Anonymous Tip Leads To Orlando Probe

Joanne Cummings Grant, the director of the Orlando Centroplex and a widely respected facility manager, is under investigation after the mayor's office received anonymous allegations claiming she used her position for personal advantage at the expense of the city. Mayor Glenda Hood's chief administrative officer, Howard Tipton, reportedly contacted Orlando police after reviewing a four-page letter, according to a report earlier this month in the Orlando Sentinel. The police launched an investigation which is expected to be wrapped up within the next few days. The accusations levied against Grant include the charge that she used several city employees to do personal chores at her home. She is also accused of permitting her top assistants to break city regulations by issuing backstage passes to friends, taking city equipment to her home for personal use and allowing friends into events for free. Grant, who has been with the city since 1987, has apparently made a few political enemies in Orlando who could be behind the anonymous complaints. Last year, she angered County Commissioner Bill Donegan by writing a letter to county administrators saying she was "appalled" by the way he treated an arena employee who approached him about having too many people in the county's skybox at the Orlando Arena. According to the Sentinel, Donegan ordered the arena employee out of the box saying "he was a commissioner and could do what he wanted." Donegan reportedly said his actions were proper and that Grant's attack was "despicable" and a "cheap shot" that distorted the truth. And last December, Grant irked Orlando police when she stopped using off-duty officers for security because of a pay dispute, the paper reported. Grant reportedly

A Momentary Lapse Of Gravity

Nearly 100 Pink Floyd fans were injured October 12th at Earls Court arena in London when a section of temporary bleachers collapsed as the first few bars of the opening song, "Shine On You Crazy Diamond" echoed through the hall. It was to have been the first Floyd show in the U.K. in seven years. As the band launched into its first song, the audience enthusiastically rose to its feet and the bleacher section at the rear of the hall fell like a house of cards with people on the bottom end falling only about four feet and those at the back tumbling some 20 feet. The house lights were brought up and the show was immediately canceled. David Gilmour said he had just walked on stage and was getting ready to play his first chords when the house lights came on. At first, he started yelling at the crew to turn out the lights before he realized what had just happened. The crowd of about 15,500 fans were asked to leave the building and were later told their tickets would be valid for a rescheduled show on October 17th. Eyewitnesses said the scene looked like a battlefield, although most of the injuries were minor. A majority of the injured were treated by medical crews on site though 36 people were taken to area hospitals but few were admitted and none of them for very serious injuries. The temporary bleachers had been used many times and had reportedly passed a safety inspection the morning of the show. An investigation into the accident is underway. The band did successfully kick off its 14 night sold-out run at Earls Court on October 13th but the approximately 1,200 fans who were to have been seated in the section which collapsed the night before, had to make do with promises to attend other shows. The venue and promoter Harvey Goldsmith expected to have a replacement seating section installed in time for the next show.

The White Glove Solution

The new Hong Kong Stadium hasn't been hosting international concert tours because of a 70-decibel noise limit for events held in the venue which is surrounded by expensive high-rise apartments. The noise limit was initiated after neighbors complained about the window-rattling sound levels blasting from pop concerts. So for last week's Canto-pop concert, local authorities and Wembley PLC, which manages the venue, decided to try something a bit unusual. According to a report in the South China Morning Post, the venue was scheduled to provide 17,500 pairs of white cotton gloves to fans attending the

JIMMY DALE GILMORE

Jimmy Dale Gilmore has been on the road non-stop for nearly a year culminating a 20-year-plus career in the music industry. Gilmore's persistent dedication and love of music has allowed him to headline shows as well as support artists the caliber of Bob Dylan, Nanci Griffith, Dwight Yoakam and Kathy Mattea.

As a headliner, Gilmore gathers more and more fans every time he hits a city. He believes it's his deep love of music that's allowed him to amass such success without the benefit of hit singles. "I honestly believe that my enthusiasm for the music is real catching," Gilmore told POLLSTAR. "I think it's something that the audience shares with me. Most of the places that I've toured, if I go back, I normally have a bigger crowd the second time and more so the third."

Gilmore said the phenomenon of continually expanding audiences has caused him to move on from some of the houses he'd played for years. "A lot of the places that had become favorite haunts of mine, I've outgrown now," he said. "It's a little funny now because I'm in the interim place between playing the little intimate kind of clubs and now [moving] into the theatres and stuff. It's a little bit of a strange transition for me."

