Gotham Policeman Shoots Himself At Concert

An off-duty New York City police officer shot himself in the head during a Black 47 show March 16th. Officer Christopher Gargan, 22, was in the balcony of The Academy when he put his NYPD-issued 9mm pistol to his head and fired. He died later that night at a hospital. The single bullet also injured two women who were standing behind him. Sharon Wormworth, wife of the band's road manager, and June Anderson, wife of band member Larry Kirwan, were both struck by the single bullet. Wormworth was hit in the hand and Anderson in the thigh and stomach. Both were released from the hospital a few days later. Police investigators said the ammunition clip was not in Gargan's gun and he probably didn't know one round was still in the chamber. A police department spokesman said alcohol may have played a part in the shooting. An anonymous police source said Gargan was 'very drunk" at the Irish-American band's pre-St. Patrick's Day show. Most of the audience was apparently unaware of the incident and the band elected to proceed with its encore in order to avoid a panic. It wasn't until after the show that Kirwan found out his wife had been shot.

An Electric Evening For Onyx

Two members of the rap group Onyx have been sued by a 17year-old Arizona girl who claims they forced her and another teen to simulate oral sex on stage during a concert. The show took place January 22nd at the Electric Ballroom in Tempe. The suit was filed March 15th in Maricopa County Superior Court and names Fred "Fredro" Scruggs Jr. and Kirk Jones, aka Sticky Fingaz. The two have denied any wrongdoing. The girl said she was in the front row when she was pulled on stage and her head was forced into the crotches of the two group members. She claimed she was then thrown back into the crowd, doused with water by fans, then tossed back onto the stage. As she was crawling away, she said the same thing was happening to a friend. "I'm not looking for money," the 17-year-old said. "I just want them to get in trouble." The other girl has not filed any charges. The Electric Ballroom has been charged with failing to provide adequate security and "failing to station any security personnel between the crowd and the stage, as is customary." Club owner Jim Torgeson said there were 25 security people working that night and none of them reported anything unusual. "People saw them [the two alleged victims] dancing on stage, having a good time," said Torgeson, adding that the girls did not complain about the way they were treated to anyone at the club. "We have a zero tolerance policy for sexual harassment," he said. "If someone even says something rude to a woman, they're out of here." Torgeson said he thinks the suit is a publicity stunt staged by the attorney, Richard Mahoney, a former Arizona secretary of state and U.S. Senate candidate. "He called a press conference in front of the club without notifying us. There has been a lot of sensationalism surrounding the suit," he said.

Motown Heads East

Twenty-four years after moving to Los Angeles, Motown is coming home to Detroit where the label once made superstars out of artists from the city's housing projects. The Motor City will serve as the company's Midwest A&R headquarters. "I realize now Detroit is very vital to the rebirth of Motown," label president Andre Harrell said. He said he wants to focus on an earthy, upbeat sound like that of Detroit native Tony Rich, whose latest single is at the top of urban and pop charts. Harrell said he wants to recapture the high-class image Motown had in its heyday under the direction of founder Berry Gordy. Songs recorded during that time are still bringing in much of the label's revenue. About 40 percent of Motown's $105 million in earnings last year came from its catalog, which includes material from Motown legends such as Stevie Wonder, Marvin Gaye and Diana Ross & The Supremes. Gordy moved Motown to L.A. in 1972 and sold it to MCA and Boston Ventures in 1988. It was sold again to PolyGram in 1993. Since Harrell was appointed in October, many have said the company is ready for a comeback. Motown's headquarters are in the process of moving from L.A. to New York, where Harrell is based.

Intrepid Partners Oughta Know

Grammy Award-winning record producers Glen Ballard and David Foster have teamed with John McCaw Jr. and his Orca Bay Capital Corp. to form Intrepid Entertainment, a venture that will finance and produce motion pictures. McCaw made his money in cellular phone services and currently owns Vancouver's NBA and NHL franchises as well as the brand new General Motors Place arena. Foster, who serves as VP of Atlantic Records, said all of Intrepid's film projects will be heavily music driven and accompanied by soundtracks. Ballard, who recently won three Grammies for his work on Alanis Morissette's Jagged Little Pill album, will begin work this summer producing

🔺 Insider News Briefs

Intrepid's first motion picture project, "Clubland," based on a screenplay he wrote. Ballard received many accolades following the Grammys and his home state of Mississippi had already decided to honor its native son for his Grammy wins when a slight hitch developed. It seems state representatives hadn't actually listened to the lyrics of "You Oughta Know" and once they did, a quick vote was held to rescind the honor. "It clearly mirrors why society is how it is today," Democratic Rep. Jim Evans, a minister, said of the song. Ballard helped compose the music but not the words to Morissette's album. Rep. Andrew Ketchings, a Republican from Ballard's home town of Natchez, said he introduced the resolution without knowing much about the song.

