In A State Of Financial Distress

The State Theatre in Portland, Maine, is out of business and up for sale, much to the chagrin of those who have rented the facility. And those who hold tickets to upcoming shows aren't happy to find out that they won't be getting refunds. In a faxed announcement, the theatre's management company, Perfect Pitch Inc., asked that ticket holders consider their lost money a contribution to the failed effort to keep the State alive, the local newspaper, the Press Herald said. The State is offering people who have tickets to canceled shows a chance to see one of two shows that will go on — a Mahalia Jackson tribute that was scheduled for January 26th or Capitol Steps scheduled for February 2nd. Six shows have been canceled including Lou Rawls, Marcel Marceau, "Shirley Valentine," and Sharon, Lois & Bram, while other shows have been moved to other venues. The asking price for the theatre is $2 million. The owners, Nick and Lola Kampf, reportedly said a number of parties have expressed interest. Apparently, one wants to turn the theatre into a bar and another wants to make it a parking garage. Lola Kampf hopes the State's non-profit board buys the building, the Press Herald said. However, the $2 million price tag is out of the question, board chairman Paul Tully told the paper. He said the board plans to dissolve at the end of the month. Another possible buyer could be the City of Portland but a spokesperson said purchasing the State isn't feasible at this time because the city has put a hefty contribution into renovating Portland's City Hall Auditorium. The Kamf's told the Press Herald they would be willing, in the short term, to rent the theatre to any promoter or group that might want to use it.

Last Minute CIC & Awards Party Details

The few remaining registration slots for the February 1-3 Concert Industry Consortium II gathering at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles will likely be gone by the time you read this.... Monterey Peninsula Artists co-founder Dan Weiner (who will have virtually every agent from the Monterey, Chicago and Nashville offices present) will offer opening remarks to the delegates.... SMG and Near North Insurance are sponsoring the opening reception. Strategic Record Research is sponsoring the Friday luncheon and Ogden Entertainment Services will sponsor a closing reception on Saturday.... Tickets for the Concert Industry Awards Party hosted by Elayne Boosler at 7 p.m. on Saturday night will be available in the CIC registration area and, subject to availability, that night at the Santa Monica Museum Of Flying.... Among this year's award presenters are Frank Barsalona, Fred Bohlander, Carl Leighton-Pope, Tim Parsons, Buck Williams, Jeanie Buss, Phil Ernst, Pam Moore, Marty Diamond, Donald Tarlton, Wayne Forte, Frank J. Russo, Steve Sybesma, Nat Burgess, Bob Williams, Jim McNeil, John Brown, Bill Bachand, Greg Davis, and Susan Rosenbluth.... The Awards Party, which is sponsored in part by MCA Concerts to benefit the Bobby Brooks Foundation, starts with a cocktail hour and hors d'oeuvres including crisp polenta cakes with sun dried tomatoes, rock shrimp, brie & papaya quesadillas, maryland crab cakes, and other delicacies. The awards begin at 7:45 p.m. and the main party follows. Among the exotic buffet fare will be moo shu chicken, crab won tons, potstickers, duck sausage pizza, pasta yolanda, pomme frits, steak sandwiches and much more. Desserts include chocolate raspberry shortcakes, tiramisu, winter berry cobbler, creme brule tarts and strawberries dipped in chocolate. The weight loss pills are your responsibility.

gate charges from grosses generated by bands performing at the facility, the Toronto Star newspaper reported January 14th. The Star article quotes former Ticketmaster Canada vice president and part owner Gregory Tomlinson as saying both representatives of CPI and the CNE told the ticketing company the charges were valid and collection was authorized. A week earlier, CNE general manager Peter Moore told the CNE board that, as far as he knew, CNE officials were not aware of the deductions CPI was making. But in the Star report, Tomlinson said he had been summoned to the settlement room at the CNE several times to tell a tour accountant the charges were legitimate. Tomlinson said he did so "because I was advised by our clients in that instance, which is the CNE and CPI, that that in fact was the case." The contradicting statements of Tomlinson and Moore will undoubtedly be a focal point in the ongoing Metro Police investigation of the allegations. The alleged tax and gate charge scandal came to light in the Star in late December 1995. The paper reported that between 1984 and 1989, CPI deducted a 10 percent "amusement tax" from totals generated by acts playing the CNE. The performers included Bruce Springsteen, the Rolling Stones, U2, and many others. However, the CNE was exempt from that tax. The Star claimed that in 1990, CPI stopped the bogus tax charges and started charging a gate fee of about $3 a ticket. But the CNE never had a gate charge for grandstand concerts. Tomlinson told the paper he thought the charges were valid until he read the published accounts. He said he had thought the charges were similar to a 10 percent municipal "amusement tax" collected at certain concerts in Winnipeg. The general manager of the Winnipeg Enterprises Corporation told the Star the collection of that tax is easily accounted for through his organization's and the city's records. The CNE has not been able to produce such documentation. Cohl has vehemently denied any wrong doing and has vowed to sue the paper over its coverage.

