El Rey Crippled By Slashed Capacity

HE EL REY THEATRE ON Wilshire Boulevard in Los Angeles has suffered a severe blow to its business since a fire marshal's inspection earlier this month deemed one of the venue's emergency exits unsafe due to a fence erected by a neighboring business. As a result, the El Rey's legal capacity has been reduced from 771 to 499.

Already, the theatre had to cancel a May 6th Tori Amos show, which moved to another venue, and all other scheduled performances are up in the air.

There is a simple solution to the problem, however. Installation of a safety gate in the neighbor's fence would return the theatre to its original capacity. But El Rey owner Rodney Nardi told POLLSTAR the neighbor, a hair goods store, has denied him that request; and that infringes on the theatre's rights.

Why would anyone refuse the venue a gate that would only be used in an emergency? "The only hing I can bring to mind is it's a cultural thing. They're Korean. They don't want anyone on their property," Nardi said. "And of course, nightclub people, we're always presumed to be bad and on the wrong side of the law."

He said his neighbors are hiding behind issues of personal property rights and liability, "but there's no liability if someone's running from a fire unless they caused the fire."

Nardi said the cut in capacity has rendered the El Rey unprofitable. Forty people have been laid off and the venue's reputation has been damaged, he said. "The [scheduled] shows have all got second holds on other venues so we lose the business and the place is finished over a damn fence," he said.

Nardi had a court date scheduled May 14th to ask for an emergency order to get the fence removed or a gate installed. He said the neighbors are infringing on the theatre's prescriptive easement right. "For 68 years, we've used the parking lot to escape

The El Rey is also suing the neighbors for damages, which are up to $50,000 at this point for the Amos cancellation, Nardi said. "It's a negligible impact on them but a devastating impact on us."

Velvet Elvis Threatened With Extinction

PORTRAIT OF ELVIS PRESLEY on black velvet has resurrected itself as the subject of a trademark infringement suit filed against a nightclub by Elvis Presley Enterprises. The Velvet Elvis nightclub in Houston, which sports the painting as part of its theme decor, has infringed on the trademark held by EPE, an appeals court recently ruled.

The May 7th ruling by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed a 1996 ruling that said the Velvet Elvis did not infringe on the trademark held by EPE.

The Houston club has long defended its identity, saying its decor, which also includes velvet paintings of numerous other luminaries, is a parody of big theme restaurants. "The bar is not about Elvis Presley," explained owner Barry Capece. "It's satire."

But satire and parody alone are apparently not protection against trademark infringement suits. "Parody is not a defense to trademark infringement, but rather another factor to be considered," the appeals court ruled.

The recent ruling does not award damages to EPE, but it does clear the way for an injunction that could force the bar to stop using its name.

No Horsing Around Tingley

T TOOK THE THREAT OF LOSING the National Arabian Horse Show to finally get officials in Albuquerque to pony up for some much needed repairs to Tingley Coliseum.

New Mexico State Fair officials promised to use $6 million left over from a legislative appropriation to fix the coliseum over the next two years, said State Fair Commission secretary and treasurer D'Auna Wood. Bob James, a member of the International Arabian Horse Association's show commission, had said the city isn't lending enough support to the event. He had complained about Tingley's roof, a lack of heat in some exhibit buildings and no water or electricity in some of the horse stalls.

Wood said the commission is making improvements not only for the horse show, but also for concerts and other events. Specific repairs and improvements have not been detailed but a leaky roof and heating and electrical systems are definitely on the agenda.

Sober School Stiff

RECENT STAND-UP GIG FOR ex-"Saturday Night Live" star Norm MacDonald may result in someone having the last laugh in court.

School officials contend MacDonald was intoxicated on stage during an April 24th show at Quinnipiac College in Connecticut. As a result, the school is refusing to pay the comedian a nickel.

Reportedly, one witness said MacDonald cursed the school and the audience during his routine.

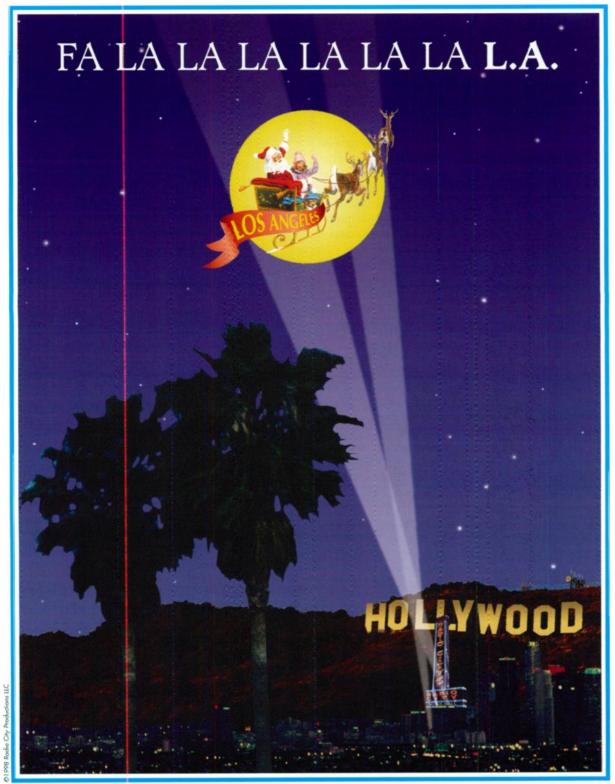

However, publicist Matt Labov denies all of the school's allegations, calling them "patently false" and "potentially libelous." He said the whole incident was blown out of proportion and is now in the hands of lawyers.

The college is not commenting on the situation any longer, Quinnipiac VP Lynn Bushnell told POLLSTAR.

shirt bearing an obscene phrase from a Marilyn Manson song. Several mothers who brought young children to the festival complained.

"I think it was like stepping back into the days of a Salem witch trial," Morgan said. "It was me getting burned at the stake."

Attorney David Harshaw, an employee of the ACLU of Kentucky who volunteered his time to represent Morgan, reportedly said the case was prosecuted under the wrong section of Kentucky's harassment statute. Morgan was found guilty under a "weird interpretation" of the law, he said.

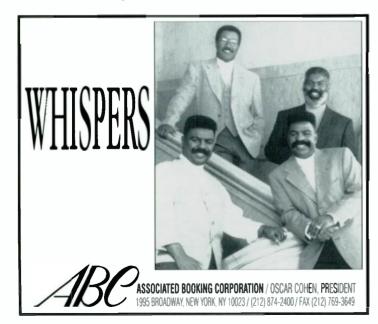

Because Harshaw did not dispute the facts in the case, he agreed to let Marshall District Judge Don Thomas decide the matter without a jury. Thomas found Morgan guilty of criminal harassment and fined her the maximum $250. Morgan said the case was being appealed. Despite that, she was ordered to pay $322 (fine plus court costs) by May 15th. "My rights, I think, are worth the money," she said.

