revolutionary new product. Calmes claimed the board failed to disclose the existence of the alleged development project before he sold his Showco stock in August 1980. The Dallas jury saw otherwise. "This overwhelming verdict is a strong vindication of the integrity of [board members] Jack Maxson, Jim Clark and myself and the Vari-Lite engineering team led by Jim Bornhorst," Vari-Lite CEO "Rusty" Brutsché said. Calmes told POLLSTAR he is pondering an appeal. "We feel that the jury was in error," he said. Meanwhile, a patent infringement case filed in 1989 by Vari-Lite against Calmes' new company, Syncrolite Systems, is still pending. Vari-Lite GM Loren Haas said the suit charges a Syncrolite product has a similar look and feel to the Vari-Lite. But Calmes said his is an original product. "There is no infringement. The suit was filed to restrict competition," he said.

Delsener Visits The Doctors

Big Banana Gets The Blues

Just a day after it was announced that a huge, three-day blues festival would be held in the Caribbean in December, a major backer pulled out, leaving the show in limbo. At the London Hard Rock Cafe October 7th, former Eurythmic leader Dave Stewart announced that the Big Banana Blues Party was to be staged in St. Lucia by Chrysalis in association with PKB Arts & Entertainment, the St. Lucia Tourist Board, and Stewart's film company. But Chrysalis then backed out of the project, promoter Paxton Baker told POLLSTAR. "We're in the process of searching for alternative sources to fund the project," he said. "Right now, I'd probably give it about a 70 percent chance that it's going to happen." The deadline for finding a new partner is October 20th, he said. Baker said Chrysalis evidently backed out because of shake-ups initiated by the company's new CEO. Chrysalis hadn't issued a statement by press time, and no company reps could be reached for comment. Among the artists originally scheduled to perform were Sting, Robert Cray, Albert Collins and Taj Mahal. Tom Chauncey of the Rosebud Agency, which represents three artists slated to perform, told POLLSTAR he hopes the event comes off. "If it is in fact back on track and they come forth with all the funds right away, then we're back on board," he said. "But in the meantime, obviously it has caused quite a problem for our artists, who rearranged their schedules in order to be there." Baker said if the event goes on, some artists in the original lineup may no longer perform. "The focus shift at this point is more towards a straight blues festival and not so much rockers-meet-blues," he said. Sting, Daryl Hall, Jeff Beck and Steven Stills are among the acts on the original bill who may not perform, Baker said. The event was to be broadcast live on radio in more than 30 countries, and taped for later TV broadcast.

Jury Comes Into Focus On Vari-Lite Dispute

In a case that dates back to 1989, a jury ruled October 5th that members of Showco, Inc.'s board did not conspire to defraud the company's founder and former president. Stanley Wright, the trustee for the bankruptcy estate of former Showco head Jack Calmes, filed a $104 million lawsuit alleging three board members initiated an intensive development project for a new computer controlled lighting system just before Calmes was removed as Showco president in March 1980. A sister company, Vari-Lite, has since spun-off from Showco on the strength of the

Wailing Souls

The last two years have been filled with a myriad of positive experiences for the Jamaican duo Wailing Souls. They were the first reggae act to perform on "The Tonight Show," they were nominated for a Grammy for their Chaos/Columbia debut All Over the World, their single "Shark Attack" broke new ground on radio, they spent the summer on the road, first with 10,000 Maniacs followed by a jaunt with Bob Dylan and Santana, and they are about to hit the road as part of the unique cross promotion surrounding the Disney film "Cool Runnings," which is loosely based on the Jamaican bobsledders who went to the '88 Olympics.

But Winston "Pipe" Matthews and Lloyd "Bread" MacDonald are not new to the reggae scene — not by any stretch of the imagination. They have been credited with helping to pioneer the Trenchtown reggae sound along with their friend and contemporary Bob Marley. Pipe said, "Trenchtown was like, as me and Bob used to say, we call it the music village. It's like a lot of the good thing that come out of Jamaica is originated from Trenchtown. As a kid growin' up...there was so much music around us that we couldn't get away from it...I 'ad this house where I used to live and we used to congregate there....Sometime we would play from six in the evening 'til three, four in the mornin'. You know, just jammin'."

