LET IT SNOW

The blizzard may be blanketing the eastern seaboard, but you'll have to excuse EastWest Chairman/CEO Sylvia Rhone for thinking it's a winter wonderland, as red-hot dancehall rapper Snow tops the HITS singles charts and his album explodes into the Top Ten. Toss in hit-makers En Vogue and Dream Theater and up-and-comers Men At Large, and you could say the label's experiencing an avalanche of success. Of course, after this HITS Contents appearance, it took a team of huskies and a search party to dig 'em out.

ON THE COVER

A&M's Sting celebrates the #1 debut of "Ten Summoner's Tales" by putting at least one between his legs with this HITS Cover shot.

Sting's "Ten Summoner's Tales" Debuts At #1 On The Albums Chart

PUBLIC STUNG!!!

Nirvana's Bosnian Benefit

Nirvana has announced they'll play a concert at the Cow Palace in S.F. on April 9 to benefit Bosnian rape victims, the only U.S. show planned by the band at this point. L7, Disposable Heroes of Hiphoprisy and the Breeders are also on the bill.

Proceeds from the $19.50 tickets will go to the Tresnjevka Women's Group, a Zagreb-based organization that is seeking to establish a shelter for female rape victims of the Bosnia-Herzegovina conflict. The group says the money will help the victims deal with the trauma of giving birth to children born of rape, assist mothers raising the children and expedite adoption of unwanted children.

No other benefits for the shelter had been announced at presstime.

Quick Hits

The Most Added singles this week at Top 40 are #1 Prince (P Pk/WB), #2 Michael Jackson (Epic), #3 PM Dawn (G St/IsI/PLG), #4 Tasmin Archer (SBK/ERG) and #5 Def Leppard (Mercury). Toad The Wet Sprocket (Columbia) also scores strong out of the box.

The GOOD Lenny

Lenny Kravitz: Killer first week -- #14 album debut.

LIFEbeat's Computer Plea

LIFEbeat, the music industry's fledgling AIDS organization which provides direct financial assistance and care to people living with AIDS in the music community, is in serious need of Macintosh computers. If you're a player and want to kick in some cash, or if you're greasing the dude at the computer store with a box of cleans — help!!! So, if you want one less mark in the ol' debit column when God finally balances your cosmic karma checkbook, call LIFEbeat at (212) 245-3240.

Those same wacky, wacky adult buyers that brought you Eric Clapton, Kenny G and Sade are at it again. This time, the object of their desire is Sting's A&M project, "Ten Summoner's Tales."

This week, the project debuts at #1 on the HITS Top 50 Albums chart, with monster sales across the board.

"It set a new record for us," said Navarre's Tom Tuomela who, after attempting to pronounce his own name for 15 minutes added, "This was the biggest out-of-the-box shipment ever for Navarre."

Transworld's Dave Roy noted, "I expected it to debut at #1 and it did!" Dave knows adults.

According to Wherehouse's Bruce Jesse, "Debating on our list at #1 in the face of post-Grammy Eric Clapton is really saying something!"

And it wouldn't be a lame lead story without a quote from the label — "Who's Sting, when's the album going to be released and what time is the Clippers' game?" queried A&M Marketing Einstein Jim Guerinot.

Anyone still doubting the power of the all-important and very-willing-to-buy adult market should now kick themselves in the teeth.

PIC OF THE WEEK

These People Have No Lives

KTRS Casper Wyoming MD Dave Collins and PD Martha Steele prove conclusively why the sheep are nervous in Casper. Said losers are holding the absolute worst entry in the station's Valentine's Day contest where all seven of their loyal listeners could qualify for prizes. Folks, let this be a reminder to you — inbreeding isn't pretty.

Quick Hits

MTV action this week includes adds on Van Halen (WB), Guns N' Roses (Gefen), Whitney Houston (Arista), Michael Jackson (Epic), Black Crowes (Def American/Rep), LL Cool J (Columbia), Tasmin Archer (SBK/ERG) and Williams/McKnight (Giant). There are neither rotation increases nor changes in Buzz Bin.

Two Guys Looking For Priscilla

That's WB Sr. VP A&R Michael Ostin and WB Sr. VP A&R/GM Black Music Division Benny Medina during their special private tour of Graceland. The two music industry gunslingers were so impressed with the home that they decided to spend a couple of minutes finding out who Elvis was.

Beat It

After an L.A. Superior Court judge dismissed an inventor's suit against Michael Jackson, the inventor reacted by punching two of the defense attorneys in court.

Moments after Judge David Yaffe turned down Hugo Zuccarelli's action, the inventor leaped to his feet and floored Jackson attorney Lawrence Iser with one punch. Zuccarelli also hit lawyer Tim Alger, an attorney for Sony Music. He was arrested and held for investigation of assault. Zuccarelli was reportedly more pissed off about not being invited to the Sony Grammy party than losing the suit.

Zuccarelli sued Jackson and Sony Music two years ago, charging the artist and his label used the inventor's three-dimensional sound system on the album "Bad" without paying a royalty.

Zuccarelli has subsequently been inked by Don King to mud wrestle Latoya Jackson on pay-per-view. Check your local listings.

WILD CARD

STEREO MC'S
G ST/ISL/PLG

Credit MTV Buzz Bin rotation and a #1 position at KRBE in Houston for setting off the spark on this rock/dance killer. Now, the major markets are flocking to the party including Z100, WHYT, Y95, WKBQ, B97, 99X, KTFM, KPLZ, KKFR, WAQQ, KROQ, WXKS, KWOD Q995, HOT977 and KIIS. Joe Riccitelli and staff are heating up. This one's coming home.....BIG!

Things Don't Go Better

Slaughter guitarist Timothy Kelly and band tour manager Scott Cadwallader were arrested in Las Vegas on charges of conspiring to send cocaine to several U.S. states six years ago.

The DEA claims the two delivered a kilo of coke in '87 to a Levittown, PA, man who is now serving a five-year sentence for drug possession and distribution. The agency alleges the pair were also involved in a nationwide drug smuggling ring.

Manager Bud Carr noted the band was formed two years after the alleged incident took place and have been active in anti-drug campaigns. Kelly and Cadwallader were freed on $50,000 bail apiece. If convicted, they could face a minimum five-year prison sentence.

Bobby D's Song

Sony Music has announced a distribution agreement with the newly formed Tribeca Music, a new division of the film and TV production company founded by Robert De Niro and Jane Rosenthal.

Tribeca Music will be a full-service music company whose releases will be distributed by Epic Records. The company will focus initially on the acquisition and distribution of soundtrack albums.

"Robert De Niro is a super-talent," commented Sony Music U.S. President Tommy Mottola. "He will be a magnet, attracting the brightest writing, acting, producing, directing and new musical talent to Tribeca. This is a groundbreaking opportunity for us and it gives me a chance to hang out with real Hollywood stars, not just these lame rock acts."

Added Epic Records President Dave Glew: "This new relationship brings together some of the most creative minds in the increasingly interrelated worlds of film and music. And now we can get a table at Tribeca's without a reservation."

As Executive VP of Tribeca Music, Philip Sandhaus will oversee all phases of the company's operation while working closely with Sony Music and Epic Records in developing music to support its films. The label's first release will be the soundtrack album for the feature "A Bronx Tale," which was directed by and co-stars Robert De Niro.

Commented De Niro: "You talking to me? No? Then get out of my face..."

Their Pal Joey

Incredibly pampered child actor and 16-year-old who has scored more hot babes than 99% of the adult males in America, Joey Lawrence, is seen celebrating his self-titled Impact/MCA release with three guys whose only previous experience with child actors has been locking themselves in a private room with a videotape of Brooke Shields in "Pretty Baby." Pictured secretly wishing Joey would go bald by 20 is (l-r): Impact President Jeff Sydney, Impact Sr. VP A&R Randy Nicklaus and MCA Records President Richard Palmese.

Two Photos We Ran Together

Vance Can Dance

Interscope Records' Jimmy Iovine and Ted Field have announced the formation of a music publishing division, Interscope Music, in conjunction with Warner-Chappel Music, to be helmed by veteran Ronny Vance "In His Pants."

Ronny Vance: Back at work.

Vance's initial signings include SWV and Martha Wash writer/producer Brian Morgan, rappers 2Pac and comic Denis Leary.

Vance was most recently president of Geffen Music, which he launched in 1987, signing such acts as Brenda Russell, the Sundays, Edie Brickell & New Bohemians and Stephen Sondheim. Geffen's publishing company was absorbed into MCA last spring.

Commented Vance: "We intend to be as aggressive as anybody in signing new talent. With the respect and credibility of Interscope's name in the music community, we can be as big as we want to be.... Hey, that's what Ted and Jimmy told me to say."

No Ordinary Joe

Outgoing Capitol-EMI President/CEO and diehard hoops fan Joe Smith has been named to the board of trustees of the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Massachusetts.

Long-time Lakers booster Smith said being named a trustee was "an incredible honor." He joins fellow appointees Robert Leger of Gillette, Warren Brown of USA Basketball and James Haney, executive director of the National Ass'n. of Basketball Coaches, on the board.

"The Hall of Fame has made a concerted effort to modernize its board of trustees," said executive director of the hall Joe O'Brien. "And let's face it... Joe Smith has gotten more air time on local broadcasts than half the guys on the Laker team."

Smith's first official act for the board will be to move Irving Azoff's season seats to the nose bleed section.

Einsteins

Rhino's Dave Kapp and Esa Katajamaki are seen answering the definitive question, "What's your cumulative IQ?"

Quick Hits

VH-1 adds this week are David Bowie (Savage), Carmen Electra (P K/WB), Peter Gabriel (Geffen) and Whitney Houston (Arista). Clannad (Atlantic/Atl G) is in Five Star rotation and Sting (A&M) is the Artist Of The Month.

Giving Guy

A&M Sr. VP Promotion Rick Stone shows he's much more than your average Promo weasel as he selflessly shares his body lice with new A&M diva Dina Carroll.

Quick Hits

MTV action this week includes adds on Van Halen (WB), Guns N' Roses (Geffen), Whitney Houston (Arista), Michael Jackson (Epic), Black Crowes (Def American/Rep), LL Cool J (Columbia), Tasmin Archer (SBK/ERG) and Williams/McKnight (Giant). There are neither rotation increases nor changes in Buzz Bin.

UNCONVENTIONAL WISDOM

The Stingeroo gets the major thumbs up as his new project explodes in its first week out. Meanwhile, major chatter revolving around Rap as the genre's short chart lull ends in a major way. Also on industry minds is the booming granola crowd. Pass the Lyle Lovett tape, please.

Sting ↑ Yuppie god joins Dead tour with album sales alive and kicking.

Rap ↑ What lull? Seven albums in the top 20.

The blizzard of '93 ↓ When EastWest does a Snow cross promotion, they don't screw around.

David Koresh ↓ Redneck loser manipulates media. If he's Jesus, we're Billboard.

Adult Post Modern ↑ Booming!!! Time for record stores to sell Granola?

Lenny Kravitz ↑ No bell bottom blues here. Album explodes.

