Bob Kelley

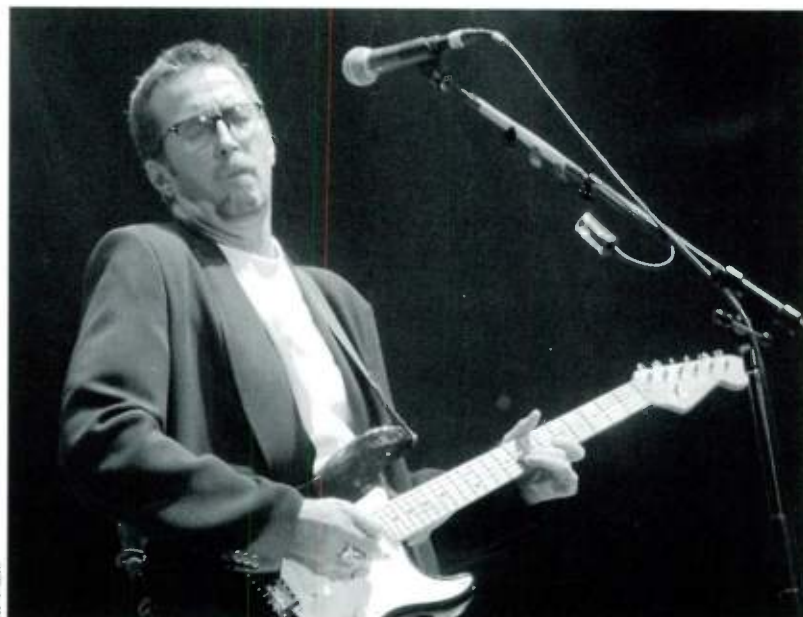

BOB KELLEY, 52, FOUNDER and principal of Mid-South Concerts, was found dead in his home March 27th of an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound, police said. Employees of the Memphis-based company found Kelley's body in his apartment after he failed to show up for an afternoon meeting.

The promoter was shot once in the head and police found a .380 automatic handgun by the body, Police Capt. Mike Houston said. Investigators found a note written by Kelley that indicated he was despondent over what Houston described as a "low point in his life."

"I don't think it's going to have anything to do with his business," Houston said. "He was just despondent over the way his life was going."

Kelley had been in the news recently because of a conflict he had with the annual Beale Street Music Festival. He had produced the festival for seven years, making it a huge success, but last fall, organizers broke ties with him. Just a couple of weeks ago, Kelley announced the acts which would be playing his new Mid-South Music Festival to be held the week before the Beale Street fest.

That event was cancelled April 1st after Mid-South VP Susan Green and other staff members realized they didn't have the financial resources to pull it off. Mid-South Concerts was basically Kelley's company and all of his assets are now tied up in probate and can't be touched until his estate is settled. Other shows, including a May 17th Eric Clapton show at The Pyramid, will go on. But the long-term future of Mid-South Concerts and the remaining staff is very much up in the air.

WHAT COULD BE A BETTER WAY to celebrate one's 53rd birthday than by kicking off a North American tour? That's exactly what Eric Clapton did, performing the first show of his U.S. tour March 30th at the RiverCentre in St. Paul, Minn.

Kelley's longtime friend Charlie Ryan, who runs the local Ticketmaster operation, told The Commercial Appeal newspaper that Kelley was "under a lot of stress," citing a recent divorce and the pressure of starting a new music festival. Kelley was living in an apartment at Ryan's Memphis home.

Kelley founded Mid-South Concerts in 1973 after Mike Lynn, who had a company called Mid-South Sports, lured him from Philadelphia to start a concert promotions arm for his firm. When Lynn left Memphis in 1974 to run the Minnesota Vikings,

THE GUYS AT Magicworks Entertainment couldn't be happier about producing the North American leg of Janet Jackson's "Velvet Rope" tour. The 40-city outing kicks off in Washington, D.C., July 9th and wraps up with two shows at Madison Square Garden October 10-11. Posing with Ms. Jackson are Magicworks GM John Norman, Alliance Artists prexy (and savvy March Madness prognosticator) Charlie Brusco, and Magicworks' Brad Wavra and Joe Marsh.

Kelley assumed complete ownership of the concert company.

Kelley, a football player and graduate of the Univ. Of Pennsylvania, started in the business as a bouncer for Electric Factory Concerts before being hired by Concerts West. It was Terry Bassett of Concerts West who told Kelley that Memphis was the last unclaimed large market in America still open for concert promotion.

Over the years, all of the concert industry's biggest acts played for Kelley when they came to Memphis. He was also the primary promoter in Little Rock and other markets in the region.

A funeral was held March 30th and a special music industry tribute to Kelley was scheduled for April 3rd at the Peabody Hotel in Memphis. The family has requested, in lieu of flowers, that any memorial donations be sent to Big Brothers & Big Sisters in Memphis or to the American Cancer Society.

Changing Artists & Audience

ALEX KOCHEN HAS downsized Artists & Audience Entertainment and moved the agency to Upstate New York near the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Kochen told POLLSTAR the decision to scale back the agency was motivated by a lifestyle change. When Kochen launched A&A six years ago, he had planned to base the agency in the same city he has just moved to, Cold Spring, which is located on the Hudson River. When his lease in NYC expired, the timing seemed right since he had recently purchased a home 30 miles from Cold Spring.

Kochen offered his staff the option to move out to the country.

For those who wanted to do something else, Kochen gave his best wishes.

Tim Borror decided he wanted to become a manager and left A&A. Randy Nichols and Sam Kirby are investigating their options. Ken Fermaglich went to The Agency Group and took most of his clients with him. Debbie Morrison and Maria Conti are continuing with the company. The rest of the infrastructure staff will stay in place.

Former William Morris agent Nick Caris has joined the A&A team, along with Deborahlee Tirone who worked with him at William Morris. Caris had worked at WMA for seven years. Prior to that, he was a partner in DMA. Aside from enjoying the beautiful scenery at Artists & Audience's new office, Caris handles Journey, Scorpions, Samiam, and Addict.

Kochen said the location of his new office reflects the kind of agency he wants to run. "We're in Main Street U.S.A. here. We're in a little town overlooking the Hudson in the Hudson Valley. And we're in a building that was put up in 1875 and to me, it just emphasizes the kind of business that I want to run, which is handmade tours, one show at a time. That's the way I'm thinking. It's a very personal service business and as the company was getting huge with 80, 90 acts ... it really got away from my own vision of what I wanted to do, which was to really operate a very personal service company."

