Concert Promoters Meet In NYC

The members of the North American Concert Promoters Association held a one-day meeting October 9th at the Parker Meriden Hotel in New York City. The organization's first order of business turned out to be an internal matter when executive director Ben Liss resigned from the trade association effective at the end of the meeting. Liss has accepted a new position within the industry but wasn't at liberty to identify his new employer at press time. As it turns out, the NACPA leadership will stay in familiar hands since the members decided to ask Cynthia Wallace to assume the organization's helm. As Liss' wife and partner, she is very familiar with NACPA since she had served as defacto assistant director and had been present at all the group's previous meetings. In other matters, the group discussed the post-summer state of the business, sponsorships, insurance, taxes and other issues. The 37 representatives from NACPA companies also held a roundtable discussion with 30 agents from CAA, ICM, William Morris, Premier, QBQ, Entourage, Artists & Audience, and Little Big Man. The agent-promoter exchange focused on improving relations and their mutual concerns of breaking new talent and sustaining careers. The next NACPA meeting will be held in Los Angeles at the Century Plaza Hotel in conjunction with the Concert Industry Consortium's second gathering February 1-3. Details on that event will be unveiled later this month.

Cohlescing A New Company

Wild rumors flying around the music business about Michael Cohl's plans to form a new company in Florida appear to be solidifying. Sources confirmed the ongoing speculation that Cohl will indeed be leaving the BCL fold in Toronto and will set up shop in Florida where he will focus on worldwide concert tour promotions. Much of Cohl's energy over the past two years has already been focused on guiding the massive tours for Pink Floyd, the Rolling Stones, and most recently, David Bowie. Rumor has it that Cohl may have made a successful pitch for a similar arrangement with U2 for their 1996 tour. Cohl is currently negotiating with Labatt to map out the future for Brockum and CPI, although talks have been suspended pending Cohl's early November return to Toronto. It has been suggested that CPI's role as a full-service promoter in Canada would be inherited by longtime partner Donald Tarlton and his Montreal-based Donald K. Donald Productions. The negotiations with Labatt are expected to wrap up by mid-November.

Just Ahead Of The Snow Drifts

Target Center executive director Dana Warg (R) gives a jacket to Jimmy Buffett because, let's face it, the Twin Cities ain't the Caribbean. The sold out October 5th date in Minneapolis was one of the few concerts where dedicated Parrotheads could enjoy Buffett's magic in a climate-controlled environment.

Death On Stage

The drummer for Canadian blues-rock band Big Sugar collapsed and died during a concert in Waterloo, Iowa October 6th. According to witnesses, Walter "Crash" Morgan, 35, stood up in the middle of a song, knocked over a cymbal and collapsed behind his drum kit. Bystanders and paramedics performed CPR for 20 minutes in an attempt to revive Morgan. He was later pronounced dead at an area hospital. An autopsy was performed but results were not available at press time. Big Sugar's booking agent, Marty Diamond of Little Big Man, said despite the tragedy, the band has decided to continue on it's current tour supporting Chris Duarte. The group did cancel two shows because of Morgan's death but Duarte's drummer has been filling in and a new drummer is expected to be added shortly.

On Pace For A Delayed Opening

The scheduled January opening of the new Pavilion Partners amphitheatre now under construction on the grounds of the South Florida Fair & Exposition has been pushed back due to the heavy rains that have hit South Florida this year. The 20,000-capacity shed in West Palm Beach originally planned to open in time for the mid-January start of the fair. No firm date for opening has been scheduled but general manager Todd Graddy said the venue still expects to open its doors during the first quarter of next year. Pavilion Partners is the joint venture between Sony, Blockbuster and Pace.