NEAR TRUTHS

By I. B. Bad, Los Angeles

MTV is continuing to tweak its programming amid the current lovefest atmosphere that exists between the channel and the record labels. Look for more active, sales-generating, Generation X-leaning clips to be spun during the 9-10 am and noon-3 pm slots... Amid field-staff layoffs, ponderers are pondering what's happening at Morgan Creek. Are said layoffs a precursor of things to come?... Look for Tommy Mottola and Sony to diversify through a major push into parallel businesses in '93. Stay tuned on this one.... The Rap attack is in full swing, with six projects in this week's Top 20. The genre's massive money making success has been a major boom to the independent labels with such imprints as Priority, Tommy Boy, Profile, Rap-A-Lot and Next Plateau swimming in the serious dead presidents. With the exception of the still very Rap-active Atlantic Group and Columbia, wonderers are wondering if all the controversy and heat are leading most majors to concede this one to the indies... And speaking of independent distribution, is Time-Warner about to enter the indie field with a deal similar to the Sony/Relativity pact? Will Roadrunner and Restless be the first imprints pactured in the deal, and will said network service all T-W labels, or just the Atlantic Group? And is said plan proceeding with every T-W gunslinger's blessing?... Buzzers buzzing over the possibility of an N.W.A. reunion without Eazy E. Fact or fiction?... Twenty-year A&M vet Bill Gilbert resigns his Sr. VP Sales & Dist. post at the Chaplin Lot.... Sandy Gallin has inked Oleta Adams to his management world.... Despite prior chatter, Glen Parrish has always been Stevie Nicks' manager and, as a duo, the pair have jumped to numerous management wings since her last studio album. Why?.... Atlantic is crediting VH1 with breaking its Clannad track.... What A&R player is grist for the rumor mill again after a period of diminished tongue-wagging?... Is Westwood One's KQLZ Los Angeles going to Infinity?... Tons of chatter over Tim DuBois, who built Arista Nashville into a significant player. Will he be the recipient of the next "Bowenesque" deal and if so, will it be soon or at the end of his current pact?.... And speaking of deals, one monster overseas distribution pact is coming up in the near future. Is a HUGE deal in the works?.... Fishbone is the latest band to walk the edge of the Lollapalooza stage.... And once again, there are swirling erroneous rumors of a major overhaul at the Capitol tower. Naysayers are laying strong odds that said overhaul is nothing more than a fine tuning.... Names in the Rumor Mill this week: Artie Mogull, Lee Phillips, Kendall Barclay, Bob Bernstein, Rich Gallo and Marvin The Manipulator... and the beat goes on.

HUGE FEMALE RESPONSE & GROWING!

Orescan, Eh? To IRS

Paul "Either" Orescan has been named Vice President of Marketing and Promotion for IRS Records by label President Jay "Somewhere Over the Rain" Boberg.

Orescan most recently was President for I.R.S.' Canadian operation, where his duties included cleaning fish and trapping beavers. His new responsibilities will focus on the creation and execution of artist development and marketing campaigns, delivering upcoming tracks to radio and closing the lights after everyone leaves. Orescan was IRS' first employee in Canada and has been with the label for the past nine years.

Commented Boberg: "I have no idea who the guy is, but he said he'd work cheap, so the gig is his."

Paul Orescan: Had to pay his own way from Canada.

Clifton-Hanger

Roy:
Re: HITS, 2/15/93. Let me get this straight: Ross Perot can answer his phone in person, but Jerry Clifton can't. P.S. Who is Jerry Clifton?

Best wishes,
Andy Schwartz
Epic Records
N.Y.C., N.Y.

Clifton's Automatic Letters To The Editor answering machine replies: Jerry Clifton isn't here right now, but he'd like to know, who the hell are Ross Perot and Andy Schwartz? Leave the answer at the sound of the beep...

Dog Gone

Trakin:
Just got my copy of your 2/22 rag... er, mag and saw the picture of my dog, Pumpkin. First of all, what kind of editor misspells Pumpkin ("Pumkin")? Second, you insulted my wife Jocelynn. I can handle that, 'cause she deserves it, but I draw the line when someone insults my dog. A "stinky, little flea-ridden canine?" I think not. You can see from the photo that this dog is not "little" (86 lbs. to be exact). By the way, where's my photo credit?

The "Real Master,"
Bob Venetianer
(Venetian "Blind" -er)
BMG Distribution
New York, N.Y.

HITS Editors reply: What kind of wienie sends in a picture of his dog next to a trade magazine in the first place, let alone complains the stinky, little — er, large — flea-ridden canine's name is misspelled? Three small words, Bob...A TOTAL LOSER!!!

Palm Job

Dear Steve:
I'm sure by now you've been told "Wild Palms" is an Oliver

Stone mini-series, not a David Lynch project, but just in case...

Best regards,
Pat Lucas
EMI Music Publishing

HITS Editor replies: Actually, Pat, Steve was referring to the biopic David Lynch is making about Pross' life, "Hairy Palms." Sorry for the confusion.

Decking Holly

Dear Dave & Roy:
Thanks so much for running the photo of Dolly Parton (3/1). Of course, there are a few things we need to get straight... "Eagle When She Flies" is an album and the photo you were sent was from the platinum presentation breakfast we had for her!
"Slow Dancing With The Moon" is her new album, which just debuted on the country chart at #10 with a bullet. "Romeo," the all-star video/event single, is climbing the charts and generating cash for the American Red Cross.

Eeesh, isn't life wonderful? All this... and you guys managed to unload me on a Nashville label. Miss you much.

Holly Gleason
Sony Music
Nashville, TN

Dave & Roy reply: Of course, Holly, if you had made that clear in the original photo caption, we wouldn't have had the problem, but as we can see from the enclosed shot, they're keeping you just as occupied down there as we did up here.

FAR TRUTHS

By Rachel Felder, New York

Face it: New York is not Seattle (the coffee's not as good, for a start...), but last week's pair of SubPop gigs on the same night — Pond at CB's, Love Battery at the Grand — might lead you to think otherwise. Mike Mena, Peter Shershin, Fred Davis, Stuart Meyer, Al Smith, Tim Carr, Karin Berg, Michael Hill, Mary Gormley, Michael Krumper, Rick Chertoff, Michael Tedesco, Clay Sparks and Head Popper Jonathan Poneman piled into CB's to check out Pond. However, most of the crew headed over to the Grand mid-set, joining David Kahne, Glen Boothe, Patrick Clifford and Lauren Zelisko, among others... The next night at Knitting

Making Tracks

Juliana Hatfield: Riding "Underground Railroad."

Factory to see ultra-charming Small Factory, I bumped into Leigh Lust, Steve Yegelow, Robert Greenbaum, David Levine (now scouting for Vernon Yard)... and a loaded piece of graffiti about Matador head Gerard Cosloy on the women's bathroom wall. If I see scribbles about any other label presidents ('tho somehow I think what people might write about Charles Koppelman or Clive Davis wouldn't be quite as salacious), you'll be the first to know... Excuse me for sounding hipper-than-thou, but wait until you hear the compilation of pre-buzz Pavement singles (which some of us bought way back when), out on Drag City right after SXSW. It's predictably obtuse title? "Westing (By Musket and Sextant)"... Backstage at Kristin Hersh's recent solo set: Seymour Stein, Joe McEwen and Lenny Kaye... I'm not exactly sure why no one's signed Shudder To Think yet — the buzz is huge, they are great, and they have a massive fan base. But they did have a very intense dinner with Ken Friedman at Time Cafe the other night (Managing Ed. note: I'm sure he was late)... I admit that I've always had a weak spot for Buffalo Tom, and so schlepped out to Maxwell's to see their — count 'em — two sold-out shows. Also in the crowd were: Richard Grabel, Shira Berk, Ken Weinstein and manager Tom Johnston, who should have a 1-800 number to field all the phone calls he's taken on Bettie Serveert, whom he also represents... Swilling San Pellegrino at Cesarina: Tommy LiPuma with Everything But The Girl... People here are watching the "Underground Railroad," a weekly cable show which is the place to see videos by the likes of the Afghan Whigs, Unrest, Sugar and Juliana Hatfield as well as the fabulous Come "Submerge" video. It's sort of a hip "120 Minutes"... Is it a contradiction in terms to say that there are some very cool publishing deals in the works? For example, deep in negotiation are EMI contracts with Gumball and Black 47, along with Virgin's deal with Cell. And one of my fave commercial alternative bands, Bash and Pop, is a David Stamm/Warner-Chappell signing... If you haven't heard Pram — Too Pure's latest discovery — you should.

THE ATLANTIC GROUP

METAL AND Alternative:

The Twain Is Meeting

An exclusive HITS roundtable

by Joe Medwick

What's metal and what's alternative? Whatever it's called, the two idioms are coming closer and closer together in a wide variety of bands that have drawn fans from both camps in busting through to the pop music mainstream — from the Seattle bands like Nirvana, Pearl Jam and Soundgarden to offshoots like speed-metal, grindcore, death-metal and thrash-punk which have attracted adherents from either side of the PoMo/Heavy Metal divide.

Can Lonn and Ivana learn to live together in peace with their Chili Pepper albums? HITS' own cross-pollination between a bear and a human, Joe "Is It A Bird, Is It A Plane, It's A Ducky" Medwick, asked the savviest bunch of metalalternative experts this side of Tacoma for a solution to this enigma inside a riddle... and had the nerve to hand in the following uncategorizable mess.

Are alternative and metal obsolete as terms? Have the two become one?

DAVE SWANSON, Manager, Chris' Warped Records,

Lakewood, OH: Metal has always been pretty well-defined and has remained the same over the years. The alternative tag is definitely obsolete because it's become totally meaningless. The bands that they lump together as alternative most of the time either have nothing in common outside the fact that they are new bands or simply can't be defined. It used to be a description of not so much a style of music as a mind set. Now any new band that doesn't sound like Bon Jovi is called alternative. If Nirvana sells as many records as Bon Jovi, are they still considered alternative? So, I think at this point it's really a meaningless phrase. I guess the two sometimes meet in a band like Helmet. The metal people like them, but because they have short hair and wear shorts, alternative people think they're alternative.

JEFF "LUNCH," Manager/God, Zia's, Tempe, AZ:

It's hard to define the two. They may well be becoming obsolete. Everyday they tend to meet more and more. It is hard to figure out where to put a band like Soundgarden. Are they metal or alternative? It kind of works both ways. When someone says, "I want something hard to listen to," you can follow up with, "Well, do you want speed metal or something lighter?" It's getting really, really hard to tell the difference. Basically, we let people call it whatever they want to call it. Last week, I had someone ask me for some "new wave" music.

DOUG KEOGH, VP/GM Roadrunner Records: There is an incredible amount of overlap these days. Defining them is tough. In many people's minds, alternative is the kind of jangly guitar sound typified by R.E.M., while metal is Ozzy Osbourne, Iron Maiden, Judas Priest and so on. But you notice that all those bands have been around for a long time. It's like Marshall McLuhan's rear-view mirror theory of life — we can only understand the future by looking at the past. Those divisions are very much in the past. Duke Ellington said there are only two kinds of music, good music and bad. Having said that, there are other areas that are opening up that are more defined niche areas of music. Two areas that we are involved in are death-metal and industrial.