The Artists & Audience roster will definitely be scaled back but Kochen said his clients — including Nine Inch Nails, Marilyn Manson, Paul McCartney and Guns N' Roses — will remain with the agency. The artists leaving the roster are doing so with Kochen's blessing. "The thing is, it's basically a very amenable situation. Whatever is best for the artist, whatever they decide that they want to do, is fine with me [and] is fine with anybody leaving. This is really a change without aggravation."

A&A's revised client roster will appear in POLLSTAR's upcoming agency directory. The agency's new address is 63 Main St., Cold Spring, NY, 10516; phone 914-265-3020; fax 914-265-2997.

A Three Dog Fight

FORMER THREE DOG NIGHT singer Chuck Negrón is suing the band's Danny Hutton and Cory Wells for interfering with his career.

Negrón is accusing his former bandmates and other representatives of deceiving the general public by misrepresenting themselves to be the Three Dog Night that successfully reunited in 1981 with Negrón, when indeed, Negrón is not part of the current band.

Negrón, one of the three original Three Dog Night members, also alleges that Hutton, Wells and others have misappropriated his name, voice and likeness and have misallocated his royalties.

"To this day, the original sound recording of 'Joy to the World' featuring Negrón's distinctive voice remains a celebratory anthem and is being used by Hutton and Wells to promote their performances, even though Negrón no longer performs with his former bandmates," a press release from Negrón's lawyers stated.

In response to the lawsuit, Hutton and Wells released a statement accusing Negrón of attempting to re-litigate matters that were resolved in their favor nearly a decade ago.

"In our view, this is a preempted effort by Mr. Negrón to generate public sympathy in advance of a suit we're bringing against him for his continued misuse of the Three Dog Night name in advertising and promotion of his solo performance bookings — a material breach of the prior settlement," the statement said.

Negrón's attorneys countered that their client made every effort to resolve the complaint before filing his lawsuit and that since it was filed, legal representatives for Hutton have refused to meet with Negrón and his lawyers.

The statement from Hutton and Wells also said Negrón's suit is timed "suspiciously close" to the publication date of his "derogatory tell-all book." They intend to file a countersuit shortly.

Reid's Antitrust Attack On Cellar Door

FORMER CELLAR DOOR Productions of Virginia President Bill Reid and his recently formed company, Rising Tide Productions, filed an antitrust lawsuit against Jack Boyle, Cellar Door of Virginia and Cellar Door Venues. Also named in the suit were The Boathouse Food Service and two other individual defendants, current Cellar Door Productions of Virginia President Ken MacDonald and GM of the GTE Virginia Beach Amphitheater, Mike Tabor.

The lawsuit alleges misconduct, predatory competition tactics, monopolistic business practices and collusion in the operation of

Pros On The Move

After 15 years with SMG, Neil Sulkes announced his resignation March 16th. Sulkes last served as senior VP of bookings and event development. During the years he spent with SMG, he also served as GM of The Centrum in Worcester, Mass., and Nassau Coliseum in New York. Sulkes told POLLSTAR he is currently looking at a number of opportunities and is trying to decide which direction to take.

When Barry Fey is not dreaming up his next big promotion, he's going to be reminiscing about them. Fey will begin a radio show April 5th where he will play tunes, take call-in questions and share concert war stories with listeners. "Backstage with Barry Fey" is scheduled to air on Denver's 99.5 FM, The Hawk, Sunday nights from 7-9 p.m. If it is successful, Tribune Radio is considering syndicating the program.

Universal Concerts director of marketing in Denver, Michael Blake, resigned from his position March 27th. Blake is now working as the director of marketing for Colorado's Ocean Journey, a state-of-the-art aquarium scheduled to open in May 1999 in downtown Denver.

Gaylord Entertainment has named Cindy Wilson VP/GM of Country Music Television Int'l after purchasing her international marketing and consulting firm Wilson & Associates. Operating with the new name of CMT Int'l Artist Services, the Nashville-based company will continue to provide marketing services to clients such as Garth Brooks, Reba McEntire and the RCA Label Group. Wilson will oversee all of the CMT International operations, including expansion efforts into Latin American and Asian-Pacific markets.

Mike Ovitz is back and he's got a brand new bag. Once called the most powerful man in Hollywood, Ovitz virtually disappeared after being fired from Disney in December 1996. Ovitz is going into the mall development business and, not surprisingly, he's taking his entertainment business acumen with him. He has reportedly teamed up with developer Glimcher Reality Trust and is involved in a huge mall project in Columbus, Ohio, designed to incorporate entertainment and sports. Ovitz and his partners have also presented the National Football League with a plan to build a new stadium to house an NFL expansion team for Los Angeles. The stadium would be situated adjacent to a new mall in Carson, Calif.

the publicly-owned GTE Virginia Beach Amphitheater, The Boathouse in Norfolk and a general effort by the defendants to gain monopoly control in the local concert business. The suit, filed March 27th in the Virginia Beach Circuit Court, cites the Virginia Antitrust Act as grounds for the alleged violations.

Reid, who was abruptly fired from Cellar Door in December 1997, claims in the suit that all of the individual and corporate defendants have cooperated with each other in an effort to deny him and Rising Tide Productions the opportunity to engage in fair competition in the concert promotion business by denying him access to the two facilities. The suit also alleges that the defendants have contacted Virginia Beach city officials, Richmond city officials, talent agents and others to try to dissuade them from doing business with Reid.

The suit claims the defendants have refused to rent or provide rental information to Reid regarding availability of the two venues "because they are seeking to exercise monopolistic control in the market, and are trying to drive Bill Reid and Rising Tide Productions out of business."

What Reid's suit doesn't address is why Cellar Door should rent either of its exclusive facilities to him since he is attempting to compete with the company. The purpose of such exclusive venue deals, which are common throughout the concert industry, is to avoid conflicts with competing interests.

Nonetheless, Reid is seeking actual damages which he claims are in excess of $500,000. The suit also claims Reid is entitled to up to three times the actual damages sustained because the defendants are in "flagrant violation of the Virginia Antitrust Act."

