Jam & Nederlander Combine Forces

Nederlander and Tinley Park Jam announced a joint alliance November 2nd for the operation of the 30,000-capacity World Music Theatre and the 40,000-capacity Alpine Valley Music Theatre. As part of the new Chicagoland alliance, the Nederlander-operated Poplar Creek Music Theatre will be permanently closed. Although they had continued to operate the venue, Nederlander had sold the Poplar property in 1990 to Sears. Nederlander has acquired a long-term interest in Jam's World Music Theatre in suburban Tinley Park. The World's other principals include Tinley Park Jam, Jimmy Gierczyk, Michael Halikias and James Malecky. Tinley Park Jam is the company set up by Jam Production's principals Army Granat and Jerry Mickelson to handle their interest in the World. Nederlander will now assume operations and management duties for the World Music Theatre and it will jointly book the facility with Tinley Park Jam. The agreement also gives the World Music Theatre partners a financial interest in the Nederlander-managed Alpine Valley Music Theatre in East Troy, Wisc. Tinley Park Jam will be involved with booking acts into Alpine Valley but Nederlander will continue to manage and book it as they have done since '93. Also, as part of the deal, the World will undergo a multimillion dollar upgrade of its audience facilities.

Orlando Centroplex Manager Resigns

Joanne Cummings Grant resigned from her position as director of the Orlando Centroplex October 27th after a lengthy negotiating session with civic officials the previous day. Grant had been under investigation for allegations that she used city paid employees for work at her home. In an anonymous letter to the Mayor's office, Grant had also been accused of unethical distribution of comp tickets. The Mayor's office issued a memo to city commissioners stating Grant resigned "citing health conditions and her belief that she's unable to continue to manage the Centroplex under existing conditions." The city's deputy chief administrative officer, Brenda Robinson, was appointed acting director until a replacement for Grant could be found. Mayor Glenda Hood also said, "To heighten the awareness of ethics in public service, I have directed the chief administrative officers to review existing ethics policies and compile them into an ethics manual for all city officials and employees." Grant maintains she paid any city employee who worked for her.

However, after interviewing scores of arena complex employees, the Orlando Sentinel reported that police did find two people who said they worked for free at Grant's house while on city time. The investigation report has been turned over to the Orange-Osceola State Attorney's office. The Sentinel reported Grant's attorneys unsuccessfully sought assurances that the ex-director would not be indicted, although the small amount of alleged loss to the city would seem to make that unlikely. Grant reportedly was frustrated at being unable to examine the report compiled against her. Grant told the Sentinel she did nothing wrong and was leaving her position because she couldn't handle the stress of a month-long police investigation into her business practices. The stress reportedly aggravated Grant's existing heart problem. Grant, a nationally known and respected facility manager, was unavailable for further comment as of press time.

A Wild Wild Week At Warner Music

The executive rumblings at Warner Music Group settled down a little bit when Danny Goldberg agreed to replace Mo Ostin as chairman/CEO of Warner Bros. Records. Goldberg, 44, was most recently prexy at Atlantic Records. Goldberg founded Gold Mountain Entertainment, where he managed a host of hot acts including Nirvana and Bonnie Raitt. Goldberg's appointment came on the heels of a Godzilla vs. King Kong level power battle between WMG chair Robert Morgado and former prexy/COO Doug Morris, who, in the end, was upped to the chairman/CEO position at WMG. Apparently, Morris had to fight Morgado for control of WMG and now Morgado is said to be only overseeing international and record club operations. The Los Angeles Times said, "Morgado essentially acquiesced to his lieutenant's demand for full control of the company's U.S. music division." Former Warner Music-U.S. executive VP Mel Lewinter was bumped-up to Morris' former position, prexy/COO, following Morris' victory in the battle for the number one spot. Morris and Morgado's

World Radio History

DAVE MATTHEWS BAND

The Dave Matthews Band is one of those interesting acts that developed a spectacular boxoffice history without the benefit of a major record label or "big-city" booking agent. The band released an independently-produced album, Remember Two Things, in November, 1993, and through a self-distribution network, has sold more than 120,000 units to date. The record sales and a grassroots network of fans helped the DMB develop into one of the best selling indie acts on the road in '94. The DMB also added to its fan base when it toured as a support act on the third annual H.O.R.D.E. tour with the Allman Brothers, Blues Traveler, and Big Head Todd and the Monsters.