🔺 HotStar Of The Week

Twenty-one-year-old Jewel Kilcher's sultry-sweet voice and insightful songwriting evolved on the 800-acre Alaskan homestead where she was raised with no running water and no indoor plumbing. Now, she's living in the center of the music business with a debut record on Atlantic, Pieces of You. Jewel's life on the homestead was primitive, but because her parents were singer/songwriters, music was always in the air. Jewel began singing with her parents in hotel bars when she was only six. Later, when her parents divorced, she toured with her dad, eventually getting to solo and sing leads.

After high school at the Interlochen Fine Arts Academy in Michigan, Jewel moved to San Diego, where her mother was living. There, she attempted to discover what she was going to do with the rest of her life. "[When] I moved to San Diego, I was barely paying rent and I was scraping food off of people's plates where I worked as a waitress," Jewel told POLLSTAR. "It was a very frustrating time because I was very aware that my life wasn't infused with any passion. I was basically passing time, just trying to survive [but] I knew I was much more than a survivor. I knew that I had a lot of creativity."

Jewel finally got fired from her last serving job and ended up living in her van. "It was sort of out of that necessity that I said, 'Okay, I'm going to die or I'm going to do something that I like.'" That's when she decided to play guitar and write songs. It was hard for Jewel to find a paying gig at first but once she landed a regular spot at a coffee house, things turned around. As her coffee house audiences began to grow, record execs started making the trip to San Diego. "I got a really good local following going and there was a lot of buzz on it. And pretty soon, Virgin Records came down, then Epic, and then Atlantic and RCA." Jewel said it was really weird going from living in her van on five bucks a day to naively meeting with record company execs who were pitching deals.

Jewel ultimately signed with Atlantic because she felt the company best suited her dreams. "When I was living in my car, I prayed every night that I'd get to live my dream, and that by me living my dream, people would remember theirs. [Then] I got real scared. I didn't really want to go into the business. Coming from such simplicity and going into what you hear to be is all the cliches of the business [frightened me]. So I just prayed that I'd meet people that would really see what I was about and [know] my intent and my heart and want to protect and preserve that and put that out to the public. Atlantic's where I met people that got what I was about, believed in music and the spirit and the soul of it."

Also helping Jewel achieve her dreams are her co-managers, her mom, Nedra Carroll, and Inga Vainshtein, who have unquestionably supported her dream. "She really helps you grow," Jewel said of her mother. "In this business, it is easier to grow creatively faster than you grow emotionally and [it's important] to stay grounded." Jewel also carries around rocks, feathers, a box of soil from Alaska and pictures of the van she called home to remind her of her roots. "Anything that reminds me of beauty, I travel with in my hotel rooms — candles and that kind of thing. But, [staying grounded] is a mental discipline. You really have to stay very focused and dedicated to what you're doing and always stay joyful and thankful. Otherwise it's very easy to become over exhausted and begin taking things for granted."

One thing Jewel didn't take for granted was the opportunity to play Dorothy in a production of Wizard of Oz at Lincoln Center in New York City, sharing the stage with Jackson Browne, Roge: Daltrey and Natalie Cole. "It's fun to use more parts of myself because singing and writing is one part of me, but my other parts atrophy as I'm on the road." Playing Dorothy was a very surreal experience for Jewel. "All of a sudden I was in front of 5,000 people going, 'There's no place like home,'" she said laughing. "I kept going, 'I don't know if I can do this.' And Jackson Browne kept saying, 'Shut up Jewel. You are Dorothy. It's not like it's that much of a stretch.'"

Jewel said recording parts of her debut record at Neil Young's ranch was another surreal experience. "Sitting in the studio where Harvest Moon was recorded and playing Hank Williams Sr.'s guitar, that really blew me away. It's funny, the other things, like opening for Bob Dylan, you think it's going to be a really big deal and you get there and it feels kind of normal. Not in a bad way, but in a really good way."