The suit requests temporary and permanent injunctive relief requiring the defendants to rent The Boathouse and the amphitheatre "on the same terms as are/ have been provided to other individuals/entities."

In a letter made available to POLLSTAR, Cellar Door attorneys told Reid's lawyers that Cellar Door expects to have the court uphold an existing non-compete agreement for which Reid "was paid handsomely." Reid maintains the non-compete clause is not valid because he was fired without cause. Repeated attempts to reach Cellar Door attorney Mike Smith were unsuccessful at press time.

The lawsuits between Cellar Door and Reid have been flying since Reid's abrupt dismissal. After he was fired, Reid filed a multimillion dollar suit against Boyle and Cellar Door claiming his dismissal was in breach of contract and that the company owes him a share of the profits from the amphitheatre.

Cellar Door then filed a suit of its own, seeking an injunction to prevent Reid from entering into the concert promotions business. Cellar Door claimed that Reid's employment contract had a clear non-compete clause and that, because of Reid's "special knowledge" of Cellar Door's business, he could cause "serious injury or loss" to the company if he were allowed to compete.

A judge sided with Reid and refused to issue a temporary injunction. Cellar Door, however, still plans to pursue its rights in the matter.

Neither party in this dispute seems to be backing down. In light of that, it's likely this acrimonious battle will continue its harsh pattern of lawsuits, countersuits and public accusations for many months, if not years, to come.

An SFX Radio Call For Naked Parrotheads

A TOP-RATED MORNING TEAM at Raleigh, N.C., radio station WDCG-FM was suspended indefinitely March 26th after urging listeners vying for concert tickets to get naked in public.

Bob Dumas and Madison Lane, hosts of the "Bob & Madison Showgram," held two races on a downtown pedestrian mall. The contestant who reached the finish

THE 12,000-CAPACITY Ervin J. Nutter Center welcomed Alan Jackson for a sold-out February 15th gig. The Dayton, Ohio, venue thanked the country superstar for his hard work by presenting him with a toy truck — presumably a Ford. (L-R) promoter Rich Mischell, the venue's executive director John Siehl, Jackson and venue exec Laura Januzzi.

The runners set off and on the way back, Banks said, one woman removed her bra and a man, perhaps sensing defeat, went the full monty. Police took the man away while the topless woman got the free passes and escaped the law.

The man was later released when a magistrate decided his actions weren't disorderly conduct.

In the meantime, while Dumas and Lane were reveling to their audience, angry program director Kip Taylor called. They argued on the air and then suddenly, another announcer came on the air saying the duo was in with management and that he wasn't discussing anything under threat of being fired.

The station's owner, SFX Broadcasting, issued a news release announcing the suspension. That's when fans started firing messages at the station's Web site calling for a boycott of all SFX stations as well as a boycott of "Showgram's" advertisers.

Looking at the station's Web site last week, it appeared Raleigh's favorite morning team was back after one day of suspension.

Jazzfest Opens Door To Title Sponsorship

THE NEW ORLEANS JAZZ AND Heritage Festival has opened the door for a corporate title sponsor after years of resisting the trend.

For the first time in its history, the board of directors of the Jazz and Heritage Foundation, the non-profit group that governs the festival, is entertaining proposals for a Jazzfest title sponsor.

This year, a company could have become a sponsor for $1 million, creating the "New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival Sponsored by Insert-Corporate-Name-Here." But for a fee in the neighborhood of $4 million, a company could have its name tacked to the front

Short Items Of Note

Capitol Records purchased the remaining stake in Priority Records it doesn't already own for a reported initial cash consideration of $70 million March 27th. Capitol, a division of EMI Group, purchased its initial stake in Priority back in November 1996. Under terms of the agreement, continued payments will be made to Priority depending on its performance over the next half-decade. Priority will continue as an independent label based in Los Angeles.

Time Warner has completed the sale of its 49 percent interest in Six Flags to Premier Parks. Time Warner will receive approximately $440 million in cash for its stake in the largest theme park operator in the U.S. After taxes, the media conglomerate will have about $300 million which it can use to pay its massive debt.

The second phase of renovations are underway at the Merriweather Post Pavilion in Columbia, Md. Expected to be completed by the end of May, the second phase of construction includes an expanded general admission area, which will raise the capacity to 21,000 for certain events. Widened pathways will also make egress much faster and more convenient for patrons. Many overall refinements are being made to the venue including a new entrance-way, a "walk-of-the-stars," and restroom and box office upgrades. The outdoor venue's season opener is the Capital Jazz Fest June 6-7.

A gender discrimination lawsuit filed against Michael Jackson by a former employee has been dismissed. A Superior Court judge in Santa Monica, Calif., threw out the case March 31st ruling that Maureen Doherty's claims were based mostly on "speculation, conjecture and beliefs" and didn't warrant a trial. Doherty, who served as MJ's attorney and VP of MJJ Productions, claimed she was wrongfully fired in 1994 because of gender discrimination. The suit said she suffered intentionally inflicted emotional distress, among other things.

Eric Clapton plans to construct a Betty Ford-like clinic on the Caribbean island of Antigua. Clapton is fronting $5 million for the project, a 36-bed drug and alcohol rehab facility named Crossroads. The expected cost for 30-day treatment is $9,000. Clapton owns two homes on the island.

Even before the first act commenced, Paul Simon received a standing ovation on the closing night of "The Capeman." The musical played its final show at the Marquis Theatre March 28th, only two months after its opening night. Lack of revenue and harsh reviews prompted the cancellation of the production, based on the true story of a 1959 Puerto Rican gang killing. "If this is failure, what do you call success?" Simon asked the cheering audience at the conclusion of the play.

Tommy Lee wants to keep his swastika tattoo a secret from jurors when he goes to court in the civil trial for allegedly beating up a video photographer who is Jewish. Lee's attorney filed a motion to have the tattoo excluded as evidence in the case, saying it has "no bearing upon the disputed issues." Although Lee eventually had the tattoo removed, it was reportedly visible on the rocker's arm the night of the confrontation, which occurred outside a Hollywood nightclub in 1996. The attorney for victim Henry Trapler opposes the request to suppress the evidence from the jury. Superior Court Judge Frances Rothschild will consider the request during an April 9th hearing. Lee pleaded no contest in the criminal case.

