Allen Trades TM For Home Shopping

Paul Allen has reached an agreement with Barry Diller's HSN Inc. to trade his 47.5 percent stake in Ticketmaster for an 11 percent stake in the Home Shopping Network in a deal reported to be worth about $210 million. HSN intends to to buy additional TM shares over time on the open market to increase its ownership to more than 50 percent in order consolidate the two companies for accounting purposes. TM and HSN will continue to operate as independent entities. According to reports, Diller initiated the transaction and is apparently interested in using TM's extensive telephone network to sell products. There is also reportedly some speculation that Diller would use his TV channel to promote entertainment and sell merchandise related to performances handled by TM. After the transaction, which is slated to close in July, Allen is expected to join Home Shopping's board, as is Ticketmaster chief Fred Rosen. This deal is said to be unrelated to TM's current dispute with Microsoft Corp. — an interesting situation for Allen since he sits on the boards of both the Microsoft and TM. TM sued Microsoft last month charging "electronic piracy," saying the software company provided links to TM's Web site without permission and sold advertising based on TM's content.

But Can They Attend The Prom?

The director of the American Family Association of Alabama was up in arms after the Indigo Girls performed a free concert at a Montgomery high school. The duo played the concert to honor Booker T. Washington student Ashley Tiller, winner of the national Scholastic Song Writer Contest sponsored by Epic Records. But it wasn't the occasion that irked American Family's Tom Blackerby; it was the Indigo Girls' sexual orientation. Band mates Emily Sailers and Amy Ray are lesbians, and Blackerby said their appearance at the high school sent the wrong message to the 9th through 12th graders who chose to attend the show. "We're sending the wrong message to our children saying that the homosexual lifestyle is an acceptable lifestyle," he said. There was no mention of homosexuality during the May 12th concert in the school gym. The show was not financed by the school and attendance was voluntary. But that wasn't the point, Blackerby said. "Would you let nude dancers come to your high school and perform for free?" he said. Schools Superintendent John "Pete" Eberhart said the Indigo Girls made no political statements or comments about gender preferences during the show. "They were there as performers," he said, adding that if school officials had chosen who would perform, they might have picked a different group.

HotStar Of The Week 📥

A&M recording artist Jonny Lang combines fire-in-the-belly blues with a fresh new perspective. His major label debut, Lie to Me, seamlessly combines originals with classic blues covers revealing what some call an old soul in the body of a teenager. On first listen, many picture in their minds a 40-year-old black man, but 16-year-old Lang is actually a young champion of the blues.

Lang may be special "for his age" but he told POLLSTAR he is sick and tired of hearing about the fact that he is "only" 16 years old. His debut stage moniker was Kid Jonny Lang but he quickly dropped the "Kid" because he didn't want his age to be the focus. Yet it remains. Lang is continually called a guitar god in the making. However, it is obvious with one listen to his prowess on the axe that the "in the making" part wouldn't be needed if it weren't for his age.

As Lang's phenomenal guitar playing and equally impressive powerhouse voice hit the radio, video and television waves, people across the country are starting to realize what many in the Midwest already know; Lang is the bomb. His hard-hitting delivery coupled with searing guitar and hardy vocals have earned him a tour of Hard Rock Cafes, an opening slot with B.B. King and soon, Lang and his band will support Aerosmith on its upcoming tour.

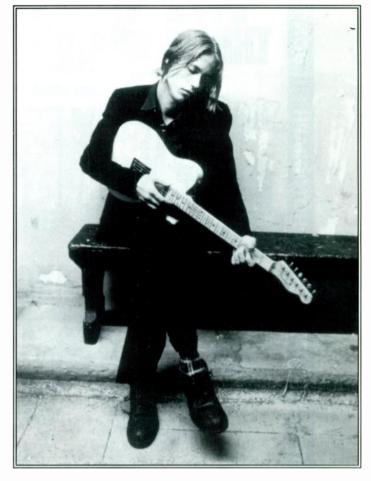

Lang started out playing the guitar as most young boys do, jamming along to his favorite songs. But Lang didn't start with the blues. The first song he learned was a Stone Temple Pilots tune. That was when he was in the sixth grade. But after the then-12year-old went to his first real concert and saw the Bad Medicine Blues Band perform, he was floored by the genre. He was also very impressed by the band's lead guitarist, Ted Larsen. "I was really inspired by the guitar player and started taking lessons from him. And that's pretty much how it all went down.

Lang's decision to play the blues wasn't really one made in the mind. He said playing the blues just felt better. Something clicked right away, Lang said, and he knew that was the type of music he wanted to play.

While other junior high kids were scampering for the latest Pearl Jam CD, the Fargo, N.D., native holed up in his bedroom learning chords and studying the works of America's 12-bar greats to prepare for his next lesson with Larsen. A few months after starting those lessons, Lang joined Larsen's band, Bad Medicine, as the frontman. The group was renamed Kid Jonny Lang & The Big Bang and they became quite popular in the Midwest. The Big Bang still performs, now with a new vocalist, and Larsen sat in on the recording of Lang's A&M debut.

The label is taking a slow-but-steady approach in introducing Lang to mainstream music audiences. That developmental plan seems to be working. The record has gone gold and Lang's concert schedule is already at the hectic stage. Touring is hard work and often exasperating but Lang said he is having a blast.

When asked what type of tours he'd be interested in doing, Lang said it doesn't really matter. He just wants to stand on stage and play. Performing is key for the young musician and as long as he continues to get that opportunity, he'll be grateful. Helping provide those opportunities for Lang is his responsible agent, Garry Buck, at Monterey International.

Lang won't express touring preferences and he won't put down any aspect of his career. "I wouldn't dare complain about anything because so many good things are happening," he said. But he did admit he was looking forward to doing something of the magnitude of the Aerosmith tour. "It's just the opportunity to do something with those guys. It's really cool." When asked what other artists he'd like to tour with, the soft-spoken Lang simply said, anybody. "There's so many to pick from," he said. "Oh jeez. Eric Clapton. Sting." If things proceed as they have, the young guitarist may just get the chance to do whatever he wants.

