New Music Video Channel Faces Antitrust Probe

The Antitrust division of the U.S. Justice Department has launched an inquiry into possible anticompetitive behavior in the music video industry. The government's concern reportedly stems from the plan of five major record companies to start a video channel to compete with MTV. Time Warner Inc., Sony Corp., Thom EMI, PolyGram Holdings NV and Bertelsman Music Group control about 80 percent of the recording business. Among the major label groups, only MCA is not part of the new video venture. The five record companies, along with their sixth partner, Ticketmaster, hope to have the 24-hour video channel on the air by the end of the year. A PolyGram spokeswoman said the company is cooperating with the Justice Department probe and it is satisfied that the proposed channel complies with the law, according to the Washington Post. One of the primary issues the antitrust division will be looking at is the licensing of videos to MTV once the new channel is operational. If there is any holding back or attempts to exorbitantly raise licensing fees, it could spur government action.

New & Revised Features

This week, we introduce the first of what will be a series of significant enhancements for POLLSTAR subscribers in the coming months. A new international news feature which includes exclusive reports from contributors in London and Sydney debuts this week on page 7. Increasingly, the concert business is becoming global in nature and this new feature is part of an overall expansion in our international coverage. There will also be more emphasis on worldwide tour schedules. And we intend to continue to encourage venues and concert promoters around the world to adopt the boxoffice reporting habits that have served their North American counterparts so well. Those boxoffice reports should be reported in the native currency, although they will be published with U.S. dollar equivalents as part of our weekly Boxoffice Summary feature. And one final enhancement comes with the Radio Pulse Chart. In light of the continued fragmentation among radio-formats, that chart will now include Radio & Records top 20 records from nine rather than six different airplay formats.

They're Bigger Than Maple Syrup

An audience of 12,000 cheered Phish to the close of its 70-city tour July 16th. Band members went home to Vermont to play the tour's last gig at the state's newest venue, Sugarbush Summer Stage. Backstage, the band's business team contemplates its next big splash. (L-R) Business manager Burt Goldstein, tour manager Mike Frelone, band manager John Paluska, Great Northeast Productions promoter Dave Werlin, bassist Mike Gordon, and Monterey Peninsula Artists agents Dan Weiner and Chip Hooper.

Ceiling The Kingdome's Fate

Each one of the 40,000 ceiling tiles at the Kingdome in Seattle are being pulled down and the stadium has been shuttered while the work is being done. In July, four tiles fell during a Seattle Mariners warm-up session. Various short-term solutions were proposed but the primary obligation of the Kingdome is to ensure the safety of team members and fans. The only absolute way to assure that is to take down all the tiles. The Kingdome could be reopened as soon as the tiles are removed since they serve no structural purpose. There are concerns, however, that without the

A photograph of three men in suits standing in an arena, likely the Pittsburgh Civic Arena. They are engaged in a conversation. The man on the left is looking towards the man in the middle. The man in the middle is looking towards the man on the right. The man on the right is holding a document and gesturing with his hand. In the background, there are signs for the Stanley Cup and the NHL Penguins. The arena seats are visible in the background.

It's ironic that the Igloo would be the site of some hot ideas.

When SMG, the private management company for the Pittsburgh Civic Arena, the NHL Penguins and the Public Auditorium Authority put their heads together, creative sparks really flew.

By considering everyone's interests, we came up with a plan that has resulted in increased revenues for the prime tenant and continues to enhance this important local community asset for the Authority. The plan includes an impressive list of renovations and upgrades to the Igloo.

Forging partnerships between public and private interests is just one of SMG's skills. We're also adept at booking events, increasing tenant and patron services, overseeing daily operations and major renovations and controlling costs.

For information on how you can add some sizzle to your public facility, call us at 215/592-4100.

SAM PHILLIPS

Bathed in critical praise, Sam Phillips is content that she hasn't yet become a major star like labelmates Janet Jackson and Paula Abdul. With her third Virgin Records outing, Martinis & Bikinis, Phillips' aspirations are simple and unpretentious. She told POLLSTAR, "[My aim is not to] be famous or anything like that. My aim is to get better as a writer and a performer and to sell enough records to be able to keep on making records." Phillips said, as a performer, her personal and musical style falls between a few different stereotypes. Phillips can't be easily plugged into the established system and that has occasionally produced obstacles in her career — Phillips' music is highly acclaimed yet her record sales haven't matched the accolade in the past.

