Seagram Buys PolyGram

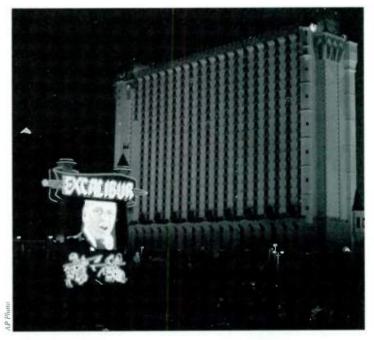

anadian Spirits and Enter tainment giant Seagram Co. announced an agreement May 21st to acquire PolyGram from Dutch company Philips Electronics for $10.6 billion.

Once the dust settles, PolyGram will be combined with Seagram's Universal Music Group, making it the world's largest music company and a global entertainment leader. Among the PolyGram-owned labels are A&M, Island, Motown, Mercury, Def Jam, Polydor, London, Verve, Decca, and Deutsche Grammophon.

Top management at Seagram and Philips approved the agreement in principle, while PolyGram's management and supervisory board recommended the proposed offer as "fair and in the best interests of PolyGram shareholders," according to a statement issued by Seagram.

Seagram chief Edgar Bronfman Jr. said, "We're delighted to be buying the world's preeminent music company and to be able to integrate it with Universal at an estimated cost savings of $275 [million to] $300 million annually."

Though Seagram is now considered more of an entertainment conglomerate than a wine and spirits business, Bronfman said his company will remain committed to its alcohol assets.

To help offset the acquisition costs, Seagram's board of directors authorized a spin-off, via an initial public offering of the company's Tropicana Products Inc. division, which is currently valued at more than $2.5 billion.

Also, Bronfman hinted at exploring the sale of PolyGram's film properties; Seagram already has a powerful movie company in its Universal assets.

The deal includes an invitation for Philips CEO Cornelis Boonstra to join Seagram's board of directors once the transaction is completed. Philips plans to stay focused on its core electronics businesses.

The deal's announcement comes after two years of speculation that Seagram was to purchase EMI Group PLC. Many analysts now believe that other suitors once eyeing PolyGram will now make a move on EMI.

The PolyGram transaction is expected to be completed within four to six months.

Gunning For Airport Laughs

OMEDIAN D.L. HUGHLEY WAS arrested at New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport May 15th for carrying a loaded handgun in his luggage.

Hughley was arriving in New York to headline a comedy show that night at the Westbury Music Fair. The hot young comic, who is slated to have his own network sitcom next season, was charged with weapons possession. He was released and went on to perform for a crowd of about 1,200 fans.

Officers at the airport found a .380-caliber semiautomatic pistol as the entertainer's luggage passed through an X-ray scanner, police said. "He said he carries a lot of cash and had already been robbed once," Port Authority Police officer Eric Katz told Newsday. "He didn't know he's not allowed to possess [a gun] in New York."

Apparently, Hughley kept his sense of humor about the arrest. "He stated to me I was helping him with his material," Katz said. "He says he had writer's block."

The comedian's "D.L. Hughley Show" is scheduled to premiere on ABC this fall. He is the former host of BET's "Comicview" program and has appeared often on HBO's "Def Comedy Jam."

Farewell To Frank

RANK SINATRA, 82, died of a heart attack May 14th in the emergency room of Cedars-Sinai Medical Center in Los Angeles. Sinatra, who had not been seen in public since a heart attack in January 1997, was taken to the hospital by ambulance from his Los Angeles-area home the evening of his death. His wife, Barbara, was at his side when he died.

Francis Albert Sinatra, born December 12, 1915, was the son of Italian immigrants. He was raised in a tough, working-class neighborhood of Hoboken, N.J. In 1933, after seeing Bing Crosby perform, Sinatra vowed to become a singer. But he would become far more than just another vocalist; he was an award-winning actor, producer, orchestra conductor, civil rights activist and cultural icon.

Sinatra drew rabid fans during the bobby-soxer era in a way unmatched until the arrival of Elvis Presley in the '50s and the Beatles in the '60s. His appearances created such hysteria and fits of swooning that newspapers turned to psychiatrists for explanations.

The responses to his death were just as intense. Newspapers in all corners of the globe ran front page articles on the passing of Ol' Blue Eyes.

Lights on the Las Vegas Strip were dimmed in his honor. The Capitol Records building in Los Angeles draped black bunting on the top of the tower. The Empire State Building in New York was bathed in blue lights. And there was a moment of silence in his memory at Yankee Stadium.

Instant memorials in honor of the Chairman of the Board also popped up on the Hollywood Walk of Fame and in front of a plaque commemorating his birthplace in Hoboken, among many other places including numerous sites on the Internet.

His friends in the industry said goodbye to Sinatra with a private service May 20th in Beverly Hills. The pallbearers included Tom Dreesen, Steve Lawrence, Don Rickles, Frank Jr. and longtime manager Eliot Weisman. Among the honorary pallbearers were his publicist Susan Reynolds and former Sinatra tour promoter Jerry Weintraub. In addition to the Hollywood stars one might expect at the invitation-only service, those paying their last respects included Bruce Springsteen, Lee Iaccoca, Larry King, Nancy Reagan, Quincy Jones and Lew Wasserman.

In the wake of his death, speculation about his estate ran rampant. The New York Post reported that he left $70 million to $150 million to help abused children but Sinatra's attorney Harvey Silbert would not confirm that report.

Sources did confirm that Sinatra's widow was left real estate including a Malibu beach house and a Beverly Hills estate, as well as a successful Budweiser beer distributorship.

Sinatra's three children, Nancy, Tina and Frank Jr., are to inherit the entertainer's lucrative music catalogue.

Silbert said he planned to file the will in Los Angeles Superior Court sometime last week. Once filed, the will becomes a public document. However, much of his estate was apportioned in a living trust, which is not subject to probate and therefore does not become a public document.

Van Cliburn Collapses On Stage

Cliburn is apparently recovering in good spirits after collapsing on stage during an opening-week performance at the new Bass Performance Hall in Fort Worth, Texas.

The 63-year-old musician suffered from, at the worst, a fainting spell during the May 14th concert, according to doctors at the All Saints Episcopal Hospital.

