Indie Promoters Launch IPO

IN AN EFFORT TO PRESENT a viable alternative to SFX for national tour promotion, 11 non-SFX promoters have formed the Independent Promoters Organization (IPO). All of North America is covered in the combined territories represented by the promoter members. The company hopes to capitalize on the strength of its members' years of experience, industry relationships and regional expertise.

The venture's start-up was funded by the member companies and the group has appointed Jerry Mickelson of Jam Productions as CEO. Former North American Concert Promoters Association Director Ben Liss has been named IPO president. The directors are Army Granat of Jam, Jules Belkin of Belkin Productions, Bill Reid of Rising Tide and John Scher of Metropolitan Entertainment.

Liss said there is no correlation between IPO and NACPA. "There are companies in IPO that are in NACPA, but there are SFX companies in NACPA as well. Not all of the IPO companies belong to NACPA."

He said the two entities have completely different functions and purposes. "IPO is a for-profit organization," said Liss, "not a trade organization. We are interested in bidding for nationally promoted tours and providing an alternative for agents and artists. We have a framework in place that can move very quickly if an act wants to utilize our services."

Mickelson said the organization was formed out of necessity, not because the members had an intense desire to get into the national tour business.

"When I saw what was happening with national tours, I started calling everyone, saying 'Let's do something; we don't want to get left behind.' You have to be able to react to the changes in the business or you are going to get run over," he said.

"It's nothing that we want to do. We'd all prefer the traditional agency-promoter relationship because we feel that serves the best interest of the artist. But we can't change someone's mind if they want to do a nationally promoted tour, so we felt we had to present an alternative."

IPO takes an intentionally local approach to national tours but the organization has the ability to make an offer that encompasses the entire country. It can also accommodate tours at the club level all the way up to stadiums – something that shed-heavy SFX hasn't ventured into yet. Along with the buildings represented by the regional companies, IPO has the added clout of Universal Concerts' recent acquisition by House Of Blues, which instantly added a high-profile club network to the mix.

While the diversity of venues is a plus, Mickelson said IPO has more to offer than buildings. "The important thing is the promotional effort that goes behind each artist and the promotional relationships that each of these people have," he said, adding that IPO members are highly motivated to stay involved in the promoting process.

"We all watch the bottom line because it's our money and our futures that are at risk. We're not playing with the public's money or someone else's money. We're not watching the stock market. When you have lots of money, you don't need to work as hard."

I.M.P. chief

Seth Hurwitz said he wasn't sure he wanted to be involved in nationally promoted tours since the indies had been saying all along that the whole idea was ridiculous. Then, he started talking to Mickelson and other independent promoters.

"I realized that they were a lot like me – promoters who want to do the best job they can for the act. It's good to be brainstorming with them on how to do a better job – not how to get more control," he said. "There's an obvious fascination with national tour offers. I don't really know why, but there seems to be some mystique involved. My attitude toward it is, 'If you want an offer, OK. We can do that.'"

For obvious geographic reasons, the new company does not encompass every non-SFX promoter in the land but IPO is willing to work with other indies if an artist wants to play a market not represented by the members.

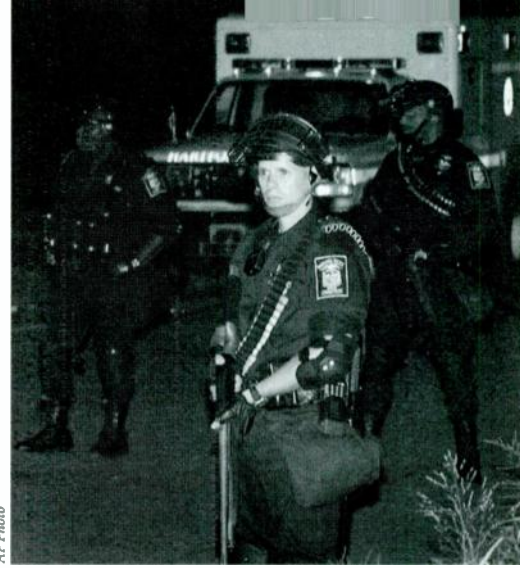

"We are absolutely not trying to shut anyone out," Hurwitz said. "We're not trying to move into new markets. We'll work with other promoters if an act needs to play their market."

Liss said IPO has been involved in "a number of discussions" with agents and managers regarding nationally promoted tours, but the organization has yet to sign a contract.

At press time, agents contacted by POLLSTAR had not returned phone calls. A follow-up report will provide their take on the IPO along with more comments from the promoters on the future of the concert business.

Violence Erupts Outside Hartford Shed

HARTFORD, CONN., certainly didn't expect to have to call in the riot squad during the Dave Matthews Band's tour-ending shows at the Meadows Music Theatre. But sure enough, just two weeks after the world was shocked by the behavior at Woodstock, police found themselves donned in riot gear, firing rubber bullets and tear gas to disperse a rowdy crowd gathered outside of the Meadows.

During the last two shows of a three-night stand August 6-8, officers arrested 55 people on charges including breach of peace, assault on an officer and rioting.

Non-ticket holders "apparently came to drink and party and have what they thought was a good time," Hartford Police Sgt. Neil Dryfe said. "Then the mob mentality took over."

On Saturday night, a crowd of about 100 young people – many high on alcohol, narcotics or nitrous oxide – overturned and torched several cars and set a pile of chairs and debris on fire. Also, couples were having sex in their cars and women were baring their breasts for free beer, parking lot attendants told The Hartford Courant.

When officers moved in, they were pelted with bottles and rocks.

The thugs turned an otherwise uneventful parking lot into a surreal landscape of burning cars, shattered glass and flying fists, witnesses told The Courant. Police told the paper that numerous that Meadows proxy Jim Koplik said was not authorized or organized by the venue. They were greeted by police wearing riot gear and carrying shotguns. When the parties were told to leave, they threw bottles and rocks. Police responded with rubber bullets and pepper spray.

The department defended its actions. "Anyone who was subject to any ... use of force had every opportunity to disperse," Dryfe said.

Authorities had no estimates on property damage, but said no serious injuries were reported.

The venue pointed out that there were no incidents inside the building during the three sold-out shows.

As with any concert at the Meadows, police met with venue personnel to decide how many officers would likely be needed. Koplik said he did not expect major problems at a show by the relatively mellow Dave Matthews Band.

"We were prepared for possible problems, but they were bigger than we thought they would be," he said.

Merle Haggard has canceled 11 August dates due to exhaustion coupled with pneumonia. He has not been hospitalized and is at home recuperating under a doctor's orders. The country star said he is very sorry about the inconvenience to talent buyers and fans, and hopes everyone understands. Haggard said he is looking forward to hitting the road again in September and October, and is excited about his new album, which will be released August 24th.

Brooks & Dunn left a part of itself at the WE Fest country musical festival after someone stole the group's one-of-a-kind Les Paul guitar from the weekend concert at the Soo Pass Ranch near Detroit Lakes, Minn. A law enforcement officer said the custom-made instrument was taken from the back of a semi after the band's gig August 7th. Its value was not specified.

Paramount Canada's Wonderland has named Dave Phillips manager of public relations and special events. Phillips was formerly with the City of Ottawa - Lansdowne Park.

Paul Stewart, former Virgin Records senior vice president of A&R, joined ARTIST direct August 9th in a senior position dedicated to boost the Internet music company's presence in the urban music community. Among his responsibilities, Stewart said, are "attracting premier urban artists to work with ARTIST direct and helping maintain their channels."

Carrie Moore will resume responsibility as chief manager of her Kingston Springs, Tenn.-based company, Third Coast Talent LLC. She will continue booking her exclusive artists, Bill Anderson, Jerry Reed, and Moore & Moore. The former Great American Talent associate will also be responsible for booking Mel Tillis, Ray Price, Brenda Lee, Hank Williams III, and others.

In recognition of his influence and leadership, District Five of the IAAM has established the Paul Fletcher Buck Scholarship. assisting with traffic control. Almost 70 officers were ordered on duty for Sunday's show.

Authorities said the melees will mean tighter security at future concerts that draw a similar crowd. But they said there is probably no way to keep people without tickets away from the venue. Checking tickets for every car pulling into a parking lot would cause traffic nightmares.

Concert organizers were expected to meet with police last week to discuss a strategy for dealing with the problems outside the venue.

Top Level Changes At ICM & WMA

THE POWER STRUGGLE between the large full-service talent agencies got even hotter last week when ICM Co-Chairman Jim Wiatt left the company and quickly joined the William Morris Agency, replacing the apparently ousted Arnold Rifkin as president.

Wiatt resigned his ICM post August 6th after rejecting the agency's latest employment offer to replace the one that would have expired September 30th. Wiatt's salary had reportedly been significantly lower than his peers at other agencies - $1.5 million a year with no salary increases or bonuses. He was reportedly seeking more money and power, and it looks like he'll get both with his five-year deal at WMA. He gets stock in the company and replaces Rifkin on the agency's 11-member board of directors. Wiatt also will share the CEO title with longtime WMA exec Walter Zifkin.

ICM will buy out Wiatt's stake in the company – thought to be worth about $7 million – over the next five years. He is the second largest shareholder behind ICM Chairman Jeff Berg. According to The Wall Street Journal, Wiatt owns about 18 percent of the agency while Berg controls about 30 percent.

Wiatt had a tense relationship with Berg and some insiders expect the two execs will go to war. The conflict may be exacerbated if other top ICM agents follow Wiatt to WMA when their contracts expire.

Wiatt's clients at ICM included actors Sylvester Stallone, Eddie Murphy and Tim Allen, as well as writers, directors and producers such as Nora Ephron, Richard Donner and Penny Marshall.