But Phillips believes the musical environment has changed over the last few years and because of it, her music is more acceptable to the masses. "Now seems to be a much better time for odd kinds of music." Phillips attributes much of the change to a band whose music couldn't be more different from her own if it deliberately tried — Nirvana. "I think when Nirvana came on the scene, it blew a lot of people's minds because all of a sudden, the business people didn't have a formula anymore. [Nirvana] broke the formulas and the formats wide open."

Phillips said that made people within the industry realize they have to listen to the artists again. "A lot of times in this business, there's a tendency for the business people to look down on the artists because they think it's just about money, just about marketing, when in reality it starts with the artist. And if there weren't musicians and writers and artists, the business people would be out of a job."

Phillips said she believes that priorities in the business sometimes get shifted. "They think if there weren't business people, the artists wouldn't be able to play or have [careers]. But it's really not true. I think what Nirvana did was they shifted the priorities back to the artist [so] you know the music is coming from the artists, not from the corporations."

But Phillips points out that the unpredictability of the music business is what both the artisans and the capitalists love about this industry. "There always are wild success stories and wild failures too. [There are] things that all the business people think are gonna succeed that just bomb. And that's nice because, I don't think anybody knows what a hit record is, really. I don't think anybody can say that they know for sure."

Not having a huge hit single hasn't stopped Sam Phillips from performing in front of big audiences. In 1991, she supported Elvis Costello on his North American tour. In 1992, she toured with Bruce Cockburn and she recently finished a support slot obligation with Counting Crows. Following that, Phillips set off on her own and she plans to be on the road throughout the fall. "I'll probably spend a lot more time on the road with this record than the last records, which I think makes a difference in terms of how many people actually get to end up hearing it."

Phillips looks at touring as a riskier endeavor than recording. "Most things are in your control in the recording studio, whereas live, everything is pretty much out of control. Performing is such an interactive thing and so much depends on the audience. The audience has so much to do with making the show good and I really like that. Every night is different and it's really fun that way."

Phillips prefers to keep things fresh and different with her touring show. "I'm not one to just recreate the record live. I like to keep it different, to have different configurations of bands and try different arrangements to keep it more interesting."

But what is interesting for some confuses others. Phillips has a very subdued yet compelling performance style. She lets her voice soar for itself and doesn't embellish her performances with a lot of flash and dance. "Some people understand and like it and other people don't get it at all. I think that a lot of people come expecting a certain thing. They come expecting the rituals of rock which I think are dead. I think rock is pretty much dead and I think we need a change." Phillips said because performing has become so predictable, it is important to do something different.

Phillips' husband and producer, T Bone Burnett, is touring in her band on this outing. "He's usually just flown out to different cities to put in an appearance. Sometimes we'll do a few acoustic numbers together [or] sometimes he'll just sit in. And that's sort of been the way we've done it over the past five years or so. But this time it's really fun to have him be on the road. He had a little time off and decided that's what he wanted to do with his summer vacation." Also playing with Phillips are Tony Gilkyson, who is the guitar player with X, and Jerry Scheff, who has played bass with Bob Dylan, the Doors and both Elvises, Costello and Presley.

But Phillips found her drummer, Joshua LaBell, at the William Morris Agency. "He was an assistant to an agent and we pulled him over to the other side because he's such a great drummer and a really wonderful person." Scheff and Burnett play with Phillips in the studio and she said she would love to have Gilgason and Bell participate in the recording of her next album. "I'd like to go in and do [the next record] live with a band. So I'm hoping that they'll come join me."

Steve Jensen and Martin Kirkup of Direct Management Group and Fred Bohlander of Monterey Peninsula Artists make up the core of Phillips' business team.

ceiling tiles, the Kingdome could become uncomfortably loud for spectator sports and virtually useless for concerts. For now, the Seahawks will open NFL play at UW's Husky Stadium. And the Mariners hope to play in nearby Tacoma at Cheney Stadium while the work proceeds. Crews are working around the clock and are expected to finish the removal project by August 10th.

