HELLO!

Enclosed is FOOL'S PROGRESS' self-titled CAPRICORN RECORDS debut. The album's MAY 13 release marks a new chapter in the group's already impressive story, and I consider it an important event for both artist and label.

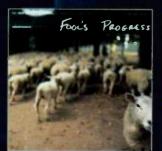

With their relentless touring and two previous indie albums, FOOL'S PROGRESS has earned a nationwide grassroots fan base, and I'm very excited that the group has chosen CAPRICORN to be a partner in their ongoing journey. In many ways, this band exemplifies the ideal CAPRICORN artist. First and foremost, the group's songs – written primarily by vocalist REED FOEHL – possess a timeless depth and sincerity which transcend musical fads, formats and formulas.

Moreover, FOOL'S PROGRESS owes their longevity and growing success to constant touring – bringing their compelling live shows directly to audiences around the country and winning new fans one person at a time. The group is highly devoted to their fans; and likewise, the fans are incredibly loyal to FOOL'S PROGRESS.

Quite frankly, I'm one of those fans! Please give a serious listen to FOOL'S PROGRESS; I think the chances are good that you'll join their ever expanding fan base.

Sincerely,

Phil Walden President

They Had To Make A Federal Case Out Of It

It looks like OzzFest — with Marilyn Manson — will go on at Giants Stadium after all. A federal judge in Newark last week said the New Jersey Sports & Exposition Authority cannot legally pull Manson from the June 15th heavy metal festival. The authority had blocked the on-sale for OzzFest after promoter Delsener/Slater and the festival's headliner, Ozzy Osbourne, refused to pull Manson from the bill. U.S. District Judge Alfred M. Wolin said the authority could not prove an increased security risk or that its image as a concert venue would be tarnished if the group performs there, according to New Jersey newspaper The Record. Banning Manson because of the content of the band's performance would violate its First Amendment rights, Wolin reportedly said in a 32-page opinion. Attorneys for the sports authority unsuccessfully argued that the agency had the right to ban groups it believes threaten security and do not serve the agency's "commercial interests," The Record said. Wolin said the authority's system of rejecting performances on the basis of morality is probably unconstitutional. Manson's attorney, Paul Cambria, told USA Today, "We're pleased the First Amendment is alive and well in New Jersey and we hope this will send a message that this group, like any other, has a legal right to perform without first obtaining the approval of the government." The authority is not likely to appeal. An on-sale date for the show has not yet been announced. Marilyn Manson's manager, Tony Ciulla, told POLLSTAR he thinks fabricated stories are what's causing a lot of the protests surrounding the band. He said a lawsuit against the American Family Association may be forthcoming because of that organization's smear campaign against Manson. Ciulla said AFA's Web site (see Gigs & Bytes on page 8 for more details) contained so-called "affidavits" alleging that during concerts, Manson has ripped animals apart, encouraged the audience to rape females in the crowd, had sexual intercourse with sheep on stage, has performed oral sex on a 10year-old boy, and that the band's security guards have given ecstacy to young children, among many other disturbing accusations. The AFA even went so far as to say a "blood bath" video exists in which Marilyn Manson plays his guitar while a (Continued Page 3) female is stabbed to death as part of an offering to Satan, Ciulla said. "These are things the American Family Association has posted not only on the Internet in the form of these 'affidavits' but also circulated print material with this information at our shows," he said. "Originally, when I saw this, I laughed because I felt, how can any intelligent adult believe this stuff actually goes on? But then you see these people that actually think some of this stuff is happening." Manson's lawyer sent a five-page letter to the AFA demanding a retraction and an apology and threatened legal action. So far, there's been no reply from the AFA, although the organization has pulled the "affidavits" off its Web site. Meanwhile, protesters continue to hold prayer vigils and picket outside of Manson concerts but most shows have come off without any unusual problems. Police reportedly made 14 drug-related arrests at the Kalamazoo, Mich., show at Wings Stadium April 30th, but there were no arrests or disturbances at the May 6th show at Utica Memorial Auditorium in New York.

Michigan's Manson Resolution

The Michigan state Senate wants concert venues to ban minors from attending shows by bands known for explicit lyrics. A resolution passed on a voice vote asked venues to "voluntarily restrict the access of children under age 18 to performances by artists whose recorded music carries parental advisories, unless they are accompanied by a parent." Opponents say the resolution amounts to censorship. The resolution has no legal force but its author, Sen. Dale Shugars, said he is drafting a bill with the same language. The resolution came in response to Marilyn Manson's recent trek across Michigan.

Venue Tax Defeated In Columbus

Residents of Columbus, Ohio, voted down a proposed tax to help finance a new 21,000-seat arena and 35,000-seat soccer stadium. The May 6th vote effectively ended the city's bid for an NHL expansion team and may mean the city's Major League Soccer team, The Crew, will have to find a new place to play. The Crew had been getting a good turnout at Ohio Stadium, but the playing field is the smallest in the league. Ohio State University plans to renovate the stadium, perhaps after the 1999 fall season, which could mean it won't be available the following spring.

🔺 Insider News Briefs

The 56 percent to 44 percent vote marks the fifth time in 20 years the city has rejected a tax to fund an arena. The measure would have meant a sales tax increase of .5 percent for three years to help finance the $285 million worth of venue projects. Private sources had promised $57.5 million and an additional $41.5 million was to come from the state. As an enticement to voters, MLS commissioner and former Ogden exec Doug Logan had awarded Columbus the MLS Cup in 2000 and the MLS All-Star Game in 2001 contingent on a new stadium being built.

