Hey Dol,
 You forgot to mention this rather large sports festival that's happening here! Atlanta for the 1996 Summer Olympics and Lakewood Amphitheatre, for the best music in the South. We sound checked by 4pm with time for some hoops and catering back-stage at the Hurricane Lounge. Talk about great soul food and southern hospitality! We even got the Elvis theme dressing room. This is where every great band plays - this summer, Hootie & the Blowfish, Dave Matthews Band, Gloria Estefan, Sting, Jimmy Buffett and The Allman Brothers Band have called Lakewood their Georgia home for the past 6 years. I can't believe how cool the kids were to us. Two gold medals! (I mean encores!) Lakewood rocks. Dallas on Thursday! Can't wait to play Starplex. I hear it's f---in' huge!

Love, Mick

Now You Really Have Reason To Get On The Net

The Concert Industry Consortium's new Internet web site for industry professionals located at <http://www.concertnet.com> opened for business August 19th. The site is the home of the complete electronic weekly edition of POLLSTAR and much more. An on-line Artists Contact Database, News Archive Search, and the exclusive Artist Tour History Database are all part of the project, as are special forums for industry discussion, equipment for sale, and road crew availabilities. During an initial "beta" test period, which runs through October 1st, the CIC is offering free signups to POLLSTAR subscribers and free access to everything except the ATH Database, for which there is a discounted $10 per report charge. The advantages of e-mail are overwhelming and you don't have to be a "propeller head" to use it. The ease and effectiveness of electronic communications is about to transform the way promoters and agents do business. Within less than a year, those without e-mail addresses will be far behind the curve. In order to access concertnet.com, users must already have a local Internet access account and then apply for an ID either electronically through the web site or by faxing in the form enclosed with this week's issue.

A Good Bet For Summer '97

Sarah McLachlan, her agent and her manager are developing the first all female touring festival, Lilith Fair. McLachlan's touring company, Never Get Off The Boat, manager Terry McBride's Nettwerk Management and agent Marty Diamond's Little Big Man Booking are planing to launch the festival in July 1997. McBride told POLLSTAR the concept is similar to a female version of the H.O.R.D.E. tour in that it will feature artists with a strong concert draw as well as developing acts; the tour will also be lifestyle sensitive, McBride said. A list of approximately 60 acts is being considered. McBride said they are looking to build a diverse lineup and not package McLachlan with acts that are in an identical vein. The acts McLachlan, McBride and Diamond are planning to invite range from the Tori Amos, Natalie Merchant, Joni Mitchell and Annie Lennox stature to acts like Ani DiFranco, the Cocteau Twins, Queen Latifah and Garbage. When asked about rock bands like L7 or Hole, McBride said, "A lot of those bands ... get invited to the

HotStar Of The Week ★

MANÁ

Although virtually unknown to most mainstream concert promoters, the Mexican rock group Maná plays in front of hundreds of thousands of fans each year. The band is credited with opening the door for other rockers in Latin America and in 1995, the media started calling Maná "the most successful Latin American pop/rock group ever." There is no doubt that '95 was a good year for Maná; that's the year the band became the first Latin rock group to reach sales of 500,000 in the United States. With numbers like that — and more than 287 concerts in 18 countries during the year — it's no wonder the New York Times dubbed the Maná, "The most important Latin rock group around."

Maná's members — Sergio Vallin (guitar), Juan Calleros (bass), Fher Olvera (lead vocals) and Alex Gonzales (drums and vocals) — formed the band in 1986 to create a sound that fused elements of rock, pop, reggae, Latin and Caribbean music. Gonzales told POLLSTAR the bandmates were aware that a great fusion sound would take time to develop and might be difficult to achieve. "Sometimes it works. Sometimes it doesn't," he said. "But our goal mainly was to become a very big band in Mexico."

Maná, however, never pictured the level of success it has attained. "We never imagined that we were gonna be so huge as we are now, playing in 23 different countries," Gonzales said. "That was like saying that we were gonna be playing on the moon."

The four band members are all residents of Mexico; Olvera, Calleros and Gonzales call Guadalajara home while Vallin comes from Aguascalientes. At the time the band was formed, rock 'n' roll in Mexico was basically underground, Gonzales said. "Nobody believed that a band could sell records, that a band could do a tour, that you can have all this stuff going like an industry, like it is in the United States.... The industry was leaning more towards those kind of shitty groups, to me personally, like Menudo and all those prefabricated marketing projects." Then there was the ballad singers like Julio Iglesias and Jose Jose. So the climate at Latin American radio was not very friendly. For example, "Two years ago in Puerto Rico there was no rock in Spanish on the radio stations. None at all!"

As word of Maná spread on the streets, the band's club gigs started drawing more and more people. It had to take the step up to discos but Maná still wasn't "huge" in Mexico, compared to the likes of Luis Miguel, Gonzales said.

To nurture the band's growth, Maná spent most of 1989-1991 touring all over Mexico. The band, which records for Warner Music International's WEA Latina label, had already released two records but it was their 1992 release that marked the biggest change. When ¿Donde Jugaran Los Ninos? (Where Will the Children Play?) debuted, the band's popularity massively increased. Gonzales said, "I don't know what happened. I think people weren't expecting us to do a better album than Falta Amor (1990).... And when we released the second single ... this thing just exploded all over Latin America." The band started getting calls to perform in other parts of Latin America like in Ecuador, Peru and Puerto Rico. And in the Mexican homeland, Maná had graduated to theatres and auditoriums. By 1993, the band could draw up to 10,000 people. Europe, the Caribbean and the United States began to catch on, demanding performances from this upcoming Mexican sensation.

For a band that could draw 10,000 people to its concerts, it was surprising that Maná's popularity was still fueled by word of mouth. Gonzales said, "It's a phenomenon because we started to get radio airplay because people were asking for it — not because there was a huge company behind us, pushing it.