He's Not A Bass Player, He's My Brother

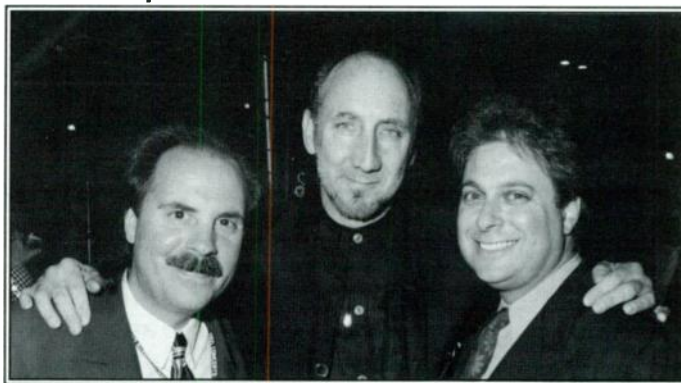

There's nothing sillier than the gathering of siblings at a Stone Temple Pilots, Meat Puppets and Redd Kross concert. Taking a moment to camp it up backstage after the sold out July 23rd show at Henry J. Kaiser Auditorium in Oakland, Calif., are three pairs of bass and guitar playing brothers. Deals, Deals, Deals

City officials in Hartford, Conn., cleared what appears to have been the final hurdle that was holding back construction of the $28 million Connecticut Centre for the Performing Arts. The 30,000 capacity year-round amphitheatre is being built by Metropolitan Entertainment and the Nederlander Organization. The Connecticut Development Authority approved a $10.4 million grant for the project. The city, in place of taxes, will collect 2 percent of the amphitheatre's gross ticket, concession and merchandise revenues. Construction could begin as early as this month with completion scheduled well before the 1995 summer concert season begins.... The Chicago Park District has chosen the Soldier Field Joint Venture to manage Soldier Field starting August 1st. The company is a partnership between Spectacor Management Group and Telemat, Ltd. Wes Westley of SMG said Soldier Field is expected to become the flagship of the stadiums managed by the company. Bob Glazebrook will be the on-site GM at dah home of duh Bears.... In a celebration of blues culture, the House of Blues and Private Music have joined together to form a new record label, the House of Blues Music Company. BMG, which recently acquired Private Music, is funding the venture. The label will cultivate and sign new and traditional blues artists. Also, Kiva Studios in Memphis will be renovated to become House of Blues Studios, the official in-house studio for the label.... Loan terms were finalized July 22nd between Spectacor and Prudential Insurance for the development of the Spectrum 2 arena complex. There is already some activity at the site but a formal groundbreaking ceremony will be held sometime later this month. The 21,000-seat arena is expected to open in September of 1996 and will be home to the Philadelphia Flyers and 76ers.

MCA Keeps Pace With Pete

The opening night of "Tommy" at the Universal Amphitheatre in Los Angeles July 15th was a benefit for the Children's Action Network and Education First. Celebrating at the opening night party are (L-R) Jay Marciano, prexy of MCA Concerts; playwright/guitar god Pete Townshend; and Scott Zeiger, prexy of PACE Theatrical Group and executive producer of the "Tommy" production.

Pros On The Move

Jon Podell has departed the New York office of the William Morris Agency. His last day at WMA was July 25th and his next move was not immediately announced.... Tom Trzos has relocated to San Diego where he has opened a new branch office for booking agency Image Entertainment. Trzos is well known as the former GM at the Detroit area's Pine Knob Music Theatre and Palace of Auburn Hills.... Frank Roach has been named