U.S. Scrutiny Of Retail CD Prices

HotStar Of The Week 📥

The jazzy soul sound of Jamiroquai recently started impacting in the U.S. and thanks to a heavy rotation slot on MTV, it is provoking a swell of curiosity. Those looking beyond top 40 — beyond grunge, hip-hop and alternapop — already know the R&B band. So, who or what is Jamiroquai? In the band's British homeland, that was answered years ago.

The band took its name from the word "jam" and the Native American Iroquois. Jamiroquai and its fascinating lead singer, Jason Kay, made its first mark on England in 1992 with a debut single on the Acid Jazz label. That single, "When You Gonna Learn," became an underground classic and British media began predicting the singer, known simply as Jay Kay, would be a star.

Kay's life has always revolved around the stage. His mother, '70s cabaret jazz singer Karen Kay, performed in places as native as Nigeria and as showbiz as Las Vegas. Traveling with his mom on the entertainment circuit piqued Jay Kay's interest in dramatic arts and music.

Kay started concentrating on music at the age of 17. By the time he was 22, the band's first single on Acid Jazz had been released and the live shows began to be lauded. Reviews of early shows described "stark-sudden brilliance" and "a stunning display of ensemble musicianship."

At the time, the Acid Jazz sound was at its peak. But the genre's players weren't known for quality musicianship. When Jamiroquai began performing its funk with an attitude, it virtually crushed those observations and it didn't take long for major labels to notice. A fierce bidding war ended with Kay signing an eight-album deal with Sony. The band's major label debut, Emergency On Planet Earth, shot straight to No. 1 in England. However, the hype and buzz didn't come without backlash.

The band's influences range from Stevie Wonder and Herbie Hancock to Roy Ayers and Donald Byrd. And Jamiroquai is considered a funk band in the vein of Earth Wind & Fire, Sly & The Family Stone and Parliament, so some criticized Kay for ripping off African-American soul music and taking advantage of its painful roots. The word was, "Kay is white and hasn't suffered enough." And the fact that Kay's voice is uncannily similar to Stevie Wonder's left many calling the singer the greatest imitator, a "Wonder Boy."

Kay was amazed at that "nonsense" and he didn't let the backlash keep the groove down. The band's die-hard fans positioned Kay and mates in the midst of the hottest trend in Britain. That was fine for Kay because he simply has to be a star.

Kay thrives on being the center of attention and he's righteously committed to his cause of the day. Whether it be ecological causes or pro-marijuana stances, the soulful singer wears his heart on his sleeve. With exposure, Kay began to be known as a cocky star, "a bit of a wanker" with a snobbish taste for Lamborginis and Ferraris. (He has, at last count, nine high-speed, high-priced cars.) He once told a reporter, "I'm a show off. I always was and I always fuckin' will be. I need a stage. I need to do this business, for now anyway, until I decide that I can get out in a dinghy and be a militant environmental terrorist bastard. But until then, I'm driven by the need for the buzz."

With a dynamic frontman like Jay Kay, it's no wonder people still ask: "Is Jamiroquai a band or a he?" The band's video on MTV for the song "Virtual Insanity" from the current release, Traveling

Wallis Buchanan, Jason Kay, Toby Smith, Stuart Zender and Derrick McKenzie

Without Moving, features only Kay, lending credence to the "He Theory." But that's not exactly the way it is.

Keyboardist Toby Smith has been working with Kay since the band's inception. He told POLLSTAR, "It's sort of a grey fuzzy area. Jay is signed to Sony and we're signed to Jay, so it's actually somewhere in between." Kay said the label wanted to get rid of the band, thinking, for example, that Didgeridoo player Wallis Buchanan's "wooden pipe" wasn't important. Kay said he could have worked with other musicians, but there was no point. Jamiroquai's members (Kay, Smith, Buchanan, bassist Stuart Zenter, drummer Derrick McKenzie and guitarist Simon Katz) connected. Kay kept that intact. Smith said, "When everybody has equal power and equal say, most of the time, bands fight and split up. [Our band] is much more of a democracy led by Jay."

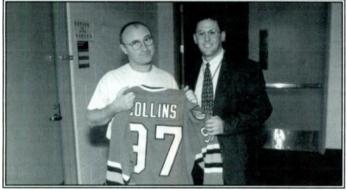

Jay Kay takes the point on Jamiroquai's business. He works closely with ITB in Europe and Cara Lewis at William Morris in New York. He also works hand-in-hand with manager Kevin Simpson from Long Lost Brother. Smith said, "Jay has a very hands-on approach to everything.... He doesn't let his manager basically do anything ... without him knowing fully about it." Smith said the books are open to every band member, however. "I think that's good," he said. "If people don't know what's going on, they start to think that they're not getting what they should be getting. I don't think that happens. Everyone is pretty clear about what's going on."

For the past five years, Jamiroquai has gone into the studio, finished a record and toured straight away. Smith said they haven't stopped for more than a month, ever. Jamiroquai's last tour of the U.S., a brief outing in January, drew packed houses of young and old, ravers and hippies, college kids and drop-outs, Deadheads and funksters, skaters and bakers.