Everett Hoffman, executive director of the ACLU in Kentucky, said Morgan stands to win the case ultimately on constitutional grounds. "Certainly from our understanding of the facts of the case, the conduct the young woman was engaged in is protected by the First Amendment," he said.

The case now proceeds to the Circuit Court level.

Brewing Up A Controversy

T fans have sued Ogden Entertainment Services, claiming the company sells beers at Veterans Stadium with less brew in the cup than advertised.

Eric Jacoby and Paul Pollock filed a class-action lawsuit May 1st charging Ogden with negligence and fraud. They initiated the suit after reading reports in the Philadelphia Daily News about the stadium concessionaire selling cups of beer with two ounces less than was advertised.

The suit alleges that Ogden either knew it was selling less beer than advertised and concealed the shortage to defraud customers or it was negligent for failing to use large enough cups to accommodate its advertised quantities of brew.

Officials with Ogden, which has been selling beer at Phillies and Eagles games for 13 years, said the suit is more foam than substance. "This whole thing is absurd," said Brian Hastings, Ogden's service manager. "We've served millions of cups of beer — all of them filled to the brim. In our 13 years at the Vet, we've never had one complaint not one." Hastings said the suit is nothing more than two jokers trying to have some fun.

Ogden contends it advertises its beers as large or regular; the number of ounces is not specified. But Jacoby said, "The bottom line is they're trying to make a profit by cheating you."

The Philadelphia Daily News estimated fans were swindled out of about $495,000 worth of brew in the last year but the plaintiffs are not really seeking financial restitution. "My lawyer said maybe we'll just get a free beer out of this," Pollock said. "But that's enough. What I really want is to get what I pay for."

Philadelphia city officials began an investigation after the newspaper article ran and found no signs of fraud or false advertising.

Because the men filed a classaction suit, anyone who has bought beer at the stadium during the last four years may be able to join in on the suit and share any legal winnings. Damages have not been determined.

Sponsorship Deal Goes Up In Smoke

THE LOS ANGELES COUNTY Fair Association dropped a tobacco company sponsorship after local anti-smoking activists staged a protest over Marlboro cigarettes' sponsorship of concerts at the fair. Officials said the decision to abandon the tobacco sponsorship was made so the annual fair can maintain a family friendly environment.

Marlboro Music had sponsored concerts at the fair since 1994. Fair officials said the company paid between $350,000 and $500,000 for sponsorship rights to three shows last year.

Last year's deal allowed Marlboro to hang two banners and set up a merchandise booth for the three September performances. The booth sold cigarettes and gave out free Marlboro lighters to adults over 21 who signed a declaration that they already smoke, Marlboro manufacturer Philip Morris said.

The fair also has been working with concessionaires and the state Alcohol Beverage Control to regulate and manage alcohol sales and consumption.

canceled the shows; one cited complaints from parents about the women's sexual orientation and the other said he was concerned about the use of profanity. A show at a high school in Germantown, Tenn., was also canceled by its principal.

At a press conference in Columbia May 7th, Amy Ray and Emily Saliers said the cancellations had occurred simply because they are gay but their sexuality would not have been an issue at the shows.

"We wanted to go into schools and be completely apolitical," said Ray. "We are very political and we felt like we wanted to leave that behind." The duo said they supported the students' protest actions.

The Indigo Girls went on to play shows in all three communities and high school students were admitted free of charge. Many were accompanied by approving parents and teachers.

Giant Revolutionary Changes

RVING AZOFF'S GIANT/ Revolution Records has entered into a new agreement with Warner Bros. Records in which the Bunny will take an even more active role in the marketing and distribution of Giant/Revolution product through the year 2002.

As a result, Giant/Revolution is streamlining operations to integrate and utilize the marketing and promotion efforts of Warner Bros. Cutbacks include the dismissal of senior creative executive Missy Worth, head of promotion Rich Bloom, head of sales Jim Kelly, head of alternative promotion Sean Renet and A&R exec Dave Walters.

Head of business affairs Larry Jacobson will be named GM of the labels.

Giant/Revolution is also looking to leave its Beverly Hills digs to find office space closer to Warner's Burbank headquarters.

Giant Nashville's collaboration with Warner Bros. Nashville will not be affected.

Campus Venue Becomes State Of The Art Again

THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS Assembly Hall in Champaign is in the midst of an $11 million makeover. Major changes at the 17,400-seat campus arena will be especially noticeable to road crews using the loading docks and backstage accommodations.

Short Items Of Note

In our recent Agency Roster Directory, the artist listing for Progressive Global Agency was inadvertently marked to indicate the acts were nonexclusive. All acts on the PGA roster are exclusive to the agency.

George Michael, through his attorney, pleaded no contest May 14th to committing a lewd act in a Beverly Hills park restroom. The singer was fined $810 and ordered to perform 80 hours of community service. The judge in the case also banned Michael from Will Rogers State Park and ordered him to undergo psychological counseling. Michael was charged with a misdemeanor count of lewd conduct April 7th after an undercover police officer busted him in a park restroom.

Boston City Councilors Brian J. Honan and Paul Scapicchio are tired of groups claiming to be "original" but turning out to be "tribute bands." The two say it's false advertising and will hold hearings on whether the public is being deceived and sponsors should be punished. Scapicchio suggests adopting an ordinance forbidding groups to advertise themselves as original without having any original members. Other actions being suggested are filing suits to stop pretend groups or adopting a law that punishes club owners who pass off fraudulent bands.

With Barry Fey retired and Universal Concerts primarily concentrating on filling the schedule for its Fiddlers Green Amphitheatre in Denver, it probably isn't a surprise that the partnership of Bill Graham Presents and Chuck Morris Presents has become the most active promoter at Red Rocks Amphitheatre. The new company has 13 nights booked and expects to do 15 before the season is over. Shows include two sold-out nights with the Dave Matthews Band, two nearly sold-out shows with Widespread Panic (in association with Bill Bass), two nights with Big Head Todd, and a Bonnie Raitt show. The BGP/CMP combo is also producing "Telluride On The Rocks" (in conjunction with Planet Bluegrass) which features many of the acts playing the annual sold-out Telluride Bluegrass Festival.

California-based sound system designers/operators Pro Media Rents and Ultra Sound have merged. The two companies will operate as separate divisions of Pro Media.