Early in their career, South African-born Dave Matthews and his cohorts decided the best thing for the band was to establish its own business operation to handle management, merchandising, booking, sales and distribution in-house. That homegrown operation met the DMB's needs but on the day the band released its first indie record, Remember Two Things, it decided to sign to RCA Records. "I guess they wanted us to release our first album with them," Matthews told POLLSTAR. "But I thought that would be kind of stupid." Matthews said he felt the band had worked hard to establish its fan base and he didn't want to simply hand that success over to RCA. "I thought, before we [sign to a major], we should make our own label and make it part of our merchandising company and then release something by ourselves to satisfy the appetite of people that had been watching us up until then."

That decision is one Matthews stands by today. "It was a good investment," he said. "You have your first album and you own the rights to it and you make all the money from it. With a lot of record deals, you have to sell like hundreds of thousands of records before you see a penny because they put money into all these strange bizarre things."

The Virginia-based DMB drew people working in the local club scene to help staff the business operation. Matthews said the band's current management team, Coran Capshaw and Ross Hoffman, has been with him from the beginning. They began helping him for gratis. And when the band's career starting taking off, contracts were signed and Red Light Management was officially formed. "By the time RCA came, we pretty much had established a machine of our own," he said. "They didn't have to come in and clean up and try and start running our lives or figure out how to take care of us."

The Dave Matthews Band's first RCA release, Under The Table And Dreaming, was released on September 27th and debuted at #34 on the SoundScan chart — no minor accomplishment for an act without a lot of radio support. However, it's easy to attribute the album's sales to the DMB's continuous touring and old fashioned grass roots fan development. Word of mouth isn't a cliché when discussing the recent success of the Dave Matthews Band — it's a fact.

So what is making everyone say that this is a band you have to check out? Matthews thinks it is a lot of luck and the fun the band has on stage that keeps their shows packed. "I think I speak for everyone in the band when I say we play from our hearts and I think people really notice," Matthews said. "Mainly, we have a ball, a good time, and I think that's kind of evident. If you could be guaranteed every time you smoked pot or drank beer you'd just start laughing and having a good time, you'd probably do it often," he said. "So, I'm guessing, every time people come to see us, we look like we're having a good time and it's kind of infectious. I can't figure it out but I have a good time."

As with his business organization, Matthews gleaned his band from players on the local Virginia scene. The men who eventually became his bandmates, Carter Beauford, Stefan Lessard, Leroi Moore, and Boyd Tinsley all seemed to have a special connection with their respective instruments, Matthews said. The connection makes the instrument seem like a part of the person and an extension of each person's voice.

Bringing those players' voices together and working on Matthews' songs makes the band the tight package it has become today. "There's five members in the band," Matthews said. "I write a song and bring it into the band and the personalities will ... bring it to what we, [as a complete band], sound like. It becomes our music," he said. "When it comes to the arrangement, everybody, sometimes even the crew, has an [input]." So, though the band carries Matthews' moniker, the Dave Matthews Band is really a group effort.

With its recent live and retail success, the band is headed forward but isn't certain of the exact destination. "We're all facing the same direction and we're all moving in the same direction but we don't know what we're moving into and we don't know what we're aiming at ... and who knows what's to come," Matthews said.

On a bit less philosophical bent, the Dave Matthews Band is headed back to the road for a tour headlining large clubs and theatres throughout North America. The band will work until the end of the year and after a small pause, will return to the road in '95.

Established first as a strong touring act, the DMB caught the attention of some major agencies and is now signed with Chip Hooper at Monterey Peninsula Artists. "We'd been booking ourselves up until ... the last six months. The job has gotten pretty wide and we may have been able to handle it for a while but I think it's going to get thicker so we'll need to have someone [who really knows how to handle the details]." Matthews said the band was approached by quite a few agencies and Monterey Peninsula simply turned out to be their favorite.

