A Stiff Down Under

Australian concert promoter Michael Coppel filed a $250,000 suit against Michael Bolton and MBO Tours Inc., for renegeing on an agreement to perform eight concerts in May 1996. Coppel claims Bolton canceled the tour because advance ticket sales were soft and the singer didn't want to risk the embarrassment of playing before a less than sold-out house, even though the promoter had agreed to pay the singer a minimum of US$1.2 million regardless of ticket sales. The guarantee deal Coppel negotiated with ICM was against 85 percent of the net sales figure which included any sponsorship money. Coppel was also responsible for the hotel and transportation costs for Bolton's entourage and equipment while in Australia. The suit claims Bolton's refusal to play the Australian tour was motivated at least in part by the cancellation of potentially lucrative tour dates in Korea and Taiwan. In the complaint, Coppel said, "Whether motivated by ego, money, or both, Bolton had no lawful justification for repudiating the concert agreement." Coppel said his firm incurred substantial expenses in promoting the Bolton shows. Six of the eight dates were on sale and more than 32,000 tickets had been sold by the time Bolton renegeed on the tour. The complaint alleges that Bolton's agent, Jon Podell, instructed Coppel to cancel the advertising for the second date in Sydney, citing poor ticket sales. But Podell later directed Coppel to issue a press release indicating that Bolton's Australian tour dates were in conflict with his recording commitments for a 1996 Christmas album. Coppel's complaint says Bolton and MBO materially breached and repudiated their agreement without legal justification and breached the obligation of good faith and fair dealing. A spokesperson for Bolton said, "This lawsuit is frivolous and meritless and will be dismissed by the courts."

New Label Law

Thirty-six years after starting the company that bears his name, concert promoter Don Law is entering into a very different area of the music business. Law is starting a Boston-based record label that will be home to young artists from the thriving music scene in New England. No acts have been signed to the yet-to-be-named label but the staff is beginning to take shape. Music attorney Steve Simon will have an executive post at the new venture and veteran folk signer Livingston Taylor will head the A&R department. The label will be open to all types of music and the first release may happen this fall. Law plans to start out by releasing two or three albums a year. A deal with a major distributor is expected to be announced in the coming weeks. Even though Law made his name in live music, he's no stranger to the record biz. His father, Don Law Sr., was an executive producer at Columbia Records for many years and Law Jr. grew up in the recording studio.

Dog Bites Tour

Country singer Patricia Conroy was viciously attacked by a dog while strolling on a beach in Italy April 7th. Conroy was enjoying a beach in Gaeta with her companion and band leader, Bob Funk, when she was attacked from behind by a German shepherd. Tim Rathert of Morningstar, Conroy's management company, said the dog attacked without warning or provocation. He also said he thought Conroy would have been killed if Funk

DUNCAN SHEIK

If there's a musical category for "the kind of record you might put on late at night with the lights low," then Duncan Sheik has found his format. That's the way the 26-year-old singer/musician describes his self-titled debut on Atlantic Records. Others have described his music as sensitive, romantic, intelligent and haunting. It's a sound that some say defies categorization. But that doesn't seem to bother radio programmers, who have firmly embraced Sheik's first single, "Barely Breathing."

The success didn't come overnight though. Sheik's career has been a slow build. "Barely Breathing" was first released to radio a year ago and crawled up the charts until it hit No. 1 at AAA and reached top 20 in the pop format. And it appears the second single, "She Runs Away," is headed in the same direction.

Sheik told POLLSTAR the slow build of his career means a lot. "It's actually very important because you get much less burn-out factor from your audiences. People, I think, are more real fans as opposed to just jumping on a bandwagon."

Besides, a big hit single isn't all Sheik is going for. He's much more interested in how people react to the album in its entirety. He said the story behind "Barely Breathing" is a typical fluke situation, being that the song was written as the last "throwaway" track for the album. Then, of course, it became his first big hit. "There is, for me, much more interesting music on the record," Sheik said. But he said he's aware that "Barely Breathing" is the easiest single to slot into a radio format.

Radio has actually turned out to be quite a critical aspect of Sheik's career. "Radio has been, oddly enough, kind of the key element in this whole situation," he said. "The fact that radio embraced 'Barely Breathing' so whole heartedly, that is what has driven this project from the beginning."

At this point in his career, Sheik said radio has outweighed touring. "I [have been] on tour for the past eight months and I've probably played in front of a total of 60-, 70-, 80-thousand people, which is great and that has a huge impact. But on the radio, 'Barely Breathing' gets played 6,000 times a week right now. That means it has a really massive cumulative audience of like 50 million people every week. So as much as I hope that touring is the mainstay of what I do, I do realize that radio is just a very powerful medium."

Still, Sheik cannot deny the importance of touring. "You need to do it," he said. "That's what makes people understand that you're a real artist as opposed to a record company creation. And I know with me, there's a risk of that because I'm kind of coming out of nowhere and I made this record that's, in some ways ... very kind of slick, just because that's my aesthetic. And even though it's this very organic record, it seems like there's probably a lot more people involved in it than there actually was. So it's important for me to get out there to show people that this stuff is really coming from me and not from a bunch of songwriters and a bunch of producers."

In fact, the album is very much a solo project. Sheik wrote all the songs, sang lead and nearly all the back-up vocals, played several guitars, keyboards, an accordion and even did some drum programming.

In a way, the release of this album was something Sheik had been working for all his life. The self-taught musician discovered music banging on his grandmother's piano as a young child growing up in South Carolina. He started playing guitar seriously at age five. By 12, he was playing guitar in a rock band with a group of teenagers.

After that first band experience, Sheik quit performing for quite a while. "Maybe that experience scared me," he chuckled. Instead, he took to the more technical side of making music. "I got a four-track recorder when I was 14 and my first synthesizer and drum machine," Sheik said. "I really got into the more production and songwriting side of it and I kind of became a hermit in my little room, just turning knobs and making instrumental compositions mostly."

He decided to step back on stage in his sophomore year of college to play guitar in Lisa Loeb's band. "We had a good time. But ultimately, I didn't want to be somebody's guitar player," Sheik said. He had his own vision.