One of the biggest highlights of Lang's touring career was getting to play with Buddy Guy. Lang said he isn't treated as some young upstart by established musicians. Rather, he gets great vibes from old school blues guys - and great advice. The best advice he's ever received is to just "keep on keepin' on."

If there's one thing Lang does complain about, it's having to spend his days waiting to perform. When asked what he does while waiting, Lang said in an almost Bevis and Butthead tone, "Like, I sit in hotel rooms." Another thing that seems to bother him is being treated special because of his celebrity. A recent "teen-sensation" photo shoot for Seventeen magazine was embarrassing for Lang. "I mean, if I wasn't a musician, it wouldn't have been embarrassing. It was really fun and everything but it was just like ... I don't know ... I don't want to be a commercial," he said. "I'm not going to be doing that stuff anymore."

Lang is managed by James Klein and Miki Mulvehill of Blue Sky Artist Management. And his father, Jon Langseth, travels to all the gigs, lending a hand to Klein and Mulvehill. *

when she was working as an exotic dancer. The two dated for about a month when Minor tried to end the relationship, Stone said. McClure, who had been scheduled to go to trial last week, will be required to serve at least 85 percent of her sentence and will have to pay the $10,000 fine. Sentencing is set for June 3rd in Santa Monica Superior Court.

Summer Of Love

Bill Graham Presents recently copyrighted the phrase "Summer of Love," causing some to question the promoter's intent. This summer marks the 30th anniversary of the historic hippie-filled summer of '67 in San Francisco when the Haight-Ashbury area became the mecca for free-spirited youth. BGP's purpose in licensing the seasonal moniker was to keep the phrase associated with the San Francisco Bay Area and protect it from abuse. BGP's move was initially criticized by Chet Helms who is planning a 30th "Summer of Love" anniversary concert in October. Helms apparently feared the copyright would translate into crass commercialism. During the summer of '67, Helms and Bill Graham were both promoting shows in the Bay Area and they were said to be the antithesis of each other. "Bill was the commercial promoter, Chet was the groovy guy - he was part of the times," BGP's Jerry Pompili said. Pompili told POLLSTAR there isn't really a feud between Helms and BGP. Pompili said Helms was rankled at first but they are not going to war over this. It's like you've been grilling hamburgers all of your life and you're angry at McDonalds, Pompili said of the situation. Pompili told Helms that for $1, BGP would license "Summer of Love" for his October concert at Golden Gate Park. "And I'll give him the dollar," Pompili said. The BGP VP joked that the situation is being blown out of proportion. "I'm trying to lock down the other four seasons as we speak," he said laughing. Pompili said for a nominal fee, BGP will grant a license to anyone in the Bay Area who has traditionally used the name. Helms, however, said he still may try to get possession of the name through a reconstituted nonprofit committee but for now he is concerned with his concert.

Blackbyrd Sings To The Tune Of Thousands

The lead singer for The Blackbyrds in the '70s, Barney Perry, was awarded back royalties in a lawsuit against Donald Byrd and his Blackbyrd Music publishing company. Perry claimed that as songwriter of The Blackbyrds' R&B hit "Walking in Rhythm," he was entitled to millions of dollars in back royalties that had not been paid to him. But New York's statute of limitations prevented Perry from going back in time further than 1986. A New York Supreme Court judge awarded him $36,961 for that time period and no punitive damages. Attorney Wallace Collins called the decision a great victory for songwriters everywhere. Byrd attorney Leslie Myrow told POLLSTAR, "We're satisfied with the decision."

Mankato Makes Good

With one big KISS, the Mankato Civic Center in Minnesota proved that secondary markets can produce primary market grosses. The sold-out KISS concert there April 25th set records for the highest grossing, highest attended and highest per capita concert in the center's history. Reveling in their success (L-R) are the venue's Jeff Dahnert, Rose Presents' Gene Hollister, KISS tour manager Paco Zimmer, Rose Presents' Derek Thompson, Rose Presents' Randy Levy, and venue director Carl St. Clair.

Reggae Gets Hard Time In Hardwick

Some residents of Hardwick, Vt., are hoping a reggae festival won't be back this year. Farmer Karen Shaw wrote a letter to Major Robert Vallie of the Vermont State Police saying traffic caused gridlock in the town when the Vermont Reggae Festival came to Hardwick in 1995. "It took more than four hours to get from one side of town to the other," wrote Shaw, who owns land next to the proposed festival site. "Our milk truck sat in this traffic in the broiling sun while the milk spoiled. Emergency vehicles could not get through and the air quality was what one might expect in New York City." Hardwick police estimated that 50,000 people attended that 1995 festival. But Vermont Reggae Festival spokeswoman Susan De Leon told POLLSTAR it was more like 15,000 to 18,000. "We collected money from each car. Unless someone made off with millions of dollars, there's no way 50,000 people were there," she said. The Committee for the Vermont Reggae Festival is currently seeking permits to hold the event in Hardwick once again on July 19th. This is the festival's 12th year and De Leon said there is always a neighbor that doesn't want it in their backyard. The attitude is, "It's a great thing for the state. It's a great thing for the town. Just don't do it next door to me," De Leon said. In Shaw's letter to Vallie, who issues the public assembly permit, she said security and crowd control for the 1995 event were insufficient. Farm land was strewn with beer cans and garbage everywhere, she said. "These people exhibit no respect for anything. They chose to cool off by swimming in the town reservoir," Shaw said. While some neighbors don't like the idea of the festival, De Leon said many service organizations welcome it because it gives them a way to raise money for their town. She doesn't expect complaints from neighbors to affect the decision of authorities to issue the proper permits. "Somehow, [the festival] always happens in spite of anything anyone says," De Leon said. "[But] if by some oddball chance it doesn't work, we'll just do it somewhere else." Pending permit approval, acts including the Mad Professor and Macka B. are confirmed to play the festival, with more to be announced.