A packed house of 2,000-plus witnessed Cliburn collapse almost 90 minutes into his performance. Some reports said he suffered from memory lapses earlier in the concert.

"All of a sudden, he faltered at the piano and he just fell on the floor, just as though he had been hit by a bolt of lightning," one witness said. "The audience was just paralyzed."

VAN CLIBURN is taken to a hospital after collapsing on stage May 14th at the Bass Performance Hall in Fort Worth.

Fort Worth Symphony conductor John Giordano said it was Cliburn's fifth performance in a week. "I don't think he had the proper rest in the last few days," he said.

Hospital officials said poor air quality in the Fort Worth area could have contributed to the pianist's collapse. According to the National Weather Service, smoke and haze from wildfires in Mexico had blanketed much of Texas over the past week.

Cliburn was released after a two-hour hospital stay. He said he felt "very empty" because he had not finished the piece, Rachmaninoff Piano Concerto No. 2. However, he added, "I'm taking my doctors advice to really relax."

This was not the first time Cliburn has fallen ill while performing. During a 1994 concert at the Hollywood Bowl in Los Angeles, he suffered a dizzy spell, bringing an abrupt end to the show.

Firehouse Tries To Put Heat On Sony

ARD ROCK BAND FIREHOUSE is leading a battle against Sony Music Entertainment claiming the label has knowingly underpaid its acts foreign royalties. On behalf of the band, a $50 million class action suit was filed against Sony Music in New York's State Supreme Court in Manhattan May 18th.

The plaintiffs accuse the label of deducting one and a half times the VAT taxes on foreign record sales to reduce the amount of income, "thus lowering by 25 to 30 percent all the monies that are otherwise payable to the artist — just on foreign sales," attorney Brian Caplan told POLLSTAR.

The lawsuit accuses Sony of providing its talent with phony foreign royalty statements, as well. Caplan said the royalty statements given to acts fail to show the extra 50 percent of tax deducted. "You wouldn't discover that unless vou did an audit," he said. "So on the face of the statement, they don't know what the underlying numbers are. And they're getting underpaid and under-reported."

Caplan said 90 to 95 percent of acts that signed with Sony Music from 1965 to the present have virtually identical clauses relating to foreign royalties. There are approximately 1,500 to 3,000 people that fall into the defined "class" in this case, he said.

INSIDER NEWS BRIEFS

Though the suit seeks $50 million at this point, Caplan said that amount may grow during discovery. He said the plaintiffs are also seeking a declaratory judgement to require Sony to comply with its contractual obligations in the future and to not defraud acts further. "That's what one of the allegations is in the complaint and that would be worth tens of millions of dollars, as well, if not hundreds of millions of dollars," Caplan said.

Sony Music has 20 days to respond to the complaint. A spokesperson from the label told POLLSTAR, "As a matter of policy, we do not comment on pending litigation."

Zelisko Supports A Radio Show

AN ZELISKO OF EVENING
Star Productions has vociferously complained about radio stations making incursions into the concert business so maybe his latest move is the promoter's own version of a counterattack. Zelisko is promoting a different kind of radio show these days — his own.

The Arizona-based promoter is co-hosting Radio Free Phoenix, a five-hour show playing "everything from Frank Zappa to Louis Armstrong," as Zelisko puts it.

"The whole idea is about music and musicians," Zelisko told POLLSTAR. He said the show was created to be free of any type of format. "It's a lot of music, old and new, that wasn't being played."

Zelisko said his program is a response to modern day radio formats that ignore acts with solid fan bases. "There are so many people out there who are constantly touring that couldn't get played to save their lives." He cited examples of over-played singles by today's popular artists and yesterday's

The Grateful Dead organization has reportedly joined forces with the QYC Shopping Network to promote its mail-order merchandising wing. Grateful Dead tape archivist Dick Latvala and road manager Steve Parish will host a home shopping segment June 5th at 10 p.m. (PDT) billed as "First Friday: Extreme Shopping." During the show, Latvala will announce the contents of the band's latest mail-order live recording release, Dick's Picks No. 11, and sell copies on the air.

SFX Entertainment announced last week its public offering of 7 million shares of common stock priced at $43.25 per share. Goldman, Sachs & Co. and Lehman Brothers Inc. are lead managers of the offering, SFX said in a statement. The offering is scheduled to close on or about May 27th.

Magicworks Entertainment has announced a 75 percent increase in revenue for the first fiscal quarter of 1998. The company raked in just under $9.5 million during the quarter ending March 31st, compared to the $532,000 earned during the same period last year. A statement from Magicworks attributed the healthy increase to the Riverdance and Rugrats tours. The company stated that the increased profits were offset by a combination of lower sponsorship revenues and increased expenses. However, 1998 still looks like a banner year for Magicworks with the Janet Jackson tour, Riverdance in the U.S., Lord of the Dance in Europe, and theatrical tours with "Evita" and "Cabaret."

Not long ago, drummer Ginger Baker thought he had found true happiness living near Denver and tending to his polo ponies. But the country life has soured for the once hard-living Cream legend and he may soon leave the States. Baker's troubles began last June when his horse caretaker, a fellow Brit, was deported in a green card controversy. Now, Baker's own visa may be in jeopardy. His visa has been extended to April 2000, however, he told the Rocky Mountain News that the extension is contingent on him keeping a recording contract and that may not be possible. After losing his caretaker, Baker took on all the heavy labor required to maintain his horses. He wound up in the hospital after a rotator cuff injury and recently suffered three cracked ribs when he was head-butted by a horse. The injuries have taken an obvious toll on his drumming. Baker, 58, has lived in the U.S. since 1988 but he is apparently resigned to returning to Europe.

Barbie's court beef with the Danish group Aqua and its "Barbie Girl" song has been dismissed. U.S District Court Judge Matthew Byrne Jr. granted MCA Records' motion for summary judgement pertaining to all of Mattel's claims May 8th. Mattel Inc., makers of Barbie, filed a lawsuit in September against MCA for alleged copyright violations due to the release of Aqua's hit song. Mattel also claimed Aqua's song was sexist, citing the lyrics, "Make me walk, make me talk/l can act like a star/l can beg on my knees." In its suit, Mattel had asked for a recall of the single and the album Aquarium, which features the song, as well as halting the broadcast of the song's music video and closing down the Aqua Web site. The toymaker will reportedly appeal certain parts of the court's decision.