Joe Harris

APA agent Joe Harris, 57, died in his sleep at his home in Nashville January 20th. Harris, a decorated Vietnam veteran, got his start in the music industry booking shows for the troops in Vietnam. He worked with several of the major agencies in Music City including a lengthy stay at Buddy Lee Attractions where he was the responsible agent during Garth Brooks meteoric rise to superstardom. He was most recently the VP of International booking for APA's Nashville operation. In addition to Brooks, Harris helped to launch the careers of George Strait, Tracy Lawrence, Mark Chesnutt, and Trisha Yearwood.

Trying To Put silverchair In The Legal Hotseat

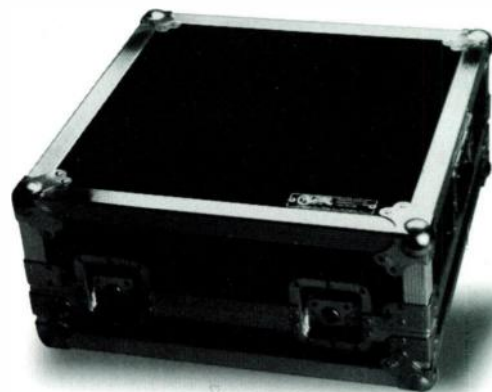

The members of silverchair have rejected claims by defense lawyers in a triple murder case that the band's song "Israel's Son" inspired a teenager to kill his family. In a statement published in an Australian newspaper, band manager John Watson said silverchair members "absolutely reject any allegations that their song is in any way responsible for the alleged murders." Nicholas McDonald, 18, and Brian Bassett, 16, of Washington state are accused of the aggravated first-degree murder of Bassett's parents and five-year-old brother. Prosecutors have alleged that Bassett shot his mother and father, then McDonald shot Mr. Bassett one final time and drowned the little boy in a

GOO-GOO-DOLLS

Goo Goo Dolls lead singer Johnny Rzeznik believes the increase in the band's popularity and drawing ability can be credited to its dedication to touring. Rzeznik recently told POLLSTAR, "We toured on every record but this was the first year that we really went out for a [full] year and we said, 'We're gonna break this band on the road.' And that's that." Rzeznik said the band believes spending a lot of time where the "rubber hits the road" has really paid off for the Goo Goo Dolls and its long term development as a recording and touring act.

Rzeznik thinks it's important for people to know that the band has worked for years at the task of making a living in the music business. With its third Warner Bros. Records release, A Boy Named Goo, the critically acclaimed Buffalo trio can honestly say it's paid some dues.

Rzeznik said because the novelty and romance of being in a band has worn off, it allows him and his bandmates to be more dedicated to working 16-hour days if necessary to insure a comfortable level of success. "Now it's a job and it's very important to look at it in that respect," he said. "A lot of people think guys in bands just sit around guzzling beer all day — well some do, but we're out there trying to get our record played on the radio. That's why you're out on tour, to promote your band."

One of the things that makes the 16-hour work days bearable for the Goo Goo Dolls is the one or two hours a day the band takes the stage and makes its connection with the audience. "That's the base connection. That's the lowest common denominator and that's what this is about so it's very important to keep that pure in its own way," Rzeznik said. "And we've hired some really good people around us to take care of the preparations and arrangements for everything so we're afforded the luxury of just worrying about performing and sinking ourselves into the performance without having to worry about the equipment and the lighting and the truck and the bus and everything."

Prior to the recent change in the way the Goo Goo Dolls do business, Rzeznik and bassist Robby Takac had their hands in every aspect of promoting and booking gigs. "We're not unfamiliar with any of it," Rzeznik said. "There are a lot of factors that figure into a show being a success." And a successful show is one of the best things that can happen to Rzeznik and his band. "Honest to God, one of my favorite things is doing a show where we actually earn the promoter money because they're happy to have you back and everybody makes a couple of bucks and it's a good time for everybody. That's when touring is a very positive experience."

He also thinks it's important for promoters to do their part to foster the long term growth of bands. "My two best friends in the world are concert promoters in Buffalo, Artie [Kwitchoff] and Marcel [Thimot] from Funtime. They're an example of a pair of promoters that still have their street credibility and really help to nurture bands' careers because they still give a shit about it. And that's important. Whether they make a lot of money or not off a particular artist, they always cater to making sure the artist is well taken care of. That's what it's all about and those guys are great at it. I've met some shit ass promoters though and I've dealt with some really dicey characters."

Having signed with William Morris more than three years ago, the Goo Goo Dolls appreciate the importance of having an established agent to troubleshoot any problems with less-than-ethical promoters. Doing the dirty work for years was Allison Hamamura but with her recent appointment at Mercury Records, Don Muller has taken the point on booking responsibilities for the band. Rzeznik said, "I think it's really important to have a good agent because you need somebody who's got clout and got power and who's connected, who can get you to the right people. That's very important." When asked if he was happy with his new agent, Rzeznik said, "So far so good. We got the Bush tour. Those will be the biggest gigs we've ever done."