Neither WMA or ICM has said which clients Wiatt took with him but it's likely that most, if not all, of his clients will join him at WMA. There was no word on where Rifkin might be headed or which clients he might take with him.

Tom Ross Nets New Gig

FORMER CAA ÜBER AGENT Tom Ross has signed with Internet entertainment technology company CDKnet to head its entertainment group. As president of the division, Ross will be responsible for identifying business opportunities in the entertainment, music and film industries, and will use his negotiating skills to secure partnership agreements.

"One thing I'll be able to do is connect CDKnet with the record companies," Ross told POLLSTAR. "They have a great new technology that will allow 60 minutes of video to be added to a regular CD so you can get both audio and video in DVD quality."

CDK 2.0 enables computer users to view full-screen, full-motion music videos from the same CD that provides top-quality sound. The technology has been used as a marketing and presentation tool by companies including Citibank, Atlantic Records and Sandals Resorts.

Ross said CDK 2.0 will be a great marketing tool for the labels on a number of levels. "It will be good for new acts because it gives a new dimension to electronic press kits. It can be used to give fans more insight into a new act," he said. "On an established act, the fans can get the songs with the video to back them up. It should be a new profit center for the labels."

DreamWorks Nashville has already signed up to use CDKnet's interactive multimedia technology for upcoming releases, and with Ross opening the doors, a number of labels will likely come calling.

Ross made it clear that this is just one of a number of ventures he's pursuing through his company, T.R.E. (Tom Ross Enterprises).

"I have several projects in the works and expect to be announcing more details shortly," he said. "It just so happened that the ink dried on this venture first."

Police Net Dolphin In Whitefish

A FORMER MIAMI DOLPHIN football star was among 14 people cited for misdemeanor drug offenses at Willie Nelson's August 4th concert in Whitefish, Mont.

One time all-pro defensive lineman Doug Betters was ticketed at Big Mountain amphitheatre for possessing marijuana and a pipe. A private security guard found the goods on Betters during a search at the entry gate and alerted authorities.

Betters, who has been confined to a wheelchair since a 1998 skiing accident, pleaded innocent to the charges.

Plainclothes drug task force officers sniffed out pot smokers in the crowd and exchanged illicit goods for tickets. Two of the offenders were hauled off to jail but the rest were allowed to stay at the show.

Flathead County Undersheriff Chuck Curry said officials decided to send the drug team to the concert after "several reports and complaints of flagrant drug use at the recent Widespread Panic concert at Big Mountain."

He said the officers did not have search warrants and were not searching people or their possessions for drugs and drug paraphernalia.

Black Promoter Picket Lines

MEMBERS OF THE BLACK Promoters Association and their supporters staged a weeklong protest in front of CAA's Beverly Hills offices earlier this month.

As many as 60 civil rights marchers picketed daily from August 2-6 to raise awareness of the alleged racial discrimination plaguing the concert industry. The claims are at the heart of a $750 million lawsuit filed by five individual members of the BPA against 40 major promoters and agencies, including CAA and William Morris. The 12-member BPA is not a party to the action.

"We had a lot of positive reaction from the public," BPA

President Leonard Rowe told POLLSTAR. "We passed out literature; everybody was curious about what was going on."

Rowe said his group is preparing to launch a protest at the William Morris Agency's Beverly Hills headquarters, but he declined to specify a date. He also mentioned that a joint protest is brewing with the NAACP, which recently lashed out at the four major television networks for lacking ethnic diversity in programming. The NAACP has not become a party to the five promoters' legal action.

The BPA members along with various civil rights leaders have staged several marches against the two agencies this year. Rowe vowed the marches will continue "until they do the right thing."

William Morris and CAA have denied all racist allegations. WMA issued a statement saying, "We at William Morris rarely, if ever, independently determine which promoters are selected for specific engagements. This decision is generally made in consultation with our clients and their personal managers."

The five plaintiff promoters have not included any personal managers or artists in their action.

Delta Center Takes Direct Hit From Tornado

THE FREAK TORNADO THAT swept through the center of Salt Lake City last week, claiming one life, seemed to target the Delta Center. It left the 20,000-seat arena with holes in its roof, broken windows and a drenched floor August 11th.

The building will be closed at least six weeks for repairs, Delta Center GM Scott Williams said. Some basketball games will have to be moved to another venue but no concerts are scheduled until the end of October when the Backstreet Boys come to town.

WORKERS SWEEP UP GLASS in front of the Delta Center August 11th after the tornado that shocked Salt Lake City.

The twister appeared to come out of nowhere without warning, striking the downtown business district during one of the busiest times of the day, the lunch hour.

Amateur video shows power transformers exploding as the black funnel cloud struck the Delta Center. One witness described the roof coming off "like an orange peel."

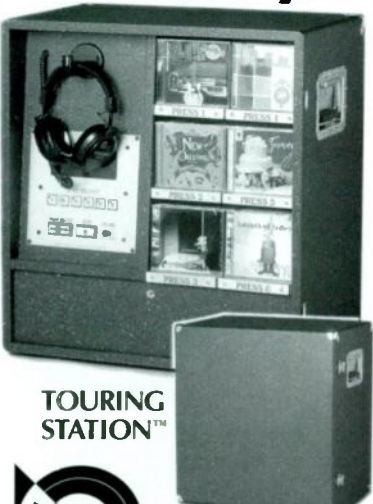

"The roof is badly damaged," said Evan Silverman of the NBA's Utah Jazz, which resides at the venue. "There are patchy holes in it, not one huge hole. There are spots in the southwest corner where you can see the sky."

Other significant damage includes shattered window panels, Delta VP Brent Allenbach said.

The building shook when the tornado hit. With rain falling into the arena, employees scrambled to cover the floor with a large plastic sheet and protective plywood. However, the floor still received water damage.

Nearby, the twister claimed its next victims at the Salt Palace Convention Center, where exhibitors were setting up for the city's largest convention, the Outdoor Retailers Summer Market. It reportedly draws about 18,000 people.

Allen Crandy, 38, a decorator/installer of one of the booths, was killed when debris struck him in the head. He is the first recorded tornado death in the state's history. That day was reportedly Crandy's 13th wedding anniversary.

Because the retailers show is so large, two tented pavilions were built outside the convention center to accommodate about 780 booths, Salt Palace spokesperson Allyson Jackson told POLLSTAR.

"One pavilion was totally destroyed and the second pavilion has been deemed unsafe by the city engineers and so has been condemned," she said. The four-day show was cut by one day as the center and exhibitors inside tried to make room for boothless participants.

To make matters worse, the Wyndham Hotel, which had all its rooms filled for the convention, was forced to close indefinitely because of blown-out windows, according to the Salt Lake Tribune. People lugged bags and suitcases through the streets late into the evening looking for new hotels and hunting for food since most downtown restaurants were closed, the paper said.

The tornado was classified as an F2, which has winds between 113 mph and 157 mph. More than 100 people were injured and about 121 homes were damaged.

BGP's Muckleshoot Shed Slowly Moves Forward

THE MUCKLESHOOT INDIAN Tribe got some good news about its half-built 20,000-seat amphitheatre located on a reservation near Auburn, Wash. Federal and state agencies concluded in a draft Environmental Impact Statement that the tribe can successfully mitigate noise and traffic concerns.

That "tends to confirm what the tribe has thought all along," said attorney Rob Otsea, "that from an environmental perspective, there weren't issues that couldn't be dealt with."

The next step in the process is a 60-day public comment period. "We're working toward the final EIS being issued early next year, go back to work in the spring, complete construction and then open the following spring of 2001," project spokesperson Lance Miller told POLLSTAR. SFX's Bill Graham Presents division is working with the tribe to develop the shed.

The only obstacle is an environmental group which may sue to halt construction of the White River Amphitheatre. The Citizens for Safety and the Environment claim the venue would damage the rural character of the area. And a nearby dairy worries traffic may slow its daily milk transports and cow feedings.

"Traffic will be bad. But the bottom line is, if people can't get there and get back, people won't come back," tribal consultant Rollin Fatland told Tacoma's News Tribune. "It's in [the tribe's] economic interest to make this thing work. Otherwise, they've got a $30 million investment that's worthless to them."

The amphitheatre was nearly half finished in April 1998 when a federal judge ordered the Federal Bureau of Indian Affairs to do a more thorough environmental review of the project, the News Tribune said.

HEY, THAT AIN'T NO LADY – that's Seth Hurwitz on the drums during Lilith Fair's grand finale at the Merriweather Post Pavilion outside Washington, D.C., July 28th. The promoter said the women begged and begged him to join them on "Put A Little Love In Your Heart," and he finally relented. That's why they turned the mics off on the drum kit, right, Seth?

All concerns, including traffic, noise, public safety, drainage, sewage and economic impacts are answered in the draft EIS, Miller said. And those concerns will likely be verbally answered again when a public hearing regarding the project is held September 22nd.

In the end, Miller is convinced the project will get the go-ahead the tribe has patiently waited for. "Usually, amphitheatres have a few people that don't want them next door. So this is nothing unusual."

Southern Fried Cancellation

THE SOUTHERN FRIED MUSIC Festival is immersed in controversy after a Superior Court judge stopped producer Sean Owen from staging the August 28th Habitat for Humanity benefit at Senoia Raceway in Fayetteville, Ga.

Judge Paschal English signed a temporary restraining order August 6th and scheduled another hearing August 25th. The order followed complaints by Coweta County officials that the venue was not zoned for concerts. Furthermore, county attorney Mitch Powell said that the expected crowd of 10,000 would create traffic, sanitation, food inspection and security problems.

Festival promoters said the one-day event – featuring The Screamin' Cheetah Wheelies, Bare Jr., Soul Miner's Daughter, Jimmy King and the Sons of the Blues, Ken Mellons, and Southern Gold – would raise $100,000 for the non-profit Christian organization that helps build affordable homes for people in need.