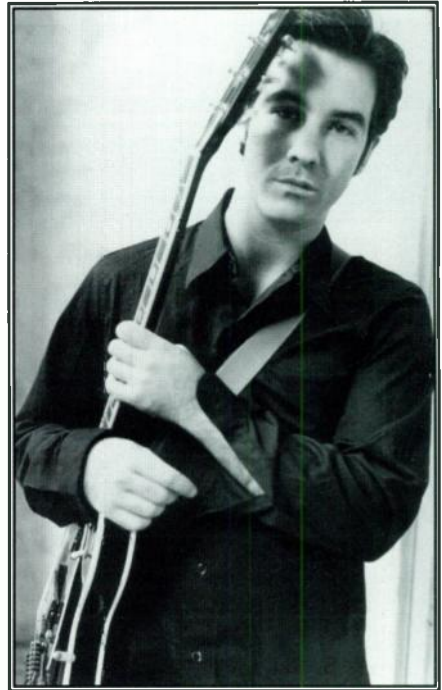

Part of that vision meant performing the songs he had written. But he didn't start singing until his college years. "And then I only did it in the privacy of the recording studio there at Brown [University]." After graduation, Sheik moved to Los Angeles and started working with a vocal coach. "She helped me get it together technique wise and psychologically so that I had the confidence to get up on stage in front of people and sing."

That was a good thing because Sheik scored a record deal right out of college. He was signed to Immortal Records for two years. Unfortunately, Immortal was not the right label for him. "They were more of a rap label, so therefore, maybe not the most appropriate place for me," Sheik said. "Nothing ever really came of it besides the fact that they helped me to get a publishing deal with BMG and through that, I was able to keep making recordings and demoing stuff up. And then Atlantic kind of bought me off Immortal, listening to the songs that I was writing during that two-year period."

Sheik chose to move over to Atlantic because label GM Ron Shapiro was super passionate about his music. "And still, to this day, [Shapiro] is 100 percent behind it and just does everything to support the project," Sheik said. "So it had to do with that sense of commitment that I was getting from him."

Rounding out Sheik's team of committed players are manager David Leinhardt, who's been working with the performer since the very beginning, and CAA agent Rick Roskin.

Roskin has Sheik touring clubs and theatres in the U.S. until May. Sheik said he is then planning to play some shows in Mexico and Brazil, hit Europe, and then make his way back to the States for another tour. ★ hadn't been there to fend off the beast. Conroy suffered head wounds and numerous bites and lacerations across her back, buttocks and arms. She was treated at a hospital and released. The following day, Conroy made a brief court appearance where she gave a deposition and had her wounds photographed. The final seven dates of her European tour were cancelled.

An INDI Hybrid

Stomp The Fire

A backstage fire disrupted a Stomp performance at the Warner Theatre in Erie, Pa., April 9th. Hundreds of audience members were forced out into the cold for about 90 minutes after a pile of clothes caught fire in a dressing room. Some customers were upset because they weren't told why the theatre was evacuated. The lobby of the Tullio Convention Center was open so some people could stay warm, but many were left shivering outside. In spite of the adverse circumstances, most of the 2,300 ticket holders returned to their seats when the show resumed.

Reeling & Dealing With The Alice Cooper Of 1997

Cellar Door has come up with a peace offering for Marilyn Manson fans in Memphis who feel like they were cheated out of a full show April 8th. Many fans were upset because the band ended after 45 minutes on stage because of technical problems. A hotline number has been set up at the Mid South Coliseum for concert-goers to send in their Marilyn Manson ticket or wrist band in exchange for a commemorative pin. "Kids are still calling and they're still mad and they think its unfair," the Coliseum's Beth Wade told POLLSTAR. "But we're telling them they should be mad at Marilyn, not us." Wade said the concert's early end created a safety hazard at the venue, with a building full of kids who didn't want to leave. But promoter Ted Mankin of Cellar Door told POLLSTAR there was no safety problem. "They just sort of stood there and didn't know what to do.... And they left quietly," he said. Either way, Wade said she felt sorry for the kids who paid their money and left feeling short changed. "I'm glad [Cellar Door] is doing something," she said. The shortened version of the Manson concert in Memphis was probably a better deal for fans than what they're getting in Columbia, S.C., and Richmond, Va. — which, at this point, appears to be nothing. Pressure from the communities led to the ○ Hong Kong may be moving away from the British influence, but in Osaka, Japan it's a different story. Edwin Shirley Stages has joined forces with Nihon Stages of Japan. As part of the agreement, Osaka-based Nihon has purchased a full ESS Tower System, stage, roof and PA wings which, with ESS input, has already handled the Michael Jackson tour over the winter months. The operational side of the partnership, ESS Japan, is jointly owned and will coordinate the transfer of staging work between the two entities. Having cleared customs, Nihon's new six tower system has already completed its first show since the formalized venture for Sharam Q at the 35,000-seat Osaka Dome at the end of March. The folks over at Edwin Shirley Stages in London told Bags and Lams that the staging system will be based in Japan but is for use in all of Southeast Asia.

○ Fantasee Lighting of Ypsilanti, Mich., was busy with corporate and exhibit lighting for the annual North American International Auto Show, a veritable auto schmooze-fest held January 11-20. Robert Wertheimer along with owner Stefan Graf designed several of the displays for the show which was held at Cobo Hall in Detroit as well as other auto shows in Los Angeles, New York and Cleveland using High End System Cyberlights and Studio Colors. Currently, Fantasee is getting ready to do some work with Grand Funk Railroad. Also at this year's auto show was lighting designer John Ingram using Vari-Lites for a few press events with Dodge and Chevrolet, with some help by gentleman VL commando, Ken Hudson.

○ Spirit by Soundcraft has provided a 24-channel Spirit Studio console for mixing a new album for the band Radiohead. The band decided to forego the traditional "studio" setting and set up a recording facility in actress Jane Seymour's isolated 18th century mansion near Bath, England. In addition to the Spirit Studio Desk, which was used to provide monitor mixes for the band, a reconditioned Mellotron and the main MTA recording console were used for the sessions. "It was essential to get a good, clean-sounding desk with loads of inputs," offered co-producer Nigel Godrich who originally met Radiohead while engineering the band's last album with John Leckie. It probably didn't hurt the inspirational processes to get away from the orange formica and vending machines of typical studios.