Wailing Souls released 14 albums in Jamaica, keeping their name prominent while patiently awaiting international recognition and financial reward. Pipe said through the lean times it was the music that kept them going. "I have so much of the music within me, in myself and my partner...it give us strength to continue goin' on....So doin' all these albums over the years was just to strengthen us and give us encouragement. 'Cause whenever time people 'ear the songs and them say, 'well you guys keep it up, you know, because one day you guys are going to achieve something big out of it.' So we continue, you know."

But the music business, or lack there of, in Jamaica made it difficult for reggae music to get off the island. "Jamaica is a littl' place where we don't have that amount of machinery to deal with the music. Because we didn't even 'ave a copyright law there, since of lately....So you find most of the music was exploited out of Jamaica by people who pirate the songs and t'ings like that."

In an effort to get more exposure for the music they believed in, Wailing Souls gave their lawyer a three song demo to shop around. "We came upon Pam Turbov from Columbia and they thought that we had t'ree good songs at the time....So we went and did a showcase for them and from there we got signed....The best thing about bein' on a major label is that you can get the exposure that you need. Reggae music 'as been out for a number of years, but it weren't playin' on these commercial stations....But sign with a major label [and] the major company 'ave the know how to go about these t'ing....It's been great signing with a major label."

Shortly after they got their record deal it was time to complete their business team. "We 'ad a manager before [and] he...got a job at Warner Bros. so he decided he was leaving management....Well after that, we shop around and we 'ave interviews with a couple different [people] who said they were managers." They decided on The Burt Stein Management Company. "After sittin' down and talk with Burt, you know, it's like, we found out that Burt, he's the man that 'as the credibility to manage us. So we just get hook up with 'im." Pipe said they also have a business manager and Stein coordinates all their touring through Brett Steinberg at Agency For The Performing Arts.

When they perform live Wailing Souls try to give their audiences what the Louisiana French call lagniappe, a little bonus. "What really make us 'ave a good concert [is] we always...think about the people comin' first....Because, you know, the people go out and buy your records in the store. When they are seein' you live, they need to see something extra. And we always 'ave that warm and energetic vibration at every concert that we do." Pipe said that giving something extra to a rock and roll crowd, like on the Bob Dylan or 10,000 Maniacs tour, is very rewarding. "The reception that we get from the crowd, why it was wonderful....When we leave the stage people would come to us and say, 'well, we never been listenin' to reggae over the years but you guys has blown us away. We got to listen to reggae music now.' So we know that all times, whenever time you come we are going to make certain that you are satisfy, you know, whatsoever Wailing Souls concert you may attend you really go away and feelin' good." Pipe said that even if it was only a thirty minute set he likes to make sure the crowd gets their money's worth. "You might say 'why it was shart, but it was great.'"

On Wailing Souls new tour, which kicks off October 23rd in Florida, they will return to an all-reggae bill, sharing the stage with acts from the "Cool Runnings" soundtrack, Supercat, Tony Rebel, Tiger, Carla Marshall, Worl-a-girl and Diana King. However, being on a big bill with a variety of reggae artists is not new to Wailing Souls — they played the very first Jamaican "Reggae Sunsplash" in the late '70s, and have played many of the festivals since then. Pipe said he is really looking forward to touring with acts from the soundtrack on what is being called the "Stir It Up!" tour. "We been playin' for not much of a reggae crowd...so, we are glad to know that we are goin' to play against a reggae crowd."

Pipe said his religion as a Rastafarian gives him the inspiration he needs before going stage. "I wanna tell you that the main t'ing I do before goin' on the stage is I always 'ave a prayer. Because there's a creator and he's the one that all a part of us lives. So we must axe 'im for 'ealth and strength and that good vibration and that good spirit to go on stage....Rastafarian is a true person...a person that think — peace, love and 'armony at all time."

'Tis The Season For A Good Package

Designed as an "alternative" to the standard holiday attraction, "The Colors Of Christmas" tour is billed as a "new generation of Christmas show." APA is booking the tour, which features the excellent package of Peabo Bryson, Roberta Flack, Patti Austin and Jeffrey Osborne. In each city a local children's choir and orchestra or symphony will be invited to participate in the program. Plus the tour promises special guest star narrators, local celebrities, actors, actresses and news anchors, who will read from traditional Christmas stories. At each city's opening night, a UNICEF after-show benefit reception will also be staged.