Michael Jackson will organize and headline a series of benefit concerts to fund his new World Peace Foundation of Children organization. The first concert is scheduled to take place in Chamsil Stadium in Seoul, South Korea, October I I th and will be promoted by Cheil Communications. Jackson said he will be joined by Luciano Pavarotti and Elizabeth Taylor for the inaugural event with additional performers to be announced shortly. Plans are also underway for a show in the demilitarized zone separating North and South Korea. The DMZ show will be produced by MJ in conjunction with Don Mischer Productions. The Seoul concert is expected to be the first in a series of live events organized by MJ and the WPFC. Proceeds from the first show will support famine relief efforts in North Korea.

Blues singer/harmonica player Lester Butler, 38, died May 9th of unknown causes. Butler had played harmonica since age 6. He toured nationally with the Red Devils in the early '90s. He opened for bands such as Allman Brothers and Los Lobos and frequently played clubs including the House of Blues and Jack's Sugar Shack in Los Angeles and at openings for Planet Hollywood restaurants around the globe. Most recently, Butler toured Europe with his band, 13. The cause of his death is to be determined after an autopsy.

stars dominating the airwaves. "The Cars are great, but what are they doing now?" he asked.

In addition to playing music, Zelisko welcomes guests into the studio. Past visitors include members of Journey and Roger Glover of Deep Purple.

The program, which is cohosted by former radio station owner Dwight Tindle, is broadcast every Sunday at 7 p.m. on The Eagle-KGLQ. Zelisko said once the show gains a local fan base, he hopes to syndicate it around the country.

In the meantime, he'll keep spinning records locally — in addition to promoting concerts. "I want the audience to feel like they're in somebody's house, pullin' music from the wall."

WITH A RECORD-BREAKING run of nine sold-out shows, the staff of Nassau Veterans Memorial Coiseum in Uniondale, N.Y., couldn't thank Billy Joel enough. In fact, just prior to the Piano Man's final performance May 4th, the coliseum unfurled a huge banner reading "Billy Joel 9 Sold Out Nights 1998 Tour." the shed halfway between Lincoln and Omaha along Interstate 80.

The new venue would be the centerpiece of what Davis called a "performing arts park," which would also include children's camp facilities and a restaurant.

The County Board had proposed limiting the number of concerts at the amphitheatre to 27 per year and the number of concerts with audiences of more than 14,000 to seven per year. But those limits were eliminated in the final plan approved May 19th. A prohibition on concerts before 6 p.m. was also eliminated. Concerts can begin at noon but must be over by 11:30 p.m.

The first concert at the estimated $10 million to $15 million amphitheatre is expected in the summer of 2000, Davis said.

Midnight Idol Settles Branson Suit

AYNE NEWTON'S multimillion dollar lawsuit against theatre owners
Shenandoah South Inc. reached a settlement May 13th, the third day of trial. Both Newton's suit and the countersuit against him came to a halt after two hours of negotiations in Springfield, Mo.

"This case was settled to my satisfaction," Newton said in a statement issued by spokesperson Tricia McCone, who added, "He said it with a big smile."

Terms of the agreement were not released but both sides said they were pleased with the outcome.

Newton filed suit against the theatre owners in 1994 for allegedly mismanaging the now-defunct Wavne Newton Theatre in Branson and failing to pay the performer as promised. In response, the company countersued, claiming Newton harmed Shenandoah's situation by telling audiences offensive iokes about fat women in cars and stories trashing the entire state of Pennsylvania.

WITH 37,000 concert-goers generating gross ticket sales of $1.7 million, Elton John is named the top-grossing artist of all time at the Target Center in Minneapolis. The superstar performed two sold-out shows April 21st and 22nd. Flanking Sir Elton are longtime agent Howard Rose and the venue's Dana Warg.

Football Stadiums, Arenas & Web Sites

FL OWNERS RECENTLY wrapped up three days of meetings to address issues facing the league.

One issue is how to bring a team back into the Los Angeles area.

Former CAA prexy Michael Ovitz recently met privately with NFL commissioner Paul Tagliabue and other NFL officials to discuss what he thinks is the best plan to bring the league back to L.A.

The one time mega-agent told the NFL he would build a stadium for a team in which he would be one of the owners. Ovitz said his proposed stadium would be on what was a toxic waste site in Carson, Calif., about 10 miles from downtown Los Angeles. He said the $750 million project would be mostly privately financed.

Ovitz apparently wowed several of the owners with his flashy presentation. If he has the steak to back up his sizzle, he may well get the nod to build a stadium and field a team in the nation's second biggest media market.

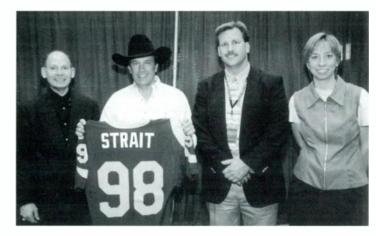

The proposal is one of several offered to bring football back to Los Angeles. Ovitz's plan would build a new stadium rather than use the historic Memorial Coliseum, where the Raiders played for 13 years before moving back to Oakland, Calif., before the 1995 season. The Rams left the L.A. area the same year, moving from Anaheim to St. Louis.

Commissioner Tagliabue would not comment specifically about any of the efforts being organized in the Los Angeles area, but NFL insiders told the Los Angeles Times that, in addition to Ovitz, Tagliabue met with former Dodger owner Peter O'Malley, Disney chief Michael Eisner, and execs from Hollywood Park, the New Coliseum Partners and the Rose Bowl.

In other NFL news, Tagliabue announced the NFL will allow its teams to purchase Arena Football League teams in their territories.

NFL bylaws prohibit team owners from investing in other football leagues or teams, but the recent decision will make an exception for Arena Football. As many as eight NFL owners are interested in placing AFL teams in their areas.

Another issue discussed during the owners' meeting was the rights to the NFL's site on the World Wide Web. The organization reportedly agreed to license rights to its Web site, www.NFL.com, to ESPN Sports Zone for at least $10 million.