U.K. News Report

(London) Following widespread reports that promoter HARVEY GOLDSMITH is involved in a rescue package for the beleaguered WEMBLEY, the official word from his Allied Entertainment remains "no comment." Likewise, Wembley is offering no further explanation for the very public leak that three proposals have been put forward to refinance the parent company of the London stadium and arena complex. Earlier this year Wembley announced a loss of £65.7 million. The other rescue options reportedly come from Apollo Advisors, a U.S. investment company, and from two London entrepreneurs. Goldsmith is away for the summer and a deal is not considered imminent.... U.S. venue management company, OGDEN ENTERTAINMENT SERVICES, is consolidating its foothold in the European arena market. The company has announced a 20-year contract to manage the new 12,000-seat OSBERHAUSEN ARENA in Oberhausen, Germany. The venue is due for completion in September 1996 and Ogden will advise throughout the design and development stages of the arena. It is Ogden's third venue contract in Europe. The MANCHESTER ARENA is now entering the final phase of construction which will be completed in the summer of 1995. Following on from new developments in company policy, there have been some further changes to the Ogden staff line-up. Hamish Clifton, appointed to oversee European development by Frank Russo, has left the company, as has marketing manager Nick de Scossa.... The few outdoor concerts that are happening in the U.K. are mostly in the open-air classical market. However, even this sector is suffering from a distinct lack of public support. Former rock and roll promoter, DEREK BLOCK, who re-entered the concert market in 1993, with an undeniably successful promotion of the Bolshoi Ballet at the Royal Albert Hall, has had to cancel all the ballet company's planned summer shows. Ticket sales were heavily under-subscribed and Block has suffered heavy losses. The situation has been compounded by a high court writ served by TICKETMASTER, which is suing Block and his company for a sum in the region of £280,000. Ticketmaster took the decision to refund ticket monies to the public, in order to restore faith in a shaky market. This move has been supported by the British Concert Promoters Association. Ticketmaster says it is suing on the grounds that it should be the promoter's responsibility to refund ticket monies. Block says he will be defending the lawsuit.... The second PHOENIX FESTIVAL in Stratford-upon-Avon (July 14-16) was not the hot-seller hoped for. Headliners were Iggy Pop, Paul Weller and The Wonderstuff, who played their last show there, having now gone separate ways. British agents are murmuring that the concept is right and that the event will become a recognizable annual fixture. Promoter Vince Power, of the Mean Fiddler Organisation, is not one to disagree. He will, however, no doubt be looking to the longer-established READING FESTIVAL, to be this summer's big show. The strong bill, with Cypress Hill, Primal Scream, and the Red Hot Chili Peppers is already doing brisk business.... One festival sell-out that proves the small-is-beautiful theory is WOMAD at Reading. The event attracted an estimated 20,000 people for a weekend of world music acts, led by Peter Gabriel. There is one more European WOMAD event, scheduled for 19-20 August in Helsinki, Finland.... The newest U.K. festival, the T IN THE PARK in Glasgow, Scotland, was gearing up for its first outing on the last weekend of July. Promoter is DF Concerts. The bill mirrors the line-up for the FEILE festival taking place in Thurles in Ireland the same weekend and promoted by Dennis Desmond. Key names include the Levellers, Bjork, Rage Against The Machine, Crowded House, Del Amitri and Primal Scream.... One late announcement in the outdoor show schedule is CHRIS DE BURGH, who is going down the country estate route. Planned for mid-September at Audley End House, Saffron Walden, the 10,000 capacity show will launch De Burgh's forthcoming European tour.... One of the most eagerly anticipated tour announcements is the COUNTING CROWS European schedule. Following sell-out showcases a few months ago, there are high hopes that the band will repeat the performance on this more extensive visit. The band's booking agent, Rod MacSween, is finalizing dates.... Another anticipated boxoffice winner is PRINCE, who is rumoured to be planning some U.K. shows this fall. It seems that plans for August and September shows at Wembley Arena have fallen through and no further information is available at this stage.... North American talent continues to capture interest among British agents, with ROB CHALLICE of Forward Agency Booking (F.A.B.) signing singer-songwriter Ani di Franco, who has been selling well on the U.S. club circuit. JOHN GIDDINGS at Solo-ITG is looking to Canada for new artists, planning tours for the Tea party and

'One of the Most Remarkable Concert Halls In America' Just Got Better!

The renovation of historic Louisville Memorial Auditorium is now complete. We've added four new easy access restrooms and a spanking new passenger elevator to speed you to the elegant Skylight Ballroom on the second floor.

Memorial's 85' x 39' stage has hosted more world-class artists than any other in Kentuckiana. We offer unlimited free parking and what we believe to be the lowest rental rate in million plus markets of the Midwest.

Home of the World's Largest Pilcher Organ.
See permanent display of 144 famous flags along newly carpeted 325-foot inner lobby.

The Killer Cuts A Taxing Deal

Jerry Lee Lewis has his work cut out for him with plans to raise $560,000 to pay the federal government for a tax claim settlement. The settlement, announced July 25th, amounts to about 13 percent of the original $4.1 million the IRS wanted. Lewis plans to raise the money through a concert tour, a new album, a biography, and perhaps opening his home to tourists. Since 1977, the IRS has been seizing possessions owned by Lewis and attaching his boxoffice receipts to pay tax debts.