Officials at Arkansas' Hot Springs National Park are hoping to turn their soon-to-be-completed civic center into a desirable tour stop for performers. Aside from the Hot Springs Civic Center's 8,400-capacity exhibit hall, the facility's management is pushing the natural amenities of the park, such as the thermal springs bathhouses, as an attraction to performers. The center also boasts a renovated 1,800-capacity ballroom, which will be completed this fall. "We are making a renewed effort to make performers prime customers for our new facility," said facility GM Kurt Rogerson.

Soupy Sales settled a lawsuit with the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences and the Copacabana over the leg he broke while leaving the stage during a New York Emmy Awards show in 1995. Sales had sued the two defendants, claiming he fell as he descended a set of defective steps. The comedian broke his left leg and tore his left quadriceps tendon near the knee. The $200,000 settlement came just before the trial began in Sales' lawsuit. Sales said he can no longer do the "Soupy Shuffle" and he is not very happy with the $200,000, "but under the circumstances, what can you do? I'm in terrible pain...."

MAJOR RENOVATIONS are continuing at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall. The construction is scheduled to be completed this fall. Recently pictured in front of the hall's expanded loading tunnel are the venue's Jim Abel and Kevin Ullestad.

Arena director Kevin Ullestad told POLLSTAR the changes are designed to make the backstage as good for performers and crews as the front of the stage is for patrons.

The construction, which began in spring 1997, is scheduled for completion this fall, he said.

Among the additions at the venue are expanded loading docks that can now handle three trucks. The docks will also have a fully automatic self-leveling system covered for weather protection.

Changes in the backstage area include the addition of four dressing rooms, bringing the total to eight with a cumulative area of more than 6,000 square feet.

A new 80-capacity dining room with complete kitchen facilities is also included in the backstage area.

Production crews will have an expanded office area with 24 phone lines for fax and computer hook-ups. Also, a conference room and meeting office is available with computer connections to box office data. There is also a secured meet-and-greet area that can accommodate up to 100 people.

Completion of the project will be tied in with the hall's 35th anniversary this fall, Ullestad said. Because all of the funding is coming from the university's student general fees, he said free shows are being planned to welcome the students back after the summer break.

Cancellation Uncovers Counterfeit Tickets

Police IN LA CROSSE, WIS., are investigating reports of counterfeit tickets to an Aerosmith concert. The La Crosse Center Arena has confiscated seven fakes to the postponed May 9th show. The arena's marketing director, Art Fahey, said the bogus tickets were discovered when some concert-goers tried to get refunds. He said the frauds were purchased through street peddlers, though he did not know the total number of tickets in existence. The venue sold 9,300 tickets to the event.

"[The fake tickets] are passable on the street," Fahey told POLLSTAR. However, he said there are obvious signs that tell if the tickets are frauds, such as the stock paper, the tickets' shininess and clarity.

"This is the very first time in 18 years," Fahey said of discovering the bogus tickets. The venue has taken steps to warn the public of counterfeit tickets for the Aerosmith show and other events. Among those steps suggested are going to reputable ticketing outlets and not buying off the street.

"We're confident we're going to be getting to the bottom of this," Fahey said.

Aerosmith was forced to cancel a string of North American dates after frontman Steven Tyler injured his knee during a performance in Anchorage.

Michigan Concert Rating Proposal

MICHIGAN LAWMAKER IS proposing legislation that would effectively make certain concerts R-rated, much like movies.

State Sen. Dale Shugars, R-Portage, wants local governments to decide if acts are fit for concertgoers under age 18. If officials determine the acts are inappropriate for younger audiences, concert promoters would be required to bar unaccompanied minors.

"Not all parents have the information to know what these entertainers have done in their past performances or recordings," Shugars told The Detroit News. "What this bill assumes is that messages from entertainers dealing with teenage violence, teenage sex acts, teenage bizarre sex acts, selfmutilation ... are totally inappropriate" for those under 18, he said.

He cited Insane Clown Posse and Marilyn Manson as acts whose stage behavior is "very bizarre." In fact, he said the bill was inspired by a petition signed by 10,000 parents who opposed Manson's appearance last summer at Wings Stadium in Kalamazoo.

Concert promoters said such a law would be tough to enforce in an area like Detroit, where there are dozens of concert venues attracting hundreds of entertainers and hundreds of thousands of young people. The RIAA is also expected to vigorously oppose Shugars' legislative attempt.

Even a local high school principal couldn't agree with passing a concert ratings law, saying it's the parents' job to control their kids. "If we're paying attention to kids, we pretty well know what they're doing," Clarkston High Principal Brent Cooley said. "I take the notion that it's hard to legislate anything."

Airing Canadian Content

CANADA HAS CHANGED THE rules governing radio station ownership and the amount of Canadian music broadcast over the airwaves. According to The Wall Street Journal, the Canadian Radio-Television and Telecommunications Commission will now allow a broadcaster to own up to two AM and two FM stations in a major market and as many as three stations in a small market. The old rules limited a broadcaster to one AM and one FM station per market.

Industry analysts speculate that the new rules will spawn a reorganization of Canadian radio station ownership similar to the changes

Ownership regulations may have been eased but the controversial Canadian-content rules have been tightened. The commission has decided that music by Canadian artists must account for 35 percent of the music played by a radio station, up from 30 percent.

The decision was a compromise between radio station owners, who wanted looser requirements, and the music industry, which wanted to raise the quota. The Canadian Independent Record Production Assoc. had proposed that Canadian-content should account for 50 percent of airplay. But that didn't jibe with album sales in the country; Canadian artists make up only 16 percent of sales.

Fight Over Artistic Bankruptcy

HEN TONT BRAXTON FILED for bankruptcy protection in January, some in the business criticized the move, saying she was unfairly using the bankruptcy court to try to get out of her recording contract with LaFace.

Now, the RIAA has reportedly helped get a provision inserted into pending legislation that would prevent artists from using a declaration of bankruptcy to get out of their label deals.

A source from an artists' association told POLLSTAR that the pending legislation is not only unfair, but uncalled for; bankruptcy laws already prevent individuals from using bankruptcy in fraudulent ways.

The source said filing for bankruptcy is legitimate. In many cases, some young artists sign away much of their royalties early in their career and when success comes their way, they end up owing money across the board because of often unfair contracts.

Filing for bankruptcy is a legal means to "wipe the slate clean," he said, and artists should not be singled out. Instead, they should be bound by the same laws and regulations as the rest of society.

The bill, H.R. 3159, is being opposed by the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA), the American Federation of Musicians (AFM) and other artists' groups.

