Offspring Blow It In Windy City

THE OFFSPRING CAUSED quite a commotion May 22nd during a radio festival performance at the New World Music Theatre outside Chicago. Before the band's last song, singer Dexter Holland apparently invited the crowd of more than 30,000 to pick up the garbage littering the venue and throw it at the stage.

As the band ran to safety in the wings, a hailstorm of plastic cups, water bottles, garbage cans and other trash rained down on the pavilion, according to the Chicago Sun-Times.

Fans could do nothing but hunker down and try to protect themselves as the deluge went on for more than 10 minutes, the paper said. One fan reportedly suffered a concussion and was treated at a local hospital.

While there were apparently no arrests, venue officials said several concert-goers were evicted because of dangerous behavior, the Sun-Times reported.

The crew at the New World Music Theatre reportedly spent 45 minutes cleaning the stage before headliners the Red Hot Chili Peppers could perform. Backstage sources at the event said the Chili Peppers were so angry that they threatened to not play, according to the Sun-Times. But promoters apparently urged the band to go on because they feared an even worse disturbance if they canceled the remainder of the show.

The Sun-Times quoted concert promoters from Jam / SFX as saying they were "appalled" at the band's behavior.

The Offspring's manager, Jim Guerinot, told POLLSTAR, "What we thought was going to be a fun idea got a little bit out of hand and we're happy that nobody got hurt."

Guerinot admitted that the band has done the same thing at other concerts. And according to the Sun-Times, he has pleaded with the members to stop. A source close to the group reportedly told the paper that the manager was furious with his clients and considered their behavior "an invitation for a lawsuit."

Motley Crue's Own Private Idaho

AN IDAHO CONCERT promoter is having one heck of a time bringing the Motley Crue / Scorpions show to the eastern part of that state. Michael Goettsch, owner of Gemini Concerts, booked the tour package into the Holt Arena at Idaho State University in Pocatello. He thought the July 27th concert was a done deal and he was excited about it.

Goettsch, a Pocatello native and former ISU student, has been cultivating a relationship with the Holt Arena in the hope of bringing rock shows back to the venue. The last time electric guitars and wailing vocals rang through the arena was in 1985 when an ill-fated Van Halen concert brought an end to hard rock at the Holt. Six fans at that concert were hospitalized for possible drug and alcohol abuse. After that, the campus venue stuck to country and pop acts.

So when Gemini, in conjunction with Universal Concerts and BSP / Bravo, announced the Motley Crue / Scorpions date, it was big news. The local media covered the May 6th press conference announcing the show. The Idaho State Journal even mentioned that arena GM John Novosel and ISU President Richard Bowen had "actively worked with Gemini and other promoters on changing the minds of naysayers."

The paper also ran a small sidebar item about how after the Van Halen incident 14 years earlier, Bowen had instituted a concert policy that restricted admission to certain ISU events. The policy stated that events "which may reasonably result in the presence of substance abuse and/or usage of illegal drugs" are open only to ISU students and those 18 years and older.

The next day, Goettsch found out about the policy for the first time. He also learned that it was going to be applied to the show he and the venue had just announced. A meeting between Goettsch, Novosel and ISU's legal department was called. Also present was the university's athletic director, Howard Gauthier, who would have the final say in the matter.

"The policy was a complete surprise to me," Goettsch told POLLSTAR. "We had been talking about the dates since March and no one ever mentioned it. I don't think Novosel was aware of it either."

He wasn't. "The policy had been in place since '85 but the first time

Oklahoma State University's Gallagher-Iba Arena caught fire May 26th. The blaze, which began in a first floor electrical/mechanical room, spread to the second floor where offices are located but did not reach the arena floor. It did not affect the building's structural integrity, according to a fire department spokesperson. The damage occurred in the southwest corner of the arena, which is undergoing a $40 million expansion. Stillwater Fire Chief Larry Mullikin said the sprinkler system had been disconnected during the construction without notification to fire officials. "When we charged the sprinkler system, it just flooded the basement," he said. Mullikin did not have damage estimates.

The Black Promoters Association of America has tapped July as "Protest Against Racism In Music Month." Throughout the month, the organization with support from some Los Angeles-area church groups will launch weekday protests on the headquarters of CAA and William Morris. The protests will commence at 10 a.m. and end at 6 p.m. The efforts of the BPA are directed at the alleged discriminatory practices against blacks in the concert industry, which is detailed in the group's $700 million antitrust lawsuit against 40 major agencies and promoters.

Metropolitan Entertainment Group has hired Chuck La Vallee as a talent buyer for the company's concert division. La Vallee has been a music agent with the William Morris Agency for the last four years. Before that, he spent 10 years as a talent buyer and nightclub owner, most notably at the Dragonfly in Los Angeles.

QBQ Entertainment has promoted Justin Hirschman to agent. He previously worked as an assistant to Michael Arfin.

Federal marshals arrested Steven Howse, aka Layzie Bone of Bone Thugs-N-Harmony, on a 1997 warrant for marijuana possession. The U.S. Marshal's Service said the 24-year-old rapper was taken into custody May 24th from his home in Solon, Ohio. After a federal court hearing, he was released on bond. A Detroit judge issued the warrant in March 1997 after Howse failed to appear in court on a marijuana possession charge.

Barry Manilow was hospitalized briefly in Los Angeles because of an infection that developed after oral surgery. The surgery had to do with a benign tumor that developed on the roof of the singer's mouth more than a decade ago, his publicist said. He was released from the hospital May 24th and was resting at home. Manilow's summer tour is expected to begin as scheduled in July.

Canadian singer Tom Cochrane's airplane crashed when its engine failed shortly after takeoff May 23rd. The Cessna couldn't clear the treetops at the end of the runway and the impact ripped a wing off the plane. The "Life Is A Highway" singer, on his way to a concert, escaped uninjured. However, two other musicians traveling with him sustained minor injuries in the accident outside Montreal.

Santana is headlining a tour with Mexican supergroup Maná this summer. In deference to the group's huge fanbase in the L.A. area, however, Santana has allowed Maná to have top billing for its August 12-14 shows at the Arrowhead Pond of Anaheim. Ozomatli is the opener on the entire tour.

A court judgement filed against The Cure by a fan has been overturned. Earlier this year, a California Superior Court sided with a fan who claimed he was assaulted by a bodyguard after seeking an autograph at The Cure's hotel during its Swing Tour in 1996. The Superior Court judge ruled that the verdict, which had been given in absentia, could not stand as the band had been unable to mount a defense. The judge found that the band was unaware of the case prior to judgement because it had not been properly served the original lawsuit.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT of CheckOut.com brings together The Yucaipa Companies' Internet genius, Richard Wolpert (L), and entertainment mogul Michael Ovitz for a Beverly Hills meeting May 20th. Wolpert and Ovitz are partners in the Internet site dedicated to music, videos and digital games. See Gigs & Bytes on page 18 for details.

I heard about it was after we had announced the Motley Crue show. It was a very unfortunate circumstance," Novosel said.

During the final contract negotiations, the various parties were in agreement on everything but the under-18 policy. Novosel had asked for a waiver that would allow the show to be open to all ages but he couldn't get one in time.

The promoter and the university couldn't reach an agreement and on May 12th, the day before tickets were to go on sale, Goettsch announced that it looked like the show would be canceled unless he could find another venue. Meanwhile, he was considering taking legal action against ISU.