MARK PICKEREL, Owner, Rodeo Records, Ellensburg, WA: I don't try to define either one of them stores where we've developed this kind of loyal following that are into the harder stuff.

JILL GLASS, Exec. Dir. of Marketing, A&M Records:

The terms are useful as a reference point, a sorting process. It allows you to avoid embarrassing mistakes such as working a Butthole Surfers record at Urban radio.

Other than that, they're becoming increasingly obsolete.

What artists are at the forefront of the metal and alternative scenes?

SWANSON: Someone like Superchunk has a lot of potential because they are off in their own Along with Pearl Jam, Pantera and Stone Temple Pilots. And we can't forget about Gwar. Their stuff flies out the door as soon as it comes in.

GLASS: If being at the forefront is synonymous with achieving a commercial breakthrough with integrity intact, Soundgarden and Pantera are at the top of my list. Dinosaur Jr., Pond and Belly seem poised for similar success. I think Dave Wyndorf of Monster Magnet and Kat Bjelland of Babes In Toyland, by sheer force of personality, will power their more extreme forms of self-

“Now any new band that doesn't sound like Bon Jovi is called alternative. If Nirvana sells as many records as Bon Jovi, are they still considered alternative?” Dave Swanson because it's gotten to be such a mess. Sometimes customers force me to define them. It's easier for me to define "alternative" than it is to define "metal." The true meaning of alternative to me is not necessarily weird or obscure, but something a little more challenging than usual. I really do see the two types of music meeting. And many times in positive ways... Nirvana, Red Hot Chili Peppers and Soundgarden have a huge heavy metal following, but those bands are more influenced by what would be considered alternative bands than what would be thing. The really successful quote-unquote alternative bands have been those who've done basically just what they wanted and were oblivious to everything else.

LUNCH: I'd have to say Gin Blossoms are right on top of things here. I don't think they've been made. They've kind of made themselves right here in our neighborhood.

KEOGH: Rock & roll has always been a revolution against what's come before. There will continue to be extreme music which will bring about definitions and clear-cut divisions, but you can bet, by the time it's generally expression to the forefront in short order. These acts have that transcendent, uncompromising quality that compels you to become involved with their music.

Where are the most important areas of artist development for these bands?

SWANSON: For many bands, it's still college radio and word-of-mouth. Video and press seem to come after the fact. The prepackaged, record company so-called "alternative" bands are usually right out there with the video and all the rest, but most times it's just hype.

LUNCH: Retail word-of-mouth is important.

“Basically, we let people call it whatever they want to call it,” Jeff Lunch considered heavy metal bands. Those influences have given them a more challenging sound that kids are really turning on to. It's the first time they've heard something really refreshing in hard rock.

STEVE KEELER, Owner, Rock Fantasy, Middletown, NY: That's a tough question. Mainly we deal with hard rock. I don't do a lot of alternative business. We sell a lot of Deicide, Hobbityary, Goreguts and stuff like that. If you want to call Pearl Jam, Soundgarden and Helmet alternative, then they are big movers, but we don't really think of them as alternative. We've been going since '85 and when we first opened, Mötley Crüe and groups like that were big in the area but didn't sell well here. We were selling Venom, Metallica... the heavier thrash stuff like that. The kids seemed to pick up more of the poser type music in the chain recognized, it'll no longer be valid. Jane's Addiction was one band that got acceptance in the metal area. Ministry certainly brought industrial into the mix. One of our bands, Sepultura, is a good example of how music is changing. When they were touring this fall, they had the wonderful opportunity to be on two of the major tours of America — they opened on Ozzy's so-called final tour, along with Alice In Chains, and right after that, they went out with Ministry and Helmet.

PICKEREL: I see some groups who are definitely cashing in on the whole scene. Rocket From the Crypt and Metal Flake Mother are at the top of my stack. They're great. They've got a nice pop edge without consciously trying to make the next Nirvana record.

KEELER: Deicide, Sick Of It All, Pro-Pain, Megadeth, Metallica, Slayer are still up there.

Radio still creates a buzz. If a customer has something in their hand and a clerk at a record store says, "Hey, if you like that, you'll like this," that's real. I don't know if all the hype in magazines like Rolling Stone can do that.

KEOGH: It's a very crowded field out there. And it has been since the early '70s. MTV kicked in and has created this rock star mythology. There are a lot of really good bands out there. If something is really great, of course, it doesn't matter. When you are talking about artist development, you are really talking about those bands that are near great or could be great. What sells records with groups like that is word-of-mouth.

PICKEREL: I live in a town two miles from Seattle and the only major form of media that's really selling a lot of records for me is MTV. For instance, I had Pearl Jam in stock for six months and literally sold maybe two or three copies. And then, within a matter of one or two weeks, I must have had around 20 requests for it because it was added into "Buzz Bin" or something.

KEELER: It's been kind of tough up here because we haven't really had any metal radio. MTV is really the only thing and I do see that anything that is played on heavier rotation on MTV is selling out of here pretty well. In the last few months, we've had a Z-Rock affiliate up here and they are playing Dream Theater, Jackyl and some things I didn't think would sell you don't just have metal, but speed metal, grind core and all this crap when in the end, it's only rock & roll.

KEOGH: It's not so much what kind of music it is as what's cool. When you go to school on a Monday morning and tell your friend the album you bought over the weekend and he says, "Oh man, that's cool," you feel like you're socially accepted. To a large degree, that's why people buy music, regardless of the classification.

PICKEREL: I see things blending together. I have kids coming into the store buying both lawyers anyway, so it doesn't really matter what they think. They're basically pack followers.

LUNCH: In our neighborhood, we have more than a few poser folks, but then you always have the record junkies that couldn't care less what you call it. If it's good, it's good. I think we see a lot of people who say, "I only listen to alternative music period." Or "I only listen to metal." I don't know, but that's not wide enough for me.

KEOGH: Music is a very social thing. It's the way a great many young people define

"The true meaning of alternative to me is not necessarily weird or obscure, but something a little more challenging than usual," Mark Pickerel at all. But it's really helped business. There have been records that I haven't had in stock that I've had to noticeably up orders on.

GLASS: We try to reach the audience through whatever means are available, which obviously vary wildly depending on the act. Since radio and video exposure isn't available across the board for all of our artists, we put intense emphasis on touring, press and exposure at independent retail. Through this, the bands organically develop a core audience which remains constant and loyal, and their growth is not retarded should they not be compatible with Garth Brooks and Cypress Hill. Another one will buy Megadeth and Fugazi. Or Bob Marley and Megadeth. So I think people's minds are really starting to open up to all the different genres. Which is great.

KEELER: I see it being divided even worse than it was before. Especially with live shows. Years ago, if it was a heavy show, people would want to go see it. Now you've got all these categories like death metal.

Some kids think Slayer are too wimpy. Then they go to Decide and maybe they are too light. And, of course, they're not themselves. And it is about culture. The way you dress. There is a wonderful cross-culturalization going on with alternative and metal. You're seeing more and more people kind of cross-dressing, if you will. And that's indicative of the music crossing over. Alternative and metal is becoming the mainstream. Look at Nirvana and Helmet. It's the best mainstream we've ever had.

PICKEREL: Some of the people that come in care about the terms and some don't. I prefer the customer that doesn't. I do have customers that come in and sort of bug me "Alternative and metal is becoming the mainstream. Look at Nirvana and Helmet. It's the best mainstream we've ever had," Doug Keogh the trend-du-jour at radio or MTV. Many of our roster artists come equipped, through their own industriousness or our urging, with a lot of the artist development groundwork already laid. They've released indie singles or albums, worked their way into the fanzine and indie retail network and found creative ways to mount cross-country tours. In circumstances when we get involved with bands before they've reached this stage, we adopt an indie attitude and make sure we deal with all the grass-roots artist development issues before attempting to push the band towards main-going to like Pearl Jam. That kind of close-mindedness is not good.

GLASS: I suppose micromarket is merely a scary marketing term that alludes to the genesis of sub-genres such as the grindcore/deathmetal scene or the semi-revolting flesh-piercing thing that Genitorturers are doing. New trends always seem fringe at first, but then five years ago, I never would have imagined that my mother could sing the chorus to "Enter Sandman." The whole cross-pollination trend is very exciting and hopefully permanent. I think it's when they'll sit and make fun of the latest Mötley Crüe release and then they'll buy Pearl Jam and Soundgarden. Even though there is a difference, when they think that they are buying something really on the edge, I feel they're missing the point. You do find kids making sure they're buying an alternative rather than a heavy metal release when in fact there isn't a damn bit of difference between the two.

KEELER: We don't really have a whole lot of categorization here; it's all in pretty much one big bin. Of course, it's all basically heavy

"I remember how completely embarrassed I was to discover many years ago that I liked REO Speedwagon's 'High Infidelity' record," Jill Glass stream consciousness. This is the approach we're taking with Therapy?, Paw, Hammerbox and Monster Magnet.

Do you see these genres splintering into even more micro-marketed areas or will they begin cross-pollinating?

SWANSON: I would hope that the ultra-segmenting of everything would stop. It's become really ridiculous where everybody has to fit into some neat kind of bracket. It used to be just music. People liked it for what it sounded like, not the section it came out of.

LUNCH: I see it all going into a big melting pot. In some ways, I think it's going to get back to, "Do you remember rock & roll?" I mean, we used to have rock, country and classical. Now incredibly healthy to see the boundary lines blurring. It seems to signal that people are responding to music because the songs and the presentation are strong.

Do most people you talk to even care what's alternative or metal?

SWANSON: It seems pretty split. Many buyers are just into the music. You can tell by the variety of their purchases that they are music people. There is a whole other crowd very obviously into the scene thing, with the backwards baseball cap, the correct shorts, haircuts, etc. And they come in and buy what they think they're supposed to buy. Those people will all grow up to become metal, hard rock. It just seems like, whatever sounds good to them, they'll pick up. Pretty simple, really.