Owen, of Big Top Marketing & Promotions, told POLLSTAR he is seeking legal action. "Technically, they haven't legally stopped the concert from being held. They've only stopped me from promoting it."

Whether or not the concert proceeds as planned, Owen said he will attend the second court hearing because he is "trying to get the lawyer [Powell] disbarred."

"I've already talked to the Georgia Bar Association," Owen said. "There are no zoning regulations for concerts in that county. I'm seeking legal action against the county."

Despite what Owen called a technicality, he said he's looking at moving the concert to an alternate site, possibly the Masquerade Music Park in Atlanta. The park accommodates about 4,200 people, less than half the amount of the Senoia Raceway venue. He said he expected to have alternate plans finalized by the end of last week.

"I just think that it's a shame you try to do good work and the government keeps getting in the way. It's not a zoning issue," said the producer, who added that he spent seven months working full time on the event. He said it boiled down to a "moneymaking" issue. "Last time I checked, I was still living in America, which is a free enterprise country. It's not a crime to make money."

Counterfeit Tickets Increase

OFFICIALS AT ATLANTA'S Lakewood Amphitheatre are warning: Buyer beware.

Hundreds of concert-goers this summer have been cheated by street and Internet scalpers hawking counterfeit tickets to high-demand events. So far, Atlanta police have arrested seven people for such crimes.

"With the innovation of the scanners and the photocopiers and the quality of stuff that can be reproduced, we have had a huge number of problems on sold-out shows with counterfeit tickets," Lakewood Amphitheatre GM Clay Schell told POLLSTAR.

Over this past season at the Georgia shed, two Phish concerts netted 750 fake ducats, 600 Parrotheads were turned away from Jimmy Buffett and nearly another 600 spectators total were ripped off at separate concerts by Dave Matthews Band and DMX.

And Schell warns that the rash of counterfeiting is not isolated to his market. A majority of the seven people arrested were from New York, leading authorities to suspect a counterfeiting ring in the Big Apple.

"We, along with Ticketmaster, hired vice police and we made seven arrests during the Dave Matthews show. We went to court and prosecuted two and there's two other trials coming up that

THE RALEIGH ENTERTAINMENT & Sports Arena in North Carolina moves closer to its grand opening this fall. A construction worker prepares the new red seats at the 21,000-capacity building.

SOUTH DAKOTA'S Sioux Falls Arena recently completed a $1.7 million renovation, which includes a new ice hockey floor. The venue's renovation began in May and was completed July 31st.

AFTER UNDERGOING renovations over the summer, the Denver area's Gothic Theatre is open for business – much to the delight of co-owners Steve Schalk (L) and Todd Kinion. The 700-capacity building has a variety of shows scheduled into October, including Wilson Pickett, David Crosby, and Yellowman.

WORKERS REPLACE part of the sprawling lawn section with new fixed seats to form a third tier of the Oak Mountain Amphitheatre. The Birmingham, Ala.-area venue broke in its new seating section August 3th with a sold-out Tim McGraw/Dixie Chicks concert. New Era Promotions' topper Tony Ruffino, who books the venue, predicts more amphitheatres will convert part of their grassy GA areas into reserved seat sections.

have ... more serious charges," Schell said. "We've had success and made arrests, and we feel that we've turned a corner on it."

Most of the venue's counterfeit-ing problems have occurred during shows that have been sold out for months, such as Dave Matthews and Phish, he said, adding that a majority of the bogus tickets are lawn seats.

"Once you're inside the venue, you have the odds of (not) getting caught because you're going to a space rather than a seat."

Fortunately for the venue, officials can easily spot the fake ducats at the gate by examining the paper quality. Unsuspecting consumers, unfortunately, bite the bullet for an over-priced, worthless ticket.

"If you look at a ticket, the general Joe Public can pretty much distinguish a good ticket from a bad ticket - a lot of misspelled words, dates for the show are different, time for the show is wrong," Schell said.

"The main thing we're trying to get across is please go to authorized distributors of the product."

Suge Knight Wants Murder Rap Clearance

AN ATTORNEY FOR imprisoned rap mogul Marion "Suge" Knight is telling the Los Angeles Police Department to "put up or shut up" in its investigation of Knight as a key suspect in the shooting death of rapper Notorious B.I.G.

In an interview last week with the Los Angeles Times, attorney Robin J. Yanes said detectives have no evidence linking the Death Row Records founder with the slaying of B.I.G., whose real name was Christopher Wallace.

"This was nothing but a fishing expedition in which LAPD detectives intentionally disseminated false and misleading statements to the media," Yanes told the Times.

"The LAPD does not go on fishing expeditions," Cmdr. David J. Kalish responded. "This is a very complex homicide investigation and our detectives are methodical, thorough and tenacious in their approach toward solving this crime."

In April, the LAPD reportedly obtained court orders to search several places linked to Knight, including the Death Row Records offices, residences of Knight's employees and friends, and a Chevrolet Impala. Detectives also searched Knight's jail cell and attempted to interview him without his lawyer, the Times said.

Yanes said any information provided to the judge to obtain a search warrant was false. And after all was said and done, police failed to uncover any evidence, forcing them to return all items they confiscated, he said.

"Either come out with some evidence against Mr. Knight or clear his name," Yanes told the paper. "Don't just leave him hanging and living under the stigma of these false allegations. It's wrong to do that to a person. And it's had a dramatic impact on Mr. Knight's life."

Though Knight was in jail when Wallace was killed, detectives are reportedly working with the theory that the slaying was a murder-for-hire plot involving the Death Row exec.

Knight is serving a nine-year prison term in connection with an unrelated 1992 attack on two aspiring rappers. The California Supreme Court denied his request for an early release last week, deciding to let stand a lower court ruling that left his 1996 sentence intact.

Originally, the rap mogul received a suspended nine-year sentence and five years probation. But a Los Angeles Superior Court judge decided in 1996 that Knight violated his probation by kicking a man during a scuffle in a Las Vegas hotel.

Greenville Observes Sabbath

EVEN THOUGH A CONTROVERSIAL rock concert at Greenville, S.C.'s Bi-Lo Center went off without any fireworks, a pastor in town was still not happy. The Rev. Stan Craig said it didn't matter that Black Sabbath fans were on their best behavior because it's the band's lyrics that hurt society.

About 6,500 fans attended the August 8th Sabbath concert, which caused no problems, police said.

Craig had led two protests against the concert, claiming that Black Sabbath uses satanic images and that the band's Last Supper tour is offensive to Christians.

"Sometimes these groups' members don't even realize they are priests of Satan," Craig said. "We believe this is music that's leading our society down a path of

Obituaries

Television producer and recently elected president of the Academy Of Country Music Gene Weed, 64, died of cancer at his Los Angeles-area home August 5th. He was a pioneer in the production of music videos and film clips. He produced more than 200 performance clips for artists ranging from The Fifth Dimension to Creedence Clearwater Revival. Weed was a senior VP at dick clark productions and played a key role in the company's wide array of award shows including the Golden Globe Awards and the Academy of Country Music Awards. Weed spent the first 15 years of his career in radio and was once the highest rated air personality in Dallas, Omaha, Miami and L.A. His ratings still stand as the highest ever achieved in L.A., where he once commanded 50 percent of the afternoon drive audience.

Longtime nightclub owner Bill Griffin, 67, lost his battle with lung cancer August 9th. He died in his sleep at his Myrtle Beach, S.C., home. Griffin's Castaways club in Greensboro, N.C., was a mecca for the 1960s beach music scene and hosted artists like the Drifters, the Tams, and other major R&B acts. He also founded ABC Records of Atlanta, on which the O-Kaysions recorded the hit "I'm a Girl-Watcher." Last year, Griffin was inducted into the Beach Music Hall of Fame in Myrtle Beach.

Grateful Dead archivist Dick Latvala, 56, died of a heart attack at his Petaluma, Calif., home August 6th. Latvala was probably best known for the "Dick's Picks" collection of remastered Dead concerts but he also spent years organizing and preserving the band's history through thousands of hours of concert recordings. Latvala attended his first Dead concert in 1966 and started working for the band in the late '70s. He took charge of maintaining the recordings after expressing to bassist Phil Lesh his concern about the deteriorating condition of the archives. Twenty years spent immersed in the band's live music made Latvala a peerless expert in the Dead's concert history. Dennis McNally, the Dead's publicist, said the 15th release in the Dick's Picks series is due next month.

murder and rape and destruction and Columbine High School."

The controversy began last spring when some in Greenville complained of drug use and satanic imagery at a KORN/Rob Zombie concert at the Bi-Lo Center. Critics said venue managers were ignoring the community's values - a criticism they thought was illustrated again by the booking of Black Sabbath.

Bi-Lo executive director Ed Rubinstein recently told POLLSTAR that the venue researches all shows that could potentially be controversial. He said he tries to make sure events at the facility provide entertainment to all segments of the community, and will continue to do so.

Atlanta Mulls New Symphony Hall

THE ATLANTA SYMPHONY Orchestra has been granted an extended deadline to raise $45 million toward the cost of building a $113 million symphony hall in midtown. On August 10th, the original deadline, only $10 million had been secured.

Chastain Park Amphitheater and ASO Pops director Rudi Schlegel told POLLSTAR, "We've been given a four-to-six-week additional window to pursue more funding, taking us up to about the beginning of October."

BellSouth owns the proposed building site in midtown and has invited the orchestra to move there. However, the telco also issued the deadline.

ASO's parent company, the Woodruff Arts Center, must approve the building plans and will not do so until 40 percent - $45 million - of the project's total cost is committed.