Incessant touring built several strong regional markets for the Texas-based singer/songwriter. "I developed a really nice following in Seattle, of all strange things, and also in Chicago, San Francisco and New York City," Gilmore said. "Those four places have all been really good for me, pretty much, from the beginning. And it's grown steadily over the years to the point that I have a bigger following in any of those places than I do in Texas."

The multi-genre-influenced Gilmore was named Rolling Stone's critic's choice as country artist of the year in 1991 and '92 yet he managed to attract fans in the Pacific Northwest's grunge scene. "There's a wonderful place in Seattle called the Backstage that I've played regularly for several years now. I've met a lot of really nice people there. I met people from Mudhoney, who I recorded with eventually, and Pearl Jam. A lot of them have been big fans and supporters of mine for the last couple of years."

Gilmore's recording with Mudhoney exposed his music to an audience who may have otherwise never heard of him. "In every gig we played after that record was released, there was a whole new contingent there," Gilmore said. "And even though the music wasn't slanted in any different way, [audiences] really went for it. I've gotten a lot of new fans from that [association with Mudhoney] — people much younger than me."

The odd-coupling of the grunge band and the country act also changed the way Gilmore's family looked at him. "When I told my 19-year-old son that I'd met these guys from a band called Mudhoney, he went, 'YOU DID?' Suddenly, it's like I became more valid to him. So I found out what was going on with him and he caught me up on [Mudhoney's] stuff."

Gilmore may have found an audience in the college-music crowd, but other radio formats haven't been as friendly. But Gilmore doesn't let the quest for airplay change the way he feels about his music. "Well, of course, I would love to have a big huge radio hit," Gilmore said. "I would love to be able to have the kind of income that could let us travel in a little bit better style. But at the same time, it's really the love for the music that's driving it anyway."

Some industry observers believe Gilmore put the love of his music aside for a while when he literally dropped out of the music industry to study Eastern Indian philosophy with a spiritual leader in Denver. But Gilmore said, though he was away from the business, he never left his music. "I really started playing pretty seriously in the late '60s although there was one period when I stopped playing professionally. I played a whole lot during the '70s but it was just for my own enjoyment among a group of friends," Gilmore said. "I was playing and writing. I just wasn't in the music business."

"A lot of people used to think it was a big mistake I made. They sort of thought that I lost the thread of my career. But in my opinion, everything I did then has really, in real intangible ways, paid off a lot. When I went back into the business, I had a lot better sense of myself and a lot better grasp of what I was doing, of what my ambitions and my capabilities were."

When Gilmore left the spiritual/communal living situation in Denver, he moved back to Austin with the deliberate intention of getting back into the business. He recorded two albums for High Tone and released a live concert album on Virgin in Australia. While touring with those albums, Gilmore met Natalie Merchant and David Bither, who, at the time, was not yet the GM of Elektra Records. Merchant and Bither helped Gilmore hook up with Elektra's Nonesuch American Explorer series for which he recorded another album. "On the basis of that [recording], I was later signed to the actual Elektra label," Gilmore said.

Finishing up a year of touring behind his Elektra release, Spinning Around the Sun, Gilmore is looking forward to getting back into the studio. But as soon as the record is close to completion, you can bet his agent, Darin Murphy at William Morris, will have his hands full since Gilmore plans to do another full year on the road to support the release. Rounding out Gilmore's business team is manager Mike Crowley, whom Gilmore described as his steadfast partner for eight years.

said the officer's pay was way out of line with other large cities in Florida. The pay dispute was eventually settled but only after police threatened to picket before an Orlando Magic playoff game. As of press time, Grant was reportedly on paid leave until the investigation was wrapped up but a spokesperson at the arena said she was still in her office as of October 12th. Grant indicated to POLLSTAR that it wouldn't be appropriate for her to comment on the situation at this time.

Stones Break In Mizzou Venue

Wham — It's Over For Michael And Kahane

Rob Kahane announced October 7th that he will no longer manage George Michael after November 1st. "Although it is very sad to end our professional relationship, we look forward to maintaining our long friendship," said Kahane. The former Triad Artists agent helped Michael build his career from the early days of Wham! up through his bitter legal fight to free himself from his Sony contract. Kahane, however, came in for intense criticism from Justice Parker during Michael's first round loss to Sony in the U.K. courts. Kahane's involvement with the new Trauma Records label and his parting with Michael will not effect the management company he formed with Mark Shimmel. It's business as usual at Kahane Shimmel Mgmt., which has recently added several developmental acts to its roster. Michael's future management affiliation has not yet been announced.