○ Gobo, Gobos, Gobbage. Congratulations to Masa Kitani of Des Plaines, Ill., for winning the Vari-Lite 1997 Gobo Contest with her design entitled "Tribal Breakup." Ms. Kitani also won for her design, "Kitani Leaves" and will have the option to receive VL operator training on-site at Vari-Lite headquarters in Dallas, or she can opt for the cash prize behind door #2. Other winners included Tyler Roach of Ithaca, N.Y., for his design called "Concentric Explosion," Glenn Voyce of Miami for "Diamond Grid" and Bryan Naegle of Granville, Ohio, for "Ice Breakup." "We are pleased with the outcome of our first annual gobo contest and look forward to even more participation next year," says marketing manager Anne Valentino. The '97 Gobo contest winners' artwork will appear in the Purchase Only section of the Vari*Image catalog. Vari-Lite will begin accepting artwork for the '98 contest in October of this year.

○ The touring theatrical production of the musical "Heathcliff" starring Sir Cliff Richards is out on a UK tour with Theatre Projects, Brilliant Stages and Vari-Lite. The production based on Emily Bronte's Wuthering Heights is scheduled to finish up in May at the Apollo Hammersmith in London. The production is looking to head to Australia by the end of this year. Andy Bridge is the LD along with Alistar Grant, and Joe Vanck is doing sets. Gary Mott is the crew boss, Nick Jones is tech lighting support and Derek Jones is the VL operator on a system which is using 28 VL2C spot luminaires and 27 VL4 wash luminaires.

○ Perennial diva and queen of the audience participation songs, Diana Ross, is off doing that Supreme thing for some corporate clients and one-offs and is using Light and Sound Design Icons and conventional lighting with LD John "Ozzie" Osborne and board op Killie Knobel. Meanwhile, production demigod Bill Reeves tells Bags and Lams that divette Toni Braxton has postponed her European dates and is concentrating on her US domestic tour later this year.

○ Quote Of The Week: Comedian Ellen Degeneres is scheduled to announce that she not only plays a lesbian on her sit com, "Ellen" but she actually is a lesbian. In a related story, Barney has announced that he is not a dinosaur, just a man in a purple dinosaur suit.

United Kingdom

● BRYAN ADAMS has just finished the UK leg of his European tour with five sold-out shows at Wembley Arena. It's the longest run of shows by one artist at the arena this year, and the tour will loop back to the UK for some additional shows at the end of June, which have just been confirmed. The tour will play 60 arenas in total with further shows being added. Agent CARL LEIGHTON-POPE of LPO says that around 75 percent of the shows are already sold out. It's a marked improvement to last year's open air tour, which had some disappointing audience figures. "This year, Bryan has proved that he has a solid, loyal audience," Leighton-Pope told POLLSTAR. "We are experiencing some magic moments at these shows indoors... Bryan really reaches out to his audience."

An ILMC Value-Add

Value Added Talent agent Clive Underhill-Smith (L) took the opportunity at last month's ILMC to chat about V.A.T.'s stellar techno and dance artists with promoters (L-R) Gunter Linnartz of Germany's Scorpio Konzertproduktion, and Switzerland's Christof Huber of Open Air St. Gallen and Alon Benner of Gadget.

● PACE has appointed a new managing director for the NATIONAL BOWL at Milton Keynes. PAM HARKNESS will take on the responsibilities for the day-to-day running of the venue. Harkness has worked extensively on the production side of the business for over eight years and has worked on shows at the Bowl throughout Pace's involvement. She said, "The potential for the Bowl is huge _ it's user friendly, both from a production and an audience point of view..." Since Pace first became involved with the Bowl in 1993, in partnership with Sony Music, the venue has been developed to include a permanent stage and power system, with TONY WHEELER of Aztech Productions heading the in-house production team. Pace took over sole management of the venue in January this year. Pace's FRAN MACFERRAN told POLLSTAR, "Her working knowledge of the Bowl and the industry will be very useful (in her role) there." The Bowl is Pace's sole European facility and there are at present no plans to take on other venues. The summer concert schedule at the Bowl has Wet Wet Wet, the Classical Spectacular and the Moscow State Circus on sale. Further shows are awaiting confirmation, but Macferran expects a total of five concerts to be held at the Bowl this summer.

● WEMBLEY ARENA has announced that it is looking for a title sponsor. PAUL STREETER, director of the arena, says he has been working towards this point for two years. "We have made a multi-million pound investment to improve the frontage and facilities at the Arena and feel that we have an attractive sponsorship proposition to offer. Wembley Arena has an international reputation for excellence and an unrivalled heritage in music, sports and entertainment, with every major artist having performed here during the past five decades." Existing sponsorship deals at the arena include Coca Cola and Capital Radio. The new sponsorship package would include full branding and hospitality deals. It will be interesting to see how the title sponsorship will incorporate the definitive branding of the Wembley name.

● SOUL COUGHING have just completed their first full UK tour, co-headlining with Madder Rose, which has been sponsored by DR MARTENS. The tour sponsorship was an extension of the band's relationship with Dr Martens in the US and marks the beginning of the company's increased drive to sponsor live music in the UK. Karl Neilson has been appointed to develop new sponsorship opportunities for Dr Martens in Europe. Dr Martens has supported new band stages at Phoenix and Reading festivals in the past and will continue this association, but more sponsored tours are in the pipeline for the autumn.

● Solo has announced a six-date G3 tour of the UK. Joe Satriani, Steve Vai and Adrian Legg will play the UK arena circuit, in May/June, on the back of the release of the G3-Live In Concert album, recording in the US last year. It will be the first time Satriani and Vai have played together in Europe.

Germany

● Germany's own 'spice girl' starts her first tour on April 25th. BLUMCHEN ("little flower") is a 16-year-old singer who has notched up six No. 1 singles during her brief career, which is the equivalent of sales of nearly 2.5 million records. Promoter of the tour, Karsten Jahnke, says the teen market is strong in Germany at the moment with another young girl act, TIC TAC TOE, also causing a stir.

● Concert Cooperation Bonn has announced the first of the summer ROCKPALAST events at the Loreley Amphitheatre on June 21. Confirmed artists are INXS, Sheryl Crow, Midnight Oil, David Byrne, 16 Horsepower and others. On June 22, Steve Winwood, Phish, Primus and others will perform. The two nights will be recorded for live broadcast.

● The BIZARRE FESTIVAL (August 15-17) will be a three-day event for the first time. The festival is co-promoted by Peter Rieger Konzertagentur and Concert Cooperation Bonn. More than 50 bands will perform on two stages at the Butzweiler Hof in Cologne, including Beck, Foo Fighters, Suede, Pavement, Faith No More, Skunk Anansie, Rollins Band, Rammstein and Atari Teenage Riot.