The secured multimillion dollar donation came from Home Depot co-founder and CEO Arthur Blank prior to the deadline. He also committed an additional $5 million to name the hall after late conductor Robert Shaw if three matching $5 million contributions were made.

"We're in negotiations with a variety of major donors," Schlegel said, explaining that he could not release any other names at press time.

The symphony is currently housed at the Woodruff Arts Center, but "the quality and size of the orchestra has grown so that we've actually outgrown the venue," Schlegel said. "It's no longer acoustically superior, no longer optimum." If the funding comes through, he said the orchestra could move into the new hall by 2002 or 2003.

Although the director said he remains optimistic, he also revealed, "We're in the process of looking at other possible sites, including two in midtown."

Schlegel said that other projects under way include "negotiations with the city to extend our lease for Chastain Park Amphitheater in a joint venture with SFX Entertainment. We jointly operate Chastain Park with a division of SFX, and the lease expires December 31, 2000." ★

► Hoping it will be more than the ghost in the machine, Compaq will serve as the presenting sponsor and exclusive IT partner for Sting's upcoming Brand New Day tour. The computer manufacturer will launch a Web site at sting.compaq.com, plus the logo for the tour will incorporate the site's URL. While there is currently a Sting Web page at www.compaq.com, the official tour site will launch this fall to coincide with the tour's kickoff October 14th at the Hard Rock Hotel in Las Vegas.

The site will be everything Sting, including chat sessions, a multimedia scrapbook, and webcasts. The site will also serve as a store for his merchandise.

As part of the deal, Compaq plans to create a number of branding, advertising and promotional tie-ins with the tour. The computer company is also developing hardware and software for sequencing, digital sampling, stage lighting design and programming, plus business and production management.

► Lycos, the Web portal that launched a dedicated MP3 search engine earlier this year, has acquired Internet Music Distribution Inc., which makes Sonique, an MP3 software player. Lycos snagged IMDI for about 1.1 million shares of Lycos stock worth about $39 million. Lycos will give away the music player.

► Former Soundgarden frontman Chris Cornell is giving the Net first crack at his new single, "Can't Change Me," from his upcoming album, Euphoria Morning. What's unusual about the promotion is that the single is being offered for download in the MP3 format by more than 30 radio station Web sites before it is released to radio for airplay. The participating rock and alternative radio station sites are sporting a special Chris Cornell MP3 banner. All fans need to do is click on the banner to download the song. The album will be released September 21st.

► RealNetworks has released its latest version of RealJukebox, probably the most user-friendly software to record and playback MP3 files. Along with the announcement of the upgrade, several companies announced their own plans for RealJukebox.

RealNetworks, Warner Music Group and Trans World Entertainment are working together to promote and market several artists from Warner Music Group labels such as Atlantic, Elektra, Warner Bros. and Maverick. The project's goal is to develop promotional and e-commerce opps for consumers on the Web. All promotions will be available via secure download at TWEC.com through the use of the RealJukebox Beta 2 version and RealJukebox Plus. Some of the artists participating in the promotion are Edwin McCain, Jewel, Ol' Dirty Bastard, Mint Condition, Gerald Levert, and Vitamin C.

Philips Electronics announced a new digital player based on flash memory that will be seamlessly integrated with RealJukebox. Philips is betting that RealJukebox's recording and file managing system will be just the ticket for non-techies when it comes to downloading, transferring and playing MP3 files.

► MTV.com has launched MTV S-Track, calling it the first music soundtrack developed for a Web site. S-Track plays a different song for every section of the site using technology designed exclusively for MTV by Beatnik, Inc. While Beatnik may not be a household name, its founder, Thomas Dolby Robertson, was one of the first stars on MTV with hits like "She Blinded Me With Science."

"By mixing the Beatnik technology with original music, MTV.com is exemplifying the way music should be experienced interactively on the Web," Robertson said. "MTV.com fans can choose from a personal play list and then imitate their favorite DJs by varying the sounds, instrumentation, tempo and key."

Other artists that have signed on to do an MTV S-Track include DMX producer Dame Grease, hip-hop producer Shawn J. Period and Arabian Knight.

► When you think about it, the Net is much more futuristic than anything David Bowie sang about in his Ziggy Stardust & The Spiders From Mars days. In the past few years, Bowie has broken new ground not only with his Bowie Bonds offering but also with the official Web site and ISP, www.davidbowie.com. Now, the Thin White Duke is offering fans a chance to preview his new album, Hours, almost two full months before its October 5th release.

During the next few weeks, fans will be able to preview cover artwork as well as the music itself. Members who visit the "Building Hours" section will be allowed a sneak preview when 45 seconds of each new song is posted in the RealAudio format every week. Along with the musical preview, segments of the cover art will also be added on a weekly basis.

► The New York State Police, which ran into some trouble when it posted Associated Press photos of Woodstock without the news agency's permission, has removed the pictures from its Web site. The 14 news photos, taken during the riot that ruined the otherwise successful three-day

United Kingdom: As POLLSTAR went to press, it was emerging that the festival situation in the west country was suffering from attendance figures way below previous expectations. The predicted rush to see the total solar eclipse August 11 in England's southwest had not materialised and many eclipse-oriented events looked set to lose money.

With four main music festivals taking place in the Devon and Cornwall regions, plus many smaller ones, the competition was always intense. Many first-time event organisers jumped at this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity, setting up festivals to cash in on the astronomical occasion. Earlier this year, it was estimated there would be millions of extra visitors to the region, all heading to see the eclipse and attend various events. In reality, only a fraction of the anticipated crowds seemed headed to the west country.

Organisers blamed poor advance sales on negative publicity about the anticipated traffic delays, plus warnings about the harmful effects of looking at a solar eclipse. Add to this scenario torrential rain in the days preceding the eclipse and even last-minute ticket buyers were put off.

The significant events were the Total Eclipse festival at Newnham Park, Devon, with Orbital, Asian Dub Foundation, Gregory Isaacs, and Sugar Hill Gang; and in Cornwall, the Lizard Festival, featuring Kula Shaker, James, and the Levellers; the Moonshadow festival with Van Morrison headlining; and at the site of last year's Megadog beach festival – Carlyon Bay – Eclipse '99, featuring Happy Mondays, 808 State, and Monaco.

A spokesperson at the Total Eclipse festival – a co-promotion between Harvey Goldsmith Entertainments, Essential and Megadog – confirmed that the day before the eclipse, attendance figures at the site were lower than expected. More details will be available next week.

- WITH ONLY A FEW WEEKS LEFT until V99, the promoters discovered that 1,000 one-day tickets had been stolen. A spokesperson for V99 confirmed that ticket numbers 9001 to 10000 for August 21 at the Chelmsford site were missing from the local post office. The ticket numbers were voided but organisers fear punters may unwittingly buy them from touts.

The weekend festival is on course to sell out with all weekend camping tickets gone.

- OASIS HAS LOST GUITARIST Paul "Bonehead" Arthurs, who announced he was quitting the band. A statement from record company Creation ended months of speculation about his future. The 34-year-old musician said, "After a lot of consideration, I have decided to call it a day with Oasis. I've had a fantastic eight years in one of the best bands ever to come out of Britain, and now feel I have come to the stage where I'd like to concentrate on other things in my life outside the demands of being in a successful rock 'n' roll band."

Arthurs was one of the band's founding members along with bass player Paul McGuigan and drummer Tony McCarroll. The Gallagher brothers later joined them. A spokesperson said there were no plans to replace him.

Arthurs was often seen as the peacemaker in the early days, when fraternal conflicts caused many a public rift between Liam and Noel Gallagher. McCarroll was the first member to leave after being sacked by Noel Gallagher in 1995. He sued for his share of royalties and received an out-of-court settlement estimated at £550,000 earlier this year.

Noel Gallagher downplayed Arthurs' departure and was quoted as saying, "It's hardly Paul McCartney leaving The Beatles."

Gallagher also claimed that the guitarist left in March, which suggested it took this long to formalise his departure. If this is the case, both parties can probably avoid litigation.

The band had been planning to release an album next year.

- THE CAMBRIDGE FOLK FESTIVAL celebrated its 30th anniversary in the heat of the summer sun, basking in the hottest weekend of the year July 30-August 1. It sold out several weeks in advance, as it had in recent years, and organiser Eddie Barcan was enthused about the musical melting pot he cooked up this year. "There was a great variety," he told POLLSTAR. "The big names such as James Taylor and Loudon Wainwright III delivered, and the new acts proved themselves."

He cited examples such as Steve Earle, who played three times during the weekend on different stages, and sparkling performances by The Saw Doctors and newcomers such as Mercury Prize nominee Kate Rusby and the Peat Bog Faeries.

The talking point of the weekend was headliner Nick Cave, who some criticised for his less-than-obvious folk connections, while others said it was an inspired choice. "We need to keep challenging ideas of what you can present as folk," explained Barcan.

With another sellout year under his belt, Barcan is not tempted to move the festival to a bigger site to increase the 10,000-per-day capacity. "The reason this festival works," he said, "is because it is a beautiful and intimate site with the widest possible definition of folk and the highest quality music. To change a winning formula would be a mistake."

- CLASSICAL MUSIC PURISTS have attacked a plan allowing an American sponsor to have its name emblazoned on the outside of the refurbished Royal Opera House in return for a £10 million donation. Classical promoter Raymond Gubbay was quoted as saying, "This sounds like a rather tacky American idea. It's not very nice to see a state-run company doing this."

If the deal is finalized, it will be the first time one of the four major government-subsidised art companies has an individual's name on the outside of the building. Under this title-sponsorship plan – devised by the Royal Opera House's new American chief executive, Michael Kaiser – the sponsor's name would appear in the main public foyer of the theatre.

The £213 million renovation programme will be completed this year and the Royal Opera House is scheduled to reopen in December.