News From The Wide World Of Management

Jeff Kwantinetz and Peter Katsis shuttered Q Management and began working as managers at Gallin-Morey Associates October 3rd. Kwantinetz and Katsis bring clients KORN, the Infidels, Phunk Junkeez and Danielle Brisebois with them to Gallin-Morey. Kwantinetz said, "Working at Gallin-Morey gives us a chance to draw on the years of expertise accumulated by Sandy Gallin and Jim Morey. And we feel bringing in bands like the Phunk Junkeez and KORN gives this place a completely different dimension which they didn't have before." The future representation of the remaining Q Management clients, including Material Issue and General Public, has yet to be determined.... Has Courtney Love been too hard to handle? That was the question on some industry insiders' minds when reports first surfaced saying Janet Billig was leaving Atlantic Records to return to the world of artist management with Cliff Burnstein and Peter Mensch at Q Prime. But October 11th, Billig denied she was leaving her senior VP position at Atlantic. "It's just a horrible rumor," Billig told POLLSTAR. Billig managed Hole among other high-profile alternative acts when she was at Gold Mountain in New York. When Billig announced she had accepted the post at Atlantic last November, Hole left Gold Mountain and signed with Q Prime. Though Billig didn't say she would never go back into management, she did say at the moment, she was happy and wasn't planning on leaving Atlantic.... Ron Stone and John Silva continued the restructuring of Gold Mountain Entertainment last week announcing the promotions of Jeffrey Hersh and John Cutcliffe. Hersh, who has been with Gold Mountain six years, was promoted to executive veep and CFO. Cutcliffe, who has been with the company for five years, was upped to a VP post. Cutcliffe currently co-manages Rickie Lee Jones and Tracy Chapman, as well as managing Paul Westerberg. He also coordinates all the touring logistics for the Beastie Boys, Foo Fighters, Sonic Youth and Beck. In addition to its recent changes, including opening an office in Nashville, Gold Mountain continues its joint venture in Mexico City with the personal management firm Arrabal & (Continued Page 5)

the presidents of the united states of america

If 1995 was an official election year, the Presidents of the United States of America would nab almost everybody's vote for unlikeliest musical success story. Honesty and fun are the key elements to this Seattle band's party platform — and if you want to get in on the party, you'll just have to see and hear the Presidents in action. It would seem that somewhere down the line, America forgot how much it loves to have fun in concert and the guys have taken it upon themselves to jolt the nation out of its blahs.

It's not that this feel-good campaign trail was premeditated, or anything. Vocalist/bassist Chris Ballew and guitarist Dave Dederer were high school pals who jammed off and on and gravitated in and out of other units (Ballew played in Supergroup with Morphine's Mark Sandman and supported Beck on tour) before getting together with ex-Love Battery and Skin Yard skinsbasher Jason Finn two years ago for the real enchilada. Three very idiosyncratic yet compatible musicians made for typically eclectic music. Ballew's experience writing for modern rock bands was married with Dederer's love for psychobilly country and Finn's penchant for heavier punk-influenced rock.

"Personally, I have a lot of different influences," Dave Dederer said by phone from Willie Nelson's studio in Austin. "Chris and I, in particular, have been playing music together for a long time and the one thing that we share most strongly is our like of simplicity. I think that's the unifying element — to bring in little bits of other things that catch our ear but keep it simple."

Simplicity is what keeps the feet of this band's material firmly planted on solid ground. Where eclecticism is, for many bands, often synonymous with getting carried away, the Presidents of the U.S.A. channel and temper its tangents into tight pop songs the musicians can unleash to unsuspecting sourpusses in concert.

"The spirit's the most important thing," Dederer said. "Playing live, obviously, if we're jumping all over the place and spilling beer and throwing things around and stuff, the playing is not going to be perfect. But that's not what it's about live. For some people it is, if you were Jerry Garcia or Carlos Santana, but it's more about the passion in their playing than the technical virtuosity anyway. They just bring the passion out by standing still. I have to jump around to bring out my kind of joy at playing music."

Newly represented by David Hall and Alison Hamamura at the William Morris Agency, the Presidents performed at Seattle's Bumbershoot Festival over Labor Day to an overflow crowd of 10,000 fans. "They had to shut the doors because the kids were hurting themselves jumping off the stage," he said.

The band was part of the Popluma roster in Seattle when Columbia caught wind of its live show and took things to the next level. The debut album, produced by seminal Seattle producer Conrad Uno who is best known for his work with Mudhoney, was re-mixed, re-mastered and re-released, upping the already compression-heavy and flanged analog factor to the songs. Despite their knowing many senior members of the famed Seattle

"scene" since childhood, the band members feel no connection with grunge, which Dederer calls "an invention of the media." The band is often called to task over the Seattle issue, asked if their music is a backlash to grunge because of its positive, rollicking sound. "We strive for some kind of honesty, even if it's about something goofy," Dederer said. "The only thing grunge in the world, according to Ron Nine from Love Battery, is Steve Turner from Mudhoney's guitar sound. And we're not even sure if that's grungy anymore!"

