The Concert Industry Consortium

Although there is wide spread agreement that the dynamics of the concert industry are changing, few people are certain of their direction and how it will impact their individual businesses. Everyone is faced with rising costs and potentially declining profit margins in an increasingly complex and competitive climate. The concert business, indeed the entire music business as we know it, is facing competition from new technologies and shifting consumer preferences. As an industry, we can either sit back and go with the flow or we can actively seek to analyze the future of market conditions and boldly attempt to improve our strategies and maximize our future financial positions. The key for achieving this is improved communications. For that reason, POLLSTAR has served as the catalyst for the creation of the Concert Industry Consortium. The CIC is an innovative response to the current lack of an effective forum for meaningful discussion of important industry issues. The basic premise of the CIC is to help facilitate more efficient communications among key industry professionals that will hopefully lead to a stronger industry in a changing marketplace. We are very pleased that the CIC's initial partners include, either as individuals or their companies: Jack Boyle (Cellar Door), Don Law (Don Law Co.), John Scher and Jim Koplak (Metropolitan), Jules Belkin (Belkin Prod.), Larry Magid (Electric Factory), Dave Lucas (Sunshine Promotions), Arny Granat and Jerry Mickelson (Jam Prod.), Gregg Perloff (Bill Graham Presents), Rick Franks (Cellar Door/Michigan), Donald Tarlton (Donald K. Donald), Dan Zelisko (Evening Star), Brian Murphy (Avalon), Bill Silva (Bill Silva Presents), Bob Kelley (Mid-South Concerts), Jim McNeil (United Concerts), Ben Liss and Cindy Wallace (NACPA), Irving Azoff (Giant Records), Barry Fey (Fey Concert Co.), Alex Cooley and Peter Conlon (Concert/Southern Promotions), David Leiken (Double Tee), Jon Stoll (Fantasma), David Williams (Cellar Door), Neil Sulkes (SMG), Bill Fitzgerald (Ogden Entertainment), Bruce Moran (O.C.E.S.A.), Bill Elson (ICM), Paul Goldman (Monterey Peninsula Artists), and Carl Scott (Wamer Bros. Records).

Reinventing The Business

The CIC's first unique project is the Reinventing The Business conference scheduled for February 3-5 at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles. The keynote address will be delivered by Irving Azoff — someone who certainly knows a little something about reinventing the way business is done. There will be five separate interactive panel discussions and all of them will be held in one room. Topics include a focus on creating synergy between record company product marketing and concert tour strategies; managing careers in a changing marketplace; Generation X, slackers, call them what you want but they are the artists and audiences of the future; the shifting nature of the art of the deal; and changing technologies, changing roles and a changing business environment. All of the CIC partners listed above plan to participate as either panelists or vociferous members of the audience. In addition, the following industry professionals have committed to taking part in the panel discussions: Mike Shalett (SoundScan), Fred Rosen (Ticketmaster), Fred Ordower (MCA), Mike McGee (LMI), Marc Geiger (American Recordings), Jim Guerinot (Rebel Waltz Mgmt.), Missy Worth (Columbia Records), Gary Goldstein (Anheuser-Busch), Vince Bannon (Sony Music), Dan Weiner and Frank Riley (Monterey Peninsula), and Steve Rennie (Epic Records). Many additional panelist confirmations are pending. The conference registration fee includes access to all panels and activities, the opening reception, lunch on Saturday, and brunch on Sunday. There are less than 300 registration spaces left and the event will be sold out well in advance. So if you're serious about the future of your business, you might want to act now. Registration details are on the opposite page.

HOOBIE & THE BLOWFISH

Hootie & The Blowfish knows what it's like to ceaselessly gig to put bread on the table and they also know how important business details are for a struggling rock band pursuing a career in the music industry. By keeping the band on the road and keeping a trustworthy eye on the numbers, Hootie & The Blowfish are making a name for themselves with their folk-influenced, soulful, jangle pop rock.

The members of Hootie & The Blowfish came together in the late '80s when they were students at the University of South Carolina. On the verge of graduation, Dean Felber, Darius Rucker and Mark Bryan decided to turn their focus from casual cover-song jam sessions to original songwriting. They added a drummer, fellow student Soni, to the mix and Hootie was officially born.

Soni told POLLSTAR that the band has always been egalitarian when it comes to the question: "Whose band is it, anyway?" The band mates consider themselves and their manager, Rusty Harmon, equal partners. Early-on, they formed a five-way legal partnership with Harmon, who was overseeing the band's business at the time. "It's strange," Soni said. "We've got a fifth member which is different from a lot of bands' setups." All of Hootie's financial interests are divided into fifths except for publishing royalties, which are equally divided amongst the band members regardless of whose mind a specific song idea may have come from.