"Eventually, when the company noticed that we were selling more than hundreds of thousands of records (¿Donde Jugaran Los Ninos? has sold more than 2 million copies worldwide), they said, 'Oh my God. We've got to support these guys because these guys are selling without promotion.'" WEA Latina formed the first ever division to promote Latin music to the Anglo market. Gonzales said when the AlterLatino department, as it's called, got behind Maná big time, everything was just chaos.

The band stayed on the road all of '93 and in 1994, it branched out to Europe, stopping at MIDEM in Cannes and the Montreux Jazz Festival in Switzerland. Also in '94, the band played in the United States for the first time. On that tour, Maná became the first Latin pop/rock band to sell out the Universal Amphitheatre for two consecutive nights. In 1995, the band did four consecutive sell outs at that Los Angeles facility.

When the band went to Puerto Rico for the first time, in 1995, it was literally like the Beatles' first arrival in the United States, Gonzales said. The Puerto Rican airport was mobbed and the band made history by selling out three consecutive shows at the 10,000-capacity Roberto Clemente Coliseum.

At the time of the concerts in Puerto Rico, merengue and salsa were still the dominate sounds on the radio. Today, one year later, there are more than 90 rock bands in Puerto Rico alone. And seven of the most important radio stations in San Juan have changed their format and they are now playing rock in Spanish.

Last month, Maná launched its biggest U.S. tour ever. The band has already performed to a sold-out crowd at Radio City Music Hall and will stop in major markets — at major facilities — all across the country. The tour, expected to last well into September, is being coordinated by WEA Latina and Maná manager Marcel Toffel in Mexico. ★

Scenes From The H.O.R.D.E. Festival

When POLLSTAR's Kym Kilgore said she needed a little pick-me-up at the H.O.R.D.E. Festival July 28th, this isn't exactly what she had in mind. Substituting for a great cup of cappuccino are Leftover Salmon's Vince Herman, BGP's Michael Bailey and Monty the MC.

Backstage at the Shoreline Amphitheatre in Mountain View, Calif., Monterey Peninsula Artists' Chip Hooper (C) denies he's the real star of the H.O.R.D.E. tour. "Yeah right," says Michael Bailey of Bill Graham Presents and A&M's Larry Weintraub, who made the journey up from Los Angeles.

Heading out into the crowd to check out the scene around H.O.R.D.E.'s entertaining sidestage are the mega-power duo of Ted Mankin from Cellar Door Southeast and Dan Weiner from Monterey Peninsula Artists. Regional favorite Leftover Salmon, soon-to-be-stars Super 8 and the always classic Rickie Lee Jones kicked butt on the side stage.

As you can see, Blues Traveler manager David Frey (R) has no problem giving up the $20 performance fee he owes the Dave Matthews Band to manager Coran Capshaw. The fest featured Lenny Kravitz and Rusted Root along with DMB and Blues Traveler on the main stage.

Money seemed to always be changing hands backstage at the H.O.R.D.E. Festival. Chip Hooper (C) tells David Frey (L) and BGP's Gregg Perloff to pay up on his commission — now!

BGP prexy Gregg Perloff is looking for more dates in 1997 (nothing greedy, just 40 to 50 cities) as he sucks up to manager and H.O.R.D.E. tour organizer David Frey with the traditional sign of promoter R.E.S.P.E.C.T. — the kiss of the ring.

Stage Diving In Court

The peril of stage diving was scheduled for nationwide attention when the Court TV cable network aired live coverage of New York vs. Gheida from Brooklyn last week. In the case, James Gheida, a bouncer at the now defunct L'Amour club in Bensonhurst, N.Y., is charged with manslaughter. He allegedly pushed 18-year-old Christopher Mitchell off the stage as the teen was attempting to stage dive during a 1994 Life of Agony concert at the club. Mitchell landed on his head and died two days later. Gheida claims he wasn't on stage during Mitchell's fall and that he has been misidentified.

Eagles Prove To Be Corel Draw

The Eagles landed another record breaking concert June 29th at Ontario's Corel Centre. The show turned out to be the facility's largest gross to date and highest attendance with more than 16,000 fans. Here, promoter Terry Bassett (L) and the venue's Roger Newton (R) give Eagle Don Felder a peaceful easy feeling with his very own official Ottawa Senators hockey jersey.

Pros On The Move

The members of Aerosmith have tapped Wendy Laister as their new manager. Laister worked with Aerosmith's former management company, Collins Management, since January 1995, handling much of the band's day-to-day needs for Tim Collins. Prior to that, she headed the Laister Dickson public relations firm, which included Aerosmith among its clients. Laister will be based in New York..... Wynonna and her manager, John Unger, have parted ways. Wynonna's management will continue to be handled by her staff at Wynonna, Inc. Larry Strickland, who manages Naomi Judd and Michael English, will serve as Wynonna's interim manager..... John Reilly recently shuttered John Reilly Public Relations and joined the team at Shore Fire Media, taking clients Maná and Mike Peters from the Alarm with him..... After eight years with 'A' Train Management, Melanie Jordin has left to start Jordin Entertainment, a management and public relations firm. 'A' Train clients Jim Chappell, Fareed Haque, Stevan Pasero and Christopher Bock go with her..... Since MCA's acquisition of BCL's entertainment assets in Canada, Lee/Livingston Concerts, a member of the BCL family for the past five years, has decided to remain independent. The Saint John, New Brunswick-based company has also recruited Jim Baker of CEG as its partner and U.S.-based talent buyer..... Bryan Perez has joined Madison Square Garden as manager of business development. Perez has worked as director of the Stanford Concert Network for the past three years while earning a JD from Stanford Law School and an MBA from the Stanford Business School. Corky Gainsford has assumed Perez' position at Stanford..... Steve Vining has been named president of Windham Hill/High Street Records, replacing Anne Robinson, who founded Windham Hill in 1976 and sold it to BMG earlier this year. Vining, who was previously VP/GM of BMG Classics U.S., has already relocated to the label's headquarters in Beverly Hills..... Cellar Door Artists agency has separated from Cellar Door Prod. and will now be known as State Of The Artists. Agency head Chris Tanner, who has been with Cellar Door for the last four years, brings many of the acts with him to S.O.A.