The agreement, which reportedly will give ESPN a multi-year contract to produce the site, came after a bidding war against Sports-Line USA Inc. and News Corp.'s Fox Sports Online.

Tommy Lee Booked Into Crowbar Hotel

OCKER TOMMY LEE BEGAN A six-month jail sentence May 20th for felony spousal abuse.

Lee was taken to a jail in downtown Los Angeles, where he is housed in a single-person cell to protect him from other inmates, according to the sheriff's department.

The 35-year-old Motley Crue drummer was given jail time and three years probation for kicking wife Pamela Anderson as she held their baby son, Dylan, during a fight in February.

Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Lawrence J. Mira said Lee's punishment was long overdue. "What I see here is a very clear, disturbing in my judgement, pattern of conduct in which otherwise resolvable issues are handled with violence," Mira said.

Citing criminal incidents dating back to 1983 in which the drummer was given no more than probation, Mira said the judicial system should have been tougher sooner. Mira warned Lee that any violation of probation would result in three years of additional prison time.

Lee was also ordered to donate $5,000 to a battered-women's shelter, avoid drugs and alcohol, stay at least 100 yards away from his wife, attend anger management classes and undergo random drug tests. In addition, Lee must perform 200 hours of community service.

Wrestling With A Mystery Arena Fire

34-YEAR-OLD WOMAN WAS burned in a fire in a Nashville Arena restroom May 18th. The blaze occurred under mysterious circumstances.

Delores Hinson was treated for burns on her back, shoulders and neck and released.

Arena GM Russ Simons told POLLSTAR he could not comment about the incident, pending an investigation by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. He did confirm that a woman was injured and that two arena employees helped to extinguish the fire.

Reports said ATF agents discovered a container and some accelerant in the bathroom.

New Book Dishes Country Dirt

THE CRITICS SEEM TO LIKE author Bruce Feiler's new book that chronicles country music's leap in popularity, but the stars portrayed in the it are not equally pleased.

The book, "Dreaming Out Loud: Garth Brooks, Wynonna Judd, Wade Hayes and the Changing Face of Nashville," has been praised for its accurate reporting of photo shoots, recording sessions and the like, but Brooks and Judd say the author used dishonest methods to get interviews with them. Brooks said he spent time with Feiler for a proposed cover story in Esquire magazine that never appeared. He said it was unethical for Feiler to instead use the interviews in a book. Judd said that she, too, had talked to Feiler thinking the interview would appear in The New York Times.

Maybe the stars are irked because the book reveals some negative aspects of their personal lives. Feiler wrote about Brooks, "He was scared of his own mind, of the conflicting emotions that swirled around his head.... At the heart of his problem was the fact that Garth knew he could go no higher."

In the book, Judd comes off as the troubled product of a twisted relationship with Naomi Judd, her mother and former singing partner. The book describes arguments that became physical confrontations.

For a time, Wynonna lived with the Judds' manager, Woody

Bowles. In the book, Bowles said Naomi would lock her daughter in his bathroom and berate her: "Then she would yell and scream at her for hours, 'You're a fat, lazy child. You're nothing without me. You owe everything to me. You should be grateful, you lazy slob!"

Hayes has not commented on the book. Feiler chose a superstar, a mid-level artist and a newcomer to illustrate his theory that country music became more popular once it began speaking to all people and not just rural Southerners.

FANS WERE WALTZING in the aisles of Radio City Music Hall when Andre Rieu took the stage. The Dutch conductor/violinist, recognized as "The New King of Waltz" by Time Magazine, played to a crowded house at the Big Apple venue April 24th. Presenting Rieu with a memento backstage are Radio City Productions' Ed Micone (L) and tour promoter Donald Tarlton (R) of DKD! Universal.

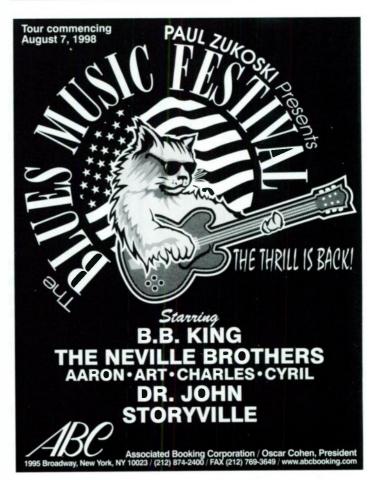

Pros On The Move

Steve Ferguson has joined ARTISTdirect as senior booking agent. He will be responsible for booking the agency's roster in the western portion of the U.S. The New York native most recently worked for The Agency Group and prior to that was at ICM and F.B.I. Ferguson brings Catherine Wheel, London Suede, and Ocean Colour Scene with him to the agency.

Jason Miller has rejoined the Universal Concerts team, this time in its Denver-area office. Miller had been with Universal in Vancouver for five years before leaving last summer to join the H.O.R.D.E festival as GM. He told POLLSTAR he was honored when Universal prexy Jay Marciano asked him to come back. "Jay Marciano is really responsible for me having a professional career in the music business," Miller said. "He let me go and sort of chase my dreams.... But then he called and he said he needed help and wanted me back. And, you know, if Jay Marciano is gonna call asking for help, I'm gonna be there for him because he was there for me."

It didn't take former EMI music chief Jim Fifield long to land a new job. Not that he desperately needed a gig after snagging a reported $21 million exit package from EMI, but Fifield was named president and CEO of outdoor gear maker North Face Inc. last week.

Former A-I Audio exec Jan Landy has opened his own business brokering new and pre-owned professional production equipment. Santa Monica-based Cash Landy Productions specializes in liquidating manufacturers' discontinued inventory. The company has an exclusive agreement with JBL Professional to sell its discontinued merchandise. Cash Landy's current inventory list can be found at www.cashlandy.com. Landy's phone number is 310-391-1365.

EUROPEAN NEWS

Reported by Camilla Phelps 171.223.3978 Fax 171.652.6614 E-mail: camilla@pollstar.com

United Kingdom: AFTER A WEEK OF press speculation, Sir Elton John has announced that he has ended his management relationship with John Reid. Statements from both parties confirmed that the 28-year-old business relationship came to an end amicably on May 15 and stressed that there are no outstanding issues of contention between the two parties.