Jamiroquai (which is an 11-piece touring band) just finished an arena tour of Europe. Smith, speaking from a cellular phone atop a tour bus in Bordeaux, France, said the band has gone up the ladder a rung in Europe. "We're now doing arenas, all between 10,000 and 15,000 people, which we've never done before.... But of course, America is different because we're just trying to pry open the shell and get in there." The band's next U.S. outing, starting May 13th in Seattle, will play houses holding between 500 and 1,200 people. "It's kind of like stepping back again," Smith said. "You have to regress for us coming back to America and go to a 10th the size of the venues, which is actually quite nice in a way because you get much more vibe at those smaller venues. It's like going back to how it originally was in the UK."

price. The FTC is checking to see if the arrangement results in price fixing. While suggested retail prices are not illegal, the programs may cross the line if record labels nix cooperative payments to retailers who also advertise lower prices. The current FTC has been quick to crack down on price maintenance policies. However, the cooperative advertising inquiry is apparently not yet a formal investigation.

and rejoined the red hot Interscope label. Sources said Whalley, who never signed a new contract with Interscope last year when he was promoted to prexy, received a multimillion-dollar offer from Disney to help jump-start its Hollywood Records label. Whalley's departure from Interscope was announced on Friday, May 2nd, but he was back in his position by the end of business the following Monday. Whalley reportedly signed a lucrative, five-year deal with Interscope which increases his salary and expands his equity position in the label. Whalley, who has been with Interscope since its inception in 1990, has helped Jimmy Iovine and Ted Field build the operation into one of the most successful labels in the business. He is credited with helping sign Tupac Shakur, the Wallflowers, Primus and 4 Non Blondes.

O LONDON MUSIC WEEK received a vote of confidence from the industry despite some initial teething problems. Around 5,000 people attended the three-day convention, which was below initial estimates, but general feedback from participants shows that the industry both welcomes the event and feels it is a positive initiative for the music business overall. With a three-year plan to build up the event, the organisers at the Business Design Centre were fairly satisfied. The conference programme was wellattended, with highlights being Ed Bicknell interviewing Sir George Martin and MTV letting record companies know how not to get their artists' videos banned. The touring panel was informative for live music industry novices, but the mixed audience meant ILMC veterans such as Martin Hopewell, Harvey Goldsmith and Carl Leighton-Pope had to tone down their debating talents. The session covered the most common problem areas, such as record company funding, buy-ons, building acts through touring, and a beginners guide to the whys and wherefores of artist withholding tax. The live gig programme worked well for new bands, but perhaps lacked the focus of a key musical event to make London Music Week really stand out from every other week of the year.

• With the LABOR PARTY victory consuming most of the country, the music industry played its part from the start. From the London Arena hosting the final Conservative Party rally on the eve of election day, to the Royal Festival Hall hosting the victory party for Labor, with Dream performing and Saucery providing the catering. Meanwhile, MICHAEL EAVIS sadly failed to become the first festival promoter to enter the House of Commons.

• LONDON ARENA has launched a new seating format to give promoters greater flexibility. The 12,500-seat arena can be fully draped to create a 4,000-6,000 capacity alternative known as the WATERSIDE CLUB. It has become very a popular option in the competitive arena market to create a versatile seating structure, and the London Arena move follows that of the NIA and Wembley. Under the management of SMG and new general manager Alex McCrindle, London Arena has been steadily overcoming the bad image problems of its early years. The public transport access is constantly improving, with a far more reliable Docklands light railway service in operation and a new tube link well underway. McCrindle is keen to point out that the venue is working to meet the demands of a new arena audience in the South East of the country, rather than competing with Wembley Arena, and says that the possibility of two Gary Glitter shows on his annual December tour goes some way towards proving this point. The arena spring calendar is busy largely with conferences, exhibitions and product launches, with a major tribute concert in July awaiting confirmation and many key autumn arena tours holding dates there.

• Noel Gallagher has started up the OASIS tour rumour mill saying the band will be back on the road again this year, possibly in September, following the planned release of the third album. There's no confirmation of tour plans from Creation or Primary Talent at this stage, but the first single is due to be released June 7 and this will no doubt add fuel to the speculation. Gallagher made the comments after guesting at a Liverpool Dockers benefit show at the Mean Fiddler in London. So it looks like the U2 support slot in Oakland will just be a giant warm-up gig.

• Well, the SPICE GIRLS have announced their first full-scale concert, but before the world's wannabe spice promoters gather 'round and rejoice, this is but a one-off, Pepsi-sponsored show in Istanbul. Spice agent Andy Woolliscroft at Primary Talent says he has not been involved in setting up the date and no details are available at the moment. Nor has there been any explanation offered as to why the Spice Girls should choose to launch their live career in Turkey. Well, at least the girls will be dipping their toes into the concert market this year — European promoters are getting a little weary of pleading with Woollscroft for some 1997 dates. He insists that there will be no tour before 1998 — but has promised that all will be revealed in the next couple of months.

• TONI BRAXTON has rescheduled her UK tour from May to September. Marshall Arts says it came down to a question of routing. Adding more dates to her first full European tour meant the UK dates had to be moved back to the autumn. Mike Stewart and Marshall Arts said that more than 50 percent of the UK arena shows were sold out prior to moving the dates.