Jewel has taken all her road experience and used it to developed into the kind of singer that can hold the attention of 20,000 alterna-kids in between Everclear and The Ramones. How does she do it with music that is so folksy with such a strong coffeehouse flavor? "I think it's from my background, the way I was raised with my father doing bars. He just had an acoustic guitar and I sang harmony and he really believed you should go off the audience. You should see what mood they're in and then do whatever song you think they need to hear. So I became real audience sensitive. And the years I played at the coffee shop [helped me] learn how to craft a set around what the audience needs. It's really learning to adapt yourself to a situation and how to be a showman and how to tell stories or do whatever the heck it takes to get people listening. I got to do years and years of that, so by the time I started doing my own tours, I had enough experience of not being intimidated or scared, but really going on and just taking control and working with an audience."

Jewel truly believes her extensive touring and dedication to being a live performer has been essential to building her career to the level it is today. "I'm not an obvious radio hit, much less an obvious alternative MTV thing. My music is really honest and it touches people's heart and that's all I care about. I don't have any big delusions of fame or fortune. I just want to eat everyday doing what I love. And as long as I eat everyday — and sing — I'm okay. And I know that hard wood grows slowly."

Jewel spent early '96 on the road, co-headlining packed houses with Edwin McCain (booked by Rob Light at CAA) and is now in Hawaii writing songs.  $\bigstar$ share the co-president title with Kyle Lehning, who had been president of the label. Mansfield spent 17 years at CBS Records and was most recently co-owner of a Music City marketing firm..... Garth Brooks said he suffered a case of writers block last year and blamed it partly on the legal dispute that tore apart his management team of Bob Doyle and Pam Lewis. Brooks told the Los Angeles Times he was forced to form his own GB Management firm when Doyle and Lewis split. "My problem is that with anybody I go to now, I'm never going to go to bed at night convinced that they're not here because the money's good. That wasn't the case before. Bob Doyle mortgaged his house [when we started together]."..... President Clinton invited a few industry big-wigs to dinner March 8th in Malibu. Among those the prez hoped would become FOB's (friends of Bill) were David Geffen, Edgar Bronfman Jr., Ted Field, Skip Brittenham and Miramax films co-founder and former concert promoter Harvey Weinstein..... Rising country music star Terri Clark has filed for divorce from Ted Stevenson, her husband of six years.

Bluesman James Cotton entertained an audience of Mickey's top execs last month at the new Disney Institute Performance Center at Walt Disney World in Florida. Cotton, the venue's inaugural performer, premiered his multi-media performance art piece, "Conversations In Blue: The Life And Times Of An American Bluesman." ### Death Row's Rap On Tucker

Outspoken rap critic C. Delores Tucker's battle with Death Row Records is far from over. Last year, the record label filed a civil suit against Tucker charging contractual interference, extortion and unfair business practices. According to a front page story in the March 20th edition of the Los Angeles Times, Tucker is not about to back down even though Death Row has seriously challenged her credibility. Death Row reportedly retained a detective firm to investigate her background. The information uncovered by the private investigators calls into question her education, implies she was a slumlord, and claims she was fired as commonwealth secretary of Pennsylvania because she used the office for personal gain. Tucker denied each allegation and offered explanations for each accusation. She gave extensive depositions in February for the lawsuit and more depositions were scheduled for this week. Still, she said she would not let Death Row's "smear campaign" stop her from railing against gangsta rap. In January, Tucker filed a complaint with the U.S. Justice Department and the FBI regarding the sale of explicit rap to minors. She called for a boycott of Tower Records, saying the chain advertises the sale of such music in major newspapers. The boycott has been endorsed by the Congressional Black Caucus, NOW, the PMRC, and the National and Progressive Baptist Conventions. Tucker is "a hoax," Death Row Records chief Suge Knight told the Times. "She pretends to care about the black community, but if you look into her history, you find she was a slumlord. She pretends to want to help young black males, but she's trying to destroy a company owned and run by them. She pretends to be a doctor," Knight said. "But hey, she's about as much of a doctor as Dr. Dre is."