Rzeznik said he likes the intimacy of small club gigs but now that the band's moved up to larger venues, there's better sound, production, lights, etc. "I love playing on a big stage where you can really work it," he said. "It's really a lot of fun to do that." The Bush tour kicks off February 1st in Portland.

In addition to William Morris and Warner Bros., manager Pat Magnarella of Third Rail Entertainment is an essential piece of the Goo Goo Dolls' business team. "You need the right manager ... who has a relationship with the record companies and the booking agents. Pat, our manager, comes from a booking agent background so he's very hands-on in our touring because he understands that whole aspect of it very well.... Basically, I look at it as running a small business and these are the people that I have brought into my business to partner it. And I have to be very sure that everybody is on the same page. And that's really my responsibility, to make sure everybody likes working with each other, that we're all working towards the same goal, that the left hand knows what the right hand is doing. And I think we've got a great team." Rzeznik said with all the pieces in place, the sum has become more valuable than the individual parts. ★ bathtub. McDonald's lawyer contends the song's lyrics violently inspired Bassett, who then forced McDonald to assist him in the murders. Prosecutors say McDonald and Bassett were homosexual lovers who planned to kill the family, steal valuables and flee to California. "Israel's Son," which includes lyrics about an execution, was written by a silverchair member after he watched a television documentary on the Holocaust, Watson said. "'Israel's Son' was never intended to provoke violence and cannot be interpreted by any reasonable person as doing so," he said. "The song seeks to criticize violence and war by portraying them in all their horror... The band is appalled by this horrific crime and they hope justice will prevail in prosecuting whoever is responsible for it." Both teens face life in prison without parole if convicted.

And They Said It Wouldn't Last

Surprise, surprise. Lisa Marie Presley has filed for divorce from Michael Jackson citing irreconcilable differences. Under California's no-fault divorce laws, that's all either of them have to say publicly, so those anxious to find out what happened between the lovebirds may never know. The two can ask that all divorce documents be sealed and they won't need to appear in court at all. Since their secret wedding in the Dominican Republic in May of 1994, critics have called the coupling a cheap stunt to bolster Presley's singing career and Jackson's image after allegations of child molestation — a corporate merger of Graceland and Neverland. But in a much-hyped interview on ABC television last year, the couple told Diane Sawyer they were deeply in love and trying to have a child. In the divorce filing, Presley listed the couple's date of separation as December 10th — four days after Jackson's collapse in NYC during rehearsals for his HBO television special. Presley's attorney, John P. Coale, said there are no disputes as to property or anything else. "It's going to be a very simple and clean divorce and they're going to remain friends," he said. The divorce could be final in six months — the period in which a California divorce becomes final. Or if one of them takes a jaunt down to the Dominican Republic, a quickie divorce can be obtained in two to three days. Rumors were circulating in Santo Domingo that Presley was on her way to finish the job.

The MCA Deal With Interscope

MCA has reportedly purchased half of Interscope Records for an estimated $200 million. The deal is expected to be formally announced in the next few days. According to the Los Angeles Times, the agreement gives MCA the option to purchase the remaining 50 percent of the label in three to five years. The deal was said to be brokered by MCA Music Group's new chairman, Doug Morris, and his advisors along with MCA President Ron Meyer and Seagram CEO Edgar Bronfman Jr. Bronfman, whose company bought 80 percent of MCA last year, made it clear early on that he was not happy with MCA's rock roster, an oft-cited reason for the November 1995 firing of Al Teller. The Interscope deal will certainly raise MCA's rock profile, but Bronfman has expressed uneasiness with the hard-edged lyrics of some of the label's most popular acts. In fact, the new pact allows Interscope to seek distribution elsewhere for material

U.K. News Report

It's that time of year when the festival rumour mill is working apace. With GLASTONBURY out of the picture, several promoters are considering putting on an alternative event. DF Concerts is looking at doing a festival south of the border in conjunction with an English promoter and MCP has also resurrected its festival plans. Two years ago, Stuart Galbraith at MCP got pretty far down the line with the idea of a new festival. But neither promoter has decided on a site and both are saying it will be a case of whether the right headliners are available.

The KNEBWORTH FESTIVAL has a site of course, but it was postponed last year as there wasn't a strong enough headliner. This year, things are looking a little more optimistic and the organisers claim to be close to making an announcement. There was talk of a ROXY MUSIC reunion at Knebworth, but that remains unconfirmed. The PRINCE'S TRUST is also rumoured to be planning a major live event in London's Hyde Park.

Festival suppliers heaved a sigh of relief when the government voted not to put our CLOCKS FORWARD an extra hour in the summer months to bring us in line with the rest of Europe. Andrew Fielder of Dragonfire Fireworks started a campaign to alert the industry to the implications of sunset at 11 p.m. in some parts of the country. It could have been bad news for lighting and fireworks suppliers in particular, as longer days wouldn't have meant later concerts. Fortunately the bill has been shunted right to the back of the legislative pile for now.