● The HURRICANE FESTIVAL (June 21-22), co promoted by Scorpio Konzertproduktion and MCT has added INXS as headliners to the bill which also features Bad Religion, Midnight Oil, Rammstein, Sheryl Crow, Daft Punk, Mansun, Ani DiFranco, Ben Folds Five, Lightning Seeds, Selig, Phish, and others.

● There have been no further developments in the case of the German tax office vs MARCEL AVRAM. Mama Concerts has confirmed that Avram is still under arrest and no further details are available.

Belgium

● PAUL AMBACH at Make It Happen has received official recognition of his artistic talents with his appointment as Cultural Ambassador of Flanders for 1997. Ambach, whose alter ego is "Boogie Boy," jazz and R&B pianist, has been leading a double life for years, playing jazz festivals around the world in between promoting shows at Make It Happen. The panel of judges decided to bestow this particular honour on Boogie Boy because of his "cultural achievements and his charisma, in recognition of his work at an international level. There is no financial reward to go with the title, but Boogie Boy says he hopes the publicity will help him to play more shows and maybe even get him across the channel to do some gigs in the UK where he has never performed!

● The latest additions to the TOURHOUT WERCHTER festival (July 4-6) bill are Placebo, Skunk Anansie, Suede, Ben Folds Five, 16 Horsepower, Daft Punk, Spearhead and David Byrne.

Denmark

● The LANGELANDS FESTIVAL (July 24-27) will be the site of one of the most interesting tributes of the summer when Robby Krieger and Ray Manzarek will get together to perform in a 30th anniversary DOORS TRIBUTE. The two former band members will play with a full band and a 60 minute set of original Doors material has been promised. As things stand at the moment, it looks like this will be the only European performance this summer. The Doors Tribute is taking place on the back of the 30th anniversary release of a special Doors box collection. The festival has been on sale for several weeks and has already sold over 4,000 tickets, which is up on last year's count at this time. Other artists on the bill include Alannah Miles, Peter Andrew, Steve Harley, Mike Flowers Pops and Donovan.

Sweden

● HULTSFRED FESTIVAL (June 12-14) line-up this year includes Suede, Prodigy, Rage Against the Machine, The Cardigans, The Charlatans, Supergrass, Nick Cave & The Bad Seeds, Wu Tan Clan all appearing on the main stage, with Marilyn Manson, Placebo, Voodoo Glow Skulls, Biohazard, 3 Colours Red, Morcheeba, Baby Bird, Red House Painters, Mansun, Daft Punk and others also appearing.

Norway

● NORWEGIAN WOOD FESTIVAL (June 13-14) has confirmed Neil Young & Crazy Horse as headliners for the opening night, with Loudon Wainwright III also on the bill. Artists for the second day of the festival are still to be announced.

Switzerland

● The 22nd PALEO NYON FESTIVAL (June 22-27) has gone on sale. In the competitive Swiss market, Paleo organisers have not increased the ticket price, with special advance purchase prices held until May 31. Lasting six days, with five stages every night, the bill is an eclectic mix of world music, pop and dance and includes Suzanne Vega, Jamiroquai, Placebo, Morcheeba, Texas, Lamb, Al Jarreau, Jane Birkin, Paul Personne, Noir Desir, Eddy Mitchell, Zap Mama, Johnny Clegg, Khaled, The Divine Comedy, Sinéad O'Connor, Midnight Oil and several surprise guests being kept under wraps.

Spain

● GAY AND CO. has upcoming shows this summer with Marianne Faithfull playing two shows in May, Aerosmith plus Kula Shaker, KISS and Supertramp all touring in June. The best-sellers at the moment, in a market which rarely throws up startling figures in the presale stakes, are Supertramp, with KISS also selling very well.

Italy

● CORRADO RIZZOTTO has split from Trident Live after less than a year to return to running his own promotions company in Pordenone. Rizzotto says it is an amicable departure, due to personal reasons. Rizzotto will continue to work with Trident on bigger projects, but all upcoming club tours will go ahead as planned.

ASIAN NEWS

● The Chinese government has finally announced a breakthrough in their fight against PIRACY. After setting up hot lines and offering cash rewards for information on illegal goods, state-run media have reported that 25 illegal disc production lines were closed down nationwide and 250 people were arrested. According to an AP report, Anne Stevenson Yang, director of China operations for the US China Business Council lobby group said that the outlook "appeared good as China seemed to be working towards needed reforms." State-run media also reported that more than 10 million pirated compact discs, laser discs, audio and videotapes were confiscated in 1996. Last week, a Chinese court sentenced seven businessmen to prison terms of from 1 1/2 to 17 years. The longest sentence went to the former deputy general manager of a CD plant in Jiangsu province for pirating more than 3 million units, according to the state-run Xinhua News Agency.

● British rock band MANSUN have got themselves in hot water in Hong Kong during a showcase performance at the HARD ROCK CAFE (Kowloon) on April 13. Trouble started in the middle of their show when lead singer Paul Draper suddenly grabbed hold of the amplifier and speakers and hurled them off the stage. When Hard Rock Cafe staff members tried to stop him, Draper got into a scuffle and punched one of them. The show was cancelled after some fans joined the melee. Authorities are now considering banning the group from any further appearances in public venues. Whether or not this will have any repercussions on coming band performances is unclear. The showcase was part of a new Sunday night performance night organised by local radio station Commercial Radio. It is possible that the venue might move from the Hard Rock Cafe after the Mansun gig, which was part of the band's promotional tour in the region.

● SHERYL CROW has confirmed a date for Hong Kong. Duet Productions will bring the Grammy winner for one performance at the Hong Kong Coliseum on May 29. Initially, there were doubts whether a suitable venue would be available. This means that Crow will be first going to Tokyo on May 15 and 16, for shows at the Shinjuku Kosei Nenkin Hall, and then on to Sendai's Izumity 21 Hall (May 17), Tokyo's Nakano Sun Plaza (May 19), Tokyo's Asakasa Blitz (May 21-22), Osaka Kosei Nenkin Hall (May 23), Nagoya's Diamond Hall (May 25) and Fukuoka's Shimin Hall (May 26). Crow is also heading Down Under but at present it is not confirmed whether it will fall between the Japan and Hong Kong dates or, after Hong Kong.