GLASS: Do people care about tags? By that, I'm assuming you mean real people as opposed to record company executives. Sure, I suppose out of some sense of insecurity or peer pressure. I remember how completely embarrassed I was to discover many years ago that I liked REO Speedwagon's "High Infidelity" record. But my friends and I survived the humiliation and went on to live incredibly fruitful lives. Ultimately, I hope that what people care about is the music. ■

POST TOASTED By Ivana B. Adored

EXILE IN GUYVILLE: As pathetically frightened as I am of flying, the lure of the SXSW Confab (and the Neiman Marcus outlet) makes Austin, TX. the place to be this weekend. You won't have any trouble spotting me; I'm the pale one with the white knuckles. Austin's the coolest place on the planet; what other city has two of the format's best programmers, with Jody Denberg at KGSR and Paul Kriegler at KNNC as well as Waterloo, the record store music aficionados hail as the country's finest! The only thing that will majorly suck this weekend is the Commercial Alternative Radio panel, moderated by yours truly. Feel free to stop by and heckle....Will members of R.E.M. be joining Robyn Hitchcock for his acoustic in-store at Waterloo this Friday?.... What a weird chart week! It's the Stingmeister, entering the chart at #1! Hanging at the top of the chart with Lenny Kravitz,

PAUL KRIEGLER:

Our Yellow Rose Of Texas!

who catapults in at #6. Making room in the Top 10 for Frank Black, who entered at #13, a debut spurred by massive first week PoMo sales. What an act of solidarity; all the little Gen Xer kids were able to brave the blizzard and swipe enough money out of their parents' wallets to be the first on their block to hear Frank's version of "Hang On To Your Ego"..... Don't let the downward chart moves for Jellyfish and School of Fish distract you into thinking these records aren't gaining forward momentum; they're performing quite well, thank you very much..... There are some incredibly exceptional records available for your programming pleasure this week: How about that new David Bowie single? Pretty damn awesome, don't you think? Have you heard the special-sneak-preview Midnight Oil track, "Drums Of Heaven?" I've never been much of a fan, but this is really great. The new World Party single "Is It Like Today" is everything you could hope for; pure, unadulterated genius. And make sure you absolutely add "Creep" by Radiohead this week. Also, please, please, please pursue The Pursuit Of Happiness! I'm being so emphatic because these are all perfect records for the format and, you see, I've got to start this new Adult Post Modern chart this week, so I don't have time to be looking over your shoulder to make sure you're playing the right records and keeping your salt intake to a minimum..... Records you should buy: Auteurs, Grant Lee Buffalo, Iris Dement, Best Kissers, Tasmin Archer and Roseanne Cash.

No pate, we gotta motor! We're hoppin' the first flight outta here to Austin, to our favorite hang of the year, the South By Southwest Con-fab. As soon as we get to town, our first stop is the Austin Music Awards. We absolutely must get there in time to see KGSR PD Jody Denberg accept his awards for Best DJ (his eighth consecutive year!) and for Station Of The Year for KGSR. Why, he's a regular Eric Clap-ton! (And you always wondered why we call him "Slow Hand"....)

School of Jellyfish

"Spilt Milk" is one of the most meticulously recorded albums I've ever heard. How long did it take to get it the way you wanted?

ANDY STURMER: Six months in the studio, but months before that actually making the rough demos for the songs. We kept getting better ideas for arrangements as we went along, so we couldn't stop until we had it exactly.

The lush vocals will be difficult to reproduce on-stage. Will you be using backing tapes? Or a choir of Jellyfish fans with good throats?

ANDY: Neither. We've got four great singers in the band now; any of us could sing lead in any band. We refuse to use the click tracks or backing tapes when we record, so live is the same deal.

ROGER MANNING: Besides, sounding exactly like the CD isn't our aim.

ANDY: It's more exciting live with the real thing.

With your retro garb and Queen-meets-ELO-meets-Supertramp sound, some folks regard you as a '70s tribute.

ANDY: It could hardly be called a tribute. We take as much from the '80s and '60s as we do from the '70s. Personally, I'm more into Gershwin and Cole Porter these days than anything else. It's just that when you do a lavish production live, it seems like a '70s thing, because all current records are made with the same Fairlights and sequencers. Modern records are bland.

ROGER: We play the way we hear. If you hear the new Mariah Carey, it sounds like the new Boyz II Men or something, because that's what they think state of the art is. Take a record like Michael Jackson's "Dangerous." That's really good production for now, but we can't do things that way.

What about the clothes?

ANDY: People buy our records because they like the music; they don't care what we look like. I really believe that critics make a bigger deal out of the clothes than anyone else does, because it's some kind of an indoor sport or something.

ROGER: One guy likened us to Kurt Weill. I've never even heard of him. Another one said we'd copped licks from the Move. I might have heard one Move song. We're not on any recreation thing at all. The Dukes of Stratospheer, we aren't. But they do liken us to some cool stuff like the Zombies. That's all right.

In the first single, "The Ghost At Number One," you mention a Mrs. Lynn. I thought she might be Jim Morrison's mom or something from the lyrics.

ANDY: [Laughs.] No, she was Roger's kindergarten teacher. We needed a one-syllable name and that's what we came up with.

ROGER: One guy thought it was a reference to Jeff Lynne. The Move again.

What about the CD opener, the lullabye. That one sounds fairly tricky.

ANDY: A real pain in the ass. I sang it with Roger on piano, but my performance was so-so. I liked the feel of it, so we changed the key through a pitch-changer and triple-tracked the rest of the vocals.

The one after that, "Fan Club," is what one might call Beatlesque.

ANDY: Oooh, I hate that word! Well, it does have that McCartney change from the root note up to the third and...

ANDY: Oh no, a musician! We should have known.

Sorry. What was it like working with Albhy Galuten again?

ANDY: He's from the old school,

Time for some bellbottoms and mood rings with JELLYFISH

by JOHNNY ANGEL

They may blanch at the description "musical archivists," but Jellyfish, with their made-in-'76 attire and the lush-than-life production on their two albums, are getting dangerously close to being the Avatars of Atavism. They don't see it that way, of course, and neither do their fans, who appreciate the Bay Area quartet's dedication to the lost art of studio savvy.

Jellyfish have just released a second LP on the Charisma label, "Spilt Milk," which expands on the pop-mavenhood of "Bellybutton," the band's debut. Produced by one-time Bee Gees boardman Albhy Galuten, "Spilt Milk" is chock-full of the walls-of-harmony, hook-upon-hook trademark of these perfection fanatics. To discuss these subtleties, HITS' resident rock star wannabe and A&R gadfly, Johnny "In The Groin" Angel, called on the band's two principals, Andy Sturmer and Roger Manning, to get the lowdown on their new assault to re-acquaint the world with, as they put it, "real people music."

which we liked right away. We didn't care about the old Bee Gees connection, even if their records did sound great. He told us this story about Robert Stigwood calling Barry Gibb up one day and saying, "I need a song called 'Grease,'" and Barry knocked it out in one day, and the rest is history. Heavy.

Do you like any current stuff?

ANDY: I like Nine Inch Nails, Los Lobos' "Kiko" and the new American Music Club is amazing.

ROGER: I like Jackyl. That chainsaw solo rules.

Are you guys Redd Kross fans?

ANDY: We've toured with them and we visit them when we're in L.A., but it's weird, they don't talk about music.

ROGER: They tape these beauty pageants, then sit around and watch them. They like talent shows with no talent.

ANDY: Yeah like, "Here's Miss Orange County, 1992." They love that. ■

TIME FOR SOME SOAP AND
BUBBLES WITH GOO GOO DOLLS
BY SEAN O'NEILL

GOO Vibrations

GOO GOO DOLLS don't want to save the world nor do they want to be the new Replacements. They don't care about fashion, or what section of the CD bins their record ends up in. They just want to rock the house, play good songs and make the people move, so everybody goes home tired and sweaty and happy.

"SUPERSTAR CAR WASH," their new Metal Blade/WB release, is a flat-out asskicker. Packed front to back with high energy, melodic angry young man anthems, the record brings to mind the glory days of the Buzzcocks, the Clash, and yeah OK, the 'Mats, but with a style and sound all its own. With the right promo push and a little bit of luck, these guys just may break in a big way.

THEY CERTAINLY deserve it. For not only do Goo Goo Dolls put together great songs, but they're also genuinely nice, unpretentious guys. Which may explain why guitarist/singer Johnny Rzenzik, bassist/singer Robby Takac and drummer George Tutuska were plainly horrified when they were forced to spend time with HITS' resident bourbon-soaked barfly, Sean "Topsy" O'Neill.

This sounds like a real rock & roll record to me, and I was glad to hear it, because sometimes I feel like I don't know what rock & roll is anymore.

ROBBY TAKAC: Over the past ten years, things have become factioned off. I think it's starting to break down now, and that's why it's hard to define a lot of stuff.

JOHNNY RZENZIK: A lot of people in this post-hardcore thing are wandering around with not much direction goin', "Uh, oh, let's find some old records and sound like this for awhile." Not to put anybody down musically or anything.

I never really knew what punk-rock meant either.

JOHNNY: It was new rock music, like a new form of high-energy rock & roll. And the uniform was different, but...

ROBBY: It was just different than the Led Zeppelin/Deep Purple mainstream at the time. I don't think the word applies anymore, because the mainstream has come around now to all these other things.

JOHNNY: For an incredibly small community, it's amazing how many people the record industry touches and influences. This whole thing about "alternative" is, they've just replaced the old icons with new ones. It's gonna become stale again and there'll be new ones to replace the old ones.

ROBBY: It's bred this new sort of band that's trying to be the alternative to the alternative bands. And it's producing some pretty crappy music. It's like all of a sudden, if you're playing songs that have hooks and melodies, you're a pop band. And you're no longer alternative. Because you're mixing with the mainstream.

JOHNNY: From the cock-rock assholes and the punk rock geeks to the rap guys and everybody else... they've all got their uniforms and rules, no matter what scene you're in.

And fuck 'em all. It's like Groucho said, I wouldn't want to be a member of a club which would have me as a member.

JOHNNY: Exactly. Fuck 'em all. GEORGE TUTUSKA: It's something that's gotta be torn down.

It's like the difference between hip and cool. Hip is trendy, cool is being true to yourself.

GEORGE: We did an interview with a magazine where this guy asked me what I thought was cool and my response was almost identical to what you just said. This guy could not understand that. He was saying, "The first thing I do when I pick my friends is to find out what kind of music they listen to." And I was like, "Some of my best friends in the world, I wouldn't be caught dead listening to their music..."

JOHNNY: Music ultimately ends up being background noise at someone's party. To put that much emphasis on a person's character based on the kind of music they like is ridiculous.

GEORGE: Or on the kind of clothes they like or how long their hair is.

JOHNNY: Or he's a vegetarian or black or whatever — it's prejudice.

Kid stuff.

GEORGE:

That's what we ended up saying to this guy... "You're an adolescent fascist. Drop dead, goodbye."

JOHNNY: Y'know, Irving Berlin wrote amazing songs.

It's an unbroken line from Cole Porter through Hank Williams to Prince.

JOHNNY: You know what it is? It's kinda like goin' to college and bein' just an English major, so all you do all day long is study English. No, you don't do that. You go to math class, then you take a sculpture class. You have to round your musical taste out the same way.

You guys have been accused of copying the Replacements, but the Replacements ripped off the Beatles/Stones, who both ripped off Chuck Berry, who ripped off Louis Jordan.

JOHNNY: When you're talking about modern music, the only real visionaries, as far as it goes, were the slaves. Because they were the ones that invented the blues.

GEORGE: Now don't get me wrong because I like the band, but I once said to our old producer, if the evil white men hadn't brought slaves over, every band in America would sound like Metallica.