"This is such obvious discrimination against one genre of music," he said.

In spite of the tense circumstances and problems created by the last minute revelation of the policy, Novosel said he would like to work with Gemini in the future.

"We really wanted this show," he said. "We feel really bad about the way things turned out and I hope we can try again with the promoter."

Even with the setbacks, it didn't take Goettsch long to find a new venue for the show. The Eastern Idaho Fair in nearby Blackfoot had expressed interest in hosting more concerts and Goettsch acted on the opportunity. He addressed the fair's concerns with holding a rock show and a letter of agreement was issued to Gemini May 19th.

Neither the fair's board of directors nor Goettsch were prepared for what happened next.

Bingham County commissioners called a special meeting to discuss the concert after they were approached by a citizens group that didn't want the show to play Blackfoot.

Around 150 people attended the meeting but only two spoke out in favor of the concert and freedom of choice. The rest expressed a real distaste for hard rock in general and Motley Crue in particular.

According to a report in the Idaho State Journal, a spokesperson for the citizens group said the band promoted domestic abuse, violence, rape, murder, drug and alcohol use, and devil worship. The Post Register quoted an audience member who said Motley Crue "promises an atmosphere of riots and hysteria to entice young people."

Goettsch attempted to explain Gemini's approach to the concert as well as his rights to use the public facility, but he was frequently drowned out by boos and shouts from the crowd.

"I said I felt like I was facing a lynch mob, and people clapped and cheered and laughed at that," he said. "It was crazy."

After considerable verbal abuse, the promoter said that if people would ask intelligent questions, he'd answer them. Otherwise, he was leaving. "I left," he said. "The crowd did not want to listen to reason."

A standard Bravo / BSP / Gemini contract for a 4,000- to 8,000-capacity venue provides 50 T-shirt security, 10 off- or on-duty police officers, two EMT units and clean-up crews, among other things. But Goettsch said the audience was not interested in hearing how their concerns might be met.

By the end of the meeting, it was decided that the fair's five-member board of directors would have to determine if the show would go on. A follow-up meeting was scheduled for May 27th.

Eastern Idaho State Fair Manager Kathy Gavin told POLLSTAR the board could only come to one logical conclusion. "I don't see that we have much choice, really. We're pretty limited in what we can do. This is a public venue and we'll proceed with the show." She added that she was not looking forward to last Thursday's meeting.

SFX Closing In On Livent

SFX ENTERTAINMENT IS SAID to be on the verge of completing a more than $100 million deal to acquire nearly all the assets of troubled Canadian theatre owner/producer Livent Inc.

The Toronto-based Livent filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection last November after the company's board, including Michael Ovitz, ousted co-founders Garth Drabinsky and Myron Gottlieb, accusing them of committing millions of dollars worth of fraud. In January, a U.S. grand jury indicted the two on 16 counts of fraud.

As the court-mandated sale of Livent's theatres and plays dragged on this month, the company's shares fell to their lowest point in its 10-year history.

The company's assets reportedly include theatres in New York,

Chicago, Toronto and Vancouver as well as current productions of "Ragtime," "Fosse" and the Canadian production of "The Phantom of the Opera." Rights to three other productions in development, "Pal Joey," "The Sweet Smell of Success" and "The Seussical," are also included, according to The Wall Street Journal.

Any deal must be approved by the federal bankruptcy court in Manhattan and the company's creditors, who are owed about $200 million, the New York Times reported.

Earlier this month, the two top contenders named for acquiring Livent were Cablevision Systems Corp. and Manhattan-based Back Row Productions. Other interested parties mentioned with SFX were Ogden Corp. and Walt Disney Co.

Fatal WWF Aerial Stunt

WORLD WRESTLING Federation star Owen Hart plummeted to his death in front of thousands of fans May 23rd as he was about to make a dramatic entrance from the ceiling of Kemper Arena in Kansas City, Mo. — a stunt not so rare in the entertainment industry.

The 34-year-old wrestler, known as the Blue Blazer, was attached to wires near the ceiling of the arena in a plan to descend into the ring. As he prepared for his stunt, the attention of the crowd and the pay-per-view audience was directed to a large video screen of a taped interview with Hart. Much of the audience didn't realize what happened when Hart fell 70 feet, hitting his head on a padded turnbuckle. Some thought a mannequin had been dropped from the catwalk.

After the fall, Hart struggled to lift his head. His arms rose slowly then collapsed.

Paramedics rushed to the ring, unraveled Hart's trademark Blue Blazer mask and unsuccessfully tried to resuscitate him. He was pronounced dead at Truman Medical Center.

An autopsy the following day reportedly revealed that Hart bled to death internally from blunt chest trauma.

The tragedy stunned the 16,200 fans at Kemper Arena and hundreds of thousands more who tuned in on pay-per-view. At first, many in the audience thought it was part of the scripted theatrics that have made professional wrestling so popular.

But the mood in the arena quickly changed. Commentator Jim Ross repeated over and over to the audience that the fall was not scripted.

After Hart was carried out of the ring, the wrestling event resumed about 15 minutes later — a decision that has caused controversy for the WWF.

But Kemper Arena GM Alan Schmelzle defended the federation's decision to continue the show. He told the Kansas City Star that Hart's colleagues were deeply saddened but their attitude was, "The show must go on."

Hart's family lashed out at wrestling officials saying they took too many chances by devising stunts like the one that killed him. "My poor brother Owen was a sacrifice for the ratings," his sister said.

Hart's brother Bret "The Hitman" Hart, a star professional wrestler with the World Championship Wrestling circuit, said his brother had been worried about the stunt, which he'd done before, but got talked into doing it again.

"We're professional wrestlers; we take our falls on the mat, inside the ring," he told ABC's "Good Morning America." "I was never a stuntman, and my brother Owen was never a stuntman. He never should have been put in a situation where he was up on the top of a ceiling of an arena to go into the ring."

Police spokesperson Floyd Mitchell said homicide detectives were inspecting Hart's rigging and talking to stagehands to determine what went wrong.

Mitchell said the cable did not break. Detectives believe Hart's elaborate, feathered costume may have caught on his quick release cord or that perhaps he pulled the cord too soon.

WWF chief Vince McMahon said his wrestlers will stop performing the aerial move that killed Hart, but said other stunts will continue.

Schmelzle told the Star that city officials would review their stunt policy but he doubted there would be any changes. A prohibition on rappelling would eliminate such events as circus acrobat acts at Kemper, the paper said.

The WWF is scheduled to hold another event at Kemper in August and Schmelzle said the federation is welcome.

Following the tragedy, the WWF went ahead with its gig the following night at the Kiel Center in St. Louis, which included a tribute to Hart. However, the organization scrapped plans to replay the Kansas City event on pay-per-view and called off several upcoming live events.

Hoboken Devils Arena

CABLEVISION SYSTEMS CORP. and the NHL's New Jersey Devils have announced plans to construct an arena and entertainment complex in Hoboken, in spite of opposition from city and state government officials.

The $206 million project would be located above the Hoboken Terminal commuter rail station with the entertainment and retail complex in an adjacent ferry terminal, according to a joint statement issued May 20th.

Cablevision, owner of Madison Square Garden as well as the New York Knicks and Rangers, would split the estimated cost, Devils proxy John McMullen told the Newark newspaper The Star-Ledger. As part of the deal, the entertainment giant and the Devils have agreed to extend Cablevision's broadcasting rights agreement with the hockey team.