Messrs. A&M Pact With Geffen

The team who founded A&M Records, Herb Alpert and Jerry Moss, are back in the record business with their new Almo Sounds label and a P&D deal with Geffen Records. The label is a new division of the duo's Rondor Music operation which was not part of the A&M sale to PolyGram. They've signed several artists and expect to release three albums by mid-1995. The new label has a pressing and distribution deal for North America with Geffen Records, but has signed with Pinnacle in the U.K. Geffen will supply the initial marketing, sales, promotion, media, artist relations and creative services support for Almo Sounds although Moss said the company will add its own staff in those areas as business warrants. Former Elektra exec Howard Thompson will head Almo Sounds East Coast A&R effort while Alan Jones has been named managing director of the U.K. office.

Card Carryin' Deadheads

The swallows always return to Capistrano. And when the Grateful Dead play the San Francisco area, the Deadheads always return to — Santa Cruz? In a letter to Jerry Garcia and Mickey Hart, Santa Cruz Mayor Scott Kennedy complained that Deadheads congregate in Santa Cruz for extended periods, taxing services that are usually provided for the local homeless. "Citizen complaints rise. Shoplifting in local stores skyrockets. Tension in our downtown becomes intense," Kennedy wrote. Hizzoner went on to suggest the band lend a hand by making donations to the shelters that feed the homeless and, at times, Deadheads. In addition, Karen Gillette, director of the Homeless Resource Center in the generally Bohemian seaside town, said the burden is such that the facility plans its meal volume around the Dead's touring schedule. "When the band is playing in the San Francisco Bay Area, the Resource Center dishes up anywhere between 20 to 100 extra meals," said Gillette. Gillette also said that she had appealed to the Rex Foundation, the charity organizational arm of The Grateful Dead, but had not received a reply. "As an ex-Deadhead, I get sort of irritated about it, Gillette said, "but I have a lot of difficulty implying it's Jerry Garcia's fault. The band didn't create them. They created themselves." Grateful Dead spokesperson Dennis McNally told POLLSTAR, "The Grateful Dead have not yet started issuing identity cards to identify whether you are an official Deadhead or not. Besides, everybody I know in Santa Cruz looks like a Deadhead." McNally added that the band is not responsible for what fans do at all times. "In a parallel situation in Eugene, Oregon, there is a very observable increase in the use of community resources on the one weekend of the year that we're there. The band has seen fit, as part of the show expenses, to reimburse the institutions." In response to Gillette's remarks about not receiving a reply from the Rex Foundation, McNally said that the foundation operates with zero overhead which means all donations collected go out to various causes. McNally said the Rex Foundation does not operate with a large paid staff and does not actively seek out causes in which to give money. "When you send a letter, there will be no reply. There is a board which meets twice a year. If the board says yes, you get a check." The Rex Foundation board includes some band members but also some people outside the regular Dead family like former basketball star Bill Walton and the chaplain at San Quentin Prison.

Some Of The Elvis Tribute Brain Trust

Tribute To The King

The first sanctioned tribute to Elvis Presley October 8th at The Pyramid arena in Memphis accomplished one of its purposes — to musically demonstrate the wide range of artists influenced by The King. Artists as varied as Melissa Etheridge, Iggy Pop, Tony Bennett, Cheap Trick, Michael Bolton, Carl Perkins, Wet Wet Wet and Billy Ray Cyrus were among the 33 acts to perform on the arena's four stages. On the main stage sat two '50s-era Caddies and one of Elvis' Harley Davidsons, all on loan from Graceland. The rear stage had a giant replica of the gates to Graceland. The stage sitting in the center of the arena was a replica of a gold single and a nearby smaller stage had the yellow logo of Sun Studios hanging over it. The concert drew a capacity crowd including many celebs and industry heavies who were already in Tennessee for the CMA Awards. The King's sole heir, Lisa-Marie, and husband Michael Jackson watched the show from a skybox but didn't perform. The concert was produced by PolyGram and Avalon Attractions as a benefit for the T.J. Martell Foundation and St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital in Memphis. The concert was telecast via pay-per-view and was also closed circuited to Harrah's various casinos. An edited broadcast is planned for ABC-TV in December. Musical director Don Was said the tribute performances also will be immortalized with a soundtrack and video.