Wayne Newton Theatre Saga Hits Court

THE $5 MILLION LAWSUIT Wayne Newton filed four years ago against the owners of the now-closed Wayne Newton Theatre in Branson finally came to trial in Springfield, Mo., last week.

Newton's suit against Shenandoah South Inc. claims the company and its owners mismanaged the theatre and failed to pay Newton much of the money he was promised.

In opening statements, a lawyer told jurors that within months of the theatre's 1993 opening, Newton became suspicious that he was being cheated out of huge sums of money. But attorneys for Shenandoah shareholders Gary Snadon, Richard Gallagher and Eugene Bicknell said the entertainer actually had his best year ever in Branson during the time he worked for them, adding that the Midnight Idol made millions of dollars in 1993.

Shenandoah's attorney said shortly after Newton started performing at the Branson theatre, he began bullying the partners and on one occasion, threatened Bicknell's son.

Both sides acknowledge the contract between Shenandoah and Newton was vague, complicating the case.

Newton filed his suit in February 1994, two months before Shenandoah announced it was firing him for breaching his employment contract.

Bicknell and co-shareholders Snadon and Gallagher have filed a counterclaim accusing Newton of damaging their reputations. The trial is expected to last three weeks.

Eddie Rabbitt

DDIE RABBITT, 56, DIED MAY 7th in Nashville. The countrypop singer/songwriter had been diagnosed with lung cancer in March 1997 and underwent surgery to remove part of his left lung last May.

Rabbitt, who was raised in New Jersey, took a bus to Nashville in 1968 with no music business contacts and only $1,000 to his name.

He got his first big break in 1970 when Elvis Presley recorded his song "Kentucky Rain." Then in 1974, he signed his first recording contract. His first No. 1 hit came two years later with "Drinkin' My Baby (Off My Mind)." Subsequent hits included "I Love a Rainy Night," "Drivin' My Life Away," "Every Which Way But Loose," and "Step by Step."

Recording Giants In Play

THE TAKEOVER SPOTLIGHT bearing down on the music industry recently shifted focus from EMI Group PLC and now shines brightly on PolyGram, with several interested parties eyeing the world's largest music company. Seagram Co., widely-speculated to purchase EMI, is deep in negotiations with top management at Philips Electronics, the Dutch company that has a 75 percent stake in PolyGram. Seagram and Philips confirmed buy-out talks May 14th.

If Seagram does purchase PolyGram, its Universal Music Group would become the world leader in recorded music.

According to the Los Angeles Times, a deal is expected to go through with Seagram willing to pay as much as $10.5 billion for the music company. The paper also said Seagram chief Edgar Fronfman Jr. had bought an exclusivity period until May 18th in dealing with Philips. A similar tact.c was employed three years ago when Seagram acquired its MCA/ Universal assets from Matsushita.

However, reports of recent rueetings between senior manageruent at PolyGram and reps from two of the nation's most powerful leveraged buyout firms have emerged.

According to the New York Times, Forstmann Little & Co. and Thomas H. Lee Co. are planning a joint bid for PolyGram. Additionally, the paper said Michael Ovitz is responsible for bringing the two firms together and might take a managerial role at PolyGram if it were purchased.

Despite the late-comers to the table, Seagram is expected to close a deal with Philips, including an offer to PolyGram's minority shareholders. Analysts say Seagram has quicker access to the cash necessary to complete the purchase. Also, the company would easily be able to bring PolyGram into its entertainment fold.

The potential bids for PolyGram surfaced after EMI announced the termination of takeover talks with an unnamed bidder May 8th. Though EMI never revealed the identity of its suitor, virtually everyone assumes it's Seagram.

In a statement, EMI said it made the move to stem the growing uncertainty concerning the fate of the company, which it considered "damaging to the interests of both shareholders and employees." Prior to EMI announcing the end of buy-out talks, Philips revealed it was considering "various strategic options" for its majority stake in PolyGram which all but hung a for-sale sign on the company.

THE BACKSTREET BOYS did some fancy steppin' May 6th as they accepted the honor of world's best-selling dance group at the World Music Awards in Monaco. Due to Brian Littrell's recent heart surgery, only four of the five members made it to the ceremony in Monaco — (L-R) Howie Dorough, A.J. McLean, Kevin Richardson and Nick Carter. Littrell is recovering and plans to rejoin the band on its tour in July.

Analysts are not surprised by Philips' move, saying there isn't any synergy between the electronics company and the music giant. Furthermore, many speculate Philips was concerned that a deal between EMI and Seagram might remove the only serious buyer from the table.

EMI chair Sir Colin Southgate has repeatedly stated that the company is not for sale. However, Southgate made sure to cover his tracks, saying, "clearly, we have a fiduciary duty to consider any serious offer to increase shareholder value."

Now that Seagram appears to be looking at PolyGram, EMI's stock price has fallen and that may leave the music giant looking like an even more attractive purchase.

Other companies suspected to be window shopping EMI are Walt Disney, Bertelsmann, Viacom, News Corp., and Microsoft. *****

United Kingdom: Following

tabloid reports that Sir Elton John has split with his longtime manager, John Reid, there has been no official confirmation or denial of this dramatic news. The front-page news in The Sun shocked the industry but insiders say that a split has been rumoured for sometime. Nevertheless, the break-up would be a major shock as the relationship is one of the longest-standing managementartist partnerships in the business.

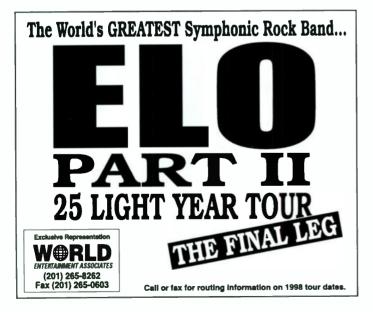

Sources say there has been an ongoing rift ever since January when details of Sir Elton's financial affairs were leaked to the press via an unnamed source. It has been said that the artist blamed his management for this. However, no statement had been issued from either Sir Elton or John Reid Enterprises to clarify the situation. The news comes as Elton is about to start a summer of heavy touring.

• THE BATTLE FOR THE TRIBAL Gathering name has been settled out of court. It has been revealed that the rumours were correct and that three weeks ago, prior to the cancellation of Universe '98, the embattled companies reached an amicable agreement over the rights to the Tribal Gathering name. Universe director Alon Shulman confirmed that the MFO now have no claim on the name. There are, however, no plans to relaunch Tribal Gathering as an event later this year. Now that this ongoing drama has been resolved without the need to pour money into a court case, Universe has plans to launch a new series of events. The dance promoters are refocusing on a new agenda which will include a U.K. tour, a New Year's Eve show and a worldwide tour.