The SMASHING PUMPKINS have gone on sale with their first UK tour since the band changed management last year. The five-date arena tour has been booked by CAA and is split between three promoters - Riverman, SJM and DF Concerts. Mellon Collie & The Infinite Sadness has just gone gold as it passed the 100,000 sale mark.

K.D. LANG has already added an extra date for The Academy at the Birmingham NIA after going on sale only a week ago. She now plays there on February 23 and 24.

GOLDIE, the first major jungle artist who is achieving mainstream success has announced his first headlining tour - he played Glastonbury last summer and supported Bjork in Europe in the autumn and is playing nine dates around the country, including two shows at The Forum in London.

JOAN OSBORNE made a successful UK debut at the Borderline last week - agent Mike Dewdney at ITB says he's never seen ticket touts out for a showcase event, but he reckons they did pretty well out at the gig as the record company had more or less bought out the whole venue and only a few punters managed to get tickets. Osborne is supporting Melissa Etheridge on her European tour and will play three solo club dates in the UK next month.

VIRGIN RADIO is boosting its profile by teaming up with HARVEY GOLDSMITH to promote a series of showcase tours called Virgin Nights in four major cities - London, Bristol, Manchester and Sheffield between February 1-4. The shows will spotlight new signings and developing acts. Paul Carrack and Howard New will play this first series.

This year's SOUND CITY will take over the Leeds Town & Country Club and the Metropolitan University from April 8-14. Acts lined up so far are Gene, Dubstar and The Wannadies. The showcases and panel discussions will be promoted and organised in association with BBC Radio 1, the BPI and the Musicians Union.

IN THE CITY is moving from its Manchester homebase this year. The convention will cross the Irish Channel and will take place in Dublin from September 7-11 and will follow the same format of panels and seminars and a vast array of live shows around town.

GEORGE MICHAEL's glorious comeback hasn't gone quite according to plan as newcomers BABYLON ZOO have knocked him off the top spot. This is the latest band to benefit from the Levi's advertising treatment. The band's debut single, "Spaceman," is the soundtrack for the current TV ad, and topped "Jesus as a Child" with phenomenal first week sales of over 400,000 copies. It's a great beginning, but the Levi's tag didn't do much for other bands who made their debut via commercials, so will it be different this time around? The band's agent is Andrew Leighton-Pope but the only date booked at the moment is the LALI on February 16.

MCA feels is "too controversial." That clause will come into play next month with the scheduled release of Tupac Shakur's new double album, All Eyes On Me. MCA has already decided to pass on that one. Interscope's former partner, Warner Bros., came under fierce attack from the private and political sectors for distributing Interscope product. MCA, however, may be sheltered a bit from Interscope's critics. MCA does not own cable TV interests which are subject to government regulation. Also, parent company Seagram Co. is Canadian-owned. Industry observers felt Warner Bros. was attacked because it is the only American-owned major record label and was therefore a better target for political pressure.

Which Way To The Metro Subway Tunnel?

"It was them. It wasn't me," says a modest Chris Isaak in passing along the credit for his recent pair of sold out shows at the Pantages Theatre in Los Angeles. Flanking Isaak backstage are (L-R) Nederlanders Concerts GM Mike Garcia and Monterey Peninsula Artists agent Paul Goldman.

Legal Grievs

George Harrison has been awarded $11 million in a lawsuit against former manager Denis O'Brien. Harrison had asked for $25 million saying O'Brien swindled him for 20 years to finance a jet-set lifestyle. Apparently, the manager's job was to help plan Harrison's investments, manage his accounts and take charge of the former Beatle's Handmade Films company. In court papers, Harrison said O'Brien "misused his client's assets and credit to finance secret profits and a lavish lifestyle for himself." It is not yet known if O'Brien plans to appeal.... Tupac Shakur was briefly taken into custody January 22nd for violating terms of his probation on a 1994 battery conviction. Shakur had failed to meet the deadline for completing 15 days of highway cleanup work. Bail was set at $52,000 and the rapper posted it an hour after the judge issued the order, his lawyer Shawn Chapman said. Shakur was sentenced to 15 days in jail and ordered to perform 15 days of road crew work and 30 days of community service for attacking his former employer on a music video set in 1993. A hearing was also set for February 14th to determine whether Shakur further violated his probation when he was arrested on suspicion of possessing a concealed pistol in April '94 and was convicted of assault in October '94. A pretrial hearing for the weapons charge was set for last week.... Bonnie Pointer has asked prosecutors to drop charges of spousal battery filed against her husband, but he will probably go to trial anyway.