ROBBY: It'd all be goose-step rock. ■

POST MODERN

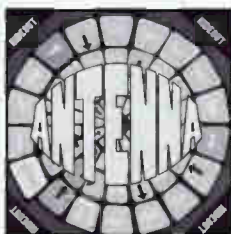

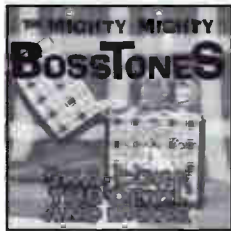

POMO PICKS

Edited by Karen Glauber

Slaughterhouse 5, "Wide Open" (IRS): One would think that Northern England's Slaughterhouse 5 are pretty brave for choosing the moniker of one of the literary world's most complex novels. "Wide Open" is multi-faceted in a way Vonnegut never knew. It's full of raw, ragged, fuzztuned guitars with staccato lyric lines and hallowed-voiced oo's and aa's burping along with the rhythm section. Run to your garage and turn the volume up, and get a dose of spring fever's favorite tri-chord love medicine. (Meredith Chinn)

The Mighty Mighty Bosstones, "Ska-Core, the Devil and More" (Mercury): If only for the amazing cover versions of hardcore classics "Lights Out" by Angry Samoans, "Think Again" by Minor Threat and "Police Beat" by Boston straight-edgers SSDecontrol, this EP preview of the upcoming album is well worth the price of admission. Throw in the skank-worthy, horn-driven original smasher, "Someday I Suppose," and you've got a ska/slam masterpiece. As lead ranter Dicky Barrett puts it, "Anybody can be just mighty."

Antenna, "Hideout" (Mammoth): Lilt-ing guitars with plenty of dry vibrato merge with the wash of close harmonies on this collection of outstanding songs from this endearing young band. The cheesy organ on "Dreamy" makes for gentle humor amidst the song's rather dreary thoughts. These fellas can really craft a pop song when they put their minds to it. In fact, once-wonderful bands that have fallen on hard songwriting times might consider poaching the completely contagious "Don't Be Late" for that all-important next elpee.

Dolomite, "...of the angels" (Fiasco): Now that the A&R lemmings are flocking around sweet little Dolomite, how long will it be before Thinking Fellers Union Local 282 signs a multi-million dollar deal? This darling of the PoMo press might very well be the most accomplished and inventive of the dis-rock bunch that includes greats like Butthole Surfers and Jesus Lizard. Now that grunge is dead, will flannel shirts and Timberlands be replaced by drool cups and adult diapers? Will HITS shamelessly perpetuate the weasel-fest? God let's hope so.

POMO WEEDEATER MASSACRE NARROWLY AVERTED: Former 'Mat, Paul Westerberg, and current Matt, Wallace, are shown here following their release from the Emotional Trauma ward at POMO General. Only hours before, a lunatic, mumbling something about how God-like the Goo Goo Dolls and "Class Of '96" are, lunged for their hair with the universally-feared garden tool. Said Westerberg, "She was kinda cute, really, but sorta, you know, moody." Wallace called the incident, "Annoying, but oddly arousing."

FRIEND TO ALL

My humblest apologies to Derek Simon and my friends at Sony Music for leading you to believe Judas Priest was over. On the contrary, dudes, new product is coming in May, called "Metal Works '73-93," a killer compilation that signals a new era for Priest as the band searches for a vocalist to replace Rob Halford. Thanks, Derek for Fish's amazing "Songs from the Mirror." Is Polydor gonna give my giant gifted compatriot a shot this time stateside? I await Sky Daniels' phone call... Can you hear that blaring out of my office? It's the long-awaited Anthrax Elektra debut, "Sound Of White Noise." Next week, the review... My faith was restored last Friday night at the Forum. Very simply, the best Bon Jovi performance I've ever witnessed, and I've seen a bunch of 'em goin' back to "Slippery" days. "Dry Country" was breathtaking live. Can't wait for the movie... Is Xtra Large the hippest, hardest, hungriest, most likely-to-succeed band on Giant Records? Me thinks so... The Paul Rodgers/Muddy Waters tribute is the coolest thing to come out of Victory since Phil Carson hung his shingle. It grooves... Great to see Living Colour performing so well at radio and retail. This band is important to rock in so many ways. Keep it up, brothers... My hero Sid Presley at 100.3 has turned me on to Dinosaur Jr. and Pond, but don't worry, headbangers, I ain't gettin' PoMo. It's just an eclectic phase... Who else besides me, Ivana and Gene Simmons loves Jellyfish's "Joining A Fan Club"?... Testament's "Return To Serenity" may be the sleeper smash o' the year, with 120 stations and climbing. Chuck Billy, yer time has come... Attention album PDs: If you can't see yourself playing Enuff Znuuff's blustery "Right By Your Side," do what I did Saturday night and give "Mary Ann Lost Her Baby" a spin. It rocks, as does most of this excellent disc. Thanks to Chip and Donnie, Howard Stern finally uttered my name on the air. I hail thee, again... Lenny Kravitz is smokin' — in more ways than one!... My info tells me that Vince Neil's got the Van Halen tour, Stone Temple Pilots are first in line for Aerosmith and Extreme will open for Coverdale/Page — if and only if — Jimmy Page gets to like the Boston quartet real quick... Approaching ten million worldwide and Metallica's Lars Ulrich still calls just to say, "Hi"... Get your hands on "A Taste O' Slab," a delightful CD pro of Def America's next monster, Raging Slab... Mark Rider at Q Prime has inked Bryan Huttenhower's Paw. Throw in genius Jim Guerinet and the crack A&M promo dept. and who knows how far this May release could fly?.. Happy b'day Megan Rose! I worship your tiny rockin' soul... Friend out...

OVER THE EDGE

Our Boston source tells us tho' the Gunners canceled due to the storm, the Duffster took in local talent at a neighborhood pub, where he capped off the evening by losing his lunch all over himself and the bar. Sorry we missed it... Heard Aerosmith's new "Get A Grip," which hits the streets 4/20. First metal track is "Living on the Edge," going for adds on 3/30. It's truly great. Thanks to Geffen's Michelle Shore and Sharon White for great chow and listening session... Sick of It All rocked the Palace. Got to see Maria, who flew in for the show, as well as Dyana, Linnea, Greenwood and Kathie Reed (congrats on the new gig, babe-o). Very sorry to say we missed Biohazard. We were busy stuffing food down our throats compliments of MCA. (In case you haven't figured this out yet, we're easy. Just feed us)... Tool! "Undertow"! Going for adds 3/23... Congrats to Testament. "Ritual" got top metal honors at the 16th annual "Bammies." New seven-track EP, "Return to Apocalyptic City," out 4/6... New Voivod is wonderful. Their sound is truly unique and this could be their breakthrough. "The Outer Limits," out 5/11... If you haven't already done so, call Doug Jeab at Z-Rock's newest, WHZT in Champaign at (217) 355-1059... Get well wishes to Cancer drummer Carl Stokes who got introduced to a van. Unfortunately, he was on his motorcycle at the time... CD alert. WXCI's John Rich had his entire music library stolen... The commitment the majority of you record geeks make to your acts is nothing short of incredible. Regardless of what some may think, your dedication to your bands is what's making the difference with the next stage of (insert band name here)'s career. You should all take this column to the person who signs your paycheck and let them know you're due for a huge raise. The fact that most of the stations we all deal with understand, appreciate and help support our tasks is the main link in the chain, so ditto for you guys in the raise department. Too bad most of you don't get paid. Thank you... Warrant. History... Got mail from Elektra! Amazing! Jessica Harley's taking care of biz with Anthrax coming... Wondering why photos from you aren't running here? Don't have any. Keep us updated with new bios and b&w photos... And tho' it cost us a measly $10, we'll still take the Kings over the Rangers anytime...

Time for some thorazine and a strait jacket with Therapy? by Jennie Punter

SHOCK

THERAPY?

Why go to the hospital when you can just have Therapy? and "Nurse" in your own home? The three-year-old trio from Belfast, Ireland, brought their brand of medicine for the maladjusted to North America last fall, an advance warning of their trance-inducing, major-label debut, "Nurse," released in January. Two earlier EPs, "Babyteeth" and "Pleasure Death," are released together as one CD on Chicago's Touch & Go label.

Therapy?'s sound is not for the faint of heart nor the tender of eardrum. The band's musically inventive and lyrically intelligent sonic elixir mixes the passion of the most angst-ridden punk, the melancholic simplicity of early Joy Division, the chunky aggression of Black Sabbath and the hypnotic precision of Ministry, with nary a trace of grunge.

In the coffee shop of a Toronto hotel, just hours before Therapy? opened for Ned's Atomic Dustbin, fast-talking, guitarist/singer Andy Cairns rattles on about his homeland's music scene, the band's first single "Teethgrinder" and vacuum cleaners (?!), as HITS' Girl From the North Country, Jennie "Three Downs (Or Two in Canadian Football) And" Punter, suction it all up.

desperately wanted to see them, so we got the ferry to Scotland. Silverfish was supporting them and we gave them five tracks we'd recorded to release on our own label. Then on Monday morning, Silverfish's label called up and said, "We think these tracks are great and we want to put them out as a record." Through that, they offered us gigs in England, supporting bands like Coil and Babes In Toyland. Do you, Michael and [drummer] Fyfe Ewing come from similar musical backgrounds?

We all listen to everything, but at the end of the day, I'm a sucker for a good melody, stuff like Neil Young, Big Star, the Replacements, even Captain Beefheart, because he's some kind of avant-garde storyteller. Fyfe's love is loads of new heavy dance stuff, and Michael has a fetish for a bit of metal now and then. But we're always listening to different music and trying to evolve, because we don't want to get labeled. All my favorite bands have evolved. Our stance is that we're not grunge, we're not punk, we're not alternative, we're not metal, we're Therapy? and if you don't like it, you can go fuck yourself. It's as simple as that. ■

"We're not grunge, we're not punk, we're not alternative, we're not metal, Therapy? and if you don't like it, you can go fuck yourself."

Vacuum cleaners?

One thing we took from acid house is, the same musical idea, repeated again and again with a solid beat, is quite hypnotic. And that's why I have a fetish for vacuum cleaners. Whenever I get really stressed out or depressed, I just switch on the vacuum cleaner and lie beside it, for the sole reason that there's one constant note that comes off the engine and it's soothing. I thought I was a freak until I found out that the singer from Gallon Drunk does the same thing.

"Nurse" is self-produced, but I read some reference that you were working with Steve Albini.

We were offered a chance to work with him, but turned it down. I guess everyone assumed, because we were quite noisy, that we'd work with Steve Albini or Butch Vig. But we don't really belong to that grunge thing. People say we're part of that whole plaid-shirt, baseball cap-wearing generation, but we're not. We're more influenced by European dance music, avant-garde, Captain Beefheart... and we didn't want to be lumped with that whole Mudhoney/Nirvana/Seattle side of things. Your recorded sound is actually clean and precise.

We rely on percussion an awful lot. We like the guitar sound to be percussive, and the drums to be prominent in the mix. We don't want to sink in a quagmire of guitars. On a lot of grunge records, that's all you can hear. We like all three instruments to be equal. We have a certain drum sound that we like. And we prefer an ambient room sound, as if you just walked in and played. On a song like "Deep Sleep," we were listening to dub reggae at the time, so we put a lot of echo and reverb on the drums, to give it that sort of spacey sound.

What kind of creative and physical space did you record "Nurse" in?

