It's just weird enough to be a hit, ya know?" And perhaps that states the case best. Relatability is the key, and a large part of the crowd are folks who, if they played instruments in a band, would and could sound a lot like this outfit. There's no pretentiousness to be found within a mile of this track and there's a monster hook. Keep the audience in mind, and you'll hear this one loud and clear. Increases at KTCL (5-19), KTOZ (29-40), KUKQ (10-28), WCHZ (42-44), WZRH (3-12) and others team up with the 14 who jumped in this week, including Q101, WEQX, WRZX and WBRU.

Matthew Sweet, "We're The Same," Zoo

Certainly, "Sick of Myself" did the job. Matthew Sweet's brand of restless pop music hooks 'em like sailfish. And the stage show is formidable, as well. Which all bodes well for this next track to be formally released to radio. A lot of early attention has been given to this one, tagged as The Pop Song on the record by a few programmers. It's clearly pop in its roots, with enough edge to make it work, and can be a major step on the ladder for Sweet as the climb to stardom continues. KACV and KKNB climb aboard this week, along with other before-the-boxers WDRE (22), WEQX (12) and WKOC (10).

Our Lady Peace, "Naveed," Relativity

One of the hottest new bands on the road these days is this young bunch from Canada, who really put it all together from the stage. Many testimonials from industry brethren reflect the same sentiment - that those who attend these shows looking forward to the more-famous headliner are thoroughly impressed by the talent they see on stage as the opener. "Starseed" took off on many levels, and certainly had a strong run at Alternative. "Naveed" is an even stronger track for the format. There is more evidence of brazen edge, musicianship and dexterity of lyric on this cut, but no evidence of potential confusion. It almost sounds like "Naveed" comes from a second album. Chalk that up to the sort of maturity and focus usually found at the gold level and beyond. Already in are CIMX, WEQX, KJEE and WDST. A great start gets better.

THE CURE

The Cure, "Dredd Song," Sony/550

The 550 crew hustled this one out so fast that it didn't come with artwork. Seems that there were a few leaks, so the rest of us all got the goods. At this point in time, it's apparent that The Cure is able to rack up large numbers pretty much at will. Swirling, strange and symphonic, "Dredd Song" is more reminiscent of "Caterpillar" than "Just Like Heaven." But the sound is there, to be sure. Jay Michaels at KDGE added it fast, saying "It reminds me of their old stuff. I think it's going to do very well." And 91X, KTOZ, WBRU, WEQX, WFNX and WRLG also grabbed it this week.

Goo Goo Dolls, "Flat Top," Warner Bros.

With melodic flashes that meld nicely with a rock guitar-based backing band sound, the Goo Goo Dolls create a pop resonance at radio that's been well-received. "Only One" got them started on a good note. It sounds like "Flat Top" might take them the rest of the way. There is substantial hookage here.

Already in are KRRK, Radio One Network, WDRE, WHTG and CKEY, plus a host of earlies at the Heritage and COR level. Across the board, "Flat Top" can provide the listenability we need for come with the edge that makes it all worthwhile. Matt Markel at KRRK agreed with that assessment this week. It's goo time again.

Foo Fighters, "This is a Call," Capitol/Roswell

Absolutely, positively the most talked-about band project of recent memory. And finally we've got some CD music. Dave Grohl and company contribute plenty of Nirvana attitude, but the sonic similarity really stops at that level. The Foo Fighters have plenty of their own steam here. The heightened exposure brought about as a result of the van tour with Watt is now about to pay off. While Watt goes forth for some Second Stage stuff at Lollapalooza, the Foo Fighters join Shudder To Think for some dates of their own. Watt provided the most beneficial assist and the Foos will fly for awhile on the strength of this one. KROQ grabs it first.

Dirtmerchants, "Purple Barrel," Zero Hour

This Boston band has the benefit of some early exposures at WBCN, thanks to the momentum achieved by winning the prestigious WBCN Rock and Roll Rumble last summer. The neopsychedelic raciness of "Purple Barrel" does stir up some Sonic

Youth comparisons, although it offers more accessibility in the song department. It is safe to say that the wise aggression of the Dirtmerchants can play on your station, if you wanna make some waves amongst the more polished major label thoroughbreds.

Mighty Mighty Bosstones, "Hell of a Hat," Mercury

One of the real prizes to be found on the main stage at Lollapalooza is this wacky Boston ensemble. They've been at it for a little while now, and are breaking out of the quirky ska-reinforced cubbyhole to see the light of some mainstream success. With a real guitar-driven energy behind "Hell of a Hat," the Bosstones revel in the ability to make brass work within a mix of musicality nobody dares to emulate at the format. WFNX is the first one to come on board on this track that has enough music to last throughout the summer within the grooves.

[Sleeper], "Inbetweeners," Arista

There is a certain hope you have when rooting through piles and piles of records ad nauseam, wallowing in the mids of mediocrity, eternal obscurity and the no-talent pretenders. It's the hope that somewhere between digging up a reliable standard that restores your faith, and heaving the remainder of the pile into the circular file that a sleeper will emerge. Sleeper's first effort from this record, "Delicious" made the cut for some, and this track will please those that tried, and convert some new fans. This is especially likely after those rousing endorsements on the inside sleeve of the CD-pro (Alternative Press, Rolling Stone, Boston Phoenix, Details and Huh Magazine). WFNX and WHTG add this week, joining WBRU and WROX early.

Garbage, "Vow," Almo Sounds

So what's the deal with this band? It's one of the first projects on the newly-formed Almo Sounds label, a new collaboration of Herb Alpert and Jerry Moss. And like the predecessor label we've all come to know and love, it certainly appears that the new venture takes the music particularly seriously. The notable producer Butch Vig slides behind the drum kit with Garbage, and propels "Vow" right up the charts to the new position of 30*, courtesy of adds at KPOI, WDRE, WEND and WWDX this week, and increases at KROQ (11-14), KUKQ (10-38), 99X (21-25) among others.

making the climb

Polara, "Counting Down," Restless

Bigtime add at Q101 this week signifies a shift in gears for this one, as the list includes KTCL, KEGE, WFNX, REV 105, WCBR and KACV.

Smoking Popes, "Need You Around," Capitol

Smoking up the chart on the backside, this one has been buzzing for awhile, with big adds at KBBT, KXRK, WHFS, WHTG, WROX, WTKS and WWDX this week. Early are KROQ, KTCL, WZRH, KNRK and others. Look for a strong chart debut next week.

Gene, "Sleep Well Tonight," A&M

This sleeper is also gaining some followers, with vital airplay at WDST leading the way for awhile, and a breakthrough week with KTCL, WOXY, WRLG and WXWX.

Jeff Buckley caught in the act at a June 1st. Tradewinds Nightclub appearance in Sea Bright, NJ. (photos by Ann-Marie Young)

As the heat was seeping through the pines of the South Jersey habitat the other day, I was looking through the local Swim Club brochure that I got when I moved in. I knew it was trouble when I opened the envelope. Four-color, four pages, and a form letter signed by somebody that had too many exclamation points. We're only 40 minutes from the sea, but you wouldn't know it judging from the prices for membership. It's like this is the Corn Belt or something. Families with one child, families with two, single-parent families, monthly rates, yearly rates, guest passes, birthday party reservation rates. All kinds of rates. Except the Bachelor Who Will Use Pool Five Times This Summer Rate. Guess I'm gonna be jumping the fence this year... Thanks to Tod Elmore and Atlantic Records for the dinner and showcase with Jewel in Asbury Park. The challenge of unplugging anywhere near the boardwalk is formidable, as crowds lean to the loud side, but by the end of her set, Jewel had at least 80% of 'em down to a whisper. There were some truly magical performances during that set. WHTG's Bruce McDonald and Rob Acampora were cool, as well, and we all had lengthy discussions about the ol' Co-Pro BS... The rousing culinary spectacle that is Taste of Chicago is also a pretty cool series of concerts, as well.