The success of the Presidents' album has actually altered the band's touring routine — a reality which doesn't always sit well with the typically good-natured and accommodating three amigos.

"We're in the middle of a tour that's very hectic and there's been all sorts of weird flying around... It's not been just a nice 'get in the van and settle in and make a little nest and roll along.' It's been 'fly somewhere, get in the van, go for a few days, fly back to somewhere else, get in the van for a day, then fly to somewhere else.' It makes us very grumpy during the day. Once you're on stage, your endorphins kick in and all the pain goes away and your adrenalin kicks in and you're energized. That's the easiest part of the day. We just got a fax from our manager (Staci Slater from Talent House) with 30 pages of decisions to make and it's not fun to be scattered all the time. And when you're on stage you can't be scattered. There's only one job to do. It's very fun..."

The daily grind of traveling in a van enjoyable? "Being in a van is fine because there's three of us in the band and we each have our own bench. We can lie down and I can read my book, play guitar through my headphones, listen to music, write letters, daydream. And no one can reach me," Dederer said.

The band just finished recording "Devil In A Sleeping Bag" for an upcoming Willie Nelson tribute album entitled Willie Nelson: Twisted, which will also feature Johnny Cash, Jerry Cantrell of Alice In Chains, and Kim and Kelley Deal from the Breeders. "I'm a gigantic Willie Nelson fan," said the guitarist. Meanwhile, the Presidents are preparing to take Europe and "all the cheese you can eat in 10 lifetimes!" Dederer hopes to play on some 1996 Clinton-Gore campaign trail stops as the band did last November in Seattle, which resulted in a photograph with Mr. Clinton. "The name just sounds good to say from the stage. We kind of liked it because it was so absurd. We wanna have Bill sitting in on saxophone on 'Boll Weevil.'" ★

Company, S.A. — de C.B. The affiliated venture in Mexico City is run by Marusa Reyes who manages the careers of BMG artists Caifanes, Maldita Vecindad and Fobia..... Morris, Bliesener & Associates have opened a new office in Nashville which will be run by Alan Kates. The new Morris, Bliesener, Kates office in Music City will look after the affairs of the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band for Morris while Kates will continue to manage Charlie Major and Prairie Oyster through his AMK Management.

Tom Petty Has Left The Building

Tom Petty & The Heartbreakers almost broke their current tour record for most t-shirts sold at a single show on Tupelo Coliseum's 2nd anniversary, October 3rd. Since Tupelo is Elvis Presley's birthplace, Petty was lavished with all sorts of Kingly goodies. (L-R) are promoter Tony Ruffino from New Era, coliseum operations assistant Craig Russell, box office assistant Jeanie Friday, facility director Michael Marion, operations manager Frank Cabie, Petty, box office manager Julie Osborn, and marketing director Betty Baxter.

The Benevolent King?

During the first day of Don King's insurance fraud trial in NYC last week, prosecutors depicted the boxing promoter as a crook while defense attorneys painted him as a benevolent banker who "invests in people." King is accused of swindling $350,000 from Lloyd's Of London by submitting a falsified contract for a 1991 boxing match that never happened. Assistant U.S. Attorney Paul Gardephe said King ordered his employees to submit the false claim for training expenses for Julio Cesar Chavez. The prosecution claims Chavez was not paid that amount for his planned 1991 match against Harold Brazier. Chavez's face was cut before the fight and the bout was scrapped. King's attorney, Peter Fleming, said his client had purchased enough insurance to cover the fighters' advances and that King had not kept the payment money for himself. King is facing a nine-count indictment and if convicted, he could face a maximum of five years in prison and a $250,000 fine on each count.

Latin Star Gets Cuffed

Radio City Music Hall presents Luis Miguel with a pair of gold cuff links in honor of the performer's successful four-night run at the landmark Gotham venue September 28th through October 1st. Celebrating in the star's dressing room are (L-R) RCMH's Jim Glancy and Ed Micone, Miguel and Bruce Moran from O.C.E.S.A., which coordinates all of the singer's U.S. dates.