● Still on Hong Kong, PolyGram's WET WET WET and THE CARDIGANS might not be making the stopover in the territory as planned. Apparently the Wets schedule has changed and they might not be able to spare the time on the initially scheduled April 30 date. The Cardigans, in the meantime, are trying to get their plane schedule changed to allow a one-day stopover on April 28 on their way to Taiwan.

● In Japan, Hayashi International Promotion has announced that they will be bringing GLORIA ESTEFAN to Tokyo on April 22 and 23 for shows at the Nihon Budokan, and Osaka for a show at Osakajo Hall on April 27. They have also scheduled Ben Holds Five for Tokyo (May 9), Osaka (May 10 & 11), Fukuoka (May 13), Nagoya (May 14), Sapporo (May 15) and Tokyo (May 17 to 20). Kyodo Nagoya has also confirmed SUSAN OSBORN, MARCUS MILLER and KENNY G for shows at their club on April 22, 28 and May 7, respectively.

cancellation of Manson concerts scheduled for April 20th at the Carolina Coliseum and May 10th at the Richmond Coliseum. Local promoter Wilson Howard of Cellar Door said the Columbia show was a mutually-agreed upon cancellation. That show was cancelled just as a state representative tried to ban the so-called Satanic, shock-rock group from state property. Marilyn Manson told The Evansville (Ind.) Courier the band was offered $40,000 to cancel the show but it refused. Then the show was cancelled anyway. "Now we are seeking action against the city of Columbia because we feel our First Amendment rights have been violated," he told the paper. "And I think the people of South Carolina have been violated because now the world can see that they're fascist bigots in a city that still flies the Confederate flag." Howard said the show would not be rescheduled. In Richmond, the City Manager had the date yanked when he found that the contract between the promoter and Spectacor Management Group, which operates the city-owned Richmond Coliseum, had not been signed. In explaining his action, City Manager Robert C. "Bob" Bobb said Manson "was just not consistent with our community standards." He went on to explain that he would have cancelled the concert in advance if he had known about it. But local promoter Bill Reid of Cellar Door strongly disputed the lack of a contract with the venue. While Reid acknowledged the rental contract hadn't been signed at the time of the city manager's decision, the venue manager had clearly confirmed the date to the promoter. That fact was evidenced when the venue put tickets on sale to the public April 4th. Richmond Coliseum GM Ollie Harper told the Richmond Times-Dispatch almost every act booked into the coliseum is bound to upset somebody, and Marilyn Manson is no different. "Our focus is public safety," Harper said. "The research we've done hasn't shown any public safety problem." The American Civil Liberties Union in Richmond has threatened to sue and a representative from that organization said the show may still go on if the issue goes before a court of law. In fact, Marilyn Manson manager Tony Ciulla said the band still has every intention of playing in Richmond. At press time, it was still possible the city of Richmond would realize its tenuous legal position and back down from the cancellation. Meanwhile, a Manson show in Little Rock, Ark., went ahead as planned April 9th despite objections from parents and religious leaders who protested at the state capitol. A Biloxi show April 12th at the Mississippi Coast

Coliseum also went forward without incident. But the protesting was rampant in Florida, where Manson had shows in Orlando and Jacksonville last week. The University of Central Florida in Orlando said it was receiving about 80 protest calls an hour against the concert, but maintained the Constitution protects the band's performance at the school's auditorium. And at press time, about 5,500 people had called the mayor's office in Jacksonville to protest the show at the Jacksonville Coliseum.

Chugg On Down To Sydney

The Pacific Circle Music Convention hosted a boodle of Aussies in Los Angeles recently to plan the first ever international music convention, seminar, fair and festival in Australia. The PCMC convention, produced by Michael Chugg of Frontier Touring Company and Kathy Howard of Kathy Howard Management, takes place in Sydney September 20-25. Talking strategies in L.A. for the big event are (L-R) William Arthur from the Australian band Glide, Chugg, Ric Riccobono of BMI and Glide's Andy Kelly and Jason Kingshott.

A Bigger & A Smaller Oak Mountain Amphitheatre

The Oak Mountain Amphitheatre in Birmingham, Ala., has undergone renovations that include a larger lawn area, the addition of a second smaller stage, better parking facilities, more bathrooms and eight additional corporate boxes. The shed's fixed seats remain at 5,000 but the expanded lawn area increases the venue's total capacity from 10,000 to 12,500. A large video screen and an enhanced sound system were added to make sitting on the lawn more enjoyable. The renovated shed will host its first concert April 26th with Better Than Ezra, Squirrel Nut (Continued Page 17)

● The INTERNET knows no boundaries, nor is it controlled by any country or sovereignty. Old news, right? Not in GERMANY where last week officials indicted the head of CompuServe's (www.compuserve.com) German unit, Felix Somm, in connection with the distribution of child pornography and Nazi writings over the Net. German officials are charging that Somm "knowingly" allowed pornographic images to be accessible by customers in Germany. In other words, the German government is charging that online services must be responsible for the content of the material downloaded. Because German law prohibits criminal charges against corporations, only Somms was indicted and not CompuServe itself. While some governments have blocked certain Websites because of their political or sexual content, this is the first time that a commercial service has been brought up on charges, not for material on the service's computers, but for material that the service, by allowing access to the Net, indirectly makes available to its customers. According to the Wall Street Journal, (www.wsj.com) last month Austrian police raided an Internet provider's office, shutting down Net access for the entire country for two hours, because a customer complained they had accessed pornography over the Net. For CompuServe it all started at the end of 1995 when German officials forced the company to block access to over 200 Usenet newsgroups to its German customers. According to Reuters, the specific charges are "assisting in the distribution of pornographic materials as well as premeditated and negligent violation of laws concerning writings that are dangerous to youths." Those 'writings' refer to Nazi literature and photographs which are not allowed to be displayed publicly in Germany.

● On this side of the ocean, the Supreme Court is expected to make a decision over the constitutionality of the 1996 COMMUNICATIONS DECENCY ACT. The act, signed into law last year by President Clinton (www.whitehouse.gov), was almost immediately found "unconstitutional" by a three-judge federal court in Philadelphia. The Justice Department appealed the ruling, which now brings it to the U.S. Supreme Court. As the act was written, it makes it a federal crime, punishable by up to two years in prison, for anyone to "use an interactive computer device to send [or] display. . . to a person under years of age 18" any image or communication that "in context depicts or describes, in terms patently offensive as measured by contemporary community standards, sexual or excretory activities or organs." Opponents have argued that the law is too vague, restricting not only "obscene" material, but "indecent" material as well. In short, critics have complained that the law would ban any text that might be described as indecent or obscene. Critics have charged that, carried to the extreme, the law would prohibit pictures of art exhibits, novels, medical discussions or even public speeches from appearing on the Net. How would the Communications Decency Act affect the music biz? For starters, even listing a bandname like The Butthole Surfers might be considered a violation of the law. And what about those recordings made available for downloading that you can find on every record label's site, not to mention just about every music fan's Web page? Enforced to the letter, people responsible for posting music files on Web sites might be held liable if the content of those recordings is found "offensive" by local standards — no matter the locale.