The band was playing fraternity parties and bringing in up to $1,000 a night. "We were thinking about making a demo [and wondering] what we could do to further our careers. And part of that is getting yourself situated financially," Soni said. Hootie took control of the situation and with the help of bass player Felber, who was a marketing finance major, they established Fishco Management to handle all marketing, merchandising, management, recording and booking details.

Right from the start, Harmon was at the helm of Fishco and still is today. "He grew up with us," Soni said. "He'd never managed before but we felt we wanted to get somebody young with some new ideas — somebody that could grow with us."

In '91, Hootie signed an indie recording deal and the band members quit their day jobs. But when the indie couldn't come up with funds and the deal fell through, Fishco needed to make certain the band was a profitable endeavor. So Soni and Harmon saw to it that the band's touring schedule was booked with paying gigs. "Basically, in the last four years, we would take anything that we could get," Soni said. "We were really persistent and willing to go to strange places to get a few people to listen to us."

Spending nearly five nights a week on the road, Hootie & The Blowfish developed a strong regional following in the Carolinas. The band then worked its way up the East Coast. Some of the band members are from the Washington D.C. area so they basically established a home-town network that followed Highway 95 from their home-base, Columbia, S.C., to the nation's capital. Soni said he believes the band's diligent willingness to develop regional markets has added to the overall success of the project. "Once again, [it supports] my old theory of why some bands don't make it. Some bands aren't willing to put that into it. I guess that's what they call paying their dues — doing these stupid late night drives. It's not an easy thing, by any means, but if you see your audience growing and you see how the marketing works, it's worth it."

Incessant touring coupled with an intelligent financial foundation generated retail interest in Hootie's three indie releases, Hootie & The Blowfish (1990), Time (1992) and Kootchyop (1993). A demo tape sent to Atlantic eventually got the attention of Tim Sommer who flew to South Carolina to see what the band was all about. "He stayed an extra day to go to our next show which was in our hometown of Columbia and just loved both shows. [I think] he really liked us personally too, as we did him," Soni said.

"He wasn't one of these A&R suit guys. He just told us things that weren't the hyped up things you would think you would hear from A&R people, like, 'We're gonna make you guys huge.' [Sommer wasn't] real schmoozy. He was like, 'Listen, you guys obviously already have a thing going here. I don't want to fuck with your music. I don't want to give you guys an image that you don't already have. I don't want to change you. I just want to bring [your music] to more people.' And that sentence literally sold us on Tim Sommer and Atlantic Records."