Getting Exposure In The Virgin Islands

Jodeci frontman K.C. dropped more than a few good lines at a recent benefit concert for children — he dropped his pants. Spectators were shocked when the vocalist reportedly exposed himself during the August 11th concert in St. Thomas. "He showed it twice," said 21-year-old concert-goer Tuere Shaeed. "I was shocked because this was supposed to be for kids." The concert was part of the "Celebrity Weekend in Paradise," an event to urge the youth of St. Thomas to stay in school and work hard. The concert's organizer, Sen. Adlah "Foncie" Donastorg, said he wouldn't invite the group back. "It was really absurd and out of place and in no way, shape or form would I ever describe them as being role models," he said. Police received no complaints, according to a spokesperson, but if they had, the singer could have faced an indecent exposure charge.

Country Music's Summit Conference

The Country Music Association's SRO '96 will bring together some of the industry's most noted professionals to share their views on the state of the industry during the annual entertainment expo scheduled for October 3-5 at the Nashville Convention Center. Among the participants are Ron Baird from CAA, Paul Lohr from Buddy Lee, managers Larry Fitzgerald and Barry Coburn, Greg Oswald from William Morris, label heads Joe Galante from RCA and Luke Lewis from Mercury, radio execs

United Kingdom

● It was the biggest concert in the country - a record breaking event and a spectacular show. A quarter million OASIS fans flocked to KNEBWORTH (August 10-11) to see what will surely become a landmark event in the rock and roll history books. The 250,000 tickets sold for the two shows co-promoted by MCP and SJM Concerts grossed a total of £5,625,000 and around 160,000 t-shirts were sold. The build-up and the weekend itself ran exceptionally smoothly, with all health and safety measures even tighter that they would normally have been since the tragic death at Loch Lomond the previous week. Noel Gallagher has subsequently hit out at tabloid press criticism that dubbed the shows "Knebworse". Stories that drugs were being sold openly on the site, and that an individual brandishing a handgun had threatened fans, were quashed by the police, who in fact praised the organisers for their "meticulous planning and huge team effort" and described the weekend as a "resounding success". It was a mammoth operation, from the £400,000 police bill to ensure security and transport arrangements went without a hitch, to the largest ever videowall ever built, the biggest-ever Turbosound system BRITANNIA ROW has ever set up, enough electricity to power a town the size of Milton Keynes and four miles of fencing - a production manager's dream - or nightmare! BritRow director MIKE LOWE said that the sound system was bigger than the one used for The Wall in Berlin in 1990. Not only did the sound have to contend with the requirements of 11 delay tower systems, but BritRow had to stay strictly within the tight dB limits (65dB off-site) which were set for the Knebworth site. Three days after Knebworth, Oasis were due to play to 70,000 people over two shows at the Parc Ui Chaoimh in Cork, Ireland. before preparing for a four-week tour of the US. It will be the eighth Oasis tour of the US and starts in Chicago on August 27. The band is due to record an MTV Unplugged programme this month, which is heavily rumoured to be taking place at the Roundhouse in Camden.

● Investigations into the accident at the LOCH LOMOND Oasis site are ongoing. It has been confirmed that the deceased, James Hunter, was an employee of the brewery supplying the concessions bar. Promoters REGULAR MUSIC declined to make any further comment on the incident or the concerts until the full investigation has been concluded, out of respect to the family of the dead man. Other promoters have expressed sympathy, and are waiting the outcome of the enquiry with interest. There is some concern that it could affect the health and safety requirements for the licensing authorities for future outdoor events.

● ROBBIE WILLIAMS' solo career doesn't get any easier, despite his first release getting to number 2 in the charts. His former manager, NIGEL MARTIN-SMITH, who steered Take That to the top, is now suing Williams, who quit the band last year only weeks before they were set to embark on their biggest run of UK shows. Martin-Smith's lawyers have served a writ claiming Williams owes him a sum in the region of £78,000, to cover royalties and an advance on the Greatest Hits album, released this year. The writ also claims that 20 percent of the singer's future royalties from any work Williams did until February of this year, until well into the next century are due to Martin-Smith. The key issue at stake is whether Williams should have served a six-month notice when he quit the band last August.

● MICHAEL EAVIS may be taking a rest from rock and roll this year but he is organising a charity classical event at the historic GLASTONBURY ABBEY. Eavis will be promoting the ROYAL PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA, Coldstream Guards trumpeters and a male voice choir to play at the abbey on August 24. Eavis plans to donate the profits of the concert to the town, partly as an ongoing campaign to keep local residents happy and in favour of having that "other" Glastonbury festival back on their doorstep in 1997. Eavis has confirmed that Glastonbury 97 will go ahead on June 27-29 next year.

● The BLUE NILE will be making a rare live appearance in the UK with a tour starting September 19. Booked by Paul Charles at Asgard, it's an 11-date theatre tour, the first by the band since 1990 and only their second full British tour ever. The tour includes three dates at the Royal Concert Hall in the band's home town of Glasgow.

● PRIMARY TALENT has added John Cale, Lewis Taylor and El Vez (who recently made his UK debut) to the roster. Mike Greek at FAIR

WARNING - WASTED TALENT has signed Dweeb, The Hybrids (recently signed to Heavenly) and Ballroom (a new signing for Mother Records).