Spielberg, Geffen & Katzenberg

Steven Spielberg, David Geffen and Jeffrey Katzenberg made quite a splash in the entertainment industry when they announced the formation of a new multi-faceted company. The three Hollywood heavyweights officially announced October 12th that they are joining forces to create a new joint business entity which includes not only movie making but TV, animation, interactive media and music. The three, who have a combined net worth of nearly $2 billion, said they will be equal financial and managerial partners in the yet-to-be named company that is expected to open in early 1995. They also said their services would be exclusive to their new company, although Spielberg will honor his outside directing commitments. Geffen will step down as chairman of MCA's Geffen Records when his contract is up in April and will help launch another record label as part of the new venture. Geffen Films will be folded into the new project as will Spielberg's Amblin Entertainment production company. Katzenberg, who was fired by Disney after a dispute with Michael Eisner a few months ago, will head the new venture. The three moguls said they will welcome small projects and plan to put quality ahead of quantity. The trio said they will finance the entire venture by themselves.

Short Items Of Note

MTV has taken an option on three adjoining Times Square theatres targeted for a new studio complex, one of which is a major concert venue operated by Delsener/Slater. Viacom prexy Frank Biondi Jr. said MTV is looking at the Times Square, Lyric and Apollo theatres. The Apollo (not to be confused with the Harlem theatre of the same name) is operated under the name of The Academy by Delsener/Slater and hosts about 100 concerts a year. For Delsener/Slater, it's still early in the game and, for now, business at the venue is continuing as usual.... Sly Stone is in the studio recording a new album for Avenue Records which is scheduled to be released in '95. Although he was listed as exclusive with Richard Walter's in the last Agency Roster directory, Stone has no booking affiliation at this time. Avenue said he plans to tour after the release of the new album and will select an agent before the end of the year.... The Capitol

Rockers With Elvis Fetishes On Next Donahue

Assorted Legal Grievs

Prosecutors said they would drop charges against Tupac Shakur that stem from an October 1993 incident in Atlanta where he allegedly exchanged gunfire with two off-duty police officers. The announcement came October 7th stating the aggravated assault charges would be dropped because of conflicting statements by witnesses. Charges against one of the now ex-officers were also dismissed. Shakur still faces sentencing on an assault charge in Michigan and he is also accused in New York of holding a woman down while his friend sodomized her.... TLC's Lisa "Left Eye" Lopes, who was charged with burning down the house of her NFL star boyfriend Andre Rison, is unapologetic. The rapper said she had too much invested in the house and the relationship to have intentionally started the fire. She also said she is angry because Rison abused her and the media didn't turn its sympathy towards her. But despite the loss of his property, Rison reportedly still loves Lopes. He said, "I can replace a house, but I can't replace the life I had or a certain girl." If convicted of felony arson, Lopes could face up to 20 years in prison.... A U.S. District judge has dismissed a copyright infringement lawsuit Jefferson Airplane brought against a software company. The band had claimed that Berkeley Systems stole the winged toaster image that is on the cover of the band's 1973 album, Thirty Seconds Over Winterland. The company uses a winged toaster in a computer screensaver program called After Dark. The judge said the band failed to secure separate copyright protection for the cover art on the album and dismissed the suit without deciding whether the artwork was indeed copied.

Stowe The Series For '95

The Stowe Mountain Resort cancelled next summer's concert series because of complaints by local residents but Keith Beccia from Metropolitan Entertainment said the shows will go on in Vermont — at another site. Stowe's prexy Gary Kiedaisch said he called off the shows to be sensitive to the "dissent created by a vocal minority." Apparently, some residents described concert goers as foul-mouthed young people who damaged their private property. Beccia told POLLSTAR he thinks the main concern of the town's residents was the heavy traffic some of the concerts brought to the small ski town. He said Metropolitan had been looking for a new place to put on the concert series ever since Stowe had cut down its capacity and number of potential dates. Beccia said everything is in order with the new Vermont concert site but it won't be formally unveiled for a few more months because Metropolitan wants to include it as part of a major announcement that will include several new summer venues.