Charlie Minor Murder Trial Set To Begin

Suzette McClure, the woman accused of murdering Charlie Minor, is scheduled to appear October 25th in Superior Court in Malibu. On October 4th, a municipal court judge dismissed a special allegation of "lying in wait" which, if allowed to stand, could have made McClure eligible for the death penalty if convicted. The judge said prosecutors failed to prove the allegation. However, according to McClure's public defender Verah Bradford, prosecutors could refile the special allegation before arraignment. "This is really not a case that fits the criteria for pursuit of the death penalty." Minor, whose record promotion feats were the stuff of industry legend, was fatally shot March 19th at his Malibu home. McClure, who was identified as a stripper and ex-girlfriend of Minor's, was arrested and booked on suspicion of murder the day of the shooting. She pleaded innocent and has been held without bail since the day of her arrest. Regarding motive, investigators said McClure was a

Sign Or Else

Capitol Records execs gently persuade Dandy Warhols member Courtney Taylor to sign on the dotted line. Hovering over Taylor, making sure no drool spatters on to the fresh ink are (L-R) the band's Peter Holmstrom, Mon Qui Management's Mike Quinn, the band's Zia McCabe, Thor Lindsay of Tim Kerr Records (The Dandy Warhols' indie label), Capitol's Perry Watts-Russell and Gary Gersh, the band's Eric Hedford and Mon Qui's Chris Monlux.

House Of The Blue Mickey

The Walt Disney Co. has taken a 12 percent equity stake in HOB Entertainment Inc., the parent company of the House of Blues nightclub chain. Although news of the deal has only recently surfaced, it was actually made a couple of months ago, according to HoB spokesperson Michelle Steinberg. In a secondary stock offering, HoB reportedly raised $55 million which it plans to use for building hotels. Steinberg said the company is currently looking for club sites where it would be feasible to connect a hotel. The first House of Blues Hotel will be built adjacent to the Chicago venue which broke ground last month. HoB also plans to build venues in New York, Orlando and Las Vegas and expand internationally to Rio, Berlin, London and Hong Kong, Steinberg said.

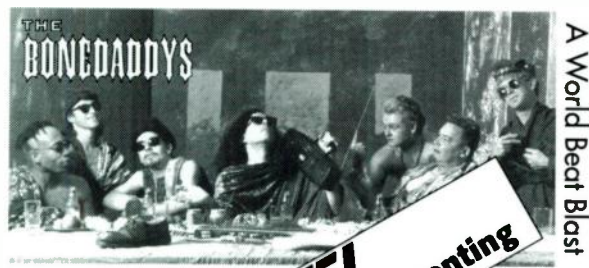

Record Moves & Grooves

John Cannelli is leaving MTV to become president of Rocket Records, the label founded by Elton John in 1973. Cannelli was most recently senior VP of music program development at MTV. He spent 13 years at MTV Networks in varied capacities. Cannelli will report directly to Elton John and Rocket Records chairman John Reid. On operational matters, Cannelli will report to Island Records prexy John Barbis. Rocket was deactivated in the early '80s but was essentially relaunched earlier this year when Elton signed a multi-album deal with PolyGram via its Island label. Island provides the marketing, promotion and retail support in the U.S. for all Rocket Records projects..... It looks like Tha Dogg Pound's long awaited Dogg Food album will be distributed by Priority Records. The first single, "Respect," is expected to ship to radio October 17th and the album is scheduled to debut October 31st. Dogg Food was supposed to come out in August but Warner Bros.' management shifts and troubles with rap-bashing, right-wing conservatives played no small part in the delay. The record's distribution fell into question after the group's imprint, Death Row, and parent label Interscope, were cut free from the Time Warner empire two weeks ago. This is apparently a one-album deal with Priority and neither Death Row nor Interscope has inked a comprehensive distribution deal with anyone. Early response to Tha Dogg Pound's material has defined the upcoming album as notoriously controversial, even though the lyrics have not been made public. For weeks, chart watchers, including Death Row chief Suge Knight, have predicted Dogg Food will debut at No. 1 on the album chart..... On slightly safer political ground, Polygram Records has paid $8 million for a 50 percent share of John Tesh's GTS Records and thereby became the successful bidder for worldwide distribution rights to the label. Sony and Warner Bros. had also reportedly been bidding for the distribution rights.