Concert Promoters Assoc. Meets In Los Angeles

The North American Concert Promoters Association held a membership meeting October 10-11 at the Bel Age Hotel in Los Angeles. The theme of the gathering was improving relations with strategic partners, and to accomplish that, NACPA held a series of meetings with major agents, record company execs and other important elements involved in the concert business. In the past, NACPA has hosted panel discussions with a small group of invited agents. This time, the promoters made a series of visits in mass to several major agencies. A breakfast meeting was held at CAA, followed by a working luncheon at ICM, and concluding with a mass meeting at William Morris. In addition, Frank Riley and Paul Goldman of Monterey Peninsula Artists flew down to meet with the promoters in an earlier session. Each meeting tended to focus on the issues which were relevant to that agency and were said to have been much more productive than the previous panel-style gatherings. While the issues of changing demographics, the rising cost of touring, and the dearth of arena shows can't be readily impacted by the promoters or agents, both sides felt that reaching a greater understanding of each other's problems and working to find common ground would be good for everyone. The reps from the 21 NACPA members also heard several other presentations. SoundScan's Mike Shalett gave an overview of his music consumer research and introduced his new "Fast Tracks" frequent buyer program. Fred Rosen did a session where he gave the promoters his perspective on the business and his vision of where Ticketmaster is headed in the '90s. NACPA also held discussions on pending changes in BMI's music licensing deals. The promoters have pitched a new model license to BMI which they hope the copyright organization will adopt in 1995. No details on the proposed license were made public. A session with execs from eight major record companies was also held. The reps were all the main concert tour contacts at each label and the dialogue was designed to clear the mutual frustration and mistrust that exists between concert promoters and record companies. Both sides expressed a need to work closer together to maximize the impact artists make in each marketplace and to help foster longterm career growth. POLLSTAR's Gary Bongiovanni and Gary Smith also made a presentation to the NACPA members on the 1993 Concert Industry Awards and that was followed by a jointly-hosted reception (see pages 6-8) for L.A.-based agents, managers, and record company execs. NACPA will hold its next membership meeting in New York at the end of January to coincide with the 1993 Concert Industry Awards Party.

Legal Grievs

Axl Rose was in a St. Louis court October 14th facing the first of about 10 civil cases brought against him as a result of a free-for-all that broke out at a GN'R concert at the Riverport Amphitheatre in July 1991. Last year, Rose, who is accused of causing permanent damage to William Stephenson's back when he dove into the crowd, was convicted on four counts of misdemeanor assault and one count of property damage in the case..... Giant Merchandising filed a complaint in Los Angeles Superior Court which claims Wilson Phillips owes them reimbursement for advances they couldn't recoup because the group did not go on tour in support of their second album. Giant reportedly maintains it is owed more than $100,000..... Former Blondie manager Peter Leeds filed an appeal October 14th on the decision which denied him commissions on Deborah Harry's publishing income from her solo recordings. Leeds' attorney contends that his client is due commissions on Harry's solo recordings "since Leeds orchestrated the execution of certain agreements by Harry during the original term of Leeds' original management agreement." Judge Beverly Cohen ruled that Leeds was entitled to commissions from Blondie's albums on Chrysalis, but he is not entitled to any money earned by Harry's solo records released after 1985. Leeds' appeal will be reviewed by the New York Court of Appeals next month..... Attorney Bertram Fields filed a $10 million lawsuit against supermarket tabloid The Globe, declaring he was defamed by a September 8th story which said he offered to pay "hush money" to the people who accused Michael Jackson of child molestation..... George Michael's landmark bid to sever his 15-year contract with Sony Music is set to get underway in London's High Court October 18th. The case was scheduled to begin a week sooner, but Sony's attorney suffered a back injury. Michael claims the contract he signed in 1988 constitutes an unfair restraint of trade. Sony bought the CBS label in 1988, including the contracts of stars like Michael, Bob Dylan, Barbra Streisand and Bruce Springsteen. Michael claims Sony doesn't understand the creative process and that the contract he signed was unfair. If Michael is successful in his bid, it could force an end to long-term contracts for artists in the music industry. Meanwhile, in New York Federal Court, a hearing is set this month to consider the British court's request that Sony turn over copies of similar recording contracts with its other major artists..... An Indiana man who solicited autographed celebrity memorabilia on the pretext the items were to be used to benefit ill and injured children was sentenced September 29th to a year in jail and five years in a halfway house. Troy Bumpus, who was arrested in March, had solicited more than 200 celebrity items including a gold record from Stevie Wonder and an autographed tambourine from Barbara Mandrell. Bumpus had pled guilty to forgery and admitted to selling the items and pocketing the money..... A federal grand jury indicted the owner of Chippendale's, Somen Banerjee, for allegedly plotting the 1987 murder of then-employee Nick De Noia. The unsolved murder, which occurred in De Noia's Midtown Manhattan office, yielded the latest charges in the government's expanding murder-for-hire investigation of Banerjee. In September Banerjee was arrested and charged with hiring somebody to kill three of his former Chippendale's associates, who were, at the time, affiliated with a rival male dance troupe called Adonis. Banerjee is accused of violating the RICO act and the investigation focuses on a pattern of racketeering activity, including murder for hire and solicitation to commit murder and arson. If convicted on all charges, Banerjee faces a life sentence and a fine of up to $1.75 million.