Deals, Moves & Changes

Bruce Nichols has left Associated Booking Corp. to start a new company, Central Entertainment Services. Bonus Tableware For Reba

When Reba McEntire played Elvis' home town, Tupelo Coliseum staffers presented her with a plaque containing a Bradford Elvis commemorative plate. McEntire's September 29th show in Tupelo sold out in under two hours. (L-R) Frank Cable, McEntire, Michael Marion and Betty Baxter.

Mastercard Gets Into The Acts

MasterCard International together with the National Association for Campus Activities have created a national collegiate talent competition. The competition, MasterCard ACTS (American Collegiate Talent Search), will recognize talented student entertainers in music and comedy and will reward students who work behind-the-scenes to promote, publicize and produce their local competition. The winning act, who will be announced at the final competition February 18th in Anaheim, Calif., during the NACA National Convention, will get $15,000 and a chance to meet with industry talent reps. The new competition is an outgrowth of the decade old ACTS program founded, pushed and doggedly pursued by New Mexico State's Barbara Hubbard.

MJ In Words & Pictures

The uncle of the teenager who accused Michael Jackson of sexual molestation is reportedly writing a book about his family's experience with the superstar. The teen's paternal uncle is the only close family member not covered by a gag order which prohibits the family from publicly expressing its viewpoint of the entire alleged sexual molestation situation, according to a report in the New York Daily News. The uncle, who moved into the family's home shortly after the allegations surfaced last year, hasn't been able to secure a publisher yet. Meanwhile, MJ has become embroiled in a brouhaha over a 1995 calendar in which he poses in what looks like a Boy Scout uniform with several young boys. News of the calendar first surfaced in London two weeks ago and few details are available. The National Boy Scouts of America said it knew nothing about it and immediately threatened legal action if its trademark had been violated. Boy Scouts spokesman Richard Walker said October 5th that the organization will defend its rights to the scout trademark if it is determined that MJ violated the copyright. However, MJ and a group of scouts were photographed when the performer was given a humanitarian award during a Boy Scout fundraising event about five years ago. If the photo came from that shoot, MJ probably has a legal right to use it on the calendar.

Gatfield & Polydor Head West

Polydor Records has relocated to Los Angeles with new prexy Nick Gatfield at the helm. Atlas Records, which is currently run by Gatfield, will become an imprint under Polydor. A&M Records will provide marketing, promotion and sales services for all Polydor artists. Gatfield will report directly to A&M head Al Cafaro. Gatfield's executive staff will include Denis McNamara, senior director international A&R; Tom Storms and Andrew Brightman, director of A&R; and Rob Gordon, VP artist development. Prior to starting Atlas Records last year, Gatfield was head of A&R for EMI in the U.K. where he was involved with signing EMF, Jesus Jones, Radiohead and Blur. Gatfield started his career in the music biz as a member of the PolyGram recording group Dexys Midnight Runners.

A Blockbuster Babs Battle

A small Rhode Island video store is suing Barbra Streisand, Blockbuster Entertainment Group and Sony Music Corp. claiming that an exclusive deal between the trio violates antitrust laws. Copies of the video, "Barbra — The Concert," sold at Blockbuster stores contain an extra song that isn't available at any other video store. Attorney for Vidi-O in Providence, Michael Feldhuhn, described the agreement as discriminatory, unfair and unlawful. He said because of the agreement, Vidi-O "has suffered and will continue to suffer injury to its business." Other video stores are condemning the deal as well. The 109-store video arm of Tower Records cancelled its order for the Streisand video and has hinted that it may drop more Sony products if Blockbuster gets more exclusive deals. The video of Babs' August 21st HBO concert with the additional song went on sale October 4th in Blockbuster's nearly 3,800 stores nationwide.

