feel like giving a statement that it was something to do with the building can hurt our future concert business. And we've been doing sellouts and averaging four or five concerts a year. We just don't want that kind of reputation because the ticket sales were good and the ticket price was extremely high. It was $28 a ticket." The 3,000-capacity arena had sold nearly 2,500 advance ducats. Black plans to reschedule a concert in the Greenwood area but no details had been finalized at press time.

ICM International

International Creative Management's U.K.-based ICM/Fair Warning unit has officially merged with London powerhouse agency Wasted Talent to form ICM International. ICM/Fair Warning chief John Jackson and Wasted Talent's Ian Flocks will jointly head the new operation as managing directors. ICM now has a very strong and greatly expanded roster of acts for the U.K. and European territories including U2. ICM/Fair Warning and Wasted Talent will continue to operate from their current locations until the new ICM International offices, based at The Plaza, 535 Kings Road in London, are completed within the next few weeks. The combined booking operation will include nine agents and a dozen support staff. Speaking on his reasons for making the ICM deal, Flocks said, "I have been aware for some time that the live music business has increasingly become a global industry and I wanted to make the move to become part of a multinational operation."

A Black Day For Greenwood

Clint Black canceled his September 24th appearance at the Leflore County Civic Center in Greenwood, Miss., because of production problems, a spokesperson for the singer told POLLSTAR. "My intention was to come to Greenwood with a very special kind of show," Black said in a statement. "Because of the style of show I'm doing, I agreed to a higher ticket price. I would not be able to do this show in the facility booked. I believe the only fair thing to do for my fans is to give them their money back and begin looking for another way to do this show in Greenwood," Black said. Apparently, the show's promoter, Broadway Entertainment, said the venue was unable to hang lights from the ceiling and had planned to use a generator for power, which was not acceptable to Black. However, James Belk, director of the Leflore County Civic Center, told POLLSTAR, "Any concert being booked gets a copy of all building specifications. They had it three months in advance." Belk said his arena has hosted shows with "everybody in the business" including Reba McEntire. "This was supposed to be an acoustic show and we can't imagine even what they're talking about. We're not in agreement with it at all and we're real disappointed in that they blamed something on the building that we still don't even know what they are talking about. And our attorneys are asking that they give us an explanation," he said. The arena doesn't plan to pursue legal action. Belk said, "We

Metallica Tries 7-Year Itch On Elektra

Metallica is challenging the untested seven-year personal service statute in California by filing suit against Elektra Entertainment in an attempt to get out of its recording contract. The action was filed September 27th in San Francisco Superior Court.

A close-up portrait of Lorrie Morgan with short, light-colored hair and bangs. She is looking directly at the camera with a neutral expression. Her hands are visible near her neck, and she is wearing a ring on her finger.

Lorrie Morgan

Is Close To Perfect At Warwick

WARWICK — Country heart-ache angle Lorrie Morgan's performance at the Warwick Musical Theatre last night started out a triumph and moved onward and upward from there.

Her voice, as big as Texas sky, pure and sparkling as country spring water, yet smoky as a Mississippi roadhouse after hours, is a well-tempered instrument perfectly, uniquely suited to the all-American love songs she sings.

The high points came early and frequently during her show, but the most notable musical moments cropped up during her tear-jerking treatment of If You Came Back From Heaven from her new WAR PAINT album. As beautiful a country weeper as I've ever heard sung anywhere by anyone, the tune encapsulated everything Morgan does well.

Backed by the seven-piece Slam Band, she delivered all the vocal power, control and beauty anyone could ever ask for. But what distinguished her singing was credibility. Not for one single instant did she appear to be just singing a song. Every note and corresponding word she uttered spoke eloquently of love won and lost, of heartache and joy, of life and experience.

This was particularly evident during I Guess You Had To Be There and the stunning Evening Up The Odds, both of which could easily have been show-stoppers for any other performer. But for Morgan, they were mere pebbles on the beach — additional, and entirely unnecessary, evidence that country music's honkytonk angel genre has a new queen.

THE MAVERICKS

The city of Miami is not exactly known as one of the hotbeds of country music. That's why it took a bit of renegade behavior on the part of some aspiring musicians to form a traditional roots-influenced country band so far from the industry's hub in Music City. From that perspective, The Mavericks really are an aptly named band.

The idea of The Mavericks was conceived when singer/guitarist Raul Malo was working in a record store and met bassist Robert Reynolds. The two of them discovered their common love for roots influenced music and got together to jam. Drummer Paul Deakin, a friend of Reynolds', and guitarist Nick Kane, the newest band member, rounded out the lineup.