We recorded it at a farmhouse studio in Wales, in the middle of nowhere. Some of the tracks were a nightmare to do. We went into it intending to do some of the tracks live. Fortunately, some of them came out sounding that way. But "Neck Freak" was an absolute nightmare. I tried to get the guitar part about ten times, and after that I said, "Fuck it," drank four bottles of wine and dropped a tab of acid. And the next day, we sifted through all the bits and put them on the track. We like what Ministry does, but at the same time, we don't like to be so mechanical. We want to have some emotion in the music, too. So we use live instruments. We want to make music that sounds like some kind of machine, but with a human heart. If that doesn't sound too pretentious.

Are there like-minded bands in Belfast? You certainly don't sound like an Irish band.

We don't want to be culturally tied. People that know we're from Ireland always think of U2 or Hothouse Flowers. When we started out, there was no music scene, no music press nor record labels. We had to do everything ourselves. So we released our single on our own Multifuckingnational label. We gave it to an Irish music paper, and they gave it a very low-key review. This week, we're up to 30 on the charts back home, and you can switch on your TV and we'll be there. But they refuse to acknowledge we're there — because we're from Northern Ireland and also, we don't fit in with the sort of U2-Bob Geldof-Van Morrison-diggle-diggle-raggle-taggle-jump-in-the-air-let's-pour-some-Guinness mentality these people have. I'm not going to kowtow to any sort of cultural imperialism.

How were you discovered, then?

Our big break came when the Revolting Cocks came over to play in Scotland. Myself and [bassist] Michael McKeegan

An exclusive HITS Metal dialogue with Pro-Pain BY DARREN SILVA

"I feel it's my place to enlighten kids to certain things and give them a realistic vibe about what's out there."

How long after the Crumbsuckers did Pro-Pain begin?

A year-and-a-half to two years. We wanted to come out with something new and heavy, so we formed a band with some old Crumbsuckers members called Heavy Rain for awhile, which was more of a hard rock band. When the time was right, I started writing some songs for the Pro-Pain record. We busted it out at a pretty good time; the heavy music scene looks like it's thriving once again. How did you get signed to Energy Records?

Well, the original deal was with Megaforce. We had some demo tapes that we put out and I went up to see [S.O.D. and Anthrax producer] Alex Perialas. He enjoyed the material and expressed interest in producing us. In the beginning of the band, [S.O.D.'s] Billy Milano was the original singer. I'd known Billy for some time, so we put together the Pro-Pain project. He introduced me to Alex and we started getting to know one another. Unfortunately, Billy didn't work out... we figured it was best that he do his own thing and we do ours. Megaforce lost their distribution deal and I didn't want our music to get stale, so we decided to find another home. Alex was putting Energy together at the time, so I figured, let's go with it. Did you have a great deal of freedom recording "Foul Taste Of Freedom"? Definitely. Alex let me go and do my own thing. Everything ran real smooth. There's no co-production credit as far as the band goes, but I'd like to say we helped out a lot with it.

Was the first Pro-Pain tour with Testament?

Yeah, it was Testament, D.R.I. and Pro-Pain. That was a great first tour for us. It got us back out into the swing of things because we hadn't done an extensive tour since the Crumbsuckers broke up. It was kinda cool to get back to playing in front of a decent amount of people again.

How has the crowd reaction been on the road?

Really good every night. I like playing in the smaller, more intimate clubs, which is something I grew accustomed to in the Crumbsuckers. It's like the bigger the theatre, the more of a fish outta water I feel. I think the band gets its point across a little bit better in the smaller clubs.

Do you do any writing when you're on tour?

No. I think it's almost like you have too much of a good time while you're out there to write anything worthwhile. I wait until I get home, get into my job in the real world and feel a certain amount of intensity again. That's where most of my best stuff comes from.

So you guys all have day jobs?

I'm trying to open up my own catering business right now, although I don't have much time for it. I also run a liquor store when I'm home. I've been in retail for like ten years. Dan's an electrician and Nick works for Cisco Foods.

From a look at the lyrics, Gary, you seem to be one pissed-off guy.

[Laughs.] When I put stuff out to the public, I wanna portray myself a certain way. I feel it's my place to enlighten kids to certain things and give them a realistic vibe about what's out there. It's not like I'm trying to get across any sort of anger or anything like that. There's just certain concerns that I feel really strongly about like people who work their blue collar jobs and a lot of the middle class. That's who this is going to appeal to. ■

N.Y.C. has spawned a band with riffs, lyrics and the aggression to take them through the '90s. Pro-Pain is an off-spring of the late '80s thrashcore band the Crumbsuckers. This trio – made up of lyricist Gary Meskil on bass and vocals, Dan Richardson on drums and newest member Nick St. Dennis on guitar – has the musical intelligence to put them in the front lines of the heavy rock scene. Meskil's heavy, almost rappish, vocals make you sit up and take notice.

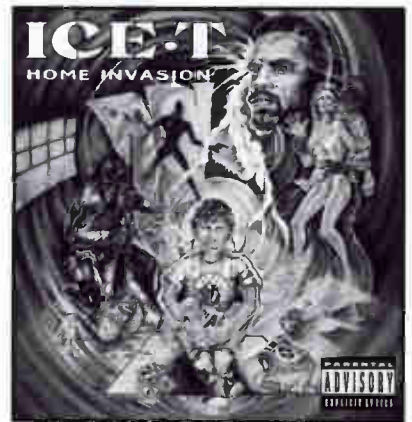

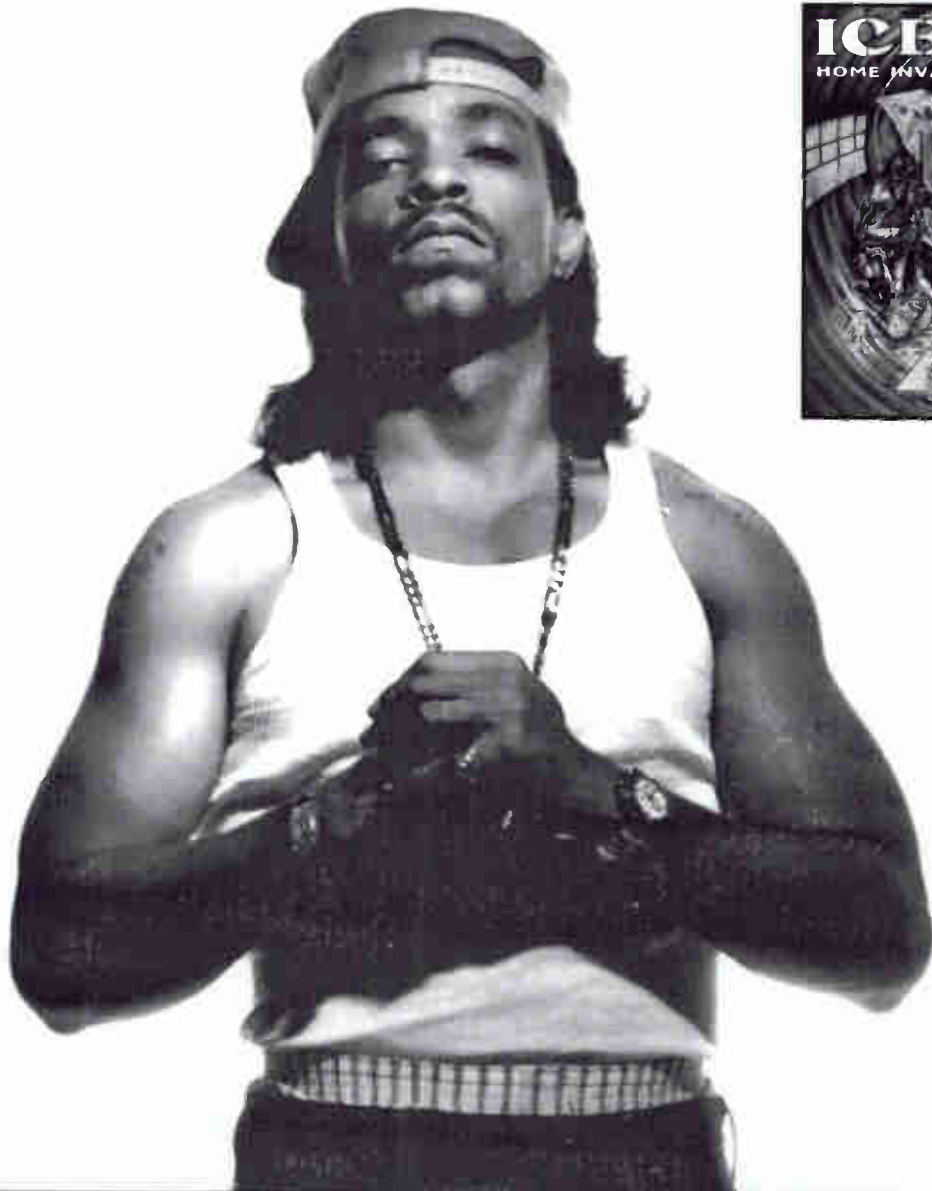

The group's debut album is about Joe Normal's struggle through life in these hard times. "Foul Taste of Freedom" is hard, fast, aggressive and the truth according to Pro-Pain.

Having been on tour with Testament, D.R.I., and Body Count, Pro-Pain is gaining speed and fans quickly. KHAC's "Dangerous" Darren Silva broke free from the airwaves and convinced Meskil his life was worthless without an interview in this rag, which is precisely the current value of Darren's radio career after his own debut in these hollow pages.

The World According To Ray

"A SONG FOR YOU" ARRIVES!

The Genius of Soul returns with the exhilarating single, "A Song For You," from the master's newest opus, "My World." With Ray Charles, any new effort must be considered "history in the making!" As "A Song For You" blasts off at radio, something else is also in the making—a smash!

Lee Cameron, MD and Assistant PD at WJJS-Lynchburg, VA, was appropriately worshipful. "It's a great across-the-board song. It's gonna grab all demos, and adults are gonna fall in love with it!"

Joe Long of Birdel's in Brooklyn purchased his first Ray Charles record in 1952. The venerable old-timer said, "Ray is my soul brother! The flavor of the single is unique, and the orchestration perfect!" Then he went into a coughing fit, and we walked away, hoping no one would notice.

"This is by far one of the best projects of Ray Charles' career," effused Warner Bros. Sr. VP of Black Music Promotion and Jazz Ray Harris. "There is something for everyone on this album. Four different demos are already banging this single! The legend continues."

At HITS, we also have a legend. Once upon a time, some losers had an idea for a magazine that shamelessly sucks up to radio and the labels, and employs the mentally challenged...ah, you know the rest.

SOFT & WARM

STORM WATCH: Our glorious Goddess of Gale, Kandace, spent some quiet time with Q-Storm jock Andre Monie (pictured) of KJMS-Memphis, TN, and learned his inner-most thoughts about the songs that stir the storm in his restless soul. “Glenn Jones ‘Call Me’ (Atlantic-/Atl G) has lyrics that both men and women can relate to,” he said. Of Shai’s “Together Forever” (Gasoline Alley/MCA), Andre gushed, “It’s a beautiful way to let someone know that your love runs deeper than just physical attraction.” He has also received a good response on Jade’s “One Woman” (Giant/Reprise) and Highland Place Mobsters’ “Take A Dip” (LaFace/Arista), which he says is reminiscent of Jodeci. Look out for the Carmen Electra album cut “All That” (Paisley Park/WB). Smooth sailing.