Shulman said the global road trip for Universe will involve working with local promoters on several continents; Universe will handle the creative side and leave the production to their local partners. The first international event will be the Colors of the Universe festival (July 3-5) at Puigcerda in Spain. Working with a local club and bar promoter, Universe will be presenting the Propellerheads, Goldie, the Jungle Brothers, Cosmosis, Alabama 3, Howie B, Bandulu, Kid Loco and local artists. Shulman said that a five-year license has been secured for this event.

• CONAL DODDS HAS QUIT MCP to move to Metropolis. Dodds represented MCP's "young blood" and in the four years he was with the company, he expanded the club promotions side of the business and took several bands — including Oasis from clubs to arenas and beyond.

MCP's Stuart Galbraith said he was disappointed to see Dodds leave, "but I am glad of the four good years we had with him. It's the right decision for him to move on and we wish him well." Some tours booked by Dodds while at MCP will be transferred to Metropolis but details of the arrangements are still being finalised. Bob Angus at Metropolis said he was very pleased to have Dodds join the company.

• AFTER LAST WEEK'S SHAKEUP AT EMI, it seems that all negotiations for a takeover have been aborted. There was intense speculation that Canadian company Seagram was about to make an offer for EMI, but a statement issued by the record company has said that all "discussions... have been terminated."

• As THE WEATHER SETTLES INTO festival mode, the season is getting into full swing with more announcements to make. It's a change of headliners at the London Fleadh, with James stepping into the shoes of Simple Minds. It seems that Simple Minds dropped out due to "contractual obligations," but perhaps the announcement of their headlining slot at the Prince's Trust Party in the Park didn't go down too well with promoters the Mean Fiddler Organisation. With James on a newfound high, it is actually a good coup for the Fleadh and makes for a more interesting bill.

Meanwhile, the MFO have announced the line-up for Reading and the headliners include Page & Plant, Beastie Boys, Garbage, Super Furry Animals, Travis, Spiritualized, Ash, Supergrass, The Bluetones, Mansun, Shed Seven, Foo Fighters, Echo & The Bunnymen, Bentley Rhythm Ace, Mogwai, Kenickie, Curve, Ultrasound and Death in Vegas, to name a few. The festival will feature three stages plus two dance tents and a return visit from the Vans Warped Tour.

Meanwhile, Michael Eavis decided to quash some of the Glastonbury rumours by releasing the names of confirmed artists. Now we know that Bob Dylan, Blur, Pulp, Primal Scream, Ben Harper, Finley Quaye, Beth Orton, Nick Cave, Placebo, Ben Folds Five, Catatonia, Ian Brown, Asian Dub Foundation, Roni Size, Cornershop, Jesus and Mary Chain and Tony Bennett will appear at Glastonbury, among many others. Tickets aren't selling quite as fast as last year and with six weeks to go, there are still some available.

The Party in the Park (July 5), promoted by Solo with Capital Radio and the Prince's Trust, has sold 82,000 tickets out of the 100,000 total in just two weeks on sale. The first major event in Hyde Park since Quadrophenia two years ago, it will be the premier pop gig of summer, promising massive exposure for All Saints, Boyzone, Eternal and newcomers Natalie Imbruglia and Conner Reeves, who will be supporting Simple Minds.

very little to do with generating the best of new talent, it has developed a cult following all of its own.

Don't forget that Abba's first step on the road to global stardom was winning Eurovision and Celine Dion won in 1988 for Switzerland.

Much of the publicity surrounding Dana International has been focused on the fact that the singer is a transsexual, which generated a lot of hostility in her home country. So winning the contest represents a victory over Orthodox disapproval and if the eurotune "Diva" is a success, it could mean that the music world will be hearing more of this Israeli performer.

George Harrison arrives at the High Court in London to recover an informal Beatles recording made in Hamburg, Germany.

 The Beatles were in the news again, as they won a court case to stop sales of a 35-year-old recording. The dispute arose when Lingasgong Music Ltd announced plans to sell a 1962 recording of the Beatles singing "drunkenly" at the Star Club in Hamburg, Germany. The company claimed that John Lennon gave his permission to use the recording, made by Edward Taylor, leader of '60s band King Size Taylor and the Dominoes. It was one of the last recordings made prior to the Beatles signing with EMI Records.

George Harrison personally went to court to denounce the recording, saying it was one of the "crummiest" the band had ever made. He argued that even if Lennon had said anything to Taylor, it was not binding. "One drunken person recording another bunch of drunks does not constitute business deals," he said. The judge ordered that all copies of the recording be delivered to the Beatles' lawyers and that the group be paid their legal costs and damages.

• THE BRIT AWARDS TEAM IS ON the lookout for a new sponsor. The British Phonographic Institute (BPI) has come to the end of its deal with the Britannia Music Club which has sponsored the event for 10 years. Sponsorship brokers Music Innovations, who put together the Pepsi/ Spice Girls deal, have been brought in to handle the search.

Germany: THE INITIAL RESPONSE to Depeche Mode's autumn tour has been very good across Europe, but Germany is one of the few territories to get an additional date. The band sold out 20,000 tickets for their September 19 show at the Berlin Waldbuhne in just one week. Promoter Marek Lieberberg Konzertagentur has added a second Berlin show on September 18.

However, the tour schedule is very tight and agent Andrew Zweck at Sensible Artists says it will be hard to squeeze in any further shows. Already, the Marseilles date, which had not gone on sale yet, has been lost in order to reschedule the Munich show to October 13.

Denmark: MIDTFYNS (JULY 1-5) has suffered a double body blow with the cancellation of both Faith No More and now Aerosmith. Both these headlining acts had been announced and festival organiser Nina Faergermann is busy working to fill the gap they have left.

Faergermann told POLLSTAR that they are looking to cooperate with other festivals taking place on the same weekend. She added that ticket sales this year are very strong and are up on sales at the same point last year. It is a difficult year for major-name headliners overall and it won't be easy to come up with a replacement. Still, Faergermann remains extremely positive saying, "Our audience has confidence that we will find a good alternative."

Belgium: THE AXION BEACH Festival (July 17-18) has expanded its format to two days this year and the capacity has gone up to 40,000. The Belgian beachfest will feature an evening of music on the first day with Joe Cocker, The Corrs and Axelle Red (singers of the France 98 World Cup song with Youssou N'Dour). On July 18, there will be a full day with an eclectic mix of artists including The Prodigy, The Cure, Finley Quaye, the Hothouse Flowers, Run-DMC and K's Choice (Belgium's answer to Texas, currently high in the domestic charts).