conflict reportedly became so heated that Time-Warner head Gerald Levin was called in October 26th to facilitate a resolution amongst the top company brass. Goldberg, along with Elektra Entertainment Group's Sylvia Rhone and others, had reportedly threatened to quit their top positions when the battle between Morgado and Morris heated up. Goldberg wouldn't confirm that speculation. However, he did say Morris was his mentor and the reason he is in the record business today. He also said Morris commands his loyalty and when Morris was under attack, he felt as if he was under attack also. Goldberg has reportedly discussed the number two spot at Warner Bros. with Phil Quartararo, which means he would replace current prexy Lenny Waronker who recently decided not to step into Ostin's position when he leaves the company. The situation with Morgado, who has been characterized as "arrogant" and "power-hungry" in repeatedly undermining his key execs, is flowing over to other divisions of the Time-Warner empire. Time-Warner's Entertainment Weekly published its current Power 101 list on which Morris and Morgado were to have shared the No. 19 position. But Morgado apparently objected and had someone call the managing editor to protest saying that listing the two execs side by side was inappropriate. EW responded and pulled Morris off the list and when the magazine hit the stands, Morgado held the No. 19 spot alone. Also at Time-Warner, Richard Parsons, a banking executive and a member of the Time-Warner board for four years, was named president of the TW conglomerate. Gerald Levin had held that as one of his titles since 1992. Morgado reportedly was hoping to get the TW prexy title and now that it's obviously out of his reach, he reportedly may leave the company. At Atlantic, Val Azzoli was named president, filling the position Goldberg will be vacating when he replaces Mo Ostin at Warner Bros. Azzoli was most recently Atlantic's executive VP/GM and he also comes from an artist management background having worked at Q-Prime. And at Elektra, more than 40 staffers were pink-slipped at the newly consolidated Elektra Entertainment Group. Elektra/EastWest and Nashville-based Asylum now fall under the EEG umbrella. The consolidation is billed as a way to eliminate a number of duplicate jobs at each label. Most of the layoffs were from Elektra's East Coast headquarters. The A&R department at EEG is expected to be reorganized also. With all the executive changes, the expected appointment of Sire Records chief, Seymour Stein, as Elektra's prexy has apparently been put on the back burner as the company's consolidation transpires.

The Piano Man Opens Another New Building

The Kiel Center in St. Louis kicked off its inaugural season with a sold out Billy Joel concert October 15th. Prior to the grand opening show, execs from Contemporary Productions and the Kiel Center presented Joel with a glass replica of the new building. (L-R) Contemporary's Steve Schankman and Irv Zuckerman, Joel, and Kiel Center's Jud Perkins and Roger Dixon.

Promoters Meet In The Windy City

The North American Concert Promoters Association held a meeting October 27th at the Sheraton Gateway Hotel in Rosemont, Ill. The one-day gathering was attended by 26 reps from NACPA companies. Among the topics covered were the usual areas of concern such as insurance, sponsorships and music licensing. The promoters also did their own quick post-mortem on the busy summer season in which some acts did breath-taking business while others were simply asphyxiating. Because so many of its members are actively involved in the Concert Industry Consortium's upcoming "Reinventing The Business" conference, NACPA has decided to schedule its next membership meeting to coincide with that event. The promoters will meet on February 3rd at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles, just prior to the start of the industry-only gathering.

Putting A Roof Over The Rose Garden

Construction of the Rose Quarter project in Portland, Ore., is moving right along with a scheduled completion date targeted for October 1995. As this picture shows, contractors have just begun the installation of roof trusses on the 20,340-seat Rose Garden arena. An adjacent parking garage is already completed and work is also moving full speed ahead on the One Center Court complex, which will house three restaurants. The $262 million project is being built adjacent to the existing Memorial Coliseum.

Pros On The Move

Geffen Records A&R exec John David Kalodner resigned November 3rd after nearly 15 years with the company. Kalodner was part of Geffen's near legendary A&R team whose ears helped lead to scores of multiplatinum albums. Kalodner's only comment on the move was to say, "It was time." He gave no immediate indication of where he was headed but he likely has his choice of several tasty situations. After all, the last major Geffen A&R exec to leave is sitting in the president's chair at Capitol Records..... John Ade resigned October 21st after 11 years at Famous Artists Agency. Ade, the brother of agency head Jerry Ade, said the parting was amicable and that he is now looking to get into other non-agency aspects of the music business. In the interim, he can be reached at (212) 613-3179..... John Gabrysiak has followed Ron Kaplan and Garry Buck to the newly established Monterey International office in Chicago. Gabrysiak made the switch October 24th and will be an agent at Monterey after serving an eight year stint at American Famous Talent..... Wes Westley has been upped to president and CEO of Spectacor Management Group, which fills the vacancy left by Tom Gibson's departure earlier this year. Westley joined SMG in 1991 and most recently served as executive VP of finance and administration and CFO. The SMG board of directors also named Spectacor CEO Jack Williams chairman of the board.....