● Which brings us to the latest artist Web site. We think you'll find rap artist ICE-T's Web Site (www.icet.com) a bit on the unusual side with features including "Interactive Live Sex," "Fantasy Revue," "Erotic Games" and "Audio Delights." To our knowledge this is the first sexually oriented site on the Web to be hosted by a major recording star. Don't know if they can get it in Berlin.

● BMG has launched two new Web sites to compliment their already thriving urban music site. BMG was the first of the six major record companies to organize its cyber presence by genre by launching PEEPS REPUBLIC (www.peeps.com). Along with showcasing artists on BMG's urban labels, Peeps is also the online home of Jamie Brown's Sister 2 Sister magazine. BMG's two new sites are BUGJUICE

Zippers, and Matchbox 20. Oak Mountain, booked and managed by New Era Promotions, has scheduled acts like Stone Temple Pilots, Live, Vince Gill, James Taylor, ZZ Top, No Doubt and Barry Manilow for the upcoming season. But a normal concert season isn't always enough to generate the kind of business needed for most shed operators. New Era's Gary Weinberger told POLLSTAR the second stage with its own 3,000 capacity audience area on the venue's plaza allows the company to produce smaller events which can utilize the basic infrastructure without the overhead of the larger venue. Weinberger said all amphitheatre owners have to deal with the reality that a very limited number of dates per year often have to pay for 12 months of bills. The ability to stage smaller events helps spread the financial burden among more event days.

Nittany Phil

The Bryce Jordan Center welcomes Phil Collins March 30th for his "Dance Into the Light" tour. Electric Factory Concerts' Larry Magid and Bryce Jordan Center's Krista Kovalcin present Collins with a Penn State Football jersey to commemorate his concert at the venue.

Short Items Of Note

Bill Graham Presents has trademarked the phrase "Summer Of Love" in order to prevent the term from being exploited during the 30th anniversary of the hippie love-fest in San Francisco. BGP's Jerry Pompili told the San Francisco Chronicle the company trademarked the name "to protect it from schlock promoters with fictitious bands." So far, BGP has agreed to allow Chet Helms to use the term for a concert in Golden Gate Park this summer.... The Providence Civic Center Authority has entered into final negotiations with Ogden Entertainment Services to take over management of the Providence Civic Center. The deal is expected to be approved within the next few weeks.... The 74-year-old Leroy Theatre in Pawtucket, R.I., is being leveled to make way for a Walgreen drugstore. The once elegant theatre opened in 1923 and was an active concert venue in its later years.

Six Flags Over Foxwoods

Six Flags is working on plans to build a theme park near the Foxwoods Casino in a rural area of North Stonington, Conn. The company applied for a zoning change April 9th on 200 acres owned by the Mashantucket Pequot tribe. The land is currently zoned for industrial use. A public hearing on the zoning change will be held next month. The Six Flags park is expected to attract 2 million visitors each summer and employ about 200 full-time and 3,000 seasonal workers. Some residents in the community of 5,000 worry the park will ruin the quality of life in the area. Six Flags said plans for the park include a landscaped buffer zone designed to isolate it from the town. The proposed amusement park has to get through miles of local and state red tape before construction can begin. It would be at least another two to three years before the park could open.