Woodstock Battles Bethel

As fast as the talent was announced for Bethel '94, Woodstock Ventures dragged the promoters of the concert at the original site of the '69 fest into court. Woodstock Ventures LC produced the original festival and is producing the 25th anniversary concert in Saugerties, about 50 miles from the original site. The legal action was settled almost as fast as it arose with promoters for Bethel '94, Sid Bernstein and Shea Entertainment, tentatively agreeing to refrain from using the name "Woodstock" in their promotional material. A spokesperson from Bernstein's office said the settlement was scheduled to be finalized July 29th. He said organizers of Bethel '94 are confident that the situation will be easily resolved. He also said the Bethel '94 organization doesn't use the "W" word in its advertising. A spokesperson for Shea Entertainment said July 25th that the agreement would force the promoters of Bethel '94 to run a disclaimer in its ads to make it clear the concert was separate from the one being held at Saugerties. But Jonathan Reichman, a lawyer for Woodstock Ventures LC, said the tentative agreement does not ask for a disclaimer. "We don't want them to do a disclaimer. If they continually mention our event in connection with their ads, it might create confusion," he said. Woodstock Ventures LC was seeking damages of at least $80 million. Bethel '94 will feature nine acts that performed at the original festival, Richie Havens, Country Joe, Melanie, John Sebastian, Mountain, Blood Sweat & Tears, Canned Heat, Iron Butterfly and Sha Na Na. Also appearing are Judy Collins, Fleetwood Mac, Chambers Brothers, Tom Paxton and Leon Russell. And at Woodstock '94, a special invited guest reportedly won't show up for the festivities — Chelsea Clinton. Molly Rosenman, the daughter of Woodstock producer Joel Rosenman, wrote the first-daughter and invited her to join the Rosenman family for a quiet weekend in upstate New York August 12-14. But a White House spokeswoman said she knows of no plans for Ms. Clinton to participate. Perhaps she's going Whitewater rafting with her parents that weekend.

U.K. Hard Hat Zone

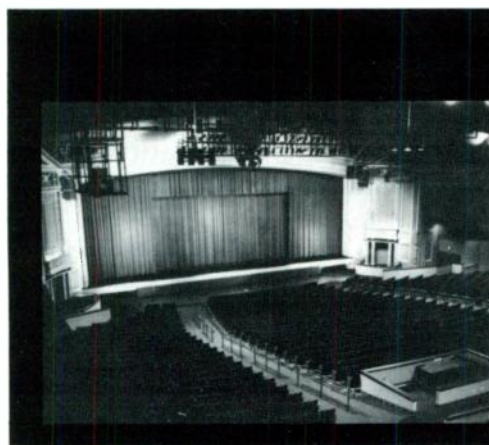

In his visit to Manchester, England July 15th, the Secretary of State for National Heritage, the Rt. Hon. Peter Brooke MP, tours the Manchester Arena construction site. When it's finished, it will be the largest multi-purpose indoor venue in Europe. (L-R) Brooke is escorted by Lee Eskilsen of Ogden Entertainment and Simon Parker of U.K. developer Vector Investments Ltd.

Non-OJ Criminal Court Actions

Vince McMahon, of the World Wrestling Federation and Titan Sports Inc., was acquitted on charges that he distributed steroids to wrestlers. A federal jury took 16 hours over two days before acquitting McMahon of conspiring to distribute steroids among the wrestlers of the WWF. Eleven professional wrestlers were called by the prosecution but only one said McMahon directly told him to take the illegal drugs, and that person admitted to wrestlers like Hulk Hogan in high esteem have been let down by his disclosure that he pumped up with steroids for 13 years.... Tracy Lawrence pleaded innocent July 21st to charges of firing a gun into the air after a confrontation with several teenagers on a Tennessee highway. The singer was not present in court when his lawyer entered the plea. Lawrence is expected in court September 30th to either settle the case or set a trial date. If convicted on the charge of reckless endangerment, he could spend a year in prison..... Don King packed the house July 21st in U.S. District Court in New York when he entered his innocent plea to wire fraud charges. King remains free after posting a $250,000 personal recognizance bond. The boxing promoter was indicted July 14th on nine counts of wire fraud. He is accused of filing false documents with Lloyds of London in order to collect $350,000 worth of training expenses after a fight between Julio Cesar Chavez and Harold Brazier was canceled in June 1991. If convicted on all counts, King faces a maximum sentence of 45 years in prison and a $2.25 million fine.

Short Items Of Note

Rumors persist that members of Led Zeppelin are scheduled to reunite later this month for an "MTV Unplugged" taping. Does this mean there's a possibility of a Zeppelin reunion tour next year? Well, no one knows for sure but if Hell froze over for the Eagles... Robert Plant and Jimmy Page reportedly have nothing against such an idea, although there have been some indications that John Paul Jones wouldn't be involved and that the "reunion" of Page and Plant might not use the Zep name..... RuPaul exposed his sexy male image by growing a goatee and modeling men's clothing recently. "In the past I've never felt sexy or appealing as a male. But I do now. And I want to make myself known in the public eye out of drag," the cross-dressing performer said. However, die-hard RuPaul fans won't be disappointed. When he takes the stage to perform, he will be the blond wiggled RuPaul that we all know and love..... John McEnroe's venture into the rock 'n' roll world received a lukewarm reception July 26th when the former tennis star and his McBand performed for 400 people at a nightclub in Santa Margherita Ligure in Italy. The show was the first stop of a two-week Italian tour during which McEnroe performs Rolling Stones and Nirvana covers. About the less-than-enthusiastic reception, McEnroe said, "I'm not afraid. This time I know I'm not the best."..... Now, it will never be forgotten that the late Frank Zappa's music was a bit out of this world. After an outpouring of letters and e-mail, a Cambridge, Mass., astronomy organization has named an asteroid that orbits between Mars and Jupiter