Canadian music business veteran Bob Roper has formed his own management firm. The Bob Roper Company list of initial clients includes Lost & Profound and Daddys of Eden. Roper's background includes stints as VP of Anthem Records/ SRO Management, tour manager for Supertramp, production manager for CPI, and A&R director for Warner Music of Canada..... Liz Heller has joined Capitol Records as senior VP of new media. Heller, who was VP of artist development at MCA Records from 1982-1990, will be based in Hollywood and in her new position, she will report directly to Gary Gersh.

Thrash Clash At Bogies

A recent Prong concert at a Boise, Id., night club was cut short when lead man Tommy Victor got into a scuffle with a security guard. The manager of Bogie's nightclub, Aaron Thatcher, said things started to heat up when Victor stopped playing and started spewing vulgarities at security and the promoter. "And then he decided to tell the crowd to pick up anything they wanted and trash the club and break all the mirrors and 'let's tear this place apart,'" Thatcher said. A spokesperson from Concrete Management, Kim Zide, said Victor was upset with his Bogie's experience from the beginning. Zide said Victor complained that the promoter had a bad attitude and screamed at the band members all day. According to Zide, Victor said the club was stuffed beyond its capacity and "security guards were taking the kids and beating them up and throwing them out violently." Thatcher said, Victor announced that he would not play if security threw anyone else out. Fearing that a riot would ensue if the band stopped playing, Thatcher said the owner of Bogie's sent the word to the security staff to refrain from throwing out anyone else. But Thatcher said, when a kid picked up a chair and threw it through a mirror, a booting was inevitable. When the security guard who removed the kid returned to his position at the front of the stage, Thatcher said Victor kicked the guard in the face and split his chin open and then went after him with the mic stand. The band's perception of the incident is quite different according to Zide. She said, according to Victor, the scuffle started when the security guard deliberately pushed Victor and hit him in the head as security was trying to remove audience members from the stage. Either way, the show came to an early end and Thatcher said Bogie's was left with a club full of kids that would not leave. "They had to put the city on a code two alert because every single officer was at the club trying to get the people out of there," Thatcher said. Police reportedly cited Victor and the security guard involved with misdemeanor battery. Thatcher said the incident resulted in about $7,000 in damages and Bogie's cancelled two shows that were in the works because they were in the same format of "hate and thrash music."

Luis Performs A Triple Knight

Short Items Of Note

As if all the changes going down at the Warner Music labels weren't enough, the rumor mill is overflowing with talk about other big record company deals on the immediate horizon. A new Sony label is rumored to be on the verge of being launched by Jeff Ayeroff and Jordan Harris, the former tag team-chiefs of Virgin Records. Ayeroff and Harris are reportedly waiting out the non-compete clause they have with Virgin which reportedly expires at the end of the year. Meanwhile, Bob Krasnow is said to be on the verge of closing a deal with MCA for a new label. And BMG is still searching for a replacement for Joe Galante with lots of names, including several artist managers, being mentioned. At the same time, BMG is faced with negotiating a new deal with Arista topper Clive Davis, which R&R reports may be looking to pull down a cool $100 million to re-up for five more years.... The financially troubled Mountain Winery in Saratoga, Calif., is accepting sealed bids to purchase its 630 acre site that includes a 1,500-seat amphitheatre.... Chris Reece, who has been the drummer for Social Distortion since 1983, has left the band and joined Jim Guerinot and Larry Weintraub at Rebel Waltz management. Reece handled Social D's business in the early days and has managed the band Joyride for the past year....