Nearly five years ago, when The Mavericks first started, most of the original music clubs in Miami were hosting alternative rock bands. "There was all this experimental rock and pop type music going on and we were playing real traditional country music." Though there were some difficulties in premiering a country band in Miami, Reynolds said there were just as many blessings. "We became the alternative to the alternative," he said.

The Mavericks got the attention of major record companies with a very polished demo project they put out on their own indie label. "We allowed it to be product so that a music lover or a fan of the band could go out and buy it. So it was kind of a two dimensional project. On one hand, we wanted [the labels] to see it as ... a real nice high polished demo. And then we wanted music fans to be able to buy it and actually play it and enjoy it," Reynolds said. When Nashville labels got a hold of the demo, things started happening. Reynolds said, "Some of the trade magazines were writing about this unknown band out of Miami and before we knew it, we had four or five major labels inquiring about the band." The Mavericks chose to sign with MCA Nashville and their latest release, What A Crying Shame, recently went gold.

Reynolds used What A Crying Shame to illustrate that The Mavericks are, what he calls, "an album band." He said, "It's not one hit single that's sold half a million records because we really haven't had that kind of one hit single." He said the record's success comes from mixing live shows, radio, video and press.

The Mavericks also see themselves as a strong live band. Reynolds said, "We don't go out and tour so that we can make our record, we make our record so that we can go out and tour."

Reynolds said the band is taking advantage of the momentum they've built in the U.S. but they also generated quite a bit of excitement abroad before their album was released. "I believe you can go to Europe without any hits and if they know an American country music band is coming to play their festivals, they're pretty geared up for it. It's kind of just a credit to their respect for the trouble that many people go through to bring one single band over to Europe or down to South America. It's not easy to get your equipment or your time free from U.S. tours to go over there."

In its travels, the band has had its chance to play with some of the legends that have been big influences. Recently, the Mavericks recorded a song with Carl Perkins and Duane Eddy for the AIDS benefit record, Red Hot and Country. Reynolds said, no matter what kind of success The Mavericks achieve, they will always be in awe of the legends. "That's really what it's about. For us, we're kind of like kids then. I mean, we get excited and some of us ask for autographs and stuff like that. It doesn't matter if I had a number one record out right now and Waylon Jennings walked into the room and he hadn't done an album in two years, I would stop everything to try to get a handshake."

The Miami group hasn't had any problem gaining acceptance and backing in the home of those country legends — Nashville. Reynolds said the band has had a lot of support in its struggle for success. "A year ago, it was very much left to be seen what would happen and I think a lot of people in Nashville invested in this group — not necessarily financially but maybe emotionally and using their resources and talents and passion."

The time the band has spent in Nashville is one thing that has affected it's latest album, making it different from its MCA Nashville debut, From Hell to Paradise, Reynolds said. "We had a little more experience and the songs were written after time spent in Nashville. And I think that's interesting — not that all the songs were written in Nashville but we had kind of freed ourselves from Miami and that lifestyle and come up to Nashville where we're relaxing and settling into being musicians. So the album reflects a little of that."

But Reynolds is quick to point out the importance of similarities between the two records. "If you played them back to back, I could show you songs that are very related to the first album. I like that. I feel like an about-face shows some dissatisfaction with your past. And instead, I think we just kept going forward."

The Mavericks maintain a stronghold on the business aspect of their career. Reynolds said the label does not stand in the way of creative choices with the band's music, image and videos. He said, "We work real close. Nothing is done without the band's involvement. We joke around and call it the 'Maverick Way' at MCA because it may not always be the common path but it gets us where we're going."

The Mavericks will continue touring the U.S. through the end of the year. They are managed by TCA Group's Frank Callari and are booked by Bobby Cudd at Monterey Artists.

According to interpretations of California's Labor Code, an artist cannot be tied to a company for more than seven years under a personal services contract. Metallica signed with Elektra in 1984 and reportedly had reworked the terms of its deal with ex-Elektra head Bob Krasnow but didn't sign the deal before his resignation in July. The members of Metallica claim that with Krasnow now gone, Warner Music Group chairman Robert Morgado is refusing to honor the new agreement for a joint venture label the band claims it made with Krasnow. Metallica drummer Lars Ulrich told the Los Angeles Times, "Our faith in this company has been flushed down the drain. Elektra used to have a reputation as a label that treated artists with respect. Now it's just another place where arrogant business people break promises." Elektra issued a terse response stating Metallica's action was without merit and that it planned to vigorously enforce its contractual rights.

Yeah, But Can The Contractors Read?