Other Cablevision assets expected to get involved in the project include Madison Square Garden, which would handle booking and management of the 18,500-seat arena, as well as Clearview Cinema Group and The Wiz electronic stores, both of which may join the entertainment complex.

"Hoboken's role as a major transportation hub linking the New Jersey-New York metropolitan area makes it a natural location for a premier sports and entertainment facility," the two groups stated about the railway station, which handles some 80,000 commuters daily.

But Hoboken Mayor Anthony Russo doesn't support the plan. He told The Star-Ledger the city unsuccessfully attempted to secure federal funding to improve roadways to accommodate arena traffic.

"McMullen's strategy was to have people use mass transit, but if that doesn't work, I'm going to be barraged with traffic and congestion," Russo told the paper. "It's impossible. We've decided to oppose it, and that's the way it is."

Other competing arena plans emerging in the recent past include replacing the Meadowlands' Continental Airlines Arena - current home to the Devils and basketball's New Jersey Nets - while the Nets have suggested constructing an arena in downtown Newark.

The New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority, which operates the Meadowlands, reportedly proposed a 19,100-seat arena and shopping complex to replace the 18-year-old Continental Airlines Arena. The plan is contingent on the Nets and Devils staying at the Meadowlands.

Gov. Christie Whitman had not yet endorsed any of the proposals; however, she has said a single-sport venue is economically risky and unlikely to get her support.

The next steps in the Hoboken plan call for securing financing, which includes some taxpayer support, and the necessary permits.

Backstreet Boys Set Record

THE BACKSTREET BOYS ARE proving that the teen-age music market is at an all-time high, with first-week sales of the group's latest album reaching a record-breaking 1.13 million units.

According to SoundScan, debut sales of the teen heartthrobs' Millennium album exceeded the first-week record set by Garth Brooks six months ago. Using a copromotion with Wal-Mart stores across the country, Brooks' Double Live sold 1.08 million copies when it was released last November.

"We expected a great first week," said Tom Carrabba, GM of Jive Records, the Boys' label. "We just didn't know it could be this great."

Entertainers such as the Backstreet Boys, Britney Spears, 'N Sync and B*Witched are leading a resurgence in music sales among teen-agers. After a few years when the industry worried it was losing teens to computers and video games, young listeners are flooding music stores again.

According to Jive, Millennium - the group's follow-up to its self-titled debut - sold nearly one out of every 10 albums bought last week. Other teen favorites of the week included Ricky Martin's self-titled album selling 458,000 copies, Britney Spears moving 141,000 albums and 'N Sync with 70,000, SoundScan reported.

It is estimated that some 9 million people watched numerous Backstreet Boys-related specials on MTV and other networks in past weeks, contributing to the group's massive sales.

"I don't think this is just girls (who are buying the album)," said Tom Calderone, MTV's senior VP of music programming. "The moms are out there and the girls are with their boyfriends, who are singing along sheepishly. I think it's bigger than that."

Record sales in the teen market are receiving additional support through extensive touring plans. The Backstreet Boys are scheduled to hit Europe from June through August; Spears' first major headline tour starts in June and runs through September; and 'N Sync kicks off a three-month outing in July.

While more than 170 bands from across North America and beyond battled for attention in clubs and casinos, the business-types convened for discussion panels and mentor sessions. Topics – which were oriented for newcomers – included live performance contracts, the Internet and the music industry, and artist development as well as a managers panel and agent/promoter discussion.

Among the executives doling out advice during the May 19-22 event were Dan Zelisko of Evening Star, UBL's Steve Rennie, CAA's Rob Light and Rod Essig, Paul Tolle of Goldenvoice, Little Big Man's Marty Diamond, APA's Jim Gosnell, The Firm's Peter Katsis, Bill Silva of Bill Silva Presents and Leave Home Booking's Stormy Shepherd.

Former CAA partner Tom Ross, who has yet to announce his future plans, was also seen wandering the halls yelling, "I'm not a manager, I'm not a manager." That was apparently in response to published reports he was taking over the management representation of everyone from Eric Clapton to LeAnn Rimes.

No Doubt Who's The Boss

DEMAND WAS UNPRECEDENTED for the first stop on Bruce Springsteen & The E Street Band's U.S. tour. A record-breaking 15-show run at the Continental Airlines Arena in New Jersey resulted in more than 300,000 tickets purchased in 13 hours on May 22nd. The first 10 shows – more than 200,000 tickets – sold out in five hours.

The 15 sold-out concerts between July 15th and August 12th – the only U.S. dates announced so far – set a record for the highest number of consecutive arena shows; it broke the previous record set by Springsteen in 1992 for 11 dates at the East Rutherford arena.

While the Boss' 1992 run at the Continental Airlines Arena generated nearly $6.3 million from 220,900 tickets sold, his highest gross stands from a six-show stand at Giants Stadium in 1985, which grossed nearly $7 million from $17.50 ticket prices.

Tickets for his latest shows were priced at $37.50 and $67.50. A total gross was not available but with a $52.50 average ticket, the shows will gross more than $15 million. According to the POLLSTAR database, that figure would be second only to the $16.5 million record gross in North America generated by Barbra Streisand's seven-show run at Madison Square Garden in 1994.

As demand was fierce for the best seats in the house, one sly fan used his job to circumvent the lengthy line at a Ticketmaster outlet.

A New Jersey firefighter, whose name was not revealed, cut to the front of a line just minutes before the coveted Springsteen tickets went on sale, using the excuse of conducting a fire inspection.

"Just before 9 (a.m.), a fire truck pulled up in front of the building, and they parked it there. Three firemen got out of the truck and went inside," said one witness, who camped out all night for tickets. "But before they got inside, the people at the front of the line asked what was going on. One of the firemen said they were on official business, doing a fire inspection."

Fans heated up as they watched through still-locked doors as one firefighter bought four tickets.

"When [the firefighters] walked out, people who had been waiting in line for hours started yelling and cursing at them," said the disgruntled ticket buyer. "One of the firefighters said, 'This is one of the perks of the job.'"

The Newark Fire Department disagreed. After receiving several complaints, the department conducted an internal investigation, concluding the firefighter could not keep the tickets.

A fire department spokesperson was unsure of what to do with the tickets, suggesting an auction to benefit a local charity as a possibility. The sneaky firefighter faced a disciplinary hearing.

"There has been a violation of our rules and regulations," the spokesperson said. "It wasn't anything criminal, but it was a really stupid mistake."

Carolina Concert Rating Campaigns

CAMPAIGNS AIMED AT setting standards for concerts have been stalled in two East Coast communities.

In North Carolina, Charlotte's Coliseum Authority shot down proposals allowing it to ban certain shows as well as calling for a motion picture-type rating of events. While in Greenville, S.C., the creation of a citizens panel to advise the Bi-Lo Center on what acts to book has been postponed due to possible legal action.

Citing First Amendment concerns, authority members have decided against setting standards that would allow it to ban controversial concerts at the publicly owned Charlotte Coliseum, Independence Arena and Ovens Auditorium.

It's dangerous for the authority to determine what speech is appropriate, authority chairman Stanley Vaughan said. "I don't think we want to get into that."