Jim Cassell, head of the Berkeley Agency in Northern California, recently celebrated 25 years in the entertainment business. Cassell's first benefit concert featured a young Bay Area group named Santana. Cassell has been influential in the development of Latin jazz in the touring business.... Rocky Point Amusement Park in Warwick, R.I., was virtually shut down by the state after missing a September 1st deadline to pay off city taxes from 1993. But the park reached an agreement with state tax officials to remain open while paying off back taxes. Also, the Division of Taxation had revoked Rocky Point's retail sales permit but the park was granted a temporary permit, good through December 1st. Assistant tax administrator Robert Geruso said, as part of the agreement, Rocky Point will have to post a performance bond which could be tapped in the case of any future tax problem. Apparently, the park owes the city $56,000 for 1993 and $21,000 for 1994 taxes.... Rockefeller's nightclub in Houston, which was founded in 1979, will reopen next month after undergoing extensive renovations. The new owners of Rockefeller's are businessmen Bill and Branan Huthnance, attorney Buck McKinney and original club founder Sanford Criner who will assume booking responsibilities.... A music video license deal between Sony Music Entertainment and MTV Networks was announced November 1st. The deal marks the first ever multi-year agreement to give MTV Networks worldwide rights to air videos by Sony Music recording artists.

Legal Grievs

The bitter bi-continental litigation between American Recordings and its foreign distributor, Phonogram Ltd., was settled October 28th. American, which broke off its distribution deal with Phonogram last March, filed suit against the London-based company in April accusing it of misappropriating more than $6 million in revenue. Phonogram, which is a subsidiary of PolyGram, then filed a countersuit in Britain in an attempt to stop American from entering into a new foreign distribution deal. However, a British judge denied Phonogram's request and in September, American signed a distribution pact with BMG. Details of the settlement were not available but in a statement American said, "The parties have fully and unreservedly withdrawn their respective claims ... including the allegations of fraud and dishonest under-accounting made by American against Phonogram.".... Bob Guccione Jr., the publisher of Spin magazine, and other male co-workers were charged with creating a hostile work environment by showing sexual favoritism and making constant sexual references. Staci Bonner, who began working at Spin as an intern in '87 and was a research editor when she left in '93, filed a 60-page complaint in Manhattan Federal Court claiming she was passed over for promotions because of her gender. Bonner, who claims she encountered "unwelcomed verbal harassment" is seeking damages that "could go quite high," according to her attorney..... A tentative settlement reportedly has been reached in a lawsuit against Chuck Berry in which dozens of women claim they were secretly videotaped while using the restrooms at Berry's former restaurant and recreation park. According to lawyers, about 60 women will share in a $830,000 settlement. Berry did not attend the session in the Missouri court October 31st where attorneys, plaintiffs and a judge met to discuss the case. However, Berry's attorney, Martin Green, said the singer still denies the allegations and isn't sure who videotaped the women. Green said two other suits against Berry were recently settled for a total of between $350,000 and $400,000 and another is expected to be settled soon..... Luther Campbell was ordered to pay nearly $1.6 million to rapper Peter Jones for breach of contract and accounting misrepresentation. Jones, known as MC Shy D, recorded two albums on Campbell's Luke Records and the judge ruled that Campbell "radically understated the number of albums sold and vastly overstated expenses." In addition to back royalties, Jones was awarded nearly $400,000 in punitive damages and $500,000 in interest. Campbell was also ordered to pay Jones' lawyer fees. Campbell initially paid Jones about $100,000 for his work..... A traffic charge against James Brown was dismissed last week after the bicyclist who was hit by Brown's car agreed to accept payment for minor damages. Brown was to have appeared in Municipal Court in Augusta, Ga., November 1st to face a charge of failure to yield right of way but the judge accepted the settlement..... Tupac Shakur was sentenced October 31st to spend at least 10 days in a Lansing, Mich., jail for threatening a local rapper during a concert at Michigan State University in April 1993. Shakur had pled guilty to a misdemeanor charge in September for raising a bat at a Flint man during the concert. Shakur said the bat was a stage prop and he didn't actually swing it at the man. But Circuit Judge Lawrence Glazer said the threat was enough to justify jail time. Glazer sentenced Shakur to 30 days in jail but suspended 20 days on the condition that he complete 35 hours of community service. Shakur was allowed to leave Lansing to make a court appearance in New York on unrelated forcible sodomy charges. He will have to report to the county jail in Lansing once he's answered the criminal charges in NYC.