Tie A Yellow Ribbon Around It

Two backup singers for Tony Orlando are suing the entertainer for sexual harassment and discrimination. Sisters Aleta and Sonya Buckelew claim Orlando asked them for sex, made sexually suggestive remarks, yelled at them on stage and berated, harassed and swore at them. According to the Buckelews' attorney, while the sisters worked for Orlando at his Yellow Ribbon Music Theatre in Branson, Mo., from June 1993 to July 1994, they "developed health problems, abdominal problems and things of that nature associated with stress." Orlando called the allegations "scurrilous, ludicrous and baseless." He said, "These untrue accusations are nothing short of defamation of character and will be handled by my attorneys accordingly." The women's lawsuit seeks unspecified real and punitive damages for back pay, pain and suffering, medical bills and attorney fees.

Keep Your Eye On The Birdie

Golf junkie Amy Grant posed backstage at her September 6th Tucson Community Center Arena show with (L-R) PGA pros Scott Simpson and Dave Slaughter, Evening Star Productions' Dan Zelisko (who we understand is just starting to learn the game), and PGA pro Dan Poole. Grant's show was a makeup date for a June 18th show which was cancelled when the singer had to have emergency eye surgery.

Chillen With The Supreme Court Boogie

The U.S. Supreme Court last week turned down an appeal in a copyright infringement case against ZZ Top. Bernard Besman says ZZ Top's song "La Grange," released in 1973, includes music copied from "Boogie Chillen," a song Besman co-wrote with John Lee Hooker in 1948. At issue is the federal Copyright Act of 1909, which governed copyright protection before a new law became effective in 1978. The 1909 law protects "unpublished" works until they are copyrighted. And it protects "published" works 28 years from the time they are first "published" and allows for renewal of another 28 years. Though "Boogie Chillen" was recorded and released by Hooker in 1948 and 1950, Besman registered the song in 1967 with the U.S. Copyright Office as an "unpublished" work because no sheet music was published. The question that would have been posed to the Supreme Court is whether or not recording and releasing a song constitutes "publishing" of the song — as opposed to publishing the sheet music. In an earlier decision, the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals considered each version of "Boogie Chillen" to be "published" when the recordings were publicly released. And the court said the copyrights to the 1948 and 1950 versions of the song expired without renewal. But Besman had one last hope that a 1970 version of "Boogie Chillen" could still be protected by copyright. The appeals court said that version might be protected but only if a copyright notice was attached to each copy sold. Looking at the big picture, ZZ Top's lawyer Joseph Schleimer argued that allowing authors to keep exclusive rights to pre-1978 songs without copyright notice "would revive the copyrights to tens of thousands of public domain songs thus subjecting the music industry to untold new risks of costly litigation." But a coalition of music publishers urged the Supreme Court to hear the case. Since the appeals court ruled that the release of a song signifies "publishing," other songs are in danger of losing copyright protection early if they were released before being copyrighted. The coalition said that the ruling creates the risk of a massive forfeiture of copyrights and a loss of hundreds of millions of dollars per year in licensing income for songwriters and music publishers.

Prine Time Convocation

John Prine performed two sold-out nights at Toronto's Convocation Hall September 15th and 16th in support of his new release "Lost Dogs and Mixed Blessings." Toasting Prine at a backstage reception are (L-R) Oh Boy Records and Al Bunetta Management exec Dan Einstein, promoter Rob Bennett of MCA Concerts Canada, Prine and longtime manager Al Bunetta.

The Post-O.J. Legal Stars

Now that the verdict has come in on the O.J. Simpson double murder trial, the star legal players are considering the multitude of options opening up to them since becoming famous in their own right. In an effort to field those options, prosecutors Marcia Clark and Christopher Darden both signed with William Morris. They are being represented by agent Norman Brokaw whose client list includes quite a few Kissinger-level celebs. Darden says he wants to write a book to make sure his perspective of the trial is memorialized and preserved. Clark has also indicated a book is among the projects on her plate. Meanwhile, Robert Shapiro has become a partner in the Los Angeles-based law firm of Christensen, White, Miller, Fink & Jacobs and will have his name added to the firm's moniker. Shapiro said he intends to expand his entertainment industry practice. And Johnnie Cochran will have his hands full with the Snoop Doggy Dogg et al murder trial which started last week.