WORLD ENTER'MENT: Betsy Apricena

The Electric Light Orchestra - Part II, "The Moment of Truth Tour," will feature the band doing a two hour show that is currently the rage of Europe. Pre-tour response from radio and the general public through the Internet has been terrific. // Jose Feliciano's "Feliz Navidad" holiday tour is shaping up nicely. We have 16 dates in the U.S., Switzerland, Austria and Italy. We still have four open dates to fill before it concludes on December 22nd. // Chaka Khan will be going to South Africa as an Ambassador of Goodwill with the Harlem Globetrotters and we are looking for tie-in dates. // Ike Turner & The Ikettes inquiries are starting to mount and we'd like to keep hearing from buyers who still have openings for the first week of December. // The long awaited tour of Fayrouz is currently being planned for 1995. Look for coverage on CNN with our official press surge. // The Gilbert O'Sullivan tour will be an exclusive tour. We've been asked about national press and the answer is, "Yes, there will be a theme." That theme is the Silver Anniversary Tour. // Circus On Ice has finalized a deal with a sponsor for South America. This now expands the tour from three weeks to five weeks. // The International Wrestling All Stars will be branching into the development of American-Gregorian shows by featuring some of Greece's top stars in select packages. // The inquiries on LaToya Jackson have been numerous and "yes," she will be doing new material during her 1994/1995 dates. // Playboy's Girls of Rock & Roll will be appearing in Southeast Asia at the end of this year and we are finalizing a deal for China.

SBE: Sammy Boyd

We are proud to announce the signing of Trixter. With more than 1.5 million albums sold, three #1 MTV videos and 500 concert dates played, touring starts once again in mid November in support of their November 1st EP release, Undercovers: Everything By, Nothing From... Trixter, which covers some great artists including Paul Simon, The Beatles, AC/DC, Nine Inch Nails, and Elvis

Costello. There are still some avails in the Midwest December 10-16. Solo and package dates will be available along the East Coast and in the Southeast during January and February and again during March and April as the tour routes to the Southwest and West. // Ace Frehley is heading out in late October for his last U.S. tour before his next album release next spring and still has some Northwest avails in early November between Denver and Seattle. // We are also proud to have signed Amy Fradon & Leslie Ritter this month. Their Shanachie- Cachet debut album, Take Me Home, featuring the single "Your Move" charted October 7th on Gavin's AC chart at 38 with a bullet! Over 70 AC reporting stations are now spinning "Your Move" which is averaging over 1100 plays per week. Single dates are available in November and December as well as package dates with Orleans. An Orleans concert includes songs from all of their albums along with their newest studio album, Analog Men, which is already a hit in Japan and is being readied for an American release next year. Founding members John Hall and Larry and Lance Hoppen are joined by longtime cohort Bob Leinbach on keyboards and Peter O'Brien on drums. The a capella sounds of the Persuasions can be added to this package in some regions for a night of "Rock Rhythm and Soul."

GBA: Geoffrey Blumenauer

We welcome aboard Debbie Bell as assistant agent and office manager as the fifth anniversary of GBA arrives November 1st. It is nice to get some real help. // Eric Burdon's Flying Eye, just back from an extensive tour of Spain, hits the East Coast on November 1st. Anchored in the NY area, he will go all directions in the Northeast from there. // The Tubes with Fee Waybill, like Burdon, is West Coast based and both have immediate West Coast avails followed by tours up and down the East Coast. We could even package them but each group has its own identity and following. // Laura Nyro, cutting a new record in the studio as you read this, is "plum pickin'" for the winter. She's just doing dates that seem nice, like for a college or a nice club. Two shows are okay. She performs solo or with three female harmony singers. She is East Coast based and available now. // Robby Krieger Organization does at least one ninety minute show, and will do two 75 minute sets or shows. // John Sebastian & The J-Band is working on a new jug band record and working mostly Northeast this fall and winter. // Nicolette Larson is touring solo and looking for some nice winter ski gigs. // Meisner, Rich & Swan are West Coast and have a Colorado tour so far with three dates in January and would like to add more.

HEADLINE TALENT: Glen Knight

The Persuasions are touring off of their new release on Bullseye Records, Right Around The Corner. They appear at Bowdoin College in Maine with Koko Taylor on October 21st and with Howie Mandel November 25-26 at the Sands Hotel in Atlantic City. They also have avails for early November and December.