The third Tibetan Freedom Concert is scheduled for RFK Stadium in Washington, D.C., June 13-14. Among those on the bill are Beastie Boys, Beck, Wyclef Jean, Radiohead, A Tribe Called Quest, Pearl Jam, R.E.M., Sonic Youth, Kraftwerk, Blues Traveler and Tracy Chapman. Organizers also have planned a June 15th rally to take place on the Capitol lawn at noon. The rally will feature guest speakers and a handful of surprise musical performances.

of the festival's to become a title sponsor. Neither of those options were sold but the world's second-largest computer software company, Computer Associates, did discuss the possibilities for 1998.

CA wanted to rename the event "The Computer Associates Jazz and Heritage Festival," but the board didn't want the city's name dropped from the event. CA also wanted a voice in booking talent, which didn't go over very well either. Currently, Festival Productions, a company owned by Jazzfest founder George Wein and Quint Davis, the event's longtime local producer/director, handle Jazzfest bookings in conjunction with the foundation.

Michael Bagneris, VP of the foundation board, said it was clear CA didn't fully appreciate all of the intricacies of putting on the festival. The board came back with a counterproposal which wasn't acceptable to CA.

Eventually, the two sides agreed to disagree, realizing there wasn't enough time to work out a deal before this year's event.

But they've left the door open for 1999, Bagneris said. This year, CA and Jazzfest will work together to test the waters. The company will buy more than 20,000 tickets and CA executives will receive the red-carpet treatment.

Radio Conglomerate Scorecard Changes

SFX BROADCASTING shareholders have formally approved the merger with Capstar Broadcasting Corp., an affiliate of Hicks, Muse, Tate & Furst, and the spin-off of SFX Entertainment. The company also filed for a secondary stock offering of up to $125 million worth of new common stock in SFX Entertainment, primarily to cover taxes related to the spin-off.

The tax bill is expected to be about $75.8 million based on the closing price of SFX Entertainment's stock on March 30th. That's approximately $3.61 per share, based on the expected issuance of approximately 21 million shares.

In related news, Chancellor Media Corp. decided it did not want to fight the Justice Department and abandoned its $54 million bid to acquire four Long Island, N.Y., radio stations owned by SFX Broadcasting.

As the radio industry continues to consolidate in the wake of the Telecommunications Act of 1996, the U.S. Justice Department continues to seek relief where radio mergers have potential to harm competition. Four months after the department's antitrust division brought its first court suit to block a radio merger since the law was passed, Chancellor decided it did not want to fight a court battle.

In addition to abandoning its bid to acquire the four SFX stations, Chancellor also agreed to end the deal under which it was operating the stations pending their acquisition.

Those four SFX stations on Long Island also figured in a settlement the government reached March 31st to allow Capstar Broadcasting Partners to go forward with its $2.1 billion acquisition of SFX.

Capstar had agreed to sell 11 stations, including the four SFX Long Island stations, but the government alleged the deal would have given Capstar and its related entities 65 percent of radio advertising revenue in Long Island's Suffolk County. The government argued that level of concentration could have brought about an increase in radio advertising rates.

Hicks, Muse, Tate & Furst owns all of Capstar's stock and a significant portion of the stock in Chancellor so the market positions of both companies were combined in assessing the Capstar-SFX deal, the Justice Department said.

Instead of selling 11 stations, Capstar will sell seven: four in Greenville, S.C.; and one each in Houston; Jackson, Miss.; and Pittsburgh.

Additionally, Capstar Broadcasting Corp. filed Securities and Exchange Commission registration March 27th for an initial public offering of its Class A Common Stock.

Once the Dallas-based Capstar completes its pending acquisition of SFX Broadcasting, it will control 300 radio stations in 75 U.S. markets. Also, as part of the transition, SFX Broadcasting Chief Operating Officer Geoff Armstrong will be leaving the company to join Hicks-Muse where he will stay involved in radio rather than shifting his focus to the concert business as part of SFX Entertainment.

MONTEREY PENINSULA ARTISTS' Kevin Daly stopped by to chat with POLLSTAR subscription sales manager Jeff Stone.

STAYING UP until 3 a.m. for SxSW showcases didn't prevent these ladies in protective eyewear from stopping by the POLLSTAR booth. (L-R) Great American Music Hall's Sheri Sternberg, Wolf Trap's Laurie Jacoby, POLLSTAR managing editor Shari Rice, Dawn Holliday from Slim's and Great American Music Hall's Anne O'Toole.

A NEAR-CAPACITY CROWD attended Detroit's Joe Louis Arena for the thumpin' tunes of Puff Daddy and The Family — including Total, Mase, Lil' Kim, Dru Hill and Busta Rhymes — March 13th. Puffy is flanked by Olympia Entertainment's Bob Baker and Greg Young.

Rennie, who is "absolutely stoked" about his new post, will be based in the ARTISTdirect offices, which are located in the same Encino, Calif., office building where he worked for Avalon Attractions from 1982 to 1990. At Avalon, Rennie spearheaded the company's move towards computerization in addition to his "analogue" promoter duties.

A Bitch Of A Job

MEREDITH BROOKS JOINS the ranks of artists like Prince, who at one time in his career, was booed off the stage when attempting to open a concert for The Rolling Stones. Brooks was driven off the stage in Argentina March 30th by an audience that was throwing bottles, batteries and coins as it chanted for the main attraction.

Brooks only managed to sing two out of a planned 10 songs before she gave up trying to placate the 30,000 people in the River Plate soccer stadium, according to a Reuters news report.

The audience chanted, "Come on Stones; come on Stones," while Brooks sang her hit song "Bitch."

The singer also had a rough reception at the first Argentine concert of the "Bridges to Babylon" tour March 29th, according to the news service. In an attempt to win the audience over the next night, Brooks dressed in an Argentine national soccer shirt, but the crowd was not impressed.

Rockin' With Buddy Lee

IN A MOVE TO DIVERSIFY ITS roster, Buddy Lee Attractions has formed a contemporary music division at the Nashville-based agency. Kevin Neal is heading up the new division which started out by signing Foghat. "We've been approached by several [non-country] acts over the past six months," Neal told POLLSTAR. He expects to announce more acts on the new division's roster soon.

So far, Foghat is the only act on the new division's roster. Neal pointed out that it is one of the few classic rock acts with all of its original members still on board.