The pressure is on. The 25,000 seat Cellar Door Pavilion in Northern Virginia has put its completion date in writing. And standing by that opening date for the new D.C.-area shed are (L-R) Cellar Door's Dave Williams and A.J. Wasson; Ogden Entertainment's Joe Barry; Cellar Door's project manager Jeff Griffin; Janet Boyle; and Cellar Door's CEO Jack Boyle.

Gambling On Branson

Residents of Branson, the entertainment mecca known as the "Bible Belt Boomtown" which is ironically located in Christian County, say they will fight plans for a casino or bingo operation being proposed for a location 10 miles north of the Ozarks tourist haven. A partnership between New Jersey-based Creative Learning Products Inc. and the Oklahoma-based Eastern Shawnee Indian tribe is seeking to invoke a 1988 federal law that allows American Indians to acquire new land, place it in trust with the government and use it for gambling facilities. Such a proposal would probably have to be approved by the Governor of Missouri and the U.S. Department of Interior. The Governor is reportedly against gambling in the Branson area as are many city leaders, citizens and resident performers. Mel Tillis spoke out against gambling saying, "It would be the ruin of Branson." And Boxcar Willie vowed to fight the gambling advocates whom he'd like to run out of the region on a rail.

Peppery Blues For Crue Dude

In a melee that erupted at the House of Blues in West Hollywood September 22nd, Motley Crue drummer Tommy Lee was shot in the face with pepper spray and handcuffed by sheriff's deputies. An argument that started among several patrons in the club's bar turned into a fight involving 50 to 75 people that spilled into the parking lot. When officers arrived at the scene and saw Lee struggling with security guards, they "ordered him to stop but he didn't so the deputies sprayed him with pepper spray," a sheriff's spokesperson said. Lee was taken to the hospital to have the spray washed out of his eyes but he was not arrested.

Deals, Moves & Changes

After two years together, Billy Dean has announced an amicable parting with manager Teri Brown of TBA Management. No new management deal has been made although the singer is still being booked by Ron Baird at CAA..... The brand new Gateway Arena in Cleveland has been renamed the Gund Arena. Cleveland Cavaliers owner Gordon Gund will reportedly pay $14 million over the next 20 years to have the team's new arena named after him. Gund reportedly outbid six other companies for the name privilege..... SMG has been selected to manage the Grand Center in Grand Rapids, Mich., as of October 1st. Craig Liston, who was recently the finance director at the SMG-managed St. Louis Arena, is the Grand Center's new general manager. The Grand Center includes the 4,500-seat Welsh Auditorium, the 2,446-seat DeVos Hall, and a 117,000 sq. ft. exhibition hall. The deal probably also gives SMG the inside track on the management contract for the city's new 12,000 seat arena which is projected to open in about two years..... American Recordings inked a long-term license agreement with BMG International for distribution outside North America. The new agreement was scheduled to go into effect September 26th.

Meat Loaf Strikes Out

A stunned Meat Loaf can't believe he was just struck out by a fox — the Vancouver CFOX-FM radio station mascot to be exact. The station recently played a charity softball game with Meat Loaf and Cheap Trick to raise food for local food banks.

Run Over By God

Michael Jackson was hit with yet another multimillion dollar lawsuit stemming from activity during his aborted world tour last year. In October 1993, two teenagers were allegedly struck by a van MJ was riding in outside a toy factory in Brazil. One of the teenagers, 16-year old Alberto de Paolo, suffered a compound fracture of the thighbone and underwent three operations that cost about $20,000, according to the boy's lawyer, John E. Durst Jr.

MJ visited the boy in the hospital, posing for photographs and promising to cover medical expenses and provide a scholarship and other money for pain and suffering, Durst said. However, the suit claims MJ sent only a toy car set as compensation after his hospital visit. Durst described the teen as "one of these young kids that thinks Michael Jackson's God and suddenly God runs him over and promises to do these things and never follows up on it." Durst said negotiations with MJ's lawyers broke down recently, forcing the teen's family to file the $20 million suit in Manhattan federal court. MJ's attorney Howard Weitzman said he hadn't seen the lawsuit and dismissed it as "another opportunistic attempt to cash in on Michael's success."

Built With Pride

Five separate contracting companies have filed liens against the owner of the Charley Pride Theatre in Branson claiming they are still owed nearly $1 million in original building costs. The companies say that Dancing Bear Entertainment still owes them about a quarter of the $3.6 million construction job which was completed at the end of May. According to court records, the exact amount is $953,081. The financial conflict arose because the owners dispute much of the original costs, claiming some of the work was finished after the deadline and some of it was never authorized. An attorney for Dancing Bear said September 26th that the company's partners have paid all their bills on time and even paid $250,000 to contractors after the liens were filed. And liens also were filed September 26th on the new Mel Tillis theatre by a contractor who claims he is owed nearly $28,000 for the job.