Prosecutors in Los Angeles said they will likely bring Jeffrey Bownes to trial for hitting his wife and her sister June. Bonnie Pointer said she wanted to drop the charges so she and her husband can resume work on a new album.... Frank Sinatra's two daughters are threatening to sue Ol' Blue Eyes over last month's Capitol Records release of Live In Concert, a collection of Sinatra concerts, People Magazine reported. In a will drawn up several years ago, Sinatra apparently promised his children the future royalties to many of his masters to protect their financial future, and he pledged he would not rerecord those songs. His daughters reportedly hired an attorney to advise the 80-year-old crooner and Capitol that they believe the release constitutes a breach of the document. Sinatra is reportedly outraged by the legal maneuverings by daughters Nancy and Tina. Frank Jr. is said to be avoiding taking sides in the dispute.

Claims Could Bust Jerry Garcia's Estate

The host of claims against Jerry Garcia's estate total $38 million — more than the estate is probably worth. A lawyer for Garcia's widow reportedly said if all the claims were collected, it would likely bankrupt the estate. The Grateful Dead frontman, who died August 9th of heart failure, left a third of his estate to his widow, Deborah Koons Garcia, and the rest was left to four daughters, his brother, his former wife and the daughter of author Ken Kesey. The largest claims, $15.6 million and $12 million, were from two art agents, one of whom claims he was Garcia's personal manager. Carolyn Garcia, the musician's first wife, filed a $4.6 million claim saying that in 1993, he promised to pay her $5 million over 20 years. A former girlfriend who's the mother of Garcia's 8-year-old daughter filed a $3 million claim saying Garcia continued support after the couple separated and agreed to pay for his daughter's college education through a doctorate. Mill Valley Imports Inc. asked for $25,404 for damage to a loaner BMW that Garcia apparently crashed. A high school sweetheart filed a $21,000 claim saying Garcia had promised to marry her in 1992. An acupuncturist filed for $10,050 for services rendered and Garcia's personal trainer filed a $980 claim. The estate's executor will review the claims and anyone whose claim is rejected has three months to file a lawsuit. The total worth of the estate is still not known.

Pros On The Move

John Meglen has departed BCL Entertainment where he headed the touring division since its inception in 1990. Meglen has decided to return home to California rather than join The Next Adventure company with Michael Cohl and Arthur Fogel..... Command Performance Agency president Ben Carrizzo has joined the staff at Skyline Music where he'll handle the Midwest and Texas regions for Skyline's entire roster. At the same time, he'll continue to service his Command Performance roster of comedy management clients..... Tucker Williamson has been promoted to director of artist relations for Warner Bros. Records. Prior to joining the label in 1991, Williamson worked for Camel Management as tour manager for Damn Yankees..... Bob Burdett has relocated from Florida to become the new executive director of the West Plains Civic Center in Missouri.

The Snoop Dogg Trial

A witness in the Snoop Doggy Dogg murder trial was subpoenaed from her home in Alaska and began testimony January 24th. According to the Los Angeles Times, Trevor Wolfe told the jury she did not see Philip Woldemariam reach for a gun in his waistband before he was fatally shot. She later acknowledged she was not looking at Snoop's Jeep Cherokee when the shooting occurred. The DA's office reportedly was not aware that Wolfe had witnessed the incident until recently. On January 23rd, Deputy Dist. Atty. Ed Nison was fined $200 and held in contempt of court after leaping to his feet and yelling at the judge. Nison wanted Superior Court Judge Paul Flynn to stop a defense attorney from asking LAPD Det. Patrick Anguino what he felt was an improper question. A witness critical to the defense testified January 17th that Philip Woldemariam reached into his waistband, where he had a gun, before he was fatally shot by the rapper's bodyguard, McKinley Lee. Dushaun Joseph said the two men reached for their guns at the same time, but he acknowledged that he had earlier testified before a grand jury that Woldemariam went for his gun first. When asked if he had lied during his earlier testimony, Joseph said, "No, I made a mistake. He later added, "It all happened at the same time. I don't know." Joseph's testimony is critical in supporting Snoop's and Lee's claim that the shooting was in self defense.

Short Items Of Note

Wynonna Judd and yacht salesman Arch Kelley III managed to keep their wedding a somewhat private affair January 21st as a helicopter hovered overhead and photographers tried to get just one shot outside a Nashville church. Wynonna is pregnant with the couple's second child..... Creative Artists Agency and Intel Corp. announced they will jointly operate a multimedia laboratory that showcases new technology to the entertainment industry. The lab, to be housed at CAA's office in Beverly Hills, will be equipped with advanced personal computers so that CAA clients can explore new capabilities. CAA and Intel said they will also help media companies develop products that take advantage of computers and on-line data networks..... Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Museum director Dennis Barrie said he will resign his post effective March 1st to pursue unspecified new ventures. He will continue working with the Hall as a consultant and board member. Barrie became the third director of the $85 million museum in August 1993 and guided it through the final stages of construction and its opening. There are no immediate plans for selecting Barrie's successor. The annual induction dinner may be moved to Cleveland in the future. Earlier this month, it was announced that the 1997 ceremony would be at the Museum but officials the next day said it was premature to talk about a move..... The board of directors of the planned International Bluegrass Music Museum voted 5-3 last week to fire executive director Tom Adler, prompting three other resignations and talk of moving the whole project from Owensboro, Ky., to Tennessee. "We simply cannot afford a curator right now," board chairman Ted Lolley said of the firing. "Tom was an academic. We need a fund-raiser. Tom will be the first person we will consider as a curator when we can afford one." The museum, in the planning stages since 1989, is a joint operation of the RiverPark Center and the IBMA. The board appointees from each organization are split as to whether they should continue the project in Owensboro or move it to Nashville.