A New Arena For Denver

Comsat Corp. agreed to purchase Beacon Communications and as part of the deal, agreed to join with the Anschutz Corp. to build a new arena for the Denver Nuggets. Comsat owns a majority interest in the NBA team which currently plays its games at McNichols Arena. The arena will be built next to the site of the new Elych Gardens, a $95 million theme park under construction in which Comsat and Anschutz hold minority interests. The Los Angeles-based Beacon Communications is an independent film company that has a production financing and domestic distribution deal with Sony Pictures. Contingent on city approval, the 19,000-seat arena is projected to open for the 1997-98 NBA season. Comsat and the Anschutz Corp. will build the arena in a 50-50 partnership. Omnipresent deal maker Michael Ovitz of CAA advised Comsat on the deal.

House Of Blues Hosts Watts Music Fest

Many performers gathered in the Watts district of Los Angeles October 15th to pay homage to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and the Civil Rights movement at the Countdown To Eternity: A Civil Rights Festival Benefit sponsored by the House Of Blues. Proceeds went to the Watts Labor Community Action group. Pictured (L-R) Michael McDonald, Solomon Burke and Charlie Musselwhite.

Music City Gets New Magnatone Label

Jim Mazza, who most recently was prexy of Morgan Creek's record label and chair of Capitol/EMI before that, has formed a new record label that signed Shelby Lynne as its first artist. Magnatone Entertainment, which will also have management, publishing and merchandising divisions, is a joint venture between Mazza, record producer and publisher Brent Maher, veteran tour accountant Nick Cua, and the co-founder of Home Shopping Network, Roy Speer. Bob Burwell also joins the Magnatone family as VP of marketing at the record division but he also will work with the management company due to his extensive management background. Magnatone Records is still in the midst of locking down a distribution agreement and the first release is expected to be out in February. Mazza, whose official title is CEO, will be based in Magnatone's Los Angeles headquarters but will spend about two weeks per month in Nashville where Magnatone Entertainment has set up shop.

Between The Dates

Winter means ice shows, which brings us to "Christmas On Ice," starring NANCY KERRIGAN and AARON NEVILLE. Do we really need to tell you who skates, and who sings? The tour was put together by Bill Graham Presents which has quietly amassed a considerable amount of experience touring various ice extravaganzas. You'll find the itinerary for this unusual pairing in this week's Route Book.... "Tonight Show" band leader BRANFORD MARSALIS will be taking a sabbatical from the show starting in January. The artist plans on touring to support his latest album, entitled Buckshot LeFouque. "Tonight Show Band" guitarist Kevin Eubanks will fill in for Marsalis.... Head Lemonhead EVAN DANDO is embarking on a two-week acoustic tour supported by EPIC SOUNDTRACKS. No Dando hasn't switched from Atlantic to Epic Records. For those of us who are unenlightened, Epic Soundtracks is actually a person and not a record label. He is the co-founder of the group Swell Maps and had corresponded with Dando prior to meeting him six months ago. You can catch both Dando and Mr. Soundtracks on Conan O'Brien, November 14th.... For the last few years, 9:30 CLUB owner Seth Hurwitz and TONY BENNETT's son/manager Daniel have been talking about Bennett doing a show at the Washington, DC nightspot. It all came together October 26th, when the singer did a free 40 minute set the day before his scheduled performance at D.C.'s Warner Theatre. Although the public thought it was an impromptu move, Hurwitz told POLLSTAR, "The whole thing was set up in advance. It was made to look spontaneous." The show was announced on Baltimore's modern rock station WHFS-FM. "He called the radio station during their lunch time show with no mention of why he was calling. He said, 'I'm in town a day early. I'd like to play. Where should I play?'. When one of the deejays suggested the 9:30 Club, Bennett responded, 'Let's do it.'" By the time Bennett took the stage at 11:00 pm the place was packed, but instead of the 9:30 Club's usual audience attire of t-shirts and jeans, it was suits, gowns, and tuxes. Hurwitz said, "Originally the idea was that people had to get dressed up to get in for free. Tony nixed that by saying, 'people should come in whatever they're comfortable with.'" Hurwitz added, "It was one of those daydreams. Wouldn't it be cool if Tony Bennett did a free show at the 9:30 Club? It was a genuine event.".... "No more vices for GEORGE JONES." After undergoing triple-bypass heart surgery last September, No Show says he's on the straight and narrow. Jones, who's drinking and erratic tour adventures were almost as famous as his singing, says he has rid himself of his last vice — cigarettes. The country singer has taken up bicycling and says he is spending time on the treadmill.... It's "morphinmania" as advance ticket sales for the "MIGHTY MORPHIN POWER RANGERS" nears the one million dollar mark. That figure is drawn from receipts for the December 6-11 run at the San Diego Sports Arena, and the December 13-18 shows at the Universal Amphitheatre. Frank Roach, VP of Family Touring for MCA Concerts said, "We are ecstatic with these early sales. I'm not aware of any family show that has ever opened this strong." With the rise of the Power Rangers and the reported demise of purple dinosaur BARNEY's popularity, it's interesting to note that Barney's handlers, the Lyons Group, never set up a tour for the dino. Except for a string of visits to children's hospitals, a 1993 appearance at Family Fest in Minneapolis, and a series of Radio City Music Hall dates earlier this year, the former king of kiddie TV spent most of his time in the studio. One might say that opportunity only knocks for so long before the heat fades and fossilization kicks in.