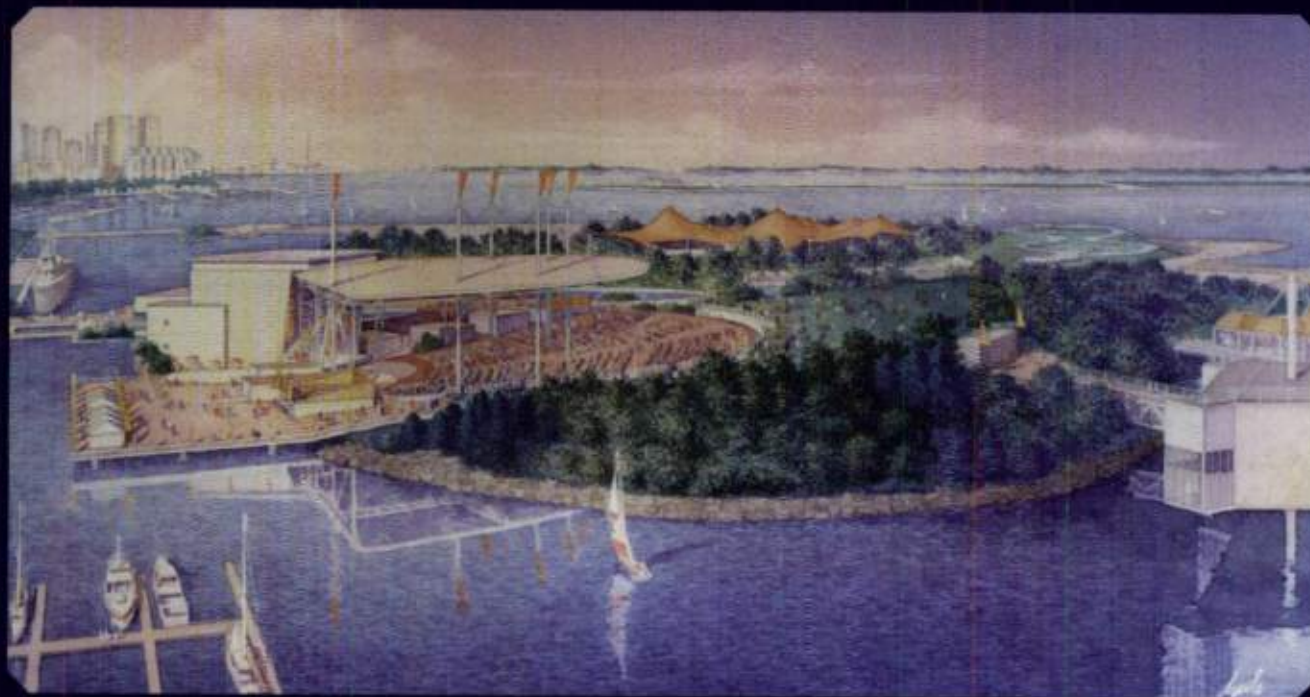

Soni said non-suit types are something Hootie values in its business team. "It seems like a lot of people we're surrounded by and work with are really laid back — not your hoity-toity Hollywood types. They're not guys that you call on the phone and they never call you back." Amongst those down-to-earth types working with Hootie is Dan Weiner at Monterey Peninsula Artists. Soni said when the band met Weiner, they hit it off immediately and they continue to be very pleased with the agency.

Hootie's Atlantic debut, Cracked Rear View, is a culmination of the last four years on the road. The band describes the music as "a page ripped from our travelogue and put into song." The band's following has percolated throughout the Midwest and is bubbling over to the rest of North America. Hootie now plays theatres in much of the East and larger clubs in the rest of the country.

The band believes it is important to be approachable and today, it continues an early established tradition of meeting with fans after most every show. Soni said upholding that tradition is getting more difficult now that Hootie plays larger halls but the band still announces the name of a local bar it intends to visit so fans can stop by for a brew and a chat after every concert.

Cracked Rear View has been out less than six months and Hootie is comfortably in the top 100 on SoundScan charts. And the band is making a name for itself in radio with its classically "non-alternative" sounds. Hootie & The Blowfish plans to continue its near non-stop tour ethic right on into 1995.

Moore, entered the lobby of Quad Recording Studio and, according to police, two men followed them in and a third was already in place inside the building's lobby. Police say the assailants pulled out guns and yelled, "Give it up." Shakur refused to lie down on the floor and he "lunged" at one of the assailants and in the ensuing struggle, the rapper was shot in the head, the hand and, most seriously, in the groin where he suffered internal bleeding. Police reported that the robbers, who stole nearly $45,000 worth of jewelry from Shakur and his posse, did not know their victims. However, Shakur told the police he thought he was set up and believed the assailants knew him and were after him. Shakur was taken to Bellevue Hospital where he underwent surgery for his wounds. But less than three hours after surgery, Shakur, with his mother by his side, left the intensive care unit at the hospital against his doctor's orders. He then showed up in court December 1st in a wheelchair with his head bandaged to wait it out as the jury deliberated the sexual assault charges against him. The jury, which was sequestered and had not been told of the shooting, had not reached a verdict at press time.

At First They Denied The Marriage...

Rumors surrounding the pending demise of Michael Jackson's marriage just won't go away. The past couple of weeks have been filled with reports of a troubled marriage between the superstar and his rock princess, Lisa Marie Presley. However, MJ's people are adamantly denying reports that the newlyweds are living on opposite coasts and a divorce is in the works. MJ spokesperson Bob Jones told New York Newsday that reports of conflict are "an outrageous, 100 percent, total lie!" Jones said MJ is currently in Chicago recording with R. Kelly and Lisa Marie is in Los Angeles because she cannot be with him when all his energy has to go into his work. The New York Daily News reported the split was because Presley refused to live with MJ in New York, while Britain's Daily Mirror said MJ had ordered his attorneys to begin work on getting him out of the marriage.

Getting a Quintuple Platinum Grip

Geffen Records held a shindig at the House of Blues in West Hollywood to present Aerosmith with commemorative plaques for their album "Get a Grip" which recently reached quintuple platinum sales status. Joining the band members are (Back L-R) Geffen's Bryn Bridenthal and Robert Smith; manager Tim Collins; Aerosmith's Brad Whitford and Joe Perry; A&R guru John Kalodner; the band's Steven Tyler and Tom Hamilton; and co-manager Keith Garde. (Front L-R) Geffen's Alan Orem, Robin Sloane, Bill Bennet, Steve Leavitt, Jayne Simon, Mel Posner and Peter Baron.