Pay For Play

The battle between performance-rights societies, such as ASCAP and BMI, and New Jersey small business owners is moving to the legislature. Panico's restaurant in New Brunswick had faced a $100,000 copyright infringement lawsuit by ASCAP in 1992 which it eventually settled for $5,500. But owner Frank Panico later asked state lawmakers to regulate the collection tactics of performance-rights groups, according to a report in the Wall Street Journal. The state General Assembly passed a measure last month that would require performance-rights societies to make their repertoires and rates available to business owners, the paper reported. The measure, which is expected to pass the state Senate, also would require investigators from those groups to identify themselves when they enter a New Jersey business. Small business groups are also promoting two bills in the U.S. House of Representatives, the Journal reported. The measures would allow businesses to play television sets and radios without licenses. But before small businesses could legally stop paying licensing fees for "incidental" music, Congress reportedly would have to alter federal copyright law.

A Universal Family Affair

Tony Bennett is appealing to younger and younger audiences all the time. In fact, his youngest fan couldn't help drooling over this special appearance at Universal CityWalk's Sam Goody location. Bennett was celebrating the advance sellout of his October 17th concert at Universal Amphitheatre. (L-R) are manager and No.1 son Danny Bennett, Tony Bennett, MCA Concerts' Neil Jacobsen and daughter Kate, and William Morris agent Rob Heller.

Bodyguarding The Scenery

A lawsuit claiming that a bodyguard for Whitney Houston and husband Bobby Brown threatened to assault a man at a hotel in Puerto Rico is proceeding forward. While Houston and Brown were vacationing at the El Conquistador Hotel in San Croabas in April, the bodyguard, known only as "Vernon Doe," allegedly climbed up a balcony and threatened a man who was using a video camera. Barry and Alice Baum of Suffolk County, New York said they were just filming scenery from their balcony — not Houston or Brown. Alice Baum claims the incident caused her husband to suffer and thereby deprived her of his companionship. The couple is seeking nearly $4.5 million in the suit which names Houston, Brown and Doe. Houston's lawyer claimed the suit should be thrown out because he said the proper venue would be in Puerto Rico — not New Jersey where Houston is from. A N.J. Superior Court judge disagreed.

Pros On The Move

Michael Pontecorvo has been named tour marketing manager at Elektra Entertainment. Pontecorvo was previously a promoter's rep with Metropolitan Entertainment. He joined Metropolitan in 1990 as an assistant in the artist management office..... Some executive changes have been made at the Star Lake Amphitheatre in Burgettstown, Pa. Former director of marketing Lance Jones has been promoted to GM. Jack Tumpson replaces Jones in the marketing department and takes on the responsibility for Star Lake's promotion. Tumpson has sold his concert promotion company, Next Big Thing Productions, which he has owned for the last nine years, to his long time associate Dana Resciniti..... Spectacor named Richard Ruben executive vice president. Ruben was most recently VP of planning and CFO for the Bell Atlantic Mobile Corporation..... Peter Napoliello has joined EMI Records as VP of promotion. Napoliello will relocate to New York from Los Angeles where he formerly served as VP of promotion at Geffen Records.

Short Items Of Note

Tammy Wynette left a Pittsburgh hospital September 23rd after a 10-day stay because of a bout with pneumonia. Wynette cancelled three dates including a two night run at Opryland but was expected to return to the stage October 2nd at Longs Park in Lancaster, Pa. Wynette is feeling fine but is still experiencing shortness of breath, according to a spokesperson..... R. Kelly and his 15-year-old protege, Alliyah, allegedly were married in Illinois August 31st. However there has been no confirmation of that fact from either camp. According to the N.Y. Daily News, the Cook County clerk's office in Kelly's hometown of Chicago issued a license in August to him and Alliyah Haughton. The Illinois marriage certificate reportedly states Alliyah is 18-years old. Alliyah and Kelly's record company, Jive, claims the singer is 15-years old, as did one of her cousins, according to USA Today. The paper also reported that Kelly had told his friends Alliyah was pregnant and the two were getting married..... Elton John, Chuck Berry and the Gipsy Kings are among the artists who were scheduled to appear at the three-day "Deutschland Fest" celebrating the October 3rd anniversary of German reunification. An estimated 100,000 were expected to attend the celebration. This is the first time in four years that the country will celebrate the Day of German Unity in such a big way. In previous years, an uneasiness over what the reunification might mean to European neighbors made the holiday celebration rather modest..... The rural home in which Jerry Lee Lewis lives is not as plush or elaborate as Graceland but since the 58-year-old rocker opened the Mississippi home to visitors in early August, an estimated 50 people a day have paid $5 each to see the pad that the Killer calls home. Lewis opened his home to public