WXRT is presenting two concerts during the festival, the first one on June 27th, and the second on July 4th. Poi Dog Pondering are huge in Chicago, and will appear with Timbuk 3 on the June 27th show, and The Freddy Jones Band, General Public and Chris Duarte Group will be the features for the 4th. And the 4th's concert will be broadcast live in its entirety... Rhino Records has finally put the cap on the Just Can't Get Enough: New Wave Hits of the 80's by releasing volumes 11-15. I haven't seen the earlier volumes since I'm just celebrating my two month anniversary (Twinkie with a candle, if you really want to know), but with those hits/hates like "Der Kommissar," "Sunglasses at Night," "Cruel Summer," "Relax," and "99 Luftballons" combined with "Black Coffee in Bed," "Free Nelson Mandela" and "The Killing Moon," you have here what appears to be the most comprehensive collection of this genre's musical offerings that I've seen yet. It's a one-shot must for revamping your 80's library... They don't call him "Scary Kerry" for nothing. CKEY's Kerry Gray is a big Poole fan, and recently asked the band to come perform at a festival show this summer in Buffalo. The band happily accepted, under the conditions that expenses be paid. The budget was dry at that time, so Gray pulled a stunt to raise the money this past weekend.

He sat in a baby pool, fully clothed, with the band's music playing on a P.A. at a remote broadcast over the weekend, and threatened to strip to his Speedo's unless $200 was raised from the crowd to enable the band to make the 10-hour trip. Word has it that the ugly spectacle was averted just in time... The Urchins are a Jersey band that is getting action on WHTG, WDRE, WDHA and others. Their Alley Cat record has a track called "I'd Like to See You" that blends the love-song texture with amusing irony in the lyric department. It's a must-listen... Members of the music industry have formed a committee to create a concert to benefit Children's Friends For Life, a New York-based charity devoted to the care of children with HIV/AIDS and their families residing in the New York metropolitan area. The event is scheduled for September. More information can be had by calling Reggie Lucas at 201-656-7023... Go see the Surfing Brides at New York City's Bat Cave on the 19th... This record by The Tea Party is a rare find for texture and musical composition. "Fire in the Head" could work for the rockier alternative looking for something to cut. The lineup for Portland's KBBT Beafest is Bush, Everclear, Better Than Ezra and Throwing Muses, and will be held on August 6th...

As of July 1st, KPOI is moving to 1160 N. King St., Honolulu, HI, 96817, with phone number 808-847-7100, and fax line 808-841-3343. Or e-mail 'em at EDGE@aloha.net... The mammoth WHFS tival has come and gone, but the buzz surrounding the event certainly lingers in the ground under RFK Stadium, where the faithful 60,000 jumped, dove, surfed and swam at the drop of a note from the prestigious lineup of the format's stars. The whirlwind of images is still revolving, partly thanks to the MTV follow-up exposure (complete with juicy logo shots). The tarps that covered the huddled revelers during the rain squall, the bootleggers on the perimeter practically begging passersby for a T-shirt sale, the catering room bartender mixing dusts into Energy drinks, - in total it was a highly energized experience brought forth by a station whose professionalism and hospitality were primo. Here are some musical guests caught in the act:

The Rolling Stones will play the parking lot of the Volkswagen factory in Wolfsburg, Germany, on August 25 as part of their "Voodoo Lounge" tour, which is being sponsored by the automobile manufacturer. As part of a $10 million agreement with the band, VW plans to sell 100,000 Golf cars with the Voodoo Lounge logo. The Wolfsburg concert will allow about 60,000 workers to see the group. "This is the first time that a music act of this stature has used an automotive factory as its stage," says Volkswagen AG chairman Dr. Ferdinand Piech. "This is not only a thank you to our workers but also an important cultural event for the entire region." Mick Jagger embarrassed the band's sponsors, however, when he told a VW news conference, "I drive a Mercedes myself."

Nick McCabe of the Verve has been spending the last few weeks with his finger in a cast after it was broken during an attack by a bouncer at a Paris club. McCabe says he was punched and kicked down a stairwell during the incident.

A white Mercedes convertible 280SE owned by Madonna was bought by a private collector for $56,350 at a New York City auction of rock memorabilia. Proceeds from the sale will go to fund a photography exhibit at the Philadelphia Museum of Art. At the same sale, Bob Dylan's handwritten lyrics to "Blowin' In The Wind" sold for $8,625, four times as much as had been anticipated, while John Lennon handwritten lyrics for "Because" sold for $17,250.

Allison Krauss, who has the number one country single with "When You Say Nothing At All," says she prefers rock to country. "I listen to a lot of Foreigner," she says. "I love Foreigner...I grew up roller skating every Friday and Saturday, and they played that kind of stuff and Bad Company. I love all of that stuff."

Courtney Love was hospitalized overnight in Seattle for a possible drug overdose. She was discharged 13 1/2 hours after being admitted to the Harborview Medical Center. Fire officials said medical technicians were sent to Love's Seattle home in response to a drug overdose call, but no other details about her condition were available.

Trent Reznor of Nine Inch Nails is contributing the music to an album of Jim Rose horror stories. The collaboration came about because of the Jim Rose Circus' five-month U.S. tour with Nine Inch Nails. "It's gonna be mainly stories, though I may do a version of Johnny Cash's 'Boy Named Sue' sung through a walkie-talkie with heavy industrial backing," Rose says. Reznor plans to release the album on his own label early next year.

Sting is working on a CD-ROM called "All This Time," which is said to explore "his world of music, imagery, history, creative influences and interests."

Blur have recorded 18 tracks for their upcoming album, likely to be released in September. "It is a step on from 'Parklife,' but it won't alienate anybody who got into Blur with it," says producer Stephen Street. "It's a bit darker, but I think that was the only way for us to go." One of the songs the band has recorded is called "Universal," which the band describes as "very Burt Bacharach."

Courtney Love made a surprise appearance on stage at a concert at RFK Stadium in Washington, D.C., featuring Primus, Soul Asylum and the Ramones. Love dived into the mosh pit and climbed back on stage with her dress torn and one of her breasts partially exposed. She then ripped off her dress, threw it into the audience, and then swung upside down from a stage rigging in her underwear.

Heart acoustic live album "The Road Home" (on Capitol Records) is slated for release in mid-August.

Having a number one record hasn't created too much of a workload for Hootie & The Blowfish, says lead guitarist Mark Bryan. "We're used to getting burned out now," he says. "It's our job. During the summers I was in college I worked nine hours a day doing landscaping. Now, I work nine hours a day doing music. I'd much rather be doing music." Bryan admits that he didn't like the name Hootie & The Blowfish at first, especially because people kept calling him Hootie. "I've grown to love it," he says. "Darius had these two friends whose nicknames were 'Hootie' and 'Blowfish.' He said it would make a cool name for a band and we said, 'Yeah, OK.' If you had told me back in 1986 that we'd have gotten to this point, I'd have said, 'Change the name.' But I'm glad we kept it. It's a cool name."

Pantera drummer Vinnie Paul says "all kinds of people" listen to the band. "We attract die-hard metalheads and college students. Doctors and lawyers have told us that they use our music as an outlet for stress. Other people work out to it," Paul says. "But the wildest fans are the ones who have Pantera tattoos all over their body. To print something on your body that will be on there for the rest of your life is pretty much an act of dedication. In Australia, this beautiful young woman told us that she was a big fan, then turned around, dropped her pants, and showed us a perfect likeness of (singer) Phil (Anselmo)'s face tattooed on her butt. I wasn't sure if that was a compliment or not."

Col. Bruce Hampton is now fronting a band called the Fiji Mariners, named after the South Pacific island of Fiji because "it seems like a mystical place to me." Hampton says he's never been there, "but I know five people who have and I've sequestered them quite deeply. It's a friendly place. They've had one day of war there in the last 100 years, and that was a fight in a hotel lobby.... We model ourselves after Sam Donaldson — he's probably the only true Fijian in the country." Hampton also has a role in a movie being directed by Billy Bob Thornton, who directed an Aquarium Rescue Unit video four years ago. The movie, "Sling Blade," is about a 13-year-old who kills his parents in 1963. It's being shot in Malvern, Arkansas, and will also feature Dwight Yoakam and Billy Gibbons of **.

Even though a Los Angeles judge has dropped robbery charges against Tone Loc, a prosecutor says the rapper still faces an indictment on charges that he took $80 from a pizza parlor cash register in a dispute over a pizza. The owner says Tone Loc hit him and demanded a refund. Loc is to be arraigned on the sealed indictment on June 15. Last month, Loc was fined $1,350 and ordered to perform 100 hours of community service for using a baseball bat to smash a woman's car windows while she was still in the car.