Evita Ciccione

Madonna received a mixed reception when she arrived in Buenos Aires January 20th to begin filming the screen version of the musical "Evita." Scores of fans with "Madonna, we love you" written on their bodies ran to get a glimpse of the star but at the same time, her car passed by walls where hardline Peronists had scrawled the words, "Evita lives! Get out Madonna." Many Argentines are outraged that Madonna is going to portray their legendary first lady, Evita Peron. The film, directed by Alan Parker, is based on Andrew Lloyd Webber's Broadway musical which portrays Evita as a corrupt populist who slept her way to power. But many Argentines see Evita, a champion of the working-class poor, as nothing less than a saint. President Carlos Menem called Webber's depiction "a total and utter disgrace." And Buenos Aires Archbishop Antonio Quarraccino called Madonna "pornographic and unsuitable — an insult to Argentine women." Some politicians tried to have the whole cast of "Evita" declared "personae non grata" in the country and criticized the thousands of Argentines who lined up to audition for $30-a-day roles as extras in the film.

Obituaries

Saxophonist Gerry Mulligan, 68, died at his home in Darien, Conn., January 20th from complications from a knee infection. Mulligan, a versatile jazz musician, bandleader and composer, worked with Dave Brubeck, Miles Davis and Duke Ellington among many others. He helped create the cool jazz movement but was also at home in big band, bebop and Dixieland. He gained much acclaim in the '50s when he formed his first pianoless quartet with Chet Baker on trumpet. He had performed through last year playing at the JVC Jazz Festival in New York, a benefit for Tibetan monks in Italy and on a week-long Caribbean jazz cruise..... Composer, conductor and arranger Les Baxter, 73, died at a Newport Beach hospital January 15th of a massive heart attack due to kidney failure. Baxter composed more than 250 scores for movies, television and radio shows. From the '40s through the '60s, he worked as a musical director on many albums for Capitol Records. Baxter was also a saxophonist and a singer who enjoyed some success with his own albums on Capitol Records. His last performance was November 16th at the Century Club in Los Angeles.

HELLO! BOOKING: Brian Swanson

We are currently accepting March and April offers for Hightone recording artist Dale Watson. Dale will be appearing as part of the Hightone Records Roadhouse Revival Show in February and plans to return to the same East Coast markets between March 19th and April 17th. /// We are proud to announce the addition of The Strangers to our roster. They have West Coast avails through April in support of their latest release.

PRETTY POLLY: Chris Barber

Moe still has avails in Colorado March 10-12 and the Midwest March 20-24. The band will be available for Northeast clubs and colleges April 7th through early May following it's premier headline date at Irving Plaza. /// Guster is currently the top-selling act on the new "AWARE 3" disc and has tour dates in the Midwest and avails in mid-April.

DIGGER INT'L: Jeffrey Churchwell

New Years greetings from the Digger home office. Please note we have a new area code which makes our new number 847-931-9619 and our fax 847-931-9611. /// We are taking offers for Chemlab who hit the road the first week of April and will be doing the whole country and some dates in Canada. LP release is scheduled to coincide with tour kick-off. /// Cradle Of Thorns has a new Triple XXX album out called Download This and will be available in March. They are currently supporting KORN on some dates. /// Thought Industry has a new release on MetalBlade. They tour in March with the first three weeks already full but we're looking for dates in the Southeast and Texas for early April. Solid Frog supports on all dates. /// From overseas, we'll be bringing you Sweden's heaviest export, Misery Loves Co., with their second release due out by the end of February on Earache. This band will be co-billed with Wickerman towards the middle of March and we're looking for other dates in April. /// With a successful North American tour already under their belts, Cubanate we will be looking for other like-minded electronic bands to package with. /// We welcome to the roster Cyber-tec, which is a brain child of Jean-Luc De Meyer (Front 242), Marc Heal (Cubanate) and Ged Denton (Crisis). Also we announce our exclusive affiliation with "An Evening With The Rack," a troupe of 11 performers in a full-on theatrical fetish and bondage extravaganza. The show is choreographed with aggressive, heavy industrial house beat music. Already very popular in the cities they have visited, this is the first time for other cities to get to feel the whip. /// The new number for our NY office is 518-433-1968.