- TRINFOLD TRAVEL, A NAME associated with the touring business for 25 years, no longer exists, following a takeover by New York-based Altour International. Tony Jones, who returned to work with Trinifold 18 months ago, was appointed managing director of Altour International in the U.K. He said the company is planning to open offices in Paris and Milan.

Over the years, Trinifold has made tour travel arrangements for the Rolling Stones, Madonna, Phil Collins, and others. Jones said he was sad to see the Trinifold name lost but the deal represented the best way forward for the company.

TOUR-TRAVELING Britney Spears makes 'em smile behind the scenes of her July 25 concert at General Motors Place in Vancouver. Pictured (L-R) with the singer are Universal Concert's Dave Fortune, the venue's Shane Bourbons, Universal's Ian Low and GM Place's Todd Kobus.

- THE MAN WHO DISCOVERED The Spice Girls died in a car accident August 10. Bob Herbert, 57, who also assembled hit boy band Five and worked with 1980s teen band Bros, was killed instantly when his car crashed in heavy rain.

Herbert was the individual who advertised in The Stage for an all-girl band and chose the five original Spice Girls after many auditions. He helped them fine-tune their act as a group called Touch. However, before the Girls hit the big time, they left him and found another manager in Simon Fuller, who powered them to superstardom.

Nevertheless, The Spice Girls recognised their debt to Herbert and said in a released statement, "We were all shocked and saddened to hear the news. Our deepest sympathy goes out to his family. We know he will be sadly missed. All our love - Melanie C, Melanie G, Emma and Victoria."

Herbert reportedly lost control of his car and collided with another vehicle. He was removed from the vehicle by rescue teams and taken to a hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

The band Five was on a promo trip in South America and unavailable for comment. Herbert worked with his son, Chris, who co-manages Five.

In additional Spice Girls news, lawyers for the ladies have demanded a detailed audit of the band's record sales. Solicitor Lee & Thompson asked for confirmation of the band's U.S. sales. The lawyers' request reads: "We do think it is very important to have further access to Virgin Records in America. The auditors have discovered that in the USA, reserves have been taken in excess of what is permitted. I do not think it is enough for the auditors to ask questions which you in turn relay to Virgin in Los Angeles - they will need to carry out some site work."

A spokesperson for The Spice Girls said the audit was normal procedure and the band was not "worried about missing millions." Alan Edwards spoke for the band, saying, "We do expect some adjustments because there always are in audits, especially when they are as big as this."

Germany: MAREK LIEBERBERG Konzertagentur is the first European promoter to add an extra date to Bryan Adams' autumn tour. MLK has the bulk of the European tour with 17 shows in Germany.

Despite a hectic summer tour schedule, Adams will return to start his two-month European leg at the Newcastle Arena in the U.K. on October 4. It is currently set to end in Frankfurt on November 20; however, Adams' agent, Carl Leighton-Pope, said that more dates will be added to the schedule.

During the first sales week, tickets moved quickly and it looks like the tour will extend through December. The first additional show is at the Olympiahalle in Munich, which sold out the first ticket allocation almost immediately.

Leighton-Pope told POLLSTAR, "Bryan toured everywhere this summer, doing festivals and his own shows, including 10 shows in France, and he did phenomenal business. He decided to tour as a three-piece with Mickey Curry and Keith Scott, and the reaction has been phenomenal. The audiences have been a mixture of traditional Bryan Adams fans and new younger fans, particularly since his duet with Sporty Spice. On the back of this extraordinary summer, we decided to come straight back out again. And he hasn't done an indoor tour with this album."

This tour will also feature the three-piece-band format and Adams will be working with an opening act for the first time.

MLK is also promoting autumn dates in Germany with the Eurythmics, Amanda Marshall, Reef, The Offspring, The Pretenders, and German act Sasha, plus a long run of Lord of the Dance.

Ireland: IT WAS THE BIGGEST Guinness Blues Festival to date with about 30,000 people attending shows as part of the Dublin concert series at the end of July. The organisers expanded the definition of blues music and the lineup included Nina Simone, who drew 6,562 people to her show at the Point, plus Eric Bibb, Ben Harper, The Blind Boys of Alabama, and others.

The event included 10 ticketed shows and a host of free events. Organiser Una Johnston at Carpe Diem Productions said the aim of the festival is to keep diversifying and appealing to a wider audience.

Slovenia: THE SLOVENIAN touring market has had a good summer with concerts by Metallica, Bob Dylan, The Cardigans, and R.E.M. pulling good audiences and proving the country's viability as a regular stop on the touring map.

Coming up this month is the Vans Warped Tour, which last year drew 4,000 people; promoter Igor Vidmar at Ropot hopes he can repeat that success. Vidmar will also promote Breakbeatnik 2K, a dance-oriented event featuring Roni Size on September 8.

Vidmar said that Slovenia is coming into its own as a viable touring market with a good economy and a fast developing popular culture. The average price for big shows is £15-£17 and he said the business is developing rapidly.

"In some ways, it is a more difficult market now," he told POLLSTAR, "because the age group of music fans is falling and tastes are changing so quickly, so we need to bring more and more contemporary artists to Slovenia to satisfy the audiences."

In the pipeline, Vidmar is waiting for confirmation on shows with Alanis Morissette and Bryan Ferry.

BELFAST, NORTHERN IRELAND'S $55 million Waterfront concert hall looms behind a couple sitting in the redeveloped area. The structure along the city's riverside represents a newfound confidence for the otherwise war-torn district.

Denmark: IN THE ABSENCE OF a live Rammstein show, Motor, like MCT in Germany, is feeding the Rammstein fever by promoting the live-in-concert movie in Copenhagen on behalf of Universal on August 28.

Promoter Mads Sorensen told POLLSTAR, "We've done it before, and very successfully, with ITALIAN TENOR Luciano Pavarotti does a sight check on a pair of custom-made protective eclipse sunglasses in Bucharest, Romania, August 10. While testing it, he said he has "deep emotion" regarding the solar eclipse although he emphasized he is not superstitious. The singer was scheduled to perform an open-air concert just hours after the astronomical event August 11 in the shadow of the white palace built by late Communist dictator Nicolae Ceausescu.

Portishead Live at the Roseland, where we had an attendance of more than 700 people."

Sorensen said the show will kick start one of the busiest autumn seasons ever for Motor. Upcoming shows include The Offspring, Megadeth, Jamiroquai, The Chemical Brothers, Filter, Cassandra Wilson, the first ever (and only) Scandinavian date with the Brian Setzer Orchestra, Moby, Mogwai, Tindersticks, Supergrass, Suede, Lamb, Ben Folds Five, Neurosis, The Wannadies, and many more. Among the local acts are rapper Clemens and Danish megastar Caroline Henderson.

Sorensen said that expanding Motor's musical repertoire has led to great success. "Our world music department, run by Peter Sorensen, has got off to a flying start and seems to be developing way beyond expectations with upcoming shows by Cuban megastar Ruben Gonzalez, Musafir, Griot Groove, Skatalites, Jr. Delgado, Abdel Ali Slimani, Yulduz Usmanova, and Transglobal Underground." The autumn highlight will be the Afro-Cuban AllStars.

Yugoslavia: A 36-HOUR MUSIC marathon featured bands from Yugoslavia, Bosnia, Croatia and Slovenia, which reunited for the first time since 1991 to play for thousands of fans.

"This is the first time that we are playing together after eight years and I don't understand why we were divided all these years," said Bruno Langer from the band Atomsko Skloniste. The Croatian band was one of the most popular in the former Yugoslavia a decade ago, preceding the wars.

The setting in the town of Brcko was significant because of its status as a neutral territory under joint control of the Serbs, Muslims and Croats. Croatian singer Marina Perezic said, "This is an historic concert and I think we proved that music has no boundaries."

• THE GUESS WHO REUNITED onstage at the closing ceremonies of the XIII Pan American Games August 8 in Winnipeg. Jim Kale, Randy Bachman, Garry Peterson and Burton Cummings reportedly received $250,000 (Cdn.) for the 20-minute set composed of four songs - "No Time," "These Eyes," "Undun" and "American Woman."

The hometown heroes hadn't performed together since a show at Winnipeg's Centennial Concert Hall in 1983. The group is considering touring.

An article in the Winnipeg Sun reported that Cummings said, "I really think this is going to go on further. There are some offers on the table, especially from the States and Japan, and why not? If it's fun, if you're middle-aged and you can still have fun, that's the deal."

Cummings told CKY-58's DJ Gary "Big Daddy" MacLean on the air that if The Guess Who reunited for a tour, he'd like to kick it off at the Can-West Global Stadium. "I understand Sam Katz ... built a nice place where the Goldeyes play, and it seats around 15,000 or 16,000. That would be perfect, I think. What better place to rehearse for a two-hour show but our hometown of Winnipeg? We would put the show together here and do it for the first time in public here."

He added that the concert would likely be "a full two-and-a-half-hour show, including some [Bachman Turner Overdrive] stuff, some Burton Cummings stuff and all The Guess Who stuff. All those good songs."

Kale, who officially owns The Guess Who name, said of a possible tour, "It would be very premature to say yes or no, but it's more than just a rumour."

• SEARS AND UNIVERSAL Concerts Canada will present the Backstreet Boys' Into the Millennium Tour. Three shows have been announced - Montreal's Molson Centre on November 10, Toronto's Skydome Skytent (11) and Ottawa's Corel Centre (12). The group will sing, dance and make young girls scream "in the round."

• THE CANADIAN COUNTRY MUSIC Association has announced the nominees for the Canadian Country Music Awards to be held September 13 in Ottawa, Ont., the last day of Country Music Week '99 (September 10-13).

Topping the list with six nominations apiece are Shania Twain, Terri Clark, Prairie Oyster and The Wilkinsones. Paul Brandt came in second with five nominations.