Sir Elton has set up his own company, Elton John Management Ltd (EJM), and Colin Bell will quit his position as managing director of London Records to join EJM as MD there. Existing relationships with Elton's press agent, William A. Bong, and lawyer Frank Presland will remain in place while the singer's financial affairs will be handled by his recently formed office, Himitsu, which is run by Lindsay Moffat. No change is expected in Elton's U.S. agency representation with Howard Rose.

Elton's press release said that "for some time it has been clear... that a different style of management arrangement would be more appropriate. John Reid has also recognised this and has ... developed other business interests of his own..." Reid commented: "I've had 28 wonderful years with Elton John, but we both recognised that the time had come for us each to pursue our separate interests... Elton has my every good wish for continued success in the future with his new management team."

The two are currently working on a new Disney stage production of "Elaborate Lives: The Legend of AIDA," which will be previewed in Atlanta in October. Elton has just finished his U.S. tour, and starts his European summer schedule with the historic concert at Stormont in Belfast on May 27, after which he continues with Billy Joel on the Face to Face tour.

• U2 MAY HAVE FINISHED THEIR stadium tour but they were back on stage as special guests to Ash at the 3,300-capacity Waterfront Hall in Belfast on May 19. The very special one-off show took on momentum of its own as the "Yes" campaign built up towards voting day for the Ulster Referendum which will decide the future of Northern Ireland.

With the world famous Dubliners U2 coming north to support the Iledgling superstars Ash, it made the whole concert even more significant. Ash's agent Steve Strange at FWWT— from Belfast himself — said the concert was very much a cross-community event. The Yes Campaign distributed tickets across schools in both loyalist and republican communities to encourage sixth-form students to use their votes.

Ash said they wanted to support the politicians' efforts to secure a yes vote in Northern Ireland. They said, "We were born during the troubles and don't want to see outworn attitudes holding our country in the past. The people want a better future and are going to vote yes. It's time everyone on all sides accepted this because some will be doing their best to make sure the referendum doesn't go through... The No vote offers no hope. If we don't say yes, what's the alternative? We want our country to move into the future. Let's get it together."

This was the first gig of the summer for Ash who will play selected festivals through the season before starting a full-scale world tour in the autumn.

• MICHAEL FLATLEY HAS ANNOUNCED his retirement and his last ever performance. It was the perfect unique selling point for the Feet of Flames show which will be a massive dance extravaganza, playing to an audience of 25,000. Promoted by Triple A Productions, it will be held in Hyde Park July 25 and will be the first outdoor dance show to be held in the royal park.

Flatley's choice of location in the park is the Route of Kings, which has not been used for concerts before and the title fits neatly within his own PR framework as lord of the dance. The stage will be specially constructed — the "widest ever" to accommodate 84 dancers performing together in the newlycreated show. The show will be filmed for worldwide TV broadcast and video release.

 A LONDON HIGH COURT JUDGE blocked a $3 million insurance claim over the death of Jerry Garcia last week. PolyGram Holdings and Bono GIVES A V SIGN as he walks towards Waterfront Hall in Belfast May 19th with Tim Wheeler of Ash (second from right) and Northern Ireland political leaders John Hume (left) of the Social Democratic and Labour Party and Ulster Unionist Party leader David Trimble (right). Seen in the background are U2 manager Paul McGuinness (center) and other band members.

Metropolitan Entertainment had both put claims in after Garcia's death in 1995, but the five insurance companies refused to pay up. They claimed that Garcia's health problems had not been revealed when the policies were taken out.

The Judge, Simon Tuckey, ruled in favour of the insurance companies, saying that Garcia may have had the "constitution of an ox," but that he was still ailing at the time the insurance policy was taken out and the claimants had failed to disclose this.

• CARL LEIGHTON-POPE SAYS HE IS set to revolutionise the ticketing business. Although being an agent remains his primary business, Leighton-Pope is diversifying into the manufacturing business for the first time in his career.

After securing the U.K. license for the manufacture and supplying of

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

CD tickets, the LPO offshoot company, TDC, was launched at the ILMC in March. Leighton-Pope said that the response to the idea has been very good, with around 100,000 units shifted in the first month. The first use of the special CD-ticket souvenir was at a Mike Peters concert at the Shepherds Bush Empire on May 6 and Leighton-Pope is waiting for details of future concerts for this autumn.

With the specialised cut-outs and the patented method of encryption, this German invention could be a new way to fight the ticket forgers. In Germany, the method has been used successfully for concerts by the Backstreet Boys and Genesis.

• DEEP PURPLE HAVE ADDED THEIR names to the growing roster of autumn tours on sale. MCP will promote four arena shows around the country. Other dinosaur rock acts touring this autumn include Motorhead and Status Quo, also promoted by MCP.

At the other end of the audience demographic scale, a different sort of dinosaur will be coming to an arena near you this winter. Barney, the purple dinosaur TV character, will be touring the U.K. with Barney's Big Surprise, which is certain to be a new contender for the pocket money of the under-5's market.

With more than 20,000 kids in the U.K. branch of the Barney Fan Club and a Barney movie due for release in the summer holidays, ticket sales for this eight-date Christmas tour should go well.

- THE AGENCY HAS TAKEN ON TWO new acts. Creed and Virgos Merlot have been added to the roster and Neil Warnock will book both bands worldwide except for North America, which will be handled by Ken Fermaglich at The Agency Group office in New York.
- WEMBLEY STADIUM CLOSED THE football season with the Cup Final tie on May 16, just a few weeks before it gets transformed into a concert venue when Elton John and Billy Joel play Face to Face on June 6 7. Music industry football fans present at the Arsenal-Newcastle United game included Martin Hopewell (and his son), Paul Crockford, Pete Wilson, Martyn Stanger and Dennis Arnold from Triple A Productions, lan Huffam from FWWT and Doris Marshall from Marshall Arts.

Germany: THE ROLLING STONES have canceled the first four shows on their European tour which was due to start in Germany on May 22. It was announced May 18 that Keith Richards had an accident at his U.S. home in Connecticut, injuring his ribs and chest after a fall. The three German dates — Berlin (May 22), Munich (May 24) and Gelsenkirchen (May 26) — and the concert in Zagreb, Croatia, (May 28) will almost certainly be rescheduled, but there was no confirmation of the new dates from German promoter Peter Schwenkow at press time.