BRAD SIMON: Brad Simon

We are now booking our Kidzville U.S.A. single and multiple bill packages of family shows for spring and summer tours. Featured attractions include: Weinerville Live Starring Marc Weiner. The Weinerville "Election Day Special" will air on Nickelodeon February 17th. Marc Weiner's puppet, "Boney," the official Nickelodeon Election Day correspondent, will be featured on specially marked Post Cereals boxes. Alvin & The Chipmunks Live in Munkmania (animated series seen daily on Nickelodeon and USA); Shining Time Station - Live! featuring Thomas The Tank Engine with a special guest appearance by "Schemer," Scholastic's The Magic School Bus - Live, based on the best-selling book series from Scholastic and the hit TV show on PBS; and The Broadway Kids Sing Broadway with young stars of the Broadway stage in a new one-hour musical revue. Perennial favorites Joanie Bartels, Frank Cappelli, Craig 'N Co., Norman Foote, Bob McGrath and Rory will also be touring as single acts or in packages.

CSI: Blu Hawley

We are receiving great response for Les Dudek's "Getterdun" tour in support of the new Geosynchronous release, Deeper Shades of Blues. Les has March 3-12 open for Northern California dates and is taking offers through March 31st for Washington, Vancouver and Calgary. He then heads south through Montana in early April. /// Deacon Jones Vortex Blues Band 1996 has offers from across the U.S. and Canada. The tour and new CD on DBN/Blues Bureau is aptly named Making Blues History. Deacon is looking for March/April fill dates beginning in Central California to Edmonton, Canada, to Rapid City, S.D., down through Colorado, then to Texas and back to California. /// A hot new act in the blues rock world is The Blindside Blues Band. They have avails on the West Coast before the March 4-10 Canadian Music Festival in Toronto.

GBA: Geoffrey Blumenauer

Shawn Phillips celebrates his 25th anniversary as a recording artist this year. He's based in Texas and tours solo but can be reunited with his '70s band for dates in the upper Midwest. /// We are proud to announce the signing of Annie Rapid. Annie performs on 60 college campuses every year. She is L.A. based with strong New York roots. /// Van Dyke Parks' new CD features Brian Wilson on vocals and is selling well in NYC and LA. He tours solo with the buyer providing a six-piece string section.

FLASH GROUP: John Bell

The "Stars From The Commitments" tour has Colorado avails February 22-23, Utah 29th, Las Vegas March 1-2 and West Coast (south to north) March 3-12. /// Ominous Seapods is available for in the Midwest and Northeast in March and April.

Between The Dates

It may be called Freedom Hall, but after a protest over the bands' lyrics, led by the Rev. Don Strother, the Johnson City, Tenn. venue will not host WHITE ZOMBIE on February 4th. Johnson City commissioners cancelled the city's contract with the band after Rev. Strother complained that the group's songs were blasphemous. "I feel like we're here tonight under a mandate as a people of God to defend our society from attack," said Strother. The Reverend also quoted White Zombie, saying "Jesus lived his life in a cheap hotel on the edge of Route 66." Strother said that was blasphemous. Of course a band can get a lot of mileage over an incident like this. Concrete Management issued a two page press release denouncing the city commissioners' decision, quoting Johnson City Vice Mayor Bob May as telling the local paper, the Johnson City Press, in reference to White Zombie's music, "I don't care if it is the First Amendment. This is a disgrace." The local paper also reported that one city commissioner proposed that the city bring drug-sniffing (and presumably Satan-sniffing) dogs into the concert, but that was rejected because local police have only one canine on the force. City staff attorney Jim Culp told POLLSTAR that the show's cancellation came under a paragraph of Freedom Hall's rules which states, "Any proposed use of the facilities which is contrary to public policy or not in the best interests of the city as determined by the Director, the Commission or the City Manager, shall be denied." The show was quickly rescheduled for Bristol, Tennessee's Viking Hall, where the hall's director, Terrie Smith said, "In my capacity as director of a public entertainment facility, it is my legal obligation to not let the content of an entertainer's music dictate who performs at Viking Hall." The White Zombie cancellation was cited as influencing another band, Marilyn Manson, to cancel a nightclub gig in Johnson City. "They are good friends with the band White Zombie, and when they heard what happened here recently with those guys, they decided not to risk it," said Nightmoves manager Vito Gulbinas. "The band was afraid they would be greeted at the city limits by angry picketers throwing rocks and bricks at them."

Comedian RON GALLAGHER, who's act closely resembles his brother GALLAGHER's shtick, has settled a lawsuit brought by an audience member injured during a nightclub performance. Richard Carpini, 42, of Union Township, New Jersey, received $750,000 in the settlement. Carpini was in the audience during Ron Gallagher's performance at Rascals Comedy Club in West Orange, New Jersey on August 18, 1993. Carpini's attorney, Theodore Romankow, said that Ron Gallagher was using a 15-pound mallet to smash fruits and vegetables, when he lost his grip and the mallet flew and hit Carpini. According to Romankow, after the incident, Carpini, owner of Creative Hotel Products, which sells soaps and shampoos to hotels, could no longer smell the scents of his products. Romankow also said that Carpini lost a contract to sell soap products connected to the release of the motion picture "The Beverly Hillbillies" because he could not work while recovering from his injuries.