They Be Dancin' Yeah

The Crime Of Music

A Pennsylvania bill that would turn minors into criminals for purchasing music labeled with parental warning stickers went before the House Judiciary Committee September 12th in Harrisburg, Pa. The state committee made some changes to the original bill September 28th and then passed a vote to send it on to the full House. The bill, introduced by D-Rep. Terence (T.J.) Rooney, would also effect retailers, imposing fines up to $100 on any company caught selling labeled music to minors. Under the original bill, a minor convicted for buying labeled music could have faced up to 100 hours of community service in a local domestic violence or rape crisis center. But the revised bill calls for only 10 hours of community service for the first offense and a limit of 25 hours for each additional violation. The Recording Industry Association of America opposes the pending legislation calling it unconstitutional. Supporters of the bill claim the recording industry is out-of-control and acting irresponsible by opposing the legislation. But the RIAA, which runs the labeling program, said imposing criminal penalties would destroy the voluntary parental labeling program. Retailers would refuse to sell labeled material altogether for fear of prosecution, said Paul Russinoff, assistant general counsel and director of state relations for the RIAA. And record companies would stop the voluntary labeling, fearing it would not be sold, Russinoff said. The Pennsylvania PTA also opposes the bill. The group supports the current labeling program but is concerned about penalties the pending legislation would place on minors.

Legal Grievs

Three dancers from Madonna's "Blond Ambition" tour settled the invasion of privacy suit they filed in 1992 against Miramax, Propaganda Films and Madonna's Boy Toy Inc. The dancers, Gabriel Trupin, Kevin Stea and Oliver Crumes, claimed Maddie lied to them about the intended use of film footage shot during the tour. The dancers say the footage that ultimately appeared in the movie "Truth or Dare" invaded their privacy. The suit was dismissed September 27th and the terms of the settlement are confidential..... Damion Neville, grandson of Charles Neville and son of Charmaine Neville, was arrested for second-degree murder in the stabbing death of his live-in girlfriend. The 22-year-old Neville confessed to the slaying September 22nd, according to police. He was being held on $500,000 bail. Charmaine Neville cancelled performances at the San Francisco Blues Festival which were scheduled the weekend after her son's arrest..... A 24-year-old man from Boise, Mark Gregory Pina, admitted he attacked Michael Damian August 6th during the singer's performance at the Big Dam party at Sandy Point Beach near the Idaho city. Pina pled guilty to misdemeanor battery and was ordered to undergo evaluation for alcohol and substance abuse. He will be sentenced for the battery charge November 30th..... A lawsuit brought against Pauly Shore by a California woman has been settled out of court. Charlotte Martin accused Shore of diving off the stage and landing on her during his August 1992 performance at Fresno's Cadillac Club. Martin reportedly sustained several injuries and was out of work for weeks. Shore reportedly had no recollection of the incident. A spokesperson for Martin's attorney would not disclose the amount of the settlement.

Creative Accounting For The Stars

A stockbroker with a celebrity clientele vanished and may have taken a significant amount of cash with her, the N.Y. Daily News reported September 27th. Janie Thomas was recently fired from her job at Merrill Lynch where some of her clients reportedly were Barbra Streisand and Paul Anka. One of the accounts Thomas reportedly handled was worth more than $500,000 but only showed a $1,200 balance. Thomas and her husband vanished from their home in Las Vegas after Merrill Lynch sued to freeze their assets and notified the FBI and Securities and Exchange Commission. A spokesperson for Merrill Lynch said there's "no indications" so far that Thomas had misappropriated any cash but there was an investigation underway to determine if that could be a possibility. Thomas had told some of her clients their money would be put in "special accounts" and get separate statements, but those accounts do not exist, according to Merrill Lynch. The brokerage is reportedly reassuring investors it will cover any losses.

Manhattan NOW Release the NOW ALBUM...

New York, N.Y. - The Manhattans Now are the result of the caring efforts of Edward "Sonny" Bivens, an original "Manhattan", to carry on the Music tradition. The result, THE NOW ALBUM, a Hektoen Recording release distributed nationally by the INDI Network.

The Manhattans Past: In 1989, the Gold and Platinum winning Manhattans, who sold over twelve million records, with such great hits as "Kiss and Say Goodbye", "There's No Me Without You", and "Shining Star", collectively decided to break-up and pursue their respective interests. At that time "Sonny", with the cooperation of Hektoen Music, created The Manhattans Now.