ZZ Opens House

ZZ Top was one of an eclectic mix of artists who helped to kick off the House Of Blues-Myrtle Beach's grand opening. Others who played the grand opening month include The Wallflowers, Erykah Badu, Collective Soul, Keith Sweat, Dr. John, KoKo Taylor, The Doobie Brothers and Buckwheat Zydeco. Short Items Of Note Shenandoah singer Marty Raybon will part with the band at the end of this year. After that, drummer Mike McGuire and guitarist Jim Seales, both founding members of the 10-year-old country band, plan to seek a new singer for Shenandoah. They will also seek a new recording contract since they ended their three-year association with Capitol Nashville earlier this year. Raybon and his brother, Tim, will record for MCA Records as The Raybon Brothers. Shenandoah is currently on tour with dates through October...... EMI Music and David Bowie have struck a 15-year worldwide licensing agreement for the artist's back catalog. The deal could pay Bowie as much as $2 million per year. The arrangement is linked to Bowie's issuing of a 10year, $55 million bond against his royalty earnings earlier this year. After the 15-year term of the EMI deal, ownership of the master tapes reverts back to Bowie..... A new, state-of-the-art hall, the Vanderbilt, will open June 6th in Plainview, N.Y. Metropolitan Entertainment will operate as exclusive concert producer for the 1,700- to 2,500-capacity Long Island venue.

Farrakhan Hosts Rap Summit

Nation of Islam leader Louis Farrakhan, some prominent rap artists, representatives of the music industry and clergy members met in Chicago May 14th for what Farrakhan termed the Second National Hip-Hop and Rap Summit. The meeting was called in order to form a plan to end the East Coast - West Coast rap rivalry which many suspect played a role in the murders of Tupac Shakur and the Notorious B.I.G. Among those attending the meeting were Ice Cube, Doug E. Fresh and members of Boo-Yaa T.R.I.B.E. During a post-summit press conference, Farrakhan said a number of artists will release a "Hip Hop & Rap Peace" compilation album in October and that he still hopes to coordinate a National Peace Tour to begin sometime this fall.

Time Warner Gets Another Critical Rapping

Rap critic C. DeLores Tucker was back in Time Warner Chairman Gerald Levin's face during the media conglomerate's annual meeting May 15th at the Apollo Theatre in Harlem. "Shame, shame, shame on our Time Warner family," said Tucker, who is a Time Warner shareholder. She quoted some explicit lyrics from Warner Bros. artist Lil' Kim to underscore her assessment of "gangsta porno rap." Tucker told Levin Lil' Kim's music "explicitly teaches young girls to be whores." She also cited Junior M.A.F.I.A., Ol' Dirty Bastard and Busta Rhymes as rappers who promote violence, particularly in the black community. Levin countered by saying Time Warner is committed to balancing "artistic integrity and freedom with social consciousness." He added that Quincy Jones, whose Qwest Records is distributed by Warner Music Group, is working with the company's new artists to "help them understand the impact of their music." Tucker's harsh words were in sharp contrast to Levin's upbeat address which promised the company's stock would see "superior returns" in the future to offset the "inadequate returns" it has experienced since the 1989 merger of Time Inc. and Warner Communications. Time Warner's stock has undergone a recent surge sparked by strong operating performance and investor discontent with other media companies. Levin recently endorsed a system which will make all Time Warner directors stand for reelection annually, a move intended (Continued Page 9)

- It's no secret that DRUG REFERENCES have, at times, slipped into pop music lyrics. Now there's a one-stop reference point on the Web for all your lyrical substance abuse needs. The Indiana Prevention Resource Center at Indiana University (www.drugs.indiana.edu/prevention/ music.html) lists songs going back to Benny Goodman's 1933 recording "Texas Tea Party" to 1993 and Cypress Hill's "I Wanna Get High." Titled Society's Mixed Messages, and adapted from a paper presented at the 1995 PRIDE World Drug Conference, the site includes a chart listing the songs, performers and the drugs referred to. While entries may seem to be stating the obvious — after all, Merle Haggard's "Okie From Muskogee" does mention marijuana - we were surprised to see Sammy Davis' "Candyman" listed as well as The Beatles "Hey Jude" and Kenny Roger's "The Gambler." To their credit, the site flags those songs as an "indirect reference' either not confirmed or actively disputed by lyricist but often cited by listeners." Our favorite entry was for The Doors "Light My Fire," where the chart lists the drug referred to as "unspecified." In other words, we know it's about drugs, but we don't know which drugs.
- The official LOLLAPALOOZA Web site (Iollapalooza.com) has been redone for this year's tour. You have your choice of views, Stage 1 which requires Java and Shockwave enabled browsers and Stage 2 for the plugin-challenged crowd. Either selection will give you the scoop on this year's alternative music festival. Features include CLUB LOLLA, which includes prizes, and once the tour starts, chats with the bands. EXTRACT gives you the chance to vote for the "Lollapalooza Band Of The Year," plus sound files, and keeping with the Internet tradition, opportunities to say whatever's on your mind. Other features include artwork and even a Spanish lesson from Perry Farrell.
- THE TRAGICALLY HIP and N2K Entertainment teamed up to market the new Hip album, Live Between Us, before it's world wide release. Fans could pre-order the new album either on N2K's Music Boulevard site (www.musicblvd.com) or through an 800 number. Once ordered, the album is shipped in time to arrive by the general release date of May 27th. The band is also planning to cybercast from its upcoming Another Roadside Attraction tour set for this summer.
- Jupiter Communications (www.jup.com) is joining again with the Intel New York Music Festival to present PLUG.IN '97; The New Music Meets New Technology Conference and Expo. It takes place at New York's Marriott World Trade Center on July 16 & 17th and will bring together some of the biggest execs in the biz including MTV's CEO Tom Freson, and Ticketmaster's CEO Fred Rosen. Can't help but wonder if any legal matters will be discussed. Late last year MTV told the major online subscription services that they would have to pay for the privilege of letting their customers connect to the music channel's Web site (www.mtv.com). And it was just a couple of weeks ago that Ticketmaster announced its lawsuit against Microsoft for the latter providing links to the ticket service's Web site.
- Speaking of which: MICROSOFT'S SIDEWALK (www.sidewalk.com) has removed the links to Ticketmaster (www.ticketmaster.com), and replaced them with links to search engines that will provide the Ticketmaster URL. "They [Ticketmaster] had blocked our links about a week ago," said Gayle Troberman, marketing manager of Sidewalk. "They have slammed the door in the face of customers who are looking at Sidewalk content, finding events that they are interested in, and trying to go there to buy tickets. We're going to do what we can to keep that door open and give customers access and link them to Ticketmaster if they want to buy tickets." Adds Troberman, "This just points out how ridiculous this is. Is Ticketmaster going to start blocking links from all the major search engines?" Troberman also said that Ticketmaster is still proceeding with the lawsuit. "We're going to fight this aggressively because the implications for the future of the Internet are pretty serious. If one company can start forcing people to have pay for the right to link to what is public information and available free on the Web, the implications are fairly