Elton John says he'd like to come back to Russia to play a concert where ticket prices wouldn't be as high as his recent shows at the Kremlin Palace. Scalpers were able to get as much as $1,000 for tickets that sold for $30 to $200 each. John says those prices are excessive in a country where the average monthly wage is $78. John says he and his band members would "like to come back and play somewhere outside in Moscow and St. Petersburg where the concerts would be free."

Negativland have a new book and album called "Fair Use: The Story Of The Letter U And Numeral 2." "It's a whole new studio recording," says Mark Hosler of the band. "It's a 288-page book and a 72-minute CD. A third of the book came out already as a magazine. We were sued for putting out a magazine which was about being sued for putting out the U2 record. Part of the CD is the audio that came with the magazine which is a lecture by Crosley Bendix but there's a 45-minute new piece on there called 'Dead Dog Records' and the other two-thirds of the book is brand new stuff. What we wanted is that the book not only documents our personal soap opera but it also would function as a reference for people who are researching this in a deeper way."

MUSIC NOW!

By Mike Cooper

Jason Pierce of Spiritualized says the band is often unfairly accused of having a derivative style. "Obviously, I used to spend a lot of time listening to '60s cult bands like the Electric Prunes and the 13th Floor Elevators, but we take a lot of other influences on board as well, such as rockabilly, soul and gospel," Pierce says. "We're not just into recycling other people's riffs. We're trying to capture the feeling you get from great music. When you listen to Sam Cooke, for example, you don't sit and analyze it as a great early '60s record. It still floors people, even now." Pierce also says it's a popular misconception that the band relies heavily on complex overdubs. "It is true that 'Laser Guided Melodies' was constructed layer by layer, but a lot of the second album was recorded live in the studio, usually in one take," he says. Spiritualized's latest album is called "Pure Phase."

Australian band the Cruel Sea are just beginning a tour of Australia and New Zealand in support of the album "Three Legged Dog."

Jmes Dean Bradfield of the Manic Street Preachers is reportedly to join Therapy?, at least temporarily. Therapy? releases a new album this month called "Infernal Love," recorded at Peter Gabriel's Real World Studios in Bath, England. The LP includes a version of Husker Du's "Diane."

The Auteurs are recording a new album at Abbey Road studio in London with Steve Albini producing.

Tim Burgess of the Charlatans contributes vocals to one of the songs on the Chemical Brothers' debut album, coming out this month.

Jon Spencer is working with Beck on a remix EP using much of the material from last year's "Orange" album. The EP will also include a version of "Greyhound" by Moby. "The original idea was to get real straight rap and hip-hop DJs to do the whole album," Spencer says. "But it turned out to be impossible to find enough people who were even willing to do it. And after that, a lot of people couldn't deal with the fact that we don't have a time code or a click track or anything like that. It freaked them out to think about dealing with a real band without any kind of pulse — without anything that they could synch all their machines up to. And on top of that, people were asking for tons of money. So we had to come up with something a little different."

Jason Newstead of Metallica and Billy Gould of Faith No More jammed with members of Sepultura for the recent wedding of Sepultura lead guitarist Andreas Kisser.

Former Dictators drummer Rich Teeter is playing with a new female-fronted New York band called Ruzenka.

Former Faces keyboardist Ian McLagan is opening an English pub in Austin, Texas, though it really won't get underway until he finishes a massive tour with Rod Stewart that should last until the end of 1996. McLagan hopes the money from the tour will give him the money he and his wife, Kim, need to open the Draught Horse. "We know what a bar should be like. We spend a lot of time in bars," he says. "It would be a tea shop, it would be a bar, and it would have English foods." McLagan has been living in Austin for the past year, playing with a local band called Monkey Jump.

The Meat Puppets are recording another album in Arizona with Paul Leary of the Butthole Surfers.

Luscious Jackson go back into the studio in July after three months of touring.

Eleven releases a new album in mid-July called "Thunk." The band now includes drummer Greg Upchurch, who replaces Jack Irons. Irons played on seven of the 11 tracks on the new album before he left the group, while Matt Cameron of Soundgarden drums on the other four.

Guitarist Zach Blair says Hagfish is being tongue-in-cheek by calling its new album "Hagfish Rocks Your Lame Ass." "We just wanted to sound cocky enough that people who like the attitude will think it's funny, and those that don't... well, it'll be real easy to just say 'well fuck you if you think we can't,'" Blair says. "It's tongue-in-cheek, of course, but you know, if you can do it, it's not bragging. That's the whole attitude right there." The Dallas quartet's 14-song album was produced by Bill Stevenson and Stephen Egerton. The band admits to being influenced by the Ramones' brevity — none of the songs on the "Lame Ass" album is longer than three minutes. "We heard 'Blitzkrieg Bop' on vacation when we were just kids and there was no turning back," says bassist player Doni Blair, Zach's brother. "We never cared about image or lyrics or philosophy, it was just the pure energy that got us excited. We were these dorky out-cast kids and all we wanted to do was have fun and play fast, to keep from getting bored."

Rolling Stone magazine reports that David Bowie has settled a lawsuit filed by a New York photographer who claimed Bowie stole one of her photos for an article he wrote for the British music magazine Q. A spokesman for Bowie says he simply forgot to give credit to Dona Ann McAdams for the photograph.

The Rolling Stones will play the parking lot of the Volkswagen factory in Wolfsburg, Germany, on August 25 as part of their "Voodoo Lounge" tour, which is being sponsored by the automobile manufacturer. As part of a $10 million agreement with the band, VW plans to sell 100,000 Golf cars with the Voodoo Lounge logo. The Wolfsburg concert will allow about 60,000 workers to see the group. "This is the first time that a music act of this stature has used an automotive factory as its stage," says Volkswagen AG chairman Dr. Ferdinand Piech. "This is not only a thank you to our workers but also an important cultural event for the entire region." Mick Jagger embarrassed the band's sponsors, however, when he told a VW news conference, "I drive a Mercedes myself."

Nick McCabe of the Verve has been spending the last few weeks with his finger in a cast after it was broken during an attack by a bouncer at a Paris club. McCabe says he was punched and kicked down a stairwell during the incident.

A white Mercedes convertible 280SE owned by Madonna was bought by a private collector for $56,350 at a New York City auction of rock memorabilia. Proceeds from the sale will go to fund a photography exhibit at the Philadelphia Museum of Art. At the same sale, Bob Dylan's handwritten lyrics to "Blowin' In The Wind" sold for $8,625, four times as much as had been anticipated, while John Lennon handwritten lyrics for "Because" sold for $17,250.

Alison Krauss, who has the number one country single with "When You Say Nothing At All," says she prefers rock to country. "I listen to a lot of Foreigner," she says. "I love Foreigner...I grew up roller skating every Friday and Saturday, and they played that kind of stuff and Bad Company. I love all of that stuff."

Courtney Love was hospitalized overnight in Seattle for a possible drug overdose. She was discharged 13 1/2 hours after being admitted to the Harborview Medical Center. Fire officials said medical technicians were sent to Love's Seattle home in response to a drug overdose call, but no other details about her condition were available.

Trent Reznor of Nine Inch Nails is contributing the music to an album of Jim Rose horror stories. The collaboration came about because of the Jim Rose Circus' five-month U.S. tour with Nine Inch Nails. "It's gonna be mainly stories, though I may do a version of Johnny Cash's 'Boy Named Sue' sung through a walkie-talkie with heavy industrial backing," Rose says. Reznor plans to release the album on his own label early next year.

Sting is working on a CD-ROM called "All This Time," which is said to explore "his world of music, imagery, history, creative influences and interests."

Blur have recorded 18 tracks for their upcoming album, likely to be released in September. "It is a step on from 'Parklife,' but it won't alienate anybody who got into Blur with it," says producer Stephen Street. "It's a bit darker, but I think that was the only way for us to go." One of the songs the band has recorded is called "Universal," which the band describes as "very Burt Bacharach."

Courtney Love made a surprise appearance on stage at a concert at RFK Stadium in Washington, D.C., featuring Primus, Soul Asylum and the Ramones. Love dived into the mosh pit and climbed back on stage with her dress torn and one of her breasts partially exposed. She then ripped off her dress, threw it into the audience, and then swung upside down from a stage rigging in her underwear.

Heart acoustic live album "The Road Home" (on Capitol Records) is slated for release in mid-August.