Short Items Of Note

Ozzy Osbourne is being immortalized by Rock-It Comics. The comic book, to be in the stores in November, is described as being "directly from Ozzy's mouth to his fans." His cartoon portrayal makes him look so buff that he would have a future doing exercise videos if he really looked that good..... Ruben Blades confirmed he will run for Panama's presidency in next May's elections. He should be nominated by his party, Papa Egoro, at its meeting next month. Recent polls show Blades has twice the support of his closest rivals..... To honor its late chairman, Steven Ross, Time Warner Inc. has put up a $2 million endowment for a dean's chair at the University of Southern California..... Seven luxury boxes and 10 rows of seats were destroyed in a three-alarm fire at Texas Stadium in Irving October 13th. No events were taking place at the time, and no one was injured. Firefighters had the fire out within about an hour..... Billy Joel's drummer, Liberty Devito, claims his $1,800 Rolex watch was stolen from his bag in the locker room of the Cumberland County Civic Center in Portland, Maine during Joel's September 10th concert there. Police are questioning people who were backstage, including employees of the private firm which handled security..... Tourism officials in Arlington, Texas bristled when LaToya Jackson brought her topless revue to town. Jackson was at Arlington's Fantasy Ranch October 7-10 to shoot a cable TV program and video, and the local visitors bureau was none too pleased with the visit. LaToya doesn't strip herself, but her International Exotic Club show plays topless joints around the world and does include nudity..... Recently retired "Nashville Now" host Ralph Emery and his ex-wife, singer Skeeter Davis, are slinging very different tales about the years they were married. Davis, in her new autobiography "Bus Fare to Kentucky," claims that Emery was a country music-hatin', wife-cheatin' husband who attempted to rape her after they were divorced. Emery claims none of that is true and he loved his ex-wife very much. Davis also claims that Emery hated country music when he was a DJ 30 years ago, and he used to make numerous snide remarks about it. Emery said he loves country music and he will let his career speak for itself.

A Big New York Welcome For Whitney & Bobby

Whitney Houston and Bobby Brown were welcomed back to NYC September 30th by five police cars carrying nine officers, several with guns drawn, who thought she was a drug courier. Kennedy Airport's security force sprung into action after Houston's assistant was seen running back and forth between a stretch limo and the international arrivals building throwing suitcases into the car's trunk. As Houston attempted to leave the airport with hubby Bobby Brown and their daughter, the limo was pulled over by police. Houston and Brown were detained even after they identified themselves. Initial police reports said two officers and two cars pulled over the limo, but an investigation by the Port Authority found those officers evidently had trouble counting. Charles Knox, Port Authority superintendent of police, issued a public apology to the car's occupants. Knox said he's checking to see if the level of police response was within guidelines and if disciplinary action is necessary. Two days later, Houston's backup singer Olivia McClurkin was forced from her limo at JFK by armed robbers who slit open her luggage, evidently in search of drugs.