Three tough and savvy outside directors recently joined the Time Warner board: Hilton Hotels CEO Stephen Bollenbach, Bank of New York CEO J. Carter Bacot, and UAL CEO Gerald Greenwald. Legal Griefs

College-touring comedian Vinson Champ has now been charged in a third rape case. The suspected serial rapist was charged May 15th with first-degree kidnapping, second-degree sexual assault and first-degree robbery. Those charges stemmed from a February attack on a 24-year-old woman in a computer lab at St. Ambrose University in Davenport, Iowa. Champ is also being investigated in several other rape and attempted rape cases in the Midwest. He's already been charged with raping a former teacher at the University of Nebraska at Omaha and with the attempted rape of a student at Pasadena City College in California. Last week, a judge in Omaha deemed Champ a flight risk and set his bond at $1 million. A June 9th preliminary hearing has been scheduled Martin Lawrence pleaded innocent to a misdemeanor battery charge May 19th. Lawrence was arrested in March at The Gate nightclub in Los Angeles for allegedly punching a man after the two bumped into each other on the dance floor. A hearing has been scheduled for June 30th. If convicted, Lawrence faces up to six months in jail and a $2,000 fine..... The Spin Doctors reached a confidential settlement last week with the Miller Brewing Co., one day after a jury found Miller liable for copyright infringment. The group claimed a Miller Lite Ice beer television commercial ripped off the band's hit "Two Princes" without permission. Miller contended the commercial used a common musical composition. After seeing the settlement documents in court, the band members smiled and shook hands enthusiastically. Their lawyer, Joseph Schleimer, said he had intended to ask the jury to award $11.5 million in damages...... Musician Rick Danko is being held in Tokyo on suspicion of heroin possession. Bassist and vocalist for The Band, Danko had just finished a solo tour in Japan when he was detained at a Tokyo airport by customs officials, manager Butch Dener said. He was taken into custody when he went to the airport to pick up a package that Japanese officials say contained heroin. Dener was unsure when Danko would be charged or released. He said The Band has continued its current tour with substitute bassist Mike Dunn.

Offended By A Keen Song

Robert Earl Keen is helping to keep a Tampa, Fla., public radio station on the air after a local politician persuaded the state to pull its funding. Apparently, Florida State Senator John Grant was so offended when he heard Keen's song "Undone" on WMNF, he set out to strip the station of its livelihood. Grant reportedly was already gunning for WMNF because it is one of two National Public Radio outlets in Tampa and as far as the tight-fisted senator is concerned, one is enough. Keen's song may have been the ammunition he was looking for. "Undone," a ballad about a man on the edge of a breakdown, includes the lines, "Broke down trucks, welfare checks / Child support and back-seat sex... The sonovabitch the dirty little whore / The butcher the baker the grocery store." Because of that and other programming that Grant didn't approve of, he persuaded the state legislature to divert funding from WMNF, which totals $103,825, to the University of South Florida Business School. But the community saved the day when the station ran an emergency pledge drive and raised more than $122,000. Keen also made a personal donation to the station and planned an in-store appearance at a local music store May 23rd where he was to have raffled off one of his guitars to benefit WMNF.

Hootie & The Lawsuit

A New York judge has allowed Hootie & the Blowfish former manager Henry Neuman to proceed with a lawsuit seeking $150 million from the band. Hootie signed a management contract with Neuman that called for him to receive 15 percent of gross revenues for three years beginning September 13, 1991. In July 1994, the band released the album Cracked Rear View for Atlantic Records. That album ended up selling more than 14 million copies and, of course, Neuman demanded his share of the proceeds. At a meeting with the band's lawyer and current manager, Rusty Harmon, in February 1995, Neuman alleges he was pressured into signing a "mutual release" after getting verbal assurances he would receive his commissions and a position at Fishco Inc., Hootie's management company. In addition to this lawsuit. Neuman has filed a demand for arbitration with the American Arbitration Association. There is an effort by the band in New York state Supreme Court to block the arbitration, as well as a separate lawsuit in seeking judgment against Neuman.