Having a number one record hasn't created too much of a workload for Hootie & The Blowfish, says lead guitarist Mark Bryan. "We're used to getting burned out now," he says. "It's our job. During the summers I was in college I worked nine hours a day doing landscaping. Now, I work nine hours a day doing music. I'd much rather be doing music." Bryan admits that he didn't like the name Hootie & The Blowfish at first, especially because people kept calling him Hootie. "I've grown to love it," he says. "Darius had these two friends whose nicknames were 'Hootie' and 'Blowfish.' He said it would make a cool name for a band and we said, 'Yeah, OK.' If you had told me back in 1986 that we'd have gotten to this point, I'd have said, 'Change the name.' But I'm glad we kept it. It's a cool name."

Pantera drummer Vinnie Paul says "all kinds of people" listen to the band. "We attract die-hard metalheads and college students. Doctors and lawyers have told us that they use our music as an outlet for stress. Other people work out to it," Paul says. "But the wildest fans are the ones who have Pantera tattoos all over their body. To print something on your body that will be on there for the rest of your life is pretty much an act of dedication. In Australia, this beautiful young woman told us that she was a big fan, then turned around, dropped her pants, and showed us a perfect likeness of (singer) Phil (Anselmo)'s face tattooed on her butt. I wasn't sure if that was a compliment or not."

Col. Bruce Hampton is now fronting a band called the Fiji Mariners, named after the South Pacific island of Fiji because "it seems like a mystical place to me." Hampton says he's never been there, "but I know five people who have and I've sequestered them quite deeply. It's a friendly place. They've had one day of war there in the last 100 years, and that was a fight in a hotel lobby....We model ourselves after Sam Donaldson — he's probably the only true Fijian in the country." Hampton also has a role in a movie being directed by Billy Bop Thornton, who directed an Aquarium Rescue Unit video four years ago. The movie, "Sling Blade," is about a 13-year-old who kills his parents in 1963. It's being shot in Malvern, Arkansas, and will also feature Dwight Yoakam and Billy Gibbons of ZZ Top.

Even though a Los Angeles judge has dropped robbery charges against Tone Loc, a prosecutor says the rapper still faces an indictment on charges that he took $80 from a pizza parlor cash register in a dispute over a pizza. The owner says Tone Loc hit him and demanded a refund. Loc is to be arraigned on the sealed indictment on June 15. Last month, Loc was fined $1,350 and ordered to perform 100 hours of community service for using a baseball bat to smash a woman's car windows while she was still in the car.

Elton John says he'd like to come back to Russia to play a concert where ticket prices wouldn't be as high as his recent shows at the Kremlin Palace. Scalpers were able to get as much as $1,000 for tickets that sold for $30 to $200 each. John says those prices are excessive in a country where the average monthly wage is $78. John says he and his band members would "like to come back and play somewhere outside in Moscow and St. Petersburg where the concerts would be free."

Negativland have a new book and album called "Fair Use: The Story Of The Letter U And Numeral 2." "It's a whole new studio recording," says Mark Hosler of the band. "It's a 288-page book and a 72-minute CD. A third of the book came out already as a magazine. We were sued for putting out a magazine which was about being sued for putting out the U2 record. Part of the CD is the audio that came with the magazine which is a lecture by Crosley Bendix but there's a 45-minute new piece on there called 'Dead Dog Records' and the other two-thirds of the book is brand new stuff. What we wanted is that the book not only documents our personal soap opera but it also would function as a reference for people who are researching this in a deeper way."

MUSIC NOW!

By Mike Cooper

Jason Pierce of Spiritualized says the band is often unfairly accused of having a derivative style. "Obviously, I used to spend a lot of time listening to '60s cult bands like the Electric Prunes and the 13th Floor Elevators, but we take a lot of other influences on board as well, such as rockabilly, soul and gospel," Pierce says. "We're not just into recycling other people's riffs. We're trying to capture the feeling you get from great music. When you listen to Sam Cooke, for example, you don't sit and analyze it as a great early '60s record. It still floors people, even now." Pierce also says it's a popular misconception that the band relies heavily on complex overdubs. "It is true that 'Laser Guided Melodies' was constructed layer by layer, but a lot of the second album was recorded live in the studio, usually in one take," he says. Spiritualized's latest album is called "Pure Phase."

Australian band the Cruel Sea are just beginning a tour of Australia and New Zealand in support of the album "Three Legged Dog."

Jmes Dean Bradfield of the Manic Street Preachers is reportedly to join Therapy?, at least temporarily. Therapy? releases a new album this month called "Infernal Love," recorded at Peter Gabriel's Real World Studios in Bath, England. The LP includes a version of Husker Du's "Diane."

The Auteurs are recording a new album at Abbey Road studio in London with Steve Albini producing.

Tim Burgess of the Charlatans contributes vocals to one of the songs on the Chemical Brothers' debut album, coming out this month.

Jon Spencer is working with Beck on a remix EP using much of the material from last year's "Orange" album. The EP will also include a version of "Greyhound" by Moby. "The original idea was to get real straight rap and hip-hop DJs to do the whole album," Spencer says. "But it turned out to be impossible to find enough people who were even willing to do it. And after that, a lot of people couldn't deal with the fact that we don't have a time code or a click track or anything like that. It freaked them out to think about dealing with a real band without any kind of pulse — without anything that they could synch all their machines up to. And on top of that, people were asking for tons of money. So we had to come up with something a little different."

Jason Newstead of Metallica and Billy Gould of Faith No More jammed with members of Sepultura for the recent wedding of Sepultura lead guitarist Andreas Kisser.

Former Dictators drummer Rich Teeter is playing with a new female-fronted New York band called Ruzenka.

Former Faces keyboardist Ian McLagan is opening an English pub in Austin, Texas, though it really won't get underway until he finishes a massive tour with Rod Stewart that should last until the end of 1996. McLagan hopes the money from the tour will give him the money he and his wife, Kim, need to open the Draught Horse. "We know what a bar should be like. We spend a lot of time in bars," he says. "It would be a tea shop, it would be a bar, and it would have English foods." McLagan has been living in Austin for the past year, playing with a local band called Monkey Jump.

The Meat Puppets are recording another album in Arizona with Paul Leary of the Butthole Surfers.

Luscious Jackson go back into the studio in July after three months of touring.

Eleven releases a new album in mid-July called "Thank." The band now includes drummer Greg Upchurch, who replaces Jack Irons. Irons played on seven of the 11 tracks on the new album before he left the group, while Matt Camerson of Soundgarden drums on the other four.

Guitarist Zach Blair says Hagfish is being tongue-in-cheek by calling its new album "Hagfish Rocks Your Lame Ass." "We just wanted to sound cocky enough that people who like the attitude will think it's funny, and those that don't...well, it'll be real easy to just say 'well fuck you if you think we can't,'" Blair says. "It's tongue-in-cheek, of course, but you know, if you can do it, it's not bragging. That's the whole attitude right there." The Dallas quartet's 14-song album was produced by Bill Stevenson and Stephen Egerton. The band admits to being influenced by the Ramones' brevity — none of the songs on the "Lame Ass" album is longer than three minutes. "We heard 'Blitzkrieg Bop' on vacation when we were just kids and there was no turning back," says bassist player Doni Blair, Zach's brother. "We never cared about image or lyrics or philosophy, it was just the pure energy that got us excited. We were these dorky out-cast kids and all we wanted to do was have fun and play fast, to keep from getting bored."

Rolling Stone magazine reports that David Bowie has settled a lawsuit filed by a New York photographer who claimed Bowie stole one of her photos for an article he wrote for the British music magazine Q. A spokesman for Bowie says he simply forgot to give credit to Dona Ann McAdams for the photograph.