Although the panel decided against a ratings system for concerts, it did agree that ticket buyers should be informed that an event may be offensive. Authority lawyers were exploring ways to warn the public without impeding an artist's freedom of expression. The authority is expected to debate the issue next month.

The executive director of the state's American Civil Liberties Union believes the responsibility to advise the public of controversial performances rests with promoters. If the authority provides anything less than objective information, "it's the government putting its seal of approval or disapproval on some kind of speech or expression, and if it's derogatory, that could infringe on someone's First Amendment rights," the ACLU's Deborah Ross said.

During a May 20th closed-door meeting at the Bi-Lo Center, the Memorial Auditorium Board questioned liability issues concerning the creation of a citizens advisory panel.

Four years ago, developers of the 16,000-capacity facility promised to create an advisory panel to help decide what acts fit best with community standards. Recently, the only public input has come as a handful of protests to a March 30th KORN / Rob Zombie concert.

Auditorium board chairman James Blakely said he was concerned about what could happen if the panel gave an unfavorable rating to an entertainer, resulting in the show bombing in Greenville or some other city.

Board member James Whitley suggested postponing appointments to the panel in order to explore the issue further. "I also want to make sure I'm not subjecting them to liability," he said.

Stoute Comments On Bad Boy Beating

INTERSCOPE RECORDS executive Steve Stoute broke his silence recently, talking to the press about the alleged beating he took from Bad Boy Records chief Sean "Puffy" Combs and two other men.

"I'm scared. My family is scared. My loved ones are scared. This is a rich, powerful guy," the 6-foot-tall, 300-pound Stoute said of Combs. "He thinks he's invincible," the record exec told the New York Daily News.

He accused the well-respected rap mogul and a security guard of beating him mercilessly with a chair and a champagne bottle while another man stood at the door of his Interscope office. He said he suffered a broken jaw and arm and has not worked since.

"It made me think about quitting the record business," Stoute told the New York Post. He reportedly said the attack has damaged his reputation, and has forced him to travel with a 24-hour bodyguard.

Police charged Combs with felony assault and criminal mischief, which could send him up the river for a maximum of seven years. He is free on $15,000 bail.

Combs was said to be upset about his appearance in a Nas video in which he is seen hanging from a cross. Though the Bad Boy exec collaborated on the video and participated of his own free will, he apparently had second thoughts about the scene after discussing it with his pastor.

Stoute called the attack a "premeditated gang assault."

"This is a guy who cried about his friend [The Notorious] B.I.G. publicly and promotes peace, but he has a dark history," Stoute told the Daily News. "I see him as a gangster in the music business."

Combs' alleged behavior should not be allowed to go unpenalized, Stoute told the Los Angeles Times. "If somebody can get away with walking into the headquarters of the world's biggest record company and beating up a senior executive over a disagreement, I guarantee you this is going to be a great business for criminals to thrive in."

Stoute reportedly said Combs has made overtures to him, but he's not interested.

"He reached out to me - I didn't reach back out to him," Stoute told the Post. "The only thing he can do for me is go to jail."

However, Combs' lawyer, Jay Goldberg, tells a different story. He said the two men met at a restaurant after the alleged assault.

"There was a demand made by Steve Stoute to look the other way for $50 million," Goldberg was quoted as saying in the Post. "It finally went down to $12 million."

Stoute responded: "I never told anyone for $12 million I'd drop all charges - that's extortion."

A CONSTRUCTION WORKER bolts in support brackets for the seats at the Philips Arena in Atlanta. The $213 million venue, set to open in September, will seat up to 21,000 for concerts.

A hearing on the matter is reportedly scheduled for June 24th.

Sources said a senior executive at Interscope's parent company, Seagram, told the Times that the corporation stands firmly behind Stoute and will support

Vegas Hears A Blue Note

AFTER NEARLY TWO DECADES in operation as the only worldwide franchised jazz venue, the Blue Note will open its second Stateside club on the Las Vegas Strip next year.

Expected to open next May, Blue Note Las Vegas will be a 600-seat club and 150-seat restaurant in the new Aladdin Hotel's planned upscale shopping center, the Desert Passage Entertainment Complex.

The Las Vegas venue will be the fifth club in Blue Note's franchise, which includes the original in New York's Greenwich Village and three locations in Japan: Tokyo, Osaka and Fukuoka. A Blue Note is also in development for Seoul, South Korea.

"We're excited to open our second U.S. location within the pulsating walls of the Desert Passage," said Blue Note owner Danny Bensusan. "The Blue Note will provide a welcome alternative to the glitzy productions synonymous with Las Vegas...."

The Las Vegas club will maintain the wide-ranging format started by the debut venue back in 1981. Performances will include blues, Latin, Brazilian, R&B, big band and, of course, jazz.

Plans for the new location include an 11,700-square-foot main floor with a 5,000-square-foot mezzanine. The stage portion of the club will serve a full dinner menu, as will the smaller, cafe-styled section of the venue. A gift shop will be included in the layout, featuring club apparel, memorabilia, art, videos and CDs.

The Blue Note will be part of the 500,000-square-foot Desert Passage, which is scheduled to open next spring with its exotic theme of Spanish, African and Indian cultures. Developers of the mall, which will include shops, restaurants and nightclubs, are aiming toward "young, hip" customers, who may not consider Las Vegas a shopping mecca.

Tammy Wynette Autopsy Results

REPEATED BLOOD CLOTS caused Tammy Wynette's heart failure and death, said the Nashville medical examiner who performed the autopsy on the singer's exhumed body.

In a press conference May 20th, Dr. Bruce Levy said that traces of the sedative Versed, which can cause respiratory failure, and the antinausea drug Phenergan were found in her body, but it is impossible to determine the role drugs may have played in her death because the autopsy took place more than a year later.

"My belief is that the heart failure happened probably through a combination of natural disease, and maybe or maybe not contributed to by the drugs," Levy said.

The April 14th exhumation and autopsy were prompted by a $50 million lawsuit filed by Wynette's four daughters, who blamed their mother's April 1998 death on her manager-fifth husband, George Richey, and personal physician Dr. Wallis Marsh of Pittsburgh.

Initially, the daughters alleged the men caused her death by failing to provide appropriate medical care, and they also claimed that narcotics administered by Richey could have contributed to her demise.

However, Richey was dropped as a defendant May 6th in exchange for agreeing not to file suit against the daughters for libel and relinquishing his share of any money they may win in their case against Marsh.

Levy said that if called to testify, he would say Wynette died of natural causes.

While stating that the ex-wife of George Jones and native Mississippian, who was 55 when she died, had an enlarged heart because of damage from blood clots in her arteries, he noted that the cause of death listed by Marsh on the death certificate – a blood clot to her lungs – was incorrect, reported The Tennessean.

"There were complications with blood clots, just not an acute blood clot," Levy said.

According to The Tennessean, Levy said that Marsh should have alerted his office that Wynette was taking Versed. If he had known, he said he would have tested the level of the drug in her body.

Marsh told him it was an unintentional oversight, Levy added.

Ed Yarbrough, the daughters' attorney, said the findings support the wrongful death suit.

Atlanta RockFest Faces Protest

FOLLOWING THE MAY 20TH school shootings in the Atlanta area, some church groups and community leaders called for the cancellation of the Hard Rock RockFest scheduled for June 5th at the Atlanta Speedway.

Organizers of a May 24th press conference and rally said RockFest participants The Offspring and silverchair promoted violence in their lyrics and could provoke young fans to become violent.