Germany

● Munich gets a new venue this month when the KULTURHALLE ZENITH opens. A new state-of-the-art venue has been built within the existing structure of a historic industrial building in the north of the city. With a capacity of 5,500 standing and 3000 seated, the venue will be a multi-purpose cultural centre, with full production facilities including five dressing rooms, five production offices and a catering area. The man behind the concept of the Zenith (which is not part of the Zenith venue chain in France) is Wolfgang Noth, who used to book the Terminal venues at the old airport in Munich. The opening night bill features New Model Army, the Butthole Surfers and Mr Ed Jumps the Gun. Autumn dates confirmed include the Fugees, Soundgarden and The Prodigy.

Belgium

● PUKKELPOP FESTIVAL (August 23-24) is gearing up for its eleventh outing. With attendances of 40,000 last year and a very strong bill for this year's event, tickets are still available but it is expected to sell at least as well and increase its international profile via MTV coverage. Some 60 acts will perform on four stages over the weekend including Ash, Bush, Weezer, Offspring, Sonic Youth, Nick Cave, Soul Coughing, Supergrass, dEUS, Garbage, Rocket From The Crypt, Everclear, Sebadoh, Prong and Korn. Along with Lowlands festival in Holland and Reading in the UK, it is one of the key alternative festival events at the end of the summer.

● HUGH PHILLIMORE at Jazztronaut is working on the line-up for the month-long BELGIUM JAZZ FESTIVAL (October 14 - November 15). Phillimore is aiming to bring a more contemporary feel to the festival, which takes place at different venues around the country, but mostly in Antwerp and Brussels. He is waiting to confirm artists including Maceo Parker, Philip Glass, Raw Stylus, Incognito, Little Axe, Everything But The Girl, Gabrielle, Al Jarreau and Israeli star Noah. Phillimore says he also broadening the Jazztronaut field with bookings for rock and pop acts, a market which has traditionally been the preserve of Herman Schueremans and Make It Happen. Phillimore says he is keen to promote newer acts and club shows and is looking at bringing new venues into the club circuit in Belgium, such as the Fool Moon in Brussels and Monty's in Antwerp, both with a capacity of around 500.

Holland

● Dick Vos at WORLD EVENTS is putting together an event to promote French artists in Holland. It is a project he has been trying to set up for some time out of a long-standing interest in French music. He is working with the Buromusik Export, a cultural organisation, with a remit to promote French national talent abroad. The one-off event in Utrecht will take place November 15-17 and will feature new French acts iduring a three-day series of French-related cultural events. He is also working on a televised concert and show to celebrate the 50th anniversary of UNICEF in December.

Bosnia

● DODGY came and went. They may not have exactly conquered Bosnia, but the British band overcame several major problems — such as a lack of equipment, curfews and post-war restrictions — and succeeded in entertaining a few thousand music-starved Bosnians in Tuzla and Sarajevo. The band's manager, ANDREW WINTERS of Win Management described the experience as "an adventure", saying that when their Showtrans van full of equipment, failed to get through border control in Slovenia and Austria, they had to "beg, steal and borrow the gear" to do the show. "Dodgy have been touring for five years and are very good at improvising," Winters told POLLSTAR. He added that they were disappointed that the equipment never arrived as the intention had been to leave it in Bosnia to contribute to the re-emerging live music scene. A change in location, due to the fact that a political rally was making use of all the staging in the area, forced the band to play a smaller show than they had intended at the KUK CLUB and a curfew forced them to cut down the length of the show. However, the band's big top gig coincided with the lifting of the curfew and dance outfit SPIRAL TRIBE (who had loaned Dodgy the tent, as their own travelling big top couldn't get insurance to go to Bosnia) carried on after their performance, with an all-night rave. Dodgy's agent, Mike Greek, said he'd like to book more shows for the band in Bosnia in the future. "There is a real appetite for music there — MTV is there and the people want to see bands live. Other bands need to take time out of their schedule and underwrite the cost of going there. Everyone involved with Dodgy was very keen to make it work."

Spain

● La IGUANA INTERNATIONAL reports a busy winter season ahead, with around 20 shows in October alone. Promoter ROBERT GRIMA says he is packaging some acts for normal club shows, such as Lush and Dodgy, to give ticket-buyers a better deal and would like to do more packages in the future. Sell-outs could prove difficult in the current market in Spain, with so many choices for ticket buyers to make — value for money could after all, account for the success of the festival season in Spain. La Iguana starts the autumn season with the El Pop festival on September 7, which will be a 10,000 capacity one-day event.

AUSTRALIAN NEWS

● As we edge towards the peak Australian touring season, a large number of tours are being announced for the pre-Christmas season. MICHAEL COPPEL has announced an October tour by TRACY CHAPMAN which sees her playing at the State Theatre in Sydney October 11. Coppel also has STEELEYE SPAN in Australia at the beginning of October, starting with a show at Sydney's Town Hall on the 2nd.

● VIVIAN LEES and KEN WEST, obviously not satisfied with scoring the Oasis tour, have announced October dates for MINISTRY who will be returning after a successful showing at the 1995 Big Day Out. Support on all shows will be Insurge.

● FRONTIER TOURING have weighed in with the full schedule of WEEZER dates on October which will see them performing with a variety of Australian supports such as Pollyanna, Custard, the Fauves, and The Love Nuts.

● Promoter ADRIAN BOHM has announced that "Due to prior unbreakable touring commitments, CLANNAD have postponed their Australian tour of October." Bohm does have MARIANNE FAITHFUL coming for an October tour that's billed as "20th Century Blues: An Evening in the Weimar Republic with Paul Trueblood, featuring the songs of K. Weill and B. Brecht."

● BIG CITY PROMOTIONS has SWEET HONEY IN THE ROCK returning for what seems like an annual visit. They start August 23 at Sydney's State Theatre before travelling to other States.

● The JOE SAMPLE TRIO was in Australia in mid-August for its first ever tour here for promoter Michael Coppel.