With the Bridges to Babylon tour routed very carefully around the World Cup in France, it could be difficult to fit in new dates. It is also unclear whether other dates will be affected: the start-date of the tour will now depend on the advice of Richards' doctors and there have been indications the injury may force many other dates to be changed as well.

HELEN LAVAL, Tony Taverner and Giles Robinson show off the new Euphonix CS2000 II desk recently installed at Sensible Music in London. The board has so far been used to mix the Spice Girls' live album and to record Mick Taylor and Bill Wymun's latest releases. It also makes a great elbow rest.

• THE MUSEUMPLATZ IN BONN will open for business as a concert venue June 10. It will be the third summer season that the city museum has hired out its neighbouring square and it looks set to be the busiest yet.

Local promoter Ernst Ludwig
Hartz at Concert Cooperation Bonn has six shows at the Museumplatz, including Jazzkantine, Nick Cave &
The Bad Seeds, Van Morrison with Candy Dulfer, Earth Wind & Fire and Chris de Burgh. The season continues through to September with shows by Tori Amos, Art
Garfunkel, Al Jarreau, Patricia Kaas and Ringo Starr.

Croatia: THE HISTORIC SHOW THE Rolling Stones were due to play in Zagreb will definitely be rescheduled, said promoter Wolfgang Klinger at Rock Production.

Around 60,000 tickets have been sold for the concert so far, but Klinger said more would sell in the final days before the show.

In this virgin concert market, it is difficult to estimate how the confidence of the public will be affected by the news of the postponement. As Klinger said, "nothing is certain."

However, he did express concern that if the rescheduled date was too late in the summer, it could affect audience numbers as many people will be departing for the holiday season. If the date was re-routed to the end of the tour, in September, it would not have a major impact.

Switzerland: PALEO NYON FESTIVAL (July 21-26) has been bitten by the cancellation bug with Natalie Imbruglia pulling out of her European tour commitments, plus Etienne Daho and Gus Gus also canceling.

However, other artists have been added to the bill, including the Prodigy, Stereophonics, legendary French crooner Charles Trenet, plus French hip hop act IAM, and reggae poet Linton Kwesi Johnson.

Besides the international artists, Paleo is also an important venue for local Swiss acts with the Prix de la Scene competition. Each year, a prize worth 10,000 Swiss Frances is awarded for the best performance by a new Swiss act. This year, nine groups have been chosen to take part.

Holland: Heineken Continues its love-affair with music sponsorship with several recent events in the Netherlands. The Heineken Horizons show — a joint venture between Van Hoorn Company and Mojo Concerts — was a great success. Attendance figures for the show last month were 10,000.

On a smaller scale, the Heineken X-ploor tour was a tie-up between the brewery and a local music magazine and featured the Dandy Warhols and others touring the best of Dutch clubs — Milky Way in Amsterdam, Nighttown in Rotterdam and Noorderligt in Tilburg.

- PRESS REPORTS HERE SUGGEST that the Bee Gees will perform at the opening of the AUS$600 million Sydney Olympics Stadium in March 1999. Names like the Rolling Stones and Barbra Streisand had also been floated. The Gibbs had their musical beginnings in Australia after arriving here in the '50s with their family from Manchester, England. They went back to the U.K. in the late '60s and never returned to these shores.
- AMONG TOURS ANNOUNCED LAST week were Richie Sambora (June 20 24) for Frontier Touring; seven rescheduled Donovan dates for Adrian Bohm Presents (June 26 July 5) after the legendary troubadour canceled his September '97 visit when his father fell ill in the U.K.; and U.S. guitar band Tonic for Pav 2000 (June 9 19).
- GRINSPOON, WHO RELOCATED TO Los Angeles in April, have signed with New York bookers The Agency Group. After some shows around their new homebase, the platinum act, which has a worldwide deal with Universal, heads out May 23 for a three-week Canadian tour which includes convention stop-overs at New Music West in Vancouver and North by North East in Toronto.

- EPIC RECORDS AUSTRALIA confirms that with the chart success of the "Brick" single, Ben Folds Five are returning to play here July 21-29. Venues are still being negotiated. A new single, "Song For The Dumped," will be released to coincide with the tour.
- THE PARADISE MOTEL HAVE SIGNED a U.S. deal with T/K Records, which includes Dandy Warhols and Everclear. The band is with Infectious/Mushroom in Australia and Europe.
- · BOTH KYLIE MINOGUE (FRONTIER Touring) and Jerry Seinfeld's (Dainty Consolidated Entertainment) tours have been bonanzas. Minogue makes a return to Australian stages after a seven-year absence. Her first show at the Capitol Theatre in Sydney sold out in seven minutes, and three other shows at the venue were snapped up in three hours. A fifth show at the State Theatre is on June 20. The Impossible Princess (as she declares herself to be on her current album on Mushroom) is also playing the Melbourne Palais (June 4), Brisbane Entertainment Centre (June 6) and Adelaide Thebarton Theatre (June 15).

Seinfeld's four shows in June (two at Sydney's Capitol Theatre and two at Melbourne's Regent Theatre) sold out within 15 minutes. No further shows will be added as Seinfeld has U.S. commitments. Seinfeld has quite a nice profile here and his sitcom has rated highly downunder. Channel 7 has bought the rights from HBO to screen Seinfeld's live New York standup show in August around the time that Channel 10 will screen the final Seinfeld show episode.

• WHEN LILITH FAIR arrives in Australia during our summer, will we see Alanis Morissette heading the bill? Sarah McLachlan confirms the two are talking, and Morissette is keen to get back downunder.

- · CELINE DION'S SINGLE 'My Heart Will Go On' is about to hit triple platinum (225,000 copies) in this country. Dion may be touring here in February. Augmenting interest in the singer is a competition run on the Ten TV network during "The Nanny" sitcom where viewers have a chance to win a $25,000 hand-crafted Stefano necklace inspired by a scene in "Titanic." The network's "E! News" program will run a piece on the making of the necklace.
- MUSHROOM ACT
 Deni Hines recently collaborated with French band IAM writing songs for the movie soundtrack for "Taxi," produced by Luc
 Besson of "The Fifth Element" fame.