Artists & Audience Expansion

Jonathan Levine, who recently left the William Morris Agency, joined the team at Artists & Audience Entertainment on November 28th. Many had speculated that Levine would follow his long-time associate Jon Podell to ICM; Podell also left William Morris this year and was named head of ICM's contemporary music department in New York September 7th. But after more than seven years at WMA, Levine said he decided it was time to leave the large agency world in order to pursue an alternative way to better serve his clients. Levine brought many of his WMA artists with him to Artists & Audience including Live, The Orb, The Screamin' Cheetah Wheelies, Einsturzende Neubauten, Caspar Brotzmann Massaker, The Soup Dragons and Blue Rodeo. Deals, Deals, Deals Warner Music Group U.S. acquired an interest in Seattle-based Sub Pop Records but the indie will retain its autonomous status, according to a Sub Pop spokesperson. Warner reportedly put up $20 million for a minority interest in the label that once was home to Nirvana, Soundgarden, L7 and the Reverend Horton Heat among others. Sub Pop will continue to be distributed by Alternative Distribution Alliance, the WEA backed indie pipeline. Sub Pop holds a 10 percent interest in ADA.... Timberland Properties Inc. is planning to build a resort at the former Myrtle Beach Air Force Base in South Carolina. The state-owned electric utility, Santee Cooper, has agreed to sell Timberland 1,043 acres of land to build the Isle of America theme park.

The planned 300-acre park would include a 20,000-seat amphitheatre along with rides, hotels and a golf course. The bulk of the $510 million project is expected to be completed by summer of 1997.... Spectacor Management Group has been selected to manage the proposed 12,000-seat Northeastern Pennsylvania Civic Arena in Wilkes-Barre, Penn. The Scranton/Wilkes-Barre market is one of the largest in the country without a modern arena.

Lee Greenwood Plans To Park The Bus In '96

Lee Greenwood said he plans to end his touring career after next year and has committed to performing nearly 200 nights a year at his own theatre which will be built in Sevierville, Tennessee. The East Tennessee location is in the Great Smoky Mountains about 18 miles from Dolly Parton's Dollywood theme park. Ground breaking on the Lee Greenwood Theatre is targeted for next year with a scheduled opening in the spring of '96.

Pros On The Move

John David Kalodner was officially named senior VP A&R, West Coast at Columbia Records November 28th. In addition to his A&R duties, Kalodner will contribute to other aspects of the Columbia Records Group including the new Ayeroff/Harris label. Kalodner was the first A&R executive hired at Geffen Records and his credits would take several trees worth of paper to list.... Ina Meibach was officially named executive VP of Warner Music-U.S. November 28th. Meibach, a prominent entertainment attorney, joined The Atlantic Group division of Warner Music as executive VP/general counsel earlier this year. Prior to that, she was a principal and founding partner of the law firm Meibach, Epstein & Regis.... Diarmuid Quinn has left his post as VP, marketing at Columbia Records to join Hollywood Records as senior VP, marketing. have abdicated the royal kingdom. Symbol man's longtime business and musical collaborator Levi Seacer Jr. and Prince publicist of two years Karen Lee recently resigned but haven't really commented on reasons why. Publicist Mitch Schneider told POLLSTAR, "Both of them left amicably of their own accord."

Bicentennial Billy

Legal Grievs

Ozzy Osbourne filed a lawsuit against his former Black Sabbath bandmate Tony Iommi for failing to repay a $75,000 loan. Osbourne reportedly lent Iommi the money two years ago after Iommi was arrested in Modesto, California for non-payment of child support. Osbourne claims he lent Iommi the money for bail so he could join him two days later at the Black Sabbath reunion show at the Pacific Amphitheatre November 15, 1992..... Speaking of child support, a couple who attended a Rolling Stones concert in Tampa November 22nd is being accused of child neglect. Craig and Kathie Cote of Marathon said they considered hiring a baby sitter to watch their youngest children, ages 2 to 4, but changed their mind when 6-year-old daughter Sachi offered to be in charge. Authorities were called to the Red Roof Inn in nearby Brandon where the family was staying after Sachi came to the front desk in tears. After a family emergency announcement was made at Tampa Stadium, Mrs. Cote returned to the motel where she was met by deputies. Her husband and their 12-year-old son stayed behind for the concert. Mrs. Cote defended the decision to leave the babies behind saying that Sachi is "really mature." She later admitted that it was wrong to leave her four children alone in a hotel room but said all the children are advanced for their ages. Mrs. Cote was charged with four counts of child neglect, a misdemeanor, while Mr. Cote's case was referred to the State Attorney's Office..... Marin County will have to pick up most of the $865,000 bill for the fire that destroyed Grace Slick's Mill Valley, Calif., mansion and many of the singer's valuable mementos. The September 1993 fire was started by Marin County park workers who were welding a gate near Slick's home. The town of Corte Madera will have to chip in $30,000 of the money because some of its firefighters stole property after the blaze..... Priority Records says it is standing behind De Lench Mob member Terry E. Gray, aka T-Bone, who is scheduled to face charges of shooting a man to death at a Los Angeles bowling alley last February. The record company posted Gray's $1.5 million bail and it firmly supports Gray's quest for acquittal. Gray's November 14th trial was postponed to January 30th. A spokesperson for Priority, which recently released Da Lench Mob's album, Planet Of Da Apes, said, "We are 100 percent behind Terry and believe he is innocent. We have offered to provide whatever additional assistance necessary to obtain the proof of his innocence."..... Wayne Newton may be returning to the stage in Branson next year according to the Springfield, Mo., News-Leader. The paper reported November 23rd that Newton would return to the Ozarks music mecca for the 1995 season at the theatre currently occupied by "The Will Rogers Follies." Newton stopped performing in Branson after the 1993 season following a fallout with the owners of the theatre that had his name on the marquee. A lawsuit is pending in federal court over a pay dispute between the singer and the theatre, which has since been renamed the Shenandoah South Theatre. Newton is also still in the midst of bankruptcy proceedings in Nevada.