● Shaping up as the biggest tour of the latter part of the year is actually a national jaunt by Australian artist JOHN FARNHAM who'll play five shows at the 11,000 seat Sydney Entertainment Centre October 15-20.

● MIDNIGHT OIL have announced their first Australian tour in what seems like years to promote their new Underwater album which is released on August 19. The band will tour throughout September, starting at the Manly Leagues Club on the 13th before heading to America and Europe in October.

● SILVERCHAIR and EVERCLEAR will tour Australia together in September and October. The tour will help Surfrider Foundation - a non-profit group dedicated to fighting ocean pollution and will be presented nationally by the Triple J radio network. Both bands have recorded songs for Surfrider's new benefit album, MOM, and whilst both bands have previously played 'one-off' benefit shows for Surfrider Foundation this is believed to be the first time anywhere in the world that the Foundation will be involved in an entire tour.

● Denis Handlin, chairman and CEO of SONY MUSIC AUSTRALIA announced August 10 that the company has entered a broad-ranging exclusive consultancy, license and distribution agreement with JOHN EVANS and his newly established entertainment company, RAJON ENTERTAINMENT Pty Limited. The new venture will focus on developing new or undeveloped markets in direct marketing/home shopping and TV hit compilation albums. Sony Music has also entered into a label agreement to develop selected new front line artists under the 'Chapter 2' label within Australia..... Meanwhile, industry sources inform me that Sony Music has shed at least 10 staff in recent weeks with almost all of the departures coming from the sales department.

● JOANNE LONERGAN has been appointed chief financial officer at Mushroom Records, following the departure of long-standing money man and co-managing director Simon Young. Lonergan comes to the company from Arthur Anderson, Mushroom's audit company, and also the company that keeps and eye on News Ltd's books.

ASIAN NEWS

● Bowing to public pressure, a subsidiary of the giant HYUNDAI conglomerate announced that it will pull out from co-sponsoring MICHAEL JACKSON's concerts in South Korea. A collective of about 50 civil, religious and consumer organizations has been waging a campaign to stop the October 11 and 13 Seoul concerts because of child molestation allegations against the singer. Diamond Ad Ltd. decided that the co-sponsorship was not worth the public anger that it has been provoking, and thus announced its withdrawal. TAEWON ARTS, which is bringing the King Of Pop to Seoul, has not decided whether to try to find other sponsors or go ahead on its own.

● BEACHPORT ENTERTAINMENT and CHINA INT'L TRUST & INVESTMENT announced a joint venture to produce live arena shows, sports events, concerts and TV productions in China. CITIC is one of China's largest financial institutions with interests in airlines and hotels, and Beachport is a multi-faceted entertainment concern. The first project under the joint venture will be a five-week run of Ice Capades' "CINDERELLA ON ICE" show, set to open September 26 in Beijing and to be televised throughout China. Beachport chairman SIDNEY SHLENKER announced that through an arrangement with Warner Bros., the Beachport/CITIC joint venture will also bring the Warner Family Entertainment on Ice shows, featuring skating Batman and Looney Tunes characters, to China before touring the Pacific Rim.

● RYUICHI SAKAMOTO, joined by cellist Jaques Morelebaum, violinist Everton Nelson and Erhu player Kenny Wen, took to the stage of the Hong Kong Cultural Centre's Concert Hall August 15.

● Sarah Brightman and Anthony Warlow will star in "THE MUSIC OF ANDREW LLOYD WEBBER" at the Cultural Centre's GRAND THEATRE September 3-8, featuring music from "Cats," "Evita," "Phantom of the Opera," "Sunset Boulevard" and "Starlight Express."

● GARBAGE has been confirmed for a concert in Hong Kong October 1, venue to be announced.

● In Taiwan, Warner Music Int'l will be holding press conferences to introduce new albums by CHENG HWA-CHAUN and KUO CHIA-HSIN on August 15 and August 18 respectively, while TAO GIN-IN will be on the local cable TVBS for a round of promotions on his new release.

● In Macau, DJ JOAD PEDRO and a couple of his friends formed "Music of the Fourth World" with the goal of boosting the live music scene in Macau. The group ran a music fair in October last year and is planning a second music fair and a large concert with acts from Portugal, China and Japan, to mark the International Music Day this October. Two of the previous concerts by Japanese group Ground Zero and jazzsters John Zorn and Masada were a huge success. The group is now collaborating with Hong Kong's alternative record company Sound Factory to line up more gigs. Pedro is also putting together a compilation CD of 17 Macau bands which should be out by the end of the year.

Dene Hallam and Tom Rivers, and Larry Vallon from MCA Concerts. That group will lead a "town meeting" to examine issues and challenges facing the music business today. Another session will look at the worldwide touring experiences of The Mavericks, John Berry and BR5-49 with representatives from the artist's labels and management team on hand. A discussion on the overall health of today's country music concert business will bring together top managers, talent buyers and key industry executives, including managers Narvel Blackstock and Gary Borman, promoters Bob Romeo, Alan Presley and Terry Jenkins, and POLLSTAR's Gary Smith.

The Tasmanian Devil Of Country Music

South Shore Music Circus GM Vince Longo can't thank Vince Gill enough for packing the house twice August 3rd. The singer gave the Cohasset, Mass., theatre its largest two-show gross in the venue's 48-year history.