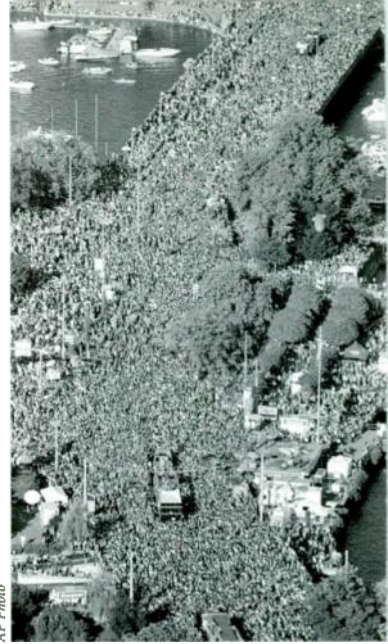

Going head-to-head in the female artist of the year category are Stephanie Beaumont, Lisa Brokop, Clark, Twain and Michelle Wright. The nominees for male artist of the year are Julian Austin, Brandt, Bruce Guthro, Jason McCoy and Jamie Warren.

Group or duo of the year will be a toss-up between Farmer's Daughter, The Johner Bros., Leahy, Prairie Oyster and The Wilkinsones.

During the final selection process - which takes place over the next few weeks - 1,700 members of the CCMA will vote for the winner in each of nine categories. Two awards are selected by the public: top selling album, based on Canadian sales figures, and the CMT Maple Leaf Foods Fans' Choice Award, which is tallied by votes received on a 1-900 number.

In the 1999 CCMA Industry Citation Awards, the nominees for manager of the year are Brian Ferriman (Michelle Wright), Ron Kitchener (Jason McCoy), Peter Leggett (Shirley Myers), Gerry Leiske (Farmer's Daughter) and Beth Warren (Jamie Warren).

Up for booking agent of the year are Catherine Faint (Catherine Faint Entertainment), Mike Lesperance (The Talent Network), Richard Mills

HALF A MILLION PEOPLE converged on Switzerland's financial capital for the eighth annual Lake Parade, the country's largest open-air techno music party. Buerkli Square (foreground), the Quai Bridge between the Lake of Zurich (R) and the Limmat river (L) are barely visible as revelers and the parade make its way along 7th Street August 7. More than 100,000 fans came from Germany to see, among other things, 30 love mobiles (huge trailers crammed with dancers), and futuristic costumes such as millennium space outfits, male miniskirts, and bikinis crafted from coconuts and aluminum foil.

Talent buyer or promoter of the year will go to either Rob Bennett (Universal Concerts Canada), Bill Carruthers (Casino Rama), Catherine Faint (Catherine Faint Entertainment), Ron Sakamoto (Gold & Gold Productions) or Beth Warren (Too Hip Records).

Country club of the year is between Cook County Saloon (Edmonton, Alberta), Cowboys (Calgary, Alberta), Nashville North (Norval, Ont.), Ranchman's Restaurant (Calgary) and Zuma's Texas Grill & Dancehall (Ottawa, Ont.).

Competing for country event of the year are the Calgary Stampede (Calgary); Dauphin's Countryfest (Dauphin, Manitoba); Havelock Country Jamboree (Havelock, Ont.); and Huron Carole-National Tour and Merritt Mountain Music Festival (Merritt, B.C.).

• A SECOND CELINE DION show has been added in Ottawa September 14 at the Corel Centre. The first show was originally scheduled for May 2, then was postponed until September 13. Dion is performing for the first time ever "in the round."

- AN ESTIMATED 11,000 PEOPLE attended the 20th annual Edmonton Folk Music Festival August 5-8 at Gallagher Park. Eight stages featured music of every folk ilk - African, Celtic, South American and more - including performances by top-name acts The Rankins, Jimmy Cliff, Kate & Anne McGarrigle, Joan Armatrading, and Nanci Griffith.

- NORTHERN X-POSURE, TORONTO's urban music conference, still has a long way to go in terms of garnering industry support in Canada, but conference organizers Vivian Barclay, Sol Guy, Mr. Morgan and Jason "Jazzy" Gannon managed to secure some interesting U.S. panelists for the two-day conference.

Held July 29-30 at the Radisson Plaza hotel, NX '99 included nine panels, a keynote address by Eve (who replaced Sean "Puffy" Combs in the final hour), a showcase and a basketball game.

American panelists included Chivon Dean; Marc Jordan, VP of Columbia/Trackmasters; Riggs Morales of The Source; Allen S. Gardar, editor of Rap Pages; Buddah Cess of Loud; Vivian Chew of Timezone International; Will Kriksy of the Fox Agency; and Will Strickland.

Canadian label panelists included Spencer Tatem of EMI/Virgin; Sean Corder of BMG Canada; Bonnie Fedrau of EMI; Jane Tattersall of Zomba Music; Sharon Douce of PolyGram; and Jeff Goddard of Nettwerk.

Besides the media sponsors, Barclay was grateful for financial support from SOCAN, BMG Music Canada, Warner Music Canada and Warner/Chappell Publishing. Other labels, she said, just weren't forthcoming.

Barclay is already working on Northern X-posure 2000. "We'll still do the conference next year, and we'll still go to the Canadian labels and give them the opportunities to be involved," she said. "We're pulling together the evaluation forms, and figuring out what went wrong and where we need to improve. Are we going to forget record companies and go even more corporate, deal with beer companies? Whatever it takes to get it done.

"I think a lot of it is having the money to spend on full-page ads.

A lot of that is what will make the difference in the end. Even the sponsorship we seek from labels isn't enough to do that so you have to find another method to get that money."

- A NEW YEAR'S EVE SHOW IN Gisborne, New Zealand - supposedly the first major concert of the new millennium - is in trouble. The bill included David Bowie, opera singer Dame Kiri Te Kanawa, and a re-formed Split Enz, and was expected to draw 30,000 fans.

Hundreds of canoes from nearby islands and 200 cyclists from Auckland were to arrive at dawn as part of a symbolic "getting together of souls." However, promoter Bruce Bell said that his company has failed to find a sponsor. Ticket sales were slower than anticipated, he said, adding that the expected overseas audience was having difficulty securing flight reservations into the country since most were booked by New Zealanders returning home to enjoy their own celebrations.

Bell said he had contractual agreements with the main acts. "Pressure from those acts and those contractual arrangements are heavy, and we have only got a few days to satisfy details of those contracts."

Reps for Bowie and several of the hired production managers issued a press release August 9 announcing their intention to withdraw due to the promoter's apparent inability to come up with financing for the venture.

- MICHAEL COPPEL PRESENTS IS bringing Alanis Morissette here for her third concert tour, this time with Garbage. MCP has tentatively booked eight shows between October 5 and 18, but judging from Morissette's strong concert track record in Australia, it is expected the number will triple after tickets go on sale August 20.

Morissette's record sales downunder have been impressive. Jagged Little Pill shifted a million copies - becoming the biggest selling album in the history of Warner Music Australia - staying in the Top 100 for two years and yielding six Top 40 hit singles. Sales units for Supposed Former Infatuation Junkie are approaching 200,000.

Garbage's self-titled debut sold 200,000 and Version 2.0 has surpassed 70,000 copies.

- DAINTY CONSOLIDATED Entertainment introduced the cast of its $10 million production "Happy Days - The Arena Mega-Musical" with parties at Sydney's Fuel club and Melbourne's Soda Rock Diner.

Bobby-soxed girls on roller skates served pink milkshakes and cherry-cola drinks until the Henry "The Fonz" Winkler appeared on a giant video screen from L.A. asking who would play his role. This was the cue for Craig McLachlan - who began in the sitcom "Neighbors" and established himself in "Grease" and the "Rocky Horror Show" - to roar in on a Harley Davidson motorbike.

McLachlan told the crowd, "I've done a lot of shows in the past but they were cheeseburgers; this is the Big Mac."

"Happy Days - The Arena Mega-Musical" presents the hits of the '50s from a guitar-shaped stage. After its premiere at the Sydney Superdome October 15, it hits the road through Australia in 10,000-capacity arenas before heading abroad.

Also in the show are Jon Stevens of the band Noiseworks (he played Judas in "Jesus Christ Superstar") as the Fonz's alter ego, Frank ("I've always loved the TV series and can't wait to play the bad guy."); actress Rebecca Gibney as new character

"LOVE, friendship, music, stop violence, stop drugs" is the Rome, N.Y., theme that made its way to Station Woodstock in Zary, Poland, where more than 50 bands played at the three-day event. Established five years ago by Jurek Owsiak, the annual event emphasizes the spirit of Woodstock 1969. Here, teens walk among tents at the old airfield near the German border August 7.

Miss Frost ("I'm petrified at the thought of singing live."); Doug Parkinson as Al the diner owner; Human Nature as a doo-wop band; and Jo-Beth Taylor playing Frank's girlfriend, Laura, who leaves him for Ritchie Cunningham. The Ritchie and Joanie roles have yet to be announced. The original Mr. Cunningham, actor Tom Bosley, heads to Australia to reprise his role, while Winkler is listed as the show's creative consultant.

DCE chief Paul Dainty, who negotiated the musical's global rights with Paramount TV, said he always figured the concept was an audience grabber. But when it was workshopped in England earlier in the year, he was flabbergasted at the response. "Even I'd underestimated how much 'Happy Days' is in people's psyche. They just went crazy. They were screaming at every line. The 'Happy Days' musical will be the biggest production ever staged in Australia."

- WARNER MUSIC AUSTRALIA has signed two new acts to its roster – Shihad and Palladium. Shihad, Melbourne-based Kiwis, are signed for the world. The band is recording its fourth album, The General Electric, in Vancouver, B.C., with Garth Richardson (Rage Against the Machine, Skunk Anansie, Jesus Lizard), due for release October 4.