Pros On The Move

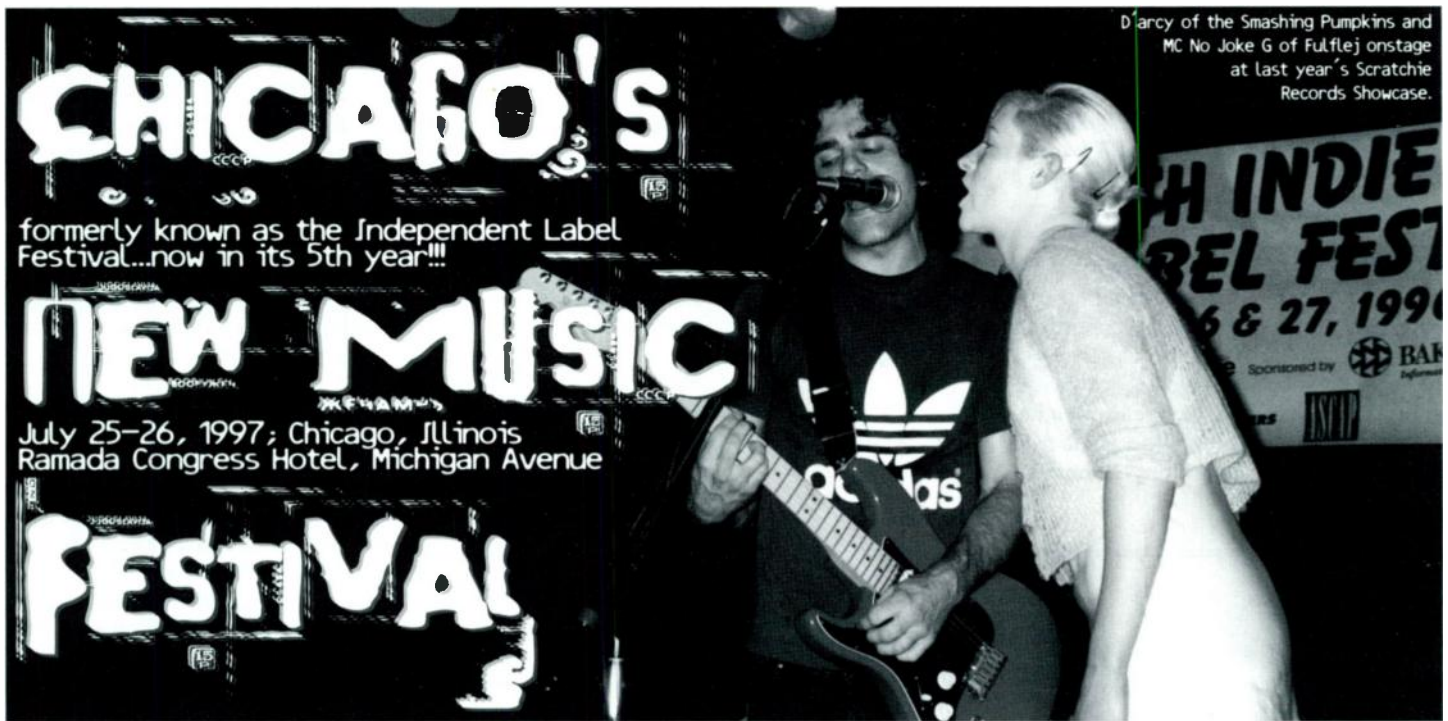

Bob Pfeifer abruptly left his post as president of Hollywood Records last week with nearly a year left on his employment contract. Pfeifer joined Disney's Hollywood Records as VP of A&R in 1993. He was promoted to the prexy post when Peter Paterno was shown the door in 1995. Despite the label's success with soundtracks, Hollywood has yet to break a band. Executive VP Richard Leher will assume Pfeifer's duties on an interim basis.... The William Morris Agency did some shuffling of senior level executives last week. WMA's worldwide head of its motion picture division, Arnold Rifkin, was named president. Rifkin joined WMA in 1992 when it acquired Triad Artists. The 49-year-old Rifkin will continue in his post as the agency's worldwide head of motion pictures. Last year, Rifkin was courted for the top film executive post at Sony Pictures but was unable to make a deal acceptable to Sony president Nobuyuki Idei. Rifkin subsequently signed a new contract with WMA. In other changes, Jerry Katzman moved from his president position to vice chairman. COO Walter Zifkin assumes the role of chief executive officer. Former CEO/chairman Norman Brokaw retains his title as chairman after relinquishing the CEO title to Zifkin.... Venue managers John Christison and Warren Buckley have launched their own venue management consulting firm. Buckley Christison International will provide services in the areas of strategic planning, design and program analysis, customer service, event consulting, organizational recruiting, sponsorship and training. Christison continues as president of the Washington State Convention and Trade Center while Buckley remains president of the B.C. Pavilion Corporation.... DE-EL

Salty Locker Room Flyers

Philadelphia's CoreStates Spectrum found out first hand that the seether is Louise when Veruca Salt opened for Bush April 8th. Hanging with the band are (L-R) John Page from the facility, Veruca Salt's Stacy Jones, Steve Lack and Nina Gordon, Philadelphia Flyers' Shjon Podelin, Veruca Salt's Louise Post and venue proxy Peter Luuko.

Legal Grievs

The former office manager of the Placer County Fair in California has been indicted on embezzlement charges. Julie Lawrence, 56, is accused of embezzling $6,619 between 1993 and 1996. She was indicted by the county grand jury on one felony count of grand theft, according to the district attorney's office. She was released on $7,500 bail and will be arraigned April 28th..... The artist formerly known as Prince won a motion to bar the public and news media from the next court hearing in his lawsuit against his wife's former assistants. Carver County District Judge Jean Davies agreed to the ban and issued a gag order April 11th preventing the parties from talking about the case. She also said the use of aliases would no longer be permitted in court documents. The lawsuit was filed under the fictitious names John and Jane Doe and XYZ Corp. Prince has accused Arlene and Erlene Mojica of violating confidentiality agreements barring them from talking to the media about him. The two divulged to the press information about the death of Prince's infant son..... Renowned Afro-beat musician Fela Anikulapo-Kuti was arrested at his nightclub in Lagos, Nigeria, on an assortment of drug charges April 9th, according to the PANA news service. Nigeria's National Drug Law Enforcement Agency (NDLEA) arrested 107 other people at the same time for alleged possession of Indian hemp. If convicted, Fela could be forced to hand over his property to the government and would face a minimum of 15 years in jail. On April 14th, Fela filed a suit claiming $1.1 million in damages from the NDLEA over his arrest and detention, which he claims was unconstitutional.

Less Security In Numbers

After accomplishing what he said was his best year ever, Anthony Davis has decided that bigger is not always better. His security firm, Anthony Davis & Associates, is reorganizing to offer select clients the personalized service of a smaller company. Davis said his firm's involvement in many major entertainment events last year — the Olympics, Lollapalooza, H.O.R.D.E., the Smokin' Grooves tour and the Tibetan Freedom concert — spread the company too thin and he wasn't happy with the firm's quality of service. "I intentionally started my company not to be ... a 'body factory.' And that's exactly what we became," Davis said. He said the work the company had been doing required many low-paid employees. "And it's my desire not to have $5 or $6 an hour employees," Davis said. Therefore, he is downsizing the approximately 600-strong work force to about 150 key employees. He is also eliminating a lot of the firm's venue contracts. "I've gone to those clients and said, 'Hey look, I've enjoyed working with you, but this isn't something that we want to do,'" he said. "I've decided to seek more higher-end clients and really just specialize in tour consulting projects versus being a local venue security company." Davis also renamed his company A.D. Entertainment to signify the change. The company has closed two of four offices and will now operate out of Los Angeles and New York.

Coming Out In Dixie

The much-ballyhooed episode of the TV sitcom "Ellen," in which star Ellen Degeneres' character discovers she's a lesbian, has become quite an event in Birmingham, Ala. The city's ABC affiliate won't air the April 30th program and one local venue chose not to host a satellite broadcast because of the controversy surrounding the show. Two gay rights organizations wanted to host a free satellite broadcast of the show at the 2,210-seat Birmingham Theatre but theatre officials said no. "This thing is way too controversial for the Alabama Theatre," said theatre spokesman Cecil Whitmire. The building emphasized its point by posting "No Ellen Here" on its marquee April 12th. Then the Boutwell Auditorium stepped into the fray. "We are a public building and we are here to serve the people of Birmingham," said auditorium manager Henry Gedson Jr. "The people want to see this show. No laws or ordinances are being broken. We've signed the contracts and we will be hosting the broadcast." Gedson said he was surprised that other buildings refused to host the show. "It's like any other event; people who want to see it can see it and those who don't want to see it don't have to. It's a matter of personal choice."