Occasionally one hears of someone making the rounds impersonating a musician. Over the last few years there have been people claiming to be Aerosmith's Steven Tyler, Zeppelin's John Paul Jones, and The Grateful Dead's Bob Weir. You can add a new one to the list — a TERRY JACKS impersonator. Terrance Jacques, 44, told KIKX, Colorado Springs DJ Dave Collins that he was the Terry Jacks who had the 1974 hit "Seasons In The Sun." Jacques also sent Collins a tape of a song that was supposed to launch his comeback, but the song was so bad that Collins wouldn't air it. "I thought, 'How am I gonna tell this guy his music stinks?'" said Collins. However the DJ never got the chance because the bogus Jacks was arrested for jumping parole in Arizona. Collins had spoken to Jacques several times on the air and had promised listeners a morning "coffee-with-Terry show" he had to renege on.

Corrections and clarifications — Last week our computer regurgitated an old MEAT LOAF schedule — a proposed U.S. routing that never got past the planning stage. The big guy is not touring the states in early '96, but there is a tour being worked up for the summer. And what's in a name? Well for the DAVE MATTHEWS BAND it's not doing an acoustic tour, as reported last week. Actually, Dave Matthews, sans the band, is teaming up with musician Tim Reynolds for a short acoustic tour in February.

■ Promoters World Entertainment have announced that MORBID ANGEL are about to make their second visit to Australia (and first to New Zealand) during late March/early April.

■ That's Bizarre have announced they will promote a short run of March dates for THE REVEREND HORTON HEAT.

■ Ken West and Vivien Lees have announced three additional performances by BILLY BRAGG amidst his Big Day Out festival commitments between January 19 and February 4. Bragg will play Sydney's Enmore Theatre on January 23 and Melbourne's Athenaeum Theatre on the 29th and 30th.

■ Jerry Cantrell (guitar/vocals) and Sean Kinney (drums) from ALICE IN CHAINS will visit Australia for a promotional tour on January 29th. Cantrell and Kinney will be guests at events in Sydney and Melbourne to launch their video, The Nona Tapes.

■ With NEIL DIAMOND selling out around the country in a phenomenal 27 minutes there is a possibility that more shows will be added in Sydney and Melbourne. Sony is claiming that "with this sell-out tour, Diamond will be playing to more people in Australia than The Rolling Stones".

■ Rumours persist that BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN may well bring his acoustic tour to Australia after his upcoming European dates.

■ The latest edition of the Australasian Music Industry DIRECTORY is now out. The definitive listing source for the Australian industry can be obtained for $US50 from Immedia! in Sydney.

■ SOPHIE B. HAWKINS will return to Australia to perform at the Australian Grand Prix in Melbourne in March. She will also do two shows in Sydney at the Harbourside Brasserie on March 14-15.

■ Well known Sydney-based journalist WANDA JAMROZIK, 35, died January 16. Jamrozik worked for the Sydney Morning Herald from 1987 to 1994, and later on The Australian.

■ As predicted some months ago Polydor Records has announced the appointment of SUE DeBENEDETTA as the new director of marketing overseeing both the international and domestic roster. Prior to joining Polydor, DeBenedette was senior director of international marketing at A&M Records in Los Angeles. She was a 12 year veteran of A&M, holding various positions before her segue into international marketing six years ago.

■ BMG are naturally chuffed that MERRIL BAINBRIDGE achieved the number 1 Australian Single on the End Of Year Top 100 ARIA Singles Chart for 1995 with her debut single, "Mouth." Both "Mouth" and the second single "Under The Water" reached platinum status as did the album The Garden prior to Christmas. February sees Bainbridge's album heading quickly towards double platinum. The fourth single, "Sleeping Dogs," will be released in February and supported by a major promotional tour of the country with a concert tour slated for later in the year.

■ Virgin's general manager MICHAEL MANOS has assumed the role of marketing director at EMI/Virgin. No replacement has been announced for his Virgin GM gig.

■ Internationally syndicated Australian radio program THE BIG BACKYARD has been confirmed as part of the lineup on The Network, a new radio satellite service that is broadcast to 30 radio stations throughout Europe to an estimated audience of half a million college students.

■ The major Australian retail chain BRASH'S will receive a $40 million capital injection following a deal struck January 14 between its Singaporean owner Ong Beng Sang, and the Japanese electrical group, Daiichi Corporation. Ong, the billionaire who rescued the troubled Brash's in August 1994, has agreed to sell a 49 percent stake in the local retailer to Daiichi as part of a deal that ultimately will inject $40 million into the retailer.

■ Australian artist TINA ARENA has been nominated as Best International Newcomer in the prestigious Brit Awards being presented at London's Earls' Court on February 19th. In the UK her debut single, "Chains," reached number 6 and spent six weeks in the Top 10, making her the first new Australian artist in the UK Top 10 in a decade. The album, Don't Ask, reached number 11. In Australia, Don't Ask is now a staggering eight times platinum with sales in excess of 560,000.