Palladium is an indie guitar pop band from Brisbane that is putting down tracks for its debut album.

- MIDWAY THROUGH A THREE-week Australian tour, Jerry Lewis was hospitalised in Darwin due to a bout of viral meningitis. The comedian intended to finish the remaining dates but doctors convinced his wife, SanDee, that he needed up to eight weeks of rest. The 73-year-old returned to Las Vegas with SanDee and 7-year-old daughter Danielle Sara to recuperate.

Said Adelaide promoter Mario Maiolo, "He didn't want to go home; he wanted to get back onstage but physically, he just can't do it. He is a real fighter and I hope he returns here soon. Audiences have lapped up his shows."

It was Lewis' fourth Australian tour. The performer's executive assistant, Claudia Stabile, said Lewis will appear in the annual Labor Day Telethon for the Muscular Dystrophy Association next month.

- PERTH CLUB MOJO'S WAS VOTED favourite venue in the recent West Australian Music Industry (WAMI) awards. Ian Stuart won best live sound engineer and Laurie Mariani picked up the gong for best lighting engineer.

- THE REALLY USEFUL COMPANY (RUC) and the Sydney Theatre Company (STC) took the extraordinary step of canceling the hottest subscription season ticket, "Sunset Boulevard." This came after they failed to secure $2.5 million of investor support in time for the production's November opening at the Opera House.

This is the latest blow for the Andrew Lloyd Webber show's Australian run. In 1996, its Melbourne season was cut short when lead Debra Byrne's regular absences affected ticket sales.

RUC's Australian managing director, Tim McFarlane, said he intends to mount the Sydney run of "Sunset Boulevard" starring singer Judi Connelli at the Theatre Royal next year, independent of the STC.

- TIM FINN OF SPLIT ENZ AND Crowded House fame is following brother Neil to live in New Zealand again after almost 20 years' residence in Australia. Tim just sold his classic art deco home in Melbourne (including a recording studio) for $380,500.

- HOCKING & VIGO AND Wilkinson present Chilean music phenomenon Inti-Illimani (meaning "sun mountain") and flamenco guitar master Paco Pena together for 11 theatre shows between October 23 and November 6.

- BURSWOOD INTERNATIONAL Resort Casino in Perth has gained approval to construct a convention centre, remodel its restaurant and cafe area, and build a bar and cabaret lounge. These are expected to be finished by June 2001.

Ken Gotfried, COO of owner Burswood Ltd., announced that as part of the $75 million expansion, the complex seeks to add 120 gaming machines for a total of 1,300 and increase its tables from 125 to 141.

- L.A. TRIO SPAIN, FRONTED BY Josh "Son of Jazzman Charlie" Haden, is returning for shows along the East Coast the first two weeks of September. The act has released an album, She Haunts My Dreams, through BMG.

- SYDNEY-BASED DJ AND DANCE producer Josh Abrahams' rise to global success continues, hot on the heels of a worldwide deal with Sony Music. Tom Cruise is a fan and asked Abrahams to provide the music for the soundtrack of "Mission Impossible 2," which is being filmed around Sydney.

- ADELAIDE-BASED Scorpion Entertainment International is bringing back U.S. band Reel Big Fish for 11 club shows between September 30 and October 12. Also on the tour are U.S. band 22 Jacks and new Australian act Area 7.

- JAPANESE YOUTHS AND ROCK fans showed they had what it took to ensure orderly but enjoyable concerts recently. At the annual Fuji Rock Festival at Naeba, a remote ski area about 250 miles north of Tokyo, fans rocked to the blaring music of Blur, The Chemical Brothers, Skunk Anansie, Limp Bizkit, Tokyo Ska, Phish, and Rage Against the Machine July 30 to August 1.

After the dying strains of Rage's angry, rebellious chorus – "Don't do what they told you!" – the 25,000 kids who had earlier raged with the music went about picking up their trash and picnic coolers, leaving the pastoral hillside as tidy as it was when they arrived.

Five hours away in Tokyo, more than 200,000 fans converged at a waterfront site for a peaceful three-hour concert in which the police reported no disturbances or arrests. Although 320 officers and some 3,000 security guards were on hand to patrol the crowd for local band Glaxo's concert, no force was necessary for crowd control.

Although no violence erupted, 800 people were treated for heatstroke and other maladies as temperatures soared to about 93 degrees. The concert at Tokyo Bay's Makuhari Messe complex was mainly attended by female fans in their teens and early 20s. The crowd was equal in size to that of the Woodstock '99 festival in New York, which ended in violence.

PIANIST JOHN TESH (R) talks with Peter Max, the official artist of Gisborne, New Zealand's The Millennium Wall August 5. Tesh announced he will ring in the first day of the 21st century by performing his song "Heart of the Sunrise" against the backdrop of the wall at first light.

- RECORD-BREAKING TEEN IDOL Hikaru Utada held a video concert screening for about 40,000 people at selected locations throughout Japan. The showings in Sendai, Tokyo, Osaka, Nagoya, Sapporo, Hiroshima and Fukuoka were of the 16-year-old hit sensation's first live performances in Osaka and Tokyo last April.

The singer, who resides in New York, appeared via satellite at the Tokyo International Forum stage at the beginning of the concert. She told fans she hoped the video would serve as a warm-up until she launches her tour.

Utada's debut album, First Love, broke sales records in Japan after its release in March. It has sold 6.95 million copies so far.

Only several hundred people – chosen by lottery – were lucky enough to see her live shows in April. The 40,000 who saw the video concert also won their tickets through a lottery organised by a Japanese hamburger chain.

- IT'S BUSY TIMES FOR ASIAN-based promoter Midas Promotions with a roster of international acts making their way to Asia. First on the list was crooner George Benson, who appeared at Kallang Theatre in Singapore August 10 and Kuala Lumpur's Putra World Trade Center the next day. Suede is slated to appear in Taipei September 23 and Singapore September 30. The band will also perform in Hong Kong but through a different promoter.

Back to Midas Promotions, young kids The Moffatts will tour Brunei October 15, Jakarta (17), Ho Chi Minh City (19), Kuala Lumpur (22), Manila (24), Bangkok (26), and Bahrain and Dubai (28, 29).

Alanis Morissette is signed for Manila October 20, Taipei (22), Hong Kong (24) with Duet Productions, Singapore (28) and Kuala Lumpur (29). In November, she'll probably tour Jakarta, India and Dubai. ✦

OZARK TALENT:

STEVE OZARK

Congratulations to W.C. Clark on his third W.C. Handy award for Artist Most Deserving of Greater Recognition. With 23 festival dates and more than 200 shows this year, W.C. is definitely getting recognition as one of the greats. Josh Smith & The Frost have been touring 27 months nonstop, since Josh finished high school. The band goes into the studio in October for Josh's fourth full-length release, having already sold more than 20,000 units on the group's own Maddog label. We're looking for package opportunities and festivals. Baby Jason & The Spankers are releasing their fourth full-length release, Drive By Discipline, on their own Butt Smackin' Blues label. A West Coast tour is being planned for December and a few Midwest and South dates are available for this year. Richard Leo Johnson has garnered amazing critical acclaim for his concerts and Blue Note debut, Fingertip Ship. Richard is touring with the California Guitar Trio in October, and we're continually looking for concert dates both to headline and support. Link 80 is running a short tour August 27th - September 18th before recording its new Asian Man release. Offers and packages are being sought for Ontario, Quebec, East Coast, South and Midwest from October onward. Brand New Unit is looking to package/headline the West in October. Its new Burnin Heart CD is out everywhere and the next record will be recorded for B.Y.O. MU330 has finally taken its first extended break from the road in eight years but won't be taking time off. The band is producing a live CD and recording a Christmas album for release in December, along with two more music videos. MU330 will tour the Midwest in December and January, the South in February and the West in March. Dan Pottbast, singer and songwriter for MU330, is available for college and support dates through November, touring his Asian Man release, Eyeballs. A special thank you to everyone who contributed to the Habitat for Humanity Hair Razing Fundraiser. We currently have about $3,000 pledged and seek another $4,000 to build a home for a family in need. Please send any donations to Trinity Church, 1011 Vermont, Lawrence, KS 66044. The next time you're surfing the Web, hit www.hungersite.com to provide a free meal to someone at no cost to you. Corporate sponsorships can have a silver lining.

GEOFFREY BLUMENAUER

Mr. Downchild is based in Cleveland and has avails close to home during the winter, then Florida avails in late February/early March. Ed Vadas & His Fabulous Heavyweights are New England-based, but they are also doing a Florida trip in early November. Rick Roberts is Colorado based and has anchors all over the map, touring solo. Moby Grape is California centered, with founding members Peter Lewis, Jerry Miller and Bob Mosley. With the addition of Sam Andrew of Big Brother, they tour the East annually. Brian Auger & The Oblivion Express are doing West Coast dates in September and October. The Strawberry Alarm Clock, either with or without Spencer Davis, is doing its Strawberry Jam in and around California. The group features two drummers and three original members. P.F. Sloan, composer of "Eve of Destruction" and "Secret Agent Man," has an anchor in Ohio November 6th with avails on both sides.