Between The Dates

■ KISS drum tech Eddie Cannon's dream came true when he had to stand in for Peter Criss April 5th in Columbus, Ga. Criss had muscle fatigue so Cannon donned the cat makeup, grabbed the sticks and rock'n'rolled all night. After the third song, Paul Stanley announced that Cannon was filling in for Criss. A spokesperson for KISS said it wasn't like the band was trying to fool the audience. And apparently, the audience didn't mind. The KISS spokesperson said the crowd was "very supportive." Criss resumed his place behind the drum kit for the band's next show in Nashville.

■ THE PRETENDERS tour with SINEAD O'CONNOR tour was abruptly cancelled last week. The Pretenders' inability to finish its new album is reportedly to blame.

■ Festival-style tours are coming in all sizes, shapes and genres these days. "THE FURTHER FESTIVAL" announced its line-up and itinerary last week. The tour kicks off June 20th at Coral Sky Amphitheatre in West Palm Beach and wraps up August 2nd at the Shoreline Amphitheatre outside San Francisco. This year's "Further Fest" features The Black Crowes; Ratdog featuring Bob Weir; Rob Wasserman; Mickey Hart & Planet Drum; Bruce Hornsby; and Moe. Appearing on the second stage will be Arlo Guthrie and Sherri Jackson..... A classic rock package called "SUMMER DAZE" is touring sheds this summer. "Summer Daze" features John Kay & Steppenwolf, Blue Oyster Cult, Foghat and Pat Travers..... "NUTTSTALK '97" hits the road April 24th in Nashville with Trulio Disgracias, Thelouious Monster, John Frusciante, The Skeletones, Super 8 and Weapon of Choice. "Nuttstalk" was created by Norwood Fisher of Fishbone and features a little punk, a little funk, some ska, soul, hip-hop and jazz, and plenty of reggae, rap and rock. The show ends with headliner Trulio Disgracias, which is made up of members from Fishbone, Red Hot Chili Peppers, Weapon of Choice, Spearhead, The Untouchables, Super 8, Circle Jerks, P-Funk and many more..... And dates on the SMOKIN' GROVES '97 tour featuring Cypress Hill, George Clinton & The P-Funk Allstars, Foxy Brown, The Roots and Erykah Badu were also announced last week.

■ Sixty-thousand Haitians showed up to welcome THE FUGEES making it a sell-out concert in front of Port-au-Prince City Hall. The band is donating proceeds from the concert to Haitian refugees that were recently deported from the neighboring Dominican Republic. Wyclef Jean and Prakazrel Michel were both born in Haiti and wanted to give something back now that they have become successful.

■ A Tribe Called Quest, Beastie Boys, Porno For Pyros, Radiohead, Rancid, Michael Stipe and Mike Mills, Pavement and the Foo Fighters are among the acts on the official line-up for the second annual TIBETAN FREEDOM CONCERT. The two-day event will be held in New York City this year. All proceeds will go to the Milarepa Fund, a non-profit organization co-founded by the Beastie Boys that funds various education projects regarding Tibet and nonviolence. Other confirmed acts include Biz Markie, Bjork, Chaksam-Pa, De La Soul, Ben Harper, Jon Spencer Blues Explosion, Patti Smith, Sonic Youth and Taj Mahal. The exact date and venue for the event will be announced in the coming weeks. Last year's Tibetan Freedom Concert in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park drew more than 100,000 people.

■ THE ARTIST FKA PRINCE abruptly cancelled an April 12th show scheduled at the San Jose Event Center in California after he got word that tickets were being scalped for up to $300. Apparently, the scalping was not extraordinary compared to industry standards, which are between 5 and 10 percent of the total tickets, according to the San Francisco Chronicle. But when the news got to The Artist, he decided to pull the plug. A spokesperson told the Chronicle, "The fans got shut out because of some fat cats. It's not right." All tickets for Prince's San Jose show must be returned to the point of purchase for refund. Fans buying tickets to the rescheduled show will have to present photo identification when they buy the tickets and will have to fill out a detailed form. Ticket buyers will then be given a voucher bearing their name. The POLLSTAR updates and verifies all ROUTE BOOK listings each week. The ARTIST INDEX refers to the issue date that an artist was last published. If an artist has not been updated after a month, their name is removed from the index. This method of updating assures our readers the very best available resource information at all times. All dates subject to change without notice.

vouchers will be exchanged for tickets at the event and holders must enter the venue immediately after receiving their tickets. Also, fans will be limited to two tickets each. In Los Angeles, Prince took the stage April 11th at the Pantages Theatre despite what was described as a stomach virus. A Prince rep reportedly went on stage shortly before the concert's start and asked the audience if they would mind coming back a few days later because Prince felt ill. The answer was a loud "No," so a phone was brought on stage, Prince was phoned and the audience shouted their objections so he could hear it over the phone. The Artist obliged the crowd a short time later, putting on lengthy show filled with many older hits.

■ The summer concert season in North America is getting hotter everyday with new tours being announced by LUSCIOUS JACKSON, ROLLINS BAND, DINOSAUR JR, and SAMMY KERSHAW. Meanwhile, both KENNY G and SHERYL CROW will spend much of the summer touring overseas..... Other acts planning to call the road home this summer include ROBIN TROWER, who kicks off June 11th in Longview, Wash.; PERFECT STRANGER, launching May 2nd in Florida; GIPSY KINGS, kicking off May 22nd in Santa Barbara; and LYNRYD SKYNYRD, which kicks off June 10th in West Palm Beach..... STYX also launches its tour in West Palm Beach April 20th..... If you're in the mood for something a bit more romantic, check out VIC DAMONE's tour, which starts May 9th at the Oakdale Theatre in Wallingford, Conn..... Also on the road this summer for a few Canadian dates is LOVERBOY..... And for a taste of something different, check out EL VEZ, who shows off his special brand of entertainment starting April 29th in Hollywood.

(www.bugjuice.com), featuring alternative music, and the country music oriented TWANG THIS! (www.twangthis.com). Each BMG site contains artist bios, video and audio selections, music news and contests. "Our goal is to deliver an unparalleled Web experience to visitors by offering them a backstage pass to material they otherwise would not be able to access," said Kevin Conroy, senior VP of marketing for BMG.

UNIVERSAL STUDIOS (www.universalstudios.com) has added a chat section to their already impressive Web site. Universal plans on using the chats to promote its film and TV projects and has already lined up celebrity chats with Tom Arnold and Carl Reiner. Universal also plans on theme-oriented chat rooms based on shows such as Hercules, Xena: Warrior Princess and Law & Order.