🖌 Insider News Briefs

Legal Griefs

With less than four months left on his parole, Rappin' 4 Tay had been preparing to celebrate the release of his second EMI album, Off Parole, which hit the streets March 19th. Instead, the rapper was behind bars at San Quentin State Prison because of a parole violation and for allegedly inciting a riot at the Santa Rita holding facility. At press time, he remained in the California prison awaiting a formal appeal..... Former Milli Vanilli member Rob Pilatus pleaded innocent March 19th to eight counts alleging he attacked and threatened two people in separate incidents. Pilatus is accused of trying to break into a car in North Hollywood in February and then attacking the owner when he was confronted. In that case, he is charged with one count each of battery, auto tampering, attempted trespassing, prowling and threatening a crime victim. He is also charged with assaulting a man with the base of a lamp in December and then threatening the man during a telephone call the following day. Additionally, ..... (Continued Page 8)

Exclusive North American Tour This Summer

One of the leading music groups to emerge from England was THE ZOMBIES with such chart topping hits in America as "She's Not There", "Time Of The Season" and "Tell Her No".

During the late 60's the leader, ROD ARGENT, disbanded THE ZOMBIES to form ARGENT with RUSS BALLARD, JIM RODFORD and ROBERT HENRIT. Their Mega-Hit "Hold Your Head Up" became an anthem of the American music scene in the early 70's as did some of their other major hits including "God Gave Rock & Roll To You".

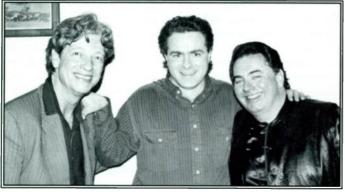

ARGENT will be touring the U.S. and Canada for a limited run of approximately 12 concerts this June/July

Insider News Briefs 📥

Pilatus has been charged with violating probation that stemmed from an October '95 plea of no contest to one count of auto tampering. Los Angeles Deputy City Attorney Eugene Hall said Pilatus' problems stem from drug abuse. He also said the infamous lip-synching star is enrolled in a treatment program which could lead to a settlement of the case upon successful completion. Pilatus was released on his own recognizance after the Superior Court hearing. Trial is scheduled for April 23rd..... Snoop Doggy Dogg and McKinley Lee won't be re-tried on voluntary manslaughter charges in the shooting death of a gang member. A judge granted the prosecution's request to dismiss the charges March 18th. The rapper and his bodyguard were acquitted February 20th of the murder of Philip Woldemariam. The next day, the jury acquitted Snoop on a charge of accessory after the fact, but deadlocked on a voluntary manslaughter charge. Woldemariam's family is seeking $25 million in a wrongful death suit against Snoop and his label, Interscope Records.

A Grip On The Blues

Fighting Over The Jackson Family Honors

A judge dismissed Michael and Janet Jackson and their siblings as defendants in a breach of contract lawsuit blaming them for the failed 1994 "Jackson Family Honors" TV special. Now, the show's production company, Smith-Hemion Productions, can only make its case against Jackson Communications Inc., rather than individual members of the family. Smith-Hemion claims it was never paid for work done on the show and that it lost money because MJ failed to perform as promised. Although the King of Pop did not perform solo, he did sing with family members. "Michael was the target of this whole lawsuit ... and the target is no longer there," Jackson family attorney R. Brian Oxman said. MJ still will have to give a deposition in the case, the judge ruled. If Smith-Hemion shows Jackson Communications was at fault, it could still try to collect from individual family members by proving separately that they should be held liable for the company's actions. The trial is set to begin June 18th.

Grammys To Be A Big Apple Arena Show

Madison Square Garden will be the site of the 1997 Grammy Awards because NARAS wants a larger venue so the general public can join industry big-wigs at the ceremony. Since 1979, the Grammy Awards show has been held at either the 5,874-seat Radio City Music Hall on the East Coast or the 6,300-seat Shrine Auditorium on the West Coast. The show has been in L.A. for the past two years and a return to NYC is a big victory for Mayor Rudolph Giuliani, who fought for the show to be held in Gotham. There's no official word on a West Coast venue when the Grammys return to L.A., but the likely site would be the Great Western Forum. The 1993 show was originally scheduled for that arena but after MTV did a disastrous awards show at UCLA's Pauley Pavilion, industry pressure forced NARAS to revert back to the smaller theatre concept.