"Zappafrank" in remembrance of the musician.... The legendary Surf Ballroom in Clear Lake, Iowa, where Buddy Holly performed his last concert, is in limbo for the time being after closing its doors in March because of financial troubles. City Councilman Dick Hughes said there was a deal in the works to donate the ballroom to the city but one of the owners, Mark Arneson, denied that claim. The owners have said they want the building to remain a ballroom. Hughes said the only way to assure continued operation as a ballroom would be to let the city acquire the building.

Garth Bowls Them Over

The only appearance Garth Brooks has made this year in the U.S. raised over half a million dollars for One-Voice, an organization that aids low-income families in the Los Angeles area. Backstage before his July 14th performance at the Hollywood Bowl, Brooks and friends were given crystal bowls to commemorate the event. (L-R) Manager Bob Doyle; co-promoter Bill Silva; Brooks; venue GM Anne Parsons; and co-promoter Andrew Hewitt.

A Rainy Night(s) In Georgia

The Albany Civic Center in Georgia is taking things one day at a time trying to deal with the devastating floods that hit the town in early July. Though civic center officials and volunteers started preparing the center a couple days before the flood hit Albany, there were some things they couldn't save. Director Matty Goddard said all the vegetation in the center's 2,500-capacity amphitheatre was destroyed and she has no idea when that part of the complex will reopen. In the meantime, two concerts a month, Friday In The Park and Jazz In The Park, will have to be cancelled. The good news is that the center's 10,246-seat arena should be back in operation by August 22nd according to Goddard. An R. Kelly / Warren G. concert originally scheduled for late July is rescheduled for August 31st. The arena suffered little damage but administrative office areas were hard hit.

Byrne And A Brew Backstage

Legal Grievs

Former Beach Boy Brian Wilson was ordered July 25th to pay for a computer search to find evidence that would be used against him. The search was to locate a missing diary in Wilson's computer that would prove that he promised fellow Beach Boy Mike Love a share of a $10 million settlement from A&M Records. The technical expert that conducted the search found nothing but charged $8,800 for his work. His lawyer said Wilson thinks the diary is lost and denies that it contained an agreement to share the settlement. Love's lawyer said his client wants $5 million and credit for co-writing many of the Beach Boy's early songs so he can get songwriter royalties.... An Alabama judge ordered Jett Williams to pay a team of attorneys $1.2 million for their work on her successful legal battle which proved she is the daughter of the late Hank Williams Sr., and was thus entitled to a share of his estate. But before the court made the ruling and while negotiating a settlement with Hank Williams Jr., the team of attorneys withdrew from the case in May 1992 because they had yet to receive any payment from Jett and her attorney husband since the team was hired in 1986. Other attorneys settled the Alabama case and a related New York case in 1993 so Jett and her husband argued the original legal team deserved nothing. Montgomery Circuit Judge Gene Reese said the original attorneys were justified in withdrawing since they'd received no payment for six years of work on the case. He also determined they had spent 4,000 hours on the case and were entitled to $300 an hour. An attorney for Jett and her husband said they will appeal.... The Grateful Dead had it out with some t-shirt vendors July 22nd during a U.S. District Court hearing in Vermont. And the t-shirt vendors got their way. The vendors said Grateful Dead security guards harassed them and seized their shirts during the band's appearance in Highgate July 13th. The judge ordered the shirts be returned to the vendors and denied the band's bid to get an order against the sale of the shirts. The shirts contained skeletons, roses and the slogan, "I came to a Dead stop in Highgate, Vermont." The Dead's lawyer, Kenneth Merrill said the group has copyrights on those symbols and the name "The Grateful Dead." Though copyright infringement issues will be decided in a later court hearing, Judge Franklin Billings Jr. expressed skepticism telling Merrill that the skeleton on the shirts was markedly different from the one copyrighted by the band. The judge also reminded Merrill that the words "The Grateful Dead" were copyrighted, not the word "Dead."