Spain: PROMOTER ROBERT Grima at La Iguana reports that this year's Festimad (May 2-3) increased its audience size. The festival drew around 16,000 people per day despite bad weather and the absence of a major headliner. It was one of the first of this summer's festivals which had a strong alternative bill rather than focusing on big names.

Although the lack of major touring artists has forced this situation, Festimad proved that this format can work and draw a good-sized crowd as long as the ticket price works for the target audience. Of the bands which appeared, Massive Attack had a very good reaction, as did Asian Dub Foundation and Bentley Rhythm Ace.

In a statement issued by its embassy in London to ABC News, the Chinese government said, "Western artists have no right to intervene in the internal affairs of our country. Any of those performers who do will not be permitted entry to China, including Tibet, and their works will never be welcome in our country."

The Milarepa Fund, which organises the mammoth concert, has responded by saying this was proof that China does not respect basic human rights and invited Chinese government officials to attend the concert to "witness democracy in action."

This year's concert will be held at RFK Stadium in Washington, D.C., June 13 and 14 and will feature acts such as Beastie Boys, Sonic Youth, The Verve, and Pulp, as well as notable Chinese dissident Wei Jingsheng. Tickets for the event sold out within six hours of going on sale. Organizers have declared June 15 a National Day of Action for Tibet with a rally scheduled to commence on the U.S. Capitol lawn.

• PAUL KELLY IS TOURING THE U.S. in June in support of his new Vanguard release, Words And Music. It's his third American release but his 10th CD in Australia. Kelly has been touring the U.S. at least once a year during the past decade but this is the first time he's working Stateside with his band. He wants to concentrate on Europe and Japan, too. Meantime, his Australian tour through July is eagerly anticipated; his last album, Songs From The South, has sold 230,000 copies domestically.

• AUSTRALIA POST IS ABOUT TO announce the launch of a series of stamps commemorating 12 Aussie rock 'n' rollers, including Normie Rowe, Col Joye, Little Pattie, the Easybeats, Skyhooks, Sherbet, the Masters Apprentices and Russell Morris. To coincide, the Australian Radio Network presents a 12-part series looking at each of the rockers, while Mushroom Records issues a 12-track CD.

• MUSHROOM CHAIRMAN/CEO Michael Gudinski was recently awarded a special plaque for his contribution to the Australian music industry by the Australasian Performance Rights Association (APRA). The presentation took place before 500 songwriters and publishers at the association's music awards in Sydney. Presenting the award was Greg Macainsh of '70s band Skyhooks, one of Mushroom's biggest sellers, which Gudinski personally managed.

• ON THE EVE OF THE U.S. RELEASE of their Album No. 4, Sydney trio You Am I have split from their U.S. record label, Warner. The CD will come out May 29 here through the band's BMG label.

Its executive officer, Warwick Cheattle, is certain that a number of record company signings will come out of this meet. Of the 330 delegates attending, 80 are from interstate. Every major label is sending representatives, a coup for the event.

• THE SUPERJESUS AND Regurgitator lead the nominations for the inaugural Music Industry Critics Awards, to be held May 15 in Adelaide. They both gained five nominations, followed by Nick Cave (4), Custard (3), and Cordrazine (3). Sixty critics from around the country voted for 15 categories. The awards began as an alternative to the official Australian Record Industry Association awards held in October.

Both the Superjesus and Regurgitator are signed locally to Australian labels. The Superjesus are inked to Warner Bros. in the U.S. and will tour there shortly to promote their June-due Sumo album. Regurgitator are signed to Reprise and have toured the U.S. a number of times, picking up college airplay.

The country music side is represented by Keith Urban (signed in the U.S. to Capitol), Troy Cassar-Daley, Dead Ringer Band and Graeme Connors. They've certainly got a lot of material to choose from. Seventy-year-old Dusty has cut 90-plus records in a 50-year career and entered the British charts in the '50s with the classic "The Pub With No Beer," a track which gets most Aussies abroad tearful. * whole section of Tokyo to a standstill. The crowd, estimated at between 20,000-50,000, stretched for almost a mile along the streets under the blazing sun. Some of the fans, many with hair dyed in blue, yellow, orange or green, had camped out in front of the Tsukiji Honganji temple for several days.

Matsumoto, a guitarist with the popular but now-defunct band X-Japan, killed himself on May 2 by hanging from a towel hooked to a doorknob. The 33-year-old musician, known for his pink hair, left no suicide note. X-Japan disbanded last September and played its last gig on New Year's Eve, but Matsumoto has developed a successful solo career.

The rock idol's death has triggered at least three copycat deaths among teenage girls. In Hiroshima, a 14year-old hanged herself and left a note saying she would die "to follow Hide-san." A 17-year-old girl also hanged herself at a hotel in the western city of Osaka while another 14year-old girl hanged herself in Tokyo. At the seaside city of Chiba, an 18year-old woman, wearing a T-shirt with Matsumoto's name, is in a coma after throwing herself from a viaduct.

One company that's not making a mad dash to get on the Net is Musicland Corp., which says it won't venture into the virtual universe until its competitors start making money. "We want to be on the Internet selling music when it becomes profitable," said Jack Eugster, chairman, president and chief executive of the nation's leading retailer of prerecorded home entertainment products.

Musicland operates Sam Goody/Musicland, Suncoast, Media Play, and On Cue in 49 states, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the United Kingdom. Musicland doesn't plan on entering Net sales in the near future, but it does have two information-based Web sites that could quickly be converted to handling transactions.

► The Recording Industry Assoc. of America (www.riaa.com) has popped two more Web sites — one of them an ISP claiming the sites were illegally distributing fulllength copies of songs, including tunes by Mariah Carey, Boyz II Men, the Eagles, Meredith Brooks, Kenny G and Elton John.

The RIAA filed two lawsuits on May 5th seeking permanent injunctions and damages. Both sites were archiving MP3 copies of songs. MP3 is a sound file format that provides near-CD quality to sound files. According to the RIAA, both sites were making full-length versions of songs available for download. By May 8th, both sites were offline and the operators were cooperating with the RIAA to resolve the claims.

The NIAA filed suit in U.S. District Court for the District of Phoenix, Ariz., against Phoenixarea Internet services provider Arizona Bizness Network. The ISP's homepage included a link to another page on the site that offered a "song of the week." Past songs of the week were also available, bringing the total of illegal copies available for download to more than 50.

The RIAA originally sent a C&D to the ISP's operator, Frederic David Cohen, informing him of the illega: activity. According to the RIAA, the site eventually came down but reappeared weeks later. "In this case, the ISP appears to be actively involved in running the infringing site," said Steve D'Onofrio, RIAA executive YP and director of anti-piracy. "Clearly, this ISP was aware of the illegality and the ramifications of its conduct, but chose not to heed our warning."