Between The Dates

With one supergroup reunion now under his belt, will IRVING AZOFF be the one refereeing for the newly reformed JOURNEY? Rumors abound that Azoff, who helped Hell thaw out for The Eagles reunion, will be the personal manager for the equally contentious original members of Journey. As we went to press, Mr. Azoff responded with, "No comment at this time."..... On the first support date for Soul Asylum someone ripped off RADIOHEAD's van and equipment, causing the band to perform an acoustic opening set at Denver's Mammoth Events Center October 4th. The group had to bow out of the following dates in Salt Lake City, Vancouver, Seattle and Portland, before purchasing new equipment and rejoining the tour in Santa Cruz last Wednesday..... While HURRICANE OPAL wrecked havoc throughout the Florida panhandle, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, The MOBILE BAYFEST enjoyed an unusual byproduct from the storm — great weather. New Era Promotions' Gary Weinberger told POLLSTAR that, while the storm was doing its worst only 60 miles away, Mobile, which was on the other side of the eye of the storm, had picture perfect weather, and low humidity. You figure that all those high winds have to come from somewhere, and while the hurricane was trashing parts of the Gulf states, it was sucking up wind from the west, and Mobile just happened to be west of the storm's eye. "There was no significant impact at all of something that was happening 60 miles away," said Weinberger. In fact, the weather for Mobile's first annual Bayfest, which included Radney Foster, The Commodores, Pete Drogé and The Gibb Droll Band, wasn't just good, it was spectacular. Day temperatures reached the mid 80's and cooled down to the 60's at night..... THE THREE TENORS — Luciano Pavarotti, Jose Carreras and Placido Domingo have announced the longest five-date world "tour" in history. It begins next summer and will span four continents before it ends in March 1997. The all-stadium tour starts in Tokyo next June and will include stops at Giants Stadium and London's Wembley Stadium. Other cities include Tokyo, Munich and Melbourne. Tickets for the Giants Stadium date will run from $25 to $500. London's Philharmonia Orchestra will accompany the tenors in Tokyo, London and Munich, the New York Metropolitan Orchestra will play at Giants Stadium and the Melbourne Symphony Orchestra will perform in Australia. New York maestro James Levine will conduct all performances. Each concert will last 2 1/2 hours, and even though all venues are stadiums, the capacity will be reduced to accommodate a large set. Each performance will be broadcast live nationally, but there are no plans for worldwide screenings or recordings..... Not only is it the first live album ever for STEELY DAN, but Alive In America will be the first album for Fagen and Becker under the Steely Dan moniker since 1980's Gaucha, and is comprised of recordings from their 1993 and 1994 tours. To commemorate the release, the duo will be performing two shows at New York's Roseland, October 21 & 22..... Aside from writing their own material, THE ROLLING STONES have also been known for recording some great covers — "Just My Imagination," "Ain't Too Proud To Beg," and "Harlem Shuffle" are just a few of the songs the Stones have covered over the years. Now the boys have finally recorded, what some might say, the most obvious song for the band's 30 plus year history. Bob Dylan's "Like A Rolling Stone" will be on the upcoming live album entitled Stripped. Mick Jagger told the British Press Association, that the song started out "for a laugh" on the recent Voodoo Lounge tour, and became "almost like playing an anthem to ourselves."..... Photogs who are taking pix of JULIO IGLESIAS are being asked to shoot only his right side. While Iglesias was meeting with several hundred fans at a Circuit City store in San Antonio, he pleaded with photographers to snap only the right side. "Please no, that's my bad side," he said to one uncooperative photographer who snapped him on the left..... REBA MCENTIRE is definitely a control freak. The Red Headed Money Machine was quoted in the October issue of the CMA's Close Up magazine as saying she didn't even trust her husband NARVEL BLACKSTOCK (who does double duty as her manager) to sign checks until several years after they were married. We can believe it because they seem to do things a bit differently 'round the ol' Starstruck star. Although Reba is not a wallflower when it comes to publicity and her live dates do exceptional business, her organization refuses to help publicize or update her tour itinerary. It doesn't seem to make sense but then, of course, this is the music business and it doesn't have to. Maybe she wants everybody to call 1-900-PAY-REBA, or whatever the number is, to get current information. The only problem is that we've called her 900 number and it isn't up-to-date either. Perhaps she's caught a RAY CHARLES attitude - but then that's a topic for venting on another day.