Agreed, Approved And Banned

The Atlanta City Council has voted to ban the sale of complimentary tickets to concerts and sporting events. The vote was prompted by published reports that some members of the governing body were selling or trading their free tickets for profit. A proposal to ban complimentary tickets all together failed when it received only seven of the 10 votes needed. But the council did vote 14-2 to prohibit the sale or exchange of free tickets. The council also voted to require officials and employees to file a monthly report disclosing the tickets they receive and what they do with them..... The National Licensed Beverage Association has reached an agreement with the three major performing rights organizations on a new fee system. According to wire service reports, ASCAP, BMI and SESAC have agreed with the beverage group on a fee system based on the size of the establishment. For years, copyright holders have contended that bars and restaurants use their music without paying for the rights. The establishments, however, complained that paying for every song played over a PA or by a live band could be the death knell for many small businesses. agreement was reached after a year of negotiations between the performing rights organizations and the NLBA, which represents 16,000 bars, restaurants and other establishments that sell liquor. The new system is expected to simplify the calculation process and the NLBA will collect on behalf of the organizations, which means copyright holders will reap significant savings on administration..... The House has approved a measure that would allow alcohol to be sold during performances at Bessie Smith Hall in Chattanooga, Tenn. Until now, the blues and cabaret facility has had to apply for a special permit any time it wanted to sell booze at functions. And the state limits those permits to 12 per year. Facility board members said such regulations hindered their efforts to bring in major blues and jazz acts. On the other hand, lawmakers like Rep. Bobby Wood said the measure sheds a dim light on the person for which the hall is named. "[Bessie Smith] drank to ease her pain and it destroyed her career and her life. I find it ironic that the same enemy is now stalking her memory."

A Shed On The Range

Mannheim Steamroller mastermind and Gramaphone Records chief Chip Davis would like to build an amphitheatre off Interstate 80 between Omaha and Lincoln, Neb. Davis has acquired the option to purchase a 180-acre rock quarry site containing a cliff and a waterfall. According to one of Davis' business associates, the amphitheatre could accommodate up to 22,000 people with permanent and lawn seating. Terry Forsberg, the former manager of Omaha's City Auditorium who now works with Davis, said the shed is in the early stages of development and that Davis has instructed his production and staging staff to come up with ideas for the facility. Davis himself was not available for comment. Forsberg said Davis wants to make sure the amphitheatre won't have a negative impact on its surroundings. Davis plans to meet with nearby farmers to discuss noise, traffic and other issues, Forsberg said.

More Trials & Tribulations For MJ

The family of a Brazilian teenager has filed a lawsuit against Michael Jackson in a Sao Paulo court over a car accident that happened four years ago, Globo television reported. Marcio de Paula, 16, claims he was run over by a van that was carrying MJ in October 1993 when the superstar and his entourage were fleeing a crowd of children outside a toy factory in Brazil. MJ denies being in the van. He said he visited de Paula in the hospital at the family's request. The boy broke a thighbone, underwent three operations and now has one leg that is shorter than the other, Globo reported. In 1994, the de Paulas filed a $20 million suit against MJ in New York, saying the superstar had promised financial help after the accident but gave only a toy car set. According to Globo, negotiations between the de Paula family and MJ broke down after the family asked for $1.3 million to settle. The current suit asks for $9.6 million. In other MJ troubles, a woman who claims to have had four children by the King of Pop and has portrayed herself as his wife allegedly forced her way into MJ's mansion at Neverland ranch and punched a housekeeper, the Sheriff's Department said. This was the eighth time Lavon Muhammed, aka Billy Jean Jackson, has been arrested at Neverland. She had just been released from jail three days earlier. This time, she was arrested for investigation of battery, trespassing and probation and court order violations, police said. At press time, she was being held in county jail without bail. And as for MJ's real wife, she is reportedly living apart from MJ and 3-month-old son Prince Michael Jackson Jr., who are said to be living in France. People magazine reported that Debbie Rowe has returned to her job working for a Beverly Hills dermatologist. She is also apparently living in the same Van Nuys apartment she had before marrying MJ and having his child. Rowe has been flying to France, where MJ bought an estate, every other weekend to visit, People said.

- O WEMBLEY STADIUM is counting down to its first open air concert this year as the FA Cup Final on May 17 marked the end of the football season. The cup final was a particularly happy day for Charlie Shun, stadium sales manager and ardent supporter of the winning team, Chelsea. It was also a great day for the two sides of stadium business to come together, with the VIP list including a full range of agents and promoters, such as Andy Woolliscroft and Peter Elliot (Primary), Geoff Meall and Paul Buck (The Agency), Ian Huffam (FWWT), Rob Hallett (Marshall Arts), Alan Broach (Tribute), Tim Parsons (MCP), Bob Angus (Metropolis). The total number of music events on sale at the Stadium this summer is seven, which is down on last year. However, for a summer lacking in major headlining tours, it is not an uncomfortable figure. Business is good overall and in terms of ticket-buying trends, the reserved seating for all shows seems to be selling much faster than the general admission tickets, according to Charlie Shun. With the number of seated events at Wembley increasing over the past years — following the successes of Rod Stewart in the round, the Three Tenors and The Eagles in the seated format -Shun says it could be an indication of changing audience requirements. One of the hottest tickets at the stadium this year is the multiple artist bill "Carlsberg Songs and Visions Concert" on August 16, promoted by Tribute Management. The first concert of the summer is the "Champion of the World" Christian event on June 18, which is expected to draw around 60,000 people. Michael Jackson has three shows on sale, all of which are expected to sell out, with U2 closing the season with two shows, but still trying to fill seats on the second date.
- After the SPICE GIRLS, the next most-speculated-on tour has to be the ROLLING STONES. The Stones are likely to be back on the road later this year. The news is filtering in from venues, with pencils poised to save open air dates for next summer and promoters who are waiting for details of the routing. However, official questions to official sources at Solo have resulted in a staunch, but hardly surprising, "no comment." European promoters are also waiting for news on the "OZZFEST," which could make it to these shores at the end of the summer.
- COUNTING CROWS have joined the list of confirmed tours for the autumn/winter season, with six UK dates on sale, promoted by MCP. And Jeff Hanlon has announced GARY GLITTER's annual Christmas tour.
- O Promoters, bands and agents alike may complain about microaudiences at the bottom end of the club circuit, but one relatively untapped area of the touring market is the schools network. Steve Andrews of SCHOOL TOURING, working with the Leighton-Pope Organisation is planning to change all that. Playing live at schools is a promotional avenue that record companies have gone down before with new boy bands. The recipe is simple — a teen band can tap straight into its target audience, build up a loyal fanbase, which will follow it up to the next level of touring, and buy its records. Andrews says that no one has tried to coordinate this level of touring before and build up a network of schools that welcome live bands on a regular basis. And he argues that not only boy-bands will benefit. Schools Touring recently set up a tour for Mantaray which ran alongside their evening club gigs. As Andrews points out, school audiences are made up of indie-fans as well as girls looking for their next pinup. The tour doubled the band's exposure and generated far more local press than just another pub date would have done. "It's a win-win situation," said Andrews. The school gets the bands for nothing, the kids see the bands for nothing and the record company gets a database." CARL LEIGHTON-POPE said, "it's the most exciting and innovative way to break a band I've heard of for a long time. Everyone always asks the same question: how to get gigs for new bands when no major agencies will sign an act, and here is the answer."