Atlanta Speedway President and GM Ed Clark said he understood the protesters' concerns but the show, which features 11 modern rock acts, would go on as scheduled. He added that The Offspring and silverchair would not perform certain songs. Clark also said church groups would be allowed to speak with concert-goers inside the venue.

RockFest organizers, including Hard Rock International, released a statement which read in part, "RockFest was conceived and developed as a celebration of music art and community. RockFest organizers are pleased to offer music as a uniting, healing force in these particularly trying times."

Salt Lake Moshers Attack Vanilla Ice

A RECENT VANILLA ICE concert at a Salt Lake City movie theatre was cut short after a confrontation between the entertainer and members of the audience.

The conflict began soon after the performer, whose real name is Rob Van Winkle, took the stage at the Tower Theatre May 20th.

Obituaries

Former entertainment labor lawyer Chester "Chet" Migden, 78, died in Los Angeles May 23rd of cardiac arrest. Migden worked for more than a decade as executive director of the Association of Talent Agents until he retired in 1996. Before that, he spent 30 years working for the Screen Actors Guild, for which he helped devise the principle of paying actors residuals for television reruns. The union had 9,600 members when Migden joined as national executive director in 1952. SAG had more than 50,000 members when he retired.

Reggae artist and producer Augusto Pablo, 46, died of myasthenia gravis, a nerve disorder, in a Jamaican hospital May 18th. Born Horace Swaby, the influential producer and West Indies island resident was a pioneer of dub reggae, a self-taught pianist, a session musician and a producer of Junior Delgado's hits in the mid-'80s. "Java" was Pablo's first major Jamaican hit, and the instrumentalist, who continued releasing his own recordings into the '90s, was known for developing the "Far East sound."

Police Sgt. Craig Gleason told the Salt Lake Deseret News that most of the witnesses were under the impression that an audience member struck Van Winkle without provocation, forcing him to retaliate.

In a press release, Van Winkle said, "It was nuts. The mosh pit was out of control. Fights were breaking out everywhere. Some kid jumped on the stage and just went crazy throwing punches.

It was so out of control, we had to stop the show."

Vandals reportedly proceeded to inflict about $1,500 damage to Van Winkle's tour bus, the Deseret News said.

The performer reportedly declined to file a police report and no charges were filed.

The incident prompted a meeting of the theatre owners to decide whether live music events should be held there in the future. ★

United Kingdom: MORRISSEY failed in his final attempt to overturn a 1996 High Court verdict that he and guitarist Johnny Marr short-changed his ex-Smiths bandmates, Mike Joyce and Andy Rourke. Marr did not appeal the verdict but Morrissey took the case as far as it could go, and at a private hearing before three Law Lords, the verdict was upheld.

Rourke had already settled for a one-off payment, but Morrissey's total settlement bill with Joyce plus legal-fee coverage is estimated to run in the millions.

- BELFAST'S RIVER FESTIVAL IS SET to expand this year with Tennants beer backing the event. Renamed T By The River, the mini-festival, which first took place last summer, will include two nights of live performances with Divine Comedy and Republica headlining June 25-26.

The event will take place near the prestigious waterfront venue. No conventional rock 'n' roll promoters are involved and AV Brown Event Management is organising it.

- EIGHT BRITISH COMPOSERS organised a classical music tribute to honour Linda McCartney. The concert, which will include five Paul McCartney songs, will launch a new charity called the Garland Appeal. It's being established to raise money for cancer research without animal testing.

The composers involved in the project include McCartney, Sir Richard Rodney Bennett and John Tavener, whose piece, "Song for Athene," was used at Princess Diana's funeral in 1997.

The concert will debut at Charterhouse public school in Surrey on July 18 before going to New York's Riverside Church on December 4. Linda McCartney, a professional photographer, died of breast cancer in April 1998.

- LAURYN HILL ENDS HER FIRST headlining European tour with a sellout show at the Manchester Evening News Arena on June 2. Hill's agent, Scott Thomas at ITB, said the tour has pretty much sold out across Europe but the U.K. is her strongest territory.

Because of the singer's pregnancy last year, touring to support The Miseducation of Lauryn Hill album was delayed. However, after a sellout one-off gig at the Brixton Academy earlier this year, she returned to play three arena dates, including two shows at Wembley and one at Manchester.

Thomas hopes Hill will return to Europe for more dates later this year.

and Megadog) the latest to go on sale. Confirmed artists at this summer-eclipse event include Orbital, Asian Dub Foundation, Lamb, Plastikman, Cold Cut, and Hedrilliaz, to name a few.

Other U.K. festivals are still announcing new names. The Cambridge Folk Festival (July 29-August 1) added Nick Cave to its 35th anniversary lineup, plus Suzy Bogguss, Irish traditionalist Altan, and English folk-music ambassadors Norma Waterson and Martin Carthy.

New additions at V99 (August 21-22) include the Stereophonics, which will also co-headline T In The Park. Other additions to T In The Park are Fatboy Slim, Jeff Mills, Travis, and Basement Jaxx.

Meanwhile, recent add-ons to the Carling-sponsored Reading & Leeds festival include The Chemical Brothers, Reef, Echo & The Bunnymen, Space, Gene, The Dandy Warhols, Apollo 440, Fun Lovin' Criminals, Divine Comedy, Pavement, Beth Orton, Sebadoh, The Pharcyde, Atari Teenage Riot, The Offspring, Terrorvision, silverchair, Feeder, Mudhoney, Pitchshifter, Sick Of It All, Backyard Babies, Elastica, Jon Spencer Blues Explosion, Stereolab, The Fall, Guided By Voices, and Bis.

The Stereophonics are also headlining their own one-day event, and promoters MCP released an extra 10,000 tickets for the show at Swansea's Morfa Stadium on July 31. The tickets were held until a license for a full 50,000-capacity crowd was secured.

- THE MAVERICKS PACKED ROYAL Albert Hall (RAH) from May 16-23 on a return visit to the U.K. The band last played London in September, when there was no possibility of extending beyond a two-night run; this tour ran six nights at RAH.

Before it's taken over by classical acts, including "Swan Lake," and the annual proms during summer, RAH has a number of rock and pop acts booked, including two nights with James Taylor, sold out well in advance, plus Reba McEntire, Al Green, and B.B. King, to name a few.

distraught Jackson canceled following the death of Diana Princess of Wales in August 1997.

The insurers originally agreed to a payout of $344,380 for the cancellation of a concert in Ostende in Belgium, which had been scheduled for August 31, the day of Princess Diana's death. However, they refused to pay for a claim stemming from the subsequent cancellation of the Barcelona show.

The judgment overturned an earlier ruling in the High Court dismissing the claim. At press time, touring insurance professionals were still assessing the impact of this ruling on the business, and no one from either Robertson Taylor or Stafford Knight was available for comment.

Germany: THE FESTIVAL SEASON got off to a good start in Germany with record attendances at the double Rock am Ring and Rock im Park festivals held May 21-23. The combined attendance figure was 120,000, with 67,000 people at Rock am Ring and 53,000 at Rock im Park.

The festivals had one of the strongest lineups in recent years, spanning the spectrum of entertainment from Metallica to Bryan Adams to Robbie Williams, plus extra activities like the House Of Comedy, all-night dance areas and a "sambatron."