U.K. News Report

(London) HARRY CONNICK, JR'S eight date tour of the UK has been dogged by disappointed fans demanding their money back. A number of fans around the country have claimed they were not aware the singer had changed his image from a Sinatra-style big band crooner to funky rocker and walked out of the concerts in protest. The shows included performances at Birmingham NEC, Sheffield Arena and the Royal Albert Hall. Connick has reportedly volunteered refunds to his dissatisfied fans..... It has been a week of mixed fortunes for London-based promoter RIVERMAN and the BRIXTON ACADEMY. Last week's ICE-T & BODY COUNT show was cancelled at the last minute due to drummer Beatmaster V suffering a relapse of Leukemia. Following doctor's advice after the Belgium show, Beatmaster V was advised to return to the US for treatment. As a replacement drummer could not be located in the time remaining, the last three British shows on the band's European tour were cancelled and all tickets were refunded. At the Brixton Academy, the box office manager succeeded in warning most of those who had made advance purchases and less than fifty turned up the night of the show unaware of the cancellation. And the reported dispute between the Riverman-Brixton Academy partnership and INXS's management has been resolved without a hint of litigation. The negotiations that went on over the "cancelled" summer show have been passed off as water under the proverbial bridge. The band performed a one-off show at the Brixton Academy last week, at very short notice, which sold out swiftly and was no doubt a satisfactory situation for all parties. All 4,192 tickets were sold the day the show went on sale, a new record for the venue's box office. This same venue-promoter partnership is planning several outdoor shows next summer at London's legendary OVAL cricket ground. The hallowed turf of this sports ground was last used as a concert venue back in the sixties, when The Who, Frank Zappa, and Emerson, Lake & Palmer played there. Next year will mark the 150th anniversary of the 25,000 capacity site. Several dates have been earmarked in June and July and major artists are being approached..... North of the border, in Scotland, plans are in motion for DF CONCERTS' next T IN THE PARK festival. The promoters have moved the date of the Strathclyde event to the last weekend in August to avoid clashes with outdoor shows by R.E.M. (and all the others still to be announced) earlier in the summer..... The BRITS AWARDS has announced that the 1995 ceremony will take place on February 20th. The British Phonographic Industry is continuing its efforts to put the Brits Awards ceremony on an international par with The Grammys. The voting system and categories have been redefined and anomalies such as British bands with international band members will now be in the running for national awards if 50 percent of the act is British. This will allow bands such as the BRAND NEW HEAVIES and THE PRETENDERS - who both have American lead vocalists and have had new product and a high profile over this year - to be nominated in the Best of British categories. Last year's event was centered around a very high profile live show which earned a prime-time TV slot and BPI Chairman ROB DICKINS has stressed the continuing importance of the performance element of the show. Winners of the 1994 best album award, the STEREO MC's, did reap 20,000 sales in one day after the event..... The COUNTING CROWS have arrived in the UK to start their sell-out tour. This will be the band's first full tour of the country..... Meanwhile, in a month that has seen a deluge of rock and indie acts touring the UK with attendances generally tending towards less than sell-out, the dance circuit appears to be one of the more buoyant sectors of the live market from club nights to named acts. Dan Silver of VAT booking agency, which represents some of the hippest acts of the moment, reports that acts such as ORBITAL sold out its recent UK tour well in advance and TRANSGLOBAL UNDERGROUND is likely to do a similar level of business when the act returns from Europe this month..... CONCORDE INTERNATIONAL ARTISTES, which has been concentrating on the dance and club scene since the departure of key rock agents this summer, is also busy. Agent Paul Fitzgerald says acts like ROZALLA and CJ LEWIS have had very successful PA shows and are looking at doing more shows, but with live bands next time. Another Concorde act PRODIGY is just ending a sell-out tour of UK theatre-sized venues. On the acid jazz front, acts like CORDUROY and MOTHER EARTH, represented by BLAST HARD, have been doing good business around the country and in Europe. Corduroy sold out 90 per cent of shows on a 19 date tour of the UK last month..... Please note the Shag Alam Stadium in Selangor, Malaysia referred to in the UK News Report on October 24th is, in fact, the SHAH ALAM STADIUM.