Nipped In The Bud

A man who claimed to be related to Whitney Houston is facing legal action. Houston has filed a lawsuit against Wellington Stuart, who the singer claims has been passing himself off as Wellington Houston, son of her late uncle, Henry Houston. According to the suit, Stuart used his fictitious relationship with the family to ingratiate himself with an elderly physician from whom he allegedly stole $100,000 through credit cards and forged checks. Stuart used the doctor's apartment as his private office from June to December and used an answering machine indicating the number belonged to Nippy Inc., Houston's management company, the suit said. After seeking V.I.P. status at New York's Motown Cafe and giving officials his address, Stuart was secretly videotaped by Houston's security personnel. Even though legal action was threatened, Stuart "unabashedly continued to exploit his supposed relationship" to Houston, the lawsuit said. It also said he showed up at a recording studio seeking to book time on behalf of Whitney Houston Management but fled when confronted with a telephone call from Nippy Inc. This is the third time in two years the singer has sought court protection from men who claimed to be relatives.

Obituaries

Ted V. Feazell, 48, died of heart failure March 17th in Nashville. Feazell was a tour director and management rep for artists such as Brooks & Dunn, Kathy Mattea and Sylvia. He retired from the management firm of Titley & Associates in 1994 due to declining health..... Joseph Lee Pope, 63, died March 16th at a hospital in Decatur, Ga. Pope was a central voice of The Tams, which had a top 10 hit in 1964 with "What Kind of Fool (Do You Think I Am)." The group continued to tour and had a show scheduled in Myrtle Beach the day Pope died.

Between The Dates

• Never mind the bullocks, the SEX PISTOLS are coming this summer, touring the world for fun, anarchy and profit. "We have found a common cause, and it's your money," lead singer Johnny Rotten, aka John Lydon, said last week during a London press conference held to announce the tour. According to Rotten, there will be no new material and the group doesn't plan on rehearsing prior to the tour's June 21st launch at the Messila Festival in Finland. "You know these songs as well as we do. I bet you play them better as well," said Rotten. He added: "To be quite frank, it's highly likely that we will beat the crap out of each other in the first three seconds." The Sex Pistols were only together for two years in the late 70's but virtually laid the groundwork for the punk music revolution that was soon to follow. Their single, "God Save The Queen," which was released the same week as the Queen's Jubilee celebration, was quickly banned by the BBC. This time around, Rotten offered Princess Di financial support for her upcoming royal divorce. Rotten faxed Di the message, "If the queen doesn't provide the kind of financial settlement you're hoping for, the band is prepared to do a benefit concert." Said Rotten, "She needs the money. So do we." We're sure the Queen was relieved that the Princess declined the offer. The reformed band boasts all original members. Along with Rotten, the reformed band includes original members Steve Jones, Paul Cook and Glen Matlock. It was Matlock who was replaced by Sid Vicious in 1976. Vicious later died of a heroin overdose in 1979. Said Rotten, "Sid was nothing more than a coat hanger to fill an empty space on the stage ... These are the people who wrote the songs, and now we'd like to be paid for them." The Sex Pistols are expected to hit the U.S. in July.

MICHAEL JACKSON and a Saudi prince announced that they are forming a venture called Kingdom Entertainment to develop a variety of entertainment activities. "Kingdom Entertainment," formed by Jackson and Prince Alwalled Bin Talal Bin Abdulaziz Al Saud, will include ventures in animation, theme parks, theme restaurants and other projects. The first project for the newly formed company will be Jackson's upcoming "HIStory" WORLD TOUR. When the tour will take place, and what countries will be included in the routing, has yet to be decided. One has to wonder if the Prince got as good a deal as Chuck Sullivan did on The Jackson's tour.

The financially troubled STATE THEATER in Portland, Maine announced that BOB DYLAN will do two benefit shows at, and for, the venue. State Of The Arts announced last week that it was reopening the theater, after the for-profit group, Perfect Pitch, filed for bankruptcy protection January 31st. Dylan has performed at the theater three times in the past, and according to theater officials, it was the performer's past relationship with the venue that prompted him to agree to the benefit shows.

MARIAH CAREY is reportedly pondering on whether to tour Europe or the U.S. this year. The usually concert-shy singer received great encouragement from her fans during a series of recent shows in Japan including one date at the Tokyo Dome in front of a reported 48,000 fans. Ms. Carey was accompanied by her husband, Thomas Mottola who used the time in Japan to meet with top Sony execs.