The second lawsuit was filed in the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington in Seattle and was brought against a site that offered more than 1,100 songs for downloading. "There's enough stolen material here to create 100 CDs of top acts in every genre," said D'Onofrio.

The RIAA is serious about online piracy and the Federal Copyright Laws ain't no laughing matter either. Last January, the RIAA settled three different federal lawsuits against archive sites that violated copyright laws. In each case, the defendants agreed to pay $100,000 in damages for each infringed sound recording identified in the complaint.

ARTISTdirect's Marc Geiger

(artistdirect.com) has pretty solid music credentials. In 1981, while a student at UCSD, Geiger started his own promotion company — That Kid Presents. From there, it was a gig with Marc Berman Concerts and Avalon Attractions, starting San Diego's popular "Humphrey's By The Sea" concert series, being one of the brains behind Lollapalooza and working with Rick Rubin at American Recordings. When Geiger looks toward the future, he sees the Net. Here's the conclusion of our two-part interview.

How have the Internet and World Wide Web changed the way the music industry does business?

Too big a question and I honestly believe we ain't seen nothing yet. The music industry will go through a radical transformation over the next 10 years, but right now we are only seeing the first 100 yards of a marathon, so it's early. At this point, the industry is really starting to use email, transfer files and mostly uses "tool" based Web sites like POLLSTAR, BDS, SoundScan, Concertnet, Album Network, etc... And they are hardly using these with any real regularity. Record companies like Epic and Geffen are becoming real dependent on their intranets, which are quite good. What will happen will be amazing and I hope we play a small role in the shaping of the Web which I believe will be THE new distribution system for ALL music products.

When you bought the Ultimate Band List in 1994, the Web was a much smaller place. Are you able to just say "UBL" now without having to go into an explanation of what it is?

Still can't. Maybe in two years?? I explain it everyday to someone. People are just starting to really understand what Yahoo is. We are a ways behind? Continued Page 30

BIG BAD VOODOO DADDY

he problem with the underground swing movement is that unlike punk rock, kids' parents and even grandparents may want to join in. It's a phenomenon Big Bad Voodoo Daddy has been witnessing for about five and a half years touring around the country playing everything from nightclubs to retirement parties to high school proms.

L-R: Dirk Shumaker (upright bass, vocals), Scotty Morris (vocals, guitar). Kurt Sodergren (drums, percussion), Glen "The Kid" Marhevka (trumpet, vocals). Karl Hunger (saxophones, clarinets), Andy "Lucious" Rowley (saxophone, vocals). Jeff Harris (trombone) & Joshua Levy (piano, vocals).

> It's the easiest band in the world to market because people have fun with the stuff.

BBVD saxophonist Andy Rowley told POLLSTAR the band gets a kick out of seeing kids experience its brand of high-octane nitro jive swing for the first time. It's like a lesson in a historic American art form, he said. Then with the more mature crowd, there's an air of remembrance."It's familiar to them - the dress, the excitement, the energy, the crowd and the dancing one-on-one again," Rowley said. "It's really cool to be able to have your feet in both the past and the present and have three different generations getting a whole different take on it."

The Big Bad Voodoo Daddy trio that frontman Scotty Morris launched in Ventura, Calif., has grown into an eightman little big band. As the guys were introducing swing music to their hometown, they discovered a scene popping up about an hour away in Los Angeles. Fellow swing band Royal Crown Revue had sharp-dressed dancers stepping out every week during its regular gig at the Derby. When RCR got its record deal and moved on, the Derby asked BBVD to fill those patent leather shoes.

"Once we got that, then it was like, 'Wow, this thing is for real. There's people coming out and really into it," Rowley said. "Then we played our first couple of shows in San Francisco and the scene was really starting to go up there. Guys were coming out in '40s-like General MacArthur wear with pipes and the hats and the whole bit. It was crazy."

BBVD got to the point where it would play the Derby every Wednesday and then hit the road Thursday through Monday. The band had become very hot on the underground scene. As it was, the guys could barely keep their two independent CDs in stock. But their appearance in the movie "Swingers" would take things to a new level - a crossover to the mainstream.

With a whole new audience wanting a piece of BBVD, the eight musicians - while each had their own management duties - were not enough to handle the overwhelming amount of business anymore. It was time to get outside help. The only problem was, most concert industry professionals that wanted in didn't understand what the band was all about

Several management teams saw the ball was rolling with BBVD and wanted to be a part of it. But they had to go through the band's rigorous screening process first. "We would sit down and say, 'OK, you're gonna take 20 percent and you're gonna do what? Tell me something we're not already doing that you're gonna do."

Apparently, manager Gary Stamler passed the test. He went on to help seek out the right label for BBVD ----Coolsville/Capitol. Though the label turned out to jibe nicely with the band, the "understanding" didn't come without a little Big Bad schooling.

"When Coolsville approached us for this deal, at first, they wanted to market us in this lounge scene," Rowley explained."We said, 'If that's as wide as your market's gonna go, then you're missing the whole thing. You guys don't get it." BBVD invited label reps to an all-ages show to make its point. What they saw was certainly unexpected - punk rock kids jumpin' to swing music. "They had no idea that audience even existed. And that's what we'd been doing for four years prior. We knew the audience was there."

BBVD is a different kind of band and marketing techniques must reflect that but at the same time, "it's the easiest band in the world to market because people have fun with the stuff," Rowley said. With that philosophy, the band members continue to take an active role in planning business and marketing strategies because they've done it. And apparently, they know what works when it comes to building a swingin' career.

With little radio or MTV play as of yet, BBVD is selling out shows in advance in towns they've never played. The band built that word-of-mouth fan base partly by collecting about 4,000 names for its mailing list. "That was a big core of it right there," Rowley said. "We had people all over the country that were on that mailing list."

The men of Big Bad Voodoo Daddy are tooling around the U.S. in a 15-passenger van, all taking turns driving. But they're not complaining (except when it's time to decide where to stop and eat) because each one knows this is a dream gig. With a single off their self-titled Coolsville debut ready to hit radio and a video on the way, who knows? They may be wearin' those fedora hats and smokin' those fat cigars in the luxury of a tour bus next time around. *

➤ Will Public Enemy return to the road with this summer's Smokin' Grooves tour? Well, it depends on who you talk to. Smokin' Grooves initially announced that P.E. would headline the touring festival this year but group leader Chuck D. promptly said it wasn't

Then last week, word had it that P.E. was back in the mix for Smokin' Grooves. If a deal actually goes down, it will mark the first time the group has been out since opening for U2 on the 1992-93 Zoo TV tour.