The Vitalogy Of Vinyl

Pearl Jam's new record, Vitalogy, is the first vinyl-only release to enter SoundScan's Top Pop Albums chart since the retail sales detection system was adopted in 1991. The record sold about 33,500 copies which was good enough to debut at No. 55 on the album chart and thereby prove there is still some (but not much) life left in the configuration. Most industry observers expect that the new release will jump to the top of the charts when the CD and cassette versions are released on December 6th. Even without the new Pearl Jam release, record retailers are expecting a very green Christmas buying season. Retail sales have picked

Meet Your Trustees

“When I was asked to serve as a Trustee for the Foundation, I was excited by the prospect. The Education — Tickets to the Future campaign seemed like such an excellent idea to me. I really wanted to be a part of providing educational opportunities for people in this industry. Many of us learned from our mentors and from the “School of Hard Knocks,” and we learned our lessons well; but if I can make that process easier and quicker for those newcomers to our business, I will have served them and the industry. Also, I think the Foundation is not well known, and I would like to help spread the word that the IAAM has an education and research Foundation that is gearing up to really lead in providing professional development and information for our business.”

Doris Stovall

Doris Stovall was born in Georgia. She was administrative assistant to Robert Shaw, music director for the Atlanta Symphony. This “I can do it” woman was soon booking Symphony Hall. Her ambition was to be a symphony manager, and this took her to Long Beach (CA) Symphony. She was later recruited by Dick Shaff and Win Hanssen to take the job of Event Sales Coordinator during construction of the Long Beach Convention and Entertainment Center. She was to solicit and coordinate events for the new Terrace and Center Theatres. She recalls that Dick Shaff took her under his wing and insisted she learn to read blueprints and learn convention center and arena operations rather than focus solely on the performing arts. Her next career move took her to the Los Angeles Music Center, but within a few months Bob Holden, who was to be the second major professional influence in her life, had persuaded Doris to come to the Pasadena Center and manage the Pasadena Civic Auditorium. This grand old theater was built in 1930 and hosts the annual Emmy Awards live telecast. After 13 years at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium, Doris left California to return home to Georgia and work as a distributor for Phonic Ear. But it wasn't long until another theater called out for her management, and she went to Fort Wayne, IN to take over the Embassy Theatre, an old movie vaudeville house which had escaped the wrecking ball by just two days. So, Southern born and bred, Doris finds herself battling the Midwest winters, but enjoying a small, friendly community that appreciates and supports the arts as much as she does.

up to the point that it will take around 100,000 units a week just to crack into the top 10 in sales.

Huie Hangin' At Sam's Place

The "Sam's Place" crew gathers after the October 23rd premiere of the syndicated radio concert series at the Ryman Auditorium. Concerts for the six week pilot program were recorded at the historic Ryman and broadcast via the Salem Radio Network. (L-R) Ryman GM Steve Buchanan; show host Gary Chapman; CAA agent John Huie; and "Sam's Place" guests Amy Grant, Bill Monroe and Russ Taff.

SuperTerminal

Seattle-based TransActive Technologies, Inc. (TTI) has unveiled plans for a network of interactive computer kiosks that would provide a number of services to consumers including event ticketing. Former Microsoft Corp. exec and owner of Seattle's Paramount Theatre Ida Cole, and former record label and concert promotion company prexy Chip Wilson founded TTI to develop what they call the SuperTerminal. The SuperTerminal could be compared to using an ATM but would offer more than banking services. The project plans to offer consumers a convenient way to purchase event tickets and choose seating, pay bills and to retrieve information such as maps and community calendars. TTI hopes to have 10 to 12 SuperTerminals in operation for a pilot program in Seattle next year. The project is backed by investors including Microsoft's Bill Gates.