Germany

• The German concert industry seems to be a scandal-magnet at the moment, with PETER SCHWENKOW of Concert Concept in Berlin being the latest promoter to fall under the media spotlight. Schwenkow has denied allegations in the Suddeutsche Zeitung, one of Germany's most respected daily newspapers, which accused him of over-selling a BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN show at the Waldbuhne in 1988. Schwenkow acted as local promoter for the show on July 22 of that year and the story alleges that an additional 2,000 tickets were printed on top of the official capacity of 24,600. The report states there was no evidence of additional sales being reported or of spare tickets being returned. Reacting to the story, Schwenkow told POLLSTAR, "The allegations in the Suddeutsche Zeitung are entirely unfounded... I immediately involved my lawyers." The newspaper subsequently printed Schenkow's statement which read: "The claim is incorrect. The entrance tickets were printed on behalf of and for the account of the company, Mama Concerts, which organised the concert. I have no share in this company nor was I in any way involved in the printing orders. It is also claimed that the member of staff responsible in the Senat Administration for Youth and Sports had not been able to find any evidence in his carefully filed away documents that unsold tickets were returned to the Senat Administration after the concert. This is also incorrect. The person concerned read out a letter dated 29 July 1988 from the Senat Administration in which that administration confirmed that following examination, unsold tickets were no longer required there and they could be destroyed." The story has sent shock waves through the promoter community as Schwenkow is a much respected figure. While the German promoters have traditionally been better known for highpowered bidding wars and little love lost among their ranks, this is seen as yet another blow to the reputation of the business overall. It seems that with MARCEL AVRAM in prison, the German press sees the industry as fair game and is desperate to dig up whatever historic misdeeds it can.

Care For Some Popkomm?

The folks from Popkomm were out in force at London Music Week earlier this month. On hand to expound upon the virtues of the annual German confab are (L-R) Ralph Plaschke, Claudia Gennat and Heike Rybienski. This year's Popkomm will be held August 14-17.

- The German festival season opened with ROCK AM RING and ROCK IM PARK drawing a total of 110,000 people over the May 16-18 weekend. It was the first time Rock Im Park took place at Nuremberg and festival promoter Marek Lieberberg Konzertagentur was happy with the way the new venue worked. The improved facilities at both sites, from the campsites to additional entertainment areas, were also very well received. The acts who made the biggest impact over the weekend were headliners Aerosmith, the Fugees and Supertramp, with Bush getting the opportunity to play to one of their biggest European audiences to date. In the Alternatent, this year saw breakthroughs from Nada Surf, dEUS, Tracey Bonham and Dodgy.
- O HORST LIPPMANN, one of the founding fathers of the German promoting industry has died, aged 70. Lippmann & Rau, founded together with Fritz Rau was one of the forerunners of the concert business from 1963 until Rau merged with Mama Concerts in 1987. Although Lipmann was not involved in the concert business over the past decade, he remained active in the recording industry. He was also much respected in this area since co-producing the first Eric Clapton record in 1963.

Austria

Diana Ross played to 15,000 skiers in Ischgl on May Day as part of the resort's Spring Snow Festival on May Day. The little ski town is no stranger to international superstars performing on its slopes, as Tina Turner and Elton John have played there the previous two years of the festival, which is produced by Andrew Zweck (standing behind Ross) at Sensible Events. Ms. Ross played a 90 minute set and then hopped on a plane to hook up with a Concorde flight and was back in New York for dinner

Holland

• The 12th annual NOORDERS_AG meeting has been set for January 9-10, 1998. Organised by Conamus, the Dutch music industry foundation, the weekend includes a festival of Dutch talent at the Oosterpoort venue in Groningen, plus a Europe-wide artist showcase and a day's seminar on the national music business. For more information: peter.smidt@conamus.nl.

Norway

• Norwegian promoters are mourning the loss of the one of Oslo's best-known clubs. The SENTRUM SCENE, which at 1,600 capacity was the biggest club in the city, closed after Easter and no one has come up with a replacement yet. The venue changed hands last year and while the new owners remain apparently undecided about its future use, it is unlikely it will reopen as a music club. It's a double blow for the local scene as the 250-capacity Cruise Cafe closed in February. Fortunately, with the summer festival season upon us, the Norwegian club circuit takes a natural break, and promoters are hopeful that over the next six months, someone will finalise plans for a new club in Oslo.

Switzerland

- Artists confirmed for the OUT IN THE GREEN festival (July 11-13) include Kula Shaker, Sheryl Crow, Tic Tac Toe, Massive Attack, Jovanotti, Sting, Moloko, Blues Traveler, Faith No More, Steve Winwood, Jamiroquai, Die Toten Hosen, Spearhead, David Bowie, Prodigy, Reef, Echo & The Bunnymen, and The Bootleg Beatles. It's the first year the festival will be promoted by Good News Productions.
- The PALEO NYON FESTIVAL (July 22-27) has added the last few artists to its bill. The final names are Isaac Hayes, Audioweb, Babybird, Dirty Beatniks, Hoover and Litfiba. Tickets are selling well so far with the most popular days being July 23 with Noir Desir, Midnight Oil and Sinead O'Connor headlining and July 25, with French crooner Eddy Mitchell and Texas headlining.