Ops. Mgr./PD/Morning Show Host V103.9 Los Angeles
by KANDACE TAYLOR

How difficult was the transition from KACE to the new V103?

Well, in changing a radio station, some people are going to be hurt, some happy. If you're going to make changes, you just gotta do it. It's like getting a spanking; you can get a lick a day for a week or you can just get it all in one day, get it over with and start building your life from there. Coming in here, we knew it couldn't happen gradually because we weren't keeping the KACE call letters. It was very well-planned; we just didn't give any warning on the air.

What were your feelings about the stations you would now be competing with, such as KKBT, KJLH, KPRW?

Our thing was to come into the marketplace, do a lot of research and find our niche. We knew that PWR 106 was on top of the Hispanic group hill, the Beat was on top of the Urban group hill, KIIS was on top of the mainstream hill, and we knew that KJLH and KACE were on top of another hill. But what hill, we were not sure. So we looked at all of the hills and asked ourselves what could we take from all of them and find our niche. That was our goal.

We have an urban sound, but we're really a combination of them all. They're all great stations. There's no way you can come into a market and just decide you want to go heads up with one station, especially in a fragmented market like LA. Where there is almost every kind of format you could possibly ask for. It doesn't make sense to think you're going to take anybody out. As long as there is a radio signal — they could be playing polka — somebody will listen to that station. The goal is to take something from all of them.

What is your catch phrase to promote the station?

We are the people station. We say, "The people station, V103.9, a better variety of continuous music."

What is your basic programming philosophy?

We're into research, music and our listeners. We look for the common thread in the music. When we are picking new songs, we know what to look for. We know if a song will work during a specific daypart. Plus, all of our jocks are people-oriented. They're not the jocks whose names pop up in all the magazines, but they're the ones that complement this station to a massive degree. These guys are good.

How do you handle all the responsibilities that correspond to all of your titles?

I have excellent support people at the station. The owner, Willie Davis, and the GM, John Rockweiler, both support me fully in my decisions. Sales GM Earl Jordan, my Program Assistant Yvette Johnson, my Promotion Director Tracie Friley, my APD Dave Michaels, who has been with me for seven-and-a-half years, MD Antoinette Russell, Marc Gunn and Mark Drummond handle the production. The whole puzzle fits around me. When there is a problem, I go in and troubleshoot, but basically, they do a fabulous job.

The chemistry is there and I know, when I go in, the project is going to be carried out quickly. If I ever got another job, I know I would want to pick up this whole staff and take them with me.

Why do you feel the Quiet Storm format is so important to Black Radio?

It is a lifestyle music and we're a lifestyle radio station. It is an intricate part of this format because we notice that our target enjoys Quiet Storm. We get big numbers from it. We know that it is a Sunday through Thursday type of a lifestyle. At night, people's attitudes are more laid-back. Now, on Fridays and Saturdays, they're a little more buck wild! When we first changed the station, we didn't have the Quiet Storm on yet. I'm sure that a lot of the other stations thought they could use the handle, "the Quiet Storm." Nah, it was in our plans all along, just waiting to be executed.

What kind of advice can you offer to small-market PDs who'd like to follow in your footsteps?

Save your money... pray a lot. From a radio standpoint, take your time to learn people. That's been my key. Sometimes I look back and say, "How did I get here?" Then I look around and see all the people I've been involved with in this business and they're all doing well. I like to surround myself with good people.

You may be the greatest programmer in the world, but sometimes your attitudes are so far off that not even the GM or the owner want to deal with you. The better you manage people, the better off you'll be as a programmer. All the other things will come. ■

NOT GON' BE ABLE TO DO: Midwest Rap kingpin Shawn P is calling it quits from radio to concentrate on his promotion company and newsletter. He was most recently at WHFR in the Motor City... BLACK MOON RISING: Nervous Records' Black Moon has been picked up by EMI. Look for Harry Fobbs and Lindsey Williams to be workin' the group's elpee that drops in June. Also, Guru of Gangstarr has an album in the can entitled "Jazzmataz" produced by Donald Byrd, Roy Ayers, Lonnie Liston Smith and Ronnie Jordan with guest vocals by N'ea Davenport... While we're on da moon tip: MC Lyte, Lin Que and Kink EZ have formed Duke Da Moon Management. The rasta consists of Lin Que, Yardman, Bamboo, Born in Hell, Da Mic Profesah and producer Backspin. Duke Da Moon plans to bring about a definite change in hip-hop... AS DA RECORD SPINS: At Warner Bros., Troy Shelton is in the Bunny's house and Kookie Gonzales got his back at the skwey wabbit's eastern headquarters. Look for the dynamic duo to kick some flava to the Rap division with new joints from Big Daddy Kane and the Jungle Brothers... On the Chaplin lot, Mike Nardone has been seen at the Tuff Break/A&M camp. Will he be handlin' National Radio duties?... What east coast rep is up for a move? Will it cause the weasels to scramble for his old National gig?... What's ahead for Chemist Darryl Lockhardt?... WHAT'S MY LINE?: In Philly this week, Jackie Paul was spotted at Tower Records lookin' for 12" and harrassing the Rap buyer, Mix Master Mike, about how she's the original RuPaul Supermodel. Enraged, Mike told Paul, "I know RuPaul. RuPaul is a friend of mine. You're no RuPaul..." WE'RE THE GOATS!: Chris Schwartz's Ruffhouse gets somethin' XXXL with The Goats. Also check Brute Bailey's Capital Tax on MCA... WORD! RUMOR: What actually happened with 2 Pac and his chauffeur? Was the confrontation physical? Peace out.

COOKIN' WITH CROCKER: SWV hang with WBLS' Frankie Crocker on the set of his new daytime culinary chat show "Let's Get Fried With Frankie & Beans." SWV of course were this week's guest spicy refritos of womanhood.

LAST MEETING OF THE BILLY CARTER APPRECIATION SOCIETY: EastWest recording artists En Vogue surround the star of Fox-TV's "Roe" Charles Dutton, and The prez's little brother/rock god Roger Clinton at L.A.'s Monkey Bar. Roger introduced his new line of suds, "Clinton Country Coolers," which everyone agreed tasted a lot like sweaty running shorts.

OH NO, NOT THEM AGAIN! It seems that the HITS resident comedy tandem of Kerry D'Oyen and Kandace Taylor (aka Kooky N' Kandy) have fooled yet another unsuspecting artist into being photographed with them. Fortunately for Jive artist Angela Bofill the strong arms of (left to right) Dave Dickinson, KGRM-Grambling PD, Lenny Green, WNHC-New Haven MD, and Doc Wynter, KMJM-St. Louis MD, were there to catch her when she learned of our playful tricksters' identities.

WHEELS & DEALS

By Steve Pross

Those who doubted the efficacy of Island's A&R caravan across America doubt no more. A&R nomad James Dowdall and Island World film diva Rose Noone have scored their first coup only one month into their journey with the impending signing of Tripping Daisies. While meandering through Texas and the Southwest, James stumbled across the Jonathan Haft-represented Daisies of Dallas in the midst of a major lemmingfest. Many made the trip to the Lone Star State to woo the act and lost. James, however, played the ultimate trump card — Chris Blackwell. Chris flew West to meet the band. Few can resist the charm or the legacy of Island's charismatic leader. After SXSW, Kansas and Oklahoma are next on the itinerary. Will the success of this venture as it barely begun mean that there will be a host of copycat trips by other labels? Will Epic's Ben Goldman or Lee Dan-nay be given a Winnebago with instructions to investigate every town in America big enough to have a 7-11?... SupPop 2, Major Labels 0: Atlas' Andrew Brightman counted 45 industry lemmings at Pond's gig at CBGB's. Most of them also ran across town to see Subpop's other act playing that night — Love Battery at the Grand. Is Columbia's Peter Shershin closest to Love Battery? Atlas and a number of others hope not. Will Sub-Pop's Jonathan Poneman be able to resist tempting offers for Pond?... Rust is being courted by Epic, Atlantic and Silvertone. Will they choose Atlantic? We think so. The team of attorney Eric Jacobson, agent Don Muller and A&R maven Tom Carolane also put together the Stone Temple Pilots deal... Conventional wisdom is wrong again: The Wild Colonials have opted for Geffen... Look for movement in the Engines Of Agression situation as a new player steps in to replace Gary Gersh... Acetone will be the act that launches Vernon Yard, Keith Wood's new imprint through Virgin. Geffen and Interscope were at the party, but the band chose to go with the advantages of a home with a small roster and Liz Brooks... Your name is Vincent Herbert, you've just turned 19 and already you've mixed tracks by Michael Jackson, Bobby Brown, Whitney Houston and Terrence Trent D'Arby. What's next? Ask his managers Michael and Terry Lippman... Former columnist Ken Friedman inks Belly as part of his joint venture deal with PolyGram Music (Managing Ed Note: Ken was undoubtedly late for the signing.)... Julie Gordon is resigning her long-held position at BMI, effective April 3, to the surprise of many industry watchers. In the future, she will be launching an A&R tip sheet as well as other ventures... Buzzbin: John Baldi, Fuse, United States, Space Needle.

Movin' On

MINI MUGS

STOP AND SMELL THE FLOWERS: Relativity signing Black Market Flowers clutter up the offices of Worlds End Inc. after inking a worldwide co-publishing deal and forcing President Sandy Robertson (l) to order in Chinese food as the following wolf down their chow mein and contemplate recording their debut album at Butch Vig's Smart Studios in Madison, WI. (top row, l-r): Robertson. Director of A&R Eileen Grobe and Director of Administration Diane Medak. (bottom row, l-r): band members Heath Patterson, Bryan Ray and Matt Neth.

LET US ALL NEIL AND PRAY: Warner Bros. recording artist Vince Neil and lead guitarist Steve Stevens pretend they're putting the finishing touches on the former Mötley Crüe vocalist's solo debut, "X-Posed." at the Record Plant's NEVE 1 control room. The real producer and engineer unplugged the mixing board before leaving for lunch. Shortly after this shot was taken, Vince turned to Steve and said, "Ah, the hell with it, let's go over to Sunset and get some new tattoos."

NO IFS ANDS OR BUTTS: Old rock journalists don't die. If they're lucky, they go on to become screenwriters. Noted Village Voice/Playboy pop critic Nelson George (c), who co-authored the script to the rap comedy "CB4" with Chris Rock, gets to double on the set as keeper of the clapboard, as featured performers, Capitol recording artists the Butthole Surfers take a break on the set while wondering who hijacked their Winnebago (l-r): Surfers Jeff Pinkus and Paul Leary, Nelson, bandmembers Gibby Haynes and King Coffey.