MTV Europe Awards

MTV Europe's first European Music Awards presentation, hosted by Tom Jones, was broadcast November 24th from a huge tent in the center of Berlin at the Brandenburg Gate. Mariah Carey, Bryan Adams and Aerosmith were honored as best female star, male star and rock group respectively. Canada's Crash Test Dummies was named breakthrough act. Britain's Take That beat out Aerosmith, Crowded House, Rage Against the Machine and the Beastie Boys for best group honors. Meanwhile, in Gdansk, Poland, a fire broke out at a hall where several hundred people had gathered to attend a live broadcast of the ceremony and a concert. Two people died and more than 300 were hurt when the audience rushed to flee the burning building. The provincial governor's office reported that nearly 200 people remained hospitalized November 25th and sixteen were listed in serious condition. Most of the injuries were burns but many people suffered broken bones in the stampede for the solitary exit. The prosecutor's office is investigating the accident at the hall that reportedly had additional doors and windows locked and barred. A police spokesperson said the concert's organizers could be charged with violating safety regulations. "It would not be inappropriate to call the safety conditions in the hall scandalous," he said. The fire, reportedly caused by a Molotov cocktail, destroyed the 1920's-era Gdansk Shipyard Concert Hall. Police have drawn a sketch of the suspected arsonist but no arrests have been made.

TEC Awards

Frank Zappa was posthumously inducted into the TEC Hall of Fame November 11th at the Tenth Annual Technical Excellence and Creativity Awards, held in San Francisco. The honor for record producer of the year went to Don Was for his work with Bonnie Raitt, Travis Tritt, Elton John and others. Bob Clearmountain was named recording engineer of the year for his work with Bruce Springsteen, Bryan Adams, and Bryan Ferry among others. For outstanding institutional achievement, the Record Plant in Hollywood was named recording studio of the year. And Robert Scoville took home creative honors for sound reinforcement engineer.

Obituaries

Tommy Boyce, 55, died of an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound. Boyce, best known for his songwriting partnership with Bobby Hart, was found dead by his wife in the living room of their Nashville home November 23rd. A suicide note was found according to Boyce's wife. Boyce and Hart penned most of the Monkees music and were appointed musical directors for the band's NBC television series in 1966. In addition to writing "The Monkees Theme (Hey, Hey, We're the Monkees)," the duo wrote "Last Train to Clarksville," and "(I'm Not Your) Stepping Stone." Boyce and Hart also recorded and scored a hit in '67 with "I Wonder What She's Doing Tonight." Boyce spent some time in the late '70s working with artists in England including Iggy Pop and Meat Loaf. He recently had been living in Memphis and Nashville and he occasionally performed at Nashville nightspots..... Tony Anderson, 28, died November 20th following a lengthy battle with leukemia. Anderson was involved in booking and promotions for the Fort Worth-based Promoter Line company and its Caravan of Dreams nightclub.

Between The Dates

JANET JACKSON has left H.K. Management and has made a deal with former manager Roger Davies to help provide guidance for her upcoming overseas tour. At this point, Davies is only dealing with tour details and hasn't resigned JJ for management..... The DETROIT LIONS were hoping the weather in the Motor City didn't get too ugly last week as they prepared for their game at the Pontiac Silverdome on Sunday. It seems the team had to use an outdoor practice field last week because there were a whole lot of steel beams, road cases and forklifts scattered all over the floor of their home stadium as it gets ready to show a December 1st show by the ROLLING STONES. Lion's coach Wayne Fontes said he wouldn't complain because it would set a bad example for the team..... There's some heavy club action going on in the Boston area. Last Wednesday, under the name O.D. Jubilee Band, THE BLACK CROWES took the stage at the Paradise Rock Club. All tickets were $12 and were sold the night of the show. Paradise stage manager Tim McKenna told POLLSTAR, "The radio stations had been hinting about the show... It was the worst kept secret in Boston." The band had been planning on doing some club dates under an assumed name. Who knows what they'll call themselves when they come to your town. Meanwhile, the band BOSTON plans on doing two shows at the House Of Blues in Cambridge, December 12th and 13th. Both shows will benefit children's charities in the Boston area. The band expects to launch a major tour next year. After returning from their world tour, the members of AEROSMITH will be stepping into the shoes of nightclub owners. The band, along with Patrick Lyons, co-owner of Boston's Avalon nightclub, will be the proud owners of MAMAKIN. Lyons told POLLSTAR that Mamakin will be a small intimate music hall seating about 300. Plans are for the club to feature and develop local talent, and provide a place to showcase artists. Mamakin opens in mid December..... EDIE BRICKELL reunited with the Bohemians last week in Dallas. Brickell, who is married to Paul Simon, and is expecting their second child, performed two shows with her former band. The dates were a benefit for the daughter of a murdered friend..... Rumors of a 1995 JOURNEY tour were quickly squashed by a spokesperson for manager Herbie Herbert. The grapevine had it that Kevin Chalfont of The Storm would fill Steve Perry's shoes in the reunited group..... We are happy to report that DAVID CROSBY and his new liver are doing well at the UCLA Medical Center. Doctors say that he could be released as early as this week. Crosby's original liver gave up the ghost after decades of drug abuse..... Dancing their way from the Big Apple to the Las Vegas Strip via Branson are the RADIO CITY ROCKETTES. The famed dance troupe will open a three-year run February 1st at the Flamingo Hilton. The dancers have been touring for the last 18 months as the "Great Radio City Music Hall Spectacular." Susan Anton, who appeared with the tour, will also be a part of the Las Vegas run. Anton said that the show is like a homecoming to her, noting that she first started performing professionally in Las Vegas during the 1970s. "The prime rib special got a higher billing than I did at the time," she said. Meanwhile the Rockette's Christmas show was responsible for bringing Branson traffic to a standstill over the Thanksgiving day weekend. Every show at the 4,000-seat Grand Palace was sold out, and the November 25th performance started 15 minutes late to allow for late arrivals who were stuck in traffic, including Missouri Governor Mel Carnahan. Adding the traffic of Rockettes fans with the usual day-after-Thanksgiving traffic resulted in a gridlock that began 7 miles outside of Branson..... As we went to press, the Grand Ole Opry was facing the possibility of presenting last weekend's show without Opry regular STONEWALL JACKSON. Jackson, 62, known for the hits "Waterloo" and "Don't Be Angry," was bitten by a neighbor's German shepherd while walking on his farm in Brentwood, Tenn., last weekend. He was treated at a hospital for bites on the leg and arm.