INTERNATIONAL MUSIC NETWORK: DAVID LLOYD

It's been an exciting year for Cuban music at IMN. Hot on the heels of the successful Wim Wenders film, "The Buena Vista Social Club" (with the release of Ibrahim Ferrer's new Nonesuch recording, The Buena Vista Social Club presents Ibrahim Ferrer and Rubén González), the group begins its first ever U.S. tour this fall. The response has been unprecedented for a world music artist, and we are now pleased to be adding a second leg of this tour in February. There are still some limited avails in the East, South and Southwest. Cuban jazz piano legend Chucho Valdés tours in September with a few Midwest-routed dates still available. Dates are also being set for the next Afro Cuban All Stars tour in April. Solas is finishing up its summer tour supporting Mary Chapin Carpenter, and the band thanks everyone involved for the opportunity. Vocalist Dianne Reeves can be seen on two PBS programs this month as a featured guest vocalist with both The Boston Pops and the Lincoln Center Jazz Orchestra with Wynton Marsalis. She tours this fall in support of her new Blue Note release, Bridges. Michael Brecker and Brad Mehldau also tour this fall in support of their new releases and routed dates are available in the East and Midwest regions. Finally, we are very pleased to announce the addition of Nonesuch recording artist Taraf de Haïdouks to our roster. Hailing from Romania, the band was a show-stealing part of the successful Gypsy Caravan tour this spring and is featured in Robert DeNiro's forthcoming film and soundtrack. The band will be available for festivals beginning next summer.

CORRECTION:

In our August 2nd Hotwire, we printed Mars Talent's management signing of The Outsiders starring Sonny Geraci. The act is actually self-managed and neither Sonny Geraci or The Outsiders are affiliated with Mars. ✖

The Black Eyed Peas' lexicon goes way beyond the expected hip-hop terminology. First of all, this is a band, so live instruments, spontaneity and improvisation are prominent in the BEP vocabulary.

Spunk St. Hyde

L-R: Taboo, Will.i.am & Appl.d.ap

Second, the music delivers a message that goes against type. The three Peas aren't about obtaining a fine car and getting with the ladies. And while they have nothing against a good time, they've got more on their minds than having one.

If Will.i.am, Appl.d.ap and Taboo have their way, the word positivity will become a permanent addition to the hip-hop dictionary.

"We want to present an alternative for young people," said Appl. "Kids don't think past hanging out at the mall or wanting to get into a gang, or thinking about how much they can get. It's like they get stuck in this one way of thinking and we want to show them that there's more out there than materialism and that whole mind-set."

Instead of constantly checking their image, the Peas have worked hard to portray themselves as diverse individuals who draw strength from each other. The chemistry between the three MCs has given the group the confidence to grow past the hip-hop stereotypes and they want their fans to have the chance to do the same.

"We're not cocky," said Taboo, "but we are confident as musicians and performers. We aren't a typical hip-hop act. We don't use DATs; we have a band. We don't wear the dopest clothes. We're not talking about the same hardcore stuff, standing there, grabbing ourselves."

"And we're into breakdancing even though that's not a cool thing right now," Appl added.

They may eschew the lifestyle popularized by the biggest names in hip-hop but the Peas have earned the respect of many of their most prestigious peers. Their very first national tour was Smokin' Grooves '98, which meant sharing the stage with Public Enemy, Cypress Hill, Wyclef Jean and Busta Rhymes. It was an elite package and a huge break for the young band.

"It was like going straight into the NBA," Taboo said. "It was an honor to be on the same stage as these cats. They challenged us and we worked hard to show that we were worthy of being on tour with them."

It's good that this group likes a challenge because their business team is pushing them a little further all the time. The Peas don't play it safe; the three MCs continue to make their own way, taking on tours that put them in front of some decidedly difficult audiences.

Smokin' Grooves was quite an initiation process but at least they were playing for a hip-hip crowd. Then last winter, the Peas were on the Sno-Core tour with alt-rockers Everclear and hardcore rapper Red Man.

"It was a great experience performing for that audience," Taboo said. "They weren't really used to our kind of hip-hop; they were on a totally different level - hearing it with different ears. We love that different energy. It was really good for us."

"By the third song, the punk kids got more into it than the hip-hop audience," Appl said. "They'd get into the dancing when they saw that we were having fun onstage. There's a segment of the show where we let the kids come up and show their dance skills, and then we join in with them after the show."

The ability to interact with the crowd and adapt to its particular vibe is an intrinsic part of a Peas gig. "It's like mental telepathy between us so we can just go for it every night. We've become a lot tighter, a lot closer, because of all the touring. We can really improvise," said Appl.

The Peas can get away with those spontaneous outbursts because they are so well rehearsed and they have a band that can roll with them. "We have a lot more freedom because we play with a live band," said Appl. "I'm not knocking DATs, but when you rely on that, you're stuck with it. We can do so much more with a band and we don't wind up sounding the same every night."

The constant touring has cemented the band members' resolve to do hip-hop on their own terms. This summer, the Peas distinguished themselves as one the first hip-hop acts on the Warped Tour. They played all the U.S. dates, and if that wasn't challenging enough, they were recording their next album on the tour bus.

"We literally have a studio on the bus," said Taboo. "Being on tour gives us food for thought. I'm sure some of our daily experiences will influence the album."

The new album will likely be different from the first in several ways. The Peas' debut release, Behind the Front, started out strong but faltered when Interscope got caught up in Universal Music Group's consolidation process.

"That shake-up at Interscope was a problem," said Taboo. "It took the label eight months to release the second single. I think touring really kept the record alive."

Yon Styles, the band's manager, is already planning how the follow-up album will go down and he's determined to see that it doesn't fall through the cracks. "We're shooting for an early 2000 release date but we'll be marketing and promoting the record well before that," he said.

The Peas have been test driving some new material live and will continue to do so through the fall. The band plans to announce some college shows and one-off dates in the near future. ✦

BETWEEN THE DATES

PARTY IN THE EVERGLADES

► Phish has finally confirmed its plans for an ambitious two-day concert and camping event to usher in the new millennium. The band and Great North East Productions have confirmed that the festivities will take place in the heart of the Florida Everglades at the Big Cypress Seminole Indian Reservation, located midway between Naples and Ft. Lauderdale. It will follow in the tradition of the Vermont quartet's huge summer festivals.

On December 30th, Phish will play an afternoon set of music followed by two evening sets. Phish will begin the New Year's Eve day music with an afternoon set, then return to the stage just before midnight and play until sunrise.

The band's new album, Happiness Is Not A Fish That You Can Catch, will be out on Columbia Records September 21st. Hopefully, the equipment will have cleared the border by the time they start touring in support of the release.

OH, NO, NOT AGAIN

► A rental truck filled with equipment belonging to New York art popsters Gibo Matto was stolen in Brooklyn, N.Y. either the night of August 6th or early the next morning.

The 10-foot yellow Penske box truck was stolen from in front of the tour manager's house, said Gibo Matto agent Tom Windish of Billions Corp. The band played a gig in Providence, R.I., on the 5th and was scheduled to perform at the Recher Theatre - Seth Hurwitz's new room - on the 7th. That show was canceled because virtually all of the band's gear was in the stolen truck.

Gibo Matto lost everything from a sampler and keyboards to guitars and drums. "They also lost a number of Shure microphones which were part of a sponsorship deal," Windish said. "Now, they don't have the microphones and they don't have the sponsorship, either."

He noted that the recent rash of equipment thefts (Sonic Youth and the Jon Spencer Blues Explosion were victims last month) has been especially unfortunate since these bands get little tour support. The missing gear really hurts them financially and artistically, as well as being a huge inconvenience.

Gibo Matto is using new, rented and borrowed equipment on its tour, which runs into the fall.

A CUSTOMARY PROBLEM

► Our Lady Peace had to borrow equipment from Everclear and Eve 6 to play its August 7th gig in Seattle. The Canadian band arrived at the Kitsap County Fairgrounds where it was to play the End Fest but its equipment was stuck in U.S. customs an hour before showtime.

Fortunately, two of the other bands on the bill were compassionate enough to sport them some gear and the OLP set went on as scheduled.

The band's new album, Happiness Is Not A Fish That You Can Catch, will be out on Columbia Records September 21st. Hopefully, the equipment will have cleared the border by the time they start touring in support of the release.

HOT NEW TOURS

LIVE SHOTS: WARPED TOUR '99 IN ATLANTA

Spunk Sr. Jude

SINGER Al Barr of Boston punk band Dropkick Murphys raises the temperature a few more degrees with a rockin' performance July 29th.

Spunk Sr. Jude

THIS YEAR'S Warped rolls out the hip-hop carpet for acclaimed rapper/actor Ice T, who states his social commentary with obvious conviction.

Spunk Sr. Jude

DESPITE the scorching Atlanta heat, Less Than Jake bassist Roger gives his all to the ska-punkers at Warped '99.

Spunk Sr. Jude

IT'S ALL EYES on bassist Vinnie Hornsby as Sevendust pumps up the Atlanta crowd.

Robb D. Cohen

PENNYWISE gets some love from fans singing at the top of their lungs during the Vans Warped Tour '99 July 29th at Atlanta's Lakewood Amphitheatre.

Spunk Sr. Jude

THE WARPED CROWD in the Lakewood Amphitheatre parking lot surges toward the stage as blink-182 cranks up its punk-ska show.

Robb D. Cohen

GRAMMY-NOMINATED Latin band Molotov shows Warped-goers how rap-metal is done in Mexico.

RHYME MASTER Eminem gets fans' blood pumping with his shock-laced rap stylings.

The Lighthouse SuperScreens are the brightest and clearest video displays. Using the system's unique digital power control the brightness can be set from exceedingly bright for outdoor use to lower levels for indoor or nighttime without any image degradation.

The Lighthouse SuperScreen panels are modular; they are solid state; they are lightweight and reliable. Moved easily from location to location, they are particularly suited for multi-purpose venues and fixed location.

The Lighthouse SuperScreen captures the audience and keeps them coming back. It provides unlimited flexibility, is slim and easily transportable. It provides live audiences with replays, close-up footage, and graphics previously available to television viewers. RGB, YC, NTSC, PAL, YUV & VGA inputs (play from any VCR or computer!)