Italy

• The plagiarism case against MICHAEL JACKSON is set to continue in October. Jackson is on trial for allegedly plagiarising a song by Italian singer-songwriter Al Bano and had appeared in court in Rome earlier this year. The song in question is "Will you be there" from the 1991 "Dangerous" album, which Al Bano alleges is plagiarised from his "I Cigni de Balaka". However, Jackson's earlier testimony that he sang the song in question at a 1994 concert in Rome appears to have returned to haunt him. The judge has now allowed Al Bano to join the case as a civil plaintiff because Jackson admitted this performance, and record company officials will now be called in as witnesses for the trial. The next session in the case is scheduled for October 16.

• ZUCCHERO, one of Italy's most successful international talents is back on the road around Europe this month, continuing a touring schedule that hasn't really stopped since he started three years ago. Zucchero's agent Phil Banfield at MPI said, "The tour has just carried on... if he hasn't been to a country, he will play there even if it loses money and will then do extra shows in Italy to pay for it." Zucchero's Greatest Hits album has now sold in the region of 3 million units in Europe.

Cyprus

• Greek Cypriot demonstrators in Nicosia smashed windows, wrecked police cars and lit bonfires to protest a UNITY CONCERT meant to promote reconciliation between Greek Cypriots and Turkish Cypriots. At least 39 people were hurt in clashes with police during the May 19 rioting. More than 200 demonstrators spilled into the streets after police used tear gas and clubs to push them back from the concert site. The concert, sponsored by the United Nations and the United States, was the first event to bring together young people from the two sides since the island's unofficial partition in 1974. The concert featured Greek performer Sakis Rouvas and Turkish pop star Burat Kut. The 4,000 teenagers attending the concert paid little mind to the protesters, choosing to sing and dance together instead in an unusual display of harmony.

- MIDNIGHT OIL took time out from a world tour on May 13 to sit for an hour in a traffic jam in Sao Paulo, Brazil. They were wearing surgical masks to filter the smog. The five musicians sat in arm chairs and sofas part of a makeshift living room set up by Greenpeace in the middle of a downtown thoroughfare to protest Sao Paulo's poor air quality. "The car is the biggest enemy of planet Earth," said Peter Garrett. "London and Milan have already adopted restrictions on car use and Sao Paulo, with traffic equal to that of Los Angeles, should do the same thing." Greenpeace urged officials of South America's largest city to adopt a rotation system to limit traffic on Sao Paulo streets until cars can be brought into line with acceptable emission standards.
- Aspirant music promoter CORE MUSIC GROUP has lost the services of Paul Christie who has taken a job in the film industry according to Core principal Warwick Hastie.

Between The Dates

- During MOTLEY CRUE's upcoming "Live Swine" outing, the band will perform its new album, Generation Swine, in its entirety and after the concerts, hang around on stage for a question and answer session with fans. The "Live Swine" tour was inspired by the band's interaction with fans on the Internet. The reunited Crue, Tommy Lee, Mick Mars, Vince Neil and Nikki Sixx, personally field e-mails from fans around the world so they designed the "Live Swine" listening events as an extension of that communication. It will also give the band a chance to pump up interest for the June 24th release of Generation Swine. "Live Swine" kicks off June 10th at the Mayan in Los Angeles and wraps up June 23rd at Roseland in New York City. The band plans to do a "conventional" tour shortly after "Live Swine."
- U2 took a break from its "PopMart" tour last week to shutdown a major downtown freeway interchange in Kansas City, Mo. The band hung around in K.C. after its May 19th concert to shoot scenes for an upcoming video with the city skyline as a background. The American Automobile Association criticized the "stupidity" of the Kansas City Police Department for allowing the freeway's closure, according to reports. The city manager's office fielded around 50 complaint calls but ten times that many spectators and the mayor were thrilled to see U2 in action. Mayor Emanuel Cleaver said he hadn't heard of U2 "though I now know they're one of the most popular bands on the planet." Cleaver hoped the video shoot would boost both the local economy and the city's growing film industry.
- This summer's "LILITH FAIR" tour features a top-notch lineup of female artists and female-fronted bands on both the main and second stages. Some of the second stage acts that were announced last week are quite well-known while others come from the fringe of the contemporary music scene. Among the cast of characters booked for the second stage are Leah Andreone, Cassandra Wilson, Tara MacLean, Wild Colonials, Victoria Williams, Holly Cole and Juliana Hatfield. Other womanly artists on the second stage are Mudgirl, September 67, Autour De Lucie, Abra Moore, Kelly Willis, Madeleine Peyroux, Yungchen Llamo, Mary Jane Lamond and Wild Strawberries.
- GARTH BROOKS will be returning home for a series of concerts this summer. Brooks will do a show July 4th in Oklahoma City, which is adjacent to the town of Yukon, where Brooks grew up. He is also scheduled to play Tulsa, where he was born, July 18th at Drillers Stadium. If those shows sell out, it is likely Brooks will add a few more dates to accommodate all the hometown fans.
- Summerfest announced the headliners scheduled to perform on four stages during "THE 30TH BIG GIG" June 26th through July 6th in Milwaukee. The 30th anniversary concert will feature a diverse selection of artists including Chaka Khan, Joe Walsh, Lyle Lovett, Joe Diffie, Cheap Trick, Widespread Panic, Huey Lewis & the News, the Neville Brothers, Los Lobos, The Tubes, REO Speedwagon, Big Head Todd & The Monsters, Sonia Dada, The Jayhawks, Poi Dog Pondering, Black 47, Bobby Blue Bland, Robin Trower, John Mayall and The Bluesbreakers and others.
- Our favorite martian, aka JOHN TESH, had World Wrestling Federation superstar HILLBILLY JIM open his concert at Fraze Pavilion in Kettering, Ohio, last week. Tesh is apparently a huge fan of WWF and the "WrestleMania Revenge Tour" was in the area, so it was what? A no-brainer?
- BARRY MANILOW's heart was in the right place when he decided to hold a benefit concert at the Fargodome, but the ticket price wasn't. The $40.25 ticket price was reduced to $10 the week before the concert. The Fargodome can comfortably handle 9,000 and pack in up to 12,000 if needed. But Manilow's 1994 concert there only drew 4,605 fans. And only about 5,000 tickets to the benefit had been sold the weekend previous to the May 21st flood relief benefit.
- The FESTIVAL AT SANDPOINT will feature many familiar names and a scaled-back lineup of symphonic music. The concert