• Status Quo's RICK PARFITT is recovering after an emergency quadruple bypass operation. The 48-year rock singer is doing well and, according to the band's longtime agent Neil Warnock at The Agency, will be working again by the end of July. The Quo's summer festival tour, due to start this month, has been rescheduled where possible, says Warnock, but some dates have obviously had to be cancelled.

• The city of Manchester will be making a bid to host the 1998 EUROVISION SONG CONTEST, which will be coming home to Britain, after KATRINA & THE WAVES win in Dublin two weekends ago. The win marked a revival for the one-hit-wonder band who last had a hit in 1985 with "Walking On Sunshine" and it was only the fourth win for the UK since the contest first began in 1956. Despite the continuing self confidence of British music, the Eurovision song contest remains completely unrepresentative of what is really going on in the UK music scene, despite the efforts of Jonathan King and the post Eurovision success of last year's British entry by Gina G. Meanwhile, Ireland breathes a sigh of relief that it won't have to meet the cost of hosting the show yet again.

Germany

• MARCEL AVRAM received a surprise visit in prison from MICHAEL JACKSON. Police in Munich said that Jackson spent over half an hour with Avram, who is still in prison after being arrested last month on suspicion of tax evasion. A spokesperson for Mama Concerts said the visit was a spontaneous event, postponed once because reporters had gathered at the prison gates when the first visit was rumored. A day earlier, a Jackson lookalike had shown up at the prison asking to speak with Avram, but he didn't fool the prison officers who sent him packing after he failed to produce any identification.

• The club scene in Cologne has been shocked by the threatened closure of THE MOVE. The long-standing live music and dance venue has had its license withdrawn following police investigations into drug use at the club. Police arrested five people in possession of a tablet of ecstasy each and subsequently the city council withdrew the license. The club is appealing the decision, saying it has always had a good relationship with the authorities and that the police are just trying to make an example of them. There has been a lot of media pressure about ecstasy use in Germany, and the club believes that it was a political decision. "We have had a license for 15 years now," said booker Dietmar Koch, "and we never had any problems in the past. All upcoming shows at The Move, including Coolio on May 17, are on hold pending a final decision which was supposed to come last week.

Austria

• The two Austrian promoters who were feuding over the LIBRO MUSIC HALL last year have now made their peace and are working together to make it the top venue in Vienna. Artist Marketing and Rock Produktion have set up CONCERT SERVICES AUSTRIA (CSA) as a joint venture to run the production side of the venue. No one has been appointed to run CSA at this stage. The booking side of the venue will still be controlled by primary investors Libro and run by Martina Pokorny. Richard Hoermann of Artists Marketing said it made sense to work together on the venue.

• Wolfgang Klinger has put forward proposals to hold WOODSTOCK 99 in Austria. With original Woodstock promoter MICHAEL LANG's plans to create a US-European festival, Klinger says the case for holding Euro-Woodstock in Austria is very strong. "Austria is the bridge to the east and Woodstock has a lot of symbolism for the people of Eastern Europe." He has carried out all the preliminary studies of the area and speaking to the authorities and to possible sponsors of the event. He is awaiting a decision in the next few weeks.

Switzerland

• Swiss teen-band promoter HARRY SPRENGER says BACKSTREET BOYS are still out in front when it comes to ticket sales. The open air show in Winterthur August 27 has nearly sold out. Competition in this market is starting to come from WORLDS APART, whose success in France has a natural knock-on effect in the Swiss market — they recently played the 7,000 capacity Patinoire in Neuchatel and sold out two thirds of the venue. However, BOYZONE don't seem to have translated as successfully as the more upbeat, American-style bands with a show at the Volkshaus last week selling less than the Backstreet Boys did a few months ago.

• The OPEN AIR ST GALLEN has added Midnight Oil and the Malke Family to the lineup.

Denmark

• The first "EXTENDED FESTIVAL FORUM" will take place November 21 in Roskilde. Following up on the promise made at ILMC9 in March, Leif Skov of Roskilde Festival, Gunnar Lagerman of Hultsfred and Mauro Valenti of Arezzo Wave have coordinated a meeting to discuss festival issues in more detail. The meeting will revive the long-dormant YOUROPE (European Federation of Progressive Rock), which was originally set up as a pan-European association for festivals. It will be a one-day conference, inviting one representative from each of the key outdoor festivals to participate.

Holland

• Mojo's latest addition to the summer festival calendar, the NEW FRONTIER AT ALMERE, is expecting around 10,000 people in its first year. With seven stages, it is a dance festival with a heavy DJ contingent, plus live sets from Atari Teenage Riot, Daft Punk, and Speedy.

Finland

• A second MICHAEL JACKSON show has been added at the Olympic Stadium in Helsinki on August 28. The first show was a record sellout. Promoter Risto Juvonen at Well Done Oy has also just gone on sale with 10 new shows at the Hartwall Arena: Jean Michael Jarre, John Fogerty, six David Copperfield shows and two royal horse gala shows.

Greece

• With the summer season looming and headliners a sparse commodity, it comes as no surprise to hear that Anosi will be abstaining from festival promoting. Anosi launched the ROCK OF THE GODS festival last July, which made a successful debut, but the promoters have confirmed that they will be taking a break this summer. Speaking for Anosi, Manolis Kilismanis said there were several reasons, including moving to a new site which presented production problems and also that the Greek teachers strike means that term-time has been extended and the festival would have clashed with exams and so affected the ticket buyers.