Schuur Meets The Deedles

SINGER DIANE SCHUUR doesn't find Disney's new comedy, "Meet the Deedles," very funny.

The two-time Grammy winner is suing the Walt Disney Co. and two record labels claiming the title of the movie and accompanying soundtrack is damaging her trademark-protected name, "Deedles." The two record labels named in the suit are PolyGram Records Inc. and subsidiary Mercury Records.

The lawsuit was filed March 26th in U.S. District Court in Manhattan. It alleges that the name "Deedles" will become synonymous with "madcap teen-age lunacy" and the punchline to jokes about stupidity.

The lawsuit is asking for Schuur to maintain the "Deedles" name before it becomes "forever lost" due to publicity caused by the movie's release.

Spokeswomen for Disney and the two record labels refused to comment on the lawsuit, citing company policy.

Schuur, 44, has used the "Deedles" name in recordings and in naming her business, "Deedles Music."

A review of the Disney movie in the March 27th New York Daily News called the film "disposable" and "strictly for undiscriminating pre-teens."

Peep-Show Won't Be Checked In At Library Again

SINGER TIM MECH, LEADER OF the so-called "XXX rated" Toronto-based band Peep-Show, gave an unforgettable performance at The Library club in Austin during South By Southwest, though the venue's owner wishes he could forget about it.

After SxSW, Mech put out a press release saying management of the club "accosted an exotic dancer" who was performing with him and shut down his showcase.

According to Mech, the Austin-based dancer, C.C., "tastefully worked her way throughout the audience during the short-lived set" and when security tried to remove her from the premises, the audience started chanting, "We want C.C."

The Library's owner, Kevin Bagstad, told POLLSTAR the dancer was exposed as she was wearing a see-through shirt. "[She was] walking around, working the tables and she had a gentleman with her that was handing out business cards." Those cards, according to Bagstad, were for a kind of business he didn't want to be associated with.

Bar management asked C.C. to cover up and when she wouldn't, they asked her quietly to leave, Bagstad said. "[Mech] made a big stink about it and said she was part of the band.... He started badmouthing the club on stage and he's the one that made a scene."

Bagstad said he told Mech, "This has nothing to do with live music and she can't be in here like this. If a police officer saw that, I would lose my liquor license."

The club owner said after the dancer was booted from the venue, he let Mech finish his 20-minute set. But the singer won't be coming back to The Library.

"South By Southwest was very upset with it. They were very embarrassed by the whole thing and if they knew he did stuff like that, they would have never booked him. And he is definitely not being invited back." ❄

United Kingdom: GLASTONBURY'S first day on sale saw tickets selling at a rate of one per second. This resulted in around 50 percent of the 82,000 tickets selling within 24 hours. All the regional ticket outlets sold out on the first day, leaving the telephone ticket line to handle the rest.

It's a tremendous start, considering that the ticket price is £80 and no artists have been announced officially. Even Glastonbury's Michael Eavis was surprised with the result, saying he had been a little cautious in his expectations after last year's mudfest. "I didn't know whether we would sell at the same rate as last year," he said.

• GARY GLITTER HAS BEEN charged with 50 offences relating to child pornography. Glitter was arrested last November after computer repair staff found indecent pictures on his equipment.

He has been accused of making "indecent pseudo-photographs" (a legal term for computer images that look like photographs) of children under the age of 16. If found guilty, Glitter faces a maximum of three years in prison. He is currently out on bail and is due to appear before magistrates on May 18. Glitter's solicitor, Henri Brandman, said, "Gary will be vigorously contesting these allegations."

• BRIT AWARD WINNER FINLEY Quaye played four sold out Shepherds Bush Empire shows last week. These shows alone totalled around 8,000 tickets and the 12-date tour sold out all concerts a month in advance.

Quaye first broke last summer with the hit single "Sunday Shining," but since winning Best British Male Vocalist at the Brit Awards in February, his profile has rocketed.

The award definitely boosted ticket sales for the tour. In Europe, the buzz on Quaye is still building, said a spokesperson for Free Trade agency. Upcoming tour plans for the reggae artist include a performance at the launch of the new Hard Rock Cafe in Edinburgh this month, plus festivals through the summer.

• THE FLAMING LIPS WILL BRING their Zaireeka project to London for the first and only scheduled European date next month. The concert will take place May 16 at The Forum and has been billed as the "Boom Box Experiment — the first ever live interactive concert."

The band will act as conductors of their own CDs, mixing the tracks live. If that sounds bizarre and confusing, it has been done successfully and with dazzling effect in the U.S., where Krist Novoselic and members of the Presidents of the USA and Pavement have joined in at various shows. Free Trade is currently touting for British musicians to take part in the performance.

• FREE TRADE ALSO has Garbage returning to Europe in June for their first tour in two years. Garbage will kick off at the Pinkpop Festival on June 1, following this with a single date at the Zenith in Paris and four U.K. shows, plus festival appearances through to July.

• BERNARD BUTLER PLAYED A one-off show at The Garage last week which was upgraded almost instantly from the Upstairs room to the 500-capacity main hall.

Butler is currently working with a new band and will be playing some festivals this summer. However, plans for a full-scale tour are not yet certain, said agent Jeff Craft at Fair Warning Wasted Talent.

• THE SHEPHERDS BUSH EMPIRE has a new duty manager. Rebecca Bullamore joins the 2,000-capacity venue from The Junction at Cambridge. Upcoming shows at the Empire include the Mavericks, Massive Attack, Curve, Catatonia, and the Pat Metheny Group.

Germany: MARCEL AVRAM spent his last days of freedom with Michael Jackson before starting a three-and-a-half year prison sentence for tax evasion. Avram went into the Landsberg Prison in Bavaria on March 30, two days earlier than he was due to start his sentence. A spokesperson for Avram said that this was to show his willingness to accept his punishment. This move and good behaviour could help to get Avram "minimum security prison status," allowing him freedom to work during the day while returning to jail for overnights.

Jackson had been staying in the region since March 13 to visit the promoter. Avram was arrested on

THE LEMON HAS LEFT THE BUILDING: U2 performed the final show on its "PopMart" tour at Johannesburg Stadium in South Africa March 21. The international road trip began in the U.S. back in April 1997. The high point of the tour was the fulfillment of a promise to play in Sarajevo. "PopMart" stopped in several places where U2 had never played before, including Brazil, where the band is seen here at the Nelson Piquet Autodrome in Rio de Janeiro January 27.