U.K. News Report

(London) There has been an overwhelming chorus of approval that the BRIXTON ACADEMY is not going to get religion. Following a £2.4 million bid from the BREAK FOR THE BORDER GROUP pic (BFTB), the Academy's future as a rock and roll venue is secure. The move is clearly a reflection of the current buoyancy of the concert market, as a stock-market listed company is making a statement that live music is a good investment. As John Northcote at the Shepherds Bush Empire told POLLSTAR, "Break For The Border is an entertainments group based in London and Dublin and if there is a theme to what we do, it would be that music is an integral part of everything we do." The group now has three successful themed restaurants and four venues. The new 1,500 capacity BFTB venue in Birmingham, due to open in 1996, will include a nightclub and venue plus a restaurant which will also be a museum of the Birmingham music scene. Future plans for expansion include a BFTB venue in the major cities around the UK and possibly further afield in Europe. This latest move by BFTB may shift the balance of power in terms of venue ownership in London. Vince Power's Mean Fiddler Organisation owns six key venues in the city, and therefore his booking policy has held a lot of sway over the past few years. Now with the Shepherd's Bush Empire linked to The Brixton Academy, it will be interesting to see how big a share of the business the BFTB group can command..... One venue which stood to gain from the demise of the Academy is the LONDON ASTORIA. Although the Astoria's capacity is 1,600, booker Neil O'Brien told POLLSTAR that the news "will affect the Astoria to a small degree, especially because there is a demand for shows and there are a lot more bands around who can sell out venues of 1,600 capacity and upwards." As far as the Astoria is concerned, it is having a very busy year, with attendance figures and event days on the increase. In October, the Astoria has 21 event days and the LALI club is booked up for 30 nights. The in-house promotions department, led by O'Brien continues to expand, with 46 events over the past 12 months. Following ongoing refurbishment, the Astoria is awaiting confirmation of an increase in capacity to 2,000. The number of rock gigs at the LALI has increased, in part due to the closure of neighbouring club, THE MARQUEE. The Marquee owners have still not found a new home..... The new album from OASIS went straight in at number one after selling a record 350,000 albums in the first four days of U.K. release. The sales figures represented the biggest first week sales for an album since eight years ago when Michael Jackson released Bad..... Meanwhile, in the singles chart, the question of sales rigging has reared its head. Producer-songwriter MIKE STOCK (ex of Stock, Aitken and Waterman, who dominated the pop charts in the mid-eighties), had a single by new singer TATJANA, (on his independent label Love This Records) withdrawn from the Top 40 after reaching #27 via reportedly "unusual selling patterns." An outraged Stock has denied any knowledge of buying teams and claims that rival record companies have set him up. He has publicly offered a £10,000 reward for information. A report in The Observer newspaper claimed that buying teams comb the country strategically and can push a record ten places up the charts, earning bonuses when the single goes up further. Record company insiders say everyone knows it does go on — but no one is naming names. The CHART INFORMATION NETWORK (CIN), which compiles the Top 40, says that "unusual sales patterns" can often be directly attributed to the artist making an in-store appearance, or to having a strong hometown following. However, CIN chart director Catherine Pusey, confirmed that in the case of the "Love This Records" track, there was such strong evidence of unusual sales over a very broad geographical area that it was necessary to withdraw the single. The case is being investigated. Charges of chart-rigging could result in criminal proceedings..... In the continuing trial of STING's former accountant, Keith Moore, the singer has been labeled with a "short attention span." Under questioning Moore told the court that all responsibility for Sting's business dealings fell to him. "Anonymity was of concern to Sting. He did not like the idea of pressure by people on him personally," Moore is reported as saying. Moore maintains that he never made the reportedly bad investments for his own personal gain. He also stated that he had told Sting he owed a large amount of money to the Inland Revenue and had asked for an advance. A letter faxed from the artist in California was, according to Moore, authorisation to withdraw the required sum from Sting's bank to settle his own affairs. Meanwhile, Coutts & Co., has admitted that authorisation should not have been given for Moore to transfer funds from the singer's bank account. The trial continues. The Association of Music Industry Accountants cannot comment on the implications of this case until the trial is over..... THE CRANBERRIES have not been confirmed as the support for David Bowie in Australia, manager Louis Kovac has stated. The reference to a confirmed slot was at this stage incorrect. The band start work on their next album in November..... EARL'S COURT has got the thumbs up from the British Music Industry as it has been chosen as the location for the 1996 Brit Awards..... PRIMARY TALENT's Tim Elwes is quitting the business to run a ski-hotel in France. Blues Traveler will now be booked by Steve Hedges, while Paul Franklin will take on Omar & The Howlers and Nine Below Zero.