CMA Award Nominations

Vince Gill has won more Country Music Association awards than any other artist in history and he may get to add a few more to his total this year. As final nominees for "The 30th Annual CMA Awards" were announced August 13th, Gill's name showed up in seven categories including entertainer of the year. Brooks & Dunn, Garth Brooks, Alan Jackson and George Strait were also nominated for that high honor. Other artists who received multiple nominations were Martina McBride and Shania Twain with three each, and Jeff Foxworthy, Patty Loveless, LeAnn Rimes and Bryan White with two apiece. Rimes, who at 13 is the youngest artist ever nominated, and White are first-time nominees along with Terri Clark and Wade Hayes. Those first-timers join Twain in competing for the Horizon Award. Last year's CMA sweetheart and quadruple award winner, Alison Krauss, and perennial contender Reba McEntire were shut out of this year's nominations. The winners will be elected by the CMA's 7,000 professional members. The awards, to be hosted by Gill, are set to take place at Nashville's Grand Ole Opry House October 2nd and will be broadcast live on CBS.

R. Kelly Cries Foul

R. Kelly said he didn't start the fight that led to his arrest on battery charges. Arrest warrants were issued for Kelly and five members of his entourage after a fight in a Lafayette, La., health club July 28th. The R&B singer and the other suspects gave themselves up August 9th. Kelly was released on $11,500 bond and the other men — apparently his bodyguards — were photographed by police. They are expected to be booked following witness identification. Kelly said he and his friends were just looking for a game of basketball when they were threatened and attacked at the health club. The brawl led to the sudden cancellation of Kelly's concert at the Cajundome that night. Following his arrest and release, Kelly greeted fans and apologized for the cancelled show. Kelly said he'd like to give his Lafayette fans a free concert, but thought he wouldn't be welcome at the Cajundome. The arena's director, Gregory Davis, said Kelly can play there anytime; he just has to put down a nice "phat" deposit first.

Legal Grievs

Ex-Smashing Pumpkins drummer Jimmy Chamberlin took a break from drug rehab last week to plead innocent to drug charges. Chamberlin was arrested on a misdemeanor possession charge July 12th after a night of allegedly shooting heroin with the Pumpkins' touring keyboard player, Jonathan Melvoin. The bandmates passed out in their Manhattan hotel room and when Chamberlin awoke, Melvoin was dead. Chamberlin was kicked out of the band a few days later.... Atlantic, Warner Bros. and Time Warner Inc., were named in a $100 million suit filed by the man suing Hootie & the Blowfish and its manager and lawyer, claiming he had an exclusive contract to manage the band. Henry Neuman of New York filed the new suit August 12th in the New York Supreme Court. "Our contention is that Atlantic Records induced the band at least to breach their contract with Henry and did so intentionally," said Neuman's attorney, Robert Sunshine.... Tammy Wynette is suing two tabloids saying articles about her health have damaged her career. The lawsuit says the National Enquirer and Star paid several thousand dollars for the singer's private medical records from the Pittsburgh University Medical Center, where she was hospitalized in 1994 for an abdominal disorder. Wynette's attorney contends a hospital employee was bribed or stole the documents and was paid. The employee has since been fired. The lawsuit says the Enquirer wrote that Wynette was "battling for her life" and "needs a [liver] transplant operation to survive." And Blackburn said the Star printed details from the singer's medical records. Wynette is suing for libel and invasion of privacy. She said she lost a number of bookings because promoters were not confident of her health.... Rick James is due to be released from California's Folsom State Prison August 21st after serving three years behind bars. James claims to have written numerous songs while in the pokey and plans to record and tour as soon as he can.

The Garden Of Diamonds

Portland's Rose Garden arena had celebration tools on hand before Neil Diamond took the stage for a double whammy July 29-30. The two concerts set a record for all-time highest gross at the Rose Garden, topping the record set earlier that week by country music king Garth Brooks. Living it up backstage with Diamond is the venue's Jim McCue. Meanwhile, promoter Jeff Apregan (not pictured) is off counting the money elsewhere in the building.

Deals, Deals, Deals

Alliance Entertainment announced August 15th that it will acquire Al Teller's recently formed Red Ant Entertainment. Teller, the former top exec at MCA Music Entertainment Group, and Wasserstein Perella just announced their $100 million Red Ant venture last month. Teller now becomes co-chairman, president and CEO of Alliance. Red Ant, which plans to focus on the development of an independent record label, has signed several acts and is in negotiations with a number of others. "We intend to accelerate the growth of Alliance's content business through Red Ant, while building an international distribution system that complements Alliance's existing operation, much like we did at both MCA and CBS Records," Teller said in a statement. In light of its acquisition of Red Ant, Alliance will issue 6.7 million shares of new common stock, plus up to an additional 3 million shares based on performance over the next four years. Wasserstein Perella purchased an additional 1.9 million shares of common stock from Alliance executives, making Wasserstein the company's second largest shareholder.... The City of Los Angeles is trying to improve its image and that has retained the William Morris Agency to help it achieve its goal. The New Los Angeles Marketing Partnership (NLAMP), headed by Mayor Richard Riordan, forged the alliance with WMA to promote the vitality of the 88 cities that make up Los Angeles County. It's probably safe to assume the New York office of William Morris isn't involved in the project.... Country Music Television is returning to Canada next month. CMT was booted out of the country early last year during a major broadcasting rights dispute. The Canadian Radio-Television And Telecommunications Commission decided to replace CMT with Canadian country music channel New Country Network — a move CMT vigorously fought. The U.S. trade office threatened to impose sanctions on Canada if the dispute was not settled. CMT now joins New Country Network to form a single network that will keep CMT's logo and much of its programming.