Depeche Mode's Alan Wilder has left the band. Wilder replaced Vince Clarke (now with Erasure) in 1982. In a statement, Wilder says: "The quality of our association had deteriorated to the point where I no longer feel that the end justifies the means. I have no wish to cast aspersions on any individual; suffice to say that relations have become increasingly strained, increasing frustrating and, ultimately, in certain situations, intolerable." The remaining members of Depeche Mode are currently working on new material and say they have no plans to replace Wilder. Oasis' Noel Gallagher say the band are unlikely to make more than three albums. Speaking to the New Musical Express, he commented: "I don't see this going on forever, I see it as three albums and that's it. I don't think I can do any more with Oasis after that. There's only so many anthems you can write. I don't know for sure, but I'd say the next album will be the last." Oasis have already recorded ten songs for their forthcoming second album 'Morning Glory.' The album should be in stores in the fall and will be preceded by a new single in the summer...The Stone Roses are reported to have pulled out of the late June Glastonbury Festival. The possible withdrawal comes after guitarist John Squire cracked his collar bone. Many industry figures would see this as a major blow for the band who have been criticized for not caring enough about their fans. Earlier this year, the Roses pulled out of a "secret" tour of the UK and the New Musical Express says it has been "deluged" by calls from angry readers who have bought Glastonbury tickets in order to see the band. Elsewhere, the Roses' new drummer Robbie says he sees similarities between himself and Ringo Starr, who had to win fans over at Liverpool's Cavern Club when he replaced Pete Best. Speaking to Select, he says: "That's just what it felt like the first gig I played, I couldn't stop thinking about it. It was in Oslo, we'd done one song, I looked up and it was like, 'Everyone's watching me and they're just waiting for me to fuck up.'"...The Cure have revealed details of their new line up. Keyboard player Roger O'Donnel, who has been running a clothes shop in Toronto, returns to the band he left in the eighties. Jason Cooper, who previously composed soundtracks, is the new drummer. Robert Smith, Simon Gallup and Perry Bamonte remain as the core of the band. The Cure will play European festivals this summer and have a new album scheduled for an early 1996 release...London Brixton Academy may continue as a live venue if a campaign by local councillors and members of the British Parliament is successful. Simon Parkes, owner of the venue, recently sold it and there has been speculation the buyer is a Brazilian Pentecostal Church, The Worldwide Church of the Kingdom of God. It is believed the church plan to use the Academy as their world headquarters. The church is currently under investigation in Brazil for financial irregularities and local councillors say they may not grant planning permission for the venue to change use. Meanwhile, part of the campaign to save the Academy as a music venue involves local Labour Party members requesting a signed photograph or taped message from any-

The four-piece from London have signed to Tony Wilson's Factory Too label and are being tipped by many as a name to watch...Skunk Anansie's singer Skin has been speaking to Select about the problems of being a black lesbian. According to Skin: "I've always felt like the weird one. A bit of a joke in some ways, popular in others. I grew up in Brixton (south London) and it's supposed to be a multi-cultural place. But if you come from there, you're in a completely different world to all the transient people. I was lucky to escape through college in Middlesborough (north east England). But the homophobes in the black community...half of them always turn out to be gay. So you're showing them a reflection of themselves they can't handle."...The Rolling Stones' London Records back catalogue is being re-issued on June 26 to tie in with the band's UK dates. Many of the albums have never been available in the UK on CD before. All the albums have been digitally remastered...Paul Weller's growing reputation as an elder statesman of British rock has been further confirmed by a BBC Radio 4 documentary. 'This Is My Job' featured Weller talking about songwriting. Radio 4 is a talk-based network given over to news, plays, etc...Paul McCartney is working on another classical piece. Complete with full orchestra and chorus. the music will be ready to coincide with EMI Record's 100th anniversary in 1997. Elsewhere, the fab one has told The Independent newspaper why he enjoys working on more ambitious pieces: "I'm used to writing songs—intro, verse, chorus, middle-eight, fade or end—normally ending on the chorus, the hook or whatever. There's a formula, so for me it's incredibly exciting that music can be open-ended, that I can start with an idea and never go back — ever. That's liberating."

CATHY FAULKNER, KISW/SEATTLE

Needless to say, when it comes to Seattle... surprises are around every corner. At least, that was the case this week. First of all, the best kept secret in town was the "surprise" Neil Young show at MOE on the 7th. The tickets simply said "Mirror Ball, June 7th 9pm, a free ticket to a free show." We were treated to a live performance of the upcoming Neil Young album Mirror Ball. It was really cool to see Neil refer to a lyric notebook for the new material. Also amazing was his backup band: Jeff Ament, Mike McCredy, Stone Gossard, and Jack Iron from some Seattle band I'm not supposed to mention (oh yes, Eddie did backing vocals on one song). Neil also treated us to songs like "My My Hey Hey," "Down by the River," "Needle and the Damage Done." The virtual "who's who of Seattle crowd was in awe. I never in my wildest dreams thought I would witness something as cool as Neil Young in a small Seattle club!! Just when I thought that was all my week had to offer, I received a call from the guys in Candlebox (actually we talked at the Neil Young show). They invited me out to their studio to hear some tracks from their forthcoming album Crooked Halo. They've come a long way since their triple platinum debut. The tracks are rock solid, raw, full of energy and passion... and they're still rough mixes. Thanks to the guys for an awesome sneak peak of what's to come this fall. KISW presented KoRn in an impressive beyond sold out show here in Seattle. If you're not playing "Blind," well you are... Thanks to everyone at Epic for this wonderful concert opportunity. I'll be on vacation June 19-25, Stacy Koontz will be covering for me on the 19th... phones only please. See ya.

CARTER ALAN, WBCN/BOSTON

Thanks to Warner Brothers Records for helping out with last weekend's live broadcast of the Jennifer Trynin Band. BCN packed Aerosmith's Mama Kin Music Hall with Saturday afternoon listeners who braved the remnants of Red Sox ballgame traffic to see this young and exciting rising star. Jennifer, as we come to expect here in Boston music circles, did not disappoint, wowing the regulars and turning a whole requests for "Better Than Nothin'" have driven the song rapidly up WBCN's rotation ladder. Thanks to Jennifer and her band, Mike Dineen from Q Division and Mike Symonds of WB. I loved the last Verve album, and that was merely a collection of B-sides, extra trax n' a live space jam. The new one, A Northern Soul, is obviously more focused and consistent. The first single, "On Your Own," is pensive and atmospheric, but with all the other female driven pop rock and grunge on the playlist, this contrast has a welcome niche to fit into. Looking forward to the tour! Finally, check out the double live Police CD. The first disc came from a famous WBCN live broadcast from Boston's Orpheum

Theater in November of 1979. That show has been a gem in our archives here for years, occasionally being dusted off to run on the air. Now it's available for everyone. My fave: the seven-minute version of "Can't Stand Losing You" with the included instrumental stretching of "Regatta Da Blanc." Disc 2 from a few years later is a fantastic live document as well. Thanks to Miles Copeland for making the call to search this show out and make WBCN mighty proud.

RECKLESS ERIC & JULIE HOYT

CHANNEL Z/AUGUSTA, GA

Hello from a sun-shiney Augusta, Georgia... finally! We've been hit by just about every of turbulent weather known to man over the past weeks. Those poor kids who are just getting out of school have not just been dealing with cloudy skies, but hail, lightnings, 50 mph winds, and tornado threats everyday as well. The skies have finally decided to give them one good pool day this week, being the nature of "radio", this has not slowed down the folks at Channel Z one bit. We had a Lollapalooza ticket giveaway weekend for the show in Atlanta on August 5th, since the tickets went on sale on Friday. Needless to say, the town was scratching on our doors for those bad-boys. Big big big response from everyone. Thanks to the lovely folks at the Coca-Cola Lakewood Amphitheater for their help. The Vigilantes of Love came in for a spectacular air show at the Garden City Music Hall (formerly the Post Office). Augusta is so proud to see those south-by-southeast veterans getting the attention they so deeply deserve. Keep up the good work guys, and thanks to Capricorn for getting them to town. We've got another gigantic week planned, with the release of "Batman Returns" and a visit from Tripping Daisy. We'll update you with the goods next week. Until next time...

DAVE DOUGLAS, WAAF/BOSTON

It was another busy week here at WAAF as we hosted the Scott O'Grady Survival Contest. WAAF listeners competed to win a 2 day whitewater rafting trip to Maine by eating crickets, caterpillars, night crawlers, and bees. The event was a little more than just unusual for WAAF, inasmuch that participants had to B-Y-O-B (Bring Your Own Bugs.) Bonapetit!