AUSTRALIAN NEWS

• Not surprisingly, (particularly given their current American showing) the most successful Australian band of the moment is SAVAGE GARDEN who are in the midst of their first national tour which sees them in venues with an average capacity of 2,000. The band, comfortably sitting at the top of the Australian singles and album charts, are managed by JOHN WOODRUFF. The veteran manager has in the past guided the careers of acts such as The Angels and Diesel.

• It seems very likely that Spearhead's MICHAEL FRANTI will be in Australia in June for a promotional visit. The tour will see him visit Sydney and Melbourne to promote the Chocolate Supa Highway album..... Acclaimed Irish singer/songwriter ANDY WHITE will return to Australia towards the end of May to promote his new album, Teenage..... The rather legendary JIMMY WEBB visits Australia for the first time in May. He appears at Sydney's Basement club on May 17, 20 and 21 before moving on to gigs at Melbourne's Continental Cafe..... Promoters Ken West and Vivian Lees have announced a full schedule of Australia and New Zealand dates for JONATHAN RICHMAN.

• Promoter Adrian Bohm has scored what could well be the most successful tour by an Australian act next year — the original line-up of THE SEEKERS who start an extensive national jaunt in March 1998. Tickets are already on sale for the shows which gives an indication of how big the tour is expected to be!

• VILLAGE ROADSHOW has extended its $230 million takeover bid for radio network AUSTEREO to May 23 to allow Austereo shareholders to accept the bid. On April 14, Village increased the bid to $2.55 per share from $2.35 after Austereo's independent expert deemed the original offer insufficient.

• NO DOUBT will perform live via satellite link direct from Toronto at HMV's Pitt Street Sydney store on May 14. The satellite will be linked to HMV stores worldwide for a 90 minute "intimate and interactive experience." No Doubt will perform, after which they'll take questions from punters around the world who are at HMV stores. Markets taking up this HMV Interactive include Canada, Singapore, Ireland, London, Dublin, Cieveland, Tokyo and Sydney. The major draw during the satellite is a trip for two to Vancouver to meet No Doubt and see them perform live as part of their Canadian tour.

• Big news for up-and-coming Melbourne act JULIA DARLING who's just flown to New Orleans to record four tracks with Malcolm Burn. This is at the behest of a major American record company. Aside from being great news for Darling it's rather unusual for something like this to happen before her debut EP is released in Australia. That disc appears on May 19 via Mushroom/Sony.

O If you think MARILYN MANSON's legal battles with venues over the right to perform are limited to the physical world, browse on over to gcip.net./rogins/ - the cyberspace home of the National Clearinghouse on Marilyn Manson Concerts For Family & Decency Advocates. The page includes possible legal areas "in which monitoring teams should be aware of prior to monitoring concerts" including excerpts from the Mississippi Code of 1972 such as "Crimes Against Public Peace And Safety," "Crimes Against Public Morals And Decency," and "Offenses Affecting Children." The site also includes news stories chronicling various community groups' efforts to keep Marilyn from coming to their towns, and a mailing list so one can stay up to date as the band travels the country. For those who are undecided about Manson, the site includes a list of "sexually oriented material." Bet that one gets a lot of hits. The site is the creation of selfappointed entertainment watchdogs Gulf Coast American Family Association and Donald Wildmon's American Family Association. Wildmon has risen to national prominence in the past few years by leading consumer boycotts against sponsors of what he perceives as indecent TV shows, including NYPD Blue and Ellen. While the group urges boycotts against just about everything in today's pop culture - MTV, VH1, even BET, they've really gone all-out on their anti-Marilyn site, including more Marilyn info then most fans' Web pages.

• While Marilyn Manson may seem a likely, and even easy target, for Christian fundamentalist groups, DIAL-THE-TRUTH MINISTRIES (www.av1611.org) not only goes after evolutionists, rock music (there's a connection there somewhere) and alcohol, but the venom really gets flowing in its section on Christian Rock, featuring a lengthy article titled "The Dragon's Hot Breath — Unmasking the Awful Truth About 'Christian Rock Music'." The article states, "Rock music cannot be redeemed, sanctified, and made useful for the church. Its roots are evil, its father is the devil himself. Rock's rhythm and beat induce rebellion and anger in the breasts of young people." The commentary wraps with, "If you are a parent, you must take tough but loving measures now to help your teenager withdraw completely from this evil form of music idolatry." And according to this site, that includes all you AMY GRANT fans, too.

• Who do you think started rock & roll? Could it be... SATAN? Forerumer International (www.forerunner.com) includes several anti-music tracks including an historic overview of rock music where it states, "The history of rock and roll was literally written by African-American artists who left the 'light' of the church and gospel music in order to embrace the darker and more mainstream possibilities of this emerging musical style. The article goes on to slam blues legend Robert Johnson, saying, "To understand Johnson's life and legacy, we must first understand that classical satanic thought and activity, whether it's sexual (moral), philosophical, or magical, is essentially a reaction to Judeo-Christian orientations within a particular society." And we always thought it boiled down to, "It's got a beat and I can dance to it."