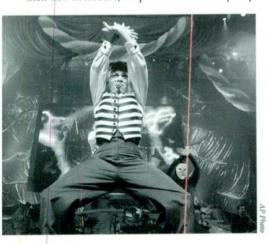

After three weeks, the soundtrack sold 45,000 copies in Europe. Hines, who is based in London, returns to Australia in June for a promotional tour.

LIMBER-AS-EVER, Janet Jackson gets down for 9,000 fans during her concert at the Oslo Spectrum in Norway May 15. The European leg of her Velvet Rope tour runs through mid-June.

Lila McCann

uring the week, Lila McCann lives the life of a typical teenager — going to high school, cheerleading and listening to her mom tell her to clean up her room. But on the weekends — and during summer vacations — this 16-year-old kid hits the road, performing with some of the biggest names in country music.

McCann has been performing since the tender age of four. She begged her parents to let her sing on stage with her father's band, the Southlanders, a group of military buddies who still perform their mix of country, bluegrass and oldies in the Puget Sound area of Washington state. But when the time came for little Lila to take the microphone, she experienced her first bout of stage fright.

McCann told POLLSTAR, "I wanted to sing so bad. I had been begging my parents forever. So I practiced for a few weeks and then, right as I was about to go on ... I go, 'I'll be right back. I have to go to the bathroom.' And my mom goes, 'Lila, they just called you.' And I said, 'Well, tell dad I've got to go to the bathroom."

The elder McCann announced to the audience that his daughter had to take care of some business and she'd be up on stage in a few minutes. "My mom came in [the bathroom] a few minutes later and she goes, 'Lila, they're waiting for you. You need to come out now." In a typical four-year-old fashion, Lila stood her ground and said, "I'm not coming out." She said her mom was practically begging but then turned the tables and said, "Well I'll just tell dad you don't want to sing."

The threat of missing her stage debut was enough to make McCann reconsider — but not without a catch. She told her mom, "No wait. There's this really cool Barbie doll and if you buy it for me, I'll get up and sing." Her mom said the Barbie would be hers if she came out of the bathroom, and she did. She's been entertaining crowds ever since.

Things started to get serious for McCann about five years later when she met the woman who would become her manager and close friend — Kasey Walker.

Walker was in Tacoma visiting family and came down to the Eagles Lodge where McCann was performing with her dad's band. Three months later, Walker rang up the McCann family and she's been working with McCann ever since. By the time Lila turned nine, Walker had helped assemble a top notch business team, and also got her a gig at the Palomino club in Hollywood.

McCann speaks about the business people she has worked with as friends, rather than as influential music business executives. Names like Seymore Stein, Sylvia Rhone, Rob Light, Bernie Driscoll and Rick Shipp often come up casually in conversation.

Stein is credited with "discovering" her at the Palomino and he was instrumental in getting Kyle Lehning, former copresident of Asylum Records, to sign her to the label.

Light, a close friend of Walker's, believed in her talent right away. She worked with the L.A.-based CAA agent a bit but ultimately signed with William Morris Nashville, where Driscoll and Shipp are her agents.

McCann said the two WMA agents are "pretty cool," and she is smart enough to take their advice on the development of her touring career. They landed her an opening slot on George Strait's Country Music Festival, which is doing stellar business. They're also keeping her busy this summer with a run of East Coast and West Coast fair dates.

However, like most teenagers, McCann has her priorities. When the agents sent her a tentative list of summer gigs, McCann noticed there was a conflict with her cheerleading camp. "I looked at my schedule and there's all these dates they were trying to book. [I] called and said, 'You can't do that; I've got to go to cheer camp.' So I do have a little bit of say, but that's their job and I try to let them do it."

McCann momentarily thought about sacrificing school in favor of a tutor so she could stay on the road but ulti-

But McCann doesn't think her weekend and holiday touring schedule will be detrimental to her career. "If people really like you a lot, they'll wait around to see you live or in concert, as long as you keep making the records," she said. "Look at Shania [Twain]; she has not been on tour once and she's sold millions and millions and millions of records."

Like Shania, McCann also has been selling a lot of "records. Her debut CD, Lila, has sold a respectable 400,000 copies since its release last year. And Lila has produced three hit singles, "I Wanna Fall In Love," "Down Came A Blackbird," and "Almost Over You."

With that kind of radio and retail success, a lovely voice and a good head on her shoulders, it's no surprise that Lila McCann has made a place for herself as one of country music's brightest young stars. *

Click www.primenet.com/~drbmbay/ indexx.html for the swinging, ring-a-ding-ding era of the Rat Pack. Then there are the songs including hundreds of sound files from every period of Sinatra's life. And pictures galore, from his tall, "string bean" days in the '30s, movie stills, Dino, Sammy, and more. For a good start, click on Yahoo (www.yahoo.com) for a virtual Sinatra fest on the Web.

- Best Buy (www.bestbuy.com) is auctioning off tickets for the Jimmy Page / Robert Plant tour via the retail chain's Web site, with the proceeds benefitting the Best Buy Children's Foundation. One hundred pairs of tickets will be auctioned for the first half of the tour. Bids are placed in $10 increments. The auction started on May 11th and the final auction begins in New York on July 2.
- ▶ AudioNet has changed its name to broadcast.com. The audio-streaming Web site began three short years ago when two businessmen, Mark Cuban and Todd Wagner, started Netcasting Texas radio station KLIF. Now the site broadcasts 24 hours a day with more than 310 radio stations and 17 television stations.

"The name broadcast.com highlights our position as the leading aggregator and broadcaster of streaming media programming on the Web," said co-founder and CEO Todd Wagner. "Our new name encompasses the services we offer and showcases our programming depth."

▶ Reba McEntire (www.reba.com) is set to release her first enhanced CD, If You See Him, on June 2nd. Microsoft worked with McEntire's management company, Starstruck Entertainment, to develop the CD which will include photos, videos, screen savers and four unreleased songs. The CD also comes with a customized browser, and you can bet it's not Netscape.

"When I work on my computer, the main thing I like is to keep things simple," said country's favorite redhead. "That's what Microsoft delivered: simple to operate, fascinating to behold. It has that personal link that I want to keep between my fans and me...."