The H.O.R.D.E TOUR will start July 6 in Minneapolis. Blues Traveler will headline the summer festival package, and will be joined by Lenny Kravitz and Rusted Root for the entire tour which will run through Labor Day. The tour will be split into three legs, with Natalie Merchant appearing on the first leg, the Dave Matthews Band on the second, an as yet undetermined act for the third.

The BILL GRAHAM CIVIC AUDITORIUM in San Francisco reopened last week after a two year, $25.5 million seismic retrofit. The 1914 Beaux Arts structure was upgraded as part of a $332 million earthquake safety bond measure that passed in 1990. On top of strengthened walls and foundation, the 7,000-capacity auditorium was also given a make over with new interior paint, new lights and the addition of accessable seating. The remodeled venue is scheduled to host its first concert April 12 with Oasis.

U.K. News Report

The SEX PISTOLS guashed all the rumour and speculation • surrounding their reunion with a high profile press conference at their old haunt, the 100 Club in London. Twenty years ago they brought anarchy to the legendary rock venue on Oxford Street, and as middle-aged punks, Johnny Rotten, Steve Jones, Paul Cook and Glen Matlock returned to announce that they are taking their bondage trousers out of mothballs and reforming for a world tour. The man behind The Great Rock and Roll Swindle Part II is JOHN GIDDINGS at Solo-ITG, who is tour producer for the European leg of the tour, with ICM's BILL ELSON booking US dates. Virgin Records obviously think the Pistols still sound great, as a live album will be recorded at one of the first few gigs on the tour for release in July. So far, only the European tour has gone on sale and dates in the rest of the world have still to be confirmed. The Pistols are planning their first-ever tour of Australia, New Zealand and Japan in October and November. The tour kicks off June 21 at the Messila Festival in Finland and will play 19 dates around Europe. The tour is a combination of headline festival billing (at Roskilde, Messila and Belga Beach) and solo shows. In the UK and Ireland the Mean Fiddler Organisation is promoting three dates at Finsbury Park in London on June 23, in Belfast and Dublin on July 17-18, while DF Concerts is promoting the Glasgow SECC date on July 16. In Europe, the promoters are: EMA Telstar in Scandinavia; German Tours in Germany; Gay & Co. in Spain; Canal Productions in France: 10:15 Productions in the Czech Republic; Ropot in Slovenia; and Barley Arts in Italy.

The second most talked about band this week is right at the opposite end of the fame ladder. Scottish band BIS hit the headlines when they were the first unsigned band to play prime-time chart show Top of The Pops, and this week they support Garbage on three dates in Glasgow, Manchester and London. The band has built up a strong live following through extensive gigging over the past year and recently supported Rocket From The Crypt on their UK tour. Manager John Williamson has still not appointed an agent or a record company.

In what must be a landmark in the history of co-promotion, FOUR TOP PROMOTERS in the British isles are working together to put on a new event this summer. DF Concerts (Scotland) and MCD (Ireland) have joined with SJM and Metropolis (North and South of England) to promote a weekend festival on August 17 and 18. Stuart Clumpas at DFC says "We think there is a gap for something different - Glastonbury stands on its own and Reading has its own identity. We plan to move what we are doing at the event in the south to the site in the north over that weekend - like Tourhout-Werchter in Belgium." The festival sites are located in Chelmsford in the south - at Hylands Park, formerly the home of the Chelmsford Spectacular - and in Warrington in the north. The line-up has yet to be confirmed, but Clumpas is hopeful that the shows will go on sale within the next couple of weeks. Meanwhile, T in the Park (July 13-14) goes on sale this week.

■ WEMBLEY PLC announced an increase in profits on the company's annual turnover. The group operating profit was £19.7 million (up from £11.7 million in 1994) and profits from the Wembley venue complex were up to £9.2 million. This improved performance was due to last year's refinancing exercise, but the continued success of the stadium, arena and conference centre is significant. Wembley Arena is now in the market for a name sponsor and is continuing with a programme of cosmetic improvements to the venue, to raise its profile. These include landscaping the forecourt, and lighting the building, upgrading the dressing rooms and installing a new cooling system. Upcoming shows at the arena include the Smashing Pumpkins, Lou Reed, kd lang, the Red Hot Chili Peppers, Barry Manilow and six nights of Neil Diamond. At Wembley Stadium six shows are on sale (two Tina Turner dates, two Eagles dates, Bryan Adams and the Three Tenors) with more in the pipeline.