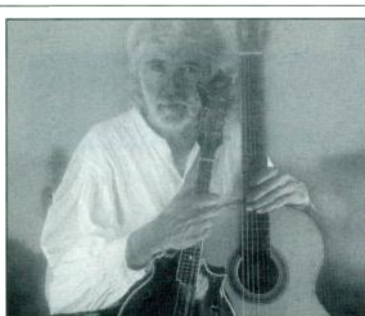

April 2 last year and he was kept in prison until last December when he came to trial. During this time, Avram suffered two operations for ulcers. He was found guilty of tax evasion and the amount in question was 5.7 million Deutschmark, which has now been paid.

In the three months since his conviction, Avram has been arranging business at Mama Concerts so that the company will run smoothly in his absence. Avram's partner Fritz Rau told POLLSTAR, "They kept him in prison from April last year, all through the investigation, because they were worried that he might leave the country. Now he has gone back to serve his sentence and he was able to prepare for his absence. We are going to miss him and of course it's not good for the company, but Mama is in good shape."

The Munich office is being run by Mario Mendritzki and Benny Gawlik. This year, major tours being promoted by Mama include Eric Clapton and Eros Ramazzotti.

• MICHAEL BISPING AT ASS reports a quieter spring than usual but he says the tours that are on sale have been doing very well. The domestic market is also continuing to develop with artists such as Jazzkantine doing 100 shows through Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

Another ASS act, Vivid, has meanwhile been confirmed for 22 festivals this summer. The band (described by Bisping as melodic grunge) has just completed a sold-out 28-day tour of Germany and record sales are strong.

On the international front, Bisping says that Poppa Chubby, one of the top-selling blues acts in France, is starting to break in Germany and will play 14 dates around the country this month.

Austria: JON BON JOVI WILL PLAY at this year's Spring Snow Festival in Ischgl ski resort. The annual concert will take place May 2 at the top of the mountain to celebrate the Mayday holiday and the longest ski-season in the Alps.

Last year, show producers Sensible Events put Diana Ross on the mountain top. At an altitude of 7,500 feet, Sensible's Andrew Zweck reckons the Ischgl event could qualify for the highest concert in the world.

Netherlands: THE DYNAMO Festival (May 29-31) has sold out two months in advance. This is partly because the move to a new festival site has cut the capacity by half this year to 30,000. The new site, at the ice rink in Eindhoven, will be a car-free zone, to allow for the full facilities of a main stage, skateboarding area and a camp site.

Bands confirmed for Dynamo include Rammstein, Deftones, Junkie XL, Saxon, Insane Clown Posse, Fear Factory, Pantera, Fu Manchu, Agnostic Front and others.

Denmark: ROSKILDE (JUNE 25-28) has sold a third of its 80,000 tickets after four months on sale. With three months to go until the festival starts, only half of the music programme, which will feature a total of 150 artists, has been released.

Those announced so far include Tori Amos, Ash, Beastie Boys, Bentley Rhythm Ace, Meredith Brooks, Cake, Eagle Eye Cherry, Death in Vegas, Deftones, Fu Manchu, Laurent Garnier, Iggy Pop, and the Jon Spencer Blues Explosion, to name just a few.

Italy: BARLEY ARTS IS GOING ahead with a Monsters of Rock revival. The one-day festival will take place June 13 in Milan. It will be a two-stage event, with Van Halen headlining, plus Dream Theater, Deep Purple, Uli John Roth with Joe Satriani, Michael Schenker, Saxon, Hellacopters, Overkill and others.

Claudio Trotta first promoted the heavy metal festival in 1987 and the last Italian Monsters of Rock took place in 1992. Over the years, artists such as Iron Maiden, AC/DC, Aerosmith and Metallica played there.

Trotta said he was inspired to revive the festival by the strength of the Italian rock market. "Heavy metal is still very strong in Italy," he said. Monsters will however compete directly with R&D's Gods of Metal festival, so the introduction of a second metal event to the summer agenda will be a test of how strong the market really is.

Greece: DIDI MUSIC IS PLANNING the Rockwave Festival for July 13-16 in Athens. The open-air site will have a capacity of 14,000 and artists are still being confirmed. Other upcoming shows being promoted by Didi include two dates with Senser plus two with Skyclad and Primal Fear in May. Then Virgin Steel play with Riot and Stigmata in Athens and Thessaloniki.

• MTV NETWORKS ASIA WILL host a one-day music conference May 18 in Hong Kong to address key music business issues in the region. Industry leaders from Asia, the U.S. and Europe are expected to attend the Asian Music Conference (AMC).

Among the issues to be addressed are the effect of the current economic turmoil in Asia on the billion-dollar music business in countries such as China, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Malaysia, Singapore, Thailand, India, South Korea, Indonesia and the Philippines.

There will also be panels on new talent and international artist development, the growing synergies between music and movies, copyright protection and piracy, and how emerging technology will affect home entertainment. Keynote speakers will be announced at a later date.

• MTV RIVAL CHANNEL (V) HAS gone back on the road again with Coca-Cola and Pepe Jeans with a new US$500,000 deal for Channel (V) Roadshows.

The 1998 series launched in Goa on March 22 and will travel to Bangalore, Calcutta, Ludhiana, Ahmedabad and wind up in Lucknow. The series was initially launched in 1996 when it travelled to Calcutta, Delhi, Pune, and Chandigarh, playing to crowds of more than 15,000 people.

The new series will be re-named Channel (V) Live. On another level, Channel (V) has also scooped three awards in the station promo category at the 33rd annual TV Fest Chicago International Television Competition as well as two awards at the New York festivals.

• HONG KONG POP IDOL LEON LAI Ming has signed a new recording deal with Sony Music that is said to be worth close to US$5.1 million. The new deal was signed amidst many rumours of a boycott by Lai's old label, PolyGram.

Lai spent seven years at PolyGram but was always in the shadow of Jacky Cheung, who remains the best-selling Canto-pop singer in history. Lai, who is also a sought after actor, will be top priority for Sony, which has been spending much effort in restructuring its Chinese division in the past year.

The deal is expected to cover eight albums and take Lai up to the year 2000. His first album for Sony is expected to be released in mid-May and will be produced by award-winning PolyGram colleague Mark Lui Chung-tak. Lai is hoping that his move to Sony will allow him greater access to better material.