▶ Lenny Kravitz is offering a never-before-heard free track. The artist's new song is available for download via a2b music format (www.a2bmusic.com). The track, "Without You," available at Lenny's official Web site (www.lennykravitz.com), and comes with a redeemable coupon good for $1 off his new album, 5.

The coupon can be redeemed five different ways: online at N2K's Music Boulevard (www.musicblvd.com), by calling Music Boulevard, at all Camelot Music Stores, both in the real world and online at www.camelotmusic.com, or by calling 1-800-CAMELOT. The offer is available to U.S. residents only.

More sex, rock 'n' roll and videotape: This time it's Porno For Pyros and Jane's Addiction frontman Perry Farrell in the spotlight. A U.S. District Court judge in Los Angeles has granted a temporary restraining order against a Web site, Spy7.com, which had planned to show explicit clips of Farrell and his girlfriend.

Farrell filed suit in federal court seeking to keep the tape off the Internet and $90 million in damages. The judge has scheduled another hearing for May 27th. *

MOUNTAIN ENTERTAINMENT: MARTIN WINSCH

Memory Dean will be finishing up a run of Southeast dates with Sister Hazel in May and will continue touring the Southeast through June, July will see the band's third tour of Texas and the Midwest to support its growing fan base in the western markets. A few avails exist for June and July. Albert Hill is coming off 1998 Southeast dates in support of the band's new record, Machine Called Company. Their spring tour produced all time venue draw records at Magnolia Street Pub in Spartanburg and The Handlebar in Greenville, S.C. Congrats for selling more than 4,000 units since the record's release earlier this year. Southeast dates will continue through the summer including a date with The Allman Brothers and Sister Hazel at The Blockbuster Pavilion in Charlotte, N.C., on July 4th. The Root Doctors are playing a few dates through July to take time out to record the band's third record at Reflections Studios in Charlotte. August and September will see CD release parties scheduled for the Southeast and Northeast in support of the new record. The Goodies continue to pound the Southeast as one of the region's most unique acts. The "Broadway playlike" act has produced one of the Southeast's fastest growing fan bases as they continue to win fans over by offering something truly original. The band has a few avails through July. Sugarpop finished showcase stops in Nashville and Atlanta and plans are to hit the Northeast this summer for a series of showcases and shows to support the band's first CM/ top 200 hit, "Heavy Duty Jones." ~ The Josh Joplin Band will resume Southeast touring this summer in support of the band's new untitled release recorded earlier this year in Atlanta 🗻

BETWEENTOAtes

A New Old Folk Fest

➤ The granddaddy of all concert festivals hits the road for the first time this summer. The Newport Folk Festival may not be especially hip or trendy but it's been around since the '50s, so you know it has legs. The tour is being booked by Nat Farnham of Little Big Man and will play 13 weekend dates across the country between July and September.

The revolving line-up will include stints by Lyle Lovett, Nanci Griffith, John Hiatt, Alison Krauss, the Violent Femmes, Richard Thompson, Bruce Cockburn, Loudon Wainwright III, Marc Cohn and others.

ANOTHER FINE MESS

➤ Garbage's second release appears to be anything but trash. Skeptics who were whispering about a sophomore curse had to shut their yaps last week when Garbage 2.0 made its SoundScan debut at lucky No. 13 with more than 88,000 units sold.

Frontwoman Shirley Manson and her studio-savvy cohorts, Butch Vig, Duke Erikson and Stever Marker, wrap up a short U.S. promotional tour this week and then head to Europe for a lengthy road trip. The band's full North American tour is scheduled to begin in August.

Go Go Rodzilla

➤ Rod Stewart will do the rock 'n' roll version of a pub crawl to commemorate the release of his new album, When We Were The New Boys. Inaspectacular display of stamina, Stewart kicks off the festivities on Hollywood's Sunset Strip with a free 2hour album signing in the Tower Records parking lot followed by a 40-minute performance. Then he'll dash over to The Roxy for a show before wrapping up the evening with a gig at the Whisky a Go Go.

According to Warner Bros., his SFX Entertainment-produced concert tour will stop in 50 cities before ending this fall. The tour commences at the Meadows Music Theatre in Hartford, Conn., July 15th.

GET BENT

➤ Judging from the line-up, the Vans Warped Tour '98 looks like a skatin', skankin', swingin' party on wheels. The traveling musical circus seems to get more popular every summer and this year may again raise the ante for allegedly alternative tour packages.

This year's Warpedness kicks off in Phoenix June 30th and will feature Bad Religion, NOFX, Rancid, Cherry Poppin' Daddies, Reverend Horton Heat, Save Ferris, CIV, and the Specials on all dates. Other acts joining in at various points on the 34-city trip include Deftones, Bouncing Souls, Pietasters, Less Than Jake, No Use For A Name, and Swingin' Utters.

Keef Finds Time To Read

➤ The start of the Rolling Stones' European tour has been postponed to allow Keith Richards to recover from an injury. He was reportedly reaching for a book when he toppled from a ladder in his Connecticut home, puncturing a lung and cracking a rib in the fall.

The tour was set to start in Berlin May 22nd, and initially, it looked like only the first four dates would have to be rescheduled. However, some news reports last week said Keef's injuries were serious enough to warrant at least a four-week delay for the tour.

CROSBY & SON

➤ David Crosby has formed a new band and is taking it out for a spin around the country, Joining Crosby in CPR are guitarist Jeff Pevar and keyboardist James Raymond — Crosby's biological son whom he met for the first time four years ago while recovering from liver transplant surgery. The trio plays theatres and clubs through the end of June.

Hot New Tours

➤ Matchbox 20 headlines an amphitheatre tour starting July 31st in Alabama..... Paul Kelly goes coast-tocoast in June..... Donovan is on the road in Australia through July 5th..... Spring Heeled Jack tours clubs into July The Mavericks are on the fairs and festivals circuit through mid-August and tour the U.K. in September.... Ska purists Hepcat are about to start a club tour..... Tonic plays eight shows downunder in June..... The long-absent Jesus and Mary Chain return to the U.S. July 30th for an amphitheatre tour 4 Him and Jaci Velasquez tour together this fall.... Look out for the Iguanas on the road from early July through September Andrea Bocelli tours the East Coast into Canada starting in mid-July. *