JULIE BAHRE & JOHN LENAC

KTOZ-FM CHANNEL Z

Are you going to San Francisco? Well two of our lucky listeners are and we're damn proud to send them to one of the hottest shows on the road. Tickets for the Pearl Jam/Bad Religion shows are selling faster than an indie can call in an add on Friday. Our heroes for this wonderful trip extravaganza are Mark Potter, Jacqueline Saturn, Stu Bergen, and all at Epic; Tanks guys! This week, Bjork's army of one explodes with a "win-it-before-you-can-buy-it" for her latest CD Post. Brian Landau and EEG deserves a medal for helping us light up the phones. We haven't recovered from visits by those two crazy friends of ours; David (I wanna play more golf) Kragstrow of Mercury and Mary (my flight was delayed in St. Louis by the same major airline again damnit) Tripp of Atlantic. Mary's gonna take me to Branson to meet my idol, Donny Osmond. Rock on Mar! I'm still trying to settle down in Springfield (It's so crazy here) and into my new position as muZic director. If my call times have confuZed anybody here they are one more time: WedneZdayZ and ThurZdays, 4-6pm (central). ThereZ so many wayZ to uZe a Z, try it, itZ Zany!

VALORIE KNIGHT, KQRC/KANSAS

Rockfest '95 was soo huge! More than 10,000 people showed up to see Tesla, Sponge, and the Toadies at our 4th Rockfest... Lots of thanks go out to Jay Friedstein and Pam ("I've never been to a record dinner like this!") Edwards of the work group; Tesla management and our local guy, Don Pratt; and to Ted Hoekstra and Rob Tarantino from Interscope. Speaking of the Toadies, they now have a record 14 weeks at Top 5 phones; others burnin' up the phones are White Zombie - "More Human," Nirvana - "Lake Of Fire," Soul Asylum - "Misery," and Dokken - "Too High"...

DINA WERNER

WTPA/HARRISBURG, PA

Extra special thanks to everyone who helped us with our Rock Auction for the annual Holy Spirit Hospital Street Fair. The auction raised over $2200 for the hospital. The money will help the hospital to purchase new operating room equipment... so thanks again to all our industry friends who donated items!!... Music wise, White Zombie continues to light up phones - big time!! (Bobbi Silver, please get them to Central PA!! I have to see them soon!!) Lots of action, too, from LIVE, Better Than Ezra, Collective Soul, Van Halen, and Pink Floyd just continued to Pulse... and Pulse... and Pulse... and Pulse...

TJ BRYAN, WDHA/DOVER, DELAWARE

I just got my voice back after McGathy weekend, so now I can write. Highlights: performances from Brother Cane, Hum, Sleeper, and Fury In The Slaughterhouse, Cathy Faulkner's amazing popcorn-throwing ability, Warren Christensen's dancing, Greg O'Brien's "slic-t-do," and another Yankee loss (how does Rose keep angling those?). Lowlights: Neal Bird catching My Four Ball, and not seeing everyone I wanted to (I still don't think Dave Lombardi was even there)! Big thanks to Bill & Rose and all at McGathy Promotions. Looking forward to #11! By the way, thanks to Virgin's Scott "Lojack" Douglas for bringing Damon Johnson of Brother Cane by. Damon industry comments

was great on the air (his third time with us) and is always welcome! Thanks also to Laura Labadia for stopping by with those kooky German kids from Fury. Keep your earballs peeled for some great tunes on their new album. Musically, the following have been rocking my world: Chris Isaak, Natalie Merchant, Soul Asylum, Paul Weller, Alanis Morissette, Hum, Goo Goo Dolls, Silverchair, Jennifer Trynin, Dead Hot Workshop, and Massive Attack (Tracey Thorn is amazing!). By the way, that little blinking light on the live Floyd package is starting to get really annoying. As always, it's been a business doing pleasure with you.

ERIN CARMEN, WONE/AKRON

High on life and ready to rock!! For the on sale release of Pink Floyd's Pulse we had a win-it-before-you-can-but-it-weekend. Listeners won the Pulse CD and the Pink Floyd video. The phones were jammed!!! Then we had a midnight madness sale and hundreds of people showed up!! Thanks Columbia's Dave Watson for the ultimate Floyd fix!! Summer's here and so much is happening. It's WONE's tenth anniversary and we want to put on a huge birthday bash! If you have any bands that would like to participate, please contact me or J.D. at 216-869-9800. Keep rockin!!

KEVIN VARGAS

KISS/SAN ANTONIO, TX

Saturday we climaxed a major concert promotion. So many levels, so many home runs! We started promoting our Queensryche show announcing tickets would go on sale, and by giving away the first pair. The following week featured "The countdown to Queensryche" giving away (during a block) 5th row six five days out, 4th row four days out... get the idea? Found one to steal yet? Then as the date approached we did numerous music features, giveaway tickets, and all the obvious slick promo work to take full advantage of the event. On the day of the show we not only did a live broadcast from the venue, a banner contest with front row six and a flyaway for back-to-back Queensryche to next night, but interviews and meet 'n' greets with both Type O and Queensryche. All this wouldn't have been possible if not for our friends at Pace, EMI, and Roadrunner. But also Queensryche! I've dealt with so many rock star ego/ass-holes in the past few months it was an extreme pleasure to deal with such a co-operative, genuinely sincere band like Queensryche. These guys are huge, yet they've kept an appreciation for their fans and those in the industry who helped them get there. At the end of the meet 'n' greet when I turned to find out the tap on the shoulder was from Chris Degarmo to say thanks for the help with the show and playing their music, it restored a lot of faith. Thank you guys for remaining a class act.

THE HARD REPORT

Also, "The Kiss Asylum" and the "Alternative Show" are dead. From the ashes rises a Phoenix known as "The Revelation," a (how 90sish) show featuring the aggressive modern rock. 100% pure juice with no pop added! Hey, it ain't metal and it ain't hard-core alternative, but it has a little of both. It's cool, it's hip, it's now, blah, blah, blah. The retro hour still starts the show and the most excellent modern rock live is still in the middle. Jave Patterson hosts, and needs both service and imput (calls Monday 3:30-5:30pm) - Jave, "This new show is designed as a 'breeding ground' for new rock for San Antonio exposing aggressive to alternative hybrid rock." To the record industry, trust us, you'll love it, early response from the audience says they do. Please, no more death threats from metal... "You're playing God!" No, I'm not God, just Jesus in training.

GUY DARK, WHDQ/CLAREMONT

Paramount sucks for pulling the plug on the Jon Stewart Show! The guy's funny, down-to-earth, and allowed his show to be a showcase for hip baby bands. For those of us who don't live in or near a big Metropolitan area with lots of nightclubs, his show gave exposure to a lot of up and comers. I hope the corporate dweebs who planned his demise find out that their wives are doing it with the pool boy!

GREG ROBERTS, KMFU/COLORADO

Question... Can you name a progressive/A3/PAR Radio station in the country that is celebrating it's 20th anniversary this year? Answer: KMFU. Steamboat Springs/ Vail. And boy what a celebration we are planning, and you can help. If any of your artists would like to submit birthday salutations to us we would gladly accept. Please call me 970-879-5368 or at home in the afternoon at 970-736-0125 for the info... Your help would be greatly appreciated. The headliners are almost inked for our birthday blowout, and now we are looking for support acts to be on the bill. If you label types have an act that you think will be in the area late August/ early September, and you want them to perform in front of over 3,000 people. Call me again and let's talk!! Soon... Thank yous go out to Bonnie at Atlantic for her help in the Batman Premiere. Ever try and fit 200 people into a 95 seat theater? Also thank yous to Flying Fish Records. Jason at Warner Brothers, and Michelle and Deann at Capricorn. And one big congrats to Rich Garcia the new Reprise Triple A dude. He's been our local and now the rest of you will discover a well kept secret... This guy is good. Music to out... Monkeywalk - staff is going bananas about it. Sonia Dada keeps the station hopping and Van Morrison is like that fine wine... better with age! That's all for this week. Next week... who has the highest arbitron share for a Triple A? I'll let you know.