• A COMPACT DISC MANUFACTURER in Singapore has decided to fight back by threatening to sue three American computer software companies which it says have wrongly accused it of piracy, according to news reports from the island republic.

Microsoft, Adobe Systems and Autodesk last year accused the Singaporean manufacturer SM Summit Holdings of illegally copying their software CDs. Since then, the three firms have been locked in a series of legal battles. SM Summit is also considering taking legal action against the Business Software Alliance (BSA), the international software piracy watchdog body, for the accusations.

• R&B SINGER SAMANTHA COLE and boy band OTT passed through Hong Kong last month for promotional work and to present awards at the RTHK-organised International Pop Poll 1998 (winners of the two top prizes were Elton John and Celine Dion).

• SAVAGE GARDEN IS CONFIRMED to play Japan and then Taipei on April 26, Kuala Lumpur on April 29, Singapore on April 30 and Bombay on May 2. ★

► JamTV's (www.jamtv.com) recent deal with Jacor Broadcasting continues to strengthen its position on the Web as a key music information site.

JamTV's latest coup is an agreement with Jacor to offer Web support for the radio giant's 200 stations, bringing the number of radio stations under the JamTV umbrella to 320, including multiple stations within each of the top 10 markets and coverage in 24 of the top 25 markets.

The quid pro quo goes like this: JamTV radio stations can choose from several different options, including technological support, JamTV-provided content, as well as revenue-generating, turnkey programs designed to create "non-traditional" revenue streams for stations, such as online classified and cyber-malls. In return, JamTV becomes the purveyor of a very unique advertising package.

"By combining Jacor with our current affiliate line-up, we now have the critical mass required to offer advertisers a complete integrated package that has never been available in the past," said JamTV prexy Patrick Black. "Our national advertisers benefit because we offer them the ability to target very specific demographics, take advantage of the interactive marketing and commerce attributes of the Web, and drive traffic through the traditional reach and frequency of our affiliates' radio broadcasts. The stations get the unique benefit of an outstanding Web presence and superior content without the hassle of maintenance."

► On-Line Entertainment (www.oen.com) has reached a licensing agreement with Warner Music Group which will allow OEN's SongQuest system users to access and listen to samples of Warner-distributed CDs. OEN is an audio-on-demand service. For a fee, it offers several different services including live concerts and comedy programming.

► RealAudio may be the prevalent format for audio streaming on the Web, but the a2b music platform is claiming technical excellence over the competition. A press release boasts that the Canadian Research Center highly rates the a2b platform, saying that the software, developed in part by AT&T Labs, offers the best sound quality on the Web. Among a2b's list of features is encryption for secure purchasing and file compression to reduce download time.

Look for a2b to continue to integrate the Net with traditional retail outlets. TVT Records plans on offering free, full-length versions of the new singles from The Connells and Gravity Kills' upcoming CDs. Each download will include a "digital validation coupon" redeemable towards the purchase of the full-length album in stores.

► Canadian recording act The Watchmen have released the first interactive music CD using Digital Renaissance's CD-Active technology. Once inserted in the computer's CD player, the interactive CD combines the music on the disk with features found only on the band's Web site, including video footage, private photographs, exclusive interviews and even more tracks that will be offered later. "Even though much of the song 'Stereo' is about a fear of technology, the band has no doubt about embracing it," said Watchmen's bass player Ken Tizzard.

► Last November, America Online (www.aol.com) began bundling its software on CDs by select Sony artists. Michael Bolton and Celine Dion CDs were the first to carry the AOL startup software. So how are the fans reacting to this latest attempt to give every single person on the planet the chance to sign up with AOL? Kind of like trying to sell ice trays to the passengers of the Titanic, according to David Cassel's AOL Watch (www.aolwatch.org) newsletter.

According to Cassel, fans who attempt to play Celine Dion's CD on a computer are always first greeted with a pop-up window displaying AOL's logo. Cassel writes, "Though Celine Dion sings 'My Heart Will Go On,' Steve Case (AOL's CEO) apparently feels 'My software will go on — your hard drive.'"

► A couple of weeks ago, we reported on Imagine Radio (www.imagineradio.com), a remarkable Internet radio station offering several genres of music that you'd be hard pressed to find on conventional broadcast stations. However, we were a little bit off when we reported that Imagine Radio is headquartered in Brisbane, Australia. Make that Brisbane, California. Oh well, doesn't the Net make everything local anyway? ✦

DRU HILL

The four members of Dru Hill are accomplished singers and songwriters but their talent doesn't stop there.

Jazz, Sisqo, Nokio and Woody are also gifted musicians, each one capable of playing several different instruments.

Nokio, Jazz, Sisqo & Woody

Sisqo spent much of his childhood singing gospel with his church choir before discovering popular music. After realizing he had a passion for artists like Jodeci, Take 6, and Boyz II Men, Sisqo got into the complexity of Mozart. His love of classical, rock and hip-hop music inspired him to learn more and today, he is an accomplished keyboardist and bassist. He is also involved in Dru Hill's arrangement and production.

Woody plays drums and keyboard and his bandmates describe him as the melody man. Like Sisqo, Woody has deep roots in gospel music. So deep in fact, he is known as the band's spiritual link. "Woody is like our angel — we even call him Gabriel sometimes," Nokio said.

Nokio, which stands for Nasty On Key In Octave, studied music in college and plays classical trumpet, keyboard and piano. He is known as the serious production man in the group and has aspirations to study music business and production.

It's no surprise that Jazz is the big jazz fan of the group. He sings second tenor and plays keyboard, trumpet and piano among many other instruments. He studied jazz at the Frederick Douglass Music Academy but is also a huge lover of the blues.

Dru Hill's high level of musicianship allows them to record without studio musicians. Their soulful grooves and smooth harmonies reach far beyond the studio walls. Dru Hill is a strong live act.

Born and raised in Baltimore, Md., the young men first drew attention while working at the Fudgery in the city's trendy Inner Harbor. They would sing free-style, four-part harmonies while making fudge. Soon, the vocal quartet became a prime attraction at the Harbor. But the fudge factory wasn't the only unusual venue where the band performed.

Dru Hill started out as a gospel group, performing in churches and then at high school talent shows. Eventually, they began playing at fashion shows and bigger church events — their first paying gigs.