Short Items Of Note

A domestic violence shelter wants to disassociate itself from a benefit concert featuring James Brown. The Retreat, a support group for victims of domestic violence, said it will not accept money from "The Back at the Ranch" concert in Montauk, N.Y., because of accusations that Brown beat his wife. "His reputation as a batterer is well known in the domestic violence community," Retreat executive director Jeri Woodhouse said. "It's an awkward position — we would have received about $10,000 — but we feel his performing would be totally inappropriate given our goals." Brown's late wife, Adrienne, accused him of assault at least three times during their marriage. The charges were withdrawn or dismissed each time.... Camelot Music filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy August 9th and said it may close as many as 40 of its 365 retail stores. All stores will be open while the company tries to reorganize and figure out how to pay its creditors. The company listed assets of $511.6 million and liabilities of $476.7 million including $140.1 million in unsecured debt. Camelot has closed 36 stores since the beginning of the year.... Despite complaints from its neighbors, Idaho's Festival at Sandpoint can continue to use a public park and serve alcohol at concerts, a judge ruled. A couple who lives near the site filed a complaint last month claiming the festival violates zoning laws because it's a commercial venture in a residential neighborhood. They also cited a city law banning alcohol in parks. A judge dismissed the complaint saying the festival has a legal lease with the city.... Mel Taylor, 63, drummer for The Ventures, died August 11th at Tarzana Medical Center in California. Taylor had been performing with the band, which defined the "surf sound" of the '60s, as recently as August 1st in Japan. Following that show, Taylor returned to the States for medical tests which revealed a fast-growing cancer in his lungs.

ROSEBUD AGENCY: Mike Kappus

Rosebud is very proud to announce the signing of Booker T. Jones for projects outside Booker T. & The MG's. Booker will perform solo and in a band format showcasing his vocals, songwriting and guitar playing in addition to his legendary organ sound. We're now setting warmup dates around his Northern California home for the fall. // J.J. Cale will do a rare tour of select markets in September in the Midwest and the East Coast in support of his current Delabel/Virgin CD, Guitar Man which is now on the AAA charts. // Thanks to Don Muller and Kelly Curtis for adding Ben Harper to the upcoming Pearl Jam dates in New York, Charlotte and Ft. Lauderdale. // We're booking dates and pursuing packages through the fall (as well as New Year's Eve) for the above as well as BeauSoleil avec Michael Doucet, The Blind Boys of Alabama featuring Clarence Fountain, Geno Delafosse & French Rockin' Boogie, The Dirty Dozen, John Hammond, Los Lobos, and The Duke Robillard Band. You can get more details on our artists at <http://www.rosebudus.com>.

STATE OF THE ARTISTS: Chris Tanner

As of August 16th, the Cellar Door Companies and I would like to announce the separation of the agency, Cellar Door Artists, from Cellar Door Productions. I have purchased the agency due to the mutual conflict of interest that comes with having a boutique agency directly involved with a major promoter. The name that the new agency will carry is State Of The Artists, otherwise known as S.O.A. Operations for the agency will be headed by me with the administrative assistance of Jennifer Lord. I have been employed by Cellar Door for four years and am bringing with me a roster of acts consisting of The Hazies, Too Much Joy, Kill Creek, Spider Monkey, Too Skinnee J's, Sorry About Your Daughter, Watershed and The Flies. Michael Caparella from mc² Productions will be joining S.O.A. as an agent in September bringing with him such indie acts as Geezer Lake, Judge Nothing, The Laurels, Calliope and Sugarsmack. S.O.A. is at 329 So. Patrick St., Alexandria, Va., 22314. Phone (703) 683-8445, fax (703) 683-6877. The separation from Cellar Door comes amicably and they wish State Of The Artists continued success.

Between The Dates

■ An AT&T software glitch was blamed for problems fans encountered when trying to buy PEARL JAM tickets for shows in Seattle and Toledo. Tickets were supposed to go on sale via phone on August 10th, but software that was supposed to allow "selected customers" to automatically reroute calls, instead rerouted those calls to numbers other than the ones set up to sell tickets. The glitch was eventually fixed, but not before Pearl Jam's ticket sellers, Fans, Tours & Tickets (FT&T) rescheduled Seattle and Toledo sales for the following Monday and Tuesday evenings respectively. Despite the snafu, about a thousand fans were able to get through to buy tickets. Ticket sales for Columbia, Maryland and Augusta, Maine went as planned. Merriweather Post sold out in 11 minutes, and Augusta sold out in five. When tickets finally went on sale for Seattle and Toledo, they sold like, well, like Pearl Jam tickets. In fact, with a system able to handle approximately 4,000 orders at once, Toledo sold out Savage Hall in 60 seconds flat. PJ also broke another record last week — upseating Alanis Morissette in the number one slot on our own POLLSTARS Of The Web, our list of the Internet's most requested concert tours, at www.pollstar.com. Alanis had held down the top position since January.

■ "Scheduling and production logistics" is the reason given for the cancellation of the first two ENIT FESTIVAL dates, August 14th in Cleveland and the 15th in Pittsburgh. August 23rd, in Angels Camp, California was also cancelled. Guess it's back to frog jumping in Calaveras County.

■ Those dogg days of August: Last Tuesday must have been pretty hectic for the folks at Death Row Records. The day started with a press release announcing an arena tour featuring 2PAC, SNOOP DOGGY DOGG and THA DOGG POUND. Called "All Eyez On Us," it was described as a 25 city U.S. tour starting in August. The tour promoter was supposed to be St. Louis-based Daedalus Entertainment Finance Co. (Def Com) headed by Stephen Coleman. Only hours later, a second press release denied the first, stating, "Contrary to an announcement that was released today referring to an "All Eyez On Us" tour. . . Death Row Records spokesman George Pryce, on behalf of the label's CEO Suge Knight, denies any knowledge of a tour at this time."

■ MEL TORME suffered a minor stroke August 8th, forcing him to cancel his Newport Jazz Festival appearance. Torme spokesperson, Rob Wilcox told POLLSTAR, "He has suffered a mild stroke, and doctors are hopeful for a complete and speedy recovery." Along with Newport, where Vic Damone subbed for the ailing performer, Torme also cancelled appearances at MusikFest in Bethlehem, Penn., and the Merv Griffin Resort in Atlantic City. Torme has some weakness on his left side and his speech has been affected but doctors say it will clear up. The Velvet Fog still hopes to perform at the Hollywood Bowl on September 18th.