WORLD CAFE NEWSLETTER

So I'm sitting here in the music office and I've just spun Deep Blue Something's "Breakfast At Tiffany's" on Interscope like 30 times and I'm silly cause of how huge it's gonna be. Happy to say that the Cafe hit it immediately and boy is Snoop Dog happy. He called me personally to thank us for adding his label mate's new song... Now it's your turn. Think big for a change, okay?... Had those righteous Norf Carolina boys - Dag - in last week for a super funk session in the Cafe. These guys know what the heck they're doing when it comes to getting down and if you haven't heard their soulful Columbia debut, Righteous, then call Kid Leo for yours. By the way, Dag played some old Sly and The Family Stone and Curtis Mayfield vinyl as guest dj's... Let me turn you on to a cool singer-songwriter from Philly who has been making music and records for years here, and doing a damn fine job of it. The name's Kenn Kweeder, and he's Philly's cross between Robyn Hitchcock and Bob Zimmerman. We're spinning his new self-titled indie release, and so could you. Just call Tom Sheehy at 215-338-6644... Speaking of cool local music, you must get hip to Seconds Flat, a nifty five piece who have definitely spent some time with old records by The Band, New Riders, Pure Prairie League, and Flying Burrito Brothers. They hail from Greenville, South Carolina - home of the totally boss Greg Hills and WNCW, and they recently got a rave review in Billboard. Their album, Spittin' Cause We Like To is deserving of your attention and they can be reached at 803-232-7983... By the way... Have I mentioned the Verve yet?... What We Like: "Summertime" by Moonpools and Caterpillars; The Apartments awesome American debut on Restless - A Life Full Of Farewells; Chris Gaffney's and Lucinda Williams' cover of the Intruders "Cowboys To Girls"; Liqueur's stunning 4CD debut called Listening Cap (that's Jenny Toomey of Tsunami, kids); "Everything's Different Now" from Innocence Mission's new one. Glow (thanks Zeb); and the forthcoming Dream Academy box set.... Until next week...

ROB BABECKI, WCDB/ALBANY, NY

I was just catching up on disc reviews, and I thought I'd send in a dialogue to help people get a feel for what I'm like. I'm from Brooklyn, NYC and proud of it! I miss NYC a lot and try to get down there as much as possible. The McGathy weekend made me realize just how much I miss the city. Anyway, I'm willing to come down to the city for shows, so feel free to offer me tickets for shows down there (hint, hint). I look forward to future opportunities to hang out with all of you. The station is a mess (the running excuse being "it's summer time"), but what else is new? I'm trying to get a couple of my McGathy photos to everyone who's asked, but I'm working right now and if my station ever reimbursed me for anything I think I'd have heart failure. Enough of my bitching. Get well wished to Brian at Mercury and Beth from Mausoleum. also, I have no fax machine so... don't fax me anything! Okay, Sudi? I'm looking into e-mail to make myself more accessible, more on this later. My office hours are still the ones listed over my playlist (there was some confusion this week). Thanx to Marni for hooking me up with the Fear Factory phone interview. If you're reading this going, "who is this guy?" that means you haven't been calling me, so feel free to do so. Also, if anyone knows of any good job opportunities in Albany you know who to call. Remember: metal is a five letter word! Hail Satan.

DAVID J. CIANCIO

WDBM-FM/EAST LANSING, MI

You know, it has been a long time since I have written one of these, so this may be a bit choppy and disconcerting, but hey, deal with it!!! So anyway, what is it this week that I would actually want to compile a dialogue about. It could be the I would like to rub the victory of the Detroit Red Wings in everyone's face (sorry Jodie and Holly). It could be to tell you all how awesome the new CD from Speedball (can you say Detroit at its finest!?!). It could be to say that I am equally stoked to see them open up for the Almighty Clutch in Detroit (who coincidentally also have an amazing new record out). Or could be to talk about how much fun I had at McGathy, how Bill, Rose, and Phil rock. How goofy (but in the coolest possible way) Smitty is and How I still haven't recuperated. But no, this dialogue will not partake in that any sort of that hodge podge and debauchery. We shall discuss the ramifications of putting too much cheese on your Macaroni. It makes you have to poo-poo a lot. That's all, Dave. (a lost soul searching for the secrets sticky paper glue). Ruh!!!!

XEQC/SONORA, MEXICO

Special thanks to Sudi/McGathy, Joanne/AIM, Greg/Pavement, Munsey/Skateboard, Todd/WB, Sheri/Energy, Paula/Noise, and especially to Brian at Mercury, you are in our prayers-get better Amigo! THE TINK

WWUD/WILMINGTON, DELAWARE

Why Hello there! First and foremost, they it's hard to keep a good man down or confined to a rolling chair after he has undergone flight lessons from a car. All the best goes out to Brian McEvoy for a speedy return. I have already been contacted via landline therefore I'm aware that the ball bounces hard out of the Mercury side of the net. The McGathy update; WOOOOWWWEEE!! Bat Bites. It was absolutely fabulous. The ever-so Molten Metal Brunch, Casper and Blinky, The Tea Party and Fez, SBGB and all who played and watch (I'll have just 3 more longneck's and that's it I gotta get home). Hard Rock and Brother (if you arrive late there is no more food) Cane, The Yankee's and A/C bus rides into the Bronx, the very first King Crimson matinee, and last but not even least Le Bat Bites. Thanks to all and big hello to all the new found radio friendly's. Whoa my typewriters runnin' outta ink...

SCOTT "LO/JACK" DOUGLAS

VIRGIN, 212-332-0418

We return you to the Lo/Jack show now in progress... Brother Cane lights up like an exploding cigar! Pow! Out of the box and on the radio at well over 160 stations. Boom! "And Fools Shine On" is a smoker... all over the place! We're very proud of them and thank you very much!!! Street date on the entire album is July 3rd. Can't wait for you to see them on the road. If you saw the breakfast show at the McGathy, you know! It's like going from halfcourt and getting nothing but net... swish!!! Thanks!!! We are also quietly building a nice story on this little band from L.A. called Maids of Gravity. Check out this cut called "Only Dreaming." We are officially chasing adds this coming week but early response has been very nice at KISS, KLBJ, WBCN, this little station called KLOS, and now at KLOL!!! This is a real-time buzz. Holy shit Batman, we've got a record here! And, I'd be totally remise if I didn't jump up and down about King Crimson! People who need people are the luckiest people in the world!!! People had the power to light up the Empire State Building! HmMMMM. All in Crimson, no doubt!! Lastly, strap on your Walkman and check out

The Verve! You can jam while your spouses are bawling their eyes out to Clint and Meryl or the kids are freaking at Pocahontas!! It's the future of rock and roll!! The Verve. Lo/Jacks to: Jimmy Edwards (beg if you must), Babineau-Raphael-Nauman (the noses of rock), Jo (here's to you Mrs.) Robinson, Dave Kane (the kids gets top billing), and Fred Myers (Survivor) is on fire!!

CHUCKIE "THE VERVE RULES"

VIRGIN RECORDS, 212-332-0421

Hello radio and people. Please listen to the Verve a burn. the new one is called A Northern Soul. I love this band. I have been listening to them for 3 years every day. And so do thousands of modern rock listeners. They flocked to last summer's side stage at Lollapalooza to hear the future of rock. The lead track at radio is "On Your Own." It shimmers on the air. With repeated spins I am certain your audience will call for more. The band tours the USA in July. They toured the USA 3 times prior and have a sales base of 40,000 units. A Northern Soul was produced by Owen Morris. The same killer UK leezers (which is a loving pronoun) who produced Oasis. Owen is king of the knobs. Maids of Gravity is on the road with God Lives Under Water. They rock live. The show is great. Both bands rule. Thanks to early radio supporters of "Only Dreaming." I like Maids. How is the Trip Hop sound treating you? Spearhead? Portishead? Maybe we should tell Massive in the east to change it's name to Massive-Head. Thanks to the west and a few champions of Massive in the east and Midwest. We have sold 80,000 units soundscan. Massive is still the best record to play on a date. Royal Trux are back from Europe ready to get your support with the track you all say is the radio "hit." RAY-O-VAC. It's a sweet song for Generation X. It has been re-mixed by a Butcher Brother who produced Urge Overkill. Ever hear of them? I like them a lot. Shaggy has delivered a great summer song for Modern 40/ROCK, whatever we call our format today: "Summertime." KTOZ & WCHZ have jumped early. Check it out. Coming soon: Geraldine Fibbers. Whale. Means To An End. The Music Of Joy Division. Featuring: Girls Against Boys, Moby and lots more people your listeners like to hear. Please listen to music. I do everyday.