However, their most unusual gig occurred when Dru Hill performed a Christmas concert at a Nordstrom department store in Baltimore. It was their first "real" show and they sang Christmas carols with a pianist. After the gig, shoppers would continually look for the group, thinking they were employees of the department store.

Those early gigs helped Jazz, Nokio, Woody and Sisqo hone their performance style. When asked what made them decide to become mainstream recording artists, Woody said, "It wasn't actually a choice." Their singing kept drawing the attention of music business executives.

Dru Hill had already signed to University Musical Entertainment to record as an R&B group when Island's Hiriarn Hicks heard about the group. Hicks asked to meet with the four young men at a recording studio.

The Island exec played a song for Dru Hill and when he left the room, the four vocalists started singing the track. When Hicks returned, he was floored. He put them in the studio that same night. "We didn't even have a change of clothes," Woody said. "And we didn't have any money to get any more clothes."

That meeting was in April of 1996 and Dru Hill has been on the road ever since. "After the record company saw we could actually sing live and were a performance group, they decided to just keep us out there because a lot of radio stations were not playing our songs at first," Woody said. "But once [radio programmers] saw the performance, they were like, 'Wow, these guys are great.' They started to give us a chance on the radio.... So our performances opened a lot of doors in our career."

Woody said many people have told Dru Hill they are a great live act. "So we decided just to stick to what works best for you instead of trying to reinvent the wheel. We know that our performances are what people love a lot about us."

And it's not just fans who admire Dru Hill's stage shows. Respected artists like Mary J. Blige and Sean "Puff Daddy" Combs, two artists that Dru Hill's members respect greatly, have requested the act open up for their tours. "[Puff Daddy was] somebody that we always wanted to meet and now to get to go out on tour with him and spend time and see what actually goes on behind the scenes at a Puff Daddy show. That's really exciting."

In addition to its great live shows, Dru Hill has made quite an impact at retail and radio. Their song "In My Bed" was the

No. 1 R&B single of the year in 1997, beating out artists like Puff Daddy, R. Kelly, Erykah Badu and Usher. And it is starting to look like that success will repeat itself in '98.

Speaking of success, Woody said, "It's like a big surprise to us because we don't see ourselves doing anything more than what we have to do.... We just see ourselves as four guys who know how to sing and know how to perform. And [we're] lucky enough to get a job doing something that we enjoy doing." ✦

BUNNIES ON TOUR

► Playboy Enterprises is launching an annual music tour this year. "The Playboy Bacardi New Music Concert Series" will stop in 13 major college towns across the U.S.

Jimmy's Chicken Shack will headline the spring tour and Playboy Playmate Kelly Monaco, Miss April 1997, will host the events. Other Playboy Playmates and models will appear at each tour stop.

MOMMY MARTINA

► Martina McBride is a new mother but that's not going to stop her from doing what she does best — singin' in front of a crowd. The country music star will perform April 22nd — less than a month after giving birth — at the Academy of Country Music Awards show, which will be televised on CBS.

McBride, who is nominated for two ACM Hat Awards, delivered a 7 pound, 11½ ounce daughter March 29th in Nashville. After her awards show appearance, she will take some time off but is expected to resume touring in June.

BROKEN RAINE

► Our Lady Peace lead singer Raine Maida pinched a nerve in his neck, forcing the Canadian band to cancel three dates on its current American tour. The band missed two gigs in Colorado, March 23rd in Boulder and March 26th in Vail, and a Salt Lake City show March 24th.

Maida believes he hurt his neck and back during a particularly intense rehearsal for the Juno Awards.

His bandmates — Mike Turner, Duncan Coutts and Jeremy Taggart — picked up OLP's two Junos as Maida watched the show from his hotel room. OLP had been scheduled to perform on the awards show March 22nd.

Our Lady Peace returned to the road March 27th and continues touring the U.S. well into May.

CLASSIC(AL) ROCK

► Roger Daltrey will join the national tour of the British Rock Symphony which will recreate classic rock songs into "a new harmonic dimension." The classic rock music will be performed by classical musicians in a 60-piece orchestra with a 25-member gospel choir.

Daltrey will perform personal renditions of classic songs from The Beatles, Pink Floyd, Led Zeppelin and The Rolling Stones, in addition to tunes he recorded with The Who.

The American debut of the British Rock Symphony kicks off in New York City at a sold-out Beacon Theatre concert April 22nd. The tour is being produced by David Fishof Presents and is expected to tour nationwide beginning in June.

HOT NEW TOURS

► James Taylor does his annual visits to amphitheatres in June.... Another perennial summer favorite, Dan Fogelberg, tours in April and in July.... The Moody Blues have extensive dates into the summer.... Simple Minds tour Europe May through July.... Sonic Youth will do a small hall tour in May.... George Clinton & The P-Funk Allstars go out April 7th.... Bjorn Again hits the road in Europe April 17th, while Garbage does the same starting June 1st.... Ben Folds Five launch a U.S. club tour at the end of the month.... Gary Numan tours major markets in May.... Gregg Allman & Friends tour Japan in April and May, then they have a few dates in California.... Wayne

"The Train" Hancock kicks things off April 24th in Texas.... When Mike Watt & The Black Gang return from Europe later this month, they will immediately go back on the road for seven weeks of U.S. dates.... Morcheeba tours the U.S. in April and May.... Hum also spends the next two months on the road.... Joe Satriani tours with G3 and on his own in April and May.... Michael Franks plays major markets this summer.... Melissa Manchester performs primarily on weekends well into the year.... Link Wray goes club-hopping in May.... The "Africa Fete" world music tour crosses the U.S. in June and July.... Honeymoon Suite traverses Canada in April and May.... And Vonda Shepard is touring in May and beyond. ★

DESIGNED FOR CONCERTS.

Marine Midland Arena, located on Buffalo's waterfront, is a new, state-of-the-art facility designed with live music in mind. Your show will sound great and moving in and out is a breeze.

Buffalo is located in the middle of North America's fifth largest market and is geographically centered between New York City, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Toronto. Over ten million people live within a two hour drive.

Marine Midland Arena offers flexible seating capacities from 5,000 to 20,000 as well as a full-service in-house marketing department.

For arena and booking information call Jennifer Stich at 716-855-4450.