Germany's Newest Major Venue

Ogden Entertainment Services has signed a 20 year contract to provide total facility management services at the 12,000-seat Oberhausen Arena currently under construction in Germany. The sports and entertainment arena is scheduled to open in September 1996.

New Jersey Cracks Down On Scalpers

Seven ticket brokers in New Jersey found out, the hard way, that the state will not put up with scalping. The brokers, from five different agencies in three counties, were arrested recently in a sting operation. James Mulvihill, assistant Attorney General in charge of the state Consumer Affairs Department, said, "This will send a clear message to unscrupulous agents ripping off people by charging 400 to 500 percent higher than the list price of tickets." Undercover investigators found the ticket brokers selling $46 Billy Joel/Elton John tickets for up to $150, and $50 Rolling Stones tickets for up to $135. New Jersey law prohibits ticket resellers from charging more than 20 percent over the face value of a ticket. Mulvihill said since the agencies are unlicensed, his office is pursuing civil action to close them down. The first court appearance for the seven brokers was scheduled for July 26th. They face up to 18 months in jail and a $7,500 fine.

Between The Dates

After trouncing boxoffice records in the states, the PINK FLOYD tour has now moved back across the pond to the European continent. That leg of the tour also got off to a good start when it opened July 22nd in front of 60,000 Portuguese fans at Lisbon's Stadion Alvalade..... GARTH BROOKS plays Australia and New Zealand this month then he too will turn his attention to Europe. He'll hit Spain, Germany, Scotland, Denmark, and England on this swing. Christian recording artist Susan Ashton has the high-exposure support position on the European dates..... What is made up of enough steel to build 80 cars and enough aluminum to manufacture 10,000 beer cans? How about the stage designed by Mark Fisher for THE ROLLING STONES Voodoo Lounge Tour. Fisher, who designed 89's Steel Wheels stage and this year's Pink Floyd stage, is one of the concert industry's creative geniuses. His biggest problem will probably always be in trying to top his previous production triumphs. Until the show opened this past weekend in D.C., no one had been allowed to see what Fisher had created. Among the advance details that were made available — the tour is utilizing Showco's Prism sound system, which requires as much power as 10,000 microwave ovens and is carrying two diesel generators capable of generating almost 4 million watts of power. For video action the tour boasts the world's biggest mobile Jumbotron screen. A spokesperson for CPI said that the entire band had input into the stage design, resulting in production credits for both Mick Jagger and Charlie Watts..... FARM AID VII is set for September 18th at the Louisiana Superdome. Governor Edwin Edwards and Jefferson Parish Sheriff Harry Lee have each pledged $10,000 for the benefit concert. Freeport McMoran Corp. of New Orleans contributed $30,000 and Casino Magic of Mississippi contributed $25,000. At a news conference, Willie Nelson said, "This is the best kickoff we've ever had. We haven't spent any money yet and we're already making money." Scheduled performers include John Mellencamp, Kris Kristofferson, Neil Young, John Conley, Julio Iglesias and David Allen Coe. Farm Aid, Inc. has raised about $11.5 million for farm support groups around the country since 1985..... Whoops! Last week we said NINE INCH NAILS is the special guest at a Soundgarden concert August 6th in Toronto. We should have said the band is co-billed with Soundgarden. The upcoming Nails tour starts at the end of August. The band will spend three months in the U.S. before taking the show overseas. Until then, you can see Nails headlining the Patriot Center in Fairfax, Virginia August 11th as a warmup for Woodstock on the 13th..... Some of the members of THIN LIZZY are mounting a TRIBUTE TO PHIL LYNOTT tour. Currently, only Japanese dates are on the itinerary which celebrates the group's deceased leader. Bandmembers include John Sykes and Scott Gorham handling both guitars and vocals, Brian Downey on drums, keyboardist Darren Wharton, and bassist Marco Mendoza..... HEART is recording a live album, to be taken from upcoming performances at the Backstage club in Seattle, August 12-16. The Wilson sisters will be joined by a string quartet and an oboe player from the Seattle Symphony. The album, produced by John Paul Jones, should be in stores early next year..... Meanwhile, ticket sales for two Grateful Dead shows at GIANTS STADIUM have set a new record for the Meadowlands complex and possibly another record for the concert industry. Sales for the upcoming August shows have pushed the Dead over the one million mark. Meaning, after the shows take place, the band will have played before one million fans at a single site. We can't think of any other act that has ever played to more fans in the same venue — unless it's all the shows the Dead have played at their hometown venue of choice, the Oakland Coliseum. Bruce Springsteen is in second place at the Meadowlands, selling 967,716 tickets for 34 shows.