The strength of the bill was reflected in good advance-ticket sales - the overall walk-up was around 13 percent of the combined total attendance figures.

Promoter Marek Lieberberg told POLLSTAR he was delighted with this year's results, saying the lack of a strict musical format gave the festival its pulling power. "Acts which are complementary play on the same day, but the multifaceted bill at the festival is the reason for its success. Also, it comes at the beginning of the season, and it represents tradition and quality."

Although impossible to nominate one best performance overall, Lieberberg said that the biggest surprise of the weekend was Faithless. "It was overwhelming, the response to Faithless," he said. "Not that we didn't expect it to be good, but it was unbelievably successful, and also, Robbie Williams was expected to be big, but he turned out to be phenomenal. It was unreal how good he was."

The festivals kicked off a very busy summer season for MLK. Despite losing all of Celine Dion's concerts except for the Munich show, it's busy preparing for upcoming concerts by Alanis Morissette, Lauryn Hill, R.E.M., and two Bruce Springsteen shows at the Wuhlheide amphitheatre in Berlin, copromoted by Mama Concerts.

• PROMOTER PETER RIEGER Konzertagentur (PRK) looks set for a busy summer with advance sales being strong for most of the season's key shows. PRK is promoting Elton John for the first time, and the singer will play three solo concerts at venues previously used only for classical concerts. The three shows will play for estimated audiences of between 9,000-15,000.

Another first-time event will be Mike Oldfield playing in the former East Germany. Oldfield will do 10 shows around the country, and tickets are selling well, even before the release of the new album. Three shows have already sold out.

Also coming up are two shows with Marianne Faithfull and Mike And The Mechanics. PRK is also bringing back Elvis-impersonator cabaret act The King for a tour of bigger venues up to about 4,500 capacity. The singer, who performs contemporary rock and pop songs Elvis-style, packed a club tour earlier this year with the help of sponsor Burger King. Just like the Big Whopper himself, he left audiences wanting more.

Austria: THE SUMMER SEASON AT the Wiesen Festival site looks busy with a new event this year: Two Days A Week, featuring the Red Hot Chili Peppers and The Offspring (promoted by PSI Music), as well as the traditional annual festivals - Forestglade 99 and the 23rd Jazz Festival Wiesen.

At Forestglade (July 2-4), the lineup includes Marilyn Manson, Die Fantastischen Vier, Guano Apes, Live, Creed, dEUS, Bloodhound Gang, and others. Jazz Festival (July 9-11) audiences will see the "South Park" Chef Isaac Hayes, plus Marla Glen, David Sanborn, Pharoah Sanders, Charlie Hunter, and others.

Coming up in June is a Spring Vibration lineup with Burning Spear, Yellowman, Desmond Dekker, and Brinsley Ford.

At Groove Quake II on August 13, Jovanotti will headline, and the season will end with Wiesen MC Sunsplash (August 27-29), featuring Lucky Dube, Inner Circle, Afro Celt Sound System, Andrew Tosh, and others.

Netherlands: THE MOST INTERESTING new act coming through Paperclip's roster in recent months is Andre Williams, according to the agency's Rob Berends. But Williams has, in fact, been around a long time and is discovering a whole new fanbase.

A cult R&B artist since the 1950s, Williams came to Europe last year on a triple-bill tour with The Countdown and the Demolition Doll Rods, after which he graduated to a tour this year with The Countdown as his backing band. He'll return on his own in June for a four-week festival tour and a couple of club dates.

Berends said promoters around Europe have responded to his rude and raw bluesy sound very enthusiastically.

Portugal: THE SUMMER SEASON in Portugal features many student music festivals and the Coimbra Festival (May 7-13) was one of the most important. The city is the country's main university locale, and this year, promoter Inter-Music was particularly pleased to book Lloyd Cole & The Negatives, which played an open-air show for 25,000 people.

Cole and his current band are just one act that Inter-Music has booking

Also represented by Carlos Pinto at Inter-Music is Apocalyptica, and La Frontera, which recently played at the Sony Plaza venue in Lisbon to 10,000 people. Gene Loves Jezebel is another Inter-Music act which tours extensively in Spain, Portugal and Brazil.

Coming up, the company has a major Kelly Family show June 14.

• WITH THE OPENING OF THE 21,000-seater SuperDome in September, Sydney's other two major concert venues, the Entertainment Centre and Hordern Pavilion, are fighting to make sure they don't miss out on the $250 million spent each year on these three indoor venues by concert promoters.

The Entertainment Centre announced an $8 million revamp of its exterior, which will include Hollywood-style spotlights, star-shaped paving, retractable louvres and aluminum-clad columns. It also went public with the signing of several shows, including Disney On Ice, to five-year contracts not to play at any other venue.

Entertainment Centre GM Tim Worton said his venue's proximity to CDB nightlife and Chinatown will give it the edge.

The Hordern Pavilion is spending $27 million on a higher roof, air conditioning, improved sound and better food facilities. The expected completion date is July and it will be linked to the new Fox studio complex at Moore Park.

• AUTHORITIES WARNED GREEDY rave promoters in Sydney that they would be fined up to $2,200 if they continue blocking free tap water to increase bottled-water sales. A report cited that some venues disconnected tap heads in bathroom facilities so they could sell bottled water – which they buy for 75 cents – for $3.50 a pop.

One hotelier protested that his water rates are calculated on a user-pay basis, so he was passing on the cost. A report by a Northern Territory health authority found that one in five licensed premises charged a fee for water.

• GRACE KNIGHT AND HER BAND performed a set in Bangkok last month at the opening of a huge office complex and flew back to Sydney the next day.

Her musical director, Glen Rhodes, was not so lucky. A serious bout of food poisoning rendered him violently ill and laid him up for

• MELBOURNE BAND MR. BROWN has been invited to headline a showcase at NxNE in Toronto in early June – a first for an Oz band. This was the result of the Australian Council's funding of Mr. Brown's last North American tour.

• THE 1999 SYDNEY GAY AND Lesbian Mardi Gras Festival grossed $4.1 million, a jump of 25 percent over last year, according to festival President David McLachlan. This year's event was shorter by seven days and had 130 events, but paid attendance increased 3.5 percent to 93,000.

The attendance at free events (excluding the parade) was estimated at 250,000. The festival brought more than $100 million to Sydney's economy because of global and interstate visitors.

TAL BACHMAN

Tal Bachman was concerned about his socks — white socks with an otherwise coordinated dark green suit and lighter shade of shirt. He wanted to switch them for a pair less obvious. “It can never be entirely quite right,” he kidded at a hotel suite in Toronto, where he was doing promotion for his self-titled Columbia Records debut.

“Even the album has little rough and weird things, like the end of ‘Looks Like Rain’; it’s me strumming an acoustic guitar. Did we forget to take that out?”

He paused, then added dryly, “I think of it as an element of rock ‘n’ roll danger.”

Rock ‘n’ roll danger was a family policy when Tal was growing up. The son of Canadian rock legend Randy Bachman, the B in BTO (Bachman Turner Overdrive), he couldn’t do much to rebel. Defiantly, he decided to teach himself to play guitar with no input from Pa.

“The first guitar I ever had my mom bought me,” the younger Bachman recalled. “It was a $100 Korean piece of total garbage. I smashed it when I was teen-ager. I wanted to know what it would actually be like to smash a guitar.”