"Sonny's" Goal was to create a fresh, new and respectful sound reflecting The Manhattans roots of smooth, polished and heartfelt harmonies. He choose Al Pazant, Charles Hardy, Harsey Hemphill, and Lee Williams to accomplish his personal mission.

Since 1990 The Manhattans Now have performed throughout the United States and Canada. They have appeared at such special events as the United Negro College Fund (UNCF) in Birmingham, Alabama, Gulla Festival in Buford, South Carolina, and the Martin Luther King Ambassadorial Dinner Sponsored by Congress of Racial Equality (C.O.R.E.) in New York City. With over 200 performances to their credit the "vision" of The Manhattans Now was solidified.

In 1994 The Manhattans Now record their music with producer Stephen C. Washington of Slave, Aurra, Ohio Players and George Clinton Fame. The result... The Manhattans Now Album. The "Now" album (available on CD and Cassette) offers listeners twelve newly recorded songs including "JUST FOR TONIGHT", a passionate original song, "TOUCH THE HEM OF HIS GARMENT", the gospel classic, and The Manhattans Now Medley, a tribute to the past by The "Now".

Watch for The Manhattans Now on National Television, print media, personal appearances, and hear them on your favorite radio station.

Between The Dates

Glenn Frey's stomach problems have forced the postponement of several more EAGLES dates including Nashville and Kansas City. At press time the October 3rd show in Lincoln and the 4th in Oklahoma City were possible candidates for rescheduling. Word is that decisions are being made on a day-by-day basis, and the boys hope to be back at work in time for Mother Hubbard's date in Las Cruces on October 6th.... A pregnant Charlotte Caffey will be sitting out the upcoming GO-GOs' reunion tour. Former Bangles guitarist Vicki Peterson will be subbing for Caffey. See Route Book for the dates.... You can get what you want, and what you need, and receive satisfaction in the bargain. All you have to do is get THE ROLLING STONES Visa card. Issued by the Chevy Chase Savings Bank, the card sports the group's famous lips and tongue trademark. The band received a licensing fee for the logo's use, and they approved the card's terms. Cardholders win bonus points for discounts on Stones souvenirs, and are eligible for special offers and prices from participating record stores. What's interesting is that the 30-year-old band has been around longer than the modern credit card. In other Stones news, there was some minor apprehension about the scheduling of the Carrier Dome Show in Syracuse. The concert is set for the second-to-last day of classes for the fall semester, and Syracuse University officials were concerned that it would send the wrong message to students who are supposedly gearing up for final exams. "I like to boogie as much as the next guy or gal," said college registrar Peter DeBlois. "But it is also going to take over the hill pretty much on a night when classes are still in session." Tour spokesperson Ted Mico countered with, "Going to see a Rolling Stones show is an education in itself." The show will take place as scheduled..... It now appears that Mr. and Mrs. Michael Jackson will not sing together at next weekend's tribute show, ELVIS AARON PRESLEY — THE TRIBUTE honoring the King. There were earlier indications that a joint performance was in the offing but a spokesperson for Graceland now says Lisa Marie won't be performing and, for that matter, neither will her husband. However, several artists were added to the bill last week, including Chet Atkins, John Cale, Billy Ray Cyrus, Mac Davis, Chaka Demis & Pliers, Chris Isaak, L7, Jerry Lee Lewis, the Mavericks, Ronnie McDowell, Sam Moore, NRBQ, Iggy Pop, the Scorpions, Sly & Robbie, Paul Rodgers, Michael W. Smith, Wet Wet Wet, and Ann Wilson. The show will also feature taped contributions by U2, Travis Tritt, and Faith Hill.... What's the old line about politics making strange bedfellows? How about THE GRATEFUL DEAD, deadheads, portable toilets, and the Governor of Massachusetts? When fans started gathering Monday afternoon for the first of 6 shows at the Boston Garden, they soon had two complaints — police harassment and the lack of toilets. So they took their beef to fellow Dead fan William Weld, who just happens to be Gov. After being cornered outside his office by ten Deadheads, Weld told the fans that he had some friends down at the Garden and he promised to look into the problem. However, when it comes to the portable toilets, the band already had the situation under control. Grateful Dead spokesperson Dennis McNally, said they had already made arrangements through the Don Law Co. to provide the toilets, and that the facilities were in place later that same day. In regards to the claims of police harassment, McNally noted that the Garden is an old venue with little room outside for people to gather. "Larry Moulter (Boston Garden President) is a great executive. He has a great relationship with the police." McNally added that the band itself gets along perfectly with the Boston P.D. and that there are some fans who think that just being told to "move along" is harassment. You can be sure that since the portable toilets appeared on the scene shortly after the fans talked with the governor, William Weld has pretty much locked up the Deadhead vote in his current campaign for reelection.... The COUNTING CROWS had to take a week off when a doctor found soft nodules on lead singer Adam Duritz's throat. The band was in the middle of a four night run at the Greek Theatre in Los Angeles and had to postpone the remaining two shows to the following week. The band still plans on touring the South Pacific and Europe, starting October 14th in Auckland, New Zealand.... President Clinton's stepbrother, ROGER CLINTON, will give two charity concerts in Seoul, South Korea to raise funds for the handicapped. Plans are for a documentary to be made of the shows for broadcast on the state television channel.... Buffed out FOREIGNER fans can look for the latest news on the band in the November issue of Muscle & Fitness magazine. Amidst the pictures of oiled-up steroid studs you will find a multi-page spread on Lou Gramm, Mick Jones and the boys focusing on their work-out regimen while on the road. In the article, Jones remarks on how he used to head straight for the bar but now he heads straight for the gym.