BREAKOUTS

Hot new or resurging albums as reported by the nation's leading record merchandisers

Sting takes Top Honors this week showing impeccable timing in a year that America apparently loves older introspective English gents that have been around forever and started wearing glasses recently. Lenny Kravitz garners huge sales with his third LP. The heartwarming sounds of the Geto Boys follow with ex-Pixie PoMo god Frank Black close behind. Legend Ray Charles cracks the Top Ten with what many say is his best LP in years.

RERAP

by Mark Pearson

To all of you who've been calling and writing me concerning this column, I have something to say. The management assured me when they foisted this dubious honor upon me that I had nothing to worry about because No one reads ReRap! Don't you people know you're not supposed to be reading any of this drivel? Has my mom put all of you up to this? She's under some mistaken impression I'm a writer now. (Ed. note: That's not what she told us.) Thanks, I needed that... More NARM notes: Congratulations to Compact Disc World (South Plainfield, NJ), Streetside Record (St. Louis), Tower Records, CD One-Stop and the Handleman Co. for winning Merchandiser of the Year Awards (damn, and I came so close in the office pool)... And kudos to the rest of us who got out of Orlando just in time to miss "The Mother of all Storms." I know a lot of people had their families fly in to stay the rest of the week after the convention. Kind of adds a whole new dimension to Disney World's Adventureland... Rumor has it that the final NARM decision on EAS technology for source-tagging (anti-theft systems) is now not so final. At least one major artist complained that the Sensor-matic system that was chosen causes "print through" and "amplitude" on cassettes. Don't ask us what that means, but it doesn't sound too good. Stay tuned as the fur continues to fly... Atlantic has a huge Clannad retail promotion going on right now with the Tower chain and Volkswagen in which they're giving away a Passat GLX (I'm guessing that's a car) to some lucky consumer. The tie-in is the fact Volkswagen's been using the group's "Harry's Theme" in its TV campaign (not to mention the exposure it received in the movie "Patriot Games") and as any follower of the Enya phenomenon knows, having your song in a TV ad these days can spark big sales. Thirteen Tower locations actually have cars on display in the store... Some musical chairs over at Wherehouse Entertainment: Jim Dobbe, formerly VP of Sale Products, has been appointed to the newly created position of VP Merchandise Allocation and Field Product Management. George Rogers, formerly VP Video, has been named VP Music and Video Procurement. Basically, Rogers will do the purchasing and Dobbe is going to run a kind of micro-marketing ('90s buzz word) approach to how much goes where, using an eight-person field staff to monitor radio and any other regional factors. "Customers want very different products in Hollywood, Seattle or Phoenix and this restructuring will allow us to do a more efficient job of getting the right merchandise in the right store at the right time," said Scott Hessler, Wherehouse Sr. VP Merchandising and Mktng. Also, Joseph Haley, formerly of Carter Hawley Hale Dept. Stores, has been named VP Consumer Electronics and Accessories Procurement... Final note to mom (who should be the only one still reading at this point): See you in Santa Barbara this weekend. Don't forget the brioche.

MINI MUGS

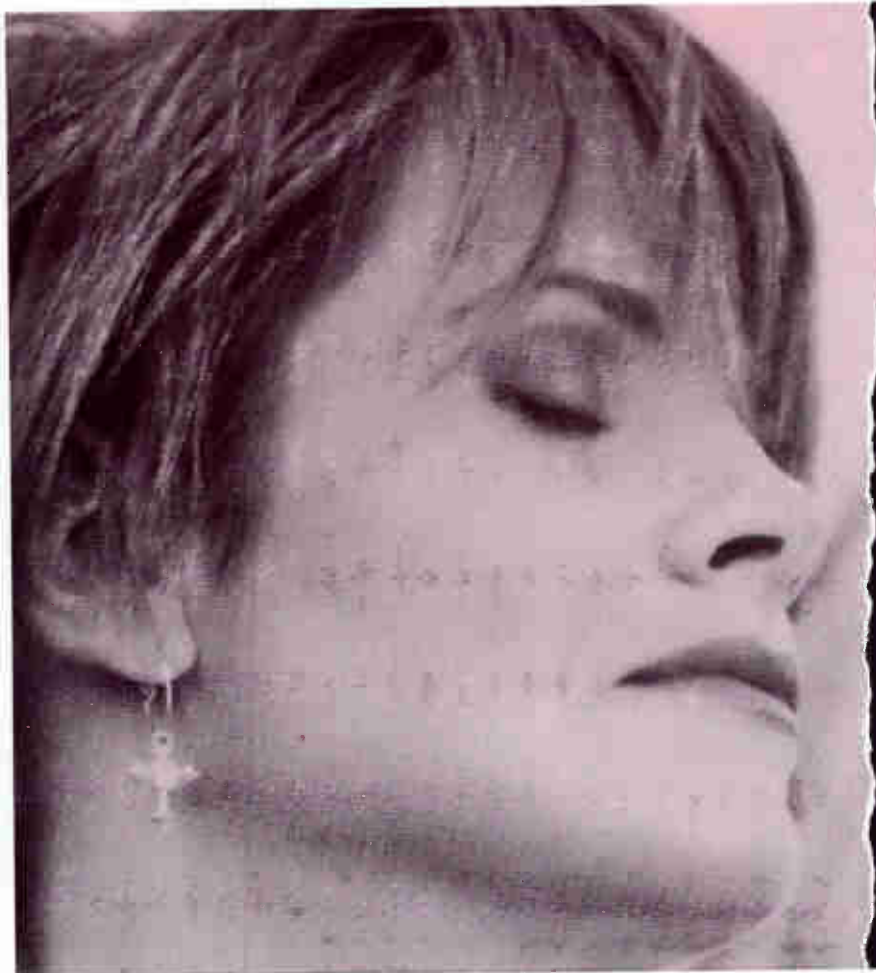

LOOSE LIPS SYNC SHIPS: Rob & Fab, formerly Milli Vanilli, show up in their new gig, as retail salesmen for the Navarre Corporation, the largest, privately owned, independent national music and software conglomerate, who are releasing the band's new album, "Rob & Fab," on Joss Entertainment. Here, the duo greet Wherehouse VP Jim Dobbe (second from l) and Navarre W.C. Branch Mgr. Frank Mooney (second from r), who actually sing the vocals on the new single, "We Can Get It On."

SAINTS, SINNERS AND LOSERS: Savage Records act Saints & Sinners recently joined Bon Jovi on the first leg of their Canadian tour, though it took several weeks before the following stopped asking them to fetch a cup of coffee and realized they were the opening act (l-r): Bon Jovi's David Bryan; Saints and Sinners' Marty Bolduc, Jesse Bradman and Stephane Dufour; Jon Bon Jovi; Richie Sambora; S&S' Rick Hughes and Angelo Curcio; and Bon Jovi's Tico Torres and Alec John Such.

RHINO HIGH: As part of this year's "Grammy In The Schools" program, sponsored by NARAS, Rhino Records welcomed several local high school students to its world headquarters, where the youngsters held the following label staffers at gunpoint and cleaned out the company's entire supply of rubber glue (l-r): VP/IA&R Gary Stewart; Kid Rhino Dir. Mary Mueller; VP Prod. Brian Shuman; students April Smith, Anne Lowrey, Greg Moreno, Alison Stuart and Ezra Herzog; Exec. VP Bob Emmer; Nat'l Dir. Press & Editorial Stephen K. Peeples; VP Marketing Chris Tobey, VP Sales Keith Altomare and Rhino Home Video VP Arny Schorr.

 COLLECTION OF SONGS
 "FAT CITY"

"Ballad Problem? Come on! This is so unique, it stands out like nothing else on the air!"

TOM GJERDRUM Q106 San Diego

"Immediate reaction for us. One Ballad that stands out!"

JIM MORALES KISN Salt Lake City

"An incredibly unique song that sounds great on the air. Instant female response and very relatable"

RICK MICHAELS WENZ Cleveland

"When was the last time you heard a song on the radio, and it really made you listen? She has a built-in fan base and our airplay just expands it. The results...many requests and increased sales!"

WAVELENGTH

by Lenny Beer & Michael St. John

At presstime, negotiations between 99X Atlanta's Rick Stacy and Susquehanna fall apart with money and airshift issues unresolved, leading to Stacy's telling key sources that he is out & the announcement will come tomorrow, 3/18. Insiders also say Stacy and new GM Mark Renier never have been a match and this was inevitable. So, our guess is that Brian Phillips has the job. He has interviewed in Atlanta & this week at headquarters in York. And, he's being very quiet, which is not like him. If true, the next question being asked is will the station remain PoMo or return to Top 40? If it's not Phillips, look for him to do some project work for the Jeff Pollack org.... Ah, March Madness, our favorite time of year. Here's some notes and picks: we like Michigan to win it, be sure to check out frosh sensation Jason Kidd of Cal in the early rounds, Duke will be in the Final Four again, Kentucky & Seton Hall are both red-hot and primed for a beauty of a Regional Final, and UNLV's J.R. Rider is suspended for receiving credit in a course in "the understanding and prevention of premenstrual syndrome" (we kid you not).... It's time to talk seriously about Sade, who has now sold TWO MILLION copies of her current album. The public continues to buy and buy this record, yet many of you still claim to "not get it." The listeners get it! This is no flash in the pan two week deal here. Think, think again and then just play Sade's "Kiss Of Life".... WKSZ (Z100) Philly has gone adult Top 40 with Eric Johnson handling PD duties and the one & only Scott Shannon aiding and doing voiceovers. In an exclusive in-

A group of really attractive people from KCAQ Oxnard gather for a 10 year anniversary photo. We won't bother to list their names cause who really cares, anyway!?!

"Ballad Problem? Come on! This is so unique, it stands out like nothing else on the air!"

TOM GJERDRUM Q106 San Diego

"Immediate reaction for us. One Ballad that stands out!"

JIM MORALES KISN Salt Lake City

"An incredibly unique song that sounds great on the air. Instant female response and very relatable"

RICK MICHAELS WENZ Cleveland

HITS

by Lenny Beer & Michael St. John

At presstime, negotiations between 99X Atlanta's Rick Stacy and Susquehanna fall apart with money and airshift issues unresolved, leading to Stacy's telling key sources that he is out & the announcement will come tomorrow, 3/18. Insiders also say Stacy and new GM Mark Renier never have been a match and this was inevitable. So, our guess is that Brian Phillips has the job. He has interviewed in Atlanta & this week at headquarters in York. And, he's being very quiet, which is not like him. If true, the next question being asked is will the station remain PoMo or return to Top 40? If it's not Phillips, look for him to do some project work for the Jeff Pollack org.... Ah, March Madness, our favorite time of year. Here's

Regional Final, and UNLV's J.R. Rider is suspended for receiving credit in a course in "the understanding and prevention of premenstrual syndrome" (we kid you not).... It's time to talk seriously about Sade, who has now sold TWO MILLION copies of her current album. The public continues to buy and buy this record, yet many of you still claim to "not get it." The listeners get it! This is no flash in the pan two week deal here. Think, think again and then just play Sade's "Kiss Of Life.".... WKSZ (Z100) Philly has gone adult Top 40 with Eric Johnson handling PD duties and the one & only Scott Shannon aiding and doing voiceovers. In an exclusive in-