• Christian Fundamentalists aren't the only ones firing cyber-bullets at rock & roll. Ever since the FBI (www.fbi.gov) tried to decipher the lyrics to "Louie Louie," people have been playing records backwards in hopes of finding secret messages. It all comes together at BACKWARD LYRICS (www.itlabs.umn.edul ~born0019/bl/bl.html), a collection of every backmasking rumor to come down the pike since the 1960's including the famous (The Beatles' "Revolution Number 9" / "Turn Me On Deadman"), to the obscure (Queen's "Another One Bites The Dust" / "Decided To Smoke Marijuana"). Some people just have way too much time on their hands.

• You can't buy the latest CURE CD in any record store. The sampler, consisting of five songs recorded during the group's 1996 world tour, is available only through the band's own Web site at www.the-cure.com. There are only 5,000 copies available, and each CD is numbered and carries the imprint of Fiction Records, the band's U.K. label. The CD is priced at $15.95 and 25 percent of the proceeds are earmarked for the International Red Cross. You can't download the album. Actual delivery

Score One For Hard Copy

The bulk of Michael Jackson's slander lawsuit against the "Hard Copy" tabloid television show and one of its reporters has been dismissed by a judge. The self-proclaimed King of Pop filed a $100 million slander suit in January 1995 against reporter Diane Dimond and "Hard Copy" parent Paramount. MJ also filed suit against radio station KABC-AM and free-lance writer Victor Gutierrez. The lawsuit stems from allegations that Gutierrez told Dimond there was a videotape of Jackson having sexual relations with a 13-year-old boy and that she repeated the comments on KABC talk radio. Dimond reported information that authorities were searching for the tape. "Everybody knew that the cops were out looking for this tape," she said. All defendants but Gutierrez filed for summary judgement and Judge Reginald Dunn released the dismissal May 2nd. Gutierrez refused to reveal the source of the tape and Dunn found him liable to MJ for failing to support the claim of the tape's existence. The judge ruled last year that Gutierrez' information was false, although the writer's attorneys insisted the source was legitimate.

Rock Hall Class Of '97

Stop, look, what's that sound? It's not Neil Young singing "For What It's Worth" with his former Buffalo Springfield bandmates. Buffalo Springfield, along with The Jackson 5, the Bee Gees, Crosby, Stills and Nash, Joni Mitchell, the Young Rascals and George Clinton's Parliament-Funkadelic were inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame May 6th. The induction ceremony was held for the first time in Cleveland, home of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Museum. All five Jacksons, Michael, Jackie, Tito, Jermaine and Marlon, were on hand to acknowledge their honors but disappointed some when they didn't perform. The Jackson brothers said they didn't have enough time to prepare because MJ had just flown into the country and Jackie recently underwent knee surgery. Young, who was honored as a member of Buffalo Springfield, was another disappointment. The rocker boycotted the ceremony saying the night had lost its heart of gold. Young told the Hall of Fame that he was proud to be inducted and treasures the one-time intimacy of the ceremony but criticized the event for turning into a televised VH1 special. Young also thought the $1,250-a-plate cost prohibited some musicians from bringing their families to the event. Young's former Buffalo Springfield bandmates, Richie Furay, Dewey Martin, Bruce Palmer and Stephen Stills, were on hand to celebrate and closed the evening with Tom Petty joining them to sing "For What It's Worth." And it was an extra special night for Stills; he was the first hall of famer to be inducted twice in one ceremony, once as a member of Buffalo Springfield and again with CSN. Also, inductee Joni Mitchell didn't attend the ceremony and her award was accepted by Graham Nash. The one we call Prince inducted Parliament-Funkadelic. During the Bee Gees' induction, Barry Gibb called his group "The enigma with a stigma." And Felix Cavaliere of the Young Rascals encouraged younger musicians to write music that would "reach out and heal." Gospel singer Mahalia Jackson and bluegrass pioneer Bill Monroe were inducted posthumously. King Records founder Sydney Nathan was also an inductee. But not everyone at the ceremony was there to celebrate. Outside the event at the Renaissance Hotel, about 40 members of the local stagehands union picketed to protest the use of non-union labor. "It's a slap in the face to the working men and women of Cleveland," said Tom Holden, president of IATSE Local 27. A spokesperson for (Continued Page 13)

Tillis Tours The Tundra

Movin' On

M.C. Hammer is moving out of his elaborate $12 million dream home that resembles a downsized Las Vegas hotel. Hammer declared Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection in April 1996, claiming $9.6 million in assets and $13.7 million in debts. The extravagant domicile is listed for $6.5 million; that's $5.5 million less than Hammer paid for it. Hammer said he filed Chapter 11 to stop the lawsuits. He also put too many friends on his payroll at $50,000 a year just so they could see what it was like to have money. "I'm [now] watching over my business properly. I had an up-close and personal conversation with God and he spanked me," Hammer said. "I deserved it.".... Courtney Love put her five-bedroom Seattle-area mansion on the market recently for $3 million. Love and Kurt Cobain bought the house three months before he committed suicide there in April 1994. The carriage house in which Cobain killed himself has been removed. Love apparently wants to sell the house because of the countless fans who come to the park next to the mansion to pay homage to Cobain. Seattle real estate agent Bob Bennion said everyone knows the house but the throng of fans is no longer a problem. Love and her daughter, Frances Bean, now live in Los Angeles..... Veteran rocker Al Kooper is leaving Nashville to take a new teaching gig in Boston. The keyboard player is relocating to Beantown where he'll teach songwriting and record production at the prestigious Berklee College of Music.