U.K. News Report

(London) The ROLLING STONES have finally announced the European leg of the Voodoo Lounge extravaganza. The initial 19-date European tour schedule starts June 3rd in Stockholm. Since the confirmation of the UK dates for next July, the publicity machine here has been teasing the public with all the information of when and where the shows will be, but not when the tickets will be on sale. Insiders say December 1st is the day. No support acts have been announced yet. The role of CPI/BCL in the European tour has been structured so that JOHN GIDDINGS at Solo-ITG is acting as European tour co-ordinator and NEIL WARNOCK is listed as "tour consultant." Earlier this year, the rumour that Warnock had lost the Stones to Giddings was rife throughout the UK agency world. The resulting booking network has obviously been designed to keep the band's long-time agent involved in the tour, although Solo-ITG has reportedly been the key negotiator. It is a little surprising that only two UK dates have been announced so far. But perhaps it goes some way towards indicating that confidence in the UK concertmarket is still a little shaky. While there is little doubt that the Stones will end up playing more than two shows, promoters HARVEY GOLDSMITH in London and DANNY BETESH in the north of the country, are opting for a more cautious approach. My bet is that the Stones will extend their run to three Wembleys and two shows at the Don Valley Stadium in Sheffield. Surprisingly, there are no Scottish or Irish dates on the itinerary yet..... The Stones dates are more good news for WEMBLEY, although reports in the financial papers continue to debate the future of the company behind the venue. There is no news forthcoming about which party will win the chance to spearhead the refinancing package. This suggests that Sir Brian Wolfson is still at the negotiating table..... GEORGE MICHAEL made his first live performance since his court room disaster at MTV's first European Music Awards. With the performer back in the spotlight, the industry rumour mill has been working overtime to spread whispers that Michael is discussing new recording contracts with another label. Well, chances are, those conversations may have taken place, but there will be no moves at least until after Michael's appeal against the Sony judgement has been heard. According to Michael's publicist, the appeal has apparently taken much longer than anticipated, but a pre-Christmas date for the hearing is possible. Meanwhile, no manager has been appointed to take the place of Rob Kahane..... MANCHESTER now officially has an "indoor" arena and the new £56 million venue hosted its first performer. Local star MICK HUCKNALL of Simply Red was brought in to perform a "topping out" ceremony at the arena, when the roof was completed. Hucknall may be back next year to put in a musical performance at the Ogden-run arena. SIMPLY RED is one of several artists hinting strongly about a 1995 tour. Other artists whose are strongly rumoured to be touring in the UK are CURTIS STIGERS, MADONNA and MICHAEL JACKSON. PRINCE is also rumoured to be planning a tour, but then we've all heard that one a few times before. Names who are reportedly soon to confirm dates are JOHNNY CASH and LUTHER VANDROSS. Whether the market will be able to sustain such a busy concert year is another matter. There is still no definite sign that the UK concert market has returned to peak form..... At least the bleak new year period is beginning to look a little more interesting than usual. While the club circuit will be quiet in this traditional post Christmas recession, the theatre circuit has some interesting shows doing the rounds. SUEDE has announced another tour of the UK starting January 24, this time taking in 11 dates in theatres around the country..... Touring the UK in January for the first time, will be the WOMAN'S HEART package, featuring four Irish female performers - Mary Black, Frances Black, Sharon Shannon and Mary Coughlan. This tour is on the heels of an album project which has been phenomenally successful in the Irish homeland. The first Woman's Heart album ranks as the biggest seller in the country and has sold 330,000 copies worldwide. Two years after its release, it is still at number five in the Irish charts. The artists toured under the Woman's Heart banner four times there and the live shows were also best sellers. With a follow up album to promote, it will be interesting to see how the success of this themed Irish package translates here..... JONI MITCHELL was over for a fleeting visit to promote her Turbulent Indigo album. But the promoters were left out in the cold, as Mitchell played an acoustic set to a tiny, select audience of press hacks, preferring not to tour this time..... MEAT LOAF is back once again. It feels like Bat Out Of Hell III, but it's not. The 19-date arena tour which kicked off last week is his third sell-out tour of the UK in 12 months. He may be an even bigger attraction here than in North America.