Between The Dates

When we last joined the trials and tribulations of THE EAGLES "Hell Freezes Over" tour, temperatures were rising in Hades as Glenn Frey was about to undergo surgery to repair a gastrointestinal disorder. For years Frey had suffered from an inflammation of the colon. Two weeks ago doctors advised immediate surgery, which caused one of the largest tours of the year to postpone its remaining 1994 dates. The surgery was reportedly a success and Frey was released from the hospital last Wednesday. It now looks like the Eagles may be back in the fast lane as early as the second week of January. Plans are not only for the band to make up dates that were missed due to Frey's illness, but there's also a good chance the group will play some secondary markets not originally announced for this year's tour, and they may even revisit some major markets that they played last summer. At the moment, however, the only official date is the rescheduled Rose Bowl show on January 21st..... THE COUNTING CROWS have postponed their tour of Australia and New Zealand in order to give vocalist Adam Duritz's vocal chords a breather. Last month the band had to postpone two of its four Greek Theatre shows because Duritz was diagnosed with soft nodules. The band made up those two dates a week later. Crows' manager Martin Kirkup told POLLSTAR, "I now know more about vocal chords than I ever wanted to. Soft nodules respond to treatment, but if you sing on them or force your voice, they turn into hard nodules. That's when you read about singers having to have surgery on their vocal chords." Doctor's orders were for Duritz to take a month off, and the band hopes to reschedule the Australia / New Zealand dates for sometime in January. Meanwhile the European tour is set to go off as planned, starting November 3rd in Dublin..... ERIC CLAPTON got the mojo workin' as his blues tour kicked off its US leg with three sold-out dates at Madison Square Garden. Featuring songs from his From The Cradle album, a tribute to the music that inspired him, Clapton stood on a nearly bare stage while video screens hung above the stage flashed black and white photos of the musicians who originally recorded the songs he was singing. It should be noted that this tour is an all out blues show. Fans expecting "Layla" may very well be disappointed. On the other hand, the chance to see and hear one of rock's living legends play the music that's most important to him, is to experience a rare event indeed..... The fall TESLA tour has been pushed back until 1995. No official reason was given for the change in plans..... Glam rock pioneer GARY GLITTER reportedly has his eyes set on becoming a TV star in the US. Glitter, who's real name is Paul Gadd, says he will be coming to Los Angeles in December to begin taping a television sitcom. Glitter has avoided TV for years, claiming that the exposure might keep people in front of their sets instead of coming out to see him perform. "At my age — 27 and three quarters — I haven't got time to schlep around the States doing concerts. With a TV Show you can break in overnight. It's the only way to cover such a vast space," he told the U.K.'s PA News wire. When referring to his age, we can only guess Glitter had his tongue placed firmly in his aging cheek..... PHILIP BAILEY will provide the vocals for the first EARTH, WIND & FIRE tour in six years. EWF is touring mid-size halls..... It's no secret that tour merchandising is big business. A quick browse through Brockum's official ROLLING STONES Voodoo Lounge merchandise catalog reveals a leather backpack for $124.99, a pseudo hockey jersey for $119.99, neckties for $30.99, and if you're tight on cash there's always a pair of socks for $9.99. All items include the famous Stones tongue and lips logo. And how are you going to pay for all this stuff? With another catalog item of course — your very own Rolling Stones VISA card.

U.K. News Report

(London) The INTERNATIONAL MANAGERS FORUM (IMF) held its first annual general meeting. The new council members elected were Stephen Budd, John Glover, Keith Harris, Chris Morrison, Phil Nelson and David Stopps. The IMF have decided to put plans to set up an independent collection society on hold. Meetings had been taking place with the various performers unions, (BASCA, Re-Pro, the Musicians Union, Equity and the Incorporated Society of Musicians) to discuss the viability of an alternative society. It seems the talks could not resolve a format for the organisation of the proposed society. However, the issue is still a pertinent one on the IMF's agenda and talks may be resumed at a later stage, following further investigations.....

WET WET WET have added more dates to their expanding UK tour in June and July of next year. The tour has now stretched to 19 arena shows. When the tour first went on sale in July only five shows were announced. Over half the shows have already sold out and total ticket sales around the country are up to 120,000 so far. The band have broken the record previously held by Take That for selling 40,000 tickets at the SECC in Glasgow. Their summer hit, "Love Is All Around" has become the biggest selling single of the decade, with 15 weeks in the UK charts and sales in excess of 1.65 million copies. Wet Wet Wet was also the only British band to take part in last week's Elvis Tribute in Memphis..... London's BRITXON ACADEMY and promoters RIVERMAN are reportedly considering taking action against the management of INXS over a cancelled summer show. The band was due to headline a weekend event at Finsbury Park, but cancelled the dates before the alleged date went on sale. The festival was to have been the first joint promotion by the two parties. Although no writ has been issued, if a lawsuit were to proceed, it would be an unusual step for a British promoter to take. The negotiations are being passed off as "business as usual," which suggest a settlement will be reached before it gets to the courts. Neither party would make an official comment.....