A Benefit Tribute To The King

Elvis Presley Enterprises, Avalon Attractions and Creative Artists Agency are banding together to present the first official Elvis Presley tribute concert in Memphis the weekend of October 7, 1994. The concert, which promises worldwide media coverage, is the first such tribute to be sanctioned by Presley's estate. Joining Priscilla Presley in the October 12th announcement at Graceland were CAA's Tom Ross and Avalon's Bob Geddes. The concert date was revealed a year in advance to allow major artists enough time to incorporate it into their 1994 fall touring plans. A host of superstar-level acts from around the world are expected to participate. The event will be more than just a concert, with television, home video, recording and literary spinoffs being contemplated. The tribute, which is going to be held at The Pyramid arena, will benefit the T.J. Martell Foundation and the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

A Whiter Shade Of Gold

Pros On The Move

Wayne Sharp has been promoted to vice president in charge of concerts at Madison Square Garden. In his new position, Sharp will be responsible for all the concerts that go into Madison Square Garden and The Paramount. Sharp worked as an assistant to Bobby Brooks and Mike Piranian in the music department of CAA prior to joining the Garden in 1990..... Peter Schwartz has joined the agent's roster at The Agency Group U.S.A. in New York City. Schwartz had previously been an assistant to Cara Lewis at the William Morris Agency..... Former MCA public relations wizard Ron Shapiro has been named vice president of media & artist relations for Atlantic Records in Los Angeles.

FTC Probes CD Price Fixing

The Federal Trade Commission is investigating charges of price fixing in the new compact disc market. Investigation of the market started in June with a probe of used CD sales. Though distributors since have dropped policies discouraging used CD sales, the FTC investigation continued, and apparently was expanded to include the price-fixing allegations. Major CD producers have been asked to furnish price information by October 18th, a BMG spokesperson said. Price-fixing allegations first were made in antitrust lawsuits filed by Warehouse Entertainment and the Independent Music Retailers Association. Consumer advocates complain that although the cost of producing CDs is dropping, the price of the product continues to rise. Last month, Warner Music priced the new Prince Hits collection at $17.98, up a dollar from the previous list-price high. Capitol Records promises to follow suit when it releases Frank Sinatra's Duets next month. Record company execs say they have done nothing improper and are cooperating with the investigation. Several months ago, the British government began pondering antitrust action over CD prices in the U.K. A recent survey found CDs go for $19.55 in Great Britain, compared to $15.18 in the U.S. Some members of parliament have called for a three dollar cut in CD prices, a plan U.K. indies say would put a strain on business. The government also accused labels of operating a cartel that keeps prices high and blocks imports.

Deals, Deals, Deals

Westwood One is buying Unistar Radio Networks from Infinity Broadcasting for $101 million, and at the same time, Infinity is acquiring a 25 percent stake in Westwood One. In merging Westwood One with Unistar, Infinity's current chairman and CEO, Mel Karmazin, will become Westwood One's chief executive. Westwood One's current CEO and chairman, Norman Pattiz, gives up the CEO seat, but retains his position as chairman. The deal, which is subject to stockholder and regulatory approval, is expected to be completed early in 1994..... Just when you thought "Achy Breaky Heart" had run its course comes word that a film is being developed under the name. The producers say the story will combine "elements of rock 'n' roll and modern country music with a romance-based story line." Cyrus doesn't plan to be involved with the film..... The defunct El Rancho Hotel in Las Vegas will be given new life as a country music resort. Included in plans by California-based Las Vegas Entertainment Network are two hotel towers that would resemble a "gigantic pair of dressed-up Western-style boots 20 stories tall." The company has made a $10.5 million down payment on the purchase of the property and hopes to . . .

Celebrating The Blues

Buddy Guy went home with top honors at the 14th annual W.C. Handy Blues Awards October 10th in Memphis, receiving accolades for entertainer and blues guitarist of the year for the fourth straight year. The event, which is sponsored by the Memphis Blues Foundation, also included the presentation of a Keeping the Blues Alive award to American Famous Talent as manager/agent of the year and to the Zoo Bar in Lincoln, Neb., for club of the year. Other major award winners were: Albert Collins & The Icebreakers for blues band of the year; Buddy Guy for contemporary blues male artist; Katie Webster for contemporary blues female artist; Bobby "Blue" Bland for soul/blues male artist; Etta James for soul/blues female artist; John Lee Hooker for traditional blues male artist; Koko Taylor for traditional blues female artist; Snooky Pryor for country/acoustic blues artist; Charlie Musselwhite for blues instrumentalist for the harmonica; Pinetop Perkins for blues instrumentalist for the piano; and Papa John Creach for blues instrumentalist for the violin. ## Branson Building Boom Under Scrutiny

The FBI reportedly is investigating the Branson, Mo., city office responsible for inspecting construction sites in the country music tourist haven. The Kansas City Star reports that allegations include buildings erected without proper permits and developers opening commercial buildings despite failing final inspections. The newspaper previously reported that the state Board of Architects, Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors, which oversees the building industry, was investigating charges that some buildings were constructed with little or no professional oversight. Engineers, architects, developers and construction workers have been quoted by the paper as saying projects are plagued by questionable designs, substandard building materials and shoddy workmanship. Branson mayor Wade Meadows said he and other city officials are not aware of any unsafe or improperly constructed buildings. More than 500 commercial buildings worth $120 million have been under construction in Branson this year, up 1,000 percent from 1990. About five million tourists visit the Ozark Mountains boomtown annually.