- O The reverting of Hong Kong to Chinese rule after 150 years of British governing promises to be one of the most pageant filled events of the 20th Century. Most of the bowing out ceremony will take place on the harbors' edge set upon a huge 30-meter wide open air stage backed by the Royal Yacht Britannia and flanked by giant video screens. Set designer Paul Staple, along with Caribiner Asia Ltd., approached Edwin Shirley Stages to provide not only the support for the screens but also graceful arched canopies to protect the orchestras playing beneath. Built from a combination of Tower System stock elements and custom fabrication, the canopies are cantilevered out 16 meters from the towers, like giant eyelids above Jumbotron screens. "Functional, but delicate," was how Jeff Burke described the finished structures when they were assembled prior to shipment to the Far-East.
- O Golly, all the exciting stuff is going on the Asian continent. Yanni is single handedly doing that "global warming" thing with concerts scheduled for Shanghai, Guangzhou, Beijing and the Working Peoples's Cultural Palace in the Forbidden City. Yanni is gathering more material for his "Global Music Event" video which will include footage from his Taj Mahal dates earlier this year. The 90 minute national PBS special is scheduled to air in the United States on December 2nd. Lighting contractor is Ocean Rose and Associates using LD David "Gurn" Kaninski and Lee Rose. Dietrich Juengling is the programmer and board op. It is a very "detente" kind of a system, using High End Studio Colors and Cyberlights as well as VL 5's and 6's and VL2c's, 12 18k VL Gargantuans with scrollers, 12 Megamags, 40 Molemags, 12 Brightlights, as well as 30 Icons and various conventional equipage. (Crossed the ol' rainbow of lighting vendors.... Kissinger couldn't have done it more diplomatically.)
- O ZZ Top is heading out with lighting contractor LD Systems with 21 Cyerlights and 24 Studio Colors using the Wybron Autopilot system for the Cybers. The "Mean Rhythm Global Tour '97" is scheduled to be out through the end of the year. Moe Haggadone is the production manager, Larry Sizemore is the LD and Robbie Ausmus is the FOH engineer. (LD Systems is the Sound contractor). Stagecraft handled the set design, which CEO John Procaccini tells Bags and Lams was a cooperative effort incorporating elements from their in-house set design people, lighting designer Sizemore, as well as those creative guys who are ZZ Top. Steve Cross is handling monitors; lighting personnel include Donny Stuart, and Tor Moss; Chris Stuba is the automation operator and Mike Farese is the rigger. Tour manager is Graeme Lagden, road manager is Pablo Gamboa and Chris Patterson is the tour accountant. Billy F. Gibbons, Dusty Hill and Frank Beard are, of course, ZZ Top, or is that Frank Beard, Dusty Hill, and Billy F. Gibbons?
- Paula Millstone of LDI Exhibitions fame has taken on the big Asterisk and is now the eastern regional leasing sales manager for Vari-Lite. Paula will work out of the Vari-Lite Orlando office while reporting to dealer and leasing manager Van Rommel. Good Luck, Paula!
- How would you like to be a fly on that sound wall? EVI Audio has had some major organizational changes. Greenwich Street Capital Partners have announced that CEO Bob Pabst, VP of operations Ron Graham and VP of finance John Bolstetter have left the company. Paul McGuire, president of EVI Audio America, has been named interim CEO and a search for replacements is underway. A new CEO and CFO are expected to be in place within 90 days. This announcement takes place less than six months after GSCP agreed to buy the company formerly known as Mark IV Audio from Mark IV Industries... just a little reorganization. We hear Marla Maples Trump is available, too.
- Quote Of The Week: "So I said to the insurance agent...'Yeah, I'll do the drug testing but ya gotta give me a week to get rid of the contact high.... I just spent a weekend doing a festival gig for Santana.'"

This week's HOT NEW TOURS list features dates for an American band, an American movie star and an American comedian. GRAND FUNK RAILROAD, a group that sold out two performances at New York's Shea Stadium in 1971 faster than the Beatles, heads to Japan in June. Then they'll be "Closer To Home" at the end of the month for a headlining U.S. tour. Grand Funk's resurgence features the band's original three members, Don Brewer, Mark Farner and Mel Schacher..... DOGSTAR hits the road to take its alternapop to 50 cities across the U.S. and Canada. This band is dedicated to touring despite the bull it has taken for having actor Keanu Reeves as a member..... DENIS LEARY tours clubs and theatres this summer starting August 7th at the 9:30 Club in Washington, DC Touring favs the STEVE MILLER BAND heads out on an extensive summer tour starting July 4th at the Starplex Amphitheatre in Dallas..... BLUES TRAVELER spends the summer apart from the H.O.R.D.E. fest with a tour that starts July 3rd at Red Rocks Amphitheatre in Colorado. The band also plays select European festivals and hooks up with H.O.R.D.E. as a special guest on a few dates..... This year's "G3" tour, which kicks off May 26th in Germany, features Joe Satriani, Steve Vai and Kenny Wayne Shepherd. The tour also features Robert Fripp as a special guest on all dates..... Reggae favorites ZIGGY MARLEY & THE MELODY MAKERS launch an extensive North American tour starting August 15th in Pittsburgh, Pa. Marley and crew wrap up the tour with a September 20th show at the Santa Barbara Bowl in California.