“The ironic thing is, I thought as a teen-ager, ‘Well, I might become a musician or guitar player, and if I do, I don’t want to play like my dad — my poor dad!’” he laughed. “He was probably thinking, ‘Oh, my dream’s come true! My son’s learning how to play the guitar,’ but I would not let him show me anything. I just taught myself and I had all these books.”

“The funny thing is, now, every time I play a solo, it’s like I’m listening to a Randy Bachman solo.”

Tal, now 30, has mountains of humorous anecdotes involving his staunchly rock ‘n’ roll dad. “Uniforms are good,” Randy once told his private-school student son. “Angus Young wears one.” Or later, when his son was studying at the university, he thought Tal was wasting time reading philosophy and should quit to pursue rock ‘n’ roll. Indeed, his life sounds like a spin-off of the British sitcom “Absolutely Fabulous.”

It was tales such as these that endeared the young Bachman to the industry invitees at a recent showcase at Toronto’s classy Top O’ The Senator jazz club. But it was the music — solo renditions of cuts from his debut album — played starkly on baby grand and guitar that won him fans. His songs have Lennon-McCartney-like pop sensibility and his voice a throaty-but-mellifluous tone.

The clean-cut, clean-living singer-songwriter and multi-instrumentalist did similar showcases in major cities across North America. Agent Marty Diamond of Little Big Man said he plans to have him out on the road with his band in July for a support tour with an as-yet undetermined act.

For now, the uplifting single, “She’s So High,” will continue to be worked at radio. Coproduced with Bob Rock in Hawaii, the album also includes the stunning “If You Sleep” (most likely the second single), hopelessly romantic “Beside You” and another contender for rock radio, “Darker Side Of Blue.”

The latter song was co-written at Miles Copeland’s privileged songwriting retreat in Angouleme, France, and was initially a delicate song in a Tony Bennett vein for which Bachman re-did the lyrics.

“I wanted it to sound sophisticated because it’s about some big super-glitz model or someone who’s famous,” he said. “I was thinking, ‘OK, loser at home watching a television set and somebody has gotten famous that he knew at one time.’ So I was imagining all these things, wondering what it would be like (to be famous),” explained Bachman.

And his conclusion?

“I don’t know.”

Reminded that his old man is famous, Tal recalled fans tracking down the family home in Bachman Turner Overdrive’s heyday. “They’d tap on windows, knock on the door, trying to get autographs, and circling the block blasting an eight-track tape of ‘Not Fragile’ out the windows.”

Would he like someone to blast “She’s So High” outside his home?

“Not particularly,” he said. “I’m basically agoraphobic; I never leave my house. I don’t really have a lot of friends. I don’t go to parties. I don’t go to clubs. Industry guys keep asking if there’s a scene in Vancouver. If there is, I don’t know about it.”

“It’s nice to create something that other people like,” he added. “That makes me feel like I’ve done something worthwhile. I don’t really care about fame in and of itself. But it’s like sheer mad instinct — I write songs. Sing song. Play song. People hear song. I have ammo. Let’s pull trigger.”

Now that’s rock ‘n’ roll danger. ➤

PARADISE ARTISTS:

JIM LENZ

Rick Weigand and Kevin Sullivan are now at the helm as managers for Survivor. Rick started with the band in the beginning as tour manager in 1979 and left in 1993 for a break from the road. Rick said that he was attracted back to the band because, onstage, the band is better than ever, with an unbelievable catalogue of music for a new release. Kevin, who has worked with Survivor since 1979, has also been on tour with such notables as Sheena Easton and Little Feat. With original members Frankie Sullivan (guitar, vocals) and Dave Bickler (lead vocals), along with Marc Droubay (drums since 1980), Survivor's tour dates have increased from years previous, and their first order of business is to facilitate the U.S. trademark decision, which is due soon.

CONCERTED EFFORTS:

PAUL KAHN

We are proud to announce the addition of several new artists to our roster: Keith Hersh will release a CD July 6th on 4AD, with a U.S. band tour to commence in September on the West Coast. • Brazilian songwriting great Vinicius Cantuarua, whose new Verve CD reached No. 1 on the New Music Report's World Music Chart, is opening shows for Tom Ze, Tortoise and Natalie Merchant. • The alt / throat band Yat-Kha has a new CD on BMG / Wicklow, and will return to North America in July, following an extensive spring tour. • A coast-to-coast tour by Nordic Night, featuring Vasen (a recent hit on "A Prairie Home Companion"), JPP, and Annbjorg Lien, the foremost acoustic bands from Sweden, Finland and Norway respectively, is slated for April 2000. • Henry Butler, a multi faceted New Orleans piano legend who performs jazz, blues and funk in a solo, duo or band setting depending on the occasion, will be fronting the Charles Brown Band on select dates on the West Coast in August and in the Midwest and East in October. • A stellar mini-festival package of gypsy and Hungarian folk musicians, Okros Ensemble, featuring Sandor Fodor "Neti" and Kalman Balogh, will tour during September and October. • Chris Thomas King has been chosen for a major acting / musician role in the forthcoming film by Joel and Ethan Coen, to be filmed this summer. Chris is also touring and doing some shows with his father, blues great Tabby Thomas. • Clarence "Gatemouth" Brown will release a Verve CD on June 29th, featuring Gate's Express Big Band. There are West Coast avails in August. • Buckwheat Zydeco will have a career retrospective CD out July 2nd titled The Buckwheat Zydeco Story - A 20 Year Party, with Midwest and western avails during August and September. • Alvin Youngblood Hart's latest CD, Territory, has been named blues album of the year in the 47th annual Down Beat Critic's Poll, while recently supporting Son Volt and U.K. dates for Ladysmith Black Mambazo. • Popa Chubby's Brooklyn Basement Tapes, which has sold 70,000 units in Europe, comes out in the U.S. in August, with East, Midwest and Southeast avails in August and September. • We also are routing dates in all regions for The Bobs, Waldemar Bastos, Booker T. & The MG's (featuring Booker T. Jones, Steve Cropper and Donald "Duck" Dunn), Bill Morrissey, Luther "Guitar Junior" Johnson, The Holmes Brothers, Nathan & The Zydeco Cha-Chas, C.J. Chenier, Jules Shear, and Kate and Anna McGarrigle.

ROSEBUD AGENCY:

MIKE KAPPUS

Thanks to all involved for adding The Blind Boys of Alabama to Tom Petty's Irving Plaza shows as well as Al Green's Beacon Theatre dates. We're still setting festival dates for them this summer between dates in the U.S., Europe, Morocco and Turkey. • Thanks also to all involved with The Dirty Dozen Brass Band's dates with The Jazz Squad and this summer with Widespread Panic. The Dozen's new CD, Buckjump, is scoring raves. • More thanks for David Garza, out with Jeff Ament's (Pearl Jam) Three Fish throughout June. • Even more thanks for David Lindley and Wally Ingram, who are touring with Bonnie Raitt, Jackson Browne, Bruce Hornsby and Shawn Colvin this summer. • We're also setting final summer dates for Duke Robillard, as well as September West Coast dates featuring special guest Eddy Clearwater. • We're looking for supports in various areas for The Robert Cray Band (currently top 5 at AAA) this summer, as well as packaging ideas for the fall. • New Year's Eve is still available for the majority of the Rosebud roster. ★

GIGS & BYTES

► Is the Net ready for yet another monster e-commerce site? And does it matter that former super-agent Michael Ovitz is one of the masterminds behind it? Ovitz has joined forces with former Disney Online president Richard Wolpert and former grocery-store tycoon Ron Burkle to launch CheckOut.com, a site that hopes to combine shopping with show-biz content.