Yes, Things Can Get Worse For Rick James

Rick James attempted to marry his girlfriend and co-defendant Tanya Hijazi at his sentencing October 8th but was thwarted when Sheriff's officials told them that prisoners are not allowed to marry while serving time in county jail. But that isn't James' only problem, since two more women have come forward to accuse him of kinky sexual violence. Prosecutors say one of the women has a videotape showing James beating her bloody with a belt during group sex. Even though the statute of limitations has made it impossible to bring charges based on the three year old videotape, prosecutors plan to show it at James re-scheduled sentencing November 5th in an effort to show that James has a "propensity for violence and sadomasochism." No decision has been made as to whether or not charges will be filed in the other new allegation, which stems from another sex and drug session with one of James' former girlfriends. James is already facing up to eight years and eight months in jail for assaulting a woman with Hijazi in 1992. Hijazi was sentenced to serve four years.

Between The Dates

Two weeks ago MICHAEL JACKSON postponed ticket sales for his early December shows in Australia. The public reason given at the time was that the Australian shows were to be extra-special, with an enlarged stage which required modifications of the seating charts. Now, however, the shows have been cancelled due to "logistic" reasons. According to statements made to the press by Australian co-promoters, Kevin Jacobsen and Paul Dainty, they received a fax from MJ's management, Gallin-Morey & Associates, stating, "Circumstances resulting from earlier postponements in the tour necessitated a complete revision of the proposed itinerary. That, plus the logistics of transporting the huge production in and out of Australia, make it impractical." Jacobsen told the press he was "shocked and dismayed" at the cancellation. He also said he felt "browned off" by his treatment at the hands of Jackson's management. Jacobsen had flown to L.A. in an unsuccessful attempt to try and save the dates and his considerable out-of-pocket expenses.... VAN MORRISON is travelling to California to watch his daughter graduate from college, and he is turning it into a working vacation. Morrison will be doing dates in Los Angeles and San Francisco, and an inside source says that in addition to his Shrine Auditorium shows on December 7th & 8th, he might do two special club dates in Los Angeles on December 9th & 10th.... While MADONNA continues to do great business with her "Girly Show" tour, she also is managing to generate advance protests in some countries which, one would suppose, gives her a little marketing edge. In Puerto Rico, San Juan Archbishop Luis Aponte Martinez called on the government to ban Maddy's October 26th stadium show. Puerto Rico Governor Pedro Rossello Gonzalez, while telling the Archbishop that he sympathized with the Roman Catholic Church's opposition to Madonna, said the government could not interfere in a private event. Meanwhile a coalition of 47 different civic groups in Mexico City have called on the government to cancel her three scheduled concerts in that country's capital. "For provoking serious damage to the nuclear family and society, owing to the open promotion of anti-social conduct, the Civic Solidarity Center asks for the cancellation of Miss Madonna's concerts in Mexico City," the group said in a statement. Two of those stadium shows have been sold out for some time and all the protest hoopla will probably insure the third goes clean as well.... Comedy Central is using a college tour to introduce changes in its ultra-hip cult show, "MYSTERY SCIENCE THEATRE 3000." Current host Joel Hodgson finally manages to escape the Satellite of Love and all those bad movies. Actually Hodgson will spend his time writing for the show, and head writer Mike Nelson will be the new human on the set. All of this will be explained when the cable program tours colleges across the country. Though no one from the cast will be on this tour, the first episode of the season explaining the change, will be screened for college vidiots.... We would like to alert you to a few subtle changes in the way we now process Route Book data. For dates outside North America, we normally use the first three letters of a country's name to identify it. To avoid confusion, Austria will now be designated as AUT to set it apart from Australia which is AUS. Indonesia will now be IDN to differentiate it from India which remains IND. Small island nations will be described as ISL with the country listed where the city normally would be. The actual city on the island will be included with the venue name when available.