A Real Life Reason For The Blues

Blues singer/guitarist James Armstrong was expected to be released from a hospital in Sunnyvale, Calif., last week after suffering multiple stab wounds in an attack at his home. An intruder broke into Armstrong's apartment April 28th and attacked him with a knife, according to police reports. The bluesman suffered three major wounds to the chest and back. Before running from the apartment, the attacker threw Armstrong's two-year-old son, James Jr., from a second story balcony. The man then tried an unsuccessful car-jacking down the street and broke into a nearby motel room before police apprehended him. James Jr. was initially listed in critical condition but was released from the hospital May 1st. No motive has been established for the attack. Armstrong was scheduled to begin his first extensive tour of the country May 21st, but that tour has been cancelled. HighTone Records is now accepting donations for the Armstrong family.

W.C. Handy Awards

Luther Allison just keeps adding to his collection of W.C. Handy Awards. The bluesman walked away with three this year including the top honor of blues entertainer of the year. Late harmonica master William Clarke also won three awards: blues instrumentalist — harmonica, contemporary blues album for The Hard Way and blues song of the year for "Fishing Blues." James Cotton was another multiple winner, taking home the male traditional blues artist award and acoustic blues album for Deep in the Blues. Debbie Davies took home the trophy for best female contemporary blues artist while Rory Block won female traditional blues artist honors. Alvin Youngblood Hart won new blues artist while Keb' Mo' took acoustic blues artist of the year.

Court Overturns Fallen Artist's Divorce Deal

The Court of Appeals in Frankfort, Ky., has overturned part of a divorce settlement that required Christian entertainer Michael Warnke to pay his ex-wife and former manager $8,000 a month for life. The court said even though Warnke agreed to the payments, his financial circumstances have changed so much that it would be unfair to require them to continue. According to court documents, Warnke's income fell from $543,293 in 1990 to $9,529 for the first 10 months of 1993. The courts said "adverse publicity" prompted the cancellation of numerous concerts and many businesses stopped selling his books, tapes and other materials. Warnke began his ministry with a 1972 autobiography in which he claimed to have been a satanic priest with a following of 1,500 witches under his control, dealt drugs and had love slaves. A Christian magazine investigated and rebutted many of those claims. After that, Warnke's employer, HOCCK Inc., which was controlled by his ex-wife Rose Hall Warnke, had its charitable status revoked by the IRS.

Between The Dates

AEROSMITH will kick off its tour May 12th in Hamburg, Germany. Steven Tyler, Joe Perry and mates return to North America at the end June. All U.S. dates announced so far are on the East Coast. Teen blues phenom JONNY LANG is opening the U.S. leg of the tour.

• The "NASCAR SPEED OF SOUND TOUR" will hit racetracks in 10 markets between now and November. Mark Chesnutt, the Doobie Brothers and Lee Roy Parnell will present live concert performances at the Start/Finish Line at select NASCAR races throughout the country. The promotion is being sponsored by Kenwood and Circuit City and coordinated by Select Artists

Paula Cole and Matchbox 20 were added to the lineup of the BLOCKBUSTER ROCKFEST '97 June 21st at the new Texas Motor Speedway in Fort Worth. Cole and Matchbox join Bush. Collective Soul, Counting Crows, Jewel, No Doubt and the Wallflowers at what promises to be the largest ticketed rock music event in history.

The Descendents will launch the "CAFFEINE NATION • TOUR" May 6th in Minneapolis. The recently reunited punk pioneers claim the only thing keeping up their inexhaustible energy that propels them from stage to stage is a hungry and ever-expanding fan base - and "lotsa" coffee. The low priced "Caffeine Nation Tour" also features Guttermouth, Less Than Jake and Handsome. The Descendents just came off a month long U.S. tour with Suicide Machines and Shades Apart.

• A private jet carrying RINGO STARR and members of his All Starr entourage had to abort a landing to avoid another plane about to take off from the same runway in San Diego May 4th. Starr's Gulfstream jet circled the airport once and landed without incident in time for his performance at Shelter Island.

"Four dead in O Hi O," echoed across the Kent State University campus May 5th when CROSBY, STILLS & NASH headlined a free show commemorating the 27th anniversary of the shooting deaths of four students during a 1970 campus protest against the Vietnam War. More than 7,000 people gathered on a grassy area near the site of the shootings to mark the memorial. Civil rights attorney Ronald Kuby reminded the crowd that blood sacrificed on the campus helped end the war. In addition to the four killed by Ohio National Guardsmen who had been sent in to quell the campus protest, nine students were wounded on May 4, 1970. Neil Young wrote the song "Ohio" but did not perform the famous tune with his former bandmates. CSN was on its way to Cleveland for induction into the Rock & Roll Hall Of Fame where Young also didn't show up for his induction as part of Buffalo Sprinafield.