■ It was BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN opening for JIM NABORS in Whitefish, Montana last week. The Boss was attending a prewedding party for his soundman, Toby Scott, when the band, The Fanatics, asked him to join them on stage. Springsteen immediately jumped on up and joined the band in renditions of "Shake, Rattle and Roll" and "Mustang Sally." Springsteen and the band later gave an encore performance at Scott's wedding to Michelle Amberson. Jim Nabors, who sang at the reception, jokingly thanked Springsteen for being his opening act.

■ Former TEARS FOR FEARS member, Curt Smith has denied rumors that he is going to reunite with ex-partner Roland Orzabal for a Tears reunion tour. "Having just returned from six years in an 80's rehab clinic, I obviously have no desire to return there," said Smith. The musician is currently touring with his new band, Mayfield. Called "The Mayfield Walking Tour," it consists of NYC venues within walking distance of Smith's Manhattan home.

■ Like the swallows returning to Capistrano, each August Woodstockites (Woodstockians?) return to the old Max Yasgur farm to celebrate the anniversary of the original WOODSTOCK FESTIVAL.

In the past the current owner of the actual site, June Gelish, has prevented the crowds from actually entering the location of the famous 1969 concert. This year, after first refusing access, Gelish has relented, and for the first time in 27 years, fans will be able to legally walk on, what some consider, "hallowed ground." Probably the potential problems of keeping people from the site was one of the reasons for Gelish's change of mind. "We know tactically we cannot prevent people from coming onto the field," said State Police Captain Alan Martin. "We would need 300 to 400 troopers. That would serve no legitimate purpose." Last year, thousands came to the site, and police did not try to prevent it. Roads were packed with parked cars, and the site was filled for more than a week, causing a number of minor incidents and complaints from local residents. Among those complaints were revelers stealing firewood and fenceposts, trespassing on private property, and defecating in residents' yards. Though police say that local ordinances will be enforced, our guess is that the locals better watch where they step for the next couple of weeks.

Out of the ashes, that old phoenix Showlites has arisen. Or as the Baron Von Frankenstein said, "It's Alive!" Showlites, one of the largest and most ubiquitous lighting companies in the world, dropped out of sight in late 1989 when Showgroup of Orlando, Florida, bought the company. Eric Pearce, Barry Owen and Brian White were shipped off to Orlando in respectable positions at the main office of Showgroup. However, the new Showgroup L.A. was maintained not really as the "L.A. office" but as a separate company from Showgroup Orlando. As of January 1st, the offices merged under the new banner Show Group Production Services, Inc., with the idea that a unified company could better serve their clients. (Among the subdivisions of SGPS are Showrig, Showfab, and Showstaging). So Showlites has been reborn under new ownership and management and opened its doors June 1st to venture out into those sometimes fickle production waters. Jason Sky, a lighting designer and former owner of Lighting Services Int'l, was brought in by SGPS to head up the re-established Showlites division in Torrance, Calif. Sky is implementing a program to refurbish all of the gear, invest in new gear, road cases and re-establish its former niche in production. Sky is executive VP and director of the Showlites division of SGPS Inc. Eric Pearce, former owner of Showlites, has been retained as a senior consultant for SGPS. Barry Owen and Brian White remain involved and Steve Bourdlaies has been promoted to director of operations of Showlites. According to Sky, Showlites has re-emerged as "a new company guided with experience." The paint hasn't dried on the door but Showlites is ready to rock. The start up has included sub rentals for established production companies and the pursuit of intelligent lighting. It looks like the new Showlites has already taken on Black Crowes as a client for their '96-97 tour, and negotiations are in the works for other acts. Showlites can be reached at (310) 534-0999 and fax (310) 326-5443.

The Cure is still out touring Europe and North America with Concert Production Lighting and Vari*lite, and staging provided by Brilliant Stages. Roy Bennett is the designer and Dinesen & Owen is the production company. Britannia Row is the sound company with John Lemon as front of house man and Bryan Olson on monitors.

Ian Peacock is using Varilites out on "Voyeurz" through Theatre Projects at the Whitehall Theatre. "Evita" is on the second leg of the second year of touring the U.K. with Howard Eaton as designer and Theatre Projects providing the conventional lighting. Olin Younger is lighting designer for The Three Tenors — you know — Placido Domingo, uh Luciano Pavarotti and the Other Guy — using Varilites with crew member Sean Nugent in a hopscotch tour hitting Wembley, Vienna, Gottenberg, Dusseldorf and Munich.

The Oasis European tour is due to finish its current leg in Scotland, Knebworth and Ireland this week with Mikey Howard as lighting designer using Varilite, Theatre Projects and Brilliant Stages. John Wood is LD. Britannia Row is providing the sound FOH Huw Richards and monitors by Gareth Williams.

A-1 Lighting is out with B.B. King with LD Moondog and board op Doug Eder. Out with Chris Isaak are LD Lane Hirsch, master electrician Gene Norham and Ross Malyon running the Starlites. And if you're looking for Jim Chapman (geez, Jim, you were about to appear in our "whatever happened to" column) we found him out on the Sex Pistols doing that LD thing with Fraser McFarlane running Starlites and Steve Dunaway as master of the electrical universe.

Westsun America out of Seattle was the lighting vendor for the "50 Years at Tektronics" celebration outside of Portland, Oregon, right before the western states experienced a major blackout last week. (We don't think there is any connection but we're open to conspiracy theories). Dick Clark Corporate Prod. along with Richanbach & Associates oversaw the huge outdoor celebration which took place in record heat.

Vari*lite's office in Chicago is providing lighting for the Democratic National Convention at the United Center. Bob Dickinson with his faithful side-kick John Morgan will be overseeing the lighting aesthetics.

Quote Of The Week: Old road warriors never die, they just get married and get a desk job.