Their Australian tour will cover five states before the rest of the world gets to see the tour. DIED PRETTY have been confirmed as the support act here and they are expected to release a new EP to coincide with the tour. The choice of an Australian support act was made directly by R.E.M. and their management. American trio GRANT LEE BUFFALO will also be guests on what promises to be a monster tour..... Acclaimed singer/songwriter STEVE YOUNG is currently completing a successful low key tour of Australia, his first for a number of years. Young has performed in Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide, Brisbane and Perth at 400 seat clubs..... Word's around that JEFF BUCKLEY will be touring Australia in February after he finishes a run of Japanese dates..... The legendary big fella of Australian music, CHRIS WILSON , has been confirmed as the national support for Billy Joel's upcoming tour..... From Sydney-based indie Outlaw Records comes the news that 23 year old Australian singer/songwriter PAUL BEGAUD (aka Paul Bennett) has the No. 1 song in the Philippines this week with his single "Forevermore" - and he doesn't even have a record deal! Begaud and BMG , who released the record, parted ways several months back. This news comes on top of the fact that his debut single, "This Is Real Love," hit the Top 20 in Germany last year..... MIDNIGHT OIL returned to Australia this week after a brief run of dates in South Africa. Their next performance is the November 5th BIG BACKYARD BENEFIT concert at the Domain..... Both MADONNA and BILL HALEY dropped up in the Higher School Certificate (HSC) exams which began last week. In the 2-unit music exams students were asked to identify "the layers of sounds" in an excerpt from Maddy's Vogue, and to explain the structure of Haley's Rip It Up..... The final nominations have been announced for the 1994 APRA AWARDS with the winners being announced at the annual awards night which will be held at the Regent Hotel in Sydney on November 21st. I won't list all the Australian Performing Rights Association nominations but for Song Of The Year it's between Neil Finn (Distant Sun/Crowded House), Nick Cave (Do You Love Me/Cave And The Bad Seeds), Michael Spiby (Green Limousine/Badloves), Paul Woseen/Grant Walmsley/David Gleeson/Richard Lara/Bradley Heaney (Helping Hand/Screaming Jets) and Anthony Kopa/ Geoffrey Wells (My Heavy Friend/The Truth)..... THE SHOCK MUSIC GROUP is now claiming it, "has evolved into the nation's seventh largest record company and has also emerged as the largest exporter of Australian music." At next year's MIDEM extravaganza in Cannes, Shock will have its own major stand. This is apparently the first time in over a decade that any Australian company has had its own space at MIDEM. Others traditionally rely on the Austrade-provided island of exhibitors..... More details have been released about the Australian Record Industry Association's (ARIA) big extravaganza in late September 1995 through the October long weekend. ARIA will mount what they claim will be "the biggest showcase of it's talent and technology ever seen in Australia." To be known as the ARIA MUSIC EXPO , the trade show will be open to industry and general public alike and will also include the ARIA AWARDS night, previously held annually in March, as the highlight of the event which will be staged at Sydney's Darling Harbour complex. A key focus will be to address the lucrative Asian market which already displays a potential for growth that is unmatched anywhere in the world.