• This week's HOT NEW TOURS list features the itinerary for the highly-anticipated "LILITH FAIR" tour. Sarah McLachlan and her top-notch lineup of female artists or female-fronted bands should show the world what women in music are all about. The tour starts July 5th at The Gorge in Washington state and runs through August 20th SUPERTRAMP marks the release of its first studio album in 10 years with a major North American summer tour. The album, Some Things Never Change, is set for a June 3rd release. The band is currently on the road in Europe. The U.S. dates start July 15th at the P.N.C. Bank Arts Center in New Jersey BRYAN ADAMS also starts his summer tour across the Pond, returning to the States August 3rd at the remodeled Concord Pavilion in Northern California..... SEVEN MARY THREE begins its tour May 18th in Pensacola, Fla., and has East Coast dates running through June 23rd La Bouche, Quad City DJs, Jocelyn Enriquez, Robin S., Amber and Crush are part of a tour package dubbed "DANCE ACROSS AMERICA." Hummm. Wasn't it La Bouche that made a point of saying it wasn't a dance band?

• U2 fans are networking in a big way. Copies of "Discotheque," the first single from the Pop album, were floating around the Internet months before it was released, and now that the tour is underway, fans are using the Net to buy & sell tickets, pass photos, sound files, and just plain chat. The Los Angeles Times (www.latimes.com) reported that some of the popular, yet unofficial Web sites include www.illume.com/u2/credits/welcome.html, www.poptour97.com/popfun56.htm and www.inslab.uky.edu./mailing.list/edu. The latter, known as the WORLD WIDE WIRE, is described as "the most accurate historical archive of U2 live concerts."

• Light and Sound Design out of the UK tells Bags and Lams that Steve Winwood is dipping a tentative toe in the touring market with a short run which started April 25 and runs through May 12. This club and small theatre outing is being designed by Martin Nicholas (taking a break from the lengthy Stomp tour.) Winwood is also scheduled at Wembley on July 29..... Lighting designer Alex Reardon is using LSD Icons as well as Molemags, Colormags and Strobes for a variety style show, "Ant and Dec" with a British Isles tour this month..... Brian Hartley returns with KISS and a Light and Sound rig with Icons.... The following tours are also out with Light and Sound Design systems: Jean Michel Jarre, Beck, Man o War, Supertramp, The Who, Korn, Joe Satriani, Bryan Adams, Hank Marvin, and Erasure.

• Michael Jackson is touring Europe with designer Peter Morse and operator Michael Keller using a huge system spread over six trusses. Light and Sound are the main contractors with a system which also incorporates Cyberlights and Intellabeams. Micnael, ever careful to look after family members has put the mother of his Prince on the payroll as a production runner -- just kidding folks; MJ may be weird but not that weird....we think.

• On the "Would you like fries with that?" side of the big pond, LSD U.S. is enjoying a busy first quarter with Tina Turner, U2, and Tracey Lawrence. Also racking up miles are Lorrie Morgan, with LD Laverie Groth and operator Tina Furnish; Stone Temple Pilots with LD Lee Gibson, and silverchair with LD Hugh Tarranto. LSD Nashville was at the Mid-Town Music Festival in Atlanta earlier this month where one of the lads tried to fly without wings... Dan O'Brien is recovering from a broken foot after taking a fall from one of the tech towers but is otherwise doing well. Other technical personnel on the project include Jason "Sarge" Hudgens, Steve Owens, Ian Tucker with Jimmy Lewis rounding up the Georgia boys. Jim Stevens of Special Event Services handled the sound.

• Well, it has taken off like wildfire and now former Wildfire president Richard Greene and Wildfire creative director Kent Mathieu have announced the opening of their new company, UV/FX Scenic Prod. which is specializing in scenic design, art direction and all things UV. Some of their individual recent projects include Dante's Peak the ride and Glow!, the store at Universal Studios Hollywood and Caesars Magical Empire in Las Vegas. Contacts are: 171 Pier Avenue #355, Santa Monica, CA 90405; (310) 392 6817; e-mail: UVFX@earthlink.net. Ya know, UV stuff has come a long way since those black velvet Jimi Hendrix posters from the '70s.

• Don't put away the Rolodex yet, if you're looking for road dogs who have gone MIA we've heard from Mark Miller, a.k.a. Fifi or PhyPhy who is now with Pete's Lights in Chicago. He would love everyone to know he is well --and employed. Pete's Lights: (847) 952 9600, or e-mail him at Phyphy@pipeline.com.

• Vari*Lite is very happy to be gaining an important presence in the old land of the UK television with a plethora of regular and one off appearances. In the world of bag tags and tea bags, (no offense intended) Robin Thorburn is the LD on "Last Chance Lottery," LWT, with operator Bill Peachment; LD Brian Pearce with op Liz Berry and tech Cathy Stewart were on "Confessions" for LWT; LD Martin Kisner is at the BBC with the Wednesday and Saturday draws for the National Lottery, LD John James has a nice size system of 26 VL6's and 10 VL5's for the Maidstone Studio's "Saturday Night Fever" with operator Ian Reith and tech Mark Hinnim. LD John Fyfe is at Studio 1 with "Surprise Surprise," LD Brian Pearce is at the London Studios for the C3 Dimmer debut for "Whatever You Want," and Bernie David used the VL5A for "Tomorrow's World" in March.

• From the "Hi Mom!" files, it was fun watching parts of the load-in of the Tina Turner "Wildest Dreams" tour in Houston on Oprah Winfrey last week... not every road dog can say they have been on Oprah! "And how does that make you feel?"

• Observation Of The Week: Oh, my fellow shell-shocked and road weary comrades, you know we've been on the road too many years when you just don't ask "How are the wife and kids," anymore. It seems the appropriate opener has become, "So, have you used any good lawyers lately?"