Australian News Report

(Sydney) Well known music industry figure NEIL BRADBURY, 34, died in Sydney September 30th. According to newspaper reports he was found at around 3.30 p.m. in his parked car. The cause of death is understood to have been heart failure. The funeral was held on October 5th with eulogies delivered by family and friends including Michael Gudinski and Diesel. Neil's career in the music industry began when he went on to work for White and Mushroom Records, signing a diverse array of new talent. He left the company to manage one of his signings, Kids In The Kitchen, a move that took him to New York where he ended up working with high powered manager Freddie DeMann where he worked very closely with Billy Idol. Moving back to Australia and re-locating to Sydney, Neil spent a number of years in A&R at EMI Records where his successes included strong involvements with Diesel, Chocolate Starfish and many others..... SOUL ASYLUM will be here for a promotional tour late November - and there's rumours of a handful of showcase gigs..... Jamaican dancehall reggae queen, PATRA, is rumoured to be making a promotional tour here in November..... Frontier Touring must be mighty pleased as JEFF BUCKLEY's February tour sells extremely well. With dates in Sydney and Melbourne already sold out, Frontier has announced additional shows in both cities making the tour 11 dates in 8 cities..... Feel Promotions have announced a variety of interstate shows for the ROLLINS BAND following their appearance at this year's Livid Festival in Brisbane..... The same goes for BABES IN TOYLAND who are also being promoted by Feel..... Ah, it's definitely festival season. Promoter Brandon Saul has announced that HOMEBAKE '95 will be held at idyllic Byron Bay on December 29th. On the bill are popular Australian bands such as You Am I, silverchair, Tumbleweed, Magic Dirt, Spiderbait and Powderfinger. No international acts have been announced at this stage..... American surfcore perpetrators AGENT ORANGE will be touring Australia in December..... On the country front there's strong rumours that Tim McGraw, Stacy Dean Campbell and Trisha Yearwood will all be in Australia for appearances at the annual TAMWORTH COUNTRY MUSIC FESTIVAL held at the end of January. Yearwood, I hear, will not be a performer, simply a guest presenter at the Golden Guitar awards ceremony..... SARAH McLACHLIN and THE CHIEFTANS are touring Australia in November..... BROWNIE MCGEE cancelled his October Australian tour less than two weeks before his scheduled Sydney date on October 4. At press time I was unaware of the reason for the cancellation..... Nick Cave & The Bad Seeds, Porno For Pyros, P.J. Harvey and Elastica have been confirmed for January's national BIG DAY OUT tour..... BLOCKBUSTER ENTERTAINMENT GROUP, is want to take a 20 percent market share of Australia's $700 million music retail market. Blockbuster Music will open in Australia in November, following the conversion, as agreed last April, of the four VIRGIN MEGASTORES in Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide and the opening of two stores at South Yarra and Glenroy in Melbourne. As the first major expansion of Blockbuster Music outside the U.S., the company is watching with interest how the Australian market responds to Blockbuster's VP Asia Pacific, John Mlynski's strategy. "What we develop in Australia will be used as the basis for Blockbuster Music's entire Asia-Pacific expansion," Mlynski says. "We'll be investing $100 million over five years, to aggressively expand Blockbuster Music. By next year we will have increased the number of stores by 100 percent and within five years we plan to have 100 Blockbuster stores throughout Australia." Blockbuster Video has already established more than 75 video superstores around Australia through its $300 million, five year expansion policy..... It has taken seven years for SHOCK RECORDS to evolve from the front room of a Melbourne terrace to become the sixth largest record company in Australia but now they've also captured a major award as one of Victoria's top exporters and are now finalists for the Australian Export Awards.