U.K. News Report

(London) Festival rumours for next summer are already permeating the industry. Plans for a 25th anniversary ISLE OF WIGHT FESTIVAL are apparently being resurrected. The festival was originally scheduled for this summer, but the bill never came together. If the festival takes place, it is likely to be at the end of August. The promoter is Ray Foulk, who organised the original festival in 1970. He has brought in Martin Elbourne, booker for Glastonbury Festival, to generate agency interest. The plan is to create a dance-oriented event, which would make it stand out from the others on the calendar..... London arts venue, the SOUTH BANK CENTRE is relaunching its image in a bid to reach wider audiences. The complex comprised of three venues (Royal Festival Hall, Queen Elizabeth Hall, Purcell Room) and an art gallery will in the future be known as the SBC. The SBC is looking to increase its quota of rock and pop events to at least one per week. Deputy music director, David Sefton, wants to bring more good, old fashioned rock back to the arts complex. Lou Reed was the last rock act to play there in 1986, and the venue has since cultivated a jazz and world music profile. Some concessions have been made to rock audiences, such as allowing drinks in the ROYAL FESTIVAL HALL auditorium. The venue is also in the process of renegotiating its licence to allow free movement and dancing in the aisles. Forthcoming events at SBC include Richard Thompson, Peter Hammill, Bill Frisell, Ismael Lo, and Zap Mama. Elvis Costello will be putting together a program of music, dance and art for next year's "Meltdown '95" festival..... TRAFFIC kicked off the autumn season for the Labatts Apollo Hammersmith. It was the first show at the 3,897 capacity venue in seven weeks. Promoted by Kennedy Street, the band played a two hour set to an audience of 3,200. That show was followed by two sell-out nights for the Sounds Of Blackness supported by China Black..... The TOWN & COUNTRY (T&C) club in Leeds has just begun its third year of trading and is on its way to being one of the fastest-selling mid-sized venues in the UK. Manager Ollie Smith says the venue fills an important gap in the region and that the in-house box office system has contributed to the success. Smith built up a reputation at the T&C in London, before it was taken over by the Mean Fiddler Organisation in 1993 and became The Forum. The T&C team will be opening a new venue in Watford. A 15-year lease has been agreed with the local council for the running of the former Watford Assembly Hall, requiring no capital investment on the part of the T&C. The venue will reopen in mid October as the 1,800 capacity WATFORD COLISEUM and will hold a mix of rock, pop and variety shows. The arrangement may mark the beginning of a new trend in the management of smaller clubs. Smith says the deal makes sense in a tight market, where property prices and the costs of running a venue are very high and concert attendances are down. Local councils can no longer afford to invest in entertainment and venue-owners are constantly under pressure to fulfill loan commitments to the breweries. The Coliseum is currently being refurbished under the guidance of the T&C and will reopen with new dressing rooms and staging facilities..... OASIS, currently touring the US, have announced their sixth UK tour this year. The band's debut album, Definitely Maybe has already gone gold. The ten date tour has been selling well. The 1,900-capacity Glasgow Barrowlands sold out in two days. The band will be doing some European dates prior to the November/December tour and are planning a return visit to the US next year as well as dates in Japan and Australia..... SUEDE have announced two UK tours in October and December, following the release of their eagerly awaited second album, Dog Man Star. The band will be playing in Europe in November and the stage show will feature ten short films..... The prize winners of In The City's Manchester Airport award for the best new band were Flinch, with Flying Medallions and 80FT Dolls in second and third place. Hotly tipped, but not picked were Pusherman. And the all important Roadie of The Year award went to DOUGIE MONARCH, whose crewing credits include Jethro Tull.