The idea is that CheckOut.com will be more than just another e-commerce site. With music, videos and the latest show-business news, the site is trying to distinguish itself from all the other virtual stores on the Web.

One aspect that CheckOut.com is pushing is the site's ability to customize itself for the user. Once the customer starts making selections, the site will bring up a series of related links, plus it remembers what the customer has clicked on, making it more user-friendly in future sessions.

More than just listing three big names at the top, CheckOut.com hopes to combine Ovitz's show-business savvy with Wolpert's experience in major online projects and Burkle's business expertise.

Wolpert was involved with several of Disney's high-profile Web sites including Disney.com and The Disney Online Store. Burkle is known in Hollywood for his star-studded political fund-raisers and made headlines last year when his Yucaipa Cos. holding company sold Fred Meyer Inc. to Kroger Corp. for $8 billion. Yucaipa also recently closed its acquisition of Alliance Entertainment Corp., one of the record industry's two major one-stop fulfillment operations for both Web-based and brick-and-mortar retailers.

"What we have is the ultimate destination for entertainment data," said Ovitz. "It's not all about buying. It's not like an Amazon.com."

CheckOut.com hopes to be up and running by midsummer.

► Claiming that there's been a "great deal of misinformation" regarding the Secure Digital Music Initiative (SDMI), the Initiative has issued a statement describing its progress and what music consumers can expect within the next 12 months.

SDMI, which comprises major record labels, computer software and hardware dealers who are trying to hammer out a set of standards for secure digital music sales over the Net, is planning on a two-step rollout of software aimed at reducing piracy on the Net. At the same time, it aims to make the Net a viable marketplace for record labels to sell their product.

Phase 1 will allow the consumer to play any music — regardless of format, origin or whether it's authorized or not — on computers or portable devices. The catch is that after a certain period of time, a mechanism in the Phase 1 software will prompt the user to upgrade to Phase 2.

When will that happen? Although there are some details to work out, the actual trigger for the mechanism that prompts the user for the upgrade will probably be placed in SDMI-compliant music. In other words, the first time you download any music that's SDMI-compliant, the music will trigger the mechanism that prompts you for the upgrade to Phase 2.

It's after you upgrade that things become a bit sticky. If you plan on distributing unauthorized copies of songs, Phase 2 will not allow for any playing of pirated material. Of course, the consumer can stick with the Phase 1 software, but Phase 1 will not be able to play the new SDMI-compliant music. The SDMI expects consumers will want to upgrade to the secure Phase 2 software in order to be able to download, listen to and purchase new music.

In short, neither Phase 1 nor Phase 2 will prohibit the playing of MP3 files or any other audio file format. If you want to rip CDs of all their tracks and distribute them via the Web, Phase 1 will allow you to do that. But if you want to continue to hear the latest music, you'll have to upgrade to Phase 2 and that's when the real security features kick in. Although Phase 2 will allow you to copy a CD for your personal player or computer, it will not allow you to make those copies available on the Net. Additionally, the Phase 2 software will recognize pirated copies of songs and will refuse to accept them.

► With a promotion like this, who needs radio? Two major acts, Red Hot Chili Peppers and Def Leppard, have albums coming out in June and both releases will debut in their entirety on the Web four days before their official release.

Starting June 4th at the Peppers' Web site, www.redhotchilipeppers.net, the band will release three tracks a day from the new album, Californication. Also on June 4th over at www.delleppard.net, all the tracks from the band's new album, Euphoria, will be featured within a four-hour broadcast that will run repeatedly. The new tracks will be sandwiched between interviews and older Def Leppard songs. Both albums, which hit record racks June 8th, will utilize RealNetworks' RealPlayer G2 for the download audio streaming.

BETWEEN THE DATES

WATCHA OUT!

► Last month, when Vans Warped tour producer Kevin Lyman announced the lineup for this year's extravaganza, he also told POLLSTAR that a rock en Español-flavored Warpedlike tour would follow hot on the heels of the original.

Dates for that outing have been announced and it's hot, all right. The Watcha Tour - featuring Cafe Tacuba, Molotov, Cypress Hill, and Control Machete - starts up the day after the standard Gringo version of Warped wraps. The first tour ends July 31st in the parking lot of South Florida's Pompano Beach Amphitheatre and Watcha starts August 1st in the same place.

More groups are expected to participate in Watcha. Among the names being banded about are Royal Crown Revue, Illa Kuryaki, and Los Mocosos. The bands will play on two stages and the show will run six hours.

Molotov and Cypress Hill also appear on this summer's Warped, creating a nice lead-in for the new tour.

So far, Watcha is scheduled to make 10 stops in the South and West, which are strong Latin music markets.

ANOTHER PARENT PLEASER

► Alt-rock-rap acts Limp Bizkit and Kid Rock will tour together this summer. The 27-date road trip runs from June 11th to July 23rd and plays arenas, sheds and a few theatres.

The co-headliners will start things off by playing the annual Dysfunction Family Picnic Festival at the Jones Beach Amphitheatre in New York. Immediately following the tour's official end, both acts will perform at Woodstock '99 in Rome, N.Y.

The tour may get a boost when Limp Bizkit's new album, Significant Other, hits stores June 22nd. The band is promising a more mature sound on this album and tour. Kid Rock has been branching out as well, adding some covers like CCR's "Fortunate Son" to his set.

BECK SENIOR

► The baby boomers' Beck, legendary guitarist Jeff Beck, is going to miss Woodstock again but his fans still have a chance to see him this summer.

A "scheduling conflict" kept Beck from joining this year's Woodstock. He was supposed to play the 1969 festival but his group disintegrated prior to the event.

Beck is, however, planning a late summer amphitheatre tour. Dates have not been confirmed but an Epic Records spokesperson said the former Yardbirds ax man will tour for three weeks on the East Coast with Jonny Lang beginning in late August. After that, Beck will continue for three more weeks without Lang.

HOT NEW TOURS

► Boz Scaggs' tour starts June 24th.... Chris Rock plays theatres into July.... Marilyn Manson tours Europe this summer.... Steve Miller Band starts its annual shed tour July 22nd.... The Statler Brothers have new dates running into September.... Testament gangs heads coast to coast in August.... REO Speedwagon has two months of new dates.... Rollins Band is out in July.... The Lettermen has dates into the new millennium....

GIGS & BYTES

► Have you ever taken a liking to a song on the radio but were unable to catch the title and artist? Internet startup Get Media hopes to eliminate that problem by putting radio stations' playlists on the Web along with easy links to more information, including more songs from the band, along with a direct link to purchase the album.

San Francisco's WLLC, known as Alice 97.3 FM, is the first radio station to give it a try. At www.radioalice.com, not only can you look over the last 10 songs played on the radio station, but with a few mouse clicks, you can also listen to other songs from the same artist and album. And if you want to buy the album, that's only a mouse click away.

Of course, you can always surf over to one of the many CD stores on the Web, but the attraction of the Get Media software is that you don't have to leave the site you're visiting to make a purchase. You hear it, and if you like it, you can buy it. It's that simple. ◀