PROVIDENCE CIVIC CENTER

Recent Headliners Include:

Elton John	Neil Diamond
Janet Jackson	U2
Rod Stewart	Van Halen
Steely Dan	Michael Bolton
Garth Brooks	Billy Ray Cyrus

The Providence Civic Center is the premiere arena in Southeastern New England. Built in 1972 in the heart of downtown Providence, Rhode Island, the Providence Civic Center boasts a 14,514 end-stage seating capacity that is large enough for any major touring act, yet small enough to maintain a close, intimate atmosphere between artist and audience.

In addition to being an ideal concert venue, the Providence Civic Center is home to the Providence College Friars of the NCAA Big East Basketball Conference and the Providence Bruins of the American Hockey League, as well as numerous family shows and special events. In 1995, the Civic Center will host the NCAA Hockey finals and National Figure Skating Championships, and, in 1996, the first and second round of the NCAA Basketball Tournament.

 he has booked Celine Dion's first U.K. concert for October 3rd at the Cambridge Theatre..... Another recent signing sees long-time agent and joint managing director of Primary Talent, STEVE HEDGES, take on the representation of cult musician and composer, Riyuchi Sakamoto. Fall dates for Europe are in the pipeline..... An early tour announcement for 1995 comes from WET WET WET, who topped the U.K. charts, with "Love Is All Around", the theme tune from the hit movie, "Four Weddings And A Funeral." Promoter Phil McIntyre has already put tickets on sale for five confirmed U.K. arena shows for next June/July while the song is still getting plenty of airplay.

Australian News Report

(Sydney) Following their North American dates, THE EAGLES are apparently scheduled for a four city Australian tour in November, playing large outdoor venues similar to those where Madonna and U2 performed towards the end of last year. The Frontier Touring Company are understood to be the promoter..... Promoter Michael Coppel is pleased with ticket sales for SALT-N-PEPA's late August Australian tour with more than 35,000 tickets sold around the country in the first two weeks..... Although not announced yet, it appears almost certain that BILLY JOEL will be touring Australia again in November..... Promoter Michael Coppel has confirmed that the COUNTING CROWS will be making their first visit to Australia in October - although they're playing smaller venues than their record sales would indicate they're capable of filling. The venues will average about 2,000 capacity..... In a somewhat bemusing move TRISHA YEARWOOD complete with her full band, is travelling to Australia for just one concert in August. A headlining appearance at the annual Gympie Muster Festival in Queensland. Given the expense involved, a lot of people are wondering why she isn't doing more shows. But then again RICKY SKAGGS and band travelled to New Zealand a couple of months ago and didn't get around to making the four hour flight to Australia..... The office of promoter MICHAEL COPPEL is not alone in describing the initial sales of GARTH BROOKS' first Australian tour as "a sensation." Backed by an EMI media campaign, rumoured to be costing in the vicinity of A$500,000, ticket sales have exceeded all expectations. In Brisbane two shows have sold out (19,000 tickets) and in the smaller city of Newcastle one show (5,200 tickets) has sold out and a second is half full. "The level of pre-booking in Brisbane and Newcastle for this tour is greater than anything I've seen, including for U2," Coppel says. "In my history of promoting I've never seen Brisbane sell a greater volume than Sydney and Melbourne combined." Not that he's too displeased by those markets with 10,000 tickets being sold in Sydney and a second show going on sale August 8th. Melbourne has sold 7,500 at an 11,000 capacity venue. Elsewhere Adelaide is at 7,300 in a 9,600 capacity venue although Perth is a sluggish 3,000 out of 8,000. Even New Zealand was sitting at 2,500 at press time. "That's phenomenal for New Zealand," Coppel says. "We Sold 1,100 on the first day in Auckland. The next biggest I've seen was 780 on the first day for Eric Clapton and he went on to sell 22,000 tickets..... Whilst the line-up for THE BIG DAY OUT (Australia's equivalent to Lollapalooza) hasn't been announced yet, all artists are confirmed for a similar extravaganza, THE LIVID FESTIVAL, which has been held in Brisbane for a number of years, with the majority of the international acts then doing further dates around the country. Appearing at Livid on October 8th are the Beastie Boys, Frank Black, Helmet and Buffalo Tom along with a couple of dozen Australian acts who'll appear on four different stages. (Reported by Stuart Coupe)