(Sydney) Michael Coppel Presents has confirmed that TORI AMOS will be touring Australia in December but dates weren't available at press time..... Until a month ago Virgin Records in this country had no plans to locally release SAM PHILLIPS' Martinis & Bikinis album. Then they decided to send a few radio promos out and suddenly major radio leapt all over the album. Virgin are currently trying to get stocks to meet demand - and promoters are muttering about trying to set up a tour..... Last week patrons at the small inner-Sydney Britannia Hotel were surprised when musicians were invited onstage for their Wednesday night bluegrass / country jam. Out of the audience came TOM T. HALL, currently in the middle of an extensive tour..... Over the past years, aside from a host of local bands, THE BIG DAY OUT concerts have featured the like of Nirvana, The Smashing Pumpkins, Sonic Youth, Iggy Pop, Bjork, Soundgarden and The Ramones. The dates for next year's extravaganza have been announced: Auckland - January 20, Melbourne - January 22, Sydney - January 26, Gold Coast - January 29, Adelaide - February 3, and Perth - February 5. Tickets go on sale October 28th. No bands have been officially announced yet, although Primal Scream seems to be one of the definites..... No more crazed junkets to the Gold Coast's luxurious Dreamworld for Australia industry figures. This year's AUSTRALIAN MUSIC AWARDS will be held on December 7th at the decidedly un-Dreamworld like HORDERN PAVILION (a cattle pavilion often used for concerts!). Some are wondering if the industry will be as keen to attend?..... It looks like another Australian rock 'n' roll legend is set to join Jimmy Barnes and Angry Anderson by revealing (almost) all in an authorised biography. BILLY THORPE, who made a triumphant return to Australia recently after years of living in Los Angeles, is set to put pen to paper..... Everyone seems to want a piece of the Australian Broadcasting Commission (ABC) at present with ongoing controversy and innuendo about the relationship between network programming of both TV and radio and involvement with corporate bodies. The Sydney Morning Herald had a lengthy item in which the manager of Australian youth radio network 2JJJ-FM, BARRY CHAPMAN, denied there is a conflict of interest between his chairmanship of the Dolphin Music Group and Triple J's promotion of artists such as LUCKY DUBE who are signed to the label. Chapman told the paper that he had disclosed his interest in the business before accepting the job at Triple J in 1990 and no objections had been raised within the ABC. Reporter Richard Guilliat pointed out that in 1991, Triple J helped promote the Australian tours of Lucky Dube and Mahlathini & the Mahotella Queens, two African recording artists signed to Dolphin in Australia. Triple J promoted another tour by Lucky Dube the following year, when Dolphin released his album, House Of Exile. Chapman said that, "If you want to draw a long bow" he financially benefited from Triple J's promotion of these artists but denied that he played any part in the station's decision to promote the tours or play the records. This was backed up by Triple J's music director, Arnold Frollows who said that Chapman had never suggested any song be added to its playlist..... With local indie Shock Records getting all the publicity last week about their decision to use computer network Aussie Music Online (AMO), competitor MUSHROOM Distribution Services (MDS) weighed in with their own claim that they're behind, Australia's first ever act launched on the INTERNET. Melbourne band the Fireballs were on-line via Australia's Inter-Music Connection (AIMC). Starting October 15th the entire MDS catalog of Australian artist product will be available for perusing on the Internet when Aussie Music OnLine is launched..... Last week saw the official launch of NATHAN CAVALERI's new album at the Hard Rock Cafe in Sydney. According to the release, the 12-year-old guitarist has "Just returned from a triumphant sell-out tour of the U.S.A." Uhh, we could use some more details on the tour..... Just announced is a star-studded extravaganza to raise funding for the on-going activities of THE BIG BACKYARD, a radio show which is syndicated to hundreds of American college stations as a way of promoting new Australian music. Among those appearing at the Sydney Domain on November 5th are Midnight Oil, The Cruel Sea, Ed Kuepper, Dave Graney with The Coral Snakes, Died Pretty, and DEF FX. The concert is an initiative of the Australian music industry in association with the Frontier Touring Company, Polygram Music Publishing and the New South Wales Government. It's also been announced that The Big Backyard radio program has been awarded $30,000 towards the production of radio programs for overseas broadcast. The initial award was part of a three year commitment to The Big Backyard, with financial assistance totalling $90,000.