MCP extended its range of family entertainment when it promoted six shows of the ROYAL HORSE GALA at the Birmingham NEC and Wembley Arena. Although promoting Gladiators, WWF and the Power Rangers gives MCP a good track record in family entertainment, the equestrian market was a new departure. But promoter Stuart Galbraith told POLLSTAR that they employed the top horse event experts and he was very happy with the results. "Over two cities we played to 30,000 people. We are looking at bringing the show back for regular visits, on an intermittent basis - every two years, for example."

■ EUROPEAN FESTIVAL UPDATE: Sweden's Hultsfred Festival (13-15 June) has been on sale since mid February and has sold twice as many tickets in the first month compared to last year. Organiser Gunnar Lagerman is confident the festival will sell out by mid-May. Now in its 11th year, Sweden's most popular alternative event, has moved to the beginning of the outdoor season, increased its capacity by 2,000 to 27,000 and for the first time has no curfew. With its strongest bill ever, Hultsfred headliners this year are Bjork, Blur, Iggy Pop, Pulp, and The Prodigy, plus Bad Religion, Afghan Whigs, Frank Black, Skunk Anansie, The Bluetones, Dog Eat Dog, Edwyn Collins, Northern Uproar, Barkmarket, Pennywise, Walkabouts, Lush, Fear Factory, The Mike Flowers Pops, and Joykiller. Upcoming Scandinavian acts will also be featured including Popsicle and 59 Times The Pain.

Australian News Report

Frontier Touring have announced May dates for the RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS. It'll be the band's first visit to this country since 1992 and to coincide with the tour Warner Music will release a limited edition tour pack featuring a bonus disc called 'One Hot Hour' which is a 60 minute interview Triple J's Richard Kingsmill did with the band last year.

Michael Coppel has announced late April/early May dates for ALANIS MORISSETTE. Her album went to number 1 on the national album chart and is heading towards double platinum status in this country. The first single from the album, "You Oughta Know," is platinum and hit number four on the national ARIA chart. The second single, "Hand In My Pocket," is Top 20, with the third single, "Ironic," released on March 18.

Mushroom Records chairman MICHAEL GUDINSKI has taken on responsibility for the running of Mushroom UK following what is described as a 'showdown' with former director/shareholder GARY ASHLEY. The word is that Ashley had mustered support within Mushroom shareholder RUPERT MURDOCH's company to be reinstated in charge of Mushroom UK after tendering his resignation late last year. Apparently negotiations are continuing to buy back Ashley's share holding in Mushroom. Gudinski now intends spending one week each month in London. Aside from that, Ash manager and Infectious Records founder KORDA MARSHALL has been taken on to look after the dayto-day running of Mushroom UK.

The AUSTRALIAN MUSIC MANAGERS FORUM are holding their first general meeting for this year in Sydney on March 26. The meeting features a panel of promoters as guest speakers including Michael Chugg (Frontier Touring Co), Michael Coppel (Michael Coppel Presents), Ken West (The Big Day Out) and Paul Campbell-Rider (Livid Festival).

Well known Australian music publisher PETER JANSSON informs me that his redundancy case with Larrikin/Festival was recently resolved and that his bags are packed and the one-way ticket to California has arrived. After being managing director of two companies (Rosella Music and Janssongs), working for nearly every other major publisher in Australia and a couple of years internationally with EMI, he says that the lure of offers being touted from the States is now too strong to resist.

■ LEONIE MESSER has taken over from Wendy Commins as National Publicity and Promotions Manager at Roadshow Music. Messer returned to Australia last September after three and a half years of travelling. During that time she worked at EMI Records (UK) in the marketing division and at the Positive label as marketing assistant. Later she was label co-ordinator for a small management company, Heavyweight Management. She's also had a six month stint at Chrysalis Music Publishing.

After many, many years as a scribe at the Sydney newspaper the Telegraph-Mirror KATHY McCABE has been appointed to the A&R position at EMI/Virgin. At this stage it's understood that she will work out of the Virgin office. McCabe starts work on April 15. Whilst it's becoming increasingly common overseas, on top of everything else it's great to see a woman working in A&R in this country, that gig being traditionally reserved for the blokes.

After caretaking the role for some months WENDY ALDRIDGE has been officially appointed as General Manager at Virgin Records Australia.