The tentative lineup for Smokin' Grooves '98 includes Cypress Hill, Wyclef Jean & the Refugee All-Stars, Busta Rhymes and Gang Starr. Tour dates are expected to be announced this week.

TIGER GOES TOP 40

> That Tiger Woods really knows how to jam, figuratively speaking at least. The guy who made watching golf on TV cool has got the Eagles to play at his Tiger Jam I benefit concert at the Universal Amphitheatre June 8th.

It will be the first show together for Don Henley, Glenn Frey, Joe Walsh, Don Felder and Timothy B. Schmit since their reunion tour ground to a halt.

Also on the bill are Babyface and Hootie & The Blowfish.

CRASH INTO THIS

Red hot Dave Matthews and his band are rockin' the global village this summer. The group finishes up its current U.S. tour dates June 7th and then pops over to Europe to support the Rolling Stones through the first week of July. They then return to the States for a shed tour which starts July 22nd in Virginia Beach and ends August 30th, where it all began, in Raleigh.

Opening acts will include Poi Dog Pondering, Beck, Ben Folds Five, and Tai Mahal.

The Matthews Band is turning out to be one of the hottest tickets of the summer. The group's brand new release, Before These Crowded Streets, entered the SoundScan chart at No. 1, moving more than 421,000 copies its first week.

New HOODOO REVIEW

Some festivals may be trying to get away from the whole post-Grateful Dead freestyle jam image, but not this one. The Hoodoo Bash Tour, featuring Leftover Salmon, moe., Strangefolk and the String Cheese Incident, starts up June 3rd in Stanhope, N.J., and will play an eclectic mix of venues through July.

The four acts will rotate position each night and no one band will headline the tour.

BILLY CAN'T BREATHE

► An upper respiratory infection caused Billy Joel to postpone his twonight stand at the CoreStates Center in Philadelphia. The May 13-14 shows, the last of his current U.S. tour, have been rescheduled for September 16-17.

The Piano Man also was unable to play his April 28th show at the MCI Center in D.C. but he was able to make that one up May 11th.

HOT NEW TOURS

Bob Dylan busks through Europe May 30th - July 3rd where he will be joined by Van Morrison for a few dates..... Alice Cooper heads across the Atlantic this month and returns to the U.S. in mid-June with dates into September ..... Van Halen will tour sheds in July and August. The group hits Japan October 20th through November 2nd ..... Ziggy Marley & The Melody Makers starts a tour June 25th in Cincinnati.... Kenny Loggins has announced a lengthy itinerary which runs into October ..... Midnight Oil is touring all over Australia in July and August ..... Jerry Jeff Walker will do a lot of time in Texas this summer with a few dates in other states thrown in for variety ..... James Carter hits the jazz clubs throughout the summer..... Savatage launches a U.S. tour June 4th before heading to Europe later that month .... Skavoovie & The Ephitones will spend June touring the East Coast ... Other acts to look for are Israel Vibration, David Brenner, Nancy Wilson, Paul Rodgers, Today Is The Day, George Clinton, and Deep Forest. 🕊

In charting the course of the Ultimate Band List (www.ubl.com), do you find yourself borrowing any concepts from broadcasting, print or other media?

TV Guide, the yellow pages, Yahoo (www.yahoo.com), satellite TV and all print media. The Web is just a new way to display old media. Yes, we liberally pilfer ideas from all forms of media and transfer them to the Web. As bandwidth increases, the parallels to radio and TV will become much more clear. For now, we want to keep the sites light and fast, as most folks are still surfing on a 28.8 modem.

How do you establish a monetary value for a Web site? If someone makes you an offer to buy the UBL, how do you know if the price is right?

Valuations are based on the market value of other comparable music sites, traffic, sales and revenue numbers times a multiple that the market is accepting at the time. So far, no one has offered us enough but as the Red Herring said... this is a year for mergers and acquisitions... so you never know!

ARTISTdirect just announced exclusive agreements to develop online retail centers for Ozzy Osbourne and the OZZfest '98 tour, including a complete line of Ozzy memorabilia, tickets, CDs, books and sporstwear plus "Internet only" items such as musical instruments and autographs. Are there similar projects in the works for other artists? Yes, many!!! The Stones were first. Slayer and Sublime are next and many more to follow!

At the CIC in 1997, you talked about developing software that would simplify the booking process and allow people to concentrate on their jobs. During that presentation, you mentioned how the paperwork involved with even a club date can end up costing more to prepare than the actual gross of the show. Plus, all the endless rounds of phone tag with promoters and venues that can keep an agent from concentrating on the job at hand. How about a description of the software?

Javascript-based Web booking system that runs the entire booking process, from offers to settlement and everything in between. Displays photos, ad mats, riders and complete reports and forms for every need to run the smallest to the largest agency AND allows a remote user (agent or buyer) to enter offers and get info from wherever they are.

How is the software being received in the industry?

We love it and so far, only CAA has licensed it. You would have to ask them what they think of it. I am hell-bent to get Monterey and a couple of others into it. We'll see. Truthfully, I am way too busy with our Web business to do a good sales job at this point. I think it rocks and everyone should use it, but...I am a fittle biased! What is the name of the booking software?

TABSTalent — Agency Booking Software — co-developed by Scott Matalon and Stumpworld.

Do you ever foresee a time when all of the online projects - UBL, Stones, Ozzy, the booking software — will be bigger than the booking agency component of ARTISTdirect?

Yes, hopefully very soon. We are trying to build a $250 million Internet music company. The agency might be worth 5 mill one day if we're lucky. What would you build? Plus, this was always the plan!

Everyone talks about the positives of the Web. Do you see any negatives? What's the downside of the Web?

Negatives — will ruin a lot of perfectly good marriages. A lot of people are getting sucked in and consumed. If instant access to communication, information and anything in the world is bad, then... the Web has a lot of downsides.

Closing thoughts?

The Internet is the most important thing people should get into right now and it will transform their lives. We have not lived through anything half this radical and important since the TV, phone and car were introduced into our culture. The Web is even more important, in a way. Any medium that is doubling every 100 days is scary. For those that are not on yet, you will be! 🕊

Ours is a world full of fairy princesses, circus animals, big monsters and lots of playtime. But then, it should be. We're five years old.

Since opening our doors in 1992, we've mastered the art of preparing for just about any type of event from basketball to Barney. And when it comes to concerts, we successfully produced more than 40 last year to prove there isn't anything we can't handle. The only thing more flexible than our venue is our experienced staff. To find out more about our full-service capabilities, call Bob Machen, General Manager, or Ralph Marchetta, Booking Manager, at 602-379-2000.