MICHAEL LINEHAN

REPRISE RECORDS, 818-953-3753

We rushed Neil Young's "Downtown" at the end of last week due to a number of leaks popping up over the past several weekends. You should have also received the official release in four color cover by now. Apologies to anyone who might have been left hanging for a couple of days but we are only able to manufacture a limited number of pro's on a rush basis. Never the less well over a 130 stations hit "Downtown" out of the box. The whole spectrum of radio from WAVF to 91X to WKLS to KBCO put Neil right in with over 400 combined spins in the first three days! The whole album will be in your hands next week, June 21st. Filter sales are through the roof with nearly 15,000 pieces scanned in last week. That's one five zero, zero, zero folks! This track is Top 30 everywhere. If you aren't giving this track solid rotation you are missing a hit record and your alternative competition thanks you.

JIM DEL BALZO

COLUMBIA RECORDS, 212-833-7029

Between Pink Floyd, Soul Asylum, Corrosion of Conformity, Dokken, Jeff Buckley, and Mad Season, we've created a traffic jam in our own right out there. Not to mention some of the other great product out there. There's a great record out there from a band from the Baltimore/Washington area called Mother May I, time out of your busy day to listen to this band. We are going to work very hard on this one. Hopefully when you hear this band and see them you'll understand why. Obviously the Floyd album is flying out the doors as is Soul Asylum. It's been great hearing the feedback from radio people as well as promotion people on the Soul Asylum album. I can't remember ever hearing such positive response. Our biggest dilemma is which track will be next. Coming your way the next few weeks is "I Don't Know Anything" from Mad Season, "Weird-Out" from Dandelion, "Piss-Bottle Man" from Mike Watt, "Stupid" from Toad The Wet Sprocket, and another track from Jeff Buckley.

RHINO FORWARD RECORDS

Thanks to everyone who dug or is still digging the Doc Pomus tribute with airplay and ink. (WXRT is still going strong on the John Hiatt track.) In the glut of tributes, we're glad this one stood out. Rhino/Forward and the R&B Foundation commend your good taste. Coming in August, a humdinger of a new album from The Joe Doe Thing. This one has knocked out everyone I've played it for, and has plenty of essential stuff for Triple A and Alternative radio. Also in the offing, a 2-CD LOVE Anthology including all of Forever Changes and a pile of other vital stuff. And of course there's the final five classics from Peter Godwin ("Images of Heaven" Finally on CD) Miracle Legion, and others. Beyond the vast Rhino universe. I've been grooving to Pell Mell, 18 Wheeler, Innocence Mission, Chris Von Sneidem, Richard Buckner, Yo La Tengo, and Chris Smither. This week's Rhino Trivia Question. First five correct answers get a Rhino baseball cap and a rare 2

CD collection chronicling Rhino's history: Tales From The Rhino. Q. What two (Arthur Lee &) Love songs were covered by Billy Bragg and the Damned respectively? Call 310-441-6652 or fax 310-441-6578.

The doctor's have sewn a pill into the lining of my stomach so I could handle all the extra brew consumed at the McGathy confab this year. What an incredible three days! Thanks to Bill, Rose, Steve, Binky, Phin and the whole crew for their hospitality and warmth. (Thanks to Bill for being my 'shadow' during the Yankee trip). Big Sugar is beginning to receive the awareness needed to be a major breakthrough act. KRZZ stepping out with us and now play at four different formats is helping us spread the word. You've met Gordie Johnson, the Big Sugar pit crew and the track "Ride Like Hell." Now it's time to drive that sucker all night. Are you digging the cover of Traffic's "Dear Mr. Fantasy" on the CD pro? What about the Memphis cum MC5 riffage of the Al Green classic "I'm A Ram." Get to know the Mopar sound of Big Sugar. Chris Duarte grows and grows daily. Over 10 months have passed since we went to progressive radio with "My Way Down" and now with our new single "Scrawl" we're poised to put this man over the top. The "Scrawl" CD pro is waiting for your add today June 19th!

AAA receives their first taste of Blue Mountain this week in the form of 5 Songs From Dog Days. The CD contains some great jams, including "Blue Canoe" (about getting the hell out of town to do some fishing), "ZZQ" (homage to the late Mississippi AOR that this band listened to while growing up), "Let's Go Running" (penned originally by a southern traveling salesman), "Wink" and "Jimmy Carter" ("serenaded by Willy, toasted by Billy, this President with honest peanut shoes...") Fans of Mr. Young, Tupelo, The Flying Burrito Brothers, and The Jayhawks are going to find a new love with Blue Mountain. Hopefully you've had a chance to see this band while they were on tour with Wilco. Check that mailbox... Modern Rockers like KUKQ (who have also added the b-side!) and X96 are already slamming the most unlikely cover tune of the year. "Summer Breeze," originally penned by musical geniuses Seals and Crofts, finds Type O Negative just as twisted and goth as ever. Bloody Kisses is pushing its way to Gold and anyone who's had success with "Christian Woman" or "Black No. 1" is sure to dig this track. Then there's that whole Playgirl thing...

Yes, yes, yes, yes, the rumors are true! After being bludgeoned by Rob Halford two nights in a row, I felt it a fair tribute to the heavy metal legend if I were to completely shave my head! The only negative is the two stitches (ouch) I needed after trying to get way close with my new electric razor! After a bogus waves and a mild sunburn, I feel compelled to tell the tale of NEW MUSIC! Smile's "Starting At The Sun" impacts now!!! This track is for those into heavy guitar based distortion rock!!! Coming soon: "10 Seconds Down," the new single from Sugar Ray, and a sampler of mind-blowing music MYC's fabulous CIV... the epic "Fred Bear" will be the new one from Ted Nugent (hey, Fred Bear killed an elephant with one arrow!). Finally, congrats to Mike Depippa and Joe Guzik of WSOU for landing killer gigs at EMI and Earache respectively, continuing the fine N.J. tradition!!!

The second leg of the Queensryche tour is underway. they're on their way through the deep south after four shows in Texas. Schnapp was in San Antonio, Houston, and Dallas, and reports spectacular shows, with the Queensryche sound and light experience being truly awesome, and the fans being unbelievably wild. Thanks to everyone at KISS radio for going above and beyond, and running a great promotion. Kevin, Virgil, and Jave you rule! Thanks to Cindy in Houston, of course. And everyone that same to Dallas: The Z-Rock posse, the Eagles posse, the Psycho posse, and the Abilene posse. FYI Schnapp was last seen trying to smuggle import eight tracks across the Mexican border!! Check out the new single for "Someone Else?," the last song on Promised Land. Spin it now... "Despite the recent heartbreaking fate of my Blackhawks (you win Jim 'all roads lead to Detroit' Cardillo), this devastated transplanted Chicagoan still has a reason to smile. I owe my new found grin to all the programmers who have given Papa Wemba his due. With support from KSCA, KGSF, KIOT, KTAO, KFMU, WRSI, WXPB, WYEP, WFUV and many others, A3 Radio has proven that there's room for 'World music' in this arena. All it took was a beautiful record. For those of you who have yet to warm up to Wemba's Emotion (Real World) check out 'Yolele', 'Show Me The Way' and 'Sala Keba.' Sorry, I couldn't get Kato to comment. I decided to get this credible quote from Mike Morrison instead, 'Properly set up, a little World music can really spice up the sound of your station and make listeners take notice. "Sala Keba" is perfect in this role.'... Many thanks to the early Bill Nelson believers as well. Anyone familiar with Bill's past (Be Bop Deluxe and Channel Light Vessel) is aware of the magnitude of talent presented on his long awaited solo release Practically Wired (Gyroscope). Bill has done more than give radio the ultimate instrumental album, he's provided programmers with the opportunity to raise the segue to an art form. Ask Loretta from AIM about the possibilities... Not much unless you're a fan of Randy Newman, Joe Jackson, or Todd Rundgren. If you're feeling left out because you haven't heard them yet, be patient. In just three short weeks you'll be fussing over them too."

This week, the Simmons Group from Salt Lake City took over ownership of KIOT, Coyote Radio in New Mexico. They decided that they wanted to make some changes, and to get a different perspective, they felt more comfortable with the folks at SBR. Most of the air staff was let go. General Manager Ellen Cavanagh and Program Director

Mike Marrone will stay in place. We wish them the best. Meanwhile, look for another Triple A/Progressive radio station to sign on in Albuquerque in the very near future. WSHE in Miami became an Alternative rock station Monday. If programmed properly, an adult alternative station should do very well in South Florida. As you might or might not know, I worked in that market in the 70's, and I believe a rhythmic-rock station could be tremendously successful. Best of luck to all involved in this exciting project!