Key EVENT SECURITY COMPANIES met in Birmingham last week to discuss the need for regulation and legislation of the industry. Representatives from 30 companies including Showsec, Rocksteady, Topguard and Specialized Security who have a high profile in the concert security business, agreed to support future initiatives to implement a national standard for the training of crowd safety personnel. STUART GALBRAITH of MCP was present to put forward the promoters' view, which supports the need for standardized practices. The security conference was the first of its kind and may become an annual fixture..... A star-studded British Aids Awareness Concert will take place at the end of this month at London's LIGHTHOUSE AIDS CENTRE. Hosted by Holly Johnson, the performers include Alison Moyet, Suede, Pulp, Neneh Cherry and Ride. The evening will be taped for future broadcast. Meanwhile, the jazz and hip-hop community was gearing up for a RWANDA BENEFIT on October 15th, with Gil Scott-Heron headlining, accompanied by Osibisa, Mother Earth, Fun'Da'Mental and Jamiroquai..... MIKE HINC at Autonomous Talent Booking is planning a UK and European tour for MORRISSEY early next year. For those who thought the artist had changed representation last year, Hinc says he had never lost Morrissey, it was just that other agents were trying to book shows for him!

Australian News Report

(Sydney) No sooner had the Frontier Touring Company snared the person who may or may not be known as PRINCE for a projected tour in November when the news came through that the Purple One won't be able to make it to these shores till sometime early next year. A change in Prince-ly tour plans is routine stuff in the U.S., so why not here too..... THE EAGLES tour of Australia has been postponed until next year just like all the other remaining dates on the tour. Frontier Touring Company have advised patrons to hang on to their tickets while rescheduled dates are arranged. Ticket holders will then be able to decide to hold them or return them for refunds..... With the AUSTRALIAN SUMMER rapidly approaching it's shaping up as one of the busiest touring seasons in memory. As well as confirmed tours there's a host of acts rumoured to be heading this way in the early months of '95. Amongst those being talked about are Pearl Jam, Neil Young, Live, Violent Femmes, Red Hot Chili Peppers, The Cult, Ted Hawkins, Guy Clarke, Ministry, Oasis and Primal Scream..... Big news of the week is that it's about to be announced that PHONOGRAM have done a deal with the ultra-cool HALF A COW label who, for the last few years have had their records released and distributed by the Regular Records/Festival axis. Owner Nic Dalton (also he of Lemonheads fame) and label manager Dave Chaffield both attended the Phonogram conference late last week to talk about the label's plans for the future..... TIDDAS' album is amongst the first releases in America on Loose Cannon, the new label established by Mercury A&R person Lisa Cortes. The label is distributed through Island Records. Tiddas will probably tour the States early next year to support the release. Meanwhile their debut album has sold more than 30,000 copies in Australia..... The huge EN TECH (Entertainment Technology) trade show organised by Connections magazine was a major success with many thousands of people visiting the Darling Harbour (Sydney) extravaganza. Who was the wit who described it as a "roadies rodeo?"..... PolyGram Music Publishing has just signed underground legends DIED PRETTY..... Well, no-one would ever publicly admit that it was on, but word is that the scheduled national tour by Australia's two best known bands from the '70s, DADDY COOL and SKYHOOKS, is not gonna happen - and that certain parties are less than impressed about the fact, to the point where their lawyers have been running up hefty bills. As for the 8 tracks per outfit album that both bands have been working on, well, I wouldn't hold my breath for that either..... M.M.A. MUSIC and PolyGram Music Publishing recently consummated a joint venture encompassing all M.M.A catalogue to date and some, as yet undetermined, future stuff. Administration of M.M.A is now looked after by PolyGram International with the exception of a couple of European territories..... It'd been rumoured for a few weeks but Monday saw the official announcement that COUNTING CROWS are unable to undertake their Australian tour which was scheduled to start in Sydney this week. Lead singer Adam Duritz is apparently suffering from severely strained vocal chords and has received medical advice to rest his voice for four weeks. Promoter Michael Coppel is attempting to reschedule the dates for early next year following the band's European tour. A further announcement will be made within two weeks and fans are requested to retain their tickets which will be valid for the rescheduled dates until that time.