Australian News Report

(Sydney) On November 22nd, promoter PAUL DAINTY announced the initial March and April dates for the ROLLING STONES Australian tour. The band will play outdoors in Melbourne, Sydney, Adelaide, Perth and Brisbane. A New Zealand date is still to be announced. Tickets went on sale November 28th and it was no April Fools joke when the April 1st Sydney date sold out in less than two hours. A second show for the 2nd was immediately added. It's been 22 years since the Stones last toured Australia. Tickets are $A57.50 and $A93.50..... BILLY JOEL's final concert in Brisbane on November 26th was cancelled after the singer received medical advice not to perform. Brisbane Entertainment Centre manager Harvey Lister said Joel had laryngitis, forcing him to abandon the concert, the last in a series of three performances in Brisbane. He said the concert could not be rescheduled because Joel's tour had to move on to Sydney. People with tickets for the cancelled concert will get a full refund by posting their tickets back to Ticketworld in Brisbane. According to Frontier Touring Company's Michael Chugg, Joel has recovered and his Sydney concerts were to go ahead as scheduled..... And the tours for early '95 just keep on a comin'. There's been no public announcement but Michael Coppel Presents have secured JANET JACKSON for February/March dates at the Entertainment Centre arenas in Brisbane, Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide and Perth..... The Frontier Touring Company has added a second Sydney concert for R.E.M. and report strong sales around the rest of the country..... MACEO PARKER tours Australia in April for promoter Peter Korda. No dates are available at present, but it's understood to be a national tour..... The local branch of BMG who shouted a few weeks back about not changing the cover art of THE BLACK CROWES America album have capitulated and will run with a different cover after the initial 10,000 copies have sold..... MIDNIGHT OIL have funded a series of radio commercials that have been airing in Queensland over the past few days to protest against the government's attitude towards a controversial land development at Oyster Cove..... Record retail chain BRASHS is spending a reported $20 million to obtain the sponsorship rights to promote the Australian leg of the Stones world tour. It's all part of an attempt to lift Brashs profit and heighten it's waning profile. The chain was in severe financial troubles earlier this year. According to managing director, Adrian Kloeden, "This is a significant investment for Brashs and this is a repositioning of the company as the leading entertainment retailer in the country. The Rolling Stones have been at the forefront of international entertainment for 30 years and one in four households have their records." The Brashs promotion will include an appearance by the band at a yet-to-be disclosed store in the chain. Brashs have also sponsored the Boyz II Men tour..... I'm told that Australian country artist KEITH URBAN is now managed by MILES COPELAND's organisation, which means he's teamed up with serious muscle in the international arena..... At the end of November J&B RECORDS LTD., one of Australia's biggest producers of TV advertised compilation albums, was placed in liquidation. The company distributes labels such as Concept Records and Hitbound Records. The liquidation is being handled by the accountancy firm Ferrier Hodgson..... December sees the 20th anniversary of FM RADIO in Australia. Broadcasts began on December 15, 1974 on the Sydney station 2MBS-FM. The Federation of Australian Broadcasters has released figures saying that approximately one third of Australian commercial stations are broadcasting on FM. In a typical week in Sydney 72 percent of people listen to FM radio and there are now 23 FM stations in NSW and the ACT. The Australian Broadcasting Authority is aiming to give 40 additional FM licenses to regional markets..... The first release of an international act on the MURMUR label (a Sony Music-offshoot currently celebrating the success of SILVERCHAIR, a trio of Nirvana-esque 15-year-olds, who've had a number one single for four weeks in a row) is BAD RELIGION's Stranger Than Fiction album..... As befitting their claimed status as Australia's seventh major, SHOCK RECORDS are getting serious about TV advertising with a big campaign on Channel 10 from December 12 to January 7. The artists being promoted are Veruca Salt, Ofspring, The Breeders, Kristin Hersh, Ed Kuepper, Elvis Costello, Sepultura, Machine Head and Obituary. During the same period there'll be a campaign on SBS promoting Dead Can Dance and Manu Dibango..... The cultural revolution. That's how TRIPLE J (Australia's equivalent of a national college radio network) is promoting its imminent regionalisation. Starting in early January 1995 they'll add 44 regions to their national network.
